The live-stock production would be based largely on feed supplies produced last year.

"The meaning of this report to all of us," Davis said, "is redoubled effort to produce food on the farm, in victory gardens, to conserve every scrap of food, to waste nothing. That is the way to make food fight most effectively for our side in this war."

The wheat crop was indicated at 730,524,000 bushels or 26 per cent. less than last year's harvest of 981,327,000 bushels.

Wheat Crop Off

The winter wheat crop was estimated at 501,702,000 bushels or about 14,000,000 less than was forecast a month ago. The 1942 crop amounted to 703,702,000 bushels. The report said winter wheat had been hurt by drought in the Great Plains and by wet weather in the Eastern corn belt.

In its first estimate of the year for the crop, the department forecast spring wheat production at 228,822,000 bushels or about 18 per cent. less than last year's harvest of 278,074,000 bushels.

Other grain crop estimates for 1943 and the 1942 production, respectively, included:

Rye, 33,841,000 and 57,341,000 bushels; oats, 1,168,850,000 and 1,358,730,000; barley, 371,044,000 and 426,150,000.

Lower Fruit Crop Seen

The department forecast a peach crop of 45,267,000 bushels against 66,380,000 last year and a pear crop of 24,299,000 bushels compared with 30,717,000.

The department said the corn crop was off to an abnormally late tart with probably 15,000,000 acres or about fifteen per cent. of the goal still to be planted after June 1. It said good growing weather would be needed to mature late plantings of corn ahead of frost.

In discussing production prospects the report took cognizance of the fact that rainfall had improved drought conditions in the Great Plains area since June 1. It emphasized that due to wet weather in important central and northeastern States planting was progressing under difficulties and that farmers probably would not be able to increase acreages of crops as desired.

Weather Held Factor

"If weather is reasonably good from now until harvest," the report said, "the acreage of crops grown should be nearly as large as was harvested last season and crop yields should approach those of the 1937-41 or post-drought period; but either further delays in planting or an early frost would be costly.

"Some crops may yield well," the report added, "but aggregate yields averaging as high as those secured last year are no longer within reach."

The report said excessive rainfall during May in a wide mid-Western belt flooded nearly 4,000,000 acres of crop land. Much of this land, it said, cannot be planted to crops for which it was intended.

Plans And Prospects Vary

"Throughout the whole wet area plans and prospects vary depending in part on the drainage conditions, on breaks in the weather and on the reserves of labor available for the emergency. Farm work is weeks late and there are too many jobs to be done at the same time. As a result, the ordinary operating schedules of individual farmers are badly upset."

The report said that farmers were obviously doing their best under handicaps. In Illinois, where many of the tractors were kept running twenty-four hours per day the percentage of corn acreage planted increased at a record rate, from eleven per cent. on May 29 to about sixty-five per cent. a week later. But then planting was again halted by rain.

The department said that in Oklahoma the season was so late and damage has been so heavy that some farmers will abandon their crops and seek other employment.

Crop Damage Serious

David said the crop damage indicated by the report was serious, but not so extensive as many had feared in view of the widespread floods last month and continuing drought in some areas of the West. He expressed a hope that this year's total acreage would yet reach last year's level. That hope, he said, was based on the "unremitting toil and the neighborly cooperation of the farm people."

Farm pastures, already heavily stocked with beef and dairy cattle, were said to be furnishing an abundance of feed in most areas. The condition of Western ranges on June 1 was said to have been about average.

Excessive moisture over most Northern commercial truck-crop areas delayed planting, prevented cultivation and retarded growth of some crops, the report stated, adding that acreage of early season varieties would fall below expectations.

JUN 11 1943

Processing Crops Affected

Adversely affected, the report said, were important vegetable crops grown for processing.

June 1 conditions indicate, the report said, that deciduous fruit production may be ten per cent. below last year. Peach crop prospects were said to be the lowest since 1932. Citrus fruit prospects were said to be about equal that of last year.

"If present favorable conditions continue for citrus fruits," the report stated, "the total tonnage of all fruits for marketing during the 1943-44 season probably will be five per cent. lower than marketing in 1942-43."

BARUCH IRKED BY BICKERING

Declares It Has Hurt War Effort And Confused Public

Untitled Assistant To Byrnes Hopes Latter Will Stop It

JUN 11 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 10—Bernard M. Baruch declared today that "infernal bickering has hurt the war effort and confused the public," and expressed hope that James F. Byrnes will stop it.

Baruch, chairman of the War Industries Board in the last war, has become an unpaid and untitled assistant to Byrnes, director of the Office of War Mobilization.

His Favorite "Office"

Both men have been advocates of simplification and standardization of civilian production in wartime, but Baruch had no comment on the possibility of pressing this idea in an effort to conserve manpower, materials and factory facilities. As an indication of what it might mean, England has adopted "utility" models of clothing to a limited extent.

Baruch said he wouldn't swap his favorite "office," a park bench in the square opposite the White House, for a desk in the executive headquarters, where Byrnes holds forth.

Favorable weather finds him on the bench a few hours every day he is in town. He ushered two college presidents there to inaugurate the Baruch committee's rubber survey.

Lauds Byrnes

"Any call from so fine a man and so old a friend as Justice Byrnes, commands my best efforts," Baruch said.

"If I can do anything to help the country, I am happy at the opportunity. In taking on this work, I am assuming that the Office of War Mobilization will be effective, and that it is to be the final expression of the commander in chief, and ( therefore, it will not be bypassed or sidetracked.

"Justice Byrnes, if not blocked, will improve things by more clearly defining the work of each administrator and stopping all this infernal bickering which has hurt the war effort and confused the public."

Baruch's white-haired six-foot frame has stood out on the Washington scene for several years—not as a holder of offices, but as an "elder statesman," who has given advice from his World War I experience freely to high and low in the Capital.

He is a close personal friend of President Roosevelt in spite of several sharp differences of opinion.

Baruch at 72 is vigorous, except for a minor impairment of hearing. He lives partly in New York and partly in Washington, and can afford his high policy advisory duties because of a pre-World War I fortune won in Wall Street. He is a native of South Carolina and the son of a Confederate army surgeon.

Actor Becomes U. S. Citizen

Amarillo, Texas, June 10 (AP)—Freddie Bartholomew, movie actor, now an army private, became a citizen of the United States today. Bartholomew, stationed at the Amarillo army airfield, came to this country from England in 1934 when he was 10 years old. He was naturalized under regulations permitting servicemen to become citizens after three months of military duties.

FAIR PROFITS ON ARMS URGED BY FORRESTAL

Wants Industry to Be Lean and Hard After War, Not Fat and Puffy.

HE FAVORS RENEGOTIATION

Maas Says Manufacturers Who Cut Cost of Materials Should Get Extra Return.

JUN 11 1943

Washington, June 10 (A. P.).—James V. Forrestal, Under-Secretary of the Navy, declared today that without renegotiation of war contracts some companies would reap enormous profits which might prove harmful to the whole system of private enterprise.

His statement came as the House Naval Committee opened a two weeks' study of the Government's system of recouping war profits deemed excessive. The inquiry began with this definition of the renegotiation statute by Robert E. Kline, the committee's general counsel:

"This measure was designed to prevent the advent of a new class of war millionaires and to prevent the home front from becoming a happy hunting ground for war profiteers."

Meanwhile, Representative Maas (R.-Minn.) asserted that there "ought to be some drastic refining of the renegotiating statute," and suggested an award above normal profits for manufacturers who make sharp reductions in the cost of war materials.

Calls Law Dangerous.

He termed the renegotiation law "one of the most dangerous ever written by Congress," arguing that if its administration fell into the hands of "socializers" it could be used to destroy private enterprise by eliminating profits altogether.

But Mr. Forrestal, emphasizing his advocacy of the profit motive to obtain production, told the committee that he wanted to see the law administered so that industry would receive a fair profit and come out of the war lean and hard, not fat and puffy.

He testified that renegotiation is the present embodiment of a traditional American determination to prevent inordinate profits from war, adding:

"Balancing this determination—and properly so—is the equally American reliance upon the profit motive as an important inducement in war production. As long as the profit motive is relied upon, industries engaged in war work will and should make reasonable profits. Therefore war profits must be sufficient to make the profit motive work but war profits must not become excessive."

Saved Billion So Far

Mr. Forrestal reported that $35,000,000,000 in war contracts have been assigned thus far to the Navy Department for renegotiation, that it had handled approximately $13,000,000,000 to date, and that it had resulted in a savings of more than $1,000,000,000. Mr. Kline said that the committee has a completely open mind on the question of revising the renegotiation statute. He said that representatives of both big and small manufacturers would have a chance to testify.

He reported that he had lined up spokesmen for the aircraft, textile, shipbuilding, machine tool and munitions industries, as well as officials of the War, Navy and Treasury departments and the War Shipping Administration.

Two measures dealing with the law are now awaiting attention by the Ways and Means Committee, one to repeal it altogether and the other to limit its use to contracts over $500,000, instead of the present $100,000 minimum.

HEAD OF PARAGUAY STATES WAR AIMS

Washington, June 10 (A. P.).—President Higinio Morinigo of Paraguay reaffirmed today "his nation's adherence to the United Nations to oppose the greatest tragedy which the imagination has conceived and which history has recorded in all time."

"Paraguay has kept and will continue to keep faithfully and honorably all her international pledges," said President Morinigo, who is visiting the United States at the invitation of President Roosevelt.

"There is no doubt that the democratic system, as a political and social organization, is the only one which conforms with man's nature," he declared to Congress." But it is also true that any system or body or doctrine can and must be modified in the light of truth without removing, of course, the bases of the juridical structure so that it may not err by trying to operate in a vacuum.

"I do not need to state that we are not dealing with a finished work. Rather, I believe in the reform of its flaws and omissions."

Stressing Pan-American co-operation, he said that its aim is the formation of a world better than the present one on the basis of respect for the principles of ethics and law and of the practice of a true fraternity, as principles essential to a democracy.

He spoke in Spanish.

The South American president was greeted with full military honors upon his arrival yesterday. The program for his visit includes a tour of war manufacturing centers.

Duce Rapidly Nearing 'Timely End,' Says Hull

Washington, June 10 (AP)—Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, said today that Premier Mussolini, on the third anniversary of Italy's entrance into the war, is rapidly approaching a "timely end."

Asked at his press conference if he had any comment on the anniversary, the secretary said he naturally sought to avoid unpleasant reminders of a type such as Mussolini, and the course he had caused his country to pursue in this World War. Then he authorized this direct quotation:

"He has been false to all his people and false to every law and rule of organized society, while on the other hand he has been personally as loyal as his nature will permit to Hitler and Hitlerism and all the infamies which it comprises.

"The timely end to which he is rapidly approaching is but in harmony with the kind of operations he has undertaken to carry on during the past three years."

WLB Orders 15% Wage Rise For Western Union Workers

Increase Will Affect 40,000 Employes — Company Loses Plea To Subtract Merit Boosts

JUN 11 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 10—A fifteen per cent. wage increase was ordered today by the War Labor Board for approximately 40,000 Western Union Telegraph Company employes.

The board rejected the company's contention that merit increases granted since January, 1941, should be subtracted in figuring the fifteen per cent. allowable under the Little Steel wage formula the board follows.

The increase was figured at 7.7 cents an hour, with the average straight-time earnings of the employes covered by the order amounting to 51.4 cents in January, 1941.

Night-Shift Bonus Granted

A union request for additional increases to eliminate inequalities was denied but the board granted a night shift bonus of five per cent., effective immediately.

The pay increases are retroactive to the date on which contracts permitted reopening of the wage issue, or, where contracts had no such provision or where there were no contracts, to the date of certification of the dispute to the WLB.

The order covered 26,000 workers who are members of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union (AFL) and 14,000 workers who are members of four AFL Federal labor unions.

The board said that its orders covered Western Union's entire land-line system except the metropolitian New York and Detroit areas. These latter units of the company, the board said, are represented by the American Communication Association (CIO), and the New York unit received increases under the maladjustment formula on January 13.

Industry, Labor Men Dissent

Industry members of the WLB dissented from the determination of the amount allowable under the Little Steel formula, while the labor members dissented from denial of the additional increases asked to eliminate inequalities.

The order fixed hiring rates for messengers at 30 cents an hour for day walking, 30.5 cents for day bicycle, 33 cents for night walking and 34 cents for night bicycle, with increases after three months and one year so that the respective rates after a year would be 35, 35.5, 38 and 39 cents.

GREEKS GET ANTI-SUB SHIP

JUN 11 1943

Roosevelt Turns Over Lend-Lease Vessel To Government In Exile

Executive Terms Craft An Expression Of U. S. Hopes And Prayers

JUN 11 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 10—President Roosevelt turned over to the Greek Government today an anti-submarine patrol ship as an expression of American hopes and prayers that it would hasten the day "when liberated Greeks will again maintain their own government within the shadow of the Acropolis and Parthenon."

In a ceremony at the Washington Navy Yard the Greek Ambassador accepted the gray PC-622 for his Government. The ship was delivered under lend-lease arrangements and christened King George II, in honor of the Grecian monarch.

Thanked By King

King George personally thanked the President and the American nation in this message, received at the White House from Cairo, seat of the exiled Greek Government:

"On the occasion of the handing over of the new unit which the United States are offering the royal Hellenic navy, I wish to express to you personally, my dear Mr. Roosevelt, and through you to the chivalrous American nation, my warmest thanks for this generous gesture which constitutes a new token of your sympathy towards fighting Greece and reaffirms the bonds of friendship existing both in peace and war between our two countries, and our navies in particular.

"I am fully convinced that the comradeship in arms of the United Nations will bring peace and happiness to the world and will restore the sadly shaken edifice of civilization in which task the United States have the honor to take a foremost part by the brilliant efforts of their gallant fighting services and the generous distribution of their inexhaustible resources."

Roosevelt Broadcast

In a brief broadcast address the

JUN 11 1943

Chief Executive said:

"Mr. Ambassador:

"To most of us gathered here on this occasion, the year 1940 seems a long time ago. Yet in that year occurred an event which shall herald for all time the fact that mere force is not enough to banish man's desire and man's determination for freedom, nor man's willingness to sacrifice life itself that freedom may live.

"History will proclaim the date of that event as October 28, 1940. We know the location of the southern peninsula of the Balkans—an area about the size of New York State. For far more than two thousand years, poets have sung of this land as the kingdom of Hellas—known to us as Greece.

U. S. An Onlooker

"Although we had begun to prepare for the evil fates which were to befall the world in 1940, the United States was for the most part an apprehensive onlooker at the terrible pageant of history. In April of that year we saw the treachery against Norway, the unprovoked murder of Rotterdam, the fall of the Netherlands and the capitulation of Belgium.

"In June of that year, Axis hordes marched into Paris as the banner of liberty hung at half-staff throughout the world. On September 27, of that year, Germany, Italy and Japan signed the pact under which they were to force the blessings of the new order on a neatly parceled-out globe.

"And then came October 28, 1940.

Had Three Hours

"In Athens the people and the Government were given three hours in which to decide whether to accept Axis slavery or to resist an Axis onslaught from the skies. I repeat—the people and the Government of Greece were given three hours, not three days, or three weeks. If they had been given three years their choice would have been the same.

"Today Greece is a land of desolation, stripped bare of all the essentials of living. Thousands have died of hunger. Thousands are dying. Today Greece is a gaunt and haggard sample of what the Axis is so eager and willing to hand to all the world.

"But within their own land, and upon other shores, the Greeks are fighting on. They will never be defeated. And the day will come when liberated Greeks will again maintain their own government within the shadow of the Acropolis and the Parthenon.

Expression Of Hope

"As an expression of our hopes and our prayers that this day may be hastened, the Government and the people of the United States offer a token of our warm friendship for the Government and the people of Greece.

"This ship of war, built by American hands in an American yard, is delivered under the terms of lend-lease to fighting Greeks wherever they may be. As a part of the royal Hellenic navy—and christened King George II—may she add even more luster to the glory that is Greece."

17 OUT OF 100 FATHERS FACE DRAFT IN 1943

JUN 11 1943

Heavy Casualties, However, Would Require Larger Replacements.

FIRST CALL IS DUE AUGUST 1

Chances of Being Inducted Next Year Are Considered as Even More Unlikely.

Washington, June 10 (A. P.).—A draft-age father's chances of being inducted into the armed forces before next year appeared today to be about 17 out of 100. And the chances next year may be even lower unless heavy casualties require unexpectedly large replacements.

Farmer fathers generally will be deferred for occupational reasons, but the outlook for others sums up like this on the basis of latest War Manpower Commission - Selective Service figures:

Drafting of those with children born before September 15 last is not expected to begin before August 1, and even if it starts then it is unlikely to become general and heavy for another month at least.

There are nearly 6,000,000 draft age (non-farm) fathers — only about 4,000,000 of them at most could be expected to be physically acceptable—and the armed services will take in but about 1,500,000 men in all between August 1 and January 1, 1944.

Toward making up this 1,500,000, the services get around 70,000 of the 100,000 becoming 18 years old each month, and should net 350,000 from this source from August on, not counting the youths past 18 who were deferred to the end of the school year.

At least 150,000 more inductees will come from the ranks of single or childless married men, especially as occupational deferments expire for men in that class and the drafting of fathers increases pressure to get men without children out of the shops and into uniform.

With 500,000 or more inductees available from other classes, only 1,000,000 fathers at most will be needed in the ranks, although perhaps twice as many may be called for physical examinations.

The outlook for 1944 naturally is less certain, but if 150,000 men monthly would provide enough replacements for casualties on and off the battlefields—a fair allowance in the eyes of some military men—the draft picture would fill out like this:

To meet the twelve-month requirement of 1,800,000 men, there should be about 850,000 youths newly turned 18 plus a sizeable group of childless men with occupational deferments expiring from week to week, leaving a gap of less than one million to be made up by fathers.

In addition, women taken in by the services count as much toward making up the total strength as do men and, with commanding officers calling for more Waacs, Waves and Spars as the women prove their capability, the number of women in uniforms is expected to grow steadily.

Washington, June 10 (A. P.).—Secretary of War Stimson today described the Chinese victory on the west Hupeh front as "the most important" action on the war fronts in the last week.

He told a press conference that five Jap divisions were repulsed and although they "probably were incomplete divisions, nevertheless the success of China was an important achievement." He said the Chinese had local air superiority in the engagement and that American and Chinese flyers co-ordinated with ground forces to inflict "very considerable" casualties and damage to equipment.

Heavy weather, he reported, has slowed operations of flyers based in England, but "the bomber commands of Britain and America are gaining strength and experience and are prepared to deliver heavy blows against Germany on every day weather permits."

Turning to the North Pacific campaign, he said the hills on Attu Island still are being "systematically searched for possible enemy survivors." American "defense armament is being rapidly installed" and housing supplies and equipment are being placed on the island, he added.

NEW YORK MARINE GETS D. F. C. AWARD

Washington, June 10 (A. P.).—Capt. Hyde Phillips, 28 years old, of New York, who shot down four Japanese planes in less than a month with a Marine aviation unit in the Solomons, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, Marine Corps Headquarters announced today.

Capt. Phillips was a second lieutenant at the time of his action last August and September. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Coles Phillips, 2 Beekman Place, New York. His father is editor of the Elks Magazine, 50 East 42d street.

The captain is now stationed at the naval air training center, Jacksonville, Fla. The citation which accompanied his award reads:

"For heroism and extraordinary achievement in aerial combat against enemy Japanese forces in the Solomon Islands area from August 20 to September 15, 1942.

"While operating with a Marine fighting squadron, Second Lieut. Phillips, with dauntless courage and utter disregard for his own personal safety, repeatedly attacked enemy aircraft which threatened our positions in the area, shooting down four Japanese planes.

"His great personal valor and aggressive fighting spirit were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States naval service."

230 U. S. Soldiers Missing in Action

Washington, June 10 (A. P.).—The War Department announced today the names of 230 United States soldiers missing in action in the European and North African areas. Those with next of kin in New York include:

NEW YORK.

(European Area.)

CULKIN, THOMAS P., sergeant; Mrs. Helen L. Culkin, mother, 25 Kendig Place, Hempstead, L. I.

DARMIENTO, JOSEPH M., second lieutenant; Frank J. Proscia, uncle, 72-47 Calamus avenue, Woodside, Queens.

DUHAMEL, JEAN J., technical sergeant; Mrs. Fleur-Ange Duhamel, mother, 538 East Fourth street, Brooklyn.

EDER, JOHN C., first lieutenant; Mrs. Joyce Eder, wife, 186-36 Jordan avenue, St. Albans, Queens.

GARRAMBONE, VINCENT S., first lieutenant; Miss Marie A. Garrambone, sister, 179 Linden street, Yonkers.

O'REILLY, FRANCIS W., staff sergeant; Mrs. Anna O'Reilly, mother, 472 Baltic street, Brooklyn.

READDING, RUSSELL B., staff sergeant; Mrs. Anna Rose, aunt, 334 East 154th street, Bronx.

SCHATZ, ALFRED M., technical sergeant; Mrs. Tessie H. Schatz, mother, 31-14 Steinway street, Long Island City.

SIKORSKI, ALFRED, technical sergeant; Mrs. Constance Sikorski, mother, 406 13th street, Brooklyn.

(North Africa.)

LARACUENTE, ABEL M., private; Mrs. Frances Laracuente, mother, 144 West 104th street, Manhattan.

LIGHTE, RUBIN R., technical sergeant; Mrs. Charlotte Lenoble, mother, 95 West Tremont avenue, Bronx.

PARKER, WILLARD M., first lieutenant; Mrs. Willard B. Parker, mother, 292 East Sidney avenue, Mount Vernon.

NEW JERSEY.

Reported Missing.

HAGGETER, EDWARD K., staff sergeant; mother, Mrs. Cecilia D. Roehrich, Newark.

FULL DESTRUCTION OF MILITARY CASTE IN AXIS PROPOSED

JUN 11 1943

Hoover, Gibson See Need for Complete Disarmament of Enemy After War.

NEW YORK, June 10 — (AP) Former President Herbert C. Hoover and Hugh Gibson, former U. S. ambassador to Belgium, called today for the destruction of the military caste in Germany, Italy and Japan by "complete disarmament" of those countries after the war.

In their latest article in a series of collaborations running in Collier's magazine, they wrote:

"x x x The preservation of order in those (Axis) countries should be delegated to a constabulary where no man having held an officer's commission would be allowed to serve. Thus only can the continuity of these war machines be broken and the menace wiped out."

Must Reduce Own Armies

They declared that the victorious nations will need to reduce drastically their armed forces after the war "to allow economic recovery and to reduce the spirit of militarism in their own countries as well as the fears of their neighbors."

Development of the combat plane makes this disarmament easier they said, asserting that "a comparatively small air force in the hands of the trustees of peace, with appropriate bases, could in a disarmed world preserve order and prevent aggression."

Declaring that the question of punishment of the enemy is one concrete problem that will arise upon conclusion of hostilities, Mr. Hoover and Mr. Gibson said a distinction must be made between enemy peoples and their leaders. They added:

Punishment for Leaders

"x x x The leaders of the nations who brought this situation upon the world must be made an example for all time. There can be no moral distinction and there should be no legal distinction between such men and common criminals conspiring to murder. Too long has it been assumed that there is something sacrosanct about the heads of state who project or provoke war and this wholesale killing of human being."

As a cure for imperialism they called for a halt in the expansion of empires and said that the "exceptional evolution of the British empire" into a commonwealth of self-governing nations if followed in other empires would help insure peace.

Declaring that the disappearance of small states should not be sought, Mr. Hoover and Mr. Gibson suggested that such states be encouraged to federate, economically and defensively, under some "cantonal system such as Switzerland's or by some other method which will preserve their racial cultures and at the same time promote their economic and political stability."

They added that there are 16 European states "that would fall naturally into four or five groups."

They also urged that post-war international trade by conducted by private enterprise and added that such trading by governments or government subsidy makes the haggling and frictions of markets matters between state departments and foreign offices.

SPANISH ENVOY RETURNS

NEW YORK, June 10—(AP) Juan Cardenas, Spanish ambassador to the United States, returned to this country today from his homeland and said he wanted particularly "to stress the ever-increasing determination of the Spanish government to use all its strength and resources to keep Spain out of the war."

JUN 11 1943

SEES BIG AIRSHIPS PLAYING PART IN WAR

NEW YORK, June 10. — (AP) Rear Admiral Charles E. Rosendahl asserted tonight that airships carrying "a brood of planes can be a powerful striking force in the South Pacific."

"Big airships can play an important part in the war," he told members of the Air Service American Legion Post No. 501 which awarded him the Frank M. Hawks Memorial trophy presented annually for the advancement of the science of aviation.

Declaring that such lighter-than-air craft were operating on both coasts and the gulf, the admiral, recently returned from command of a heavy cruiser in the South Pacific, explained that airplanes could leave the mother ship, fly to objectives and release bombs, and return to their flying base.

NAZIS RECOGNIZE ARGENTINE REGIME

A Transocean (German) news agency dispatch, broadcast by the Berlin radio today, said that Germany has recognized the new Argentine Government of Gen. Pedro Ramirez.

The broadcast, picked up at New York by the Associated Press, said that recognition was announced officially, and implied that Hitler's Foreign Office was satisfied with the new regime succeeding that of President Castillo. Under Castillo Argentina was the only American nation to preserve relations with the Axis.

Spain is the only other European country to have recognized the Ramirez government thus far.

Buenos Aires, June 10 (A. P.). —Vice-Admiral Segundo Storni, the Argentine Foreign Minister, emphasized today that the attitude of the new Provisional Government to the other American nations would be one of "greatest" collaboration.

JUN 11 1943

1943

30.24-4853

He told a group of North American newspaper men that the deeds by which the Government would confirm the policy of inter-American solidarity would unfold step by step. It was the first statement given to the foreign press by the bluff, straightforward naval officer.

Nazis Report Air Raid.

The German High Command communique said heavy German bombers made a "concentrated" attack last night on an important Soviet armament plant at Yaroslavl, 160 miles northeast of Moscow on the Volga River, leaving fires burning over an extensive area.

The communique, broadcast by the German radio and recorded by the Associated Press, also said that the Nazi air force destroyed sixteen Russian landing boats on the east coast of the Sea of Azov yesterday and that light German naval forces sank two Russian supply vessels off the Caucasus coast.

Oversea Cargoes Double Those Of World War No. 1

New York, June 10 (AP)—More than 18,000,000 tons of cargo, over twice as much as was shipped by by the United States during all of World War 1, has been sent overseas during the present conflict, Maj. Gen. Charles P. Gross, chief of the United States Transportation Corps, said today.

This has been accomplished, he told more than 500 executives of railroad and steamship lines at a special meeting of the State Chamber of Commerce, although "the average overseas haul is twice as long as in 1917 and 1918."

"Army vessels put into more than 100 foreign ports of call, many in strange and distant places," he added.

Japan's Army Posts Shuffled

Sano Named Home Defense Staff Chief; New Division Heads Listed

The Japanese War Office announced Thursday a shuffling of various army posts, with Lieutenant General Tadayoshi Sano named chief of staff of Home Defense Headquarters, a Tokio radio broadcast said. It was recorded by The Associated Press. Sano recently returned from the southern Pacific war theater, "where he rendered meritorious service," the broadcast declared.

The broadcast said also that Lieutenant General Shizuo Sakaguchi, commander of a unit which operated in the Philippines and in Java, had been named commander of the Zentsuji Division, and that Lieutenant General Tadamichi Kuribayashi had been named commander of the Tokio Division.

U.A.W. Wants Labor Legion

Would Be Composed of Returning American Soldiers, Board Says

TORONTO, June 10 (AP).—The international executive board of the United Automobile Workers of America, of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, passed yesterday a resolution asking the C. I. O. to consider the "advisability and possibility" of organizing a labor legion of returning American soldiers.

President R. J. Thomas, of the U. A. W., said a Flint, Mich., local had asked the U. A. W. to organize a labor legion to combat what it described as the reactionary influence of the American Legion, and the executive board had passed the request on to the C. I. O. for consideration.

ENEMY FIRE BOMBS PERIL U. S. FORESTS

Dropped From Free Balloons

JUN 11 1943

Parachute Bombs Are Seen As Possible Invasion Weapon

Fragmentation Missiles Exploding Above Ground Found Successful In South Pacific Area

JUN 11 1943

[By the Associated Press]

St. Louis, June 10—The coming invasion of Europe may be heralded by clouds of parachute bombs filling the sky and raining metal fragments on enemy personnel.

The use of parachutes in conjunction with fragmentation bombs was disclosed today by the Army Ordnance Department as a new-but-old weapon proving its worth against the Japanese in the Southwest Pacific.

Not Over Thirty Pounds

The parachute bombs, strewn by low-flying planes, float earthward slowly and explode accurately at any desired distance above the ground. The bombs are small, never weighing over thirty pounds, but contain a high ratio of metal to explosive. The blasts distribute the fragments at high velocity.

Parachute bombs are not new, however. They were developed in this country some ten years ago, but now are undergoing a revival of use, said Col. Merle H. Davis, commanding officer of the St. Louis ordnance district.

Used By Kenny

Lieut. Gen. George C. Kenny, commander of Allied air forces in the Southwest Pacific, helped develop the parachute weapon originally. His effective use of the bombs against the Japanese is believed largely responsible for plans to use them in the Allied offensive in Europe.

Colonel Davis disclosed that among the firms making the rayon parachutes is a company that formerly manufactured women's nightgowns and slips. Another formerly made aprons, pillows and scarfs, and a third manufactured men's caps.

In Oregon, Army Investigator Discloses

[By the Associated Press]

Eugene, Ore., June 10—Incendiary bombs carried by free balloons have been dropped on Oregon forests by the enemy in attempts to start fires, Lieut. Col. James W. Fraser, member of an army party now touring logging and lumber operations in this area, disclosed today.

He said the method of attack has been used with success in World War II. He did not specify the area of the coast where the enemy attacks were made. He said the device was used "in 1942."

Probably From Submarines

The balloons, probably released by enemy submarines carry a cluster of incendiary bombs, timed to drop and explode when they are blown in from the sea over the forests.

Colonel Frazer warned loggers and millmen to be on the alert for repititions of this method of attack and others which have been tested by the enemy.

The army man is now aiding in setting up a forest-protection staff made up of trained woodsmen.

Predicts Concentrated Attack

He predicted that at a "zero hour" chosen by the enemy, a concentrated attack on Oregon forests can be expected, utilizing not only the balloon-carrying incendiaries, but airplane bombing, shelling from submarines and trained saboteurs.

He also warned that lookout stations might be strafed from the air and delayed-action bombs might be used to injure forest-fire fighters.

U. S. Japs Hoarded Food For Foe, Dies Group Told

Los Angeles, June 10 (AP)—A former official of the Poston (Ariz.) relocation center testified before the Dies Congressional subcommittee, it was disclosed today, that Japanese in the Poston camp cached bread and other food in the desert for invasion forces and paratroopers.

The committee made public testimony given before it here May 26 in secret session by Harold H. Townsend, former chief supply and transportation officer at the Poston camp.

Hoarded For Invasion Forces

"We purchased 3,750 pounds of bread daily," Townsend testified, the transcript showed. "They (the Japanese) are not great bread eaters. The majority of this bread was dried and stored away.

"They stated that they were hoarding food, bread and other supplies for parachute troops and for invasion forces.

"The information that was furnished me by certain friendly groups," Townsend continued, "was that they had placed different types of emergency food in secret cellars under the mess halls for the invasion armies and parachute troopers.

Food Buried In Desert

"But in addition to that they had large caches of food throughout the desert, buried, that could be used for similar purposes. This information was furnished by friendly Japanese who were endeavoring to get special favors.

"We were constantly trying to find out what was happening to certain supplies. . . . We constantly had probably fifteen or twenty informants that kept us advised as to certain storages within the camp area."

Townsend declared the Japanese camp occupants "would state they would have our country before long. I have been told that twenty times, at least; in other words, that camp is one hundred per cent. of the idea that Japan will have the United States in a few months. In talking to them, they are very frank about it. . . .

1,000 Jap Soldiers In Camp

"There are over 1,000 Japanese soldiers and Japanese officers in that camp. . . . They are the most indifferent fellows. If you ask them, 'Were you fellows organizing on the West Coast?' they will say, 'Yes, we had our program all set up.'

"I have asked them, 'What were you going to do?' and the anwser was, 'As soon as our soldiers come over, we were going to help them.'

"They tell you right off that they were going to win the war. And that is the type of man that is drilling over there almost daily in military tactics, right under our noses in that camp.

"They drill them in various ways, but still they drill them, and they are making soldiers out of them, and they are not kidding about it. They don't even presume to hide it."

ARMY REINSTATES PACKARD WORKERS

Detroit, June 10 (A. P.).—Col. George E. Strong, industrial relations officer for the Central Procurement District of the Army Air Forces, said today the Army has permitted reinstatement of an undisclosed number of Packard Motor Car Company employees suspended following a recent strike over racial relations at the plant.

Both white and Negro workers were among those permitted to return to work, Col. Strong said, adding they were minor participants in the unauthorized walkout.

The military investigation into the stoppage that virtually halted production of aircraft and marine engines, Col. Strong said, "indicates there are others involved, other than those who have been suspended. Propr action will be taken against these."

Among the employees reinstated was a company foreman alleged to have told white workers they need not work with Negroes. Evidence against him was insufficient, the colonel said.

United Automobile Workers (C. I. O.) officials have charged the Packard strike was instigated by Ku Klux members, and Wayne County Prosecutor William E .Dowling has started an investigation of this angle.

U. S. To Transfer 2 Sub-Chasers To Brazil

Miami, Fla., June 10 (AP)—Two 173-foot sub-chasers will be transferred from the United States Navy to the Brazilian Navy tomorrow at Miami.

Vice-Admiral Alvaro R. Vasconcellos, head of the Brazilian naval mission to the United States, will accept the fighting craft from Rear Admiral W. R. Monroe, commandant of the Seventh Naval District.

The ships will bring to ten the number of sub-chasers transferred to Brazil at Miami under lease-lend agreements.

MEDAL FOR SISTER

Columbus, O., June 10 (A. P.).—Mrs. Edith Hall Price of Obetz Junction said today she had been summoned to Washington to receive from President Roosevelt the Congressional Medal of Honor, awarded posthumously to her brother, Corporal Lewis Hall, who died in action on Guadalcanal on Jan. 10.

A letter from the Adjutant-General's office, asking Mrs. Price to receive the Government's highest military honor in behalf of her brother, said that Corporal Hall, a 47-year-old infantryman, was transferred to a machine gun squad at his own request, and his squad accounted for at least forty of the enemy before he met death.

His sister is the wife of a veteran of the first world war, the mother of two soldiers in the present one and served as a nurse in the former conflict.

ARMY POLICEMAN KILLED IN RIOT

Camp Stewart, Ga., June 10 (A. P.).—Capt. Walter H. Dustmann Jr., public relations officer, reported today that one military policeman was killed and four others wounded during a riot of Negro troops here last night.

He said no white soldiers were involved in the disturbance other than military police and officers and none of the Negro soldiers was injured.

Capt. Dustmann said first reports indicated the Negro soldiers had been stirred up by a false and malicious rumor that Negro girls were being molested.

Private Ronie E. Lindsay, 22 years old, of Valdosta, Ga., was shot and killed. The wounded, all military policemen: Staff Sergt. John L. McEachern, 31, of Homestead, Mont.; Sergt. Charles W. Almond, 24, Atlanta; Sergt. William B. Brown, 24, New York city; Private Merlin B. Hotchkiss, 20, Perry, N. Y. The condition of McEachern was reported serious.

JUN 11 1943

Major E. P. Scott, provost marshal, reported only one shot was fired by military police. The latter, he said, were fired on intermittently by the Negro soldiers.

Quiet was restored shortly after midnight and Major Scott said there had been no further disturbance on the post. A board of officers was appointed immediately to investigate.

Italian Prisoners Are Happy

Newspaper Men Visit Camp in Indiana to See How Fascists Like America.

Camp Atterbury, Ind., June 10 (A. P.).—Did you ever hear the Italian version of "The Beer-Barrel Polka"? That's the favorite marching song of Italian prisoners of war as they go to and from their work in the prisoner-of-war camp in this Indiana Army post.

JUN 11 1943

Newspaper men, making an Army-conducted tour of the stockade, a mile in circumference, found not a single evidence of surliness or unnappiness among the prisoners. They sing as they go to the various jobs assigned to them and they're singing again when they return to their barracks.

Treated as Soldiers.

In their idle moments you'll find a soccer game or two going on at the huge recreation field. Others are playing volley ball and still others are lounging in their barracks, or making intricate designs in stone in front of their living quarters.

Lieut.-Col. John L. Gammell, commanding officer of the United States Army unit which has charge of the prisoners, said that there hasn't been a single effort to escape from this camp. The prisoners are treated exactly as soldiers, except that they must live in their own stockade and are under guard.

They must salute United States officers and United States officers salute. The prisoners receive a flat allowance of 10 cents daily, an extra 80 cents daily when they do work outside their own stockade, and they may receive up to $13 monthly of that money in coupons exchangeable at their own canteen. The remainder of the money is kept in trust for them, under the terms of the Geneva prisoner-of-war convention, until they are repatriated.

Salutes of Two Sorts.

The salutes were particularly noticeable on the trip through the stockade. When the prisoners were wearing their hats they gave a reasonable facsimile of the American salute. Bareheaded, they gave the Roman salute.

The men are doing cleanup and repair work at the camp. Others are working at the post's fifty-acre vegetable garden and still others are employed on nearby private farms.

Newspaper men ate with the prisoners. The noon meal was spaghetti, meat and potatoes, bread, coffee and pears. Col. Gammell explained that the prisoners expressed a dislike for the amount of meat given to them when they first arrived.

Flour for Meat.

They wanted more starchy food, so a deal was made whereby an extra supply of flour was allotted in return for less meat. Now the men devour great quantities of Italian bread, which they make themselves, and spaghetti which they also prefer to make.

The prisoners were as curious about the party of civilians going through the stockade as the civilians were about them. Broad grins spread over every face and a jabber of Italian resounded throughout the stockade.

One prisoner, graying slightly, tried to hand what apparently was a note to a reporter, but when the newspaper man shook his head that he couldn't take it, the man backed away.

JUN 11 1943

THE WAR TODAY

- - -

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

- - -

WHETHER THE VOLCANIC ISLAND FORTRESS OF PANTELLERIA HAS BEEN OCCUPIED BY ALLIED FORCES, AS IS RATHER VAGUELY REPORTED IN SOME QUARTERS IN LONDON, THE FACT REMAINS THAT THE PRELIMINARIES TO INVASION NOT ONLY OF THIS SMALL ISLE BUT OF EUROPE AS A WHOLE ALREADY ARE UNDER WAY.

JUN 11 1943

JUST AS IN THE CASE OF AN OFFENSIVE BY AN ARMY ON LAND, INTENSIVE BOMBARDMENT OF ENEMY POSITIONS PRECEDES THE ZERO HOUR WHEN THE MEN SWARM "OVER THE TOP". THE MORE THOROUGH THE ADVANCE PREPARATION, THE EASIER AND LESS COSTLY THE FINAL ASSAULT.

SO WE ARE IN PROCESS OF IRONING OUT THE AXIS, AND IN THIS SENSE THE INVASION OF THE CONTINENT ACTUALLY IS UNDER WAY.

HOWEVER, I THINK WE SHALL DO WELL IF WE DON'T LET OUR BLOOD PRESSURES RUN TOO HIGH IN ANTICIPATION OF QUICK RESULTS IN THE LARGER FIELDS.

IT SHOULD BE REMEMBERED THAT THE LIABILITIES ARE LIKELY TO BE MUCH GREATER IN AMPHIBIOUS OFFENSIVES THAN IN ATTACKS CARRIED OUT ENTIRELY ON LAND. LANDING OPERATIONS MAY ENTAIL A TERRIBLE LOSS OF LIFE, SHIPS AND MATERIEL UNLESS MOST CAREFUL PREPARATIONS ARE MADE. THAT FACT UNDOUBTEDLY WILL BE A GREAT FACTOR IN GUIDING THE PLANS OF THE ALLIED HIGH COMMAND.

OF COURSE, THE POSSIBILITY OF A CONSIDERABLE LAPSE OF TIME BEFORE MAJOR INVASIONS OCCUR DOESN'T NECESSAILY MEAN THAT WE SHALL NOT SEE SOME FAIRLY QUICK ACTION. IT'S POSSIBLE THAT PANTELLERIA AND LAMPEDUSA AND EVEN THE BIGGER ITALIAN ISLANDS OF SICILY AND SARDINIA MIGHT COME UNDER ASSAULT BY LANDING FORCES AT ANY TIME. STILL, IT SEEMS FAIRLY OBVIOUS THAT THE ALLIED COMMAND IS PROCEEDING METHODICALLY AND DOESN'T INTEND TO BE RUSHED.

BRITISH PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL SAYS "IT IS EVIDENT THAT AMPHIBIOUS OPERATIONS OF A PECULIAR COMPLEXITY AND HAZARD ON A LARGE SCALE ARE APPROACHING." THAT'S GOOD NEWS, AND NOT UNEXPECTED. BUT YOU WILL NOTE THAT HE DOESN'T SAY WHEN THE ZERO HOUR WILL BE. THAT STORM MAY BE A TINY CLOUD-DOT ON THE HORIZON AS YET.

JUN 11 1943

PROBABLY THE PRIME MINISTER DOESN'T KNOW WHEN THE MAJOR ACTION WILL TAKE PLACE. IT MUST DEPEND ON DEVELOPMENTS. IT MIGHT COME QUICKLY AND IT MIGHT DRAG ON FOR MONTHS.

JUN 11 1943

JUST TO ILLUSTRATE WHAT I MEAN, PROBABLY A GREAT DEAL WILL DEPEND ON WHAT HAPPENS ALONG THE RUSSIAN FRONT. IF HITLER SHOULD LAUNCH A GREAT OFFENSIVE SUDDENLY, THAT MIGHT EASILY SEND THE ALLIED INVASION MACHINE INTO HIGH GEAR. WE THEN SHOULD HAVE THE ALL HIGHEST BETWEEN TWO FIRES. IN OTHER WORDS, WHILE THE ALLIED STRATEGY IS DIRECTED ALONG VERY CERTAIN LINES, THE HOUR TO HOUR TACTICS OF THE FIGHTING FRONT MUST BE CONTROLLED BY CIRCUMSTANCES.

SO FAR AS CONCERNS PANTELLERIA, THAT SMALL BUT POWERFUL ITALIAN FORTRESS STANDS RIGHT IN THE MIDDLE OF THE NARROW CHANNEL BETWEEN SICILY AND THE AFRICAN MAINLAND. IT MUST BE KNOCKED OUT BEFORE ALLIED SHIPPING CAN OPERATE FREELY IN THOSE WATERS FOR THE LARGER OPERATIONS. LAMPEDUSA, WHICH LIES NOT FAR FROM PANTELLERIA, ALSO IS A THORN IN THE SIDE OF WATER-BORNE TRAFFIC, ALTHOUGH IN A LESS DEGREE.

THE GREAT ISLANDS OF SICILY AND SARDINIA ARE A PARTICULAR MENACE TO THE NARROW SHIP LANE WHICH RUNS BETWEEN SICILY AND TUNISIA. FOR THAT REASON IT IS LOGICAL TO BELIEVE THAT THE ALLIES WILL DEAL WITH THEM BEFORE PROCEEDING TO BIGGER PROBLEMS.

JUN 11 1943

FINALLY, IN CONSIDERING THE QUESTION OF TIME REQUIRED FOR MAJOR AMPHIBIOUS OPERATIONS, WE MUSTN'T OVERLOOK THE VASTNESS OF THE PREPARATIONS REQUIRED. IT TAKES A HUGE FLEET TO MOVE EVEN A MODERATE SIZED ARMY TO THE SCENE OF ACTION, AND KEEP IT SUPPLIED WITH MUNITIONS AND FOOD. IT ALSO DEMANDS GREAT AERIAL AND NAVAL SUPPORT.

30.24-4855

BY E.C. DANIEL

LONDON, JUNE 10-(AP)-THE UNITED STATES ARMY AIR FORCE, RAPIDLY INCREASING ITS STRENGTH IN PLANES AND MEN, HAS ASSIGNED A UNIT OF FLYING FORTRESSES TO UNDERTAKE NIGHT BOMBING EXPERIMENTS FROM BRITAIN WITH THE ROYAL AIR FORCE, A RELIABLE SOURCE SAID TODAY.

THEIR LIGHT, DAY CAMOUFLAGE PAINTED OVER WITH THE BLACK OF THE RAF'S NIGHT-RIDING LANCASTERS AND HALIFAXES, THE FORTRESSES SOON WILL JOIN THE RAF IN NIGHT ATTACK ON GERMANY, IT WAS SAID. JUN 11 1943

EXPERIENCE GAINED BY AMERICAN CREWS ON THESE FLIGHTS IT WAS ADDED, WILL BE USED AS A POSSIBLE BASIS FOR TRAINING OTHER UNITED STATES ARMY AIR FORCE AIRMEN FOR NIGHT FORAYS BY AMERICAN SQUADRONS. THE NUMBER TO BE USED IN THE INITIAL EXPERIMENTAL FLIGHT WAS NOT ANNOUNCED, BUT IT IS SAID TO BE NOT LARGE.

THE FLYING FORTRESSES ORIGINALLY WERE EQUIPPED AND THE CREWS TRAINED FOR HIGH-LEVEL DAYLIGHT PRECISION BOMBING, WHICH PROVED TO BE A SENSATIONAL SUCCESS DESPITE THE DEFENSE EFFORTS OF THE GERMAN AIR FORCE AND THE EARLY SKEPTICISM OF BRITISH COMMENTATORS.

BOTH THE NORDEN BOMBSIGHT AND THE UNIQUE ARRAY OF FIFTY-CALIBER MACHINE GUNS WERE DESIGNED ESPECIALLY FOR DAYLIGHT OPERATIONS AND THE CREWS WERE NOT TRAINED FOR THE INTRICATE PROBLEMS OF TAKEOFF, LANDING, NAVIGATING AND FIGHTING AT NIGHT--AN RAF SPECIALTY.

THE EXPERIMENT WITH NIGHT OPERATIONS, WHICH HAD BEEN OFFICIALLY FORECAST, DOES NOT MEAN THAT THE UNITED STATES ARMY AIR FORCE WILL ABANDON DAY BOMBING EVENTUALLY. ON THE CONTRARY, IT WILL GROW STEADILY IN POWER. DESPITE THE FACT THAT THE TACTICS OF THE GERMAN

JUN 11 1943

AIR FORCE AGAINST THE FORTRESSES HAS IMPROVED WITH EXPERIENCE, DAY BOMBING IS CONSIDERED STILL TO BE WELL WORTH ITS COST IN PLANES AND MEN, AIRMEN SAY.

JUN 11 1943

A RECENT CONTINGENT OF AMERICAN AIRMEN WHO HAVE ARRIVED IN GREAT BRITAIN FULLY TRAINED TO SERVICE AND FLY THE RAPIDLY INCREASING FLEET OF UNITED STATES ARMY AIR FORCE PLANES HERE IS BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN ONE OF THE LARGEST EVER SHIPPED ABROAD.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE LATEST CONTINGENT'S ARRIVAL AT A BRITISH PORT WAS MADE EARLY TODAY. THE TRIP ACROSS THE ATLANTIC WAS FAST AND UNEVENTFUL, THE ANNOUNCEMENT SAID.

THE AIRMEN---MOSTLY COMBAT CREWS--CAME TO REPLACE MEN WHO HAVE COMPLETED THEIR REQUIRED QUOTA OF RAIDS ON EUROPE AND TO MAN BOMBERS WHOSE NUMBERS MOMENTARILY EXCEED AVAILABLE MANPOWER. THE CREW OF THE "MEMPHIS BELLE", HAVING COMPLETED 25 BOMBING MISSIONS OVER THE CONTINENT, WAS GIVEN A GALA SEND-OFF YESTERDAY PREPARATORY TO THEIR LEAVING FOR THE UNITED STATES TO PARTICIPATE IN A WAR BOND SELLING CAMPAIGN.

JUN 11 1943

REPLACEMENTS AND EXPANSIONS HAVE OCCASIONED SOME REORGANIZATION OF THE UNITED STATES ARMY AIR FORCE, WHICH HAS BEEN WITHHOLDING MAJOR BLOWS FROM EUROPE FOR THE PAST TEN DAYS, AS HAS THE HEAVY BOMBER FLEET OF THE RAF.

RESUMPTION OF BOMBING RAIDS ON THE CONTINENT, HOWEVER, IS EXPECTED TO BRING THE HEAVIEST BLOWS YET BY THE AMERICAN AIR FORCE, WHICH HAS ALREADY SENT NEARLY 200 PLANES OVER THE CONTINENT IN A SINGLE TWO-BLADED RAID, ACCORDING TO THE EVENING STANDARD.

IT WAS NOT DISCLOSED HOW MANY PLANES PARTICIPATED IN THE THREE-PLY RAID OF MAY 29 ON LA PALLICE, ST. NAZAIRE AND RENNES, WHICH WAS DESCRIBED AS THE HEAVIEST YET STAGED BY THE EIGHTH UNITED STATES ARMY AIR FORCE. HOWEVER IT WAS SAID THAT THE UNITED STATES OBJECTIVE IS TO PLACE AS MANY PLANES IN THE AIR DURING THE DAY AS THE RAF DOES AT NIGHT.

JUN 11 1943

LONDON, FRIDAY, JUNE 11-(AP)-MICHAEL KALININ, PRESIDENT OF THE U.S.S.R., TODAY EXPRESSED HIS CONVICTION THAT FRIENDLY WAR-TIME TIES BETWEEN RUSSIA AND THE UNITED STATES WILL ENSURE "CLOSE COOPERATION IN POST WAR TIMES TOGETHER WITH THE PEOPLES OF FREEDOM-LOVING COUNTRIES."

HIS STATEMENT WAS CONTAINED IN A MESSAGE TO PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT ON THE FIRST ANNIVERSARY OF THE SOVIET-AMERICAN PACT SIGNED IN WASHINGTON DURING A VISIT BY VYACHESLAV MOLOTOV, COMMISSAR OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS. THE MESSAGE WAS BROADCAST BY THE MOSCOW RADIO AND RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

SENDING HIS "SINCERE GREETINGS," KALININ SAID HE WAS "DEEPLY CONVINCED" THAT THE "FIGHTING COMPANIONSHIP" BETWEEN THE TWO NATIONS "WILL CONTINUE TO GAIN STRENGTH, ENSURING THE FURTHER SUCCESSES OF OUR JOINT STRUGGLE AND THE FINAL VICTORY OF THE U.S.S.R., THE UNITED STATES AND GREAT BRITAIN OVER OUR COMMON ENEMY."

(THE AGREEMENT, WHICH IS ONE YEAR OLD TODAY, WAS ANNOUNCED IN WASHINGTON WITH THE STATEMENT THAT "FULL UNDERSTANDING WAS REACHED WITH REGARD TO THE URGENT TASKS OF CREATING A SECOND FRONT IN EUROPE IN 1942. IN ADDITION, THE MEASURES FOR INCREASING AND SPEEDING UP THE SUPPLIES OF PLANES, TANKS AND OTHER KINDS OF WAR MATERIALS FROM THE UNITED STATES TO THE SOVIET UNION WERE DISCUSSED. FURTHER WERE DISCUSSED THE FUNDAMENTAL PROBLEMS OF COOPERATION OF THE SOVIET UNION AND THE UNITED STATES IN SAFEGUARDING PEACE AND SECURITY TO THE FREEDOM-LOVING PEOPLES AFTER THE WAR.")

JUN 11 1943

30.24-4857

LONDON, JUNE 10-(AP)-A GERMAN INFANTRY ATTACK IN THE LISICHANSK AREA, WHERE THE GERMANS FREQUENTLY HAVE ATTEMPTED TO PENETRATE RUSSIAN POSITIONS ON THE BANKS OF THE DONETS RIVER, HAS BEEN REPULSED WITH HEAVY LOSSES TO THE ATTACKERS, THE SOVIET NOON COMMUNIQUE ANNOUNCED TODAY.

THE RED ARMY'S ARTILLERY AND SUPPORTING MORTAR AND MACHINE-GUN BATTERIES LAID DOWN A HEAVY FIRE ON THE TANK-SUPPORTED ATTACKING FORCE AND CAUSED IT TO RETIRE TO ITS ORIGINAL POSITION, AND A GERMAN PLANE WAS SHOT DOWN IN THE ENGAGEMENT, THE WAR BULLETIN SAID. IT WAS RECORDED HERE BY THE SOVIET RADIO MONITOR.

JUN 11 1943

ELSEWHERE ON THE LONG LAND FRONT ACTION CONTINUED INCONCLUSIVE, THE RUSSIANS SAID, ALTHOUGH ON THE SMOLENSK FRONT ABOUT A COMPANY OF GERMAN INFANTRY WAS SLAIN, EIGHT ENEMY BLOCKHOUSES WERE SMASHED AND AN ENEMY RECONNAISSANCE PLANE WAS SHOT DOWN, IT WAS DECLARED.

THE COMMUNIQUE AGAIN WAS SILENT ON THE FIGHTING IN THE KUBAN VALLEY OF THE WESTERN CAUCASUS WHERE THE GERMANS ASSERTED THE RUSSIANS HAVE LOST HEAVILY IN MEN AND EQUIPMENT DURING THE LAST TWO WEEKS. THE GERMANS ALSO SAID THEY PUT OUT OF ACTION 47 RUSSIAN LANDING BOATS IN THE SEA OF AZOV.

THE RUSSIANS, IN TURN DECLARED THEY DESTROYED BETWEEN 150 AND 160 GERMAN AIRCRAFT TUESDAY NIGHT IN RAIDS ON SIX ENEMY AIRPORTS AND SHOT DOWN 24 MORE GERMAN PLANES ATTEMPTING TO ATTACK ON THE VOLKHOV FRONT SOUTHEAST OF LENINGRAD. THE SOVIET ANNOUNCEMENT, MADE BY THE MOSCOW RADIO, SAID THE JUSSIANS TOTAL LOSS WAS 26 PLANES.

-95-

LONDON, JUNE 10-(AP)-RUSSIAN BOMBERS IN FORCE ATTACKED FIVE GERMAN AIRDROMES LAST NIGHT AND INFLICTED HEAVY LOSSES, THE SOVIET RADIO, RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, SAID TONIGHT.

THE GERMANS ATTEMPTED TO BOMB YAROSLAVL THE SAME NIGHT, THE RADIO SAID, AND DESTROYED DWELLING HOUSES, WITH SOME CIVILIAN CASUALTIES.

LONDON, JUNE 10-(AP)-THE MOSCOW RADIO REPORTED TODAY THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE COMMUNIST INTERNATIONAL HAD ANNOUNCED THAT ITS DECISION TO DISSOLVE THE COMINTERN HAD BEEN "UNANIMOUSLY APPROVED BY ALL SECTIONS ABLE TO SEND IN THEIR DECISIONS, INCLUDING ALL THE MOST IMPORTANT."

JUN 11 1943

"THEREFORE," SAID THE BROADCAST, WHICH WAS RECORDED BY THE SOVIET MONITOR, "IT IS CONSIDERED THAT FROM JUNE 10, 1943, THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE COMMUNIST INTERNATIONAL, THE PRESIDIUM AND THE SECRETARIAT OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE, AS WELL AS THE INTERNATIONAL-CONTROLLED COMMISSION, HAVE BEEN DISSOLVED."

THE DECISION TO DISSOLVE THE COMINTERN--THE INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATION WHICH LENIN AND HIS FOLLOWERS CREATED IN 1919 TO MOBILIZE WORKERS' PARTIES THROUGHOUT THE WORLD--WAS TAKEN BY THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE ON MAY 22.

AT THAT TIME THE COMMITTEE SAID THAT IT WAS ASKING THE VARIOUS NATIONAL SECTIONS TO RATIFY THE STEP BECAUSE OF THE IMPOSSIBILITY OF CONVENING A WORLD CONGRESS UNDER PRESENT WAR CONDITIONS.

INVASION (ADD - INVASION)

LONDON, JUNE 10-(AP)-~~THE THIRD ANNIVERSARY OF ITALY'S ENTRANCE~~

JUN 11 1943

JUN 11 1943

SARDINIA AND SICILY ALSO CONTINUED TO FEEL THE WEIGHT OF ALLIED AIR POWER, AND THESE KEY ISLANDS ALSO FIGURED IN THE GENERAL SPECULATION OVER POSSIBLE INVASION MOVES.

MEANTIME, THROUGHOUT THE REMAINDER OF HITLER'S EUROPEAN FORTRESS THERE WERE CONTINUED STIRRINGS OF RESISTANCE AS THE CZECHS RECALLED TODAY WAS THE FIRST ANNIVERSARY OF THE MASSACRE OF LIDICE, WHEN AN ENTIRE VILLAGE WAS DESTROYED BY THE GERMANS FOR HAVING HARBORED THE ASSASSINS OF REINHARDT HEYDRICH, REICHS PROTECTOR FOR BOHEMIA AND MORAVIA.

JUN 11 1943

"MUSSOLINI IS BEGINNING TODAY TO SUFFER THE CONSEQUENCES OF HIS CRUELTIES AND TREACHERIES," CZECH COMMENT RAN. "IT MUST BE A DISMAL, FEARFUL ANNIVERSARY FOR HIM. TOMORROW IT WILL BE HITLER'S TURN TO FEEL THE CRUSHING BLOW OF JUSTICE."

AS THOUGH TO LEND WEIGHT TO THIS PREDICTION CAME THE ANNOUNCEMENT LAST NIGHT THAT A SIZEABLE NEW CONTINGENT OF UNITED STATES SOLDIERS HAD ARRIVED RECENTLY IN A BRITISH PORT AFTER A FAST TRIP WITHOUT INCIDENT.

JUN 11 1943

NUMEROUS AIRMEN, SWELLING THE FAST-GROWING EIGHTH U.S. AIR FORCE, WERE INCLUDED IN THE GROUP, IT WAS DECLARED. IT WAS THE SECOND DISCLOSURE IN RECENT DAYS OF ADDITIONS TO THE AIR FORCE HERE.

THE GERMANS WERE MEETING SUCH ANNOUNCEMENTS WITH WORDS, FILLING THE AIR WITH BROADCASTS THAT SPOKE TAUNTINGLY OF THE ALLIES' FORTHCOMING INVASION OF THE CONTINENT.

A SAMPLE OF THE AXIS MORALE BUILD-UP WAS A PARIS RADIO BROADCAST LAST NIGHT WHICH QUOTED BERLIN MILITARY CIRCLES AS DECLARING THE EUROPEAN ANTI-INVASION WALL HAD BEEN "CONSIDERABLY STRENGTHENED" IN THE LAST 10 DAYS, WITH NEW AND HEAVIER ARMAMNETS INSTALLED.

LONDON, JUNE 10-(AP)-A REUTERS DISPATCH FROM ALGIERS SAID TODAY THAT GEN. HENRI GIRAUD HAD "ACCEPTED IN PRINCIPLE" AN INVITATION TO VISIT WASHINGTON. IT SAID HE WAS NOT LIKELY TO LEAVE ALGIERS UNDER PRESENT CIRCUMSTANCES, HOWEVER.

LONDON, JUNE 10-(AP)-THE PARIS RADIO REPORTED TODAY IN A BROADCAST HEARD BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS THAT A FLYING FORTRESS CRASHED LAST NIGHT SIX MILES FROM ALGECIRAS, SPAIN, KILLING EIGHT MEMBERS OF THE CREW, TWO WHO BAILED OUT WERE REPORTED SERIOUSLY INJURED.

LONDON, JUNE 10-(AP)-AXIS FORCES SUPPORTED BY 35 TANKS AND A STRONG AIR COVER HAVE FORCED THEIR WAY INTO THE MONTENEGRIN TOWN OF SADNIK IN THE FACE OF FIERCE RESISTANCE BY GEN. DRAJA MIHAILOVIC'S GUERRILLA FORCES, THE YUGOSLAV GOVERNMENT-IN-EXILE ANNOUNCED TODAY.

JUN 11 1943

THE ANNOUNCEMENT SAID THE PATRIOTS KILLED AND WOUNDED MANY OF THE ENEMY.

HEAVY FIGHTING WAS REPORTED CONTINUING AFTER THE GUERRILLA FORCES RETIRED TO THE SURROUNDING MOUNTAINS.

IN ANOTHER CLASH, THE YUGOSLAVS WERE SAID TO HAVE SURROUNDED AND VIRTUALLY WIPED OUT A GERMAN BATTALIONIN TWO DAYS OF FIGHTING ENDING JUNE 1 IN THE SERBIAN MOUNTAIN REGION OF GUCEVO, NEAR THE DRINA RIVER.

CX CO DT PX PG June 11 - BY KING

LONDON--FIRST ADD AMERICANS DECORATED XXX FLYING MEDALS.

LIEUT.STICKELL IS THE FIFTH MEMBER OF THE RCAF TO RECEIVE THE D.S.O. AND THE SECOND AMERICAN MEMBER OF THE CORPS TO WEAT THE DECORATION. THE PREVIOUS AMERICAN WINNER IS FLIGHT LIEUTENANT J.C. MCCARTHY OF ST.JAMES, LONG ISLAND, WHO FLEW ON THE RAID WHICH RESULTED

JUN 11 1943 ✓

IN THE BREACHING OF THE MOEHNE AND EDER DAMS IN GERMANY.

THE CITATIONS TO THE MEN FLYING WITH THE CANADIANS:

FLT.LT.STICKELL:

JUN 11 1943

"DURING A MOST SUCCESSFUL TOUR OF OPERATIONAL DUTY IN HEAVY BOMBER AIRCRAFT THIS OFFICER HAS PROVED HIMSELF TO BE A MOST VALUABLE MEMBER OF HIS SQUADRON. HE IS AN OUTSTANDING OPERATIONAL CAPTAIN AND HAS INVARIABLY MADE THE UTMOST EFFORTS TO COMPLETE HIS DUTIES REGARDLESS OF OPPOSITION AND OTHER DIFFICULTIES.

"HIS COURAGE, DETERMINATION AND DEVOTION TO DUTY HAVE BEEN MOST OUTSTANDING OVER A LONG PERIOD. SINCE THE AWARD OF THE D.F.C. IN NOVEMBER, 1942, FLT.LT.STICKELL HAS COMPLETED NUMEROUS SORTIES, ALL OF THEM AGAINST HEAVILY DEFENDED TARGETS IN ENEMY TERRITORY."

FLT.LT.MCGEE (27134 BEVERLY RD, INKSTER, MICH.):

"THROUGHOUT HIS OPERATIONAL CAREER THIS OFFICER HAS DISPLAYED ENTHUSIASM AND KEENNESS FOR OPERATIONAL FLYING. HE HAS ATTACKED THE MOST HEAVILY DEFENDED TARGETS WITH GREAT DETERMINATION. ON ONE OCCASION DURING AN ATTACK ON TURIN HIS AIRCRAFT WAS DAMAGED BY ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE AND ITS LOAD OF INCENDIARY BOMBS SET ON FIRE. ALTHOUGH THE FIRE MADE HIS AIRCRAFT VISIBLE TO THE ENEMY HE CONTINUED HIS MISSION AND BOMBED THE TARGET. ON ALL OPERATIONS FLT. LT.MCGEE HAS DISPLAYED UNFAILING ABILITY AND COURAGE IN THE FACE OF DANGER.

FLT.LT.DIERKES, (3003 OBSERVATORY RD., CINCINNATI, O.): JUN 11 1943

"AN OUTSTANDING PILOT, THIS OFFICER'S KEENNESS AND DETERMINATION THROUGHOUT HIS TOUR HAVE BEEN EXEMPLARY. HE HAS FLOWN ON A LARGE NUMBER OF OPERATIONS ATTACKING SUCH HEAVILY DEFENDED TARGETS AS BERLIN, HAMBURG, ESSEN, COLOGNE AND NUREMBURG. HE HAS ALSO ATTACKED ITALIAN TARGETS AT MILAN AND SPEZIA, OBTAINING SOME EXCELLENT PHOTO-GRAPHS. ON MANY OCCASIONS THIS OFFICER'S AIRCRAFT HAS BEEN DAMAGED BY ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE BUT EACH TIME HE HAS SKILFULLY FLOWN IT BACK TO BASE. FLT.LT.DIERKES, BY HIS FINE FIGHTING SPIRIT AND GREAT DEVOTION TO DUTY HAS SET A SPLENDID EXAMPLE TO ALL."

3024-4859

FLT.SGT. GOODWIN (168 FERNBROOK AVE., WYNCOTE, PA.):

"THROUGHOUT A VERY SUCCESSFUL TOUR OF OPERATIONS, FLT.SGT. GOODWIN HAS SHOWN OUTSTANDING ABILITY AS A PILOT. HIS CAREFUL ATTENTION TO PRE-FLIGHT PLANNING HAS ENABLED HIM TO AVOID UNNECESSARY HAZARDS. HIS DETERMINATION OVER THE TARGET IN THE FACE OF THE HEAVIEST OPPOSITION HAS BEEN AN EXAMPLE TO ALL WHILE HIS OBSERVATIONS AND REPORTS HAVE BEEN EXCEPTIONALLY RELIABLE AND USEFUL.

"THIS AIRMAN HAS ATTACKED A WIDE VARIETY OF TARGETS IN GERMANY AND ITALY, INCLUDING SOME OF THOSE WHICH ARE HEAVILY DEFENDED. DESPITE MANY HAZARDOUS EXPERIENCES, FLT.SGT.GOODWIN'S KEENNESS FOR OPERATIONAL FLYING REMAINS UNDIMINISHED AND HIS COURAGE AND DETERMINATION CONTINUE TO BE WORTHY OF HIGH PRAISE." JUN 11 1943

MADRID, JUNE 10-(AP)-THE SPANISH FOREIGN OFFICE ANNOUNCED TODAY THAT OFFICIAL RECOGNITION HAD BEEN ACCORDED THE NEW ARGENTINE GOVERNMENT OF GENERAL PEDRO RAMIREZ.

THE INFORMATION WAS CONVEYED TO ARGENTINE AMBASSADOR ALBERTO PALACIOUS COSTA WHEN HE CALLED AT THE FOREIGN MINISTRY TO ANNOUNCE THE SWEARING IN OF THE GOVERNMENT IN BUENOS AIRES.

STOCKHOLM, JUNE 10-(AP)-THE BERLIN CORRESPONDENT OF THE STOCKHOLMS TIDNINGEN SAID IN A DISPATCH TODAY THAT NAZI OFFICIAL CIRCLES REPORTED THE ALLIED BOMBARDMENT OF GERMAN CITIES WAS HAVING WORSE EFFECTS ON THE EPEOPLE OF THE REICH THAN "THE INVASION NERVE WAR."

JUN 11 1943

"IT'S A DAMNED SERIOUS THING," ADOLF HITLER'S NEWSPAPER VOELKISCHER BEOBACHTER WAS QUOTED.

INFORMED MILITARY CIRCLES WERE SAID TO HAVE DECLARED THAT "THE EUROPEAN FORTRESS" WAS PREPARED FOR INVASION AND THAT THE WAR OF NERVES WAS AFFECTING THE BRITISH MORE THAN THE GERMANS.

THEY ADDED, HOWEVER, THAT THEY COULD NO LONGER HIDE THE FACT THAT DAILY ROUND-THE-CLOCK AERIAL SORTIES OVER GERMANY WERE "AWFUL ON THE HEALTH AND NERVES OF THE PEOPLE," WHETHER BOMBS FELL IN THEIR IMMEDIATE VICINITY OR NOT.

JUN 11 1943

STOCKHOLM, JUNE 10-(AP)-ROWS OF BARRACK-LINE HOUSES IN ONE WESTERN GERMAN INDUSTRIAL TOWN WERE SWEPT AWAY LIKE TOY WOODEN BLOCKS BY WAVES OF WATER, FOLLOWING THE BREACHING OF THE EDER AND MOEHNE DAMS, THE BERLIN CORRESPONDENT OF THE SVENSKA DAGBLADET REPORTED TODAY HE HAD BEEN INFORMED BY AN EYEWITNESS.

THE CORRESPONDENT SAID THE GERMAN CENSORSHIP NOW WAS PERMITTING FIRST DETAILS OF THE DISASTER TO BE TELEGRAPHED FROM BERLIN, BUT REFUSED TO ALLOW THE USE OF THE TOWN'S NAME OR WHETHER IT WAS IN THE WESER OR RUHR VALLEYS.

JUN 11 1943

THE EYEWITNESS, ACCORDING TO THE CORRESPONDENT, SAID THAT HE MANAGED TO WARN 1,000 PERSONS OF THE ON-RUSHING WATERS AND THAT 92 WHO REFUSED TO HEED THE WARNING DROWNED. TREE TOPS WERE COVERED BY THE FLOOD WATERS, HOUSES AND OTHER BUILDINGS WERE ENGULFED AND WIDESPREAD DEVASTATION RESULTED, HE WAS QUOTED AS SAYING.

SCENES AT THE TOWN'S GRAVEYARDS A FEW DAYS LATER AS THE RESIDENTS BURIED THEIR FAMILIES AND RELATIVES "COULD NOT BE DESCRIBED," THE DAGBLADET'S CORRESPONDENT SAID HE WAS INFORMED.

BY JOHN COLBURN

STOCKHOLM, JUNE 10-(AP)-ROBERT M.MCCLINTOCK, CHARGES D'AFFIRES OF THE U.S.LEGATION AT HELSINKI, IS SCHEDULED TO ARRIVE IN STOCKHOLM TOMORROW AND OBSERVERS COUPLED HIS TRIP WITH A NEWSPAPER REPORT THAT FINLAND HAD YIELDED TO NAZI DEMANDS FOR FINNISH REPLACEMENTS ON THE GERMAN-RUSSIAN FRONT.

SOME OF THESE OBSERVERS, WHO CANNOT BE IDENTIFIED BY NAME, SAID THEY BELIEVED THE UNITED STATES HAD BEEN AWAITING ONLY SOME FURTHER SIGN THAT FINLAND WOULD BOW TO SUCH PRESSURE BEFORE SEVERING DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS BETWEEN HELSINKI AND WASHINGTON.

JUN 11 1943

DIPLOMATIC QUARTERS SAID MCCLINTOCK'S TRIP WAS "PURELY PERSONAL." THEY REPORTED HE EXPECTED TO SPEND THREE OR FOUR DAYS WITH MEMBERS OF HIS FAMILY, WHO HAVE BEEN IN STOCKHOLM SINCE THE UNITED STATES WITHDREW MOST OF THE LEGATION STAFF FROM HELSINKI DURING THE EASTER CRSIS. WHETHER THE REPORTS GRANTING OF A GERMAN RECRUITING CONCESSION IN FINLAND WOULD PROVOKE A BREAK COULD NOT BE AUTHORITATIVELY DETERMINED. FINNISH GOVERNMENT OFFICERS LONG HAVE CONTENDED THAT THE WAR THEY WAGE ALONGSIDE GERMANY AGAINST THE SOVIET UNION IS ONE OF SELF DEFENSE.

THE STOCKHOLM NEWSPAPER DAGENS NYHETER SAID THAT FINLAND, IN RESPONSE TO NAZI DEMANDS, HAD RECRUITED A REPLACEMENT FOR EVERY PHYSICALLY FIT FINN WHO RECENTLY RETURNED FROM THE RUSSIAN FRONT WITH THE FINNISH SS BATTALION.

(EDS: FIRST LINE READ X X X CHARGES D-AFFAIRES OF X X X (ETC)

JUN 11 1943

30.24-4861

A127

A FINNISH OPPOSITION LEADER WHOSE VIEWS ARE HIGHLY RESPECTED BY AMERICAN DIPLOMATIC OBSERVERS WAS QUOTED AS SAYING:

"FINLAND IS IN A DILEMMA AND SO IS THE OPPOSITION. THE OPPOSITION KNOWS WHAT PATH TO TAKE, BUT IS AFRAID TO TAKE IT."

THE MAJORITY OF THE FINNISH PEOPLE AND EVEN A LARGE NUMBER OF PARLIAMENT MEMBERS WERE REPRESENTED AS WANTING A CHANGE IN HELSINKI'S FOREIGN POLICY, BUT NOT BY OPEN REVOLT DURING THE WAR EMERGENCY.

BY EDWIN SHANKE

JUN 11 1943

STOCKHOLM, JUNE 10-(AP)-HEINRICH HIMMLER'S POLICE ARE TIGHTENING THEIR GRIP ON GERMANY BECAUSE OF SAGGING MORALE, RELIABLE REPORTS COMING OUT OF GERMANY INDICATED TODAY, AND FOR THIS REASON KEEN OBSERVERS HERE BELIEVE A CRACK-UP IN GERMANY IS UNLIKELY UNTIL ABSOLUTE MILITARY COLLAPSE ALSO IS AT HAND.

SUPPLEMENTING THE STORIES THAT LEAK OUT OF GERMANY IS THE PLAIN FACT THAT NAZI LEADERS AND PARTY ORATORS ARE STUMPING THE COUNTRY, SETTING UP A STRANGE SCEE OF APPEALS FOR FAITH IN VICTORY AND THREATS THAT "WEAK" GERMANS WILL BE PURGED.

JUN 11 1943

BEHIND THIS SCREEN THE GESTAPO HEAD WAS AT WORK WITH RUTHLESS EFFICIENCY, POINTING UP THE ORATORY OF PAUL JOSEPH GOEBBELS AND LABOR FRONT LEADER ROBERT LEY; JOSEF WAGNER, THE GAULEITER FOR ALSACE, AND ERICH KOCH, THE NAZI COMMISSIONER FOR THE UKRAINE.

SOURCES HERE SAID "HIMMLER'S GESTAPO IS NOT APPLYING ANY NEW METHODS IN COMBATING DISCONTENT, UNREST AND ACTIVITIES ENDANGERING THE WAR EFFORT BUT IS ACTING ON A MUCH WIDER SCALE.

"WHERE IT USED TO CRACK DOWN ON TENS OR HUNDREDS, NOW IT IS STRIKING AT THOUSANDS," THEY SAID.

JUN 11 1943

THESE SAME SOURCES SAID, TOO, THAT "THE GEASTPO HAS ITS WORRIES: FOR THE FIRST TIME SIGNS OF ORGANIZED OPPOSITION TO THE NAZIS, IN AUSTRIA FOR EXAMPLE, ARE APPEARING; FOR THE FIRST TIME, ALSO, THE ARMING OF SUCH OPPOSITION IS NO PROBLEM. THREE KILOGRAMS OF COFFEE (ABOUT 6 1/2 POINDS) IS WORTH A MACHINE-GUN IN A COUNTRY PINCHED FOR FOOD, SUCH AS IS GERMANY.

JUN 11 1943

"IT IS EVEN EASIER IN OCCUPIED LANDS," THE SOURCES ADDED. "MOREVER, THE NAZIS' ENEMIES ARE SHOOTING DOWN GESTAPO AGENTS WITH INCREASING FREQUENCY. GARBED AS SS MEN, THEY ARE EVEN KNOWN TO HAVE INVADED GESTAPO OFFICES.

IN AUSTRIA, WHERE THE MORALE IS SAID TO BE ESPECIALLY LOW, MORE THAN 140 AUSTRIANS WERE REPORTED EXECUTED BY THE SS SINCE NOVEMBER FOR UNDERGROUND ANTI-NAZI ACTIVITY. ALL THOSE WERE ANNOUNCED IN THE PRESS---BUT ACTUALLY THEY WERE SAID TO REPRESENT ONLY A FRACTION OF THE EXECUTIONS IN THAT PERIOD.

GENERAL DISSATISFACTION AND RESTIVENESS ALSO WERE SEEN IN THE CHARACTER OF COURT CONVICTIONS RECORDED IN THE PRESS DURING MAY. THERE WERE 78 SENTENCES FOR WAR CRIMES SUCH AS TALKING DISPARAGINGLY ABOUT SOLDIERS OR THE NAZI PARTY, FOR SPREADING RUMORS OF BLACK MARKETING, AND FOR PLUNDERING IN BLACKOUTS.

THE CHARGES MAINLY BROUGHT PRISON TERMS OF FROM FIVE TO 15 YEARS, BUT THERE WERE 23 DEATH SENTENCES. THE NAZI POLICY HAS BEEN TO PUBLISH ONLY A FEW OF SUCH CASES TO SERVE AS A FRIGHTENING EXAMPLE.

JUN 11 1943

OTHER SMALL INCIDENTS ALSO SHOW THE CHANGING TEMPER OF THE PEOPLE.

TRAVELERS REACHING HERE REPORT, FOR EXAMPLE, THE GERMANS NOW COMMONLY GREET ONE ANOTHER WITH A "HEIL", DROPPING THE "HITLER", OR HAVE REVERTED TO THE OLD SALUTATION "GRUESS GOTT"---A SIMPLE, COLLOQUIAL "GOOD DAY" TRANSLATED OUT OF THE LINKING OF THE WORDS FOR GREETING AND FOR GOD.

A SWEDISH BUSINESS MAN RETURNED FROM A VISIT TO STUTTGART EXPRESSED HIS SURPRISE AT A SCHOOLBOY WHO USED THE "GRUESS GOTT" SALUTATION INSTEAD OF A "HEIL HITLER."

JUN 11 1943

"WE'RE BEGINNING TO TEACH OUR CHILDREN DIFFERENTLY," HIS HOST TOLD THE VISITOR.

IN MUNICH, AN EQUESTRIAN STATUE OF FIELD MARSHAL VON HINDENBURG WAS PLACARDED WITH A SIGN ONE DAY WHICH READ, TRANSLATED: "COME DOWN, PROUD RIDER, YOUR CORPORAL DOESN'T KNOW HOW TO CONTINUE." THE CORPORAL, OF COURSE, IS HITLER.

GOEBBELS IS SAID TO HAVE RECEIVED AS MANY AS 40 HIGHLY CRITICAL "CRANK" LETTERS A DAY, BUT HITLER SELDOM HAS BEEN PUBLICLY ATTACKED.

NOW, HOWEVER, PEOPLE WERE REPORTED BEGINNING TO TALK A BIT MORE OPENLY ABOUT THE FUEHRER AND EVEN THE SS ORGAN, DAS SCHWARZE KORPS, RECENTLY ATTEMPTED TO APOLOGIZE FOR HIM BY DECLARING ITS READERS SHOULD NOT EXPECT HIM TO BE INFALLIBLE.

THE STREETS ARE FULL OF WAR INVALIDS, ADDING TO THE GENERAL SENSE OF DEPRESSION. VIENNA ESPECIALLY IS REFERRED TO AS A CITY OF WAR HOSPITALS, AND WITH THE WOUNDED SAID TO DOMINATE THE STREETS, THE ONCE LIGHT-HEARTED CAPITAL'S CAFE LIFE IS SUBDUED, WITH WINE A SCARCITY.

THE ONLY YOUNG MEN IN EVIDENCE ARE PARTY FUNCTIONARIES, PARTICULARLY THE SS MEN, AND THE REACTION AGAINST THEM IS MOST SEVERE IN AUSTRIA AND SOUTHERN GERMANY, IT WAS SAID.

IN NORTHERN GERMANY, ON THE OTHER HAND, THE ATTITUDE WAS SAID TO BE AN INDIFFERENT "WE DON'T CARE" FEELING, ALTHOUGH THE GERMANS WERE REPORTED COMPLAINING "IT SEEMS AS THOUGH EVERY PG (PARTY MEMBER) HAS SOMETHING THE MATTER WITH HIM WHICH EXEMPTS HIM FROM SERVICE AT THE FRONT."

IT WAS REPORTED HERE THAT THE NAZIS IN INCREASING NUMBERS PREFER NOT TO WEAR LAPEL PARTY BADGES. LISTENING TO FORBIDDEN FOREIGN BROADCASTS WAS SAID TO HAVE INCREASED SHARPLY, ALTHOUGH THE PENALTIES STILL ARE GREAT FOR THAT PRACTICE.

THERE IS A STANDING UNWRITTEN RULE NOT TO SPEAK WITHIN EARSHOT OF CHILDREN OR SERVANTS WHO MIGHT BERAY TH CONV

JUN 11 1943

OF CHILDREN OR SERVANTS WHO MIGHT BETRAY THE CONVERSATIONS, AND IT IS SAID THAT WHERE THREE GERMANS GATHER NOTHING IS SAID IN CONFIDENCE BECAUSE OF SUSPICION THAT THE NAZI SPY SYSTEM MAY BE AT WORK.

BY HAROLD V.BOYLE

AN ADVANCED U.S. BOMBER BASE IN NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 9-(DELAYED)-(AP)-A GROUP OF AMERICAN FLIERS CLIMBED OUT OF THEIR UNSCARRED B-17 FLYING FORTRESSES TODAY AFTER A ROUTINE RAID ON PANTELLERIA TO DISCOVER THEY HAD COMPLETED THEIR 100TH MISSION--THE SECOND FORTRESS UNIT IN NORTH AFRICA TO REACH THAT MARK.

COL.SAM GORMLEY OF ALHAMBRA, CALIF., THE GROUP COMMANDER, SAID "WE DIDN'T EVEN KNOW IT WAS OUR 100TH MISSION UNTIL SOMEBODY CHECKED AND TOLD US."

JUN 11 1943

THE MEN CELEBRATED WITH TIN CUPS OF COLD LEMONADE OR HOT TODDIES

1943

3024-4863

POURED BY CHARLES NORBECK, A RED CROSS WORKER, OF WASHINGTON, D.C.

THE CREWS ENTERED THE WAR FROM ENGLISH BASES LAST SEPTEMBER. AFTER EIGHT MISSIONS IN ENGLAND THEY CAME TO AFRICA IN MID-NOVEMBER AND FINISHED OUT THEIR CENTURY.

JUN 11 1943

"WE CAME WITH HARDLY ANY GROUND PERSONNEL" SAID MAJOR E.C. STEPHENSON, GROUP EXECUTIVE OFFICER, OF YAKIMA, WASH., WHOSE WIFE NOW LIVES AT 2514 ARGYLE PLACE DENVER, COL.

"FROM THEN UNTIL THE REST OF THE GROUND CREW CAME IN JANUARY WE ALL LOADED BOMBS, GASSED THE ENGINES, DID REPAIRS--THOSE WERE THE DAYS BUT WE HOPE WE DON'T HAVE ANY MORE LIKE THEM."

THE LEADER OF THE RAID ON PANTELLERIA TODAY--MADE WITHOUT THE LOSS OF A MAN OR A PLANE OR EVEN THE SIGHT OF ENEMY FIGHTERS--WAS CAPT. ROBERT J.DUDAL, 24, SQUADRON COMMANDER, OF 22/29 EL MOYNE ST., LOS ANGELES, CALIF.

LIEUT.H.A.WEST, OF TUCKAHOE, N.Y., NAVIGATOR, SAID HE LIKED THE 100TH MISSION BECAUSE "IT BRINGS ME THAT MUCH CLOSER TO HOME."

IT WAS HIS 40TH PERSONAL FLIGHT AND WITH TEN MORE HE WILL WIN HIS TRIP HOME.

JUN 11 1943

IT WAS THE 45TH TRIP FOR LIEUT.WILLIAM L.CONDY, OF 1001 OAKWOOD ST., WILMETTE, ILL., WHO HAS BEEN WITH THE GROUP SINCE IT WAS FORMED AT GEIGER FIELD, SPOKANE, WASH., IN FEBRUARY, 1942.

"WE HAVE BEEN THE MOST FORTUNATE GROUP EVER TO LEAVE THE STATES AND I THINK OUR BOMBING HAS BEEN THE MOST ACCURATE OF ANY," CONDY SAID.

GUNNER SERGEANT RAY SAULMON, 22, A BALL TURRET GUNNER OF ROCKY FORD, COL., SAID "WE HAVE HAD EVERY FEW LOSSES IN PERSONNEL AND PLANES. OF ALL OUR RAIDS THE PALERMO ONE WAS THE ONE I REMEMBER AS THE TOUGHEST, DUE TO THE HEAVY FLAK."

THE GROUP HAS SHOT DOWN 131 ENEMY PLANES IN COMBAT, PROBABLY DESTROYED 74 MORE AND DAMAGED AN ADDITIONAL 99.

CITING THE GROUP FOR INFLICTING "GREAT DESTRUCTION," COMMANDING GENERAL CARL A.SPAATZ AS LONG AGO AS MARCH 12 SAID "THE ASSIGNMENTS GIVEN THIS ORGANIZATION HAVE ALWAYS BEEN CARRIED OUT WITH GREAT COURAGE, DETERMINATION AND EFFICIENCY."

JUN 11 1943

BY HAROLD V.BOYLE

AN ADVANCED U.S. BOMBER BASE IN NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 9--(DELAYED)--(AP)--COMPLETING ITS 100TH MISSION AFTER HANGING UP ONE OF THE MOST REMARKABLE BATTLE PERFORMANCES IN THE HITORY OF THE U.S. AAF, A GROUP OF B-17 FLYING FORTRESSES DROPPED MANY THOUSANDS OF POUNDS OF BOMBS IN A "GRAVY RUN" RAID ON PANTELLERIA TODAY.

THIS BOMBARDMENT OF MUSSOLINI'S FORTIFIED ISLAND OFF SICILY, MADE WITHOUT THE LOSS OF A MAN OR A PLANE OR THE SIGHT OF ANY ENEMY FIGHTERS, BROUGHT TO 4,500 TONS THE WEIGHT OF EXPLOSIVES DROPPED BY THE ELITE CREWS OF THESE FORTRESSES SINCE THEY ENTERED THE COMBAT, FROM ENGLISH BASES, LAST SEPTEMBER.

JUN 11 1943

THE GROUP WAS THE SECOND FORTRESS UNIT IN NORTH AFRICA TO REACH THE 100-MISSION MARK. THE ANNIVERSARY ALMOST PASSED UNNOTICED.

"WE DIDN'T EVEN KNOW IT WAS OUR 100TH MISSION UNTIL SOMEBODY CHECKED AND TOLD US," SMILED COL. SAM GORMLEY OF ALHAMBRA, CALIF., THE GROUP COMMANDER, WHO IS KNOWN AS "SILENT SAM."

A FORMER COMMERCIAL PILOT, HE HAS LED THE GROUP ON MANY MISSIONS, INCLUDING THE SURPRISE RAID SATURDAY ON THREE ITALIAN BATTLESHIPS

JUN 11 1943

ANCHORED AT LA SPEZIA.

THE LEADER OF THE RAID ON PANTELLERIA THIS AFTERNOON WAS CAPT. ROBERT J.DUDAL, 24, SQUADRON COMMANDER, OF 22/29 EL MOYNE STREET, LOS ANGELES, CALIF., FOR WHOM IT WAS THE 43RD PERSONAL MISSION. ONLY SEVEN MORE AND HE WINS HIS TRIP HOME.

A117 JUN 11 1943 MEDITERRANEAN

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA--FOURTH ADD FIRST LEAD

BOMB-CARRYING LIGHTNINGS, VERSATILE U.S. FIGHTERS, WERE CREDITED WITH THE DESTRUCTION OF FIVE ME-109S OUT OF AN ATTACKING FORMATION OF 20.

OTHER TYPES OF AMERICAN RAIDERS ACCOUNTED FOR FOUR MACCHI-202S, TWO ME-109S AND ONE FOCKE WULF-190.

IN DOGFIGHTS WHICH STARTED AS SOON AS THE AXIS INTERCEPTORS APPEARED, FIRST LIEUT. DANIEL KENNEDY OF 6 GREENLEAF AVENUE, MEDFORD, MASS., WAS HIGH SCORER FOR THE DAY WITH THREE VICTORIES.

"I GOT ONE MESSERSCHMITT THAT WAS CLIMBING AND THEN I RESUMED FORMATION AND SUDDENLY FOUND MYSELF ON THE TAILS OF FOUR MORE," HE SAID. "I MADE A SUDDEN CLIMB, STALLED AND THEN CAME DOWN ON THEM. I POURED LEAD INTO THE FIRST TWO AND DAMAGED A FOURTH, BUT HE GOT AWAY."

JUN 11 1943

VICTORIES ALSO WERE CREDITED TO FIRST LIEUT. ROBERT C. BRITT OF 909 EAST 12TH STREET, MUNCIE, IND., WHO FOUGHT ALONGSIDE KENNEDY AGAINST THE FOUR-MESSERSCHMITT FORMATION, AND SECOND LIEUT. BENTON MILLER OF 2907 WEST 74TH STREET, LOS ANGELES, CALIF.

BRITT SAID THAT WHEN HE AND KENNEDY LEVELED OUT THE FOUR MESSERSCHMITTS WERE "RIGHT IN FRONT OF US."

"KENNEDY FIRED AT THE FIRST TWO AND I TOOK ANOTHER," HE SAID. "IT BURST INTO FLAMES AND SMOKE POURED FROM THE ENGINE COWLING. I WAS SCARED SOMETHING ELSE MIGHT GET ON OUR TAILS SO WE GOT OUT OF THERE IN A HURRY."

IT WAS OFFICIALLY ANNOUNCED THAT SIX AXIS PLANES PREVIOUSLY UNREPORTED WERE SHOT DOWN TUESDAY. THE RECORDS FOR JUNE SHOWED AXIS LOSS OF 35 PLANES AGAINST 11 FOR THE ALLIES.

(THE ALGIERS RADIO ETC X X X AS BEFORE. JUN 11 1943

ALGIERS, JUNE 10-(AP)-ECHO D'ALGER, LEADING MORNING NEWSPAPER OF THIS FRENCH OVERSEAS CAPITAL, DECLARED EDITORIALLY TODAY THAT THE ALLIED OFFENSIVE "IS IN PROGRESS ALTHOUGH IN ITS FIRST PHASE."

"THE ATTEMPT OF ITALY TO BARRICADE THE SICILIAN CHANNEL FROM THE ISLAND OF PANTELLERIA RECEIVED A HARD BLOW NOT ONLY FROM AIR RAIDS BUT BY THE THUNDERING APPEARANCE OF BRITISH CRUISERS AND DESTROYERS," THE EDITORIAL CONTINUED.

"THE ISLAND OF LAMPEDUSA RECEIVED A VISIT OF RECONNAISSANCE COMMANDOS. THE SOUTHERN PORTS OF SARDINIA, RAILWAYS OF SICILY AND ISLANDS OF THE AEGEAN HAVE BEEN HEAVILY BOMBARDED.

"MALTA, LAMPEDUSA AND THE ISLANDS OF KERKENNAH FORM THE LATCHKEY TO THE SICILIAN CHANNEL IN WHICH PANTELLERIA IS AN ADVANCED POST.

"THE SENDING OF AN ULTIMATUM HAS ANNOUNCED THE BEGINNING OF THE OPERATION. TAKING OF THESE POSITIONS (MALTA ALREADY IS BRITISH AND THE KERKENNAH ISLANDS WERE OCCUPIED DURING THE TUNISIAN CAMPAIGN) WOULD CUT THE MEDITERRANEAN IN TWO, ISOLATING TO THE EAST RHODES, CRETE

JUN 11 1943

3024-4865

AND THE CYCLADES.

"EVEN THOUGH PANTELLERIA WAS NOT RESPONDED TO THE BRITISH (SIC) ULTIMATUM, PROBABLY THIS WATERLESS ROCK WHICH SERVES AS A SUBMARINE SHELTER CAN BE REDUCED BY BLOCKADE.

"BUT THIS GROUP OF ISLAND SENTINELS REPRESENTS ONLY A MINOR DETAIL OF THE NIGHTMARE OF THE AXIS CHIEFS OF EUROPE."

BULLETIN

CAIRO, JUNE 10-(AP)-AMERICAN HEAVY BOMBERS FROM THE MIDDLE EAST AIR FORCE ATTACKED THE AIRDROME AT GERBINE AND CATANIA IN SICILY YESTERDAY, IT WAS ANNOUNCED OFFICIALLY TODAY.

AT THE SAME TIME RAF AIRCRAFT SWEPT OVER THE AEGEAN IN NEW BLOWS AT ENEMY SHIPPING.

JUN 11 1943

ALL AMERICAN AND BRITISH PLANES RETURNED.

AT GERBINE THE AMERICANS REGISTERED A DIRECT HIT ON A HANGAR AND SIX AIRCRAFT WERE LEFT AFIRE ON THE GROUND IT WAS ANNOUNCED. BOMB BURSTS ALSO DAMAGED THE LANDING FIELD.

OTHER DIRECT HITS ON HANGARS AT CATANIA WERE OBSERVED AND ONE EXPLODED. A NUMBER OF FIRES WERE SET AMONG THE ADMINISTRATION BUILDINGS THERE AND THE FIELD WAS PITTED BY BOMBS.

AT LEAST THREE ENEMY AIRCRAFT WERE REPORTED SHOT DOWN.

LONG RANGE RAF FIGHTERS SANK TWO SAILING VESSELS IN THE AEGEAN AND LEFT ANOTHER SINKING, WHILE A FOURTH WAS LAST SEEN ON ITS SIDE BADLY DAMAGED. THREE SMALLER VESSELS ALSO WERE ATTACKED, TWO OF THEM HAVING PREVIOUSLY BEEN BEACHED.

ITS BASE, ITS CREW STILL COULD SEE THE RESULTANT FIRES.

TODAY'S COMMUNIQUE SAID THE BUILDINGS HIT APPARENTLY WERE AMMUNITION WAREHOUSES OF THE JAPANESE.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 10-(AP)-BRITISH COMMANDOS, STRIKING IN DARKNESS FROM THE SEA, CARRIED OUT A SCOU XXXX A SCOUTING RAID MONDAY NIGHT ON LAMPEDUSA ISLAND, 70 MILES OFF THE TUNISIAN COAST, IT WAS ANNOUNCD TODAY.

(THIS APPARENTLY WAS THE SECOND SUCCESSIVE SUCH NIGHT FEELER THRUST AT LAMPEDUSA, A MALTA COMMUNIQUE YESTERDAY REPORTING THAT BRITISH LIGHT NAVAL FORCES HAD CARRIED OUT A "COASTAL RECONNAISSANCE" OF THE ISLAND SUNDAY NIGHT, SUFFERING NO DAMAGE BUT LOSING TWO MEMBERS OF A LANDING PARTY.)

JUN 11 1943

THE COMMANDO PATROL WAS SAID TO HAVE SUFFERED EXTREMELY LIGHT CASUALTIES, ALTHOUGH TWO FIELD GUNS BESIDES A NUMBER OF MACHINEGUNS ENGAGED THEM ON THE BEACH.

AFTER ACCOMPLISHING THEIR MISSIONS THE COMMANDOS WERE REPORTED TO HAVE WITHDRAWN TO BRITISH VESSELS, WHICH SUFFERED NO DAMAGE FROM ENEMY FIRE.

MAUSTRAL)

JUN 11 1943

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, JUNE 10-(AP)-A LONE LIBERATOR, BRAVING STORMY WEATHER WHICH GROUNDED MOST ALLIED FLIERS, CHURNED UP AN ATMOSPHERIC DISTURBANCE OF ITS OWN WHILE ON ARMED RECONNAISSANCE OVER NABIRE, DUTCH NEW GUINEA, YESTERDAY.

THE BOMBARDIER DECIDED TO TRY HIS LUCK ON SOME BUILDINGS 12,000 FEET BELOW HIM. HIS 500-POUND BOMBS STRUCK SQUARELY ON TWO OF THEM. THERE WAS A TERRIFIC EXPL[illegible]ORE THAN TWO MILES UP, THE BIG FOUR-ENGINED LIBERATOR WAS ROCKED BY THE FORCE OF IT. SMOKE FROM THE BUILDINGS ROSE 8,000 FEET.

EVEN WHEN THE LIBERATOR WAS 75 MILES ON ITS WAY BACK TO

JUN 11 1943

June 10

CANBERRA -- FIRST ADD CURTIN - MACARTHUR (TOP ON AYE)

X X X HEADQUARTERS.

THE TEXT OF CURTIN'S STATEMENT:

JUN 11 1943

"I HAD A MEETING WITH THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF OF THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC AREA (GENERAL DOUGLAS MAC ARTHUR) IN SYDNEY JUNE 7, 1943. IT WAS A GOOD DAY AND FROM THE VIEWPOINT OF AUSTRALIA I FEEL THE PRESSURE ON THIS COUNTRY IS TO BE THROWN BACK ON THE ENEMY.

"THE CONCLUSIONS OF PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT AND THE BRITISH PRIME MINISTER (MR.CHURCHILL) FOR PROSECUTION OF THE WAR IN THE PACIFIC WITH THE SAME VIGOR AS THE WAR IN EUROPE HAVE OMINOUS PORTENTS FOR THE DISCOMFITURE OF THE JAPANESE.

"THE HOLDING WAR IMPOSED ON US UNDER CIRCUMSTANCES OF GREAT DIFFICULTY HAS BEEN AN OBLIGATION UNDER GLOBAL STRATEGY WHICH HAS BEEN DISCHARGED. AS IN THE CASE OF BRITAIN, WE HAD A CLOSE CALL AT ONE STAGE. THE BATTLE OF THE CORAL SEA WAS A DELIVERANCE AND THE RETURN OF THE A.I.F. ENABLED US TO STOP THE JAPANESE ADVANCE IN NEW GUINEA JUST IN TIME.

JUN 11 1943

"I DO NOT THINK THE ENEMY NOW CAN INVADE THIS COUNTRY. WE HAVE PROVED THAT WITH THE RESOURCES WE HAVE HAD, TOGETHER WITH THE COMMAND OF THE SEA ESTABLISHED BY THE GALLANT UNITED STATES NAVY BY DECISIVE VICTORIES AT MIDWAY ISLAND AND IN THE SOLOMONS ISLANDS.

"WE ARE NOT YET IMMUNE FROM MARAUDING RAIDS WHICH MAY CAUSE MUCH DAMAGE AND LOSS. I BELIEVE, HOWEVER, THAT WE CAN HOLD AUSTRALIA AS A BASE FROM WHICH TO LAUNCH OTH LIMITED AND MAJOR OFFENSIVES AGAINST JAPAN. THIS CONCEPTION MUST BE A PATTERN TO GOVERN THE NATURE AND EXTENT OF AUSTRALIA'S WAR EFFORT AS PART OF THE PLAN OF THE UNITED NATIONS IN THE PACIFIC.

"MY DISCUSSIONS WITH GENERAL MAC ARTHUR WERE MARKED BY THE GREATEST DEGREE OF CORDIALITY AS HAS ALWAYS BEEN THE CASE. THIS COUNTRY CAN FEEL VERY GRATEFUL TO GENERAL MAC ARTHUR, WHO CAME HERE AT A CRUCIAL TIME AND WHO HAS APPLIED HIMSELF IN SUCH A DISTINGUISHED WAY TO ENSURING THE SECURITY OF AUSTRALIA AS A BASE IN ORDER THAT THE CAUSE OF THE UNITED NATIONS IN THE PACIFIC WOULD NOT FAI

(END TEXT)

JUN 11 1943

B23KX (ES)

OBSERVERS HERE, INTERPRETING CURTIN'S STATEMENT AS MEANING THE WAR IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC HAS REACHED A DEFINITE IF AS YET UNAPPARENT TURNING POINT, PREDICTED THE NEXT PHASE LIKELY WOULD BE THE BUILDING UP BY THE ALLIES OF NEW AIR BASES FOR OFFENSIVE OPERATIONS WHICH WOULD CATCH JAPAN WITHIN GIANT PINCERS.

ONE JAW OF THE PINCERS WOULD EXTEND SOUTHWARD FROM THE ALEUTIANS AND THE OTHER DRAW WITHIN ITS GRASP THE NETHERLANDS EAST INDIES AND THE PHILIPPINES. TO CLOSE THE PINCERS, THE ALLIES WOULD RELY HEAVILY ON AIRPOWER -- A STRATEGY VASTER IN SCOPE AND SWIFTER IN OPERATION THAN AN ISLAND BY ISLAND INFANTRY ADVANCE.

-AP-

June 11

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA--FOURTH ADD NIGHT LEAD AUSTRALIAN (WHICH MAY BE BYLINED BY WILLIAM F.BONI) XXX GASMATA.

BOTH FLYING FORTRESSES AND LIBERATORS WERE IN THE FORMATION WHICH MADE THE FLIGHT ACROSS CRESCENT-SHAPED NEW BRITAIN TO RABAUL ON THE TIP OF THE VOLCANO-STUDDED GAZELLE PENINSULA.

JUN 11 1943

LAKUNAI AIRDROME IS ON THE EASTERN SIDE OF SIMPSON HARBOR AT RABAUL. VUNAKANAU IS SOUTHWEST OF THE HARBOR AND RAPOPO STILL FURTHER SOUTH.

THE RABAUL RAID WAS WELCOME NEWS TO THE AIR FORCE WHICH HAD BEEN HELD LARGELY ON THE GROUND RECENTLY BECAUSE OF UNFAVORABLE WEATHER.

JUN 11 1943

A SMALL FLIGHT OF LIBERATORS MADE UP THE FIRST WAVE OVER RABAUL. IT WAS THEIR 1,000 POUND BOMBS WHICH SET OFF THE BIG EXPLOSIONS.

THE LIBERATORS WERE FOLLOWED OVER LAKUNAI BY A LARGER FORMATION OF FORTRESSES WHICH, DESPITE INTENSE ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE, STARTED FOUR FIRES, ONE OF THEM LARGE, IN THE TOWN AREA. THE BLINDING GLARE OF SEARCHLIGHTS PREVENTED COMPLETE OBSERVATION OF THE RESULTS.

LAKUNAI WAS HIT TWICE MORE BY FORTRESSES. EACH FORMATION ENCOUNTERED A SINGLE JAPANESE NIGHT FIGHTER PLANE BUT THE ATTEMPTS AT INTERCEPTION WERE FEEBLE.

THE FINAL WAVE OF FORTRESSES OBSERVED TWO RAGING HIGH EXPLOSIVE FIRES AS WELL AS A NUMBER OF BUILDINGS BURNING BETWEEN THE AIRDROME AND TOWN.

SINGLE FORTRESSES STRUCK AT RAPOPO WHERE ONE LARGE FIRE WAS STARTED IN THE FACE OF ONLY MODERATE ACK ACK AND AT VUNAKANAU WHERE A SERIES OF LARGE AND SMALL FIRES WERE OBSERVED. IT WAS AT VUNAKANAU THAT THE SINGLE BOMB BURST EXTINGUISHED THE SEARCHLIGHT BATTERY.

JUN 11 1943

A SPOKESMAN FOR GEN.DOUGLAS MAC ARTHUR SAID AERIAL RECONNAISSANCE ON JUNE 7 HAD ESTABLISHED THAT 149 JAPANESE PLANES WERE BASED AT VUNAKANAU AND RAPOPO. WHY YESTERDAY'S RAID WAS

3024-4867

CONCENTRATED ON LAKUNAI WAS NOT EXPLAINED BUT POSSIBLY MORE RECENT RECONNAISSANCE HAD SHOWN A CONCENTRATION OF ENEMY STRENGTH THERE.

BY CHARLES H.MCMURTRY

ABOARD A SUBMARINE IN THE PACIFIC, JUNE 10-(AP)-JUST A YEAR AGO JOSEPH CROSS, 21, NEGRO, WAS WORKING IN A PHOTOGRAPHIC STUDIO AT NEW ORLEANS, LA. THEN HE DECIDED TO ENLIST. SUBMARINES APPEALED TO HIM SO HE WENT TO BOOT CAMP AND THEN DIRECTLY INTO THE SUBMERSIBLE SERVICE.

JUN 11 1943

TODAY REAR ADMIRAL CHARLES A.LOCKWOOD, COMMANDER OF SUBMARINES IN THE PACIFIC, PINNED A RIBBON EMBLEMATIC OF THE NAVY AND MARINE CORPS MEDAL ON THE GRINNING NEGRO'S WHITE-JUMPERED BREAST. JOE, UNACCUSTOMED TO SUCH CEREMONIES, TURNED AWAY A BIT EMBARRASSED. HE HAD TO BE RECALLED TO RECEIVE THE ADMIRAL'S HEARTY HANDSHAKE AND CONGRATULATIONS.

JOE, FROM 2510 THALIA ST., NEW ORLEANS, IS BELIEVED TO BE THE FIRST NEGRO LOOKOUT EVER TO BE AWARDED THE MEDAL. HE AND D.J. SNYDER, 22, NOW TORPEDOMAN'S MATE, THIRD CLASS, 5935 RODGER ST., PITTSBURGH, PA., ARE AMONG THE VERY FEW LOOKOUTS DECORATED. BOTH RECEIVED THE NAVY AND MARINE MEDAL TODAY. BOTH SIGHTED ENEMY SHIPS, LEADING TO SINKINGS BOTH BY DAY AND BY NIGHT.

EACH WON THE LOOKOUTS CONTEST FOR WHICH OFFICERS OF THEIR SHIP GAVE $75 EACH.

ADMIRAL LOCKWOOD, IN PRESENTING THE AWARDS, SAID:

"I AM GLAD TO SEE LOOKOUTS ARE GETTING MEDALS. THEY ARE THE EYES OF OUR SUBMARINES. THE LOOKOUT IS A VERY IMPORTANT MAN IN YOUR ORGANIZATION. SOME SHIPS GIVE LOOKOUTS PRIZES. THEY FEEL THAT PERKS UP LOOKOUTS AND IS VERY GOOD INSURANCE FOR THE SHIP."

JUN 11 1943

LIEUT.COMMANDER PHILIP S.ROSS, 37, TUCSON, ARIZ., AND ANNAPOLIS, THE SUBMARINE'S CAPTAIN, SAID THAT CROSS "SEEMS TO SEE AS WELL NIGHTS AS DAYS. HE'S OUR BEST JAP SPOTTER."

COMMANDER ROSS HIMSELF WAS AWARDED A GOLD STAR IN LIEU OF A SECOND NAVY CROSS. FOUR OF HIS OFFICERS RECEIVED THE SILVER STAR MEDAL FOR SINKING TWO JAPANESE WARSHIPS AND DAMAGING THREE SHIPS.

RECEIVING THE SILVER STAR DECORATION WERE LIEUT.COMMANDER O.M. (MACK) BUTLER, 29, WASHINGTON, D.C.; LIEUT.H.C. (HANK) LAUREMAN, 26, 8133 MARYLAND ST., CHICAGO, ILL., AND CHIEF ELECTRICIAN'S MATE A.S.HABIEN, 37, 309 MAIN ST., RIDGEWAY, N.J.

THE CITATIONS READ: "FOR GALLANTRY XXX COURAGEOUSLY AND SKILLFULLY XXX SINKING AN IMPORTANT AMOUNT OF JAPANESE SHIPPING."

WAR NEVER STOPPED ON ATTU BEACHES
IN EIGHTEEN DAYS

---

16-HOUR SHIFTS KEPT
SUPPLIES MOVING (550)

---

BY WILLIAM L.WORDEN

(ADVANCE)..MASSACRE BAY, ATTU, MAY 29-(DELAYED)-(AP)-ON THE OILY BEACHES, THE WAR OF ATTU HAS NEVER STOPPED FOR A MOMENT IN 18 DAYS.

THERE IS NOT MUCH SHOOTING IN THOSE AREAS--JUST THE PERIODIC POUND OF THE FIELD GUNS WHICH HAVE MOVED IN A FEW YARDS AND SET UP SHOP. THAT POUND AND CRASH IS AN UNDERTONE TO THE MORE STEADY NOISES, THE BLASTING OF SURF BOAT ENGINES, THE EAR-SPLITTING RATTLE OF CATERPILLAR TRACTORS AND TRAILERS, THE RACING OF JEEPS, THE CLATTER OF END GATES, THE YELLS OF STEVEDORES.

SOME OF THE STEVEDORES STILL YELL, OVER THE RATTLES AND BANGS, OVER THE HOWLING WIND. THAT THEY CAN STILL YELL IS EVIDENCE OF AMERICAN ABILITY TO TAKE A BEATING AND KEEP COMING BACK FOR MORE. MOST OF THESE SHORE PARTIES--IT'S A MORE POLITE TERM FOR ARMY STEVEDORES--HAVE BEEN WORKING CONSTANTLY SINCE THE NIHHT OF THE FIRST LANDING. VIRTUALLY EVERY PIECE OF ARTILLERY, EVERY POUND OF FOOD OR MUNITIONS, HAS COME IN OVER MASSACRE BEACH IN LANDING BOATS, BARGES, JEEP LIGHTERS AND TANK LIGHTERS.

FOR THE MEN WHO DO THE WORK, THE SHIFT HAS BEEN SIXTEEN TO EIGHTEEN HOURS A DAY, WITH JUST ENOUGH TIME OUT TO EAT. NOW THEY ARE MOSTLY HOUSED IN SQUAD TENTS, BUT UNTIL A FEW DAYS AGO THEY SLEPT, LIKE THE FRONT LINE TROOPS, WHEREVER THEY COULD FIND A HOLE OR A SPOT LESS WET THAN THE SURROUNDING SAND AND MUD.

THE TROOPS ARE WHITE AND NEGRO ENGINEERS, CASUALS, EVEN SOME INFANTRY UNITS WHICH ARE NOT IMMEDIATELY NEEDED ON THE FIGHTING LINE. THEY BEGAN UNLOADING EQUIPMENT BEFORE THE LAST JAP HAD FLED THE BEACH, AND THEY HAVE NEVER STOPPED. SOME OF THE EQUIPMENT AND MUCH OF THE AMMUNITION ALREADY HAS GONE INLAND AND HAS BEEN EXPENDED. PILES OF SHELL CASES BESIDES EACH GUN ATTEST THE WEIGHT THAT HAS MOVED OVER THE SURF, AND THE FIRES OF AN ARMY ARE BEING BUILT WITH THE WOOD THAT WAS IN THE PACKING CASES WHERE CONTENTS LONG SINCE HAVE BEEN USED OR FIRED AT THE JAPANESE.

JUN 11 1943
JUN 11 1943
JUN 11 1943

1943

3024-4869

BASICALLY THE JOB OF UNLOADING CARGO AND RELOADING CASUALTIES ACROSS THE BEACHES OF ATTU IS THE SAME JOB THAT MUST BE DONE BY ANY ARMY LANDING ANYWHERE, THE SAME JOB THAT WAS DONE ON A MUCH GREATER SCALE IN NORTH AFRICA, ALSO AT GUADALCANAL. THE DIFFERENCE LIES IN THE CONDITIONS THAT MAKE ALL PHASES OF WARFARE HERE IN THE ALEUTIANS JUST A LITTLE WORSE THAN WARFARE IN ALMOST ANY PLACE ELSE WHERE AMERICANS HAVE FOUGHT.

THERE WAS NOT A DOCK ON THIS BEACH, OF COURSE. THERE ARE ROCKS IN THE HARBOR. THE WATER IS SO COLD THAT A MAN FALLING OVERBOARD FROM A SHIP WILL BE DEAD IN HALF AN HOUR. THE SURF, WHEN THE WIND BLOWS, IS SO HIGH THAT HEAVY TANK LIGHTERS CANNOT BE HELD TO THE BEACH WITHOUT BROACHING.

JUN 11 1943

THERE IS LITERALLY NOT ONE DRY SPOT ON THE ENTIRE SHORE. WHERE THE MUSHY, OIL-SOAKED SAND ENDS, THE MUD BEGINS. WHERE THERE IS NO MUD THERE IS MOSS, SOAKING TUNDRA, POOLS OF ICY WATER, EVEN PATCHES OF SNOW WITH MUD UNDER IT. THERE HAS NOT BEEN, IN THE 18 DAYS OF THIS OPERATION, ENOUGH SUNLIGHT TO ALLOW DRYING OF ONE WELL-SOAKED WOOLEN GARMENT. BOOTS WET TWO WEEKS AGO ARE WET TODAY UNLESS THEY HAVE BEEN LEFT BY A FIRE IN A TENT.

THE OFFICERS AND SOLDIERS WHO TRUDGE ENDLESSLY THROUGH THIS BEACH WELTER ARE OF TWO TYPES. FIRST THERE ARE MEN ESPECIALLY TRAINED IN PORT COMPANIES AND THOSE FROM SHIPS' COMPANIES. WITH THEM ARE ALSO NAVAL SMALL BOAT CREWS, SOME OF THEM VETERANS OF GUADALCANAL, MORE VETERANS OF SUCH OTHER WILD ALEUTIAN LANDINGS AS ADAK AND AMCHITKA.

THE SECOND TYPE IS UNHAPPY. IT CONSISTS OF THOSE FROM THE FRONT LINES, OFFICIALLY THEY HAVE BEEN BROUGHT BACK BECAUSE FOR THE TIME

JUN 11 1943

BEING THEY ARE NOT QUITE IN CONDITION TO FIGHT. OFFICIALLY, THEY ARE IN REST CAMP.

BUT THE REST CAMP IS A LITTLE NOISY.

JUN 11 1943

BY WILLIAM L.WORDEN

MASSACRE BAY, ATTU, MAY 29-(DELAYED)-(AP)-THE SKIPPER ADMITS HE GAVE UP THE SEA A LONG TIME AGO.

THE SECOND MATE IS 19 YEARS OLD.

THE THIRD MATE JUST BARELY HAS HIS OFFICER'S PAPERS.

ABOUT HALF THE CREW BOARDED THE VESSEL AS SHE WAS CASTING OFF IN SAN FRANCISCO A MONTH AGO.

BUT FOR MY MONEY, THE NEW LIBERTY SHIP "X" IS A VESSEL WITHOUT PARALLEL. SHE IS ALSO AN ANSWER TO MEN WHO SAY CIVILIANS ARE NOT FIGHTING THE WAR AS HARD AS MEN DRAFTED INTO THE ARMY.

THE LIBERTY SHIP "X" LIES TODAY IN AN ATTU HARBOR. WITH LIEUTENANT JUSTUS CRAEMER OF ORANGE, CALIF., I BOARDED THE X (THIS IS SILLY BUT CENSORSHIP WOULD NOT PERMIT USE OF THE NAME FOR REASONS OF MILITARY SECURITY) LAST NIGHT. THAT SOUNDS SIMPLE BUT IS NOT QUITE ABC.

JUN 11 1943

FIRST, IT IS NECESSARY TO HIKE A COUPLE OF MILES FROM A COMMAND POST DOWN ACROSS TUNDRA, MUD AND SAND TO A BEACH. THERE ON THE BEACH, THE SURF IS RUNNING SO HIGH THAT NO LANDING BOATS ARE ABLE TO MAKE THE SHORE. BUT THEY ARE ABLE TO LAND ON A SHELTERED PORTION OF IT A MILE AWAY. SO THE WOULD-BE BOARDER WALKS THAT MILE.

THERE, AFTER SOME WAITING FOR A BOAT, WHILE THE WIND BLOWS SO HARD THAT YOU LEAN CLOSE TO A MAN'S EAR AND SHOUT IN ORDER TO MAKE HIM HEAR, A LANDING BARGE TAKES OFF IN THE GENERAL DIRECTION

JUN 11 1943

OF THE SHIPS IN HARBOR. THE BARGE HAS A FLAT BOTTOM AND A BOW RAMP, WHICH, BETWEEN THEM, PROVIDE ENOUGH SPLASHES OF ICY BAY WATER TO WET EVERYONE IN THE BOAT THOROUGHLY IN THE FIRST FIVE MINUTES. THE WETTING IS NOT SO BAD EXCEPT FOR THE SALT WATER WHICH RUNS DOWN INSIDE A SLICKER COLLAR. THAT IS UNCOMFORTABLE.

ARRIVING AT ONE SHIP, THE LANDING BARGE CREW YELLS UP UNTIL A HUNDRED POUND CARGO HOOK IS LOWERED OVER THE SIDE, BANGING BOTH SIDES OF THE BARGE AND THREATENING SOME HEADS AS IT DESCENDS. MEDICAL SUPPLIES ARE EVENTUALLY LIFTED FROM BARGE TO SHIP WITH ONLY SLIGHT CASUALTIES--SOME COTTON GOT WET, SOME PASTE BOARD MEDICAL CARTONS WERE DOUSED WITH ALT WATER. BUT THE BLOOD PLASMA IN A WHISKEY BOX--"THIS WHISKEY IS SIX YEARS OLD"--WAS UNDAMAGED.

PROCEEDING THEN TOWARD THE X, THE BARGE COXSWAIN YELLS FORWARD, "DO YOU WANT TO USE THE JACOB'S LADDER OR THE NET?"

WE CHOSE THE NET. THE JACOB'S LADDER IS SMALL; BUT IT'S HARD TO MISS THE NET, A CRISS-CROSS OF ROPES HUNG FROM A RAIL OFF THE WELL-DECK, TEN FEET WIDE AND HANGING ALL THE WAY FROM RAIL TO WATER.

JUN 11 1943

THE COCKSWAIN SAID "HOU'LL HAVE TO GET IT ON THE FLY."

THEN HE WENT PAST THE SHIP THE FIRST TIME, BANGING THE PORT BOW OF THE BARGE INTO THE STEEL OF THE SHIP, LETTING THE BARGE RAIL COME ALONGSIDE THE NET MOMENTARILY AS THE BARGE SLID ASTERN. I GRABBED THE FIRST TIME; LIEUTENANT CRAEMER ON THE SECOND ROUND.

THE PROPER SYSTEM IS TO GRAB THE NET AS FAR ABOVE THE HEAD AS IT IS POSSIBLE TO REACH. THUS YOU HAVE MORE SECOND CHANCES IF YOU MISS THE FIRST HAND HOLD. YOU, ALSO --- IF YOU DO HANG ON --- ARE FAR ENOUGH UP SO THAT THE SIDE OF THE BARGE CAN HARDLY CATCH YOUR FEET, EVEN IF IT BANGS INTO THE SHIP AGAIN WHILE ATOP A WAVE.

BOTH OF US OBTAINED HOLDS, CLAMBERED UP THE DAMP ROPES AND OVER THE RAIL. THE BARGE COXSWAIN WAS THOUGHTFUL. HE KEPT CIRCLING UNTIL EACH OF US HAD A LEG OVER THE SHIP'S RAIL. IF THE COXSWAIN IS NOT THOUGHTFUL ON SUCH A DEAL, HE SIMPLY GOES OFF WHILE HIS ERSTWHILE PASSENGER IS STILL HANGING TO THE ROPE. SO IF THE PASSENGER FALLS OFF, IT IS NO CONCERN OF THE BOAT CREW, NOW LONG GONE.

WITH MUDDY BOOTS ONCE OVER THE RAIL OF THE X, LIEUTENANT CRAEMER AND I FOUND THE BEGINNING OF A NEW WORLD WHICH STILL SEEMS OUT OF PLACE ON ATTU.

JUN 11 1943

CAPTAIN J.H.HAYES, OF ROCHESTER,N.Y., FOUND SOME BUNKS FOR US IN A PRIVATE ROOM WITH HOT AND COLD RUNNING WATER, MATTRESSES --- EVEN SOME MAGAZINES LEFT BY A FORMER OCCUPANT.

CHIEF STEWART H.D.GUTIERREZ, OF THE PHILIPPINES AND CALIFORNIA GRINNED WHEN ASKED ABOUT DINNER; PRODUCED A SPANISH OMELET (REAL EGGS, MIND YOU. NOT COPIES, NOT POWDERED), POTATOES, COFFEE, CAKE AND INCIDENTALS.

FIRST OFFICER B.M.MAJOR, OF WATERTOWN,N.Y., THOUGHT WE SHOULD HAVE ORANGES. HE LOOKED AGAIN AND DECIDED WE SHOULD HAVE CANDY, COOKIES, APPLES AND CHEWING GUM.

CLERK ABRAHAM L.SALEM, OF ST.LOUIS, PROVIDED COPY PAPER AND CARBONS. HALF A DOZEN PEOPLE CAME BY TO TELL US WHERE SHOWERS WERE; WHEN BREAKFAST WOULD BE SERVED; TO LEARN WHETHER WE HAD SOAP --- ONE EVEN WANTED TO CLEAN THE WASHBOWL, WHICH LOOKED SPOTLESS TO US BY COMPARISON WITH THE PUDDLES IN WHICH SOLDIERS WASH LESS THAN TWO MILES FROM HERE.

JUN 11 1943

ONE OF THEM HAS ASKED ANYTHING OF US BUT FIRST HAND NEWS OF WHAT IS GOING ON OVER THE HILL AT THE FRONT LINE. HERE FOR MORE THAN A WEEK, THEY HAVE SEEN NOTHING, HAVE HEARD ONLY THE POUND OF THE ARTILLERY AS THE SOUND IS CARRIED TO SEA, AND THE ORDERS GIVEN ON THE TACTICAL RADIOS TO WHICH THEY ARE ABLE TO LISTEN. WITHIN TEN MILES OF THE MOST VICIOUS SORT OF FIGHTING, THIS CREW STILL IS IN THE SPECTATORS' GALLERY WITHOUT A VERY GOOD SEAT.

THE X WAS TURNED OVER TO OPERATORS BY A SHIPYARD ONE DAY, WENT TO A LOADING BERTH THE NEXT DAY, SAILED A WEEK LATER FOR THE ALEUTIANS.

JUN 11 1943

EN ROUTE HERE, SHE HAS LAID IN ONE PORT AFTER ANOTHER, AS ORDERS WERE MODIFIED OR CHANGED. SOME OF THE CREW THOUGHT THE VOYAGE WOULD BE FOR TWO OR THREE WEEKS. SHE HAS ALREADY BEEN OUT A MONTH AND A HALF, WITH NO PROSPECT OF GETTING HOME BEFORE MID-SUMMER.

AT SEA, SHE IS IN CONSTANT DANGER; IN PORT HER SHIP'S COMPANY HAS NOTHING TO DO, BUT IS CONSISTENTLY BORED.

THEY DO TWO THINGS ABOUT IT. LAST NIGHT, SOME ONE ON SHORE SENT A BLINKER SIGNAL ASKING FOR FIRE EXTINGUISHER FLUID. THERE WERE TWO SMALL CARTONS OF IT ON BOARD; AND WITHOUT COMPLAINT, THE FOUR-TO-EIGHT WATCH MOVED SOMETHING LIKE FIFTY TONS OF CARGO IN A HOLD TO GET AT THOSE TWO CASES.

JUN 11 1943

"IT SEEMS LIKE A LOT OF WORK," ONE OF THE MEN SAID, "BUT HELL, WE CAN'T KICK WHEN THEY NEED THE STUFF."

THEY DO THAT SORT OF WORK WITHOUT COMPLAINT; AND, AS ONE OF THE STEWARDS SAID, "WE TRY TO TAKE CARE OF ANYBODY WHO COMES OUT FROM SHORE."

FOR TWELVE HOURS, THE PEOPLE OF THE X HAVE TAKEN CARE OF US WHILE

3024-4871

A LITTLE NEWS COPY WAS PRODUCED. AND FOR MS MONEY NO SHIP DOES IT BETTER

A LITTLE NEWS COPY WAS PRODUCED. AND FOR MY MONEY NO SHIP DOES IT BETTER.

(ORE-WASH OUT)

BY WILLIAM L.WORDEN

JUN 11 1943

CORIES LAKE, ATTU, MAY 30-(DELAYED)-(AP)-ON THIS BLOODY MEMORIAL DAY, WHICH BROUGHT ANNIHILATION OF THE LAST ORGANIZED ENEMY RESISTANCE ON ATTU, THE MASS OF SURVIVING JAPANESE KILLED THEMSELVES WITH HAND GRENADES RATHER THAN SURRENDER.

SURPRISED YESTERDAY BY A DESPERATE ENEMY COUNTERATTACK THAT BROUGHT TEMPORARY GAINS, THE AMERICANS RALLIED TO ROUT THE JAPANESE AND SLAUGHTER THEM BY HUNDREDS THE FIGHTING ENDED TODAY.

THE FINAL JAPANESE ASSAULT BEGAN YESTERDAY AT 4 A.M.

A MADLY YELLING MOB OF JAPANESE ARMY AND NAVY PERSONNEL AND CIVILIANS--APPARENTLY EVERY MAN WHO COULD BE MUSTERED INTO ACTION IN THE ATTU VILLAGE SECTOR--RUSHED AMERICAN POSITIONS ABOVE CORIES LAKE. THEY SUCCEEDED IN REOCCUPYING POSITIONS FROM WHICH THEY HAD BEEN DRIVEN DAYS BEFORE.

JUN 11 1943

THAT ATTACK TOOK AMERICAN FORCES BY SURPRISE. AT AN ADVANCED COMMAND POST NEAR HERE, SLEEPING SOLDIERS WERE BAYONETTED AND GRENADED IN THEIR PUP TENTS AND IN FOX HOLES. AT LEAST ONE AMERICAN FIELD GUN WAS TURNED AGAINST OUR OWN FORCES.;

A FEW SNIPERS PENETRATED EVEN BEYOND GEN.E.M.LANDRUM'S

JUN 11 1943

HEADQUARTERS, TO THE WEST AND EAST.

THEIR ATTACK STOPPED, THE DESPERATE JAPANESE DIED ALMOST TO A MAN. HUNDREDS WERE KILLED BY OUR FIRE. SOME KILLED THEMSELVES.

ONE LAST HOPELESS CHARGE BY ABOUT 50 OF THE ENEMY WAS MADE AT 5 A.M.

JUN 11 1943

TODAY ON A COMMAND POST ABOVE CORIES LAK. BUT THERE WAS NO SURPRISE THIS TIME. AMERICAN FIRE SWPT THROUGH THE RANKS OF THE YELLING JAPANESE.

THEY BROKE AND RAN INTO GULLIES. THERE IN GRISLY MASSES THEY HELD THEIR OWN GRENADES AGAINST THEIR CHESTS AFTER SETTING OFF THE DETONATORS. THEIR BODIES LIE IN PILES TONIGHT.

BY WILLIAM WORDEN

ATTU VILLAGE, ATTU, JUNE 1-(DELAYED)-(AP)-NOW THAT THE BATTLE IS OVER, THERE IS TIME TO WRITE A LITTLE OF THE LEGEND OF ATTU. SOME TF IT IS TRUE, SOME JUST GOOD STORIES.

THERE IS THE UNLOCKIEST MAN. HE WAS SHOT THROUGH THE LEG. HE WAS BROUGHT DOWN ON A LITTER WHICH BECAME A SNIPER'S TARGET. THE SOLDIER WAS SHOT THROUGH THE OTHER LEG. IN A DRESSING STATION AWAITING FURTHER TRANSPORTATION AS THE JAPANESE BEGAN THEIR DESPERATE LAST ATTACK, THE SOLDIER, NEVER SERIOUSLY INJURED, WAS SHOT THROUGH THE ARM.

JUN 11 1943

THERE WAS THE ENGLISH-SPEAKING JAPANESE WHO CAME TUMBLING OUT OF A HOLE YELLING, "NEED MEDIC, NEED MEDIC!" A SOLDIER SAW A GRENADE IN THE HAND OF THE SUPPOSEDLY WOUNDED MAN. TEN SECONDS LATER, HE HAD NO FURTHER NEED OF A DOCTOR.

THERE IS THE THOROUGHLY EMBARRASSED PRIVATE NOW ON HIS WAY BACK FROM ATTU ON A HOSPITAL SHIP. HE ISN'T BADLY HURT, BUT HE'S VERY UNCOMFORTABLE. A GRENADE STRUCK A ROCK JUST BEYOND HIM AS HE WAS KNEELING BEHIND A LEDGE. THE DOCTORS HAVE BEEN PICKING PIECES OF GRENADE AND SPLINTERS OF ROCK OUT OF HIM EVER SINCE.

HE IS NOT ABLE TO SIT DOWN.

THERE WAS ANOTHER SOLDIER, KNOCKED OUT BY A SHELL FRAGMENT. HE HAD SOME OTHER WOUNDS WHICH WERE BLEEDING FREELY. FIRST AID MEN FOUND HIM UNCONSCIOUS AND BLOODY. THEY PUT HIM ON A LITTER, PULLED OFF HIS BOOTS AND TROUSERS, EVEN HIS SHIRT, IN ORDER TO STAUNCH THE FLOW OF BLOOD. THEN THEY LEFT HIM, STILL UNCONSCIOUS, ON THE LITTER WHILE THEY CARRIED ANOTHER MORE SERIOUSLY INJURED MAN DOWN A MOUNTAIN.

JUN 11 1943

IN THE MIDDLE OF THE NIGHT, THE SOLDIER WOKE UP. HE WAS ALL ALONE, COLD AND HUNGRY.

AN HOUR LATER, SANS SHOES, SANS PANTS, HE WALKED INTO AN OUTPOST COMPLAINING BITTERLY THAT "G.I.'S WOULD STEAL YOUR GOLD TEETH IF YOU DIDN'T SLEEP WITH YOUR MOUTH SHUT."

BY EUGENE BURNS

ASSOCIATED PRESS WAR CORRESPONDENT

(WX) SEATTLE, JUNE 3-(DELAYED)--ATTU IS OURS. WHAT OF KISKA? WILL THE JAP RISK SHIPS BRINGING IN REINFORCEMENTS? ARE THE 8,000 JAPS ON KISKA LIKE ATTU'S, A SUICIDE GARRISON?

RETAKING ATTU WAS SMART STRATEGY BY THE PRINCE OF CAREFUL CALCULATION, REAR ADMIRAL THOMAS CASSIN KINKAID OF PHILADELPHIA, COMMANDER OF THE NORTH PACIFIC AND SUPREME COMMANDER OF THE ATTU JOB. HE HIT THE ENEMY FIRST AT ATTU WHERE HE WAS WEAK INSTEAD OF KISKA. HE DID NOT UNDERESTIMATE HIM.

JUN 11 1943

(KINKAID WAS NOMINATED BY PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT YESTERDAYN

JUN 11 1943

30.24-4873

FOR PROMOTION TO VICE ADMIRAL.)

BY TAKING KISKA'S STAGING AND SUPPLY BASE, KINKAID NEUTRALIZED KISKA AND FOR MILITARY PURPOSES THE JAPANESE GARRISON THERECAN BE BY-PASSED--JUST AS THE JAPANESE BY-PASSED BATAAN AND WENT AHEAD WITH THE MALAYAN CAMPAIGN ONCE THE AMERICAN FORCES WERE CONTAINED IN THE PENINSULA AND CORREGIDOR. THEN WHEN IT SUITED THEIR CONVENIENCE AND AFTER AERIAL BOMBARDMENT AND ARTILLERY SOFTENING, THE JAPANESE CAME BACK AND OVERWHELMED BATAAN.

AS IT WAS AT BATAAN, TO ALL PRACTICAL PURPOSES, SO IT WILL BE AT KISKA.

JUN 11 1943

IT WILL BE NEXT TO IMPOSSIBLE FOR THE JAPS TO SNEAK IN SUPPLIES AND FOOD AND MEDICINE EXCEPT PERHAPS BY SUBMARINE AS WE DID.

THOSE KISKA-BOUND JAPS WILL HAVE A TASTE OF THE SAME PUNISHMENT FROM THE SKY THEY GAVE OUR BATAAN FIGHTERS.

COMPARATIVELY SPEAKING, ATTU WAS WEAK. ATTU HAD PERHAPS 1,800 JAPS. KISKA HAS ABOUT 8,000. THEY WILL BE HARDER TO DISLODGE BECAUSE THEY ARE GREATER IN NUMBERS, THEY WILL BE DUG IN DEEPER, THEY WILL BE WISER TO OUR METHODS OF ASSAULT AND THEY HAVE BIGGER GUNS ON KISKA AND MORE OF THEM.

BUT THERE ARE FACTORS WHICH WILL HELP US AT KISKA. NOT THE LEAST OF THESE WILL BE THE RESTORATION OF OUR WEATHER STATION AT ATTU. THIS WILL GIVE US BETTER BOMBING WEATHER INFORMATION.

ARGENTINE

JUN 11 1943

CARACAS, VENEZUELA, JUNE 10-(AP)-THE VENEZUELAN MINISTER AT BUENOS AIRES WAS INSTRUCTED TODAY TO NOTIFY FOREIGN MINISTER SEGUNDO STORNI THAT THE NEW ARGENTINE GOVERNMENT OF PRESIDENT PEDRO RAMIREZ HAS BEEN RECOGNIZED.

MEXICO CITY, JUNE 10-(AP)-THE MEXICAN GOVERNMENT ANNOUNCED LAST NIGHT IT WAS RAISING ITS LEGATIONS IN ALL CENTRAL AMERICAN, CARIBBEAN AND NORTHERN SOUTH AMERICAN COUNTRIES TO EMBASSIES, "TAKING INTO ACCOUNT THE FEELING OF ABSOLUTE EQUALITY OF TREATMENT WHICH SHOULD PREVAIL IN THE DEMOCRATIC RELATIONS OF PEOPLES."

JUN 11 1943

THE CHANGE, WHICH IS NOT EXPECTED TO SHIFT PRESENT ENVOYS, WILL BE EFFECTIVE IN COSTA RICA, ECUADOR, EL SALVADOR, HAITI, HONDURAS, NICARAGUA, PANAMA, PARAGUAY, THE DOMINICAN REPUBLIC AND VENEZUELA. THE OTHER AMERICAN CAPITALS ALREADY HAVE EMBASSIES.

BUENOS AIRES, JUNE 10-(AP)-RECOGNITION OF PRESIDENT PEDRO RAMIREZ, NEW ARGENTINE GOVERNMENT--WHICH HAS PROMISED CLOSER COOPERATION WITH THE AMERICAN REPUBLICS--MOVED STEADILY FORWARD TODAY AMONG OTHER LATIN AMERICAN COUNTRIES, WITH FOUR ALREADY HAVING ACTED AND OTHERS EXPECTED TO FOLLOW SOON.

THE FOREIGN OFFICE LAST NIGHT ANNOUNCED RECOGNITION BY BRRAZIL, BOLIVIA, PARAGUAY AND CHILE IN THAT ORDER.

(DISPATCHES FROM MADRID SAID SPAIN ALSO HAD RECOGNIZED THE NEW GOVERNMENT AND FROM MONTEVIDEO CAME WORD THAT URUGUAY MAY TAKE SIMILAR ACTION SHORTLY.)

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT SET UP BY GEN. RAMIREZ ON THE HEELS OF LAST FRIDAY'S COUP D'ETAT MEANWHILE WON INCREASING SUPPORT FROM VARIOUS ARGENTINE FACTIONS, INDICATING IT WAS EFFECTIVELY CONSOLIDATING ITS POSITION.

FROM A SOURCE CLOSE TO FORMER PRESIDENT RAMON S. CASTILLO, WHO WAS HOUSTED IN THE REVOLT, CAME A REPORT THAT EVEN HE HAD EXPRESSED THE HOPE THE ARGENTINE PEOPLE WOULD BACK RAMIREZ IN THE INTERESTS

JUN 11 1943

OF NATIONAL STABILITY.

IN THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT, HOWEVER, HAS INTERVENED IN THE AFFAIRS OF THE PROVINCE OF MENDOZA.

JUN 11 1943

IN A COMMUNIQUE LAST NIGHT, THE RAMIREZ FORCES SAID THAT THE GOVERNOR OF THE PROVINCE "PRETENDS TO SET UP STANDARDS WHICH IMPLY AN UPRISING AGAINST THE NATIONAL GOVERNMENT" AND ANNOUNCED THAT COL. HUMBERTO SOSA MOLINA, COMMANDER OF THE MOUNTAIN GROUP, HAD BEEN INSTRUCTED TO TAKE CHARGE.

CASTILLO, WHOSE UNRELENTING ISOLATIONIST FOREIGN POLICY WAS OPPOSED BY MANY IN ARGENTINA, WAS REPRESENTED AS SAYING THAT HE HAD NO DESIRE TO RETURN TO THE HEAD OF THE GOVERNMENT.

PRESIDENT RAMIREZ HAS ANNOUNCED THAT ARGENTINA'S FOREIGN RELATIONS NOW "WILL BE REGULATED NOT ONLY BY WORDS BUT ALSO IN PRACTICE BY ACTS WHICH WILL DRAW US EVER NEARER TO OUR AMERICAN BROTHERS."

(FOREIGN MINISTER OSWALDO ARANHA, ANNOUNCING BRAZIL'S RECOGNITION OF THE PROVISIONAL ARGENTINE GOVERNMENT, SAID IN RIO DE JANEIRO YESTERDAY THAT HIS COUNTRY SAW NO REASON FOR "DOUBTS OR RESERVE," DECLARING IT WAS NOT FOR BRAZIL TO DISCUSS THE INTERESTS, IDEALS AND ASPIRATIONS OF INDIVIDUALS IN ARGENTINA.)

JUN 11 1943

AFTER MAINTAINING SILENCE FOR THE FIRST DAYS OF THE NEW REGIME'S LIFE, THE INFLUENTIAL NEWSPAPER LA PRENSA EXPRESSED THE CONVICTION YESTERDAY THAT THE NEW REGIME WOULD EARN THE SUPPORT OF THE PEOPLE BY "ADJUSTING ITS DEEDS TO ITS PROMISES."

THE RADICAL (LIBERAL) PARTY ALREADY HAS PROCLAIMED APPROVAL AND THE PROGRESSIVE DEMOCRATS, WHO FORMED PART OF THE DEMOCRATIC COALITION OPPOSING THE CASTPLLO REGIME, HAS INDICATED IT MAY FALL IN LINE.

SOCIALIST LEADERS HAVE SUGGESTED THAT THE NEW GOVERNMENT CONSULT DEMOCRATIC ELEMENTS IN SHAPING POLICIES.

(ANOTHER DIPLOMATIC DEVELOPMENT IN LATIN AMERICA YESTERDAY WAS URUGUAY'S ACTION IN RESUMING RELATIONS WITH THE FRENCH THROUGH THE COMMITTEE OF NATIONAL LIBERATION SET UP IN ALGIERS. BOGOTA DISPATCHES SAIDIKOLOMBIA WAS PREPARING TO DO THE SAME.

(A DECREE SIGNED BY PRESIDENT JUAN JOSE AMEZAG OF URUGUAY SAID THE FRENCH STEP WAS TAKEN PENDING ESTABLISHMENT OF A PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT IN CONTINENTAL FRANCE. URUGUAYAN RELATIONS WITH VICHY WERE BROKEN A MONTH AGO.)

JUN 11 1943

June 10

BUENOS AIRES--FIRST ADD NIGHT LEAD ARGENTINE X X X LAST FRIDAY.

(IN WASHINGTON PRESIDENT HIGINIO MORINIGO OF PARAGUAY, AFTER A CONFERENCE WITH SECRETARY OF STATE HULL, SAID THE UNITED STATES WOULD PROBABLY RECOGNIZE THE NEW REGIME TOMORROW. PARAGUAY PLANS TO TAKE SIMILAR ACTION, MORINIGO SAID.)

VICE-ADMIRAL SEGUNDO STORNI, FOREIGN MINISTER, TOLD A GROUP OF AMERICAN NEWSPAPERMEN EARLIER TODAY THAT HIS GOVERNMENT INTENDS TO PURSUE A POLICY OF INTER-AMERICAN SOLIDARITY BASED UPON "LEGALITY, JUSTICE AND OPPOSITION TO ARMED CONQUEST."

STORNI, SPEAKING IN A BLUFF, STRAIGHTFORWARD, MANNER, LEFT LITTLE DOUBT IN THE MINDS OF THE NEWSPAPERMEN THAT ARGENTINE FOREIGN POLICY, AS EXPRESSED THROUGH HIM, WOULD BE OF METICULOUS COMPLIANCE WITH INTERNATIONAL OBLIGATIONS.

JUN 11 1943

HIS COUNTRY'S POLICY, HE SAID, WOULD BE OF THE "GREATEST" COLLABORATION AND WOULD BE ONE WHICH WOULD CONFORM THOROUGHLY WITH THE

JUN 11 1943

"TRADITIONAL IDEALS OF THE ARGENTINE PEOPLE."

JUN 11 1943

THE FIRST EUROPEAN COUNTRY TO RECOGNIZE THE NEW GOVERNMENT WAS SPAIN WHOSE AMBASSADOR BROUGHT THE NOTICE TO THE FOREIGN OFFICE.

SAN JUAN, PUERTO RICO, JUNE 10-(AP)-UNIFICATION OF PUERTO RICO'S POWER AND LIGHT PLANTS, LINES AND DISTRIBUTION COMPANIES UNDER THE INSULAR WATER RESOURCES AUTHORITY HAS SAVED MORE THAN 10 MILLION GALLONS OF FUEL OIL IN THE LAST YEAR, ANTONIO LUCHETTI, THE AUTHORITY'S DIRECTOR, TOLD THE BELL CONGRESSIONAL INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE TODAY.

LUCHETTI, WHO WAS CLOSELY QUESTIONED BY REP.FRED L.CRAWFORD (R-MICH), EXPLAINED THE FEDERAL WORKS AGENCY'S EXAPPROPRIATION OF THE PUERTO RICO POWER AND LIGHT COMPANY PROPERTIES. THESE WERE THEN TURNED OVER TO THE INSULAR WRA FOR OPERATION IN CONJUNCTION WITH HYDRO-ELECTRIC PLANTS DEVELOPED AND OPERATED BY THE AUTHORITY.

LUCHETTI SAID THAT THE INSULAR POLICY WAS FOR THE INTEGRATION OF POWER AND LIGHT COMPANIES UNDER PUBLIC OWNERSHIP AND NEGOTIATIONS FOR THE PURCHASE OF PRIVATE COMPANIES WAS UNDERWAY WHEN THE FWA STEPPED IN. HE SAID THAT AFTER THE UNIFICATION THE WRA WAS ABLE TO SAVE ON FUEL CONSUMPTION BY STEAM PLANTS WHICH, UNDER PRIVATE OWNERSHIP, OPERATED INDEPENDENTLY OF THE WRA HYDRO-ELECTRIC SYSTEM.

EARLIER BENJAMIN ORTIZ, CHAIRMAN OF THE PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION, EXPLAINED THE REGULATION OF SUGAR MILLS AS A PUBLIC UTILITY.

REP.J.W.ROBINSON (D-UTAH) TOOK ISSUE, DECLARING THAT SUGAR MILLS ARE "NOT PUBLIC UTILITIES. THEY ARE NOT SERVING THE PUBLIC." HE DEMANDED THAT ORTIZ POINT OUT A PRECEDENT IN SOME STATE LEGISLATION. ORTIZ REPLIED THAT OKLAHOMA HAD A SIMILAR LAW REGULATING THE OPERATION OF COTTON GINS. THIS ANGERED ROBINSON.

30.24-4875

"THEY ARE NOT SIMILAR. YOU ARE TRYING AN EXPERIMENT NEVER TRIED ANYWHERE ELSE IN THE WORLD," HE TOLD ORTIZ, "YOU ARE SUBSTITUTING YOUR JUDGMENT FOR THAT OF MEN FURNISHING CAPITAL AND MEN DOING THE WORK."

ORTIZ REPLIED THAT THE COMMISSION MERELY SOUGHT TO ESTABLISH JUSTICE IN THE RELATIONS BETWEEN THE GROWERS AND THE MILLS.

PARAMARIBO, DUTCH GUIANA, JUNE 10--(AP)--THE FORCED LANDING OF AN AMERICAN TRANSPORT PLANE IN THE DUTCH GUIANA JUNGLE THREE WEEKS AGO WAS DISCLOSED TODAY WITH ARRIVAL HERE OF THE PLANE'S CREW OF FOUR MEN.

JUN 11 1943

THE MEN MADE A TWO-WEEKS' TREK THROUGH THE DENSE JUNGLE AND, AIDED BY FRIENDLY INDIANS, REACHED HERE IN GOOD CONDITION. THEY HAVE ALREADY LEFT FOR AN UNDISCLOSED DESTINATION.

(THIS DISPATCH AS PASSED BY THE CENSOR IN PARAMARIBO DID NOT INDICATE WHETHER THE GROUNDED PLANE WAS A MILITARY OR COMMERCIAL TRANSPORT, AND IT DID NOT NAME THE CREW MEMBERS.)

THE PLANE WAS FORCED DOWN IN A REMOTE PART OF THE JUNGLE. THE CREW MEMBERS, EMPLOYING WHAT THEIR SUPERIORS LATE TERMED "EXCEPTIONAL JUDGMENT," MADE NO IMMEDIATE ATTEMPT TO LEAVE THEIR CRAFT.

INSTEAD, CAREFULLY RATIONING THEIR FOODSTUFFS, THEY ST UP A CAMP AND FOR SEVERAL DAYS RESTED WHILE THEY TREATED THEIR MINOR INJURIES AND RECOVERED FROM SHOCK. THEN THEY SET OUT TO FIND AN INHABITED PLACE.

JUN 11 1943

THEY WADED THROUGH SWAMPS WAIST-DEEP IN WATER FOR SEVERAL DAYS UNTIL THEY REACHED A SMALL RIVER, AND THERE THEY CONSTRUCTED A

JUN 11 1943 JUN 11 1943

PRIMITIVE RAFT. DRIFTING DOWNSTREAM, THEY WERE SIGHTED BY AN INDIAN WHO TOOK WORD OF HIS FIND TO HIS VILLAGE. THE VILLAGERS THEN HELPED THE FOUR TO GET TO THIS CITY.

JUN 11 1943

TORONTO, JUNE 10-(AP)-THE INTERNATIONAL EXECUTIVE BOARD OF THE UNITED AUTOMOBILE WORKERS OF AMERICA (CIO) YESTERDAY PASSED A RESOLUTION ASKING THE CONGRESS OF INDUSTRIAL ORGANIZATIONS TO CONSIDER THE "ADVISABILITY AND POSSIBILITY" OF ORGANIZING A LABOR LEGION OF RETURNING UNITED STATES SOLDIERS.

PRESIDENT R.J. THOMAS OF THE UAW SAID A FLINT, MICH., LOCAL HAD ASKED THE UAW TO ORGANIZE A LABOR LEGION TO COMBAT WHAT IT DESCRIBED AS THE REACTIONARY INFLUENCE OF THE AMERICAN LEGION AND THE EXECUTIVE BOARD HAD PASSED THE REQUEST ON TO THE CIO FOR CONSIDERATION.

JUN 11 1943

THOMAS SAID THAT WHILE LABOR HAD NO DIFFERENCES WITH THE RANK AND FILE OF THE AMERICAN LEGION ITS LEADERSHIP "HAS ACTED IN SEVERAL INSTANCES AS THE STOOGE OF REACTIONARY INTERESTS WHEN THESE INTERESTS ARE NOT IN ACCORD WITH THOSE OF THE ORDINARY SOLDIER."

TA1146AEW

OTTAWA, JUNE 10-(AP)-SGT.GEORGE HENRY WATERS, JR., WHOSE FATHER LIVES AT 1011 PORTER AVE., EAU CLAIRE, WIS., WAS LISTED BY THE CANADIAN AIR FORCE TONIGHT AS PREVIOUSLY REPORTED MISSING ON ACTIVE SERVICE OVERSEAS, NOW FOR OFFICIAL PURPOSES PRESUMED DEAD.

MQ957PEW

OTTAWA, JUNE 10-(AP)-PILOT OFFICER GEORGE DEAN WOOLRICH, WHOSE FATHER, W.R.WOOLRICH, LIVES AT 700 TEXAS AVE., AUSTIN, TEX., WAS LISTED BY THE CANADIAN AIR FORCE TONIGHT AS PREVIOUSLY REPORTED MISSING ON ACTIVE SERVICE OVERSEAS, NOW FOR OFFICIAL PURPOSES PRESUMED DEAD.

MQ952PEW

- - -

HITLER'S CHILDREN

- - -

WORK AND WORSHIP IN

U.S. INTERNMENT CAMP

- - -

JUN 11 1943

(EDITOR'S NOTE: HERE ARE THE IMPRESSIONS OF A 17-YEAR-OLD AMERICAN WHO RECENTLY VISITED A PRISONER-OF-WAR CAMP IN NEW MEXICO. THE WRITER IS CADET F.H.H.KING OF THE NEW MEXICO MILITARY INSTITUTE.)

BY F.H.H.KING

(WRITTEN FOR THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)

ROSWELL, N.M., JUNE 10--THIS IS A STORY OF HITLER'S CHILDREN, OF GERMAN WAR PRISONERS ON THE NEW MEXICO PLAIN.

OVER THE TALL, BARBED-WIRE FENCES SURROUNDING THE ROSWELL INTERNMENT CAMP, GRIM-FACED GUARDS KEEP WATCH FROM THEIR TOWERS.

THE PRISON AREA IS DIVIDED INTO THREE COMPOUNDS, EACH SURROUNDED BY HIGH FENCES AND ADEQUATELY GUARDED.

THERE ARE THE PRISONERS, WEARING ONLY BLUE SHORTS; THEY ARE STRONG AND HUSKY, THEIR FINE BODIES WELL BROWNED BY THE DESERT SUN.

JUN 11 1943

WE GO INSIDE. AN ARMY OFFICER ACCOMPANIES THE RARE VISITOR PERMITTED TO ENTER THE COMPOUND. THE GERMAN SOLDIERS SALUTE AND

30.24-4877

CONTINUE THEIR WORK.

TALL MODEL SAILING BOATS, CARVED WITH INFINITE CARE, EACH TINY DETAIL AN EXAMPLE OF SKILL AND PATIENCE, ARE RECEIVING THE FINISHING TOUCHES. IN THE BIG ROOM THE SOLDIERS ARE MAKING DESKS AND TABLES WHICH THEY MAY USE THEMSELVES.

BETWEEN BARRACKS IS A GARDEN--THE BEST MAN COULD CREATE IN A WATERLESS EARTH. PATHS RUN PAST THE CACTUS AND AROUND BEDS WHERE AMERICAN BEAUTY ROSES ARE STRUGGLING AGAINST THE CLIMATE.

IN THE MESS HALL AN AMERICAN SOLDIER SUPERVISES THE COOKING AND USE OF THE FOOD.

JUN 11 1943

EACH PRISONER OF WAR IS ENTITLED UNDER THE GENEVA CONVENTION TO THE SAME RATION AS THE SOLDIER OF THE COUNTRY IN WHICH HE IS HELD, BUT NATIONAL PREFERENCES MAY CHANGE THE BASIC RATION IN VARIOUS FOODS. THE GERMANS PREFER MORE POTATOES AND NO CORN.

THE MEALS ARE PREPARED AND COOKED BY THE PRISONERS THEMSELVES ACCORDING TO THEIR OWN TASTES.

THE POST EXCHANGE IS NEAT AND ORDERLY. SOFT DRINKS, 3.2 BEER, HAIR OIL, HAND LOTION, AND FRUIT ARE ARRANGED IN PLACE ALONG THE SHELVES. SUGAR RATIONING PREVENTS THE SALE OF CANDY TO THE PRISONERS OF WAR HERE. THE LIBRARY AND BARBER SHOP ARE ADJOINING.

IN ANOTHER BUILDING IS THE DISPENSARY WHERE MINOR CASES ARE HANDLED.

JUN 11 1943

ON THE WALLS OF THE BARRACKS HANG PAINTINGS DONE BY THE PRISONERS, ONE OR TWO OF WHOM ARE SAID BY THE GUARD TO BE WORLD FAMOUS. BEAUTIFULLY ENGRAVED CALENDARS, DECORATIONS, MODELS, AND BOOKS, AND THE TABLES ON WHICH THEY ARE PLACED ARE EVIDENCE OF THE CRAFTSMANSHIP OF THEIR MAKERS.

PRISONERS WHO WORK OUTSIDE MARCH IN CUSTODY OF ARMED AMERICANS, BUT INSIDE THEIR AREA, THE PRISONERS OF WAR ARE ALLOWED TO MOVE PRACTICALLY UNDISTURBED UNDER MILITARY DISCIPLINE OF THEIR OWN NON-COMS.

JUN 11 1943

BOOKS MUST BE CENSORED BEFORE THEY ARE DELIVERED TO THE PRISONERS. WITH MONEY EARNED, MANY SUBSCRIBE TO AMERICAN MAGAZINES OR TO THE NEWSPAPERS; ONE OR TWO ARE MEMBERS OF BOOK CLUBS.

A SURPRISING NUMBER OF GERMANS SPEAK SOME ENGLISH, BUT THERE ARE FEW WHO READ OUR LANGUAGE WELL. AT THEIR DAILY SCHOOL, ENGLISH IS THE FAVORITE STUDY ALONG WITH MATHEMATICS.

THE PRISONERS ARE ALLOWED TO BUY RADIOS WITHOUT SHORT WAVE, AND THEY MAY LISTEN TO THE DAILY NEWS BROADCASTS.

WHAT IS THEIR ATTITUDE WHEN THEY HEAR THE REPEATED ACCOUNTS OF GERMAN REVERSALS?

SOME OF THEM CREDIT AMERICANS WITH AN EVEN GREATER FACILITY FOR LYING, RUMOR SPREADING, AND PROPAGANDA THAN THEIR OWN DR.GOEBBELS.

THESE MEN HAVE KNOWN THE SOUND OF LIES SO WELL THAT THEY FAIL NOW TO RECOGNIZE THE TRUTH. OF THE FINAL TRIUMPH OF THE THIRD REICH THEY ARE CONFIDENT.

JUN 11 1943

BUT ALREADY THE EFFECT OF THE AMERICAN ENVIRONMENT IS EVIDENT ON SOME PRISONERS. INTELLIGENT ONES ARE AMAZED AT THE OBJECTIVITY OF AMERICAN NEWSPAPERS. THEY READ OF AMERICAN AND ALLIED LOSSES AS WELL AS VICTORIES. THEY COULD NOT BELIEVE IT AT FIRST, BECAUSE HERETOFORE HITLER'S CHILDREN HAVE KNOWN ONLY WHAT HITLER WANTED

JUN 11 1943

THEM TO KNOW.

IN SPITE OF NAZI HOSTILITY TO THE CHURCH, THE RELIGIOUS SERVICES IN THE COMPOUND ARE WELL ATTENDED.

THERE ON THE PLAINS OF A FREE LAND IS AN INTERNMENT CAMP SURROUNDED BY GUARDS, WALLED IN WITH BARBED WIRE. THESE ARE THE MEN WHO SOUGHT THE CONQUEST OF THE WORLD, WHO LISTENED TO THE GOLDEN DREAMS OF GERMAN NATIONALISTS, TO THE IMPASSIONED SPEECHES OF BLOODY MEN.

K926PEW NM

WITH THE SECOND ARMY ON TENNESSEE MANEUVERS, JUNE 10-(AP)-IF OUR SHIPPING LOSSES CONTINUE TO DECREASE OUR ARMED FORCES QUOTA WILL BE REVISED TO MEET THE INCREASED TRANSPORT ACCOMMODATIONS AVAILABLE REGARDLESS OF ANY PREVIOUSLY SET QUOTAS, LIEUT.GEN.LESLEY J.MCNAIR, CHIEF OF THE ARMY GROUND FORCES, SAID AT A PRESS CONFERENCE HERE TODAY.

"WE CAN'T ESTIMATE THE NUMBER WE ARE GOING TO HAVE ROOM TO SHIP A YEAR IN ADVANCE," GENERAL MCNAIR POINTED OUT. "FOR INSTANCE, OUR SHIPPING LOSSES WERE HALF AS GREAT IN APRIL AS THEY WERE IN MARCH AND HALF IN MAY WHAT THEY WERE IN APRIL. IF THEY ARE HALF AS GREAT IN JUNE AS THEY WERE IN MAY THEN WE WILL HAVE ROOM FOR MORE MEN AND WILL HAVE TO CALL THEM."

JUN 11 1943

GENERAL MCNAIR ADDED THAT HE FELT THAT INCREASED QUOTAS OF MEN CALLED BECAUSE MORE SHIPPING SPACE WAS AVAILABLE WOULD BE WELCOMED BY THE AMERICAN PEOPLE "BECAUSE IT WILL MEAN AN EARLY END TO THE WAR."

TURNING TO THE MANEUVERS, THE ARMY CHIEF SAID THAT "THE NEW ARM" OF AMERICA IS THE MINE.

"WE ARE, ETC., PICKING UP 2ND GRAF PREVIOUS.

SF1053PCW NM

FLYING CROSS GIVEN TO HYDE PHILLIPS

Marine Captain and Several Others From Here Honored

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—Captain Hyde Phillips, 28, of New Rochelle, N. Y., who shot down four Japanese planes in less than a month with a Marine aviation unit in the Solomon Islands, has received the Distinguished Flying Cross, Marine Corps headquarters announced today.

Captain Phillips is a son of Mrs. Teresa Hyde Phillips, 2 Beekman Place, New York, the writer, and the late Coles Phillips, the illustrator, and the brother of Coles Phillips, editor of The Elks Magazine, New York.

Lieut. Col. Bernard W. McQuade, Field Artillery, of 1664 Tenth Avenue, Brooklyn, has been cited for the Silver Star for gallantry in North Africa.

JUN 11 1943

BOSTON, JUNE 10-(AP)-POST-WAR FOUR-ENGINE TRANSPORT PLANES CAPABLE OF CARRYING 100 PASSENGERS, REDUCING THE WIDTH OF THE ATLANTIC TO 400 MINUTES AND PLACING HALF OF THE WORLD'S POPULATION WITHIN A 40-HOUR AIRPLANE FLIGHT OF NEW ENGLAND TODAY BY HARRY CRARY, UNITED AIR LINES' VICE-PRESIDENT IN CHARGE OF TRAFFIC.

CRARY SAID IN AN ADDRESS PREPARED FOR THE AVIATION CONFERENCE OF THE NEW ENGLAND COUNCIL THAT HAD IT NOT BEEN FOR THE WAR, FOUR-ENGINE CRAFT WOULD HAVE BEEN ON THE AIRLINES TODAY, FLYING 250 MILES AN HOUR WITH 44 TO 55 PASSENGERS PER PLANE, OR WITH A SIMILARLY LARGE PAYLOAD OF MAIL AND CARGO.

USING DATA COMPILED BY UNITED AIR LINES' RESEARCH ENGINEERS, CRARY FORECAST 100-PASSENGER AIRPLANES FLYING FROM COAST TO COAST AND IN INTERNATIONAL OPERATION. THE ENGINEERS, HE SAID, VISUALIZED THE POSSIBLE DEVELOPMENT OF AT LEAST FOUR TYPES OF AIRLINERS FOR SPECIFIC OPERATIONS IN THE POST-WAR PERIOD.

THEY INCLUDED A FOUR-ENGINED 63 1/2 TON, 100-PASSENGER TRANSPORT WITH A CRUISING SPED OF 260 MILES AN HOUR AND A RANGE OF 2,500 MILES, PRIMARILY FOR LONG-DISTANCE PASSENGER OPERATIONS; A FOUR-ENGINE 40-TON, MODERATE RANGE PASSENGER TYPE FOR "CLUB" SERVICE; A TWIN-ENGINE 21-TON VARIABLE LOAD CARRIER FOR FOR EITHER PASSENGERS OR CARGO, TO BE USED IN FEEDER SERVICES CONNECTING TRUNK AIRLINES, AND A TWIN-ENGINE, 18-TON "FLYING FREIGHT CAR" FOR CARGO ONLY.

HE SAID THAT UNITED ENGINEERS ESTIMATED THAT, IN THE POST-WAR PERIOD, THERE WOULD BE AS MANY AS 6,000 SCHEDULED TRIPS PER MONTH OF PLANES OF VARIOUS SIZES OVER COAST-TO-COAST ROUTES. LARGER AIRPORTS, TOGETHER WITH COMPLETE INSTRUMENT LANDING CONTROL, WOULD BE THE ORDER FOR SUCH TRAFFIC.

THE ARMY, HE ADDED, ALREADY WAS USING FOUR-ENGINE PLANES CAPABLE OF FLYING FROM NEW ENGLAND TO THE PACIFIC COAST IN 11 HOURS, TO CHICAGO IN 3 HOURS, 10 MINUTES, AND WITH SPEED ENOUGH TO BEAT THE SUN FROM COAST TO COAST.

JUN 11 1943

3024-4879

FOLKESTONE, JUNE 10-(AP)--SQUADRONS OF ALLIED FIGHTER PLANES SWEPT ACROSS THE CHANNEL IN THE DIRECTION OF CALAIS LATE TODAY FOR A SWEEP AGAINST AXIS TARGETS IN NORTHERN FRANCE.

JUN 11 1943

LONDON, JUNE 10-(AP)-A REUTERS DISPATCH FROM ALGIERS SAID TODAY THAT GEN. HENRI GIRAUD HAD "ACCEPTED IN PRINCIPLE" AN INVITATION TO VISIT WASHINGTON. ~~BNK~~ IT SAID HE WAS N O T LIKELY TO LEAVE ALGIERS UNDER PRESENT CIRCUMSTANCES, HOWEVER.

LONDON, JUNE 10-(AP)-THE PARIS RADIO REPORTED TODAY IN A BROADCAST HEARD BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS THAT A FLYING FORTRESS CRASHED LAST NIGHT SIX MILES FROM ALGECIRAS, SPAIN, KILLING EIGHT MEMBERS OF THE CREW. TWO WHO BAILED OUT WERE REPORTED SERIOUSLY INJURED.

LONDON, BRIDAY, JUNE 11-(AP)-MICHAEL KALININ, PRESIDENT OF THE U.S.S.R. TODAY EXPRESSED HIS CONVICTION THAT FRIENDLY WAR-TIME TIES BETWEEN RUSSIA AND THE UNITED STATES WILL ENSURE "CLOSE COOPERATION IN POST WAR TIMES TOGETHER WITH THE PEOPLES OF FREEDOM-LOVING COUNTRIES."

HIS STATEMENT WAS CONTAINED IN A MESSAGE TO PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT ON THE FIRST ANNIVERSARY OF THE SOVIET-AMERICAN PACT SIGNED IN WASHINGTON DURING A VISIT BY VYACHESLAV MOLOTOV, COMMISSAR OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS. THE MESSAGE WAS BROADCAST BY MOSCOW RADIO AND RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

JUN 11 1943

SENDING HIS "SINCERE GREETINGS," KALININ SAID HE WAS "DEEPLY CONVINCED" THAT THE "FIGHTING COMPANIONSHIP" BETWEEN THE TWO NATIONS "WILL CONTINUE TO GAIN STRENGTH ENSURING THE FURTHER SUCCESSES OF OUR JOINT STRUGGLE AND THE FINAL VICTORY OF THE U.S.S.R., THE UNITED STATES AND GREAT BRITAIN OVER OUR COMMON ENEMY."

THE AGREEMENT WHICH IS ONE YEAR OLD TODAY WAS ANNOUNCED IN WASHINGTON WITH THE STATEMENT THAT "FULL UNDERSTANDING WAS REACHED WITH REGARD TO THE URGENT TASKS OF CREATING A SECOND FRONT IN EUROPE IN 1942. IN ADDITION, THE MEASURES FOR INCREASING AND SPEEDING UP THE SUPPLIES OF PLANES, TANKS AND OTHER KINDS OF WAR MATERIALS FROM THE UNITED STATES TO THE SOVIET UNION WERE DISCUSSED. FURTHER WERE DISCUSSED THE FUNDAMENTAL PROBLEMS OF COOPERATION OF THE SOVIET UNION AND THE UNITED STATES IN SAFEGUARDING PEACE AND SECURITY TO THE FREEDOM-LOVING PEOPLES AFTER THE WAR."

JUN 11 1943

LONDON, JUNE 10-(AP)-AXIS FORCES SUPPORTED BY 35 TANKS AND A STRONG AIR COVER HAVE FORCED THEIR WAY INTO THE MONTENEGRIN TOWN OF SADNIK IN THE FACE OF FIERCE RESISTANCE BY GEN. DRAJA MIHAILOVIC'S GUERRILLA FORCES, THE YUGOSLAV GOVERNMENT-IN-EXXXXX EXILE ANNOUNCED TODAY.

JUN 11 1943

THE ANNOUNCEMENT SAID THE PATRIOTS KILLED AND WOUNDED MANY OF THE ENEMY.

LONDON, JUNE 10--(AP)-- XXX FORMATION XXXX OF THE UNION OF LEGISLATIVE DEPUTIES OF OCCUPIED XX COUNTRIES WAS ANNOUNCED HERE TODAY.

JUN 11 1943

THE ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE UNION'S FORMATION FOLLOWED ITS FIRST PUBLIC MEETING WHICH RESOLVED "TO CONTRIBUTE WITH ALL OUR POWER TO THE VICTORY OF THE UNITED NATIONS AND TO THE DEVELOPMENT AMONG THEM OF RELATIONS OF MUTUAL CONFIDENCE."

MEMBERSHIP OF THE UNION CONSISTS [illegible] ESENTATIVES OF BELGIUM, CZECHO-SLOVAKIA, FRANCE, LUXEMBURG, THE NETHERLANDS AND NORWAY.

UNDATED BULGARIAN

JUN 11 1943

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

THE BERLIN RADIO BROADCAST A REPORT FROM SOFIA TODAY THAT THE VILLAGE OF PESHTANA IN MACEDONIA WILL BE CEDED TO BULGARIA IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE NEWLY-FIXED DEMARKATION LINE BETWEEN ALBANIA AND BULGARIA. THE BROADCAST WAS RECORDED XXXX BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

THIS MEANS AN INCREASE IN THE GAINS HANDED BULGARIA [redacted]

AT THE EXPENSE OF GREECE FOLLOWING THE LATTER'S CONQUEST BY [redacted] AXIS FORCES.

THE VILLAGE, WHICH THE BROADCAST SAID XXX ALMOST EXCLUSIVELY INHABITED BY BULGARIANS, WILL BE TURNED OVER TO BULGARIAN MILITARY FORCES ON JUNE 15 IN THE PRESENCE OF BULGARIAN AND ITALIAN MILITARY DELEGATIONS. MACEDONIA, WHICH IS IN THE NORTHERN

THE BROADCAST XXXXX DISPATCH REPORTED THAT THE VILLAGE WAS ALM
AND WOULD BE TURNED OVER

JUN 11 1943

wellington, n.z., june 20--(ap)--peter fraser, acting prime minister of new zealand, announced today that a general election will be held in new zealand in september. no date was set.

JUN 11 1943

MONTEVIDEO, JUNE 10-(AP)-A DELEGATION FROM THE GENERAL UNION OF URUGUAY TODAY ASKED THE CONSULTATIVE COMMITTEE FOR POLITICAL DEFENSE OF THE HEMISPHERE TO SUPPORT ITS PLEA TO THE ARGENTINE GOVERNMENT TO CANCEL THE ORDER OF DEPORTATION AGAINST ITALIAN-BORN VICTORIO CODOVILA, COMMUNIST LEADER OF ARGENTINA.

URUGUAYAN LABOR LEADERS SAID THEY HAD ALREADY ADDRESSED MESSAGES TO PRESIDENT PEDRO RAMIREZ'S REGIME ASKING THE ORDER BE CANCELLED. THE ORDER HAS NOT BEEN PUBLISHED IN BUENOS AIRES, THEY SAID.

CODOVILA WAS INTERNED SOME TIME AGO IN CORDOBA BUT THE LABOR LEADERS SAID THAT ACCORDING TO PRIVATE REPORTS HE IS NOW DETAINED BY POLICE HEADQUARTERS IN BUENOS AIRES.

JUN 11 1943

3024-4881

MEXICO CITY, JUNE 10-(AP)-FOREIGN OFFICE SOURCES SAID TODAY THAT A REPORT HAD BEEN RECEIVED FROM THE MEXICAN CONSUL AT LOS ANGELES CONCERNING STREET [redacted] CLASHES INVOLVING MEXICAN CITIZENS. THE REPORT IS NOW BEING STUDIED.

JUN 11 1943

British Troops Land as Pantelleria Surrenders; Roosevelt Urges Italy to Oust Mussolini, Quit War; 200 Fortresses Attack U-Boat Bases in Germany

JUN 12 1943

OCCUPATION FORCE LANDS ON ISLAND UNDER AIR ATTACK

Italian Garrison Yields on 20th Day of Allied Bomber Assault.

WHITE FLAGS FLY

British Troops Seize All of Enemy Outpost in 22 Minutes.

JUN 12 1943

RESISTANCE OVERCOME

Scattered Units, Unaware of Surrender, Oppose Landing Parties.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 11. — (AP) Pantelleria surrendered unconditionally to the Allies today in the 20th day of history's greatest concentrated air assault.

White flags were flown at 11:40 a. m. (5:40 a. m. Eastern War time) by the tortured Italian island outpost.

Troops Land at Noon

BRITISH LAND IN FACE OF LOCAL RESISTANCE

U. S. Fighters Smash Dive-bomber Attack—Italians Blame Lack of Water as All-time Record Air Assault Brings Surrender.

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 11 (A. P.).—An aerial bombardment of the greatest fury the world had ever known compelled the island fortress of Pantelleria to surrender unconditionally today, but British troops, landing under the naval guns, had to fight for twenty-four hours against scattered enemy defenders.

Almost an hour after the surrender, speedy American Lightning fighters broke up an attempt by from fifty to sixty German dive bombers to smash the British naval craft that were still pouring thousands of soldiers and numbers of tanks onto the island. The Germans roared in suddenly through the rain that fell throughout the operation upon a great mass of men and ships on the sea below.

The Lightnings simultaneously swarmed in and forced the Germans to drop their bombs and flee.

"I didn't see a single one of their bombs hit a landing party or ship, although some fell all around," said Lieut.-Col. R. S. Garman of Mount Clemens, Mich. "They didn't get a lot of time to aim."

Isolated Posts Fight On.

The strategic stepping stone, some sixty miles from Sicily and forty-five miles from Africa, was occupied at 12:22 P. M. (6:22 A. M., New York time). Precisely at noon the assault forces landed—just twenty minutes after the display of white flags on Pantelleria's hills and a white cross on its air field.

The senior Italian officer on Pantelleria had sent the following message: "Beg surrender through lack water."

The garrison commander, it is believed, was unable to inform all his troops of the decision to capitulate before the actual invasion began and isolated gun posts fought on briefly.

British cruisers and destroyers hurled shells at scattered points of resistance as the assault boats bore the British infantrymen ashore. The blockade by air and sea and a creeping barrage by hundreds of Allied bombers had laid waste the region about Pantelleria harbor and town systematically and completely, and reduced the enemy's defenses to pitiful weakness.

[At London, British military experts estimated that the surrendered garrison consisted of about 8,000 men, chiefly artillery crews, air force personnel and ground staffs. They added that they now expected the surrender of the Italian island of Lampedusa, which is roughly eighty-five miles south of Pantelleria.]

Ring of Defenses Breached.

Pantelleria depended partly for water on supplies from Sicily and the population was reported to have been stricken by a water famine.

It was the first time in history that an island fortress gave in to an air force. No destructive achievement in the record of the German air force matches this. The ring of fortified islands guarding southern Europe against an Allied invasion is ruptured.

The Germans opened this field of warfare by the capture of Crete with air-borne troops two years ago, but this is now overshadowed by the Allied feat of forcing an enemy island stronghold to surrender through the shock of aerial bombardment.

Gen. Eisenhower, the Allied commander in chief, and Admiral Sir Andrew Browne Cunningham, chief of the Mediterranean naval forces, were aboard a British cruiser and personallyl participated in a naval bombardment of Pantelleria's harbor guns on Tuesday. Enemy shells fell within 300 yards of them, it was disclosed officially.

Pantelleria's formal white-flagged surrender, effective once the Allied infantry landed, was made primarily to the Allied Air Force, and before a single Allied soldier had set foot on the rocky soil.

White Flag Appears.

The white flag appeared on Semaphore Hill, 2,000 yards from Pantelleria Harbor. This information was conveyed immediately to the commander of the Allied forces on the African mainland, and steps toward occupying the island were begun immediately.

The British troops, held in readiness for the island's surrender or continued resistance, were quickly transported by Allied warships to the newest prize wrenched from the Axis.

The capitulation came after nineteen days of air raids, thirteen days of which were officially described as an all-out offensive, supported by a series of naval bombardments. Besides setting a new pattern for aerial warfare in those thirteen days, the Allied airmen from first to last destroyed seventy-eight Axis planes while losing twelve.

The garrison commander had ignored ultimata. An authoritative spokesman said that Allied planes dropped three separate demands for unconditional surrender, addressed to the garrison commander, last Tuesday.

Big Blow Yesterday.

The knockout punch was delivered yesterday when hundreds of Allied planes darkened the sky. Thirty-seven enemy fighters were shot down in combat during the

Continued on Page 2.

---

British troops landed at noon.

Occupation was complete at 12:22 p. m. in an Allied invasion rolling on southern Europe.

From 50 to 60 German bombers struck at British troops and warships off shore at 12:40 p. m.

They were scattered promptly by American Lightning fighters on the alert for just such an attack.

Pantelleria was reduced in the last 13 days of intense bombing at this cost: 12 Allied planes.

In the same period Allied pilots downed 78 Axis planes besides winning the island, complete with its shocked garrison.

Allied airmen now are poised for bigger prizes—Sicily, Sardinia, and Italy itself.

The dazed garrison quit after three Allied ultimatums—backed up by a overwhelming deluge of explosives which smashed the Italian "Gibraltar" guarding the approaches to Italy.

Italians Send Message

"Beg to surrender through lack of water," said an Italian message which thus made Pantelleria the first metropolitan Axis territory to yield to the Casablanca formula.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Allied commander in chief, already had told the Italian commander that further resistance "however heroic, is utterly hopeless."

An American airman dipped through a deathly pall of smoke lying over the twisted little isle 20 minutes before noon, saw the white cross of surrender, and notified his base.

Britsh warships standing in the rain off Pantelleria lowered invasion barges, shock troops clambered into them just before noon and headed for the coast despite the strong but futile German air attack.

Dive-Bombers Attack

The Germans used from 50 to 60 dive-bombers, a force which suggested they had been awaiting such a development.

But the ever-present American Lightning fighters tore into the German formations, forcing them to jettison their bombs haphazardly.

Dispatches from a U. S. fighter base quoted airmen as saying they didn't see a single German bomb hit either a barge or warship.

By 12:22 p. m., the British troops had occupied all points.

First Axis mention of the surrender occurred in a broadcast from the German-controlled Paris radio tonight. The broadcast merely quoted London reports of Pantelleria's collapse.

Admiral Paressenl, senior Italian officer on the island, sent the surrender message to an American air base.

That was at 11:40 a. m., only 20 minutes before the expiration of Gen. Eisenhower's ultimatum.

Lieut.-Gen. Carl A. Spaatz, commander of the Northwest Africa air force, had sent Pantelleria the first surrender demand Tuesday, and a final one yesterday afternoon on behalf of Gen. Eisenhower.

"In order to avoid further useless loss of life, the commander in chief (Eisenhower) invites Your Excellency to cease all resistance and surrender the garrison of the island to the forces under my command," said the note which gave the Italians six hours to decide.

"As one soldier to another," Gen. Spaatz added: "Your Excellency must know as I do that resistance under the present circumstances, however heroic, is utterly hopeless."

Situation Hopeless

The Italians indeed must have known how hopeless was their situation, because yesterday the Allies shook Pantelleria with approximately 1,650 tons of explosives—three times as much as was ever dropped on London by the Germans in a single night.

This avalanche was as irresistibly annihilating as a lava flow on that volcanic island.

This was the quickly drawn climax of days of continual bombing by Allied air fleets and supporting broadsides hammered into the shore installations at least half a dozen times by the British surface fleet. The aerial pounding was credited with the final reduction of the fortress.

(London estimates placed the garrison at 8,000 Italians).

It was the first time in history that air power alone had shattered a fortress so completely that it was forced to surrender without being touched by a single unit of the conquering armies.

Slight Resistance Offered

British troops landing under the cover of naval guns met a little resistance from scattered enemy defenders, who were shelled by British cruisers and destroyers.

The commander of the Axis garrison apparently had been unable to inform all his troops of the surrender before the invasion began, and some of the more isolated positions attempted to fight on for a time after the white flags were unfurled on the island's hills and a huge white cross was spread out on its only airfield.

Not a single Allied soldier nor tank nor gun was on the island when it yielded. Not an inch of the citadel had been physically occupied.

But it was forced to surrender because the Allied air fleets had brought so much destruction that even its rock-sheltered defenses were shattered—and, most important, the limit of human resistance had been reached.

Coastal Guns Smashed

Before they gave up the battle, the Pantellerians had seen every coastal gun in the island's outer perimeter of defenses blasted into ruins, every fortification of its inner defense ring smashed, its lone air field pitted by thousands of huge bomb craters and its town and dock area leveled.

The cracking of the ring of fortified islands guarding southern Europe gave the Allies a bridgehead from which to direct their assault on other Mediterranean strongholds.

It is 45 miles from Africa and 60 miles from Sicily. Thus Sicily itself is brought within range of Allied fighter planes, which could not carry enough gasoline to fly from Tunisia, cover Allied landings and return to African bases if they engaged enemy planes in combat. The victory also widened Allied control of the Mediterranean narrows, prying wider open the inland sea bottleneck.

In effect, by occupying Pantelleria the Allies by-passed Lampedusa island, some 90 miles to the south, which remains to be reduced.

Eisenhower on Cruiser

Gen. Eisenhower, commander in chief of Allied forces in North Africa, and Admiral Sir Andrew Browne Cunningham, chief of Mediterranean naval forces, were aboard a British cruiser which took part in the naval bombardment of the island's harbor guns Tuesday and enemy shells fell within 300 yards of them.

In the last 13 days of the punishing aerial bombardment, termed officially an all-out offensive, Allied airmen destroyed 78 Axis planes while losing 12 of their own.

Gen. Spaatz's fliers, most of them Americans flying American-built planes, in effect built a bridge of bombers over the 45 miles of blue Mediterranean to the heart of Pantelleria.

Enemy planes made desperate, futile attacks on this bridge, but the smashing bombardment grew instead of diminishing.

On three successive days before the end came, Allied warplanes dropped demands for surrender and as e ach appeared to be ignored the rain of bombs became a torrent.

Round-the-Clock Assault

Yesterday the thundering Allied air armada of Flying Fortresses, Marauders, Mitchells, Baltimores, Bostons, Lightnings, Warhawks and Spitfires launched a continuous round of assaults by daylight after Wellingtons and Hurricanes had carried on the attacks all night.

The smoke and dust boiled into heavy brownish clouds which rolled over Pantelleria like a storm.

Today the storm continued through the morning. When the first signal of surrender appeared, Fortresses, Mitchells and Marauders were blasting the target areas.

JUN 12 1943

LUCE JUN 12 1943

30.24-4883

attack, and two others were destroyed over the Tyrrhenian Sea, north of Sicily. From all operations, six Allied aircraft failed to return.

Although Pantelleria had been raided for nineteen consecutive days, the air force officially announced that the all-out bombardment actually started thirteen days ago. From May 29 to June 10 a greater tonnage of bombs was dropped on Pantelleria than on all other targets in the Mediterranean during the entire month of May.

The batteries were knocked out one by one until dusk last night, when all appeared to have been silenced. The air field had been wrecked early in the final offensive, and enemy fighters had had to fly over from Sicily, which will now be drawn within even closer range of the Allied fighter squadrons.

The fall of Pantelleria—three years and one day after Italy had entered the war—was announced in a special communique.

"The island of Pantelleria today surrendered and is being occupied by Allied forces," the communique declared. "This surrender is the result of a series of continuous and intense air bombardments supported by naval bombardments. Two previous offers to surrender to the commander were ignored."

The capitulation of Pantelleria's dazed and battered garrison came little more than seven months after the American landing barges had grounded on the beaches of French Morocco and Algeria.

Politically Pantelleria is a part of the Sicilian Province of Trapani, and thus is the first part of metropolitan Italy to fall into the Allied hands.

Called Italy's Gibraltar.

Flying Fortresses, roaring into combat in greater numbers than ever before, spearheaded the continuous attack against the rocky island which Premier Mussolini began bolstering in 1937 with the idea of making it an Italian Gibraltar. So heavy were the waves of the Allied aircraft—almost "nose to tail"—that some formations had to circle offshore for several minutes before soaring in to smother such gun emplacements, air field targets and other military objectives as had escaped the explosives and gunfire of their predecessors.

Blankets of smoke and flame lay above the debris.

Fierce Air Combats Fought.

Ponderous and heavily loaded Wellingtons and swift Hurricane bombers of the R. A. F. attacked Pantelleria in the darkness of Wednesday. The enemy fighter strength based on Sicily was flung into the daylight defense yesterday against swarms of every type of Allied aircraft—Fortresses, Marauders, Mitchells, Bostons, Baltimores, Lightnings, Warhawks, Spitfires. When the Axis fighters dived on two formations of Marauders over the target, escorting Warhawks shot down five of the interceptors and a sixth was destroyed by Marauder gunners in a running fight that continued back some forty miles, almost to Cape Bon.

One Warhawk pilot, Capt. Ralph G. Taylor Jr. of Durham, N. C., knocked two Messerschmitt-109s out of the sky in brilliant sky fighting.

Ammunition Stores Exploded.

"Besides countless hits on military installations there were also numerous bomb bursts on the air field," an Air Force statement said. "Several large explosions, probably the result of bombs hitting ammunition stores, are reported."

American-manned Spitfires took a heavy toll among enemy fighters, which became more numerous as the day wore on. One Spitfire squadron shot down five enemy planes in the morning. Another squadron of the same American group destroyed seven more in late afternoon.

Commanded by Lieut.-Col. Fred M. Dean of North St. Petersburg, Fla., this group scored a total of seventeen victories on Wednesday and Thursday and lost only one Spitfire. Spitfires made the afternoon cleanup when a flight of thirteen Italian Macchi 202s swooped toward the Allied bombers several thousand feet below. The Spitfires headed off the enemy.

As the sky battles began, nine German fighters—six ME-109s and three Focke Wulf 190s—joined in.

"So many Italians were being knocked down that I counted four enemy parachutes in the air at one time," said Major Frank A. Hill of Hillsdale, N. J., a squadron commander who bagged one Macchi for his sixth victory. "And down below us I could see I don't know how many splashes in the Mediterranean, where their aircraft were crashing."

Fighter-bombers led by Lieut.-Col. John D. Stevenson of Laramie, Wyo., a West Point graduate, scrapped with several Messerschmitts and destroyed one after bombing their targets.

"The boys certainly swarmed in on that Hun," he said. "We couldn't decide who polished him off, so it's going down as a squadron victory and that seems to make everybody happy."

JUN 12 1943

Airpower Forces Garrison To Yield on Pantelleria Isle

Bombers Subdue Garrison in Historic Debut of New-Type Warfare.

MORIN

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 11.—(AP) An event that no human eyes have ever witnessed before took place in the Mediterranean today.

When Pantelleria surrendered it was the first time in the whole history of warfare that airpower and airpower alone had reduced a fortress and bent its garrison into surrender. The Mediterranean has seen 5,000 years of war and maybe more, but it has never seen this. It never happened before.

No Allied Soldiers on Island

Not a single Allied soldier, not a tank nor a gun was on the island when the last moment came. Not a single inch of the citadel had been physically occupied. But it was forced to surrender because so many airplanes had brought so much destruction that even its rock-sheltered defenses were shattered — and more important the limit of human resistance had been reached.

This was the first completely aerial victory since the world began.

In strict technical accuracy you will have to qualify that slightly but not essentially. British warships had shelled the island and British troops came under scattered fire when they landed. That apparently was the result of the failure to communicate the Italian commander's decision to surrender to all sectors of the island immediately. All real resistance had previously ended.

White Flag Raised

The ultimatum delivered from Allied planes to the Italian commander had set 12 noon (6 a. m. E.W.T.) as the deadline for its expiration. Twenty minutes before that time Allied plane crews saw the white flags.

With symbolic justice these emblems of surrender had been placed on the first two objectives of the Allied offensive—the wrecked harbor area and the obliterated airfield.

It was at these two points that the world's greatest cascade bombing began 20 days ago.

It was the world's greatest—from the standpoint of concentration on a single target. During the last 13 days the Allies dropped as many tons of steel on Pantelleria as on all other African targets during the month of May. On the last day the tonnage striking Pantelleria exceeded April's total tonnage hurled at Tunisia, Sicily, Sardinia and Italy proper.

The bombardment began with the airfield. When that was erased from the face of the island the steel storm was directed against the port. Then it crept forward like a colossal juggernaut, inch by inch, every day crushing down gun emplacements, shore defenses and military installations. Literally speaking there would not have been a square inch untouched on the whole island had the garrison held out.

That is "pattern bombing."

Italy's fortress island of Pantelleria surrendered to the Allies today, 50 to 60 German dive-bombers attempted to smash the British landing forces, but the enemy formation was broken up by American fighter pilots Flying P-38 Lightnings.

British warships were pouring thousands of troops and a number of tanks on to the island when the Nazi squadrons suddenly roared in through the rain which fell all during the landing operations.

The American Lightnings closed in on them and forced the Germans to jettison their bombs haphazardly to hasten their getaway and keep from being destroyed.

"I didn't see a single one of their bombs hit a landing party or ships," said Lieut.-Col. P. S. Garman of Mount Clemens, Mich., "although some fell all around. They didn't get a lot of time to aim."

"I'm really proud of my boys," Col. Garman continued. "As the Germans came in, the sky was full of more planes than any place I ever saw in my life. Flying Fortresses, Marauders, Mitchells, Lightnings and Warhawks were stacked around in the sky everywhere.

"Allied transports were about five miles from shore and seven or eight big war vessels were in much closer to the harbor.

"Because of the shelling by their guns and the bombs we had dropped, half of the island was completely covered with a dust and smoke pall so thick we couldn't even see the surrender signals on the ground.

"A steady stream of landing craft and barges was going back and forth from the shore to the ships. I couldn't see any ground fighting, however, if there was any. One destroyer pulled boldly right into the harbor.

"We were circulating on patrol as the German planes suddenly came into view from the direction of Sicily and went into a dive immediately.

"Some of the boys thought they were Stukas, but I don't think so. They didn't act like Stukas to me."

It has been bombed almost daily since the Axis collapse in Tunisia, but the relentless hammering in strength began nineteen days ago, when hundreds of Allied fighters and light, heavy and medium bombers began pouring over in increasing numbers.

Just after the greatest weight of bombs ever plunged on such a small target in a twenty-four-hour period had left the defenders groggy and helpless, they threw in the towel today.

Outstanding in breaking Pantelleria's defense was a deadly creeping barrage similar to that used by artillery to pave the way for an infantry advance.

Abandoning the practice of bombing individual targets, Lieut.-Gen. Spaatz's "flying artillery" began a systematic bombardment, starting from the edge of the harbor and laying waste the entire area in which the Allied seaborne force was ready to land.

The island military garrison, which yesterday had three times as many bombs plastered upon it as fell on London in any one night during teh German attack of 1941, finally gave up its harbor base in the face of this rolling barrage, against which even foxholes and slit trenches offered only the most meager defense.

Jubilant American airmen said today that what broke the heart of little Pantelleria was only a taste of what was in store for the keystone of Axis defenses—Berlin itself.

BOYLE

An Advanced American Bomber Base in North Africa, June 10 (Delayed) (A. P.).—Fires and rolling, dun-colored clouds of smoke and dust covered Pantelleria from dawn to dusk today as Lieut.-Gen. Carl Spaatz's North African air force gave the island one of the most concentrated bombings in the history of aerial warfare.

"The island is listing badly to port," said one Lightning pilot upon returning from a mission over the battered Axis fortress. Pantelleria is a four-by-eight mile blot on the Mediterranean, which by reason of its location between Tunisia and Sicily has offered the Axis a good base from which to harass Allied shipping.

"The waves of planes were going over so close on one another's tail that the dust and smoke didn't have time to settle," said Major Gordon Sarre of New York city, an air force ground officer.

"We needed a couple of dozen traffic lights over the place," said one Flying Fortress pilot, who reported a huge fire burning by what appeared to be the entrance to an underground hangar on the island airport.

"We met planes going and coming and you had to haggle your way in to get a chance at the target."

Some Flying Fortresses flew through an afternoon shower and attacked at approximately half their usual altitude.

"Even so, the flak was pretty light," said Radio Gunner Staff Sergt. Robert S. Prothro of Wichita Falls, Tex., who is known as the flying undertaker to his air buddies. This was his thirty-seventh mission. "We were so low that for the first time in this campaign I was able to get in some strafing as we went over our target," he added.

"I kept looking for them to put out a white cross showing that they were ready to meet our terms of unconditional surrender, but I guess there were not enough of them alive down there to do it," said Staff Sergt. P. S. Self of Dallas, Tex., a tail gunner who was on his thirty-third mission.

"I noticed that a forest fire which started yesterday when a P-38 knocked out some flak positions in the mountains was still burning today. There was a big smoke pall over the whole place."

FIGHTERS SCATTER NAZI DIVEBOMBERS

Germans Frustrated in Smash at Troops Landing at Pantelleria.

BOYLE

AN ADVANCED U. S. FIGHTER BASE IN NORTH AFRICA, June 11—(AP) Within an hour after

Record Air Blow Hit Pantelleria

JUN 12 1943

Systematic Creeping Barrage by Planes Leveled Whole Sections of Island.

By HAROLD V. BOYLE.

An Advanced American Bomber Base in North Africa, June 11 (A. P.).—Pantelleria, Benito Mussolini's island that couldn't take it, became the first fortress in history to be blasted into submission chiefly by air power.

DOOLITTLE LAUDS AIR FORCE VICTORY

Continuous Attack on Specific Targets Forced Sur## render, General Asserts.

JUN 12 1943

BOYLE

STRATEGIC AIR FORCE HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 11.—(AP) Maj.-Gen. James H. Doolittle in a statement tonight declared that the conquest of Pantelleria by air power "is definitely a landmark in the history of military aviation."

The text of the Doolittle statement:

"This is no surprise to us whatsoever. If the Italians had not capitulated, it would have surprised us and we would have to be thinking up a lot of alibis. But the way it worked out was only what we planned and expected. That's the way any airman would look at it.

First Test of Air Power

"This is the first time in the history of warfare that territory has been conquered as far as I know by air power alone without occupation. Crete was subdued by air power but occupied by accompanying forces landed by parachute, gliders and crash-landed transports.

"It was merely a proposition of steadily increasing the Pantelleria bombardment to a point at which it was physically impossible for them to stand up under it.

"At that point they capitulated.

Bombed by Day and Night

"This was brought about by Royal Air force night bombers and U. S. Army Air force day bombers working on a 24-hour a day schedule in perfect accord.

"The capitulation proved conclusively that no agency can stand up under the prolonged, concentrated bombardment of properly selected objectives."

Gen. Doolittle, who led the famous Tokyo raid a year ago, made a statement at the villa where he sat in flying togs surrounded by Allied air leaders. He prophesied that this small operation against Pantelleria "precedes future operations which can only culminate in the complete capitulation of Germany and Japan."

Specific Targets Hit

"Pantelleria was not an area bombardment," he continued, "it was a job of taking out specific targets both by day and night in a logical, sequential order.

"For instance, our first objective was to take out the enemy anti-aircraft to permit our own aircraft to operate with greater freedom. The next objective was the destruction of coast artillery batteries which were knocked out one by one. This, together with the destruction of the port and other facilities, made it evident to those on the island the futility of any further attempted resistance.

"Care was also taken to obviate the possibility of reinforcement or replacement by water or airborne craft. In simple terms, if you destroy what a man has and remove the possibility of his bringing more in, then in due course of time it becomes impossible for him to defend himself.

Minimum Loss of Personnel

"The ultimate objective was the acquisition of desired territory with a minimum loss of our own personnel. This was planned by the air command of this theater under General Carl Spaatz. The subsidiary services, one of which is our strategic airforce, were given the job of implementing the outlined plan.

"The results are self-explanatory. The island capitulated. This victory was won with a minimum loss of French, British and American lives. This small operation precedes future operations which can only culminate in the complete capitulation of Germany and Japan.

"The work done by our pilots, bombardiers, navigators, gunners, and men who service the airplanes was of the highest order. I am proud to be associated with them."

9TH U. S. AIR FORCE IN 200 RAIDS IN MAY

Cairo, June 11 (A. P.).—The United States Ninth Air Force dropped 3,500,000 pounds of explosives on Axis installations in some 200 missions in May, Major-Gen. Lewis H. Brereton, its commander, announced today.

The fighters and medium and heavy bombers of the command increased their offensive 25 per cent over April and flew more than 9.000 hours to achieve this record, Gen. Brereton said. The May figures brought the total weight of bombs dropped by the Ninth Air Force in less than six months of Middle East operations to nearly 17,000,000 pounds, he said.

Liberators made their heaviest attacks on Reggio Calabria and Messina on each side of the Straits of Messina. More than 1,000,000 pounds of explosives were dropped on these cities, seriously damaging port power facilities, ferry terminals, locomotive roundhouses and munition depots, he said.

Other Italian sea and air bases bombed were Foggia, Catania, Augusta and Taranto. In a single raid on Augusta, direct hits were scored on more than twenty moored motor ships.

Mitchell bombers made numerous raids on Pantelleria, Gen. Brereton said, but their greatest weight was felt during the closing stages of the Tunisian campaign. The Ninth Air Force sank seven Axis ships, probably sank twelve others and damaged 30. In combats with interceptors, twenty-three enemy aircraft fell to American guns, eight others were probably destroyed and five were damaged. Six United States aircraft were lost during May.

SURRENDER DEMAND TEXT

Spaatz' Letter To Pantelleria Governor Broadcast By Algiers Radio

JUN 12 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 11—The official text of an ultimatum issued Tuesday to the Pantelleria garrison by Lieut. Gen. Carl A. Spaatz, Allied Northwest African Air Force commander, which is almost identical with yesterday's final surrender note:

To His Excellency, the Governor and Commander of the Armed Forces of Italy on the Island of Pantelleria:

Excellency:

On behalf of General Eisenhower, commander in chief in North Africa, I have ordered the bombardment to be suspended six hours in order to communicate to Your Excellency the following message:

In order to avoid further useless loss of life, the commander in chief invites Your Excellency to cease all resistance and surrender the garrison of the island to the forces under my command.

No Respite Promised

In case Your Excellency should not accept this invitation the attacks will be resumed on a much larger scale and will be carried out without respite until all resistance is ended.

In the message of my commander in chief, which I have the honor of transmitting to Your Excellency, I take the liberty of adding an appeal as one soldier to another.

Your Excellency must know as I do that resistance under the present circumstances, however heroic, is utterly hopeless.

Owing to the overwhelming superiority of the Allied forces, which the Italian supreme command itself has admitted, and in view of the fact that blockade makes it impossible for reinforcements to arrive, there is no dishonor when one has fulfilled one's duty in accepting an offer motivated by common sense and a desire to avoid uselss bloodshed, which Your Excellency as a senior officer must feel as I do.

(Continued on Page 2, Column 5)

Steps To Be Taken

In case Your Excellency decided to accept the invitation of the Allied commander in chief, I ask Your Excellency:

To immediately give orders to all units, land, sea and air, to cease resistance and abandon all military installations, which are to be left intact.

To expose a white cross visible from the air in the center of the airfield, in the port a white flag visible from sea.

To take necessary steps to receive my officers in order to arrange with them for the orderly transfer of the governmental powers of the island.

These officers will arrive either by air with escort fighters and will land on the airfield, or aboard a destroyer which will dock at the port and which will also be escorted by fighters.

If, at 6 o'clock this evening, Italian time, the two aforementioned signals have not been observed I will be obliged to believe that Your Excellency has not accepted the invitation of the Allied commander in chief and there will be nothing for me to do but give orders that the attacks be resumed and be carried out inexorably with all the means at my disposal.

May Your Excellency accept the expression of my highest esteem.

(Signed) CARL SPAATZ,
Lieutenant General, U. S. A.

EIGHT PLANES LOST IN DAYLIGHT RAID

ON TWO HARBORS

Wilhelmshaven, Cuxhaven Sub Bases Smashed in Great Assault.

MANY NAZIS SHOT DOWN

American Foray Ends Two-Week Lull in Attack on Reich.

JUN 13 1943

LONDON, Saturday, June 12—(AP) A formation of more than 200 American heavy bombers renewed the Allied aerial offensive against western Europe yesterday by smashing at German shipyards and port installations at Wilhelmshaven and Cuxhaven.

The big four-engined bombers flew a round trip of more than 600 miles without a fighter escort, and an 8th U. S. air force communique said eight of them failed to return.

Many Nazis Shot Down

One large section of the American sky fleet smashed through swarms of enemy fighters to blast the submarine yards at Wilhelmshaven. The communique said the bombers shot down a "large number" of challenging enemy planes.

"The German ports and shipyards of Wilhelmshaven and Cuxhaven were attacked in daylight late yesterday by more than 200 bombers of the 8th air force," said the official communique issued early today.

"Unescorted by fighters, a large force penetrated to the U-boat yards at Wilhelmshaven against strong enemy opposition while a second formation attacked harbor installations and submarine yards at Cuxhaven.

Bombs Hit Target Areas

"Bomb bursts were observed in both target areas. The leading groups in the Wilhelmshaven attack met fierce fighter opposition and a large number of the enemy were destroyed. Eight bombers are missing."

It was the first concentrated attack on Hitler's European fortress by heavy bombers from British bases since May 29, when American Flying Fortresses and Liberators struck a triple daylight blow at St. Nazaire, La Pallice and Rennes in France and the R. A. F. followed up with a devastating night assault on Wuppertal in Germany.

Yesterday's raid was the fifth by American heavies on Wilhelmshaven but their first on Cuxhaven, 30 miles away to the northeast. It was the 62nd air attack of the war for American bombers.

79th Raid on Wilhelmshaven

It was the 79th Allied attack on Wilhelmshaven, which last was raided May 21, also by American heavy bombers. Wilhelmshaven was the first target in Germany to be hit by the Americans last Jan. 27.

Cuxhaven, Hamburg's pleasure resort and a nest for submarines, has been attacked 17 times by the R.A.F., the last time on Nov. 9, 1941.

Returning pilots said the weather was cloudy yesterday but that they could see the targets reasonably clearly. They described the bombing as "fair."

Despite the heavy opposition, some of the pilots said the raids were among the "easiest made against German targets up to now."

The late afternoon assault, ending a lull of virtually two weeks in the pre-invasion aerial offensive against Europe from the west, followed by a day the declaration by Maj. Gen. Ira C. Eaker Thursday that the 8th U. S. Air force would hit the enemy in three, four, five or more places in a single day.

These fleets of Flying Fortresses and Liberators will be capable of obliterating any normal industrial target, he said. He disclosed that the 8th Air Force had doubled in size since last March and would be redoubled by next October.

Lowlands Raided

The R.A.F. added to yesterday's renewal of Allied aerial blows with daylight sweeps in which fighters attacked enemy targets in France and Holland and Ventura bombers battered the coke ovens and fuel depots at Zeebrugge in Belgium.

Pilots participating in the Zeebrugge attack said direct hits were scored on the coke ovens, causing dense clouds of thick black smoke. They encountered a heavy anti-aircraft barrage over the target but no enemy fighter opposition.

Later in the day, Spitfires which swept over the Abbeville and St. Pol areas of northern France ran into several squadrons of Axis fighters, shooting down three of them.

In the Wilhelmshaven raid, the planes attacked in two waves with the first bombers over the target absorbing most of the fighter opposition. Consequently other groups said they encountered virtually no challenge from fighters and little anti-aircraft fire.

Fighter opposition at Cuxhaven was called weak.

Text of Spaatz's Ultimatum

American Chief of Allied Air Force Asked Surrender of Pantelleria.

LONDON, June 11 (A. P.).—The Algiers radio today broadcast this text of a letter sent on Tuesday to the Governor of Pantelleria by Lieut.-Gen. Carl A. Spaatz, commanding the Northwest African Air Force, demanding the island's surrender:

To his Excellency, the Governor of Pantelleria and Commander in Chief of Italian forces of the island:

Your Excellency: In the name of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Commander in Chief of the Allied forces in North Africa, I have ordered a six-hour suspension of the bombing of your island so that this message may safely reach you.

To avoid further loss of life, the Commander in Chief asks your Excellency to order the cessation of all resistance and ask the garrison to surrender to my troops.

If your Excellency agrees, the following measures should be taken:

1. Immediate cessation of all resistance and evacuation of all military installations which are left intact.

2. A white cross clearly visible from the air to be marked across the center of the airdrome.

3. A white flag clearly visible from the sea to be hoisted in the harbor. If at 1800 (6 P. M.) Italian time, these signals have not been put up, it will lead to the conclusion that the offer has not been accepted and attacks against the island will be continued with all the forces at my disposal.

If your Excellency does not accept the offer, attacks will be continued on a far larger scale until all resistance has ceased.

JUN 12 1943

30.24-4885

I take the liberty to add a personal message which the Commander in Chief asks me to convey.

Your Excellency must know that resistance under the island's present conditions is hopeless, however honorable it may be, in view of our crushing superiority admitted by the Italian Commander in Chief and in view of the blockade which makes the bringing up of reinforcements impossible. Under these conditions, surrender after accomplishment of duty represents no dishonor.

ITALIAN OUTPOSTS OPEN TO INVASION

Military, Psychological Benefits Seen in Capitulation of Pantelleria.

LONDON, June 11—(AP) The capitulation of Pantelleria under air and sea bombardment alone has exposed the remainder of Italy's island fringe to intensified assault from the invasion-bent Allies and provided a small-scale but significant test for the experiment to try to bomb the Axis out of the war.

These were considered in London quarters as the immediate standout factors of a victory whose benefits are both military and psychological. These quarters predicted further successes soon.

First Full Air Victory

When the defenders of Mussolini's vest-pocket Malta raised the white flag after crushing aerial attacks and six or more naval bombardments it was the first time in any war that a fortress of this importance had fallen under air-sea attack before a soldier set foot on its shores.

The surrender made the initial crack in the European fortress and gave the Allies the first stepping stone between North Africa and the Italian mainland itself.

The victory, of course, also further consolidated the Allied hold on the Mediterranean narrows.

Actually Pantelleria was a legal part of Metropolitan Italy—a political segment of Trapani province.

It was one of Italy's four vital island outposts, the others being Sardinia, Sicily and Lampedusa.

Some observers here pointed out that Lampedusa, which is even smaller and more exposed than Pantelleria, has been by-passed and that the Allies might next send their bombers and naval fleets after Sardinia, also by-passing the more heavily fortified Sicily.

Italy, Corsica Next

From Sardinia, the Allies should be able to place Italy herself and Italian-occupied French Corsica under continuous aerial attack. Sardinia furthermore would give them a base for an invasion thrust against Corsica and the lower side of France, whose coast is held in part by the Italians.

The psychological as well as neutralizing effect of Pantelleria's fall should be of immense benefit to the Allies. Mussolini spent seven years fortifying it and the Allies spent scarcely a month in reducing it.

Within an hour after official announcement of the capitulation, the British began broadcasting the news to the world in general and to the Italians in particular.

Pantelleria had underground shelters and hangars like plucky Malta, which stood up under one of the war's greatest air sieges. But Mussolini apparently lost his fortress primarily because its morale broke and because his navy didn't dare try to reinforce and supply it as the British did Malta.

In part the siege of Pantelleria was a nerve war, and the Allies won.

Pantelleria undoubtedly will be useful in a positive as well as a negative way, but it should be noted that the island has only one airfield and one small harbor, both of which have been reduced to shambles.

R. A. F. SQUADRONS IN DAYLIGHT RAIDS

JUN 12 1943

London, June 11 (A. P.).—R. A. F. fighters attacked targets in France and the Netherlands in daylight sweeps today while Ventura bombers raided coke ovens and fuel installations at Zeebrugge in Belgium, the Air Ministry announced tonight. Three enemy fighters were destroyed.

700 RED BOMBERS RAID NAZI BASES

Enemy Airdromes Along Soviet Front Blasted by Russians.

LONDON, Saturday, June 12 —(AP) An attack in tremendous force by more than 700 Soviet planes on German airdromes along the Russian front, in which 150 Nazi craft were destroyed or damaged, was reported early today by Moscow while action aground was confined to isolated but bloody skirmishes.

The Russian raid, said a Moscow broadcast recorded here by the Soviet monitor, set off fires and explosions in a series of enemy air bases and 19 Russian planes were lost in the operation.

10 Nazis Shot Down

In addition, ten German planes were shot down in aerial battles near the airdromes where gasoline and ammunition dumps were seen burning. The Germans covered their airfields with a blanket of fighter planes but Russian pursuit planes engaged them while the bombers made their runs over the targets, the announcement said.

Another German raid on the Volga river industrial city of Gorki was reported but it was declared that enemy bombs "were dropped at random" and seven of the attackers were shot down without loss to the Russian defenders.

Afield, said the midnight Soviet communique recorded here, Russian aviation also was active, cutting up two companies of German infantry in a single operation.

German reconnaissance groups probing the Russian defenses on the front west of Moscow were thrown back in sharp local actions, and in the far south in the sector west of Rostov, said the Soviet command, continued German efforts to reach better positions were beaten down.

Similar actions were reported in sectors running all the way up to Leningrad.

Dutch Protest Move To Sterilize Jews

London, June 11 (AP)—Aneta, Netherlands news agency, said today that church leaders of all denominations in Holland joined in a letter to Reich Commissioner Arthur Seysz-Inquart protesting against newly-instituted sterilization of Jews as "a violation of divine commandment, as well as human rights."

Aneta said the text of the protest, received here today, was signed by all of Holland's religious bodies, including the Netherlands Reformed Church, the Roman Catholic Church, the three Calvinist churches, the Mennonite Church, the Remonstrant Congregation and both Evangelical-Lutheran churches.

Aneta quoted reports from Holland which said that sterilizations so far have been confined to Jews married to Christian women who have not yet borne children.

Another Marked Decline In German Ship Claims

Only Report of Month Confirms Churchill on Sinkings

LONDON, June 11 (AP).—Another marked drop in asserted German submarine successes was noted today when a German High Command communique said U-boats had sunk nine Allied ships totaling 43,000 tons. This, which was without Allied confirmation, was the only German report of sinkings by U-boats this month.

The 43,000 tons said by the Germans to have been sunk in first ten days of June indicated a monthly rate of 129,000 tons, or one-third of the 380,000 tons which the Nazis reported for May.

Prime Minister Churchill told the House of Commons Tuesday that May was "the best month we have had in the U-boat warfare since the United States was attacked by Germany, Italy and Japan."

The German announcement also appeared to confirm Churchill's further declaration that the first week in June was the "best ever for many, many months past" in the anti-U-boat warfare, which was said to have been given priority over a second front by the Casablanca conference.

KALININ HAILS U. S.

London, June 11 (A. P.).—Michael Kalinin, President of the U. S. S. R., today expressed his conviction that friendly wartime ties between Russia and the United States will insure "close co-operation in post-war times together with the peoples of freedom-loving countries."

His statement was contained in a message to President Roosevelt on the first anniversary of the Soviet-American pact signed in Washington during a visit by Vyacheslav Molotov, Commissar of Foreign Affairs. The message was broadcast by the Moscow recorded by the Asso-

ss.

his "sincere greet-

ident Kalinin said that ply convinced that the mpanionship between ations "will continue to gain strength, insuring the further successes of our joint struggle and the final victory of the U. S. S. R., the United States and Great Britain over our common enemy."

Benes Back in London

LONDON, June 11 (AP).—President Eduard Benes of the Czechoslovak Government in Exile returned to London today from a five weeks visit in Canada and the United States.

English Nurses Back Dodgers

Brooklyn Sergeant Convinces Girls Who Don't Know Anything About Baseball.

JUN 12 1943

London, June 11 (A. P.).—Before Sergt. Irving Cohen of Brooklyn was discharged from a Royal Air Force hospital he even had the British nurses, who have never seen an American baseball game, talking about "dem glorious bums."

Now Sergt. Cohen's going back home "to see the Dodgers win the 1943 pennant and the world series."

Sergt. Cohen, a 24-year-old interior decorator, who was employed by a Fifth avenue firm in New York, joined the Royal Canadian Air Force in Montreal early in 1940. He was sent overseas in 1941.

The big Lancaster bomber on which he served as rear turret gunner was a target for both German night fighters and anti-aircraft batteries during a flight over Hamburg. It was shot full of holes but delivered its load of incendiaries and high explosives and returned home safely.

His hands were frozen during the flight. Although he is fully recovered, the doctors say he cannot do any more gunning for a while.

Describing the raid, Lieut. Cohen said that one of the plane's engines was set afire by a burst of anti-aircraft fire and another burst tore a gaping hole in the side of the plane, ripping off his oxygen mask and putting the rear turret out of commission.

His Fingers Froze.

"It was bitterly cold," he said, "and I had to take off my gloves to search in the dark for my parachute, which had been knocked out of its proper place. I did not dare keep my gloves on for fear I might grab the rip-cord handle by mistake in the dark.

"My hands froze up while I was feeling about the icy metal in the tail-section hunting for the chute. Every time my fingers touched metal they seemed to freeze up some more."

The pilot finally got the fire in the engine blown out and Sergt. Cohen didn't need the parachute after all. But then he lost h... leavy gloves ride a... he way back

burg... h only his sc...

aroun... his numb han...

It was his third trip... burg and his twelfth bomb... operation. His targets include... Genoa, Italy; Essen, Mannheim, Duesseldorf and other German industrial centers.

Sergt. Cohen's home is at 590 Halsey street, Brooklyn.

Bri...

London, June 11 (A. P.).—An official announced today that the British Ambassador in Buenos Aires had been instructed to inform the Argentine Government of British recognition of the administration set up after the revolt launched a week ago today.

Italy and Germany, with which Argentina of all American nations alone maintains diplomatic relations, already had taken steps to recognize the Argentine Government.

Plane Struggles 15 Minutes With Live Bomb Stuck In Bay

Fortress Rigor Mortis Has Harrowing Trip After Successful Raid On Wilhelmshaven

[By the Associated Press]

JUN 12 1943

At a United States Bomber Station in Britain, June 11—For fifteen nerve-wracking minutes the crew of the Flying Fortress Rigor Mortis expected momentarily to be be blown to bits as it battled frantically at an altitude of 20,000 feet en route home from Wilhelmshaven today to releave a live bomb which had caught in the bomb bay racks.

The Fortress piloted by Capt. Sidney Smith og Santa Barbara, Cal., was half way out across the North Sea before the bomb was observed dangling below the plane by Lieut. Howard Gardner, of Millinocket, Maine, the bombardier.

Unscathed By Flak

The Fortress had flown unscather through the flak over the target and had left enemy fighters far behind. The crew had settled down to a pleasant joy ride back home with three members—Sergt. J. K. Kunz, of Pittsburgh, Pa., top turret gunner; Sergt. Stanley Farmworth, of Bakersfield, Cal., tail gunner, and Lieut. F. L. McIntyre, of Reno, Nevada, copilot—receiving warm congratulations from their mates as the raid marked a completion of their combat duties.

Gardner shouted a warning over the inter-phone system, telling the others that a bomb had not slid from the racks and had caught on one bomb bay.

JUN 12 1943

What made the eyes of the crewmen widen in greater alarm was the fact that the bomb's spinner mechanism on its nose—which revolves after being released so it explodes on impact—was spinning around like a child's top.

Calls For Help

"Get the hell out of that tail and get up here as fast as you can and help us," yelled Kunz to Farmworth.

iWth aGrdner shouting directions, Kunz and Farmworth went to work.

"Kunz grabbed hold of the spinner and stopped it just before it looked like it was ready to drop off," Gardner said. "Both fellows grabbed the bomb and lifted it off the shackle as I tried to get it loose by turning on the bomb bay release switches.

Falls Into Ocean

"We were scared as hell that the jolting of the bomb against the plane might set it off at any mintue."

After about fifteen minutes of struggle the bomb fell into the ocean.

"Boy, we were really sweating it out," exclaimed Gardner. "Phew. You know, we are a veteran crew—most of us have been on at least sixteen missions and three guys were finishing up. It was bad enough to get the hell shot out of us on a raid without killing ourselves."

Other members of the Rigor Mortis crew were Second Lieutenant Roger Moran, of Cornell, N. Y., navigator; Sergt. Peter Hnatuick, of Hazelton, Pa., ball-turret gunner; William Mooney, of Chicago, left-waist gunner; Bernard McKnight, of Pittsburgh, Pa., right-waist gunner; Frank Brinski, of Pittsburgh, Pa., radio operator and gunner.

Many Are Killed In British Plane Crash

Lincoln, England, June 11 (A. P.).—A British military plane crashed into a residential section here early tonight, killing six members of its crew and a number of civilians, including two women and a child. One member of the crew escaped.

JUN 12 1943

500 BELGIANS SLAIN

Edinburgh, June 11 (A. P.).—The Germans have executed more than 500 Belgians this year and hold 10,000 in prison, the Belgian Premier Hubert Pierlot said in a speech today.

Because of diet deficiencies, he added, 53 per cent of the Belgian children between three and six years of age are underweight.

ENVOY TO FINNS DUE IN STOCKHOLM

Stockholm, June 11 (A. P.).—Robert M. McClintock Charge d'Affaires of the United States legation at Helsinki, is scheduled to arrive in Stockholm today and observers coupled his trip with a newspaper report that Finland had yielded to Nazi demands for Finnish replacements on the German-Russian front.

Some of these observers, who cannot be identified by name, said that they believed that the United States had been awaiting only some further sign that Finland would bow to such pressure before severing diplomatic relations with Helsinki.

Diplomatic informants said that Mr. McClintock's trip was purely personal. They reported that he expected to spend three or four days with members of his family, who have been in Stockholm since the United States withdrew most of the legation staff from Helsinki during the eastern crisis. Whether the reports granting of a German recruiting concession in Finland would provoke a break could not be authoritatively determined. Finnish Government officers long have contended that the war they wage alongside Germany against the Soviet Union is one of self-defense.

The Stockholm newspaper Dagens Nyheter said that Finland, in response to Nazi demands, had recruited a replacement for every physically fit Finn who recently returned from the Russian front with the Finnish S. S. battalion.

A Finnish opposition leader said that the majority of the Finnish people and even a large number of Parliament members wanted a change in Helsinki's foreign policy, but not by open revolt during the war emergency.

GEN. DE GAULLE ABSENTS SELF FROM COUNCIL

French Committee Forced To Cancel Its Scheduled Algiers Meeting

MORTON

Unity Apparently Further Delayed—Vichy Generals Seem Main Obstacle

JUN 12 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Algiers, June 11 — The French Committee for National Liberation canceled its scheduled meeting today after receiving word from Gen. Charles de Gaulle that he would not attend.

There was an informal session lasting a few hours, but apparently no progress was made in hurdling the latest obstacles that have appeared in the path of complete understanding.

The refusal of the Fighting French leader to attend in his capacity as copresident of the committee left it without reaching the unity which seemed just around the corner a few days ago and now seems likely to be weeks away.

De Gaulle May Quit Committee

It was understood on good authority that de Gaulle has threatened to withdraw from the conferences entirely unless he is granted concessions. This, observers said, would not necessarily mean a complete collapse of the unification movement, because whatever de Gaulle's own action might be his chief representatives, Gen. Georges Catroux and Rene Massigli, undoubtedly would remain as members of the committee.

One sore spot in present negotiations seems to be the fate of some 150 French generals whom de Gaulle has tabbed as collaborationists and insists must be relieved of further duty.

Giraud's Position Given

One reliable source, although declining to elaborate, has said that Giraud appeared to be willing to dispense with many of them but disagreed with the Fighting French leader over the method to be followed. The same source said that Pierre Boisson, whose continuance as Governor General of French West Africa is reported bitterly opposed by de Gualle, has not even been discussed formally as yet.

The question of the relative authority of the army commander in chief and the Minister of National Defense, another stumbling block was discussed today in the "informal" session.

One person in a position to know quoted de Gaulle as telling associates recently that "Giraud wants to retain power and run the whole show." The Fighting French reportedly feel strongly that the Minister of National Defense—as yet undesignated—should have power at least on a plane equal to that of the commander in chief of the army.

De Gaulle Bides His Time

On the basis of today's developments, it would appear that de Gaulle is pursuing the successful strategy he has employed in the past—that of staking everything on a decisive issue. Observers believe that he has chosen to stand firm and bide his time.

It is known that he feels that the majority of people in metropolitan France are behind him rather than Giraud and that ultimately he can force the replacement of at least part of the clique of old-line generals and bring about the reorganization of the hierarchy of the army. Most persons close to the conference believe that the showdown—if one comes—will be on this point and that compromises on all others could be reached.

Similar Fight In Pre-War France

The present deadlock over the question of the power of commander in chief and Minister of National Defense has recalled the fact that a similar fight raged for years in pre-war France. It was reported that Giraud is vehemently opposed to any subordination of the commander's position whether it be himself or his successor, should he relinquish the office he now holds.

It was believed in some quarters that the fact that de Gaulle is junior to Giraud and Gen. Alphonse Georges, Giraud supporter and member of the committee, may play some part in this purely military phase of the unification negotiations.

D. F. C. AWARDED TO GEN. HURLEY

Cairo, June 11 (A. P.)—Brig. Gen. Patrick Jay Hurley, President Roosevelt's special representative in the Middle East and former Secretary of War in the Hoover administration was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross today "for meritorious achievement while participating in aerial flights in furtherance of the war effort."

The presentation was made by Major-Gen. Lewis H. Brereton, commander of American air forces in the Middle East.

Gen. Hurley was cited for having flown with no thought of personal safety on repeated flights from the United States to the South Pacific, Middle East, Orient and Russia, braving all hazards in combat areas and displaying conspicuous courage and initiative.

One of his most spectacular and difficult missions was in flying to Darwin, Australia, with $1,000,000 in gold in a canvas bag. Early in the war he ranged the Australian coast to buy up fishing boats which he used in a desperate effort to get supplies to Gen. Douglas MacArthur in the Philippines. Two out of every three of these ships were sunk, but some got through with the supplies that helped make the American stand on Bataan possible.

More recently he has been employed on special missions for President Roosevelt, involving air trips to Russia, Iran and elsewhere.

In the first war Gen. Hurley was awarded the D. S. C. with Silver Star and the Purple Heart. Since the present war began he had received an Oak Leaf Cluster from his own nation and the Order of the Aztec Eagle from Mexico, that country's highest award.

U. S. Soldiers Build Liberia A Road System

By JOSEPH MORTON

HEADQUARTERS U. S. FORCES IN LIBERIA—(AP) American soldiers in Liberia, busy dealing with steadily mounting air traffic and perfecting defense against sabotage and attack, also are making good the United States' promise to give the country one of the things it needs most—new roads.

At present not a single highway crosses the Negro republic, a country of some 45,000 square miles. Two-thirds of the existing roads are confined to the two Firestone rubber plantations; the longest single stretch runs 50 miles southeastward from Monrovia, the capital. One sizable road section can be used only by automobiles carried through the bush in parts and then assembled. Past construction of many other sections has halted at streams too large to bridge with materials and equipment on hand.

Soldiers Move Ahead

With the rainy season approaching rapidly, the soldier-road builders are moving ahead rapidly, intense heat and high bush notwithstanding. The khaki-clad highway builders bivouac just as if they were battling with guns instead of bulldozers. Their camp moves along with the road. They enjoy the advantages that come with roomy tents, cots, electric lights hooked up to a portable power plant, a motorized water purification unit and a portable shower bath (home made), but they also must endure a blistering sun and other hardships inflicted by one of the toughest regions on earth.

There has been no survey, by instruments, of the road now being built. A native guide, hired for 60 cents a day, helps officers plot out each day's work. Native laborers, paid 20 cents a day, then clear as much underbrush as possible with machetes. Bulldozers operated by soldiers, grub the section, beating down trees and heavy growth. Scrapers and graders then cut out the road and make the fills.

Hero Road Builders

Heroes of the road building are such soldiers as Private (first class) Claude Roundtree, Negro, of Anderson, S. C., who shines with a bulldozer as some soldiers shine with machine guns. Officers describe his self-taught technique as untouched, credit him with an uncanny knack for "sneaking up" on trees from just the right angle and hitting them in just the right place.

Two officers on the project, First Lieut. Walter Turansky of Goshen, N. Y., and Second Lieut. Leo L. Radcliff of Sigourney, Ia., spend a good portion of their time "in conference" with tribal chieftains, and in training a small number of Liberians who will take over and operate the equipment when the soldiers leave. Frequent gifts of eggs, chickens, bananas, pineapples, oranges and avocadoes testify to the gratitude of natives who realize opening of the road will bring them marked economic advantages.

Other demonstrations of friendliness have followed acts of such individuals as Technician (fifth grade) Rudolph B. Hoffler, Negro of Washington, D. C., whose unstinted, 45-minute application of artificial respiration saved the life of a Liberian swimmer already given up by tribesmen.

Many of these people saw their first automobiles when trucks appeared on the road. And because the motor car is bringing them their first modern transportation, it appears likely they never will so much as lay eyes on an instrument which opened up America—the railroad train.

JUN 12 1943

New Chief In Levant Due In Ankara Today

Ankara, Turkey, June 8 (Delayed, A.P.)—Admiral Sir John H. D. Cunningham, newly appointed commander in chief of the Levant, is expected to arrive in Ankara Saturday, a high British naval source said today.

Sir John, who is a cousin of Sir Andrew Browne Cunningham, naval commander in the Mediterranean, left the Admiralty, where he had been Fourth Sea Lord, early this month.

[A German broadcast recorded by the Associated Press said Cunningham would be accompanied to Ankara by several high British naval officers and would hold military discussions with the Turkish general staff.]

KUBAN AIR EDGE

JUN 12 1943

GAINED BY REDS

JUN 12 1943

Nazis Attack Near Rostov and Bomb Yaroslavl.

McGAFFIN

Moscow, June 11 (A. P.).—The Russian Air Force has established supremacy in the Kuban Valley after two months of violent mass aerial combat over the Axis western Caucasus bridgehead, dispatches from the front said today. This fact was declared to account for the comparative lull in fighting in that area.

A dispatch to the newspaper Izvestia said that since the end of May the Russian Stormovik bombers have been able to punish German troops on the battlefield at will, without loss to themselves.

The Soviet midnight communique told of a German lunge yesterday with hundreds of tank and plane-supported troops against the Russian lines between Rostov and Taganrog. A temporary German gain was pushed back by a Red Army counter-attack that cost the Germans 300 men, five tanks and two planes, it was announced.

This is in the area along the northern shore of the Sea of Azov.

The Russian communique told of heavy losses inflicted again on Nazi troops dug in before Smolensk and in the Sevsk region, northeast of Kursk.

The Russians announced that Soviet bombers blew up a German troop train and supply depots in the Lisichansk region after infantry and artillery smashed back another German thrust probing the Soviet Donets River defenses in that sector.

The Moscow radio told of a German raid on Yaroslavl, in which it said houses were destroyed, and declared that in the exchange of air assaults large forces of Russian bombers attacked five German airdromes Wednesday night.

Soviet Glider Pioneer Dies

Moscow, June 11 (AP)—Lieut. Col. Dmitry Koshitz, Soviet glider pioneer, died on active duty, it was announced today. Koshitz had been in aviation since 1924 and was one of the first to experiment with trains of gliders towed by transports.

Molotov Voices Reds' Appreciation For Help

McGAFFIN

Moscow, June 11 (AP)—Vyacheslav Molotov, Soviet Foreign Affairs Commissar, stressed the appreciation of the Russian people for lend-lease supplies at a luncheon today for American Ambassador Admiral William H. Standley, honoring the first anniversary of the signing of the American-Russian agreement.

Molotov said the Russians were "fully cognizant" of American aid and stressed the importance of post-war relations among Russia, America and England.

In response, Standley said "the determination behind the lend-lease agreement is more important even than the aid it made available to Russia.

"In addition to strengthening the bonds of good will, the agreement shows the United States intends to mobilize all possible resources and is determined to apply them in the struggle to establish a world in which man can live without fear."

Chinese Report Renewed Gains Around Ichang

JUN 12 1943

Also Capture Town Near Hankow; Thanks Given to U. S. Pilots for Help

CHUNGKING, June 11 (AP).—New Chinese successes were reported today in fighting northeast of Ichang and northwest of Hankow as authorities officially thanked American Army flyers for helping turn the Japanese drive on the upper Yangtse into a rout last week.

Field dispatches said Chinese troops had occupied Wangchiachang, northeast of the Japanese base at Ichang, after an all-night clash in which 300 enemy troops were killed and many others, including a regimental commander, wounded.

The Chinese also were reported to have broken into Yingshan, an important town about ninety miles northwest of Hankow, between the Han River and the Hankow-Peiping railway, inflicting heavy casualties in street fighting.

Bitter fighting was reported in progress north of Tungting Lake, where the Japanese counter-attacked two days ago after receiving reinforcements.

American flyers who disrupted Japanese troop movements, destroyed his supply columns and blasted his gun positions to help make the recent great Chinese victory possible, were entertained by Chinese authorities at Yengyang, in Hunan Province.

Central News reported that fierce aerial dogfights raged over Hengyang on Thursday as the Japanese attempted to blast the city with thirty planes, but offered no details.

Indications were that the Japanese might be preparing to launch a fresh drive on the upper Yangtse. Transports laden with munitions and other war supplies were reported moving up the river and returning downstream with wounded Japanese from the west Hupeh front. Dispatches said a Japanese counter - attack from Owchihkow, on the south of the Yangtse north of Tungting Lake, had been repulsed and that Chinese forces were trying to retake the city. The Chinese were said to have begun a "successful counter-offensive" in the Kinhwa sector, one column having entered the suburbs of Tungyang, thirty-five miles northwest of Kinhwa.

Japanese bombers were reported to have bombed Kienow in northern Fukien Province on Wednesday, evidently considering that city a potential base for bombing operations against Japan.

ALLIES POUND 2 JAP BASES

JUN 12 1943

Leave Koepang Mass Of Flames In Liberators' Extensive Raid

19 Tons Of Bombs Dropped In Two-Hour Attack On Rabaul Fields

YARBROUGH

[By the Associated Press]

Allied Headquarters in Australia, Saturday, June 12— Heavy bombers of the Fifth Air Force struck unusually heavy blows in two directions yesterday, turning Timor's capital, Koepang, into "a mass of flames" with forty-two tons of bombs and hitting two Rabaul airdromes with more than nineteen tons in a two-hour attack.

Fifteen Liberators participated in the Koepang raid, the most extensive ever made on that island 400 miles northwest of Darwin, Australia.

Power House Destroyed

The big bombers went in shortly after noon. They destroyed the power house, burned up gasoline and oil dumps and wrought "widespread destruction" along the water front, said the Allied high command communique, adding:

"Departing aircraft reported the town a mass of flames." The Japanese sent up eight Zeros to intercept, but three of them were shot down and another was listed as probably destroyed. Not a single Liberator was missing.

The biggest previous raid on Koepang was on February 1 when a group of Beaufighters destroyed nine Zeros and four bombers in a strafing attack.

Grounded Planes Explode

Liberators also made the Rabaul raid, hitting the Vunakanau and Rapopo airdromes. They followed up the damage caused the previous night when nearly forty tons of bombs were dropped. Fires and explosions were observed among grounded aircraft, along the runways and in dispersal areas.

Improving weather permitted greater air offensive over the entire area and other places raided were Dili in Timor, Babo in Dutch New Guinea, Gasmata on New Britain Island and Salamaua and Madang on New Guinea.

Some of our medium bombers hit Babo for the eighth time since May 4 and started numerous small fires which were judged to be burning planes. They also started fires in a barracks area near a seaplane base.

Rabaul Bombed by U. S. Flyers

JUN 12 1943

Airdromes Hit by Aerial-bursting Missiles and Opposition Is Small.

DEAN SCHEDLER

Somewhere in New Guinea, June 10 (Delayed)—(A.P.)—Lieut.-Gen. George C. Kenney's Liberators and Flying Fortresses roared through Japanese anti-aircraft fire and a barrage of searchlights before dawn today to drop forty tons of bombs on airdromes at Rabaul, New Britain, during a three-hour raid.

Bombs of all sites from small fragmentation to 1,000-pounders rocked the Lakunai airdrome dispersal area, starting fires which pilots reported were from burning planes.

First Lieut. James Murphy, of Roundup, Mont., drove one Fortress over the target, chalking up his forty-fifth mission. The falling 1,000 pounds from his bomber helped him celebrate his twenty-fourth birthday.

Twenty searchlights nailed Jim's plane while the anti-aircraft gunners banged away. But experience told behind that wheel; Jim brought his plane home, just a little disappointed that the Japs didn't turn on four more lights to make him a birthday candlestick.

[Friday's communique from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said all the bombers got back safely.]

From medium altitude plane piloted by First Lieut. Charles Downer of Alhambra, Cal., dropped bombs which lit five yellow fires, one a large orange-colored blaze.

Devastating Bombs Used.

His bombardier, First Lieut. Lewis Jedlicka of Cicero, Ill., was chagrined because a piece of shrapnel ruined his "office."

A large fragment tore through the glass, but no one was hurt.

Aerial bursting bombs, which the Japanese radio at Tokio has spoken of numerous times as being particularly devastating, were used again with telling results.

At least eleven fires in one dispersal area were started by a bomber piloted by First Lieut. William Gowdy of Cincinnati, Ohio. The fires burned for half an hour, swelling from vivid yellow to orange.

The last man over the target, just before daybreak, was First Lieut. Ramos Picard of Walla Walla, Wash. He said smoke drifted skyward as far up as 7,000 feet. Some fires along the sides of the runway still were burning.

Anti-aircraft fire left its mark here and there on two planes out of the large formations, but no one else had as hair-raising an experience as that of Technical Sergt. Joe Sitzman of Greeley, Colo.

Riding in the ball turret on the lookout for possible night fighters, Sergt. Sitzman was left with nothing between him and the Japanese but his safety belt when an ack-ack fragment neatly snapped the hinge from the door. Joe wasted no time scrambling into the plane.

At Gen. MacArthur's headquarters a spokesman said that one wave of Liberators and three of Fortresses struck at Lakunai airdrome on the eastern side of Simpson Harbor, encountering only three enemy night fighters which easily were driven off. Single Fortresses attacked the Vunakanau and Rapopo airdromes. ... ny as nineteen fires were ... ed and some could be s... y miles away.

Gets New Zealand Post

WELLINGTON, N. Z., June 11 (AP).—W. Perry, a member of the Legislative Council and president of the New Zealand Returned Services Association, was appointed Minister of the Armed Forces and War Co-ordination today to succeed Joseph G. Coates, who died May 27.

38 JAP PLANES DOWNED IN WEEK IN SOLOMONS AREA

American Airmen Outscore Enemy by Better Than 5-1 in Two Battles.

JUN 12 1943

...ANCED SOUTH PACI... June 10 — (Delayed) — ...AP)... ...erican war planes shot down a ... ...al of 38 Japanese planes in two air battles over the Solomon islands this week, outscoring the enemy by better than five to one. American losses numbered only seven planes.

South Pacific headquarters reported today a recapitulation showed 23 Japanese planes were shot down Tuesday when American fighters intercepted a force of 40 to 50 Zeros and enemy divers over the Russell islands, now developed as the northernmost American base in the Solomons.

(A Navy department communique issued June 8 announced that U. S. planes shot down 19 Zeros over the Russell islands at a cost of seven American planes.)

Four U. S. Fliers Saved

A headquarters spokesman said the original bag of 19 enemy planes was increased to 23 and that four of the seven American pilots shot down were rescued later.

...e spokesman also reported that one of the Zeros brought down was destroyed by ramming. He said that the American plane which had rammed the enemy was lost and that the action probably was a case in which there was nothing much else to do.

In a raid against Japanese shipping off Bougainville island in the northwestern Solomons Sunday, 15 intercepting enemy fighters were shot down and six more were damaged, with all American planes returning safely to base. An enemy destroyer was sent to the bottom in this action.

(Navy communique 402 issued in Washington June 6 disclosed the sinking of the Japanese destroyer and the destruction of 15 enemy planes.)

Jersey Sailor Is Honored

ABOARD A SUBMARINE IN THE PACIFIC, June 11 (AP).—A silver star decoration was awarded yesterday to Chief Electrician's Mate A. S. Habien, of Ridgeway, N. J., for gallantry in "courageously and skillfully . . . sinking an important amount of Japanese shipping."

Admiral Silva Killed by Auto

RIO DE JANEIRO, June 11 (AP).—Admiral Jose Machado de Castro e Silva, seventy-seven years old, a Justice of the Supreme Military Tribunal, was killed last night by an automobile as he was crossing a street. He toured the United States in May, 1941, with other Latin-American navy leaders. He was the chief of the Navy General Staff here.

JUN 12 1943

JUN 12 1943

CUBAN NAVY SINKS ENEMY SUBMARINE

Axis Vessel Is Destroyed In Atlantic Off Northern Coast Of Island

[By the Associated Press]

Havana, July 11 — Cuba announced officially tonight that a patrol vessel of the Cuban subchaser fleet had sunk an enemy submarine in battle off the Cuban north coast, in the Atlantic, a few days ago.

The announcement, made through War Minister Aristides Soca de Quesada, was the first official claim that the Cuban navy had scored in its patrol activities around the 2,000-mile coast line of the republic.

The navy recently obtained ten submarine chasers from the United States Government for use in the West Indies waters.

The announcement of the submarine sinking was made after a conference of President Fulgencio Batista and the chiefs of the navy, army and national police in the Presidential palace.

Authorized By President

President Batista himself authorized the publication of the announcement.

Without identifying the location or giving the date of the action, the War Minister said a Cuban patrol vessel made contact with the submarine off the coast.

The submarine attacked, and the naval craft counter-attacked "with complete success," he said, sinking the submarine.

No further details were given.

Cuba was among the first American republics to declare war on the Axis after Pearl Harbor.

Action Follows At Once After New President Barred Radio To Coded Messages Of Axis

Mr. Eury JUN 12 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Buenos Aires, June 11—The United States and Britain recognized today the new Argentine Government, thus joining other warring powers and neutral nations.

Formal notice of the United States' and Britain's recognition came soon after the announcement of a decree barring the transmission of outgoing coded messages which had been permitted under the overthrown Castillo regime.

The Japanese followed up the formal recognition yesterday by Germany and Italy when Ambassador Baron Shu Tomii called at the Foreign Office today.

Storni And Armour Confer

Vice-Admiral Segundo Storni, Foreign Minister, described his half-hour meeting with United States Ambassador Norman Armour as cordial. The talk came shortly after notification of United States recognition. It was Storni's second successive daily press conference attended by American journalists.

"I have reached the conclusion," Storni said, "that we are on the road which will bring the closest collaboration between our two countries and the continent in general." He then added, "I am convinced that step by step our country will move toward its rightful position."

Other Recognizing Nations

The countries notifying the Argentine Government of approval today included Mexico, Canada, Hungary, Sweden, Poland, Bulgaria, Colombia, Venezuela, Nicaragua, Ecuador, Greece, the Netherlands and the Dominican Republic.

Word of the United States recognition was delivered to Foreign Under Secretary Roberto Gache by Edward L. Reed, counselor of the United States Embassy. When Reed arrived at Gache's office the anteroom was filled with diplomatic representatives awaiting their turn to deliver similar messages to the new government. Ambassador Amour's brief recognition read:

"I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your excellency's communication dated June 8, 1943, informing me that General Pedro Ramirez has assumed the provisional Presidency of the nation and has designated Rear Admiral Sabah Sueyro to perform the duties of Vice-President and as ministers of the several Government departments officials whose names you are so good as to enumerate."

Radio Rule Hits Axis Only

The ban on coded messages, announced last night, was worded in a manner which applies equally to all nations, but in actual practice affects only the Axis nations, Germany, Italy and Japan.

Under a previous agreement with the Government of deposed President Ramon S. Castillo, the Axis countries were permitted to radio a daily quota of one hundred coded words.

It was pointed out that the ban effectively cuts off the last legal method of secret transmission to the Axis homelands. Cable transmission still remains open to all but the Axis, since such facilities have long been denied them by the United Nations which control the operating companies.

Ramirez Explains Ban

The Axis may still use the radio for messages written in open language but United Nations' observers agreed that the ban on code will reduce the possibility of the Axis transmitting word of United States ship movements and other information of military value.

President Ramirez explained that the decree had been issued "in view of the adhesion of the Argentine Government to Resolution 40 of the third reunion of the American republics (the Rio de Janeiro conference of January, 1942) in accordance with the necessities of continental security."

The resolution cited in the decree held that it was necessary to apply means to control and impede communications which "might place in danger the security of the American states and the continent in general."

The decree becomes effective immediately upon notification of the Axis embassies.

U. S. And Britain Recognize Ramirez Argentine Regime

JUN 12 1943

ITALIAN PEOPLE ARE TOLD DUCE IS BETRAYER

President Pledges Them Free Choice of Own Non-Fascist Regime.

DECLARES THEY WANT PEACE

But Stipulates That Mussolini and Nazis Must First Be Thrown Out.

JUN 12 1943

Washington, June 11 (A. P.). — President Roosevelt declared today that the surrender of Pantelleria was very good news, and at the same time indirectly but strongly, he appealed to Italy to get out of the war.

He told a press conference that the Allies could assure the Italian people an opportunity to choose the kind of non-Nazi, non-Fascist government they wish after Fascism has been put down and the Germans have been driven from their territory.

It is the hope and the intention of the United Nations, Mr. Roosevelt said, that Italy be restored to nationhood and take her place as a respected member of the European family of nations.

Says Duce Betrayed Italy.

The President made it obvious that he considered Mussolini and his aids, rather than the Italian people, responsible for Italy's position in the war. He said that the present Anglo-American campaign against Italy was the inevitable result of the ruthless course Mussolini had followed in the last few years. In forming a military alliance with Germany, Mr. Roosevelt declared, Mussolini betrayed his own country in a struggle for personal power and aggrandizement.

Mussolini's acts were not those of the Italian people, he went on to say, but a succession of acts committed by his personal Fascist regime. The people of the country are largely devoted to peace, President Roosevelt said.

Mussolini's whole policy was illustrated, he continued, by his declaration of war against France and Britain. Harking back to the day three years ago yesterday when Italy took this step, the President recalled that he had described it then as a stab in the back.

The Allies, he said, have no choice but to pursue the war against Italy and Mussolini until they have achieved complete victory.

Only when the Germans have been driven out and Fascism is abolished will the good judgment of the Italian people make itself evident, he said.

Apparently Without Any Dead.

The President had received word this morning direct from Gen. Eisenhower, that Pantelleria had raised the white flag of surrender. Apparently the surrender came because of a lack of water on the island, he said, and thought it worth pointing out that the island had been taken, apparently without any loss of life. He added, however, that he did not know whether a landing had been made before the capitulation.

The Italians called Pantelleria their Rock of Gibraltar, he said, and had done a great deal of boasting about it and about how it dominated the Mediterranean Narrows. Now, he said, it is in British and American hands.

He went on, then, to discuss Mussolini, Italy and the possibilities for setting up a non-Fascist government after the victory, referring to notes which he had started to write out, he said, some time ago. Now seems to be an opportune time, he added, to say something through the press [illegible] radio to the people of Italy, [illegible] to remind them that the attacks on them were the result of the course of action Mussolini had chosen.

Views of Capitol Hill.

Congressional leaders meanwhile expressed the hope that the surrender of Pantelleria is an indication that Italy itself may be so softened by bombings that it will collapse without the necessity of an invasion.

Senator Thomas (D.-Utah), a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said that he was gratified by news of the island's capitulation and hoped the Italians were thus indicating their desire to get out of the war.

"If we have to invade from the toe of the boot, we will face immense difficulties," he declared. "Not even Hannibal could accomplish an invasion from that side, even though he held Sicily."

Senator Gurney (R.-S. D.), a member of the Military Affairs Committee, said that the seizure of Pantelleria would be of inestimable value to the Allies in improving their shipping situation in the Mediterranean. "That shows that we can take them by air," he declared.

Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, the chairman of the Senate Naval Affairs Committee, greeted the news of the surrender as most gratifying, and expressed the view that the victory "is certain to be followed by further and larger successes."

ISLAND'S CAPTURE IS FIRST BREACH IN AXTS FORTRESS

JUN 12 1943

Fatal Wound to Italian War Morale Also Seen.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—(AP) The first Allied breach in the walls of the Axis fortress of Europe has been made with surrender of Italy's tiny mid-Mediterranean "Gibraltar", the island of Pantelleria. With its fall, too, may be disclosed a fatal wound to Italian war morale.

Pantelleria fell on the first day of the fourth year of Italy's unhappy war partnership with Nazi Germany. It fell without frontal amphibious assault, succumbing to a fury of air attacks supplemented by relatively light weight naval bombardment. That itself is significant, a foretaste of what is in store for the Axis in Europe and in Asia as Allied air and sea power swiftly swells to gargantuan proportions.

Allied Casualties Slight

The Allied casualty cost was negligible. The cost to the Axis is still to be computed—more in terms of shaken Italian public war morale than in losses of men or equipment or even the tactical and strategic military effects of this new Italian disaster.

The island unquestionably will be of far greater military use to the Allies than it could have been to Italy if it could have been long held. It brings the Allied attack from Africa almost half-way across the Sicilian straits. As a refueling stop for short range planes and as a base for submarines to consolidate more completely the already established Allied sea and air control of the central Mediterranean narrows for free use in the vigorous and aggressive prosecution of the war on all global fronts it has sound military values.

Sicilian Straits Barred

Pantelleria in Allied hands renders Italian fleet use of the Sicilian straits impossible. Enemy shipping cannot conceivably move either way, even by hugging the Italian shore line, except at prohibitive risk of destruction by bomb or torpedo or shell fire.

That might prove highly important strategically as the pattern of the next Allied moves unfolds. Mussolini is reported to have been husbanding what is left of his once imposing fleet to meet the invasion threats. He now has lost use of the Sicilian passage to concentrate naval power east or west as developments of Allied attack strategy dictated.

The Straits of Messina, between Sicily and the toe of the Italian mainland boot, afford an inside passage between the eastern and western Mediterranean. It is a narrow, difficult passage for big ships. But a greater peril than the navigation terrors of Scylla and Charybdis of classical legend now hover over that Italian moat. Allied bombers already have been busy with it to cut the main supply line for Sicily and Sardinia. There is little doubt that they will haunt it day and night and sow its tide-ripped length with mines to keep the eastern and western wings of Italian sea power apart.

JUN 12 1943

30.2A-4889

questions involved for General Eisenhower and his Anglo-American-French armies in taking the next step against the Axis fortress of Europe. In Washington, however, there is ample evidence that from the White House down the psychological possibilities of this new blow to Italian morale has attention.

The time seems ripe to capitalize on that. There are hints at least that through undisclosed channels new efforts to lure the Italian people into revolt against the war and its Nazi and Fascist authors may be in progress, with implied assurance that Italy will be returned to a place in the family of nations once she frees herself of the Hitler-Mussolini yoke.

The Italian people are urged to follow the example of the Pantelleria garrison and quit the war before it is too late. Their defensive wall is beginning to crumble. Their will to continue the fight they did not want to wage also may be sagging. Nor can they longer doubt that air attack more terrible than any they or any other nation have yet known is close at hand.

7 GENERALS IN TUNISIAN WAR GET DSM

JUN 12 1943

Spaatz Heads List Of Decorations Announced By War Department

Bradley Cited In Two Capacities In North African Campaign

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 11—The Distinguished Service Medal has been awarded seven generals who led the North African campaign, the War Department announced today.

Lieut. Gen. Carl Spaatz, commander of the North African Air Force, headed the list as announced by the War Department. He was decorated for his part in formation of the Twelfth Air Force, which he commanded until it became part of the Northwest African Air Force.

Lieut. Gen. Omar N. Bradley, of Highland Falls, N. Y., was cited for his service as deputy corps commander and as commander of the Second Corps in North Africa, where, the citation said, "the outstanding success of the operation was largely due to his personality and efforts."

Other Generals Decorated

Others awarded the Distinguished Service Medal were:

MAJ. GEN. TERRY DE LA M. ALLEN, El Paso, Texas, leader of the First Infantry Division in North African landings and through the Tunisian campaign.

MAJ. GEN. ALFRED M. GRUENTHER, Washington, for his part in the initial planning of the invasion and as chief of staff, Fifth Army.

MAJ. GEN. THOMAS B. LARKIN, Spokane, Wash., for duty as commander of the Mediterranean base section in the planning stages prior to his assignment as commander of the services of supply North African theater.

MAJ. GEN. HUGH J. GAFFEY, Austin, Texas, for duty as chief of staff, Second Corps, during a period which covered the battle of El Guettar.

MAJ. GEN. LOWELL W. ROOKS, Tucson, Ariz., for services as assistant chief of staff, Allied force headquarters.

Vast Weight of Bombs Subdued Pantelleria

WASHINGTON, June 11 — (AP) Some 7,000,000 pounds of bombs were dropped on Pantelleria island from June 1 on, air staff officers estimated today, adding that losses of Allied planes over the isle were "phenomenally low."

Big naval shells from destroyers and cruisers helped also to bring about the Italian outpost's downfall, said these officers. They said plane losses ran probably lower than half of one per cent of attacking forces.

Throughout the campaign, they said that anti-aircraft opposition was inaccurate, although it did grow more intensive toward the middle of the drive.

U.S. AND BRITAIN RECOGNIZE NEW ARGENTINE RULE

Hull Expects All American Republics Will Take Same Step Quickly.

JUN 12 1943

RAMIREZ BARS CODE MESSAGES

Permit to Axis Agents to Send 100 Secret Words a Day Is Thereby Revoked.

Washington, June 11 (A. P.).—Secretary of State Hull announced today that the United States has recognized the new government of Argentina headed by President Pedro Ramirez. Mr. Hull said at a press conference that Ambassador Norman Armour delivered the proper notice to the Argentine Government at 11 A. M. today (noon Buenos Aires time).

In reply to questions the Secretary said that all the American republics which did not extend recognition to the new government yesterday probably would do so today.

He said it was understood the United States had collaborated with the other American governments over the question of recognition, but that each Government is acting on its own initiative.

British Recognize Regime, Too.

[The British Government recognized today the new government setup in Argentina, the Associated Press reported from London.]

Asked whether he expected any change in Argentina's neutrality position in the war, Mr. Hull said that nothing of that nature had been taken up between the United States and Argentina either directly or indirectly.

He added that of course the United States has had the advantage of the Argentine Government's declarations of future policy.

He described the decision to recognize the new Argentine government as one of the usual steps taken in such cases and somewhat of a routine nature.

Asked whether the United States had acted in collaboration with the United Kingdom in its decision, Mr. Hull replied that the United States had acted on its own initiative and added that the State Department had of course been in conference with the governments of other American republics.

Assassination of Hitler Soon Is Predicted by Emil Ludwig

Biographer Asserts That Junkers Will Kill Fuehrer and Then Seek Peace—Says Air Raids Will Break Germans.

JUN 12 1943

Washington, June 11 (A. P.).—In the opinion of Emil Ludwig, German biographer, Hitler will be assassinated soon, by his own men. Appearing before the House Foreign Affairs Committee, testimony of which was made public today, Mr. Ludwig said: "I feel sure Hitler will be done away with, probably by the Junkers, because the Junkers have always been traitors to their kings."

"Then," he continued, "the junkers, the generals, will kowtow to you and say, 'We love the Americans. We do not hate the Jews. We don't ask for colonies. Come, let us be friends again.'"

Mr. Ludwig also expressed the belief that air bombing is the deciding factor that will break the Germans. He said that German nerves will collapse under the continued United Nations aerial attack and it won't be necessary to invade Germany.

Mr. Ludwig, a German Jew and a naturalized Swiss, said that he appeared before the committee "to tell you and to prove to you why the defeat of Germany is nearer than you think, and what to do with the Germans after their defeat."

Mr. Ludwig said: "What we fear is what will happen on the day after the death of Hitler.

"After this bad man is not there, and the Junkers make you any kind of a friendly offer," he continued, "I fear that certain elements in this country [the United States], and even in this house, would say, 'Now let us make peace and let us finish this business. They are good people, those generals.'

"Gentlemen, they are not! They are not one whit better than the Hitlers. . . . The generals, the symbols of German war-will, must be destroyed. As long as they are there every German boy will dream of revenge."

Complete disarmament of Germany must follow the war, Mr. Ludwig said, adding:

"Leave to the Germans all that other nations have. But take away their weapons, supervise their education, and give them political guardianship, because they have shown the world they are not able to govern themselves. If you do not do that, if you continue to speak, in the Puritan sense, of the 'poor misled German people,' if you persist in trying to distinguish between Germans and Nazis, and write every day about battles against Nazis instead of Germans, then, within twenty years, your sons will sit around this oval table and write another declaration of war against Germany."

Four Jap Bombers Downed.

Washington, June 11 (A. P.).—Marine and Army fighter planes shot down four Japanese Mitsubishi bombers in the southeastern Solomons on Thursday, the Navy reported today, and Army planes attacked enemy positions at Vila in the central Solomons.

The Navy communique said that Marine Corsairs shot down three of the bombers and that an Army Lightning fighter downed the other one. The action took place over the north end of Malata, directly northeast of the American airfield.

Enemy positions on Vila, Kolombangara island, were attacked by Army Liberator heavy bombers and Warhawk and Lightning fighters with unobserved results.

GREEKS TAKE PC-622

Washington, June 11 (A. P.).—The blue and white flag of Greece replaced the Stars and Stripes today on the stern of an American warship transferred by President Roosevelt to the Royal Hellenic Navy. King George II of Graace, for whom the former PC-622 was chirstened, in a message from Cairo—seat of the exiled Grecian monarchy— thanked the "chivalrous American nation for the generous gesture."

Mr. Roosevelt, in the transferral ceremony at the Washington Navy Yard late yesterday, expressed the hope that the anti-submarine patrol ship would hasten the day "when liberated Greeks will again maintain their own Government in the shadow of the Acropolis and the Parthe-." The ship was delivered er lend-lease arrangements.

CASUALTIES IN NAVY'S LIST

New Yorkers in Merchant Marine Losses.

Washington, June 11 (A. P.).—The Navy Department announced today the names of 74 U. S. Merchant Marine casualties, dead and missing, including these with next of kin in New York:

NEW YORK.

(Dead.)

BRAINOVICH, JOHN FRANCIS, chief engineer; Mrs. Annette Brainovich, wife, 1387 Grand Concourse, New York.

CHANDLER, CURTIS, messman; Mrs. Miriam Chandler, mother, 200 West 143d street, New York.

HOOD, VERNON STANLEY, third assistant engineer; Mrs. Elizabeth M. Hood, wife, 288 West 12th street, New York.

HUTCHINSON, HERMAN, messman; Mrs. Edna Hutchinson, wife, 366 West 127th street, New York.

KARDOS, CHARLES JOSEPH, able seaman; Mrs. Pauline Kardos, wife, 23 Monroe street, New York.

KELLEGREW, THOMAS, engine cadet; Alexander R. Kellegrew, father, 153 East 21st street, Brooklyn.

REA, JOHN ANDREW, oiler; Mrs. Lillian Rea, wife, 4335 Edson avenue, Bronx.

STADSTAD, JACK NORMAN, engine cadet; Mrs. Jessie Stadstad, mother, 136 Garden street, Garden City, L. I.

TOBIASSEN, TOBIAS NICKOLAI, able seaman; Torvald Tobiassen, father, 17a Second Place, Brooklyn.

(Missing.)

BUFFINGTON, HOWARD, oiler; Joseph H. Rothenberger, friend, 114 Perry street, New York.

CUMMINGS, LAWRENCE ALOYSIUS, maintenance; Mrs. Blanche Cummings, wife, 235 West 15th street, New York.

DAVIDSON, PAUL, first mate; Miss Gloria Wrege, friend, 17 Turner Place, Brooklyn.

ESPANO, MANUEL, messman; Bernard Kowsling, friend, 39 Atlantic avenue, Brooklyn.

GREEN, EDWARD, HALLBACK JR., third cook; Mrs. Geneva Green, mother, 132 Gordon avenue, Babylon, L. I.

HARRIS, HARRY GLENVILLE, chief cook; Flora Sheno, cousin, 32 McCombs Place, New York.

HILLARY, GIBSON DOUGLAS, master; Arthur Hillary, father, 17 Turner Place, Brooklyn.

KELLY, EDWARD, messman; John Kelly, brother, 938 Eighth avenue, New York.

KIERNAN, WILLIAM JOHN, yoeman; Mrs. Kathleen R. Kiernan, wife, 417 Theriot avenue, Bronx.

KRAUSE, EDWARD HENRY, ordinary seaman; Mrs. Martha Krause, mother, 3141 Perry avenue, Bronx.

KUHN, BERNARD JOSEPH, ordinary seaman; Mrs. Julia Kuhn, mother, 35 Lockwood avenue, Yonkers.

McGILL, JAMES AUGUSTINE, radio operator; Mrs. Louise McGill, mother, 3334 Bronx Boulevard, Bronx.

MICHEL, WILLIAM JOHN, third assistant engineer; Mrs. Charlotte Michel, mother, 589 Bay street, Stapleton, Staten Island.

OLSSON, ANDERS PETTER, boatswain; National Maritime Union, notified, 346 West 17th street, New York.

OPYR, WALTER, able seaman; Daniel Opyr, uncle, 109 St. Marks Place, New York.

PETZOLD, CARL, oiler; Gus Persson, brother-in-law, 306 West 20th street, New York.

QUIBIDO, CASTRO, second cook; Francisco Quinton, uncle, 118 Columbia street, Brooklyn.

SANCHEZ, JUAN, able seaman; Miss Helen Garcia, friend, 39 Willow Place, Brooklyn.

SILVA, AUGUST, able seaman; Mrs. Ida Bolgis, aunt, 4 West 115th street, N. Y.

TAYLOR, CLIFFORD RUDOLPH, steward; Mrs. Annie Taylor, wife, 105-11 171st Place, Jamaica, L. I.

JUN 12 1943

Roosevelt May Send Message To Congress About Inflation

Voices Hope Compulsory Savings Won't Be Needed and Indicates He Doesn't Plan Asking for Them Soon.

JUN 12 1943

Washington, June 11 (A. P.).—Attempting to dispel what he termed confusion, President Roosevelt said today that he might send Congress a message dealing with the whole field of inflation, including the closing of an inflationary gap between national income and things it is possible to buy.

As for specific tax legislation, he remarked at a press conferenc that the details are up to Congress.

He said some confusion had developed over his discussion of taxes. He said that he had been speaking of the theory of taxation, although reporters generally got the idea that he was preparing to ask Congress for more revenue as a means of plugging the inflationary gap.

The President recalled that he had been asked whether compulsory savings were necessary to help plug that gap and that he had replied that it was possible they were. But he said that he was dealing only with possibilities.

Sales Tax a Possibility.

A sales tax is also a possibility, he remarked, although Congress might have to enact one over his veto.

Both taxes and savings could be used together to combat inflation, the President said, but he did not state that they would be employed. He added that he had not even determined finally on whether to send Congress a message.

Mr. Roosevelt voiced a hope that compulsory savings would not be necessary and indicated that he did not intend to ask for them at any time in the near future, although he said it is desired that the inflationary gap be closed as far as possible.

Adding to the possibility that such savings would not be needed, is the public support of War Bond drives, which have gone over, he said, with enthusiasm and great success. He recalled that the last drive had been oversubscribed and that Senator George of Georgia, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, had hailed that fact as making compulsory savings unnecessary.

He conceded that the gap had widened somewhat since he asked Congress in January for $16,000,000,000 in taxes and savings to close it.

Legislation for Savings.

Asked what kind of savings there could be of a non-compulsory type and whether it would be possible to legislate voluntary savings, Mr. Roosevelt said it sounded crazy, but it was perfectly possible to legislate in that manner and that there are several types of non-compulsory savings that could be employed.

But as for outlining just how the gap could be filled in, Mr. Roosevelt preferred not to provide a blue print, declaring that is up to Congress. Nor would he comment on the possibility that the new 20 per cent withholding tax on incomes (above exemptions) to become effective July 1 might be boosted as high as 40 per cent. He said that was too deep water for him to plunge into.

Sees Gap Widened.

In noting that the inflationary gap had widened slightly, Mr. Roosevelt observed that there also were some proposals for what he called further inflation in the field wages and farm prices but he did not specify what he had in mind.

If he does send the message to Congress, the President said, it will be on the whole problem of inflation and its effect on every body in the country. When a reporter asked if he had anything to say about "a drive in Congress against subsidies" to keep prices down, which seemed to be counter to administration wishes, the Chief Executive said that the British, in the last war had an expression about a "better-'ole." And he would like very much to have somebody show a better'ole to him.

Navy Recalls Application for Oil Lease Fund

Acts After Roosevelt Orders Study of Agreement With Standard on Elk Hills

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—Attorney General Francis [illegible] disclosed today that the [illegible] asked withdrawal of its request for a $1,748,408 sum for use in an oil lease transaction with the Standard Oil Company of California, after President Roosevelt ordered a study of the legality of the agreement.

The withdrawn request was included in an appropriations bill and the item, Mr. Biddle said, was to have covered "certain expenses in connection with the contract" between the Navy and Standard Oil of California for development and operation of the Elk Hills Naval oil reserve.

Mr. Biddle said in a statement that the contract was referred to him "for analysis and recommendation" by Mr. Roosevelt on March 26 "as the result of criticism of the contract, raising doubts as to its legality and propriety."

A detailed analysis has been completed, Mr. Biddle said, and "after further study" recommendations will be submitted to the President.

Senator William Langer, Republican, North Dakota, said in the Senate yesterday that the lease was a "give away" under a "hush-hush" contract. A Navy official said, however, that the arrangement was entirely in the national interest and "a good deal" for the government.

The situation revolves around the ownership by Standard of California within the limits of the naval reserve. The contract provided a payment to Standard for equipment which it had installed in the field, along with the right to one-third of the oil withdrawn, this latter recognizing Standard's ownership of one-third of the land in the field.

The Navy, however, the official said, received certain control rights with respect to the amount of production.

RUBBER RESERVES UNTOUCHED SO FAR BY ALLIED NATIONS

JUN 12 1943

Minimum Supply Maintained, Resources Board Says in Third Report.

WASHINGTON, June 11—(AP) The combined Production and Resources board revealed today that the United States and British empire have nursed their rubber supplies along so far without dipping into minimum reserves.

The board, which contains top officials of the United States, the United Kingdom and Canada, made its third report of the war to President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Prime Minister MacKenzie King.

Discussing its world-wide studies of the rubber crisis, the board said in a statement that it "made a recommendation that over-all consumption of crude rubber in the United States, United Kingdom, Canada and the rest of the British empire should be held to a rate which would leave the combined stock of crude rubber on June 30, 1943, at a certain minimum figure. The latest review of the board indicates that the recommended combined minimum stock position will be maintained."

Although the board said nothing publicly about synthetic substitutes, in this country Rubber Director William M. Jeffers has predicted that the flow of factory-made rubber is growing fast enough to begin building up rubber stockpiles by the end of this year.

GREEN DEMANDS RISE IN WAGES OR SUBSIDIES

Says Two Billions a Year Will Be Needed to Roll Back Living Costs.

WARNS OF WORKERS' REVOLT

Only Alternative Is to Increase Pay to Meet 'Failure' to Cut Expenses to May, 1942.

Washington, June 11 (A. P.).—Predicting a spontaneous revolt of wage earners unless living costs are cut, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, told a Senate committee today that a $2,000,000,000 yearly subsidy is necessary to roll back living costs to the levels of thirteen months ago.

The only alternative, he said, is to increase the 15 per cent Little Steel formula controlling wage increases "per cent for per cent of our failure to cut the cost of living down to the May, 1942, level."

"The workers of the nation feel that their Government has gone back on its promise to extend them equality of treatment in the cost of living control," said Mr. Green.

"Unless immediate and express action is taken to carry out the policy pledged and promised to the wage earners of the nation, a widespread protest and spontaneous revolt on the part of the workers against the rising cost of living is inevitable."

Earlier members of the Senate Banking Committee, before which Mr. Green testified, said they favored legislation restricting sharply the amount and number of subsidies that could be paid to compensate for price cuts.

Challenged by Taft.

Mr. Green's assertion to the committee that since May, 1942, living costs have risen 7 per cent and food prices over 16 per cent without adjustment in wages was challenged immediately by Senator Taft (R.-Ohio).

The average weekly wage increase since last June 30 to March 15 was 15 per cent, Senator Taft declared, adding:

"So you can't assume that wages were frozen as of May, 1942."

The labor leader heatedly told Senator Taft he would send the committee statistics to show that the A. F. of L. figures are correct.

"Labor insists and demands," continued Mr. Green, "that the prices of cost of living items be rolled back to bring wages and prices into a just and proper relationship and to assure economic stability for the duration of the war."

He estimated that the $2,000,000,000 subsidy would reduce the over-all cost of living by 4 per cent. Final economies, he added, would far more than warrant the cost of the subsidy.

Asked by the committee for an explanation, Mr. Green said the Government would save at least $4,000,000,000 a year and consumers $6,000,000,000.

Philip Murray, president of the Congress of Industrial Organizations (C. I. O.) was to follow Mr. Green to the stand to urge the $2,000,000,000 subsidy.

NEW TRAINING BASE FOR MARINE WOMEN

Washington, June 11 (A. P.).—The Navy said today that all recruit training for Marine women will be transferred to Camp LeJeune, New River, N. C., after the last class of enlisted women to be trained elsewhere enters Hunter College, New York, on June 14.

Camp LeJeune, a large Marine Corps base, will offer more ample facilities than are available at present training stations, Major Ruth Cheney Streeter, director of Marine Women, explained.

The Navy said enlistments are being received for the first classes for enlisted women at Camp LeJeune, to begin July 12, July 19 and July 26. After that classes will start every two weeks, with 525 women in each class.

"By allowing the women to witness all phases of marine combat training," a Navy statement said, "the Marine Corps believes they will achieve a greater esprit de corps and better understanding of their own tasks."

One entire regimental area at New River has ben set aside for women recruits, where they will have all the usual facilities.

During the six-week indoctrination period at the camp the women will receive training very similar to that of the men. On completion of the indoctrination course selected groups will be assigned to advance schools at Newport to learn such things as motor transport or kitchen work. They will attend classes with the men being trained for similar jobs.

ANTI-STRIKE BILL PASSED BY HOUSE

JUN 12 1943

Compromise Measure Sent to Senate Where Quick Approval Is Seen.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—(AP) Sweeping anti-strike legislation was passed by the House today and sent to the Senate for expected quick approval.

The House vote was 219 to 129 on the compromise measure, written by a Senate-House committee after disagreement on earlier legislation. For passage were 101 Democrats and 118 Republicans; against, it, 77 Democrats, 48 Republicans and four minor party members.

Outlaws Some Strikes

The bill outlaws strikes in government-operated plants and prohibits them in other war industries without 30 days notice and a workers' vote. It also strengthens the War Labor board's power to settle labor disputes and the President's authority to take over plants and prohibits unions from contributing to political campaigns involving a Federal office.

Just before House passage, Chairman May (D-Ky) of the Military committee read a telegram from the American Farm Bureau federation endorsing the compromise bill and declaring that it did not come "a moment too soon."

JUN 12 1943

3024-4891

Left in the bill was a provision under which anyone agitating or directing a strike in a government-operated plant or financing it with union funds could be imprisoned for one year and fined $5,000. Under this section, Rep. May said, John L. Lewis could be jailed if he ordered a resumption of the coal strike June 20.

Marcantonio in Opposition

Opposing the measure, Rep. Marcantonio (Amn. Lab.-NY) said labor was being pilloried and lynched" and challenged anyone to dispute his contention that the legislation would outlaw closed shop and union maintenance orders.

The provision interpreted by its sponsors as prohibiting WLB from issuing closed shop orders was upheld by Rep. Smith (D-Va), its author. He said it upholds the right of any company to refuse to enter into a contract to which it does not agree.

About the only controversial provision stricken from the original House measure, passed a week ago, was a section requiring unions to file annual financial and membership statements. This came out in conference.

SOFT COAL DISPUTE IS AGGRAVATED BY MORE WALKOUTS

JUN 12 1943

1,600 Vote to Strike in Pennsylvania—Hit Fines, Labor Board Delay.

DISSENSION SPREADS

Ickes Qualifies His Plan to Levy Penalties on Miners.

WASHINGTON, June 11—(AP) New walkouts aggravated the soft coal dispute tonight even as Secretary Ickes qualified his plan to levy fines on soft coal miners who struck last week and the War Labor board prepared a decision in the dispute.

A United Mine Workers local at Windber, Pa., voted to strike because, said Russell Foltz, its secretary, the board "refused to sanction the $1.30 portal-to-portal pay and because of Secretary Ickes' proposal to deduct $5 from the men's pay."

1,600 Vote to Strike

Nearly 1,600 men at three pits voted and approximately 200 workers failed to show up on the first shift scheduled to report after the vote.

Earlier in the evening, Secretary Ickes announced that the miners who struck last week will have a chance to escape the payments through collective bargaining with government managers of the mines.

Secretary Ickes had announced the plan yesterday, drawing from John L. Lewis the declaration that it was "an unwarranted, illegal act which takes nearly $3,000,000 worth of food from the fingers and mouths of children of the mining camps."

Alabama Mines Close

The secretary's announcement tonight came after three Alabama mines, employing 615, shut down because of a walkout which was described as a protest against the $1-a-day strike levy and after union leaders in western Pennsylvania said many locals had scheduled the fine as a topic of discussion for week-end meetings. It came, too, as War Labor board sources indicated that a decision in the coal wage controversy will be handed down early next week, with the possibility that the portal-to-portal pay issue may eventually wind up in the courts.

Secretary Ickes issued this statement:

"The relationships between the operators of the coal mines and the mine workers are governed by a number of agreements, some general and some local.

"When the miners failed to return to work on May 1, the government took the position that the agreements were to remain in effect.

"Virtually all of the agreements provided that a strike or stoppage of work on the part of the mine workers should constitute a violation of the agreement and that there should be deducted from the wages of the mine worker either one or two dollars per day for each day the mine remained closed.

"The agreements in general further provided that if the fines are not assessed, the operators must pay to the mine workers twice the amount of the fines which should have been assessed pursuant to the agreement.

Reciprocal Provisions

"These reciprocal provisions make it clear that the purpose in mind was to assure, in the interest of both the operators and the labor union, that the contracts would be respected.

"When I said at my press conference last Thursday that the fines were to be assessed in accordance with the contracts, upon those who had absented themselves from work in violation of their contract prior to their return on June 7, I was under the impression that not only the mine workers themselves but the public generally understood that the government was operating on the basis that the old contracts were still in effect. I am not in favor of taking summary action in disregard of existing contracts.

"There is a provision in the contracts relating to fines and providing for machinery for adjusting disputes. In the circumstances the orderly way for considering differences and settling any dispute concerning the collection and remission of fines for past absences is by means of the machinery which is set forth in the contracts.

"Accordingly, instructions are being issued to the effect that if there is any dispute as to the assessment, collection or remission of fines, it shall be handled between the persons immediately in charge of the operation of the mines and the appropriate committee of the union."

Contract Covers Fines

The contract provision respecting fines, an aide to Secretary Ickes said, is in this language:

"All fines x x x shall be automatically collected x x x. In no case shall any fine be refunded except by mutual agreement of the accredited representatives of the operators and the miners."

The mine managers appointed by Secretary Ickes when he took over the pits for the government May 1 were men who previously had operated the mines for the private owners, and these men will handle the bargaining with union committees.

Secretary Ickes' office said there will be no fines against any anthracite miners because the hard coal miners' contracts carried no such provision.

Favor Court Action

Some elements in the United Mine Workers were represented as believing that the union should turn to a law suit if it considers the WLB's decision unjust. There was a possibility, too, that the board would refer the question to litigation.

Prospects are that the board will:

1. Drastically modify the $1.30 a day for portal-to-portal pay agreed to by John L. Lewis, head of the U.M.W., and Charles O'Neill of the central Pennsylvania coal operators, or

2. Decide not to rule on the merits of the issue on the grounds that if the miners have any case it is a lawsuit for the courts to decide under the Fair Labor Standards act.

If the board takes the first course, any sum awarded, or the basis on which it is calculated, may be applied to the whole industry as well as to central Pennsylvania.

5 New Yorkers Honored For South Pacific Flights

Participated in 25 Operational Missions in War Zones

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP).—Air medal awards to five New York members of the Army Air Forces for meritorious achievement while participating in twenty-five operational flights in the Southwest Pacific area were announced today by the War Department.

The operations included dropping supplies to advanced outposts, transporting troops and equipment to forward areas and evacuating wounded personnel. Flights were in transport planes flying low over mountainous terrain in adverse weather. Landings often were in improvised airfields near enemy positions.

The New Yorkers honored were:

William D. Wells, captain, North Main Street, Ovid.

Michael L. Reitman, second lieutenant, 360 New Jersey Avenue, Brooklyn.

Richard H. Hastings, flight officer, 220 Pihpant Street, Rochester.

Arthur Weitz, staff sergeant, 110 Shore Boulevard, Brooklyn.

Jay W. Heckman, sergeant, 61 Claremont Avenue, Buffalo.

Senate Completes Action On Ship Incentive Bill

Owners of Requisitioned Craft Aided by Legislation

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP).—The Senate completed Congressional action today on a bill broadening the terms of existing law permitting non-subsidized shipping operators to deposit construction reserve funds in the Treasury as an incentive to new construction.

Under existing law such operators are permitted to deposit funds accruing from sales of vessels, indemnities from losses and profits from operations, without incurring penalty taxes applicable to undistributed profits, if the funds deposited are obligated for new construction within two years.

The bill sent to the White House today would extend that authority to prospective owners of vessels under construction which are requisitioned before completion, and to part owners of jointly owned vessels who wish to deposit their pro rata share of the proceeds from sales, losses or profits.

$6,273,629,000 Lend-Lease Bill Gets Senate O. K.

JUN 12 1943

Washington, June 11 (AP)—The Senate completed Congressional action today on legislation appropriating $6,273,629,000 for lend-lease operations in the next fiscal year, with the stipulation that none of the funds be spent for subsidies on agricultural products grown in this country.

The bill, which now goes to the White House, would finance the mutual-aid program by which this country has undertaken to supply its Allies with munitions, ships food and other war materials.

Of the proposed outlay, $4,452,623,000 would go for the purchase of food with $1,552,659,000 allocated for shipping and supplies.

Zanuck, Movie Executive, Back In Civilian Life

Washington, June 11 (AP)—Col. Darryl F. Zanuck, the movie executive, has returned to civilian life.

Zanuck asked last winter to leave the army, and the War Department said today, in response to an inquiry, that his request was granted May 31. He is subject to recall to active duty at any time.

Zanuck was commissioned a reserve lieutenant colonel in January, 1941, on formation of an advisory council to the Signal Corps. He was called to active duty after Pearl Harbor and supervised the making of documentary films in Tunisia and over Kiska Island in the Aleutians.

Differ on Waves Going Abroad

Senate Naval Committee Disagrees on House Bill Allowing Overseas Duty.

Washington, June 11 (A. P.).—A sharp difference of opinion within the Senate Naval Committee was found today over the bill permitting Waves to go overseas which sailed so smoothly through the House. Some of the opposition at least was reported to stem from objections of old-line naval officers to the general idea of a women's auxiliary.

A more pointed criticism was that the bill would differentiate between women already in the service and future volunteers. All present members were enlisted or commissioned under a law that prevents their assignment outside the United States. The new bill provides that so far as existing personnel is concerned, only the Wave who signs a waiver could be shipped abroad.

The bill, introduced by Representative Margaret Chase Smith (R.-Me.), would lift the highest permissible woman's rating from lieutenant-commander to captain. Opponents were said to be ready to go a couple of grades better and vote for woman admirals, on the theory the Navy would storm forth with objections that would kill the legislation.

One member of the naval committee, Senator Brewster (R.-Me.), said he saw no reason why Waves should not be sent abroad now that suitable positions are open in shore jobs around the world. South Carolina's Senator Smith said he reckoned it would be all right to send Waves abroad as long as we are sending Waacs.

Meanwhile published hearings on the $24,800,000,000 naval appropriation bill disclosed that the Navy is experiencing some difficulty in recruiting Waves and Spars (Coast Guard Auxiliary). Rear Admiral L. E. Denfield, assistant chief of naval personnel, said "we are not getting them as fast as we had hoped."

FIRST LADY WOULD TRUST PRESS MORE

JUN 12 1943

Norwalk, Conn., June 11 (A. P.).—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, while declaring that the nature of the United Nations Food Conference at Hot Springs, Va., made secrecy necessary, says she believes the meeting was "stupidly handled" in regard to the manner in which it was presented to the press.

At the close of an address she gave here last night, a member of the audience asked Mrs. Roosevelt:

"How can we continue to have faith in the country when we were refused information on the food conference?"

She replied:

"What I am about to say will displease some newspapers. The good that can be done through a conference is always done when all facts are obtained. The food conference in question was held to get facts and to make recommendations for future meetings.

"The first reaction of people at such a conference might be bad, and reporters, asking questions might get an entirely different slant on the subject. Later, this man who might have given his reaction to the press might find that he was wrong. It is hard to correct this first impression after it has hit the public press. The trouble in the food conference was in the way it was presented to the press. I think it was stupidly handled. I believe that we should trust the press much more than the trust that was shown at this conference."

JUN 12 1943

Reporters were excluded from the sessions of the food conference and, at the outset, were denied entrance to the Hot Springs Hotel and were warned not to question conference delegates.

While Mrs. Roosevelt was speaking, OPA investigators checked parking areas in the neighborhood, looking for violators of the pleasure driving ban, but reported that they found none.

TWO ARE ACCUSED OF NAVY FRAUDS

JUN 12 1943

Providence, R. I., June 11 (A. P.).—Charles J. Hanson, 51 years old, of 3171 Rochambeau avenue, New York city, former purchasing agent at the Navy's Advanced Base Depot at Davisville, and George W. Sorensen, secretary-treasurer of Murray & Sorensen, Inc., New York city, were arraigned in the Federal court here today on an indictment charging them with conspiring to defraud the Government in the sale and supply of double wash sink faucets required by the Navy.

Each defendant pleaded not guilty and gave $2,000 cash bail for his release. Judge John P. Hartigan allowed fifteen days for withdrawal of the not guilty pleas and filing of special pleas.

Sorensen, in behalf of Murray & Sorensen, Inc., the indictment sets forth, submitted bids for double wash sink faucets to Hanson, who was employed as purchasing agent for the contractors, Merritt-Chapman & Scott-George A. Fuller Company, and charges that Hanson induced the contractors and the Navy Department, in reliance on his recommendation to accept excessive and exorbitant bids and award purchase contracts to the bidder.

After acceptance of the bids Sorensen paid Hanson a percentage of the total purchase price, the indictment alleges.

NAVY FLIER KILLED

QUONSET POINT, R. I., June 11 —(AP) Ensign Jesse Wilson Davis, U.S.N.R., 25, of Troy, N. C., must be presumed to have been killed in the line of duty when his Navy plane crashed into the ocean off Block Island on June 7, officials of the Naval Air station announced today.

Efforts to recover his body have been futile.

Wants Disabled Veterans Aided

TROY, N. Y., June 11 (AP).—Training of disabled veterans of the war for a place in civilian life was urged today by the State Department of Disabled American Veterans in annual convention. Delegates voted to ask the Federal government to establish instruction centers at Army and Navy hospitals and also provide orthopedic equipment for men who suffer amputations. Extension courses in high schools studies were recommended for young veterans at Base Hospital 81 in Brooklyn.

Niagara Falls Bids For Peace Conference

Niagara Falls, N. Y., June 11 (A. P.).—Citizens of Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Niagara Falls, Ont., who want the post-war peace conference held in the twin cities have decided to do something about it.

At a meeting last night of civic leaders from the two cities, a committee was appointed to study the problem of arousing sentiment in favor of holding the conference here.

Third Son Of Late Kermit Roosevelt Enlists

Glen Cove, N. Y., June 11 (AP)—Dirck Roosevelt, third son of Major Kermit Roosevelt, who died recently in Alaska while on active duty, has volunteered for military service and will report for his physical examination next Monday.

The 18-year-old grandson of President Theodore Roosevelt was graduated from the Brooks School in Norht Andover, Mass., last Thursday. He will be one of a contingent of sixty-nine sent to the Grand Central Palace induction center in New York by Draft Board 711.

If accepted, young Roosevelt, who has two older brothers already in service, will be the fourteenth member of the late President's family in the armed forces.

Lynchburg Men Plan Air Lines After War

Richmond, June 11 (AP)—Two Lynchburg businessmen have taken preliminary steps toward organizing the "Virginia Central Airlines Inc.," projected to provide widespread air service out of Lynchburg when the war ends, the division of aeronautics of the State Corporation Commission disclosed today.

Lieut. Col. Allan C. Perkinson director of the division, said an application had been received from Abe B. Cohen and Wilbert G. Burnette, traffic manager of the Lynchburg Chamber of Commerce, to organize the air line. A corporation would be chartered under the proposed setup with a maximum capitalization of $1,000,000.

Son Reported Missing In Action

Lawrenceville, Va., June 11 (AP). Mrs. Marshall R. Peterson, of Lawrenceville, said today she had been notified by the War Department that her son, First Lieutenant Marshall R. Peterson, Jr., bomber pilot and captain of the Randolph-Bacon football squad of 1940, has been missing in action in the European area since May 29.

JUN 12 1943

Warns Of Possibility Of Axis Attack On U. S.

Fort Monroe, Va., June 11 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Rollin L. Tilton today commended soldiers of his command for maintaining during the past eighteen months, under "arduous and tedious" conditions, a continuous state of readiness, but cautioned them that Allied successes in Africa and in the air have not lessened the possibility of an Axis attack on the United States.

Addressing commanding officers in the Chesapeake Bay sector, the general declared that sector forces were discharging a difficult task, manning observation and command posts twenty-four hours and maintaining an alert status for immediate action.

"Any attempt the Axis makes to attack this sector," he continued, "must be met promptly with vigor and determination. Our warning system must be efficient and all observers and patrols capable and alert. We must be prepared to attack and destroy the enemy wherever he appears. Our weapons must be ready for action and our personnel competent and efficient."

VICTIM LAUDS SUB'S SKIPPER

American Gun-Crew Captain Tells Of Nazi Who "Plays This War Game Fair"

Recalls Raider's Solicitude For Survivors After Indian Ocean Torpedoing

JUN 12 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Key West, Fla., June 11—A submarine commanded by a German who has built a reputation along the African coast for fair play sank a medium-sized American merchantman in the Indian Ocean early in March.

One man lost his life in the torpedoing, but the solicitious Nazi made sure that the sixty-six others were in lifeboats and out of range before the sub's cannon finally sent the ship to the bottom.

Ensign Edwin B. Abbott, of Birmingham, Ala., commander of the merchantman's gun crew, told of the attack upon his arrival here from the coast of Africa where the lifeboats landed.

"Playing The Game Fair"

"This German captain is known along the African coast as one Hun who is playing this game of war fair," Abbott related, telling of seamen from other ships who had received similar treatment.

Two torpedoes struck the vessel at night. Capt. R. A. Guy, of Newport News, Va., ordered all hands to the boats. While the four lifeboats were maneuvering through the debris to pick up men who had jumped overboard, Abbott said, the submarine surfaced.

The U-boat pulled alongside the lifeboat in which Abbott was seated.

U-Boat Skipper Apologizes

"In perfect English, with a distinct British accent and no trace of German speech, he told us he was sorry he had to sink our ship," the ensign said.

"He wanted to know if there were any casualties. He wanted to know if we needed any medical supplies or provisions. We needed none. He expressed regret that he could not take us aboard his raider. 'I have a full load,' he said."

The boats sailed 150 miles to their destination in three days.

Two Sub Chasers Given To Brazil By U. S. Navy

Miami, Fla., June 11 (AP) — The United States Navy put a practical touch to the celebration of Brazil's Navy Day here today by turning ober two sub chasers to bolster the growing sea power of the South American republic.

Rear Admiral W. R. Munroe, commandant of the Seventh Naval District, read the orders transferring the 173-foot fighters, and Vice-Admiral A. R. de Vasconcellos, of the Brazilian Navy, accepted them on behalf of his country.

Pursuit Plane Pilot Killed in Crash

Venice, Fla., June 11 (A. P.).—Second Lieut. John W. Ballas was killed when his pursuit plane crashed five miles south of here late on Wednesday, Capt. J. B. Davis, Venice air base public relations officer, reported today. It was the first fatal accident involving a plane based here. Lieut. Ballas's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Ballas, lives at Duquesne, Pa.

Detroit, June 11 (A. P.).—Second Lieut. Arthur R. McFadden, 22 years old, assigned to Romulus Army airfield, was injured seriously today in the crash of a pursuit plane he was piloting. He is the son of Mrs. Mable R. McFadden, 90-24 215th street, Queens Village, N. Y.

Head Calls Employment Main Post-War Problem

ST. LOUIS, June 11 (AP).—Declaring that the question of employment will be the root of all domestic post-war problems, Walter W. Head, of St. Louis, president of General American Life Insurance Co., said today the law of supply and demand must be suspended for a time after the war.

"The beneficial effects of full employment can be nullified and rendered meaningless if prices are permitted to rise substantially during the crucial post-war years," he asserted in an address before the Missouri Bankers' Association convention.

"Rationing and price fixing must be continued until the supply of consumer goods attains a volume which will permit the development of a free market price as low as or lower than the ceiling price."

The problem of employment must be met not only by industry, which must recognize its legal and moral liability to re-engage service men, Mr. Head said, but also by an extensive public-works program and a relaxation of stringent jurisdictional and membership policies of organized labor.

"Prior union affiliation as a requirement of employment should, if necessary, be waived, jurisdictional strikes be eliminated and the way made clear for every man to exercise his constitutional right to earn a living," he declared.

Mr. Head estimated 30,000,000 persons must be provided with civilian occupation after the war.

Wants Aleutians Renamed

PITTSBURGH, June 11 (AP).—John M. Phillips, Pittsburgh naturalist known as Pennsylvania's "Father of Conservation," suggests that the Aleutian Islands be named the "General Billy Islands," in honor of the late Major General William B. Mitchell, Mr. Phillips, who often hunted with General Mitchell at near-by Ligonier, said today that he proposed the renaming of the Aleutians as a tribute to General Mitchell's predictions years ago that control of Alaska was vital to control of the Pacific.

Shore Land Army To Grow

Salisbury, Md., June 11 (AP)—The immigrant land army on the Eastern Shore, comprised principally of Bahamans, is expected to number approximately 2,000 persons by mid-summer.

2 Army Air Victims Identified

CHICAGO, June 11 (AP).—Identification of the last two of twelve Army air men who perished May 20 when a B-24 Liberator bomber crashed into a huge illuminating gas storage tank was entered in the inquest records today. They were Captain John Wallace, of Brooklyn, and Second Lieutenant A. L. Gentry, of Mc Camey, Tex., of the Fort Worth, Tex., Army Air Base, from which the plane had flown on a routine flight. The bomber was approaching Chicago Municipal Airport through rain and fog for a landing when it hit the tank some eighty feet from the top.

SWORD GOES TO WAR AGAIN

Chicago, June 11 (A. P.).—A sword that Charles Froehlich's grandfather carried in the civil war is on its way, slightly altered, to a soldier in North Africa.

Mr. Froehlich's brother-in-law, John W. Dantzler, had asked for a trench knife, but Mr. Froehlich was unable to buy one.

So, with his father's permission, Mr. Froehlich ground the old sword down to the ten-inch size requested by Mr. Dantzler and sent it to him.

Goldenrod Rubber A Reality, Government Scientists Say

Engineers At New Orleans Laboratory Now Adapting Process To Commercial Production

[By the Associated Press]

New Orleans, June 11—Officials at the Southern regional research laboratory of the United States Department of Agriculture said here today that their scientists have already successfully achieved solvent extraction of rubber from the goldenrod plant.

Engineers at the local laboratory designed their own equipment for extracting and processing the goldenrod juices and have been assigned the job of adapting the process to commercial production under the rubber emergency program.

JUN 12 1943

30.24-4893

From Pounds To Tons

Although last year only "pounds of goldenrod rubber" were turned out there, technicians expect by September "to be able to handle as much as ten tons of the rubber" from the leaves of 650 acres of goldenrod now under cultivation by the United States Forest Service near Waynesboro, Ga. The cultivated strains of goldenrod have a much higher rubber content than the wild plant.

The laboratory describes its product as having "flexible properties and high tensile qualities acceptable for many purposes," but adds that "we didn't receive enough goldenrod leaves from Georgia last year to have the rubber converted into a sample tire."

Beyond Test-Tube Stage

Already the project has gone beyond the test-tube stage.

A small plant, the intermediate step between laboratory work and commercial production, has been constructed. Officials here say it is the only plant of its kind in the country.

In the plant the rubber is derived from the goldenrod by use of chemical solvents; an intricately designed still recovers the solvents for further use. In the production of ordinary rubber, the latex is poured into a pan and coagulated with an acid.

Can Blend With Synthetic

Chemists here point out that it will take time for the production of cultivated goldenrod rubber to reach large-scale production. In the meantime, it can be combined with synthetic rubber to relieve the national shortage.

The Germans are understood to be blending thirty per cent. natural rubber with seventy per cent. synthetic and producing tires tough enough for military use.

Since the National Forest Service's Georgia goldenrod crop won't be harvested until September, research technicians here are given time to "smooth out kinks" discerned in their investigation last year.

CINCINNATI FUNNEL FOR PROPAGANDA

New 750,000-Watt Short-Wave Station Will Surpass Even Moscow's

[By the Associated Press]

Cincinnati, June 11—Cincinnati will become a major funnel through which American propaganda will be shot to the rest of the world with power sufficient "to knock any radio off the shelf anywhere," it was disclosed today with announcement that the Crosley Corporation's experimental short-wate Station WLWO would install transmitters with total power of 750,000 watts.

This power, greater even than that of the big Moscow radio, will be achieved through a battery of transmitters to be erected during the next few months, near here.

Crosley officials said the development would represent an expansion of WLWO's present activities of broadcasting exclusively material piped here from the overseas office of the Office of War Information in New York. News now is given at 15-minute intervals in all major languages.

Change In Policy

These officials said the move also represented a change in American propaganda policy, whereby a few powerful short-wave facilities will be constructed instead of depending on more numerous but weaker stations.

At least one of the new transmitters is expected to be in operation within a few weeks, officials said.

"When they're all in operation," they commented, "we'll be able to beam enough power anywhere to knock a radio set off the shelf in Italy, Germany or Japan. It'll be darned near powerful enough to knock them off when they're not turned on."

Tops Anything In World

They explained that the 750,000-watt original power did not mean only that much going out.

"It's like putting water under high pressure through a small nozzle," they said. "The stream is the more powerful."

While numerous Axis radios are more powerful than present American facilities, Crosley officials said the new battery would top anything in the world and enable American offerings to drown out Berlin, Rome, Tokyo, or any other source of enemy propaganda.

When WLWO was operating under an experimental license permit ting 500,000-watt power some months ago, it was reported that the broadcasts blanketed the Moscow station's offerings as close as fifty miles to the Russian capital.

Maharaja Will Give Wife Custody Of Child

Reno, Nev., June 11 (AP)—The Maharaja of Indore, ruler of a central Indian state with a population of 1,325,089, will give custody of his 9-year-old daughter to his wife when they obtain their Nevada divorce, spokesman for the maharaja said today.

The prince's wife is the former Mrs. Marguerite Lawler Branyen, of Los Angeles. The child, Princess Usha, is the maharaja's daughter by a former marriage.

The spokesman, Major Medou, military secretary to the prince, and E. Herbert Herlihy, Los Angeles attorney, said that the maharani had agreed to a property settlement and would not contest the divorce.

JUN 12 1943

Hoover Gives Up Seat On Plane To Air Pilot

Denver, June 11 (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover had to give up his seat in a United Airlines plane today to a transport pilot.

Hoover arrived at the Denver airport from Chicago, and was to have continued on to Salt Lake City. But the pilot took over his seat on the basis of war priorities.

The former President continued Westward by train.

General Bids Soldiers Shun Zoot Suit Riots

JUN 12 1943

Los Angeles Officials Hope Situation Is in Hand as Outbreaks Are Fewer

LOS ANGELES, June 11 (AP).—Major General Maxwell Murray, commanding the southern California sector of the Western Defense Command, promised today military punishment for all soldiers found guilty of riotous conduct.

General Murray issued his statement during a lull in the conflict that has raged nightly for a week between service men and zoot suited bands of juveniles, and as civil authorities expressed the hope that the situation was in hand.

"The charges of conspiracy to riot and inciting to riot are among the most serious of military accusation," said the general in a statement issued through the public-relations office of the Southern California Defense Command. "The necessary steps are being taken by me to control military personnel."

General Murray said that in many cases members of the armed forces participating in the riots "were aided and encouraged by thoughtless civilians."

"I am convinced," he said, "that the City of Los Angeles will take all necessary steps to curb lawlessness on the part of any group or groups," adding, "the Army . . . seriously objects to any group taking the law into its own hands."

State Inquiry Pressed

Meantime, State Attorney General Robert Kenny continued his investigations into the strife, and the grand jury prepared to open an inquiry as reinforced squads of police and sheriff's deputies redoubled their vigilance in Los Angeles and its outlying districts.

The disturbances which began nearly a week ago spread last night to near-by Pasadena, where civilians and soldiers chased two zoot suiters through the portals of the police station after several hundred persons had assembled on a downtown corner. The crowd was dispersed without further incident, police said.

In Los Angeles, two youths in zoot suits fled through a market near the Union Station, upsetting stalls and scattering vegetables. Close behind them were two sailors, who in turn were pursued by two Navy shore patrolmen. The sailors caught one youth and were divesting him of his trousers, police reported, when the shore patrolmen caught up.

District Attorney Fred N. Howser, in disclosing that he is asking a grand jury investigation or recent clashes, declared "a state of near anarchy" has existed here.

R. A. Sanford, state narcotics officer, and Captain F. J. Kenny, of the city police narcotics squad, said they feared marijuana may figure in the belligerency of youthful street gangs. They declared they had found the drug on many of the youths arrested.

Army, Navy To Help Halt Zooters Riots

Los Angeles, June 11 (AP)—Commanding officers of the army and navy in this section in separate statements today pledged their efforts to stamp out rioting in Los Angeles and its environs in which men of the armed services have participated in the past week.

The outbreaks have been between servicemen and some civilians on one side and groups of zoot-suited juveniles on the other.

Rear Admiral D. W. Bagley, commandant of the Eleventh Naval District, in a telegram to Consul General Alfredo Elias Calles said "I already have acted to cope with the deplorable situation and will continue to act within my prerogatives until matters are adjusted to our mutual satisfaction."

Opium From Persia Seized on Coast

San Francisco, June 11 (A. P.). State narcotic agents last night seized a quantity of opium which they valued at $40,000 to $50,000, several firearms, cameras and fishing equipment in a residence near the Hunters Point Navy Yard prohibited zone. A Chinese druggist was arrested.

The opium, bearing Persian markings, was the first of its type seen in this area in twenty years, said Chief Joseph O'Farrel of the State Narcotic Bureau.

"This opium had to come back on a merchant ship from the war zone," he said.

Ariz., relocation center told the Dies congressional subcommittee.

The testimony was included in a transcript of a secret session held by the committee here May 26 at which Harold H. Townsend, former chief supply and transportation officer at the Poston Camp, was the witness.

Mr. Townsend testified that he had been told at least a score of times by occupants of the camp that "they would have our country before long." "In other words," he added, "that camp is 100 per cent of the idea that Japan will have the United States in a few months. . . . They are very frank about it.

"There are over a thousand Japanese soldiers and Japanese officers in that camp," Mr. Townsend declared. "If you ask them, 'Were you fellows organizing on the West Coast?' they will say, 'Yes, we had our program all set up.' I have asked them, 'What were you going to do?' and the answer was, 'As soon as our soldiers came over, we were going to help them.'"

Had Stolen Food.

The Japanese, he testified, are "drilling over there almost daily in military tactics, right under our noses in that camp."

Through the operation of a "thieving ring" in the camp, Mr. Townsend said, approximately $500 worth of supplies was stolen daily, either from trucks transporting it from the rail head at Parker, Ariz., and the camp, or from the camp warehouse. This was effected, he said, through an exchange of passes by the Japanese occupants.

'The information that was furnished me by certain friendly groups was that they had placed different types of emergency food in secret cellars under the mess halls for the invasion armies and parachute troops," the witness said.

Describing a riot at the camp last November 18, Mr. Townsend said that amid defiant catcalls the Japanese flag was hoisted on a pole in front of the jail and that the American flag was absent from many places. The inmates later raised another Japanese flag, which flew there for two weeks, he declared.

"Louspeakers, stolen from the warehouse, had been installed and the Japanese national anthem was heard through the camp, with wild cheers and loud demonstrations toward setting fire to the whole camp," he continued.

He said the riot continued because the War Relocation Authority, the War Department, the Department of Justice and the Indian Service "would not assume responsibility."

The riot had grown to such proportions that they were threatening to eliminate the Caucasian force, he testified.

Mr. Townsend explained that the military police were not allowed to be in uniform on the camp side of the highway, so soldiers in civilian clothes manned the hospital ambulance with mounted machine guns at the rear of the Caucasian sleeping quarters.

He declared: "the most loyal men were the agitators and leaders of the riot; there are no loyal Japanese when there is an emergency on."

Says Jap Evacuees Hid Food For Expected Enemy Invaders

Witness Tells Dies Sub-committee That Aliens in Arizona Camp Were Organized.

JUN 12 1943

Los Angeles, June 11 (A. P.).—Japanese evacuees looked for a speedy defeat of the United States and cached stolen food in the desert for expected paratroopers and other invasion forces, a former official of the Poston,

Standard Oil Calls Contract With Navy One Of Patriotism

JUN 12 1943

California Company, Answering Langer's Charge, Says It Is Operating Elk Hills Field For Navy

[By the Associated Press]

San Francisco, June 11—The charge of Senator Langer (R., N. D.) that the Secretary of the Navy made a "hush-hush" contract with Standard Oil of California for oil lands in the Elk Hills field of California, brought a statement from the company today that it "patriotically entered into" the contract.

"We feel sure it will be so proved in any impartial Government study of the issue," the formal statement said.

Two Departments "Horrified"

Langer told the Senate yesterday that the contract had been signed without the knowledge of the Interior or Justice departments and that they were "horrified" when they learned of it.

The statement said "the navy had been interested for a long time in working out some method for acquiring Standard's interests within the reserve, and Congress in 1938 passed an act specifically authorizing and directing the Secretary of the Navy with the approval of the President to take steps to gain control over production from the Elk Hills field.

To Operate Field For Navy

"In conformity with this legislation the navy and this company entered into the present contract whereby the navy acquires all of Standard's property, and whereby Standard operates the field as a unit for the navy under the navy's control, with the oil produced to be divided in proportion to their respective interests. Under the contract Standard has been drilling new wells in order to increase production in the event of the navy's need for such increased production."

The Standard Oil statement said that "on December 11, 1942, the navy announced this agreement and in a press release stated that, at the direction of the President, a plan had been worked out whereby the navy would take over control of the oil-producing area in question."

POPE SAID TO PLAN ADDRESS SUNDAY

The Berlin radio in a Vatican City dispatch reported today that Pope Pius XII would address 20,000 Italian workers on Sunday at the largest reception to be given by the Pontiff since the war began.

"Vatican circles believe that his speech may also be of some political importance," the Berlin radio said.

The broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press, pointed out that the workers had been invited to the Vatican from all over Italy. Fifteen thousand, it said, will be from Rome while 5,000 will travel from various parts of the kingdom by special trains arranged by the Italian Government.

AXIS SIDESTEPS ADMITTING LOSS

JUN 12 1943

Hours after the fall of Pantelleria today Axis authorities had not come right out and admitted the loss, but the Berlin radio broadcast a Rome dispatch which spoke of the island's stand in the past tense.

The broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press, referred to difficulties of defending the island and said its garrison "achieved miracles of gallantry and devotion to duty."

A few minutes after this Berlin transmission ended, the Rome radio came on the air with a news bulletin saying "Pantelleria is being hammered almost without interruption by enemy air forces."

A Berlin transocean broadcast said that German military circles declined to comment on "British reports alleging capitulation of Pantelleria."

Report by Germans.

The Germans asserted that they sent strong bomber formations back again last night in an assault on the Molotov armaments works in Gorki. The claim was carried in a Transoceah dispatch broadcast by the Berlin radio and recorded by the Associated Press.

The German radio also said that several hundred bombers and fighter planes dropped more than 500 tons of explosives and more than 100,000 fire bombs on a synthetic rubber plant in a raid Wednesday night on Yaroslavl, 150 miles northeast of Moscow. The reported raid came after a series of aerial assaults on armament plants in Gorki, 250 miles east of Moscow.

In the raid on Gorki, bombs were reported dropped into already severely damaged areas of the Molotov tank plant and reconnaissance photographs were said to have shown fires still burning in the synthetic rubber factory at Yaroslavl, much of which was reported destroyed.

What's Behind The War News

By GLENN BABB

President Roosevelt's suggestion that Italy would do well to rid herself of Mussolini and get out of the war is a striking example of the way the United Nations are combining the air war and the war of nerves. Seldom has an invitation been so emphatically underscored by events. Against the background of Pantelleria's 19-day ordeal by bomb and shell and the inevitable surrender, it is admirably calculated to foster the longing for peace in many Italian hearts.

The President's indirect appeal seems likely to be the most effective yet offered by any Allied leader—assuming, of course, that it will reach a considerable section of the Italian people. Prime Minister Churchill, who has been telling the Italians for nearly three years that this was Mussolini's war and not theirs, went nearly as far in his Washington press conference three weeks ago. But his was a rather grim pronouncement, calling on the people of Italy to disown their Nazi and Fascist leaders and throw themselves on the justice of those they have so grievously offended.

But they doubtless want something more charitable than justice, and the President offered this when he said it is the hope and intention of the United Nations that Italy be restored to nationhood and take her place as a respected member of the European family of nations.

Pantelleria is the finest argument yet afforded those who believe that bombardment alone, chiefly from the air but supported where feasible by sea powers, may produce the capitulation of a military power. It is something new in warfare, the surrender of a fortress to bombing and shelling alone. The fact that landing units were already in their barges offshore when the white flag was raised does not alter this cardinal fact. Here in a small test tube has been worked out a formula that may be applied to far larger situations. It can not fail to evoke soul-chilling echoes in the minds of the Italian people, the people of Hitler's other satellites and of Germany as well.

It would be easy, however, to overemphasize the strength of these psychological factors. Events may show that the Pantelleria experiment is not conclusive. The conquests of Sicily and Sardinia, to which nearly all signs point as the next objectives of Gen. Eisenhower's mighty combined forces, may prove quite different military problems.

There will be no such concentration of targets within a compass which a few hundred planes can blanket. It will be difficult there to reproduce the 19-day agony of the little island from which there was no escape and which was aggravated by the failure of water. Sicily and Sardinia will be undertakings requiring much greater forces, far more complex planning and preparation. It may be weeks before the siege lines around Sicily are tightened, although already they are being laid, with communications from the mainland under devastating air bombardment and the sea routes subject to the British fleet's blockade.

When it comes to estimating the effect of this pressure of Allied power on Italian morale, it must be remembered that Italy's situation is quite different from that of Britain under the terrible blitz of the late summer of 1940. Hope is a mighty factor. Britain had at least three powerful reasons to hope. One was the indomitable leadership of Winston Churchill. Italy has Benito Mussolini. Britain had the magnificent performance of the R. A. F.'s fighter command. Italy has found her air force, even when supported by the once invincible Luftwaffe, a broken shield. Finally, Mr. Churchill had turned the eyes of his people toward the time when "the new world with all its power and might steps forth to the liberation and rescue of the old." For Italy there is no new world to buoy her hopes, only the terror-born, terror-wracked Hitlerian "new order," whose doom is already signalled by events.

This is not to predict that Italy will fall out of the war before her mainland shores feel the tread of Allied boots. But the moral effect as the colossus of Allied air and sea power moves across the Mediterranean in implacable, irresistible strides — Pantelleria, Sicily, Sardinia—must be tremendous. It may produce world-shaking results.

JUN 12 1943

LONDON AERIAL XXX THEM

commenting on the large number of enemy fighters over wilhelmshaven, lieut. dale brant of molina, ill., bombardier of the fortress "whitebel the second" said "the jerries were so thick i could almost reach out and touch them.
lieut. henderson cagle of el dorado, ark., pilot of "hitler's headache" said the plane was hit twice by bullets each time puncturing the name "hitler" painted on the nx craft. none of the crew was hurt.

JUN 12 1943

3024-4895

~~NEW~~ s.t. george s. murray of south boston, top turret gunner of the fortress "rootin tootin" commented that "the jerry pilots really put on a good aerial circus. they were doing all the stuff in the book. it was almost as good as a cleveland air show."

JUN 12 1943

lieut. robert h. gamble of new york city, bombardier of the "thunder mug" said "the germans are slipping pretty damn bad when they can't send up any more fighter than they did for the number of forts attacking. i'd say it was dull as hell."

SGT. KENNETH L. HULS, OF PERKINS, OKLA., BALL TURRET GUNNER ON THE SHIP "ARGONAUT THIRD" SAID HE BAGGED TWO ENEMY FIGHTERS.

SGT. C.E. MCDERMOTT OF RIDGEWOOD, N.J., TAIL GUNNER OF THE FORTRESS PILOTED BY CAPT. M.O. FULTON OF SUSANVILLE, CALIF., SAID "I SAW A SHIP COME IN FROM THE REAR STRAIGHT TOWARD THE TAIL. I OPENED FIRE AT 500 YARDS AND SAW THE ENGINE CATCH ON FIRE AND A PIECE OF WING FLY OFF." THE ENEMY PILOT BAILED OUT.

JUN 12 1943

SGT. BYRON O. STEELE OF CAMERON, W.VA., TOP TURRET GUNNER OF ANOTHER FORTRESS, SAID:

"A COUPLE OF FOCKE-WULFS CAME AT ME AND I SAW TRACERS GO INTO ONE. HE WENT DOWN IN SMOKE. I'M PRETTY SURE I GOT HIM. IT WAS MY FIRST RAID. I DAMN NEAR FROZE BUT I LIKED IT AND I'M ITCHING TO GET OUT THERE AGAIN."

LIEUT. EDWARD A. PURDY OF DENVER, COL., PILOT OF THE "SEVEN-ELEVEN" SAID: "THOSE JUNKERS BABIES CHASED US OUT TO SEA BUT THEY NEVER CAME INTO OUR FORMATION. THEY WEREN'T EAGER LIKE THE FIGHTERS WE'VE BEEN USED TO."

JR1205PEW

JUN 12 1943

LONDON, JUNE 11-(AP)-SERGEANT RICHARD M. CAVANAUGH, OF KANSAS CITY, MO., FELT A DRAFT WHILE HIS FLYING FORTRESS WAS MAKING A BOMBING RUN OVER EMDEN AND THOUGHT THE DOOR OF HIS BALL TURRET MUST HAVE BLOWN OPEN.

HE GROPED FOR THE CATCH TO TURN THE TURRET SO THE PROPELLER WASH WOULD BLOW THE DOOR SHUT, MEANWHILE KEEPING HIS EYES ON THE GUNSIGHTS.

BUT THERE WASN'T ANY CATCH --- AND HE TURNED HIS HEAD TO FIND THE DOOR BLOWN AWAY AND ONLY HIS SAFETY BELT AND THE DOOR HINGE WHICH DUG INTO HIS SHOULDERS KEEPING HIM FROM GERMAN SOIL SEVERAL MILES BELOW.

A HURRIED CALL OVER THE INTERCOMMUNICATION SYSTEM TO CAPT. GALE W.HOUSE, OF SIOUX FALLS, N.D., BROUGHT RADIO OPERATOR SERGEANT RUSSEL MATHESON OF KLAMATH FALLS, ORE., SCRAMBLING BACK TO HELP CAVANAUGH CLIMB BACK INTO THE PLANE AND RESTORE THE OXYGEN LINE WHICH HAD BROKEN.

GH750AEW

BY ERNEST AGNEW

JUN 12 1943

LONDON-(CORRESPONDENCE OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)--COL. GEN. JURGEN VON ARNIM, VANQUISHED COMMANDER OF THE AXIS FORCES IN TUNISIA, IS SPENDING HIS CAPTIVITY IN THE GREAT MANSION OF ONE OF ENGLAND'S MOST BEAUTIFUL ESTATES.

THE SOLE HINT THAT IT IS A PRISON IS A SMALL NOTICE AFFIXED TO THE WROUGHT IRON GATES: "WAR OFFICE PROPERTY. TRESPASSERS WILL BE TAKEN INTO CUSTODY."

JUN 12 1943

GENERAL RITTER VON THOMA, WHO WAS CAPTURED BY THE BRITISH EIGHTH ARMY IN LIBYA LAST YEAR, WAS THE FIRST PRISONER TO BE DETAINED IN THE MANSION.

TENANTS STILL LIVE ON THE ESTATE, TENDING THEIR FARMS AND FIELDS. BUT PRISONERS WEED THE FAMOUS FLOWER GARDENS ADJOINING THE SUN TERRACE WHERE THE TWO GERMAN GENERALS MUSE OVER PAST CAMPAIGNS.

OUTWARDLY THERE IS NOTHING UNUSUAL ABOUT THE PLACE, FOR THE GATE IS UNLOCKED AND ONLY A DACHSHUND BARKS A WARNING FROM THE LODGEKEEPER'S DOOR.

A MILE UP THE WINDING, TREE-COVERED DRIVE, HOWEVER, IS A MENACING RING OF STEEL, BARBED WIRE AND SENTRIES. AND THERE ARE THICK-WALLED BRICK HUTS WITH HIGH GRILLED WINDOWS SCATTERED ABOUT THE GROUNDS.

VON ARNIM, WHO IS VALETED BY HIS OWN BATMAN, IS PAID $16 WEEKLY FROM HIS GENERAL'S SALARY OF $8,400 A YEAR. THE REST IS CREDITED TO HIS ACCOUNT UNTIL AFTER THE WAR.

JUN 12 1943

ACCORDING TO AN ATTENDANT HE HAS SWALLOWED HIS DISLIKE OF THE ENGLISH SUFFICIENTLY TO CHAT -- IN ENGLISH -- WITH THE HEAD GARDENER CONCERNING FLOWERS, FRUIT AND THE STATE OF THE CROPS.

MT1029AEW

LONDON, JUNE 11-(AP)-ANOTHER GERMAN THRUST PROBING RUSSIAN DEFENSES ON THE DONETS RIVER FRONT NEAR LISICHANSK HAS BEEN BEATEN BACK BY COMBINED RED ARMY ARTILLERY, INFANTRY AND BOMBERS, WHICH SUPPLEMENTED THE NAZI SETBACK BY SMASHING AN ENEMY TROOP TRAIN AND SUPPLY DEPOTS IN THE AREA, THE RUSSIANS SAID TODAY.

JUN 12 1943

THE SOVIET NOON COMMUNIQUE, AS RECORDED BY THE LONDON SOVIET RADIO MONITOR, SAID MANY FIRES BROKE OUT AND STRONG EXPLOSIONS WERE OBSERVED AFTER THE BOMBING OF THE GERMAN POSITIONS.

THE NOON BULLETIN CONTAINED NO REFERENCE TO ACTION WEST OF ROSTOV, WHERE THE MIDNIGHT COMMUNIQUE HAD REPORTED 300 GERMAN SLAIN IN A SUDDEN STRONG LUNGE EASTWARD--A MOVE THAT MIGHT HERALD ANOTHER GERMAN OFFENSIVE ATTEMPT, OR AT LEAST A DIVERSIONARY STAB.

THE NOON BULLETIN SAID THERE WERE NO IMPORTANT CHANGES ON THE SPRAWLING RUSSIAN-GERMAN FRONT DURING THE NIGHT.

RUSSIAN ARTILLERY BLEW UP A GERMAN AMMUNITION TRAIN IN A STATION IN THE SEVSK AREA, NORTHWEST OF KURSK, AND RECONNAISSANCE UNITS SMASHED INTO GERMAN BLOCKHOUSES ON THE SMOLENSK FRONT, THE RUSSIANS DECLARED.

Ps344AEW

JUN 12 1943

(ADVANCE) LONDON, SATURDAY, JUNE 12-(AP)- CAPT. CHARLES CROWLEY, 36, OF SOMERVILLE, MASS., HELPED SAVE A MAN AND WOMAN FROM DROWNING IN THE THAMES, U.S.ARMY HEADQUARTERS ANNOUNCED TODAY.

THE CAPTAIN, BOATING ON THE RIVER NEAR LONDON, HEARD SHOUTS AND

JUN 12 1943

30.24-4897

SAW THE TWO STRUGGLING IN AN OVERTURNED BOAT. HE PULLED THE WOMAN FROM THE RIVER BY HER HOOK HAIR; A POLICE LAUNCH RESCUED [illegible] HER COMPANION.

(END ADVANCE FOR USE AT 6:30 P.M. EWT TODAY FRIDAY JUNE 11)

WAHS 0125P APL WSW 1223P

U.S. Bomber Stat. in Brit. (Branham) xxx "gunner"

TODAY'S RAID--THE FIFTH AMERICAN ASSAULT ON WILHELMSHAVEN--WAS DESCRIBED BY RETURNING CREWS AS THE "EASIEST" THEY HAVE MADE ON A TARGET IN GERMANY. ENEMY FIGHTER OPPOSITION, THEY EXPLAINED, FAILED TO PROVE AS TOUGH AS EXPECTED AND ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE WAS MODERATE.

CAPT.GORDON L.WILLIAMS OF FRESNO, CALIF., BOMBADIER OF THE "WAM BAM" SAID "THERE WERE QUITE A FEW FIGHTERS UP THERE BUT WE DID NOT GET MANY ATTACKS. THEY CONCENTRATED MOSTLY ON THE GROUP AHEAD." WILLIAMS SAID HE SAW THREE FORTRESSES GO DOWN, ONE OF WHICH EXPLODED AFTER THREE PARACHUTES CAME OUT FROM IT.

JUN 12 1943

SECOND LIEUT.R.C.TREENE OF SEATTLE, WASH., BOMBARDIER OF THE "BLACK SWAN" ESTIMATED THAT 75 GERMAN FIGHTER PLANES MET THE FORTRESSES SOON AFTER THEY CROSSED THE GERMAN COAST.

"THEY STAYED WITH US FOR TWENTY FIVE MINUTES. WE CHASED THREE FIGHTERS AWAY FROM ONE DAMAGED FORT WHICH HAD DROPPED OUT OF FORMATION AND THE FORTRESS MADE IT HOME OK."

THE "BLACK SWAN" NAVIGATOR, 2ND LIEUT.C.H.LOTIS OF CHICAGO, DESCRIBED THE RAID "AS NOT SO BAD TODAY. FAIRLY EASY."

"I SAW OUR BOMBS HIT THE SUBMARINE PEN OKAY," SAID 1ST.LIEUT. A.C.LEWIS OF RAY, ARIZONA, CO-PILOT WHO FLEW AS TAIL GUNNER ON THE FORTRESS "WE THE PEOPLE" PILOTED BY CAPT.J.C.PRICE OF ESTES PARK, COLO., WHICH LED THE FORMATION FROM THIS STATION.

"THE WEATHER WAS CLOUDY AND HAZY MOST OF THE WAY BUT WE COULD SEE THE TARGET ALRIGHT."

JUN 12 1943

LEWIS SAID HE SHOT DOWN A MESSERSCHMITT 109 WHICH EXPLODED IN MID-AIR AND THE PILOT BAILED OUT.

"THERE WERE A HELL OF A LOT OF FORTRESSES OUT TODAY," SAID 2ND LIEUT. STANLEY SCHREFFLER OF HARRISBURG, PA., A BOMBARDIER.

"WE WERE IN THE EIGHTH GROUP OVER THE TARGET AND I COUNTED 92 FORTRESSES AHEAD OF US," HE SAID.

(EDITORS: YOU MAY NOW SUBSTITUTE WILHELMSHAVEN FOR "NORTHWEST GERMANY" IN THE FIRST GRAPH).

WM1003PEW

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 11-(AP)-AFTER 13 DAYS OF "REALLY TURNING ON THE HEAT," THIS WAS THE SCORE:

WON--PANTELLERIA'S UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER, COMPLETE WITH WHAT'S LEFT OF ITS GARRISON OF SEVERAL THOUSANDS MEN; DESTRUCTION OF 78 AXIS PLANES.

LOST--12 ALLIED PLANES.

JUN 12 1943

WM1105PEW

AN ADVANCED U.S. FIGHTER BASE IN NORTH AFRICA--FIRST ADD NIGHT LEAD DIVE BOMBERS (BY BOYLE) STUKAS TO ME."

"THE RAIN KEPT US FROM SEEING THEM AS SOON AS WE MIGHT OR WE WOULD HAVE HAD A BETTER TIME THAN WE DID," COLONEL GARMAN CONTINUED. "WE WERE SOME DISTANCE AWAY WHEN THEY CAME IN BUT WE TURNED IMMEDIATELY

JUN 12 1943

AND BEGAN SPRAYING THEM WITH EVERYTHING WE HAD, FIRING CONTINUOUSLY AS WE CLOSED THE GAP BETWEEN US. ONE PILOT RAN COMPLETELY OUT OF AMMUNITION.

JUN 12 1943

"IT LOOKED LIKE THERE ALSO WERE OTHER SWARMS OF GERMAN PLANES FARTHER AWAY BUT I THINK THEY WERE ENGAGED BY OUR P-40'S. ANYWAY, THEY NEVER GOT NEAR THE TARGET AREA.

"AS SOON AS THE 50 OR 60 PLANES WE JUMPED FELT THE LEAD WHISTLING AROUND THEM, THEY LOST INTEREST IN THE ATTACK, GOT RID OF WHAT BOMBS THEY HAD, AND TURNED TAIL FOR HOME.

"WE COULD HAVE PURSUED AND KNOCKED DOWN GREAT NUMBERS OF THEM BUT WE WERE AFRAID IT MIGHT PROVE A FEINT TO DRAW US AWAY SO OTHER BOMBERS COULD COME IN AND TRY TO BREAK UP THE LANDING, SO WE RETURNED TO OUR PATROLLING, ALTHOUGH IT REALLY WAS SOME TEMPTATION TO CHASE THEM."

ONE OF THE THINGS OF WHICH GARMAN WAS PROUDEST WAS THE FACT THAT AFTER BREAKING UP THE ATTACKS HIS FLIERS DIDN'T LOSE THEIR HEADS AND GO CHASING AFTER WHAT LOOKED LIKE EASY VICTIMS.

JUN 12 1943

"THEY FLEW IN WONDERFUL FORMATION," SAID GARMAN, WHO BELIEVES, LIKE OTHER AIR COMMANDERS, THAT IT PAYS OFF IN MODERN AERIAL TACTICS.

ALTHOUGH THE GROUP BELIEVED THAT A NUMBER OF THE AXIS DIVE BOMBERS WERE DAMAGED BY THE SHOWER OF BULLETS FROM THE NOSES OF THE HEAVILY ARMED P-38'S, ONLY ONE VICTORY CLAIM WAS SUBMITTED--FOR LIEUT. WILLIAM J.PURVIS OF 1429 BRADY ST., DAVENPORT, IOWA, WHOSE SQUADRON MATES SAID HE BATTERED DOWN ONE GERMAN DURING A BRIEF, SPECTACULAR ENGAGEMENT.

"THERE WAS SO MUCH CONFUSION WE JUST TURNED OUR GUNS LOOSE AND FIRED AT EVERYTHING THAT CAME BEFORE OUR SIGHTS," PURVIS SAID.

WM1112PEW

ALLIED HDQTRS IN NORTH AFRICA (LUCE), XXX "TARGET AREAS"

(IN ANOTHER ROME BROADCAST RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, UMBERTO GUGLIELMOTTI, ITALIAN NATIONAL COUNCILLOR, IGNORED THE FALL OF PANTELLERIA BUT, SPEAKING IN A SOLEMN VOICE, DECLARED THAT "IT WAS DUE TO ITALIAN GALLANTRY THAT UNTIL NOW EUROPE HAS BEEN UNVIOLATED."

JUN 12 1943

("FROM HIS CRUEL AIR RAIDS AGAINST ITALY, THE ENEMY WILL GO TO VASTER AND MORE COMPLEX ACTIONS," GUGLIELMOTTI SAID. HE ADDED THAT "ITALY HAS TO FACE NAVIES WHICH ARE FOUR TIMES AS STRONG AS HER OWN."

("WE ARE FACE TO FACE WITH THE GREATEST POWER IN THE WORLD--THE BRITISH NAVY," HE CONCLUDED.)

THE FALL OF THE TINY ISLAND, COMING THREE YEARS AND A DAY AFTER ITALY ENTERED THE WAR, WAS ANNOUNCED IN A SPECIAL ALLIED HEADQUARTERS COMMUNIQUE WHICH SAID:

"THE ISLAND OF PANTELLERIA TODAY SURRENDERED AND IS BEING OCCUPIED BY ALLIED FORCES.

"THIS SURRENDER IS THE RESULT OF A SERIES OF CONTINUOUS AND INTENSE AIR BOMBARDMENTS SUPPORTED BY NAVAL BOMBARDMENTS.

"TWO PREVIOUS OFFERS (SUMMONS) TO SURRENDER MADE TO THE COMMANDER WERE IGNORED."

AS SOON AS THE FIRST WHITE FLAG APPEARED ON HILL 74 IN THE NORTHERN PART OF THE ISLAND, THE ALLIED COMMANDER ON THE AFRICAN MAINLAND WAS NOTIFIED AND IMMEDIATE STEPS WERE TAKEN FOR THE OCCUPATION.

THE CAPITULATION OF THE BATTERED ISLAND FORTRESS CAME ONLY A

JUN 12 1943

30.24-4899

LITTLE MORE THAN SEVEN MONTHS AFTER AMERICAN TROOPS LANDED IN NORTH AFRICA.

WE432PEW

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 11-(AP)-GENERAL DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER AND ADMIRAL SIR ANDREW BROWNE CUNNINGHAM, ARMY AND NAVY CHIEFS IN THE MEDITERRANEAN, STOOD SIDE-BY-SIDE ON THE BRIDGE OF THE BRITISH CRUISER AURORA LAST TUESDAY WHEN THE SHIP LED A SQUADRON UNDER THE NOSES OF ITALIAN SHORE BATTERIES AT PANTELLERIA TO TEST DEFENSES.

AN OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT TODAY SAID THE SHIP DELIBERATELY SOUGHT TO DRAW THE SHORE FIRE IN THE TEASER RAID.

OTHER BRITISH SHIPS TAKING PART INCLUDED THE CRUISERS ORION, AND PENELOPE, THE DESTROYERS LAFOREY, JERVIS, TARTAR, NUBIAN, LOOKOUT, LOYAL AND WHADDON.

JA1254P JUN 12 1943

BY RELMAN MORIN

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 11-(AP)-EVEN GENERAL DWIGHT D.EISENHOWER WAS TOO CONSERVATIVE THIS TIME.

STANDING ON THE BRIDGE OF A BRITISH CRUISER LAST TUESDAY UNDER HEAVY FIRE FROM BIG ITALIAN SHORE RIFLES ON PANTELLERIA--WHICH SENT SHELLS TO WITHIN 300 YARDS OF THE WARSHIP--THE GENERAL SAID HE WAS SURE THE ISLAND WOULD FALL ONCE INFANTRY HAD LANDED.

ACTUALLY IT FELL IN A FORMAL SENSE BEFORE THE INFANTRY EVERY GOT THERE.

ASSAULT PARTIES ENCOUNTERED SOME RESISTANCE FROM POCKETS OF TROOPS TO WHOM THE ISLAND COMMANDER'S DECISION TO SURRENDER APPARENTLY WAS NOT COMMUNICATED PROMPTLY.

BUT THE REAL CAPITULATION, WITH THE TRADITIONAL WHITE FLAG FLYING, TOOK PLACE BEFORE. JUN 12 1943

THE WARSHIP WHICH CARRIED THE ALLIED COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF IN NORTH AFRICA LAST TUESDAY WAS CLOSER TO THE ISLAND THAN ANY OF THE OTHERS IN THE BRITISH SQUADRON WHEN HE MADE HIS PREDICTION.

BESIDE HIM ON THE BRIDGE WAS ADMIRAL OF THE FLEET SIR ANDREW BROWNE CUNNINGHAM, ALLIED NAVAL COMMANDER IN THE MEDITERRANEAN.

THE SQUADRON'S MISSION, IT WAS STATED AUTHORITATIVELY, WAS TO TEST THE FIRE OF THE SHORE BATTERIES AT CLOSE RANGE.

WHILE BIG SHELLS DROPPED ALL AROUND THEM, THE TWO COMMANDERS WITNESSED A NAVAL BOMBARDMENT WHICH WAS SYNCHRONIZED WITH A TREMENDOUS AERIAL BOMBING.

DURING ALL OF THIS THEY SAW A TORPEDO-CARRYING SEAPLANE RACE INTO THE INNERMOST PART OF THE HARBOR ON A "TEST RUN" AND RETURN UNTOUCHED.

THESE "COMBINED OPERATIONS" INDUCED EISENHOWER'S PREDICTION--BUT EVENTS PROVED HIM TOO CONSERVATIVE.

SK220PEW JUN 12 1943

AN ADVANCED AMERICAN AIR BASE IN NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 11-(AP)-CAPITULATION OF PANTELLERIA MEANT A FREE TRIP HOME FOR A NUMBER OF FLIERS WHO COMPLETED THEIR 50TH COMBAT MISSION TODAY.

EXULTANT ENTHUSIASM WAS FELT AT EVERY ALLIED AIRFIELD ACROSS AFRICA AT THIS SMASHING HISTORIC VICTORY OF AIR POWER, BEST SUMMED UP BY LIEUT. CLIFFORD J.VOITH OF JUNCTION CITY, WIS., FLYING FORTRESS NAVIGATOR, WHO SAID:

JUN 12 1943

"I GUESS THAT CIVIL WAR GENERAL WAS RIGHT ABOUT VICTORY BELONGING TO THE ONE WHO 'GETS THERE FUSTEST WITH THE MOSTEST.' THAT'S WHAT OUR AIR FORCES DID AT PANTELLERIA."

"THIS TIME THERE CAN'T BE ANY QUESTION ABOUT 'TOO LITTLE OR TOO LATE,'" SAID LIEUT.FRANK J.KUNCEL, B-17 BOMBARDIER OF LORAIN, OHIO, FOR WHOM, LIKE VOITH, THE VICTORY MEANT THE END OF THEIR AFRICAN FLYING CARREER.

JUN 12 1943

"FOR DAYS WE HAVE BEEN DROPPING TONS OF BOMBS ON THE ISLAND AND WE EVEN BEAT THE NAVY AND THE INVASION BARGES THERE."

JAMES R.RUSH, FLYING FORTRESS BOMBARDIER, OF 535 MAIN STREET, PHILADELPHIA, MISS. (CQ) SAID: "FOR THE FIRST TIME IN ALL MY FIFTY MISSIONS I COULD SEE VICTORY ACTUALLY TAKING PLACE BELOW US. I WAS PROUD TO BE A PART OF THE AIR FORCE WHICH MADE IT POSSIBLE."

OTHER FLYING FORTRESS CREWMEN WHO FINISHED THEIR 50TH MISSION DURING THE CLIMACTIC RAID ON "MUSSOLINI'S MALTA" WERE:

STAFF SERGEANTS VIRGIL E.MAJOR, WAIST GUNNER OF RIDGEWAY, MONT.; VILAR L.GARCIA, LOWER TURRET GUNNER, 108 SOUTH TWENTIETH STREET, MCALLEN, TEX.; HAROLD R.DUNLEVY, RADIO-GUNNER, 2807 SAUNDERS AVENUE, SAN ANTONIO, TEX.; KARLO KARJALA, WAIST GUNNER OF GEYSER, MONT; AND RAY SAULMAN, BALL TURRETT GUNNER OF ROCKY FORD, COLO.

ALTHOUGH FLYING MEN, WHO BY THIS ACHIEVEMENT PROVED AGAINST ALL CAVILING THAT AIR POWER HAS COME OF AGEBN WERE JUBILANT OVER THE CAPITULATION THERE WAS NO IMMEDIATE FORMAL CELEBRATION. THEY WERE TOO TIRED FOR ANYTHING LIKE THAT--BUT IF THE WINE BOTTLE PASSED AROUND MORE OFTEN THAN WAS CUSTOMARY TONIGHT IT WAS UNDERSTANDABLE BY THE MEN WHO COMMAND THESE WINGMEN.

THREE OUT OF FOUR FLYING FORTRESS SQUADRONS HAD DROPPED BOMBS ON THE AXIS-HELD ISLAND BUT THE FOURTH SQUADRON HELD BACK ITS LOAD OF EGGS WHEN A RIFT IN THE DUST AND SMOKE DISCLOSED A WHITE CROSS ON THE AIRFIELD FAR BELOW THEM. IT WAS THE PRE-DESIGNATED TOKEN OF UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER AND APPARENTLY WAS PUT OUT BETWEEN 11:35 AND 11:40.

JUN 12 1943

CAPTAIN F.L. JEROME, B-17 PILOT, 809 NORTHEAST 39TH STREET, PORTLAND, ORE., SAID: "WE WERE JUST GOING OVER THE TARGET WHEN A RADIO FLASH CAME THROUGH TO HOLD ALL BOMBS. I HONESTLY DIDN'T THINK IT WOULD HAVE MADE MUCH DIFFERENCE. THE ISLAND AHEAD WAS ONE SMOKING MASS OF DESTRUCTION. THE SKY ABOVE AND BELOW WAS COMPLETELY SWARMING WITH ALLIED PLANES I THINK THAT THIS REPRESENTS THE FULLEST REALIZATION OF ALLIED AIR SUPREMACY. THREE YEARS AGO THOSE MURDERERS NEVER DREAMED SUCH THINGS WERE POSSIBLE. PERSONALLY I AM GLAD IT IS OVER."

LIEUT, A.E. HANSON, CO-PILOT, 28 CRESCENT STREET, BEDFORD, MASS., SAID: "IF THOSE WOPS HAD USED THEIR HEADS THEY WOULD HAVE SAVED THEMSELVES A HELL OF A LOT OF GRIEF. THIS BOMB SHUTTLE ROUTE WE HAVE BEEN RUNNING HAS NOT BEEN A PICNIC FOR US. I'D RATHER BE ABOVE THAN BELOW BUT IT WILL BE A RELIEF TO GET A BLAST AT SOMETHING ELSE FOR A CHANGE."

LIEUT. GEORGE W. MCGEE, P-38 PILOT, 1614 WEST FIRST STREET, SPOKANE, WASH., DESCRIBED THE SPECTACULAR BATTLE SCENE BENEATH AS IT WAS WHILE HE WAS FLYING WITH HIS SQUADRON ON PATROL OVER THE ISLAND.

"AS WE FLEW IN A FAST RUN OVER PANTELLERIA WE COULD SEE INVASION BARGES ABOUT THREE MILES FROM THE SHORE. CRUISERS, BATTLESHIPS, AND DESTROYERS--ALL CIRCLING OUTSIDE THE HARBOR. DAMN IT. BUT WE WERE SORRY TO LEAVE JUST AS THE BIG SHOW WAS ABOUT TO START."

JUN 12 1943

3024-1901

AERIAL PHOTOGRAPHS WERE TAKEN SHORTLY AFTER THE ITALIAN GARRISON PUT OUT THE WHITE CROSS DISCLOSED WHY PLANES FLYING IN TO ATTACK HAD DIFFICULTY AT FIRST IN SEEING IT. THE CROSS WAS PLACED ON THE NORTHWEST CORNER OF THE ISLAND'S AIRPORT NEAR THE BATTERED RUINS OF THE HANGARS OR ADMINISTRATION BUILDING WITH THE LONG END OF THE CROSS POINTING NORTH. IT WAS IMPOSSIBLE TO TELL FROM THE PHOTOS WHAT MATERIAL WAS USED TO FASHION THE SURRENDER SIGNAL.

JUN 12 1943

B84

LIEUT. EUGENE ULRICH, 816 ILLINOIS STREET, CAPE GIRARDEAU, MO., NAVIGATOR ON ONE OF THE FORTRESSES WHICH DUMPED BOMBS BEFORE THE SIGNAL WAS SHOWN, SAID: "OUR BOMBING WAS EXCELLENT. I COULD SEE IT ALL THE WAY FROM THE SHORE TO THE AIRDROME. THERE WERE TREMENDOUS CLOUDS OF SMOKE."

DESCRIBING THE CLASH OF P-38 PILOTS WITH A FORMATION OF DIVE-BOMBING ENEMY PLANES OVER THE HARBOR WHICH WERE TRYING TO BREAK UP A LANDING, LIEUT. GEORGE R. SMITH OF SPRING VALLEY, IDAHO, SAID:

"IT WAS RATHER QUIET WHEN WE GOT THERE. WE WERE CARRYING BOMBS AND OUR FIRST INSTRUCTIONS WERE TO PATROL FOR 30 MINUTES. WHILE ON EACH SIDE OF THE ISLAND WE SAW A FORMATION OF ABOUT 25 PLANES COMING FROM SICILY. SO MANY OTHER PLANES WERE IN THE AIR WE COULDN'T IDENTIFY THEM EXACTLY. THEN WE SAW THEY WERE ME-109'S AND WE HEADED TOWARD THEM.

"THEN CAME A CURIOUS THING. THE ME-109'S TRIED TO DIVEBOMB OUR TRANSPORT. I NEVER SAW THEM TRY TO DIVE-BOMB BEFORE. I SAW NO MORE THAN FIVE DROP BOMBS AND I SAW LITTLE DAMAGE EXCEPT ONE NEAR-MISS ON A LANDING BARGE.

"WE WERE NEVER ABLE TO GET IN RANGE BECAUSE THEY SWOOPED UP HIGH AFTER BOMBING AND I THINK SPITFIRES JUMPED THEM UP THERE. WE CONTINUED OUR PATROL FOR ANOTHER HALF HOUR. THERE WERE BIG FIRES ON THE ISLAND AND TROOPS WERE CONTINUING TO LAND. ONE OF OUR DESTROYERS RAN RIGHT INTO THE HARBOR."

JUN 12 1943

JR1048AEW

CAIRO, JUNE 11-(AP)-MAJOR CARL L.MORRIS OF 4609 HAYWARD PLACE, DENVER, COLO., WAS AWARDED THE LEGION OF MERIT TODAY FOR HIS RESOURCEFULNESS AND DEVOTION TO DUTY IN SAVING 170 CAPTURED ITALIAN 10-TON DIESEL TRUCKS AND BRINGING THEM ACROSS 1,800 MILES DESERT FROM ERITREA TO CAIRO WITH THE LOSS OF ONLY ONE TRUCK.

MORRIS UNDERTOOK THE MISSION AFTER OTHERS HAD REFUSED IT, SAYING IT COULD NOT BE DONE. MORRIS RECONNOITERED THE ROUTE, ORGANIZED A CONVOY AND IN 43 DAYS BROUGHT THE SORELY-NEEDED TRUCKS THROUGH.

THE SAND WAS SO DEEP IN PLACES THAT THE AIR IN THE TIRES OF ALL TRUCKS HAD TO BE REDUCED FROM 80 TO 12 POUNDS. THE ONLY TRUCK LOST WAS A BIG DIESEL WHICH BURNED OUT THREE BEARINGS.

MAJOR GEN. LEWIS BRERETON, WHO MADE THE AWARD, SAID THAT MORRIS'S "DETERMINATION, VERSATILITY, PERSEVERANCE AND LEADERSHIP WERE EVIDENCED BY THIS ACCOMPLISHMENT, WHICH EXEMPLIFIES A STEADFASTNESS OF PURPOSE IN KEEPING WITH THE BEST TRADITIONS OF THE UNITED STATES ARMY."

TA213PEW

JUN 12 1943

Moscow (McGAFFIN) XXX "FEAR"

COOPERATION OF THE THREE GREAT POWERS WOULD BE AS URGENTLY REQUIRED AFTER THE WAR AS DURING IT, HE SAID, AND THEN TOASTED JOSEPH STALIN, PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL AND PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT "WHO HAVE DONE SO MUCH TO MAKE COOPERATION POSSIBLE."

STANDLEY RECALLED THAT WHEN HE FIRST CAME TO RUSSIA IN 1941 WITH THE AMERICAN AND BRITISH MISSIONS THERE WERE THREE ITEMS ON THE NAVY LIST WHICH THE RUSSIANS WANTED AND "WE COULD NOT FURNISH ANY OF THEM." RECENT PRESS REPORTS TELLING OF THE THOUSANDS OF PLANES, TRUCKS, TANKS AND OTHER SUPPLIES SHOW HOW GREATLY THE SITUATION HAS CHANGED, HE ADDED.

JUN 12 1943

A127

OBSERVERS SAID THE LUNCHEON WAS TO IMPRESS UPON THE AMERICANS THE SINCERITY OF RUSSIA'S INTENTIONS TOWARD COLLABORATION IN THE POST-WAR WORLD AND EVERY SPEECH EMPHASIZED THE IMPORTANCE PLACED BY THE RUSSIANS UPON THIS. THEY SAW IT TOO AS A TREND TOWARD BETTER UNDERSTANDING AND BETTER APPRECIATION BETWEEN RUSSIA AND AMERICA.

OTHER SPEAKERS WERE BRIG.-GEN.JOSEPH A.MICHELA, AMERICAN MILITARY ATTACHE, WHO TOASTED THE SOLDIERS OF ALL THE UNITED ARMIES, REAR ADMIRAL JACK DUNCAN, NAVAL ATTACHE WHO TOASTED THE RED NAVY AND BRIG. GEN. PHILLIP R.FAYMONVILLE, LEND-LEASE AUTHORITY, WHO SPOKE IN RUSSIAN.

IZVESTIA, IN A LONG EDITORIAL MARKING THE ANNIVERSARY, SAID "THE OUTCOME IS NEARING. THE ALLIANCE OF ARMS OF THE U.S.S.R., GREAT BRITAIN AND THE UNITED STATES, TESTED IN BATTLE AND CEMENTED WITH BLOOD, WILL LEAD TO THE COMMON VICTORY OF FREEDOM LOVING PEOPLES."

THE SOVIET-AMERICAN AND THE SOVIET-BRITISH AGREEMENTS "ARE THE CORNERSTONES WHICH FORM THE FOUNDATION OF VICTORY AND UPON WHICH WILL REST THE EDIFICE OF PEACE ERECTED IN HARMONIOUS UNITY," THE EDITORIAL SAID.

IZVESTIA SAID THE RECENT VISIT TO MOSCOW OF JOSEPH E.DAVIES AS PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVE OF PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT "SUPPLIED FRESH PROOF OF THE GROWING CONTACT BETWEEN THE TWO COUNTRIES. XXX THE CHARACTERISTIC FEATURE OF THE PAST YEAR WAS THAT IT LAID THE BEGINNING OF MULTIFARIOUS SOCIAL AND CULTURAL TIES BETWEEN THE TWO COUNTRIES SEPARATED BY THE OCEAN BUT NEIGHBORS IN REALITY."

IT ALSO COMMENTED ON THE "REALIZATION BY THE OVERWHELMING MAJORITY OF THE AMERICAN PEOPLE OF THE FACT THAT THE DEFENSE OF THE SOVIET UNION AGAINST GERMAN AGGRESSION IS VITAL TO THE DEFENSE OF THE UNITED STATES."

JUN 12 1943

JA1201AEW

MOSCOW, JUNE 11-(AP)-THE FIRST ANNIVERSARY OF THE AGREEMENT BETWEEN SOVIET RUSSIA AND THE UNITED STATES WAS HAILED BY THE SOVIET PRESS TODAY AS A MILESTONE ON THE ROAD TO SUCCESS BOTH IN WAR AND IN PEACE.

THE GOVERNMENT NEWSPAPER IZVESTIA SAID IN ITS LEAD EDITORIAL THAT A "DEVELOPMENT OF MUTUAL UNDERSTANDING" HAD TAKEN PLACE IN THE LAST YEAR NOT ONLY IN THE WAR SPHERE "BUT ALSO IN OTHER BRANCHES OF GOVERNMENT ACTIVITY."

JUST A FORTNIGHT AGO THE RUSSIAN PRESS WAS FILLED WITH PRAISE OF THE BRITISH AND RUSSIAN PACT.

THE MOSCOW RADIO EARLY TODAY BROADCAST PRESIDENT MICHAEL KALININ'S ANNIVERSARY MESSAGE TO PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT WHICH EXPRESSED A BELIEF THAT THE WAR-TIME TIES BETWEEN RUSSIA AND THE UNITED STATES WOULD INSURE "CLOSE COOPERATION IN POST-WAR TIMES."

(THE AGREEMENT, SIGNED IN WASHINGTON BY VYACHESLAV MOLOTOV, COMMISSAR OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS, DURING HIS VISIT A YEAR AGO, SPOKE OF UNDERSTANDING FOR THE PROBLEMS OF A SECOND FRONT IN EUROPE AND OF THE NEED OF SPEEDING WAR SUPPLIES FROM THE UNITED STATES TO RUSSIA.)

JUN 12 1943

3024-1903

KALININ'S MESSAGE, AND ONE FROM MOLOTOV TO PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT AND TO SECRETARY HULL, RECEIVED PROMINENT PRESS DISPLAY.

THE RECENT VISIT OF JOSEPH E.DAVIES ALSO WAS CITED AS ANOTHER PROOF OF "STRENGTHENING CONTACT" BETWEEN THE TWO COUNTRIES.

PRAVDA SAID "THE SOVIET PEOPLE ARE WELL AWARE OF SUPPLIES, ARMS, FOOD AND OTHER MATERIALS RECEIVED BY THE U.S.S.R. FROM THE GREAT REPUBLIC ACROSS THE SEA," AND CONTINUED: "THE SOVIET PEOPLE NOT ONLY KNOW ABOUT BUT ALSO KNOW HOW TO APPRECIATE THE AID RECEIVED FROM THE AMERICAN PEOPLE AS ONE EXPRESSION OF COOPERATION IN MORTAL STRUGGLE AGAINST THE COMMON ENEMY."

JUN 12 1943

GENERAL OPTIMISM REGARDING THE MILITARY SITUATION WAS REFLECTED IN THE IZVESTIA OBSERVATION THAT "PREPARATIONS FOR DECISIVE BATTLES ARE BEING MADE IN CONDITIONS FAVORABLE FOR FUTURE SUCCESSES."

EZ924AEW

NEW DELHI, INDIA, JUNE 11-(AP)-BOMBINGS OF RATHEDAUNG AND BUTHEDAUNG AND ANOTHER RAID ON KALEWA, IN WESTERN BURMA, WERE ACCOMPLISHED BY RAF PLANES IN RAIDS ON JAPANESE POSITIONS YESTERDAY, A BRITISH COMMUNIQUE SAID TODAY.

TWO BUILDING IN THE JETTY TARGET AREA AT RATHEDAUNG ON THE MAYU RIVER NEAR THE BAY OF BENGAL, WERE DEMOLISHED IN A MORNING ATTACK. FIRES WERE LEFT BURNING IN ENEMY-OCCUPIED BUILDINGS IN AN AFTERNOON RAID ON BUTHEDAUNG, 40 MILES UP THE RIVER, IT WAS SAID.

MOTOR TRANSPORT AND SAMPANS ALSO WERE ATTACKED IN THE AREA AND A JAPANESE GUNPOST NEAR BUTHEDAUNG WAS SILENCED, THE BRITISH SAID.

THE JAPANESE HEADQUARTERS CITY OF KALEWA, ON THE CHINDWIN RIVER, WAS BOMBED AND MACHINE-GUNNED AND FIGHTER PLANES INFLICTED DAMAGE ON A VARIETY OF RIVER CRAFT BETWEEN KALEWA AND MYINGYAN AND ON SAMPANS NORTH OF RAMREE ISLAND, THE WAR BULLETIN ANNOUNCED.

JR736

JUN 12 1943

NEW DELHI, JUNE 11-(AP)-COL. JOHN M.BARR, 34, OF GILBERT, S.C. AND SAN ANTONIO, TEX., WAS AWARDED THREE MEDALS SIMULTANEOUSLY TODAY--THE DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS, THE SILVER STAR AND THE AIR MEDAL--A RECORD FOR THIS THEATER OF ALLIED OPERATIONS. HE WAS ORDERED TO RETURN TO THE UNITED STATES IMMEDIATELY FOR A NEW ASSIGNMENT.

THE AWARDS WERE MADE BY MAJOR GEN.CLAYTON L.BISSELL, COMMANDER OF THE 10TH AIR FORCE, WHO SAID, "HIS RECORD SPEAKS FOR ITSELF."

BARR RECEIVED THE SILVER STAR FOR CARRYING OUT 1,000-POUND BOMBING MISSIONS IN A P-40, THE DFC FOR "EXTRAORDINARY ACHIEVEMENT" WHILE PARTICIPATING IN MORE THAN 50 COMBAT MISSIONS AND THE AIR MEDAL FOR "MERITORIOUS ACHIEVEMENT" WHILE PARTICIPATING IN MORE THAN 25 MISSIONS.

JUN 12 1943

BARR'S SILVER STAR CITATION SAID "COL.BARR MADE INITIAL TESTS FROM AN AIRDROME IN UPPER ASSAM INTO ENEMY TERRITORY, EACH TIME WITH A 1,000-POUND BOMB ON HIS P-40, AND DURING THAT PERIOD CARRIED OUT, WITH OTHER MEMBERS OF HIS COMMAND, THE DEVELOPMENT OF TECHNIQUE OF THIS TYPE OF BOMBING MISSION AND ITS ACTUAL SUCCESSFUL APPLICATION UNDER FIRE AGAINST THE ENEMY.

"THESE TESTS INVOLVED THE CARRYING OF TWICE THE BOMBLOAD EVER BEFORE CARRIED BY THIS TYPE OF AIRCRAFT."

JUN 12 1943

BARR, WHO HAS BEEN THE EXECUTIVE OFFICER OF "OUR ASSAM DRAGON" FIGHTER GROUP, HAS BEEN IN INDIA SINCE MAY, 1942 BUT HAS NEVER TANGLED WITH A JAPANESE ZERO.

BARR HAS A WIFE AND THREE SONS IN SAN ANTONIO.

TA/N1208PEW

CHUNGKING, JUNE 11-(AP)--AMERICAN FIGHTERS SAILED INTO 44 JAPANESE PLANES OVER HENGYANG IN HUNAN PROVINCE ON THURSDAY, SHOT DOWN ONE ENEMY BOMBER AND PROBABLY DESTROYED FIVE OTHERS, CENTRAL NEWS AGENCY REPORTED TODAY.

JUN 12 1943

EIGHT JAPANESE BOMBERS ESCORTED BY 16 ZEROS FIRST SWEPT OVER HENGYANG SHORTLY AFTER NOON, BUT FAILED TO HIT THE AMERICAN AIRDROME, THEIR PROBABLE OBJECTIVE. AMERICAN FIGHTERS QUICKLY ROSE TO MEET THEM.

CAPT. W. R. CROOKS OF COLUMBIA, IND., SHOT DOWN ONE BOMBER FOR SURE, AND CAPT. WALTER SMITH OF TULSA, OKLA., CAUGHT UP WITH THE ZEROS AFTER A 100-MILE CHASE AND SHOT ONE OUT OF FORMATION. HIS VICTORY, HOWEVER, REMAINED TO BE CONFIRMED.

ANOTHER ZERO PROBABLY WAS DESTROYED BY LIEUT. GLEN LUNHAY OF SHUBERT, NEB., WHEN A SECOND WAVE OF 20 ENEMY PLANES CAME OVER LATER IN THE DAY, THE AGENCY REPORTED.

ON THE PRECEDING DAY A JAPANESE FIGHTER WAS BLOWN TO BITS BY LIEUT. LYNN JONES OF MERCEDES, TEX., WHILE ON A RECONNAISSANCE FLIGHT NEAR ITU ON THE YANGTZE RIVER.

THE AGENCY REPORTED THAT SEVEN JAPANESE LOCOMOTIVES HAD BEEN DESTROYED BY UNITED STATES FLIERS SINCE THEY BEGAN ACTIVE SUPPORT OF CHINESE GROUND FORCES ON MAY 28.

JUN 12 1943

OSULLIVANS 02230 GT 325P

BY VERN HAUGLAND

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, JUNE 6-(.$3)-63$)-(AP)-AN AERIAL NAVIGATOR WHO DIRECTED THE FLIGHT OF HIS

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, JUNE 6-(DELAYED)-(AP)-AN AERIAL NAVIGATOR WHO DIRECTED THE FLIGHT OF HIS BOMBER FROM THE REAR WHILE SERVING AS EMERGENCY TAIL-GUNNER AND FIGHTING OFF ATTACKS OF 25 JAPANESE ZEROS RECEIVED THE AIR MEDAL FOR MERITORIOUS ACHIEVEMENT TODAY.

THE AERIAL BACK-SEAT DRIVER WAS 2ND LIEUT. FRANK H.WAKELEY OF (432 PAGE TERRACE) SOUTH ORANGE, N.J., NAVIGATOR IN A FORMATION ATTACKING LAE, NEW GUINEA, LAST JANUARY.

BEFORE THE PLANE REACHED THE TARGET, THE TAIL-GUNNER WAS

JUN 12 1943

1943

3024-4905

TAKEN SERIOUSLY ILL. LIEUTENANT WAKELEY, IN THE NAVIGATOR'S COMPARTMENT, GATHERED HIS MAPS AND EQUIPMENT AND WENT TO THE REAR OF THE PLANE. AFTER ADMINISTERNG MEDICAL AID, WAKELEY MANNED THE REAR GUN.

THE 25 ZEROS ATTACKED IN FORMATION JUST AFTER THE BOMBING RUN AND WHEN THE BOMB-BAY DOORS OF WAKELEY'S PLANE FAILED TO CLOSE, SOWING THE PLANE DANGEROUSLY, THE ENEMY CENTERED THEIR ATTACK ON THE CRIPPLED MACHINE.

JUN 12 1943

LIEUT.-GEN. GEORGE C. KENNEY, COMMANDER OF THE ALLIED AIR FORCES IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC AREA, ALSO PRESENTED AIR MEDALS FOR SEVERAL HEROES OF THE BATTLE OF THE BISMARCK SEA IN WHICH A JAPANESE CONVOY OF 22 SHIPS WAS DESTROYED LAST MARCH.

FIRST LIEUT. WILLIAM G. PAINE OF (651 ONEONTA ST.) SHREVQORT, LA., CO-PILOT OF A BOMBER WHICH SANK A DESTROYER WITH A DIRECT HIT;

SECOND LIEUT. ROBERT V. LOCKHART JR., OF (123 SOUTH MAIN ST.) MARION, N.C., CO-PILOT WHOSE BOMBER HIT AN 8,000-TON CARGO BOAT TWICE AND WHO WAS INJURED IN A VRASH-LANDING AFTER ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE DAMAGED HIS SHIP;

SECOND [illegible] WILLIAM F. RIC[illegible] (5028 WENTWORTH ST.) MINNEAPOLIS, CO-PILOT O[illegible]BER WHICH SCORED THREE DIRECT HITS WITH 500-POUND BOMBS ON A DESTROYER, LEAVING IT IN A SINKING CONDITION.

SGT. REDUS W. HARRELL OF TERRY, MISS., TOP GUNNER WHO REPLUSED AN ATTACKING ZERO AND WHOSE BOMBER BOMBED AND ETAFED A 5,000-TON TROOP SHIP AND DAMAGED A DESTROYER.

MEMBERS OF THE CREW OF A BOMBER WHICH ATTACKED ENEMY SHIPPING IN RABAUL HARBOR, NEW BRITAIN, IN APRIL, 1942, DROPPING FOUR 500-POUND BOMBS ON AN ENEMY TRANSPORT AND NEAR ANOTHER ONE, ALSO WERE ANNOUNCED AS WINNERS OF THE AIR MEDAL. BOTH SHIPS WERE AFIRE WHEN LAST SEEN. THOSE FOR WHOM AWARDS WERE ISSUED INCLUDED:

CAPT. GEORGE F. KAHLE, JR., OF (1741 BALIR AVE.) NORFOLK, VA.; FIRST LIEUT. MARVIN L. MCCRORY OF MCADAMS, MISS.; STAFF SGT. HAROLD D. LEONARD OF (ROUTE 1). 299$471!,S.C.; STAFF SGT. LOU G. SKEADAS OF (816 VICTORIA AVE.) HAMPTON, VA.; TECH. SGT. DAVID C. LOWE, JR., OF (1008 COLLEGE AVE.) BLUEFIELD, W.VA.

ALSO GIVEN AN AIR MEDAL WAS: JUN 12 1943

STAFF SGT. GETTYS F. BRASWELL OF JASPER, FLA., WHO PARTICIPATED IN A LOW-LEVEL BOMBING RAID ON LAE AIRDROME LAST JANUARY AND SHOT DOWN IN FLAMES ONE OF SEVEN ATTACKING ZEROS.

EW752PCW

SAN JUAN, PUERTO RICO, JUNE 11-(AP)-THE CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEEMEN INVESTIGATING PUERTO RICO SPLIT INTO TWO SECTIONS TODAY, SOME MAKING INSPECTION TRIPS THROUGH THE ISLAND WHILE REPS. C. JASPER BELL (D.-MO.) AND DAN R. MCGEHEE (D.-MISS.) HEARD A PLEA FO- MORE EDUCATION FUNDS.

DR. JOSE GALLARDO, COMMISSIONER OF EDUCATION, SAID THE ISLAND'S OWN LEGISLATURE, HOWEVER, SHOULD APPROPRIATE MORE MONEY BEFORE ASKING THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT'S ASSISTANCE IN PROVIDING THE GREATLY NEEDED EXPANSION OF THE INSULAR SCHOOL SYSTEM.

DR. ANTONIO FERNOS ISERN, HEALTH COMMISSIONER, SAID THERE WAS ONLY

JUN 12 1943

ONE PHYSICIAN FOR EACH 4,000 PERSONS. HE ADDED, HOWEVER, THAT THE FOOD SITUATION WAS NOW BETTER THAN LAST YEAR.M105AEW

MONTEVIDEO, JUNE 11-(AP)-ANNOUNCEMENT THAT THE ARGENTINE GOVERNMENT HAD BANNED THE USE OF CODED MESSAGES BY AXIS EMBASSIES WAS ENTHUSIASTICALLY WELCOMED TODAY BY MEMBERS OF THE CONSULTATIVE COMMITTEE FOR POLITICAL DEFENSE OF THE HEMISPHERE.

PRIVATELY, THEY EXPRESSED HOPES THAT THIS DECREE WOULD BE THE FIRST STEP BY ARGENTINA TOWARD TRUE PAN-AMERICAN SOLIDARITY.

THE VICE PRESIDENT OF URUGUAY, ALBERTO GUANI, WHO IS CHAIRMAN OF THE COMMITTEE, TOLD THE ASSOCIATED PRESS:

"THIS IS A BIG SATISFACTION FOR ME, AS THE DECREE APPARENTLY SHOWS THAT ALL AMERICAN COUNTRIES NOW ARE PREPARING TO ABIDE BY THE MEASURES RECOMMENDED FOR THE DEFENSE OF THE HEMISPHERE."

OTHER COMMITTEE MEMBERS RECALLED THAT THE INTER-AMERICAN BODY HAD REQUESTED ALL AMERICAN COUNTRIES TO SHUT OFF COMMUNICATIONS WITH THE AXIS.

JUN 12 1943

IN ONE OF ITS LATEST RESOLUTIONS THE COMMITTEE IMPLIED THAT ARGENTINA WAS USED BY AXIS AGENTS FOR TRANSMISSION OF DANGEROUS NEWS ABOUT THE AMERICAS THROUGH CODED RADIO MESSAGES.

OTHER DIPLOMATIC SOURCES, AS WELL AS COMMITTEE MEMBERS, SAID THE ARGENTINE DECREE WAS ESPECIALLY GRATIFYING AFTER NEWS THAT FOREIGN MINISTER SEGUNDO STORNI SAID YESTERDAY THAT HIS GOVERNMENT WOULD SHOW, STEP BY STEP, THAT ITS PAN-AMERICAN SOLIDARITY WOULD BE MADE KNOWN THROUGH ACTS.

NO SOURCE WAS WILLING TO PREDICT THAT THIS MIGHT BE THE FIRST STEP IN A SERIES OF MEASURES LEADING TO AN ARGENTINE DIPLOMATIC RUPTURE WITH THE AXIS. NEVERTHELESS, IT WAS POINTED OUT THAT FOREIGN MINISTER JOSE SERRATO OF URUGUAY HAS SAID UNOFFICIALLY THAT HE WAS CONFIDENT ARGENTINA WOULD FOLLOW A VERY SATISFACTORY POLICY IN THE FUTURE."

ALL SOURCES ALSO WELCOMED THE REPORT THAT STORNI, WHEN ASKED YESTERDAY ABOUT ARGENTINE RELATIONS WITH EUROPEAN POWERS, FAILED TO MENTION GERMANY AMONG THOSE MAINTAINING FRIENDLY TIES WITH ARGENTINA.

ALSO NOTEWORTHY, THEY SAID, WAS THE FACT THAT STORNI REFERRED TO "THE ITALIAN PEOPLE" AND NOT ITALY ALONG WITH BRITAIN, FRANCE AND SPAIN AS FRIENDLY COUNTRIES.

JUN 12 1943

WK601AEW

HAVANA, JUNE 11--(AP)-- ~~MIGUEL COYULA OF HAVANA, A VETERAN OF THE CUBAN WAR OF INDEPENDENCE, WAS ELECTED PRESIDENT OF~~ THE SOCIETY OF THE INTER-AMERICAN PRESS, ~~WHICH COMPLETED ORGANIZATION AT A CONFERENCE HERE TODAY.~~ represented by 140 delegates

~~NINETEEN AMERICAN COUNTRIES WERE REPRESENTED BY 140 DELEGATES WHO MET TO REORGANIZATION A PERMANENT BODY TO~~ ended its 5-day sessions here today. I am out growth of the PAN-AMERICAN PRESS CONGRESS, FORMED TWO YEARS AGO. THE NEW ORGANIZATION WILL HOLD ITS FIRST CONVENTION NEXT YEAR AT CARACAS, VENEZUELA.

JUN 12 1943

30.24—4907

THE DELEGATES INTERVIEWED PRESIDENT B FULGENCIO BATISTA AND WERE ADDRESSED BY CUBAN PRIME MINISTER RAMON ZAYDIN TONIGHT ~~AT THE END OF THEIR FIVE-DAY CONFERENCE WITH COMMITTEE ORGANIZATION~~

WILLIAM P. CARNEY OF THE NEW YORK TIMES, RETIRING PRESIDENT OF THE OLD ORGANIZATION, ~~BROKE~~ THANKING CUBAN OFFICIALS FOR THE HOSPITALITY SHOWN THE 12 AMERICAN DELEGATES. JUN 12 1943

HE ADDED THAT THE OLD PHRASE "YANKEE IMPERIALISM" HAD BEEN COMPLETELY EXPLODED AND, SPEAKING IN SPANISH, SAID:

"WE HOPE THAT OUR PRESENCE HERE HAS ROUNDLY GIVEN THE LIE TO THE FALSE AND HYSTERICUS CAMPAIGN OF INTRIGUE OF THOSE WHO, ACTING AS AXIS AGENTS, HAVE TRIED TO CREATE THE FALSE IMPRESSION IN SPANISH AMERICA THAT WE IN THE UNITED STATES ARE SOLELY INTERESTED IN OUR OWN COMMERCIAL INTEREST AND OTHER PERSONAL AMBITIONS."

THE PRESS OF ALL THE AMERICAS CAN, SHOULD AND WILL CONTRIBUTE TO THE DEFINITE ESTABLISHMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF THE SOLIDARITY IF THE HEMISPHERE, HE SAID. JUN 12 1943

"OUR COUNTRIES OF AMERICA, MAINTAINING AN ABSOLUTELY FREE AND INDEPENDENT PRESS, CAN BE SURE OF HAVING GOOD GOVERNMENTS." #

(ADVANCE FOR PMS OF SATURDAY, JUNE 12)

(ADVANCE) NEW YORK, JUNE 12-(AP)-GENERAL MOTORS CORP. DISCLOSED TODAY HOW IT HAD MADE AVAILABLE THE SERVICES OF TECHNICIANS, DEVELOPED TRAINING FACILITIES AND UTILIZED OVERSEAS PLANTS AND PERSONNEL IN COOPERATION WITH ALLIED MILITARY LEADERS ALL OVER THE WORLD.

ALFRED P.SOAN, JR., CHAIRMAN OF THE CORPORATION, IN PEACETIME THE WORLD'S LARGEST MANUFACTURER OF AUTOMOBILES, TOLD OF THE CONCERN'S ACTIVITIES OUTSIDE ITS HUGE WAR PRODUCTION ASSIGNMENTS IN A SPECIAL REPORT TO STOCKHOLDERS.

EXPLAINING THE HAZARDS, LOSSES AND TIME REQUIRED IN SHIPPING EQUIPMENT WHICH REQUIRES SPECIALIZED MAINTENANCE AND SERVICE BECAUSE OF ITS HIGHLY TECHNICAL CHARACTER, SLOAN SAID:

"UNDER THESE CONDITIONS A WEAPON RESTORED TO ACTION ON THE FRONT WEIGHS HEAVIER IN THE SCALES OF VICTORY THAN A NEW WEAPON PRODUCED AT THE FACTORY."

SLOAN SAID THE WAR PRODUCTS FIELD SERVICE PROGRAM WAS LAUNCHED SOON AFTER PEARL HARBOR AT THE REQUEST OF MILITARY AUTHORITIES. INCLUDED IN HIS OUTLINE OF THE PROGRAM WERE:

TECHNICAL CENTERS ESTABLISHED IN ENGLAND, EGYPT, INDIA, AUSTRALIA, NEW ZEALAND AND ELSEWHERE;

MORE THAN 200 TECHNICIANS ASSIGNED TO COMBAT AREAS AS FIELD OBSERVERS, SERVICE OR PARTS SPECIALISTS ON GM (CAPS) WAR PRODUCTS;

MANAGEMENT AND OTHER SERVICES PROVIDED IN PROCURING AND OPERATING THREE EMERGENCY ASSEMBLY PLANTS FOR MILITARY VEHICLES IN THE MIDDLE EAST;

ASSISTANCE PROVIDED TO THE ARMY IN SETTING UP TRUCK RECONDITIONING PLANTS IN SPECIFIC COMBAT AREAS, AND TO THE NAVY IN ESTABLISHING OVERSEAS SERVICE POINTS FOR GM DIESEL ENGINES;

MANUFACTURING AND ASSEMBLY PLANTS IN ENGLAND, INDIA, AUSTRALIA, NEW ZEALAND AND SOUTH AFRICA CONVERTED TO WAR OUTPUT OR ASSEMBLY.

TRAINING SCHOOLS FOR MILITARY AND NAVAL PERSONNEL NOW NUMBER 22 AND IN 1942 GRADUATED MORE THAN 11,000 SPECIALISTS. THEY ARE EQUIPPED TO TRAIN 40,000 IN 1943 WITH MORE THAN 3,000 MEN GRADUATING EACH MONTH.

(END ADVANCE FOR PMS OF SATURDAY, JUNE 12) JUN 12 1943

EJ1205PEW

OTTAWA, JUNE 11-(AP)-MUNITIONS MINISTER C.D. HOWE TOLD THE HOUSE OF COMMONS TODAY THAT CANADIAN ALUMINUM OUTPUT IS SIX TIMES GREATER THAN IN 1939, THAT STEEL PRODUCTION HOLDS FOURTH PLACE IN THE UNITED NATIONS, AND ONE AUTOMOBILE FACTORY SHORTLY WILL TURN OUT ITS 500,000TH VEHICLE.

REVIEWING THE NATION'S WAR EFFORT HE SAID THAT CANADA IS

JUN 12 1943

MANUFACTURING THE MOST POWERFUL EXPLOSIVE DEVELOPED IN THIS WAR, AND THAT THE AVIATION INDUSTRY NOW COULD PRODUCE 80 PLANES A WEEK.

M102AEW

NEW YORK, JUNE 11-(AP)-PROPAGANDA MINISTER JOSEPH GOEBBELS' NEWSPAPER DAS REICH HAS DEVIATED FROM THE STANDARD NAZI PARTY DOCTRINE ADVOCATING CHILDREN OUT OF WEDLOCK IN AN ARTICLE HOLDING THAT FROM A NATIONAL POINT OF VIEW "THE PROPAGATION OF AN ILLEGITIMATE CHILD IS OF DOUBTFUL VALUE."

JUN 12 1943

THE ARTICLE, REPORTED BY THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT FOREIGN BROADCASTING INTELLIGENCE SERVICE, QUOTED DAS REICH AS SAYING "THERE ARE CERTAIN SOCIAL AND DEMOGRAPHIC DISADVANTAGES ATTACHED TO ILLEGITIMACY UNLESS THE MOTHER MARRIES AFTERWARDS. THE CHILD MUST DO WITHOUT THE EDUCATIVE INFLUENCE OF AT LEAST ONE PARENT AND IN MOST CASES THE MOTHER WILL HAVE NO MORE CHILDREN.

"APART FROM ANY NARROW-MINDED, MORAL DOCTRINE THESE ARE NATIONAL POINTS OF VIEW WHICH MAKE PROPAGATION OF AN ILLEGITIMATE CHILD OF DOUBTFUL VALUE, ESPECIALLY SINCE THE PROSPECTS OF MARRIAGE FOR THE YOUNG WOMEN OF GERMANY TODAY AND IN THE FUTURE ARE SCARCELY LESS THAN THEY WERE FORMERLY."

THE ARTICLE ADDED, HOWEVER, THAT "IT DOES NOT REQUIRE ANY SPECIAL EMPHASIS THAT THE STATE ATTACHES NO STIGMA TO AN ILLEGITIMATE CHILD."

JUN 12 1943

AT THE SAME TIME A BROADCAST FROM THE VATICAN RADIO, RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, TOLD GERMAN CATHOLICS THAT "THE SUFFERINGS OF PRIESTS ARE GREAT. CELIBACY IS BEING ATTACKED BECAUSE AS OTHER SAY IT IS CONTRARY TO THE REAL NATIONAL INTEREST. THE HOLY FATHER KNOWS ALL ABOUT THESE SUFFERINGS OF OUR TIME."

THE BROADCAST, IN THE GERMAN LANGUAGE, SAID THE POPE HAS ASKED SPECIAL PRAYERS FOR THE PRIESTS AT WHITSUN BECAUSE THEY ARE "BEING ARRESTED AND PERSECUTED AND MANY OF THEM HAVE TO DIE."

OWI APL 0221 RO 512P

(EDITORS: WES GALLAGHER, VETERAN ASSOCIATED PRESS WAR CORRESPONDENT, WAS STILL IN NORTH AFRICA WHEN THE CONTINUOUS AIR ASSAULT ON PANTELLERIA WAS BEGUN. HE OBTAINED DATA FOR THE FOLLOWING ARTICLE FROM AUTHORITATIVE SOURCES. GALLAGHER, WHO ACCOMPANIED THE ALLIED ARMIES INTO NORTH AFRICA LAST NOVEMBER AND FILED THE FIRST DISPATCH RECEIVED IN THIS COUNTRY FROM GENERAL EISENHOWER'S HEADQUARTERS,

JUN 12 1943

JUN 12 1943

30.24-4909

HAS JUST RETURNED TO THE UNITED STATES TO RECUPERATE FROM INJURIES RECEIVED IN A JEEP ACCIDENT WHILE HE WAS COVERING THE FALL OF BIZERTE.)

BY MEG GALLAGHER

NEW YORK, JUNE 11-(AP)-HITLER LOST HIS FIRST BATTLE TO KEEP AMERICA AND BRITAIN OUT OF EUROPE AS GENERAL DWIGHT D.EISENHOWER'S FORCES SEIZED ITALY'S MALTA--THE TINY ISLAND OF PANTELLERIA MIDWAY BETWEEN SICILY AND TUNISIA.

JUN 12 1943

A TINY BAR OF LAND ON THE MAPS OF THE MEDITERRANEAN, PANTELLERIA'S IMPORTANCE AS THE FIRST STEPPING STONE TO INVADE THE CONTINENT FAR OUTWEIGHS ITS SIZE.

IT IS THE AIR GATEWAY TO SICILY AND SARDINIA, WHICH IN TURN ARE THE AIR GATEWAYS TO ITALY AND FRANCE.

THE IMPORTANCE OF PANTELLERIA LIES IN ITS AIRFIELD AND UNDERGROUND HANGARS.

SHORT RANGE FIGHTERS SUCH AS SPITFIRES, HARRAWKS AND AIRACOBRAS CANNOT SUCCESSFULLY FLY THE 60 MILES FROM TUNISIA TO SICILY, PROVIDE AIR COVER FOR A LANDING FORCE BY FIGHTING OFF GERMAN FIGHTERS AND THEN RETURN TO TUNISIA. THE SINGLE MOTORED ALLIED FIGHTERS COULD FLY OVER SICILY BUT IF ENGAGED IN A BATTLE WOULD NOT HAVE ENOUGH GASOLINE TO RETURN TO TUNISIA. THIS MEANT THAT IF AN INVASION OF SICILY WERE ATTEMPTED ONLY THE AMERICAN P38 LIGHTNING WITH ITS LONG RANGE COULD PROVIDE FIGHTER COVER FOR THE INITIAL LANDINGS WITH THE AID OF WHAT FIGHTERS COULD BE FLOWN FROM MALTA.

JUN 12 1943

THE PANTELLERIA AIRFIELD WILL BRIDGE THE WATER GAP BETWEEN SICILY AND AFRICA. WHILE THE FIELD'S CAPACITY IS LIMITED IT CAN BE USED BY ALLIED FIGHTERS RETURNING FROM ENGAGEMENTS OVER SICILY AS A REFUELING POINT.

BUT FOR THIS REASON, EISENHOWER'S POTENTIAL INVASION FORCES MIGHT WELL HAVE BYPASSED THE ISLAND.

JUN 12 1943

THE PRESENT STAGE OF THE MEDITERRANEAN WAR IS A BATTLE FOR AIRBASES. FROM PANTELLERIA ALLIED FIGHTERS CAN RANGE OVER SICILY. FROM SICILY THEY CAN RANGE OVER SOUTHERN ITALY. FROM SICILY AND SARDINIA, ALLIED BOMBERS AND FIGHTERS UNDER LIEUT.GEN.CARL A.SPAATZ AND AIR MARSHAL SIR ARTHUR TEDDER CAN GIVE HITLER'S WOOBLY AXIS PARTNER A DAILY HOUR POUNDING WITH HIGH EXPLOSIVES.

THE WAR IN THE MEDITERRANEAN HAS PASSED FROM THE STAGE OF TRYING TO OPEN THE GREAT SEA TO SHIPPING AND DRIVE HITLER FROM AFRICA INTO THE OPENING DRIVE TO BRING NAZIISM TO ITS KNEES.

UNTIL THE AXIS HAD BEEN THROWN FROM AFRICA THE ALLIED BLOWS WERE AT THE MERCY OF THE FORTUNES OF BATTLE IN TUNISIA. WITH HITLER'S TUNISIAN DEFEAT, THE TIME TABLE SHIFTED FROM THE AXIS TO THE ALLIES AND GENERAL EISENHOWER AND GENERAL SIR HAROLD ALEXANDER, HIS DEPUTY COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF, PUT INTO EFFECT INVASION PLANS LONG PLANNED.

THE MOVE TO TAKE PANTELLERIA STARTED WITHIN 24 HOURS AFTER COLONEL GENERAL JURGEN VON ARNIM SURRENDERED. FROM TUNISIA THE ALLIED AIR-FORCES SHIFTED THEIR ATTACK TO THE ITALIAN MALTA ON A ROUND THE CLOCK BASIS, ADMIRAL SIR ANDREW CUNNINGHAM POUNDED THE ISLAND DEFENSES FROM THE SEA AND IN AFRICA ALEXANDER AND EISENHOWER ORDERED THE GATHERING OF THE INVASION FORCE.

JUN 12 1943

IT IS REVEALING NO MILITARY SECRET TO SAY THAT WHILE THESE FORCES WERE BEING GATHERED OTHER THOUSANDS OF BATTLE-EAGER AMERICAN AND

JUN 12 1943

BRITISH TROOPS WERE THROWN INTO TRAINING TASKS WHICH WILL BRING NO

EASE OF MIND TO IL DUCE.

GENERAL EISENHOWER IS DETERMINED THAT THE AXIS WILL GET NO REST

IN THE MEDITERRANEAN AND THE SUMMER IS CERTAIN TO BE VIOLENT AND

BLOODY AS THE ALLIES MOVE STEP BY STEP AGAINST HITLER'S CONTINENTAL

STRONGHOLD.

JUN 12 1943

THOSE WHO EXPECT HOURLY AN OVERWHELMING ASSAULT AGAINST THE

CONTINENT BY ALLIED FORCES MIGHT BEAR IN MIND THAT IT TOOK THE GERMANS

THREE WEEKS TO CAPTURE CRETE. AT THE TIME THE GERMAN WAR MACHINE WAS AT THE HEIGHT OF ITS POWERS YET FOR 11 DAYS A HANDFUL OF BRITISH SOLDIERS WITH RIFLES AND LITTLE ELSE HELD OUT ON THE GREEK ISLAND

AGAINST OVERWHELMING ODDS.

THE LARGER AXIS ISLANDS WILL BE MUCH BETTER DEFENDED THAN CRETE

AS IN ITALY AND THE TASK IS GOING TO BE LONGER AND HARDER. UNTIL

THEY ARE TAKEN AND THEIR VITAL AIRDROMES PUT INTO USE BY THE NORTH AFRICAN AIR FORCES THE ASSAULT ON THE CONTINENT FROM THE SOUTH PROBABLY MUST WAIT TIME.

SECRET-MAIL

NEW YORK, JUNE 11--(AP)-- MERRILL MUELLER,

NBC REPORTER IN NORTH AFRICA, WHO FLEW OVER

JUN 12 1943

PANTELLERIA YESTERDAY SAID IN A BROADCAST RECORDED HERE TODAY:

"THE AIR OVER PANTELLERIA WAS SO FILLED

WITH PLANES THAT THE FLYING FORTRESS IN WHICH I WAS A PASSENGER

WAS FORCED TO FLY OVER THE ISLAND TWICE BEFORE WE COULD MAKE A RUN OVER OUR TARGET AND DROP OUR BOMBS."

MUELLER, A PASSENGER IN THE VETERAN "RED

GREMLIN" WHICH HAS TO ITS CREDIT 60 SEPARATE BOMBING MISSIONS

ADDED:

JUN 12 1943

"IT MUST HAVE BEEN HELL ON PANTELLERIA

YESTERDAY WITH AN AERIAL ATTACK RAINING BOMBS FROM A SPOTLESS

AFRICAN SKY." #

THE WAR TODAY

- - -

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

- - -

SURRENDER OF THE ITALIAN ISLAND FORTRESS OF PANTELLERIA UNDER BOMBARDMENT FROM AIR AND SEA REPRESENTS FIRST BLOOD FOR THE ALLIES IN THEIR ALL-OUT AERIAL OFFENSIVE AGAINST THE AXIS.

THIS STRONG POINT IN THE MEDITERRANEAN BOTTLE-NECK BETWEEN SICILY AND THE AFRICAN MAINLAND LITERALLY HAS BEEN BLASTED INTO SUBMISSION. TROOPS ARE GOING ASHORE WITHOUT SUFFERING THE TERRIBLE LOSSES IN MEN AND MATERIEL WHICH WOULD INEVITABLY HAVE ATTENDED INVASION WITHOUT SUCH PREPARATION.

JUN 12 1943

SO FAR SO GOOD. IT NOW REMAINS TO BE SEEN WHETHER THIS FIRST TRIUMPH REALLY REPRESENTS THE EFFICACY OF THIS METHOD OF ATTACK. IT'S A THRILLING MOMENT, FOR WE ARE WITNESSING A HISTORIC EXPERIMENT.

JUN 12 1943

30.24-4911

TIME ALONE CAN PROVE THE POINT, BUT TODAY'S SUCCESS CERTAINLY SHOULD BOOST THE STOCK OF BRITISH PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL'S DRY REMARK RECENTLY BEFORE THE JOINT SESSION OF CONGRESS THAT THE IDEA OF BOMBING THE AXIS INTO SUBMISSION WAS WORTH TRYING, ANYWAY.

THE SUBMISSION OF PANTELLERIA REMOVES A GRAVE MENACE TO ALLIED SHIPPING FROM THE NARROW CHANNEL WHICH THE ALLIES MUST CONTROL FOR FURTHER OPERATIONS IN THE MEDITERRANEAN. THIS VOLCANIC ISLAND, WHICH MUSSOLINI FORTIFIED HEAVILY A FEW YEARS AGO, IS SMALL IN SIZE BUT BIG IN IMPORTANCE.

JUN 12 1943

IT PROVIDES A STEPPING STONE IN THE DIRECTION OF IL DUCE'S UNHAPPY COUNTRY. AS THINGS HAVE BEEN GOING, ONE WOULD EXPECT TO SEE BOMBING OF THE GREAT ISLANDS OF SICILY AND SARDINIA STEPPED UP NOW. THEY MAY BE THE NEXT OBJECTIVES TO COME UNDER THE ROD.

IF THE ALLIES CONTINUE AS THEY HAVE STARTED, THEY WILL PROCEED METHODICALLY WITH THEIR OPERATIONS. THEY WILL GO AS FAST AS IS FEASIBLE, BUT WON'T BE RUSHED.

NATURALLY EVERYBODY IS LOOKING ACROSS THE ISLANDS TOWARD ITALY. SECRETARY OF STATE CORDELL HULL MAY HAVE BEEN SPEAKING WITH PROPHETIC VOICE WHEN HE REFERRED YESTERDAY TO "THE TIMELY END TO WHICH HE (MUSSOLINI) IS RAPIDLY APPROACHING."

ACTUALLY, WHILE WE WANT TO SEE ITALY IN ALLIED HANDS AS SOON AS POSSIBLE, IT ALREADY IS SO BATTERED IN MORALE THAT IT'S FAR FROM THE THREAT IT USED TO BE. FROM THE STANDPOINT OF SECURITY, THE ALLIES NEEDN'T RUSH INVASION OF THE ITALIAN MAINLAND IF THEY DON'T WANT TO. MUSSOLINI'S COUNTRY HAS BECOME A PAIN IN THE NECK TO HITLER, AND THE UNITED NATIONS WON'T FIND IT AN UNDILUTED BLESSING, EITHER.

A99

THE WORDS "TOO LATE" ARE RUNNING THROUGH BELEAGUERED ITALY LIKE THE REFRAIN OF A THEME SONG. RADIO COMMENTATORS ARE PREPARING THE PUBLIC FOR THE STORM WHOSE BLACK CLOUDS ARE BILLOWING ACROSS THE MEDITERRANEAN TOWARDS THE ROMAN PENINSULA.

JUN 12 1943

LATEST TO GO ON THE AIR WITH PROPHETIC GLOOM IS CAMILLO PELLIZZI, NATIONAL COUNCILLOR, WHO SAYS THAT "THERE IS AT PRESENT A GENERAL STATE OF CONFUSION WHICH.....CANNOT LAST LONG." THE WAR HAS ENTERED ITS SECOND STAGE, HE EXPLAINS, AND MANY ISSUES RELIED UPON AT THE BEGINNING NOW LOOK DIFFERENT. AT THE OUTSET IT LOOKED AS THOUGH THE WAR WOULD BE CONFINED TO EUROPE, BUT IT BECAME A WORLD CONFLICT.

THE COUNCILLOR DOESN'T AMPLIFY THAT LAST REMARK ABOUT A WORLD CONFLICT, BUT IT DOESN'T TAKE MUCH MIND READING TO FIGURE OUT THAT HE IS REGRETTING AMERICA'S PARTICIPATION. MUSSOLINI DIDN'T EXPECT THAT WHEN HE RUSHED TO STAB FRANCE IN THE BACK SO AS TO GET ABOARD THE BOCHE BAND-WAGON BEFORE HITLER FORCED THE ALLIES TO SURRENDER UNCONDITIONALLY. ANYWAY, PELLIZZI REMARKS SADLY:

"IT IS NOW TOO LATE, FAR TOO LATE, TO TURN BACK AND THINK OVER THE FACTS AND PROPOSALS OF THAT (EARLY) PERIOD."

MT903AEW

(AP SPECIAL ADVANCE FOR PMS OF SATURDAY, JUNE 12)

NOW THAT JAPS ARE DEAD,

WHAT NEXT ON ATTU?

- - -

ANY MAN IN ALASKAN

DEFENSE COMMAND KNOWS; IT'S THE ENGINEERS' BABY (800)

- - -

(THIS IS THE SECOND OF A SERIES OF INTERPRETIVE STORIES ON THE AMERICAN CONQUEST OF ATTU ISLAND WRITTEN BY WILLIAM L.WORDEN, ASSOCIATED PRESS WAR CORRESPONDENT WHO WAS ON THE SCENE THROUGHOUT THE FIGHTING.)

JUN 12 1943

BY WILLIAM L.WORDEN

JUN 12 1943

(ADVANCE)--HEADQUARTERS ALASKA DEFENSE COMMAND, JUNE 12 (AP) ANY MAN IN THE ALASKA DEFENSE COMMAND CAN ANSWER READILY THE QUESTION OF WHAT COMES NEXT ON ATTU.

NOW THAT THE JAPANESE ALL ARE DEAD OR CAPTURED, EXCEPT POSSIBLY A FEW STRAGGLERS IN THE MOUNTAINS, ATTU BECOMES JUST ANOTHER ALEUTIAN ISLAND TO BE MADE INTO A BASE--OR PERHAPS MORE CORRECTLY, A FORTRESS--AS HAS BEEN DONE WITH MANY BEFORE. THE START OF THE TASK HAD TO BE DELAYED FOR THE BURYING OF THE DEAD, WHICH, WITH SOME 2,000 JAPANESE BODIES TO BE TAKEN CARE OF, WAS IN ITSELF A MAJOR JOB, AND FOR CLEANING UP THE LITTER OF THE 21-DAY BATTLE.

THE AMERICANS FOUND ATTU VERY LITTLE DIFFERENT FROM ANY OF THE OTHER ALEUTIANS THEIR TROOPS HAVE OCCUPIED EXCEPT THAT THE OTHERS WERE NOT POPULATED AT ALL OR ELSE WERE INHABITED ONLY BY A FEW ALEUTS. AT ATTU THE JAPANESE, IN THEIR YEAR OF OCCUPATION BUILT NO SINGLE ROAD OF ANY LENGTH. THEY NEVER HAD A DOCK. EVEN THEIR BEACH DEFENSES WERE SLIM AND POORLY PLACED. THE JAPANESE AND THE BATTLE TO OUST THEM REMOVED ALL VESTIGES OF THE ALEUT VILLAGE WHICH WAS THERE, EXCEPT FOR HALF BURNED BOARDS AND BROKEN FOUNDATIONS.

THE JAPANESE LEFT NOTHING BUT SOME AMMUNITION AND ONE HALF-COMPLETED AIRFIELD. ALL THIS WAS AT HOLTZ BAY.

ALREADY ATTU HAS BECOME AN ENGINEERS' BABY RATHER THAN A MILITARY PROBLEM. BULLDOZERS MOVED IN BEHIND THE FRONT LINES DURING THE BATTLE AND HAVE BEEN SNORTING DAY AND NIGHT FOR NEARLY A MONTH. A NETWORK OF ROADS WHICH THE AMERICANS KNOW IS NECESSARYTO COMPLETE

JUN 12 1943

DEFENSE OR EVEN TO LIVE DECENTLY ON THE ISLAND IS BEGINNING TO PUSH THROUGH THE HIGH PASSES.

SOMETIMES EXPLORING BULLDOZERS TRY TO CLIMB SLOPES TOO STEEP AND SLICK AND SLIDE DOWN THE HILLS. SOMETIMES THEY BOG DOWN IN THE OMNIPRESENT SWAMPS, BUT EVENTUALLY THEY GET THROUGH ONE WAY OR ANOTHER--ON CREEK BOTTOMS WHERE GRAVEL FORMS A SOLID ROAD BASE OR ON ROCKY RIDGES.

JUN 12 1943

B42KX

ALL THAT REMAINS IS TO MAKE A SURFACE FIT FOR JUMPING JEEPS OR ROARING TRUCKS, AND EVENTUALLY EVEN FOR OFFICERS' CARS, WHICH ALREADY HAVE BEEN DELIVERED TO ATTU ALTHOUGH THEY CAN'T GET FAR FROM THE LANDING BEACH.

SIMULTANEOUSLY, THE BUSINESS OF SIMPLIFYING THE UNLOADING OF SHIPS IS UNDERWAY. THIS MEANS DOCKS. THE JAPANESE WERE CONTENT--PERHAPS THEY HAD NO CHOICE BECAUSE OF CONTINUOUS BOMBINGS--TO LIGHTER EVERY BIT OF EQUIPMENT ASHORE. WRECKED REMNANTS OF THEIR LIGHTERS--WOODEN AFFAIRS, SOMEWHAT SIMILAR TO OUR OWN TANK AND JEEP LIGHTERS, BUT MUCH MORE CRUDE--LINE THE BEACHES. MOST OF THESE ARE NOT WORTH SALVAGING.

DURING THE BATTLE OF ATTU, THE AMERICANS SUCCEEDED IN GETTING THOUSANDS OF TONS OF FOOD, AMMUNITION, GUNS AND ROLLING STOCK ASHORE IN THESE SMALL BOATS, BUT IT WAS A LABORIOUS BUSINESS, DICTATED BY BATTLE NECESSITY ONLY.

NOW DOCKS ARE BEING BUILT. SOON OCEAN SHIPS WILL BE ABLE TO BERTH COMFORTABLY IN MASSACRE BAY WHERE NEARLY 200 YEARS AGO THE RUSSIANS SLEW THE NATIVES AND GAVE THE BAY ITS NAME.

JUN 12 1943

3024-4913

FOR LIVING QUARTERS, THE AMERICANS MUST START FROM SCRATCH. BECAUSE OF THEIR ORIGINAL FLIMSINESS, THE NAVAL BOMBARDMENTS AND AMERICAN GRENADING, VIRTUALLY NO JAPANESE BUILDINGS OR UNDERGROUND STRUCTURES STILL ARE IN USABLE OR REPAIRABLE CONDITION.

OUR TROOPS MUST IMPORT, AS THEY DID ON OTHER ISLANDS, EVERY SCRAP OF METAL AND ALL BUT A VERY FEW PIECES OF LUMBER FOR YAKUTAT AND QUONSET HUTS. THESE ALREADY ARE BEGINNING TO GO UP IN VARIOUS PLACES ON THE ISLAND, WHILE IN MANY OTHER SPOTS THE AMERICANS HAVE GONE INTO WINTERIZED FLOORED AND WALLED TENTS. THE JAPANESE NEVER DID HAVE THEM ALTHOUGH THEY HAD PARTIAL FLOORS IN SOME DUGOUTS.

NATURALLY THE PROBLEM OF SUPPLY WILL BE NE OF THE GREATEST ON AT

JUN 12 1943

NATURALLY THE PROBLEM OF SUPPLY WILL BE ONE OF THE GREATEST ON ATTU. THE ISLAND LIES MUCH CLOSER TO JAPAN THAN TO THE NEAREST AMERICAN SUPPLY BASE OF A SIZE SUFFICIENT TO HANDLE THE SENDING OF FOOD, MUNITIONS, ETC.

THIS PROBLEM, HOWEVER, IS NOT AS DIFFICULT AS IT MIGHT SEEM. AMERICANS VESSELS NOW MOVE WITH IMPUNITY WITHIN SIGHT OF KISKA ON THEIR WAY TO ATTU, WHEREAS ONLY A FEW MONTHS AGO THEY HAD TO GIVE EVERY JAPANESE-OCCUPIED ISLAND A WIDE BERTH FOR FEAR OF AERIAL ATTACK.

AMONG THE THINGS THE JAPANESE NEVER HAD WERE GOOD TELEPHONE LINES, DECENT DRINKING WATER, COMFORTABLE BARRACKS, A USUABLE AIR FIELD AND INTERIOR LINES OF COMMUNICATION. ALL THESE MUST BE BUILT AND ARE BEING BUILT.

JUN 12 1943

SIMILARLY, ALL THE ENEMY HAD WERE A FEW DUAL PURPOSE GUNS ON HOLTZ AND CHICHAGOF BEACHES. THE AMERICANS HAD MORE ARTILLERY THAN THAT ASHORE IN THE FIRST DAY OF OCCUPATION. NOW THEY MUST, WITH AMERICAN THOROUGHNESS, PREPARE EVERY BEACH AGAINST ATTACK, EVERY VANTAGE POINT AGAINST AERIAL FORAYS.

THE BATTLE HAS DOUBLED THE DIFFICULTY OF MANY OF THESE TASKS. IT WILL BE A LONG TIME BEFORE ANY WATER SUPPLY ON ATTU IS BEYOND SUSPICION. IT POSSIBLY WILL BE QUITE A WHILE BEFORE ALL THE ENEMY LAND MINES ARE FOUND AND THE LAST ENEMY SNIPER LABORIOUSLY HUNTED OUT OF THE FRIGID PEAKS. THE ISLAND ITSELF PRESENTS THE USUAL DIFFICULTIES OF ALEUTIAN FOG, SOGGY TUNDRA SOIL THAT BECOMES DUST THE MINUTE IT STARTS DRYING OUT, STREAMS THAT RUN IN THE WRONG PLACES AND LAKES AND PONDS.

JUN 12 1943

FISH ARE RUNNING IN THE ATTU STREAMS NOW THAT THE BATTLE IS OVER, BUT NOT MANY OF THE AMERICANS THERE WILL HAVE TIME TO GO FISHING.

(END AP SPECIAL ADVANCE FOR SATURDAY PMS, JUNE 12. MOVED JUNE 11)

GG822ACW NM

BLANK

JUN 12 1943

Lampedusa Yields After 30 Hours of Pounding

JUN 13 1943

Record R.A.F. Raid Hits Duesseldorf, Muenster

WHITE FLAG RAISED ON SMALL ISLAND BY ITALIAN TROOPS

JUN 13 1943

Fortress' Installations Demolished by Concentrated Attacks by Bombers.

SHIP SUNK IN HARBOR

Garrison Quits as Terrific Pounding from Air Demoralizes All Defenses.

MEDITERRANEAN OPEN

Last Potential Danger to Allied Convoys Removed—Sardinia Tagged Next.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 12—(AP) Italy's island fortress of Lampedusa surrendered today to the Allies after a 24-hour air and naval bombardment.

A white flag was raised at 6:29 p. m. (12:29 p. m. E.W.T.), the same means of capitulation effected at Pantelleria yesterday.

Troops Land Quickly

Allied troops waiting off shore promptly began landing. Occupation was complete at 7 p. m. (1 p. m. E.W.T.)

Lampedusa's installations were demolished as were those at Pantelleria. Allied airmen "walked" their bombs at will over the entire harbor and coastal artillery area—destroying all without either air or ground opposition.

A third of the town area on the tiny 20-square-mile island also was wrecked, a boat in the harbor smashed.

Smoke blanketed the entire area when British naval officers spied a white flag ashore. They landed, conferred with the Italian commander, and then troops took possession of the island which has a small landing field but a rather shallow harbor.

Second Axis Surrender

Thus Lampedusa became the second bit of Axis territory to surrender to the overwhelming might of Allied air power.

British ships pumped occasional shells into riddled Lampedusa, but it was air power which once more shattered the occupants into submission, and gained experience for bigger things to come.

Pantelleria yielded between 10,000 and 15,000 prisoners; the size of Lampedusa's smaller garrison was not yet determined.

Planes Attack in Relays

All this morning and until late today relays of American and British bombers, escorted by many types of fighters, raked and blasted the island which was the last potential danger to Allied shipping convoys crossing the Mediterranean.

British naval forces supported the operation as they had done in the reduction of Pantelleria, blockading the island to prevent supplies being shipped from Sicily.

But Allied planes assumed the major role, smashing Lampedusa's air fields, patrolling the skies against the possibility of supplies being dropped by parachute, and methodically blasting to bits the coastal and anti-aircraft artillery emplacements.

Enemy Attack Reported

(The Algiers radio reported in a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press that 30 enemy planes attempted to attack an Allied force landing on Lampedusa but were driven off. A similar attack was broken up yesterday at Pantelleria when 50 to 60 German dive bombers were engaged by American Lightning fighter pilots over the landing parties).

Earlier in the day a broadcast Italian communique said Lampedusa was fighting back heroically in answer to an Allied ultimatum for surrender.

There was no confirmation of the ultimatum until the surrender and occupation were announced tonight in a special communique from the headquarters of General Dwight D. Eisenhower.

It said: "After 24 hours of intermittent naval and air bombardment the island of Lampedusa today surrendered and is being occupied by our forces."

The mighty air offensive turned on Lampedusa around noontime yesterday when the white flag was hoisted on Pantelleria, and some of the bombers headed there were detoured to Lampedusa to begin the 24-hour naval-air siege.

American Marauders were first to turn their attack on Lampedusa, an island seven miles long and two miles wide, located about 80 miles south of Pantelleria.

Raids Continue After Dark

Then other Allied bombers joined in the assault during the afternoon and still others kept up the bombardment after dark.

They hit a large merchant ship in Lampedusa harbor and damaged several smaller craft with large explosions.

"After the fall of Pantelleria yesterday the Northwest African air forces turned their attention against the island of Lampedusa," said a communique issued earliar today by Gen. Eisenhower's headquarters.

"The bombing which commenced early in the afternoon continued throughout the night.

"During the day's operations, 14 enemy aircraft were destroyed. Three of our aircraft are missing."

Will Press Campaign

(Although it had been regarded as obvious that Lampedusa was doomed as soon as Pantelleria fell, the speed with which the Allies moved in to take over the airport base was believed to be evidence of their determination to carry the assault swiftly and relentlessly against Italy's main coastal defenses.

(In London, unofficial sources expressed the belief that Sardinia would be next. They pointed out that although it does not afford a concentrated target for the air and naval battering which caused the smaller islands to give up, it is beyond the defense range of the Axis unless Italy's harbored fleet ventures out into action.)

Lampedusa is 150 miles south of Sicily and 100 miles west of Malta. It has been cut off for weeks by Allied air and naval control of the surrounding waters.

Although Allied air attacks recently have kept the Axis from using Lampedusa's air base, motor torpedoboats and submarines have used its harbors to menace the Allied sealane through the Sicilian strait.

It was disclosed that the fortifications and garrison at Lampedusa did not compare in strength with those at Pantelleria, which capitulated yesterday in the 20th day of terrifying assault from air and sea.

No Losses on Pantelleria

It was officially announced also that not a single soldier was lost when units of the veteran British First army swarmed ashore on Pantelleria yesterday after its bomb-dazed garrison had surrendered.

This refuted German claims that an attack by 50 to 60 Nazi divebombers at the climax of the occupation had sunk an 8,000-ton Allied troop transport and 13 landing boats and done serious damage to several British warships assisting in the landing. Fourteen of the attacking dive bombers were destroyed by alert American fighters covering the movement.

15,000 Prisoners

Estimates of the number of Italian prisoners taken on Pantelleria were placed officially at "over 10,000," while an unofficial source placed the latest bag of Mussolini's fighters at 15,000. There was not believed to have been a German in the lot. Three thousand prisoners already were enroute to Tunisia to join their legion of comrades behind Allied blockades.

It was stressed at headquarters that the conquest of Pantelleria unfolded smoothly and exactly according to plans drawn up by Allied land, sea and air leaders.

In order to have a clear channel across the straits between Tunisia and Sicily it obviously was necessary to reduce the island, which stuck up like a fragment of a bottle-stopper in the middle of the Mediterranean shipping lane. The Allies simply decided to remove the obstruction, and as cheaply as possible.

It was pointed out that possession of Pantelleria's airdrome places all Sicily within easy operational range of the Allied fighter fleet, and that from now on Lightnings, Warhawks, Spitfires and Airacobras will be accompanying Allied bombers in their raids on the big island situated off the toe of the Italian mainland.

Until Lampedusa capitulated it was considered something of a thorn in the side of Allied Mediterranean shipping, although it was far less important to the Axis than Pantelleria, which served as an air base from which to strike convoys.

In Allied hands, Pantelleria offers an excellent advanced base from which even fighter planes of the shortest range can operate against Sicily. The latter also has felt the weight of Allied bombs in the past few days. A Middle East air command communique announced that R.A.F. heavy bombers pounded Reggio Calabria, on the toe of Italy just seven miles across the Straight of Messina from Sicily, Thursday night.

Nearly all of the bomber strength in Tunisia has been mustered for the deadly daytime precision bombing and the nightly nuisance raids against the Mediterranean islands.

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 12 (A. P.).—The Allied Air Forces, which made history by forcing the surrender of Pantelleria yesterday without the intervention of a single land soldier, have turned the full weight of their attack upon the Italian island of Lampedusa, eighty miles to the south, Gen. Eisenhower's headquarters announced today.

Lampedusa is only about half the size of the rocky fortress of Pantelleria, which turned in its checks after the greatest deluge of bombs on so small a target in the history of aerial warfare.

That surrender came at noon. In the afternoon Lampedusa began experiencing a similar pounding, and the onslaught continued all night.

[In a communique broadcast by the Rome radio and picked up at New York by the Associated Press, the Italian High Command said today that the Allies had served an ultimatum demanding the surrender of Lampedusa, eighty miles to the south, by noon today, and that the island capitulated at that hour. The Italian communique said that yesterday morning alone the Allies dropped a total of 1,650 tons of bombs on Pantelleria.]

Meanwhile today it was announced that more than 10,000 Italians were taken prisoner on Pantelleria. The official account of the capture said the capitulation of the island was effected precisely according to plan. Apparently not a single German was among the prisoners, 3,000 of

JUN 13 1943

Second Mediterranean Outpost Of Axis Is Occupied in Two Days

American Air Squadrons Lead Smashing Assault on Enemy Base Just South of Pantelleria.

JUN 13 1943

BULLETIN.

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 12 (A. P.).—Lampedusa island has been occupied, a special communique from Gen. Eisenhower's headquarters announced tonight.

The special communique said: After twenty-four hours of intermittent naval and aerial bombardment, the island of Lampedusa today surrendered and is being occupied by our forces."

JUN 13 1943

1943

30.24-4915

whom were being transported to the African mainland this afternoon.

So far as was known, not a single casualty occurred among the Allied landing force, troops of the famous British First Division, made up largely of veterans of Dunkirk. As the troops swarmed ashore from their landing boats they were greeted by white flags, and had difficulty in finding senior officers whose troops were surrendering en masse.

JUN 13 1943

Americans Lead Off.

Allied Headquarters also announced that the concluding phase of the capture of Pantelleria, and the initial blows at Lampedusa, resulted in the shooting down of fourteen enemy aircraft yesterday, compared with a loss of three Allied planes.

American marauders led off with the first smashing attack on Lampedusa almost before the dust and smoke of the assault on much stronger Pantelleria had settled. Other Allied planes kept up the bombardment until nightfall, when the Royal Air Force Wellingtons, the night workhorses, took up the job.

The Americans said that from eight to ten small craft in Lampedusa's only harbor were covered by strings of bombs and that one large explosion was noted.

The island's defenses had already been tested by light British naval forces from Malta. They put ashore a landing party early this week, losing only two men.

Smash at Italian Mainland.

Unlike Pantelleria, Lampedusa is only a secondary air and submarine base, and much of its effectiveness was reported destroyed by bombing from Malta as early as last February. Seven by two miles in size, it is even less strongly held than Pantelleria was, and is apparently, without its own air cover. Also it is further from Axis air and sea support than Pantelleria was.

Just the same, heavy bombers from the Desert Air Force were busy seeing to it that no aid would be forthcoming. They blasted at Reggio Calabria, on the toe of Italy, Thursday night. A hangar was blown up and others were set afire.

Meanwhile squadrons from Malta attacked targets at Pozzallo and Milazzo, in Sicily.

announcement that German dive-bombers were intercepted and put to flight by squadrons of American fighters.

Free Air Over Lampedusa.

No enemy planes were encountered as the Allies diverted their bombers from Pantelleria to Lampedusa yesterday.

Capt. Harold B. Lawson of Finleyville, Pa., said his Marauders hit one fairly large merchant ship and six small boats. The second wave of Marauders dropped bombs on the docks and gun positions.

"I saw a hell of a big explosion and a column of smoke 1,000 feet high, also a lot of flames. About fifteen minutes after we left the target we looked back and saw another big explosion," said Lieut. Randall L. Jones of Roanoke, Va., a bombardier.

The Wellingtons that followed at night included blockbusters in their cargoes.

Capt. F. L. Jerome, a Fortress pilot, from Portland, Ore., said: "We were just going over the target on Pantelleria, when the radio flash came through to hold all bombs. The island was one smoking mass of destruction."

Holding all bombs, as ordered, Capt. Jerome altered his course and went south to Lampedusa.

one-third of the town of Lampedusa and the harbor area.

Returning fighter and bomber pilots said that large sections were demolished before Lampedusa crumbled—less than 30 hours after the collapse of resistance on neighboring Pantelleria, 80 miles to the northwest.

After the white flag was run up—no Italian island is complete these days without one—Allied air and naval officers called off further bombing attacks and scheduled shellings by destroyers hovering in the area.

Weaving a pattern of devastation, the American airmen walked their bombs near the waterline across the island's harbor and peninsula, destroying docks, barracks, gun positions and buildings.

Flames and smoke spouted like a field of cabbages and a pall spread over the entire end of the little island.

JUN 13 1943

Isle Capitulates to R.A.F. Pilot Landing Damaged Plane in Raid

AN ADVANCED AIR BASE IN NORTH AFRICA, June 12.—(AP) The Italian fortress island of Lampedusa surrendered today to a sergeant pilot of the Royal Air force who landed his amphibious plane at the airport during the Allied bombardment after being forced down on a flight from Malta.

The Italians came running out, waving white flags and crying:

"Can you stop it?"

Instead of trying to stop it, the sergeant, named Cohen, was forced to join the Italians in a foxhole shelter where he was kept two hours by the continuous heavy bombing.

"The bombardment was terrific," he reported. "The island shook from end to end."

During a lull in the afternoon he found that the vibration of the explosions apparently had jarred his plane's engine back into flying order.

He then took off—undeterred by the lonesome Italians—and landed safely at a Tunisian field.

The surrender of the tiny island, second Italian stronghold of the Mediterranean to succumb to Allied air power in two days, came late today after hea smashes by light and medium bers laid waste

Fall Contrasted With Tenacity Of Malta

By J. W. Gallagher
[Associated Press Correspondent]

New York, June 12—Pantelleria's surrender to a nineteen-day air and sea bombardment gave striking new evidence today of the rapidly accelerating decline of the Luftwaffe, once Hitler's mightiest arm.

In less than three weeks American and British air power achieved what the Luftwaffe had failed to do in two years—the reducing of an island fortress by air attack.

Just 140 miles east of Pantelleria lies Malta. Isolated and surrounded by enemy-held bases, Malta beat off the fury of the combined attacks of the Nazi and Fascist air forces week after week, month after month.

Malta Handicap Worse

Although slightly larger than Pantelleria, Malta had the added handicap of having to depend only on her own island-based planes and anti-aircraft for support.

Pantelleria could call and did call upon the near-by fields in Sicily for help, but was unable to stand up under the Allied air blows.

The Luftwaffe was unable to protect her own, and in that lies the chief hope of a successful British-American-French invasion of Europe. Since last February, when the Northwest African Air Forces under Lieut. Gen. Carl A. Spaatz started to get the upper hand of the Axis air forces in Tunisia, the decline of the Luftwaffe has been so rapid as to almost indicate a complete collapse.

Draws Invasion Pattern

The pattern of invasion has been drawn. Furious air attacks against Axis airfields to knock out the enemy's air forces, a shift to bombing of military installations and ports and then a swift land assault preceded by more bombing.

During the last five months of fighting there has been no indication that the Luftwaffe will be able to do what the RAF did in 1940. The Germans have lost every battle for local air superiority since the Allies landed in North Africa and Air Marshal Sir Arthur Tedder's desert air forces knocked the Luftwaffe from the skies over El Alamein.

Tribute To Spaatz

That Pantelleria fell to bombardment alone without a land assault is a tribute to the organizing genius of the red-haired commander of the Northwest African Air Forces.

When British and American troops burst through the German defense lines before Tunis and Bizerte, Spaatz had 200 trucks packed with technicians and equipment hidden in the Tunisian mountains ready to rush through the gaps and take charge of the captured airfields. In a matter of hours they had fighter planes and bombers operating from fields within sight of Tunis and Bizerte. These planes immediately shifted their attack to Pantelleria, giving the Axis troops no time to recuperate.

His Faith Borne Out

The taciturn American commander had an unshaken belief that his bombers could reduce the fortress which il Duce had hoped to turn into an Italian Malta. While the air attack went on a landing force was gathered to make the final assault that the ground generals felt would be necessary. As it happened, Spaatz' bombers and Admiral Sir Andrew Cunningham's Royal Navy turned the "assault" into a "parade."

Spaatz and Cunningham have often been friendly rivals over the abilities of their respective arms. During the spring, American bombers sent on sea sweeps at Cunningham's request supplemented the Royal Navy blockade of Tunisia. This time the Royal Navy supplemented the air forces with "strategic bombardment" of the island defenses.

RUSSIANS HAIL FALL OF ISLAND

JUN 13 1943

See Victory Closer With Pantelleria's Capture.

Moscow, June 12 (A. P.).—The capture of Pantelleria was welcomed by the Russian people today as a rehearsal for still bigger operations. There was excited chattering on crowded subways, buses and street cars as the news of the island's fall was read, but the news was more of a thrill than a surprise.

More optimistic than ever, the Russians everywhere tell you "It's just a question of time now." This was a change from the questioning speculation over the possibility of a second front which engaged them through the winter and spring.

Izvestia's lead editorial on the United States-Russia lend-lease agreement anniversary said "the outcome is nearing. The alliance of arms of the U. S. R. R., Great Britain and the United States, tested in battle and cemented with blood, will lead to the common victory of freedom-loving peoples."

At a luncheon yesterday given for American Ambassador Admiral William H. Standley, honoring the first anniversary of the signing of the United States-Russian agreement, the Soviet Foreign Affairs Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov assured his American guests that the Russians were "fully cognizant" of American aid.

Post-war co-operation was stressed by both Mr. Standley and Mr. Molotov and by other speakers, including Brig.-Gen. Joseph A. Michela, American military attache; Rear Admiral Jack Duncan, naval attache, and Brig.-Gen. Phillip R. Faymonville, lend-lease authority.

Observers said the luncheon was to impress upon the Americans the sincerity of Russia's intentions toward collaboration in the post-war world, and every speech emphasized the importance placed by the Russians upon this. They saw it, too, as a trend toward better understanding and better appreciation between Russia and America.

ISLAND VICTORY HAILED

Pantelleria's Surrender Wins Praise in Chungking

CHUNGKING, China, June 12 (AP)—Chinese quarters hailed the occupation of Pantelleria today as a prelude to the invasion of Italy.

The loss of Pantelleria must have been as bitter to Italy as the loss of Attu was to the Japanese, it was said.

"The victorious banners of the United Nations are moving northward," the newspaper Ta Kung Pao said. It said that the destruction of the Italian Navy should be the immediate task of the Allied forces, as, under pressure from Germany, "the Italian Navy may cast its last throw."

Lampedusa Has No Harbor for Large Vessels

Most of Island's Coastline Is Cliff-Bound; Area Is Seven Miles by Two

The Italian island of Lampedusa, which surrendered yesterday to the Allies, has an area only seven miles by two and is about ninety miles east of Sousse, Tunisia, and 100 miles west of Malta, The Associated Press notes. A patch of bare rock with fertile valleys, the island has been colonized only 100 years. The peace-time population was about 3,500.

Lampedusa has figured little in news of the war, but probably was used to some degree as an air base by the Axis during the African campaigns.

Its only village and harbor, also named Lampedusa, is on the southern coast. The harbor can accommodate only small craft in its half-mile indentation with three shallow bays. There are a few other beaches on the southeastern part of the island, but the rest of the coastline is cliff-bound. The islanders in peace time grew grain and vegetables and engaged in sardine and sponge fishing.

Eight miles west of Lampedusa is the islet of Lampione. Thirty miles to the northeast is Linosa, a volcanic isle measuring about two miles by two. It affords landing places on the south and west.

Lampedusa was a hideout for

JUN 13 1943

Barbary pirates during the last century and it is believed that some of Commodore Stephen Decatur's forces may have touched there after their destruction of the pirates' power in Tripoli.

Both Lampedusa and the neighboring rocky Lampione derive their names from the middle ages, when it was the custom for hermits to light fires on the highest rocky headlands to warn away ships.

Thereafter, both Russia and Great Britain became interested in planting flags there. Russia attempted to obtain possession of Lampedusa, intending to establish a maritime colony to counter-balance Malta.

The British had been there previously and were credited with having introduced agriculture to the island. Later both countries abandoned claim to Lampedusa and the King of Naples took possession of it in 1843.

All Sicily in Fighter Range

LONDON, June 12 (AP)—All Sicily is now within range of Allied fighter planes th[illegible]gh the capture of Pantelleria, Air Ministry pointed out today. Fighter craft from there can reach the western half of Sicily and Malta-based planes cover the eastern half.

Thus fighter cover can accompany all bombing missions over this next island step toward the Italian mainland.

The Ministry reported that Pantelleria had been bombed into submission at a total cost of "some forty airmen." The only casualties were the crews of the aircraft that the Allies lost in bombing the island seventeen out of twenty-four days and nights, beginning May 18. The Ministry added that, in more than 3,000 bomber and fighter-bomber sorties against the island, less than twenty planes had not returned.

"In other words," the announcement said, "the defenses of Pantelleria itself and the entire resources of Germany and Italy in this theatre were only able to inflict a loss of about one aircraft out of every 150 which bombarded this important island fortress."

No Losses in Occupation

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 12 (AP)—It was officially announced today that not a single soldier had been lost when units of the veteran British First Army swarmed ashore on Pantelleria yesterday.

This refuted German claims that an attack by fifty to sixty dive-bombers at the climax of the occupation had sunk an 8,000-ton Allied troop transport and thirteen landing boats and had done serious damage to several British warship assisting in the landing. Fourteen of the attacking dive-bombers were destroyed by alert American fighters covering the movement.

Only 40 Flyers Are Lost

JUN 13 1943

London, June 12 (AP)—The Air Ministry reported today that Pantelleria, Italian bastian in the Mediterranean, was bombed into submission at a total cost of "some forty airmen."

The only casualties were the crews of the aircraft which the Allies lost in bombing the island seventeen out of twenty-four days and nights beginning May 18.

The Ministry added that out of more than 3,000 bomber and fighter bomber sorties against the island less than twenty failed to return.

"In other words," the announcement said, "the defense of Pantelleria itself and the entire resources of Germany and Italy in this theater were only able to inflict a loss of about one aircraft out of every 150 which bombarded this important island fortres.."

Troops On Pantelleria Describe Terrific Raids

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 12—(AP) Veterans of Dunkerque and heroes of Cap Bon in the First division of the British First army brought thousands of Italian prisoners to Africa from Pantelleria today and with them the story of hell created on earth by Allied air power.

One quoted an island dweller as saying the bombardment was "something like what I imagine Dante's 'Inferno' would be."

Members of the landing force said there were few injuries among the civilian population, which lived day and night in shelters hewn in the rocks. There was no water the last three days, the people told the soldiers, and only a little food.

43 BIG WARPLANES LOST BY BRITISH IN RUHR ASSAULT

Muenster, Other Targets in Industrial Area Hard Hit.

LONDON, June 12.—(AP) Hundreds of British bombers, forming the mightiest air fleet ever assembled, dealt Duesseldorf a crushing blow last night with an hour-long assault which spread also over other German armament centers of the Ruhr and Rhineland.

While the R.A.F. announced neither the total number of raiders nor the tonnage of bombs, the formation was said to be the greatest fleet of heavy bombers in history.

Exceeds Cologne Raid

Its striking power was believed to exceed that of the 1,250 R.A.F. large, medium and light bombers which attacked Cologne the night of May 30, 1942, and the weight of bombs undoubtedly surpassed the 2,000 tons dumped on Dortmund last May 23.

Roaring across the English channel for the first time since May 29, the R.A.F. heavyweights took up their part in the pre-invasion aerial bombardment of Europe from the west which was resumed yesterday after a lull of nearly two weeks when more than 200 American heavies blasted Wilhelmshaven and Cuxhaven.

Axis radio stations began leaving the air long before sundown today, indicating new Allied aerial blows at Hitler's European fortress.

43 Bombers Lost

Last night's record assault cost the R.A.F. 43 big bombers. Although the loss was heavy, it was not regarded here as excessive in view of the size of the raiding force and the vast destruction achieved.

"Preliminary reports indicated great damage was done," said the Air ministry communique, [illegible] disclosed that the heaviest [illegible] the secondary targets was Muenster, 60 miles northeast of Duesseldorf on the Ems river.

The brief bulletin did not identify "several other targets in the Ruhr and Rhineland" which were bombed, but declared that the Duesseldorf raid was a "highly concentrated attack x x x delivered in just over an hour."

British fighters on intruder patrols also shot down an enemy plane over Holland, it was announced.

Damage Huge in Dortmund

The Air ministry also released the official story of damage done in the May 23 raid on Dortmund, which after that assault replaced Essen as the most heavily bombed city in the world. But now that title probably belongs to Duesseldorf.

The belief prevailed here that when the story of Duesseldorf's devastation is told it will be greater than anything its sister German cities ever experienced.

Returning pilots described the weather over the target last night as perfect, with Duesseldorf's great armament factories seen clearly in the bright moonlight. The bombs touched off fires visible for 70 miles.

Air Marshal Sir Arthur T. Harris, chief of the R.A.F. bomber command, ordered the raid in late evening after day-long consultations with weather experts.

One Canadian squadron reported that the German opposition was the lightest yet encountered in the Ruhr, but others found the going more difficult.

GIANT BRITISH FORCE ROCKS DUESSELDORF

JUN 13 1943

Muenster Also Battered as Allies Renew Attacks on Record Scale.

43 BOMBERS ARE MISSING

Night Raids Follow New Smash by 200 Flying Fortresses on U-boat Bases.

London, June 12 (A. P.).—The R. A. F., resuming its deadly offensive against the armament centers of the Reich, sent the greatest force of heavy bombers of the war to attack several targets in the Ruhr and Rhineland last night, concentrating its greatest deluge of bombs on Duesseldorf, it was announced today.

Muenster was the biggest target among the secondary objectives, the Air Ministry said, and forty-three bombers were lost in the assault which followed by only a few hours a heavy daylight precision raid by 200 American four-engined planes against the naval bases of Wilhelmshaven and Cuxhaven.

The weight of bombs dropped undoubtedly exceeded the record 2,000 tons loosed on Dortmund on May 22, and the number of planes used probably was the largest since 1,250 R. A. F. bombers of all types—large, medium and light—were sent against Cologne the night of May 30, 1942.

[Although this dispatch stated that the formations used last night made up "the greatest force of heavy bombers of the war," the actual number employed was not announced.]

"Duesseldorf was the main objective and a highly concentrated attack was delivered in just over an hour," said the Air Ministry communique in telling of the night offensive.

Great Damage Indicated.

"Preliminary reports indicate great damage was done. A smaller force attacked Munster, where good results were achieved. Several other targets in the Ruhr and Rhineland were bombed."

Muenster is a little more than sixty miles northeast of Duesseldorf and is on the Ems River.

The Air Ministry said British intruder patrols also were over the Netherlands where they shot down a German plane last night.

The German High Command in a communique broadcast from Berlin and recorded by the Associated Press, declared fifty-four British and United States aircraft, mostly four-engined bombers, were shot down yesterday and last night.

It acknowledged that the attack on Duesseldorf "caused heavy losses among the population and considerable damage to dwelling houses as well as public buildings," and that the American attacks also caused losses to the Germans.

The R. A. F. attack on Germany's third largest inland port city was described officially here as very heavy, which probably meant the assault was comparable to the recent 1,500-to-2,000-ton raids aimed at obliterating German industrial centers one by one.

It was the fifty-third raid on Duesseldorf, which received its heaviest blasting on May 25 when about 500 British bombers dumped almost 2,000 tons of explosives upon its great iron and steel works.

Americans Break Lull.

The Eighth United States Air Force was the first to break the two-week lull yesterday when it sent the big, four-engined planes through swarms of enemy fighters and heavy flak on the 800-mile round trip to north-west Germany.

The devastating blows were resumed against the Reich even before the Axis had admitted the loss of Pantelleria—the Allied victory achieved chiefly by air power.

In the May 25 raid on Duesseldorf, a great assortment of two and four-ton block busters along with tens of thousands of incendiaries were cascaded upon the city. It was on this target also that the R. A. F. loosed its first four-ton block-blusters last September. Following additional heavy raids, it was announced in March that 380 acres of Duesseldorf had been flattened.

Eight U. S. Planes Lost.

Yesterday's resumption of the softening-up blows on Germany cost the Americans eight planes. The Eighth Air Force communique said a large number of the Nazi fighters which challenged during the long, unescorted trip were shot down.

The raid on Wilhelmshaven was the fifth by American heavies but their first on Cuxhaven, thirty miles to the northwest. The R. A. F., however, has attacked the submarine nests at the former pleasure resort of Cuxhaven seventeen times.

The raid represented the sixty-second air attack of the war for American bombers and followed by a day the declaration by Maj.-Gen. Ira C. Eaker that the Eighth United States Air Force would hit the enemy in three, four, five or more places in a single day, with fleets capable of obliterating any normal industrial target.

Yesterday's raid on Wilhelmshaven was described by returning American airmen as the easiest they had made on a German target despite the number of enemy fighters which attempted to intercept them.

Call It Dull Day.

The planes attacked in two waves with the first bombers over the target absorbing most of the fighter opposition. Consequently other groups said they encountered virtually no challenge from fighters and little anti-aircraft fire. Fighter opposition at Cuxhaven was called weak.

Lieut. Robert H. Gamble of New York city, bombardier of the Thunder Mug, said, "The Germans are slipping pretty damn bad when they can't send up any more fighters than they did for the number of forts attacking. I'd say it was dull as hell."

"I saw our bombs hit the submarine pen okay," said Lieut. A. C. Lewis of Ray, Ariz., co-pilot, who flew as tail gunner in the Fortress We the People.

R. A. F. fighter planes added to yesterday's renewal of Allied aerial blows in attacks on France and Holland, and Ventura bombers blasted the coke ovens and fuel depots at Zeebrugge in Belgium.

Speedy Mosquito bombers also raided occupied territory yesterday, and shot down a twin-engined German bomber as it was about to land in Holland. Another Nazi craft was destroyed over the British south coast during the night.

Three intruders tangled with five German Ju-88s yesterday over the Bay of Biscay, destroying one and damaging three without loss to the British, the Air Ministry announced.

Sergt. C. E. McDermott of Ridgewood, N. J., accounted for one German plane during the American raid yesterday. He was tail gunner of a Flying Fortress piloted by Capt. M. O. Fulton of Susanville, Cal. He saw an enemy plane come in from the rear straight toward the tail.

JUN 13 1943

30.24-4917

"I opened fire at 500 yards and saw the engine catch on fire and a piece of wing fall off," Sergt. McDermott reported. The enemy pilot bailed out.

Dortmund Ruins Called Worst In Reich

JUN 13 1943

[By the Associated Press]

London, June 12—The Air Ministry announced today that the record 2,000-ton May 23 raid on Dortmund left that war factory center "probably the most heavily damaged city in Germany for its size."

Reconnaissance photographs showed the city, whose population of more than 500,000 is lodged in one of Germany's most concentrated areas of heavy industry, "even more hard hit than Essen, although damage there runs it close.

150 Acres Of Devastation

"In the crowded center of the city alone at least 150 acres have been totally devastated, mostly by fire," the review said.

"The spread of the fire outside this area appears in some places to have been checked where buildings were blown up or burned down in the earlier of the two raids (the first was on May 4), but 880 office and administrative buildings and large city blocks which may have served a variety of purposes have been destroyed or severely damaged."

Two Main Targets

Prime targets in Dortmund were the great steel works of the Hoesch Company and a branch of the Vereinigte Stahlwerke combine.

The Hoesch steel works were damaged in both attacks and although only two thirds of the area thus far has been photographed, forty-four buildings were seen to have been damaged or destroyed, the report said.

Ingots, shells and forgings are produced there.

Damage at the Vereinigte combine also was extensive, the Ministry said.

Work Halted For Week

The main building at the big mine of the Hoesch Koln-Neussen Kaiserstuhl concern was wrecked which is the terminus of the Dortmund-Ems canal.

[Continued On Page 2, Column 8]

As the eastern gateway of the Ruhr, Dortmund is second only to Duisburg as a transport center.

At least 1,258 houses were destroyed or damaged in the Weissenburger Strasse residential district of Dortmund, in addition to the wrecking of the municipal power station, the station telegraph office, the main fire station, the mine office and administrative buildings, the report said.

670 Buildings Blasted

At Essen, the Air Ministry said, there is so much devastation it was difficult to distinguish old damage from the new, but it estimated that in the last two attacks of March 3? and May 28 670 buildings either were demolished or damaged.

Three hundred separate buildings in the Krupps works at Essen either were destroyed or damaged in the heavy attacks of March or April, the report said.

GERMANS REVEAL INTENSITY OF RAIDS

Imminence of Invasion Stressed by Nazi Radio Commentators.

LONDON, June 12—(AP) In one broadcast after another today, German radio commentators stressed the intensity of the renewed Allied aerial onslaught and the imminence of invasion.

One program suggested that the bombings had deranged rail facilities.

It quoted a German veteran of air attacks on Britain, broadcasting to his wife and family in another part of Germany. He said he could not get home on Whitsun leave and that "soon when I shall be able to come home, I will tell you how hard and difficult the fight against the British and Americans actually is."

Another broadcast, describing Duesseldorf, said:

"It is midday and life goes on here, though the populace does not have any rest. I am looking into burned out places where the flames come up again. We tired people have to continue work x x x so much has happened here in the last few nights."

A major of the air raid precautions services of Duesseldorf was quoted as saying:

"I was forced to appeal for help from outside town, as the local organization proved insufficient."

Another broadcaster said: "Now, after a short lull, heavy Allied air raids against our inhabited places have been resumed. They are only part of the war of nerves against us. In addition, enemy propaganda operates at top speed against Germany. It is sufficient work for us to deal with air protection Germany. We need not deal slogans sent on to us."

HUNGARY HAS NEW MINISTER OF WAR

JUN 13 1943

London, June 12 (A. P.).—Col. Gen. William Nagy has resigned as Hungarian war minister and Admiral Nicholas Horthy has accepted the resignation and appointed Col.-Gen. Ludwig von Csata to succeed him, the Berlin radio said today in a Budapest dispatch by DNB.

The Associated Press recorded the broadcast.

Col.-Gen. von Csata, who is 57 years old, commanded the Fifth Hungarian Army Corps in Russia last year. He took charge of all Hungarian troops in Russia when Col.-Gen. von Jany, former commander in chief, was wounded. He assumed command of the Third Hungarian Army in February.

Reports from Hungary, filtering through neutral Switzerland, say that Hungary is swerving away from all-out Axis collaboration toward a new policy of nonbelligerency. The Army shake-up possibly is a phase of such a shift.

The Swiss reports said that Hungary had withdrawn from the war in Russia and was attempting to develop new friendships that would enable her to keep annexed territories after the war. She remains a member of the Axis, however.

CHURCHILL PRAISES NAVY'S WAR ROLE

89 Axis Ships Sunk in Mediterranean During Tunisian Campaign.

LONDON, Sunday, June 13—(AP) Prime Minister Churchill cabled congratulations today to Admiral of the Fleet Sir Andrew B. Cunningham on the contribution of the British fleet in sinking 89 Axis ships of 268,600 tons during the Tunisian campaign, denying the enemy of "all prospects of a Dunkerque."

Allied aircraft sent 48 more enemy vessels to the bottom, bringing the total tonnage destroyed to 433,400 tons, or 32 per cent of the shipping estimated as available to the Axis in the Mediterranean at the beginning of the campaign, Mr. Churchill said.

The prime minister said naval air forces sank 21 enemy destroyers or torpedo boats and many small craft and prevented 35 per cent of enemy supply ships and transports from reaching Tunisia. He added that Allied losses between Nov. 8 and May 8 were less than two and a fourth per cent.

"All this could not have been accomplished without the support of battleships, aircraft carriers and cruisers who were denied a meeting with the Italian battle fleet which they so ardently desire," Mr. Churchill cabled.

Admiral Cunningham commands the Allied fleet in the Mediterranean and reports to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

ADMIRAL HIDING ON PANTELLERIA

London, June 12 (A. P.).—Alexander Clifford, reporting for the combined British Press, cabled from captured Pantelleria today that the island's Italian garrison was commanded by an admiral, "who is still in the hills."

The Berlin radio yesterday identified the senior officer on the island as Admiral Paresseni. The garrison commander was reported to have been Giuseppe Cadile, Consul of the Ninth Legion, Italian Naval Militia.

Gen. Hollar Named Marshall

LONDON, June 12 (A).—Brigadier General Gordon C. Hollar, fifty-five years old, of Sioux City, Iowa, has been appointed Provost Marshal of the United States Army in the European theater of operations, succeeding Major General William S. Key, new commander of the American Garrison of Iceland.

Wyler Awarded Air Medal

LONDON, June 12 (AP).—Major William Wyler, director of the motion picture "Mrs. Miniver," has been awarded the Air Medal for meritorious service as an observer on five bomber missions, the United States 8th Air Force announced tonight.

LONDON BOMBED

LONDON, Sunday, June 13 — (AP) Several German fighter-bombers attacked the London area early today in a brief hit-and-run raid in which a few persons were injured and some houses were damaged.

JUN 13 1943

SEIZED BY NAZIS

LONDON, June 12—(AP) The Algiers radio said in a broadcast recorded tonight by Reuters that Admiral Rene Platon, secretary of state in the Vichy government, had been arrested by German authorities.

125 ARRESTS REPORTED IN HUNGARIAN ROUND-UP

LONDON, June 12—(AP) The Swiss radio reported tonight that 125 arrests were made in Budapest yesterday in a large-scale police roundup of suspected violators of Hungarian national security regulations.

The report, recorded by the Associated Press, said that a new defense measure forbids all private long distance telephone calls inside Hungary.

RIOTING IN BELGRADE

London, June 12 (A. P.).—A number of Germans were killed recently in pitched street battles in Belgrade, Reuters, British news agency, reported today in a dispatch from Istanbul.

The dispatch said that the clashes followed the arrival of Croat troops to assist German occupation authorities in the Yugoslav capital.

Crew Wrestles Live Bomb

JUN 13 1943

Dangling Projectile Causes Nerve-wracking 15 Minutes Before It Is Loosened.

At a United States Bomber Station in Britain, June 12 (A. P.).—With a live bomb caught in the bomb rack—and the spinner mechanism which explodes it on impact revolving on its nose like a child's top—the crew of a Flying Fortress had a nerve-wracking fifteen minutes yesterday before they were able to release it.

The Rigor Mortis was flying comfortably at 20,000 feet, returning from a raid over Northwest Germany, when Lieut. Howard Gardner of Millinocket, Me., the bombardier, saw the bomb dangling below the big fortress, and shouted a warning over the interphone.

"Get the hell out of that tail and get up here as fast as you can to help us," shouted Sergt. J. K. Kunz of Pittsburgh, Pa.—top turret gunner—to Sergt. Stanley Farmworth of Bakersfield, Cal., the tail gunner.

"Kunz grabbed hold of that damn spinner and stopped it just before it looked like it was ready to drop off," Lieut. Gardner said. "Both fellows grabbed the bomb and lifted it off the shackle as I tried to get it loose by turning on the bomb bay by release switches.

"We were scared that the jolting against the plane might set it off any minute.'

After a fifteen-minute struggle, the bomb fell into the ocean. "Boy, we were really sweating it out," said Lieut. Gardner.

"Large formations" of Russian long-range aircraft showered the Nazi airdromes with explosive and incendiary bombs Friday night and early Saturday morning, the Moscow radio announced, in a quick followup to the record, 700-plane raid against similar targets Thursday night.

More than 600 tons of bombs were "dropped on parked enemy planes, hangars, fuel and ammunition dumps," said the broadcast recorded by the Associated Press, and "a great number of enemy aircraft were destroyed or damaged." Russian losses were put at two planes, compared with 19 the night before when 150 enemy planes were reported wrecked.

RED FLIERS BOMB GERMAN AIRPORTS

Attack Aimed at Nazi Air Force, Spearhead of Coming Attack.

LONDON, Sunday, June 13—(AP) Red army airmen poured more than 600 tons of bombs on German airdromes Friday night in a powerful new blow upon the Nazi air fleet, the traditional spearpoint of German attack, Moscow announced early today, and smashed back three enemy ground attacks Saturday.

JUN 13 1943

BERLIN SAYS SOVIETS BREAK GERMAN LINE

3 Waves of Red Infantry Launch Assault in Orel Sector.

HEAVY AIR RAIDS CONTINUE

700 Russian Planes Pound Foe in Wide Sweeps—Guerrilla Actions Increase.

JUN 13 1943

London, June 12 (A. P.).—The German radio said tonight that several waves of Russian infantry attacking on a broad front northeast of Orel broke "the main German line in some places" before they were thrown back in counter-attacks.

The Orel front is about midway between Moscow and Kharkov and almost due south of the capital. Heavy German concentrations have indicated that the main Nazi thrust might come in that sector.

The German account, recorded by the Associated Press, said the Russians attacked after heavy artillery and aerial preparation.

"The enemy, however, was thrown out in immediate counter thrusts in hand-to-hand fighting and suffered heavy losses in dead, wounded and prisoners," the broadcast said.

Neither of the last two Russian communiques have mentioned such an attack.

700 Red Planes Attack.

Moscow, June 12 (A. P.).—The 700-plane raid hurled against German air fields along the stirring Russian front Thursday night was the greatest Soviet aerial drive of the war and it destroyed 150 Nazi aircraft and spread havoc on runways, hangars, fuel dumps and ammunition depots, Russian dispatches said today. The previous Russian record attack was mounted with 520 planes against Orel a few days ago.

Tass, the Russian news agency, said that a considerable fighter force attempted to intercept the Russian planes, but while Russian fighters fought them off the big bombers went on to their objectives. Ten enemy aircraft were shot down, Tass said, adding that nineteen Soviet planes failed to return.

[The Germans reported in their broadcast communique, recorded by the Associated Press, that fighting on the eastern front "was livelier again yesterday" and said that fighting had erupted on the Orel sector with the Russians springing an attack. Berlin asserted the Russians were thrown back.]

Nazis Try to Bomb Gorki.

Another German attempt to bomb the big Russian armaments center at Gorki, 250 miles east of Moscow, was made Thursday night, but most of the bombers were dispersed by Russian fighters, and raiders which did break through dropped bombs haphazardly on dwellings, the Russian agency said. It added that seven German planes were shot down.

Important guerrilla successes in repelling a German punitive expedition were reported meanwhile in delayed dispatches. The campaign, interpreted as part of the German preparation before launching the 1943 offensive, has resulted in bloody battles in German-held White Russia, the dispatches said.

The Germans succeeded in pushing the guerrillas back and capturing several populated places in three days of savage fighting, but the reports said the Russians successfully counter-attacked, and in a surprise smash forced the Germans to retreat.

The reports said the guerrillas were able to meet attacks from tanks, artillery, armored trains and planes by ambushes and surprise flank attacks, although they were armed chiefly with rifles, machine guns and hand grenades.

The dispatches said some of the Germans were permitted to advance in long lines from three positions, only to tumble into pits which the Russians had dug and then covered with grass and branches.

JUN 13 1943

Finnish Peace Envoy Under Arrest

Stockholm, June 12 (A. P.).—The Finnish authorities have arrested Hella Vuolijoki, the playwright and peace messenger between Finland and Soviet Russia after their 1939-40 winter war, the newspaper Dagens Nyheter reported today. The dispatch hinted that she was charged with failing to report a Russian parachutist who stayed at her home. She is 55 and a native of Estonia.

Cardinals Prepare For 'Revival of France'

Berne, June 12 (A. P.).—The French Cardinals have added their protest to the German forced labor policy, declaring that it is depriving French youth of the moral security of home life. In a pastoral letter, copies of which arrived here today, the Cardinal and Bishops of Lille, Paris and Lyons asked the faithful to "draw closer and prepare for the revival of France."

The letter also told the people that the Germans had refused to allow priests to accompany the youths mustered into forced labor.

The International Christian Press Information Service of Geneva reported meanwhile that seven pastors of the French reformed Church were imprisoned because of their resistance to the Germans.

Big Flow of Frenchmen Into Spain Is Reported

Swiss Paper Tells of Flight to Avoid Forced Labor

BERN, Switzerland, June 12 (AP).—The newspaper "Neue Zuercher Zeitung" quoted today "Das Reich," a German propaganda organ, as saying that the number of Frenchmen of military age crossing the Pyrenees into Spain had increased so sharply since the introduction of forced labor laws in France that the exodus could no longer be ignored.

"Das Reich" reported that 40,000 Frenchmen of military age had escaped into Spain since 1940, the Swiss newspaper said.

A dispatch from the German publication's Madrid correspondent quoted by the "Neue Zuercher eitung" said the fugitives were aided by British and American representatives in the Spanish capital. A fighting French officer was declared to have "pitched his tent in the offices of the British and American military attaches" at Madrid to conduct recruiting.

Swede Sinkings Laid To Sabotage

Stockholm, Sweden, June 12 (AP). Sabotage by unidentified persons was blamed in a Government communique today for the sinking of three Swedish destroyers at Haarsfjaerden, near Stockholm, September 17, 1941.

Thirty-three men were lost when the ammunition chamber of one of the warships exploded and blasts spread to the others. The destroyers Goteborg, Klas Horn and Uggla were lost when Sweden was mustering her defenses to guard her neutrality.

Planes, Mines New Nazi Plan

JUN 13 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Stockholm, Sweden, June 12—Berlin correspondents of Swedish newspapers quoted German military circles today as declaring that the Germans would try to smash any Allied amphibious invasion from Britain by using an armada of 2,000 planes and laying mines in every British harbor.

The correspondent of the Svenka Dagbladet said mining operations were planned for immediately after the first invasion wave set forth and that Field Marshal Gen. Hugo Sperrle, one of Germany's top air commanders, would direct the mine-laying maneuver in a "finish fight."

Speculate On Motive

This presentation of the purported anti-invasion plans of the Nazis aroused speculation here as to the motive.

Four days ago German military quarters were quoted by the Swedish press as saying they were watching for Allied blows against Belgium, Northern France, Southern France, Italy and the Balkans, and that they counted upon a submarine fleet to break up the invasion forces.

Invasion Described

In those accounts the Germans gave a detailed description of what the Allied invasion probably would be like and said they expected only 13,000 of the first 50,000 men would reach shore.

(Several paragraphs of this dispatch at this point were eliminated by censors in London.)

Some Berlin circles, the Svenska Dagbladet said, also were discussing the possibility of a limited German invasion of Britain, timed with German counter-invasion mine-laying.

ITALIAN AIRPORT BLASTED BY R.A.F., HANGAR SET AFIRE

British Planes Pound at Reggio Calabria on Mainland.

CAIRO, June 12—(AP) The air field at Reggio Calabria, Italian mainland port just across the narrow strait of Messina from Sicily, was blasted by R.A.F. heavy bombers Thursday night, a few hours before the surrender of Pantelleria, the Middle East air command disclosed today.

In striking at the southernmost airdrome on the Italian mainland, the bombers hit a base which otherwise could have been used by enemy planes to interfere with the British occupation of Pantelleria the following day.

Hangar Set Afire

The communique said one hangar which was set on fire was later seen to explode. "Several fires were started on the airdrome, mainly in the hangar area," it declared.

Long-range fighters of the Middle East command attacked three enemy vessels yesterday in sweeps along the west coast of Greece.

Hits were scored on the bridge of one ship, which was abandoned by its crew. The deck cargo of another was set afire and the rudder of the third was shot away.

The communique said all planes returned safely "from these and other operations."

Factory Blasted

British fighters based on Malta attacked a factory at Pozzallo, in southern Sicily, yesterday. A Malta communique said direct hits were scored on the factory and that bombs fell near a railway and a main road.

British intruder planes from Malta attacked railway sidings at Milazzo, in northeastern Sicily, last night. The bulletin said bombs were seen to burst in the target area.

Reggio Calabria, a city of more than 50,000, is only ten miles from Messina, Sicily, and is a ferry terminal at a point where the strait is only seven miles wide.

It is the terminus of coastal railways from Naples, 248 miles to the northwest, and from Metaponto along the east coast of Calabria.

RAF Attacks Ferry Port In Italy

JUN 13 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Cairo, June 12—The Middle East Air Command announced today that the airfield at Reggio Calabria, ferry terminal on the toe of Italy opposite Sicily, was attacked by RAF heavy bombers Thursday night.

A hangar was set on fire and later was observed to explode, the war bulletin said. Several fires were set in the hangar area.

Before Pantelleria Victory

The attack was carried out only a matter of hours before the surrender of Pantelleria and hit at one base from which enemy planes could have sallied forth to interfere with the assault there.

Long-range fighters swept over the area off the west coast of Greece yesterday, attacking three enemy vessels. One was abandoned, the deck cargo of a second was set afire, and the rudder of the other was shot away.

No Allied planes were lost, the announcement said.

BREACH NARROWED IN FRENCH REGIME

Sub-Committee Works for Rapprochement of Giraud, DeGaulle.

ALGIERS, June 12 — (AP) The sub-committee of the new French government is reported to have gained more ground toward the settlement of the dispute between General Charles de Gaulle and General Henri Giraud today, but the two principals remain estranged.

The rift which has threatened to upset the delicate negotiations for a unification of French forces revolves around a number of points connected with the composition of the staff of the merged French army.

Although Gen. de Gaulle has indicated that he will remain absent from further meetings of the French Committee for National Liberation until his program is adopted in all or in part, well informed French circles in Algiers were generally optimistic over the possibilities that a reconciliation would be effected soon.

It is considered certain that Gen. Giraud will accept Gen. de Gaulle's proposal that the minister of war in the new government have at least equal responsibility with the commander in chief of the army and that he will also agree to the removal of a number of officials whom Gen. de Gaulle has accused of collaborationist tendencies.

It was believed that Gen. Giraud's chief objection to Gen. de Gaulle's demands is in the time element. The Fighting French leader has demanded an immediate purge while Gen. Giraud favors a gradual replacement.

JUN 13 1943

JUN 13 1943

3024-4919

De Gaulle Is Reported Winning

Committee Is Expected to Oust Officers With Anti-Allied or Fascist Leanings.

Algiers, June 12 (A. P.).—The French Committee for National Liberation was reliably reported today to have reached an agreement to discharge high Army officers with anti-Allied, Fascist or Petainist backgrounds, bowing to a demand made by Gen. Charles de Gaulle under threat of resigning.

The informant, who may not be identified by name, said the committee was expected to take action tonight on the controversial army reorganization question. Gen. De Gaulle and six other members of the committee were said to be in accord, and this was interpreted to mean that the whole group would accept the Fighting French leader's view.

Gen. De Gaulle has insisted upon an army purge without delay. The issue is expected to occupy most of the committee's time for the next few days. The group did not meet this morning.

The meetings are expected to single out each general for discussion of his background, personality and qualities.

JUN 13 1943

[By the Associated Press]

New Delhi, June 12—American and British planes operating from Indian bases carried out a series of widespread and destructive raids yesterday on Japanese troops, military installations and rolling stock in Burma.

Mitchell medium bombers of the United States Tenth Air Force struck probably the most severe blow in a raid on enemy railroad installations at Ywataung and Thazi Junction. A communique reported that many direct hits were observed at Thazi Junction, causing oil fires and demolishing rolling stock.

Liberators Active

Heavy American Liberator bombers hurled three tons of explosives on Japanese radio installations at Diamond Island, destroying one building and damaging others. P-40 fighters armed with fragmentation bombs lashed at the enemy in the Hukawng valley area of northern Burma, destroying a Japanese headquarters building and a barracks at Laza and leaving fires burning at Taro, Ningbyen, Bantau and Lalawng, the communique said.

Not an American plane or crew member was reported lost.

RAF bombers raided enemy storage buildings and anti-aircraft positions at the important base of Akyab, a British communique said, while bomber and fighter formations blew up buildings at Padali, pounded Japanese positions at Theizang in the Kale valley and harried river and road transport along the Chindwin river valley.

BRITISH MINISTERS IN NORTH AFRICA

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 12 (A. P.).—Sir James Grigg, the British Secretary of State for War, and Sir Archibald Sinclair, the Secretary for Air, arrived in North Africa today.

CONFERS WITH TURKS

ANKARA, Turkey, June 12—(AP) Admiral Sir John Cunningham, new commander-in-chief of the British in the Levant, arrived by plane today from Cairo for conferences with the Turkish High Command.

Japs Bombed In Burma

JUN 13 1943

CHINESE CLOSING IN ON YANGTZE PORT

Chungking, June 12 (A. P.).—Chinese troops attacking the Yangtze port of Sungtze, between Ichang and Shasi, have recaptured several points south of the city after inflicting heavy casualties on the Japanese, a Chinese communique announced today.

Enemy troops in the Chientsusi sector of southern Hupeh province are showing signs of collapse after suffering heavy losses, the High Command declared.

Chinese forces have gained the upper hand in fierce clashes near Yangloushu, about forty miles northeast of the important Japanese-held base of Yochow in northern Hunan province, Chinese front line dispatches said.

Fierce fighting was continuing northeast of Ichang and northwest of Hankow, in which the Chinese yesterday reported new successes.

61 TONS OF BOMBS DROPPED BY ALLIES ON TWO JAP BASES

Koepang Is Battered by MacArthur's Airmen—Rabaul Hit Again.

Allied Headquarters, Australia, June 12 (A. P.).—Improved flying weather sent bombers of the Fifth Air Force on wide and devastating sweeps against the Japanese yesterday. With but little opposition they blasted Koepang with forty-two tons of bombs and poured more than nineteen tons on oft-battered Rabaul, the big sea and air base on New Britain island.

The Japanese did not choose to seize this break in the bad weather to try an offensive, but fifteen Liberators struck Koepang, capital of Timon, shortly after noon, leaving it a mass of flames, the Allied High Command reported.

The power house was destroyed, gasoline and oil dumps went up in flames and the water front area suffered widespread destruction, the communique said.

One Liberator Missing.

Three of eight Zeros which rose to intercept the raiders were shot down and a fourth was listed as probably destroyed. One Liberator failed to return.

Following up a ponderous attack on Rabaul the night before, a group of Liberators started fires and explosions along the runways and in dispersal areas of the Vunakanau and Rapopo airdromes on that important enemy base. An undetermined number of grounded aircraft were destroyed.

Mitchell bombers in a daylight raid wrecked a bridge with a direct hit and started a large fire at Salamaua on New Guinea, while other raiders blasted Dili on Timor, Gasmata on New Britain and Madang on New Guinea, and struck Babo on Dutch New Guinea for the eighth time since May 4, starting numerous small fires which were judged to be burning planes. A barracks area also was set afire.

MAJOR M'CULLAR WINS ARMY DECORATION

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, June 8—(Delayed)—(AP) Another decoration has come through for the late Major Gen McCullar, nearly two months after his death, in further recognition of this youthful southerner's career as one of the world's outstanding bomber pilots.

His latest award, announced today by Lieut. Gen. George C. Kenney, is an Oak Leaf cluster for his Distinguished Flying Cross. He also had a Silver Star with two clusters, an Air Medal and Purple Heart to put him among the most-decorated of American airmen.

Would Welcome First Lady

CANBERRA, Australia, June 12 (AP)—Commenting on a New York report that Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt might visit Australia, Prime Minister John Curtin said today "the Commonwealth Government, and I am sure the Australian people, will be glad to welcome this gracious lady if she can find it possible to visit Australia, and the government hopes . . ."

ARGENTINE REGIME RECOGNIZED BY 29

Buenos Aires, June 12 (A. P.).—The list of nations recognizing the Government of President Pedro Ramirez was swelled today with the addition of Panama and Honduras in the Americas, and of Vichy France and Belgium, bringing the total to twenty-nine.

[The Paris radio broadcast a report from Vatican City today that the new Argentine Government has been recognized by the Holy See. The broadcast was recorded by the Associated Press.]

The United States, Great Britain, and Japan extended their formal recognition to the new Government yesterday.

The new Government in a decree last night appointed military commissioners in Buenos Aires and Entre Rios provinces.

The last edition of Critica, an afternoon newspaper notably sympathetic to the democratic cause, was banned from circulation by the police late yesterday. No reasons were announced.

FRENCH WAITING INVASION, PLAN ATTACK ON NAZI

JUN 13 1943

Uruguayan Expert Declares Rebellion Will Follow Attack.

By ROMAN JIMENEZ

MONTEVIDEO — (AP) — Rebellion against Vichy and Berlin will flare throughout France as soon as the United Nations establish bridgeheads on the French coasts, according to Luis DuPuy, last Uruguayan charge d'affaires in Vichy, who has just returned to Montevideo.

His personal report to the foreign office on the French situation helped the Uruguayan government decide on the recent suspension of diplomatic relations with the Petain regime.

"The French people lack weapons, but they will make that up with their courage and their hatred of the Nazis as soon as they get a chance to support and fight shoulder to shoulder with the Allies," said DuPuy. "Guerrilla and sabotage elements are not idle now, but many other Frenchmen are awaiting the big day for "La Revanche" when they hope to lend a hand for the ousting of the Germans and the crushing of the collaborationists in their downtrodden country."

DuPuy, who left France last February, said that he had kept in touch with developments there all through March, when he sailed from Bilbao for South America.

"My estimate that one hundred per cent of the French people would support the Allied landing parties is slightly inaccurate," he stated. "But I would have to deal in fractions of one per cent to take the exceptions into account. Even the Germans know that many of the present collaborationists are not to be trusted by them."

Anti-Nazi sentiment has been steadily growing since the fall of France and it has now reached its peak, according to DuPuy. "The Frenchmen," he added, "do not miss one opportunity to show it. They live in fear of the Gestapo and the French police, but not even that deters them from obstructionist and sabotaging activities. Not all these activities are fully known abroad.

"I remember an incident which plainly shows it. One morning the victory V was boldly chalked on three big trunks the Italian consul general had left at the door of his room in the third floor of the Hotel des Ambassadeurs in Vichy. All the other rooms in the floor were occupied by German officials. The efforts made by police and the Gestapo failed to produce the culprits, and the matter was hushed up as it was not very flattering to confess that an Anti-Nazi existed in the carefully picked staff of the hotel."

Face Stiff Opposition

DuPuy warned that the United Nations will find stiff opposition if and when they try to invade France.

"I am no military expert," he stated, "and cannot give any technical details on the value of the fortifications the Germans have built all along the French coasts. I know, however, that the Todt organization has been busy building gun emplacements, tank traps and other military works on the Atlantic seaboard. German officials often said that the 'Atlantic Wall' would prove attack-proof. When we left France, last February, they were hurriedly preparing similar defenses on the Mediterranean shores."

The Uruguayan diplomat, however, expressed his belief that the Axis manpower shortage is already showing in the deterioration of the quality of the troops stationed in France.

FOR FREER NEWS USE

Havana, June 12 (A. P.).—The closing session of the International Pan American Press Congress was told last night that news of official matters should be made freely available in all countries to the news services of other nations.

Francisco Jose Delgado, a delegate from Venezuela, cited a recent address by Kent Cooper, executive director of the Associated Press, urging that governmental favoritism to individual newspapers or press associations be discontinued, and said "the words of this distinguished North American newspaper man expressed the sentiments of this congress."

As an outgrowth of the congress a new society of the inter-American press was formed, to hold its first convention next year in Venezuela.

CUBANS SINK U-BOAT

Havana, June 12 (A. P.).—The Cuban Navy has scored its first triumph over the submarine menace with the sinking of an enemy undersea craft after a battle off the Cuban north coast.

War Minister Aristides Sosa De Quesada announced last night that a patrol vessel of the Cuban sub-chaser fleet accomplished the feat, But he did not give the date or exact location of the engagement.

The Cuban Navy recently obtained ten submarine chasers from the United States Government to patrol the island's 2,000 miles of coastline.

East Orange Flyer Is Reported Missing

Ottawa, June 12 (A. P.).—The Royal Canadian Air Force listed Sergt. Andrew Peter Uditsky of East Orange, N. J., as missing yesterday after air operations overseas. His mother, Mrs. John Uditsky, lives at 2 Long street, East Orange.

JUN 13 1943

2 U. S. SUBS LOST IN PACIFIC WATERS

Amberjack, Grampus Reported Missing—Both Built at New London.

WASHINGTON, June 12 — (AP) Two American submarines, presumably of the Pacific fleet of undersea hunters that has taken heavy toll of Japanese war and merchant ships, were posted on the Navy's missing ship list today.

A Navy communique said "the U. S. submarines Amberjack and Grampus have failed to return from patrol operations and must be presumed to be lost."

Each craft carried about 60 men.

Both Subs New

Both boats were new, the Amberjack launched in March, 1942, and the Grampus commissioned in 1941. They were built at New London, Conn. Their disappearance brings the total of American submarines lost since Pearl Harbor to seven, including one destroyed in the Philippines to prevent its falling into Japanese hands, but not including another lost by accident. Against these losses are balanced the sinking, probably sinking or damage to 240 Japanese ships by United States undersea fighters.

While the Navy did not give the location in which the Amberjack and Grampus were making patrols when last reported, most American submarine operations are in the Pacific.

Presumed Lost in Pacific

It was presumed, therefore, the two vessels were in that area on their last mission.

The commanding officer of the Amberjack was Lt. Commander John Archibald Bole, Jr., 37, of Wallkill, N. Y. His wife, Mrs. Constance S. Bole, lives at New London, Conn.

The commanding officer of the Grampus was listed as Lt. Commander John Rich Craig, 36, of Jacksonville, Fla. His wife, Mrs. Lillian Hyde Craig, lives at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Both Shippers Cited

Both commanders had received Navy Crosses for successful and heroic combat actions in their commands against the Japanese.

Commander Bole's citation, previously announced, said that "after damaging an armed enemy cargo ship," he chased the ship for five hours, eventually destroying it. On another occasion he sank the 19,000 ton whale-rendering Toman Maru, "a valuable target formerly used by the enemy for ferrying planes, and in addition, damaged a 7,000 ton freighter."

Commander Craig's citation said that "despite the great mental and physical strain of prolonged patrols in enemy controlled waters, Lt. Commander Craig launched repeated, daring attacks on Japanese shipping, sinking two enemy transports and one cargo ship, totaling 24,000 tons, and damaging three enemy destroyers."

4 'SOFTENING' RAIDS HIT KISKA DEFENSES

Bomber Attacks, Apparently Preliminary to Invasion, Batter Runway and Guns

66 MORE JAPANESE KILLED

JUN 13 1943

U. S. Troops Mop Up Stragglers on Attu, Raising Dead to 1,911, Captured to 21

WASHINGTON, June 12 (AP)—The third phase of the campaign to break Japan's hold on the Western Aleutians appeared today to have gotten under way with resumption of fairly heavy aerial attacks on the enemy at Kiska Island.

A Navy communiqué said that on Thursday afternoon Army medium and heavy bombers with fighter escort made four attacks on installations at Kiska, scoring bomb hits on the runway and on gun emplacements. Fighter planes strafed barges found along the beaches.

This was one of the heaviest days of action since the American conquest of enemy-held Attu Island and probably marked the beginning of intensive efforts to soften up Kiska for invasion.

The first phase of the Aleutians campaign was aerial action against Kiska and to some extent against Attu. The second was the capture of Attu itself where final clean-up operations are now in progress. The third, according to authoritative opinion here, is almost certain to be a heavy aerial pounding of Kiska to weaken the defenses and the resources which would enable the garrison there to put up a [illegible] costly resistance.

JUN 13 1943

The Navy communiqué said that sixty-six stragglers were killed and one was captured Tuesday night in the area between Sarana Bay and Cape Khlebnikof. These two points mark the northeastern tip of the island. "There is no enemy activity on other parts of the island," the war bulletin reported.

The Japanese casualties in the Tuesday night fighting raised their total known losses for the Attu campaign to 1,911 dead and twenty-one captured.

The enemy probably had several hundred other deaths of which no evidence was found by American troops. At one time the Japanese were reported to be burning their dead or burying them under the snow so their bodies could not be found. Total garrison strength on Attu was believed to be about 2,500 or 3,000. The force on Kiska probably is two or three times that figure. Kiska is understood to be strongly defended, with shore guns and anti-aircraft weapons ringing the vulnerable points.

Hope for a not too costly conquest of the islnad, therefore, lies in smashing by air those defenses and supplies which already have been established on the island and in blockading the base by air and sea so that more supplies and defense armament cannot be delivered.

ROOSEVELT EXTOLS MISSION OF BENES

Washington, June 12 (A. P.).—President Roosevelt gave his best wishes today to President Edward Benes in his "courageous efforts to liberate Czecho-Slovakia" and to restore the people of that Nazi occupied country to freedom and peace.

The message made public by the White House was in reply from one from Mr. Benes, who is returning to London after conferences here with American Government officials. The President's message follows:

"Please accept my deep appreciation for your message upon your departure from the United States. I feel at this time that it has been most useful for us to have been able to consult together in regard to the most efficacious means to attain the goal for which we are all striving—the unconditional defeat of the Axis forces.

"I shall always retain a pleasant memory of your timely and helpful visit, and my best wishes go with you in your courageous efforts to liberate Czecho-Slovakia and restore your country and people to freedom and to peace."

Mr. Benes's letter:

"Before leaving the United States, I want to express to you and the Government of the United States my sincerest thanks for the kind hospitality accorded me during my visit in your great country.

"I found in your Government and in the public opinion the warmest sympathy for the cause of the Czecho-Slovak people and I consider it a great privilege to have been able to witness your great war effort which is contributing decisively to the victory of the United Nations.

"My best wishes for full success in your great work."

Britons in Congress, Yanks as M. P.'s Urged

Washington, D. C., June 12 (AP).—A common citizenship between Americans and Britons, under which an American resdient in England could run for Parliament, was suggested tonight by Col. J. J. Llewellin, British resident minister and chairman of the British Supply Council in North Africa.

Discussing how to "carry on in the days of peace the close accord of the days of war," Llewellin said:

"Why should not we recognize one common heritage of so much that is great, one bond of noble ideals, brave aims and high endeavor, by having as a further bond, a common citizenship?

"That is, that no American should be considered an alien in any part of the British Empire, and no Britisher an alien here; that an American should be able, if he wished, to enter the service of the British government and a Britisher be able to do the same thing here; that, if resident for the qualifying period in a state franchise—he could even himself or country, he should enjoy the stand for Congress or for Parliament.

"Some suggest that the various parts of the British Empire should become states in your great system. Others suggest that the United States should become a part of the British Empire. Probably neither of these solutions are practicable. In new times let us try something new."

Llewellin's remarks, drafted for presentation at a ceremony honoring the late Alanson B. Houghton, from 1925 to 1928 American Ambassador to London, recalled the Anglo-French citizenship proposed by Prime Minister Churchill before France fell in 1940.

U. S. RADIO WAVES TO BE STRONGEST

JUN 13 1943

Washington, June 12 (A. P.).—A major change in American propaganda policy was indicated today following the announcement that a few powerful short-wave radio stations will be equipped to broadcast throughout the world.

The new stations will be strong enough "to knock the radio off the shelf in Italy, Germany or Japan," officials of the Crosley Corporation of Cincinnati said.

Crosleys WLWO has been authorized to install transmitters with a total power of 750,000 watts. A new battery of transmitters will be installed near Cincinnati soon.

Heretofore numerous but weaker short-wave stations have beamed American propaganda. Henceforth a few powerful short-wave facilities will carry the load. At least one of the new transmitters is expected to be in operation within a few weeks.

Crosley technicians said that the new transmitters would be more powerful than anything in the world and would be capable of drowning out Berlin, Rome or Tokio.

2 Guatemalan Soldiers Get U.S. Army Decoration

Rescued American Corporal From Drowning

WASHINGTON, June 12 (AP).—Soldiers Medals for heroism have been awarded two privates of the Guatemalan Army for their part in rescuing an American soldier from drowning in heavy surf off a beach in Guatemala, the War Department announced today.

They are Privates Osorio Rodas and Julio Zuniga, who were on duty as lifeguards when Corporal Stanley Szalkiewicz, of 554 Crescent Street, Brooklyn, ventured too far into the surf. The two Guatemalans joined with Sergeant William J. Wilson, of Parkersburg, W. Va., and Corporal John A. Reardon, of Jersey City, in dragging Corporal Szalkiewicz to safety.

They were decorated by Lieutenant General George H. Brett, commanding general of the Caribbean Defense Command, at a ceremony in Guatemala City.

MARINE HEAD CITES DEAD EX-REPORTER

JUN 13 1943

Washington, June 12 (A. P.).—First Sergt. James N. Wright of Washington, D. C., a Marine who was killed while serving as a diplomatic courier for the State Department, was posthumously cited today by Lieut.-Gen. Thomas Holcomb, commandant of the Marine Corps.

First Sergt. Wright, 28 years old, a former reporter for the Newark Evening News, died in the crash of a Pan American Clipper near Lisbon, Portugal, on February 22. He was buried in Arlington National Cemetery at Washington on April 15 with full military honors.

His widow, Mrs. Dorothy M. Wright, lives at 4825 Chevy Chase Drive, Chevy Chase, Md. First Sergt. Wright's father, Joseph A. Wright, resides at 242 Broad street, Newark.

"First Sergt. Wright," the Commandant wrote, "served to the utmost of his ability in the performance of his important and hazardous work as a diplomatic courier on temporary duty with the United States Department of State. His highly meritorious, loyal and effective service over a period of eight months culminated in the sacrifice of his life. . . . His exemplary devotion to duty and the valuable service rendered to his country were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Marine Corps."

ZIONIST POST-WAR PROGRAM OUTLINED

Washington, June 12 (A. P.).—Relief and rehabilitation for despoiled European Jews, restoration of equal rights in their home countries and opportunity to establish themselves in a self-governing Palestine are demanded in a post-war program of the Zionist Organization of America.

JUN 13 1943

1943

3024-4921

Judge Lewis E. Levinthal, president of the organization, made the program public here today in connection with the forthcoming sessions of the American Jewish Conference.

Demanding the right to be heard at the peace conference to follow the present war, the Zionist platform declares that "as Americans and as Jews, we seek first of all, the victory of the forces of democracy, of equality and of freedom over those of tyranny and brutal aggression, to the end that men everywhere may enjoy the four freedoms."

The platform says of the position of the Jew in a post-war world:

"For the uprooted and despoiled Jews of Europe, who were the first victims of the assault against democracy and civilization, we demand that relief and rehabilitation be provided at the earliest possible moment. Those who desire to return to their countries of origin must be enabled to do so; while opportunities for migration and settlement must be afforded to others who will wish to emigrate and begin life anew elsewhere. On behalf of the Jews in European countries, we demand, further, full equality of rights with their fellow countrymen as individuals."

The plank dealing with Palestine maintains that "now more than ever Palestine provides the most practical answer to the desperate need of the multitude of Jews, whose rescue from Europe, as soon as possible, is imperative in a physical as well as a spiritual sense."

INQUIRY ON WAACS REPORTED ORDERED

JUN 13 1943

Washington, June 12 (A. P.).—Representative May (D.-Ky.), chairman of the House Military Committee, refused today to confirm or deny a published report that a sub-committee had been named to investigate rumors reflecting on the morality of the Women's Auxiliary Army Corps.

"I don't know anything about it," said Mr. May, after first declining altogether to comment, "and if I did, I would be too much of a gentleman to say so."

However, it was learned that some members of the Military Committee conferred informally with Oveta Culp Hobby, Waac director, and War Department officials following a published report—since officially denied—that contraceptives were to be issued the women soldiers.

Declining permission to use his name, one committee member who sat in on the conferences said that he knew of no formal inquiry and declared he was satisfied that the reports concerning one were groundless.

He said that after Secretary of War Stimson issued his statement early this week in defense of the Waacs' morality and in praise of their service, "the inquiry was all over as far as I was concerned."

STRIKE CURB FOES AIM FINAL BLAST ON SENATE FLOOR

JUN 13 1943

Backers of Bill, However, View Final Approval as Certain.

Washington, June 12 (A. P.).—Opponents aimed a final and apparently futile blast of criticism as the Senate met today to take final action on legislation designed to prohibit strikes in war industries.

Fought bitterly by organized labor, the Connally-Harness bill authorizing Government seizure of strike-threatened war plants or mines and imposing new restrictions on union activities was passed in its final form by the House yesterday. The vote was 219 to 129.

Proponents viewed Senate approval as certain.

Senators Thomas (D.-Utah), LaFollette (Prog.-Wis.) and Danaher (R.-Conn.) scheduled opposition speeches, but Senator Mead (D.-N. Y.) commented: "The bill may be passed without some of our votes but apparently it is going to be passed."

Strengthens WLB Power.

The bill strengthens the War Labor Board's power to deal with the coal wage and other disputes disrupting production, requires a thirty-day notice and majority vote on a secret ballot before a strike could be called in any privately operated war industry, and bans union contributions to political campaigns.

Beyond this, the measure would impose a $5,000 fine or a year's imprisonment on any person convicted of instigating or encouraging a strike in a Government-controlled plant or industry, although individual employees could not be punished for quitting jobs. Since the Government could take over when any labor controversy threatened interruption of production, in effect it could outlaw any strike in a war plant or mine.

The approximately 615 Alabama coal miners who had started a parade of new strikes turned back to work today, given an out by Secretary Ickes to avoid fines he had proposed for their June 1-5 walkout.

They had left three mines yesterday in protest against the fines, but prepared to resume digging coal after Mr. Ickes, as Federal boss of the mines, announced that whether the fines would stick was a matter for collective bargaining with operators.

However, nearly 1,600 workers at three Windber, Pa., mines voted even after Mr. Ickes's announcement to strike. The vast majority of the miners over the country stayed on the job.

Mr. Ickes had first proposed that fines provided for under old contracts ($1 a day for leaving work in most areas, $2 in some) be applied.

The U. M. W. and its president, John L. Lewis, promised the action, declaring Government operation of the mines by itself failed to continue terms of the contract.

Two-fold Protest.

The Pennsylvania development, a union official said, was a two-fold protest. In addition to the fines, the miners were objecting to what they called failure of the War Labor Board to approve a wage increase of $1.30 a day, representing underground travel time.

This sum was agreed upon by Mr. Lewis and the Central Pennsylvania Producers Association as a compromise after the entire group of operators rejected flatly the U. M. W. demand for $2 a day more.

WLB spokesmen said that a decision on the underground travel pay figure—the focal point in the three-months-long dispute—would be handed down next week and it was indicated that the issue might wind up in the courts. Union officials were reported to believe that a law suit should be brought if the leadership thinks the WLB decision is unjust.

The miners now are operating under Secretary Ickes's direction on a truce which expires at midnight June 20.

Holds Out Olive Branch.

Mr. Ickes held out an olive branch to the miners early last night, twenty-four hours after he disclosed that fines for absenteeism would be imposed. Still sticking by the terms of the old United Mine Workers' contract, he said the penalties could be appealed to the Government managers of the pits and could be rescinded by mutual agreement between the operators and the miners.

The men in the soft coal fields would be liable to fines for a total of four days' absenteeism—or more than $4 each. Those who walked out in the anthracite belt would not be subject to the penalties, it was explained by Mr. Ickes's office because the hard coal contract contained no such stipulations.

AMPHIBIAN TRUCK IS USED BY ARMY

New Vehicle Performs Reliably on Water and on Land.

WASHINGTON, June 12—(AP) Development of a two and one half ton amphibian truck "capable of performing as reliably on water as on land" was announced by the War department today.

Nicknamed the "Duck" by soldiers assigned as its driver-pilots the new vehicle is known officially as "truck, amphibian 2½-2 ton, six by six, DUKW-353."

Engineers who developed the truck under direction of the Ordnance department said it is capable of moving troops, weapons, and supplies over land and across water obstacles.

A propeller slips into gear when the truck hits the water. The "Duck" can carry approximately 35 men on land and 50 over water.

It is a six-wheel vehicle with driving power in all wheels, has an overall length of about 31 feet and a width or beam of eight feet.

JAP NAVAL SHIFTS

Rear Admiral Kengo Kobayashi, former Japanese naval attache at Washington, has been assigned "an important post at sea," a Tokio broadcast said today in announcing changes involving four high naval officers.

Admiral Kobayashi was appointed naval attache in Washington in 1936, when he was a captain. He was chief of staff of the Kure Naval Station prior to today's announcement, which was recorded by the Associated Press.

Others listed in the transfer were Vice-Admiral Seigo Yamagata, who was appointed commander of the Tokio naval patrol headquarters; Rear Admiral Shinzo Onisho, named chief of staff of the Kure Naval Station, and Vice-Admiral Takeo Takagi, former commander of the Tokio naval patrol headquarters, assigned to the naval general staff.

De Gaulle Kin Held, Word

New York, June 12 (AP)—A British radio broadcast recorded by CBS today quoted the London Times as saying a brother of Gen. Charles de Gaulle, the Fighting French leader, had been arrested in Paris, his home, and "deported to Germany as a hostage."

JUN 13 1943

Russian Envoy En Route to Post.

Seattle, June 12 (A. P.).—Constantine Oumansky, former Russian Ambassador to the United States, passed through Seattle yesterday en route to become his country's ambassador in Mexico City, thereby ending a rift of thirteen years in Russo-Mexican relations.

New Engines in U. S. Warship Widen Range by Using Less Fuel

WASHINGTON, June 12—(AP) The Navy tonight revealed one of America's secret weapons—our warships can go further and hit harder because they consume up to 35 per cent less fuel than the ships of any other navy in the world.

Development of a revolutionary system of propelling American warships has given them "the edge over foreign vessels that many times means the difference between defeat and victory," the announcement said.

This was the first official discourse of progress made on the fleet's introduction of high pressure, high temperature steam equipment. Not only has the system been used on destroyers beginning about 1943 but it also has since been incorporated even in the nation's great new battleships, among them the North Carolina and Washington.

Naval authorities said that adoption of high pressure, high temperature steam methods marked a revolution in marine engineering which was made possible only by the application of American inventive genius and American industrial resources to the needs of naval construction.

Controversy in Navy

It has been known for years that proposed use of this advanced machinery and its evolution for employment in naval vessels had furnished one of the great controversies in the seagoing service. Evidence of the fight cropped out from time to time at congressional hearings. Some officers arguing for the new method of driving warships contended that only by its adoption could America's fleet be kept entirely modern. Other, more conservative officers disputed the idea's practicability.

One of the incidental results of the ultimate decision to use the new equipment was that it made American ships' construction dependent only on American resources. Speaking of the first use of high pressure, high temperature steam in the Mahan class of destroyers which started building ten years ago, the Navy said "These ships represented a complete American design in all respects."

The greatest result is the reduction in fuel requirement to produce the same amount of power. This has resulted, in turn, in giving American warships increased range of 25 to 35 per cent, of extending the amount of time which the ships can remain on station and of simplifying the supply problem.

The basic high pressure, high temperature principles were worked out by American engineers for land installations such as electric power plants. Those plants normally produce heat from coal. Warships generally use oil for fuel.

Expansion Began in 1933

In 1933 when expansion of the Navy started, the engineering firm of Gibbs and Cox, the Navy related, was brought into the work of fitting this new equipment into marine design. In the Mahan class of destroyers it was decided to use the steam at 400 pounds in 700 degrees Fahrenheit. The machinery was so radical as to be revolutionary and within the Navy at that time it was a common argument as to whether it would work or wreck the ship.

Along with the high speed turbines, the Navy had to work out a new-type reduction gear to reduce the revolutions before they reached the propellers, and also had to develop a feed water system to remove oxygen from the water which furnished the high temperature steam. Similarly "super heat boilers" had to be developed.

In 1934, the Navy began work on the destroyer Somers, which became the first vessel to use full potentialities of the propulsion. The Somers took a pressure of 600 pounds and a temperature of 850 degrees.

Five years later the old four-stack destroyer Dahlgren was re-engined and reboilered and now carries steam at 1,300 pounds pressure and 925 degrees in its main engines, an advance which is said to produce a further improvement of ten per cent in fuel economy.

"While nothing has been done with this design in the past four years," the Navy said, "it is understood that the Bureau of Ships will follow up this design in the near future, as the material situation permits."

Adapted to Battleships

Between the work on the Somers and that on the Dahlgren, the Navy came to a general acceptance of the practicability of high pressure, high temperature steam. About 1938 it became a standard propulsion for surface combat vessels. The battleships North Carolina and Washington, the first two of the modern capital vessels in the fleet, carry 600 pounds steam pressure and 850 degrees of temperature.

The Navy mentioned among con-

JUN 13 1943

cerns that had aided in development of the machinery, the General Electric company and Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, which it said had poured millions of dollars into the development of steam turbines; and Babcock nd Wilcox, the Foster Wheeler corporation and the De Laval company, which it said had devoted much work on engine research.

It said also that Gibbs and Cox had been brought into the design phase of the work by the Bath Iron works, United Shipbuilding Drydock company and Federal Shipbuilding and Drydock company.

"All of the improvements incident to the introduction of high pressure, high temperature steam have worked out most satisfactorily," the Navy declared. "The machinery has stood up well under the most severe conditions imaginable —duty off Iceland and combat action in the tropics. It has showed itself well adapted to operation by green crews."

SECOND 'HOUSTON' TO BE LAUNCHED AT NEWPORT NEWS

JUN 13 1943

New Cruiser Will Replace Warship Lost in Java Sea Battle.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., June 12. —(AP) The cruiser Houston, named after the cruiser which was lost last year in the battle of the Java sea, will be launched June 19 at the Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock company plant.

Mrs. Claude B. Hammill, of Houston, Tex., wife of the chairman of the Houston war bond committee, will christen the ship, which was authorized by Congress in July, 1940. Matron of honor will be Mrs. Jesse H. Jones, wife of the secretary of Commerce. Dorothy Massey, daughter of Mayor Otis Massey of Houston, will be maid of honor.

Governor Stevenson and Rep. Albert Thomas are among those expected to come here from the Lone Star state for the launching.

The new cruiser's ill-fated predecessor, a 10,000-ton treaty cruiser was launched at Newport News Sept. 7, 1929. Early in her career she was the flagship of the commander in chief of the Asiatic fleet. She performed rescue work in the Yangtze flood of 1931, protected American lives during hostilities in Shanghai in 1932 and made a good will cruise to Japan in 1933, visiting Yokohama and Kobe. On several occasions President Roosevelt reviewed the fleet from her bridge, and enjoyed several fishing trips aboard her.

After the cruiser went down under the fire of Japanese aerial and surface forces, Texans swung into a war bond campaign to replace the sunken ship, and 1,000 volunteers joined the Navy in a body to replace the crew.

The new Houston will be the third vessel of the United States Navy to carry the name. The first Houston was the converted collier Libenfels, seized from Germany when the United States entered the first World War.

NICKNAMED T.N.T. BY HIS FRIENDS, FACES STERN JOB

JUN 13 1943

Army Health Now Good—Has Had 30 Years Medical Experience.

BY FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(AP) When Major General Norman Thomas Kirk, the new surgeon general of the United States Army, was stationed at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, during the twenties, friends added a letter to his first two initials and dubbed him "T.N.T. Tommy."

The monicker resulted partly from his prowess on the polo field —he could wield the mallet as well from the back of an Army mule as he could from a horse—and partly from the fact that he'd almost explode with zeal when he had a chance to go shooting quail or fishing for tuna.

But most of all, the name resulted from the fact that the surgeon could pack dynamite into his words once he got warmed up to an argument, whether it concerned the playing of a hand of Army-style "poverty poker" or the merits of some new development in surgical technique.

It was not flaring temper, friends say—just the courage of his own convictions, with sound effects. The passing of the years hasn't killed the spark.

He fairly sizzled like a sputtering fuse the other day when he talked about the problems that face him in his new post as family physician, in effect, to 8,200,000 soldiers who will constitute the American Army in the various combat theaters and in Army camps at home by the end of 1943.

"Just a Country Boy"

Blue eyed, and tanned a saddle brown, the 56-year-old surgeon is short in stature, but he seems to take on height when he gets burned up, and he was burned up when he said:

"I'm just a country boy from Rising Sun, Maryland, and I like to speak my mind. I think the public should know a lot of things about the job the medical department still is faced with, even though our health record to date has been better than in any war in history.

"We're still having difficulty in procuring the number of medical officers and nurses we need to take care of those boys out there fighting, and I lose patience when I hear complaints that there are 'too many doctors in the Army, doing nothing' and that civilians are worrying about dying because many doctors already have gone into the service."

The general ran his strong, nimble fingers through his iron-grey hair which is close-cropped in a "crew" cut, lit another cigaret—he smokes plenty—and went on:

"Certainly there are times when doctors and nurses are forced into inactivity. That's true right now in Africa where the fighting is over, but it's just the intermission between the acts. They must be prepared for the next offensive wherever it may be, and others must be on the job back in this country, guarding the health of the men who may be going over, and training for active duty themselves in the combat zones."

"Doctors in wartime," said the general who for years has been recognized as one of the outstanding surgeons of the country, "are like firemen in a city.

"The firemen sometimes have to sit around the firehouse for hours on end, playing cards, but they have to be ready when the alarm goes off—and so it is with the Army doctors. They're on call 24 hours a day whether there's active fighting going on or not.

"But we need more and more of them to maintain the good record on health and restoration of the wounded that we have had—and to bring our boys home again."

Months before he was appointed surgeon general, Kirk got a first hand view of the medical department at work in North Africa.

"If anyone in the medical department or the Army Nurse Corps is getting a respite over there now," he said, "heaven knows they need it."

Praised by Eisenhower

General Eisenhower himself told me that in the Tunisian campaign, the medical department of the Army carried out its missions even better than the infantry and the artillery—and that's saying a lot.

"Surgeons stood ankle deep in mud inside crude tents performing surgery to equal anything you'd get right here in Washington.

"Workers in temperatures so low that anti-freeze had to be used in automobiles, Army nurses at evacuation hospitals had to wear soldiers' long underwear to keep them warm, because their own uniforms were inadequate. They wore men's coveralls, too, and ill-fitted garrison boots—but I can tell you that steps are now being taken to correct these inadequacies in outfitting the women, who are up there taking it on the chin with the best of the men.

"Then there were the litter bearers who bore stretchers from the battlefields until their hands were blistered—and I was told of ambulance drivers so exhausted after making hauls of 100 miles or so across rough country that they'd stagger like drunken men when they reached a hospital. But they'd take a swig of coffee—and be off again."

He said 13,000 casualties were evacuated by airplane from forward lines in Tunisia back to base hospitals two hours flying time away.

"Ambulance drivers in Tunisia," he said, "even tell a story of being directed by the Germans to the right road when they got lost near the enemy lines while bearing our own wounded."

General Kirk visited only one battlefront, but, in a sense, he has been present wherever surgery facilities are set up to tend the wounded. A textbook he prepared on amputations is the bible of Army surgeons in that field, although the employment of sulfa drugs to check infection of wounds has greatly lessened the percentage of amputations as compared with the first World war.

A one-time specialist in orthopedics—the surgery of bones and joints—General Kirk invented a metal "litter bar" which is standard equipment for Army stretchers to insure safe carriage for patients suffering broken legs. A splintered leg can be held rigid by attaching the splints to the metal bar.

And he brings to his new post the experience of 30 years as a working surgeon in the Army. He first saw field service as an operating surgeon during the Vera Cruz expedition in 1913, and held key surgical posts in the Canal Zone, Corregidor and Manila between 1915 and 1936. He was an instructor of medical officers during the first World war, and at the end of that war, was in charge of all amputation cases coming to the U. S. Army hospital at Colonia, N. J.

He said that while the health of the soldiers is good and the mortality among the wounded has been kept low by efficient surgery, use of plasma and sulfa drugs, the Army still has a "big problem" in neuropsychiatric cases.

"We do our best to weed out potential neurotics when the men are examined for Army service," he said, "but it's difficult. It's easy to tell when a man has poor eyesight or a bad heart, but it's hard to pick out those who will fail to make first line fighting men."

General Kirk married the former Anna Buryea of Long Island, N. Y., whom he met when she was in training as a nurse at Brownsville, Texas. They have two daughters, Anne, a linguist who has done some work as a Spanish interpreter for the government, and Jane, a student at the University of Michigan.

The general has a little victory garden in back of his quarters near Walter Reed hospital, and his wife says "he'd raise chickens, too, like he used to—if he had the time."

He likes music and gets plenty of it home-made, because his daughter Anne plays piano and Jane is an accordionist.

"T.N.T. Tommy" used to play quite a bit of bridge, but he gave it up a few years ago.

"Too many rules!" says Mrs. Kirk.

BLANK

JUN 13 1943

FARLEY DENOUNCES WARTIME 'EXCUSES'

JUN 13 1943

Urges Americans 'to Shoulder Loyally the Sacrifices' That Are Necessary

CITES RULE BY MAJORITY

Former Postmaster General Gives Flag-Day Speech to Elks at Cambridge

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 12 (AP)—James A. Farley, former Postmaster General, speaking tonight under the auspices of Cambridge Lodge, No. 839, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, said that excuse-making had no place in wartime and called on men and women in all walks of life "to shoulder loyally the sacrifices which are called for."

"Let me say to you with all the sincerity of which I am capable," he continued, in a pre-Flag Day speech, "that everything that this flag means, every blessing that it confers upon us as a people, and every right that it protects, arose from one principle—the principle that a free people may choose those who will govern them.

"But it is equally true that, when the people of these United States have made this free choice, the government so selected becomes the government of all of the people. When this national leadership, which is a leadership of majority selection, determines upon the course of conduct necessary for the successful prosecution of a war, every individual has a patriotic obligation to support that leadership.

"It is true we have a right to express our disagreement with a course of action which we believe to be wrong, in an effort to secure changes and betterment, but we have no right to weaken the hand of our National Government in the prosecution of the war. We have no right to sabotage the laws which our government has enacted in the effort to lead us to victory and to preserve our liberties.

"It will not do to salve our individual consciences by comparing our course of conduct with that of others less patriotic. It will not do to say that others are seeking gains from the war either through profit or preferment. We cannot excuse individual failure on our own part by pointing out that mistakes have been made by our leaders."

What's Behind The War News

By GLENN BABB

Last week the Allies took their first stride across the seas which serve as a moat for Hitler's fortress of Europe. Friday the Italian island stronghold of Pantelleria surrendered; yesterday the smaller island of Lampedusa followed. Both succumbed to American and British air power, indicating that that factor will play the leading role in all phases of the great siege of the continent, already under way.

The seizure of these two Mediterranean stepping stones disposes of one of the preliminaries to what most of the world speaks of now simply as "the invasion." That vast undertaking, toward which perhaps three-fourths of the world's resources are now directed, either for attack or defense, dominates the thoughts of nearly all peoples. When and where it will be launched is the universal question.

To try to say when would be sheer guesswork. Any attempt to name likely invasion routes also must be based on speculation, but it is possible at least to offer a list of the "best ten." Five of these across the Mediterranean; one, which may be multi-pronged, reaches for Scandinavia; three strike at western Europe; one comes from the east.

The Allies may strike by two or more of these simultaneously; on the other hand all may be wide of the mark. The Allied command obviously is searching for the greatest possible surprises, both in place and time. However, such surprise as may be achieved must concern chiefly the time element. Hitler obviously has tried to make ready at all points.

Pantelleria and Lampedusa made up a short spectacular episode which emphasizes that there probably is a lot of prologue to be got through before the curtain rises on the main show. However, it offers a preview of the pattern likely to be followed in most of the operations. Tremendous air power, capable of clearing the skies over any objective, will be a feature of every invasion force. All will have formidable naval support, but for some, such as any thrust at Scandinavia there must be much greater sea armadas than for others. The backbone will be the land forces surging ashore in hundreds and thousands of barges.

1943

3024-4923

For the best available official description of any or all of them we have Winston Churchill's assertion that "amphibious operations of peculiar complexity and hazard are approaching."

There is a widespread popular concept of a single day on which the Allies will swarm ashore on the European continent in direct frontal assault on Hitler's fortress. One widely accepted picture is of such an assault across the narrow seas between Britain and France, placing the Allied armies once more on the classic battlefields of 1914-18 and 1940.

JUN 13 1943

May Force Collapse

It may not come that way at all; it may never have that grand, dramatic sweep. For one thing, the sideshows, while they will not carry Allied armies to Berlin, may strike just as surely at the heart of Hitler's new order—at its courage and will to resist—and cause its collapse. For another, there is no telling what the air assault may accomplish. Altogether there may be so much punch packed into the preliminaries that the big show, if and when it comes, will be something of an anti-climax.

Also it may be difficult to determine just when the invasion begins. It is likely that there will be a series of limited objective operations, super Commando-like raids directed at the destruction of some enemy base and not at permanent seizure of territory.

There still is a lot of mopping up to do. The siege lines around the continent are not yet tightly drawn. A primary requirement is that the routes by which the United Nations can move men and weapons to any point on the perimeter be cleared and safeguarded. There are two such vital routes still not made safe, the Mediterranean and the northern way to Russia. There is also, of course, the broad highway across the Atlantic where the U-boats must be beaten before there can be any invasion. Latest returns indicate that they are being beaten.

The invasion plans for the western Allies are known in their entirety to only a comparatively few persons. To keep the enemy in anxious suspense, part of the war of nerves, it is necessary to keep the Allied publics in the dark. The speculations which follow are not based on any inside information. They are simply deductions drawn from facts which are public property — dispositions of the Allied forces, certain obvious objectives to be attained, geographical data available to any map-reader, indications from history as to the routes which conquerors through the centuries have found the most advantageous.

Mediterranean Looms First

All these things point unmistakably to the Mediterranean as the main theater for this year's activities of the western Allies, with Scandinavia as the second choice.

The most powerful, experienced, effective forces at the Allies' command are those gathered on the Mediterranean's southern and eastern shores, especially in northwest Africa. There are the British First and Eighth armies, the American Fifth army, the growing French armies, which may total 300,000 men before long. Farther east are the British Ninth and Tenth armies, more than 100,000 Poles training for the liberation of their homeland, sizeable American units, especially air units.

The total strength of these armies can not be far short of 1,500,000 men available for operations in and across the Mediterranean.

The other major concentration within striking distance of the continent is in the British isles. Britain's home armies and the American units there (with others in Iceland) must total more than 2,000,000. From these can be drawn the task forces needed for any thrust against Scandinavia. Behind them is the great, growing manpower pool being readied in the United States. Hundreds of thousands probably will be drawn directly from this reservoir this year for the great adventure.

Continued on Page

JUN 13 1943

Hooded Japs Beat Countrymen

Attack Is Made in Arizona Internee Camp Prior to Five-day Strike.

Los Angeles, June 12 (A. P.).—Eight hooded Japanese beat members of their own race before a tumultuous five-day strike began at Camp No. 1 of the Poston, Ariz., relocation center last November, Norris Edward James, former head of the camp's receiving center for evacuees, told the Dies congressional sub-committee.

The Japanese who were beaten had been aiding the camp administration in its work, Mr. James testified yesterday.

He said the hooded gang attacked Joseph Seta and Seta's uncle in the camp barracks, leaving a wooden imitation of a Samurai sword. Mr. James added that three men attacked the recreation director, Hatsumi Yamema, and later beat the director's mother and sister.

Mr. James said the jailing of Isamu Uchida, head of the camp's Judo wrestling organization, was the immediate cause of the strike. He explained that Uchida was taken into custody on an assault charge after Kay Nishimura, Mr. James's chief interpreter, had been beaten with pipe lengths by several of the hooded men.

Trouble first began at the camp last fall, Mr. James stated, after Poston had received 365 Japanese, regarded by the FBI as potentially dangerous, from internment camps in North Dakota and New Mexico.

The former camp executive said that beginning then "a definite attempt was made to destroy the Americanism of the American-born Japanese" in the relocation center with its population of 10,000.

The witness stated that when the strike was settled, part of the agreement between the Japanese leaders and camp executives was that the Judo wrestler, Uchida, should stand trial on the assault charge. But the trial has never been held, he added.

"By the success of the strike were the leaders able to maintain leadership and impose their doctrines?" asked Representative John Costello (D.-Cal.), chairman of the sub-committee.

"Yes, the leaders of the strike emerged as leaders of Poston Camp No. 1," answered Mr. James.

Insert

LONDON--THIRD ADD FOURTH LEAD AERIAL X X X THE GERMANS.

TEN OF THE LOST PLANES WERE CANADIAN.

RETURNING CANADIAN PILOTS SAID THE EXPLOSIONS WERE TERRIFIC AND CLEARLY WERE LARGER THAN THOSE ORDINARILY TOUCHED OFF BY FOUR-TON BOMBS. FIRES WERE SO INTENSE IN SOME CASES THAT SMOKE LIFTED FOUR MILES ABOVE THE FLAMING CITY AND THE GLOW COULD BE SEEN FROM THE COAST.

VISIBILITY OVER THE TARGET WAS GOOD AND SEARCHLIGHTS SOON WERE DIMMED OUT BY SMOKE AND FIRE HAZE. ONE SQUADRON SAID THE GERMAN OPPOSITION WAS THE LIGHTEST YET ENCOUNTERED IN THE RUHR. OTHERS FOUND THE GOING TOUGH.

JUN 13 1943

THEM.

Insert London Aerial --- Intercept Their

LIEUT. R.C.TREENE OF SEATTLE, BOMBARDIER OF THE "BLACK SWAN," ESTIMATED THAT 75 GERMAN FIGHTERS MET THE AMERICAN BOMBERS SOON AFTER THEY CROSSED THE GERMAN COAST. "THEY STAYED WITH US FOR 25 MINUTES," HE SAID.

Insert London Aerial --- one Eyore

THE BERLIN RADIO BROADCAST A DNB NEWS AGENCY REPORT THAT 36 BOMBERS HAD BEEN SHOT DOWN OVER GERMANY DURING THE NIGHT. THE BROADCAST, RECORDED BY REUTERS, DID NOT NAME THE TARGET IMMEDIATELY.

IT WAS THE 53RD, ETC., FOURTH GRAPH PREVIOUS.

JUN 13 1943

JA705AEW

THE AIR MINISTRY ALSO ANNOUNCED TODAY THAT THE RECORD 2,000-TON RAID ON DORTMUND ON MAY 23 LEFT THAT WAR FACTORY CITY "PROBABLY THE MOST HEAVILY DAMAGED CITY IN GERMANY FOR ITS SIZE."

RECONNAISSANCE PHOTOGRAPHS MADE SINCE THE RAID SHOWED THE CITY, WHOSE POPULATION IS MORE THAN 500,000 LODGED IN ONE OF GERMANY'S MOST CONCENTRATED AREAS OF HEAVY INDUSTRY, "EVEN MORE HARD HIT THAN ESSEN, ALTHOUGH DAMAGE THERE RUNS IT CLOSE.

"8, 5£3 :492$3$ :

JUN 13 1943

"IN THE CROWDED CENTER OF THE CITY ALONE AT LEAST 150 ACRES HAVE BEEN TOTALLY DEVASTATED, MOSTLY BY FIRE," THE REVIEW SAID.

"THE SPREAD OF THE FIRE OUTSIDE THIS AREA APPEARS IN SOME PLACES TO HAVE BEEN CHECKED WHERE BUILDINGS WERE BLOWN UP OR BURNED DOWN IN THE EARLIER OF THE TWO RAIDS (THE LAST WAS ON MAY 4) BUT 880 OFFICE AND ADMINISTRATIVE BUILDINGS AND LARGE CITY BLOCKS WHICH MAY HAVE SERVED A VARIETY OF PURPOSES HAVE BEEN DESTROYED OR SEVERELY DAMAGED.

PRIME TARGETS IN DORTMUND WERE THE GREAT STEEL WORKS OF THE HOESCH COMPANY AND A BRANCH OF THE VEREINIGTE STAHLWERKE COMBINE.

THE HOESCH STEEL WORKS WERE DAMAGED IN BOTH ATTACKS AND THOUGH ONLY TWO-THIRDS OF THE AREA THUS FAR HAS BEEN PHOTOGRAPHED, 44 BUILDINGS WERE SEEN TO HAVE BEEN DAMAGED OR DESTROYED, THE REPORT SAID.

INGOTS, SHELLS AND FORGINGS ARE PRODUCED THERE.

DAMAGE AT THE VEREINIGTE COMBINE ALSO WAS EXTENSIVE, THE MINISTRY SAID.

THE MAIN BUILDING AT THE BIG MINE OF THE HOESCH KOLN-NEUSSEN KAISERSTUHL CONCERN WAS WRECKED IN THE SECOND RAID AND APPEARED TO BE INACTIVE FOR A WEEK.

TWENTY-ONE OTHER FACTORIES, AT LEAST NINE OF THEM ENGINEERING CONCERNS, WERE HIT IN THE SECOND ATTACK.

WIDE DAMAGE ALSO WAS DONE AT THE MAIN RAILWAY YARDS, DOCKS AND RAILWAY REPAIR SHOPS OF DORTMUND, WHICH IS THE TERMINUS OF THE DORTMUND-EMS CANAL.

JUN 13 1943

AS THE EASTERN GATEWAY OF THE RUHR, DORTMUND IS SECOND ONLY TO DUISBURG AS A TRANSPORT CENTER.

AT LEAST 1,258 HOUSES WERE DESTROYED OR DAMAGED IN THE WEISSENBURGER STRASSE RESIDENTIAL DISTRICT OF DORTMUND, IN ADDITION TO THE WRECKING OF THE MUNICIPAL POWER STATION, THE STATION TELEGRAPH OFFICE, THE MAIN FIRE STATION, THE MINE OFFICE AND ADMINISTRATIVE BUILDINGS, THE REPORT SAID.

AT ESSEN, THE AIR MINISTRY SAID, THERE IS SO MUCH DEVASTATION IT WAS DIFFICULT TO DISTINGUISH OLD DAMAGE FROM THE NEW BUT IT ESTIMATED THAT IN THE LAST TWO ATTACKS OF MARCH 30 AND MAY 28, 670 BUILDINGS EITHER WERE DEMOLISHED OR DAMAGED.

THREE HUNDRED SEPARATE BUILDINGS IN THE KRUPPS WORKS AT ESSEN EITHER WERE DESTROYED OR DAMAGED IN THE HEAVY ATTACKS OF MARCH OR APRIL, SAID THE REPORT.

JUN 13 1943

30.24-4925

THREE GERMAN INFANTRY ATTACKS SATURDAY IN THE ROSTOV AND LISICHANSK AREAS WERE BEATEN BACK WITH HEAVY LOSSES TO THE ENEMY, THE SOVIET MIDNIGHT COMMUNIQUE SAID, WITH THE STRONGEST ATTACK LAUNCHED WEST OF ROSTOV.

A GERMAN BROADCAST DECLARED THAT THE RUSSIANS HAD LAUNCHED REPEATED INFANTRY ATTACKS NORTHEAST OF OREL ON A BROAD FRONT, BREACHING THE "MAIN GERMAN LINE IN SOME PLACES." BUT THE RUSSIANS WERE "THROWN OUT IN IMMEDIATE COUNTER THRUSTS IN HAND TO HAND FIGHTING AND SUFFERED HEAVY LOSSES IN DEAD, WOUNDED AND PRISONERS," THE RADIO SAID.

JUN 13 1943

THE RUSSIAN COMMUNIQUE DID NOT MENTION THIS AREA.

WEST OF ROSTOV TWO GERMAN BATTALIONS--PERHAPS 1,600 MEN--"LAUNCHED SEVERAL ATTACKS ONE AFTER ANOTHER," SAID THE MOSCOW COMMUNIQUE RECORDED BY THE SOVIET MONITOR, BUT RUSSIAN TROOPS "WITH WELL-AIMED FIRE THREW BACK THE ENEMY TO THEIR INITIAL POSITIONS. THE ENEMY LEFT MANY DEAD ON THE BATTLEFIELD," AND TWO NAZI TANKS WERE DESTROYED.

SEVERAL DOZEN GERMANS WERE KILLED IN THE LISICHANSK AREA WHEN RUSSIAN MACHINEGUNS OPENED UP ON A NAZI ATTEMPT TO RECONNOITRE IN FORCE, THE WAR BULLETIN CONTINUED, AND "ON ANOTHER SECTOR THE ENEMY UNDER COVER OF A SMOKESCREEN TRIED TO CROSS THE NORTHERN DONETS RIVER. THE HITLERITES WERE MET BY MACHINEGUN AND RIFLE FIRE AND THE MAJORITY OF THEM WERE KILLED OR DROWNED IN THE RIVER."

THE COMMUNIQUE SAID RUSSIAN TROOPS MADE A SUCCESSFUL SCOUTING RAID BEHIND GERMAN LINES ON THE WESTERN FRONT. TWO HUNDRED NAZIS WERE REPORTED KILLED ON THIS FRONT AND NINE ENEMY PLANES DOWNED DURING THE DAY, AND 150 MORE GERMANS WERE DECLARED KILLED ON THE LENINGRAD FRONT.

RUSSIAN PLANES RANGING FAR ON FRIDAY WERE SAID TO HAVE

NFOTM

VAGED

JUN 13 1943

RUSSIAN PLANES RANGING FAR ON FRIDAY WERE SAID TO HAVE DESTROYED OR DAMAGED AT LEAST FIVE GERMAN TANKS, ABOUT 60 LOADED TRUCKS, SIX FUEL TANK TRUCKS, SET FIRE TO A NUMBER OF AMMUNITION AND FUEL DUMPS, WRECKED THREE RAILWAY PLANES, AND SILENCED 13 ENEMY BATTERIES.

GUERRILLAS IN THE ROVNO REGION WERE CREDITED WITH WRECKING A GERMAN TROOP TRAIN AND A MILITARY FREIGHT TRAIN.

GERMAN PLANES DROPPED INCENDIARY BOMBS ON A TOWN IN SOUTHWEST ENGLAND AFTER MIDNIGHT, BUT THERE WAS NO INDICATION THAT THE RAID WAS ON A LARGE SCALE.

"THE ALERT WAS BRIEF, AND ONLY A FEW GUNS OPENED UP. ENEMY ACTIVITY LIKEWISE WAS SLIGHT THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY.

JUN 13 1943

THE SWISS REPORTS SAID HUNGARY HAD WITHDRAWN FROM THE WAR IN RUSSIA AND WAS ATTEMPTING TO DEVELOP NEW FRIENDSHIPS THAT WOULD ENABLE HER TO KEEP ANNEXED TERRITORIES AFTER THE WAR. SHE REMAINS A MEMBER OF THE AXIS, HOWEVER.

JUN 13 1943

GEN. HOLLAR HAS BEEN A MEMBER OF THE IOWA NATIONAL GUARD SINCE HE ENLISTED AS A PRIVATE IN 1907. HE WAS A CAPTAIN OF INFANTRY IN THE MEXICAN BORDER CRISIS AND FIRST WORLD WAR. HE BECAME A COLONEL OF THE IOWA GUARD IN 1927 AND A BRIGADIER GENERAL IN 1940. HE WENT ON ACTIVE SERVICE ON FEB. 10, 1941.

JUN 13 1943

london, sunday, june 13-(ap)-- raf bombers struck at germ[illegible] last night, it was reported authoritatively early today, renewing the assault after ~~the~~ duesseldorf and other german arms centers ~~am~~ had been pounded the night before by the greatest air ~~ma~~ fleet ever assembled.

the raf's foray completed the second 24-hour cycle of day and night bombing of axis-held europe, with u. s. and british planes sweeping over france by ~~x~~ daylight saturday.

JUN 13 1943

the friday night assault upon duesseldorf was an hour-long pounding that spread over other nazi industrial centers in the ruhr and rhineland., with more than 2,000 tons of bombs dropped in the shattering rai

LONDON, JUNE 12-(AP)- A DNB, GERMAN NEWS AGENCY DISPATCH FROM PARIS, BROADCAST BY THE BERLIN RADIO TODAY, SAID A MEMBER OF THE FRENCH POPULAR PARTY BELONGING TO A COLLABORATION GROUP WAS SHOT AND KILLED BY ASSASSINS AT POITIERS. THE ASSASSINS WERE REPORTED TO HAVE ESCAPED.

THE BROADCAST WAS RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

JUN 13 1943

LONDON, JUNE 12-(AP)-THE ALGIERS RADIO SAID TODAY THAT SURRENDERED ITALIAN GARRISON AT PANTELLERIA WAS "ABOUT 12,000 TO 15,000 STRONG." THE BROADCAST WAS RECORDED BY REUTERS.

N841AEW

JUN 13 1943

LONDON--FIRST ADD PANTELLERIA X X X BY RREUTERS.

ALEXANDER CLIFFORD, REPORTING FOR THE COMBINED BRITISH PRESS, CABLED LATER THAT THE ISLAND WAS GARRISONED BY 15,000 ITALIANS COMMANDED BY AN ADMIRAL "WHO STILL IS IN THE HILLS."

BERLIN BROADCASTS YESTERDAY IDENTIFIED THE SENIOR OFFICER ON THE ISLAND AS ADMIRAL PARESSENI. THE GARRISON COMMANDER WAS REPORTED TO HAVE BEEN GIUSEPPE CADILE, CONSUL OF THE NINTH LEGIO OF ITALIAN NAVAL MILITIA.

JUN 13 1943

30.24-4927

LONDON, JUNE 12-(AP)-THE ALGIERS RADIO REPORTED TONIGHT THAT 30 ENEMY PLANES ATTEMPTED TO ATTACK AN ALLIED LANDING FORCE AFTER LAMPEDUSA SURRENDERED TODAY BUT WERE DRIVEN OFF.

LONDON, SUNDAY, JUNE 13-(AP)-THE ALGIERS RADIO REPORTED LAST NIGHT THAT GERMAN AUTHORITIES IN MARSEILLE HAD INSTRUCTED FRENCH POLICE AND MILITIA ON MEASURES TO BE TAKEN IF THE BRITISH ATTEMPTED PARACHUTE LANDINGS IN SOUTHERN FRANCE.

JUN 13 1943

THE NATURE OF THESE MEASURES WAS NOT DISCLOSED. THE BROADCAST WAS RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

LONDON, SUNDAY, JUNE 13-(AP)-ERNEST L.BEVIN, BRITISH MINISTER OF LABOR AND NATIONAL SERVICES, IN A BROADCAST TO AMERICA TODAY DECLARED THAT "WOMEN HAVE TIPPED THE SCALES TOWARD VICTORY IN THIS WAR."

SUMMARIZING HOW THE PEOPLE OF BRITAIN HAVE RALLIED TO THE SERVICE OF THEIR COUNTRY HE POINTED OUT THAT 25 MILLIONS OF THE 46 MILLION PEOPLE IN GREAT BRITAIN ARE ENGAGED IN SOME KIND OF WAR WORK. MORE THAN 90 PER CENT OF THE SINGLE WOMEN OF WORKING AGE HOLD WAR JOBS AND 600,000 HOUSEWIVES ARE DOING PART TIME WORK, HE ADDED.

LONDON, JUNE 12--(AP)--DESULTORY GROUND ACTION AND SCOUTING ENGAGEMENTS MARKED THE RUSSIAN-GERMAN BATTLEFRONT LAST NIGHT, THE SOVIET NOON COMMUNIQUE ANNOUNCED TODAY, WITH RUSSIAN ARTILLERY SMASHING THE EFFORTS OF A GERMAN INFANTRY COLUMN TO DIG IN ON THE DONETS RIVER FRONT SOUTH OF IZYUM.

JUN 13 1943

THE OSCOW-BROADCAST COMMUNIQUE ALSO SAID THE GERMANS WERE DRIVEN OUT OF A SMALL VILLAGE IN THE VICINITY OF BELGOROD, WHICH LIES BETWEEN KURSK AND KHARKOV.

SOVIET PILOTS SHOT DOWN THREE ENEMY PLANES IN THE IZYUM AREA, THE BULLETIN ANNOUNCED, BUT THERE WAS NOTHING TO MATCH THE EFFORTS OF THE RED ARMY AIR FORCE WHICH ROARED OUT MORE THAN 700-STRONG YESTERDAY TO DAMAGE OR DESTROY 150 GERMAN PLANES ENEMY AIR BASES ALONG THE FRONT. THE RUSSIANS LOST 19 PLANES, A MOSCOW BROADCAST SAID.

JUN 13 1943

LONDON, SUNDAY, JUNE 13-(AP)-FOLLOWING IS THE TEXT OF PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL'S MESSAGE OF CONGRATULATIONS TODAY TO ADMIRAL OF THE FLEET SIR ANDREW B.CUNNINGHAM, COMMANDER OF THE BRITISH FLEET IN THE MEDITERRANEAN:

I WISH TO SEND YOU MY CONGRATULATIONS UPON THE ADMIRABLE WORK DONE BY THE NAVY DURING THE WHOLE OF THE TUNISIAN CAMPAIGN AND PARTICULARLY AT ITS CONCLUSION.

THE DARING AND DEVOTION OF OUR SUBMARINES SUCCEEDED IN SINKING 47 SHIPS AND OUR SURFACE FORCES 42 SHIPS OF AN AGGREGATE TONNAGE OF 268,600. WHEN TO THIS IS ADDED THE SINKINGS BY AIR A GRAND TOTAL OF 137 SHIPS AND 433,400 TONS IS REACHED.

THIS IS 32 PERCENT OF THE ESTIMATED SHIPPING INITIALLY AVAILABLE TO THE AXIS AT THE BEGINNING OF THE TUNISIAN CAMPAIGN.

DURING THE LONG STRUGGLE ON THE MAINLAND, THE NAVY AND AIR FORCE WORKING IN THE CLOSEST COOPERATION SANK 21 ENEMY DESTROYERS OR TORPEDO BOATS AND MANY SMALL CRAFT AND PREVENTED 35 PERCENT OF ENEMY SUPPLY SHIPS AND TRANSPORTS FROM REACHING TUNISIA.

TO THE MINESWEEPERS FELL THE HONOR OF REOPENING THE MEDITERRANEAN BY CLEARING CHANNELS 600 MILES LONG BETWEEN THE 9TH AND 21ST OF MAY.

JUN 13 1943

PROTECTION OF OUR OWN CONVOYS WAS CARRIED TO THE VERY HIGHEST POINT.

OVER THE WHOLE VAST MASS OF SHIPPING WHICH ENTERED THE MEDITERRANEAN BETWEEN NOV. 8, 1942, AND MAY 8, 1943, THE LOSSES WERE LESS THAN TWO AND ONE-QUARTER PERCENT.

MOTOR TORPEDO BOATS SHOWED THE HIGHEST ENTERPRISE IN ALL THEIR OPERATIONS, WHICH DEVELOPED INCREASINGLY FROM MARCH TO MAY, AND DURING THE FIRST FORTNIGHT OF MAY THEY SANK NINE SHIPS WITH A LOSS OF FOUR.

JUN 13 1943

DESTROYERS OF THE ROYAL NAVY, WITH MOTOR TORPEDOBOATS AND CRUISER SUPPORT, MADE A CLOSE BLOCKADE AROUND THE TUNISIAN TIP IN THE FINAL PHASE THROUGH WHICH PRACTICALLY NOTHING WAS ABLE TO PASS AND ALL PROSPECT OF A DUNKERQUE WAS DENIED TO THE ENEMY.

ALL THIS COULD NOT HAVE BEEN ACCOMPLISHED WITHOUT THE SUPPORT OF BATTLESHIPS, AIRCRAFT CARRIERS AND CRUISERS, WHO WERE DENIED THE MEETING WITH THE ITALIAN BATTLE FLEET THEY SO ARDENTLY DESIRE.

I AM VERY GLAD TO PUT THESE FACTS, WHICH IMPRESSED THEMSELVES UPON ME DURING MY VISIT, ON RECORD, AND I REQUEST YOU TO OFFER MY THANKS AND COMPLIMENTS TO ALL OFFICERS AND MEN OF THE NAVAL FORCES UNDER YOUR COMMAND FOR THE NOTABLE CONTRIBUTION THEY HAVE MADE TO THE MEMORABLE AFRICAN VICTORY.

THE DAS REICH CORRESPONDENT SAID THE NUMBER OF YOUNG FRENCHMEN WHO ESCAPED TO SPAIN WAS "MORE THAN DOUBLE THE NUMBER OF SPANIARDS FIGHTING IN THE FOREIGN LEGION ON THE RUSSIAN FRONT." JUN 13 1943

"IT IS NOT LOGICAL," HE SAID, "THAT SPAIN SHEDS BLOOD FOR THE DEFSNSE OF EUROPE WHILE ENEMIES ON THE CONTINENT STREAM TOWARD HER."

HUNGARIAN (PRECEDE LONDON DAY)

BERN, SWITZERLAND, JUNE 12-(AP)-THE ARREST OF 372 PERSONS IN BUDAPEST, AND THE RESIGNATION OF COL.-GEN.WILLIAM NAGY AS HUNGARIAN MINISTER OF WAR WERE REPORTED TODAY. JUN 13 1943

SWISS TELEGRAPHIC AGENCY REPORTS SAID THE 372 PERSONS HAD BEEN ARRESTED THURSDAY AND FRIDAY, AFTER 125 FIRST WERE TAKEN INTO CUSTODY ON SUSPICION OF VIOLATING NATIONAL SECURITY REGULATIONS.

BERLIN REPORTED THAT ADMIRAL NICHOLAS HORTHY, REGENT OF HUNGARY, HAD ACCEPTED THE RESIGNATION OF GENERAL NAGY, AND APPOINTED COL.GEN. LUDWIG VON CSATA, 57, TO SUCCEED HIM. CSATA, COMMANDER OF THE THIRD HUNGARIAN ARMY SINCE LAST FEBRUARY, COMMANDED THE FIFTH HUNGARIAN ARMY CORPS IN RUSSIA LAST YEAR, AND TOOK COMMAND OF ALL HUNGARIAN TROOPS THERE WHEN COL.GEN.VON JANY WAS WOUNDED.

THE ARMY SHAKEUP WAS SEEN AS POSSIBLY A STEP IN HUNGARY'S SHIFT FROM COMPLETE AXIS COLLABORATION TO A NEW POLICY OF NON-BELLIGERENCY. UNDER THIS POLICY, HUNGARY WAS SAID TO HAVE WITHDRAWN FROM THE RUSSIAN WAR, AND TO BE SEEKING NEW FRIENDSHIPS THROUGH WHICH SHE MIGHT KEEP ANNEXED TERRITORIES AFTER THE WAR. HUNGARY STILL REMAINS A MEMBER OF THE AXIS.

PRIVATE TELEPHONE COMMUNICATIONS BETWEEN CITIES IN HUNGARY WERE FORBIDDEN TODAY BY THE MINISTER OF COMMERCE AND COMMUNICATIONS.

JUN 13 1943

30.24-4929

BY WILLIAM MC GAFFIN

JUN 13 1943

MOSCOW, JUNE 12-(AP)- HE WORE AN AMERICAN KHAKI UNIFORM AND AMERICAN SHOES. HE WAS A PRIVATE IN THE RED ARMY.

AND HE WALKED INTO THE AMERICAN EMBASSY THE OTHER DAY AND SAID: "I WA JUST PASSING BY AND WANTED TO DROP IN AND TELL THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT MY COMRADES AND I APPRECIATE THE HELP WE'RE GETTING FROM AMERICA."

THE INCIDENT WAS NOT STAGED. IT WAS GIVEN NO PUBLICITY. I LEARNED ABOUT IT ONLY BY CHANCE ON THE XXXX FIRST ANNIVERSARY OF THE AMERICAN-SOVIET AGREEMENT.

IT WAS SATURDAY AFTERNOON AT THE EMBASSY. THE AMBASSADOR AND ALL THE OTHER RANKING OFFICIALS WERE OUT.

JUN 13 1943

SO THIS RED ARMY PRIVATE, WHOSE NAME IS WOLF MAYER, WAS RECEIVED BY THE CLERK ON DUTY. LAMAR MULLINER, OF SHAMOKIN, PA.

JUN 13 1943

THROUGH AN INTERPRETER, THE AMERICAN CLERK XXXXX VOICED A WELCOME IN WORDS BEFITTING AN AMBASSADOR AND THEN THE TWO SAT DOWN FOR A FRIENDLY TALK.

JUN 13 1943

"I COME ON MY OWN INITIATIVE, SAID MAYER, PAUSING FOR A QUICK PULL ON THE AMERICAN CIGARET MULLINER GAVE HIM.

"PONIMAYU," SAID MULLINER. "I UNDERSTAND."

"THESE SHOES I'VE BEEN WEARING FOR MORE THAN A YEAR AND THIS UNIFORM, THEY'RE GOOD," THE RUSSIAN SOLDIER SAID BRIGHTLY. "MY COMRADES AND I KNOW WHAT THE UNITED STATES IS DOING FOR US.

HIS VOICE SOBERED.

"I WAS AT STALINGRAD," HE SAID. "IT WAS THERE WE GOT TO TALKING ABOUT THE WAY YOU'RE HELPING US."

JUN 13 1943

IN MOSCOW, ON FURLOUGH, HE RESOLVED TO TELL THE AMERICANS HOW HE FELT.

HE HAD ONE REQUEST. COULD MULLINER SPARE HIM SOME AMERICAN STAMPS? HE WAS, HE EXPLAINED, A STAMP COLLECTOR.

JUN 13 1943

MULLINER OBLIGED WITH SEVERAL AND WAS ASTOUNDED WHEN THE SOLDIER IDENTIFIED THE FEATURES OF FAMOUS AMERICANS ON THE STAMP ISSUES.

"I HOPE I CAN SEE MORE AMERICANS," THE VISITOR SAID GLOWINGLY ON HIS DEPARTURE.

THE FEELING OF THE FIGHTING FRENCH LEADER, WHO HAS THREATENED TO RESIGN FROM THE COMMITTEE UNLESS HIS DEMANDS ARE GRANTED, BECAME KNOWN YESTERDAY AFTER HE DECLINED TO ATTEND A COMMITTEE SESSION AND PRECIPITATED A CRISIS IN NEGOTIATIONS WHICH HAD BEEN DEADLOCKED THREE DAYS.

THE GROUP MET INFORMALLY, WITH DE GAULLE ABSENT, AND IT WAS BELIEVED NO WEEKEND SESSION WAS PLANNED IN VIEW OF HIS NON-CONCILIATORY ATTITUDE.

JUN 13 1943

IN ADDITION TO HIS OPPOSITION TO SOME 150 GENERALS, SOME OF WHOM LED THE ARMY WHICH FOUGHT THE FIGHTING FRENCH IN SYRIA, DE GAULLE ALSO WAS INSISTENT ON IMMEDIATE REFORMS TO ASSURE FIGHTING FRENCH UNITS A PROMINENT POSITION IN THE ARMY.

IT WAS REPORTED GEN. HENRI GIRAUD WOULD ACQUIESCE TO MOST OF THE REQUESTS IF THEY COULD BE HANDLED GRADUALLY, BUT WAS BALKING AT THE INSISTENCE ON IMMEDIATE ACTION.

THE OTHER COMMITTEEMEN RELIABLY WERE REPORTED SYMPATHETIC WITH GIRAUD IN THE DISPUTE BUT WEREHSUBORDINATING EVERYTHING TO AN EFFORT TO BRING DE GAULLE AND GIRAUD TOGETHER AT THE EARLIEST DATE FOR PRIVATE DISCUSSION OF THEIR PROBLEMS.

JUN 13 1943

ONE PERSON IN A POSITION TO KNOW, HOWEVER, SAID DE GAULLE RECENTLY TOLD ASSOCIATES "GIRAUD WANTS TO RETAIN POWER AND RUN THE WHOLE SHOW." DE GAULLE WAS SEEN STAKING EVERYTHING ON A DECISIVE ISSUE, STRATEGY HE HAS PURSUED SUCCESSFULLY IN THE PAST, AND MANY PERSONS CLOSE TO THE CONFERENCE BELIEVE THAT COMPROMISES CAN BE EFFECTED IF A SHOWDOWN DECISION IS GAINED ON THE PURGING OF GENERALS WHOM DE GAULLE HAS OPPOSED ON GROUNDS THEY HAD BEEN COLLABORATIONISTS.

JUN 13 1943

1943

30.24-4931

BY NOLAND NORGAARD

PANTELLERIA, JUNE 11-(DELAYED)-(AP)-A MIGHTY BRITISH INVASION FLEET SAILED TO PANTELLERIA TODAY AND SEIZED THE HARBOR AND TOWN WITHOUT A FIGHT FROM 10,000 SURRENDERING, BOMB-SHOCKED ITALIAN TROOPS WHO HAD BEEN WITHOUT FOOD AND WATER FOR THREE DAYS.

THE ISLAND WAS OVERPOWERED BY TREMENDOUS ASSAULTS OF ALLIED WAR-PLANES SUPPORTED BY WARSHIPS.

JUN 13 1943

TROOPS ABOARD THE INVASION CRAFT HAD SAILED AT DAWN EXPECTING A FIGHT, BUT THE WHITE FLAGS OF SURRENDER WERE FLOWN BEFORE THE ZERO HOUR, AND THERE WAS ONLY SCATTERED RESISTANCE IN THE HILLS WHEN THE BRITISH WENT ASHORE IN LANDING BARGES.

THE DEFENSES HAD BEEN CUT TO RIBBONS BY THE HEAVIEST AND MOST CONCENTRATED AERIAL AND NAVAL BOMBARDMENT OF A SMALL TARGET THAT THE WORLD HAS EVER KNOWN.

JUN 13 1943

IT WAS A BIG OCCUPATION FORCE IN A GREAT FLEET OF LANDING BOATS WHICH CAPTURED THE PORT WITHOUT FIRING A SHOT OR LOSING A MAN, BUT IT WAS AIR POWER-- EMPLOYED IN DIMENSIONS DWARFING THE MEANING OF THAT WORD IN PREVIOUS OPERATIONS OF SIMILAR NATURE-- WHICH LEFT THE PORT A SMOKING MASS OF RUBBLE AND ITS DEFENDERS SHAKEN AND SHELL-SHOCKED MEN WHO RUSHED FORWARD EAGERLY TO SURRENDER.

WHITE FLAGS OF SURRENDER WERE WAVED EAGERLY BY ITALIAN TROOPS ALONG THE QUAYS OF PANTELLERIA'S LITTLE HARBOR ON THE NORTHWEST CORNER OF THE ISLAND WHEN THE FIRST LANDING BARGES SWEPT TOWARD THE SHORE.

THE SURRENDER WAS NO SURPRISE TO THOSE LIKE MYSELF ON FOLLOWING LANDING CRAFT WHO A FEW MINUTES BEFORE HAD SEEN SCORES OF AMERICAN FLYING FORTRESSES FLY OVER IN COMPACT FORMATION AND WITH DEADLY PRECISION BLAST THE TOWN AND SURROUNDING ITALIAN DEFENSE AREA INTO SUBJECTION.

JUN 13 1943

WE WERE ONLY A FEW MILES OFFSHORE THEN AND HAD A PERFECT VIEW BUT IN A FEW MINUTES THE WHOLE ISLAND WAS HIDDEN BY TOWERING COLUMNS OF SMOKE AND DUST LEFT BY BOMBS.

THE ISLAND, WHICH MUSSOLINI HAD IN 1927 BEGUN TO CONVERT INTO A STRONG FORTRESS ASTRIDE THE VITAL STRAIT OF SICILY, THUS BECAME THE FIRST TARGET TO BE CONQUERED FROM THE AIR IN THE UNITED DRIVE TO CRUSH THE AXIS.

AND CONQUERED IT WAS BEFORE THE FIRST TROOPS SET FOOT ON LAND, ALTHOUGH A MOPPING UP PROCESS THROUGH THE ROUGH MOUNTAINOUS AREA FARTHER SOUTH AND EAST ON THE ISLAND REMAINED FOR THE LAND FORCES.

EVEN SO THE LANDING AND QUICK DRIVE TO SEIZE PANTELLERIA'S AIRDROME--WHICH GIVES THE ALLIES A BASE FROM WHICH EVEN THE SHORTEST-RANGE FIGHTER PLANES MAY OPERATE AGAINST SICILY---WAS A HAPPY EVENT FOR THE BRITISH FORCE BECAUSE A LARGE PROPORTION OF IT WAS MADE UP OF VETERANS OF DUNKERQUE'S BEACHES.

JUN 13 1943

TO THESE VETERANS--ALL PRT OF THE BRITISH TROOPS WHICH ALSO HAD A BIG PART IN SMASHING THE LAST AXIS STRONGHOLD IN TUNISIA--THE ROLE PLAYED BY THE TREMENDOUS UNITED STATES BOMBING FLEET CAME AS A WELCOME SURPRISE. THEY HAD BEEN TOLD THAT BOMBERS WERE SOFTING UP THE ITALIAN DEFENSES, BUT THEY COULDN'T HAVE FORESEEN HOW EFFECTIVE THAT BOMBING WAS.

JUN 13 1943

THE FIRST BIG FORMATIONS ENROUTE TO . .PARE THE WAY FOR PANTELLERIA'S OCCUPATION ROARED OVER OUR BIG CONVOY OF LANDING CRAFT, ESCORTED BY ROYAL NAVY CRUISERS, DESTROYERS AND GUNBOATS, SHORTLY AFTER DAWN. AT THE SAME TIME, U.S. AND BRITISH FIGHTERS-SPITFIRES, WARHAWKS, AND LIGHTNINGS--MAINTAINED A CONSTANT VIGILANT PATROL OVER THE CONVOY PTOTECTING IT FROM ENEMY PLANES.

THEN IN RELAYS CAME MORE AND MORE FORTRESSES, MITCHELLS, MARAUDERS BOSTONS, AND BOMB-CARRYING WARHAWK AND LIGHTNING FIGHTERS.

JUN 13 1943

IT WAS A THRILLING SIGHT TO THE BRITISH VETERANS WHO REMEMBERED, AS ONE EXPLAINED, THE DAYS IN FRANCE WHEN "WE ALWAYS TOOK TO COVER WHEN THE PLANES CAME OVER BECAUSE THEY ALMOST NEVER [illegible]UR OWN."

IN THE TRUE MEANING OF THAT HACKNEYED P[illegible], "THE OPERATION WENT ACCORDING TO PLAN." AT PRECISELY 11 [illegible]BRITISH CRUISERS AND DESTROYERS BEGAN SHELLING GUN POSITIONS ON THE HILLS ON EITHER SIDE OF THE HARBOR. HALF AN HOUR LATER THE FORTRESSES BEGAN THEIR DEADLY WORK.

AS OUR BOAT IDLED ON THE SMOOTH SEA I WATCHED THE GREAT COLUMNS OF SMOKE AND DUST, MIXED WITH OCCASIONAL FLAMES INDICATING GASOLINE OR AMMUNITION FIRES, RISE UNTIL THE ISLAND WAS HIDDEN FROM VIEW.

THE WARSHIPS RESUMED THEIR SHELLING AS SOON AS THE CLOUDS DRIFTED ASIDE. THEN THE LITTLE ASSAULT BOATS MOVED IN TO BEACHES AND QUAYS.

A TENSE MOMENT FOLLOWED WITH WAITING TROOPS AND WARSHIPS OUTSIDE THE HARBOR DIVERTED ONLY BY THE EFFORTS OF ENEMY WARPLANES TO INTERFERE WITH THE INVASION.

JUN 13 1943

THE AXIS BOMBERS WERE QUICKLY CHASED OFF BY AMERICAN FIGHTERS GUARDING THE CONVOY.

AT NOON CAME A WIRELESS MESSAGE THAT THE ASSAULT BOATS APPEARED TO BE TAKING THE PORT WITHOUT OPPOSITION. TEN MINUTES LATER CAME A SECOND MESSAGE THAT A WHITE FLAG WAS FLYING FROM ONE QUAY. IN ANOTHER 10 MINUTES AN ORDER CAME FOR OUR SUPPORTING LANDING PARTIES TO COME IN.

JUN 13 1943

THE PORT AND TOWN PRESENTED A MEMORABLE SIGHT AS OUR BOAT RAN ON TO THE BEACH. ON THE HILLS ON EITHER SIDE AND BEHIND THE TOWN WERE BIG GUNS WHICH THE ITALIANS HAD INSTALLED A YEAR BEFORE. MANY WERE OUT OF COMMISSION AS THE RESULT OF THE HEAVY BOMBING IN RECENT WEEKS

INTO THE RUBBLE-STREWN STREET FROM NEARBY TERRACED VINEYARDS AND FIELDS MARCHED LONG LINES OF ITALIANS EAGER TO GIVE THEMSELVES INTO THE CUSTODY OF OUR TROOPS, WHOSE ARRIVAL BROUGHT A CESSATION OF THE BOMBING HELL THEY HAD KNOWN FOR WEEKS.

CIVILIANS TOLD US THAT 6,000 RESIDENTS REMAINED ON THE ISLAND IN ADDITION TO 10,000 ITALIAN SOLDIERS AND SAILORS. THEY SAID THERE WERE ONLY ABOUT 100 GERMANS ON THE ISLANDS, BUT THE GERMANS NEVER-THELESS MANAGED TO SEIZE AND TAKE AWAY M[illegible] OF THE AVAILABLE FOOD.

THOSE NOT TOO STUNNED BY THE BOMBING TO TALK DECLARED THEY [illegible]ERE GLAD THE ALLIED FORCES HAD COME. IT WAS EASY TO BELIEVE THEM, FOR MOST OF THEM HAD BEEN WITHOUT FOOD OR WATER FOR THREE DAYS AND NIGHTS AND LIVED MOST OF THE TIME IN RECENT WEEKS IN CAVES WHERE THEY WERE REASONABLY SAFE FROM BOMBS.

THEY HAD MANAGED TO SAVE THEIR LIVES BUT THE TERRIFIC POUNDING GIVEN THE ISLAND WAS REFLECTED IN THEIR MANNER. WOMEN AND CHILDREN STOOD IDLY WITH BLANK STARES, HARDLY DARING TO BELIEVE THAT NOW THEY WERE SAFE.

WHILE THEY WERE BEING QUESTIONED, MORE BOMBERS WINGED OVERHEAD AND BOMBED ITALIAN POSITIONS IN THE HILLS INLAND.

BUT THESE WEARY PEOPLE AND THE CAPTURED TROOPS PAID LITTLE ATTEN-TION. THEY HAD SEEN HOW ALLIED AIR POWER COULD PULVERIZE SELECTED TARGETS AND THEY KNEW THE BOMBS WERE INTENDED FOR ANOTHER TARGET.

A SMALL DETACHMENT OF AMERICANS LANDED BUT THE COMBAT FORCE WAS ENTIRELY BRITISH.

JUN 13 1943

3027-4933

DURING THE FINAL DRAMATIC HOURS OF THE SURRENDER OF PANTELLERIA, 45 MILES OFF CAP BON AND THE FIRST ENEMY ISLAND FORTRESS EVER TO SUCCUMB TO AIR POWER ALONE, ALLIED AIRMEN WERE OVER THE STRONGHOLD CONTINUOUSLY AND SOON AFTER MIDDAY WARDED OFF 50 TO 60 GERMAN DIVE BOMBERS WHICH ATTEMPTED TO BREAK UP THE BRITISH INVASION CONVOY.

FOURTEEN OF THE DIVE-BOMBERS WERE SHOT DOWN, HOWEVER, AND ONLY TWO ALLIED PLANES WERE LOST.

JUN 13 1943

(THE CLAIM, NOT BORNE OUT BY ANY ALLIED SOURCE, WAS MADE BY THE GERMAN RADIO TODAY THAT AN 8,000-TON TROOP TRANSPORT AND 13 LANDING BOATS WERE SUNK IN THE GERMAN ATTACK. THREE CRUISERS, EIGHT OTHER WARSHIPS AND SIX TRANSPORTS WERE HEAVILY DAMAGED, THE RADIO ASSERTED.)

THE FIRST BRISTLING PROTECTION FOR THE CONVOY WAS FURNISHED BY LIEUT.COL.ARTHUR SALISBURY OF SEDALIA,MO., AND AMERICAN WARHAWK PILOTS HE COMMANDED IN AFRICAN FIGHTING FROM EL ALAMEIN, EGYPT, TO TUNIS.

JUN 13 1943

THEY SPOTTED FIVE MESSERSCHMITTS AND COMPLETELY DISPERSED THE FORMATION, FORCING THEM TO JETTISON THEIR BOMBS IN A RUNNING FIGHT AND SHOOTING DOWN ONE.

SHORTLY AFTERWARD, LIEUT.COL.JOHN D.STEVENSON OF LARAMIE,WYO., 29-YEAR-OLD GROUP COMMANDER OF AMERICAN FIGHTER-BOMBERS, SAW A LARGE WHITE CROSS ON THE AIRDROME AND SENT THE MESSAGE, "COMPLETE SURRENDER SIGNAL BEEN SIGHTED."

FLIGHT OFFICER L.LIBBY OF LEFORS,TEX., ALSO AW A WHITE FLAG ON A HIGH VOLCANIC HILL.

AIR FORCE HEADQUARTERS THEN SENT AIRCRAFT TO FLY OVER THE ISLAND AND TAKE PICTURES IN CONFIRMATION OF THE SURRENDER.

LIEUT.COL.STEVENSON, WHO HAD BEEN BOMBING "MIDWAY HILL" ON THE ROAD TO THE AIRFIELD, MADE A RETURN SWEEP LATER AND SAW NOT ONE WHITE CROSS BUT ABOUT A DOZEN.

JUN 13 1943

SHORTLY AFTER THE NOON LANDING BY BRITISH TROOPS IN PANTELLERIA HARBOR AMERICAN SPITFIRES INTERCEPTED 36 MESSERSCHMITT 109S AND FOCKE-WULF 190S APPROACHING THE BRITISH NAVAL AND TRANSPORT FORMATIONS. THE ENEMY WAS ENGAGED FORTHWITH ALTHOUGH THE AMERICANS WERE OUTNUMBERED THREE TO ONE. MOST OF THE GERMANS JETTISONED THEIR BOMBS AND FIVE OF THE MESSERSCHMITTS WERE DOWNED.

LATER ANOTHER AMERICAN SPITFIRE FORMATION DROVE OFF 15 FOCKE-WULF AND MESSERSCHMITT FIGHTER-BOMBERS BEFORE THEY COULD REACH THE SHIPS AND IN THE DOGFIGHT SHOT DOWN FOUR OF THE FOCKE-WULFS AND TWO OF THE MESSERSCHMITTS.

TWO MORE ENEMY AIRCRAFT WRE SHOT DOWN BY THE COASTAL COMMAND.

WHEN THE INVASION BARGES WERE STILL ABOUT THREE MILES FROM SHORE, 25 ENEMY FIGHTERS WERE DRIVEN OFF BY LIGHTNINGS, SECOND LIEUT.GEORGE R.SMITH OF SPRING VALLEY,IDA., REPORTED.

THE BRITISH NAVY DISCLOSED A FULLER PICTURE TODAY OF THE PART IT PLAYED IN THE VICTORY.

JUN 13 1943

A MOTOR TORPEDO BOAT PATROL OFF THE ISLAND WAS ESTABLISHED MAY 11, EVEN BEFORE CONCLUSION OF FIGHTING IN TUNISIA, AND THIS WAS AUGMENTED BY DESTROYERS, EFFECTIVELY BLOCKADING THE ISLAND.

THE CRUISER ORION AND THE DESTROYERS ISIS AND PETARD WERE THE FIRST TO BOMBARD PANTELLERIA EARLY ON MAY 13. THE ORION, PETARD AND THE DESTROYER TROUBRIDGE CARRIED OUT ANOTHER BOMBARDMENT THE NIGHT OF MAY 30.

JUN 13 1943

THE CRUISER PENELOPE AND THE DESTROYERS PALADIN AND PETARD SHELLED THE ENEMY FORTRESS THE AFTERNOON OF JUNE 1 AND A SIMILAR ATTACK WAS REPEATED THE NIGHT OF JUNE 2 AND AGAIN THE MORNING OF JUNE 3.

JUN 13 1943

THE CRUISER NEWFOUNDLAND AND THE DESTROYERS PALADIN AND TROUBRIDGE AGAIN WERE IN ACTION AGAINST THE ISLAND AT DAWN JUNE 5.

A FULL SCALE TEST OF THE ISLAND DEFENSES WAS MADE AT NOON JUNE 8 WHEN FIVE CRUISERS AND EIGHT DESTROYERS WITH GEN.EISENHOWER, ALLIED COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF, ADMIRAL SIR ANDREW BROWNE CUNNINGHAM, ALLIED NAVAL COMMANDER IN THE MEDITERRANEAN, ON BOARD THE FLAGSHIP CRUISER AURORA, POURED IN ROUND UPON ROUND FROM CLOSE RANGE WHILE FLYING FORTRESSES BOMBARDED FROM OVERHEAD.

UNLIKE PANTELLERIA, LAMPEDUSA HAS SERVED ONLY AS A SECONDARY ITALIAN AIR AND SUBMARINE BASE. ONLY SEVEN BY TWO MILES IN SIZE, IT APPARENTLY NOW IS WITHOUT AIR COVER. THE FIRST TWO FLIGHTS OF AMERICAN MARAUDER BOMBERS THAT ATTACKED ITS HARBOR YESTERDAY REPORTED NO FIGHTER OPPOSITION.

JUN 13 1943

THEY LAID STRINGS OF BOMBS ACROSS THE HARBOR. WHEN THE AMERICAN BOMBERS TOOK OFF AT NIGHTFALL, THE RAF'S BIG WELLINGTONS CARRIED THE ASSAULT ON THROUGH THE NIGHT. LAMPEDUSA'S DEFENSES WERE TESTED BY A BRITISH NAVAL LANDING PARTY EARLIER IN THE WEEK WITH THE LOSS OF ONLY TWO MEN.

THE AIR FORCE HAS BEEN GIVEN THE ROLE OF LONG RANGE ARTILLERY AND NAVAL VESSELS CHECK UP DAILY ON THE EFFECT OF THE NON-STOP PLASTERING.

JUN 13 1943

BEFORE PANTELLERIA FELL, ALLIED NAVAL VESSELS MOVED IN CLOSE TO THE ISLAND AND FOUND THAT ITS SHORE BATTERIES WERE STEADILY WEAKENING. THE FINAL ASSAULT WAS ORDERED AFTER DESTROYERS HAD RECONNOITERED CLOSE TO THE HARBOR, THE ONLY SATISFACTORY LANDING POINT, AND REPORTED THAT THE RESISTANCE OF THE SHORE GUNS APPARENTLY WAS NEAR AN END.

THE WHITE FLAGS WENT UP AS THE FIRST LANDING CRAFT WERE SIGHTED OFFSHORE, INDICATING THAT THE PLAN WORKED TO PERFECTION.

SEVERAL PILOTS REPORTED THEY SAW ABSOLUTELY NO SIGNS OF FLAK AND THE SMALL ISLAND GARRISON WAS COMPLETELY HELPLESS UNDER THIS HAMMERING FROM THE SKIES. WITH NO GERMAN AIR FORCE TO SAVE THEM, THE DEFENDERS HAD TO BUCKLE UNDER AFTER LESS THAN TWO DAYS OF BOMBING.

THE LITTLE ISLAND IS REGARDED AS BEING OF SUCH SLIGHT IMPORTANCE BY CARTOGRAPHERS THAT THEY LEAVE IT OFF MOST MAPS. IT HAD LESS STRATEGIC IMPORTANCE THAN PANTELLERIA AND ITS CAPTURE IS MORE OF A BLOW TO ITALIAN PRIDE THAN A HELP TO THE ALLIED WAR EFFORT.

HOWEVER, ITS LOSS ROBS THE AXIS OF ONE MORE SPOT AT WHICH TO CHECK THE MOVEMENT OF ALLIED CONVOYS.

JUN 13 1943

WITHIN AN HOUR AFTER PANTELLERIA YIELDED AT 11:40 A.M. YESTERDAY, LAMPEDUSA BECAME MEDITERRANEAN TARGET NO. 1 FOR THE AMERICAN AND BRITISH PRECISION BOMB-THROWERS. IN THE FIRST RAID THEY HIT A LARGE MERCHANT SHIP IN THE HARBOR AND SEVERAL SMALL BOATS BELIEVED TO BE BARGES.

JUN 13 1943

30.24-4935

THE TACTICAL AIR FORCE SENT GROUPS OF LIGHT BOMBERS AND RAIDERS OVER THE PINPOINT ISLAND DURING THE DAY BEFORE THE DEFENDERS REACHED THE LIMIT OF PHYSICAL ENDURANCE.

SHORTLY AFTER THE WHITE FLAG WAS FLOWN, THE BRITISH NAVY SENT A LANDING PARTY ASHORE TO SEAL THE CONQUEST. JUN 13 1943

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 12-(AP)-MORE THAN 10,000 ITALIANS WERE TAKEN PRISONER IN THE CAPTURE OF PANTELLERIA, IT WAS ANNOUNCED OFFICIALLY TODAY.

NOT A SINGLE CASUALTY OCCURRED AMONG THE ALLIED TROOPS WHO LANDED ON THE ISLAND, SO FAR AS IS KNOWN.

THE ENTIRE GROUP OF PRISONERS ON PANTELLERIA APPARENTLY WAS WITHOUT A GERMAN AMONG THEM.

THREE THOUSAND OF THE PRISONERS WERE EN ROUTE TO THE MAINLAND THIS AFTERNOON AND THE OTHERS WERE AWAITING TRANSPORTATION.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE PRISONER BAG WAS ACCOMPANIED BY THE OFFICIAL STATEMENT THAT CAPITULATION OF THE ISLAND OCCURRED PRECISELY ACCORDING TO PLAN.

ONE QUOTED AN ISLAND DWELLER AS SAYING THE BOMBARDMENT WAS "SOMETHING LIKE WHAT I IMAGINE DANTE'S 'INFERNO' WOULD BE."

THE FIRST ARMY TROOPS, WHO LOST NOT A MAN IN THE PANTELLERIA LANDING YESTERDAY AFTER THE ISLAND'S SURRENDER, TOOK TIME OUT FROM THE PERFUNCTORY JOB OF ROUNDING UP PRISONERS TO LOOK OVER THE WRECKED ITALIAN E-BOAT AND AIR BASES. JUN 13 1943

"ONE CAN'T WALK FAR WITHOUT COMING UPON DEEP BOMBS CRATERS," SAID ONE MEMBER OF THE LANDING PARTIES ON HIS RETURN TO AFRICA. "THE DAMAGE DONE BY AIR BOMBARDMENT WAS THE WORST I EVER HAVE SEEN, AND I HAVE BEEN THROUGH THE BLITZ A[illegible]ND THE TUNISIAN CAMPAIGN."

HE SAID DIRECT HITS HAD BEEN [illegible]N FORTS IN THE HARBOR AREA, CONCRETE WALLS WERE CRUS[illegible]E TOPS OF STOUT PILLBOXES WERE HOLED.

OTHER SOLDIERS REPORTED TH[illegible] COVERED WITH BOMB CRATERS, RUBBLE LIES OVER THE[illegible]E AIRCRAFT WERE SMASHED ON THE GROUND.

EVEN AIRCRAFT IN THE UNDE[illegible]ICH OPEN OFF THE ROCKS FLANKING THE RUNWAY WERE WREC[illegible] AND BLASTS.

BY DANIEL DE LUCE

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 12-(AP)-PANTELLERIA, FIRST ENEMY FORTRESS ISLAND IN THE WORLD TO SURRENDER TO AIR POWER, BECAME ANOTHER VITAL BASE TODAY FOR ALLIED DOMINATION OF THE MEDITERRANEAN. JUN 13 1943

CONQUEST OF THE EIGHT MILE BY FOUR MILE VOLCANIC ISLE BY THE HEAVIEST CONTINUED AIR BOMBARDMENT EVER MADE ON SUCH A SMALL TARGET PROVIDES THE ALLIES AN AIRFIELD ONLY 65 MILES FROM THE NEAREST POINT OF SICILY, STEPPING STONE ON THE WAY TO THE TOE OF ITALY, AND SHELTER FOR NAVAL CRAFT WITH WHICH TO BAR THE SICILIAN STRAITS TO THE AXIS.

PANTELLERIA WAS THE FIRST METROPOLITAN AXIS TERRITORY TO FALL TO THE CASABLANCA FORMULA OF UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER.

(THERE WAS WIDE SPECULATION THAT THE TINY ITALIAN ISLAND OF LAMPEDUSA, 85 MILES TO THE SOUTH, MIGHT BE THE NEXT.

(BRITISH COMMANDOS SCOUTED THIS OUTPOST EARLY IN THE WEEK, AND

JUN 13 1943

30.24-4935

THE TACTICAL AIR FORCE SENT GROUPS OF LIGHT BOMBERS AND RAIDERS OVER THE PINPOINT ISLAND DURING THE DAY BEFORE THE DEFENDERS REACHED THE LIMIT OF PHYSICAL ENDURANCE.

SHORTLY AFTER THE WHITE FLAG WAS FLOWN, THE BRITISH NAVY SENT A LANDING PARTY ASHORE TO SEAL THE CONQUEST.

JUN 13 1943

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 12-(AP)-MORE THAN 10,000 ITALIANS WERE TAKEN PRISONER IN THE CAPTURE OF PANTELLERIA, IT WAS ANNOUNCED OFFICIALLY TODAY.

NOT A SINGLE CASUALTY OCCURRED AMONG THE ALLIED TROOPS WHO LANDED ON THE ISLAND, SO FAR AS IS KNOWN.

THE ENTIRE GROUP OF PRISONERS ON PANTELLERIA APPARENTLY WAS WITHOUT A GERMAN AMONG THEM.

THREE THOUSAND OF THE PRISONERS WERE EN ROUTE TO THE MAINLAND THIS AFTERNOON AND THE OTHERS WERE AWAITING TRANSPORTATION.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE PRISONER BAG WAS ACCOMPANIED BY THE OFFICIAL STATEMENT THAT CAPITULATION OF THE ISLAND OCCURRED PRECISELY ACCORDING TO PLAN.

ONE QUOTED AN ISLAND DWELLER AS SAYING THE BOMBARDMENT WAS "SOMETHING LIKE WHAT I IMAGINE DANTE'S 'INFERNO' WOULD BE."

THE FIRST ARMY TROOPS, WHO LOST NOT A MAN IN THE PANTELLERIA LANDING YESTERDAY AFTER THE ISLAND'S SURRENDER, TOOK TIME OUT FROM THE PERFUNCTORY JOB OF ROUNDING UP PRISONERS TO LOOK OVER THE WRECKED ITALIAN E-BOAT AND AIR BASES.

JUN 13 1943

"ONE CAN'T WALK FAR WITHOUT COMING UPON DEEP BOMBS CRATERS," SAID ONE MEMBER OF THE LANDING PARTIES ON HIS RETURN TO AFRICA. "THE DAMAGE DONE BY AIR BOMBARDMENT WAS THE WORST I EVER HAVE SEEN, AND

I HAVE BEEN THROUGH THE BLITZ A[ND THE TUNISIAN CAMPAIGN."

HE SAID DIRECT HITS HAD BEEN[ FORTS IN THE HARBOR

AREA, CONCRETE WALLS WERE CRUS[ TOPS OF STOUT PILLBOXES

WERE HOLED.

OTHER SOLDIERS REPORTED TH[ COVERED WITH BOMB

CRATERS, RUBBLE LIES OVER THE[ IE AIRCRAFT WERE SMASHED

ON THE GROUND.

EVEN AIRCRAFT IN THE UNDE[ HICH OPEN OFF THE ROCKS

FLANKING THE RUNWAY WERE WREC[ AND BLASTS.

BY DANIEL DE LUCE

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 12-(AP)-PANTELLERIA, FIRST ENEMY FORTRESS ISLAND IN THE WORLD TO SURRENDER TO AIR POWER, BECAME ANOTHER VITAL BASE TODAY FOR ALLIED DOMINATION OF THE MEDITERRANEAN.

JUN 13 1943

CONQUEST OF THE EIGHT MILE BY FOUR MILE VOLCANIC ISLE BY THE HEAVIEST CONTINUED AIR BOMBARDMENT EVER MADE ON SUCH A SMALL TARGET PROVIDES THE ALLIES AN AIRFIELD ONLY 65 MILES FROM THE NEAREST POINT OF SICILY, STEPPING STONE ON THE WAY TO THE TOE OF ITALY, AND SHELTER FOR NAVAL CRAFT WITH WHICH TO BAR THE SICILIAN STRAITS TO THE AXIS.

PANTELLERIA WAS THE FIRST METROPOLITAN AXIS TERRITORY TO FALL TO THE CASABLANCA FORMULA OF UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER.

(THERE WAS WIDE SPECULATION THAT THE TINY ITALIAN ISLAND OF LAMPEDUSA, 85 MILES TO THE SOUTH, MIGHT BE THE NEXT.

(BRITISH COMMANDOS SCOUTED THIS OUTPOST EARLY IN THE WEEK, AND

JUN 13 1943

THERE HAVE BEEN VARIOUS REPORTS, ALL UNCONFIRMED, OF ADDITIONAL TEST RAIDS.

(THE ALGIERS RADIO DECLARED TODAY IN A BROADCAST HEARD BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS THAT LAMPEDUSA'S FALL MUST BE CONSIDERED IMMINENT AND SAID, WITHOUT CONFIRMATION FROM ANY OTHER SOURCE, THAT THE GERMANS HAVE HURRIEDLY SENT AIR FORCE REINFORCEMENTS TO SOUTHERN ITALY.)

JUN 13 1943

PANTELLERIA WAS FORCED TO CAPITULATE AT ASTONISHINGLY SMALL COST TO THE ATTACKERS.

TWELEVE ALLIED PLANES WERE LOST IN THE FEROCIOUS DAY AND NIGHT ASSAULTS, BEGUN IN MAY AND STEPPED UP TO A HURRICANE OF EXPLOSIVES THIS WEEK.

NO WARSHIPS WERE LOST IN THE SERIES OF NAVAL BOMBARDMENTS--FIVE LAST WEEK AND ANOTHER TUESDAY WITNESSED BY GEN. DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER, ALLIED COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF, AND ADMIRAL SIR ANDREW BROWNE CUNNINGHAM, NAVAL CHIEF IN THE MEDITERRANEAN.

THE AXIS LOST 78 PLANES AND THE COMPLETE GARRISON OF PANTELLERIA.

A GERMAN REVENGE RAID BY BETWEEN 50 AND 60 DIVE BOMBERS AGAINST BRITISH TROOPS AND WARSHIPS DURING THE MID-DAY LANDING OPERATIONS WAS PROMPTLY BROKEN UP BY SWARMING AMERICAN LIGHTNING FIGHTERS, ON THE ALERT OVER THE FALLEN FORTRESS FOR JUST SUCH AN ATTACK.

THE ISLAND'S UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER AFTER 19 DAYS OF THE MOST CONCENTRATED AIR ATTACKS EVER DIRECTED AGAINST A SINGLE AREA WAS HAILED BY MAJ. GEN. JAMES H. DOOLITTLE, COMMANDER OF THE STRATEGIC AIR FORCE, AS "DEFINITELY A LANDMARK IN THE HISTORY OF MILITARY AVIATION."

JUN 13 1943

"THE CAPITULATION PROVED CONCLUSIVELY," HE DECLARED, "THAT NO AGENCY CAN STAND UP UNDER THE PROLONGED, CONCENTRATED BOMBARDMENT OF PROPERLY SELECTED OBJECTIVES."

JUN 13 1943

LOOKING TO THE FUTURE, HE PROPHESIED THAT THIS VICTORY WAS A FORERUNNER OF OPERATIONS "WHICH CAN ONLY CULMINATE IN THE COMPLETE CAPITULATION OF GERMANY AND JAPAN."

THE WHITE FLAG WAS HOISTED ON PANTELLERIA JUST 20 MINUTES BEFORE THE EXPIRATION OF THE THIRD ULTIMATUM DROPPED ON THE ISLAND, WHICH BENITO MUSSOLINI HAD DESIGNED AS HIS MEDITERRANEAN "GIBRALTAR."

IN THE NAME OF GENERAL EISENHOWER, LIEUT. GEN. CARL A. SPAATZ HAD SENT THE FIRST SURRENDER DEMAND ON TUESDAY TO THE PANTELLERIA COMMANDANT.

THE FINAL ONE WENT THURSDAY, THIRD ANNIVERSARY OF ITALY'S ENTRY INTO THE WAR AND THE DAY THAT ALLIED BOMBERS, FLYING VIRTUALLY NOSE TO TAIL, TORE THE FORTIFICATIONS APART WITH SOME 1,650 TONS OF EXPLOSIVES.

JUN 13 1943

"IN ORDER TO AVOID FURTHER USELESS LOSS OF LIFE, THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF (EISENHOWER) INVITES YOUR EXCELLENCY TO CEASE ALL RESISTANCE AND SURRENDER THE GARRISON OF THE ISLAND TO THE FORCES UNDER MY COMMAND," SAID THE NOTE, WHICH GAVE SIX HOURS FOR A DECISION.

"AS ONE SOLDIER TO ANOTHER, YOUR EXCELLENCY MUST KNOW AS I DO THAT RESISTANCE UNDER THE PRESENT CIRCUMSTANCES, HOWEVER HEROIC, IS UTTERLY HOPELESS."

YESTERDAY MORNING AN AMERICAN FIGHTER PILOT FLYING OVER THE DOOMED ISLAND SAW THE WHITE FLAG.

JUN 13 1943

30.24-4937

THAT WAS AT 11:40 A.M. (5:40 A.M., EASTERN WAR TIME).

AT ABOUT THE SAME TIME, ADMIRAL PARESSINI, SENIOR ITALIAN OFFICER, MESSAGED: "BEG SURRENDER THROUGH LACK OF WATER."

BRITISH TROOPS MOVED IN ON LANDING BARGES AT NOON. OCCUPATION WAS COMPLETE 22 MINUTES LATER.

AT 12:40 P.M. THE GERMAN DIVE BOMBERS STRUCK, ONLY TO BE SCATTERED BY THE EVER-PRESENT P-38 LIGHTNINGS.

THE LIGHTNINGS FORCED THE GERMAN DIVE BOMBERS TO JETTISON THEIR BOMBS HAPHAZARDLY.

JUN 13 1943

"I DIDN'T SEE A SINGLE ONE OF THEIR BOMBS HIT A LANDING PARTY OR SHIPS," SAID LIEUT. COL. R.S.GARMAN OF MOUNT CLEMENS, MICH.

ONLY ONE VICTORY CLAIM WAS SUBMITTED. LIEUT. WILLIAM J.PURVIS OF DAVENPORT, IOWA, BATTERED DOWN ONE GERMAN IN A BRIEF ENGAGEMENT.

"WE COULD HAVE PURSUED AND KNOCKED DOWN GREAT NUMBERS OF THEM, BUT WE WERE AFRAID IT MIGHT PROVE A FEINT TO DRAW US AWAY SO OTHER BOMBERS COULD COME IN AND TRY TO BREAK UP THE LANDING," SAID COL. GARMAN. "SO WE RETURNED TO OUR PATROLLING."

(EARLY TODAY THE AXIS COUNTRIES STILL HAD NOT INFORMED THEIR PEOPLE OF PANTELLERIA'S FALL, ALTHOUGH THE VICHY RADIO DISCLOSED LAST NIGHT IN A BROADCAST REPORTED TO THE OFFICE OF WAR INFORMATION THAT ITALIANS WOULD BE TOLD TODAY.

JUN 13 1943

(A BERLIN BROADCAST LATE YESTERDAY QUOTED A ROME DISPATCH WHICH SPOKE OF THE PANTELLERIA STAND IN THE PAST TENSE, BUT ITS SURRENDER WAS NOT CONFIRMED IN SO MANY WORDS.)

MEDITERRANEAN AERIAL

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 12-(AP)-THE CONQUEST OF PANTELLERIA MOVED AIR POWER UP ANOTHER NOTCH TODAY IN THE TECHNIQUE OF MODERN WARFARE.

JUN 13 1943

MAJ.GEN.JAMES H.DOOLITTLE, CHIEF OF THE STRATEGIC AIR FORCE, CALLED THE CRUSHING AIR ONSLAUGHT THAT FORCED UP THE WHITE FLAG ON THE ITALIAN OUTPOST "DEFINITELY A LANDMARK IN THE HISTORY OF MILITARY AVIATION."

FOR 19 CONSECUTIVE DAYS, TARGETS ON THE ISLAND, ROUGHLY EIGHT MILES LONG BY FOUR WIDE, WERE SUBJECTED TO TERRIFIC BOMBARDMENT FROM THE AIR IN A PROGRAM WORKED OUT BY LIEUT.GEN.CARL A.SPAATZ, COMMANDING GENERAL OF THE NORTHWEST AFRICAN AIR FORCE.

IN THE LAST 13 DAYS OF THE PUNISHING ATTACK, TERMED OFFICIALLY AN ALL-OUT OFFENSIVE, THE ALLIED AIRMEN IN EFFECT BUILT A BRIDGE OF BOMBERS OVER 45 MILES OF THE MEDITERRANEAN.

IN THOSE 13 DAYS, 78 AXIS PLANES WERE DESTROYED AS AGAINST A LOSS OF 12 FOR THE ALLIES.

JUN 13 1943

ROYAL AIR FORCE NIGHT BOMBERS AND U.S. ARMY AIR FORCE DAY BOMBERS, WORKING ON A 24-HOUR SCHEDULE, SMASHED THE ISLAND BETWEEN MAY 29 AND JUNE 10 WITH A GREATER TONNAGE OF BOMBS THAN WAS DROPPED ON ALL TARGETS IN THE MEDITERRANEAN THEATER DURING THE ENTIRE MONTH OF MAY.

ACTUAL FIGHRES WERE NOT DISCLOSED, BUT MAJ.GEN.LEWIS H. BRERETON ANNOUNCED IN CAIRO YESTERDAY THAT HIS U.S. NINTH AIR FORCE ALONE SPREAD 3,500,000 POUNDS OF EXPLOSIVES OVER AXIS INSTALLATIONS IN THE MEDITERRANEAN REGION DURING THE MONTH.

ON THE FINAL DAY BEFORE THE PANTELLERIA CAPITULATION, APPROXIMATELY

JUN 13 1943

1,650 TONS OF EXPLOSIVES WERE DUMPED ON CHOSEN TARGETS--THREE TIMES THE WEIGHT THAT THE NAZIS CARRIED TO LONDON ON ANY ONE NIGHT.

(THE ROME COMMUNIQUE YESTERDAY SPOKE OF 1,000 PLANES TAKING PART IN THE WEDNESDAY ATTACK. LATER, A BERLIN BROADCAST REPEATED THAT FIGURE AND SAID THERE WERE 27 RAIDS IN 11 HOURS.)

GEN.DOOLITTLE SAID THE SURRENDER WAS NO SURPRISE TO ALLIED AIRMEN

"THE WAY IT WORKED OUT WAS ONLY WHAT WE PLANNED AND EXPECTED," HE SAID, ADDING:

JUN 13 1943

"THIS IS THE FIRST TIME IN THE HISTORY OF WARFARE THAT TERRITORY HAS BEEN CONQUERED AS FAR AS I KNOW BY AIR POWER ALONG WITHOUT OCCUPATION. CRETE WAS SUBDUED BY AIR POWER BUT OCCUPIED BY ACCOMPANYING FORCES, LANDED BY PARACHUTE, GLIDERS AND CRASH-LANDED TRANSPORTS.

"IT WAS MERELY A PROPOSITION OF STEADILY INCREASING THE PANTELLERIA BOMBARDMENT TO A POINT AT WHICH IT WAS PHYSICALLY IMPOSSIBLE FOR THEM TO STAND UP UNDER IT.

"AT THAT POINT THEY CAPITULATED.

"THE CAPITULATION PROVED CONCLUSIVELY THAT NO AGENCY CAN STAND UP UNDER THE PROLONGED, CONCENTRATED BOMBARDMENT OF PROPERLY SELECTED OBJECTIVES."

DOOLITTLE EMPHASIZED THAT PANTELLERIA WAS NOT AN AREA BOMBARDMENT AND THAT THE FLIERS MOVED FROM ONE OBJECTIVE TO ANOTHER--ELIMINATION OF ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE AND DESTRUCTION OF COAST ARTILLERY BATTERIES BEING CARRIED OUT IN THAT ORDER.

JUN 13 1943

A NOVEL TECHNIQUE CALLED A "CREEPING BARRAGE" WAS EMPLOYED BY THE THE FLIERS, THE LINE OF DESTRUCTION MOVING STEADILY FORWARD MUCH AS AN ARTILLERY BARRAGE DOES.

AT THE SAME TIME, THE FLIERS MAINTAINED AN AIR BLOCKADE AGAINST ENEMY REINFORCEMENTS.

"IN SIMPLE TERMS," DOOLITTLE CONTINUED, "IF YOU DESTROY WHAT A MAN HAS AND REMOVE THE POSSIBILITY OF HIS BRINGING MORE IN, THEN IN DUE COURSE OF TIME IT BECOMES IMPOSSIBLE FOR HIM TO DEFEND HIMSELF."

FIVE NAVAL BOMBARDMENTS LAST WEEK AND ONE THIS HAD BEEN DIRECTED AGAINST PANTELLERIA, BUT IT WAS AGREED THAT THE SURRENDER CAME BECAUSE THE ALLIED AIR FLEETS HAD SHATTERED THE DEFENSES AND THE LIMIT OF HUMAN RESISTANCE HAD BEEN REACHED.

AT THE TIME OF THE SURRENDER NOT A SINGLE ALLIED SOLDIER WAS ON THE ISLAND.

JUN 13 1943

A NUMBER OF AMERICAN FLIERS COMPLETED THEIR 50TH COMBAT MISSION ON THE FINAL DAY OF THE BOMBING. ALL WILL GET HOME LEAVE.

THEIR REACTION WAS WELL SUMMED UP BY JAMES R.RUSH, FLYING FORTRESS BOMBARDIER, OF PHILADELPHIA, MISS., (CORRECT) WHO SAID:

"FOR THE FIRST TIME IN ALL MY 50 MISSIONS I COULD SEE VICTORY ACTUALLY TAKING PLACE BELOW US. I WAS PROUD TO BE A PART OF THE AIR FORCE WHICH MADE IT POSSIBLE."

BLANK

JUN 13 1943

3021-4939

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 12-(AP)-THIS IS THE STORY OF HOW ACTION FINALLY CAME TO THREE AMERICAN ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUNNERS WHO WERE BEGINNING TO WONDER IF THEY WOULD EVER SEE IT.

THE THREE ARE SERGT.HAROLD F.WARD OF 3934 VAN BUREN, MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.; PRIVATE FRED CLARK OF MONAKER, KY. AND PRIVATE JOHN HAYDEN OF SOUTH SHORE, KY.

JUN 13 1943

THEY TRAINED IN TEXAS AND THEN THEY TRAINED SOME MORE IN AFRICA.

BUT THEY HAD NEVER FIRED A SHOT IN ANGER. GERMAN PLANES HAD JUST NATURALLY MISSED THEM THROUGH THE WHOLE TUNISIAN CAMPAIGN. THEY KEPT SILENT WHEN OTHER GUN CREWS TALKED ABOUT ACTUAL COMBAT.

BUT AT DAWN THE OTHER MORNING SIVEN MESSERSCHMITT 109S FLEW OVER INTENT ON RAIDING THE TUNISIAN AIR FIELD WHERE THE THREE WERE STATIONED.

THE GUNNERS HOPPED FROM THEIR COTS AND SPRINTED BAREFOOTED ACROSS A STUBBLE FIELD TOWARD THEIR GUN. GERMAN MACHINE-GUN BULLETS CUT UP THE GROUND AROUND THEM, BUT NONE WAS EVEN SCRATCHED.

THEY GOT THE GUN INTO ACTION. A MOMENT LATER THEY SAW PIECES OF COWLING BREAK OFF ONE OF THE RAIDERS AND THE OTHERS RACED TO GET OUT OF RANGE. THE STRICKEN PLANE CRASHED THREE MILES AWAY.

"WE FEEL A LOT BETTER NOW," SAID WARD. "YOU KNOW HOW IT IS."

JJ338PEW

JUN 13 1943

BY HAROLD V.BOYLE

ADVANCED ALLIED AIR FORCE HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 12-(AP)-LEARNING OF THE CAPITULATION OF PANTELLERIA YESTERDAY AS THEY WERE ABOUT TO TAKE OFF TO PUMMEL THAT ISLAND, A GROUP OF AMERICAN MEDIUM BOMBERS QUICKLY FOUND ANOTHER TARGET IN LAMPEDUSA HARBOR, 80 MILES SOUTH OF PANTELLERIA.

JUN 13 1943

CAPT.HAROLD BOYD LAWSON OF FINLEYVILLE,PENNA., PILOT OF THE LEAD SHIP, REPORTED THAT HIS FLIGHT HIT ONE MERCHANT VESSEL AND SIX TO EIGHT SMALL BOATS. A SECOND FLIGHT LED BY CAPT.HARRY T.VANLEAR OF LYNCHBURG,VA., BATTERED THE DOCK AREA AND GUN POSITIONS.

"I SAW A HELL OF A BIG EXPLOSION AND A COLUMN OF SMOKE, ALSO A LOT OF FLAMES," SAID LIEUT.RANDALL L.JONES OF ROANOKE,VA., A BOMBARDIER. "ABOUT 15 MINUTES AFTER WE LEFT THE TARGET WE LOOKED BACK AND SAW ANOTHER BIG EXPLOSION."

LAMPEDUSA IS NOT AS IMPORTANT FROM A STRATEGIC VIEWPOINT AS PANTELLERIA, AND OBSERVERS HERE BELIEVE IT WILL BE EASIER TO POUND INTO SUBMISSION. THE ITALIANS ANNOUNCED EARLIER THIS WEEK THAT THEY HAD REPULSED ALLIED ATTEMPTS TO SEIZE THE ISLAND, BUT THE BRITISH SAID OFFICIALLY THAT LAMPEDUSA MERELY HAD BEEN RECONNOITERED BY NAVAL UNITS.

JUN 13 1943

NEW DELHI, INDIA, JUNE 12-(AP)-JAPANESE STORAGE BUILDINGS AT AKYAB, IN WESTERN BURMA, WERE BOMBED BY RAF PLANES YESTERDAY AND ENEMY ANTI-AIRCRAFT POSITIONS AND A BODY OF JAPANESE TROOPS WERE MACHINE-GUNNED IN LOW LEVEL ATTACKS ON THE AREA, A BRITISH COMMUNIQUE SAID TODAY.

BUILDINGS AT PADALI, ENEMY POSITIONS AT THEIZANG IN THE KALE VALLEY, AND RIVER AND ROAD TRANSPORT ALONG THE CHINDWIN RIVER VALLEY WERE DAMAGED BY OTHER BOMBER AND FIGHTER FORMATIONS, THE BRITISH ANNOUNCED.

JUN 13 1943

CHUNGKING, SUNDAY, JUNE 1[illegible] -- [illegible]CERE DEMAND" THAT RUSSIA DECLARE WAR AGAINST JAPAN AND OPEN A SECOND FRONT IN ASIA W[illegible] MADE TODAY IN A SPECIAL ARTICLE IN A CHUNGKING NEWSPAPER BY CHOW LU, MEMBER OF CHINA'S SUPREME RULING BODY, THE STANDING COMMITTEE OF THE CENTRAL EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE KUOMINTANG.

CHOW LU, WHO ALSO IS STATE COUNCILLOR OF THE NATIONAL GOVERNMENT, ALSO SUGGESTED THREE OTHER MEASURES AGAINST JAPAN:

INTENSIFICATION OF THE AMERICAN OFFENSIVE IN THE NORTH PACIFIC, LARGE-SCALE SUPPLIES TO CHINA, AND LAUNCHING OF IMMEDIATE OPERATIONS FOR RECOVERY OF BURMA.

THE VETERAN STATESMAN, A GRADUATE OF WASEDA UNIVERSITY IN JAPAN, DECLARED THAT A SECOND FRONT IN ASIA BY RUSSIA WOULD "BE THE MOST EFFECTIVE WAY OF DEFEATING JAPAN." JUN 13 1943

"WE ARE LOOKING FORWARD," HE SAID, "TO RUSSIA'S TAKING A MORE RESOLUTE STEP THAN THE DISSOLUTION OF THE COMINTERN--A DECLARATION OF WAR AGAINST JAPAN WHICH WOULD MAKE THE GRAND UNITED FRONT OF THE ALLIES COMPLETE."

JAPAN, HE EMPHASIZED, IS READY TO BETRAY THE SOVIET AS SHE BETRAYED THE UNITED STATES. JUN 13 1943

"WHAT IS MORE, HER AXIS PARTNERS AFTER THEIR DEFEAT IN AFRICA MUST BE ASKING TOKYO TO ATTACK RUSSIA," HE ASSERTED.

HE WARNED THAT RUSSIA MUST NOT REPEAT "THE REGRETTABLE MISTAKE OF THE ALLIES IN THE LAST OF LEAVING THE ENEMY TO TAKE THE INITIATIVE."

CHOW LU ARGUED THAT RUSSIA HARDLY WOULD BE JUSTIFIED IN REFUSING TO DECLARE WAR AGAINST JAPAN IF BRITAIN AND AMERICA WERE ABLE TO ASSURE HER OF LARGE NAVAL, LAND AND AIR FORCES "SO THAT RUSSIAN TERRITORY WOULD STAND ABSOLUTELY NO CHANCE OF BEING INVADED."

HE SAID "WE ARE NOT SATISFIED WITH THE TERSE STATEMENT ISSUED AFTER THE ANGLO-AMERICAN CONFERENCE IN WASHINGTON"--THAT COMPLETE AGREEMENT ON FUTURE OPERATIONS IN ALL WAR THEATERS HAD BEEN REACHED--"FOR IT LACKS THE UNEQUIVOCAL DECLARATION THAT IMPORTANCE WILL BE ATTACHED SIMULTANEOUSLY TO THE EUROPEAN AND ASIATIC FRONT." JUN 13 1943

THE AMERICAN NAVY, A SMASHING BLOW AND CONSTANTLY HARASS THE ENEMY'S SEA TRANSPORT TO MAKE IT DIFFICULT FOR HIM TO ASSIMILATE HIS NEWLY-ACQUIRED RESOURCES. HE RECALLED CHURCHILL'S STATEMENT THAT A GREAT PART OF THE AMERICAN NAVY NOW WAS IN THE PACIFIC.

JUN 13 1943

30-24-4971

CHUNGKING, JUNE 13-(AP)-A TOTAL OF 14,290 JAPANESE TROOPS WERE KILLED AND THE CHINESE ARMY LOST ONE THIRD OF AN ARMY CORPS IN THE BATTLE FOR THE TAIHENG MOUNTAINS, THE CHINESE NATIONAL MILITARY COUNCIL DECLARED TODAY IN A REVIEW OF THE WAR FOR MAY.

THROUGH COUNTERATTACKS, THE COUNCIL SAID, CHINA RECOVERED PRACTICALLY ALL OF THE POSITIONS LOST BUT SAID THAT THE ENEMY WAS PROVIDING REINFORCEMENTS AND REPLENISHING SUPPLIES, INDICATING THE IMMINENCE OF ANOTHER JAPANESE "MOPPING UP" OPERATION--THE SXITEENTH IN THIS REGION.

JUN 13 1943

AIR SUPPORT BY AMERICAN PLANES HASTENED THE JAPANESE DEBACLE ON THE UPPER YANGTZE FRONT, THE COUNCIL ADDED, POINTING OUT THAT "ENEMY REMNANTS ARE STILL UNDER CHINESE ENCIRCLEMENT AND ARE FACING ANNIHILATION."

THE JAPANESE LAUNCHED 36 ATTACKS DURING MAY, THE COUNCIL SAID, WHILE THE CHINESE COUNTERATTACKED 38 TIMES ON DIFFERENT FRONTS. THERE WERE 15 JAPANESE AIR RAIDS AS AGAINST FIVE FOR THE CHINESE.

FIGHTING IN THE YI AND MENG MOUNTAINS OF SHANTUNG PROVINCE RIVALLED THE ENGAGEMENTS IN THE TAIHENG MOUNTAINS IN FEROCITY WITH THE CHINESE TROOPS THERE "SEASONED BY LONG, ARDUOUS FIGHTING STILL BATTLING THE ENEMY."

THE CHINESE COUNCIL SAID THE ARMY HAD REPULSED ALL ATTACKS BY THE ENEMY IN THE KIANGSU-SHANTUNG BORDER REGION.

JUN 13 1943

THEY ALSO REPELLED JAPANESE THRUSTS IN THE SALWEEN RIVER AREA OF YUNNAN PROVINCE, DESIGNED TO PREVENT THE CHINESE FROM SENDING REINFORCEMENTS TO THE UPPER YANGTZE FRONT.

THE LATEST AWARD WAS FOR SPENDING FIVE HOURS OVER THREE HIGHLY EXPLOSIVE RABAUL AIRDROMES ONE NIGHT LAST JANUARY, SCATTERING FRAGMENTATION AND INCENDIARY BOMBS, KEEPING HIS FLYING FORTRESS IN SCORES OF CROSSHATCHED SEARCHLIGHTS AND DRAWING ENEMY FIRE CONTINUALLY TO DISTRACT THE JAPS' ATTENTION WHILE OTHER BOMBERS COMPLETED TTEIR RUNS.

JUN 13 1943

THE OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT DIDN'T MENTION IT, BUT MCCULLAR ALSO DROPPED A LOT OF EMPTY BEER BOTTLES ON RABAUL THAT NIGHT, GIVING THE JAPS A SERIES OF UNEARTHLY SCREAMING WHISTLES.

KENNETH DALTON MCCULLAR WAS 24 WHEN A TAKE-OFF CRASH KILLED HIM THE NIGHT OF APRIL 11. HE CAME FROM COURTLAND, MISS. BEFORE HE DIED, ON HIS 63RD COMBAT MISSION, HE HAD SUNK THREE SHIPS AND SERIOUSLY DAMAGED TEN, AND PIONEERED THE DARING, DEADLY ART OF SKIP-BOMBING. HE HAD FLOWN 418 HOURS OF COMBAT SINCE AUGUST, MORE THAN ANY OTHER PILOT IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC AND MORE THAN MOST OTHER PILOTS ANYWHERE.

JUN 13 1943

THE EXACT STORY OF WHAT KILLED KEN MCCULLAR HAS NEVER BEEN TOLD.

THE FIRST STORY SAID HIS FLYING FORTRESS HIT A WALLABY ON THE TAKE-OFF. IT WAS NOT A WALLABY; IT WAS A BIG RED KANGAROO ---ONE OF THE ONLY DOZEN OR SO IN ALL NEW GUINEA --- WHICH WAS ATTRACTED BY THE LIGHTS OF THE FORTRESS AS IT THUNDERED UP THE MATTED RUNWAY, HOPPED IN FRONT OF IT, AND WAS STRUCK BY LEFT WHEEL.

THE WHEEL DROPPED OFF, AND A SPARK IGNITED THE INFLAMMABLE FLUID WITH WHICH THE HYDRAULIC LANDING GEAR IS OPERATED. THE FIRE SPREAD

JUN 13 1943

UP TO AN ENGINE ON THE LEFT SIDE. THE FORTRESS LEFT THE GROUND, FLEW ABOUT 500 YARDS, AND CRASHED. ITS GASOLINE AND SOME OF ITS BOMBS EXPLODED. MCCULLAR AND HIS CREW WERE KILLED.

MCCULLAR ALWAYS LIKED TO BE FIRST OFF ON A MISSION. THAT NIGHT HE WAS NO.2. THE MEN WHO TOOK OFF AFTER HIM FLEW OVER THE BURNING WRECKAGE OF HIS BOMBER. THEY KNEW MCCULLAR HAD CRASHED. TWO OF THEM TURNED BACK AND REPORTED BAD WEATHER. NOT MANY OF THE OTHERS GOT TO THE TARGET, AND WHEN THEY DID THEY WERE NOT MUCH GOOD. THAT NIGHT'S MISSION WAS A WASHOUT.

LIEUT.COL.JOHN A.ROBERTS OF BEEBE,ARK., MCCULLAR'S GROUP COMMANDER, CALLED HIM "THE BEST SQUADRON COMMANDER ANYBODY EVER WILL HAVE."

JUN 13 1943

CAPT.HARRY A.STALEY OF GENESEO,N.Y., HIS CO-PILOT ON THE FIRST 19 MISSIONS AND ONE OF HIS CLOSEST FRIENDS, CALLED HIM "AN IDEAL AMERICAN YOUTH. ALL THE FELLOWS TRIED TO COPY HIM."

GENERAL KINNEY, COMMANDER OF THE ALLIED AIR FORCE IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, SAID "HE WAS NOT ONLY ONE OF THE MOST SKILLFUL PILOTS OF T FIFTH AIR FORCE, BUT A NATURAL-BORN LEADER. PEOPLE LIKED TO FOLLOW HIM. HE WAS A MASTER CRAFTSMAN AT THE ART OF SINKING JAP VESSELS."

MCCULLAR'S MORE INTIMATE FRIENDS RECALLED THAT HE HAD SAID ON LEAVING THE UNITED STATES LAST JULY, "I DON'T EXPECT TO COME BACK ALIVE, AND I'M GOING TO DO ALL I CAN WHILE I CAN."

JUN 13 1943

HE WAS NOT MARRIED.

HE WAS A GOLDEN GLOVES CHAMPION, AND HE RAN 100 YARDS IN LESS THAN 10 SECONDS.

ANTIAIRCRAFT FIRE NEVER FAZED HIM. NEITHER DID THE SIGHT OF ZEROS BOTHER HIM. FIVE OF THEM GOT AFTER HIM ONE DAY, AND AFTER HIS GUNNERS SHOT DOWN TWO OF THEM HE CHASED THE OTHER THREE.

FLYING FORTRESSES WERE STRICTLY HIGH OR AT LEAST MEDIUM ALTITUDE BOMBERS FOR A LONG TIME, BUT NOT FOR MCCULLAR. HE NEVER DID ANY HIGH-LEVEL BOMBING IN HIS LIFE. AND HE NEVER WOULD CLAIM A SHIP AS SUNK UNLESS HE SAW IT SINKING.

IN SPITE OF HIS RARE SKILL, A GOOD MANY OF THOSE WHO KNEW HIM PERHAPS AGREED SECRETLY WITH HIS OWN BELIEF THAT HE NEVER WOULD GO BACK TO THE STATES ALIVE. BUT THEY NEVER DREAMED THAT THE THING TO BRING HIM DOWN WOULD BE A RED KANGAROO.

FJ856PCW

JUN 13 1943

BLANK

JUN 13 1943

30.24-1943

ADD London - Wyler

The citation said the academy award winner of 1942: "The courage and skill displayed reflects the highest credit upon himself and the armed forces of the United States." Wyler will return to the United States soon to direct an air force documentary film which will record on color the saga of "memphis Belle," one of the most famed of flying fortresses which recently was inspected by King George and Queen Elizabeth.

JUN 13 1943

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, SUNDAY, JUNE 13-(P)-

A LIBERATOR DAMAGED A 2,000 TON JAPANESE CARGO SHIP YESTERDAY OFF KAIMANA, DUTCH NEW GUINEA, THE HIGH COMMAND ANNOUNCED IN TODAY'S NOON COMMUNIQUE.

JUN 13 1943

LONG RANGE FIGHTERS DESTROYED SIX JAPANESE FLOATPLANES AT THEIR MOORINGS IN AN ATTACK ON THE AROE ISLANDS. TWO OTHERS WERE DAMAGED AND ONE WAS SHOT DOWN TRYING TO INTERCEPT THE ALLIED RAIDERS.

FOUR ALLIED RAIDERS OVER MADANG, NEW GUINEA, WERE SWARMED UPON BY 20 ZEROS BUT FOUGHT THEM OFF, DOWNING ONE.

THE ALLIED PLANES IN THE MADANG ACTION WERE LIGHTNINGS (P-28S).

TO THE WEST OF THE ACTION AGAINST THE FLOAT PLANES ON THE AROES, BIG ALLIED BOMBERS ATTACKED THE AIRDROME OF LANGGOER ON THE KAI ISLANDS. EIGHT ENEMY FIGHTERS ATTEMPTED INTERCEPTION AND ONE WAS BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN DESTROYED.

ON PORTUGUESE TIMOR, KOEPANG, WHICH ON FRIDAY WAS SET ABLAZE IN A HEAVY RAID IN WHICH 42 TONS OF BOMBS WERE DROPPED, WAS VISITED BY MEDIUM BOMBERS YESTERDAY. THEY ATTACKED THE PENFOEI AIRDROME.

OVER DUTCH NEW GUINEA, IN ADDITION TO THE BOMBING OF THE CARGO SHIP, THE AIRDROME AT NABIRE WAS ATTACKED. IN THE ATTACK ON THE CARGO SHIP, 500 POUND BOMBS FELL WITHIN 20 FEET OF THE SHIP'S HULL, BADLY DAMAGING IT.

JUN 13 1943

IN THE NORTHEASTERN SECTOR, THE AIRDROME AT CAPE GLOUCESTER, SOUTHERN NEW BRITAIN, WAS RAIDED.

FJ929PCW

JUN 13 1943

B74KX

PC AP CO MI CX

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, JUNE 8-(DELAYED)-(AP)-POSTHUMOUS AWARDS FOR TEN AMERICAN AIRMEN WERE ANNOUNCED TODAY, FOR MISSIONS FROM WHICH ALL BUT ONE OF THEM HAD RETURNED ALIVE.

THE DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS WAS AWARDED TO 1ST LT.ROBERT R. HATCH, GOLDSBORO,N.C.; 2ND.LT.CHRISTIAN I.NERRON, 5228 BEELER ST., PITTSBURGH,PA.; MAJ.EDWARD L.LARNER, 3234 LYON ST., SAN FRANCISCO; 1ST LT.DUNCAN A.SEFFERN, NANAWA,WIS.; 1ST.LT. LEE A.JOHNSON, WARREN,OHIO, AND STAFF SGT.ROBERT F.JORDAN, MALONE, TEX.

JUN 13 1943

HATCH, NERRON, JOHNSON AND JORDAN WERE ON A MISSION AGAINST RABAUL, NEW BRITAIN IN APRIL, 1942, THE FIRST EVER CARRIED OUT WITH THEIR TYPE OF BOMBER. THEY FLEW HALF WAY ON INSTRUMENTS AND IN THE FACE OF EXCEEDINGLY HEAVY ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE ON RABAUL HARBOR, AND DANGER OF ATTACK BY THREE ENEMY FIGHTERS, MADE THREE BOMBING RUNS AND SANK ONE CARGO SHIP AND DAMAGED TWO OTHERS SERIOUSLY.

HATCH, HERRON AND LARNER WERE PILOTS, SEFFERN WAS A CO-PILOT, JOHNSON A BOMBARDIER AND JORDAN A RADIO OPERATOR AND WAIST GUNNER.

SEFFERN WON HIS AWARD ON A RAID ON LAE IN APRIL, 1942. GOING THROUGH UNFAVORABLE WEATHER, HIS FLIGHT MADE A LOW BOMBING RUN AND IN THE FACE OF HEAVY ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE STARTED SEVERAL LARGE FIRES.

THAT SAME MISSION ALSO RESULTED IN OAK LEAF CLUSTERS, IN LIEU OF A SECOND DFC, FOR HATCH, HERRON AND JORDAN. JORDAN ALSO WON THE AIR MEDAL FOR HIS CONDUCT ON A FLIGHT THAT ENDED WITH A CRASH THAT KILLED TWO OTHER MEMBERS OF THE CREW WHEN THE PLANE WAS DISABLED WHILE RAIDING BISMARCK SEA BATTLES RESULTED IN AIR MEDAL FOR 2D, 1942.

LT.JOHN J.CLARKE, 4022 LEXINGTON

JUN 13 1943

KILLED TWO OTHER MEMBERS OF THE CREW WHEN THE PLANE WAS DISABLED WHILE RAIDING RABAUL AND MADE ITS WAY TO A SMALL ISLAND IN MAY, 1942.

THE BISMARCK SEA BATTLE RESULTED IN AN AIR MEDAL FOR 2D.

LT.JOHN J.CLARKE, 4022 LEXINGTON ST., CHICAGO, AND STAFF SGT. FRANKLYN J.TIMBERLAKE, STEVENSON,ALA., WHOSE MEDIUM BOMBER DESTROYED A CRUISER AND SANK A TRANSPORT.

SGT.RICHARD A.MARTIN, WELLESLEY,MASS., WAS AWARDED THE AIR MEDAL POSTHUMOUSLY FOR HIS WORK IN THE SAME BATTLE. AFTER HIS PLANE SCORED TWO DIRECT HITS ON AN 8,000-TON CARGO VESSEL IT WAS DAMAGED BY ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE WHICH FORCED IT TO MAKE A CRASH LANDING UPON RETURNING TO BASE, AND MA

TIN WAS INJURED FATALL

JUN 13 1943

RETURNING TO BASE, AND MARTIN WAS INJURED FATALLY IN THE LANDING.

JOHNSON AND SEFFERN WERE AWARDED THE AIR MEDAL FOR A RAID ON LAE LAST DECEMBER, WHEN A "LARGE NUMBER" OF JAPANESE PLANES WERE DESTROYED ON THE GROUND.

FJ0838PCW

B89KX

PX PG AP

JUN 13 1943

BY J. NORMAN LODGE

AT A MARINE BASE IN NEW ZEALAND--(AP)--LEAVE IT TO THE MARINES AND YOU'LL GET THE JOB DONE--OR THE STORY YOU'VE BEEN SEEKING.

SEEKING SOME FEATURE MATERIAL, I WENT "BREEZE BATTING" WITH HOWITZER ARTILLERYMEN. MUCH OF WHAT I GOT IN THE FIRST HOUR WAS NOT PRINTABLE FOR SECURITY REASONS. THEN THE PERSONAL ITEMS BEGAN TO COME.

THIS PARTICULAR GROUP HAD ONE BATTERY THAT HAD GONE INTO ACTION ON GUADALCANAL FOR 100 DAYS, UNDER FIRE EVERY DAY AND NIGHT, YET HAD NOT SUFFERED A SINGLE CASUALTY WOUNDED OR KILLED.

HAD YOU BEEN ON GUADALCANAL WHERE NAVAL SHELLING, AIR BOMBING AND LAND BASED ARTILLERY SNIPING WAS AN HOURLY OCCURENCE YOU'D REALIZE HOW REMARKABLE THAT RECORD IS. YET THIS BATTERY, NOW IN REAR

JUN 13 1943

30.24-4945

ECHELON HERE, HAD THAT ENVIABLE HONOR.

AND WHAT MUST APPROACH ANOTHER RECORD IS THE FACT THAT THE REGIMENT, A CORPS UNIT, IS OFFICERED MORE THAN 50 PER CENT BY MEN WHO CAME UP THROUGH THE RANKS. THAT INCLUDES THE COMMANDING OFFICER, LIEUT. COL. MELVILLE E.FULLER, ONCE OF DUQUESNE, PA., NOW OF QUANTICO, VA.; AND THE EXECUTIVE OFFICER, MAJOR WILLIAM F.KRAMER OF PITTSBURGH. IN FACT THE LATTER ONCE WAS A CAPTAIN'S ORDERLY IN THE NAVY, AND WAS APPOINTED TO OFFICER CANDIDATE'S SCHOOLS.

LOOKING FURTHER I FOUND THAT LIEUT. JAMES B.SMITH OF DAURIEN, GA., AND LIEUT. PHILIP ANSWESH OF CANNONSBURG, PA., ARE THE ONLY TWO JUNIOR OFFICERS IN THE MARINE CORPS WHO ARE GRADUATES OF THE ARTILLERY SCHOOL.

JUN 13 1943

THEN IN THE SAME REGIMENT IS CORP. PETER B.SALTONSTALL, NATURALLY OF BOSTON, SON OF THE BAY STATE GOVERNOR, WHO ENLISTED AS A BUCK PRIVATE, WENT THROUGH BOOT CAMP, AND EARNED HIS STRIPES IN THE DANK UNDERGROWTH OF GUADALCANAL'S TROPICAL STENCH.

SALTONSTALL, INCIDENTALLY, WAS CITED BY PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT FOR HIS EXCELLENT DUTY AFTER HE HAD SERVED ON THE CANAL FROM AUGUST UNTIL DECEMBER. AND BACK BAY BLUE-BLOOD NOTWITHSTANDING, THE GOVERNOR'S SON IS TREATED BY THE REST OF THE ENLISTED MEN SIMPLY AS A CORPORAL. THAT IN ITSELF IS AN ADMISSION THAT HE IS A MARINE, NOT A GLORY BOY.

MAJOR (THEN CAPTAIN) GUIDO F.VERBECK, SYRACUSE (N.Y.) GRADUATE OF CORNELL, WAS THE COMMANDING OFFICER OF THE BATTERY WHEN IT WENT THROUGH THE HELL OF THE CANAL WITHOUT A SINGLE CASUALTY.

JUN 13 1943

THE ABOVE HONORS SHOULD BE ENOUGH FOR ANY CORPS UNIT OF NOT MORE THAN 600 MEN, BUT NOTHING EVER SEEMS TO BE ENOUGH FOR THE MARINE CORPS.

"WHAT ELSE HAVE YOU GOT TUCKED AWAY?" I ASKED LIEUTENANT SMITH, MY HOST.

JUN 13 1943

"WELL," WELLED LIEUTENANT SMITH, "WE HAVE THE BEST PIZZA PIE BAKER IN THE WORLD IN GRASSO (PFC FRED S.GRASSO, ROCHESTER, N.Y.) AND NOW YOU'RE GOING TO PROVE IT FOR YOURSELF."

WITH THAT A HUGE, BEAUTIFUL OLD ROSE RED PIZZA WAS TROTTED OUT. PIZZA BEING ONE OF MY WEAKNESSES I PITCHED IN. AND AFTER THAT PIZZA PIE IT WAS EASY TO SEE WHY THE BATTERY SUFFERED NO CASUALTIES-- THE MEN JUST DIDN'T WANT TO LOSE A SINGLE DAY AWAY FROM SUCH GENIUS AS GRASSO'S.

THE SERVICE SHOULD ASSIGN ONE GRASSO TO EVERY UNIT. WE'D WIN THE WAR WITHOUT A SINGLE BATTLE CASUALTY.

U953PCW NM

NIGHT LEAD ARGENTINE

BUENOS AIRES, JUNE 12-(AP)-ARGENTINA'S NEW PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT TODAY DISMISSED SIX JUDGES AND TWO STATE PROSECUTORS "MARKED BY PUBLIC OPINION AS LACKING PROBITY AND BALANCE," WHILE AN INFORMED SOURCE SAID A MAN HAD BEEN ARRESTED IN BUENOS AIRES PROVINCE ON SUSPICION OF ESPIONAGE ON BEHALF OF A FOREIGN POWER.

JUN 13 1943

THE GOVERNMENT ANNOUNCEMENT ON REMOVAL OF THE JUDGES DECLARED THAT "ONE OF THE AIMS OF THE REVOLUTION WAS TO RESTORE TO THE JUDICIARY THE MAJESTY AND PRESTIGE NECESSARY FOR THE DISCHARGE OF SO IMPORTANT A POWER," AND THAT THESE AIMS WERE "IRRECONCILIABLE WITH

THE EXISTENCE OF MAGISTRATES WHO ARE MARKED BY PUBLIC OPINION AS LACKING PROBITY AND BALANCE."

THE FOREIGN POWER FOR WHICH THE MAN REPORTED ARRESTED IN BUENOS AIRES PROVINCE WAS SUPPOSED TO BE ACTING WAS NOT DISCLOSED, BUT AUTHORITIES WERE SAID TO ATTACH CONSIDERABLE IMPORTANCE TO THE ARREST

MEANWHILE MIGUEL CULACIATI, MINISTER OF THE INTERIOR IN THE CASTILLO GOVERNMENT WHO WAS ARRESTED UPON RETURNING TO ARGENTINA FOLLOWING HIS FLIGHT WITH THE FORMER PRESIDENT, PETITIONED HIS SUCCESSOR, COLONEL ALBERTO GILBERT, FOR AN IMMEDIATE INVESTIGATION TO CLAER HIS NAME.

JUN 13 1943

THE GOVERNMENT PRESS OFFICE IN MAKING PUBLIC CULACIATI'S LETTER, ANNOUNCED THAT THE REQUESTED INVESTIGATION HAD BEEN ORDERED IMMEDIATELY AFTER THE EX-MINISTER'S DETENTION.

CULACIATI SPECIFICALLY ASKED CLARIFICATION OF HIS CONNECTION WITH THE FINANCIAL OPERATIONS OF THREE PUBLIC UTILITIES--A TELEPHONE COMPANY, A MUNICIPAL TRANSPORT COMPANY, AND A SUBWAY LINE.

THE NEW GOVERNMENT BY THE END OF ITS FIRST WEEK OF EXISTENCE HAS EARNED THE PROOFS OF A CONSIDERABLE MEASURE OF GOOD WILL BOTH AT HOME AND ABROAD.

THE SWIFT NOTIFICATION OF PRACTICALLY ALL COUNTRIES OF THEIR INTENTION TO MAINTAIN DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS WITH THE NEW GOVERNMENT TESTIFIED TO THE GENERAL CONVICTION THAT THE REGIME IS BOTH STABLE AND PREPARED TO FULFILL ITS INTERNATIONAL OBLIGATIONS.

JUN 13 1943

THIS IMPRESSION WAS BORNE OUT BOTH BY THE CALM PREVAILING INSIDE THE COUNTRY, AND THE DECLARATIONS OF THE PROVISIONAL AUTHORITIES. WHATEVER EARLY MISGIVINGS MAY HAVE BEEN ENTERTAINED BY DEMOCRATIC QUARTERS OVER THE ORIENTATION OF THE MILITARY REGIME SEEMED LARGELY APPEASED IN THE LIGHT OF INITIAL DEEDS BY WHICH THE GOVERNMENT GAVE SUBSTANCE TO ITS PROCLAIMED POLICIES.

FIVE MORE COUNTRIES, PANAMA, HONDURAS, GUATEMALA, VICHY FRANCE AND BELGIUM, RECOGNIZED THE NEW ARGENTINE GOVERNMENT TODAY, BRINGING THE TOTAL TO 30.

JUN 13 1943

(A PARIS RADIO BROADCAST, RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, SAID THE HOLY SEE ALSO HAD RECOGNIZED THE NEW GOVERNMENT.)

TWO DAYS AGO, ARGENTINA PROHIBITED THE TRANSMISSION OF CODE MESSAGES BY RADIO, THEREBY IMPLEMENTING ONE OF THE AGREEMENTS ENTERED INTO AT THE RIO DE JANEIRO PAN AMERICAN CONFERENCE.

THE EXCELLENT IMPRESSION CREATED BY THIS MOVE WAS REINFORCED BY A STATEMENT OF MINISTER OF THE INTERIOR ADMIRAL SEGUNDO STORNI THAT A POLICY OF PAN-AMERICAN SOLIDARITY WOULD UNFOLD STEP BY STEP, AND HIS SUBSEQUENT DECLARATION AFTER CONFERRING WITH U.S. AMBASSADOR NORMAN ARMOUR THAT HE BELIEVED ARGENTINA WAS NOW ON THE ROAD TO COLLABORATION.

JUN 13 1943

ONE LIBERAL SOURCE LISTED THE FOLLOWING AMONG OTHER ENCOURAGING PRONOUNCEMENTS AND ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF THIS FIRST WEEK:

THE FORM OF PRESIDENT PEDRO RAMIREZ' OATH, IN WHICH HE PLEDGED "REESTABLISHMENT OF FULL CONSTITUTIONAL RULE, CONSERVATION OF REPUBLICAN INSTITUTIONS, AND RESTORATION OF ADMINISTRATIVE HONESTY;"

A93

PROMPT LIFTING OF MARTIAL LAW;

QUICK MOVES TO APPREHEND SPECULATORS AND TO REDUCE THE COST OF

JUN 13 1943

LIVING, WHICH ALREADY HAS RESULTED IN DECLINE OF SOME COMMODITY PRICES.

DELIVERY FOR TRIAL OF OFFICERS AND CIVILIANS ACCUSED OF GRAFT IN PROCUREMENT OF ARMY SUPPLIES;

AS ITS POLICIES TOOK SHAPE, THE GOVERNMENT ENJOYED THE BENEVOLENT ATTITUDE OF PRACTICALLY THE ENTIRE ARGENTINE PRESS. THE PRO-DEMOCRATIC ORGANS AFTER A PERIOD OF REFLECTION HAVE NOTED FAVORABLY THE PROMISES OF THE PROVISIONAL RULES, AND ASSURED THEM THEY NEED ONLY TO MAKE THEM EFFECTIVE TO RECEIVE POPULAR ALLEGIANCE.

ASIDE FROM SEIZURE OF ONE EDITION OF CRITICA YESTERDAY AFTERNOON AND CLOSURE OF THE COMMUNIST NEWSPAPER LA HORA, THE NEW AUTHORITIES PURSUED A MODERATE ATTITUDE TOWARD THE NATIONAL PRESS.

FEDERAL COMMISSIONERS ARE NOW GOVERNING FIVE OF THE REPUBLIC'S 14 PROVINCES, IN TUCUMAN, CORRIENTES, ENTRERIOS, MENDOZ AND BUENOS AIRES.

JUN 13 1943

BJ955PEW

ADD HAVANA --- year in Venezuela

MIGUEL COYULA OF HAVANA WAS NAMED PRESIDENT.

AMONG VICE PRESIDENTS ELECTED WERE TOM WALLACE, EDITOR OF THE LOUISVILLE, KY., TIMES AND A PAST PRESIDENT OF THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF NEWSPAPER EDITORS, AND ALLAN ANDERSON OF OTTAWA, A MEMBER OF THE CANADIAN WARTIME INFORMATION BOARD.

JULIO GARZON, EDITOR OF LA PRENSA, NEW YORK CITY SPANISH-LANGUAGE DAILY, WAS SELECTED TO ASSIST WALLACE IN ORGANIZING THE SOCIETY'S NORTH AMERICAN AFFAIRS.

WILLIAM P. CARNEY, OF THE NEW YORK TIMES, WHO RETIRED AS PRESIDENT OF THE OLD ORGANIZATION, TOLD THE DELEGATES THAT THE OLD PHRASE "YANKEE IMPERIALISM" HAS BEEN EXPLODED.

JUN 13 1943

JA538AEW

3024-4947

B111

KX

BERMUDA JUNE 12-(AP)-TWO UNITED STATES FLIERS WERE DECORATED AT THE BERMUDA NAVAL AIR STATION TODAY BY REAR ADMIRAL INGRAM C.SOWALL, COMMANDANT OF THE UNITED STATES NAVAL OPERATING BASE HERE.

LIEUTENANT JOSEPH M.KELLAM, 28, WHO WAS BORN IN BISCOE, N.C., AND WHOSE WIFE LIVES IN LOS ANGELES, CALIF., RECEIVED THE SILVER STAR AND LIEUTENANT (JG) AUGUST A.BARTHES, 26, OF BILOXI, MISS., RECEIVED THE AIR MEDAL.

JUN 13 1943

KELLAM WAS CITED BY REAR ADMIRAL W.F.HALSEY FOR "CONSPICUOUS GALLANTRY AND INTREPIDITY IN ACTION WHILE PILOTING A PATROL PLANE IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC AREA AUGUST 24, 1942." WHILE ON PATROL DUTY HE SIGHTED AN ENEMY CARRIER AND ITS SUPPORTING FORCE, AND THOUGH EXPOSED TO ATTACK BY ENEMY FIGHTERS AND ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE FROM ENEMY SHIPS, HE CLOSED IN ON THE ENEMY TO OBTAIN "VALUABLE TACTICAL INFORMATION AS TO THE COMPOSITION, COURSE AND SPEED OF THE ENEMY FORCE. HE MADE A COMPLETE AND ACCURATE REPORT TO HIS BASE OF THE CONTACT HE HAD MADE."

BARTHES WAS CITED BY ADMIRAL CHESTER W.NIMITZ FOR HEROIC CONDUCT WHILE PARTICIPATING IN AN AERIAL FLIGHT IN LINE OF DUTY AS PATROL PLANE COMMANDER. SHORTLY AFTER THE BATTLE OF MIDWAY JUNE 9, 1942, HE "SUCCESSFULLY LANDED A HEAVILY-LOADED PBY-5 IN THE OPEN SEA AND RESCUED TWO OCCUPANTS OF A RUBBER LIFE RAFT," THE CITATION SAID. THREE DAYS LATER HE RESCUED TWO MORE SURVIVORS FROM ANOTHER LIFE RAFT AND TOOK OFF UNDER DIFFICULT CONDITIONS. THESE OPERATIONS WERE ACCOMPLISHED DESITE THE FACT THAT HE HAD BEEN

JUN 13 1943

JUN 13 1943

ACCOMPLISHED DESPITE THE FACT THAT HE HAD BEEN FLYING "LONG HOURS PRECEDING, DURING, AND AFTER THE BATTLE OF MIDWAY."

KK1220AEW

A186

TORONTO, ONT., JUNE 12-(CANADIAN PRESS)-THE UNITED AUTOMOBILE WORKERS-CIO EXECUTIVE BOARD HAS ADOPTED A RESOLUTION PROVIDING FOR THE RETURN OF ITS MEMBERS TO THE UNITED STATES WAR MANPOWER COMMISSION POLICY COMMITTEES, IT WAS DISCLOSED TODAY.

THE UAW MEMBERS RESIGNED FROM THE COMMITTEES TWO MONTHS AGO WHEN "IT WAS FELT THAT MR.MCNUTT (PAUL V.MCNUTT, U.S. MANPOWER DIRECTOR, HAD DESTROYED THE VOLUNTARY NATURE OF THE COMMITTEES," SAID AN OFFICIAL OF THE BOARD, WHICH IS IN SESSION HERE.

"NOW THAT THE VOLUNTARY BASIS HAS BEEN RESTORED, WE HAVE AGREED TO RETURN OUR DELEGATES."

JUN 13 1943

B314PEW

OTTAWA, JUNE 12-(AP)-SGT.PAUL JAMES HARMEY, SON OF A.B. HARMEY OF (LAKE STREET) ANCHA, N.Y., PREVIOUSLY REPORTED MISSING ON ACTIVE SERVICE OVERSEAS, IS NOW FOR OFFICIAL PURPOSES PRESUMED DEAD, THE ROYAL CANADIAN AIR FORCE SAID IN A CASUALTY LIST TODAY.

WD359PEW

UNDATED LAMPEDUSA

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

JUN 13 1943

A ROME DISPATCH BROADCAST BY THE BERLIN RADIO TODAY SAID "NO ILLUSIONS WERE ENTERTAINED" IN ITALY'S CAPITAL REGARDING THE FATE OF LAMPEDUSA, WHICH WAS BROUGHT UNDER ALLIED AERIAL ATTACK YESTERDAY WITHIN A FEW HOURS OF THE FALL OF PANTELLERIA, 80 MILES TO THE NORTH. THE BROADCAST WAS RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

"THE GENERAL VIEW HERE (IN ROME) IS THAT THIS COMPLETELY ISOLATED STRONGHOLD, HELD BY A SMALL GARRISON, WILL SOONER OR LATER SUCCUMB TO ALLIED ATTACKS," THE DISPATCH SAID.

A99 JS216PEW

UNDATED PANTELLERIA-MALTA

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

JUN 13 1943

THE HAPLESS LITTLE ITALIAN ISLAND OF PANTELLERIA WAS NEITHER MUSSOLINI'S "GIBRALTAR" NOR HIS "MALTA".

HE HAD HOPED TO MAKE IT A FORTRESS COMMANDING THE CENTRAL MEDITERRANEAN. IT WAS NOT.

AND WHEN THE FURY OF ALLIED AIR POWER WAS UNLEASHED AGAINST IT, THE ITALIAN DICTATOR PROBABLY HOPED THAT PANTELLERIA MIGHT STAND AS DID BRITISH MALTA LESS THAN 150 MILES TO THE SOUTHEAST.

IT SEEMED PANTELLERIA MIGHT BECOME A CLOSE RIVAL OF MALTA FOR THE TITLE OF "MOST-BOMBED SPOT ON EARTH." MALTA HAS WITHSTOOD MORE THAN 5,000 ENEMY AIR RAIDS SINCE THE WAR BEGAN, AND ITS FIGHTER PILOTS AND ITS ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUNNERS HAVE DOWNED MORE THAN 1,100 AXIS PLANES. MORE THAN 1,000 OF THESE FELL TO MALTA'S FIGHTER PILOTS.

MALTA NOT ONLY DEFENDED ITSELF, BUT STRUCK BACK, WITH MALTA-BASED AIRCRAFT SEEKING OUT AXIS SHIPPING, AND ATTACKING SICILY AND ITALY. PLANES BASED ON THE ISLAND TODAY STILL ARE SUPPORTING THE OPERATIONS WHICH THUS FAR HAVE BEATEN INTO SUBMISSION PANTELLERIA AND THE LESSER PRIZE OF LAMPEDUSA.

THE BOMBING ASSAULT UPON PANTELLERIA WAS CONCENTRATED WITHIN A

JUN 13 1943

MUCH SHORTER PERIOD OF TIME, WITH LARGER FLEETS OF RAIDING AIRCRAFT DROPPING HEAVIER BOMB LOADS THAN MARKED MOST OF THE AXIS RAIDS UPON MALTA. SUCH CONCENTRATED, OVERWHELMING ASSAULT NEARLY WIPED OUT PANTELLERIA'S DEFENSES.

IN THE LAST 13 DAYS OF THE ATTACKS, PANTELLERIA'S PROTECTORS LOST 78 PLANES WHILE THE ALLIES LOST 12.

MALTA

MALTA'S DEFENDERS SUFFERED CASUALTIES, BUT NEVER UPON SUCH A SCALE AS THAT.

JUN 13 1943

BUT ONE OF THE BIGGEST--AND PERHAPS THE DECISIVE--FACTORS IN MALTA'S SUCCESSFUL STAND WAS THAT THE BRITISH NAVY PUSHED THROUGH SUPPLY CONVOYS--FOOD, PLANES, GUNS, AMMUNITION, MEN, MEDICAL SUPPLIES SOME OF THESE CONVOYS SUFFERED SEVERE LOSSES, BUT THE BRITISH CAME TO THE AID OF THE BELEAGUERED MALTESE.

PANTELLERIA THOUGH, HAD TO STAND ALONE, WITH NO HELP FROM ITALY. THE MEDITERRANEAN AROUND THE ISLAND WAS DENIED TO MUSSOLINI'S BATTERED FLEET, AND HE WAS UNABLE OR UNWILLING TO FLY IN ENOUGH SUPPLIES.

PANTELLERIA'S COMMANDER SAID LACK OF WATER FORCED THE SURRENDER. THAT WAS CERTAINLY PART OF THE STORY. BUT EVEN WITH SOME REINFORCEMENTS, WATER, FOOD AND AMMUNITION, THE ITALIAN ISLAND PROBABLY COULD NOT HAVE RESISTED MUCH LONGER.

THE ALLIED AIR FLEETS PLASTERED ALMOST EVERY SQUARE FOOT OF THE ISLAND WITH PRECISION BOMBING BY OVERWHELMING NUMBERS, AND HAD THE FORCE IN NORTH AFRICA TO MAINTAIN THIS HUGE SUPERIORITY OVER ANY NUMBER OF PLANES THAT ITALY COULD BASE ON PANTELLERIA.

JUN 13 1943

3024-4949

UNDATED PANTELLERIA REACTION

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

JUN 13 1943

AXIS BROADCASTS EXPLAINING THE LOSS OF PANTELLERIA DECLARED SATURDAY THAT THE ISLAND HAD "LOST ITS IMPORTANCE," AND THAT ITS "HANDFUL" OF DEFENDERS HAD BEEN FORCED TO SURRENDER FOR LACK OF WATER, WHILE MOSCOW VIEWED IT AS "ONLY A BEGINNING X X X OF LARGE EVENTS IN THE MEDITERRANEAN ON THE SOUTHERN APPROACHES OF EUROPE."

A ROME BROADCAST, RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, SAID "A SIMPLE MATHEMATICAL CALCULATION" WOULD HAVE FORETOLD THE DURATION OF RESISTANCE, SINCE THERE WAS JUST SO MUCH WATER, TRANSPORTED IN BY PLANE, SO MANY PERSONS, AND THUS JUST SO MANY POSSIBLE DAYS THEY COULD HOLD OUT.

AFTER THE WAR ENDED IN NORTH AFRICA, PANTELLERIA "LOST MUCH OF ITS IMPORTANCE," SAID ROME, AND LAMPEDUSA ALSO DECLINED IN VALUE TO THE AXIS, BUT "THEIR FALL CANNOT ALTER THE ALREADY EXISTING POSITIONS IN THE MEDITERRANEAN."

BERLIN DECLARED THE "MORALE OF THE HANDFUL OF MEN" DEFENDING PANTELLERIA--THE NUMBER OF TROOPS WAS PUT AT 10,000 BY ALLIED ACCOUNTS-

HAD NOT BEEN BROKEN, AND SAID THAT "THE FINAL FIGURES OF THE

EMS LOQE

JUN 13 1943

HAD NOT BEEN BROKEN, AND SAID THAT "THE FINAL FIGURES OF THE ENEMY'S LOSSES WILL CERTAINLY SHOW THAT THE ENEMY PAID A HEAVY PRICE FOR THE CAPTURE OF THE LITTLE ISLAND."

ALLIED REPORTS SAID THERE WAS NO BATTLE IN LANDING, NO ALLIED TROOPS KILLED, AND ONLY A SMALL NUMBER OF ALLIED PLANES LOST. BERLIN,

JUN 13 1943

HOWEVER, ASSERTED THAT "HEAVY AIR FIGHTING STILL CONTINUES" OVER THE ISLAND.

A WOUNDED, EVACUATED GERMAN SOLDIER WAS QUOTED BY BERLIN AS SAYING THAT FOOD AND WATER SUPPLIES WERE SO BAD THAT "FISH, TORTOISE MEAT AND WINE WERE THE STAPLE DIET OF THE GARRISON MOST OF THE TIME IN THE LAST FEW WEEKS, AND THE LOCAL INHABITANTS LIVED ON NEXT TO NOTHING."

JUN 13 1943

THIS SOLDIER ALSO WAS SAID TO HAVE REPORTED THAT "AT LEAST 400 BOMBS" WERE DROPPED ON ONE ITALIAN BATTERY, WHICH KEPT ON FIGHTING.

THE GERMAN BROADCAST SAID "SMALL DETACHMENTS OF GERMAN TROOPS" HELPED DEFEND THE ISLAND. ASSOCIATED PRESS CORRESPONDENT NOLAND NORGAARD, WHO LANDED ON THE ISLAND WITH THE OCCUPYING FORCES, REPORTED THAT THE GERMANS WERE SAID TO NUMBER ABOUT 100, AND THAT THEY HAD FLED, APPARENTLY BY PLANE.

A MOSCOW BROADCAST RECORDED BY U.S. GOVERNMENT MONITORS SAID PANTELLERIA HAD "UNMASKED THE ASSERTION OF THE HITLERITES ABOUT THE UNASSAILABLE FORTIFICATIONS ALLEGEDLY CREATED BY THEM ON THE APPROACHES TO WESTERN EUROPE," AND THAT IT "SIGNIFIES THE PIERCING OF THE ITALIAN AIR AND NAVAL DEFENSE."

BJ1202AEW

A91

UNDATED MEDITERRANEAN WALL

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

JUN 13 1943

"THE MEDITERRANEAN WALL TODAY IS AN ACCOMPLISHED FACT; BEHIND IT GERMAN AND ITALIAN ARMIES ARE READY FOR ENEMY ATTACK," THE BERLIN RADI SAID YESTERDAY (SAT) IN A BROADCAST RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

BETRAYING NEW CONCERN REGARDING THE AXIS' SOUTHERN DEFENSES IN CONSEQUENCE OF THE DEMONSTRATION OF ALLIED POWER IN REDUCING THE ISLAND FORTRESSES OF PANTELLERIA AND LAMPEDUSA, TRANSOCEAN NEWS AGENCY BROADCAST WHAT IT SAID WAS THE FIRST COMPREHENSIVE DESCRIPTION OF THE MEDITERRANEAN WALL, REACHING ACROSS FRANCE FROM THE ITALIAN TO THE SPANISH FRONTIERS.

JUN 13 1943

"GALLERIES ARE DRILLED INTO MASSIVE ROCK WHILE PILLBOXES ARE EITHER NEWLY CONSTRUCTED OR ELSE MODERNIZED," SAID THE ACCOUNT. "COASTAL DEFENSES ARE STRENGTHENED EVERYWHERE AND HARBORS ARE TURNED INTO STRONG FORTRESSES. AIRFIELDS ARE LAID OUT EVERYWHERE."

THE BROADCAST SAID GERMAN ENGINEERS HAD MADE THE BEST USE OF THEIR EXPERIENCES IN BUILDING MASSIVE CONCRETE U-BOAT BASES AND FORTIFICATIONS ALONG THE ATLANTIC COAST, WHILE THE MOUNTAINOUS TERRAIN AND MANY BAYS AND CAPES ALONG THE COAST FACILITATED DEFENSE ARRANGEMENTS.

THE PRAISE OF THE MEDITERRANEAN WALL DEFENSES RECALLED PREVIOUS AXIS BOASTS OF THE STRENGTH OF PANTELLERIA, WHICH HAD BEEN COMPARED TO A GIBRALTAR.

YESTERDAY, HOWEVER, A BERLIN BROADCAST OF ROME DISPATCHES SPOKE OF PANTELLERIA AS HAVING LIMITED DEFENSE POSSIBILITIES, "SINCE THE LARGEST PART OF THE ISLAND IS FLAT COUNTRY WITH ONLY A FEW ELEVATIONS NEAR THE COAST."

THE AXIS ACCOUNT EXPLAINED THAT AFTER ALL, PANTELLERIA'S UNDERGROUND HANGARS, CAVES AND DUGOUTS WERE OF LIMITED USE FOR UNEXPLAINED REASONS.

JUN 13 1943

THE GERMAN BROADCAST ALSO FRANKLY WROTE OFF LAMPEDUSA'S CHANCES OF SURVIVAL EVEN BEFORE THE ALLIED ANNOUNCEMENT OF THAT ISLAND'S

JUN 13 1943

3024-4951

SURRENDER.

"NO ILLUSIONS ARE ENTERTAINED IN ROME," IT SAID. "THE GENERAL VIEW HERE IS THAT THIS COMPLETELY ISOLATED STRONGHOLD, HELD BY A SMALL GARRISON, WILL SOONER OR LATER SUCCUMB TO ALLIED ATTACKS."

(EDITORS--THE NAVY REQUESTED THAT THE FOLLOWING NOT BE PUBLISHED UNDER A DATELINE)

- - -

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS JUN 13 1943

A FOUR STACKER DESTROYER OF WORLD WAR I DESIGN WHICH WAS REFITTED AND CAST IN A NEW ROLE AS A PATROL PLANE TENDER ---THE U.S.S. MC FARLAND --- WAS PRESENTED THE PRESIDENTIAL UNIT CITATION YESTERDAY FOR OUTSTANDING PERFORMANCE IN ACTION AND DISTINGUISHED SERVICE TO THE UNITED STATES.

THE CITATION, ENGRAVED ON A BRONZE PLAQUE, WAS PRESENTED BY VICE ADM.JOHN H.TOWERS, COMMANDER AIR FORCE, PACIFIC FLEET, ON BEHALF OF THE PRESIDENT AND THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF, PACIFIC FLEET.

IT WAS ACCEPTED BY LIEUT.COMDR.E.G.GARDNER,JR., ALICEVILLE, ALA., WHO WAS EXECUTIVE OFFICER UNDER LT.COMDR.JOHN C.ALDERMAN, PORTLAND,ORE., AT THE TIME OF THE ACTION WHICH BROUGHT THE CITATION. GARDNER LATER SUCCEEDED ALDERMAN. JUN 13 1943

THE MC FARLAND ALREADY HAS FIVE SOUVENIRS OF HER DAYS IN ACTION--FIVE JAPANESE FLAGS PAINTED ON THE BRIDGE TO REPRESENT THE FOUR ENEMY DIVE BOMBERS SHE BROUGHT DOWN AND THE NIP SUBMARINE SHE SENT TO THE BOTTOM. ANOTHER BOMBER, HOWEVER, NEARLY MANAGED TO AVENGE THE UNDERSEAS BOAT.

THE CITATION RELATED THE MC FARLAND AIDED IN GUARDING VITAL SUPPLY LINES TO GUADALCANAL DURING THE EARLY DAYS OF THAT ENGAGEMENT. THE SHIP REMAINED AT ITS POST DESPITE REPEATED AND POWERFUL EFFORTS OF ENEMY PLANES TO DRIVE HER AWAY OR SINK HER.

A NEARLY FATAL BLOW WAS DELIVERED BY THE LAST FLIGHT OF NINE JAPANESE PLANES. FOUR WERE DOWNED BY THE MC FARLAND'S GUNS, OTHERS MISSED, BUT ONE DROPPED ITS BOMBS ON THE SHIP'S SLIM FANTAIL. THE EXPLOSION ALSO SET OFF SOME OF THE SHIP'S DEPTH CHARGES.

THE CREW KEPT THE MC FARLAND AFLOAT UNTIL A HARBOR WAS REACHED AND THE SHIP COULD BE PATCHED UP TEMPORARILY.

FJ1014PCW

THE WAR TODAY

---

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE JUN 13 1943

---

COINCIDENT WITH THE ADMISSION IN HITLER'S NEWSPAPER VOELKISCHER BEOBACHTER THAT THE ALLIED BOMBING OF GERMAN CITIES IS "A DAMNED SERIOUS THING" THERE COMES FROM THE EIGHTH UNITED STATES AIR FORCE HEADQUARTERS IN ENGLAND THE DISCLOSURE OF A GREAT INCREASE IN OUR BOMBER STRENGTH WHICH IS PLAYING ITS PART IN THE DEVASTATING DAY AND NIGHT BOMBARDMENT OF THE NAZIS.

OUR COMMANDER, MAJOR GENERAL IRA C.EAKER, STATES THAT THE AMERICAN AIR FLEET IN BRITAIN INCREASES FROM FIFTEEN TO THIRTY PER-CENT MONTHLY. HE SAYS IT HAS DOUBLED SINCE MARCH, AND WILL BE DOUBLED AGAIN BETWEEN NOW AND OCTOBER.

JUN 13 1943

THOSE FIGURES ARE HIGHLY SIGNIFICANT IN VIEW OF THE ALL-ROUND ALLIED OFFENSIVE IN EUROPE. THEY FASCINATE ME BECAUSE OF AN ESTIMATE WHICH WAS GIVEN ME WHILE I WAS IN BRITAIN LAST OCTOBER. I WAS TOLD THEN BY WELL INFORMED QUARTERS THAT IF THE AMERICAN AND BRITISH BOMBER FORCES IN BRITAIN COULD BE TREBLED IN NUMBER, BY THE FIRST OF THIS YEAR, IT WOULD BE POSSIBLE TO REDUCE HITLER'S STRENGTH ENOUGH BY SPRING SO THAT AN ARMY COULD BE LANDED IN FRANCE OFF THE CHANNEL WITHOUT EXCESSIVE LOSSES.

IN OTHER WORDS, SOME THREE MONTHS' INTENSIVE BOMBING WITH THE TREBLED FORCES WOULD PAVE THE WAY FOR INVASION.

WELL, INCREASES IN THE TWO AIR FLEETS WERE SLOW IN COMING. SPRING ARRIVED WITH THE FUEHRER STILL TOO TOUGH FOR INVASION, THOUGH THE SPEEDING UP OF THE ANGLO-AMERICAN BOMBING OPERATIONS SHOWED THAT BUSINESS WAS IMPROVING. BOTH AMERICANS AND BRITISH WERE GETTING MORE BOMBERS.

JUN 13 1943

A91

NOW IT WOULD APPEAR THAT THE TWO FLEETS MAY BE APPROACHING THE MAGIC FIGURE WHICH WAS MENTIONED TO ME. THAT WOULDN'T REPRESENT AN EXCESSIVE NUMBER AT ALL, BUT ENOUGH TO RUB THE FROSTING OFF HERR HITLER'S GINGER-BREAD.

JUN 13 1943

GENERAL EAKER DECORATED HIS DISCLOSURE WITH A TOUCH OF FINALITY BY REMARKING THAT AMERICAN FIGHTER AND MEDIUM BOMBER FORCES IN BRITAIN ALSO ARE GROWING RAPIDLY AND WILL BE READY TO PULL THEIR WEIGHT IN AN INVASION OF EUROPE. ABSOLUTE SUPREMACY OF THE AIR WILL BE NECESSARY FOR THAT GREAT UNDERTAKING, AND THESE LIGHTER WARPLANES WILL DO YEOMAN'S SERVICE.

INCIDENTALLY I HAD A CHANCE TO GET ACQUAINTED WITH THE GENERAL AND FOUND HIM A STURDY CHARACTER WHO INSPIRES GREAT CONFIDENCE. HIS STATEMENT IS BOUND TO SET GERMAN EXPERTS TO FIGURING ON WHAT IS IN STORE FOR THEM.

JUN 13 1943

THE BERLIN CORRESPONDENT OF THE STOCKHOLM TIDNINGEN REPORTS THAT INFORMED NAZI MILITARY CIRCLES ADMIT THEY CAN NO LONGER HIDE THE FACT THAT THE EFFECT OF DAILY ROUND-THE-CLOCK BOMBING IS "AWFUL ON THE HEALTH AND NERVES OF THE PEOPLE," EVEN IF BOMBS DON'T FALL IN THEIR IMMEDIATE NEIGHBORHOOD. THAT'S UNDERSTANDABLE BECAUSE EVEN TRAINED SOLDIERS BREAK UNDER BOMBARDMENTS WHICH ROB THEM OF ANY CHANCE TO SLEEP, TO SAY NOTHING OF THE SHOCK OF THE GREAT EXPLOSIONS.

IN THIS CONNECTION EMIL LUDWIG, THE GERMAN BIOGRAPHER, HAS EXPRESSED THE BELIEF BEFORE THE HOUSE FOREIGN AFFAIRS COMMITTEE IN WASHINGTON THAT BOMBING "IS THE DECIDING FACTOR THAT WILL BREAK THE GERMANS." IT'S HIS VIEW THAT GERMAN NERVES WILL CRACK UNDER THE CONTINUED AERIAL ASSAULT AND THAT INVASION WON'T BE NECESSARY.

THAT'S INTERESTING TESTIMONY AS COMING FROM A GERMAN. HOWEVER, WHILE SUCH A COLLAPSE CERTAINLY IS POSSIBLE, IT WILL BE A MISTAKE FOR US TO BANK ON IT. IF IT COMES, WELL AND GOOD, BUT IT WILL TAKE A TERRIFIC POUNDING TO BRING IT ABOUT. THAT MEANS REDOUBLED EFFORTS ON OUR PART TO PRODUCE THE WHEREWITHAL TO CONTINUE THE OFFENSIVE.

JUN 13 1943

N818AEW

JUN 13 1943

26 Fortresses Lost in Air Battle As U. S. Blasts Kiel and Bremen; Pacific Airmen Down 25 Zeros

German U-Boat Bases Are Targets Of Attack

JUN 14 1943

Many Enemy Fighters Are Shot Down In Eighth Air Force's Greatest Battle

London, Monday, June 14 (AP)—German planes dropped hundreds of incendiaries early today on a northeast coastal town, setting fire to a school and some homes, but no casualties were reported.

London underwent a brief alert shortly after midnight. Gunfire was heard, but there was no report of planes reaching the metropolitan area.

[By the Associated Press] HAWKINS

London, June 13—Two large formations of American Flying Fortresses shot down many German fighters and blasted the Nazi U-boat bases at Bremen and Kiel today in the greatest air battle ever waged by the Eighth United States Air Force.

The two sky fleets flew unescorted to the heavily defended north German bases for the double-barrelled daylight attack. The cost was twenty-six four-engined bombers, the most severe loss ever suffered by the Eighth Air Force in a single day's operations.

"The attack occasioned the greatest air battle in which Eighth Air Force heavy bombers have yet participated and against the largest concentration of enemy fighters," said the United States communique.

Raids Called Effective

Bremen and Kiel, which account for a considerable percentage of the Nazi war machine's U-boat production and servicing, "were bombed effectively and many enemy fighters were destroyed," the bulletin said.

RAF heavyweights again struck Germany's Ruhr Valley last night, and a big force of British planes was heard roaring back toward the Continent tonight a short time after the American airmen returned.

JUN 14 1943

The largest loss ever suffered before by American heavy bombers in a single raid was the sixteen downed during the last previous attack on Bremen, April 17.

While deploring the heavy loss of men and equipment in the run to Kiel, Brig. Gen. Frederick L. Anderson, commander of a Flying Fortress wing, said the "price was not too high for the results achieved."

1,000-Mile Trip

"Not only did we hit important submarine installations at Kiel but we also drew off practically all enemy aircraft in the area so that the other formation was able to do a splendid job at Bremen with little opposition."

Kiel is about one hundred miles north of Bremen, and to get to it the huge squadrons had to fly a round trip of approximately 1,000 miles.

The two-way assault increased the momentum of the newest aerial offensive against Hitler's war plants, following by only a few hours a heavy night attack by RAF heavyweights on Bochum and other points in Germany's industrial Ruhr valley. The night raid cost the RAF twenty-four bombers but the German themselves conceded that it caused heavy damage.

New blows also were rained on other enemy targets throughout France and the Low Countries by daylight today. American and British fighters and British medium bombers shuttled over the Channel in a seemingly endless stream to hammer enemy installations these operations which were virtually all day.

Concentrated At Kiel

The United States communique telling of today's dual bombing assault said "very strong enemy fighter opposition" was "concentrated largely against the formation attacking Kiel."

Pilots participating in the Bremen attack said enemy ground fire was "so thick you could almost walk on it," but the fighter opposition there was light.

At Bremen the Germans again attempted to supplement their ground defenses with smudge-pot smoke screens.

Reports of RAF crewmen on the night raid on Bochum indicated the Nazis have thrown still more guns, searchlights and planes into the Ruhr in a desperate effort to check the devastating Allied air offensive before it completes Prime Minister Churchill's experiment to bomb Germany completely out of the war.

Not On Record Scale

The Bochum raid was not on the record scale of the Duesseldorf-Muenster attack by the RAF the previous night, but it still was heavy enough to pour in 4,000-pound bombs at the rate of five a minute at the peak of the assault, which also delivered tens of thousands of incendiaries and smaller bombs.

Reconnoissance flights over the Duesseldorf-Muenster area late yesterday showed fires still burning from the Friday night raid.

Thunderbolts of the Eighth United States Air Force destroyed three enemy planes during a forenoon sweep over the European coast today and other American fighters downed two more during the afternoon. Two Eighth Air Force fighters were lost.

An Air Ministry communique, referring to the raids over northern France and the Low Countries, said Mitchells bombed targets at Flushing in Holland and Bostons attacked objectives at Lille in France in the forenoon while Typhoon bombers battered the airfield at Abbeville in France this afternoon.

Supported By Fighters

Many squadrons of fighters supported these operations and two of them were lost along with two of the bombers. Spitfires downed one enemy fighter and a four-engined Focke-Wulf reconnaissance plane was bagged by two RAF Mosquitoes over the bay of Biscay.

[The German radio, telling of the attack on Bremen and Kiel, declared that at least fifteen American "superbombers" were shot down and that they were "so effectively intercepted that most machines were forced to jettison their bombs."]

Bremen, with its concentration of submarine and airplane factories, has been one of the principal targets of the Allied air offensive, having been raided 104 times since the war began.

Attacked 73 Times

Kiel, great shipbuilding center, had been bombed on seventy-three previous occasions, twice by American bombers in daylight precision attacks. It was believed that today's bombardments by Maj. Gen. Ira C. Eaker's forces were carried out on the same scale as those of two days ago, when more than 200 heavyweights plastered Wilhelmshaven and Cuxhaven.

Bochum, object of last night's pounding by the British, is a center of Germany's coal, iron and steel industry, eleven miles west of Dortmund. It has a population of more than 300,000, with tens of thousands employed in its big chemical factories and branches of the Krupps armament works.

This was the third heavy raid on Bochum this year. In the last previous RAF attack on May 13 more than 1,000 tons of bombs were rained on the town.

Germans Retaliate

The German air force retaliated against England during the night, raiding a southwest coast town in moonlight and dropping a few bombs on London's outskirts, the Air Ministry announced. At least four raiders were reported destroyed.

The German radio, heard by the Associated Press, identified Plymouth as the city attacked by a "heavy" formation of Nazi bombers. It said five fires were left burning in the city.

[Of the RAF attack on Bochum, the German communique said "considerable destructions were caused to private houses and public buildings."]

Two Persons Killed

Two persons were killed and others seriously injured by the bombs which fell in a London suburb. Two Nazi flyers who bailed out of a plane shot down during the raid were captured almost immediately by Home Guardsmen. The bodies of three others were found in the wreckage of another raider.

In addition to attacking the heart of industrial Germany, the Air Ministry said the RAF laid mines in enemy waters last night.

30.24-4953

25 ENEMY PLANES DOWNED IN PACIFIC

Eight Others Are Possibly Destroyed In Air Battle Over Russells

JUN 14 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 13—American flyers, battling forty or fifty Japanese fighter planes in a rough-and-tumble dogfight over the Solomon Islands, sent at least twenty-five, possibly thirty-three, of the enemy hurtling into the sea.

Six United States planes were missing after the engagement fought Saturday over the Russell group in the Solomons, the navy reported today, but all but two of the American pilots were rescued.

At the same time the navy added two Mitsubishi bombers to the total of enemy planes shot down in the Solomons, boosting to at least sixty-five the number destroyed in the last week, and to more than 1,000 the total Japanese plane losses in the Solomons.

Downed By Liberators

Army Liberator bombers accounted for the latest Mitsubishi to crash into the sea in flames. Two Liberators encountered a pair of the enemy bombers about twenty miles west of Buka Island in the Solomons. They struck swiftly, shooting down one enemy plane.

The other Mitsubishi was downed by fighters in an engagement over the north end of Malaita Island, also in the Solomons. Previously navy communiques had asserted that four bombers had been destroyed in that fight, but later reports raised the total to five.

The navy gave no explanation of the fact that only Japanese fighter planes were in the air battle over the Russell islands.

Massing Fighters

However, it appeared that the enemy may be massing fighters in huge groups and sending them out with instructions to seek battle with American bombing planes which have been regularly pounding Japanese bases throughout the area. It also was possible that the enemy fighters may have planned strafing of American positions in the Solomons.

Navy, marine and army flyers joined in the big engagement, presumably flying out to the attack from Henderson airfield on Guadalcanal, sixty miles southwest of the Russells.

Other flyers, meanwhile, were hitting again from Flying Fortress heavy bombers and Avenger torpedo bombers at Japanese positions on Bougainville Island. One flight during the night of June 10, Solomons Time, struck the Buin area, starting fires in the Japanese buildings there where the enemy has a sea and land base.

Action In Aleutians

Aerial action continued, too, in the Aleutian Islands, where regular raids have been made on Kiska in an apparent softening up of that enemy base, possibly as a prelude to invasion. Army Liberator heavy bombers, Mitchell medium bombers and Lightning and Warhawk fighters struck five times there.

When they ended their series of Friday morning attacks, bomb pits pockmarked the runway at the Japanese airfield, buildings and tents had been shattered in the main camp area and barges in Kiska harbor had been bombed and strafed.

RABAUL HAMMERED BY ALLIED AIRMEN

30 Tons of Bombs Dropped on Jap Airfield; No Planes Lost.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, Monday, June 14. — (AP) Rabaul's Vunakanau airdrome was dealt another hard blow early Sunday morning by formations of Flying Fortresses and Liberators which dropped nearly 30 tons of bombs.

JUN 14 1943

Photographic reconnaissance the day before had shown 96 planes at the airdrome.

Yesterday's raid was the third of more than usual strength in four days. Nearly 40 tons of explosives and incendiaries were dropped in the area last Thursday and more than 19 tons on Friday. On the raids last week, however, the targets also included Lakunai and Rapopo airdromes.

Latest reconnaissance pictures showed a total of 271 planes on all three 'dromes.

All Planes Return

All our planes returned from Sunday's raid despite the usual strong defenses by searchlights and anti-aircraft guns. The raiders' bombs fell on the runway and among dispersal areas and "numerous fires" were started which were visible for 50 miles.

The Japanese came to life with two small night raids on Gona and Port Moresby. Three planes bombed the Gona area for the first time since Allied forces took that little village on the northeast coast of New Guinea last Dec. 10. The raid caused no damage.

AIRFORCE SHIFTS ATTACKS TO SICILY, BLASTS AIRFIELDS

Large Numbers of Axis Planes on Ground at Milo Riddled.

MANY FIRES STARTED

Light Flak Encountered in Sweeps; No Allied Aircraft Lost.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 13—(AP) Italy lost her third island outpost in the central Mediterranean in three days when a British destroyer accepted the bloodless surrender of Linosa today, and fleets of American bombers and fighters began switching their knockout punch to Sicily.

Without a shell being fired or a bomb dropped, the panicky garrison of 140 Italian soldiers and sailors raised white flags on the little speck of land 105 miles south of Sicily and from the bridge of his speedy gray warship, the destroyer Nubian, Commander J. R. J. Tyrwhitt accepted the enemy capitulation.

The garrison, grateful for having been spared the ordeal of bombs and shells such as produced the surrender of Pantelleria on Friday and the lightning fall of Lampedusa about 30 hours later, was immediately taken off and transported to Allied prison camps.

Island of Little Value

The tiny island, only about two miles across in either direction, had no harbors capable of sheltering anything larger than a motor torpedo boat and was believed to be without air fields or important military installations. Its normal population of about 500 is mostly engaged in raising cattle.

The peaceful relinquishment of Linosa, 28 miles northeast of Lampedusa, completed the "island a day" conquest of Italian stepping stones paving the Mediterranean narrows.

(A fourth island, Lampione, eight miles west of Lampedusa, was not mentioned in this dispatch. It is one of the Pelagie group, to which Linosa and Lampedusa belonged. It is even smaller than the other two, however, and may not even be inhabited now).

Even while Allied bombers were dropping their explosives in destructive patterns across Lampeduso's defenses and a circle of British destroyers and cruisers was pouring in a deadly fire at intervals, American Flying Fortresses, Marauders, Lightnings and Warhawks began their assault on Sicily yesterday.

Many Planes Riddled

As in the opening attacks on Pantelleria, they turned their attention first to the enemy's air fields, and Allied headquarters said "large numbers" of the nearly 150 planes on the ground at Milo, Castelvetrano and Bocca di Falco were riddled by fragmentation bombs exploded in their midst.

Malta's fighter-bombers also raided Marzamimi, in southeastern Sicily, where they attacked a small vessel with cannon fire, and Comiso, Sicily, where they hit road transport.

Not a single Allied aircraft was lost yesterday, either in the Sicilian assaults or in the blows that brought the surrender of Lampedusa.

Details of the surrender of Lampedusa, 80 miles south of Pantelleria, and the second island to give in to an unparalleled aerial and naval bombardment without a single Allied soldier being put ashore, were given in these words by the Allied communique:

"Immediately after the surrender of Pantelleria, strong forces of medium and fighter bombers of the Northwest African Air Forces carried out attacks on Lampedusa. Four cruisers and six destroyers, including a Greek destroyer, bombarded the island twice during the night of June 11-12 and at frequent intervals throughout yesterday. Enemy batteries were in action, but ceased fire on being engaged.

Surrender in 90 Minutes

"Following a heavy air attack, shortly after 1730 hours (5:30 p. m.) white flags were seen flying on the island and at about 7 o'clock the naval commander sent an officer ashore to negotiate the surrender."

Allied naval forces diverted from Pantelleria to the bombardment of Lampedusa Friday night and yesterday were identified officially today as the British cruisers Aurora, Orion, Penelope and Newfoundland, the destroyers LaForey, Loyal, Lookout, Trobridge and Nubian and the Greek destroyer Queen Olga. They were commanded by Rear Admiral C. H. J. Harcourt.

When Lampedusa capitulated, the destroyer Nubian sailed on to Linosa and accepted its surrender. The 140-man garrison at Linosa was virtually equal in size to the Nubian's crew.

The capture of Linosa was told in these words: "A destroyer was off the island of Linosa early this morning. White flags were flying and the surrender was accepted."

The number of prisoners captured on seven-mile-long, two-mile-wide Lampedusa had not yet been announced, but the communique said 2,800 of the more than 10,000 captured at Pantelleria had been received on the African mainland.

Enemy Vessels Active

It disclosed that enemy naval craft put in their first appearance Friday night, attacking with torpedoes while light British coastal forces were patrolling the Sicilian straits to cover the evacuation operation.

The enemy forecs fled at high speed, however, when the British patrols moved in for a strike.

The Italian communique, received here in a broadcast, declared German planes sank a transport of 8,000 tons and 14 landing craft, and damaged three cruisers, six merchant ships and 14 "minor warships" in attacks in the Sicilian channel.

This appeared to be a variation of a German claim yesterday to the sinking of an 8,000-ton transport and 13 landing boats and the damaging of three cruisers, eight other warships and six transports. Both were without confirmation from Allied sources.

The Italians also declared that torpedo planes had raided Allied convoys off the coast of Cirenaica and Phillipeville, Algeria, hitting five ships, but this claim also was unconfirmed.

Casualties Admitted

The Italians admitted losses in Allied raids on Reggio Calabria in Italy, and Catania and Palermo in Sicily, listing 12 killed and 28 injured, and acknowledged that Lampedusa, "hammered by continuous bombardments, was forced to cease all resistance in the face of overwhelming odds."

The Rome communique did not mention Linosa, but the Berlin radio reported the Allied announcement of its fall.

The assault on Sicily was led off by Flying Fortresses which surprised 76 aircraft parked on Castelvetrano airfield and dispersal areas in southwestern Sicily.

Slight and inaccurate anti-aircraft hardly bothered the bombers and no enemy fighters were encountered at all. When the Fortresses left, numerous fires and explosions were seen among the enemy planes.

The Fortresses also found about 72 enemy aircraft on Bocca di Falco field near Palermo. Fire and black smoke visible for 25 miles poured from the airdrome and a building, and photographs showed many of the grounded planes were destroyed.

Ten enemy fighters were sighted over the field but they failed to attack. Later one Fortress formation fought off two Messerschmitts.

Marauders raided the third target, Milo airfield near Trapani, dropping bombs among hangars and administration buildings. Escorting Warhawks saw several enemy fighters but there was no combat.

120 MEN TAKE OVER 4,000 ON LAMPEDUSA

Associated Press Writer Describes Negotiations For Surrender

Accompanied Royal Navy Lieutenant Who Went To Island

JUN 14 1943

By PAUL KERN LEE

[Associated Press Correspondent]

Aboard the British Destroyer Lookout, June 13—Twenty-five German dive-bombers shook us until our teeth rattled in a moonlight attack last night off captured Lampedusa, but the only damage was some broken crockery.

The Junkers 88s were seeking retaliation for this ship's capture of little Lampedusa earlier yesterday, and today we've just learned that friends aboard the destroyer Nubian captured Linosa—the third Italian island to fall in as many days.

By PAUL KERN LEE

[Associated Press Correspondent]

Lampedusa, June 12 (Delayed). A handful of 120 men is now taking over this island from Italian military, naval and marine personnel numbering from 4,000 to 5,000 who surrendered a half hour ago.

They are now filing out from their shore-side pillboxes and guns.

It took only two minutes—as quickly as the terms could be understood—for the Italian garrison to agree to unconditional surrender.

Lieut. Hugh A. Corbett, of the Royal Navy, and I leaped ashore from the destroyer lookout's launch and after the rapid parley the lieutenant signaled to the sea.

Coldstream Guards Land

He then went out and escorted in a company of the famous Coldstream Guards in landing craft that had hovered offshore all day.

Hardly had the total success of Pantelleria's capture been clinched than naval forces sped to Lampedusa and inflicted a night shelling between aerial bombings. Twice during the night and again at dawn the ships hurled explosives ashore.

The aerial attack continued all day today and in the evening the warships bombarded a fourth time. The last bombers reported what appeared to be a white cross being formed at the Lampedusa airfield and said it was believed there were white flags but could not be certain.

The naval squadron's flagship came closer alongside the destroyer where I was a passenger and megaphoned instructions to our ship to send a boat into the harbor under a white flag.

Leave For Other Missions

Several ships, including the cruiser Penelope, departed on other missions before our boat went in with a sheet from the bed of the captain, Lieut. Com. A. George Forman, made into a white flag and hoisted at the masthead of our destroyer. Another sheet, doubled, was put on a pole for the use of the boat.

The destroyer then sped direct to the harbor mouth and lowered the launch.

The boat was manned by eight happy seamen commanded by Lieutenant Corbett, 26. Peter Beach, 18, of Maidenhead, handled the tiller, while I and a British army movie photographer went as passengers.

A white flag fluttered from a crude staff on the point beside the breakwater.

Italian Boat Leads Way

An Italian boat, its battle flag swaying idly at half-mast, rowed by two seamen and containing a snappy Italian marine officer and naval officer, both armed with pistols, came alongside the launch.

The marine called, "Follow, please," and led the way through the boom defenses. Lieutenant Corbett, natty in dress blues with a stiff, white collar, hopped nimbly ashore and smartly returned the salute given by a gray-bearded, uniformed patriarch. He stood on a landing platform surrounded by a little knot of nondescript Italian soldiers, sailors and marines.

"Are you the Governor?" the lieutenant asked.

In badly broken English the gray-bearded man replied, "No, segundo."

"Do You Want To Surrender?"

"Do you want to surrender?" the lieutenant asked.

"Si, si, si," replied the Italian vehemently. "We take you to Governor fifteen minutes distance."

"You jolly well will not," said the lieutenant. "He's the one who wants to surrender so let him come here or I am prepared to accept an unconditional surrender from you. If you do not accept the attack will be resumed."

The Italian shrugged and plucked his long curly beard like an Old Testament prophet and rejoined, "Very well. I no choice—Governor's English poor anyhow."

POPE CALLS ON WORKERS OF WORLD TO MAINTAIN FAITH AND DISCIPLINE

JUN 14 1943

Pleads Against "Noisy" Demands And "Inconsiderate Action"

Pontiff Denounces Nazi Propaganda That Vatican Supports War

JUN 14 1943

JUN 14 1943

JUN 14 1943

30.24-4955

[By the Associated Press]

New York, June 13—Pope Pius XII appealed today for discipline and faith among the world's workmen, and at the same time denounced "propaganda of anti-religious inspiration . . . that the Pope supports the war and supplies money for its continuance, that the Pope does nothing for peace."

"Never perhaps was there launched a calumny more monstrous or absurd than this," the Pope asserted, saying no one else so insistently opposed the outbreak, advance and spread of the war, or pleaded more for peace.

Paris Broadcast Recalled

[On May 25 the Nazi-controlled Paris radio broadcast in a talk by a Dr. Friedrich accused the Catholic Church of "a crushing responsibility in unleashing the present war." Friedrich charged the Vatican with hostility to Adolf Hitler since 1933 and encouraging German Catholics in an open fight against the Nazis. "Thus the war was declared," he said. "A sly warfare on the part of Rome and an unshakable firmness of purpose on the part of Germany."

[A Vatican broadcast two days later denounced the Paris talk as "propaganda" and added "it was not the Vatican which has declared this war and it is not the Catholic Church in Germany which has brought this, her fate, upon herself."]

Audience Of 20,000

The Pope spoke to some 20,000 Italian workers, one of the largest audiences in Vatican history, according to the Vatican radio. They went to the Vatican on a pilgrimage as a homage of labor, in one of the concluding manifestations of the Pope's jubilee year. The address was delivered in Belvedere courtyard.

Pope Pius asked that workers not "aggravate the burden of extraordinary difficulties under which the peoples are groaning by representing their claims in this hour of universal and imperious needs in a noisy manner and through inconsiderate action."

Appeal To Workers

"Working men and women conscious of their great responsibility for the common good continue their work and persevere in it with discipline and calm, thus contributing invaluable support to the tranquillity and support of all in the social family."

The subject of his talk, as given in a broadcast of the official English translation as received here, was "The Church and Labor."

Text Of Address

The official English translation of the Pope's address follows:

Your welcome presence — beloved sons and daughters, who spend your hours and days in toil to gain a livelihood for yourselves and for your families—brings before us a great thought and a great mystery: the thought, that work was imposed by God on the first man, after sin, that he might seek his bread from the earth by the sweat of his brow, and the mystery, that the Son of God, having come down from Heaven to save the world, and having become man submitted to this law of work and passed his youth laboring in Nazareth in company with his foster father, so that he was considered and called "The Carpenter's Son" (Matt. 13.55). Sublime mystery that he should begin to work before he began to teach, a humble workman before being the teacher of all nations (CF. Acts 1.1).

You have come to us as to a father who has a greater delight in dealing with his children in proportion as their daily toil is harder and more continuous and the wants and worries of their lives are more arduous and considerable.

You have come to us as to the Vicar of Christ who feels in himself, perpetuated by an ineffable sharing of God's power, that sense of tenderness and sympathy for the people by which our redeemer was moved to cry out one day: "Have compassion on the multitude." (Mark 8.2).

Expresses Great Joy

You have come to us as to the Shepherd who fixes his gaze on you and extends it beyond you to that vastly greater section of his flock which the love of God has entrusted in Him, and in your love and devotion He sees faithfully represented the sentiments, the wishes and the affection of so many of His absent children. With all our heart we thank you for the great joy occasioned us by the opportunity of speaking a word of sincere benevolence and encouragement, a word which may serve to guide, sustain and comfort you in these days, disturbed by trouble and mourning.

WISE SOCIAL REFORMS

The weight of the present difficulties is felt by the mass of workers, who are burdened and afflicted more than the others. But it is not felt by them alone. Every class has to carry its own burden, more or less painful and difficult to bear as it may be; and it is not only the social status of the workers, men and women, which calls for reconditioning and reform. The whole complex structure of society is in need of adjustment and improvement thoroughly shaken as it is in its foundations.

But who is there who does not see that the labor question, because of the complexity and variety of the problems which it entails, and the vast number of people it involves, is of such a kind and of such urgent importance as to merit closer, more watchful and more far-seeing attention? It is a question of peculiar delicacy — the nerve center, one might call it, of the social body; but it is also at times, a shifting and treacherous ground open to easy illusions and unwarranted, chimerical hopes for one who does not keep before the eye of his intelligence and the impulse of his heart the doctrine of justice, equity, charity, mutual understanding and adjustment inculcated by the law of God and the voice of the Church.

JUN 14 1943

THE CHURCH AS GUARDIAN OF THE JUST CLAIMS OF THE WORKING CLASS

You are certainly not unaware, beloved sons and daughters, of the fact that the church loves you intensely, and that it is not merely now that she has with maternal interest and love and a clear sense of the reality of things aid particular attention to the questions which regard you especially.

Our predecessors and we ourselves have not lost any opportunity of making all men understand by our repeated instructions your personal and family needs, proclaiming as fundamental prerequisites of social concord those claims which you have so much at heart; a salary which will cover the living expenses of a family and such as to make it possible for the parents to fulfill their natural duty to rear healthily nourished and clothed children; a dwelling worthy of human persons; the possibility of securing for the children sufficient instruction and a becoming education of foreseeing and forestalling times of stress, sickness and old age.

Plea For Realization

These conditions of social security should be realized if we want society not to be shaken at every season by turbulent ferments and dangerous uprising but to become tranquil and go forward in harmony, peace and mutual love.

Now, however laudable may be various provisions and concessions made by public authorities and the humane and generous sense that inspires many employers, who could affirm and maintain with truth that such ideals have been everywhere realized?

In any case, working men and women conscious of their great responsibility for the common good feel and appreciate their duty not to aggravate the burden of extraordinary difficulties under which peoples are groaning by representing their claims in this hour of universal and imperious needs in a noisy manner, and through inconsiderate action.

They continue their work and persevere in it with discipline and calm, thus contributing invaluable support to the tranquility and support of all in the social family.

To that peaceful concord we pay our tribute of praise and we beseech and exhort you paternally to continue in it with firmness and dignity; that, however, should not lead anyone to think as we insisted in our message of last Christmas that all these questions are to be considered as solved.

THE FALSE PROPHETS

The church, guardian and teacher of truth, in asserting and defending courageously the rights of the working class on various occasions, and combating error, has had to issue a warning against letting oneself be illuded by the mirage of specious and fatuous theories and visions of future well-being and against the deceptive enticements and seductions of false prophets of social prosperity who call evil good and good evil and who, boasting that they are the friends of the people, do not agree with those mutual agreements between capital and labor, employers and employes, which maintain and promote social concord for their common progress and advantage. Such friends of the people you have already heard in the public streets, in clubs, in congresses. You recognize their promises on handbills.

You hear them in their songs and anthems. But when have the facts answered to their words or reality to their hopes? Deception and delusion have been and are the lot of private individuals and peoples who have trusted them and followed them along ways which so far from improving have worsened and aggravated the conditions of life and of material and moral progress. Such false prophets would have us believe that salvation must come from a revolution which shall overturn social order and assume a national character.

JUN 14 1943

NOT SOCIAL REVOLUTION

The social revolution claims to raise the working class to power: An empty word and a mere show incapable of realization; in fact, you see that the working class remains bound, yoked and tied to the force of state capitalism, which restrains and subjects all, not only the family but even the conscience and transforms the workers into a gigantic labor machine.

Like the other social systems and orders which it claims to fight it classifies, regulates and presses all into a fearful war instrument which demands not only blood and health but also the goods and prosperity of the people. And if the guiding spirits are proud of this or that advantage of improvement secured in the field of labor, making use of it for noisy, boastful propaganda, such material advantage is never a fair recompense for the renunciations imposed on each one which injure the rights of the human person, freedom in the ruling of the family in the exercise of ones profession, in the conditions of citizenship and especially in the practice of religion and even in the realm of conscience.

Not In Revolution

No, your salvation, beloved sons and daughters, does not lie in revolution. And it is against the genuine and sincere profession of Christianity to drift, thinking only of one's own exclusive and material advantage, toward a revolution which proceeds from injustice and civil insubordination and to make oneself unfortunately responsible for the flood of fellow citizens and the destruction of common property.

Woe to him who forgets that a true national society incorporates social justice and demands a just and fitting sharing by all in the goods of the country. Otherwise, you understand that the nation would end in a sentimental makeshift, in a nonsensical pretense which would be an excuse for certain groups to withdraw themselves from the sacrifices needed to secure public equilibrium and peace.

And you would then realize how, when national society had lost the nobility given to it by God, internal strife and struggle would become a threat which all might fear.

BUT AN EVOLUTION THROUGH AGREEMENT AND GENEROSITY

Salvation and justice are not to be found in revolution but in an evolution through concord. Violence has ever achieved only destruction, not construction; the kindling of passions, not their pacification; the accumulation of hate and destruction, not the reconciliation of the contending parties; and it has reduced men and parties to the difficult task of building slowly after sad experience on the ruins of discord.

It is only a progressive and prudent evolution, full of courage and in conformity with nature enlightened, and guided by the Christian laws of justice and equity, that can lead to the fulfillment of the honorable desires and needs of the worker. Not to destroy them, but to build and consolidate; not to abolish private property, the foundation of family stability, but to work for its extension as the reward of the conscientious toil of every workingman and woman so that little by little may be diminished that mass of uneasy and rash people who sometimes from tacitum despair, at others through broad instinct, allow themselves to be carried off by false doctrine or by the clever tricks of agitators who are bereft of all moral sense.

For Welfare Of All

Not to dissipate private capital but to promote its regulation under careful control as a means and help toward securing and increasing the genuine welfare of the whole people. Not to restrain nor to give preference exclusively to industry but to procure its harmonious marriage to handicraft and agriculture which exploits the multifarious and necessary production of the nation's soil.

Not to aim in the use of technical progress solely at the maximum profit but also to avail oneself of the advantages which come from it in order to better the personal conditions of the worker to make his work less arduous and difficult and to consolidate the bonds which hold his family together in the place where he dwells, in the work by which he lives.

Not to aim at making the lives of individuals depend entirely on the whims of the state but to procure rather that the state, whose duty it is to promote the common good, may through social institutions, such as insurance and social security societies, supply support and complete all that helps to strengthen workers' associations and especially the fathers and mothers of families who are earning a livelihood for themselves and their dependents through work.

FAITH IN CHRIST AND FIDELITY TO THE CHURCH THE DEEP ROOTS OF TRUE BROTHERHOOD

You will say perhaps that this is a beautiful vision of the true state of things, but how can it be realized and effected in daily life? We need above all a great righteousness of will and perfect loyalty of purpose and action in the course and regulation of public life as well on the part of the citizens as of the governing authorities. We need a spirit of true concord and brotherhood animating all: superiors and subjects, employers and workers, great and small, in a word, in all classes of the people.

Your gathering around us, beloved sons and daughters, with the added fact that there are assembled from your various spheres of activity here in the House of the Common Father representatives of all the groups, is for us a test and a proof that you know, feel and understand where are to be found the deep roots of the divinely genuine social sense of "brothers bound by a pact."

"All made to the semblance of One Only, all sons of One only redemption." That is in the holy religion which you hold in common, the same profession of faith in the redeemer of all, Jesus Christ, in the same fidelity to his holy church and to his vicar. And we raise to God our fervent prayer that all the vast measureless class of working men and women may share our faith, so that our Lord may open in justice and charity the road to that generous and peaceful progress so ardently desired by us which may make Italy prosperous and strong in an unshaken Christian framework.

JUN 14 1943

JUN 14 1943

A MONSTROUS CALUMNY

We are not unaware (and you yourselves will have been able to make proof of it) how in these times, so burdensome and difficult for family and civil life, human passions take occasion to lift their heads again and to foment suspicions and to garble words and facts.

Hence it is that propaganda of anti-religious inspiration is circulating among the people and especially among the working classes—that the Pope wished the war, that the Pope supports the war and supplies money for its continuance, that the Pope does nothing for peace.

Never perhaps was there launched a calumny more monstrous or absurd than this. Who does not know, who does not see who is there that cannot ascertain for himself that no one has insistently opposed to the outbreak, the advance and the spread of the war more insistently than we have in every manner allowed us; that no one has pleaded and exhorted more continuously than we have: peace, peace, peace; that no one has sought to lessen its horrors more than we have?

Not To Sustain War

The sums of money which the charity of the faithful puts at our disposal are not set apart for nor do they go to sustain the war but to dry the tears of the widows and orphans, to console families anxious and sorrowing for their dear ones far away or missing, to succor the suffering of the poor and the needy. Our heart and our lips, that do not contradict one another, are witnesses to all this, for we do not deny by deed what we affirm by word and we are conscious of the falsity of what the enemies of God are insidiously circulating in order to disturb the workers and the people, and from the hardships of the life they endure draw an argument against faith and religion which indeed is the sole comfort and hope which upholds man upon earth in the hour of sorrow and misfortune.

No one can blot out or pervert the purpose and content of our discourses and messages in their purpose and content. All have been able to hear them as a word of truth and of peace, as promptings of our soul to bring peace to the world, and to enlighten those in power.

They are undeniable proofs of the immense desires that spring from our heart, that on this earth, given to man as a dwelling place on his journey to a better and imperishable life, there may prevail the perfect harmony of the whole human race.

Does Not Fear Truth

The church does not fear the light of truth, neither for the past nor for the present nor for the future.

When the circumstances of the times and human passions will permit or call for the publication of documents not yet published concerning the constant activity pursued during this terrible war in favor of peace by the Holy See, which feared neither rebuffs nor opposition, there will appear in more than midday light the stupidity of such accusations which spring not so much from ignorance as from that irreligious spirit and that contempt of the Church which takes root only in some human hearts more inclined and ready, alas, to prevert the right and kindly intentions with which the spouse of Christ is animated than to benefit the people, to smooth and ease the difficulties of life, to uphold souls in the midst of the serious conditions of the present hour.

Tell the church's detractors that the truth will shine forth as it shines forth today in your hearts, for all those who pay reasonable homage to the good they perceive and who do not believe in lies and calumnies. When the truth of the facts and our work will have been revealed they will be confounded who maliciously try to throw on the Papacy the responsibility for all the blood that has flowed in the battles, on land, in the air, and in the sea, and in the ruins of cities.

STRENGTH FROM PRAYER

Let your thoughts and the feelings of your hearts quicken your faith, Christian working men and women, renew your life of faith and strengthen it by daily prayer. Let prayer begin, sanctify and close your working day. Let the thoughts and feelings of your hearts enlighten and inflame your souls especially during the repose of Sundays and feastdays, and let them accompany and guide you in assisting at the holy mass.

Our Savior, worker like you in His earthly life, was obedient to the Father even unto death and now on the altar the unbloody Calvary renews unendingly the sacrifice of Himself for the good of the world, completes His work of redemption and becomes the almoner of grace and of the bread of life for those souls who love Him and in their weakness turn to Him to be restored.

Before the altar in the church let every Christian worker renew his resolution to labor in obedience to the divine command of work, whatsoever it may be, intellectual or manual, to gain by his toil and sacrifices the bread for his dear ones, to keep in mind the moral purpose of life here below and the happiness of eternal life, conforming his intentions to those of the Savior and making his work a hymn of praise to God.

THE OBSERVANCE OF THE LAW OF GOD IN FACTORIES

In every circumstance and on every occasion, dear sons and daughters, uphold and defend your personal dignity. The material with which you work, created by God from the beginning of the world and in the laboratory of ages molded by Him on the earth and deep beneath the surface of the earth by cataclysms, natural evolution, eruptions and transformations so as to prepare the best abode for man and for his work, let that material be for you a continual reminder of the creative hand of God and let if lift your soul of Him, the Supreme Lawgiver whose precepts must be observed even in factory life

Perhaps boys and girls join your company and work together with you. Remember that a great reverence is owed to children and the innocent and that Christ affirms that for the one who scandalizes them it were better that a millstone should be put about his neck and that he be cast into the depth of the sea. O fathers and mothers, how your hearts must beat with anxious fear as your sons and daughters go to the factories.

Older People As Example

Do you workers take your place in vigilant guard over the innocence and purity of those young workers constrained by employment and family needs to withdraw themselves from their parents' affectionate care?

On the older people and on their example, on the energetic and decisive will of the factory management in insisting on decent discipline depends the preservation of physical and spiritual health in the young workers. On the contrary, immorality, greed of pleasure and extravagance corrupt and endanger as well the future generations. Let no word, no joke, no story that could offend your youthful listeners pass your lips.

Even in the daily life of the factory may the young workers enjoy the help of persons drawn from the ranks of the clergy of the religious sisterhoods and of Catholic Action, who in agreement with the management will devote themselves with all their physical and moral energy to their interests. Let there never fail, however, between the workers themselves, mutual affection and respect, good example, the word of warning and encouragement, and even whatever little material help they can afford.

PETITION FOR DIVINE ASSISTANCE

And now let us return to the scene we presented at the beginning of our discourse and point out to you once more the divine model of the christian worker, Christ the carpenter (Mark vi, 3) in the workshop of Nazareth. Son of God a d Restorer of the lost grace of Adam, He pours out on you that power, that patience, that virtue which makes you great before him, the most exalted image of the worker whom you can admire and adore.

In your workshops and factories, under the sun, in the fields, in the darkness of the mines, amid the heat of the furnace and the cold of the ice factories, wherever the Word of Him who commands your trade, the need of your fellowmen, of your country, of peace may call you, may there descend upon you the abundance of His favors which may afford you help, safety and solace, and make meritorious of another world happiness the hard work in which here below you spend and sacrifice your life.

"Christ Always With You"

Have no doubt: Christ is always with you. Imagine you see him in the places of your work, passing among you, noting your toil, listening to your conversations, consoling your hearts composing your disagreements. And you shall see the workshop changed into the sanctuary of Nazareth and there will reign among you too that trust, that order, that concord which are a reflection of the blessing of Heaven which increases here below and conserves justice and good will among men who are steadfast in faith, in hope, in the love of God.

While then we invoke the divine protection upon our beloved working men and women, upon your families, upon those who direct and guide you in your work, upon your very workshops, that the Lord may preserve them from every danger and harm. With all our heart we bestow on you, as a token of the choicest graces, our paternal apostolic benediction.

COL. EVANS CARLSON ENDS PLYMOUTH STAY

PLYMOUTH, June 13. — (AP) Lieut. Col. Evans F. Carlson slipped unobtrusively out of this quiet village today after a week's rest, his destination unknown except to the hard-fighting Marine himself.

No fanfare marked the stay of Col. Carlson, who has been termed "America's No. 1 guerrilla." Townspeople, appreciating his need for relaxation after the wearing business of exterminating Japs, omitted both an official welcome on his arrival and a send-off when he left this afternoon.

In the morning, Col. Carlson, who says he hates war but if the Japs want it he is "ready to make it so ruthless that they will have no stomach for it," attended services at the First Congregational church here with his father, Rev. Thomas A. Carlson, who ministered to the church for 16 years; his sister, Karen, and a brother, Thomas, of Mountain Lakes, N. J.

TACTICAL AIR FORCE FORMED FOR INVASION

New RAF Organization Will Be Under Command Of Vice-Marshal l'Albiac

JUN 14 1943

Modeled On Coningham's Tunisia Group, It Displaces Army Command

[By the Associated Press]

London, Monday, June 14—Looking to the invasion of Europe, the Air Ministry announced today the formation of a tactical air force to work with armies striking from Britain.

The new RAF organization will conform closely with Air Marshal Sir Arthur Coningham's tactical air force, which proved so successful in Tunisia. It displaces the army cooperation command and will be under Air Vice Marshal John Henry D'Albiac.

Maj. Gen. Ira C. Eaker has disclosed that the Eighth United States Army Air Force also has a tactical division, but details of its organization and command have not been announced.

Composition Of New Force

The new RAF force will be made up primarily of fighters, fighter-bombers, medium bombers and specialized types of planes which proved their worth in North Africa, although the organization will be flexible enough to take in other units as needed for specific jobs.

One of the most important features will be the high mobility of the operations and communications setup, enabling its squadrons to travel with invasion armies outside Britain.

The tactical air force is being placed within the fighter command to permit maximum flexibility as between current air operations from Britain and the necessary continuous and close training with the army.

As the result of lessons learned in the March army exercises in Britain and the experience in North Africa, the cooperation command was reshaped and expanded into a new force. All squadrons needed for special invasion tasks will be passed through it and trained to the necessary standard.

Rommel Reported In France

London, June 13 (AP)—Field Marshal Erwin Rommel has established headquarters at Perpignan, France, and is reorganizing French coastal defenses, the Algiers radio said in a broadcast today.

The broadcast, which was recorded by the Associated Press, said the former commander of Hitler's defeated Africa Corps had recently inspected the defenses of Corsica, Sardinia and Sicily.

Perpignan is on the Gulf of Lion, just north of the Spanish border.

OREL KEY POINTS BOMBED BY REDS

Rail Centers And Munitions Dumps Targets—498 Nazi Planes Week's Bag

JUN 14 1943

[By the Associated Press]

London, Monday, June 14—Russian bombers pounded at key points in the bulging Orel sector of the German line over the week end, attacking big enemy train concentrations and ammunition dumps, a special communique said today. The regular midnight bulletin reported 498 German planes destroyed last week for a total of 3,319 planes in the past six weeks.

The bombers struck Saturday night at the rail junctions of Gomel, 200 miles southwest of Orel, and

London, Monday, June 14 (AP)—The Russian agency Tass said in a Moscow broadcast early today that an Italian garrison in the Dodecanese Islands of the eastern Mediterranean had fired on German troops sent to reinforce it. The broadcast quoted reports from Istanbul hat the Italians had scored hits on a German troop transport off Rhodes.

JUN 14 1943

1943

30.24-4957

Bryansk, 75 miles west of the strongpoint city, and at the station of Karachev, midway between Orel and Bryansk. More than one hundred fires were started by the attacks and heavy explosions followed, the special communique said. Two of the Russian planes failed to return to base.

Set Own Losses At 153

In the weekly summary of German plane losses, the midnight communique, recorded by the Soviet monitor, said 153 Russian planes were lost to 498 German. This brought the German planes so far destroyed in June to 1,250, according to official Russian figures.

Military observers, meanwhile, interpreted the heavy raids by the Russians as evidence that the Soviets were joining the Roosevelt-Churchill plan to try knocking out Germany and Italy by air.

The Red airforce was rated at having reached a new height of power, delivering harder attacks than ever before and exacting a more serious toll of the German air raiders.

German Transport Sunk

A German transport and two patrol boats were sunk in the Barents Sea by Russian planes while in the Black Sea an enemy transport was sunk, the midnight communique said.

On the western front Russian troops killed about 200 Germans and silenced four enemy artillery and mortar batteries. In one sector there was hand-to-hand fighting as Red scout units attacked German trenches. In another sector the Germans attacked, but were forced to retire.

Attack On Airdrome Foiled

South of Izyum an artillery duel resulted in the destruction of several German guns and a company of Germans, the communique went on, while in another sector a Nazi attempt to cross the northern Donets river was dispersed.

Eight German bombers sought to attack a Russian airdrome but protecting fighters shot down five and the rest dropped their bombs at random and fled.

There was activity at Leningrad, the communique said, where two German planes were brought down near the city and Russian detachments destroyed German ammunition dumps, blockhouses and dugouts.

Guerrillas in the Gomel region were credited with sinking a boat loaded with Germans and two barges with military supplies on the Sozh river. Other Gomel guerrillas derailed three troop trains and destroyed trainloads of military supplies.

Nazis Report Kuban Fight

The German communique said the only land action in Russia consisted of local attacks in the Kuban bridgehead in the western Caucasus and in the Belev area, sixty miles north of Orel. The Germans said they bombed oil refineries at Saratov on the middle Volga and the rail junction of Jelez and damaged two medium-sized merchant ships off the Rybachi peninsula in the north.

The German radio, in an International Information Bureau propaganda dispatch, said the Russians continued to attack at Orel in vain. German lines were reported shelled heavily and raided by low-flying Stormovik planes. The account said the Germans destroyed nineteen planes and lost one.

The Berlin radio also asserted that light German naval units bombarded the Russian Azov Sea harbor of Akhtyrskaya Friday, damaging piers and other installations. Soviet warships were said to have been driven back when they attempted to attack, and the German formations were said to have returned to base without loss.

ALLIED 'CHUTISTS CAPTURED IN FRANCE

LONDON, June 13—(AP) The Paris radio was quoted by London newspapers today as saying that British and French parachutists had been captured near the Nazi coastal defenses in southern France, the fortifications the Germans call "the Mediterranean wall."

"Two of the parachutists were carrying radio sets," the broadcast was quoted.

The Paris station and other Nazi-controlled radios broadcast a declaration that anyone who harbored parachutists would be shot, while one who gave information about parachutists would be rewarded with the release from captivity of any French prisoner of war chosen by the informer.

JUN 14 1943

LONDON HAS BRIEF ALERT

LONDON, Monday, June 14—(AP) German planes dropped hundreds of incendiaries early today on a northeast coastal town, setting fire to a school and some homes, but no casualties were reported. London underwent a brief alert shortly after midnight, but there was no report of planes reaching the metropolitan area.

Paris Reports Capture Of Allied Parachutists

JUN 14 1943

London, June 13 (AP)—The Paris radio was quoted by London newspapers today as saying that British and French parachutists had been captured near the Nazi coastal defenses in southern France, the fortifications the Germans call "the Mediterranean wall."

"Two of the parachutists were carrying radio sets," the broadcast was quoted.

The Paris station and other Nazi-controlled radios broadcast a declaration that anyone who harbored parachutists would be shot, while one who gave information about parachutists would be rewarded with the release from captivity of any French prisoner of war chosen by the informer.

ROMMEL TAKES CHARGE IN PYRENEES AREA

LONDON, June 13 — (AP) Field Marshal Erwin Rommel has established headquarters at Perpignan, France, and is reorganizing French coastal defenses, the Algiers radio said in a broadcast today.

The broadcast, which was recorded by the Associated Press, said the former commander of Hitler's defeated Africa corps had recently inspected the defenses of Corsica, Sardinia and Sicily.

Perpignan is on the Gulf of Lion, just north of the Spanish border.

ITALIAN NAVY MUTINY REPORTED IN LONDON

LONDON, June 13—(AP) One London newspaper published a report today that extensive mutinies had broken out in the Italian navy, but the dispatch was described in Allied naval circles as "pure rubbish."

Without details, the report said hundreds of officers and men had been massacred in outbreaks among Mussolini's seamen.

One foreign source with underground contacts with the Axis, who cannot be otherwise identified, said no hint of such outbreaks had reached him, although there was a possibility that German insistence that the Italians engage the British fleet might cause defiance by the Italian naval staff.

He said the naval staff believed the Italian navy should be retained as a bargaining point in negotiations rather than sacrificed in a desperate attempt to delay an Allied invasion.

Former Boxing Star Downs Third German

London, June 13 (AP)—Col. Hubert Zemke, of Tampa, Fla., a former amateur boxing champion, was officially credited today with two of three Focke-Wulfs shot down by American fighters in the morning sweep with RAF bombers.

The third kill was scored by Lieut. Robert F. Johnson, of Lawton, Okla.

In an afternoon dog fight over Liege in Belgium, two more Nazi planes were downed by Lieut. William P. Wren, of Chicago, and Lieut. William T. Hegman, of Holly Bluff, Miss.

Two United States planes were lost.

NEW OUTPUT RECORDS SET IN SOVIET PLANTS

MOSCOW, June 13.—(AP) Russian armament plants established new production records in May, the Peoples' Commissariat for the armament industry announced today.

Particular gains were reported in ordnance and aircraft gun manufacture. Numerous factories set individual records, the report said.

Chief factors behind the production spurt were said to be simplification of artillery designs and technological processes and an improvement in production technique in all types of arms.

Mussolini Ridiculed In Russian Cartoons

MOSCOW, June 13 — (AP) Russian cartoonists were having a field day today over the Allied capture of Pantelleria.

Cartoons showed a fat Mussolini reduced in size first by the Stalingrad defeat and growing progressively smaller with defeats in Africa. Finally he was pictured as melting away altogether with the fall of Pantelleria.

Pravda lampooned the Italian dictator today in two poses. One in 1938 showed Mussolini standing on Pantelleria "solemnly opening" the fortified island. A line was reprinted from the Gazette del Popola of Sept. 9, 1938, saying: "Mussolini discovered this small island and converted it into a terrible bastion." The second cartoon depicted Pantelleria in 1943. A heavy shoed American-British soldier was kicking Il Duce out of the island and the caption said: "Solemn Closing."

The cartoons, posted in windows as well as printed in the newspapers, attracted large crowds of laughing, wise cracking Muscovites.

U. S. FLAG DAY TO BE MARKED

President's Proclamation Asks That Emblem Of Allies Also Be Displayed

New United Nations Symbol Is Flown In Washington For First Time

JUN 14 1943

Moscow, June 13 (AP)—The red flag of Soviet Russia will fly tomorrow by official order on all Government buildings in honor of American Flag Day.

The order, issued by the Council of Peoples' Commissars, was designed as a further demonstration of the solidarity of the United Nations.

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 13—Flag Day, annually dedicated to the Stars and Stripes, will be celebrated tomorrow with the added significance of tribute to the emblems of the nations united against the Axis.

President Roosevelt, in his proclamation setting aside June 14 for the observance, called on the nation to display jointly with the American flag the banners of the United Nations, and pay them honor together as symbols of the "massed, angered forces of common humanity."

The nation's capital saw a preview this afternoon of the ceremonies to be held throughout the country tomorrow, with the flag of the other United Nations symbolically represented by a "flag of the four freedoms," flown publicly for the first time.

Designed After Poll

This flag, intended to meet the difficulties of assembling the national emblems of all the United Nations as well as provide a mutual symbol for them all, was designed after a poll of suggestions from United Nations representatives last year. It consists of a field of white emblazoned with four upright bars of red, each representative of the four freedoms of the Atlantic Charter—freedom of speech and of religion, from want, and from fear.

President Roosevelt's Flag Day proclamation stressed the martial nature of the occasion this year and called for rededication to the spirit of unity:

"We know that our flag is not fighting alone. This year, the flags of thirty-two United Nations are marching together, borne forward by the bravery of free men. Together they are the emblem of gathering offensive that shall liberate the world."

COHEN TELLS OF 'CONQUEST'

JUN 14 1943

RAF Sergeant Hailed As "King Of Lampedusa" By Flying Mates

By RELMAN MORIN

[Associated Press Correspondent]

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 13—That fellow named Cohen who "captured" Lampedusa Island from the Italians yesterday and has papers to prove it is Sergt. Sidney Cohen, 22-year-old RAF pilot, who still was a little bewildered by it all today.

Already named "King of Lampedusa" by his mates, Cohen told how the Italian garrison surrendered to him yesterday, hours before the formal capitulation to British landing forces.

With two mates, Sergt. Peter Cates, a Scotsman, and Sergt. Leslie Wright, he was flying a Swordfish plane on a sea rescue mission when the compass "had a fit of gremlins."

Began Looking For Land

His gasoline was running low and Cohen began looking for land and spotted Lampedusa.

He didn't know for sure that it was Lampedusa until he had sat his plane down on the torn airfield and began looking over the situation.

"Burnt-out aircraft were everywhere. There were big holes in the field, and in a moment I knew I was in a bit of a fix.

"Because just then we saw some people waving white sheets, and two Italian officers approaching.

Leader With Tyrolean Hat

"The leader of the deputation wore a Tyrolean hat with long plumed feathers, a leather jacket, khaki shorts, and high boots.

"He burst into Italian, and we discovered he wanted to surrender the island.

"In view of the accidental nature of my mission this was a bit of trouble. But I told him I would have to see the 'number one' man, and he took us to a high ranking naval officer.

"Other officers and civilians entered the room and I was just about to receive the official surrender when 'swish'....

Everybody Ran Out

"Everybody suddenly ran out of that room and left me alone.

"They must have thought another air raid was just beginning, but there was no sound of gunfire or bomb explosions at the moment, and I thought the nerves of my hosts must be getting a little ragged.

"But in a few moments I had a 'worm's eye view' of what was happening.

"About twelve Lightnings came over and hit the harbor. We fell flat.

Bombers Swerve Away

"As soon as that was over I and my mates went out to our plane and began cranking her. Just then four fighter bombers zoomed over at zero feet and we dropped in our tracks again.

JUN 14 1943

"But they saw the markings on our wing and swerved away.

"The next chapter was pattern bombing by the big boys. After that was over our Tyrolean friend reappeared and told us to get away at once.

"We thought it a good idea, too, and the 'Eyeties gave me a piece of paper signed by the commandant, guaranteeing the surrender and asking that we stop the bombardment.

Promised To Deliver Note

"Those chaps were anxious tha we deliver it to the proper authorities, and we promised that.

"Then we began cranking tha Swordfish again, twisting the cran so hard we almost tore it off."

Cohen and his mates got their plane into the air and decided to try to reach Tunisia instead of returning to Malta. Their gas proved sufficient and they landed at an American base where "the King of Lampedusa" triumphantly produced his now celebrated Italian certificate of surrender.

Gen. Giraud Promises French Will Stay In War Until End

Army Chief Promises His Troops Will Go With Allies To Rome, Berlin And Tokyo

JUN 14 1943

[By the Associated Press]

London, June 13 — Gen. Henri Giraud, broadcasting over the Algiers radio, said tonight that "we will go with the Allies to Rome, to Berlin and to Tokyo."

The French coleader, Gen. Charles de Gaulle, broadcasting on the same program, said:

"The battle of Africa is over. The battle of Europe begins. France is at her post in this battle."

Communist Deputies Protest

Algiers, June 13 (AP)—Twenty-six French Communist deputies demanded publicly today a quick solution of the dispute between Gen. Charles de Gaulle and Gen. Henri Giraud, charging that the French armed forces still are led by "generals and admirals who believed in the fall of the Anglo-Americans."

Their statement also called upon the now deadlocked French executive body to "transform immediately its solemn promises into facts," and declared that their group had been ignored by the French Committee for National Liberation.

The deputies presumably are not identified with either of the de-Gaulle or Giraud cliques, but it is generally considered that de Gaulle enjoys their full support, and their demands dovetail with that Fighting French general's call for a sweeping purge of officers in the army.

The manifesto thus tended to support de Gaulle's position at a time when he and Giraud are at odds over the division of authority for the armed forces and the method of eliminating pro-Vichy officers.

The Communist statement said that the "French people have had enough of personal power—they want neither a Petain nor a Bonaparte—the people of metropolitan France have not endured famine and deportation, nor sacrificed their lives in order to see reappear at the head of the army and navy those generals and admirals who fired on Allied troops and served Petain, the traitor."

"In France there is heroic courage among the masses," the manifesto added. "In Algeria there is capitulation to avidity and the rivalry of sordid egotisms."

Right To Protest

As French Deputies who have been liberated from prison, the twenty-six Communists asserted: "We have the right to raise our voice and express the sentiments of the people. We have this right more than ever since we were not consulted on the formation, composition or program of the French Committee of Liberation.

"We declare that for the good name of France in the world, for her grandeur and for her rejuvenation, it is indispensable to transform immediately into facts the solemn promises contained in the first declaration of the committee," the statement concluded.

De Gaulle Victory Near

De Gaullist political quarters claimed that the Fighting French leader nearly had swung the committee to an agreement with his proposal that he become Minister of National Defense while General Giraud retained his title of commander in chief of the army. Gen. Alphonse Juin was mentioned as a likely choice for chief of staff of the army.

De Gaulle purposely absented himself from committee meetings last week and threatened to resign Andre Philip and Rene Massigli present their views to the other committee members.

Combined with the argument over distribution of military authority was the hot issue of how speedy and sweeping should be the ouster of army officers who are suspected of still being loyal to Petain. These officers went undisturbed under Giraud's regime, but De Gaulle has pressed for an immediate cleanup.

Three Commissioners Arrive

The National Liberation Committee announced that three commissioners to whom it delegated portfolios recently while they were overseas had now arrived at Algiers.

The three are Rene Pleven, colonies; Andre Diethelm, production and commerce, and Adrian Tixier, labor and social welfare.

'INVASION' CRAFT REACH GIBRALTAR

LA LINEA, Spain, June 13—(AP) Four Allied tugboats and 45 fast disembarkment boats arrived at Gibraltar from the Atlantic today and it was reported in this neighboring Spanish town that they would leave for North Africa in a few hours.

(The German radio, in a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press, said there now "are only 26 commercial ships moored in Gibraltar harbor but great activity has been observed in the fortress itself."

(Another German report said there was a concentration of a considerable number of small landing craft in the harbor of Bizerte, Tunisia, and declared that the German air force "sank or severely damaged at least 20 of them.")

JUN 14 1943

Hitler's Paper Speaks Of German Quarrels

Stockholm, Sweden, June 13 (AP). A hint of the nerve strain to which Germans are subject these days as a result of bombings and other fortunes of war is contained in dispatches to Sweden today quoting Adolf Hitler's newspaper, the Voelkischer Beobachter.

It said constant quarrels among Germans were detrimental to the war effort and appealed for better public behavior.

"Few people have such great losses from friction to surmount as we," the article continued. "Every day personal contact between Germans leaves much to be desired. There is perpetual latent tension between us."

Yugoslavia's Serbs And Croats Fighting Axis And Each Other

JUN 14 1943

Adolf Hitler likes to clean up his flanks as he goes along, as witness Norway and the Balkans, but in the Balkans, and especially in Yugoslavia, he hasn't succeeded entirely. This first of a series of dispatches on southeastern Europe, where the Germans profess to fear Allied invasion, describes how the Serbs and the Croats are fighting Hitler—and each other.

Situation Is Seen As Offering Potential Assistance For Allies In Event Of Balkan Front

By THOMAS F. HAWKINS

[Associated Press Correspondent]

Bern—War, sabotage and political strife continue in Yugoslavia despite two years of Axis occupation.

It is a war between the invader and the invaded. But to some extent, also, it is a war that continues to feed old political, religious and racial differences among the defenders—differences which may make for civil strife among 6,000,000 Serbs and 3,500,000 Croats in any period of reconstruction to come.

It is a war, however, that offers strong potential assistance for the United Nations in the event of a Balkan front, even though insurgent defenders now, under renewed German attack, are being forced farther back into mountain hideouts.

Three Insurgent Groups

This is why the Germans launched a large-scale cleanup offensive two weeks ago, moving five German and two Italian divisions into Croatia in addition to two Italian and two German divisions believed already there. The Nazi press said these included the "crack Prinz Eugen Division."

The urgent need for cleaning out the insurgents increased with the fall of Tunisia and the rebirth of the theory—hitherto not much considered—that the Dalmatian coast could be an Allied front. No major effort to fortify this coast has been reported and the insurgents seriously handicapped anything that might have been undertaken.

Here is the situation in Yugoslavia today, as well as it can be learned from Yugoslav, Allied, Balkan and Axis official, press and private reports:

There are at present three main insurgent groups: The "Army of Liberation," which seeks to unite the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes in a common effort; the faction of Gen. Draja Mihailovic, first to become well known, which is Serb and most interested in a strong Serb state; the small, independent, saboteur, partisan bands which from time to time harass railway lines from Ljubljana into Italy, or from Belgrade to Greece and Bulgaria.

Army Of Liberation

A small fourth group, the only one avowedly Communist, operated last year near the old Hungarian frontier, but is said reliably either to have been wiped out or gone into hiding.

The Army of Liberation is the most important and had its beginning in the Croat town of Bihac in November, 1942, under a council headed by Dr. Ivan Ribar, Croat democrat and Belgrade lawyer who was a Parliamentary leader in 1920. Moslem and Serb vice-presidents are members of the council.

It is pledged to a common effort for the liberation of occupied territory and to support the idea of a post-war federation in which national and religious groups will enjoy equal rights. It avoids any commitment that would endanger free discussion of reconstruction after the war.

Under "General Tito"

Its fighters are under "General Tito," whom the Nazis charge worked with Belgrade Communists in 1934 as Josip Droz. His forces are spread out from Bihac to harass an area about the size of Switzerland—from north of the town of Knin northward to a point beyond Bihac, south through Kljuc to near Jajce. They once succeeded in disrupting the electric power of Split for some days.

There was fighting around Knin and Kljuc in April, but the Axis forced them back gradually to the south away from important communications lines.

Tito's men are now in the provinces of Hercegovina and Montenegro, which forms southwestern Yugoslavia. They are based in mountain hideouts in a roughly rectangular area south of Sarajevo—between the Neretva river on the west and the Drina river on the east, and extending almost to Albania.

Claims 100,000 Men

Some of them crossed the Drina river for raids in April, and there was fighting on both banks along the forty-mile sector between Gorazde and Foca. They claimed to have forced an Italian division out of "part" of Foca and to have advanced to Cajnica within striking distance of the German base at Plevlje. Subsequent information indicated they were forced away from the river westward into the mountains.

Tito established a "general staff" and claims upward of 100,000 men, defining a soldier as any man with a gun. Most observers believe the figure is too high; that the force consists chiefly of small peasant groups whose most effective work is night raiding against small Axis units.

Zagreb reports, however, acknowledge that these men fought viciously for months in mountain railway stations on the Sarajevo-Dubrovnik line. German, Italian and Croat troops suffered heavy losses before they finally recaptured the area, only to find technical installations, tracks and bridges destroyed.

Mihailovic's Forces

These reports say the raiders kill immediately any member of the Ustachi party of Dr. Ante Pavelic, Croat chief of state, but try to win over Croat regulars. Ten thousand men died in one long battle in the South Bosnian Mountains, said another Zagreb report which, even if exaggerated, supplies good Axis evidence of the strength of the insurgent troops.

Mihailovic supporters claim 60,000 men, or 40,000 fewer than claimed in 1942, mostly former Serb army regulars. They got credit for the first spectacular guerrilla attacks in 1941, which included raids on the Belgrade-Salonika and Belgrade-Sofia railway lines, attacking German transport columns and isolated garrisons.

Mahailovic became both Minister of War for the Yugoslav Government in London and a legend. Informed sources believe that the number of forces claimed for him is excessive and that he probably got credit for work done by independent bands. He succeeded, at any rate, in diverting badly needed German forces from the Russian front for clean-up operations in 1941 and 1942.

These Two Not In Accord

He was gradually pushed back from access to the Serb railway lines into a vaguely defined mountainous area where the borders of Hercegovina, Montenegro and Serbia come close together, thence southward toward the Albanian frontier.

JUN 14 1943

Mihailovic is thus in the same general area as the Tito forces, but the two are not in accord, and here lies one of the weaknesses of the Yugoslav insurgency.

Tito's men charge that Mihailovic sold out to the Nazis; that he is a Serb but not a Yugoslav. The London Government dampened its ardor and appears leaning now more toward the Tito group, although Mihailovic apparently still is War Minister. The Germans are making the most out of the propaganda opportunity and charge that Mihailovic troops actually attacked Croat insurgents and are especially hard on Moslems.

Another Weakness

Efforts have been made to get the two together, but with no concrete results. The second weakness is that they probably are not heavily armed, despite both the Axis and their own efforts to give a contrary impression. Mihailovic got his armaments from regular army stores in the western Serb mountains and later depended upon guerrilla raids against the enemy for supplies.

Tito started with what the men had in their homes and what they could get by wrecking Axis supply trains. Military observers think this could not have been enough through two years and that heavy artillery pieces are especially lacking.

The insurgent ability to hold on has been more due to the mountainous terrain, difficult to reach by air and accessible only by arduous, dangerous ascent with the defenders in the advantage. Rumors that the insurgents had airplanes, tanks and important artillery pieces were greatly discounted here; likewise it was believed by persons who should know that little or no supplies have been sent in by Allied nations.

Other Groups

The insurgents, despite this probable lack, have proved by past performance that they can cause the Axis plenty of trouble. If they hold out in their present position, they will be able to move either west toward the Dalmatian coast or southeast toward the Vardar Valley, depending upon which might become the second-front route. They would have a better chance if their efforts were united.

Other groups, comparable to saboteurs in other occupied lands, slip out when the opportunity presents without special attention to political organization. They include Slovenes who are supposedly aided by anti-Fascist Italians and Austrians. They work against the Ljubljana railways. Among their stamping ground in northwest Yugoslavia are Celje and Kocevje.

Others of a like nature work from time to time along the old Hungarian frontier, north from Nasice and Osijek, in Serbia along the Belgrade railways to Greece and Bulgaria, and especially to the west of Cicevac. These latter fought from time to time against the Bulgarian occupation troops.

14 U. S. FLIERS DECORATED

Members of Ninth Air Force Get Medals From Brereton

CAIRO, Egypt, June 13 (AP)—Lieutenant Gen. Lewis H. Brereton, commander of the Ninth United States Air Force, decorated fourteen American fliers of the heavy bombardment group at its air base yesterday.

Silver Stars were awarded to Colonel John R. (Killer) Kane of Shreveport, La., bomber group commander, and Major William C. Jones of San Antonio, Texas.

A Distinguished Flying Cross, in recognition of achievement "while participating in aerial flight against the enemy," was awarded to Joseph J. Fasano of Long Island City, N. Y.

MANDALAY HIT BY ALLIED BOMBS DAY AND NIGHT

JUN 14 1943

Jap Communications Disrupted, Three Boats Sunk; No Planes Lost.

NEW DELHI, June 13 — (AP) United States and British bomber squadrons, the latter using newly acquired B-24 Liberators, raided the key central Burma city of Mandalay by day and night yesterday to disrupt Japanese communications and installments, Allied communiques said today.

The Americans struck at daylight, dumping more than ten tons of bombs on railway facilities in Mandalay and the suburb of Sagaing, across the Irrawaddy river. Two boats plying the stream were sunk and a third was left sinking. Rolling stock and tracks also were destroyed.

The smoke of the destruction still was curling when the British, flying the American-built Liberators instead of their Blenheims, added their bomb weight during the night. The R.A.F. dropped several tons of bombs on railway yards, starting a series of explosions and a large fire.

No Allied Planes Lost

No attacking plane was lost.

Mandalay is in the part of Burma not plagued by the monsoon, and probably is used as a base for Japanese operations in the Chinese province of Yunnan along and near the Burma road.

Despite the drenching rains in the south, the R.A.F. continued attacks in Arakan, bombing a river jetty south of Buthedaung and starting a fire in an ammunition depot and other buildings. Four formations of Hurricanes strafed Japanese targets, including an enemy headquarters near Indin, a river town 140 miles northwest of Mandalay.

The British destroyed a small bridge near Kalewa, in the Kale valley, and the Americans ploughed up the north approach of a railroad bridge at Myitnge in central Burma and also scored possible hits and near hits on the spans.

British Beaufighters attacked communications between Taungup and Gwa bay and left a boat sinking off Ramree island near Sandoway. They also attacked Kalemyo from low level.

CHIANG HAILS AIMS OF UNITED NATIONS

Allied Flag Day Today Theme of Messages to Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin

JUN 14 1943

By The Associated Press.

CHUNGKING, China, June 13—Assurance of the final triumph of the Allies was the keynote of messages sent today by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek to President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Premier Joseph Stalin on the eve of United Nations Day, the United States Flag Day that was adopted last year for world-wide observance by countries opposed to the Axis.

"Never before," General Chiang said in his message to the President, "have we of the United Nations stood so united—united in our determination to realize our common aims so solemnly proclaimed in our declaration.

"We not only pay tribute to your courageous, farsighted leadership, but we also do honor to your fighting force, whose gallant achievements in the East and in the West have brought final victory so much nearer, and to the millions of American men and women on the home front whose sacrifice and devotion have made your great country the arsenal of democracy.

Proud to Be in Struggle

"China feels proud to be in the company of all freedom-loving nations, united in a grand alliance to carry on this common struggle.

"Successes that have crowned the arms of the United States and those of other nations are making more certain each day the final triumph of the great cause to which we of the United Nations have dedicated ourselves."

In his message to Prime Minister Churchill the Generalissimo declared that "the grim determination and indomitable spirit which you impart to the direction of your war efforts in all theatres of war evoke our sincere admiration." He hailed "the brilliant victories gained by British arms" as marking progress toward "the unconditional surrender of our enemies."

Addressing Premier Stalin, the Chinese leader said:

"The brilliant accomplishments

e Red A[illegible]y under your in[illegible]g leadership are contributing [illegible]ly to the final triumph of the [illegible] of the United Nations.

[illegible]vail myself of this occasion to express anew to you my conviction that the day is drawing near when the steady and inexorable strength of the United Nations will finally bring about the collapse of aggressor nations."

CHINESE ASKS RUSSIA FOR A SECOND FRONT

Statesman Tells Soviet Dissolving Comintern Is Not Enough

CHUNGKING, China, June 13 (AP)—A "sincere demand" that Russia declare war against Japan and open a second front in Asia was made today in a special article in a Chungking newspaper by Chow Lu, member of China's supreme ruling body, the Standing Committee of the Central Executive Committee of the Kuomintang.

Mr. Chow, who also is State Councillor of the national government, suggested these three other measures against Japan: Intensification of the American offensive in the North Pacific, large-scale supplies to China and launching of immediate operations for recovery of Burma.

The veteran statesman, a graduate of Waseda University in Japan, declared that a second front in Asia by Russia would "be the most effective way of defeating Japan."

"We are looking forward," Mr. Chow said, "to Russia taking a more resolute step than the dissolution of the Comintern—a declaration of war against Japan which would make the grand united front of the Allies complete."

He added, "We are not satisfied with the terse statement issued after the Anglo-American conference in Washington"—that complete agreement on future operations in all war theatres had been reached—"for it lacks the unequivocal declaration that importance will be attached simultaneously to the European and Asiatic front."

14,290 Japanese Killed

CHUNGKING, June 13 (AP).—A total of 14,290 Japanese troops were killed and the Chinese Army lost one-third of an army corps in the battle for the Taiheng Mountains, the Chinese National Military Council declared today in a review of the war during May.

Through counter-attacks, the council said, China recovered practically all of the positions lost, but it said the enemy was providing reinforcements and replenishing supplies, indicating the imminence of another Japanese "mopping-up" operation, the sixteenth in this region.

Air support by American planes hastened the Japanese debacle on the upper Yangtse front, the council added, pointing out that "enemy remnants are still under Chinese encirclement and are facing annihilation."

The Japanese launched thirty-six attacks during May, the council said, while the Chinese counter-attacked thirty-eight times on different fronts. There were fifteen Japanese air raids, as against five by the Chinese.

Fighting in the Yi and Meng Mountains of Shantung province rivaled the engagements in the Taiheng Mountains in ferocity, with the Chinese troops there, "seasoned by long, arduous fighting, still battling the enemy."

The council said the Chinese Army repulsed all attacks by the enemy in the Kiangsu-Shantung border region and also defeated Japanese thrusts in the Salween River area of Yunnan province which were designed to prevent the Chinese from sending reinforcements to the upper Yangtse front.

JUN 14 1943

Woman In Jap Plane Crew

Chungking, Monday, June 14 (AP). A Chinese dispatch reported today that a woman was among a crew of four killed when a Japanese bomber was destroyed Thursday near Hengyang, in Hunan province of central China. The Japanese woman wore earphones and was presumed to have been the radio operator, the dispatch said.

CHINESE SEIZE YANGTZE PORT IN STEADY ADVANCE

Many Japanese Slain, Much Booty Taken; Other Successes.

JUN 14 1943 MOOSA

CHUNGKING, June 13 — (AP) Chinese troops stormed through streets strewn with Japanese corpses Friday to capture the Yangtze port of Sungtze, down river from the advanced enemy base at Ichang, the Chinese high command said tonight in a communique.

Sungtze lies between Ichang and Shasi. Before it fell, other Japanese points were captured.

"Our forces also seized big quantities of supplies," the communique said.

The Chinese also reported further successes in their hydra-headed drive against the Japanese northwest of Hankow and above the Yangtze river. The official account said they entered one town after killing "a large number of Japanese troops" and raided another, inflicting heavy casualties and destroying all communications. They broke into a third town and "all enemy troops were annihilated except six who were taken prisoner," the communique added.

A Japanese counter-attack near Kinhwa, in Chekiang province, was repulsed and the Chinese said the retreating Japanese left many dead in their flight.

30.24-4959

ALLIED LEADERS LAUDED BY CHIANG IN SPECIAL NOTES

JUN 14 1943

Assurances of Final Triumphs Keynote of United Nations Day Greetings.

CHUNGKING, June 13 — (AP) Assurance of the final triumph of the Allies was the keynote of messages sent today by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek to President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin on the eve of United Nations day, the U. S. Flag day that was adopted last year for world-wide observance by countries opposed to the Axis.

"Never before," Generalissimo Chiang said in his message to the President, "have we of the United Nations stood so united—united in our determination to realize our common aims so solemnly proclaimed in our declaration.

"We not only pay tribute to your courageous, farsighted leadership, but we also do honor to your fighting force, whose gallant achievements in the East and in the West have brought final victory so much nearer and to the millions of American men and women on the home front whose sacrifice and devotion have made your great country the arsenal of democracy.

"China Feels Proud"

"China feels proud to be in the company of all freedom-loving nations, united in a grand alliance, to carry on this common struggle.

"Successes that have crowned the arms of the United States and those of other nations are making more certain each day the final triumph of the great cause to which we of the United Nations have dedciated ourselves."

In his message to Prime Minister Churchill the Generalissimo declared that "the grim determination and indomitabe spirit which you impart to the direction of your war efforts in all theaters of war evoke our sincere admiration."

"The brilliant victories gained by British arms and the significant successes achieved by the other United Nations are clear indications that this stupendous struggle in which we are engaged will surely end in the unconditional surrender of our enemies," he said.

Soviet Forces Lauded

Addressing Premier Stalin, the Chinese leader said: "The brilliant accomplishments of the Red army under your inspiring leadership are contributing greatly to the final triumph of the cause of the United Nations.

"I avail myself of this occasion to express anew to you my conviction that the day is drawing near when the steady and inexorable strength of the United Nations will finally bring about the collapse of aggressor nations."

Chinese Pilot Saves U. S. Air Force Ace

Chungking, June 13 (AP)—Lieut. Col. John Alison, of Gainesville, Fla., Fourteenth Air Force ace, was saved from two attacking Zeros on May 31 by a Chinese pilot who escorted his damaged plane back to base, airmen said today.

Alison, who has shot down six Japanese planes and is now returning to the United States, was leading a formation of fighters in the Ichang area when a Zero seriously damaged his plane.

Heading hastily for home with his rudder riddled, his gas tanks smashed and his landing wheels hit, another Zero got on his tail and lined up for the kill. Capt. Chuang Shin-lan of the Chinese Air Force peeled off from his formation and shot down the Zero.

As Captain Chuang accompanied the crippled plane another group of Zeros loomed up and Chuang fought them off single-handed probably destroying two.

GUIANA TYPICAL OF WAR'S FIGHT FOR RESOURCES

JUN 14 1943

Germans Interned, Yanks Safely Installed—Bauxite Is Prize.

BY JOSEPH E. DYNAN

PARAMARIBO, DUTCH GUIANA—(AP) Dutch Guiana, where a scuttled Nazi ship actually has improved the harbor, where raw material for the foundry meets its completed offspring coming back, exemplifies, as do few places in the world, this war's struggle for resources and supplies.

The raw material is bauxite, the red and sometimes yellowish stone from which aluminum is made. It is so abundant in the Guianas that roads and tennis courts and even women's jewelry are fashioned from it. From Bauxite come the planes for the United Nations. Hourly, every day, every night, somewhere in the Guianas a freighter is being loaded with bauxite for America and Canada where it will be turned into wings and fuselages.

And hourly, on the runways of the Guianas, American warplanes and cargo planes pause for fuel and food on their way to the fighting fronts. On one field the planes actually roll over a section of bauxite pavement.

Sometimes a pilot will pass over one of the bauxite boats putting out to sea, and dip low in friendly salute to the seamen who are providing America with the raw material for the planes. Here, at a glance, is the beginning and the end of a complicated process.

Hence, while the Air Force does carry out some anti-submarine patrol work, the Army's main tasks here are to protect the bauxite mines from attack or sabotage, and to protect the airfields on our lifeline to the fighting fronts.

Monotonous but Essential

It's a dull, thankless, monotonous job, standing guard day after day, night after night. There's no glory, no excitement of battle, no medals. In fact, the troops here never see the enemy. Yet they realize, sometimes grudgingly, that if they weren't here things, unpleasant things, would happen.

For the location and extent of the bauxite mines are no secret to the Nazis. Before the invasion of Holland, Germans were here helping to exploit the bauxite fields. Germans built the railroad which now carries material for the Allies to the Paramaribo docks.

Scores of Germans have been interned here for almost three years. Reliable persons will tell you, however, of the Dutch Nazis whose citizenship protects them as long as they remain discreet. Hence both Holland and America keep sizable garrisons here.

At one time Nazi submarines were lurking outside Paramaribo harbor, off the mouth of the Surinam river, and sinking or shooting at the loaded boats coming out. Military men suspected that they were operating from bases in French Guiana, perhaps on information supplied to them by agents here.

Now that French Guiana has joined the United Nations, that danger has been eliminated, and the sources of bauxite and roosting places for planes are safely maintained.

One section of road from an American base is nicknamed the "million dollar highway." It's bumpy and messy and looks nothing at all like a million dollars, feels less so. It's a straight swathe through and over a jungle swamp. It was built with mahogany ties covered with bauxite.

Freighter in River

In the midle of the broad Surinam river off Paramaribo's docks lies a prize exhibit of Nazi folly—the scuttled freighter Goslar.

For three years now the Goslar has lain there, deflecting a strong and steady stream close to the river's western bank and thus providing a deep, safe channel for Allied freighters and river boats.

When the Germans invaded Holland the Goslar's captain pulled out into the center of the stream, which is quite shallow for most of its width. The Germans hoped to render the port useless, which would have been a severe blow.

The Germans opened the seacocks on the port side and the 9,000-ton freighter settled slowly over on one side, directly athwart the river.

The crew of almost 100 was interned.

Appeal for Faith, Discipline Directed by Pope to Labor

JUN 14 1943

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pope Pius XII appealed yesterday for discipline and faith among the world's workmen, and at the same time denounced "propaganda of anti-religious inspiration x x x that the Pope supports the war and supplies money for its continuance, that the Pope does nothing for peace."

"Never perhaps was there launched a calumny more monstrous or absurd than this," the Pope asserted, saying no one else so insistently opposed the outbreak, advance and spread of the war, or pleaded more for peace.

"When the truth of the facts and our work will have been revealed," he said, "they will be confounded who maliciously try to throw on ... Papacy the responsibility for all the blood that has flowed in the battles on land, in the air and in the sea, and in the ruins of cities."

The Pope spoke to some 20,000 Italian workers, one of the largest audiences in Vatican history. They went to the Vatican on a pilgrimage as an homage of labor, in one of the concluding manifestations of the Pope's jubilee year. The address was delivered in Belvedere courtyard.

Asks End of Strikes

Pope Pius asked that workers not "aggravate the burden of extraordinary difficulties under which the peoples are groaning by representing their claims in this hour of universal and imperious needs in a noisy manner and through inconsiderate action."

"Working men and women conscious of their great responsibility for the common good continue their work and persevere in it with discipline and calm, thus contributing invaluable support to the tranquility and support of all in the social family."

Turning to the war, Pope Pius said:

"The sums of money which the charity of the faithful puts at our disposal are not set apart for nor do they go to sustain the war but to dry the tears of the widows and orphans, to console families anxious and sorrowing for their dear ones far away or missing, to succor the suffering of the poor and needy. x x x

Stories Termed Insidious

"We are conscious of the falsity of what the enemies of God are insidiously circulating in order to disturb the workers and the people, and from the hardships of the life they endure draw an argument against faith and religion which indeed is the sole comfort and hope which upholds man upon earth in the hour of sorrow and misfortune.

"The church does not fear the light of truth. x x x When the circumstances of the times and human passions will permit or call for the publication of documents not yet published concerning the constant activity pursued during this terrible war in favor of peace by the Holy See, which feared neither rebuffs nor opposition, there will appear in more than mid-day light the stupidity of such accusations. x x x."

(On May 25 the Nazi-controlled Paris radio broadcast in a talk by a Dr. Friedrich accused the Catholic church of "a crushing responsibility in unleashing the present war." Dr. Friedrich charged the Vatican with hostility to Adolf Hitler since 1933 and encouraging German Catholics in an open fight against the Nazis. "Thus the war was declared," he said. "A sly warfare on the part of Rome and an unshakable firmness of purpose on the part of Germany."

(A Vatican broadcast two days later denounced the Paris talk as "propaganda" and added "it was not the Vatican which has declared this war and it is not the Catholic church in Germany which has brought this, her fate, upon herself.")

The official English translation of the address, titled "The Church and Labor," was radioed to the United States from Vatican City.

Social Needs Proclaimed

In his section dealing with labor, Pope Pius again proclaimed "as fundamental prerequisites of social concord" adequate salaries to care for workers and their families, and provide worthy dwellings, education and old age.

"These conditions of social security should be realized," he said, "if we want society not to be shaken at every season by turbulent ferments and dangerous uprisings but to become tranquil and go forward in harmony, peace and love.

He warned against "false prophets of social prosperity" who disagree with mutual agreements between capital and labor and who "call evil good and good evil."

"Such false prophets would have us believe that salvation must come from a revolution which shall overturn social order and assume a national character," he said. "No, your salvation, beloved sons and daughters, does not lie in revolution.

"Woe to him who forgets that a true national society incorporates social justice and demands a just and fitting sharing by all in the goods of the country.

Revolution Not the Answer

"Salvation and justice are not to be found in revolution but in an evogation through concord. x x x

"We need above all a great righteousness of will and perfect loyalty of purpose and action in the course nad regulation of public life as well on the part of the citizens as on the governing authorities. We need a spirit on true concord and brotherhood animating all: superiors and subjects, employers and workers, great and small, in a word in all classes of the people."

Diary Of The War

JUN 14 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Kiel and Bremen, seats of German naval power, were targets for destructive daylight raids yesterday by formations of American heavyweights, only ours after the RAF's night fleet had unloaded cargoes of block-busters on the industrial city of Bochum and other points in the Ruhr valley.

In their night assault on Bochum the British lost twenty-four big ships, and the American daylight raiders lost twenty-six of their number to the largest concentration of enemy fighters ever encountered.

In addition to fighters, the Nazis sent up a curtain of anti-aircraft fire over Bremen so thick returning pilots said "you could almost walk on it." Most of the German fighters were encountered over Kiel and many were shot down.

In Mediterranean

In the Mediterranean the Allied flyers, having abolished the Italian "nuisance" islands of Pantelleria and Lampedusa on successive days, turned to the systematic reduction of Sicily's air defenses in what generally was regarded as a forerunner of invasion.

Allied headquarters said "large numbers" of nearly 150 Axis planes caught on the ground at Milo, Casteletrano and Bocca di Falco were wrecked by fragmentation bombs. Not a plane was lost and the opposition was so slight as to lead to conjecture whether the German and Italian air forces intended to defend Sicily.

A British destroyer, meantime, accepted the bloodless surrender of still a third little Italian island, Linosa, a speck of land 105 miles south of Sicily. The garrison of 140 Italian soldiers and sailors ran up a white flag without a shot being fired.

Pacific Fronts

In a sharp air fight in the Solomons on Saturday a mixed crew of navy, marine and army pilots shot down twenty-five Japanese Zeros and probably destroyed eight others, the navy announced. The American loss was six planes, with all but two pilots rescued.

Kiska was jolted five more times on Friday in the aerial softening-up of that Japanese-held Aleutian base.

The Chinese reported their troops had stormed into still another town on the Yangtze river. The streets of Sungtze were strewn with Japanese corpses after the occupation, a communique said.

RAF Liberator bombers flew from India to smash railway yards at Japanese-held Mandalay in Burma on Saturday night, laying tons of bombs across the yards and leaving one big fire in their wakes.

Filipino Guerrillas Yield, Tokyo Broadcast Claims

The Tokyo radio said yesterday that remnants of a Filipino detachment that had been holding out in Nueva Viscaya Province on Luzon Island in the Philippines had surrendered Saturday to the Japanese garrison at Baguio, the summer capital. The Associated Press reported. It declared that the province was now "completely pacified."

The prisoners were said to have served in the former Fourteenth Infantry Company of the United States Army. They surrendered all their equipment, the broadcast said.

The captured officers were listed as Capt. Pedro Mabunga, Lieut. Juan Poyatos and Lieut. Juan Jammander. The broadcast said that they were former officers of the United States Army forces in the Pacific.

JUN 14 1943

JUN 14 1943

30.24-4961

NATION PAYS HONOR TO ITS FLAG TODAY

Roosevelt Asks U.S. to Fly United Nations Emblems Also.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Flag day, annually dedicated to the Stars and Stripes, will be celebrated today with the added significance of tribute to the emblems of the Nations United embattled against the Axis.

President Roosevelt, in his proclamation setting aside June 14 for the observance, called on the nation to display jointly with the American flag the banners of the United Nations, and pay them honor together as symbols of the "massed, angered forces of common humanity."

The nation's capital saw a pre-are only about 60 miles from Sicily, while Tripoli is 280. From all these platforms Sicily can be hammered by a converging attack.

The new target is not to be compared with Pantelleria in area, size of population, strength of garrison or natural and prepared defenses. It is not dependent on outside sources for any of its water. It is separated from the mainland only by the narrow 24-mile-long Messina strait, two and a half miles wide at the north, 12 miles wide at the south. Across this channel it would seem the garrison could receive reinforcements and supplies, at least by night.

Yet it may not be impossible to knock out Sicily from the air, provided British naval forces are able to lend an aiding hand around a considerable part of the island's circumference and provided Allied air strength and timetable allow for an even heavier and more prolonged bombardment than was directed at Pantelleria.

Sicily has an area of only a little more than 9,300 square miles. It is 150 miles long—about that of Long Island — and just more than 100 miles wide at its eastern end. In its central portion it is only about 50 miles across.

Four Million Population

Into this comparatively small area a population of more than 4,000,000 people normally is crowded. Some of these have fled or been evacuated to safer areas. But a garrison of perhaps 100,000 men has been added.

It was on an area not much smaller than this that Allied air forces went to work last April after the Eighth army had driven north to Enfidaville. The area was so blanketed with bombs that the enemy air forces were driven out of Tunisia. And thereafter the morale of a strong fighting force, mostly German, was broken.

Sicily's harbors, airfields, power plants and communications facilities already have been put sadly out of order by heavy bombing.

It does not seem at all beyond the power of the Allied air forces to put the Sicilian air bases out of commission. Massed attacks may be able to silence the island's coastal batteries and destroy its harbor defenses one by one as they did at Pantelleria. With hundreds of planes bombing and strafing objectives day after day it would seem that life would be made unbearable for the garrison as well as the population after awhile.

Key Ports Are Targets

Given overwhelming air superiority it may be possible for naval forces to operate to the north of the island. The narrow Messina strait might even be made uncertain as a supply route. Certainly the key ports on either side of this strait already have been made the targets of devastating raids.

If these things are done it then would seem to be simply a question of the defenders' morale, how determined they were to hold on until the coming of the invasion parties for a finish fight. The defenders are believed to be largely Italian divisions.

25 JAP PLANES DOWNED IN SOLOMONS COMBAT

WASHINGTON, June 13 — (AP) American fliers, battling a half a hundred Japanese fighter planes in a rough-and-tumble dog-fight over the Solomon islands, sent at least 25, possibly 33, of the enemy hurtling into the sea.

Six U. S. Planes were missing after the engagement fought Saturday over the Russell group in the Solomons, the Navy reported today, but all but two of the American pilots were rescued.

At the same time the Navy added two Mitsubishi bombers to the total of enemy planes shot down in the Solomons, boosting to at least 85 the number destroyed in the last week, and to more than 1,000 the total Japanese plane losses in the Solomons.

JUN 14 1943

Four Marine Pilots Fought 40 Japs, Bagged 6, Routed Others

Navy Gives Details Of April 25 Air Battle North Of Guadalcanal—One American Flyer Lost

JUN 14 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 13—A "four-against-forty" air battle in which four marine flyers shot down six Zeros, and forced at least eighteen other enemy fighter planes and sixteen Japanese bombers to retreat was disclosed today by the navy.

The battle, fought in the Solomons just north of Guadalcanal on April 25, previously had been mentioned only as another of the series of air fights in that area.

Fyling Corsair fighters, the marine pilots deliberately carried the fight to the Japanese who apparently were bound on a raiding mission over American positions in the Solomons.

Major Peyton Leads Flight

Led by Major M. K. Peyton, of Cannel City, Ky., the navy reported, the four Corsair pilots climbed to the enemy's altitude when they sighted the Japanese while returning from strafing the enemy on Kolombangara.

They took advantage of cloud cover until the moment they dived on the Japanese flight. The bombers immediately fled, but the Zeros dropped their belly tanks and swarmed at the Corsairs.

Lieut. L. L. Eckart, Chicago, pulled out of formation to get a shot at one of the enemy. He missed, was jumped by Zeros and was lost.

Second Got Zero, Left Battle

First Lieutenant T. Milton Peck, Vicksburg, Miss., pulled up the nose of his plane, fired, and a Zero went down. "His own plane stalled," the navy related. "He dived to regain speed, and pulled out with a Zero on his tail—riding him down. Lieutenant Peck dived again, to one hundred feet over the water, finally outmaneuvered and lost his attacker."

Meantime, he had lost sight of the battle and, assuming it was over, returned to his base.

But the fight was continuing. "The other Zeros and the two remaining Corsairs met head-on. Major Peyton and Second Lieutenant Vedder (Milton Vedder, Los Angeles) were scissoring on each other for mutual protection. On his first weave over Lieutenant Vedder, Major Peyton got a point-blank shot at a Zero blasting it out of the air. He continued to weave, and quickly added two more Zeros. . . .

Third Rescued From Sea

"Vedder, on his second weave over Major Peyton, picked a Zero off Peyton's tail. It disintegrated. Then a Zero hopped his tail at close range. Lieutenant Vedder was wounded and his plane shot up."

But both kept after the bombers. Other Zeros intercepted. Vedder shot down another but lost an aileron on his plane. He headed for the sea, bailed out at 300 feet and rode his rubber boat until rescued by a patrol bomber the next day.

Peyton, meantime, took a look at the retreating Japs and turned south. His plane had seventy-eight machine-gun and cannon shell holes in it, both wing tanks had been shot through. Peyton was wounded.

Roberts Urges U. S. Move For International Union

JUN 14 1943

Says Americans Can Promote Plan—Gillette Objects To Sacrifice Of Nation's Sovereignty

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 13—Justice Owen J. Roberts, of the United States Supreme Court, asserted tonight that the only promise of world cooperation and peace lies in an international federated union and that the people of the United States can successfully promote such an organization if the will to do so exists.

Senator Guy M. Gillette (D., Iowa), member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, took the position that such a federation involves too great sacrifices of national sovereignty, and too much reconcilliation of national interest, culture and ideology. He argued for international cooperation of sovereign entities, on the lines of the cooperative grouping of American nations.

They spoke in a broadcast discussion of the question "C[illegible] organize peace on Federal Union lines?"

Roberts said the question was whether the United Nations "must continue to be a group of independent sovereigns, each of them cooperating with the others only so far and so long as it thinks cooperation serves its own national interest, or a true United Nations federation . . . designed to make feasible the common exercise of those powers which are essential to peaceful and law-abiding living by all peoples.

"If, despite the demonstrated ineffectiveness of treaties and leagues, they (the people of the United States) are content to have them tried again, more wars are foredoomed.

"If, on the contrary, the body of our people have the vision and the daring the founding fathers of the nation exhibited in 1787, they will demand a union of all the peoples willing and able to cooperate in an international federation, of limited but supreme power and jurisdiction in international affairs."

He called such action a necessary pooling of "so much of so-called national sovereignty as is essential to united action on those questions which—unsettled as between nations—breed war."

Gillette agreed there must be political cooperation to secure the peace after the current war, and economic cooperation to distribute more equitably the world's raw materials, alleviate distress and maintain commerce, and that the United States must take the lead. But he argued that cooperation closer than that of collaborating national sovereignties "is not feasible."

Doubts Desire Is Sufficient

He questioned whether mankind's desire for peace and happiness constitutes a community of interest "sufficient to support a supra-state and to override and overcome the danger in interests that are not community interests but are sectional, racial, commercial, sociological and religious hostilities.

"All governments in our concept," he said, "represent a surrender of basic individual rights inherent in the people, in the hope of better security for other rights. . . . It does not seem possible that the heterogenous elements which I have just described will be ready for such a supra-state within any reasonable time."

He argued that entry of the United States into an international federation would constitute a basic change in the Constitution, requiring submission to the people.

NATION WILL LACK CANNED FOODS, SAYS REP. LANDIS

Administration Policy Imperils U.S. Larder, He Charges.

WASHINGTON, June 13—(AP) Urging transfer of food control to the Department of Agriculture, Rep. Landis of Indiana asserted today there may be no canned goods for civilians next winter unless administration methods are changed.

Rep. Landis is chairman of a Republican Congressional food study sub-committee.

Canners, he said, are unable to obtain workers because of price ceilings and wage controls and "have received scant sympathy and consideration from the government agencies concerned.

"The ultimate result," his statement continued, "will be that vegetables and fruits they are to can under present restrictions will hardly suffice for the armed services and Lend-Lease. The civilian population will be forced to do without and much of the 1943 pack will rot in the field for want of pickers."

Legislation Held Essential

Rep. Landis added that unless pending legislation to transfer food functions from the Office of Price Administration to the Agriculture department is enacted "the consumer is going to have to do much belt tightening next winter and the following summer."

He asserted that canners who appeared before the committee "painted an alarming picture. They predict that many in the industry will be compelled to go out of business for the war's duration. Others, with sons in the service, are trying to carry on as a patriotic duty, despite the fact that they are losing money daily."

Rep. Landis also asserted that hopes of owners of 21,000,000 victory gardens that they would be able to can their own winter's food supply "fade before the great Washington bureaucracy.

Cookers Below Quota

"Home-grown vegetables and fruits, unless they are of the acid variety," he said, "cannot be safely canned without the use of pressure cookers. Recognizing this, the government authorized the manufacture of 270,000 of these cookers. So far this year, only 21,000 of that number have been manufactured. And so, many of the people have been hum-bugged again by the New Deal.

"If the Administration's smart boys would devote more time in attempting at least a partial solution of the grave food problem instead of trying to promote their own pet theories, such as grade labeling, there would be more food and less foolishness in America."

GOP POST-WAR UNITY IS SEEN

Senators Predict Agreement On Basic Foreign Policy Will Be Reached

Austin, Vandenberg And Taft Foresee "Simple, Easily Understood Statement"

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 13—Predictions that the newly organized Republican post-war advisory committee will be able to agree on a basic declaration of the party's foreign policy came today from Senatorial members representing varying shades of opinion on international questions.

JUN 14 1943

Senators Austin, of Vermont, Vandenberg, of Michigan, and Taft, of Ohio, expressed confidence in separate interviews that divergent elements of the party can be brought together behind a simple, easily understood statement of Republican post-war aims.

Representing the internationalist wing which believes in full post-war collaboration with other countries, Senator Austin said a preliminary meeting of the Congressional members of the committee last week had shown no fundamental difference of opinion that cannot be overcome.

Sees No Basic Disagreement

"There is no disagreement on certain general interests that might be regarded as vital to the United States in working out the problems of international affairs—namely, security of the United States, the peace of the world and the maintenance of order through law," Austin declared.

"These overall objectives will have to be implemented with a definite foreign policy and I feel that the Republican party can get together on these implementations."

Senator Vandenberg, who has come to be regarded as a middle-of-the-road Republican on foreign policy questions, said he had no doubt that the post-war committee can agree on "a definite, concrete foreign policy." He declined, however, to speculate as to the nature of such a declaration.

Taft Foresees Agreement

Senator Taft, who is inclined to go a little further than Vandenberg in making reservations on American participation in post-war collective action, predicted a general agreement on both foreign and domestic policies "without going into details."

"I believe it is entirely possible for the different views of the Republican party to be reconciled," he said. "We are very much close together than we ever have been before."

The Ohio Senator expressed belief that the post-war advisory committee has another major job to do in the preparation of detailed information for the platform and other committee's use at the next party convention.

There were reports that Congressional members at their preliminary session last week discussed means of offsetting published assertions that the group is predominantly "isolationist" in its views.

ARMY REVEALS 247 WOUNDED IN AFRICA

New York Is Represented on List by Three Officers and Forty Other Soldiers

TWELVE NEW JERSEY MEN

JUN 14 1943

Four of the Casualties Gave Addresses in Connecticut for Their Next of Kin

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—The War Department announced today the names of 247 United States soldiers wounded in action in North Africa, including the following with next of kin in New York, New Jersey and Connecticut:

New York

ANCONA, LOUIS J.; brother, Peter Ancona, 1269 72d St., Brooklyn.
BASS, LEON F. X., first lieutenant; mother, Mrs. Catherine G. Bass, Westhampton Beach.
BENSON, HAROLD A.; brother, Joseph E. Benson, 632 52d St., Brooklyn.
BISHOP, ROBERT F.; sister, Mrs. Samita Brady, Buffalo.
BRANN, DURWARD H., second lieutenant; father, Harry P. Brann, Syracuse.
CAVANAGH, FRANCIS B.; mother, Mrs. M. E. Cavanagh, Watertown.
CHASE, JAMES J.; mother, Mrs. Evelyn Chase, Poughkeepsie.
CIPRIANI, ARTHUR J.; father, Joseph Cipriani, 1565 70th St., Brooklyn.
COLTON, WILLIAM H.; mother, Mrs. Judith Meyer, 117-35 143d St., South Ozone Park.
COVERT, DONALD F.; mother, Mrs. Mary Covert, West Camp.
CRAMER, RICHARD F.; father, Leonard Cramer, Buffalo.
DAVIDSON, DANIEL J.; mother, Mrs. Anna Davidson, 676 Lincoln Pl., Brooklyn.
DIAMANTOPULOS, THEODORE; father, William B. Diamantopulos, 889 Tinton Ave., New York.
DONNELLY, DANIEL A.; mother, Mrs. Mary Donnelly, Auburn.
EBERLE, FREDERICK E.; mother, Mrs. Esther A. Thompson, Herkimer.
GARVIN, WILLIAM W.; father, William J. Garvin, 124 Wright St., Stapleton.
GIBBONS, FRANCIS A. W.; wife, Mrs. Hazel J. Gibbons, 971 Putnam Ave., Brooklyn.
GRUNTLER, FREDERICK F.; mother, Mrs. Alice Gruntler, Medalia.
HEGEDUS, FRANK; mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Hegedus, 5326 37 Road, Woodside.
HICKEY, WILLIAM R.; mother, Mrs. Clinton Dodge, Plattsburg.
HOUGH, ALBERT W.; mother, Mrs. Helen Wasson, Oneonta.
HYMAN, NATHAN E.; mother, Mrs. Sadie Powell, 23 West 73d St., New York.
IZYK, WALTER P.; uncle, Victor Kosiewicz, Oswego.
LEE, ALFRED W.; guardian, Mrs. Edna V. McIntosh, Syracuse.
MURPHY, JEREMIAH J.; uncle, Cornelius Murphy, 2035 Third Ave., New York.
OFFSEY, SOL; mother, Mrs. Sadie Offsey, 784 Tremont Ave., Bronx.
OWEN, JAMES D. I., second lieutenant; mother, Mrs. John W. Hickey, 89-38 82d Road, Glendale.
PALERMO, JOHN; brother, Tony Palermo, 12 Central Ave., Brooklyn.
PASTORE, PHILIP V.; father, Joseph Pastore, 78 Mulberry St., New York.
PETIX, CHARLES A.; mother, Mrs. Anna Petrosky, 1835 West 13th St., Brooklyn.
PUICCI, CARL; mother, Mrs. Loretta Puicci, Buchanan.
ROBERTS, JOSEPH L.; father, James Roberts, Gouverneur.
RZESNIOWIECKI, JOSEPH A.; mother, Mrs. Josephine Rzesniowieski, 14 Oakland St., Brooklyn.
SCHOND, DONALD P.; father, Albert Schond, Syracuse.
SCHULMERICH, HERBERT L.; mother, Mrs. Tillie A. Schulmerich, Rochester.
SCHWEERS, WYETH N.; mother, Mrs. Theresa Schweers, 350 East 114th St., New York.
SIMPSON, GEORGE M.; father, David Simpson, Rochester.
SMITH, FRANK; father, Frank Smith, 600 West 144th St., New York.
SPENCER, HILTON; mother, Mrs. Shirley Spencer, Walton.
TILLINGHAST, MALCOLM L.; father, Jesse Tillinghast, Sherburne.
WEINGATES, ATLEE V.; mother, Mrs. Wilhelmina Weingates, Herkimer.
WELLS, JOHN H.; mother, Mrs. Mae Wells, Oneonta.
WHEAT, JAMES L.; father, James L. Wheat, Horseheads.

New Jersey

BEREZNIAK, MICHAEL; mother, Mrs. Annie Berezniak, 110 Van Riper Ave., Clifton.
COONS, HUGH I.; father, Stephen A. Coons, Millville.
D'[illegible]UO, DOMENICK J.; mother, Mrs. [illegible] Donofrio, Red Bank.
FE[illegible]ICK, RAYMOND D.; father, John D. Fenwick, Flemington.
GUGLIELMO, ARTHUR; mother, Mrs. Emily Guglielmo, 346 South 12th St., Newark.
LEE, JOSEPH T.; father, Joseph Lee, 434 Ocean Ave., Jersey City.
MORGAN, EARL K.; mother, Mrs. Lourena Lafferty, Delanco.
NOLAN, DANIEL F.; mother, Mrs. Mary C. Nolan, 284 Pindle Ave., Englewood.
PRECKAJLO, EDWARD F.; father, Ignatz Preckajlo, 291 Lafayette St., Newark.
SHOCKLEY, WILLIAM H.; mother, Mrs. May E. Shockley, Egg Harbor City.
THALER, AUGUST R.; wife, Mrs. Christina L. Thaler, 6017 Monroe Place, West New York.
WESTERBERG, CARL B.; father, Bernard Westerberg, Moorestown.

Connecticut

LITTLE, ERNEST R.; sister, Miss Blanche Little, Hartford.
McKENZIE, RAYMOND E.; mother, Mrs. Wilhomena McKenzie, West Haven.
PERRILLA, MICHAEL F.; mother, Mrs. Ethel Perrilla, Bridgeport.
SLEE, ROBERT J.; mother, Mrs. Pauline A. Slee, Bridgeport.

JUN 14 1943

Household Items to Be Simplified to Save Metals

WASHINGTON, June 13 — (AP) War's strong grip on the American household will tighten even more, the Office of War Information disclosed tonight in announcing that hundreds of more items used in homes will be "simplified" in 1943 by elimination of frills and style variation.

The agency said that about 500 of the 1,000 items chosen as candidates for possible simplification this year—compared with 200 in 1942—reach directly into the home and include:

Auto jacks, automotive repair tools, household brushes, children's sportswear and rayon dresses, nails and screws, stationery, facial tissue, wrapping paper, paper napkins and towels, photographic equipment, pie plates, decorative pottery, radio replacement parts, safety shoes, screens, scissors, silver-plated flatware, towels and wheelbarrows.

The OWI, explaining that the purpose of simplification is to conserve war-essential materials, manpower and machines, said:

"While it appears that the civilian will continue to have his basic needs fulfilled there will be x x x increased limitations on variety if not on quantity."

War Production board officials, according to the OWI, have estimated that 1943 simplifications will save thousands of carload of transportation space, millions of square feet of factory warehouse space will add to the country's stockpile of raw materials by reducing inventory requirements 25 per cent and will increase the total productive capacity of the nation's machines by 10 to 20 per cent.

Simplifications already carried out in this war, the OWI said, reach from "the cradle to the grave.

"The new-born babe now rides in a carriage in which the iron and steel is limited to nine pounds while his great-grandfather is transported to the grave in a casket limited in length to 75 inches, in width 22 inches, and in depth to 20 inches."

The agency listed the following savings in critical materials by simplification and curtailment orders on consumer and industrial items:

Steel—600,000 tons; copper—17,000 tons; solder—35,000 pounds, cloth—180,000,000 yards; pulp — 227,000 tons; lumber — 450,000,000 board feet; tungsten—8,000 pounds.

The OWI gave these examples of house patterns as of July 1; ice boxes—limited to two models with an ice [illegible]city of either 50 or 75 pounds and food space of 3 1-2 or 5 cubic feet; blankets—limited in length to 84 inches and 72 in width except for white cotton sheet blankets which are limited to 95 inches in length while colors were cut to a maximum of four plus white in each manufacturer's line; radio tubes—340 of the former 710 types now being produced; cooking stoves—now limited to one type; hammers—the peacetime 180 styles now cut to 46; axes—now 45 styles instead of 382; garden tools — reduced from 915 to 129 items and limited to two, sometimes three grades.

JUN 14 1943

No Merchant Ships Reported Sunk In Atlantic

New York, June 13 (AP)—For the first time in seventeen weeks no merchant ships were announced last week as sunk in the western Atlantic.

Since the start of the year announced Allied and neutral merchant losses in those waters have averaged four a week, less than half the weekly average revealed during 1942, when Axis submarines accounted for ten a week.

Two ships, however, were added to the western Atlantic losses during the week when locations of previous announced sinkings were given.

The additions were the James W. Denver, 7,191-ton Liberty ship, with twenty-five crewmen missing, and the Angelus, British-Canadian 338-ton wooden schooner, with eight missing.

Quezon In New York Hospital

New York, June 13 (AP)—President Manuel L. Queson of the Philippines entered Doctors Hospital here Saturday for treatment of an undisclosed ailment. An attache today described Quezon's condition as very good.

JUN 14 1943

Reported On Way To Lisbon

New York, June 13 (AP)—The Berlin radio said in a Tangiers dispatch tonight that Gen. Auguste Nogues, resigned French Resident General of French Morocco, departed today by plane for Lisbon.

10 Killed, 8 Hurt In Air Collision In South Dakota

Howard, S. D., June 13 (AP)—Ten men were killed and eight injured when two airplanes collided near here this afternoon. Still another was unaccounted for. The dead were all passengers in one plane, while the ten who were in the other are all believed alive. One bailed out without injury.

The story of the crash was told to Miss Ella Esser, Howard telephone operator, by the pilot who brought his plane to ground safely and was not injured. Five of his passengers were taken to a hospital at Mitchell.

The planes came to their landings six miles apart, one of them in flames.

Fatal Crash In Virginia

New York, June 13 (AP)—Two pilots were killed when their fighter planes, on a routine mission, crashed into a swamp yesterday near West Point, Va., the base commander at Langley Field, Virginia, announced today. They were Second Lieutenant Henry J. McCaffrey, 20, of Hampton, Va., and Second Lieutenant James R. Nall, 21, of Mayfield, Ky.

Bombs Can Whip Japs, Says Maj. de Seversky

HOLLYWOOD, June 13—(AP) Maj. Alexander P. de Seversky, airplane designer and advocate of increased air power, declared during a radio forum broadcast today that "Japan can be bombed into submission just as Pantelleria was."

He compared Japan to a fortress, surrounded by a moat, and said that to attempt to breach the defense [illegible] without strong air power "would be far too costly in life, time and substance."

"As long as we fight along a surface strategy, with the weapons of land and sea, time is on the side of Japan," said Maj. de Seversky. "But as soon as we decide to fight along the strategy of air power then time is on our

JAN VALTIN TAKES ARMY BLOOD TEST

Bethel Draft Board Orders Examination for Author.

JUN 14 1943

BETH[illegible] June 13—(AP) Richard Ju[illegible] Herman Krebs, German-bo[illegible] who, under the pen of [illegible]altin, wrote "Out of the Ni[illegible] in which he related his activiti[illegible] as a Russian and German sec[illegible]agent, today submitted to a blood test ordered recently by his selective service board here.

Valtin, as he is popularly known, established a residence in Bethel with his wife and child some time ago. He was given the brief examination by Dr. Albert Trimpert.

Valtin was arrested last Nov. 24 on a warrant ordering his deportation as an undesirable alien or his internment for the duration of the war as an enemy alien, but after being held on Ellis island until two weeks ago was released, his attorney announced.

LAST STRIKES END IN U.S. COAL MINES

Government-Operated Pits Will Be Functioning in Full Swing Today.

PITTSBURGH, June 13 — (AP) Government-operated coal mines can hang out the "everybody working" sign again tomorrow.

The last of the strikers, nearly 1,600 men at Windber, Pa., voted today to return to their jobs, following the lead of 615 Alabama miners who went back to work over the week-end.

JUN 14 1943

30.24-4963

Both groups had struck against $1-a-day fines imposed by Solid Fuels Administrator Harold L. Ickes for participation in the June 1-5 walkout.

The strikes came before miners received word that Mr. Ickes had modified his order to permit refunding of fines to workers who participate in collective bargaining.

The Central Pennsylvania Coal Producers association said operators affiliated with it agreed to refund fines already collected and to rescind orders for further deductions, if Mr. Ickes had no objection. The Western Pennsylvania Coal Operators association will meet tomorrow to consider similar action.

Peace apparently was restored to the coal fields—at least until June 20 when the bargaining truce ordered by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, expires.

FARLEY REBUKES CRITICS OF REDS

Soviet War Aims in Accord with Allies, Elks Told at Meriden.

JUN 14 1943

MERIDEN, June 13—(AP) James A. Farley said today that the "obligation" of all the Allies to prevent aggression in the post-war world should allay the fears of those who suspect "the ultimate aims of our Russian ally."

Terming labor organizations "a contribution to a better society," the former postmaster general declared in an address prepared for a Flag day ceremony here:

"It is contended that certain sections of American labor, as well as various political operators, are under control of that ally (Russia), and interested in subverting the American system.

Must Take Realistic View

"We should face this situation realistically. We should not hesitate to discuss these fears openly. For my part, I do not think it becomes an American to fear that his country is incapable of protecting its interests when dealing with a foreign power, enemy or ally.

"America cannot, in charity or justice, reject the hand of friendship from any sister state. Indeed, the course of recent history makes the fullest collaboration with Russia a matter of compulsion. Our primary consideration must be the obliteration of the ruthless will to world conquest born of our enemy. That is the first prerequisite to the restoration of world order and peace.

"Having accomplished that, we will find little dissent, I am sure, from the persuasion that some minimum arrangement must be made to prevent aggression in the future. It seems unfair to call such a minimum arrangement 'policing the world.'

Wars Always Spread

"History seems to teach that Europe's war becomes our war. If our military might is to continue to be obligated to put down aggression once indulged, who can logically forbid the threat of its use to prevent aggression prior to the fact?

x x x

"Such an arrangement does not comprise our souls or our way of life, but is a necessary consideration for similar obligations on the part of our Allies. Russia will be one of those obligated. And by this simple device both those who have faith in, and those who have fear of, the ultimate aims of our Russian ally should be equally pleased."

Flag Presented to City

Mr. Farley delivered his address at open air exercises of the Meriden Lodge of Elks, during which a flag pole and flag were presented to the city.

James L. McGovern, associate editor of the Bridgeport Post and Telegram, delivered an oration on the history of the flag.

At a dinner in the evening Mr. Farley spoke informally and there were talks also by Mayor Francis R. Danaher of Meriden, Judge Martin J. Cunningham of Danbury, and Mr. McGovern, New England member of the Lodge Activities committee, representing the Grand Lodge.

Lauds Free Enterprise

In his afternoon speech, Mr. Farley who served as Democratic National committee chairman during President Roosevelt's first two Administrations, lauded Connecticut as a citadel of free enterprise.

"Modern history shows that the stifling of freedom of enterprise is a sure approach to the denial of the freedom of persons," Mr. Farley said.

"Connecticut's interest in the defense of personal freedom is combined with a strong interest in free enterprise, for here you have built a great system of insurance, an industry that is a main artery at the heart of our economic system.

Eager to Aid Workers

"We are all eager to improve the lot of the American worker and to raise the standard of living of Americans generally. It happens to be the weakness of human nature that employes have not been able to obtain their just share of production except through organization. This is not to be lamented. As practical men, we should welcome labor organizations as a contribution to better society.

"Those persons or groups in this country who refuse to accept organized labor as an established part of our society are doing their fellow citizens a disservice and giving aid and assistance to those who would use it to affect our form of government. Let us be thankful that there are true American labor leaders in our midst who are willing and able to mould the efforts of our workers into that priceless ingredient of a perfect society that can come from labor alone.

"And let our educational system adjust itself to provide for the preparation of sound labor leadership in the years to come."

JUN 14 1943

100 State Prisons Are Busy Handling U. S. War Contracts

CHICAGO, June 13—(AP) Many of America's prison industries have gone to war.

In more than 100 state prisons war contracts totaling many millions of dollars and affecting more than 160,000 inmates are now being fulfilled, the Council of State Governments reported today.

At least 250 different prison industries are doing war work, relieving manpower shortages in agriculture, road maintenance, canneries, the clothing industry and in the manufacture of war materials, the council said. In the few months that state prisons have been producing equipment for the armed forces, institutions of 20 states and the District of Columbia have put thousands of prisoners to work, it added.

Connecticut Jails Assist

Nebraska's legislature this year authorized manufacture of war goods by prison labor, a step previously taken by Alabama, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Louisiana, Maryland, South Carolina, Texas, Virginia, Wisconsin and several other states and the District of Columbia.

Prison farm production has been stimulated to triple the 1942 yield. Maryland prison farms and canneries are producing canned tomatoes and snap beans for Lend-Lease. Louisiana's state prison has increased its raw sugar production, a Colorado prison farm is processing cabbage for kraut and Texas has increased the acreage of its prison farms to raise more rice, peanuts and cotton. Illinois prisoners are dehydrating fruits and vegetables.

Between 250 and 175 trusties of the Colorado State penitentiary at Canon City started working on farms in the upper Arkansas valley in April to release farm labor for jobs elsewhere in the state.

Many Make Clothing

Many state prisons are making clothing for the Army and Navy. New Jersey is producing 7,000 yards of shoe duck for nurses' footgear. Four states are making boiler suits for the British Admiralty. Ten states turn out 5,000 white Navy jumpers a month. Five state prisons are under contract to supply 150,000 shorts for the Coast Guard.

Oklahoma and District of Columbia prisons make bricks for construction of ammunition depots, a Tennessee prison textile plant makes mop yarn for the Navy and San Quentin prison in California is producing submarine nets and assault boats.

Lot Of Canadians Favor Union With U. S., Solon Says

Detroit, June 13 (AP)—Major James H. Clark, Speaker of the Ontario Legislature, expressed the belief today that forty to forty-five per cent. of Canada's citizens would vote for union with the United States if an election were held at this time.

"I'm not saying our people have any enmity toward England," Major Clark said in a radio forum, "but many of them feel that the Canadian standard of living would go up twenty-five per cent. overnight if we became politically united with the United States.

"A lot of people who express this opinion privately are afraid to do so publicly for business reasons."

JUN 14 1943

Synthetic Rubber To Hit 275,000 Tons In 1943

Washington, June 13 (AP)—William M. Jeffers, rubber director, said today the nation's synthetic rubber plants will turn out 275,000 tons in 1943 and that by the fall of 1944, barring major setbacks, "we can safely forget the rubber problem so far as essential supply is concerned."

He placed in the essential category military and lend-lease requirements and transportation of farmers, produce and war workers.

DISCIPLINE NEEDED IN CAMPS FOR JAPS

Rep. Mundt Calls for Army Supervision, Control.

LOS ANGELES, June 13—(AP) Rep. Karl Mundt (R-SD) says testimony developed before the Dies sub-committee of which he is a member has convinced him the Army should have operation and control of Japanese relocation camps.

"I think it is essential that effective discipline be established in these camps, and our hearings have brought out that discipline is woefully lacking," Rep. Mundt said in an interview.

The South Dakotan said he favored Army operation so that practical experience would be available to the branch of the service that is being developed to operate occupied cities.

Engineers, accountants, lawyers and various types of administrators who form this branch of service in the Army are capable enough, Rep. Mundt said, "but giving them actual work to do in the operation and control of the Jap relocation centers would provide valuable experience."

Under the present setup in the Japanese camps the Army is represented by the military police, quartered outside the projects, with strict orders not to enter the grounds except when called on by the relocation administrator. Only in the event of a riot or a fire may the administrator call upon the military police.

The Dies committee will resume its hearings here Tuesday.

JUN 14 1943

INTERPRETING THE WAR NEWS

BY CARL C. GRANNER

AMERICAN AND BRITISH AIRMEN, WHO TOOK THE SCALPS OF PANTELLERIA AND LAMPEDUSA WITHOUT THE INTERVENTION OF A SINGLE INFANTRYMAN, ALREADY HAVE RAISED THEIR SIGHTS TO BIGGER OBJECTIVES FARTHER NORTH.

THE WORLD SEEMS ABOUT TO WITNESS AN ATTEMPT TO REPEAT IN SICILY WHAT WAS ACCOMPLISHED ON A SMALLER SCALE AT PANTELLERIA AND LAMPEDUSA.

IT MAY SUCCEED, AND IF IT DOES THE EFFECT ON ALLIED PLANS MAY BE REVOLUTIONARY AND ALLIED HOPES WILL SOAR. BUT EVEN IF IT DOESN'T

JUN 14 1943

QUITE COME OFF, ALLIED STRATEGISTS AT LEAST WILL HAVE A GOOD IDEA OF WHAT AIR POWER ACTUALLY CAN DO.

SICILY WOULD SEEM TO BE A MORE LIKELY OBJECTIVE OF PURE AIR SIEGE THAN SARDINIA. SICILY IS ONLY ABOUT 90 MILES FROM THE NEAREST POINT IN TUNISIA, WHEREAS SARDINIA IS ABOUT 120. MALTA AND PANTELLERIA ARE ONLY ABOUT 60 MILES FROM SICILY, WHILE TRIPOLI IS 280. FROM ALL THESE PLATFORMS SICILY CAN BE HAMMERED BY A CONVERGING ATTACK.

THE NEW TARGET IS NOT TO BE COMPARED WITH PANTELLERIA IN AREA, SIZE OF POPULATION, STRENGTH OF GARRISON OR NATURAL AND PREPARED DEFENSES. IT IS NOT DEPENDENT ON OUTSIDE SOURCES FOR ANY OF ITS WATER. IT IS SEPARATED FROM THE MAINLAND ONLY BY THE NARROW 24-MILE-LONG MESSINA STRAIT, TWO AND A HALF MILES WIDE AT THE NORTH, 12 MILES WIDE AT THE SOUTH. ACROSS THIS CHANNEL IT WOULD SEEM THE GARRISON COULD RECEIVE REINFORCEMENTS AND SUPPLIES, AT LEAST BY NIGHT.

YET IT MAY NOT BE IMPOSSIBLE TO KNOCK OUT SICILY FROM THE AIR, PROVIDED BRITISH NAVAL FORCES ARE ABLE TO LEND AN AIDING HAND AROUND A CONSIDERABLE PART OF THE ISLAND'S CIRCUMFERENCE AND PROVIDED ALLIED AIR STRENGTH AND TIMETABLE ALLOW FOR AN EVEN HEAVIER AND MORE PROLONGED BOMBARDMENT THAN WAS DIRECTED AT PANTELLERIA.

JUN 14 1943

SICILY HAS AN AREA OF ONLY A LITTLE OVER 9,900 SQUARE MILES. IT IS 150 MILES LONG--ABOUT THAT OF LONG ISLAND--AND JUST OVER 100 MILES WIDE AT ITS EASTERN END. IN ITS CENTRAL PORTION IT IS ONLY ABOUT 50 MILES ACROSS.

INTO THIS COMPARATIVELY SMALL AREA A POPULATION OF MORE THAN 4,000,000 PEOPLE NORMALLY IS CROWDED. SOME OF THESE HAVE FLED OR BEEN EVACUATED TO SAFER AREAS. BUT A GARRISON OF PERHAPS 100,000 MEN HAS BEEN ADDED.

JUN 14 1943

IT WAS ON AN AREA NOT MUCH SMALLER THAN THIS THAT ALLIED AIR FORCES WENT TO WORK LAST APRIL AFTER THE EIGHTH ARMY HAD DRIVEN NORTH TO ENFIDAVILLE. THE AREA WAS SO BLANKETED WITH BOMBS THT THE ENEMY AIR FORCES WERE DRIVEN OUT OF TUNISIA, AND THEREAFTER THE MORALE OF A STRONG FIGHTING FORCE, MOSTLY GERMAN, WAS BROKEN.

JUN 14 1943

SICILY'S HARBORS, AIRFIELDS, POWER PLANTS AND COMMUNICATIONS FACILITIES ALREADY HAVE BEEN PUT SADLY OUT OF ORDER BY HEAVY BOMBING. IT DOES NOT SEEM AT ALL BEYOND THE POWER OF THE ALLIED AIR FORCES TO PUT THE SICILIAN AIR BASES OUT OF COMMISSION. MASSED ATTACKS MAY BE ABLE TO SILENCE THE ISLAND'S COASTAL BATTERIES AND DESTROY ITS HARBOR DEFENSES ONE BY ONE AS THEY DID AT PANTELLERIA. WITH HUNDREDS OF PLANES BOMBING AND STRAFING OBJECTIVES DAY AFTER DAY IT WOULD SEEM THAT LIFE WOULD BE MADE UNBEARABLE FOR THE GARRISON AS WELL AS THE POPULATION AFTER AWHILE.

GIVEN OVERWHELMING AIR SUPERIORITY IT MAY BE POSSIBLE FOR NAVAL FORCES TO OPERATE TO THE NORTH OF THE ISLAND. THE NARROW MESSINA STRAIT MIGHT EVEN BE MADE UNCERTAIN AS A SUPPLY ROUTE. CERTAINLY THE KEY PORTS ON EITHER SIDE OF THIS STRAIT ALREADY HAVE BEEN MADE THE TARGETS OF DEVASTATING RAIDS.

IF THESE THINGS ARE DONE IT THEN WOULD SEEM TO BE SIMPLY A QUESTION OF THE DEFENDERS' MORALE, HOW DETERMINED THEY WERE TO HOLD ON UNTIL THE COMING OF THE INVASION PARTIES FOR A FINISH FIGHT. THE DEFENDERS ARE BELIEVED TO BE LARGELY ITALIAN DIVISIONS.

UNDATED ADMIRALS

JUN 14 1943

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

REAR ADMIRAL KENGO KOBAYASHI, FORMER JAPANESE NAVAL ATTACHE AT WASHINGTON, HAS BEEN ASSIGNED "AN IMPORTANT POST AT SEA," A TOKYO BROADCAST SAID TODAY (SAT) IN ANNOUNCING CHANGES INVOLVING FOUR HIGH

30.24-4965

NAVAL OFFICERS.

ADMIRAL KOBAYASHI WAS APPOINTED NAVAL ATTACHE IN WASHINGTON IN 1936, WHEN HE WAS A CAPTAIN. HE WAS CHIEF OF STAFF OF THE KURE NAVAL STATION PRIOR TO TODAY'S ANNOUNCEMENT, WHICH WAS RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

OTHERS LISTED IN THE TRANSFER WERE VICE ADMIRAL SEIGO YAMAGATA, WHO WAS APPOINTED COMMANDER OF THE TAKAO NAVAL PATROL HEADQUARTERS; REAR ADMIRAL SHINZO ONISHO, NAMED CHIEF OF STAFF OF THE KURE NAVAL STATION; AND VICE ADMIRAL TAKEO TAKAGI, FORMER COMMANDER OF THE TAKAO NAVAL PATROL HEADQUARTERS, ASSIGNED TO THE NAVAL GENERAL STAFF.

UNDATED ITALIAN

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS JUN 14 1943

THE ITALIAN HIGH COMMAND ADVISED THE ITALIAN PEOPLE TODAY THAT THEIR ISLAND OF LAMPEDUSA, "HAMMERED BY CONTINUOUS BOMBARDMENTS, WAS FORCED TO CEASE ALL RESISTANCE IN THE FACE OF OVERWHELMING ODDS" YESTERDAY.

THE LOSS OF THE SECOND FASCIST STRONGHOLD ATHWART THE MEDITERRANEAN NARROWS IN TWO DAYS WAS ACKNOWLEDGED IN THE DAILY COMMUNIQUE, BROADCAST FROM ROME AND RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

GERMAN PLANES ATTACKING ALLIED NAVAL FORMATIONS IN THE SICILIAN CHANNEL WERE DECLARED TO HAVE SUNK AN 8,000-TON TRANSPORT AND 14 LANDING CRAFT AND SERIOUSLY DAMAGED THREE CRUISERS, 14 LIGHTER WARSHIPS AND SIX MERCHANT VESSELS. THESE CLAIMS WERE WITHOUT CONFIRMATION FROM ALLIED QUARTERS.

TORPEDO-CARRYING ITALIAN PLANES WERE SAID TO HAVE HIT THREE SHIPS IN NIGHT ATTACKS OFF THE NORTH AFRICAN COAST.

THE ITALIAN BULLETIN ADMITTED ALLIED AIR RAIDS WERE CARRIED OUT AGAINST REGGIO CALABRIA AND CATANIA AND PALERMO, SICILY.

"THE CIVILIAN POPULATION SUFFERED LOSSES," IT SAID. "DAMAGE WAS LIMITED. ANTI-AIRCRAFT BATTERIES AT RAPANI DESTROYED ONE TWIN-ENGINED ENEMY PLANE."

UNDATED NOGUES

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS JUN 14 1943

THE BERLIN RADIO SAID IN A TANGIERS DISPATCH LAST (SUN) NIGHT THAT GEN.AUGUSTE NOGUES, RESIGNED FRENCH RESIDENT GENERAL OF FRENCH MOROCCO, DEPARTED SUNDAY BY PLANE FOR LISBON.

NOGUES ARRIVED RECENTLY IN SPANISH MOROCCO AND DID NOT LEAVE HIS HOTEL PRIOR TO GOING TO THE AIRPORT, THE BROADCAST SAID.

GABRIEL PUAUX, FORMER HIGH COMMISSIONER TO SYRIA, SUCCEEDED NOGUES UNDER THE MERGER EFFECTED BY THE FORCES OF GEN.CHARLES DE GAULLE AND GEN.HENRI GIRAUD.

UNDATED

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

THE ALLIES HASTENED THE SURRENDER OF PANTELLERIA BY THE SIMPLE METHOD OF SHUTTING OFF THE ISLAND'S WATER SUPPLY.

IN HIS NOTE OF SURRENDER, THE COMMANDER OF THE ITALIAN GARRISON ADMITTED THAT THE ALLIED SEA AND AIR BLOCKADE HAD LEFT HIS FORCES, ESTIMATED AT BETWEEN 10,000 AND 15,000 MEN, AND THE ISLAND'S 8,000 INHABITANTS WITHOUT WATER. JUN 14 1943

WATER WAS SHIPPED TO THE ISLAND IN NORMAL TIMES. WHEN THE SHIPS WERE SUNK OR CHASED BACK BY ALLIED AIR AND NAVAL FORCES, THE ITALIANS ATTEMPTED TO SUPPLY PANTELLERIA WITH EMERGENCY WATER RATIONS BY PLANE. THIS SOON ALSO FAILED AND THE MEAGER SUPPLIES THE ISLANDERS WERE ABLE

TO OBTAIN BY CATCHING RAIN WATER AND FROM A FEW SPRINGS WERE NOT ENOUGH.

LONDON, JUNE 13-(AP)-THE SUNDAY TIMES DEMANDED EDITORIALLY TODAY THAT POLICE CLEAR LONDON'S PICCADILLY AREA OF STREET WALKERS.

THE DEMAND WAS PRESENTED AFTER A SERIES OF ARTICLES REPORTING AN INCREASED VENEREAL DISEASE RATE AMONG AMERICAN TROOPS IN ENGLAND WAS PRINTED IN THE STARS AND STRIPLES, U.S. ARMY NEWSPAPER.

"WE HAVE RECEIVED COMPLAINTS OF THE FLAUNTING OF VICE IN THAT PART OF LONDON," THE SUNDAY TIMES SAID. "IT IS NOT TO BE TOLERATED THE LEAST WE DEMAND IS THAT THE CENTRAL STREETS BE CLEARED OF THE OFFENSE OF SOLICITING.

JUN 14 1943

"THE WOMEN CONCERNED PRESUMABLY ARE REGISTERED. THEY OUGHT TO BE ENGAGED IN USEFUL WORK. WHY SHOULD THEIRS BE TREATED AS A RESERVE OCCUPATION? X X X WHILE COMPULSORY POWERS ARE USED AGAINST WOMEN ALREADY USEFULLY EMPLOYED, THESE UNFORTUNATES OF THE STREET SHOULD NOT BE LEFT TO SPREAD A PLAGUE.

"IF THEIR LIFE MAKES THEM UNSUITED FOR ORDINARY WORK, THEY OUGHT TO BE PROVIDED WITH SOME FORM OF EMPLOYMENT SUITED TO THEM."

LONDON JUNE 13-(AP)-THE VICHY RADIO, FOLLOWING THE KEYNOTE SOUNDED IN AN EARLIER GERMAN BROADCAST, QUOTED A BERLIN MILITARY SPOKESMAN TODAY AS DECLARING LARGE SCALE OPERATIONS HAD STARTED ON THE RUSSIAN FRONT.

THE VICHY BROADCAST, RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, DECLARED THE SPOKESMAN SAID THE RUSSIANS HAD ATTACKED "IN FORCE" ADDING THAT "WHILE OUR TROOPS WERE WARDING OFF THIS ATTACK, OTHER GERMAN UNITS WERE FIGHTING GUERRILLAS IN THE REAR OF THIS SECTOR."

JUN 14 1943

THE PREVIOUS BERLIN RADIO ANNOUNCEMENT SAID REPEATED RUSSIAN INFANTRY ATTACKS NORTHEAST OF OREL HAD BREACHED THE GERMAN LINE INLT

THE PREVIOUS BERLIN RADIO ANNOUNCEMENT SAID REPEATED RUSSIAN INFANTRY ATTACKS NORTHEAST OF OREL HAD BREACHED THE GERMAN LINE IN SPOTS BUT THAT THE GERMANS COUNTERATTACKED AND THREW THEM BACK WITH HEAVY LOSSES.

THE RUSSIAN MIDNIGHT COMMUNIQUE DID NOT MENTION THE AREA.

EDS: IN FIRST PGH ABOVE AT END READ XXX RUSSIAN FRONT IN THE OREL REGION.

LONDON, JUNE 13-(AP)-SERGT.LES MOORE, AN RCAF SPITFIRE PILOT FROM NORTH TROY, N.Y., USED ALL HIS CANNON AMMUNITION IN TAKING HIS FIRST CRACK AT A FOCKE-WULF 190 TODAY BUT HE IMMEDIATELY WENT AFTER ANOTHER HEAVILY-ARMED GERMAN PLANE WITH ONLY HIS MACHINEGUN FIRING.

THE NAZI PILOT, WHO PROBABLY SAW HIS COMRADE FALL AWAY AFTER MOORE'S ATTACK WITH BLACK SMOKE POURING FROM HIS ENGINE, HEADED FOR HOME.

JUN 14 1943

"I DIDN'T SEE ANY STRIKES ON HIM BUT HE SEEMED TO TRY TO CHANGE DIRECTION INSTEAD OF CONTINUING HIS TURN," SAID MOORE. "EITHER HE WAS A BAD PILOT OR HE HAD BEEN HIT."

MOORE'S SQUADRON WAS ESCORTING RAF MITCHELL BOMBERS BACK FROM THE ATTACK ON FLUSHING, HOLLAND, WHEN THE FOCKE-WULFS WERE MET.

LONDON, MONDAY, JUNE 14-(AP)-A DEMAND THAT GENERALS CHARLES DE GAULLE AND HENRI GIRAUD SETTLE THEIR DIFFERENCES AND GET ON WITH WINNING THE WAR WAS VOICED TODAY BY THREE BRITISH NEWSPAPERS WHICH DIRECTED SHARP CRITICISM AT DE GAULLE FOR HIS OUTBURSTS OF TEMPERAMENT.

30.24 - 4967

THE INFLUENTIAL YORKSHIRE POST, DESCRIBING ITSELF AS "FORMERLY A STOUT CHAMPION" OF DE GAULLE, ACCUSED HIM OF STUBBORNNESS IN THE CURRENT NEGOTIATIONS. THE POST SAID HIS APPARENT DESIRE NOT TO FIGURE IN THE EYES OF HIS COMPATRIOTS AS A PUPPET OF THE BRITISH "HAS LED HIM TO ASSERT X X X A RATHER TOUCHY INDEPENDENCE AT OUR EXPENSE. THERE ARE SIGNS HE IS ADOPTING A SIMILAR ATTITUDE TOWARDS THE AMERICANS NOW THAT HE HAS COME WITHIN THEIR SPHERE OF INFLUENCE IN ALGIERS."

JUN 14 1943

THE POST SAID VICHY SYMPATHIZERS SHOULD BE CONSIDERED INDIVIDUALLY AND "NOT MADE SUBJECT TO ANy SUCH SWEEPING PROSCRIPTION AS DE GAULLE APPARENTLY DESIRES."

THE DAILY EXPRESS AND THE DAILY SKETCH EXPRESSED SIMILAR VIEWS.

THE LONDON TIMES HOWEVER, TOOK THE LINE THAT ALGIERS REPORTS "OF NE RIFTS AND IMPENDING RUPTURES IN THE NEW FRENCH NATIONAL COMMITTEE NEED NOT PERHAPS BE TAKEN TOO TRAGICALLY."

"SO LARGE A MEASURE OF AGREEMENT HAS BEEN REACHED ON THINGS WHICH MATTER THAT GENERAL DE GAULLE WILL NOT RISK A BREAKDOWN ON SECONDARY ISSUES," THE TIMES ADDED.

LORD BEAVERBROOK'S DAILY EXPRESS SAID THE GENERALS SHOULD "STOP FIGHTING AMONG THEMSELVES AND HELP US GET ON WITH THE WINNING OF THE WAR.

"THERE IS A GREAT DEAL OF IMPATIENCE IN BRITAIN AT THE EXTRAORDINARY DELAYS AND PROCRASTINATIONS WHICH HAVE HAPPENED SINCE DE GAULLE REACHED AFRICA," THE NEWSPAPER SAID.

"THE GLORIOUS VISION OF UNITED ACTION WHICH THE SETTING UP OF THE FRENCH COMMITTEE CREATED HAS DETERIORATED INTO A WORDY IMPASSE."

JUN 14 1943

THE EXPRESS ADDED THAT WHILE DE GAULLE HAS MANY ADMIRABLE QUALITIES, "HE HAS NEVER TAKEN GREAT PAINS TO CONTROL HIS IMPETUOUS TEMPERAMENT."

THE DAILY SKETCH IN A FRONT-PAGE STORY BY ITS DIPLOMATIC CORRESPONDENT JOINED THE EXPRESS IN THE SHARPEST CRITICISM OF DE GAULLE YET TO APPEAR IN LONDON NEWSPAPERS.

THE SKETCH SAID THAT THE SLOW PROGRESS OF THE FRENCH LEADERS IN NORTH AFRICA WAS NOTED WITH "SOME CONCERN" IN LONDON AND DECLARED THAT "IT IS ESSENTIAL AT THIS CRITICAL STAGE OF THE WAR THAT GENERAL EISENHOWER SHALL NOT BE HAMPERED BY JARRING PERSONAL INTERESTS."

ASSERTING THAT "SO FAR THE AMOUNT OF UNITY ACHIEVED OWES LITTLE TO GEN.DE GAULLE HIMSELF, THE SKETCH CRITICIZED HIS "OVER-DICTATORIAL AND NON-COOPERATIVE ATTITUDE."

JUN 14 1943

Flak Thick Enough for Walking, Say Fliers of Raid on Bremen

Two Fortresses Return Late, One Runs Out of Gas.

HEINZERLING

AT A U. S. BOMBER STATION IN ENGLAND, June 13—(AP) United States bombers bored through a carpet of anti-aircraft fire and a thick smoke screen today to drop their bombs on submarine shipping yards at Bremen and Kiel in a two-way smash which apparently rivalled the greatest blows yet delivered by American airmen in the European theater.

Despite a concentration of enemy fire declared "so thick you could almost walk on it" over Bremen, the fliers returning to this station reported practically no damage to their planes.

Fighter opposition over Bremen was very light.

26 Bombers Lost

(A United States communique said, however, that 26 bombers were lost and that the heaviest opposition was over Kiel.)

The Germans started great billows of smoke curling up from smudge pots only a few minues after the bombers crossed the coast. The crews agreed that anti-aircraft fire was as heavy as any they had experienced.

"It was the loveliest day I ever saw," said First Lieut. Lloyd F. Fields of Hahira, Ga. "I only saw one fighter, but the flak was like a brickwall."

All the Fortress from this base returned, although the "Virgin," piloted by First Lieut. David A. Tyler of Hartford, Conn., came in an hour late after a narrow escape with a broken oil line.

Fighter Driven Off

The line broke just as the Fortress was turning away from the target. Lieut. Tyler dropped out of formation. A German fighter attempted to take advantage of the crippled plane, but Staff Sergt. Robert van Rees of Oskaloosa, Iowa, fired on the enemy plane and apparently damaged it. It dropped away.

The crew of the "Virgin" credited Second Lieut. Malvern R. Sweet of Livermore, Calif., the navigator, "for a sweet job in getting us back." Second Lieut. Wayne Hendricks of Salt Lake City, was the co-pilot.

For Staff Sergt. James L. Frazier of Tuscaloosa, Ala., tail gunner of "Flapper," it was the longest hour he ever spent over enemy territory. It was his 13th raid and it came on June 13.

"I'm not too superstitious, but I was sure sweating it out," Sergeant Frazier said thoughtfully, eyeing a big cup of coffee.

Sergeant Frazier was on the Bremen raid April 17 and 16 United States planes were downed, the greatest number previously lost on a single raid.

Saw Five Nazi Planes

"I saw about five German fighters and plenty of flak and both were functioning very well," he said. On the previous raid on Bremen, Sergeant Frazier was credited with shooting down two Focke-Wulfs.

The gunner reported seeing ten men bail out of one Fortress and four from another.

First Lieut. Dale L. Shaffer of

JUN 14 1943

Decatur, Ill., pilot of "Sunrise Serenader," came back with a wide smile.

"It's a happy day for me," he said, "I got three of my original boys through their 25th mission. They rode their first and last ones with men and this one was tough. That flak was so thick you could have got out and walked around on the stuff—but it didn't do so much damage."

The three men were Staff Sergeant William F. Clendening of Fort Madison, Iowa; Technical Sergt. T. M. Lawler of Boston; and Staff Sergt. Charles Woodward (no address available.)

Others Complete 25th

Several other crewmen also completed their 25th missions, including Capt. Don F. Cunningham of Little Falls, Minn., pilot of "Wham Bam," who remarked:

"Don't quote me as saying I'm ready to start on the next 25th right this minute."

Capt. Gordon Williams of Fresno, Calif., co-pilot of "Wham Bam," also completed his 25th mission, along with First Lieut. Thomas Tomeny of New Orleans, navigator, and First Lieut. Theodore Drew of Newton, N. J., bombardier.

Lieut. John H. Perkins of Chicago gave the base a bad hour when he failed to bring the "Windy City Challenger" in with the rest of his group.

"I was just forced down up here a ways," Lieut. Perkins said, "no gas."

SGT.KARL EVANS OF STERLING, ILL., WAIST-GUNNER OF THE "GOODTIME CHARLIE," SAID: "WE BOMBED THE HELL OUT OF SOMETHING AT KIEL. IT LOOKED LIKE THE SPOT WE WANTED TO HIT. I SAW AT LEAST SIX ENEMY FIGHTERS GO DOWN."

SGT.JOSEPH H.TRUITT, OF REPTON, KY., WAIST-GUNNER OF ANOTHER SHIP, RELATED: "I GOT MY FOCKE-WULF AS IT CAME IN AT ELEVEN O'CLOCK. I SHOT OFF HIS LEFT WING TIP AND IT HIT AGAINST THE SIDE OF OUR SHIP. HE WENT FOR GOOD."

LIEUT.LEONARD W.HERMAN, OF PHILADELPHIA, BOMBARDIER OF THE BOMBER "THREE ACES," ASSERTED THAT THE "BOMBING WAS GOOD."

"WE HIT THE SUBMARINE SHEDS AT KIEL WITH PLENTY. I SAW A LOT OF BLACK SMOKE MUSHROOMING UP."

JUN 14 1943

SERGT.LLOYD L.HOFFMAN OF DURANT, OKLA., A TURRET GUNNER, BROKE AWAY FROM CREWMEN WHO WERE APPLYING FIRST AID TO HIS FROZEN FEET AND MANNED HIS GUNS AS A FRESH ATTACK BEGAN. HE SHOT DOWN ONE MESSERSCHMITT 109.

LIEUT.ROYD KELLY, OF HOUSTON, TEX., THE PILOT, SAID "WE WERE HIT SO BADLY THAT I STARTED TO ORDER MY CREW TO BAIL OUT, BUT THE OLD SHIP COULD TAKE IT AND SHE BROUGHT US HOME OKAY."

JUN 14 1943

SGT.FRANK G.WADE, OF HOUSTON, TEX., WHO PARTICIPATED IN THE BREMEN RAID, RELATED THAT "I GOT MY FIRST FIGHTER OVER THE TARGET. HE WAS COMING DIRECTLY IN AT OUR TAIL WHEN I OPENED MY GUNS. HIS WINGS RIPPED OFF AND HE FELL LIKE A ROCK. WHEN ANOTHER GROUP JUMPED US OVER THE NORTH SEA I GOT ANOTHER AND SAW IT GO INTO THE SEA."

FLYERS CRASH IN CHANNEL, OUTSWIM FIRE

Nine U. S. Airmen Picked Up After Flaming Gasoline Spreads

JUN 14 1943

Only One Killed As Plane Is Downed During Raid On St. Nazaire

[By the Associated Press]

A United States Bomber Station in England, June 13—After crash-landing their burning, shell-riddled Flying Fortress in the choppy waters of the English Channel, nine United States airmen won a race with death by outswimming spreading gasoline flames on the water, it was disclosed today.

The Fortress, which they called Barrelhouse Bessie from Basin Street, quickly sank but its fuel leaks fed the fire.

An hour and a half after the crash, as the survivors clinging to a damaged and only partially inflated rubber dinghy nearly despaired of help, a British boat rescued them.

One Casualty

The sole casualty of the crew of the bomber — one of the thirteen which failed to return from the St. Nazaire raid of May 29—was Sergt. Ralph Erwin, 31, of Dallas, Ore., tail gunner. The blazing waters apparently became a funeral pyre for Erwin, who was suffering from shock before the bomber crashed. His body was not recovered.

Still in a hospital suffering from burns and bruises are Sergts. Frederick T. Huther, 25, of Utica, N. Y., radio operator-gunner; Chester W. Hack, 22, of Detroit, left waist gunner, and Lieut. Robert J. Curtis, 24, of Dunkirk, N. Y., navigator.

Just returned from a rest-home leave are Lieut. James G. Stevenson, 23, of Alamogordo, N. M., pilot; Flight Officer Clinton A. Bush, 23, of Wilson, Kan., copilot; Lieut. Clarence F. Veach, 26, of Salina, Kan., navigator, and Sergts. Clinton L. Bitton, 27, of Chilly, Idaho, top turret gunner; Alex R. Delgado, 21, of Los Banos, Cal., ball turret gunner, and John S. Chew, 24, of Minneapolis, right waist gunner.

Only Minor Bruises

Those who have returned suffered only minor bruises and exposure.

Their Fortress was riddled just before their target was reached. The controls were so badly damaged the big bomber was almost unmanageable.

The left wing was perforated and then set afire by an ignited gasoline tank. A foot-square hole was torn in the tail section and the radio compartment was riddled.

Hack was wounded slightly in a shoulder. Erwin suffered shock from a bursting shell, the fragments of which missed him by only ten inches.

Although the crippled ship was unable to keep up with its formation, Stevenson maneuvered it beneath the following formation for protection from enemy fighters and continued until the target was reached and Veach got his bombs away.

Few Enemy Fighters

Comparatively few enemy fighters were on the scene.

As they headed homeward, the ship dropped from 26,000 to 6,000 feet. Off the French coast a Spitfire escort appeared and flew protectively around the bomber.

The fire, meanwhile, had gained headway. Flames shot up from the bomb bay, singed Stevenson's hair and filled the plane with smoke.

The crew's efforts to use the fire extinguishers were futile, and they brought the bomber down forty-five miles from the English coast.

The impact threw Huther and Curtis into the blazing bomb bay, but they quickly clambered out. Thirty seconds after the others had climbed out the bomber sank, leaving flaming gasoline spread over a hundred-foot area.

The crew had thrown out two dinghies. One burned, and the other, cut by shellfire, was only partially inflated.

JUN 14 1943 ✓

"SOME OF US HAD TO SWIM HARD TO OUTDISTANCE THE SPREADING FIRE," STEVENSON SAID. "WE MADE FOR THE DAMAGED DINGHEY, DRAGGING BITTON AND HUTHER, WHO COULDN'T SWIM. WHEN WE REACHED THE DINGHEY WE COUNTED NOSES AND DISCOVERED THAT ERWIN WAS NOT WITH US.

"WE CALLED TO HIM BUT HE MUST HAVE BEEN UNCONSCIOUS FOR HE DIDN'T ANSWER," STEVENSON CONTINUED.

"WE COULD SEE HIM FLOATING AMIDST THE FLAMES WITH HIS ARMS EXTENDED LIKE HE WAS LIFELESS. THE WAVES WERE RUNNING ABOUT EIGHT FEET HIGH AND WE STARTED DRIFTING AWAY. WE NEVER SAW ERWIN AGAIN."

"SPITFIRES AND BEAUFIGHTERS HAD FOLLOWED US DOWN AND THEY CIRCLED ALL THE TIME WE WERE IN THE WATER," CREW SAID. "THEY RADIOED OUR POSITION TO AIR-SEA RESCUE BOATS."

STEVENSON CHIMED IN: "WE CAN'T PRAISE THOSE PLANES ENOUGH. IF IT HAND'T BEEN FOR THE SPITS AND BEAUFIGHTERS WE COULDN'T BE HERE TO TELL ABOUT IT."

VEACH SAID THE WATER WAS BITTERLY COLD.

"CURTIS HELPED KEEP UP OUR SPIRITS BY SINGING AND WE TALKED TO EACH OTHER, BUT AFTER A WHILE WE GOT SO COLD OUR TEETH WERE CHATTERING SO WE COULDN'T TALK," HE SAID.

BUSH COMMENTED THAT IT WAS SO COLD "I DON'T THINK WE COULD HAVE HELD ON TO THE DINGHEY ANOTHER HALF HOUR."

JUN 14 1943

"WHEN THE BRITISH BOAT FINALLY ARRIVED IT LOOKED AS BIG AS THE NORMANDIE TO US," HE SAID. "AS WE WERE BEING PICKED UP HUTHER PASSED OUT AND CREWMEN ON THE BOAT JUMPED IN THE WATER AND RESCUED HIM."

ALL MEMBERS OF THE CREW EXCEPT THOSE HOSPITALIZED HAVE BEEN ASSIGNED TO A NEW FORTRESS AND ARE BACK ON DUTY.

JUN 14 1943

3021 1969

FOLKESTONE, ENGLAND, JUNE 13-(AP)-BRITISH SOLDIERS ON LEAVE FOR THE ANNUAL WHITSUN HOLIDAY PROMENADED WITH THEIR SWEETHEARTS TODAY ON MACHINEGUN ROW--WHERE MESSERSCHMITTS ONCE STALKED THE RUNWAY ALONG THE FOLKESTONE CLIFFWALK AND THE DOVER ROAD--BUT THIS WHITSUN IT WAS THE GERMANS ACROSS THE SUNLIT STRAIT WHO HAD NO HOLIDAY FROM THE FEVERED ANTI-INVASION DIG-IN.

ONLY WAR-IMPOSED TRAVEL RESTRICTIONS KEPT OUT OF BRITAIN'S ERST-WHILE CAULDRON CORNER THE HOLIDAY CROWDS WHICH THRONGED OTHER RESORTS.

THE DAY WAS CLEAR, WITH WINDCHOP FLECKING THE NARROW STRAIT--AND ON THESE BRIGHT DAYS THE NAZI-GUARDED OPPOSITE COAST CAN BE SEEN SO CLEARLY THAT FRESH EARTHFALLS OF THE CONTINUING GERMAN DEFENSE WORKS ARE VISIBLE.

JUN 14 1943

WAR-WISE CHILDREN, SPRAWLING IN THE POPPY-SPRINKLED GRASS PLOTS ON THE LEES, WENT ON PLAYING THROUGH THE OCCASIONAL BARK OF BRITISH LIGHT COASTAL GUNS SOME DISTANCE AWAY.

PLANES KEPT A STEADY PATROL OVERHEAD. A TOWNSMAN CHUCKLED AS HE POINTED TO WINGED OUTLINES STREAKING OUT FROM THE NEARBY DOVER CLIFFTOPS TO SKIM OVER THE WAVES TOWARD FRANCE.

"AND THOSE AREN'T BLUEBIRDS," HE SAID.

BY WILLIAM McGAFFIN

MOSCOW, JUNE 13-(AP)-REPORTS OF 700-PLANE RAIDS AND 600-TON BOMB BLOWS BY RUSSIAN AIRMEN WERE INTERPRETED BY MILITARY OBSERVERS TODAY AS INCREASING EVIDENCE THAT THE SOVIETS WERE JOINING WHOLEHEARTEDLY IN THE ROOSEVELT-CHURCHILL PLAN TO TRY KNOCKING GERMANY AND ITALY OUT OF THE WAR BY AIR, WHILE THE ALLIES WERE PREPARING TO OPEN A SECOND EUROPEAN LAND FRONT.

JUN 14 1943

THE RUSSIAN AIR FORCE HAS GROWN RATHER THAN DIMINISHED, DURING THE

TWO YEARS OF WAR WITH GERMANY. TODAY IT IS RATED AT ITS PEAK, DELIVERING HARDER ATTACKS THAN EVER BEFORE AND EXACTING A MORE SERIOUS TOLL OF THE GERMAN AIR RAIDERS.

THE LONG LAND FRONT REMAINED QUIET, SAVE FOR ARTILLERY EXCHANGES AND LOCAL ATTACKS IN WHICH THE RUSSIANS SAID ABOUT 750 GERMANS WERE KILLED OVERNIGHT. THE NOON COMMUNIQUE SAID NO IMPORTANT CHANGES TOOK PLACE AT THE FRONT.

A GERMAN INFANTRY BATTALION ATTACK UNDER MORTAR COVER WAS REPORTED REPULSED IN A SHORT ENGAGEMENT WEST OF ROSTOV IN WHICH 120 OF THE FOE WERE KILLED. THE FLEEING NAZIS WERE SAID TO HAVE ABANDONED LARGE QUANTITIES OF MATERIEL.

JUN 14 1943

TWO ARTILLERY BATTERIES AND 18 DUGOUTS WERE DECLARED DEMOLISHED IN THE BELGOROD AREA ALONG THE DONETS FRONT, AND AROUND SEVSK BIG RUSSIAN GUNS SHELLED AN ENEMY COLUM, KILLING 100.

(THE GERMAN COMMUNIQUE SAID THE ONLY LAND ACTION IN RUSSIA CONSISTED OF LOCAL ATTACKS IN THE KUBAN BRIDGEHEAD IN THE WESTERN CAUCASUS AND IN THE BELEV AREA, 60 MILES NORTH OF OREL. THE GERMANS SAID THEY BOMBED OIL REFINERIES AT SARATOV ON THE MIDDLE VOLGA AND THE RAIL JUNCTION OF JELEZ AND DAMAGED TWO MEDIUM-SIZED MERCHANT SHIPS OFF THE RYBACHI PENINSULA IN THE NORTH.

(THE GERMAN RADIO, IN AN INTERNATIONAL INFORMATION BUREAU PROPAGANDA DISPATCH, SAID THE RUSSIANS CONTINUED TO ATTACK AT OREL IN VAIN. GERMAN LINES WERE REPORTED SHELLED HEAVILY AND RAIDED BY LOW-FLYING STORMOVIK PLANES. THE ACCOUNT SAID THE GERMANS DESTROYED 19 PLANES AND LOST ONE.

JUN 14 1943

(THE BERLIN RADIO ALSO ASSERTED THAT LIGHT GERMAN NAVAL UNITS BOMBARDED THE RUSSIAN AZOV SEA HARBOR OF AKHTYRSKAYA FRIDAY, SEVERELY DAMAGING PIERS AND OTHER INSTALLATIONS. SOVIET WARSHIPS WERE SAID TO HAVE BEEN DRIVEN BACK WHEN THEY ATTEMPTED TO ATTACK, AND THE GERMAN FORMATIONS WERE SAID TO HAVE RETURNED TO BASE WITHOUT LOSS.)

RUSSIAN TROOPS IN THE CENTER BROKE INTO ENEMY TRENCHES, KILLED 40 GERMANS AND TOOK PRISONERS BEFORE RETURNING TO THEIR UNITS, THE NOON COMMUNIQUE SAID.

JUN 14 1943

A DISPATCH FROM THE RED FLEET REPORTED QUICKENING AIR ACTIVITY OVER THE BALTIC, IN THE AREA AROUND LENINGRAD.

"INTENSIVE BATTLES TOOK PLACE IN THE AIR IN WHICH THE ENEMY SUFFERED CONSIDERABLE LOSSES," THE DISPATCH SAID.

BY DANIEL DE LUCE

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 13-(AP)~~-ITALY LOST HER~~ Add Mediterranean

ONE OF THE LAST RAIDS ON LAMPEDUSA YESTERDAY, JUST BEFORE ITS FALL, WAS DESCRIBED GRAPHICALLY BY CAPT.WILLIAM H.MORTON OF OWENSBORO, KY., A MITCHELL PILOT, WHO SAID "EVERYTHING WAS AS QUIET AND PEACEFUL AS A SUNDAY AFTERNOON--THERE WASN'T A SINGLE BURST OF FLAK AND NOT AN ENEMY FIGHTER IN SIGHT."

JUN 14 1943

A13

MORTON SAID HE DID NOT SEE THE ISLAND UNTIL HE WAS WITHIN 10 MILES OF IT, AND THEN IT SEEMED TO RISE UP OUT OF THE WATER SUDDENLY LIKE A BIG STICK, WITH ITS 300-FOOT CLIFFS.

"ON THE WAY OUT WE SAW A FLOTILLA OF DESTROYERS IN BATTLE FORMATION APPROACHING THE ISLAND," HE SAID. "AS WE CAME NEARER OUR TARGET I SAW

CRUISERS WEAVING AND CIRCLING A FEW MILES OFF SHORE, THROWING BROAD-SIDES INTO THE FORTIFICATIONS. THE SHORE BATTERIES HAD ALREADY BEEN KNOCKED OUT, OR ELSE THE GUNNERS WERE ASLEEP AS THERE WAS NO ANSWER
ING FIRE FROM SHORE."

AFTER HIS BOMBARDIER, LIEUT.GEORGE GHETIA OF CLEVELAND, O., GOT TH
BOMBS AWAY MORTON SAID "I COULD SEE DUST AND DEBRIS SETTLING WHERE TH BARRACKS AND RADIO STATION HAD BEEN."

MORTON TOOK OFF ON YESTERDAY'S MISSION AS A FIRST LIEUTENANT, AND HIS CAPTAIN'S COMMISSION CAME THROUGH WHILE HE WAS IN THE AIR.

"IT'S GOING TO BE HARD FINDING CIGARS TO PASS OUT TO THE BOYS," HE COMMENTED.

A157 June 13 JUN 14 1943

LAMPEDUSA--[redacted] ADD CAPTURE (BY LEE) X X X ~~BEGINS THE~~

THE LIEUTENANT SIGNALLED THE DESTROYER AND WENT OUT TO BRING THE LANDING CRAFT INSIDE. THE ITALIAN GESTURED WITH HIS HAND AND THE TROOPS, GRIMY, WEARY MEN IN DIRTY GREEN UNIFORMS BEGAN CLAMBERING FROM THEIR BATTERED BUT STILL EFFECTIVE SHORE FORTIFICATIONS, DRAGGING THE GUNS THEY HAD TRAINED ON US DURING THE PARLEY. THROUGH THE RUBBLED RUINS OF THE TOWN THEY MARCHED TO ASSEMBLE ON THE OPEN SQUARE BEFORE A 20-FOOT CROSS IN MEMORIAL TO THE WORLD WAR.

JUN 14 1943

30.24-4971

A LITTLE DISTANCE AWAY A BONFIRE GREW AND PAPER ASHES DRIFTED
ACROSS THE HARBOR. A FEW ROUNDS OF RIFLE AMMUNITION ALSO WERE DESTROYED WITH SHARP CRACKS BEFORE THE GUARDS ARRIVED TO TAKE CHARGE.

THE SAD OLD ITALIAN AT MY REQUEST WROTE HIS AND THE GOVERNOR'S NAMES IN MY NOTEBOOK: "BERNARDINO ORAZIO, FIRST GOVERNOR, CAPITANO VASCELLO. MARESCO ODERISIO, CAPITANO DE CORVELLO, SECOND OF MARINE."

"WE CEASED TO RESIST AT TWO O'CLOCK, BUT YOU KEPT ON GIVING US BOMBS AND SHELLS," ODERISIO TOLD ME.

"WHY DIDN'T YOU NOTIFY US?" I INQUIRED. JUN 14 1943

"WE TRIED, BUT THE WIRELESS---"

HIS SHRUG SPOKE VOLUMES. "WE HAD ONLY WHITE FLAGS--LITTLE WHITE FLAGS," HE SAID. "NOW FINISHED."

AS WE TALKED ILL-DRESSED CIVILIANS BEGAN APPEARING FROM CAVERN
SHELTERS WITH BUNDLES OF CLOTHING, RETURNING TO HOMES THEY APPARENTLY HAD FEARED TO OCCUPY DAY OR NIGHT.

ON-LOOKERS WHO NUDGED ONE ANOTHER SPECULATING IN SOTTO VOICE ON M
IDENTITY WERE KEENLY INTERESTED WHEN I PRODUCED MY NOTEBOOK. ONE
PRESSED CLOSE AND THEN RETIRED TO THE OTHERS AND HOARSELY WHISPERED
SOMETHING WHICH SOUNDED LIKE "AMERICANO CORRESPONDENTE." THE CROWD
LOOKED SURPRISED AND OGLED ME WITH RENEWED CURIOSITY. APPARENTLY TH
LAST THING THEY EXPECTED AT THEIR LITTLE SURRENDER PARTY WAS AN AMERICAN REPORTER. JUN 14 1943

A GUARDS CAPTAIN WEARING A BLACK BERET HAS JUST COME ASHORE AND GRAVELY ANNOUNCED THAT THE DESTRUCTION OF AMMUNITION AND PAPERS HAS BEEN ORDERED TO CEASE. ANOTHER BIT OF THE WAR HAS BEEN WON. WE ARE RETURNING TO OUR SHIP SOON FOR THE NEXT PHASE.

JUN 14 1943

BY PAUL KERN LEE

ABOARD THE BRITISH DESTROYER LOOKOUT, JUNE 13-(AP)-~~THIRTY-FIVE~~ (ADD) FIVE

THE OFFICERS ABOARD THIS SHIP EFFECTED LAMPEDUSA'S SURRENDER YESTERDAY, AND THEN WERE ASSIGNED TO PATROL ALONE OFF THE ISLAND IN CASE THE GUARDS ASHORE HAD ANY TROUBLE.

AT 9:35 P.M. THE GERMANS STRUCK. I WAS TYPING IN THE SHIP'S OFFICE WHEN THE ALARM SOUNDED AND RUSHED TO THE BRIDGE JUST IN TIME TO SEE AND ESCAPE THE MACHINE-GUNNING SWOOP OF THE FIRST PLANE.

A SECOND PLANE DIVED AND RELEASED ITS BOMBS WITH A BLOOD-CHILLING SCREECH. THE DESTROYER SWERVED. THE BOMBS MISSED BUT THEIR EXPLOSIONS ROCKED THE SHIP AS IF SOME GIANT HAND HAD REACHED OUT OF THE SEA TO SHAKE US UNTIL OUR TEETH CHATTERED.

JUN 14 1943

FOR THE NEXT HALF HOUR I WATCHED A BATTLE FASCINATING IN ITS DEADLY DANGER. THE BOMBERS DROVE IN AT ALL ANGLES, RELEASING BIG BOMBS AND SMALL CLUSTERS OF ANTI-PERSONNEL EXPLOSIVES, AND FIRING THEIR CANNON AND MACHINEGUNS.

EVERY GUN ON THIS SHIP WAS TALKING BACK WITH A MURDEROUS ROAR, VIVID FLASHES LIGHTED THE ENTIRE AREA AS ONE SHIP FOUGHT THE GERMAN HORDE.

THE AXIS AIRMEN OBVIOUSLY HAD HOPED TO CATCH THE ENTIRE NAVAL SQUADRON HERE AT LAMPEDUSA, BUT THE OTHER VESSELS WERE OFF ON VARIOUS MISSIONS.

JUN 14 1943

LIEUT.COMMANDER GEORGE FORMAN OF LONDON, OUR CAPTAIN, LEANED ON THE BINNACLE, CALMLY DIRECTING: "STARBOARD 15; PORT 20 MIDSHIPS."

HIS MANEUVERING SKILL SAVED US FROM THE BOMB HAIL WHICH TOUCHED OFF GEYSERS ALL AROUND US. FRAGMENTS SHOWERED OUR DECKS.

OUR CAPTAIN HAD HAD ONE SHIP SUNK UNDER HIM BY DIVE-BOMBERS EARLY IN THE WAR, BUT APPEARED TO BE A LITTLE DISDAINFUL OF THIS ASSAULT.

SOMETHING CLANKED NEARBY.

"WAS THAT A FRAGMENT OR BULLET?" I ASKED.

A YOUNG SEAMAN, EYES GLUED TO HIS GLASSES AT A LOOKOUT POSITION, SAID: "FRANKLY, I THINK IT WAS MY KNEES KNOCKING TOGETHER."

ALL THEIR BOMBS EXPENDED, THE RAIDERS FINALLY DEPARTED, AND OUR PATROLLING SHIP WAS REJOINED TODAY BY THE FLAGSHIP. THIS EXCHANGE OF MESSAGES OCCURRED:

JUN 14 1943

FLAGSHIP: "I'M SORRY ABOUT THE BOMBING LAST NIGHT. HAD NOT EXPECTED IT. HOPE YOU HAD NO DAMAGE."

DESTROYER: "ONLY CROCKERY AND INTERNAL WOODWORK. ABOUT 25 ATTACKS."

FLAGSHIP: "VERY UNPLEASANT, IN MY OPINION. WAS OUR WARNING LAST NIGHT ANY GOOD TO YOU?"

DESTROYER: "YES, ATTACK WAS ABOUT TWO MINUTES AFTERWARDS."

FLAGSHIP: "ADMIRED YOUR BARRAGE FROM DISTANCE--FROM FRONT ROW STALLS. DO YOU KNOW HOW MANY BOMBERS WERE PRESENT? OUR PLOT ROOM MADE 100, BUT WE THINK THIS EXAGGERATED."

DESTROYER: "THAT'S WHAT IT FELT LIKE."

CAIRO, JUNE 13-(AP)-LIEUT. GEN. LEWIS H. BRERETON, COMMANDER OF THE NINTH U.S. AIR FORCE, DECORATED 14 AMERICAN FLIERS MX THE HEAVY BOMBARDMENT GROUP AT THE U.S. AIR BASE YESTERDAY.

JUN 14 1943

SILVER STARS WERE AWARDED COL. JOHN R. (KILLER) KANE OF SHREVEPORT, LA., BOMBER GROUP COMMANDER, AND MAJOR WILLIAM C. JONES OF SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS.

JUN 14 1943

30.24-4973

FIRST LIEUT. WILBUR E. BRYANT OF WILMINGTON, N.C., RECEIVED THE SOLDIERS MEDAL.

DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSSES IN RECOGNITION OF ACHIEVEMENTS "WHILE PARTICIPATING IN AERIAL FLIGHT AGAINST THE ENEMY" WENT TO LIEUTENANTS JACK W. KABOTH, MIDLAND, TEXAS; JOHN S. YOUNG, DALLAS, TEXAS; STAFF SERGEANTS EARL L. WAGNER, JERSEY, VA.; HENRY O. ENGLISH, OGLETHORPE, GA.; AND WILLIAM J. FAY, MINNEAPOLIS; TECHNICAL SERGT. ROBERT L. BAIRD OF HOUSTON, MISS. SERGEANTS RAY M. BAITY, JR., WILMINGTON, DEL.; HENRY J. KLAPPERICH, PORTLAND, ORE.; HARRY J. KAMINSKE, GRAND RAPIDS, MICH.; JOSEPH J. FASANO OF LONG ISLAND CITY, NEW YORK; AND CHARLES A. LAWSON, PITTSBURGH, PA.

JUN 14 1943

KANE WON THE SILVER STAR FOR "GALLANTRY IN ACTION WHILE SERVING AS A PILOT OF A FOUR-ENGINED BOMBER ON A HAZARDOUS MISSION," THE CITATION READ, "HIS PLANE BECAME SEPARATED FROM ALL OTHER AIRCRAFT OF HIS FORMATION IN MAKING A SECOND RUN ON AN IMPORTANT TARGET. WHEN SEPARATED, HIS AIRCRAFT WAS ATTACKED BY AN ENEMY PURSUIT SHIP FROM THE REAR. ALTHOUGH THE TAIL AND TOP TURRET OF THE BOMBER BECOME INOPERATIVE, KANE SUCCESSFULLY OUT-MANEUVERED THE ATTACKING MESSERSCHMITT-110 THROUGH EIGHT DIFFERENT ATTACKS, IN SUCH A WAY AS TO FORCE THE ENEMY TO EXHAUST ALL HIS AMMUNITION AND EVENTUALLY BREAK OFF THE ATTACK WITHOUT ANY APPRECIABLE DAMAGE BEING SUFFERED BY THE BOMBER."

JONES GOT THE SILVER STAR FOR GALLANTRY ON LAST NEW YEAR'S DAY. HIS FOUR-ENGINED BOMBER HAD COMPLETED A SUCCESSFUL MISSION AND WAS ATTACKED WHILE MAKING A NIGHT LANDING AT AN ADVANCED AMERICAN AIR BASE. IGNORING ENEMY STRAFING, JONES CALMLY TAXIED THE PLANE IN. THE CITATION SAID "HIS ACTIONS EXEMPLIFIED THE HIGHEST STANDARDS

JUN 14 1943

OF GALLANTRY THROUGH HIS PERSONAL BRAVERY AND COOLNESS UNDER FIRE, OVER AND ABOVE THE CALL OF DUTY."

JUN 14 1943

BRYANT GOT THE SOLDIERS MEDAL FOR HEROISM APRIL 1 AT THE SCENE OF AN AIRPLANE CRASH IN THE WESTERN DESERT. A HEAVY BOMBER LOADED WITH DEPTH CHARGES CRASHED AND BURST INTO FLAMES, BUT JONES ENTERED THE BLAZING WRECKAGE AND REMOVED THE PILOT TO SAFETY.

NEW DELHI, INDIA, JUNE 13-(AP)-RAF LIBERATOR BOMBERS SMASHED RAILWAY YARDS AT MANDALAY LAST NIGHT, FOLLOWING UP A DAYLIGHT ATTACK BY BOMBERS OF THE 10TH U.S.ARMY AIR FORCE, A BRITISH COMMUNIQUE ANNOUNCED TODAY.

A SERIES OF SMALL EXPLOSIONS AND A LARGE FIRE OCCURRED AFTER THE LIBERATORS LAID SEVERAL TONS OF BOMBS ACROSS THE TARGET AREA, IT WAS SAID.

JUN 14 1943

DURING THE DAY, BOMBING PLANES GAVE THE JETTY AREA ON THE MAYU RIVER SOUTH OF BUTHEDAUNG ITS SECOND PASTING IN THREE DAYS, LEAVING AN ARMAMENT DEPOT IN FLAMES AND SMOKE, AND FOUR FORMATIONS OF HURRICANES MACHINE-GUNNED MANY DIFFERENT TARGETS, INCLUDING AN ENEMY HEADQUARTERS NEAR THE BURMA-INDIA BORDER, DURING OFFENSIVE SWEEPS, THE BRITISH SAID.

A SMALL BRIDGE ACROSS THE KALE VALLEY NEAR KALEWA WAS DESTROYED AND LOW LEVEL ATTACKS WERE MADE ON KALEMYO, IT WAS ANNOUNCED. OTHER ATTACKS WERE CARRIED OUT BETWEEN TAUNGUP AND GWA BAY, AND A JAPANESE BOAT WAS LEFT SINKING OFF RAMREE ISLAND, ON THE COAST OF THE BAY OF BENGAL.

NO PLANES WERE LOST ON ANY OF THE MISSIONS, THE BRITISH SAID. IN ADDITION A BOMBER REPORTED MISSING AFTER AN ATTACK ON KALEWA LAST WEDNESDAY WAS LEARNED TO HAVE LANDED, ITS CREW SAFE, ON ALLIED TERRITORY.

CHUNGKING, JUNE 13-(AP)-THE CHINESE HIGH COMMAND ANNOUNCED TODAY THE RECAPTURE OF SUNGTZE, A YANGTZE RIVER PORT BETWEEN ICHANG AND SHASI, AND SAID "THE STREETS WERE STREWN WITH CORPSES."

"OUR FORCES ALSO SEIZED BIG QUANTITIES OF SUPPLIES," THE COMMUNIQUE SAID.

IT REPORTED THAT THE RECAPTURE OF SUNGTZE, WHICH FURTHER THREATENS THE JAPANESE BASE AT ICHANG, WAS PRECEDED BY THE FALL OF OTHER JAPANESE-HELD POINTS.

BY TOM YARBROUGH

JUN 14 1943

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, MONDAY, JUNE 14-(AP)-~~RABAUL'S~~

IN THE MORESBY AREA FOUR ENEMY PLANES DROPPED SIX BOMBS HARMLESSLY IN THE BUSH. THERE WAS NO EXPLANATION WHY THAT MANY PLANES DROPPED NO MORE BOMBS.

A SMALL FORCE OF MITCHELLS RAIDED DILI AND KOEPANG, IN DUTCH TIMOR.

OTHER JAPANESE POINTS ATTACKED INCLUDED MALAHANG AIRDROME AT LAE AND TRACKS AND TRAILS IN THE KOMIATUM AREA OF NEW GUINEA.

SOMEWHERE IN AUSTRALIA, JUNE 13-(AP)-TWENTY MORE AMERICAN RED CROSS RECREATION WORKERS HAVE ARRIVED FROM THE UNITED STATES AND AWAIT ASSIGNMENTS TO REET CAMPS AND SERVICE CLUBS FOR AMERICAN TROOPS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC.

THE GROUP WAS LED BY ALICE THOMPSON OF STATE COLLEGE, PA., WHOSE SISTER, HILDA, HAS BEEN IN AUSTRALIA FOR SOME TIME AS A CLUB DIRECTOR. SHE DID NOT KNOW THAT ALICE WAS ON HER WAY HERE.

OTHERS IN THE PARTY, WHICH REPORTED AN UNEVENTFUL OCEAN VOYAGE, INCLUDED HELEN A.HASSLEY AND VERA R.BASSETT OF WEST HARTFORD, CONN.; CLARA COHEN, HARTFORD, CONN.; RUTH NAYLOR, PUNXSUTAWNEY, PA.; DOROTHY A.DUBOIS, WASHINGTON, D.C.; RUTH MARY HALL, 1018 WEST 4TH ST., REDWING, MINN.; VIRGINIA FINLAYSON, LOCUST VALLEY, N.Y.; BARBARA BREDIN, NEW HOPE, PA.

JUN 14 1943

LOUISE GATEWOOD, WESTMORELAND ROAD, RICHMOND, VA.; ANN LEWIS WALDENBURG, 194 BERKELEY PL., BROOKLYN, N.Y.; LOIS D.ELLIMAN, 7 OAKLANE, SCARSDALE, N.Y.; ANNETTE ROBIN 340 WEST 72ND ST., NEW YORK, N.Y.; ANNIE LAURIE BURTON, PROSPECT HILL, N.C.;FRANCES A.COCHANIDES, 624 STATE ST., ERIE, PA.; ALLISON CHOAT, STROUDWATER ROAD, PORTLAND, MAINE; JANE AMES, 110 SOUTH SANDUSKY ST., COLUMBUS, O.

AALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA,MONDAY,JUNE 14-(AP)-FOUR-ENGINED ALLIED BOMBERS DROPPED NEARLY THIRTY TONS OF EXPLOSIVES ON RABAUL, NEW BRITAIN, IN A TWO-HOUR NIGHT RAID SUNDAY, THE HIGH COMMAND REPORTED TODAY.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA--FIRST ADD AUSTRALIAN XXX REPORTED TODAY.

JUN 14 1943

RABAUL IS THE BIG JAPANESE HARBOR AND AIRDROME BASE AT THE NORTHEAST TIP OF NEW BRITAIN ISLAND.

THE NOON COMMUNIQUE REPORTED TWO SMALL ATTACKS BY JAPANESE PLANES ON ALLIED BASES. FOUR PLANES RAIDED PORT MORESBY AND THREE STRUCK AT GONA ON THE NORTHEAST COAST OF NEW GUINEA. NEITHER ATTACK CAUSED ANY DAMAGE.

JUN 14 1943

30.24-4975

BOTH RAIDS WERE MADE AT NIGHT. SIX BOMBS WERE DROPPED IN THE PORT MORESBY AREA BUT ALL FELL HARMLESSLY IN THE BUSH.

THE ATTACK AT RABAUL WAS DIRECTED AT VUNAKANAU AIRDROME. EXPLOSIVES AND INCENDIARIES WERE DROPPED ON THE RUNWAY AND DISPERSAL AREAS AMONG GROUNDED PLANES.

"NUMEROUS LARGE FIRES WERE STARTED AND WERE VISIBLE FOR 50 MILES," THE COMMUNIQUE SAID. "SEARCHLIGHT AND ANTI-AIRCRAFT DEFENSES WERE ACTIVE.

"WE HAD NO LOSSES."

JUN 14 1943

ALLIED PLANES ALSO BOMBED GASMATA AIRDROME, DESTROYING AN ENEMY BOMBER ON THE GROUND, AND STRAFED AND BOMBED ENEMY TRACKS AND TRAILS IN THE KOMIATUM AREA.

MELBOURNE, MONDAY, JUNE 14-(AP)-AUSTRALIA'S HIGHEST COURT DECIDED TODAY THE SUPPRESSION OF THE JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES ORGANIZATION UNDER THE NATIONAL SECURITY SUBVERSIVE ASSOCIATIONS REGULATIONS WAS INVALID.

THE DECISION OF THE FULL COURT WAS BY A 3 TO 2 VOTE OF THE JUDGES.

ALBROOK FIELD, CANAL ZONE, JUNE 13-(AP)-THE FOUR-ENGINED CLIPPER RAINBOW LANDED HERE AT 3:15 P.M.TODAY INAUGURATING PAN AMERICAN AIRWAYS NEW NEW ORLEANS-BALBOA AIR LINE WHICH CONNECTS THE MISSISSIPPI VALLEY WITH LATIN AMERICA BY A SHORT AND DIRECT ROUTE.

JUN 14 1943

THE ROUTE IS THE FOURTH COMMERCIAL AIR LINK BETWEEN THE CONTINENTS AND TODAY'S FLIGHT FOLLOWS A NUMBER OF EXPERIMENTAL TRIPS BETWEEN THE POINTS.

SANTIAGO, CHILE, JUNE 12-(AP)-TEN THOUSAND PERSONS GATHERED HERE TONIGHT TO PAY HOMAGE TO THE FLAGS OF THE UNITED NATIONS IN A CELEBRATION OF THE PRO-DEMOCRACY ORGANIZATION, "UNION FOR VICTORY."

AMONG THOSE ATTENDING WERE BRITISH AMBASSADOR CHARLES ORDE, SECRETARY OF THE UNITED STATES EMBASSY CLARENCE BROOKS AND DIPLOMATIC REPRESENTATIVES OF OTHER ALLIED NATIONS.

JUN 14 1943

THE NAME OF PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT WAS CHEERED AS IT WAS PRONOUNCED IN AN ADDRESS BY ENRIQUE PIZZI PORRAS, CUBAN MINISTER.

TORONTO, JUNE 13-(AP)-A CONFERENCE OF COMMUNIST REPRESENTATIVES FROM DIFFERENT PARTS OF CANADA TODAY UNANIMOUSLY ENDORSED A PROPOSAL BY TIM BUCK, DOMINION COMMUNIST LEADER, THAT A NATIONAL CONSTITUENT CONVENTION BE HELD HERE AUG. 21-22 FOR THE PURPOSE OF ESTABLISHING A POLITICAL PARTY.

IN A STATEMENT ISSUED AFTER TODAY'S CONFERENCE, IT WAS ANNOUNCED THE DOMINION INITIATIVE COMMITTEE (CAPS DIC) HAD BEEN SET UP TO MAKE PREPARATIONS FOR THE AUGUST CONSTITUENT CONVENTION.

"OTHER INITIATIVE COMMITTEES WILL BE SET UP ON A PROVINCIAL SCALE AND OFFICIALS OF THE COMMUNIST-LABOR TOTAL WAR COMMITTEE (CAPS CLTWC) MOVEMENT PLEDGED FULL CO-OPERATION IN PREPARING FOR THE PROPOSED CONVENTION," THE STATEMENT SAID.

JUN 14 1943

THE STATEMENT SAID BUCK DECLARED: "TO MAKE OUR FULL CONTRIBUTION TO THE WAR EFFORT, TO MAKE OUR INFLUENCE FELT IN THE EFFORT TO ACHIEVE VTHE NATIONAL POLICIES INDICATED ABOVE, THE SUPPORTERS OF COMMUNIST POLICIES IN CANADA MUST BE UNITED IN THEIR OWN POLITICAL PARTY. THE NUMBER OF COMMUNISTS IN CANADA AND THE CONTRIBUTION THAT WE CAN MAKE

JUN 14 1943

TO OUR NATIONAL LIFE DEMANDS OUR UNIFICATION IN A PUBLIC DOMINION-WIDE ORGANIZATION.

"DISSOLUTION OF THE COMINTERN HAS REMOVED THE LAST OBSTACLE TO THE ESTABLISHMENT OF SUCH A PARTY. IT HAS REMOVED EVERY VESTIGE OF EXCUSE FOR ANYBODY TO RENDER JUDGMENT UPON CANADIAN COMMUNISTS ON ANY BASIS OTHER THAN OUR OWN DECLARED AIMS AND PURPOSES AND OUR OWN ACTIONS."

DECLARING HE HAD ",9 $3'843 59 3,534 8,59 :

JUN 14 1943

DECLARING HE HAD "NO DESIRE TO ENTER INTO CONTROVERSY" WITH JUSTICE MINISTER ST.LAURENT "ON THE REAL EFFECT OF THE DISSOLUTION OF THE COMINTERN UPON THE DEFENSE OF CANADA REGULATIONS," BUCK CONTINUED:

"WE ARE COMMUNISTS. WE HAVE A PART TO PLAY IN THE WINNING OF THE WAR AND THE BUILDING OF CANADA. WE CAN PLAY THAT PART ONLY BY PUTTING FORTH AND FIGHTING FOR COMMUNIST PROPOSALS AND POLICIES ON EVERY ISSUE OF NATIONAL LIFE. WE CAN DO THAT MOST EFFECTIVELY ONLY BY UNITING OURSELVES IN OUR PARTY AND FIGHTING UNDER OUR OWN POLITICAL BANNER IN SYSTEMATIC PARLIAMENTARY, EDUCATIONAL AND ORGANIZATIONAL ACTIVITY IN EVERY CORNER OF CANADA.

"THE PROGRAM AND CONSTITUTION OF SUCH A PARTY MUST BE DETERMINED BY DELEGATES ASSEMBLED IN REGULAR CONSTITUENT CONVENTION. . ."

BUCK WAS APPOINTED CHAIRMAN OF THE NEW COMMITTEE.

JUN 14 1943

I[illegible]ETING WAR NEWS (Previous is on sheet 30-24-4922 & 4923

BY GL[illegible]BA[illegible]

MUCH DISCUSSION OF "THE INVASION" LEAVES OUT OF ACCOUNT THE LARGEST ALLIED ARMY OF THEM ALL, RUSSIA'S RED ARMY NOW POISED FOR ITS THIRD SUMMER OF BATTLE WITH HITLER. IN THE END THE BROAD HIGHWAY BETWEEN THE BLACK SEA AND THE BALTIC MAY BE THE MOST IMPORTANT "INVASION ROUTE" OF THEM ALL. IF THE GERMAN ARMIES ARE BROKEN IN THE EAST THIS SUMMER THE RUSSIANS MAY BE THE FIRST INTO BERLIN.

MEANWHILE, HOWEVER, THE AID WHICH MUST BE GIVEN THE RED ARMY TO ENABLE IT TO WITHSTAND HITLER'S SUMMER OFFENSIVE LOOMS LARGE IN THE ALLIES' PLANS. THIS BRINGS US BACK TO THE MEDITERRANEAN AND SCANDINAVIA.

CLEARING THE MEDITERRANEAN IS OBVIOUSLY THE ALLIES' MOST IMMEDIATE OBJECTIVE. THIS IS TO BECOME THE MAIN ARTERY OF THE WHOLE GLOBAL ALLIED SUPPLY SYSTEM. IT WILL CARRY MEN AND MACHINES TO THE EASTERN MEDITERRANEAN, THROUGH THE PERSIAN GULF TO RUSSIA, TO INDIA AND THE BURMA THEATER, WHICH SEEMS DESTINED TO SEE MAJOR OPERATIONS THIS FALL, TO CHINA AND PERHAPS EVEN TO THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC.

THE ISLANDS CLEARLY MARKED FOR REDUCTION ARE SICILY AND SARDINIA (AND PERHAPS CORSICA) BY THE FORCES IN NORTHWEST AFRICA, AND CRETE, THE ITALIAN DODECANESE AND THE GERMAN-HELD GREEK AEGEAN ISLANDS BY THOSE OF THE MIDDLE EAST.

JUN 14 1943

IN CLEARING THE WEST-EAST ROUTE THE ALLIES WILL ALSO OPEN SOUTH-NORTH PATHS OF INVASION, AMONG WHICH MAY BE THESE, LISTING THEM FROM EAST TO WEST AND MAKING NO ATTEMPT TO RANK THEM IN TIME OR IMPORTANCE:

1. FROM EGYPT, SYRIA OR CYPRUS (OR ALL THREE) AGAINST THE BALKANS FROM THE SOUTHEAST, ENGULFING THE AXIS ISLANDS EN ROUTE. THE INCREASING BENEVOLENCE OF TURKEY'S NEUTRALITY MIGHT BE A BIG HELP HERE. A SUCCESSFUL WATER CROSSING WOULD BRING ALLIED ARMIES TO THE HISTORIC ROUTE OF INVASION BY WHICH THE ALLIES OF 1918 BROKE THE CENTRAL EUROPEAN RING AND KNOCKED BULGARIA OUT OF THE WAR.

2. FROM SOMEWHERE IN NORTH AFRICA AGAINST THE ADRIATIC COAST OF THE BALKANS.

3. FROM TUNISIA AND ALGERIA, BY WAY OF SICILY OR SARDINIA OR BOTH, AGAINST THE ITALIAN MAINLAND. THERE ARE HINTS, HOWEVER, THAT ITALY IS BECOMING THE LAND NOBODY WANTS. THERE ARE REPORTS THAT THE GERMANS MAY LEAVE HER TO DO THE BEST SHE CAN WITH HER OWN DEFENSE, MAKING THE ALPS THEIR REAL SOUTHERN BARRIER. THERE IS ALSO A BODY OF ALLIED OPINION WHICH HOLDS THAT OCCUPATION OF ITALY WOULD BRING A LIABILITY RATHER THAN AN ASSET AND WOULD NOT PROVIDE A FEASIBLE AVENUE OF ATTACK AGAINST GERMANY.

4. FROM SOMEWHERE IN NORTH AFRICA (PERHAPS BY WAY OF SARDINIA) AGAINST THE SOUTHERN COAST OF FRANCE. HITLER EVIDENTLY BELIEVES THIS A SERIOUS POSSIBILITY; HE HAS BEEN AT GREAT PAINS TO FORTIFY THIS COAST.

5. FROM MOROCCO AND GIBRALTAR THROUGH SPAIN. THIS ROUTE WOULD BE USED ONLY IF HITLER, PRESUMING ON THE FRIENDSHIP AND INDEBTEDNESS OF THE FRANCO REGIME, SHOULD FIRST THRUST INTO SPAIN IN AN ATTEMPT TO PINCH OFF THE WESTERN ENTRANCE TO THE MEDITERRANEAN.

THESE ARE FIVE POSSIBLE TRANS-MEDITERRANEAN ROUTES. BUT SCANDINAVIA MAY FEEL THE BOOTS OF ALLIED LANDING PARTIES EVEN BEFORE THE EUROPEAN "UNDERBELLY" DOES. CALL THIS NO. 6. PRESUMABLY IT WOULD APPROACH NORWAY ACROSS THE NORTH SEA OR THE OPEN ATLANTIC. NORWAY MIGHT BE ATTACKED EITHER IN THE SOUTH, SOMEWHERE IN THE NEIGHBORHOOD OF BERGEN; IN THE CENTER, WITH TRONDHEIM THE MAIN OBJECTIVE, OR THE FAR NORTH.

THE PURPOSE OF A NORTHERN ATTACK WOULD BE TO ERASE ALL THE

JUN 14 1943

30.24-4977

AIR AND SEA BASES FROM WHICH THE GERMANS PREY ON THE CONVOYS TO RUSSIA. AN ATTACK ON TRONDHEIM WOULD HAVE THE SAME GENERAL OBJECTIVE. ALSO IT MIGHT BRING THE GERMAN NAVY TO BATTLE, SINCE THE BATTLESHIP TIRPITZ AND SMALLER SHIPS HAVE BEEN BASED ON THIS COAST FOR MORE THAN A YEAR. FOR THIS REASON A SCANDINAVIAN EXPEDITION PROBABLY WOULD HAVE OVERPOWERING NAVAL SUPPORT, INCLUDING MOST OF THE BRITISH HOME FLEET. A FAR NORTHERN ATTACK MIGHT BE COORDINATED WITH A RUSSIAN THRUST ACROSS THE TOP OF FIN...D.

...LER ...NTLY FEARS THAT DENMARK ALSO MIGHT DRAW AN ALLIED ...ITION, ...IS UNDERSTOOD TO HAVE DOUBLED HIS GARRISON THERE, GREATLY STRENGTHENED THE DEFENSES. A SUCCESSFUL LANDING ON THE DANISH COAST WOULD BRING THE INVADERS NEARER THE HEART OF NAZIDOM THAN ANY OTHER, LESS THAN 300 MILES FROM BERLIN.

P...THERE ARE AT LEAST THREE OBVIOUSLY POSSIBLE ROUTES ACROSS THE NARROW SEAS BETWEEN BRITAIN AND THE CONTINENT, NAMELY:

7... STRAIGHT ACROSS THE NARROWEST PART OF THE EUROPEAN FORTRESS' ...T AGAINST THE FRENCH COAST BETWEEN DUNKERQUE AND DIEPPE, ...LY THE MOST FORMIDABLE SEGMENT OF HITLER'S ATLANTIC ... THIS, IF IT COMES, WOULD BE THE GRAND CLIMAX. IT MAY BE ...ED FOR 1944, AFTER OTHER THRUSTS HAVE ACCOMPLISHED THEIR ...PO...ES AND THE AERIAL SOFTENING UP HAS GONE THE LIMIT.

...AINST THE PENINSULA OF BRITTANY. THIS MIGHT BE A LIMITED ... ATTACK, INTENDED TO WIPE OUT THE U-BOAT BASES OF BREST, ...ST. NAZAIRE. GREAT INITIAL SUCCESS, HOWEVER, MIGHT BE ...T...D BY A DRIVE DIRECTLY INTO THE HEART OF FRANCE.

...ACROSS THE NORTH SEA AGAINST THE LOWLANDS, SEEKING TO OPEN ... OF THE CLASSIC ROADS OF INVASION, TO LIBERATE HOLLAND AND BELGIUM ...ACH FOR THE HEART OF NAZILAND.

...NO. 10 MUST BE LISTED THAT BROAD AVENUE ACROSS THE BALTIC ...STA..., POLAND AND RUMANIA BY WHICH THE RED ARMY MIGHT WIN ...E RACE FOR BERLIN.

JUN 14 1943

C KA/GH237PEW

W

LISBON, JUNE 13-(AP)-WALTER SMITH, PETROLEUM ATTACHE AT THE UNITED STATES EMBASSY IN MADRID, CONFERRED WITH THE PORTUGUESE MINISTER OF ECONOMY XXXX YESTERDAY. SMITH IS EN ROUTE TO THE UNITED STATES.

---

"LETTER FROM NEW GUINEA"

---

VERN HAUGLAND TELLS OF HIS 5 WEEKS
LOST IN JUNGLE

---

AN OBJECT LESSON
IN RELIGION (700)

---

BY MAX HILL

(ADVANCE) NEW YORK, JUNE 13-(AP)-VERN HAUGLAND THOUGHT HE WAS SURE TO DIE IN THE JUNGLES OF NEW GUINEA, HE VIRTUALLY ABANDONED HOPE FOR HIMSELF. BUT HE SURVIVED AND, IN THE SURVIVAL, LEARNED LESSONS THAT HE NEVER CAN FORGET.

HAUGLAND TELLS OF THOSE LESSONS IN A BOOK, "LETTER FROM NEW GUINEA," PUBLISHED BY FARRAR AND RINEHART, IN WHICH EACH PAGE IS A LESSON FOR THOSE WHO THINK OF GOD IN ABSTRACT TERMS.

HAUGLAND IS THE ASSOCIATED PRESS CORRESPONDENT WHO BAILED OUT OF AN AMERICAN BOMBER OVER NEW GUINEA ON AUGUST 7, 1942, AND HAD LONG BEEN GIVEN UP FOR LOST WHEN NATIVES FOUND HIM AND TOOK HIM TO MISSIONARIES WHO CARED FOR HIM.

FROM THE MOMENT HE CRASHED TO LAND UNTIL HE BECAME DELIRIOUS, HAUGLAND KEPT A DIARY, SOME OF WHICH WAS CARRIED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS AFTER HIS RESCUE.

JUN 14 1943

THE BOOK IS AN EXPANDED AND INSPIRING ACCOUNT OF HIS EXPERIENCE--ONE WORTH THE ATTENTION OF EVERY AMERICAN. HAUGLAND IS A MONTANA BOY WHO TOOK HIS RELIGION ON THE LIGHT SIDE FOR MANY YEARS. HE ACCEPTED GOD, BUT THAT WAS ABOUT ALL. HIS CONVERSION TO IMPLICIT BELIEF IN A SUPREME BEING IS FAR MORE CONVINCING THAN ALL OF THE PULPIT POUNDING AND SHOUTING I HEVE EVER HEARD.

IN SOME WAYS HIS EXPERIENCE PARALLELS MY OWN, FOR I THOUGHT I WAS TO DIE IN A JAPANESE PRISON CELL, WHERE I WAS HELD FOR SIX MONTHS AFTER PEARL HARBOR.

JUN 14 1943

AFTER THE CREW HAD PLUNGED FROM THE STRICKEN BOMBER, HAUGLAND FOUND LIEUT.JAMES AUBREY MICHAEL OF TEMPLE,OKLA., THE CO-PILOT, WHO WAS WANDERING AS HE WAS--LOST IN THE JUNGLE.

LATER THEY BECAME SEPARATED, BUT WHILE THEY WERE TOGETHER, MICHAEL SAID TO HIM:

"I DON'T WANT TO DIE YET. I'M SURE I'LL BE A BETTER MAN IF I LIVE THROUGH THIS. X X X I'LL APPRECIATE ALL OF THE LITTLE THINGS I NEVER NOTICED BEFORE. X X X BUT IF I HAVE TO DIE, I WON'T BE AFRAID TO GO."

HAUGLAND CONTINUES:

"I MET DOZENS LIKE HIM X X X--UNASSUMING, YET BRAVE AS THEY COME. EVERYTHING TO LIVE FOR, BUT CHANCING DEATH EVERY DAY."

HAUGLAND'S SMALL VOLUME IS MORE THAN A CHRONICLE OF HIS OWN EXPERIENCES. IT IS A FAIRLY COMPLETE RECORD OF CONDITIONS AND PEOPLE THAT OUR SOLDIERS MEET IN THE NEW GUINEA JUNGLES.

ONE CAN DO NO MORE IN A BRIEF REVIEW OF THIS SORT BUT SUMMARIZE WHAT HAPPENED TO HAUGLAND. HE ATE ROOTS AND BERRIES AND GRASS UNTIL, MORE THAN A MONTH LATER, HE STUMBLED INTO A NATIVE VILLAGE. HE WAS EMACIATED AND ALMOST EXHAUSTED.

"FOR TWO WEEKS I HAD NOTICED THAT THE SKIN ON MY FACE FELT EXTREMELY TIGHT, BUT I WAS NOT PREPARED TO SEE MY FACE SO FLESHLESS AND THIN, MY EYES SO SUNKEN. I WAS A LIVING CORPSE."

THE NATIVES, WHO WERE FRIENDLY AND KIND, TOOK HAUGLAND TO TWO MISSIONARIES IN ANOTHER JUNGLE VILLAGE, AND THERE, WHILE HE THOUGHT HE WAS RECOVERING, HE BECAME COMPLETELY DELIRIOUS.

"THIS WAS A PERIOD OF COMPLETE DELIRIUM, DURING ALL OF WHICH I WAS VERY CLOSE TO DEATH. IT LASTED THREE WEEKS, FROM THE TIME DARKNESS SHUTTERED MY BRAIN, IN THE MISSIONARIES' HOUSE AT SIRIMIDI, UNTIL I AWOKE IN A HOSPITAL AT PORT MORESBY.

JUN 14 1943

"THE DREAM FROM BEGINNING TO END WAS OF THE STRUGGLE BETWEEN GOD AND EVIL. IT WAS A TALE OF THE PAST AND THE FUTURE OF MAN, AS I WATCHED IT UNREEL LIKE A MOTION PICTURE IN MY INFLAMED MIND."

THIS WAS THE PERIOD IN WHICH THE RELIGIOUS ELEMENT BECAME STRONGEST. AFTER THE SAFE LANDING, HAUGLAND HAD THOUGHT LONG AND MANY TIMES ABOUT GOD, BUT NOW HE HAD CONSTANT AND PERSISTENT VISIONS WHICH GIVE THE FINAL PAGES OF "LETTER FROM NEW GUINEA" A SORT OF MYSTIC QUALITY.

JUN 14 1943

EVEN HAUGLAND CONFESSES HIS INABILITY TO EXPLAIN WHAT HAPPENED QUITE AS CLEARLY AS HE WOULD LIKE TO DO.

THIS IS AN UNUSUAL BOOK. NO OTHER CORRESPONDENT HAS WRITTEN ONE LIKE IT. CAPTAIN EDDIE RICKENBACKER TOLD OF HOW HE AND THE MEN IN THE LIFE RAFT WITH HIM TURNED ALSO TO GOD, AND THERE IS A MARKED SIMILARITY IN THE APPEAL OF THE TWO VOLUMES.

HAUGLAND NOW IS BACK AT WORK FOR THE ASSOCIATED PRESS IN THE

JUN 14 1943

30-24-4979

SOUTHWEST PACIFIC. HE SAYS IN CONCLUSION: JUN 14 1943

"THE THINGS THAT HAPPENED TO ME--THE PARACHUTE JUMP, THE WANDERINGS, THE DELIRIUM--SEEM LIKE A DREAM NOW, OR LIKE SOMETHING I READ IN A BOOK LONG AGO. LIFE IS SO VERY MUCH THE SAME, YET IT'S MUCH MORE PRECIOUS THAN BEFORE."

BUT "THOSE LESSONS, HAVING BEEN LEARNED, SHALL NOT BE FORGOTTEN."

BY JOSEPH E.DYNAN

(ADVANCE) PARAMARIBO, DUTCH GUIANA-(AP)-DUTCH GUIANA, WHERE A STEPS WERE TAKEN TO "REOPEN" THE PORT BY RAISING THE VESSEL. THEN THE DUTCH DISCOVERED THAT THE GOSLAR, INSTEAD OF CLOSING THE CHANNEL, HAD ACTUALLY IMPROVED IT. THE SHIP PROVIDED, IN EFFECT, A SHORT BREAKWATER WHICH SENT A STRONGER CURRENT CLOSER TO THE STERN BANK WHERE ENGINEERS FOUND IT WAS DREDGING A DEEPER CHANNEL.

JUN 14 1943

WHEN THE AMERICANS MOVED INTO SURINAM THE GOSLAR EVEN PROVIDED SOME EQUIPMENT. HER STEEL CABLES ARE NOW USED TO UNLOAD AMERICAN SUPPLIES ON ONE OF PARAMARIBO'S DOCKS. DISHES AND GLASSES FROM HER GALLEY HELPED FURNISH AN AMERICAN MESS, AND HER STARBOARD RUNNING LIGHT NOW DECORATES THE AMERICAN SERVICEMEN'S CLUB.

WITH AMERICAN TROOPS WELL INTO THEIR SECOND YEAR IN THIS AREA, EFFORTS ARE UNDERWAY TO OFFSET THE ENNUI OF THEIR ASSIGNMENT.

BY CONSTANT PRODDING AND PLUGGING FOR ULTRA-SCARCE MATERIALS, COL. PAUL SINGER, AMERICAN COMMANDER IN SURINAM, HAS FINALLY OBTAINED ENOUGH TO ENABLE THE USO TO CONSTRUCT A CLUBHOUSE IN DOWNTOWN PARAMARIBO, AND IT IS EXPECTED TO OPEN IN JUNE.

THE USO DIRECTOR, O.D.HUGGINS, AND HIS WIFE, FORMERLY OF OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA., HAVE BEEN DOING THEIR BEST WITH THE FEW FACILITIES AVAILABLE TO PROVIDE A PLACE FOR THE TROOPS TO RELAX.

PARAMARIBO IS NOT A LARGE TOWN AND OFFERS LITTLE DIVERSION. BEFORE THE HUGGINSES CAME IN JANUARY, THE TROOPS HAD NO RECREATION AT CAMP, AND LITTLE OR NOTHING TO DO WHEN THEY WRANGLED A PASS EVERY TWO OR THREE WEEKS.

JUN 14 1943

THE USO WAS NOTHING MORE THAN THE FIRST FLOOR OF T E QUART R-MASTER'S WAREHOUSE ON THE WATERFRONT. HUGGINS ADDED A POOL TABLE AND A LUNCH COUNTER WHERE HAMBURGERS, SANDWICHES, COFFEE AND ICE CREAM ARE SOLD, BUT SUBSTANTIALLY THE USO IS THE SAME.

GREATEST DESIRE AMONG THE AVERAGE SOLDIERS IS FEMININE COMPANIONSHIP, AND MRS. HUGGINS SET ABOUT TO FIND SOME FOR HIM. THERE ARE NO AMERICAN GIRLS IN DUTCH GUIANA AND THE VERY FEW WHITE DUTCH WOMEN ARE MARRIED. MOREOVER, THEY HAVE A SIZEABLE BODY OF THEIR OWN TROOPS TO CHEER ALONG.

MRS. HUGGINS FINALLY ACHIEVED AN ARRANGEMENT, HOWEVER, WHEREBY ENLISTED MEN COULD DANCE ABOUT ONCE A MONTH. WIVES OF DUTCH OFFICIALS ATTEND AS PARTNERS FOR THE AMERICAN SWINGSTERS. THERE ARE ALSO MEMBERS OF THE LOCAL DUTCH WAACS, OF VARIOUS ORIGINS BUT ALL OF RESPECTABLE FAMILIES, SO THAT SOME USO DANCES NOW ATTRACT AS MANY AS 40 OR 50 GIRLS.

JUN 14 1943

IN CO-OPERATION WITH THE ARMY'S SPECIAL SERVICES OFFICERS, THE USO BRINGS TROUPES OF ACTORS, RUNNING THE ENTERTAINERS AROUND FROM ONE CAMP TO ANOTHER AT BREATH-TAKING SPEED. THE LAST TROUPE PLAYED EVERY CAMP WITHIN THREE DAYS.

A HUNDRED MILES UPSTREAM IN THE HEART OF THE GUIANA JUNGLES THE ACTORS PERFORMED GREATLY BUT, IN ALL CHARITY, WERE NOT BROADWAY HEADLINERS. THEY DIDN'T PRETEND TO BE.

JUN 14 1943

BUT TO THE TROOPS WHO PACKED THE AUDITORIUM, STARVED FOR JUST UCH A GLIMPSE OF THE OLD LIFE, THE TROUPE COULDN'T HAVE MEANT MUCH ORE IF THEY HAD ALL BEEN OSCAR WINNERS.

THE USO CLUBHOUSE NOW APPROACHING COMPLETION WILL HAVE AN AUDITORIUM-DANCE HALL IN ONE PART OF THE L-SHAPED FIRST FLOOR AND A LOUNGE WITH POOL TABLE IN THE OTHER. UPSTAIRS WILL BE A DORMITORY OF 40 BEDS FOR OVERNIGHTERS, A READING-WRITING ROOM, AND BATHROOMS. THERE WILL BE A LUNCH COUNTER.

JUN 14 1943

ALL THIS IS IMPORTANT TO THE UNITED NATIONS' WAR EFFORT BECAUSE ANY COMMANDER IN THIS AREA, ONE OF THE MOST ISOLATED AND LEAST ACTIVE, WILL TELL YOU THAT HIS NUMBER ONE HEADACHE IS MORALE.

THEY ALSO SERVE WHO ONLY STAND AND WAIT....BUT IT'S HARD TO KEEP HEM INTERESTED IN IT.

#

NEW YORK, JUNE 13-(AP)-THE BRITISH PEOPLE ARE "OF GREATER HEART" NOW THAN EVER BEFORE SINCE THE WAR BEGAN, DAVID O.BOWES-LYON, BROTHER OF QUEEN ELIZABETH, SAID HERE TODAY ON HIS ARRIVAL ON A PAN-AMERICAN CLIPPER.

BOWES-LYON WAS RETURNING TO HIS POST AS HEAD OF THE BRITISH POLITICAL WARFARE MISSION IN THE UNITED STATES AFTER A MONTH'S VISIT TO ENGLAND.

JUN 14 1943

ANOTHER PASSENGER WAS THOMAS DAVIES, NEW BRITISH COLONIAL SECRETARY TO THE LEEWARD ISLANDS IN THE WEST INDIES, WHO IS EN ROUTE TO WASHINGTON.

Blank

JUN 14 1943

30.24-4981

U. S. Blasts Sicily Bases; 12 Japanese Ships Sunk By Submarines, Four Hit

JUN 15 1943

NAZIS' PLANES TO QUIT SICILY, LONDON HEARS

British Broadcast Says Goering Orders Shift To Mainland

Liberators Smash Aircraft And Buildings On Two Of Fields

New York, June 14 (AP)—Reichs Marshal Hermann Goering has ordered the German air force in Italy to shift its headquarters from Sicily to the Italian mainland, a London broadcast said tonight.

The broadcast, directed at Austria, said reports that air reinforcements have arrived in Italy from Germany are false but that German fighters to replace those shot down may be sent in.

MARIN

[By the Associated Press]

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 14—Hurling down a quarter million pounds of bombs, American Liberators have hammered Catania and Gerbini on Italian Sicily in a raid of crushing force similar to the air bombardments that broke the lesser islands of Pantelleria, Lampedusa and Linosa on successive days.

A communique from Cairo announced today that formations from the Ninth United States Air Force hit Gerbini and Catania, both important enemy air bases, in daylight yesterday, blanketing twenty-five grounded enemy planes at Gerbini with bomb bursts and smashing hangars, runways and dispersal areas at Catania.

Reports Lampione Taken

[The capture of Lampione, tiny island of the Pelagie group, was reported in Londay, bringing to four the number falling to Allied sea and naval might over the week end. A Reuters dispatch from North Africa said the island was taken Sunday but gave few other details. Lampione was described as uninhabited.

[Others in the Pelagie group are Lampedusa, which surrendered Saturday, and Linosa, which gave in to a British destroyer without a struggle yesterday.

[Lampione, about one hundred miles east of the Tunisian port of Sousse, is only ten miles west-northwest of Lampedusa and approximately thirty-five miles southwest of Linosa.]

Planes "Blown Up" By Guns

At Gerbini, three Axis planes attempting to take off were torn apart—"blown up," said the official announcement—by the guns of the Liberators.

At Catania, enemy fighters rose in strong force and five of them were shot down.

In spite of heavy enemy opposition it was announced that in both the Catania and Gerbini raids, and in earlier attacks by British bombers on Catania and on Axis shipping in the Aegean Sea off Greece, a single Allied plane was lost.

Two enemy ships were set afire in the Aegean and a third was damaged.

Northwest Force Has Holiday

These far-ranging sweeps by the Cairo-based air arm were carried out while the Northwest Africa Air Forces operating under this headquarters were taking their first Sunday holiday in more than six months.

General Eisenhower's communique disclosed that the Northwest Africa Forces had confined themselves to patrol and reconnaissance, suffering no loss.

This meant that most of the personnel got a rest earned by their spectacular victories over Pantelleria, Lampedusa and Linosa while the commanders prepared for the next all-out air push—the push, it was generally believed, against Sicily.

Pantelleria Details

Something of what had happened to Pantelleria, the first of the Italian islands to run up the white flag, was illustrated today by RAF Sergeant Pilot H. E. Love, who returned here from Pantelleria to report that the Italians had quit with equipment which would have been sufficient to sustain them for many months of resistance.

They told him, he said, that "the noise alone nearly killed them." Love counted ninety wrecked enemy planes on and around Pantelleria's airfield, many of them German craft.

The hangars, he added, had been carved into solid rock and were big enough to shelter at least one hundred planes and sixty trucks. Italian officers earnestly described to him, with gestures, the "bombardmento terrifico."

JUN 15 1943

FOUR MORE DAMAGED IN NAVAL RAIDS

No Details Are Disclosed. Transports, Freighters Hit Hardest

JUN 15 1943

Lieutenant Wins Silver Star For Action In Pacific Battle

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 14 — Raiding enemy shipping throughout the Pacific, American submarines sent torpedoes or shells into the hulls of sixteen Japanese ships, sinking twelve. One additional ship was probably sunk and three were damaged, the navy reported today.

One Japanese destroyer definitely was sent to the bottom. Another was damaged by submarine action and presumably was put out of action temporarily at least.

The navy communique, No. 411, said:

"Pacific and Far East:

"1. United States submarines have reported the following results of operations against the enemy in the waters of these areas:

"a—One destroyer sunk.

"b—One large transport sunk.

"c—Five medium-sized cargo vessels sunk.

"d—One large trawler sunk.

"e—One patrol vessel sunk.

"f—One small supply vessel sunk.

"g—Two small cargo vessels sunk.

"h—One large tanker damaged.

"i—One destroyer damaged.

"j—One medium-sized transport damaged and probably sunk.

"k—One medium-sized transport badly damaged.

"2. These actions have not been announced in any previous Navy Department communique."

No Details Disclosed

No details of the raids were disclosed by the navy, nor was there any word as to how far the submarines penetrated enemy waters in their raids. They might have gone to the coastline of Japan itself, for on one previous occasion officers reported long after their patrol that they had been within a harbor in the Japanese homeland.

The communique shows that transports, which carry reinforcements for enemy bases, were hit hard and that supplies of the Japanese bases scattered through the Pacific were curtailed by the submarine forays, for most of the ships sent to the bottom were those which carry equipment and foodstuffs.

Enemy Sub Sent Down

An American submarine, battling a Japanese undersea craft on the surface, probably sent the raider to the bottom, the navy also disclosed.

The action was fought while the American submarine was on patrol in Japanese waters, and few details were given in a citation accompanying award of a Silver Star Medal to Lieut. James H. Barnard, 29, Albany, N. Y.

Barnard, the navy said, was officer of the deck when his ship was attacked by the enemy submarine.

"Maneuvering with great skill," the navy said, "Lieutenant Barnard succeeded in avoiding the attack and then launched an assault of his own with such force and accuracy that the enemy craft was probably destroyed.

Toll Raised To 257

The reports increased to 257 the number of Japanese craft sunk, probably sunk or damaged by submarine action. Of that total, 181 ships of all types have been sunk, 28 probably sunk and 47 damaged.

The navy also reported continuation of bombing raids on Bougainville island in the Solomons. Flying Fortress and Liberator heavy bombers hit at the enemy's base at Kahili in the Buin area. Results were not observed. All of the bombers returned safely from the raids.

AIRPORTS BLASTED AS ALLIES PRESS ATTACK ON SICILY

U. S. Air Force Hits Gerbini, Catania in Daylight Raids.

TWO SHIPS SET AFIRE

British Bombers Lose Single Bomber in Wide Sweeps Across Aegean.

LONDON, June 14 — (AP) The capture of Lampione, tiny island of the Pelagie group, was reported here tonight, bringing to four the number of Italian Mediterranean strongholds surrendering unconditionally to Allied sea and naval might over the week-end.

A Reuters dispatch from North Africa announced the capture of the newest prize, saying it was taken Sunday, but gave few other details. Lampione was described as uninhabited.

100 Miles from Pantelleria

Others in the Pelagie group are Lampedusa, which surrendered Saturday, and Linosa, which gave in to a British destroyer without a struggle yesterday. The three form a triangle lying a little more than 100 miles south of Pantelleria, the first Italian Mediterranean island fortress to fall to the Allies last Friday.

Lampione, about 100 miles east of the Tunisian port of Sousse, is only 10 miles west-northwest of Lampedusa and approximately 35 miles southwest of Linosa.

The Reuters dispatch was credited to a "special correspondent for American forces."

AERIAL OFFENSIVE ON REICH KEPT UP

Calais And Paris Radios Go Off Air Indicating Another Raid By RAF

London, Tuesday, June 15 (AP). Heavy explosives were dropped on London suburbs early today by enemy planes which touched off the capital's air-raid sirens twice within an hour.

Thunderous gunfire followed both alarms and searchlights spotted at least one fast raider over the city's outskirts. The all clear sounded shortly after each alert.

The explosives fell during the first alarm but there were no immediate reports of damage or casualties.

[By the Associated Press]

London, Tuesday, June 15—After Allied bombing of Germany and RAF assaults on the Rhineland and Axis shipping off the Dutch coast Sunday night and yesterday, Axis radio stations at Calais and Paris went off the air suddenly shortly after midnight today, indicating that the RAF was again raiding the Continent.

Reconnaissance photographs showed yesterday that very heavy damage was wrought by American bombers in their violent raid Sunday on the German port of Bremen.

These photographs disclosed at least a dozen hits on and around the Atlas works, one of the port's largest shipyards.

The companion American raid on Kiel ran into such fierce fighter opposition that effective use could not be made of the cameras.

It was, said a spokesman for the Eight United States Air Force, the bitterest resistance yet encountered over Germany.

Called Severe Struggle

"The enemy," he added, "put into the air all types of fighters and the struggle was prolonged and severe."

Twenty-six American planes were lost in both attacks, but a great number of German craft were shot out of the sky.

The RAF, for its part, attacked an enemy convoy off the Dutch coast, aside from its assaults in the Rhineland, sinking two ships and damaging four others. One British plane was lost, the Air Ministry said.

Unofficial sources estimated tonight that British-based Allied bombers have dropped 6,000 tons of bombs of all calibers on Germany since the aerial offensive was renewed in full strength last Friday after a two-week lull.

JUN 15 1943

No Official Report

There was no official announcement, however, of the total weight of the explosives and incendiaries dumped on the Nazi homeland.

The load dropped by the RAF's greatest fleet of heavy bombers on Duesseldorf and Muenster Friday night was estimated at more than 2,000 tons. The fleet which raided Bochum Saturday night was believed to have dropped at least 1,750 tons of bombs. In addition, American heavy bombers rained many tons of destruction in daylight raids on Wilhelmshaven and Cuxhaven Friday and Bremen and Kiel yesterday.

The Berlin radio dismissed last night's operations by the RAF as "harassing flights" over northern and western Germany. It asserted that no bombs were dropped.

Air Ministry announced earlier today. Specific targets were not named, however, nor was there any indication of the size of the raiding squadrons. One British plane was lost.

Formations of the big, black-bellied bombers were heard passing over the Channel coast last night, taking up the offensive where the United States bombers had left off.

The Berlin radio reported that British planes were over north and west Germany, but declared that no bombs were dropped.

R. A. F. Beaufighters torpedoed two supply ships and damaged four escort vessels in an attack on an enemy convoy off the Dutch coast last night, it was announced by the Air Ministry.

German night raiders, meanwhile, struck back in reprisals which caused an early morning alert in London and some damage in a northeast coast town, which was showered with incendiaries. At least two of the enemy planes were brought down.

U. S. Flyers Suffer Heaviest Blow

The double-barreled attack yesterday by the Eighth United States Air Force wrought new destruction on the German naval building centers, and the unescorted bombers shot down a great number of German fighter planes out of the strongest enemy interception force they have ever encountered.

The raids were made at the cost of twenty-six Fortresses, chiefly around Kiel, but Brig.-Gen. Frederick L. Anderson, who commanded one wing of the operations, said "the price was not too high for the results achieved." It was the heaviest toll ever suffered in a single United States Air Force raid in this theater. The previous high was sixteen, lost during the last previous attack on Bremen on April 17.

The British lost twenty-four bombers Saturday night in a raid on Bochum and other targets in the industrial Ruhr Valley, which the Germans conceded caused heavy damage. During the peak of the Bochum attack five 4,000-pound bombs a minute were poured into chemical plants and armament works, and thousands of incendiary bombs were rained into the ruins.

Duesseldorf Still Burns.

Bochum, lying between Essen and Duesseldorf, has been raided twice before this year. About 1,000 tons of bombs were dropped on it on May 13. Returning pilots on yesterday's raid said it was evident the Germans have strengthened their anti-aircraft defenses in the Ruhr.

Reconnaissance photographs made late yesterday showed that fires still were burning as a result of the R. A. F.'s Friday night raid on Duesseldorf and Muenster area by the heaviest force of R. A. F. bombers ever sent out on a mission. That attack marked the R. A. F.'s resumption of heavy bombing after a twelve-day lull and followed a heavy United States Air Force attack during daylight Friday on Wilhelmshaven and Cuxhaven. The Eighth Air Force bombers stayed home Saturday.

Another step preparing for the actual invasion of Europe was announced today by the R. A. F. in establishing a tactical air force under Air Vice-Marshal John H. D'Albiac to work with the armies striking from Britain. It will be similar to the Tactical Air Force which was successful in Tunisia.

R. A. F. fighter command planes carried out daylight raids in northern France and Holland yesterday which the Air Ministry described as "large-scale offensive operations," and Eighth United States Air Force fighter planes destroyed five planes in forays over the French Channel coast.

The German radio said Nazi airmen raided Plymouth Saturday night and left five fires burning in the city. Four German raiders were shot down Saturday night, the British said.

Shipyards Badly Smashed Up By U. S. Air Raid on Bremen

Americans Lost 26 Planes There and at Kiel —R. A. F. Hammers at Rhineland in Round-the-clock Offensive.

JUN 15 1943

London, June 14 (A. P.).—Official photographs today showed that the American heavy bomber squadrons caused extensive damage to the German submarine and other naval installations at Bremen yesterday. Headquarters of the Eighth United States Air Force said that the pictures disclosed heavy concentrations of bomb bursts in the shipbuilding yards, including at least a dozen hits on and around the Atlas Werke buildings, one of the two largest yards there, and on the adjacent warehouses.

The cameras aboard the bombers raiding Kiel were not used, headquarters said, because the fierce fighter opposition there was the strongest so far encountered by the Americans. In both attacks, which were carried out concurrently, twenty-six bombers were lost.

The Allied aerial offensive was taken up by the Royal Air Force and carried straight into night with the bombing objectives in the Rhineland and other parts of Germany, the attacking of a convoy off the Dutch coast and the mining of enemy waters, the

REDS REPULSE NAZIS' THRUST OVER DONETS

German Losses Heavy As Attempt To Cross River Fails

JUN 15 1943

Russian Flyers Blow Up Ammunition Dump And Harry Transport

[By the Associated Press]

London, Tuesday, June 15—An unsuccessful and costly German attempt to cross the Donets river in the south and a local skirmish in the Orel sector of the central Russian line were reported today in the Russian midnight communique.

The Germans, armed with tommy guns, attempted to cross to the west bank of the river in the Lisichansk area, where the German line cuts east across the river. Several dozen of the party were mowed down by Soviet fire and many more drowned in the river, said the communique, recorded by the Soviet monitor.

Five Batteries Destroyed

In the Orel sector, northwest of Mtsensk, the Soviet troops engaged in operations which the communique said were of "local importance." Three German artillery and two mortar batteries were reported destroyed and over 100 Germans wiped out.

Three German planes were reported brought down by ground fire and two German airmen captured.

The Russian air force continued its activity and on various sectors of the front, the communique said, air units destroyed or damaged at least twenty trucks carrying troops and supplies, blew up an ammunition dump and silenced three artillery batteries. Several trains were also reported hit by Soviet attackers.

Troop Trains Bombed

The Moscow radio reported in a separate broadcast that the Soviets had blasted troop trains with bombs at Orel during daylight June 13.

The broadcast, recorded in London, said the Germans made air stabs at Saratov, about midway between Stalingrad and Kuibyshev on the Volga, on the nights of June 12 and 13 but the Nazis were driven off by anti-aircraft fire.

Several enemy aircraft smashed through over the city, the broadcast said, and "haphazardly" dropped bombs. Fires that broke out in residences were promptly extinguished. Some civilians were wounded. Six German aircraft were shot down . . ."

Clash On Western Front

The communique, which noted that there were no important changes on the front, said that on the western front Russian troops wiped out about a company of German infantry and destroyed an artillery battery and six machine guns.

In one area, which went unnamed, a group of German infantrymen attempted to reconnoiter Soviet forward defenses, the communique said, but was repulsed by machine-gun fire.

In another sector airmen bombed a German tank column and reported direct hits, while two German planes were shot down. About a company of Germans were dispersed and partly wiped out by gunfire.

Take 4 Populated Places

On the Volkhov front over a company of German infantry was reported wiped out while Soviet artillery destroyed 8 blockhouses, 9 dugouts, 2 observation posts, 11 machine guns and 6 mortars.

Thrusts by the Red troops in the Orel sector was reported in the noon communique, which said four populated places were captured, counter-attacks beaten off and German fortifications shelled.

Most Belgian Jews Deported

LONDON, June 14 (AP).—The Belgian government in exile said today that the Germans had removed nearly all of the 52,000 Belgian Jews to concentration camps in Germany, Poland and occupied Russia. The occupation authorities were said to have started deporting Belgian Jews early last summer, rounding up 2,000 in a single night.

BRITISH PARTY TRUCE

London, June 14 (A. P.).—The Labor party today voted to maintain the political truce under which it participates in Prime Minister Churchill's National Government. The vote, of 2,243,000 to 374,000, defeated a resolution to end the truce. It was taken at the party's annual conference.

The delegates cast one vote for each member they represent.

Under the truce, vacancies in the House of Commons are filled by elections in which the National Government offers only one candidate of the party which held the vacated seat. In a few instances, however, Independents and minor party candidates have defeated the National Government candidates.

Knight Liaison Officer In Censorship

London, June 14 (A. P.).—John S. Knight, publisher of newspapers in Detroit, Miami and Akron, has arrived here by plane to act as liaison officer between the United States and British censorship, it was disclosed today.

Mr. Knight represents Byron Price, director of censorship.

Expects 'Invasion This Week'

LONDON, June 14 (AP).—A military commentator on the Paris radio, in a broadcast tonight recorded by Reuters, said: 'It is likely that Allied invasion will begin this week."

London Papers Assail Rift.

London, June 14, (A. P.).—Three London newspapers demanded editorially today that the French leaders settle their differences and get on with winning the war.

The Yorkshire Post accused Gen. de Gaulle of stubbornness and said his apparent desire not to appear in his compatriots' eyes as a British puppet "has led him to assert a rather touchy independence at our expense. There are signs he is adopting a similar attitude toward the Americans."

The Daily Sketch said Gen. de Gaulle had displayed an "overdictatorial and non-co-operative attitude" and said that "so far the amount of unity achieved owes little to Gen. de Gaulle himself.

The Times took the line that reports "of new rifts and impending ruptures in the new French National Committee need not perhaps be taken too tragically." It added that "so large a measure of agreement has been reached on things which matter that Gen. de Gaulle will not risk a breakdown on secondary issues."

Axis Says Drive Is On.

London, June 14 (A. P.).—The Vichy radio, following the keynote sounded in an earlier German broadcast, quoted a Berlin military spokesman yesterday declaring large-scale operations had started on the Russian front.

The Vichy broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press, declared the spokesman said the Russians had attacked in force adding that "while our troops were warding off this attack, other German units were fighting guerrillas in the rear of this sector."

The previous Berlin radio announcement said repeated Russian infantry attacks northeast of Orel had breached the German line in spots, but that the Germans counter-attacked and threw them back with heavy losses.

British to Work Overtime To Increase Cotton Yarn

LONDON, June 14 (AP).—Tattersall's monthly report said today that the Cotton-Control Board had authorized fifty mills working on coarse American counts to work four hours overtime weekly to relieve the yarn scarcity and help cloth manufacturers clear the largest accumulation of contracts since the year began.

The report said the last month has been one of thhe best of the year for bookings of cotton yarn and piece goods.

All foreign outlets are now under the cotton control's planned-production scheme, making all markets subject to restrictions as to the types of yarns and widths.

The minimum quantity required for each cloth was fixed at 40,000 linear yards. There was substantial turnover in utility cloths, mostly for wearing apparel, but there was also some freer buying of household goods.

JUN 15 1943

30.24-4983

Veteran Flyer Hurt In Bicycle Accident

An American Bomber Station Somewhere in England, June 14 (AP)—Flight Officer Charles J. Harpool, of Rogers, Ark., copilot of the Flying Fortress Nora, returned from seven raids on targets in Nazi Europe without a scratch.

Then he fell off his bicycle a few seconds after he took off from his quarters here.

It required three stitches to close the wound in his head.

JUN 15 1943

Reds Seize 4 Towns Near Orel

Air Battles Continue—Nazis Say Russians Have Launched Drive in Force.

Moscow, June 14 (A. P.).—The Red Army Air Force has begun its seventh week of fierce air battles which Russians say have cost the Germans 3,319 planes, and Soviet scouting detachments reported offensive gains in the Orel "hinge" sector of the front. Striking in that region south of Moscow, where the Germans have been expected to attack, the Russian patrols captured four settlements, according to the Soviet midday communique.

A special communique indicated the ferocity and scope of the Russian air assaults on German communications and supplies which were launched in May. The Germans' June losses alone were 1,250 planes shot down, it said, and it put German air losses last week at 498 craft to Russian losses of 153.

Three German planes were shot down last night in the fighting near Mtsensk, which is about fifty miles northwest of Orel, and about 300 Germans were killed, eight tanks were knocked out and artillery and mortar batteries were silenced when the Nazis counter-attacked attempting to drive the Soviet forces from the captured settlements, the mid-day communique said. Both the Germans and Russians have large concentrations in the sector.

Enemy fortifications in that area, near Sevsk which is southwest of Orel, were pounded by big Russian guns last night and active scouting was reported by the Russians.

The Russians said they also brought artillery to bear on German fortifications and infantry concentrations in the Belgorod area northwest of Kharkov, and west of Rostov on the lower front.

Moscow was ablaze with the Red Flag of the Soviet Union today in commemoration of United Nations Day.

ITALIAN LEADERS TO CONTINUE FIGHT

Demand That Duce Tighten Restrictions to Show People Responsibilities.

BERN, Switzerland, June 14—(AP) The national directorate of the Fascist party in a report to Premier Mussolini has demanded that restrictions in Italy be tightened so that "the gravity of the situation" can be brought home to the Italian people in a way that each individual feels his responsibility for the war, the Rome radio said today.

The directorate's report, presented to Mussolini by Carlos Scorza, secretary of the Fascist party, declared that the blackshirts are determined to continue the fight until victory is won and demanded that the "nationalistic character of the war" be impressed on the people, the broadcast said. Discipline must be increased in the distribution of all foods and goods, and the fight against the black market must be intensified, the report stated.

More stringent measures against those who are devaluating the lira and threatening the country with inflation was also demanded in the report.

Luxury stores and restaurants, all of which are not necessary to the conduct of the war, must be eliminated, the report stated, and producers must deliver all grain directly to the government.

The report urged that all foreigners in Italy be repatriated to their own countries or that they be placed in concentration camps.

To the country's youth the party repeated the Fascist order, "Obey, work, fight," telling them that all else is "rhetoric."

(A Tass report from Bern, heard by the Soviet monitor in London, said the Italian cabinet had published a decree forbidding officials to resign. Attempts to do so would be regarded as desertion, it reported, because of the flood of resignations particularly in air raid precautions and railways.)

Yugoslavia Held Nazis' Biggest Headache Outside Of Russia

JUN 15 1943

Axis-Endowed Nations Rocked By Political And Economic Strife; Effect Termed Important

Post-war aims, present political control and relations with the Axis are mixed together in a brew which makes Yugoslavia Germany's biggest headache outside of Russia, according to Thomas F. Hawkins in this second of a series of stories on conditions in the Balkans, where Hitler apparently fears invasion.

By THOMAS F. HAWKINS
[Associated Press Correspondent]

Bern, Switzerland (Delayed)—Political and economic strife is rocking the Axis-endowed governments of what was Yuogoslavia, and its effect is as important as the war between insurgent troops and Axis armies.

The three reasons for it are the peace hopes of almost everybody concerned, the failure of both Dr. Ante Pavelic, Croat Chief of State, and Field Marshal Milan Nedic, in Serbia, to get economic production going for the Axis, and the continuing efforts of Pavelic to get more generally acceptable Croats into his Government.

Pavelic has had to contend with opposition from a considerable section of the Croat people who in no way are connected with the insurgents. In addition he had to face the criticism of his Nazi sponsors.

Secret Police Reformed

In recent weeks, after a visit by Heinrich Himmler, German police head, he reformed his Ustachi secret police. After a visit to Adolf Hitler, Pavelic made new efforts to get members of the Farmer party of Vladimir Macek, under house arrest for the past two years, into his Government. The Cabinet has been revised several times in the past six months, and further changes are expected.

Food prices have gone up 500 per cent. since peace days, resulting in a flourishing black market and food shortages which are causing popular resentment. There was a forty-three per cent. average drop in agricultural production in 1942 as against 1939, which, said one neutral report, made it necessary for Germany to send potatoes and wheat in March and caused much Axis irritation. Germany in peacetime could be expected to buy food products from Croatia.

Pavelic is believed to have reorganized the Ustachi, both to oust elements that were losing confidence in the Axis and to work them into the Government in a less spectacular role which might lure Macek from passive resistance.

First Overtures Made

The first overtures toward Macek and his party, which before the war was the leading element in Croat politics, began last December with an amnesty to a number of Macek supporters. They did not go into the Government as hoped, however, and stuck by Macek, who always favored an independent Croatia—but not under German and Ustachi leadership. Croats are included in the London government, and it is believed that Macek approves their efforts toward a reborn Yugoslavia which would assure Croat autonomy.

Pavelic is continuing negotiations, but his failure thus far was dramatically set forth when he recently named the 76-year-old poet, Vladimir Nazor, to the reestablished Croat Academy of Science. Neutral dispatches reported that Nazor declined in a manifesto which endorsed the insurgent war to free the country from the invaders and establish a democratic Yugoslav union.

Serbia, the second big unit Germany established from the Yugoslav state, is now less troubled by insurgents but still must contend with saboteurs and passive resistance. "Enlightenment courses" are being conducted among peasants to explain Field Marshal Nedic's and Germany's policy for the "New State."

Nedic Text Explained

These courses, according to the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, are to explain the Nedic text: "Everything must be as healthy, reliable and honorable as in 1912"—the beginning of the Balkan war period.

Nedic is changing the schoool system which "permitted a generation to grow up without knowing generosity or discipline" to one along Nazi lines. His "enlightenment courses" seek to explain to the peasants why he reinstated the whipping post and put prices on the heads of insurgents and accomplished government "reform" by consolidating or eliminating political parties. In general, according to the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung he seeks a return to the "Serb orthodox national religious conservatism."

Compulsory labor service is in keeping with this conservatism, says the paper, which infers, however, that Serbia is not yet by any means a well established state. It pointedly declares it is the "German military administration" which is directing the effort to "outwardly stable conditions" and that the separate area of Banat with its "strongly German population" is being developed properly. Banat is adjacent to Hungary which wanted the territory as well as Backa, which she did not get.

People Distrust Banks

Pester Lloyd's correspondent gives a further insight into Serb economic difficulties: People do not trust banks. National bank employes get fifty per cent. more salary but the living cost is up twenty to fifty times and they are compelled to sell their possessions in order to buy food. Government tax collections are almost non-existent in the past two years because the regime controlled only big towns and militarily important points.

Farmers won't sell their products but hoard them because industrial good have disappeared and there is nothing to buy with the money.

Belgrade itself is only a "transit town," for German soldiers are moving through the Balkans to Russia in such numbers it is difficult to ascertain what Axis strength is kept permanently on Serb soil.

Only Soldiers Accepted

Foreigners are allowed to remain n Belgrade only between trains—there are no longer direct expresses from Budapest to Sofia or Istanbul. Only soldiers are accepted in hotels. Curfew begins at 10.30 P. M., when the three night clubs still operating must close down.

An Axis traveler recently there wrote:

"Many signs of bombardment have been cleared away but where rebuilding is impossible parks have been established. The Royal Palace with grated windows has been made into a jail. Shops are sad and empty. Everyone is waiting for something. People are interested in nothing, yet their eyes betray they are worried about what will become of them after the war."

Picture Of Yugoslavia

Such is the picture of Yugoslavia today under the Axis:

A land of Serbs, Croats and Slovenes who fought over the administration of their democracy during the twenty-odd years between the wars; a land, disregarding Axis repartitioning, of German, Hungarian, Bulgarian, Macedonian, Albanian and Rumanian minorities—not to mention the smallest and most attacked group, the Jews, who numbered 65,000 in 1939 but many among whom have been deported, shot or disappeared.

They have been through centuries variously under Austro-German, Hungarian or Turkish rule. They are looking now to reconstruction at the end of the war.

Berlin and Rome want action now to help their war effort. Budapest wants the Banat. Sofia is endeavoring to make friends of the Macedonians of southern Serbia, hoping to retain a big slice of that territory where also live 70,000 Bulgarians.

Croat Aspirations Condemned

Allied radio stations directed at Yugoslavia, including Moscow, for a long time concentrated on a "Free United Yugoslavia." Moscow is now reported directing a second broadcast especially for Croatia commending Croat aspirations for independence and home rule.

The Balkans as ever are the major key to winning and losing wars.

Yugoslavia with armed forces already active is vitally important to the Allies. It is also Germany's biggest headache outside of Russia.

SWEDES MOBILIZED

STOCKHOLM, June 14—(AP) A contingent of Swedish men—the second in two weeks—was mobilized today by radio call, but Swedish officials emphasized it was not predicated upon any international developments.

The men called up will be in service about 30 days.

JUN 15 1943

JUN 15 1943

Fascist Chief on Pantelleria Says Duce Ordered Surrender

Gen. Maffei, at Signing of Armistice, Declares Mussolini Was Notified Allied Attack Was Unendurable.

By E. A. RUSSELL,

Representing the combined American press with British Forces; distributed by the Associated Press.

Pantelleria, June 11 (Delayed).—Premier Mussolini personally ordered the surrender of Pantelleria in response to a report from the island that the Allied bombing was no longer endurable, it was disclosed tonight at the signing of the armistice.

Brig.-Gen. Achille Maffei, stocky, swarthy Fascist leader of the Italian troops here, said that Admiral Gino Pavesi, the Governor and Commander of Pantelleria, sent a message to Mussolini on Thursday night to tell him that there was no hope of holding out longer. Maffei reported him as saying that Thursday's all-day bombing "was the worst we had, and we have had no food or water for three days." The situation was not endurable, he added, and Mussolini, Maffei declared, replied this (Friday) morning, saying in effect: "All right, surrender for the sake of the civilian population."

First Signal Not Seen.

Pavesi officially accepted the Allied ultimatum dropped by bombers on Thursday. He had two white crosses formed out of rags on the edge of the airdrome, but the thick dust veiling the ground probably blinded some American pilots to the signals.

Pavesi, gray-haired and red-faced, and wearing a navy blue uniform glittering with gold braid, signed the armistice at 6:30 o'clock tonight after an hour's discussion with the major-general who commanded the assault force. The general became Military Governor of the island on behalf of the Allies.

The conversation was carried on in the narrow entrance to one of the many underground caves on the edge of the bomb-torn airfield. Thousands of terrified and ragged Italian prisoners marched past in the dust. Pavesi and the general did most of the talking with an English officer interpreting. The conference had been delayed because Pavesi had vanished into the hills.

Civilians to Stay Put.

Shortly after the British-manned tanks had landed and started patrolling the coastal roads, one of them found Maffei and brought him back to the airfield to meet the commanding Allied General. Meanwhile, the General had sent an officer and interpreter into the hills to get Pavesi, who climbed out of the rocks with a few staff officers and aids and walked onto the airfield for the talks.

Pavesi seemed disturbed when the Allies would not yield to his desire to evacuate all civilians from the island, presumably to North Africa As soon as Pavesi was convinced that nothing sinister or unusual was contained in the unconditional surrender, he signed the page and a half of single-spaced typewritten papers, written in English and Italian. He signed with a great, sweeping scrawl.

125 Tons of Bombs Are Rained Upon Two Key Air Force Centers—All-out Blow at Gerbini and Catania.

BULLETIN.

London, June 14 (A. P.).—A Reuters dispatch from North Africa said tonight that the Italian Mediterranean island of Lampione, near Linosa, had been captured.

JUN 15 1943

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 14 (A. P.).—United States heavy bombers of the Middle East Air Command smashed again yesterday at eastern Sicily airdromes at Catania and Gerbini, carrying the Mediterranean offensive to the island gateway to Italy, while flyers of the Northwest African Air Forces confined their operations to patrols, Allied communiques announced today.

Approximately 250,000 pounds of explosives were dropped upon the Gerbini and Catania fields by large formations of Liberators of the Ninth United States Air Force, it was announced.

Malta-based Spitfires again escorted the four-engined bombers on the last leg of the approach from the Middle East, during the attacks, and on the first part of the return trip. Both the targets lie about 125 miles north of Malta.

Sicily Now Objective.

About twenty-five Axis aircraft were reported in a United States bulletin to have been observed in revetments and dispersal areas at Gerbini, "which with the runways, were blanketed with bursts."

Three other island stepping stones for invasion already were in the hands of Allied forces—Pantelleria, Lampedusa and Linosa—and Sicily, at the toe of the Italian boot, appeared a logical target in the next phase of the offensive.

A Cairo Middle East Air Command communique said that at least eight planes were destroyed in the raid on Gerbini, three which ran into bomb bursts as they attempted to take off and five Messerschmitt-109s shot out of the air in an unsuing battle. At Catania, a port thirteen miles to the east, serious damage was done to hangars and aircraft on the ground, with dense black smoke reported billowing up from hangars hit on the west side of the airdrome.

[The Italian communique said that formations of four-engined bombers also attacked Messina, with two planes brought down by anti-aircraft fire. It asserted also that three planes were shot down over Sicily and two over Pantelleria in air duels.]

Catania Heavily Bombed.

Yesterday's daylight attack on Catania followed a Saturday night assault by R. A. F. heavy bombers which left large fires that could be seen for miles. Catania has been heavily punished before by Allied bombers in the campaign to obliterate Axis Air Force nests.

Today's Allied headquarters communique, one of the shortest of the campaign, said that the Northwest Africa Air Forces confined their activities to patrolling and reconnaissance yesterday.

The Africa-based pilots, fresh from their victories that reduced Pantelleria and Lampedusa after some of the most terrific air bombing the Mediterranean ever has witnessed, generally rested in their bases while headquarters and operations shaped their plans for the assaults to come, with Sicily generally considered the prime objective.

The only American Negro aerial unit in foreign service was among the Allied forces that bombed Pantelleria, it was disclosed today. They flew P-40 Warhawks and were under the command of Lieut.-Col. Benjamin O. Davis Jr., son of Brig.-Gen. Benjamin O. Davis, a noted cavalry officer. The all-Negro squadron trained at Tuskegee Institute, Ala., before coming overseas.

Warhawks and American-flown British Spitfires performed spectacular operations in shattering the Axis air forces during the last days of the battle for Pantelleria, authoritative quarters said. The American-manned fighter planes downed a total of seventy-eight German and Italian aircraft for a loss of twelve Allied planes.

The Spitfires under the command of Lieut.-Col. Fred M. Dean of St. Petersburg, Fla., downed twelve enemy ships from the skies last Thursday and came back to get thirteen more on Friday, the day Pantelleria surrendered. A veteran Warhawk unit from the former Desert Air Force, led by Col. Earl Estates Jr. of Winnetka, Ill., shot down twenty planes on Thursday.

Linosa Spared Bombing.

The third island to fall, Linosa, was spared aerial attacks or naval bombardment by a swift, bloodless yielding.

The British destroyer Nubian, cruising off Linosa, sighted white flags flying from the island Sunday and accepted surrender from some 140 members of the garrison, who apparently were grateful their island had been spared the bombing and shelling given Pantelleria and Lampedusa.

Linosa is about two miles square and incapable of sheltering any vessel larger than a motor torpedo boat.

MIDDLE EAST FLYERS SMASH AT AIR BASES

JUN 15 1943

Huge Bomber Force Smashes At Sicily

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 14 — (AP) Hurling down a quarter-million pounds of bombs, big American Liberators have smashed Catania and Gerbini on Italian Sicily in a raid of crushing force similar to the air bombardments that broke the lesser islands of Pontelleria, Lampedusa and Linosa on successive days.

A communique from Cairo announced today that thundering formations from the Ninth U. S. air force hit Gerbini and Catania, both important enemy air bases, in daylight yesterday, blanketing 25 grounded enemy planes at Gerbini with bomb bursts and smashing hangars, runways and dispersal areas at Catania.

Planes Unable to Take Off

At Gerbini, three Axis planes attempting to take off were torn apart—"blown up," said the official announcement—by the guns of the Liberators.

At Catania, enemy fighters rose in strong force and five of them were shot down.

In spite of heavy enemy opposition it was announced that in both the Catania and Gerbini raids, and in earlier attacks by British bombers on Catania and on Axis shipping in the Aegean sea off Greece, a single Allied plane was lost.

Two Ships Set Afire

Two enemy ships were set afire in the Aegean and a third was damaged.

These far-ranging sweeps by the Cairo-based air arm were carried out while the northwest Africa air forces operating under this headquarters were taking their first Sunday holiday in more than six months.

General Eisenhower's communique disclosed that the northwest Africa forces had confined themselves to patrol and reconnaissance, suffering no loss.

This meant that most of the personnel got a rest earned by their spectacular victories over Pantelleria, Lampedusa and Linosa while the commanders prepared for the next all-out air push—the push, it was generally believed, against Sicily.

Underground Plane Shelter Undamaged, Contained Few Obsolete Craft.

By SEYMOUR KORMAN

Representing the combined United States Press with British forces.
Distributed by the Associated Press

WITH THE BRITISH FORCES IN PANTELLERIA, June 12—(delayed)—A tour of this eight-by-four mile island disclosed today that a single underground hangar is just about the only military installation remaining intact after the unprecedented mass bombing unleashed by the American air force prior to the enemy's surrender yesterday. The hangar, under 25 feet of solid rock, contained only a few obsolete Italian aircraft.

Airfield Smashed

While the hangar survived the bombs dropped by our airmen this was certainly not true of the adjacent airfield. What once was a grassy flatland has become an expanse fiercely pocked by bomb craters, carrying out the promise of American pilots that they would score hits at close intervals. If there ever had been runways on this field they are blasted out of existence now. The Italian prisoners ranged about the airdrome sputtered their amazement at the calculated havoc in the area.

A number of big gun batteries were knocked out by our air hammer and the remainder were damaged. Trench mortar and machine-gun posts in the hills were also smashed.

"This is an absolutely eye-opener as to what airpower can do against a shaken enemy," said the commander of the British ground force which landed yesterday, and who now is the military governor of the island, "but there is the danger that we may think we can now do more than we actually can. Other objectives will present other and added problems. If air power had been unable to break this island it never could break any such target.

Data On Raids' Affects

"A professor who is a blasting expert had made calculations from aerial photographs of the number of batteries destroyed. His opinion was conservative. He'll get additional data now which should

One Hangar on Pantelleria Escaped Fury of Air Attacks

JUN 15 1943

provide valuable information for the future as to how many bomb sorties can knock out how many guns at determined sites."

The British commander, who is a veteran infantryman, said he believed the islanders were so demoralized by our bombing that they were glad to plan their surrender as soon as they saw our ground troops approaching in the convoy of landing craft. On Tuesday and on Thursday our planes had dropped pamphlets calling on the Pantellerians to yield, and it was believed that they were ready to do so on either of those days, except that the military authorities were afraid of losing face.

From Semaphore hill a few miles south of the harbor the weary defenders sighted the convoy in the Mediterranean at 9:50 a. m. yesterday. Admiral Gino Pavesi, supreme commander on Pantelleria, wirelessed Malta at 11 a. m. that he was going to surrender "because we do not have any more water."

The British commander chuckled at this today, commenting, "That's better than saying he had no more ammunition—there seems to be water available."

Before Malta relayed the admiral's message—it did not reach the commander until 12:15 p. m.—the convoy had arrived near the shores of the island. The white flag arose above Semaphore hill at 11:30 a. m. (other advices said 11:40 a. m.) and 20 minutes later a white cross appeared on the airfield.

Our first assault boats landed just before noon. There was some slight opposing machine-gun fire because the gunposts on the island had no communications and not all knew that the surrender had taken place. A few British soldiers were wounded, but none seriously.

The British commander and an interpreter mounted a tank and rode into the hills to find Admiral Pavesi and Brig. Gen. Achille Maffei, commanding the Italian troops on the island. Gen. Maffei surrendered near the airdrome, then at 5:30 Admiral Pavesi walked in and gave himself up.

Delays Signature

It took nearly an hour before Admiral Pavesi would sign the unconditional surrender document placed before him.

Fifteen thousand Italian military prisoners were taken, including the Fifth infantry brigade, the Fascist militia on the island and a unit of naval gunners. Only 40 Germans were found—two officers and 38 men of a German air force technical unit.

Among the prisoners were 200 wounded Italian soldiers. The casualties among the civilian population were comparatively light, as our bombers gave them warning that only military installations were their objectives and most of the citizens had fled to hillside retreats.

---

There's been a slight delay for airplane identification since the last paragraph was written. We speedily recognized the craft as ME-109s and scurried for shelter as they came over the harbor dropping bombs and drawing some anti-aircraft fire. The Messerschmitts have been swooping on the port at intervals last night and today, giving Pantelleria no rest as they sought to harass our shipping and troops.

A SMALL DETACHMENT OF AMERICAN RADIO CONTROL TECHNICIANS LANDED WITH THE BRITISH YESTERDAY. THEY INCLUDED STAFF SERGEANT RICHARD DEICHMANN OF SPRINGFIELD, ILL.; PRIVATE WALTER KUNKU, OF JOLIET, ILL., AND CORP. WALTER BAERWALD OF MILWAUKEE, WIS.

ALLIES GUARD ITALIANS IN GERMAN RAID

Pantelleria Prisoners On British Ship Fearful Of Nazi Bombers

JUN 15 1943

Planes Strike Four Times At Harbor While Quays Are Crowded

By NOLAND NORGAARD.
(Representing the Combined American Press With the British Forces.)

Aboard a British Assault Craft in the Mediterranean, June 13 (Delayed) (A. P.).—Hundreds of Italian prisoners—part of 15,000 taken upon the surrender of Pantelleria—crowded the decks of this little British warship today and gazed happily at Allied warplanes patrolling the skies to protect them from their erstwhile partners, the German Air Force.

This vessel, American-built, forms part of a convoy taking off from Pantelleria the prisoners who survived not only the mighty Allied air bombardment which brought about the capitulation, but also sneak raids by German fighter-bombers. The Germans struck four times yesterday at tiny Pantelleria harbor, where the quays were crowded with Italian prisoners ready to board ships.

They were excited and frightened when first brought aboard. They quickly rushed to put on all available life preservers. I saw one prisoner running from one seaman to another eagerly offering his watch to any one who could find him a lifebelt.

Patrols of Allied fighters overhead, however, soon allayed their fears, and they settled down to enjoy the trip away from the inhospitable island where the great American bombing fleet had, for the first time, demonstrated ability to wipe out an elaborate defense system and break the morale of the troops manning it.

Concrete Six Feet Thick.

The British troops, who were continuing to round up more prisoners pouring in from the hills, likewise found Pantelleria uninviting. They were limited for the first two days to field rations and the water they were able to carry in their packs when they landed. There are few building sufficiently intact to provide reasonable shelter.

There are a few wells on the island, but most of them are difficult to to reach. With other correspondents I spent last night in an Italian pillbox near the harbor, sleeping on the concrete floor with only a piece of canvas and a coat for bedclothing. Our quarters were infested with fleas, but the six feet of solid concrete above our heads appeared to afford adequate protection against the German sneak raiders.

Even that heavy construction, however, had failed to guarantee the safety of the Italian garrison when the big American Flying Fortresses blasted the harbors and defense works. A big block buster bomb had fallen forty feet away and the blast had carved a great chunk of concrete off the structure. A hit from such a bomb would easily have destroyed it.

A final checkup disclosed that civilian casualties from the bombings were very light. After the first Allied raids, the population abandoned the town and went to the caves on the volcanic mountainsides.

Island Well Stocked.

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 14 (A. P.).—A British flyer who surveyed results of the Allied aerial bombardment of Pantelleria said today upon his return from the captured island that Italians told him "the noise alone nearly killed them."

R. A .F. Sergt. Pilot H. E. Love of London, said the Italian garrison still had enough equipment to sustain resistance for several months when it capitulated Friday.

Of ninety wrecked aircraft he counted on and around the island's bomb-pitted airfield, he said many were German types with Italian markings.

Pantelleria's airplane hangars, carved into solid rock, are capable of sheltering at least 100 aircraft and sixty trucks, he said. Garrison members were reported to have taken refuge within the hangars during the height of the bombardment.

"The sleeping quarters were ranged around a gallery," Sergt. Love said. "The barracks were complete with beds, washrooms, sick quarters and offices. The stores held enough equipment to have kept the garrison going for many months."

North Africa Allies Open Powerful Radio Station

Tunisia Prisoners' Names to Help Win Axis Listeners

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 14 (AP).—A new and powerful radio voice began speaking to the people of Europe today from North Africa, when a 50,000-watt medium-wave transmitter went on the air. The transmitter, operating on a frequency of 995 kilocycles and 301 meters, was shipped from the United States several months ago.

The new station will broadcast programs eight hours daily in Italian, French, German and English, making use of names of Axis prisoners captured in Tunisia to win listeners in enemy countries. The programs wil linclude rebroadcasts of short-wave programs received from New York and London.

All-Negro Squadron Bombed Pantelleria

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 14 (AP).—The only American Negro aerial unit in foreign service was among the Allied forces that bombed Pantelleria, it was disclosed today. They flew P-40 Warhawks and were under the command of Lieutenant Colonel Benjamin O. Davis jr., son of Brigadier General Benjamin O. Davis, a noted cavalry officer.

The all-Negro squadron trained at Tuskegee Institute, in Alabama, before going overseas.

PEACE IS HINTED

30.24-4985

AS FRENCH SEEK TO SETTLE RIFT

JUN 15 1943

Progress Toward Reconciliation Reported by Mediators at Algiers.

DE LUCE

ALGIERS, June 14—(AP) Split into at least two consulting groups, the French Committee of National Liberation struggled today to arrive at a final agreement in the dispute between Generals Charles De Gaulle and Henri Giraud over their respective military powers.

Well-informed French quarters said that steady progress toward a reconciliation was being made and that Gen. De Gaulle would resume his attendance at committee meetings within a few days.

Mediators Meet

Gen. De Gaulle and Gen. Georges Catroux, who has been acting as a mediator, are reported to have met Gen. Giraud's appointee, Jean Monnet, to discuss a formula for breaking the deadlock, while Gen. De Gaulle's appointees, Rene Massigli and Andre Philip, were understood to be talking with Gen. Alphonse Georges and possibly Gen. Giraud himself.

De Gaullist sources maintained that the estrangement between the two co-presidents could not be closed unless Gen. Giraud consented to assignment of the portfolio of national defense to Gen. De Gaulle while he himself continued as commander-in-chief of the French military forces.

These sources also asserted that Gen. Giraud would have to revise his "go slow" attitude toward Gen. De Gaulle's proposal for a drastic purge of those army and navy officers who are suspected of loyalty to Marshal Petain or who have played important roles in the past in resisting the Allies.

Generals to Get Posts

Two of Gen. De Gaulle's Fighting French generals, Jacques Leclerc and Pierre Koenig, were declared destined for high places in the united French command once the present disagreement is eliminated.

Unless Gen. De Gaulle and Gen. Giraud both sign the decisions of the liberation committee these will have no validity regardless of whether they are approved by the majority, observers said.

Those quarters who profess to see a reconciliation between the two leaders in the offing expressed the belief that Gen. Giraud has consented to Gen. De Gaulle's assumption of the national defense portfolio and at the same time has agreed to dismiss some, but not all, of those men with whom Gen. De Gaulle refuses to associate with in the new set up. Intimates of Gen. De Gaulle believe that the latter's acceptance of Gen. Giraud's concessions will be obtained shortly, it was said.

Cairo in Holiday Mood

CAIRO, June 14 (AP).—In marked contrast to the thick gloom which hung over the Middle East a year ago today, when the British gave up Matruh and fell back to Alamein, was the jubilant demonstration of power and unity as the Allied forces observed United Nations Day today.

The salute was taken by General Sir Henry Maitland Wilson, British commander in the Middle East, as mass mechanized units, headed by American-built General Sherman tanks, paraded by the reviewing stand.

The colors of New Zealand, the Union of South Africa, Greece, Poland and Britain were borne by their units in a flowing stream through streets crowded with 1,000,000 spectators.

The representatives of thirty-four nations participated as Spitfires furnished an aerial umbrella for the celebration.

Day Observed in India

NEW DELHI, India, June 14 (AP).—American, British, Indian and Chinese troops headed parades celebrating United Nations Day today in India's principal cities and special services were held in churches.

Fifty American soldiers headed the parade here which was reviewed by Major General Clayton L. Bissell, commanding United States Air Forces in this theater, and General Sir Alan Hartley, deputy commander in chief in India.

FLYERS BOMB YANGTZE FOE

Continuing Advance Of Chinese Army Is Backed Up By American Planes

JUN 15 1943

More Than 100 Explosives Are Dropped On Airfield At Nanchang

[By the Associated Press]

Chungking, June 14 — American airmen dealt fresh blows to Japanese strongholds in northern Kiangsi province yesterday in support of Chinese ground forces whose high command reported new gains today.

The continuing counter-attack by the Chinese along the upper Yangtze already has eliminated the danger to Chungking.

American Mitchells, escorted by Warhawks, rained more than one hundred bombs on the airfield at Nanchang, Japanese-held provincial capital. Direct hits were scored on two large hangars and runways at the landing field, probably the most important Japanese air base between Shanghai and Hankow.

Assault Unchallenged

A communique issued at Fourteenth United States Air Force headquarters today said extensive damage also was inflicted on other hangars, dispersal areas and the control tower in the assault, which went unchallenged by enemy fighters and ground defenses.

Other attacks were made on Japanese troop and supply concentrations. For the third straight day all American planes returned safely.

The United States communique telling of air operations of the past three days listed three Japanese planes as shot down and the probable destruction of seven others.

Rail Bridge Bombed

Warhawk fighters dive-bombed the railroad bridge and warehouse area at Puchi and attacked eight troop barges escorted by two gunboats on the Yangtze in the vicinity of Shasi. Others attacked ten barges and a gunboat near Kienli.

The Chinese communique said Japanese troops retreating from Sungtze, the Yangtze port between Ichang and Shasi which the Chinese retook Friday, had fled in three groups. One group was wiped out, the bulletin said, adding that the other two were being rounded up.

Kungan, in southern Hupeh province, was reported retaken by the Chinese, who had lost it earlier after regaining possession for a few hours June 4. The Japanese used Kungan as one of the bases for their ill-fated upper Yangtze offensive.

Commando-Like Raids

...nt-line dispatches also told of ...mmando-like Chinese raids in the Yochow area of northern Hunan province resulting in the killing of 400 Japanese troops. Food and ammunition dumps were said to have been set afire.

Meanwhile, Chungking celebrated United Nations Day with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek reviewing the longest parade ever staged in Free China. More than 20,000 Chinese marched past the generalissimo. The procession included home guards, police, nurses, Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, schoolchildren, Government employes and merchants.

AMERICANS BLAST JAPS AT NANCHANG

Chungking, June 14 (A. P.).—American planes carried out heavy bombing and strafing raids against Japanese strongholds in northern Kiangsi Province yesterday, United States Air Force headquarters said today.

More than a hundred bombs were dumped onto the big airfield at Nanchang, the Japanese-occupied capital of the province, where direct hits were scored on the runways and on gasoline dumps. Nanchang airfield probably is the most important Jap air base between Shanghai and Hankow. All of the American Mitchell bombers and P-40 fighters which struck the blow returned safely to their base.

A communique from the Fourteenth United States Air Force announcing the attack on Nanchang also told of three Japanese planes being shot down and seven others probably destroyed in a variety of recent operations.

On the land front, the Chinese High Command said that Japanese retreating from Sungtze, which the Chinese retook Friday, had fled in three groups, one of which had been wiped out. The other two, it said, were being rounded up.

The communique also reported that the town of Kungan in south Hupeh province, which the Japanese regained after Chinese forces won possession of it for a few hours June 4, had again fallen into Chinese hands. Kungan was one of the bases from which the Japs launched the unsuccessful upper Yangtze offensive.

...Troops storming through streets strewn with Japanese corpses recaptured Sungtze, on the south bank of the Yangtze River, threatening the isolation of the important Jap base of Ichang to the west, a Chinese communique said yesterday.

Chiang Reviews Parade

CHUNGKING, June 14 (AP).—This capital celebrated United Nations Day today with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek reviewing the longest parade ever staged in Free China. More than 20,000 Chinese marched past the generalissimo. The procession included Home Guards, police, nurses, Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, school children, government employees and merchants.

BOMBER SETS JAP SHIP AFIRE

JUN 15 1943

Single Liberator Discovers 4,000-Ton Transport, Scores 2 Direct Hits

Allied Air Activity Limited, With No Raids On Rabaul Airdromes In Day

YARBROUGH

[By the Associated Press]

Allied Headquarters in Australia, Tuesday, June 15—Delayed reports in today's communique told of a single Liberator on Sunday reconnaissance over Humboldt Bay in Dutch New Guinea discovering a 4,000-ton Jap freighter—a transport—and setting it afire with two direct hits with 500-pound bombs.

The bomber dropped one bomb from high altitude, then swooped down to a few hundred feet and skip-bombed with another that hit the ship in the side.

The Liberator also strafed the ship with 1,500 rounds.

Activities Limited

Allied air activity on the whole was limited yesterday. No raid was made on Rabaul's airdromes, where photographers two days ago showed more than 200 combat planes concentrated, despite two previous sizable raids.

Delayed reports indicated that two bombers were missing from Sunday's raid on Vunakanau airdrome at Rabaul.

The only Japanese activity reported was a minor raid on Goodenough Island, lying off northwest New Guinea's lower peninsula. Two planes came over in the dark but caused neither damage nor casualties.

Our Mitchell bombers, in small force, made strafing raids along the northern New Guinea coast in the vicinity of Madang both Saturday and Sunday nights and destroyed or damaged eleven barges which the Japanese have been using consistently for coastal traffic.

In Dutch New Guinea, Catalinas made a light raid on Kaimana and on the way back one of them bombed the airdrome at Babo.

In Vitiaz straits, between New Guinea and New Britain, a Flying Fortress on reconnaissance bombed installations on Tuam Island.

Japanese Ship Set Afire By Reconnaissance Plane

11 Enemy Barges Attacked; Allied Air Activity Stepped Up

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, June 15 (Tuesday), (AP).—An Allied reconnaissance bomber set fire to a 4,000-ton Japanese freighter with two direct hits in Humboldt Bay, New Guinea, the high command reported today. Eleven Japanese barges were destroyed or damaged by strafing near Madang, the noon communique added.

One Allied four-engined plane bombed enemy ground installations of Tuam Island, in Vitiaz Strait, off the Huon Peninsula of New Guinea. A medium bomber raided the airdrome at Babo, Dutch New Guinea. Two Japanese planes made an ineffective night attack on Goodenough Island, off the coast of New Guinea.

The Japanese merchant ship hit by the reconnaissance bomber was off Hollandia. The plane came in at a low altitude and bombed and strafed the ship. Two direct hits were scored with 500-pound bombs, setting fire to the vessel.

The town of Kaimana and a near-by airdrome were bombed in a night attack by Allied planes. Of the attack on the Japanese barges, the communique said:

"Our medium units, on night coastal reconnaissance, bombed and strafed enemy barges, destroying or damaging a total of eleven between Madang and Hopoe."

Delayed reports of yesterday's heavy bombing attack against an airdrome at Rabaul, New Britain, indicated that two of our planes were missing after the raid.

ZERO ATTACKS PARACHUTIST

Japanese Pilot Severs Most Of Lieutenant Logan's Foot With Propeller

LEIF ERICKSON

[By the Associated Press]

Advanced South Pacific Base, June 14—A deliberate attempt by a Japanese Zero pilot to cut a parachuting marine flyer to pieces with his propeller was reported by the Allied Nations South Pacific headquarters today.

The Zero's propeller blade cut off most of the right foot of Lieut. Samuel S. Logan, 22, of Paola, Kan., and part of his left heel.

Rescued from the sea, Lieutenant Logan was brought to a hospital, where his right leg was amputated above the ankle. He was reported recovering satisfactorily.

There have been frequent stories recently of Nipponese pilots shooting at United States flyers floating with parachutes, but this was the first time the Japanese were known to have used a propeller as a weapon.

A headquarters spokesman said he had heard of nothing quite so brutal in aerial combat.

Logan was flying a Corsair with United States fighters which intercepted from forty to fifty Japanese Zeros and bombers over the Russell islands June 7.

Climbed From Cockpit

Logan attacked a Zero which was firing on an army Warhawk. The young flyer felt his plane vibrating badly and saw his tail surfaces ripping apart. He climbed from the cockpit, crawled along the fuselage to the tail and jumped.

The Zero immediately swooped down on him. Firing machine guns, the Japanese made four passes under the falling flyer, coming so close the first two times that Logan had to lift his feet to escape being hit by the propeller.

Trying To Maneuver

When the Zero made the third pass Logan was busy, trying to maneuver the 'chute. He failed to pull up his feet. It was then he was hit. The enemy pilot made one more attack after that and then was chased away by a United States Army plane.

Logan fell into the sea, inflated his life raft, took sulpha and morphine tablets and applied a tourniquet to his right leg. With a metal mirror he signaled to a reconnaisance plane searching for him. The plane landed on the water, picked him up and flew to a base hospital.

Flyer Survives 2,000-Foot Fall Without 'Chute

An Advanced South Pacific Base, June 14 (AP)—The South Pacific headquarters reported today that Lieut. J. G. Percy, 21, San Francisco, amazingly survived a 2,000-foot fall with a parachute that failed to open.

Percy, a Marine Corsair pilot, had shot down one Zero and damaged another in an air battle over the Russell Islands June 7 when his plane was disabled. He bailed out at 2,000 feet, but couldn't get his parachute open. "I landed in the water feet-first and felt something break," he related.

"I had my Mae West (life jacket) inflated and that kept me up."

Although his pelvis was fractured, Percy swam for three hours and finally dragged himself on a reef, then reached a beach. He lay on the beach all that night, and finally was able to hail four natives. The natives summoned aid and Percy was taken to a base hospital.

N. E. I. Troops in Parade

MELBOURNE, Australia, June 14 (AP).—A contingent of more than 100 Netherlands East Indies troops who until recently had fought a guerrilla campaign against the Japanese on Timor joined today in a parade here marking United Nations Day.

Escaped Nazi Caught in Mexico

Mexico City, June 14 (A. P.).—The Government newspaper El Nacion said today in a Tampico dispatch that Helmut Schmidt, a German who escaped from the concentration center at Perote Fortress, had been recaptured near Tampico in the company of the Town Clerk of a Tampico suburb.

The dispatch asserted that the clerk was turned over to the Federal police for investigation.

U. S. Birth Certificates Being Sold In Mexico

Mexico City, June 14 (AP)—Government sources said today a widespread sale of United States birth certificates to Mexicans desiring to go north of the border to work had been uncovered by United States immigration officials.

These sources said the standard price was $25, sellers were persons of Mexican blood who were born in the United States, and the markets included at least three towns in Jalisco State.

Possession of the birth certificates permits workers to leave the country without the Government papers and approved labor contract required by the Mexican Government.

U. S.-Mexico Health Parley To Open Today

Juarez, Mexico, June 14 (AP)—The first United States-Mexico border health conference will begin tomorrow with Dr. Thomas Parran, of Washington, United States Public Health Service Surgeon General, among other representatives of the Americas.

The two-day meeting, sponsored by the Pan-American Sanitary Bureau, will feature discussions on venereal disease, tuberculosis and other American health problems between the United States and Mexican delegates.

JUN 15 1943

JUN 15 1943

30-24-4987

Ramirez Recognized By El Salvador

San Salvador, June 14 (A. P.).—The Republic of El Salvador announced today it had recognized the Government of Gen. Pedro Ramirez in Argentina.

Closer Cooperation By Argentina Seen

Washington, June 14 (AP)—Argentina's declaration of willingness to conclude a petroleum agreement with the United States was regarded in official circles here tonight as evidence that the new Buenos Aires Government is moving toward closer cooperation for continental solidarity.

Tonight's declaration, coming on top of Argentina's move last week to cut off code radio messages, helped to raise some hopes here that a break with the Axis may be possible.

There was no official comment from the United States Government.

If the two countries sign such an accord, southern Brazil, Uruguay and Paraguay would receive needed petroleum supplies. A spokesman at the Chilean Embassy, when informed of the announcement, expressed hope that Chile might benefit as well.

Argentina Ready To Sign Oil Agreement With U. S.

New Government Also Announces Postponement Of Radio Code Ban Until Tomorrow

JUN 15 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Buenos Aires, June 14—Foreign Minister Segundo Storni announced today that Argentina was ready to conclude with the United States an agreement whereby the United States would provide oil drilling machinery and Argentina would supply petroleum to neighboring republics.

At the same time the Government announced it had postponed until Wednesday noon the effective date of its new regulations prohibiting the use of code messages in radio communications—a move interpreted as cutting off Axis espionage intelligence.

The announcement came after Erich Meynen, German charge d'affaires, conferred with Storni at the Foreign Office.

The postponement came because of the request of certain embassies, the Foreign Office said, which complained that the suspension detained "certain dispatches considered indispensable because of the new situation produced."

Vatican Message Delayed

Storni also disclosed earlier that the Holy See's recognition of the new provisional government of Argentina was delayed because it was transmitted in code.

When the Vatican instructions to the nuncio came through last Friday, postoffice authorities automatically stopped them in compliance with the regulation announced last week. Today it was released as a special concession and the Foreign Ministry was notified of the Holy See's desire to maintain existing relations with Argentine authorities.

Other recognitions were received from Costa Rica, Haiti and San Marino.

7,000 CANADIANS OUT ON STRIKE IN THREE SHIPYARDS

Wage Adjustments, Closed Shop Demanded by Quebec Workers.

QUEBEC, June 14.—(AP) Seven thousand workers in three shipyards in the Quebec district went out on strike tonight.

The men participated in a strike ballot last Thursday. At that time result of the vote was not announced officially, although officials of the companies issued a statement saying that they understood the workers had voted to strike if demands for wage adjustments and a closed shop were not met.

The men are employes of Davie Shipbuilding and Repairing company, Limited, Morton Engineering and Drydock Company, Limited, and George T. Davie and Sons, Limited.

The workers are members of unions affiliated with the Canadian Congress of Labor.

It was not known immediately who had called the strike. When the vote was taken, union officials said that an affirmative vote did not mean that the men would leave their jobs on a definite date, but rather that they would "follow Federal labor regulations."

Company officials had said that the companies had "consistently agreed to cooperate with their employes in seeking increased wages," adding that "the only point on which there is not complete agreement is the demand of the Canadian Congress of Labor for a closed shop."

The strike vote was taken after a conciliation board appointed by employers and employes had investigated labor difficulties in the three yards.

The men had asked for appointment of production committees, on which workers would be represented, to speed production; increases in wages to bring them up to the wages paid in Montreal; and adoption of a collective bargaining agreement which would provide for fixing of wage rates for overtime pay, right of the employers to retain from employes pay-checks dues payable to the C.C.L. unions and a closed shop.

What's Behind The War News

By GLENN BABB

Japan's parliament meets today amid increasing indications that warlords are alarmed by the inability of the empire's war industry to meet their demands upon it. The announcements broadcast from Tokyo concerning the session are not enlightening but nearly all stress the idea that something must be done to increase the output of planes, ships and guns.

It is to be only a three-day special session to approve a strictly limited legislative program designed, as Tokyo radio says, to produce "a drastic increase of the fighting strength." Premier General Tojo has already given notice that he will stand for no nonsense. He is to be the only speaker; the usual reports by the foreign minister, finance minister and others are to be dispensed with. There will be no interpellations; the premier wants no embarrassing questions raised about the course of the war. He will give his own account of it and that must be accepted.

It is somewhat surprising that the military clique permits the survival of parlimentary forms which have ceased to have any meaning. Political parties have been disbanded and replaced by the govment's own fascist organization; all organized political opposition has been eradicated, but the Diet (parliament) still is summoned once a year or oftener to give rubber stamp approval to money bills and other legislation. This suggests a latent discontent that Tojo and the other militarists are afraid might be stirred into flame by too blatantly dictatorial methods.

It will be interesting to see what Tojo will tell his compatriots about the war. His recent utterances have been much less boastful than those of a year ago. "The greater east Asia war is more and more in the stage of decisive battles and the war situation is becoming increasingly serious," he said last week. Japanese propaganda has taken on a somber note of warning like the German after Stalingrad. This is due in part, no doubt, to the impossibility of disguising some of the disasters which have befallen Japanese arms. The loss of Attu, for instance, could not be hidden; therefore the story of the garrison's last charge and obliteration was given the most dramatic possible presentation. Doctor Goebbels apparently found this propaganda of gloom best calculated to support a campaign for all out mobilization of the civilian population.

The parliamentary session is a phase of such a campaign in Japan. Just what can be done to make the already badly strained Japanese economy produce more for the war is not clear; mobilization of industry, of all civilian effort has been under way for at least five years. Obviously the militarists feel it has not gone far enough. Already the work week has been 60 hours or more in most industries but yesterday the Axis-controlled Vichy radio reported that all restrictions on working hours in Japanese factories had been abolished by decree.

Obviously the Tojo regime is making a tremendous effort to gear the war machine for an effort surpassing anything that has gone before. Whether this will be offensive or defensive remains to be seen. Despite some manifest weaknesses the Japanese armed forces still have tremendous striking power. The temptation to have another try at knocking China out of the war must still be strong. The flower of the Japanese army remains in Manchuria along Russia's Far Eastern border. It must be assumed that Hitler is exerting all possible pressure to convince Tojo and company that they must help him finish off Russia this summer, that unless the Axis powers hang together on this matter they must hang separately later. But it is doubtful whether the Japanese will listen to this argument.

There can be no doubt, however, that the Japanese generals and admirals are face to face with the realization that the hope they held when they challenged the United States—that the great American industrial potential could never be fully mobilized for war—has proved a false one. That more than any other factor probably is in their minds now, as they realize that even their greatest exertions can produce only one-tenth or one-twentieth of the great floor of weapons now pouring from American shipyards and factories.

WHAT'S BEHIND THE WAR NEWS

JUN 15 1943

(Continued from Page One)

One of the biggest Pacific successes yet achieved by American submarines was announced by the navy—the sinking of twelve more Japanese ships, including a destroyer, the probable sinking of another Japanese vessel and damage inflicted upon three more.

With the strong support of American bombers and fighters—which spread destruction over the Japanese air base of Nanchang, and kept the Japanese troop and supply columns under concentrated assault—the central China army was advancing along the upper Yangtze.

The most important of a series of Chinese gains was the recapture, as announced in a special communique by the Chinese command, of the city of Kungan in Hupeh province.

Chiang Kai-shek's headquarters also announced that Japanese troops falling back from the Yangtze port of Sungetze had been dispersed in three groups. One, it added, had been destroyed and the two others were being surrounded.

Russia

On the Russian front there was again no major action aground, the biggest of a series of skirmishes having been the recapture by Russian patrols of four settlements in the Orel sector below Moscow.

Minor action in the Orel sector again was reported in the midnight Soviet communique, which told of the destruction of three German artillery batteries there.

Diary Of The War

JUN 15 1943

[By the Associated Press]

The Italian Mediterranean island of Lampione has fallen into Allied hands—the fourth to be taken in three days—it was reported unofficially from North Africa last night and signs increased that Sicily was next on the list for reduction.

The Middle East Air Force, based on Cairo, disclosed that American Liberators of that command had cast down a quarter-million pounds of bombs in new raids on the Sicilian air bases of Catania and Gerbini Sunday.

The Liberators met heavy enemy fighter opposition in numbers, particularly over Catania, but nevertheless these and other widespread Allied attacks cost a single Allied plane against dozens of enemy craft in all probability destroyed.

The Naxi-controlled Paris radio observed: "It is likely that Allied invasion will begin this week."

In The Pacific

AFRICA'S FREEDOM IS HAILED BY SMUTS

Deliverance from Axis Is Gift of United Nations, Says Premier.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Premier J. C. Smuts of South Africa said yesterday that Africa's freedom from aggression "is the gift of the United Nations to us, and that gift is a call to us to fight with all our might by their side until all of them enjoy the same freedom from aggression as ourselves. We pledge ourselves today to do so to the very end."

Premier Smuts spoke at Pretoria in honor of United Nations day. His prepared text was received in Washington by the South African government's information office.

Saying that United Nations day "may even become the most significant day in the history of human civilization," Premier Smuts asserted:

"It marks a moment in history when nations great and small publicly recognize and proclaim the fact that they do not stand alone and separate, each by itself in splendid isolation.

"Today, after more than three years of war on this continent and of the most harassing ups and downs, our continent has been freed of the enemy and the tide of war has been rolled back to other continents. This is therefore not only a day of remembrance but of deep gratitude for us. This deliverance was, under Providence, the work of the United Nations. We South Africans, some with queer notions of isolation and neutrality, should ponder that fact."

BOARDS TO SPEED INDUCTION OF MEN WITHOUT CHILDREN

Move Will Delay Drafting of Fathers until Last Quarter of Year.

DEFERMENTS REVIEWED

Plants to Prepare Time Tables for Replacement of Essential Workers.

WASHINGTON, June 14 — (AP) The drafting of fathers may be delayed a couple of months, it was indicated today, as Selective Service took steps to speed up the induction of childless men now deferred because of their occupations.

JUN 15 1943

By saying that the fathers' draft will begin "at least by the last quarter of this year," as the supply of childless men is exhausted, a Selective Service announcement hinted that the calling of men with children might be held off as much as two months beyond the date last mentioned officially, August 1.

Replacement Schedules

Selective Service issued revised instructions for preparation of replacement schedules by employers which, when approved by state Selective Service directors, set up time tables for replacement of draft-eligible workers in key posts so their induction will not hamper production.

The new instructions require that schedules filed after July 1 must provide for release of occupationally deferred childless men between 18 and 25 years old within six months unless their jobs are exceptionally important to the war effort and extremely difficult to fill.

The belief that the fathers' draft will be delayed was strengthened by testimony before a House committee that many of the more than 2,800,000 men previously rejected for physical reasons may be inducted because standards are now lower.

The testimony was given by Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey at an appropriations hearing last month and was made public today. He said adoption of lower physical standards by the Navy might postpone the induction of men with children.

Paul V. McNutt, war manpower commission chairman, testified that by the end of this month, the armed forces will have 9,200,000 of the 10,900,000 men they plan to have by the end of this year, and that after next December inductions into the Army may be reduced about 60 per cent.

However, both Mr. McNutt and Gen. Hershey said that before the war ends the "great majority" of physically fit fathers may be in uniform.

Fathers to Be Listed

Recognizing that drafting of fathers is inevitable, the Selective Service instructions issued today provided that men in this class, hitherto omitted from replacement schedules because they were safeguarded by paternity deferment, be listed on such schedules filed after July 1 unless the proposed deferment would expire "before October 1."

Officials said the new limitations on deferment of childless men specify those aged 18 to 25 because few men that young are likely to hold jobs so important that they can not be replaced.

Replacement schedules may request occupational deferment for listed key men for periods ranging from two months to more than a year. When state draft directors approve them, they stamp their approval on forms to be sent by the employers to local draft boards asking deferment of each man in accordance with the schedule.

The local boards have authority to refuse deferment for any man, even though the state director has approved it, but in practice they seldom do. The boards must review within six months each deferment they grant, but they usually grant renewals to men for whom longer deferment is suggested in replacement schedules.

6,000 Schedules Filed

Although all "essential" employers may file the schedules, Selective Service headquarters said that only about 6,000 had done so, listing something over 3,000,000 employes.

The instructions included this advice:

1—"Generally speaking, those who will be replaced first will be those in occupations having the shortest training and replacement time."

2—"Due consideration should be given to previous and existing periods of deferment."

3—Where men are equally replaceable, single men should be listed for release before childless married men, and the latter should be listed for release before fathers.

4—Where men of the same family status are equally replaceable, they should be "listed for replacement order (draft-call) number with lowest order number first."

NAZI SPIES HELPED JAPS MAKE PLANS FOR PEARL HARBOR

German Serving 50 Year Term for Signalling Data on Warships.

WASHINGTON, June 14 — (AP) A report declaring that German spies collaborated with Japanese in preparing the way for the attack on Pearl Harbor was made public today by the Office of War Information, which said that one of them was given a death sentence, later commuted to 50 years at hard labor.

The man was identified as Bernard Julius Otto Kuehn, 47, native of Berlin and veteran of the German army. The OWI made public reports of the Federal Bureau of Investigation which said that Kuehn admitted preparing a set of signals, to be flashed from windows in his two Hawaiian homes, for disclosing the types and number of American warships in Pearl Harbor; that he received more than $100,000 from German and Japanese sources during his six years in Hawaii, and that his step-daughter operated a beauty parlor intended to attract "Navy business."

The FBI records said that Kuehn reached Hawaii on Aug. 15, 1935, ostensibly to study the Japanese language. He made two trips to Japan, but never returned to Germany.

More than $70,000 was deposited in a Honolulu bank to the credit of Mr. and Mrs. Kuehn by the Rotterdam Bank association between May 14, 1936, and Feb. 7, 1939, the report said, and in 1940, it added, Mrs. Kuehn returned from a visit to Japan with $16,000 in cash. Six weeks before Pearl Harbor, it said, Tadasi Morimura, fourth secretary at the Japanese consulate, delivered $14,000 to the Kuehn home at Kai Lua, a small community on Oahu.

Kuehn confessed, the FBI said, that he discussed plans for spying on the American fleet with Otojiro Okuda, Japanese vice-consul at Honolulu, in November, 1941.

Kuehn's work, the report said, included arranging a set of signals by which he could inform the Japanese of the number and types of warships in the harbor and tell which ships had left or were about to leave.

The OWI said that Mrs. Kuehn, their son, Eberhard Martin Kuehn, and Mrs. Kuehn's daughter by a previous marriage, Suse Kaete Ruth Kuehn, have been interned.

Germans Erect Huge Industrial Empire on Loot

It Could Maintain Power Despite Party or Army Changes, O.W.I. Reports

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP).—The giant Nazi industrial combines have transformed Europe's economy into an industrial empire "which could maintain power despite changes in the leadership of Germany, the Nazi party, or the German Army," the Office of war information reported today.

"Not a single important industrial enterprise in the occupied countries of Europe has escaped the grasp of German domination," the O. W. I. said in a study of Nazi plundering and control of German heavy industry.

The big industrial and financial concerns of Germany, headed by the Reichswerke Hermann Goering A. G., has used the "severest economic pressure and political terror" to extend its power over Europe's basic industries, "under protection of the Nazi party and the German Wehrmacht," the report said.

The key organization, to which Reich Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering gave his name and from which he profits, is "a strictly Nazi enterprise," with the Nazi government holding considerably more than 50 per cent of its stock and Nazy party bosses packing its directorate and management staffs. Formed to develop German iron ore resources, it now takes in almost every field of heavy industry in Europe, particularly mines and metals, machines, armament and the inland waterways commerce. "Nazi conquest and exploitation has doubled many times over the wealth and power of this combine."

Biggest loot seized by the Goering combine was in Austria and Czecho-Slovakia, it was reported. In Austria it controls Alpine Montan A. G., which holds the richest iron ore, and its machinery, coal and other subsidiaries, as well as some of the biggest railroad car, machinery and bridge-building factories.

In Czecho-Slovakia it holds the famed Skoda munitions works and the Waffenwerke A. G., through which it in turn controls aviation and automobile plants.

The Nazi "Aryan" laws were the "legal" device, the O. W. I. said, by which the Goering combine got financial interest in the Fitkovice iron-ore mines, of which Baron Louis Rothschild was once a heavy stockholder, and the Petschek-owned lignite companies of the Sudetenland.

In Poland the combine did not bother with legal procedures. "Here the Nazis flatly expropriated practically all business from its Polish owners," O. W. I. said "More than 9,000 large factories, even more smaller plants, some 60,000 commercial enterprises and 2,000,000 hectares (nearly 5,000,000 acres) of land were seized without even the pretense of compensation to their former owners."

The report, latest in a series dealing with Nazi economic plundering, was based on information supplied by various American government agencies and on data obtained from the European press and radio, the O. W. I. said.

Finland Starts Paying On Its War Debt Again

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP).—Finland, which never missed a payment on its war debt to the United States until it became involved in war with Russia, is going to resume paying again tomorrow. The Helsinki government has notified the United States it will pay $168,945.56 which is due tomorrow under a financial agreement between the two countries.

After Finland became involved in hostilities with Russia Congress granted the Baltic republic a moratorium. When the United States entered the war, however, and Finland continued at war with Russia, the moratorium was not extended. It expired last December.

JUN 15 1943

U.S. Flyer Pilots Crash Boat to Save 70 Sailors

Take 40-Foot Army Craft Far Out to Sea Twice to Rescue Torpedo Victims

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP).—The entire personnel of a torpedoed United States merchant ship in the South Atlantic was rescued by a forty-foot Army crash boat navigated by an Army Air Corps officer and operating far out at sea, the War Department announced today.

Seventy persons, including an American naval detachment of one officer and twenty-five enlisted men, were brought back to a United States base from the four lifeboats in which they had taken refuge.

Second Lieutenant William C. O'Bryan, Air Corps, of North Hollywood, Calif., was the officer in charge of the crash boat and made two trips into the open sea to perform the rescue.

The master of the torpedoed ship was Captain Samuel Olsen, of Milford, N. J. Lieutenant (j. g.) Guthrie Crowe, of La Grange, Ky., commanded the Navy detachment.

The announcement said that Captain Olsen evaded the submarine for eight hours after the first torpedo missed his vessel. Then a torpedo struck the ship.

Another torpedo hastened the sinking of the ship. The crew were ordered into four lifeboats, which stayed together for two days and then separated.

Army airplanes flying the South Atlantic sighted one of the lifeboats eight days later. A portable radio and containers of water were dropped with a message assuring help. The other lifeboats were discovered soon and food, water and flares were supplied by parachute.

That afternoon Lieutenant O'Bryan urged that he be allowed to take the crash boat and attempt a rescue. With a crew of five men he cruised through the night and, guided by an airplane, picked up the first lifeboat the next day and removed nineteen persons. Seventy miles away he found two other lifeboats tied together and began towing them toward shore.

Having taken the rescued men from these three boats to shore, the crash boat went back and brought those in the fourth to shore.

ROOSEVELT URGED TO NAME CZAR FOR CONTROL OF FOODS

Congressional Group Fears Shortage, Demands One Central Agency.

BYRNES OPPOSES PLEA

Subsidy Plan Backed to Provide Price Rollback.

WASHINGTON, June 14—(AP) Bi-partisan legislative leaders urged President Roosevelt today to appoint a food "czar"—and reportedly received in return an executive proposal that Congress provide from $1,500,000,000 to $2,000,000,000 to subsidize a rollback in prices to consumers.

Spurred by fears of a canned food shortage, Senator George (D-Ga) said a group of five senators and four House members urged Mr. Roosevelt to centralize in one agency the final authority over production, distribution, preservation, rationing and prices of agricultural commodities.

Byrnes Opposes Plan

There were suggestions that this power be invested either in Food Administrator Chester Davis or War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes. Senator Hill of Alabama, acting Senate Democratic leader, said Mr. Byrnes objected to any such course.

Mr. Byrnes, present at the White House conference, was represented as contending that creation of an over-riding authority would be likely to result in the puncturing of present food price ceilings to spur production and canning activities—an outcome Senator George said appeared inevitable unless subsidies are applied.

In this connection, President Roosevelt was said to have urged that Congress act soon to provide subsidies for a price rollback. This proposal has had strong support from organized labor but was attacked before the Senate Banking committee today by farm organization leaders. Edward A. O'Neal of the Farm Bureau Federation told the committee that labor's demands for subsidies constitue "a thinly disguised effort to secure another unwarranted increase in wages."

Sees Subsidies As Fairer

President Roosevelt was represented as arguing that subsidies would be fairer in their application than price increases, contending that "white collar workers" who have received no income boost because of the war cannot pay increased prices for food. Beyond that he and Mr. Byrnes were reported agreed that any puncturing of food ceilings would increase the pressure for breaks elsewhere in the dam against inflation.

Republicans, headed by Senate Leader McNary (Ore), raised immediate objections to subsidies, contending among other things that their cost would be greater than the saving represented to the consumer.

JUN 15 1943

JUN 15 1943

30.24-4989

Senator George told reporters that as far as he is concerned the principal job now is to get sufficient food produced and canned to avert a shortage. He said he is not particular what method is used to assure canners of a return large enough to permit them to pay high enough wages to obtain workers and to get a reasonable profit for their products.

"We just can't afford to have a food shortage in this country," he declared. "If a rise in price levels is necessary to obtain the maximum production and processing of food, then there should be an increase in prices."

The group, whose call at the White House is expected to be supplemented tomorrow by a similar visit from members of the House Agriculture committee, was reported particularly concerned with a shortage of labor in canning factories. Senator Wiley (R-Wis) told the Senate last week that canners in some instances could pay only 60 cents an hour under present price ceilings, while nearby war plants are paying 90 cents.

The Navy and Marine Corps medal was awarded to Radioman Melvin C. Anderman, 26, of San Diego, Calif., who served aboard the submarine which engaged the battleship and patrol vessel.

The shrub of the huckleberry sometimes reaches a height of 12 feet.

Davis Sees Production Of Food Near Record

Washington, June 14 (AP)—Chester C. Davis, War Food Administrator, said today that despite floods and an unfavorable spring the present outlook indicates greater farm production this year than at any time in history except last year.

In a radio address, the Administrator said farmers broke all-time records in 1939, again in 1940, 1941 and 1942.

"But our civlian consumers alone ate up eighty-five per cent. of that enormous production of last year," Davis said. "Only fifteen per cent. of it went to our armed forces and lend-lease. The last two years have been a great feast period for our civlian consumers. . . .

"The civilian consumer has had more money to spend than ever before and he has tried to spend it. If that runaway purchasing power can be harnessed it too can be made to serve in our national teamwork."

Jap Underseas Craft Destroyed By U. S. Sub in Tokyo Waters

WASHINGTON, June 14 — (AP) An American submarine, battling a Japanese undersea craft on the surface, sent the raider to the bottom, the Navy disclosed today.

The action was fought while the American was on patrol in Japanese waters, and few details were given in a citation accompanying award of a Silver Star medal to Lieut. James H. Barnard, 29, of Albany, N. Y.

Lieut. Barnard, the Navy said, was officer of the deck when his ship was attacked by the enemy submarine.

"Maneuvering with great skill," the Navy said, "Lt Barnard succeeded in avoiding the attack and then launched an assault of his own with such force and accuracy that the enemy craft was probably destroyed."

The Navy also announced award of the Silver Star medal to Lt. John F. Walling, 31, of Nantucket, Mass., diving officer on a submarine which attacked an enemy Kongo class battleship and a Japanese patrol vessel. No details were given of the engagement which the Navy said was "successful." The incident had previously been reported, it added.

U. S. Arms in Russia Delivering Blows to Foe

Stettinius Reports Lend-Lease Has Made Itself Felt

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP).—E. R. Stettinius jr., Lend-Lease Administrator, in a special report today on shipments to Russia in the nineteen months ended April 30, asserted that American weapons in Russians hands "have made themselves felt against the enemy with effectiveness."

The most important single contribution of lend-lease to the Soviets, Stettinius said, is completed weapons—tanks, planes and guns by the thousands. Many of the planes have been flown all the way or assembled en route after being delivered part way in American ships.

"A close second in importance as a vital contribution to the Russian offense," the report said, "has been the volume of raw materials shipped by lend-lease and fabricated into weapons of war by Russia's own industrial plants. Of these materials, the largest single item up to April 30 was 725,000 tons of steel and steel products, followed by 145,000 tons of copper, brass, nickel, molybdenum and other materials."

To help feed the vast Russian Army in the field, as well as the workers behind the lines, lend-lease has shipped 1,077,000 tons of food, including 233,052 tons of wheat and wheat products, 196,660 tons of canned meats, 89,113 tons of other meats, 99,010 tons of dried fruits and vegetables, 61,804 tons of lard, 26,316 tons of dried eggs, 47,355 tons of cereals and cereal products, 13,470 tons of died milk powder and 96,423 tons of vegetable oil.

A.F.L. CHIEF ASKS ROOSEVELT TO KILL ANTI-STRIKE BILL

JUN 15 1943

Green Requests Presidential Veto, Charging Measure Is Fascist.

WASHINGTON, June 14. — (AP) William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, appealed today to President Roosevelt to veto the anti-strike bill, declaring it is "Fascist in character." The bill, passed overwhelmingly by Congress last week, reached the President's desk today.

"The workers of our country," Mr. Green wrote the President, "would never become reconciled to this legislation. They would protest against it and rebel against it in the vent it would become the law of the land. The representatives of all the procurement divisions of the government made it clear to the members of Congress that the enactment of the Connally-Smith bill would adversely interfere with production and to that extent injure the war effort. x x x Congress was moved by anger and feeling when it passed this legislation. Such emotions constitute an unsafe guard for the enactment of legislation which affects the liberty, freedom and fundamental rights of millions of people.

Requests Veto

"I appeal to you, Mr. President, to follow the opposite course and through the use of calm judgment, exercised free from any feeling of any kind whatsoever, veto this un-American, Fascist, anti-labor legislation."

Rep. Ramspeck of Georgia, the House Democratic whip, predicted meanwhile that the President will sign the measure, several sections of which would apply to the coal wage controversy.

This dispute moved today toward a new climax as the War Labor Board prepared its decision on the miners' portal-to-portal pay demand and John L. Lewis summoned the United Mine Workers policy committee to Washington.

The policy committee meeting Wednesday may coincide with the WLB decision, which competent sources say is certain to be substantially short of the miners' demands.

U.M.W. sources said there was no certainty that an agreement between the union and the Central Pennsylvania coal operators would be drafted by mid-week. Mr. Lewis and Charles O'Neill, spokesman for the Pennsylvania groups, agreed in principle to $1.30 a day as settlement of the underground travel pay demand, but a hitch developed in writing legal language mutually satisfactory to the parties.

GROWTH OF ARMY BEST WAR STORY, SAYS ELMER DAVIS

JUN 15 1943

OWI Chief Finds U. S. Has Built Force Despite Washington Confusion.

BOSTON, June 14.—(AP) A United States military machine whose menace is "becoming painfully apparent to our enemies, even if many people in this country still seem unaware of it," has been set rolling in the past three years, Elmer Davis, director of the Office of War Information, said today.

"That, in my opinion, is the b gest story now current, the biggest story for a good many years past," he added in an address before about 125 delegates to the tenth annual convention of the American Newspaper Guild (C.I.O.).

Conversion of Industry

Mr. Davis asserted that despite confusion and bickering, out of Washington has come "the conversion of the greatest peace-time industrial plant the world has ever known to the greatest war-time industrial plant the world has ever known; x x x the creation of an armed force 20 times as large as we had three years ago—and far more efficient man for man."

Mr. Davis declared that in a few papers an impression that Washington is a synonym for "muddle, confusion and bickering" has been "deliberately created, for reasons on which I would prefer not to speculate.

"However," he said, "such criticism accounts for only a part of this impression that has been widely created; it is largely I think the result of routine, and what the sociologists call a time lag—routine reporting and routine editing, a conviction that what was big news and good circulation stuff five years ago is big news and good circulation stuff still.

"And to some extent, of course, the criticism is justified," he added.

Some Washington correspondents, Mr. Davis said, have been covering the Capital for years, "but the war has suddenly compelled them to cover an immensely complicated story quite outside their familiar field.

"It is not surprising if some of them have found some difficulty retooling for conversion to war production, and still seem to feel that a battle between a couple of administrators is bigger news than a battle between the Americans and Japanese navies. A row between two administrators would have been big news in 1938, but is conceivably of somewhat smaller relative importance in 1943."

FEEDING PLAN FOR AXIS-HELD NATIONS URGED

Need of Speedy Action by United States Stressed by Gillette.

FEAR SOME PEOPLE MAY STARVE

Committee Expects to Summon Hoover as Witness—Swedish Shipping Available.

Washington, June 14 (A. P.).—Declaring that "many of our Allies in conquered countries may be dead before they are liberated," Senator Gillette (D.-Iowa) called today for a speedy Senate investigation of a proposal to feed the peoples of Axis-overrun countries.

Senator Gillette is a member of a Foreign Relations sub-committee headed by Senator Thomas (D.-Utah), which has been named to conduct hearings on a resolution offered by Senators Gillette and Taft (R.-Ohio) to put the Senate on record as urging this government to join with Great Britain, Sweden and Switzerland in establishing an international food relief system.

This projected move would be separate from the aid which might be extended to peoples in conquered countries, and other war victims by the proposed United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration.

Conceding that the problem is many sided, Senator Gillette said the committee hoped to find the answers to these questions:

1. Can the United States spare the food needed to supply its fighting Allies as well as the home front?

2. Is there sufficient shipping space to move this food to such countries as Belgium, Norway, the Netherlands and Greece?

3. Will the supplies ever reach the starving natives of those countries, or will they be diverted to Axis use?

4. Would relief of this nature lift a burden from the Axis by giving food to people who otherwise might be moved by desperation to revolt?

5. Will the British agree to lift the blockade of Europe to permit such shipments?

Plan Has Worked.

"There is no question this would be a tremendous undertaking," Senator Gillette told reporters, "but it seems to me that while we are allocating food supplies to countries that have been liberated, we could make a reasonable allocation to our Allies in the conquered areas. Otherwise, many of them will be dead before they are liberated."

While the British in the past have opposed sending supplies to such areas, the Iowa Senator pointed out that food has been sent to Greece for several months under the supervision of the Swedish and Swiss governments and the International Red Cross. He said the State Department recently certified this setup as working satisfactorily and without benefit to the Germans.

Former President Hoover, who directed Belgium relief in the last war, probably will be called as a witness, Senator Gillette said, adding he was informed that sufficient Swedish ships, not available for Allied war cargoes, could be marshaled to move the food to European areas if agreements can be reached.

MOLZAHN APPEAL BRINGS NO ACTION

Supreme Court Fails to Announce Decision on Plea for Review.

WASHINGTON, June 14 — (AP) The Rev. Kurt E. B. Molzahn, pastor of the Old Zion Lutheran church in Philadelphia, failed today to obtain a Supreme court review of his conviction on charges of conspiring to violate the espionage act by aiding an attempt to deliver military secrets to Germany and Japan.

The minister was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment by the Federal district court at Hartford, Conn., and the verdict was upheld by the Federal Circuit court at New York.

In his Supreme court petition, the minister contended, among other things, that the verdict resulted from "prejudice" because of his German birth.

He served in the German cavalry on the Russian front in the first World War and obtained United States citizenship about three years ago.

JUN 15 1943

BIG BOMBERS BLAST JAPS IN SOLOMONS

Washington, June 14 (A. P.).—A bombing raid by Flying Fortresses and Liberator bombers on the Japanese at Kahili on Bougainville Island in the Solomons was reported by the Navy today. Results were not observed, the Navy said. There were no United States losses.

A new technic of sending great flights of fighter planes out on hunting expeditions in a desperate effort to halt relentless bombing of their bases apparently has been adopted by the Japanese in the South Pacific. But it has failed thus far. The bombings continue and the fighting planes are being shot down.

Evidence of the new defensive tactics has been growing in recent air battling throughout the area. It reached a high point with a flight of "forty to fifty" Japanese fighter planes reported engaged over the Russell Islands in the Solomons Saturday, and the Navy reported yesterday that at least half of the flight—possibly thirty-three—were shot down.

Obviously the planes were under instructions to seek out American units and attempt to drive them back. Presumably their objectives were the bombing planes which have been blasting Jap positions. Fighters would be able to inflict little damage on surface vessels.

Navy, Marine and Army fighter planes engaged them. Six United States planes were lost but all except two pilots were rescued. Twenty-five of the Jap planes definitely were shot down, the Navy reported, and eight more probably were destroyed.

MISS PERKINS SEES LABOR AS GLOBAL

Washington, June 14 (A. P.).—The Department of Labor is making post-war plans for domestic rehabilitation and reconstruction elsewhere in the world, dealing with broad international problems of labor and living costs.

Secretary Perkins, in testimony made public today by the House Appropriations Committee, declared the work is being done by the Division of Labor Statistics, which she described as the "key" to the Government's plan on such post-war matters as "labor standards and the movement of labor."

"This is the agency," she told the committee, "through which the State Department is developing its co-operation with other countries with regard to some of the labor problems, also with regard to nutrition, and also with regard to the cost of living, which must be measured internationally in order to have any proper negotiations between the State Department and the foreign offices of other countries."

Secretary Perkins said the bureau had developed a technic "whereby they can very nearly predict how much man power it would take to electrify and build powerhouses and do the necessary wiring in some country in Europe which may have to be reconstructed in the post-war period."

The Labor Secretary declared also that "we look to this bureau to predict for us what the population moves and changes are likely to be that will make necessary whatever type of social security we are to have."

Compulsory Salute to Flag Ruled Out by Supreme Court

JUN 15 1943

Decision by Six to Three Vote Reverses 1940 Finding.

WASHINGTON, June 14—(AP) Speaking out against the use of coercion to weld national unity, the Supreme court held today that states can not compel school children to salute the American flag.

"Compulsory unification of opinion achieves only the unanimity of the graveyard," said the court's 6-3 opinion by Justice Jackson, handed down as the nation observed Flag day.

"To believe that patriotism will not flourish if patriotic ceremonies are voluntary and spontaneous instead of a compulsory routine is to make an unflattering estimate of the appeal of our institutions to free minds.

Cannot Force Faith

"If there is any fixed star in our constitutional constellation, it is that no official, high or petty, can prescribe what shall be orthodox in politics, nationalism, religion, or other matters of opinion or force citizens to confess by word or act their faith therein. If there are any circumstances which permit an exception, they do not now occur to us."

The court thus overruled its 1940 decision upholding the constitutionality of the flag salute. It outlawed, in the case before the court, a flag salute requirement of the West Virginia Board of Education In both cases, the flag salute rule was challenged by members of Jehovah's Witnesses on grounds of religious freedom.

Frankfurter Dissents

Justice Frankfurter, who wrote the majority opinion in 1940, dissented today with Justices Roberts and Reed. Justice Frankfurter asserted that an act promoting good citizenship and national allegiance is "within the domain of government authority and is therefore to be judged by the same considerations of power and of constitutionality as those involved in the many claims of immunity from civil obedience because of religious scruples."

At the same time, the court unanimously declared unconstitutional a Mississippi law prohibiting statements or the distribution of literature "which reasonably tends to create an attitude of stubborn refusal to salute, honor or respect" the flag or government of the United States or Mississippi.

Noting the court's decision in the flag salute case, Justice Roberts declared that if the 14th amendment bans enforcement of the salute it also prohibits the "imposition of punishment for urging and advising that, on religious grounds, citizens refrain from saluting the flag."

The decision reversed the conviction of members of Jehovah's Witnesses charged with violating the law through statements criticizing the President for sending the Army overseas and through the distribution of literature.

The West Virginia Board of Education has required school children to salute the flag and repeat the Oath of Allegiance. Expulsion from school was the penalty for failure to do so. Parents of expelled children could be prosecuted on truancy charges.

Saying that there was no question in this case whether officials may foster national unity by persuasion and example, the court declared the problem was "whether under our Constitution compulsion as here employed is a permissible means for its achievement." The opinion added:

"Probably no deeper division of our people could proceed from any provocation then from finding it necessary to choose what doctrine and whose program public educational officials shall compel youth to unite in embracing. Those who begin coercive elimination of dissent soon find themselves exterminating dissenters. Compulsory unification of opinion achieves only the unanimity of the graveyard. It seems trite but necessary to say that the First amendment to our Constitution was designed to avoid these ends by avoiding these beginnings."

Court to Adjourn Monday

The court announced it will adjourn next Monday for the summer, unless otherwise ordered, leaving two outstanding cases that may be decided on the final day of the term.

One involves the Army's orders putting a curfew on persons of Japanese ancestry on the West coast and subsequently excluding some 70,000 of them from coastal areas. The orders, issued by Lieut. Gen. John L. DeWitt, Western Defense commander, were challenged by two American-born Japanese.

The other case raises the question of whether an alien who belonged to the Communist party in 1927 has the right to citizenship. Involved is William Schneiderman, state secretary of the Communist party in California, whose citizenship was cancelled on the grounds that he concealed his membership in the party at that time. Wendell Willkie, Republican Presidential candidate in 1940, represented Schneiderman.

V Mail To Carry Photos Of Babies To Dads Overseas

Washington, June 14 (AP)—Fathers in the armed forces serving overseas now may get, via V mail, photographs of their offspring under 1 year old or born since dad left for overseas.

The War Department says such pictures now may be transmitted by V mail under certain conditions and may include the mother or other persons holding the child.

The regulation V mail form cannot be altered, and the photograph is limited in size to not more than one third of the correspondence space on the V mail form.

Japan Is To Be Barred From Seals In Future

Washington, June 14 (AP)—Protection of Pacific fur-seal herds and a division of the catch which formerly went to Japan has been agreed upon by the United States and Canada, an informed but unquotable source disclosed today.

The agreement, reached late in 1942, has been referred to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in the form of a bill by Senator Connally (D., Texas). The bill did not give details of the agreement, but it was understood that Japan, which gave a year's notice of repudiation of the original pelagic sealing agreement in October, 1940, was eliminated and her share divided by the United States and Canada.

The original treaty, under which the Pacific herds were to be protected for thirty years, was signed by Canada, the United States, Japan and Russia. Its principal provision was a ban against pelagic sealing, or the killing or capturing of seals at sea.

JUN 15 1943

Byrnes Given Another Government Position

Washington, June 14 (AP)—James F. Byrnes, director of the Office of War Mobilization, has been given another job, that of the President's liaison officer with the Office of Emergency Management.

The position has been held by Wayne Coy, who became assistant budget director more than a year ago. The White House said Coy found the Budget Bureau job required his full time and asked the President to consolidate his liaison work with that of OWM when it was established. This was done in letters sent to Byrnes and Coy.

Capital Muddle Stories Decried By Elmer Davis

Critics Stress 'Bickering'

Despite Record Output, He Tells Newspaper Guild

BOSTON, June 14 (AP).—Elmer Davis, director of the Office of War Information, declared today that an impression had been created that "Washington is necessarily a muddle of bickering and confusion" even while the nation's capital was providing leadership that "has accomplished in three years a job of production and organization unparalleled in history."

Speaking before the convention of the American Newspaper Guild, Mr. Davis said that a few newspapers had "deliberately created" such an impression "for reasons on which I would prefer not to speculate."

He added that others had indulged in criticism "influenced by their antagonism to the party in power," although he conceded that "criticism so motivated is a perfectly legitimate part of the democratic process."

"However," he added, "such criticism accounts for only a part of this impression that has been widely created. It is largely, I think, the result of routine, and what the sociologists call a time lag—routine reporting and routine editing, a conviction that what was big news and good circulation stuff five years ago is big news and good circulation stuff still. And to some extent, of course, the criticism is justified."

Admits Many Mistakes

Conceding that "mistakes have been made, plenty of them," and that "the transformation has been hampered by confusion and bickering," Mr. Davis declared that nevertheless, in three years a military machine had been set rolling whose menace was "becoming painfully apparent to our enemies, even if many people in this country still seem unaware of it."

"That, in my opinion," he said, "is the biggest story now current, the biggest story for a good many years past."

Mr. Davis said that some Washington correspondents had been covering the capital for years. "But," he continued, "the war has suddenly compelled them to cover an immensely complicated story quite outside their familiar field.

"It is not surprising if some of them have found some difficulty retooling for conversion to war production, and still seem to feel that a battle between a couple of administrators is bigger news than a battle between the American and Japanese Navies. A row between two administrators would have been big news in 1938 but is conceivably of somewhat smaller relative importance in 1943."

Mr. Davis said that in the post-war world "a heavy responsibility will lie on the free press and free radio of the United States" in the event that some foreign nations place their news-disseminating agencies under government control.

In such circumstances, he said, "to avert grave damage to the national interest, in competition wth the controlled news services of other nations," American news editors may be obliged to exercise "a greater vigilance, a keener intelligence and a more alert solicitude for the national welfare than has ever been demanded of them in the past."

Asks Balanced Picture of U. S.

Mr. Davis suggested that "it will be the responsibility of American news services dealing with the rest of the world to present a balanced picture of American life—with faults candidly included, but not distorted out of proportion to please customers whose public prefers to think of us as a land of cowboys, multi-millionaires and gangsters."

At an earlier press conference Mr. Davis said the Axis nations have reached a realization that they cannot win a positive victory, and he predicted that when Adolf Hitler's "people feel that he is a liability rather than an asset, they will do away with him."

Earlier, the guild, in convention, adopted unanimously a resolution urging President Roosevelt to veto the anti-strike bill on the ground that "it would place organized labor in a legal straitjacket."

"This bill, if it becomes law, would have no other result than to promote the destruction of labor organizations which have honestly and faithfully adhered to their pledge to you that war production will be maintained," the resolution said.

Lend-Lease Funds Approved

Washington, June 14 (AP)—President Roosevelt signed today a bill appropriating an additional $6,273,629,000 for lend-lease operations.

JUN 15 1943

30.24-4991

Inter-American Book Exchange Mission Named

Five Publishers Will Study Obstacles to Clearance of Technical Information

JUN 15 1943

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP).—Obstacles handicapping the exchange of publications between the United States and other American republics will be investigated by a five-man mission of book publishers traveling under government auspices.

The State Department announced today that the publishers will leave late this month for Mexico, Colombia, Peru, Chile, Argentina and Brazil to consult with publishers, book sellers and government and educational authorities.

Findings of the mission, which will work under arrangements made by the State Department and the Office of the Co-ordinator of Inter-American Affairs, will be submitted to the government and made available to interested groups in this country.

The State Department said that unhampered exchange of publications has a bearing on the war effort.

"Many of the scientific and technical publications published in this county," it said, "are in urgent demand today in mining and industrial establishments in the other American republics where vital war materials are being prepared for delivery to the United Nations."

Members of the mission are:

George P. Brett, jr., president of MacMillan Company; Burr J. Chase, president of Silver-Burdett Company; Robert L. De Graff, president of Pocket Books, Inc.; Malcolm Johnson, executive vice-president of Doubleday, Doran, and James S. Thompson, executive vice-president of McGraw-Hill Company.

U. S.-Anglo Monetary Compromise Held Need

Washington, June 14 (AP)—Norwegian delegates to Secretary Morgenthau's monetary conferences said today that cooperation between the United States and Great Britain was of "fundamental importance" to the small nations of the world.

Expressing the hope that a compromise between American and British plans to stabilize post-war currencies would be worked out, Prof. Wilhelm Keilau, Norwegian financial technician, told a press conference that "we have no more burning desire than to see such cooperation" between America and Britain in the monetary field.

Two Escaped German Prisoners Captured

Temple, Texas, June 14 (AP)—The last two German prisoners of war who escaped from Camp Hood, Texas, were captured tonight at Cedar Park, Texas, officials at the camp announced.

The Germans are Ludwig Jung and Harald Stalleicken.

The three other prisoners of war were captured last Wednesday, the same day they escaped.

Barney Ross Gets Medal

Passaic, N. J., June 14 (AP)—Sergt. Barney Ross, a Marine Corps hero of Guadalcanal, was presented the Distinguished Service Medal of the Marine Corps League, Department of New Jersey, tonight at Flag Day ceremonies.

Plans To Finance Mexican Enterprise

New York, June 14 (AP)—Announcement was made today of the formation of Financiera Tecnica de Mexico, S. A., an organization of Mexican and United States financiers and industrialists.

The organization, which will furnish technical and managerial services for Mexican business, has as directors Julio Lacaud and Carlos Trouyet, partners of J. Lacaud y Cia, Mexico City investment bankers; Antonio Espinosa de Los Monteros, director general of Nacional Financiera, S. A., Mexico City, and George H. Houston and Henrick R. Jolles, of the New York management consultant firm of Houston & Jolles.

DEATH RATE DROPS TO LOWEST LEVEL

Washington, June 14 A. P.).—The general death rate in the United States dropped in 1942 to the lowest level ever recorded. Dr. Thomas Parran, Surgeon-General, told the House Appropriations Committee that the rate last year was 10.3 per 1,000 population, compared to 10.5 in 1941, as shown in provisional data.

"It is probable," he said, "that final figures will also show a decrease in maternal mortality for the thirteenth consecutive year, reaching an all-time low of about or less than three deaths per 1,000 births. Infant mortality decreased to 40 or 41 per 1,000 live births in 1942, as compared with 45 in 1941. At the same time, the birth rate rose from 18.7 per 1,000 population in 1941 to 20.7 in 1942."

The increase of fatal accidents in industry almost offset the reduction in deaths from automobile accidents. Dr. Parran reported substantial increases in two epidemic diseases—meningecoccus meningitis (commonly known as cerebrospinal fever) and typhus fever.

During the first three months of 1943, he said, some 6,000 cases of meningecoccus meningitis were reported, a rate above that of 1918 and probably equal to the outbreak of 1929, when more than 10,000 cases occurred. He added, however, that prompt treatment with the sulfa drugs alone will save a great majority of patients, with the fatality rate having been cut to 5 per cent in some areas.

Typhus fever also increased in 1942, when 3,700 cases were reported, and Dr. Parran said that current reports show a continued rise. There are under way rat-extermination campaigns in the Southern areas where the disease most commonly occurs. It is spread by a rat flea.

Kermit Roosevelt's Son Is Inducted Into Army

New York, June 14 (AP)—Direk Roosevelt, 18-year-old son of Major Kermit Roosevelt whose death in Alaska was announced last week, was inducted into the army today, the fourteenth member of former President Theodore Roosevelt's family to serve with the armed forces.

Young Roosevelt, grandson of the late President, volunteered for service following his graduation from Brooks School last week.

10,000,000 Workers In Russia Have Gardens

New York, June 14 (AP)—The Moscow radio said tonight that 10,000,000 Soviet workers and office employes planted their own vegetable gardens this spring.

The total area of individual and community gardens in Soviet Russia was estimated at 1,000,000 hectares (2,471,000 acres).

The broadcast, recorded here by the Associated Press, quoted a dispatch from Tass, the Russian official news agency.

President Of Paraguay Visits Plants In Detroit

Detroit, June 14 (AP)—Gen. Higinio Morinigo, President of the Republic of Paraguay, with a party of seventeen, including nine other representatives of the Paraguayan Government, toured armament plants in the Detroit area today.

Greeted upon arrival here by Mayor Edward J. Jeffries and representatives of Gov. Harry F. Kelley, the visiting officials were taken first on a tour of the Chrysler-operated Detroit tank plant and the factory of the Packard Motor Car Company where they saw aviation and marine engines in production.

At noon President Morinigo and his party were luncheon guests of General Motors Corporation. The afternoon was spent in a tour of the Rouge plant of the Ford Motor Company.

JUN 15 1943

U. S. SOLDIER IS SLAIN, ZOOT SUIT YOUTHS HELD

EL PASO, Tex., June 14.—(AP) Pvt. Donald C. Hemenway stationed at nearby Fort Bliss was found stabbed to death in neighboring Juarez, Mexico, and officials there said today that five youths wearing zoot suits were held for investigation.

Mayor Antonio Bermudez of Juarez, directing the inquiry into the death of the Natick, Mass., soldier, said the arrests were made after a witness reported seeing three youths wearing zoot suits attack a United States soldier on a Juarez street Saturday night shortly before Hemenway's body was found by two small boys.

He said robbery evidently was not the motive as $10 in cash was found on Hemenway's body.

NAZI PRISONERS CAPTURED

TEMPLE, Tex., June 14—(AP) The last two German prisoners of war who escaped from Camp Hood, Texas, were captured tonight at Cedar Park, Texas, officials at the camp announced.

Liberty Ship Launched

The Joshua L. Chamberlain Named for Hero of Gettysburg Battle

SOUTH PORTLAND, Me., June 14 (AP).—Another 19,500-ton Liberty ship was added today to the nation's merchant fleet with the launching of the Joshua L. Chamberlain at the New England Shipbuilding Corporation yards. The vessel was named by Miss Patricia Palmer, of South Orange, N. J., daughter of Dwight R. G. Palmer, president of the General Cable Corporation, of New York.

New Yorkers in Pacific Naval Fight

Commander Clute Tells of Long Battle in Which Force Fought Way Out of Trap Off the Aleutians.

San Francisco, June 14 (A. P.).—In what was perhaps the longest sea battle of the war, and against overwhelming odds, American naval forces fought off Japanese attempts to reinforce Attu and Kiska and blasted their way out of a trap in a daring daylight torpedo attack, the Twelfth Naval District disclosed today. The action was reported several weeks ago off the Aleutians.

Today's story paid particular tribute to the lead destroyer of the three which, with the help of an American heavy cruiser, put to flight enemy destroyers, two heavy cruisers, two light cruisers and two transports or cargo ships. The destroyers streaked in under the big Japanese guns for the torpedo kill after the American force had been trapped between the Japanese and the nearby islands.

The American cruiser walloped one of the Japanese cruisers at the start of the battle. The lead destroyer, eyewitness accounts said today, hit an enemy light cruiser with a salvo and put a torpedo into another heavy one under "an appalling volume of fire."

Lieut.-Commander James M. Clute of Staten Island, the destroyer's executive officer, said that the "continuous slugging match" from 7:30 A. M. until 12:30 P. M. possibly set a record in length, and that the fact "we could make all the speed we wanted to probably saved us."

He paid high tribute to the American cruiser that fought off the two Japanese heavy cruisers though she herself had been hit. He told of receiving orders to lead the bold, daylight torpedo attack after the American force had been trapped. The destroyers waded in from 25,000 yards.

After torpedoes had been launched, the two big Japanese ships turned and ran. Five persons were killed and five wounded on the destroyer leader which made her base after a "pretty miserable trip" with no lights, no heat and no fresh water.

The ship's medical officer, Lieut. Richard S. Meredith of 122 East 76th street, New York, said his practice before entering the Navy was limited to obstetrics, "but I have very little use for that specialty now." Flying splinters from a whaleboat first notified him his ship had been hit.

Annapolis 1934.

Commander Clute is 32 years old and was graduated from Annapolis in 1934. His brother William, 28, is a lieutenant (j. g.) in the Navy.

Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. James M. Clute Sr., and their sister Jeanette were obviously thrilled at the news of the Commander's exploits when informed today at their home at 49 Ann street, Port Richmond, S. I. But, they insisted modestly, they didn't want to make their son out a hero. He was, they said, just doing his job.

"What we want more than anything is just to see him," said the father. "He is on the West Coast now with his wife and telephoned us not long ago. He just asked us if we had heard any news of a big naval engagement in the Pacific, but, of course, at that time he was not free to give us any details."

The Commander has seen much service in the Pacific, and was stationed in Hawaii for several years. Mr. Clute Sr. is connected with the Bethlehem Steel Company, shipbuilding division.

JUN 15 1943

UNDATED SINKINGS

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

NO WESTERN ATLANTIC MERCHANT SINKINGS WERE ANNOUNCED LAST WEEK FOR THE FIRST TIME SINCE THE WEEK OF FEB. 15, BEARING OUT RECENT STATEMENTS BY UNITED STATES AND BRITISH OFFICIALS THAT THE AXIS U-BOAT MENACE IS BEING CONQUERED.

SO FAR THIS YEAR, ANNOUNCED ALLIED AND NEUTRAL MERCHANT LOSSES IN THE WESTERN ATLANTIC HAVE AVERAGED FOUR A WEEK WHEREAS IN 1942 ENEMY U-BOATS ACCOUNTED FOR A WEEKLY AVERAGE OF 10.

DURING THE PAST WEEK, HOWEVER, TWO VESSELS WERE ADDED TO THE ANNOUNCED TOLL IN THOSE WATERS WHEN LOCATIONS OF PREVIOUSLY REPORTED LOSSES WERE DISCLOSED.

THE ADDITIONS-- THE LIBERTY SHIP, JAMES W. DENVER, AND THE ANGELUS, A BRITISH-CANADIAN SCHOONER -- RAISED TO 668 THE ASSOCIATED PRESS TOTAL OF ANNOUNCED ALLIED AND NEUTRAL SHIPS LOST IN THAT AREA SINCE PEARL HARBOR.

UNDATED FLAG DAY

JUN 15 1943

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

BANNERS OF ALL THE UNITED NATIONS WERE MASSED WITH THE STARS AND STRIPLES TODAY IN THE FIRST JOINT CELEBRATION OF THE HERETOFORE STRICTLY AMERICAN OBSERVANCE OF FLAG DAY.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT IN HIS OFFICIAL PROCLAMATION SETTING JUNE 14 ASIDE FOR UNITED TRIBUTE TO THE EMBLEMS OF THE 32 NATIONS REPRESENTING THE "MASSED, ANGERED FORCES OF COMMON HUMANITY," CALLED UPON THE UNITED STATES TO DISPLAY THE ALLIED FLAGS SIDE BY SIDE WITH THEIR OWN

"WE KNOW THAT OUR FLAG IS NOT FIGHTING ALONE," THE PRESIDENT SAID. "THE FLAGS OF 32 UNITED NATIONS ARE MARCHING TOGETHER, BORNE FORWARD BY THE BRAVERY OF FREE MEN. TOGETHER, THEY ARE 1 EMBLEM OF A GATHERING OFFENSIVE THAT SHALL LIBERATE THE WORLD."

IN WASHINGTON, AS ELSEWHERE, THE NEW "FLAG OF THE FOUR FREEDOMS" WAS FLOWN PUBLICLY FOR THE FIRST TIME TO REPRESENT ALL THE UNITED NATIONS.

JUN 15 1943

CHOSEN BY POPULAR POLL, THE FLAG CONSISTS OF A WHITE FIELD EMBLAZONED WITH FOUR UPRIGHT BARS OF RED, REPRSENTING THE PRINCIPLES OF THE ATLANTIC CHARTER: FREEDOM OF SPEECH, AND RELIGION, AND FREEDOM FROM WANT AND FEAR.

A CREATION OF THE YEAR-OLD, UNOFFICIAL UNITED NATIONS CLUB, THE FLAG IS INTENDED TO BE FLOWN ALONG WITH THE BANNERS OF THE VARIOUS UNITED NATIONS--NOT TO REPLACE THEM.

IT IS BEING FLOWN IN WASHINGTON UNDER SPONSORSHIP OF THE AMERICAN LEGION AND MASONIC ORGANIZATIONS.

THE OFFICE OF WAR INFORMATION'S OUTPOST BUREAUS REPORTED THAT FLAG DAY WAS OBSERVED IN MANY PARTS OF THE WORLD, INCLUDING CHUNGKING, LONDON, MELBOURNE, BEIRUT, HONOLULU, AND OTHER CITIES OF THE UNITED NATIONS.

GEN. DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER, COMMANDER IN CHIEF OF ALLIED FORCES IN NORTH AFRICA, IN A FLAG DAY MESSAGE RELEASED THROUGH OWI SAID:

"AUTOCRACY HAS CAUSE TO TREMBLE WHEN FREE NATIONS JOIN THEIR MINDS, THEIR RESOURCES, THEIR HANDS AND THEIR HEARTS TO MAINTAIN THEIR COMMON IDEALS. THIS AGE-OLD TRUTH HAS AGAIN BEEN DEMONSTRATED IN THE NORTH AFRICAN CAMPAIGN.

"ON LAND, AT SEA AND IN THE AIR, FORCES OF THE UNITED NATIONS POOLED THEIR RESOURCES IN NORTH AFRICA, PLANNED TOGETHER, WORKED

JUN 15 1943

30.24-4993

TOGETHER, AND FOUGHT TOGETHER TOWARD A SINGLE GOAL, TO ROUTE THE FORCES OF ENSLAVEMENT. THE TUNISIAN VICTORY, THEREFORE, STANDS A MONUMENT TO THE PERFECTION OF OUR UNIFICATION AND A DOUBLE DEFEAT FOR HITLERISM.

"WE FACE THE FUTURE WITH CONFIDENCE, BECAUSE WE ARE AS ONE IN PURPOSE AND ACTION. THROUGH UNITY, THE FORCES OF FREEDOM WILL BRING FORTH FROM THIS WAR A TRIUMPHANT PEACE."

JUN 15 1943

THE JAPANESE BROADCAST, RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, SAID "COL. NOBLE" WAS "FORMER COMMANDER OF THE USAFFE IN NORTHERN LUZON AND BEFORE THE WAR COMMANDED THE U.S. 14TH ARTILLERY REGIMENT." IT SAID THAT A "LIEUT.-COL.F.MOSES" AND TWO FILIPINO SUB-LIEUTENANTS ALSO WERE TAKEN PRISONER, ALL BEING ARRESTED IN THE MOUNTAINOUS AREA 20 KILOMETERS SOUTHEAST OF LUBUAGAN. THE ARMY AND MARINES COULD NOT IDENTIFY "COL.MOSES" EITHER.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

UNITED NATIONS DAY WAS CELEBRATED IN RUSSIA WITH A DISPLAY OF STATE FLAGS ON ALL GOVERNMENT BUILDINGS THROUGHOUT THE UNION WHILE IN MAJOR CITIES FACTORIES AND SCHOOLS HEARD REPORTS ON THE STRUGGLE OF THE UNITED NATIONS AGAINST THE COMMON ENEMY, MOSCOW RADIO SAID LAST (MON) NIGHT.

A BROADCAST RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS SAID BUILDERS ENGAGED IN THE RECONSTRUCTION OF ONCE-BESIEGED STALINGRAD HELD A MEETING THERE, WHILE IN MOSCOW A RADIO CONCERT INCLUDED MUSIC FROM THE UNITED NATIONS, AMONG THEM AMERICAN AND BRITISH WORKS.

EXHIBITIONS PICTURING THE WAR WERE OPENED IN SEVERAL CITIES, WHILE MOTION PICTURE THEATERS SHOWED BRITISH DOCUMENTARY FILMS AND NEWSREELS OF ALLIED MILITARY ACTIVITIES.

A/S

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

THE TOKYO RADIO, QUOTING A DOMEI DISPATCH SAID YESTERDAY (MON) THE JAPANESE HAD CAPTURED REMNANTS ENGAGING IN PHILIPPINE GUERRILLA OPERATIONS IN NORTHERN LUZON JUNE 2, WITH A "COL.H.M.NOBLE" AMONG THE PRISONERS, BUT ARMY AND MARINE OFFICIALS IN WASHINGTON SAID THEIR RECORDS SHOWED NO COLONEL OF THAT NAME.

UNDATED ITALIAN FASCISTS (PRECEDE LONDON DAY)

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

JUN 15 1943

ITALY'S FASCIST PARTY HAS RECOMMENDED A NINE-POINT PROGRAM FOR A MORE STRICT REGULATION OF THE LIVES OF ITALIANS BECAUSE OF THE IMMINENCE OF INVASION, THE ROME RADIO DISCLOSED YESTERDAY, AND LAST (MON) NIGHT BOTH THE GERMAN AND ITALIAN RADIOS SAID THE MOVE "INFORMED THE ITALIAN PEOPLE WITH A SUDDEN JERK" OF "THE SERIOUSNESS OF THE HOUR."

THE AXIS RADIOS RALLIED "ALL MILITARY AND MORAL RESOURCES OF THE COUNTRY" TO MEET THE EMERGENCY.

THE BROADCASTS, RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, SAID THE RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE FASCIST PARTY DIRECTORATE SENT TO PREMIER MUSSOLINI FALL INTO THESE NINE POINTS:

SUPPRESSION OF ALL ATTEMPTS TO WEAKEN UNITY; STRICT COOPERATION OF INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION; EFFECTIVE CONTROL OF DISTRIBUTION; LIMITATION OF ECONOMIC ORGANIZATIONS TO THE MINIMUM; SPUR PRODUCTION BY ELIMINATING RED TAPE; SUPPRESSION OF BLACK MARKETS; STRICT CONTROL AND CLOSING DOWN OF DELUXE HOTELS, BOARDING HOUSES, RESTAURANTS AND SHOPS; DEPORTATION OF ALL FOREIGNERS WHO ARE UNNECESSARY; STRICT APPLICATION OF THE LAW ON THE DUTY TO WORK.

JUN 15 1943

THE STEFANI NEWS AGENCY COMMENTED THAT THE RECOMMENDATIONS "AFFIRM ONCE AGAIN THAT THE ITALIAN PEOPLE IS FIRMLY DECIDED TO FIGHT TILL THE END FOR THE VICTORY OF ITS CAUSE WHICH IT IDENTIFIES WITH THE INTERNATIONAL AND SOCIAL JUSTICE OF MODERN TIMES."

THE PUBLIC MAY ALSO FEEL, THE AGENCY SAID, THAT "THE VIGILANT EYES OF THE PARTY ARE FIRMLY FIXED ON ALL CLASSES AND CATEGORIES OF THE NATION. X X X THE OLD GUARD OF THE REVOLUTION AND THE NEW GENERATION ARE MOUNTING GUARD."

THE WAR TODAY

(WHILE DEWITT MACKENZIE IS ON VACATION, THIS DAILY COLUMN IS BEING WRITTEN BY MAX HILL, FORMER CHIEF OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS BUREAU IN TOKYO).

---

JUN 15 1943

BY MAX HILL

ANOTHER BRIEF BUT IMPORTANT SESSION OF JAPAN'S DIET IS SCHEDULED FOR THIS WEEK, AND WE SHOULD WEIGH CAREFULLY ALL THAT THE TOKYO RADIO SEES FIT TO BROADCAST ABOUT THE PROCEEDINGS.

NATURALLY, THE ANNOUNCEMENTS WILL BE LARDED GENEROUSLY WITH PROPAGANDA SPECIALLY CONCOCTED FOR CONSUMPTION BY THE UNITED NATIONS, BUT MOST LIKELY WE CAN FIND AT LEAST A CLUE TO THE TRUE REASON FOR THIS EMERGENCY THREE-DAY SESSION.

IT IS LOGICAL TO ASSUME THAT PREMIER HIDEKI TOJO AND HIS HENCHMEN ALREADY HAVE MAPPED A PLAN OF ACTION, AND IT IS NOW UP TO THE DIET TO VOICE ENTHUSIASTIC APPROVAL, WHETHER WILLING OR NOT. SUCH RUBBER-STAMP ACTIONS ARE THE RULE AND NOT THE EXCEPTION FOR JAPAN'S SO-CALLED LEGISLATIVE BODY. A JAPANESE ONCE POINTED OUT TO ME THE GREAT STONE BUILDING IN WHICH THE DIET MEETS AS THE "TOMBSTONE OF A DEMOCRACY." HE WAS RIGHT, 100 PER CENT.

TOKYO'S BROADCASTS ALREADY HAVE USED ALL OF THE OLD, FAMILIAR PHRASES ABOUT JAPAN'S IMMUTABLE PURPOSE, A PERFECTED "STRUCTURE FOR TOTAL NATIONAL MOBILIZATION," AND "REORGANIZATION OF ENTERPRISE."

BUT ALL OF THIS CAN BE CUT AWAY BY QUALIFIED STUDENTS--AND WE HAVE SEVERAL--LEAVING AT LEAST THE GERM OF TRUTH. FOR AN EXAMPLE, IT IS NOT NECESSARY TO GO BACK INTO HISTORY FARTHER THAN NOVEMBER, 1941, WHEN A SPECIAL SESSION WAS HELD JUST BEFORE PEARL HARBOR.

THEN AMERICAN NEWSPAPERMEN AND OUR DIPLOMATIC CORPS WERE THERE TO REPORT ON WHAT HAPPENED. THE JAPANESE HAD A NEAT SCHEME TO SEE THAT THE SESSION WAS "PROPERLY" PRESENTED IN THE WORLD'S NEWSPAPERS. THEY MADE FOREIGN MINISTER TOGO'S SPEECH AVAILABLE SEVERAL DAYS AHEAD OF DELIVERY. IT WAS PACKED WITH TALK OF PEACE.

JUN 15 1943

PREMIER TOJO'S ADDRESF--NOT AVAILABLE UNTIL DELIVERY--WAS IN AN ENTIRELY DIFFERENT TONE, AND IN A VOICE SHRILL WITH HATRED HE GAVE WHAT HE SAID WAS JAPAN'S PROGRAM--SUCCESSFUL CONCLUSION OF THE CHINA INCIDENT AND ESTABLISHMENT OF THE CO-PROSPERITY SPHERE. HE SAID BLUNTLY, TOO, THAT THE ANGLO-AMERICAN BLOCKADE WAS AN UNDECLARED FORM OF WAR.

AN OVER-CONFIDENT AND CAREFREE AMERICA--AND BRITAIN--CONCLUDED HE WAS JUST TALKING WILDLY THROUGH HIS ARMY HAT, AND DIDN'T HEED THIS PLAIN WARNING JAPAN MIGHT STRIKE.

JAPAN NOW MUST BE FACING A SERIOUS FOOD SITUATION; OTHERWISE SHE WOULDN'T BE TALKING ABOUT THE NECESSITY FOR INCREASED PRODUCTION AS A REASON FOR THIS SPECIAL SESSION. HER EXHAUSTED VOLCANIC SOIL AND A CRITICAL LACK OF FERTILIZERS UNDOUBTEDLY ARE TWO OF THE KEY REASONS.

JUN 15 1943

30.24-4995

THE SOIL IS SO ACID IT MUST HAVE NEUTRALIZING FERTILIZERS, AND THEY JUST AREN'T AVAILABLE.

JUN 15 1943

FOR THE MOST PART JAPAN'S HOME FRONT IS STRONG, BUT THERE ARE SEVERAL FUNDAMENTAL WEAKNESSES, SUCH AS THE ABILITY TO PRODUCE FOOD AND THE BLACK MARKET, WHICH IS SO WIDESPREAD THAT IT HAS BECOME A CANCER EATING AWAY MUCH OF THE VIRILITY OF HER WAR EFFORT.

WE ARE GETTING A TASTE OURSELVES OF WHAT THE BLACK MARKET AND INFLATION CAN DO TO HAMPER AN ALL-OUT EFFORT TO WIN THE WAR. IT IS BAD ENOUGH HERE, BUT IT IS FAR WORSE IN JAPAN.

LONDON--ADD SECOND LEAD AERIAL (TOP ON AYE IN DAY) X X X THAN USUAL.

THREE MEMBERS OF A FORTRESS PILOTED BY FIRST LIEUT.JAMES M.SMITH OF AUSTIN TEXAS DEFIED THE 13 JINX BY MAKING THEIR 13TH RAID ON JUNE 13.

"THIS CREW HAS HAD 13'S EVER SINCE IT WAS PUT TOGETHER," GRINNED STAFF SERGT.JACK LEVINE OF EAST NASSAU, N.Y., TOP TURRET GUNNER, "SO I THOUGHT IT WOULD BE A LUCKY DAY FOR US AND IT WAS. WE DROPPED OUR BOMBS ACCURATELY AND RETURNED INTACT."

STAFF SERGT.B.W.CROSSLEY OF ATLANTA, GA., TAIL GUNNER OF "EASY ACES," SHOT DOWN HIS FOURTH AND FIFTH GERMAN FIGHTERS, ONE OVER THE TARGET AND ANOTHER ON THE WAY HOME.

A MESSERSCHMITT-110 WENT DOWN UNDER THE FIRE OF STAFF SERGT. RANDALL COWAN OF FRITCH, TEXAS, WHO BEFORE GOING TO WORK WITH HIS GUN, HAD TO OPEN THE BOMB BAY DOORS AND KICK OUT A BURSTING ROUND OF AMMUNICATION WHICH HAD IGNITED ACCIDENTALLY.

THE FORTRESS "SEVEN ELEVEN" PILOTED BY FIRST LIEUT.EDWARD A.PURDY OF DENVER SURVIVED AN HOUR-LONG AERIAL BATTLE WITH FIGHTERS WHICH CRIPPLED "SEVEN ELEVEN" IN THE FIRST SIX MINUTES. ONE OF ITS ENGINES KNOCKED OUT, ANOTHER WAS DAMAGED; THE FUSELAGE WAS PUNCTURED; THE OXYGEN SYSTEM WAS DISABLED--BUT "SEVEN ELEVEN" FOUGHT ITS WAY HOME.

LONDON, JUNE 14-(AP)-REUTERS RECORDED A GERMAN BROADCAST TODAY SAYING "AMERICAN" PLANES ATTACKED FLUSHING IN THE NETHERLANDS YESTERDAY MORNING (CORRECT). FLUSHING WAS ONE OF THE TARGETS OF RAF DAYLIGHT RAIDERS SUNDAY.

JUN 15 1943

LONDON, JUNE 14-(AP)-RUSSIAN TROOPS CONTINUED THEIR THRUSTS IN THE IMPORTANT OREL SECTOR OF THE FRONT LAST NIGHT, CAPTURING FOUR POPULATED PLACES, BEATING OFF COUNTER ATTACKS AND SHELLING GERMAN FORTIFICATIONS, THE SOVIET MIDDAY COMMUNIQUE SAID TODAY.

SCOUTS MAKING A SURPRISE ATTACK WEST OF MTSENSK, WHICH IS ABOUT 50 MILES NORTHEAST OF OREL, DISLODGED GERMAN DEFENDERS OF THE FOUR PLACES AND HELD FAST DESPITE REPEATED ATTEMPTS TO DISLODGE THEM, SAID THE COMMUNIQUE WHICH WAS BROADCAST FROM MOSCOW AND RECORDED BY THE SOVIET MONITOR HERE.

ABOUT 300 GERMANS WERE KILLED, EIGHT TANKS KNOCKED OUT, AND ARTILLERY AND MORTAR BATTERIES WERE SILENCED, THE RUSSIANS SAID.

BIG SOVIET GUNS ALSO POUNDED AT ENEMY FORTIFICATIONS IN THE SEVSK AREA SOUTHWEST OF OREL, THE COMMUNIQUE SAID, WHILE SCOUTS PENETRATED GERMAN POSITIONS THERE, KILLED 25 GERMANS AND SEIZED DOCUMENTS.

JUN 15 1943

FURIOUS AIR BATTLES, WHICH LAST WEEK COST THE GERMANS 498 PLANES TO RUSSIAN LOSSES OF 153, CONTINUED INTO THE NIGHT, WITH THE GERMANS LOSING THREE MORE PLANES NEAR MTSENSK.

INDICATING THE FEROCITY AND SCOPE OF THE RECENT AERIAL ENGAGEMENTS, A SPECIAL RUSSIAN COMMUNIQUE SAID LAST WEEK'S LOSSES BROUGHT NAZI PLANES DESTROYED DURING THE LAST SIX WEEKS TO 3,319. GERMANY'S JUNE LOSSES ALONE WERE PLACED AT 1,250 PLANES.

JUN 15 1943

THE MIDNIGHT COMMUNIQUE ALSO SAID RED ARMY ARTILLERY DEMOLISHED FORTIFICATIONS IN THE BELGOROD AREA, NORTHEAST OF KHARKOV AND REPORTED ACTIVITY ON THE LOWER FRONT WEST OF ROSTOV ON THE DON.

NEAR ROSTOV, IT SAID, 150 GERMAN OFFICERS AND MEN WERE KILLED DURI "ACTIVE MILITARY OPERATIONS" AND MORE THAN A PLATOON OF THE ENEMY WAS KILLED WHEN INFANTRY CONCENTRATIONS WERE SHELLED.

LONDON, TUESDAY, JUNE 15-(AP)-THE DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS WAS AWARDED TODAY TO TWO AMERICANS WITH THE ROYAL CANADIAN AIR FORCE, PILOT OFFICER LEONARD CUDDINGTON OF CARLSBAD, N.M., AND IRVIN L. LAUCKNER, WHO WAS BORN IN DETROIT, MICH., AND LATER MOVED TO LONDON, ONT.

CUDDINGTON WAS CITED AS "AN OUTSTANDING GUNNER WHO PARTICIPATED IN A VERY LARGE NUMBER OF ATTACKS AGAINST X X X BERLIN, ESSEN AND TURIN."

LAUCKNER WAS DESCRIBED OFFICIALLY AS "AN EXCEPTIONALLY EFFICIENT REAR GUNNER WHO HAS PROVED STEADINESS AND COOLNESS IN THE FACE OF ENEMY OPPOSITION." THE CITATION PRAISED HIS ABILITY IN DIRECTING EVASIVE ACTION.

LONDON, JUNE 14-(AP)-THE FASCIST PARTY DIRECTORATE HAS RECOMMENDED STRICTER REGULATION OF THE LIVES OF THE ALREADY REGIMENTED ITALIANS BECAUSE OF THE "GRAVITY OF THE MOMENT" AND THE IMMINENCE OF INVASION, ROME BROADCASTS MADE KNOWN TODAY.

THE BROADCASTS, HEARD BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, SAID THE DIRECTORATE RECOMMENDED TO PREMIER MUSSOLINI "THE RUTHLESS REPRESSION OF ALL ATTEMPTS TO UNDERMINE THE MATERIAL AND MORAL COHESION OF THE PEOPLE." IT CALLED FOR NEW REGULATIONS, DESCRIBING EXISTING ONES INSUFFICIENT.

THE RADIO REPORT SAID THE DIRECTORATE ALSO RECOMMENDED THE REDUCTION OF BUSINESS CONCERNS TO A MINIMUM; "UNIFIED DISCIPLINE" FOR AGRICULTURE; AND "DISCIPLINE AND EFFECTIVE CONTROL OF SUPPLIES IN ALL BRANCHES OF COMMERCE, PITILESSLY ELIMINATING SUBVERSIVE TENDENCIES."

JUN 15 1943

A RESOLUTION WAS QUOTED AS SAYING:

"THE PARTY DIRECTORATE RECOGNIZES THE NECESSITY FOR THE ITALIAN PEOPLE TO HARDEN THEMSELVES IN THE FACE OF THE GRAVITY OF THE MOMENT.

"ALL FOREIGNERS WHO CANNOT JUSTIFY THEIR PRESENCE IN ITALY SHOULD BE SENT BACK TO THEIR OWN COUNTRIES."

THIS REFERENCE MIGHT BE TO THE ABNORMAL NUMBER OF GERMANS IN ITALY.

"THE BLACK MARKET IS A GENERAL PHENOMENON IN ALL BELLIGERENT COUNTRIES BUT IS ABSOLUTELY IRRECONCILABLE WITH FASCIST TENDENCIES," THE DIRECTORATE WAS QUOTED AS SAYING. "THE PARTY INTENDS TO FOLLOW THE ROAD ALREADY TRODDEN TIGHTENING PENALTIES AGAINST OFFENDERS AND STRIKING MORE HARSHLY AGAINST THOSE WHO ACQUIRE GOODS AT EXCESSIVE PRICES."

JUN 15 1943

3024-4997

A U.S.BOMBER STATION IN ENGLAND, JUNE 15-(DELAYED)-(AP)-THE NARROW ESCAPE OF TWO NEW YORKERS IN THE CREW OF A FLYING FORTRESS, WHO OUT-SWAM GASOLINE FLAMES AFTER THEIR PLANE MADE A CRASH LANDING IN THE ENGLISH CHANNEL, WAS DISCLOSED TODAY.

SGT.FREDERICK T.HUTHER, 25, OF UTICA, RADIO OPERATOR AND GUNNER, AND LIEUT.ROBERT J.CURTIS, 24, OF DUNKIRK, NAVIGATOR, WERE AMONG NINE AIRMEN RESCUED BY A BRITISH BOAT AFTER AN HOUR AND A HALF IN THE WATER. THEY SUFFERED BURNS AND BRUISES.

JUN 15 1943

THEIR FORTRESS, CALLED "BARRELHOUSE BESSIE FROM BASIN STREET" WAS RIDDLED BY SHELLFIRE AND SANK QUICKLY AFTER LANDING IN THE CHOPPY CHANNEL. FUEL LEAKS FED A GASOLINE FIRE, AND THE CREW MEMBERS ESCAPED BY SWIMMING AHEAD OF THE SPREADING FLAMES.

HUTHER, WHO COULDN'T SWIM, WAS KEPT AFLOAT BY COMPANIONS UNTIL THEY REACHED A DAMAGED DINGHY RELEASED FROM THE PLANE. CURTIS KEPT UP THE MEN'S SPIRITS BY SINGING UNTIL THEY WERE SO CHILLED BY THE WATER THAT THEIR TEETH WERE CHATTERING TOO MUCH TO SING.

BY LEO BRANHAM

AT A U.S. BOMBER STATION IN BRITAIN, JUNE 14-(AP)-THEY DON'T FLY BOMBERS OVER EUROPE BUT THE MEN OF THE SERVICE SQUADRON AT THIS FLYING FORTRESS STATION ARE FIGHTERS JUST THE SAME. THE BOMBER CREWS SAY THESE FELLOWS HAVE EARNED THE RIGHT TO THE NAME.

"SURE, WE ARE FIGHTING ALL THE TIME," INSISTED CAPT. CHARLES R. LEWIS OF CHICAGO, BASE ENGINEER, "FIGHTING TO KEEP THESE FORTS IN THE AIR. OUR BOYS FEEL THAT AS LONG AS WE CAN KEEP THE PLANES FLYING WE'LL WIN THE WAR ALL RIGHT."

JUN 15 1943

NO GLAMOR BOYS ARE THESE SERVICE MEN WHO REPAIR SHOT-UP BOMBERS. THEY KNOW THEY ARE "JUST A BUNCH OF GREASE-MONKEYS" RELEGATED TO A LITTLE PUBLICIZED ROLE IN THE WAR. BUT THEY DON'T RESENT THE FACT THAT THE FLYING CREWS WIN ALL THE GLORY.

"THE FLIERS DESERVE ALL THE MEDALS FOR THEY FACE DEATH," SAID LEWIS, WHO OFTEN GOES ON RAIDS AS AN OBSERVER. "BUT WHEN EVER A SHOT-UP SHIP WE'VE REPAIRED TAKES THE AIR AGAIN OUR BOYS FEEL A GLOW OF PRIDE. THEY KNOW THEY REALLY ARE PLAYING A BIG PART IN THE AERIAL OFFENSIVE."

HERE IS A SAMPLE OF THE FIGHT CONTINUALLY WAGED BY THE SERVICE MEN.

ONCE 12 BOMBERS FROM THIS STATION RETURNED DAMAGED FROM A RAID. SOME OF THEM WERE SO BADLY SHOT UP THAT LARGE PARTS OF THEM HAD TO BE REBUILT.

JUN 15 1943

MACHINERY HUMMED INSIDE THE HUGE HANGARS AS MORE THAN 112 SERVICE MEN LABORED DAY AND NIGHT, HAVING THEIR MEALS BROUGHT TO THEM AND NEVER TAKING TIME OFF TO SLEEP. IN 48 HOURS THE 12 BOMBERS WERE READY TO GO RAIDING AGAIN.

EVERY SERVICE MAN IS A SPECIALIST AND THE UNIT CAN REBUILD AN ENTIRE BOMBER AND ITS ENGINES IF NECESSARY, LEWIS SAID.

IF A CRIPPLED BOMBER CRASH LANDS AT SOME OBSCURE SPOT IN THE ENGLISH COUNTRYSIDE, AN ENGINEERING UNIT LOADS UP ITS TOOLS AND GOES TO RE-BUILD THE PLANE ON THE SPOT.

BOMBERS RETURNING SO BADLY DAMAGED THEY AREN'T WORTH REPAIRING BECOME "HANGAR QUEENS" AND THEIR PARTS ARE SALVAGED TO REPAIR OTHER SHIPS.

SERVICE MEN ALSO PERIODICALLY REPACK PARACHUTES TO PREVENT DAMAGE BY ACCUMULATED MOISTURE. CARELESSNESS IS UNHEARD OF IN THIS DEPARTMENT FOR IT IS A RULE THAT IF THE FLIER IS DISSATISFIED WITH THE JOB

JUN 15 1943

1943

HE CAN DEMAND THAT THE PACKER GO UP AND BALE OUT WITH HIS 'CHUTE.

AMONG THE OTHER OFFICERS IN THE SERVICE UNIT ARE MAJ.H.G.COTTON OF SAN FRANCISCO, CAPT.ROLAND COWAN OF OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA., LIEUT. JOSEPH FREEDMAN OF CATLETTSBURG, KY., AND WARRANT OFFICER EDWARD GIZA OF NEWPORT NEWS, VA.

JUN 15 1943

LONDON, TUESDAY, JUNE 15-(AP)-THE DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS WAS AWARDED TODAY TO TWO AMERICANS WITH THE ROYAL CANADIAN AIR FORCE, PILOT OFFICER LEONARD CUDDINGTON OF CARLSBAD, N.M., AND IRVIN L. LAUCKNER, WHO WAS BORN IN DETROIT, MICH., AND LATER MOVED TO LONDON, ONT.

CUDDINGTON WAS CITED AS "AN OUTSTANDING GUNNER WHO PARTICIPATED IN A VERY LARGE NUMBER OF ATTACKS AGAINST X X X BERLIN, ESSEN AND TURIN."

LAUCKNER WAS DESCRIBED OFFICIALLY AS "AN EXCEPTIONALLY EFFICIENT REAR GUNNER WHO HAS PROVED STEADINESS AND COOLNESS IN THE FACE OF ENEMY OPPOSITION." THE CITATION PRAISED HIS ABILITY IN DIRECTING EVASIVE ACTION.

JUN 15 1943

BY LEO BRANHAM

AT A U.S. BOMBER BASE IN ENGLAND, JUNE 14-(AP)-FORCED TO RETURN TO BASE BECAUSE OF MECHANICAL FAILURE, A FLYING FORTRESS CREW ON MAY 21 HURRIEDLY BOARDED ANOTHER BOMBER AND STREAKED OUT TO CATCH UP WITH THEIR UNESCORTED GERMANY-BOUND RAIDERS, IT WAS DISCLOSED TODAY.

THEN, UNABLE TO REJOIN ITS SQUADRON, THE BOMBER RODE ABOVE THE TIGHT-FLYING AMERICAN FORMATIONS TO HELP BOMB THE GERMAN NAVAL BASES OF WILHELMSHAVEN AND EMDEN AND SHOT DOWN AT LEAST FOUR NAZI PLANES.

THE FORTRESS WAS EXPOSED TO ATTACKS FROM SWARMS OF ENEMY FIGHTERS IN ITS PRECARIOUS "UPSTAIRS" POSITION. BUT THE STURDY SHIP, ALTHOUGH BADLY DAMAGED AND WITH THREE OF ITS CREW WOUNDED, WAS PILOTED SAFELY HOME BY CAPT.JOHN T.FORD, 24, OF CROCKETT, TEXAS.

THE TEXAN MADE A DEAD-STICK LANDING WHEN THE LAST OF HIS DAMAGED ENGINES FAILED JUST BEFORE THE BOMBER REACHED BASE.

A FAILING SUPERCHARGER FORCED FORD TO TURN BACK IN HIS ORIGINAL FORTRESS SHORTLY AFTER THE RAIDERS TOOK OFF. THE DISAPPOINTED CREW STILL WAS EAGER TO ATTACK. FORD ARGUED THAT THEY STILL HAD TIME TO CATCH UP WITH THE RAIDERS IN ANOTHER PLANE AND WAS GIVEN A GO-AHEAD SIGNAL BY THE COMMANDING OFFICER.

JUN 15 1943

HEAVY CLOUD FORMATIONS HAD FORCED THE RAIDERS TO CHANGE COURSE AND FORD FOUND THEM ONLY AFTER HE CROSSED THE GERMAN COAST AND WAS NEARING THE TARGET.

WHEN THE GERMANS SPOTTED HIS PLANE IN THE UNORTHODOX LONE POSITI THEY WENT AFTER HIM AND A FURIOUS BATTLE ENSUED.

"AS WE STARTED ON THE BOMB RUN," SAID SECOND LIEUT.JOSEPH W.TURN 27, OF LUBBOCK, TEXAS AND SPRINGFIELD, ILL., THE CO-PILOT, "WE SAW FIGHTERS CLIMBING AT US FROM ALL DIRECTIONS. THE SKY SEEMED FILLED WITH THEM AND WE COUNTED OVER 100. DURING THE BOMB RUN, FLAK HITS TORE A HOLE IN THE LEFT WING BIG ENOUGH FOR A MAN TO CRAWL THROUGH. THEN A FOCKE-WULFE STARTED BARREL ROLLING THROUGH THE FORMATIONS, SPRAYING THE FORTS WITH EVERYTHING THEY HAD."

FORD'S BOMBER WAS HIT REPEATEDLY. CANNON SHELLS PLOWED THROUGH THE FUSELAGE AND TORE A THREE-FOOT SECTION OFF THE END OF THE LEFT

JUN 15 1943

1943

HE CAN DEMAND THAT THE PACKER GO UP AND BALE OUT WITH HIS 'CHUTE.

AMONG THE OTHER OFFICERS IN THE SERVICE UNIT ARE MAJ.H.G.COTTON OF SAN FRANCISCO, CAPT.ROLAND COWAN OF OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA., LIEUT. JOSEPH FREEDMAN OF CATLETTSBURG, KY., AND WARRANT OFFICER EDWARD GIZA OF NEWPORT NEWS, VA.

JUN 15 1943

LONDON, TUESDAY, JUNE 15-(AP)-THE DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS WAS AWARDED TODAY TO TWO AMERICANS WITH THE ROYAL CANADIAN AIR FORCE, PILOT OFFICER LEONARD CUDDINGTON OF CARLSBAD, N.M., AND IRVIN L. LAUCKNER, WHO WAS BORN IN DETROIT, MICH., AND LATER MOVED TO LONDON, ONT.

CUDDINGTON WAS CITED AS "AN OUTSTANDING GUNNER WHO PARTICIPATED IN A VERY LARGE NUMBER OF ATTACKS AGAINST X X X BERLIN, ESSEN AND TURIN."

LAUCKNER WAS DESCRIBED OFFICIALLY AS "AN EXCEPTIONALLY EFFICIENT REAR GUNNER WHO HAS PROVED STEADINESS AND COOLNESS IN THE FACE OF ENEMY OPPOSITION." THE CITATION PRAISED HIS ABILITY IN DIRECTING EVASIVE ACTION.

JUN 15 1943

BY LEO BRANHAM

AT A U.S. BOMBER BASE IN ENGLAND, JUNE 14-(AP)-FORCED TO RETURN TO BASE BECAUSE OF MECHANICAL FAILURE, A FLYING FORTRESS CREW ON MAY 21 HURRIEDLY BOARDED ANOTHER BOMBER AND STREAKED OUT TO CATCH UP WITH THEIR UNESCORTED GERMANY-BOUND RAIDERS, IT WAS DISCLOSED TODAY.

THEN, UNABLE TO REJOIN ITS SQUADRON, THE BOMBER RODE ABOVE THE TIGHT-FLYING AMERICAN FORMATIONS TO HELP BOMB THE GERMAN NAVAL BASES OF WILHELMSHAVEN AND EMDEN AND SHOT DOWN AT LEAST FOUR NAZI PLANES.

THE FORTRESS WAS EXPOSED TO ATTACKS FROM SWARMS OF ENEMY FIGHTERS IN ITS PRECARIOUS "UPSTAIRS" POSITION. BUT THE STURDY SHIP, ALTHOUGH BADLY DAMAGED AND WITH THREE OF ITS CREW WOUNDED, WAS PILOTED SAFELY HOME BY CAPT.JOHN T.FORD, 24, OF CROCKETT, TEXAS.

THE TEXAN MADE A DEAD-STICK LANDING WHEN THE LAST OF HIS DAMAGED ENGINES FAILED JUST BEFORE THE BOMBER REACHED BASE.

A FAILING SUPERCHARGER FORCED FORD TO TURN BACK IN HIS ORIGINAL FORTRESS SHORTLY AFTER THE RAIDERS TOOK OFF. THE DISAPPOINTED CREW STILL WAS EAGER TO ATTACK. FORD ARGUED THAT THEY STILL HAD TIME TO CATCH UP WITH THE RAIDERS IN ANOTHER PLANE AND WAS GIVEN A GO-AHEAD SIGNAL BY THE COMMANDING OFFICER.

JUN 15 1943

HEAVY CLOUD FORMATIONS HAD FORCED THE RAIDERS TO CHANGE COURSE AND FORD FOUND THEM ONLY AFTER HE CROSSED THE GERMAN COAST AND WAS NEARING THE TARGET.

WHEN THE GERMANS SPOTTED HIS PLANE IN THE UNORTHODOX LONE POSITI THEY WENT AFTER HIM AND A FURIOUS BATTLE ENSUED.

"AS WE STARTED ON THE BOMB RUN," SAID SECOND LIEUT.JOSEPH W.TURN 27, OF LUBBOCK, TEXAS AND SPRINGFIELD, ILL., THE CO-PILOT, "WE SAW FIGHTERS CLIMBING AT US FROM ALL DIRECTIONS. THE SKY SEEMED FILLED WITH THEM AND WE COUNTED OVER 100. DURING THE BOMB RUN, FLAK HITS TORE A HOLE IN THE LEFT WING BIG ENOUGH FOR A MAN TO CRAWL THROUGH. THEN A FOCKE-WULFE STARTED BARREL ROLLING THROUGH THE FORMATIONS, SPRAYING THE FORTS WITH EVERYTHING THEY HAD."

FORD'S BOMBER WAS HIT REPEATEDLY. CANNON SHELLS PLOWED THROUGH THE FUSELAGE AND TORE A THREE-FOOT SECTION OFF THE END OF THE LEFT

JUN 15 1943

1943

30.24—4999

WING AND SHOT OFF THE TAIL LANDING WHEEL. FLAK PEPPERED THE SHIP AN SMASHED THE GLASS COCKPIT, NARROWLY MISSING FORD AND TURNER.

MEMBERS OF THE CREW GAVE FIRST AID TO SERGEANTS F.C. KACZOR OF CLEVELAND, 23-YEAR-OLD WAIST GUNNER WHO WAS STRUCK IN THE BACK BY SHELL FRAGMENTS; WILLIAM E.ANDERSON, 24, OF DALLAS, TEXAS, RADIO OPERATOR AND GUNNER, WHO SUFFERED 17 FLAK WOUNDS IN THE RIGHT LEG; AND CHESTER L.PRIVITT, 29, OF LUBBOCK, BALL TURRET GUNNER WHO WAS WOUNDED IN THE LEFT FOOT.

JUN 15 1943

"THEY GAVE US A PRETTY ROUGH TIME, SAID SECOND LIEUT.CLARENCE A. KEISLER, 23, OF TAYLOR, TEXAS, THE NAVIGATOR," BUT WE GOT FOUR FOCKE-WULFS AT LEAST. KEISLER CREDITED THESE MEN WITH ONE VICTORY EACH: SECOND LIEUT.WILLIAM M.MILLER, 24, BIRMINGHAM, ALA., THE BOMBARDIER; SERGT. M.C. JAMISON, 22, MARION, IND., TAIL GUNNER; ANDERSON AND PRIVITT.

BY LEO BRANHAM

AT A U.S. BOMBER STATION IN BRITAIN, JUNE 14-(AP)-THEY DON'T FLY BOMBERS OVER EUROPE BUT THE MEN OF THE SERVICE SQUADRON AT THIS FLYING FORTRESS STATION ARE FIGHTERS JUST THE SAME. THE BOMBER CREWS SAY THESE FELLOWS HAVE EARNED THE RIGHT TO THE NAME.

"SURE, WE ARE FIGHTING ALL THE TIME," INSISTED CAPT. CHARLES R. LEWIS OF CHICAGO, BASE ENGINEER, "FIGHTING TO KEEP THESE FORTS IN THE AIR. OUR BOYS FEEL THAT AS LONG AS WE CAN KEEP THE PLANES FLYING WE'LL WIN THE WAR ALL RIGHT."

NO GLAMOR BOYS ARE THESE SERVICE MEN WHO REPAIR SHOT-UP BOMBERS. THEY KNOW THEY ARE "JUST A BUNCH OF GREASE-MONKEYS" RELEGATED TO A LITTLE PUBLICIZED ROLE IN THE WAR. BUT THEY DON'T RESENT THE FACT THAT THE FLYING CREWS WIN ALL THE GLORY.

"THE FLIERS DESERVE ALL THE MEDALS FOR THEY FACE DEATH," SAID LEWIS, WHO OFTEN GOES ON RAIDS AS AN OBSERVER. "BUT WHEN EVER A SHOT-UP SHIP WE'VE REPAIRED TAKES THE AIR AGAIN OUR BOYS FEEL A GLOW OF PRIDE. THEY KNOW THEY REALLY ARE PLAYING A BIG PART IN THE AERIAL OFFENSIVE."

HERE IS A SAMPLE OF THE FIGHT CONTINUALLY WAGED BY THE SERVICE MEN.

ONCE 12 BOMBERS FROM THIS STATION RETURNED DAMAGED FROM A RAID. SOME OF THEM WERE SO BADLY SHOT UP THAT LARGE PARTS OF THEM HAD TO BE REBUILT.

JUN 15 1943

MACHINERY HUMMED INSIDE THE HUGE HANGARS AS MORE THAN 112 SERVICE MEN LABORED DAY AND NIGHT, HAVING THEIR MEALS BROUGHT TO THEM AND NEVER TAKING TIME OFF TO SLEEP. IN 48 HOURS THE 12 BOMBERS WERE READY TO GO RAIDING AGAIN.

EVERY SERVICE MAN IS A SPECIALIST AND THE UNIT CAN REBUILD AN ENTIRE BOMBER AND ITS ENGINES IF NECESSARY, LEWIS SAID.

IF A CRIPPLED BOMBER CRASH LANDS AT SOME OBSCURE SPOT IN THE ENGLISH COUNTRYSIDE, AN ENGINEERING UNIT LOADS UP ITS TOOLS AND GOES TO REBUILD THE PLANE ON THE SPOT.

BOMBERS RETURNING SO BADLY DAMAGED THEY AREN'T WORTH REPAIRING BECOME "HANGAR QUEENS" AND THEIR PARTS ARE SALVAGED TO REPAIR OTHER SHIPS.

JUN 15 1943

SERVICE MEN ALSO PERIODICALLY REPACK PARACHUTES TO PREVENT DAMAGE BY ACCUMULATED MOISTURE. CARELESSNESS IS UNHEARD OF IN THIS DEPARTMENT FOR IT IS A RULE THAT IF THE FLIER IS DISSATISFIED WITH THE JOB HE CAN DEMAND THAT THE PACKER GO UP AND BALE OUT WITH HIS 'CHUTE.

AMONG THE OTHER OFFICERS IN THE SERVICE UNIT ARE MAJ.H.G.COTTON OF SAN FRANCISCO, CAPT.ROLAND COWAN OF OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA., LIEUT. JOSEPH FREEDMAN OF CATLETTSBURG, KY., AND WARRANT OFFICER EDWARD GIZA OF NEWPORT NEWS, VA.

JUN 15 1943

BY E.A.RUSSELL

REPRESENTING THE COMBINED UNITED STATES PRESS WITH BRITISH PRESS DISTRIBUTED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

PANTELLERIA, JUNE 12-(DELAYED)-AMERICAN AIR FORCE TECHNICIANS BEGAN TODAY TO MAKE PANTELLERIA'S AIR FACILITIES SUITABLE AS A FORWARD ALLIED AIR BASE.

JUN 15 1943

AMONG THE FIRST AMERICANS TO ARRIVE YESTERDAY SHORTLY AFTER THE FIRST WAVE OF BRITISH ASSAULT TROOPS DISCOVERED THAT RESISTANCE HAD COLLAPSED WERE:

FIRST LIEUTENANT MILLARD WOODRUFF OF ROSELLE PARK, N.J.; SERGEANT WILLIAM DUNLAP OF BOOTHWYN, PA.; CORPORAL WILLIAM E.BAERWALD OF MILWAUKEE, WIS.; PRIVATE ED MINNICK OF DUQUESNE, PA.; TECHNICIAN THEODORE W.BATT OF BUFFALO, N.Y.; CORPORAL JAMES L.MASSEY OF BEAUMONT, TEX.; SERGEANT VERNON TROUTMAN OF PHILADELPHIA, PA.; STAFF SERGEANT RICHARD DEICHMANN OF SPRINGFIELD, ILL.; PRIVATE JOHN SPECK OF AUBURN, N.Y.; PRIVATE CHESTER GONZAGOWSKI OF BUFFALO, N.Y.; TECHNICAL SERGEANT EUGENE HANNAN OF OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA.; CORPORAL HAROLD CASSIDY OF DETROIT, MICH.; PRIVATE HAROLD C.RODWELL OF MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.; PRIVATE WALTER KUNKU OF JOLIET, ILL.; STAFF SERGEANT JAMES HAILE OF SODDY, TENN.; PRIVATE JOHN R.VANCE OF LOS ANGELES, CALIF.; LIEUTENANT WALTER WAHTLEY OF PITTSBURGH, PA.; AND CORPORAL FRANK TAYLOR OF RENO, NEV.

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN

REPRESENTING THE COMBINED UNITED STATES PRESS WITH BRITISH FORCES. DISTRIBUTED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ABOARD THE FLAGSHIP OF A BRITISH CONVOY IN THE MEDITERRANEAN, JUNE 13-(DELAYED)-ITALIAN PRISONERS ARE JABBERING EXCITEDLY ON THE LOWER DECK, AMERICAN WARHAWKS HOVER PROTECTINGLY IN THE SKY AND WE ARE AFRICA-BOUND.

PANTELLERIA IS LEFT BEHIND WITHOUT ANY REGRETS.

THIS ONE-TIME SENTINEL OF MUSSOLINI'S MEDITERRANEAN DOMAIN IS NOW A STONY RUIN IN ALLIED HANDS, ACTING AS A GUARD IN THE OPPOSITE DIRECTION.

JUN 15 1943

PANTELLERIA UNDER THE BEST OF CONDITIONS IS ONLY A PASSABLE LIVING PLACE AND THE PRESENT GARRISONING TROOPS HAVE A TASK IN MAKING IT INHABITABLE FOR EVEN THE RUDE ARMY FIELD LIFE TO WHICH THEY ARE ACCUSTOMED.

THERE ARE PROBLEMS OF FOOD, WATER, MILITARY EQUIPMENT, SUPPLIES AND PARTIAL RECONSTRUCTION.

THE ISLAND'S SHATTERED STATE VIEWED FROM THE SEA ON DEPARTURE IN NO WAY, HOWEVER, MINIMIZES ITS IMPORTANCE UNDER ALLIED CONTROL AND CONSEQUENTLY AGAINST THE ~~E-EMY.~~ ENEMY.

ITS SMASHED SILJOUETTE SYMBOLIZES THE FIRST ~~ST~~ CRACK IN AXIS-CONTROLLED EUROPE. IT IS EVIDENCE OF THE POTENCY AND ACCURACY OF AMERICAN BOMBING WHICH REDUCED THE FORTRESS TO USELESSNESS, DEMORALIZED THE CIVIL POPULATION AND THE MILITARY AND LED TO THE FORMAL SURRENDER WHEN BRITISH TROOPS APPROACHED FRIDAY.

THAT THE ENEMY TAKES THE LOSS HARD IS INDICATED BY THE GERMAN ME-109 RAIDS OVER THE HARBOR AT INTERVALS SINCE THEN. WHEN WE WERE A FEW MILES AT SEA TODAY WE HEARD AXIS BOMBS DROPPING AGAIN. OUR DECK GUNNERS SWIFTLY MOVED TO THEIR POSITIONS AND THE WARHAWKS CRISS-CROSSED IN A BUSINESSLIKE FASHION ABOVE, BUT NONE OF THE FOE VENTURED THIS FAR.

JUN 15 1943

30.24-5001

THIS SHIP, LIKE OTHER INFANTRY ASSAULT LANDING CRAFT IN THE CONVOY TOOK PART IN FRIDAY'S OPERATION AND NOW IS ENGAGED IN TRANSPORTING PRISONERS TO AFRICA. THESE SHIPS ALL WERE BUILT IN AMERICA.

LIEUTENANT GEOFFREY KLEBOE, BRITISH NAVAL OFFICER COMMANDING THE FLAGSHIP, WAS ENTHUSIASTIC ABOUT HER PERFORMANCE AND FUTURE POTENTIALITIES. HE HAD BROUGHT HER ACROSS THE ATLANTIC WITHOUT ANY DIFFICULTY.

"THIS SHIP AND OTHERS LIKE HER," HE SAID, "ARE PERFECTLY SUITED FOR THE JOBS FOR WHICH THEY WERE CONSTRUCTED. THEY ARE SWAWORTHY, MANEUVERABLE, COMPACT AND MADE JUST RIGHT.

JUN 15 1943

"I'M THUMBS UP ON THEM ALL THE WAY."

THE CORRESPONDENTS' LAST NIGHT ON THE ISLAND DID NOT CONTAIN ANY INCIDENTS MENTIONED IN THE PROSPECTUS OF A MEDITERRANEAN PLEASURE CRUISE. WE SLEPT ON STRAW IN A BLOCKHOUSE ONCE USED BY ITALIAN TROOPS. GERMAN PLANES DID NOT COME OVER BUT WE HAD PLENTY OF ENEMY COMPANY--FROM FLEAS.

XM303PEW

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 14-(AP)-WARHAWKS AND AMERICAN-FLOWN BRITISH SPITFIRES PERFORMED SPECTACULAR OPERATIONS IN SHATTERING THE AXIS AIR FORCES DURING THE LAST DAYS OF THE BATTLE FOR PANTELLERIA, AUTHORITATIVE QUARTERS SAID TODAY.

THE YANKEE-MANNED FIGHTER PLANES DOWN A TOTAL OF 78 GERMAN AND ITALIAN AIRCRAFT FOR A LOSS OF 12 ALLIED PLANES.

THE SPITFIRES UNDER THE COMMAND OF LIEUT.COL.FRED M.DEAN OF ST.PETERSBURG, FLA., ERASED 12 ENEMY SHIPS FROM THE SKIES LAST THURSDAY AND CAME BACK TO GET 13 MORE ON FRIDAY, THE DAY PANTELLERIA SURRENDERED.

A VETERAN WARHAWK UNIT FROM THE FORMER DESERT AIR FORCE, LED BY COL.EARL ESTATES, JR., OF WINNETKA, ILL., SHOT DOWN 20 AXIS PLANES ON THURSDAY WHILE OTHER WARHAWK GROUPS UNDER COL.ARTHUR G.SALISBURY, OF SEDALIA, MO., AND COL.WILLIAM MOMYER, OF SEATTLE, WASH., PLAYED CONSIDERABLE ROLES IN CLEARING THE WAY FOR THE BIG ALLIED BOMBERS.

JUN 15 1943

COL.JOHN HAWKINS, OF SAN ANTONIO, TEX., WHOSE FIGHTER GROUP DISTINGUISHED ITSELF BOTH IN THE RAID ON DIEPPE AND IN THE NORTH AFRICAN LANDING DESCRIBED THE PERFORMANCE OF AMERICAN FIGHTERS AND FIGHTER BOMBERS AND THEIR SUPPORTING PERSONNEL AS A SUPERB PREPARATION FOR ULTIMATE VICTORY.

MEANWHILE, BELATED RECOGNITION WAS GIVEN TO AMERICAN WARHAWK AND SPITFIRE PILOTS FOR VICTORIES IN PREVIOUSLY UNREPORTED COMBATS WHICH TOOK PLACE DURING THE AERIAL OFFENSIVE ON PANTELLERIA.

NAMES OF THE PILOTS AND THE TYPES OF ENEMY AIRCRAFT THEY DESTROYED:

LIEUT.MILTON L.CLARK, CAMBRIDGE SPRINGS, PA., ME-109, HIS SECOND VICTORY IN 24 HOURS; CAPT.JOHN O.CIMAGLIA, NEWTON CENTER, MASS., ME-109, MA-102; LIEUT.CHARLES K.BOLACK, WORCESTER, MASS., MA-202; LIEUT. JOHN F.MARTIN, CULPEPER, VA., MA-202; LIEUT.JOHN H.WHITE, HARDY, ARK., ME-109, FOCKE-WULF-190; CAPTAIN WILLIAM C. BRYSON, CASTLE GATE, UTAH, FOCKE-WULF-190; LIEUT.ROLAND F.WOOTEN, ST.STEPHEN, S.C., ME-109; LIEUT.CHARLES FISCHETTE, 90 CAYUGA ST., CLYDE, N.Y., ME-109; CAPT.THOMAS B.FLEMING, 1163 GENEVA ST., GLENDALE, CALIF., MA-202; LIEUT.ROYAL N.BAKER, R.F.D. NO.3, MCKINNEY, TEX., ME-109; LIEUT.EDWIN DALRYMPLE, 1536 WEST HUISACHE AVE., SAN ANTONIO, TEX.,

JUN 15 1943

MA-202; LIEUT.MERRITT C.WOLFE, 328 CAMBRIDGE AVE., ELYRIA, OHIO, MA-202; LIEUT.WALTER J.OVEREND, R.F.D. NO.2, FENNVILLE, MICH., MA-202; MAJ.TARLETON H.WATKINS, ELGIN FIELD, FLA., ME-109; CAPT.RICHARD MORRISSEY AND CAPT.FREDERICK BORSODI, BOTH OF WEST HARTFORD, CONN., SHARED ONE FOCKE-WULF 190; LIEUT.RICHARD BUNKER, PEALTNEY, VT., LIEUT.JAMES HADNOT, COLLIDGE, ARI7., AND LIEUT.HENRY BARKER, OWENSBORO, KY., AIRCRAFT UNIDENTIFIED.

CAIRO, JUNE 14-(AP)-AIRDROMES AT GERBINI AND CATANIA, IN EASTERN SICILY, WERE ATTACKED YESTERDAY BY HEAVY BOMBERS OF THE UNITED STATES ARMY AIR FORCES, IT WAS ANNOUNCED BY THE MIDDLE EAST AIR MMAND TODAY.

JUN 15 1943

DISPERSAL AREAS AT GERBINI WERE "WELL-COVERED BY BOMBS, WITH RESULTANT FIRES AND EXPLOSIONS," A COMMUNIQUE SAID.

CATANIA IS ON THE EAST COAST. GERBINI IS ON A RAILWAY 13 MILES WEST OF THE PORT.

THREE ENEMY PLANES ATTEMPTED TO TAKE OFF FROM THE GERBINI AIRDROME, RAN INTO BOMB BURSTS AND WERE DESTROYED, THE COMMUNIQUE SAID, AND OF A FORCE OF INTERCEPTING PLANES WHICH GOT INTO THE AIR THE AMERICAN BOMBERS GOT FIVE MESSERSCHMITT-109S, IT WAS DECLARED.

AT CATANIA, BOMBS BURST ON HANGARS ON THE NORTH SIDE OF THE AIRDROME, HITS WERE SCORED ON MAIN RUNWAYS, AND DENSE BLACK SMOKE WAS SEEN POURING FROM HANGARS ON THE WESTERN SIDE OF THE FIELD, IT WAS SAID.

SERIOUS DAMAGE WAS DONE TO AIRCRAFT ON THE GROUND AND TO AIRPORT INSTALLATIONS, THE COMMUNIQUE SAID.

THE U.S. AERIAL ASSAULT ON CATANIA WAS A FOLLOWUP TO A HEAVY BOMBER ATTACK BY THE RAF SATURDAY NIGHT WHICH LEFT MANY FIRES, THE WAR BULLETIN SAID.

ENEMY SHIPPING IN THE AEGEAN SEA AND OFF THE WEST COAST OF GREECE PROVIDED TARGETS ANEW SATURDAY NIGHT AND SUNDAY FOR RAF LONG-RANGE FIGHTERS AND MEDIUM BOMBERS. TWO VESSELS WERE SET ON FIRE AND A THIRD WAS MACHINE-GUNNED, THE COMMUNIQUE SAID.

ONE ALLIED PLANE WAS MISSING FROM THE OPERATIONS.

IBRACATH

THE U.S. COMMUNIQUE REPORTED THE LARGE FORMATIONS OF LIBERATORS WHICH ATTACKED CATANIA AND GERBINI DROPPED APPROXIMATELY 250,000 POUNDS OF EXPLOSIVES.

JUN 15 1943

THEY MET HEAVY OPPOSITION FROM ENEMY FIGHTERS, WHICH SINGLED OUT INDIVIDUAL AMERICAN AIRCRAFT FOR CONCENTRATED ATTACK.

A LIBERATOR PILOTED BY LIEUT.LYLE T.RYAN OF CHICAGO, ILL., WAS ENGAGED BY 12 MESSERSCHMITTS IN A 20-MINUTE FIGHT AND HELD THEM OFF.

DURING THE COMBAT SERGT.E.W.MARTENS OF ROME, WIS., SERGT.J.A.GIBBS OF TOLEDO, O., AND A SERGEANT LEVY OF NEW YORK CITY EACH DESTROYED AN ENEMY PLANE.

LEVY, WHO WAS WORKING THE TOP TURRET, ALSO CLAIMED TWO OTHER ENEMY FIGHTERS AS PROBABLES.

BY DANIEL DE LUCE

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 13-(DELAYED)-(AP)-IN THE FORMER GERMAN STRONGHOLDS OF TUNIS, BIZERTE AND MATEUR, AMERICAN DOUGHBOYS WHO FOUGHT AMONG THE FOXHOLES AND ROCKY HILLS FOR SIX MONTHS ARE CATCHING UP ON MOVIES, MUSIC AND MAGAZINES.

JUN 15 1943

30.24-5003

IN THIS OFF-SEASON BETWEEN CAMPAIGNS, SERVICE CLUBS SPONSORED BY THE RED CROSS HAVE SPRUNG UP TO GIVE UNCLE SAM'S LONESOME NEPHEWS A TASTE OF CIVILIZATION AND HOME.

JUN 15 1943

ARABS HIRED BY ALF R.THOMPSON, OF MATTOON, ILL., CLEARED AWAY THE SHELL AND BOMB DEBRIS IN A FORMER CASINO IN BIZERTE, AND OVERNIGHT IT HAS BECOME THE ONLY SOCIAL CENTER OF THIS WARTIME GHOST CITY.

"IT'S WORTH A BOMBING TO SEE A SHOW," SAID LIEUT.(J.G.) JOSEPH T.SCHMEDES, OF WOODHAVEN, LONG ISLAND, N.Y., WHO HAS GONE THROUGH A NUMBER OF GERMAN AIR RAIDS IN SUPPORT OF THIS OPINION.

IN TUNIS, TWO SHIFTS OF GERMAN AND ITALIAN PRISONERS WERE KEPT BUSY BY JAMES MAGGARD, OF ASHLAND, KY., FORMER STATE WELFARE DIRECTOR, CLEARING BOMB WRECKAGE FROM A FORMER FURNITURE STORE SO IT COULD RAPIDLY BE REMODELED TO HOUSE A DORMITORY, SNACK BAR AND SHOWER BATHS FOR AMERICAN TROOPS WHO MOSTLY HAVE BEEN BILLETTED IN TENT CAMPS AROUND THE TOWN.

TWO IMPATIENT VISITORS, CORP.BERNARD MANHEIM, 23, OF (1433 EAST GENESEE ST.) SYRACUSE, N.Y., AND CORP.LINWOOD B.WHEELER, 23, OF ROUTE 2, FAYETTEVILLE, N.C., SURVEYED MAGGARD'S REJUVENATION JOB THE OTHER DAY.

"WE'RE SURE GOING TO HAUNT THIS PLACE WHEN YOU OPEN THE DOORS," THEY WARNED HIM ENTHUSIASTICALLY.

IN GETTING THE TUNIS CLUB READY, MAGGARD AND WALTER HEIDEMAN, FORMER STUDENT UNION MANAGER AT THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO, GOT FURNITURE MADE BY SUPPLYING DIESEL OIL FOR THE MANUFACTURER'S MACHINES AND HAGGLED OVER TINCUPS FOR WHICH INFLATION-MINDED NATIVE MERCHANTS WANTED THE EQUIVALENT OF $1 APIECE.

A PIANO SALVAGED FROM A BOMBED APARTMENT SUPPLIES SOMEWHAT TINNY MUSIC IN THE LOUNGE ROOM OF THE MATEUR RED CROSS CLUB WHICH HARRY SCHWARTZ, OF COLUMBUS, O., AND GEORGE H.STECK, OF PERU, NEB., ESTABLISHED ALMOST BEFORE THE PLASTER STOPPED FALLING FROM THE SHELL-JARRED CEILING.

JUN 15 1943

"IT'S THE ONLY PLACE WHERE WE CAN GET INTO A GOOD TABLE TENNIS GAME OR LISTEN TO SOME GOOD RECORDS," REPORTED PRIVATE JAMES GUISEPPE, OF (4027 WEST POTOMAC ST.) CHICAGO.

"OR JUST SIT," ADDED HIS BUDDY, PRIVATE WALTER MICHAEL, OF ROUTE 2, LAPEER, MICH.

ALGIERS, JUNE 14-(AP)-GEN. CHARLES DE GAULLE, WHOSE DIFFERENCES WITH GEN. HENRI GIRAUD HAVE RESULTED IN SUSPENSION OF FORMAL MEETINGS OF THE FRENCH NATIONAL LIBERATION COMMITTEE, HAD THE SUPPORT OF 26 FRENCH COMMUNIST DEPUTIES TODAY IN HIS DEMAND FOR A SWEEPING PURGE OF ALLEGED PRO-VICHY OFFICERS.

THE DEPUTIES, RECENTLY LIBERATED FROM PRISON, ISSUED A PUBLIC STATEMENT YESTERDAY DEMANDING QUICK SETTLEMENT OF THE DISPUTE AND ASSERTING THAT THE FRENCH ARMED FORCES STILL ARE LED "BY GENERALS AND ADMIRALS WHO BELIEVED IN THE FALL OF THE BRITISH-AMERICANS."

THEY CALLED FOR A QUICK PURGE OF ALLEGEDLY PRO-VICHY LEADERS WHO, THEY SAID, "NOW ARE SAFE BEHIND BRITISH-AMERICAN BAYONETS."

THE DEPUTIES PRESUMABLY ARE NOT IDENTIFIED WITH EITHER THE GIRAUD OR DE GAULLE GROUPS BUT THE COMMUNIST PARTY HAD A FULL-FLEDGED REPRESENTATIVE ON DE GAULLE'S FIGHTING FRENCH COMMITTEE AND IT WAS CONSIDERED GENERALLY THAT HE ENJOYED THE PARTY'S FULL SUPPORT.

"THE PEOPLE OF METROPOLITAN FRANCE HAVE NOT ENDURED FAMINE AND DEPORTATION, NOR SACRIFICE OF THEIR LIVES IN ORDER TO SEE REAPPEAR AT THE HEAD OF THE ARMY AND NAVY THOSE GENERALS AND ADMIRALS WHO FIRED ON ALLIED TROOPS AND SERVED PETAIN THE TRATOR," THE STATEMENT SAID.

THE FRENCH PEOPLE, IT SAID, "WANT NEITHER A PETAIN NOR A BONAPARTE."

THE COMMUNISTS CALLED UPON THE EXECUTIVE BODY TO "TRANSFORM IMMEDIATELY ITS SOLEMN PROMISES INTO FACTS," AND SAID THAT THEIR GROUP HAD BEEN IGNORED BY THE COMMITTEE.

JUN 15 1943

MEANWHILE, DE GAULLIST POLITICAL QUARTERS CLAIMED THEIR LEADER NEARLY HAD SWUNG THE COMMITTEE TO AN AGREEMENT WITH HIS PROPOSAL THAT HE BECOME MINISTER OF NATIONAL DEFENSE WITH GIRAUD RETAINING HIS TITLE OF COMMANDER IN CHIEF OF THE ARMY.

DE GAULLE ABSENTED HIMSELF FROM COMMITTEE MEETINGS LAST WEEK AND THREATENED TO RESIGN IF THE DEADLOCK CONTINUED. ANDRE PHILIP AND RENE MASSIGLI PRESENTED DE GAULLE'S VIEWS TO THE OTHER COMMITTEE MEMBERS.

(THREE LONDON NEWSPAPERS DEMANDED EDITORIALLY TODAY THAT THE FRENCH LEADERS SETTLE THEIR DIFFERENCES AND GET ON WITH WINNING THE WAR.

(THE YORKSHIRE POST ACCUSED DE GAULLE OF STUBBORNESS AND SAID HIS APPARENT DESIRE NOT TO APPEAR IN HIS COMPATRIOTS' EYES AS A BRITISH PUPPET "HAS LED HIM TO ASSERT A RATHER TOUCHY INDEPENDENCE AT OUR EXPENSE. THERE ARE SVXNS HE IS ADOPTING A SIMILAR ATTITUDE TOWARD THE AMERICANS X X X."

(LORD BEAVERBROOK'S DAILY EXPRESS SAID THE GENERALS SHOULD "STOP FIGHTING AMONG THEMSELVES AND HELP US GET ON WITH THE WINNING OF THE WAR."

JUN 15 1943

(THE DAILY SKETCH SAID DEGAULLE HAD DISPLAYED AN "OVER-DICTATORIAL AND NON-COOPERATIVE ATTITUDE" AND SAID THAT "SO FAR THE AMOUNT OF UNITY ACHIEVED OWES LITTLE TO GEN. DE GAULLE HIMSELF."

(THE TIMES TOOK THE LINE THAT REPORTS "OF NEW RIFTS AND IMPENDING RUPTUES IN THE NEW FRENCH NATIONAL COMMITTEE NEED NOT PERHAPS BE TAKEN TOO TRAGICALLY." IT ADDED THAT "SO LARGE A MEASURE OF AGREEMENT HAS BEEN REACHED ON THINGS WHICH MATTER THAN GEN. DE GAULLE WILL NOT RISK A BREAKDOWN ON SECONDARY ISSUES.")

ANKARA, JUNE 14-(AP)-QUALIFIED BALKAN OBSERVERS SAID TODAY THAT THE APPOINTMENT OF COL. GEN. LUDWIG VAN CSATA AS HUNGARY'S NEW WAR MINISTER WAS "A GERMAN VICTORY OVER PREMIER NICOLAS KALLAY AND OTHERS IN THE GOVERNMENT WHO OPPOSE ADDITIONAL AID TO THE AXIS."

GEN. CSATA RECENTLY SERVED AS COMMANDER OF THE HUNGARIAN ARMY FIGHTING IN RUSSIA AND THESE SOURCES SAID HE WAS WINNING THE GERMANS' FAVOR BY AIDING THEM AGAINST RUSSIA AND IN RETURN PROBABLY WOULD GET A NAZI GUARANTEE AGAINST ANY ATTACK FROM RUMANIA AIMED AT REGAINING TRANSYLVANIA.

CSATA REPLACED COL. GEN. WILLIAM NAGY, WHO RESIGNED LAST WEEK AS WAR MINISTER.

ANKARA, JUNE 14-(AP)-QUALIFIED BALKAN OBSERVERS SAID TODAY THAT THE APPOINTMENT OF COL. GEN. LUDWIG VAN CSATA AS HUNGARY'S NEW WAR MINISTER WAS "A GERMAN VICTORY OVER PREMIER NICOLAS KALLAY AND OTHERS IN THE GOVERNMENT WHO OPPOSE ADDITIONAL AID TO THE AXIS."

GEN. CSATA RECENTLY SERVED AS COMMANDER OF THE HUNGARIAN ARMY

JUN 15 1943

FIGHTING IN RUSSIA AND THESE SOURCES SAID HE WAS WINNING THE GERMANS' FAVOR BY AIDING THEM AGAINST RUSSIA AND IN RETURN PROBABLY WOULD GET A NAZI GUARANTEE AGAINST ANY ATTACK FROM RUMANIA AIMED AT REGAINING TRANSYLVANIA.

CSATA REPLACED COL. GEN. WILLIAM NAGY, WHO RESIGNED LAST WEEK AS WAR MINISTER.

PRETORIA, JUNE 14-(AP)-PRIME MINISTER JAN CHRISTIAAN SMUTS WILL BE OPPOSED IN THE SOUTH AFRICAN GENERAL ELECTION JULY 7 BY TWO ANT-WAR CANDIDATES, ONE R OF THEM A WOMAN.

THEY ARE MRS.I.J.HANSEN, INDEPENDENT, AND J.F.LUDORF, NATIONALIST, WHO WILL CONTEST THE PRIME MINISTER'S RURAL SEAT OF STANDERTON IN THE TRANSVAAL.

OFFICIAL NOMINATION IN 150 CONSTITUENCIES TODAY RETURNED 16 COALITION GOVERNMENT CANDIDATES UNOPPOSED. THE ONLY MEMBER OF TH OPPOSITION GIVEN AN ACCLAMATION WAS DR.D.F.MALAN, LEADER OF THE NATIONALIST PARTY.

THE ONLY UNOPPOSED CABINET MEMBER IS S.F.WATERSON, MINISTER C COMMERCE AND INDUSTRY AND FORMER SOUTH AFRICAN HIGH COMMISSIONER TO THE UNITED KINGDOM.

(ADVANCE)-NEW DELHI, JUNE 14-(AP)-U.S. MEDIUM BOMBERS BLASTED AT VITAL RAILWAY BRIDGES IN THE VICINITY OF KATHA, ON THE UPPER IRRAWADDY RIVER, IN A CONTINUATION YESTERDAY OF DAILY ASSAULTS ON JAPANESE COMMUNICATIONS IN BURMA, A COMMUNIQUE ANNOUNCED TODAY.

B-25'S OF THE 10TH AIR FORCE DAMAGED THE SPAN AT MEZA, 20 MILES SOUTHWEST OF KATHA, AND SCORED NEAR HITS ON A BRIDGE AT KYUNGEN, 30 MILES FURTHER TO THE SOUTHWEST, THE BULLETIN SAID.

OTHER FORMATIONS ATTACKED ENEMY INSTALLATIONS AT NYAUNGBINWUN AND ALLAGAPPA, BOTH WEST OF MANDALAY, DAMAGING WAREHOUSES AND ROLLING STOCK.

JUN 15 1943

ALL PLANES AND CREWS RETURNED SAFELY, THE BULLETIN SAID.

30-24-5005

NEW DELHI, JUNE 14-(AP)-BRITISH BLENHEIMS PAID RETURN VISITS TO THE KALE VALLEY IN WESTERN BURMA AND THE TAUNGUP PASS SECTOR OF THE ARAKAN AREA YESTERDAY, BOMBING AND MACHINE-GUNNING JAPANESE POSITIONS, A BRITISH COMMUNIQUE SAID TODAY.

THE RAIDS FOLLOWED ASSAULTS SATURDAY BY BOTH U.S. AND BRITISH FORMATIONS ON MANDALAY, AND ATTACKS BY BRITISH BOMBERS ON THE KALE VALLEY AND TAUNGUP SECTORS.

JUN 15 1943

NO PLANES WERE LOST DURING ANY OF YESTERDAY'S RAIDS, THE COMMUNIQUE SAID.

NEW DELHI, JUNE 14-(AP)-AMERICAN, BRITISH, INDIAN AND CHINESE ROOPS HEADED PARADES CELEBRATING UNITED NATIONS DAY TODAY IN INDIA'S RINCIPAL CITIES AND SPECIAL SERVICES WERE HELD IN CHURCHES.

FIFTY AMERICAN SOLDIERS HEADED PARADE HERE WHICH WAS REVIEWED BY MAJ. GEN. CLAYTON L. BISSELL, COMMANDING U.S. AIR FORCES IN THIS THEATER, AND GENERAL SIR ALAN HARTLEY, DEPUTY COMMANDER IN CHIEF IN INDIA.

June 14—

CHUNGKING-~~FIRST ADD FIRST LEAD CHINESE X X X IMMEDIATE DANGER.~~

A COMMUNIQUE FROM THE 14TH U.S. AIR FORCE ANNOUNCING THE ATTACK ON NANCHANG ALSO TOLD OF THREE JAPANESE PLANES BEING SHOT DOWN AND SEVEN OTHERS PROBABLY DESTROYED IN A VARIETY OF RECENT OPERATIONS.

ON THE LAND FRONT, THE CHINESE HIGH COMMAND SAID THAT JAPANESE RETREATING FROM SUNGTZE, WHICH THE CHINESE RETOOK FRIDAY, HAD FLED IN THREE GROUPS, ONE OF WHICH HAD BEEN WIPED OUT. THE OTHER TWO, IT SAID, WERE BEING ROUNDED UP.

JUN 15 1943

JUN 15 1943

THE COMMUNIQUE ALSO REPORTED THAT THE TOWN OF KUNGAN IN SOUTH HUPEH PROVINCE, WHICH THE JAPANESE REGAINED AFTER CHINESE FORCES WON POSSESSION OF IT FOR A FEW HOURS JUNE 4, HAD AGAIN FALLEN INTO CHINESE HANDS.

KUNGAN WAS ONE OF THE BASES FROM WHICH THE JAPANESE LAUNCHED THE UNSUCCESSFUL UPPER YANGTZE OFFENSIVE.

CHUNGKING, JUNE 14-(AP)-FREE CHINA THREW HERSELF WHOLE-HEARTEDLY INTO THE CELEBRATION OF UNITED NATIONS DAY TODAY WITH ITS CITIES BEFLAGGED, NEWSPAPERS ISSUING SPECIAL SUPPLEMENTS AND SCORES OF OFFICIALS EXHORTING THE CHINESE PEOPLE TO REDOUBLE THEIR EFFORTS TO OVERTHROW JAPAN.

JUN 15 1943

MINISTER OF INFORMATION CHANG TAO-FAN TOLD A PRESS CONFERENCE THAT THE UNITED NATIONS WOULD NOT CEASE FIGHTING UNTIL THEY "HAD DRIVEN CRAZY HITLER, STUPID MUSSOLINI AND SHAMELESS TOJO INTO THE SEA."

ENTHUSIASTIC CROWDS THRONGED STREETS BRILLIANT WITH POSTERS, FLAGS, AND BANNERS AND LIVELY WITH THE STRAINS OF BRASS BANDS LEADING COLORFUL PROCESSIONS. THE COUNTRY'S OPTIMISTIC MOOD WAS TYPIFIED IN THE STATEMENT BY GEN.WU TE-CHEN, SECRETARY-GENERAL OF KUOMINTANG, THAT "VICTORY IS WITHIN OUR GRASP."

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, JUNE 14-(AP)-FLYING FORTRESSES AND LIBERATOR BOMBERS, CONTINUING THE POUNDING OF JAPANESE AIRPLANE CONCENTRATIONS, DROPPED NEARLY 30 TONS OF BOMBS ON VUNAKANAU AIRDROME AT RABAUL YESTERDAY.

NUMEROUS LARGE FIRES, WHICH WERE VISIBLE AT A DISTANCE OF 50 MILES, WERE STARTED AT THE AIRDROME WHERE RECONNAISSANCE PHOTOGRAPHS THE DAY BEFORE HAD REVEALED 96 PLANES.

SUNDAY'S RAID WAS THE THIRD STRONG ATTACK IN FOUR DAYS AGAINST THE BIG JAPANESE BASE AT THE NORTHEASTERN TIP OF NEW BRITAIN ISLAND. LAST THURSDAY THE FOUR-ENGINED BOMBERS SCATTERED 40 TONS OF BOMBS AMONG VUNAKANAU, LAKUNAI AND RAPOPO AI/

RDROMES, ALL IN THE RABAUL AREA, AND FOLLOWED UP WITH 19 TONS MORE ON FRIDAY.

SEARCHLIGHT AND ANTI-AIRCRAFT DEFENSES DURING YESTERDAY'S PRE-DAWN RAID WERE DESCRIBED IN THE NOON COMMUNIQUE AS "ACTIVE." NONE OF THE ALLIED PLANES WAS LOST.

JUN 15 1943

MITCHELL BOMBERS RAIDED DILI AND KOEPANG, IN DUTCH TIMOR. THREE FIRES WERE STARTED AT KOEPANG WHERE PHOTOGRAPHS SHOWED A TOTAL OF 50 BUILDINGS WERE DESTROYED IN TWO RAIDS LAST WEEK.

A SMALL FORMATION OF BOSTON ATTACK PLANES BOMBED AND MACHINE-GUNNED JAPANESE TRACKS AND TRAILS IN THE KOMIATUM AREA NEAR SALAMAUA, NEW GUINEA, MAKING 38 STRAFING PASSES ON SCATTERED ENEMY HOLDINGS.

THE JAPANESE MADE TWO NIGHT-TIME RAIDS, ONE WITH THREE PLANES AGAINST GONA, THE OTHER WITH FOUR PLANES AGAINST PORT MORESBY. THERE WAS NO DAMAGE FROM EITHER ATTACK.

MELBOURNE, JUNE 14-(AP)-SUPPRESSION OF THE JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES, [redacted] RELIGIOUS ORGANIZATION, UNDER THE NATIONAL SECURITY SUBVERSIVE ASSOCIATIONS REGULATIONS WAS DECLARED INVALID TODAY BY AUSTRALIA'S HIGHEST COURT.

THE 3 TO 2 DECISION, HANDED DOWN BY THE FULL COURT, IN EFFECT SET ASIDE THE ENTIRE SET OF REGULATIONS RELATING TO SUBVERSIVE ASSOCIATIONS UNDER THE NATIONAL SECURITY ACT.

IN DELIVERING THE MAJORITY DECISION, JUSTICE STARKE CHARACTERIZED THE REGULATIONS AS "ARBITRARY, CAPRICIOUS AND OPPRESSIVE" AND HELD THAT CORPORATE AND UNINCORPORATE BODIES WERE WIPED OUT OF EXIS-

JUN 15 1943

TENCE ON THE MERE DECLARATION OF THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH OF THE COMMONWEALTH GOVERNMENT WITHOUT DUE PROCESS OF LAW.

SANTIAGO, CHILE, JUNE 14-(AP)-THE GOVERNMENT'S INSTITUTE OF AGRICULTURAL ECONOMY THIS YEAR WILL PURCHASE 50,000 METRIC TONS OF WHEAT FROM AUSTRALIA AND ARGENTINA, IT WAS ANNOUNCED TODAY.

FIRST PURCHASE WILL BE 16,000 TONS FROM AUSTRALIA AND 22,000 TONS FROM ARGENTINA, AND THE REMAINDER WILL BE BOUGHT FROM BOTH. THE PRICE HAS NOT BEEN ANNOUNCED.

JUN 15 1943

U.S. ARMY HEADQUARTERS, SURINAM (DUTCH GUIANA)-JUNE 14-(AP)-LIEUT. GEN. GEORGE H.BRETT, COMMANDER OF THE CARIBBEAN DEFENSE ZONE, TODAY DECORATED WITH THE LEGION OF MERIT COL. JOHANNES MEIJER, COMMANDER OF NETHERLANDS FORCES IN SURINAM.

THE PRESENTATION WAS MADE DURING A SPECIAL REVIEW AND DRESS PARADE AT THE AIRBASE.

THE AWARD WAS CONFERRED BY THE WAR DEPARTMENT LAST JAN.30, CITING MEIJER'S "EXTRAORDINARY VITALITY, EXCEPTIONALLY MERITORIOUS CONDUCT AND OUTSTANDING SERVICES AS COMMANDING OFFICER OF NETHERLANDS FORCES IN SURINAM."

"HIS TACT, COOPERATION AND ATTITUDE OF HELPFULNESS HAS BEEN OF THE HIGHEST VALUE TO FORCES OF THE UNITED STATES ARMY IN THE PROTECTION OF THE WESTERN HEMISPHERE," THE CITATION SAID.

SAN JUAN, PUERTO RICO, JUNE 14-(AP)-NEARING THE END OF ITS INQUIRY INTO PUERTO RICO'S ECONOMIC, SOCIAL AND POLITICAL CONDITIONS, THE CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE HEADED BY REP. C.JASPER BELL (D-MO) SPENT MOST OF TODAY EXAMINING INSULAR FISCAL AFFAIRS AND THE FOUNDATION OF THE FUNCTIONS OF THE DEVELOPMENT BANK.

30.24-5007

RAFAEL BUSCAGLIA, TREASURER OF THE BANK, TESTIFIED THROUGHOUT THE DAY.

SEEKING BACKGROUND ON THE ORIGIN OF THE BANK, BELL ASKED BUSCAGLIA WHO DRAFTED THE LEGISLATIVE BILL AUTHORIZING THE BANK. THE TREASURER FAILED TO ANSWER, CAUSING BELL TO EXCLAIM, "IT SEEMS REMARKABLY STRANGE THAT YOU HAVE BEEN A MEMBER OF THIS BANK AND DON'T KNOW WHO DRAFTED THIS BILL."

JUN 15 1943

BELL READ FROM THE BANK'S CHARTER A PHRASE EMPOWERING THE BANK TO ENTER AND FINANCE ANY BUSINESS. BUSCAGLIA SAID HE HAD BEEN THINKING OF RECOMMENDING ELIMINATION OF THIS CLAUSE AND ADDED THAT GOV. REXFORD G.TUGWELL FAVORED ELIMINATION.

THE CONGRESSMEN INQUIRED INTO THE OPERATION OF THE DEVELOPMENT COMPANY, BUT BUSCAGLIA FAILED TO ANSWER TO THEIR SATISFACTION.

AT ANOOHER POINT IN HIS TESTIMONY BUSCAGLIA SAID IT WAS NECESSARY TO PROTECT LOCAL INDUSTRY IN THE POST-WAR ERA AGAINST DUMPING BY LARGE CONTINENTAL FIRMS, ADDING THAT THE INSULAR GOVERNMENT INTENDED TO PROTECT LOCAL CONCERNS THROUGH THE DEVELOPMENT BANK OR CORPORATION OR OTHER MEANS.

REP. FRED L.CRAWFORD (R-MICH) AND OTHER COMMITTEE MEMBERS HELD A PROTRACTED DISCUSSION WITH BUSCAGLIA ABOUT THE GOVERNOR'S REMOVAL POWERS UNDER THE ORGANIC ACT, THE TREASURER CONTENDING THAT THE GOVERNMENT COULD NOT REMOVE HEADS OF DEPARTMENTS (WHO ARE APPOINTED BY THE GOVERNOR WITH INSULAR SENATE CONFIRMATION), INCLUDING HIMSELF, WITHOUT CHARGES. THE CONGRESSMEN SAID THEY BELIEVED THE REMOVAL POWER WAS DISCRETIONARY AND BELL SAID HE WOULD ASK THE ACTING ATTORNEY GENERAL FOR AN OPINION.

JUN 15 1943

SOME MEMBERS OF THE COMMITTEE PLAN TO LEAVE TOMORROW IF THEY CAN OBTAIN PLANE SPACE AND OTHERS WILL DEPART LATER IN THE WEEK.

BERMUDA, JUNE 14-(AP)-IN HIS LAST OFFICIAL DUTY BEFORE LEAVING BERMUDA TO ASSUME A POST AS CHAIRMAN OF THE BRITISH OVERSEAS AIRWAYS CORPORATION IN LODNON, GOVERNOR VISCOUNT KNOLLYS CONVENED THE COLONIAL PARLIAMENT TODAY AMID THE CELEBRATION OF UNITED NATIONS DAY.

UNITED STATES AND BRITISH OFFICIAL TURNED OUT FOR THE CONVENING, WHICH SAW THE NEWLY ELECTED & HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY BEGIN ITS DUTIES.

IN HIS SPEECH TO THE PARLIAMENT, THE GOVERNOR DECLARED THAT ALTHOUGH "THE SITUATION HAS GREATLY CHANGED TO OUR ADVANTAGE, THE ROAD TO FINAL VICTORY IS STILL A LONG AND ARDUOUS ONE AND DEMANDS NO RELAXATION BUT RATHER STILL GREATER EFFORTS UNTIL THE ULTIMATE GOAL IS ACHIEVED."

BUENOS AIRES, JUNE 14-(AP)-WHILE ANNOUNCING THAT IT WAS PREPARED TO MAKE A PETROLEUM AGREEMENT WITH THE UNITED STATES, THE ARGENTINE GOVERNMENT TONIGHT POSTPONED EXECUTION OF ITS ORDER AGAINST RADIOED CODE MESSAGES SHORTLY AFTER THE GERMAN CHARGE D'AFFAIRES CONFERRED WITH FOREIGN MINISTER SEGUNDO STORNI.

JUN 15 1943

STORNI TOLD NEWSPAPERMEN HE HAD CONFERRED WITH ERICH MEYNEN, THE GERMAN DIPLOMAT, OVER THE "PRESENT SITUATION" AND AN INFORMED SOURCE SAID MEYNEN'S VISIT CONCERNED THE CODE DECREE. STORNI, HOWEVER, AVOIDED ANSWERING WHEN ASKED SPECIFICALLY WHETHER BERLIN HAD LODGED A FORMAL PROTEST.

THE GOVERNMENT LAST WEEK ORDERED ALL CODE MESSAGES SENT ABROAD BY RADIO HALTED. THIS WAS ONE OF THE CHIEF COMPLAINTS AGAINST THE PREVIOUS REGIME BY THE UNITED NATIONS WHICH HELD THAT AXIS DIPLOMATS USED THEIR 100-WORD DAILY LIMIT TO RADIO SHIP AND MILITARY INFORMATION.

THE FOREIGN OFFICE ADMITTED THAT THE EXECUTION OF THE DECREE HAD BEEN POSTPONED UNTIL WEDNESDAY NOON BECAUSE OF THE REQUEST OF CERTAIN EMBASSIES WHICH COMPLAINED THAT THE SUSPENSION DETAINED "CERTAIN DISPATCHES CONSIDERED INDISPENSABLE BECAUSE OF THE NEW SITUATION PRODUCED."

AT THE SAME TIME, STORNI ANNOUNCED THAT ARGENTINA WAS READY TO CONCLUDE AN AGREEMENT WHEREBY THE UNITED STATES WOULD PROVIDE OIL DRILLING MACHINERY AND ARGENTINA WOULD SUPPLY PETROLEUM TO NEIGHBORING REPUBLICS.

JUN 15 1943

AT THE SAME TIME THE GOVERNMENT ANNOUNCED THAT IT HAD POSTPONED UNTIL WEDNESDAY NOON THE EFFECTIVE DATE OF ITS NEW REGULATIONS PROHIBITING THE USE OF CODE MESSAGES IN RADIO COMMUNICATIONS--A MOVE INTERPRETED AS CUTTING OFF AXIS ESPIONAGE INTELLIGENCE.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT CAME AFTER ERICH MEYNEN, GERMAN CHARGE D'AFFAIRES, CONFERRED WITH STORNI AT THE FOREIGN OFFICE.

THE POSTPONEMENT CAME BECAUSE OF THE REQUEST OF CERTAIN EMBASSIES, THE FOREIGN OFFICE SAID, WHICH COMPLAINED THAT THE SUSPENSION DETAINED "CERTAIN DISPATCHES CONSIDERED INDISPENSABLE BECAUSE OF THE NEW SITUATION PRODUCED."

STORNI ALSO DISCLOSED EARLIER THAT THE HOLY SEE'S RECOGNITION OF THE NEW PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT OF ARGENTINA WAS DELAYED BECAUSE IT WAS TRANSMITTED IN CODE.

WHEN THE VATICAN INSTRUCTIONS TO THE NUNCIO CAME THROUGH LAST FRIDAY, POSTOFFICE AUTHORITIES AUTOMATICALLY STOPPED THEM IN COMPLIANCE WITH THE REGULATION ANNOUNCED LAST WEEK. TODAY THE MESSAGE WAS RELEASED AS A SPECIAL CONCESSION AND THE FOREIGN MINISTRY WAS NOTIFIED OF THE HOLY SEE'S DESIRE TO MAINTAIN EXISTING RELATIONS WITH ARGENTINE AUTHORITIES.

OTHER RECOGNITIONS WERE RECEIVED FROM COSTA RICA, HAITI AND SAN MARINO.

JUN 15 1943

30.24-5009

SAN SALVADOR, JUNE 14-(AP)-THE REPUBLIC OF EL SALVADOR ANNOUNCED TODAY IT HAD RECOGNIZED THE GOVERNMENT OF GEN. PEDRO RAMIREZ IN ARGENTINA.

NO SIT DOWN!

MEXICO CITY -- SEEKING HIGHER SALARIES FOR PICADORS AND BAND-:ILLOS, A BULLFIGHTERS UNION YESTERDAY VOTED TO STRIKE AGAINST THE :XICO CITY BULLRING COMPANY. THE WAGE SOUGHT: 200 PESOS .BOUT $40) A FIGHT.

JUN 15 1943

--DASH--

TORONTO, JUNE 14-(AP)-PREMIER NIXON OF ONTARIO SAID TODAY THAT MAJ.JAMES H.CLARK OF WINDSOR, SPEAKER OF THE ONTARIO LEGISLATURE, WAS EXPRESSING "HIS PERSONAL OPINION AND NOT THAT OF THE GOVERNMENT" WHEN HE SAID AT DETROIT LAST NIGHT THAT 40 TO 45 PER CENT OF CANADA'S CITIZENS WOULD VOTE FOR UNION WITH THE UNITED STATES IF AN ELECTION WERE HELD AT THIS TIME.

NIXON DECLINED FURTHER COMMENT ON MAJOR CLARK'S DETROIT SPEECH.

OTTAWA, JUNE 14-(AP)-PILOT OFFICER ROLAND ADELORE COSSETTE, OF ALPHA, MICH., WAS LISTED BY THE CANADIAN AIR FORCE TONIGHT AS REPORTED MISSING ON ACTIVE SERVICE AFTER AIR OPERATIONS OVERSEAS. HIS FATHER IS A.M. COSSETTE, OF ALPHA.

JUN 15 1943

OTTAWA, JUNE 14-(AP)-SGT.EARL EUGENE WARNER, OF LAS VEGAS, NEV., WAS LISTED BY THE CANADIAN AIR FORCE TONIGHT AS REPORTED A PRISONER OF WAR IN GERMANY. SGT.WARNER, WHOSE FATHER IS F.E.WARNER OF LAS VEGAS, PREVIOUSLY WAS LISTED AS MISSING ON ACTIVE SERVICE.

OTTAWA JUNE 14-(AP)-THE ROYAL CANADIAN AIR FORCE TODAY ANNOUNCED AWARD OF THE DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS TO AN AMERICAN AMONG A GROUP RECEIVING THE D.F.C., AND THE DISTINGUISHED FLYING MEDAL.

THE AMERICAN AWARDED THE D.F.C.WAS WARRANT OFFICER J.F.W.TOWSE OF LIVINGSTONE, N.J. ADDRESS OF TOWSE'S MOTHER, MRS.G.TOWSE, IS BOS 13, LIVINGSTONE.

THE CITATION FOR WARRANT OFFICER TOWSE: "WO.TOWSE HAS A LONG OPERATIONAL RECORD OF ATTACKS AGAINST A WIDE VARIETY OF TARGETS AND HAS BEEN CONSPICUOUS FOR SUSTAINED COURAGE, DETERMINATION AND ENDURANCE. HE HAS BEEN SUCCESSFUL IN ATTAINING THE PRIMARY OBJECTIVE ON MOST OCCASIONS. A VERY CAPABLE AND RELIABLE CAPTAIN OF AIRCREW THIS AIRMAN HAS EARNED THE CONFIDENCE OF HIS CREW TO WHOM HE HAS BEEN A SOURCE OF INSPIRATION."

JUN 15 1943

OTTAWA, JUNE 14-(AP)-A CHARGE THAT ALUMINUM COMPANY OF CANADA AND ASSOCIATED FIRMS WERE TAKING "UNPARALLELED" PROFITS FROM THE UNITED NATIONS WAS MADE IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS TODAY BY M.J.COLDWELL, CO-OPERATIVE COMMONWEALTH FEDERATION LEADER.

COLDWELL DECLARED THAT A PACT BY WHICH CANADA AGREED TO STEP UP DEPRECIATION FOR TAXATION PURPOSES ON THE CANADIAN FIRM'S PLANT EX-TENSIONS WAS "NOT IN THE BEST INTERSTS" OF CANADA.

REPLYING TO COLDWELL, MUNITIONS MINISTER C.D.HOWE DECLARED THAT HIS DEPARTMENT WAS FIGHTING AGAINST THE AXIS, NOT "AGAINST TRUSTS AND COMBINES, OR ONE INDUSTRY AS AGAINST ANOTHER INDUSTRY."

HOWE SAID THAT WHETHER OR NOT ALUMINUM, LIMITED, PARENT COMPANY OF ALUMINUM COMPANY OF CANADA, WAS A COMBINE, THE PRESENT DID NOT APPEAR TO BE THE TIME TO TAKE UP THE WAR AGAINST COMBINES.

COLDWELL —INSERT—

HE ASSERTED THAT PRICES NOW CHARGED UNITED NATIONS GOVERNMENTS WERE UBSTANTIALLY THOSE AGREED UPON IN 1933 BY AN INTERNATIONAL CARTEL. HE PRICES WERE 15 AND 17 CENTS A POUND, HE SAID, ADDING THAT IN 937, WHEN PRODUCTION WAS NOT AT CAPACITY, THE CANADIAN FIRM SAID N OFFICIAL STATEMENTY THAT THE PRODUCTION COST FOR INGOTS AT ARVIDA, UE., WAS 8.7 CENTS A POUND.

HE DECLARED HE HAD INFORMATION THAT ALUMINUM COULD BE TURNED OUT TODAY AT SIX CENTS A POUND.

JUN 15 1943

HE DECLARED HE HAD INFORMATION THAT ALUMINUM COULD BE TURNED OUT TODAY AT SIX CENTS A POUND.

COLDWELL SAID HE OBTAINED HIS FACTS FROM AUTHENTIC SOURCES IN WASHINGTON.

"IT IS EASILY THE GREATEST FINANCIAL GRAB EVER PULLED OFF IN THE HISTORY OF CANADA," HE ADDED.

THE FEDERATION LEADER SAID INFORMATION GIVEN THE HOUSE MARCH 23 BY MUNITIONS MINISTER C.D.HOWE "WAS NOT IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE TRUE FACTS." HE SAID HOWE HAD SAID AT THAT TIME THERE WERE NOT TWO PRICES FOR ALUMINUM, AND THAT ALL PAID THE SAME PRICE, BUT COLDWELL READ A LETTER FROM U.S. SECRETARY OF COMMERCE JESSE H.JONES TO U.S. SENATOR HARRY TRUMAN STATING THERE WERE TWO PRICES AND THAT THE COMPANY "RELUCTANTLY AGREED" TO CUT ITS PRICE TO THE UNITED STATES TO 15 CENTS BECAUSE IT WAS GETTING 17 FROM BRITAIN AND CANADA.

HOWE DECLARED THE LETTER WAS NOT INCONSISTENT WITH HIS STATEMENT, SAYING THAT AS SOON AS HE LEARNED THE UNITED STATES WAS BEING CHARGED 15 CENTS, HE ADVISED THE COMPANY THE PRICE TO CANADA AND BRITAIN ALSO WOULD BE 15 CENTS, AND THAT CONTRACTS WERE REVISED ACCORDINGLY.

IN HIS REPLY, HOWE DECLARED ALUMINUM, LTD., HAD BEEN DESCRIBED AS A OMBINE AND ADDED: "I DARE SAY THAT IS TRUE. I PRESUME IT IS A OMBINE TODAY."

HE POINTED OUT, HOWEVER, THAT AFTER AN EXHAUSTIVE INQUIRY IN THE JNITED STATES, THE ALUMINUM COMPANY OF AMERICA HAD BEEN FOUND INNOCENT OF EACH OF SOME 300 CHARGES. HE ADDED THAT IF THE GOVERNMENT DECIDED AFTER THE WAR TO PROCEED AGAINST THE COMPANY AS A COMBINE "THAT WILL BE IN ORDER."

JUN 15 1943

HOWE DECLARED THE CANADIAN GOVERNMENT HAD PROVIDED NO MONEY TO THE COMPANY FOR EXPANSION, AND SAID THE FIRM NOW OWNED A PROPERTY FULLY DEPRECIATED AND ITS EARNINGS WOULD BE TAXABLE IN FULL. HE SAID IT HAD BEEN WRONGLY STATED IN THE UNITED STATES THAT THE SHIPSHAW, QUE., POWER PROJECT UNDERTAKEN BY ALUMINUM COMPANY WAS MADE POSSIBLE BY FUNDS LOANED BY THE UNITED STATES, WHILE ACTUALLY THE PLAN WAS WORKED OUT BEFORE THE UNITED STATES BEGAN BUYING ALUMINUM IN CANADA.

HOWE SAID THE COMPANY HAD PERFORMED ITS CONTRACTS "TO THE LETTER. IT HAS DELIVERED EVERY POUND OF ALUMINUM WHEN IT PROMISED." IT HAD SHOWN COURAGE AND TAKEN ON HEAVY RESPONSIBILITY IN ITS WAR PROGRAM, HE ADDED.

OTTAWA, JUNE 14-(AP)-MUNITIONS MINISTER C.D.HOWE SAID TONIGHT THE GOVERNMENT PLANNED TO TAKE OVER SEVERAL SHIPYARDS IN THE ST. LAWRENCE RIVER AREA, INCLUDING THREE WHERE STRIKES HAVE JUST STARTED.

HE TOLD THE CANADIAN PRESS (CAPS CP) "WE PLANNED TO TAKE OVER THE PLANTS BEFORE THE STRIKE BEGAN AND WE WILL GO AHEAD WITH THE PLAN."

SEVEN THOUSAND WORKERS IN THREE QUEBEC DISTRICT SHIPYARDS WENT ON STRIKE TONIGHT. THEY ARE EMPLOYEES OF DAVIE SHIPBUILDING AND REPAIRING COMPANY, LIMITED, MORTON ENGINEERING AND DRYDOCK COMP[illegible] LIMITED, AND GEORGE T.DAVIE AND SONS LIMITED.

JUN 15 1943

JUN 15 1943

30.24-5011

A107

OTTAWA, JUNE 14-(AP)-PRIVATE LETTERS CRITICIZING CANADIAN GOVERNMENT POLICY ARE COPIED BY CENSORSHIP OFFICIALS UNDER CERTAIN CIRCUMSTANCES, IT WAS DISCLOSED IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS TODAY.

IN ANSWER TO QUESTIONS SUBMITTED BY M.J.COLDWELL, COOPERATIVE COMMONWEALTH FEDERATION LEADER, THE WAR SERVICES DEPARTMENT REPLIED THAT PRIVATE LETTERS ARE COPIED AND FORWARDED TO THE DEPARTMENT CONCERNED "ONLY WHEN DETRIMENTAL OR SIGNIFICANT TO THE WAR EFFORT."

LETTERS OR TELEGRAMS TO OR FROM MEMBERS OF PARLIAMENT HAVE BEEN DEALT WITH ONLY TWICE IN THIS MANNER, "INADVERTENTLY AND CONTRARY TO INSTRUCTIONS," THE REPLY SAID.

JUN 15 1943

THE DEPARTMENT POINTED OUT THAT CENSORS HAVE AUTHORITY TO WITHHOLD LETTERS POSTED AT HALIFAX OR OTHER DEFENSE AREAS AND ADDRESSED TO POINTS WITHIN CANADA.

CENSORSHIP DID NOT INCLUDE INVESTIGATION BY THE ROYAL CANADIAN MOUNTED POLICE OF PERSONAL OPINIONS BETWEEN FRIENDS EXPRESSING DISAGREEMENT WITH NORTH AFRICAN POLICIES OF THE UNITED STATES STATE DEPARTMENT IN ITS RECOGNITION OF FORMER SUPPORTERS OR MEMBERS OF THE ICHY REGIME, THE DEPARTMENT SAID IN ANSWER TO ANOTHER QUESTION.

WASHINGTON, JUNE 14-(AP)-THE NAVY ANNOUNCED TODAY 11 CASUALTIES, INCLUDING 6 DEAD AND 5 MISSING.

THIS BRINGS TO 23,310 THE TOTAL OF NAVY, MARINE CORPS AND COAST GUARD CASUALTIES REPORTED TO NEXT OF KIN SINCE DECEMBER 7, 1941. THE GRAND TOTAL INCLUDES 7,433 DEAD, 4,722 WOUNDED AND 11,155 MISSING.

TODAY'S LIST ALSO INCLUDED TWO NAMES OF MEN WHOSE STATUS HAS CHANGED FROM MISSING TO DEAD AND ONE NAME WHOSE STATUS HAS CHANGED FROM WOUNDED TO DEAD.

THE CASUALTIES ANNOUNCED TODAY (THOSE LISTED ARE NAVY AND NON-COMMISSIONED PERSONNEL UNLESS OTHERWISE SPECIFIED):

CALIFORNIA--PRICE, CHESTER, DEAD, DAUGHTER, SHELIA ROBERTA PRICE, 11270 MORRISON AVENUE, NORTH HOLLYWOOD; WARE, LEONARD R.LIEUTENANT (JG) DEAD, WIFE, MILDRED M.WARE, MCCLINTOCK STREET, SAN DIEGO.

JUN 15 1943

MASSACHUSETTS--CROMACK, DONALD RAYMOND, MISSING, WIFE, YVETTE CLAIRE CROMACK 56 FORREST AVENUE, GREENFIELD.

MINNESOTA--COLLIER, ELMER RICHARD, MISSING, MOTHER, MRS. FRIEDA COLLIER, BIRD ISLAND.

MISSOURI--HALLOWELL, GLOYDE (CQ), JAMES, LIEUTENANT (JG) DEAD, (REPORTED MISSING MARCH 1) FATHER, JAMES WILLIAM HALLOWELL, 607 EAST CENTRAL STREET, CARTHAGE; PUMPHREY, HARRY CHRISTOPHER, MISSING, MOTHER, MRS.MARY IRENE PUMPHREY, 218 NORTH CARTER, CLINTON.

NORTH CAROLINA--LEE, ARTHUR CARL, JR., ENSIGN, DEAD, (REPORTED MISSING MARCH 2). SISTER, ELIZABETH LEE, 2301 HOPEDALE AVENUE, CHARLOTTE, AND FATHER, ARTHUR SR., 2301 HOPEDALE AVENUE, CHARLOTTE; LEVINS, MIDAS BERVOY, DEAD, BROTHER, R.B. LEVINS, 1 VANCE ST., FAYETTEVILLE.

OHIO--DAY, LOREN ALLEN, DEAD, (REPORTED WOUNDED NOVEMBER 12, 1942) FATHER, WILLIAM J.DAY, WAKEMAN.

JUN 15 1943

PENNSYLVANIA--BODGE, ARTHUR PATRICK, DEAD, MOTHER, HELEN BODGE, 2926 HALE STREET, PHILADELPHIA.

TEXAS--CAIN, JOSEPH, MISSING, WIFE, RUTH LARGENT CAIN, 2818 ISABELLA STREET, HOUSTON; PENLAND, GEORGE HARVEY, JR., LIEUTENANT (JG) MISSING, FATHER, GEORGE SR., BRIARWOOD LANE, DALLAS.

VIRGINIA--PARNELL, BARNARD CLIFFORD, DEAD, MOTHER, MRS.MABEL RADBURY PARNELL, 1817 NORTH WAYNE STREET, ARLINGTON.

WASHINGTON--JONES, BENNIE FRANKLYN, DEAD, WIFE, PAULINE ELIZABETH, 5547 36TH NORTH EAST STREET, SEATTLE.

K521PEW

JUN 15 1943

WASHINGTON, JUNE 14-(AP)-THE WAR DEPARTMENT ANNOUNCED TODAY THAT SEVEN GENERAL OFFICERS HAD BEEN CITED FOR THE LEGION OF MERIT "FOR EXCEPTIONALLY MERITORIOUS CONDUCT IN THE NORTH AFRICAN THEATER OF OPERATIONS."

AMONG THEM WERE:

BRIG.GEN.JERRY V.MATEJKA(CORRECT), CALDWELL,TEX., WHO SERVED WITHOUT RESPITE AS CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER, ALLIED FORCE HEADQUARTERS, AND WAS CITED FOR THE "SUCCESSFUL COMMUNICATIONS WHICH HAVE BEEN MAINTAINED DURING THIS CAMPAIGN."

JUN 15 1943

BRIG.GEN.BEN M.SAWBRIDGE, 2800 WEST VIEWMONT BAY, SEATTLE, WHO AS THE ORIGINAL ASSISTANT CHIEF OF STAFF, G-1, ALLIED FORCE HEADQUARTERS, "COPED SUCCESSFULLY WITH THE PERSONNEL PROBLEMS THAT HAVE CONFRONTED THE ALLIED FORCE, CONTRIBUTING GREATLY TO THE ESSFUL ACCOMPLISHMENT OF ITS MISSION."

BRIG.GEN.PAUL L.WILLIAMS, 2203 WELLINGTON ROAD, LOS NGELES, WHO, AS COMMANDING GENERAL OF THE 12TH AIR FORCE SUPPORT OMMAND, WAS RESPONSIBLE FOR THE PROPER FUNCTIONING OF ITS GROUND ERVICES, AND WHOSE "CLEAR VISION, TIRELESS ENERGY AND TACTICAL KILL HAVE RESULTED IN AN ORGANIZATION THAT HAS SUCCESSFULLY SUPPO AJOR AIR EFFORTS IN THE NORTH AFRICAN THEATER."

JUN 15 1943

BRIG.GEN.ARTHUR B.WILSON, 2444 VIRGINIA AVE., BERKELEY, ALIF., WHO ORGANIZED THE ATLANTIC BASE SECTION, BROUGHT IT TO NOR 'RICA, AND TOOK OVER AN OPERATING SUPPLY SYSTEM WITH A MINIMUM FRICTION AND NO BREAK IN OPERATIONS. HIS WAS "AN OUTSTAND-G CONTRIBUTION TO THE SUCCESS OF THE ALLIED ARMS," HIS CITATION NCLUDED.

Blank

JUN 15 1943

U. S. TO SPEND 106 BILLION FOR WAR IN '43, NELSON SAYS

Program 80 Pct. Greater Than '42 Total, He Reports—Warns of Leaner Days Ahead for Civilians.

JUN 15 1943

WASHINGTON, June 12 (AP).—The United States will spend 106 billion dollars this year for war.

The vast scope of the American war effort was disclosed in a report on production progress in 1942 and prospects for 1943, made by War Production Board Chairman Donald M. Nelson to President Roosevelt this spring and summarized tonight by the Office of War Information.

The 1943 program, Nelson reported, is 80 per cent greater than 1942's 59 billion dollar total. It includes arms output, war construction and the paying, feeding and equipping of the armed forces. In his letter Nelson told Roosevelt.

"The record certainly makes it clear that the American industrial system can be justifiably proud of an astonishing display of economic muscle."

OWI's condensation of the secret document omitted, for reasons of military security, detailed new figures on production of weapons.

Reports Highlights.

Highlighted in the report were:

Recommendations that civilian manufacturing and much wholesaling be eliminated from critical labor shortage areas, to free workers for war plants.

An urgent plea for planning the transition back to a peacetime economy after the war, lest the war effort be held back by widespread concern over postwar economy.

A warning that leaner days for civilians are just ahead. Civilian goods and services in the last three months of this year will be 20 per cent under the end of 1942, and inequalities of distribution will "aggravate the burden on consumers."

Actual war production "in most categories fell short of scheduled production throughout most of 1942," Nelson said, because the goals were unrealistically high and for other reasons, but in the main production "met the requirements of our war strategy; and the prospects for 1943 are for a quantity and a quality of production that will realize to the full the tremendous potential of American industry."

"Some Disappointments."

"We have met with some disappointments and have made some errors in achieving the results," the letter to Roosevelt said. "The important point, in my judgment, is that an unprecedented and, on the whole, a balanced output was achieved.

"Today, we are turning out nearly as much material for war, measured in dollar value, as we ever produced for our peacetime needs —and we have enough industrial power left over to keep civilian standards of living at a level higher than many of us dared hope for.

"This record could not have been achieved in so short a time had we not taken some short cuts, made some compromises, and assumed some risks.

"I am personally confident that in the months ahead the productive record of American labor, management, agriculture and government, working together, will fully meet the demands of the armed services in pressing home the attack on every front."

Arms Program Formidable.

The 1943 arms program is a "most formidable" task for industry, it was conceded. The building and equipping of industrial plants and cantonments, a relatively easy job, is only 13 per cent of the total instead of 30 per cent as in 1942.

But munitions production must jump 125 per cent and in some specific weapons vastly more. Warplanes, for instance, are to rise three and one-half times the output of last year, when 47,694 planes were produced.

This does not mean that nearly 167,000 planes will be turned out because production is rated on total weight and value. With the present emphasis on heavy bombers and heavier planes of all types, probably between 90,000 and 100,000 will be built.

Similarly output of spare propellers, engines and parts must be 2.7 times the 1942 level; small fighting ships, including destroyer escorts, nearly four times; ground signal equipment, over three times.

"These categories are obviously the ones in which attainment of the 1943 goals is likely to present the greatest difficulties," the summary observed. "Their predomi- nance reflec's changes in the importance attached to various categories of fighting equipment in the light of the shifting fortunes and strategy of military conflict."

More Materials Needed.

"Substantially greater quantities" of nearly all critical materials will be chewed up by the war machine this year, it was disclosed—31 per cent more steel; 100 per cent more aluminum; 100 per cent more nitrogen, for explosives; 200 per cent more magnesium, and 450 per cent more ethyl alcohol, for synthetic rubber and smokeless powder.

Virtually all the increased demands for metals must come from new supply, because the civilian economy has been cut so deeply that "virtually no further diversion to military production can be expected from this source."

All but about 500 million dollars worth of the construction projects will be finished by the end of this year, although the report warned that a two- or thre-month delay might be expected in completion of nearly all construction jobs because of bottlenecks in production of machinery and equipment.

The report forecast that additional new buildings would be needed for the aircraft program and for high-octane gasoline. (Since it was prepared, a 20 per cent increase in high octane plant capacity has been approved.)

"No information has been compiled to show an over-capacity of (plant) facilities, although it may be said that certain facilities existing or building could be utilized somewhat more intensively and efficiently," the summary said.

Civilian Economy Policy.

In laying down a five-point policy for the civilian economy, the summary omitted reference to a sixth point known to have been originally included in the full report to Roosevelt. It called for a much wider extension of rationing.

It was known, however, that WPB's views on rationing consumer goods have undergone a sharp change since Arthur D. Whiteside was brought in by Nelson as chief of the Office of Civilian Requirements. Whiteside is, for instance, firm in his opposition to clothing rationing. The five points listed were:

1. Eliminate civilian manufacturing and as much wholesaling as possible from critical labor shortage areas.
2. Increase productivity of retail trades and service industries, especially in localities where labor is short.
3. Curtail less essential goods and services and simplify and standardize the more essential.
4. Protect the consumers' minimum requirements in every important field.
5. Give the public a better understanding of the war production program.

Mrs. John W. Davis, III, Saved From Blazing Home

By the Associated Press.

GLEN COVE, N. Y., June 14.—Fire, caused by lightning, severely damaged the home of John W. Davis, 1924 Democratic presidential candidate, where Mrs. Davis lay ill in bed, last night.

Servants carried Mrs. Davis to the rear of the rambling, two-and-one-half-story house, but when the flames spread she was taken to the home of a neighbor.

Mr. Davis was dining alone when the lightning struck a chimney of the house, Mattapan. The impact shook the house, but he continued with his dinner until a butler told him of smelling smoke.

Some 150 volunteer firemen fought the blaze as servants carried out scores of art objects and heirlooms.

30.24-5013

JUN 15 1943

London, June 14-(AP)-Reuters recorded a German broadcast today saying "American" planes attacked Flushing in The Netherlands yesterday mroning (correct). Flushing was one of the targets of RAF daylight raiders Sunday.

JUN 15 1943

OTTAWA, JUNE 14--(AP)---PRIME MINISTER W.L. MACKENZIE KING SAID TODAY HE WAS PREPARED TO ASSOCIATE HIMSELF WITH A DECLARATION OF THE RECENT UNITED NATIONS' FOOD CONFERENCE THAT "EVERY NATION SHOULD ASSUME THE RESPONSIBILITY, IN COLLABORATION WITH OTHERS, OF PROVIDING ADEQUATE FOOD FOR ITS OWN PEOPLE."

BEFORE THE HOUSE OF COMMONS HE MADE THE STATEMENT IN COMMENTING THAT PRESIDENT

JUN 15 1943

ROOSEVELT HAD ASSOCIATED HIMSELF WITH THIS DECLARATION OF THE CONFERENCE, WHICH WAS HELD AT HOT SPRINGS, VA., FROM MAY 18 TO JUNE 3.

"THE CONFERENCE WAS AN ~~MMMM~~ ACT OF FAITH IN THE CONTINUING SOLIDARITY OF THE UNITED NATIONS," THE PRIME MINISTER SAID, AND OUTLINED ~~THE~~ RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED.

JUN 15 1943

"I NEED SCARCELY ASSURE THE HOUSE THAT ALL THESE ~~RECOMMENDATIONS~~ RECOMMENDATIONS WILL RECEIVE DETAILED STUDY BY THE GOVERNMENT," HE SAI an advanced allied airbase in north africa, june 14-(ap)-"our p-38 fighter pilots had fun on the way back from pantelleria but it was the cheapest and finest combat experience we could have gotten," lieut. martin a. foster of harrisburg, pa., said today.

"we dropped so many belly tanks in the last five days you could almost walk over to the island on them," he added. "we used to shoot at them on the way back."

captain henry h. trollope of goose egg, wyo., ~~had this explanation~~ for the capitulation of the strategic island: AGREED THE BARRAGE WAS HEAVY.

TORONTO, JUNE 14-(AP)-LAURA FREY OF PITTSBURGH, PA., WHO QUIT THE U.S. WOMEN'S AUXILIARY ARMY CORPS TO JOIN THE CANADIAN WOMEN'S ARMY CORPS, UTTERED A BIG ORCHID FOR THE LATTER TODAY. JUN 15 1943

THE FORMER WAAC INSTRUCTOR, WHOSE FATHER IS ADVERTISING MANAGER OF THE PITTSBURGH POST-GAZETTE SAID SHE HAD NO SPECIAL REASON FOR PREFERRING THE CWAC, BUT ASSERTED THAT THAT ORGANIZATION'S TRAINING WAS SUPERIOR TO THAT OF ANY OTHER SHE HAD SEEN.

MISS FREY, WHOSE BROTHER IS A U.S. ARMY AIR FORCE CAPTAIN AND SISTER IS A U.S. NURSE IN NORTH AFRICA, CAME HERE A YEAR AGO TO ENLIST IN THE CWAC, BUT FOUND THAT ONLY CANADIAN WOMEN WERE ACCEPTED, SO SHE JOINED THE WAAC. LATER, SHE LEARNED THAT THINGS CHANGED, SO SHE GOT AN HONORABLE DISCHARGE FROM THE U.S. CORPS AND JOINED THE CWAC TWO MONTHS AGO.

RIO DE JANEIRO, JUNE 14--(AP)---PHIL REISMAN, VICE PRESIDENT OF ~~RKO~~ FOREIGN DISTRIBUTION FOR RKO RADIO PICTURES, WAS AWARDED THE NATIONAL ORDER OF THE SOUTHERN CROSS, GRADE OF CAVALIER, TODAY FOR CONTRIBUTING TO THE DEVELOPMENT OF CINEMA RELATIONS BETWEEN BRAZIL AND THE UNITED STATES.

JUN 15 1943

30.24-5015

A PACIFIC PORT, JUNE 14-(AP)-A YOUNG NAVY FIGHTER PILOT WHO SWAM THROUGH STORMY SEAS TO A LIBERTY SHIP LIFEBOAT AFTER CRASHING IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC, ARRIVED AT THIS BASE TODAY TO LEARN HE HAD BEEN CARRIED ON NAVY RECORDS AS MISSING SINCE MAY 29.

WEARING DUNGAREES AND A DENIM SHIRT PROVIDED AFTER HIS RESCUE, ENSIGN JOHN WALTER TOPLIFF, 23, SON OF MR. AND MRS. WALTER TOPLIFF OF 101 COURT ST., TARPON SPRINGS, FLA., TOLD HOW HE WAS LOST DURING COMBAT MANEUVERS MAY 15.

JUN 15 1943

HE HAD TAKEN OFF WITH A FIGHTER FLIGHT TO SIMULATE AN ATTACK ON A DESTROYER, LATER TO RENDEZVOUS AND FLY TO A LAND BASE 90 MILES AWAY FOR STRAFING MANEUVERS. TOPLIFF'S PLANE WAS THE LAST IN FORMATION. HE EXHAUSTED THE FUEL IN HIS EMERGENCY TANK AND WAS LEFT BEHIND WHILE SWITCHING TO HIS MAIN TANKS.

THE FORMATION CONTINUED ITS COURSE AND RAN INTO A STORM FRONT, CLIMBING TO 8,000 FEET. TOPLIFF SAW THE FORMATION DISAPPEAR THROUGH A HOLE IN THE CLOUDS BUT HE FAILED TO FIND BREK AN OPENING IN THE RUNNING RAIN SQUALLS.

WITH VISIBILITY LIMITED AND THE TASK FORCE NOWHERE TO BE SEEN, TOPLIFF STARTED THE "LOST PLANE PROCEDURE"--FLYING IN EVER LARGER SQUARE LAPS.

JUN 15 1943

COMPLETING THE THIRD LAP, HE SIGHTED A FREIGHTER. HE DROPPED TO 100 FEET AND MADE A RUN OVER THE SHIP DROPPING A SHOE WITH A MESSAGE ASKING HIS POSITION. BUT THE SHIP MISSED AND HE TURNED BACK FOR A SECOND TRY WITH HIS OTHER SHOE. THAT ONE BOUNCED OFF THE STARBOARD RAIL.

LOOKING BACK TO SEE IF HIS SHOE WAS RECOVERED, TOPLIFF SUDDENLY FELT HIS PLANE GO OUT OF CONTROL AND SPIN INTO THE WATER WITH TERRIFIC FORCE. FORTUNATELY, HE HAD OPENED THE COCKPIT CANOPY TO DROP HIS SHOES SO HE WAS ABLE TO FREE HIMSELF WHEN THE PLANE WAS TEN FEET UNDERWATER.

SURFACING, HE INFLATED HIS LIFE JACKET AND SAW A LIFEBOAT LEAVE THE FREIGHTER. HE LATER LEARNED THE MERCHANTMAN'S GUN CREW KEPT HIM IN VIEW THROUGH A TELESCOPIC SIGHT.

THE LIFEBOAT, MEANWHILE, WAS UNABLE TO BUCK THE HIGH WAVES

JUN 15 1943

AND STRONG WIND SO TOPLIFF DISCARDED HIS JACKET AND SWAM TO REACH HIS RESQUERS. IT WAS A RISKY GAMBLE BUT SUCCESSFUL, HE SAID. HE SPENT AN HOUR IN THE WATER.

ABOARD THE SHIP THE MEN DRESSED HIS BATTERED ARM AND GAVE HIM DRY SEAMAN'S CLOTHES WHICH HE STILL WORE WHEN HE REPORTED. IMMEDIATELY AFTER HIS ARRIVAL HE PHONED HIS SIX-MONTHS BRIDE, NOVIE BUNN, WHO HAS BEEN STAYING WITH HIS PARENTS. SHE DID NOT MENTION THAT HE HAD BEEN REPORTED MISSING BUT "SHE NOW KNOWS I'M ALRIGHT," HE SAID.

JUN 15 1943

TOPLIFF IS NOW ON HIS WAY TO THE UNITED STATES FOR REASSIGNMENT.

LEAVES FROM A WAR CORRESPONDENT'S NOTEBOOK

---

HE MORTGAGED HIS TENT FOR 4-BITS

---

OTHER STRANGE
G.I. DOINGS
IN AFRICA (550)

---

JUN 15 1943

BY HAROLD V. BOYLE

(ADVANCE)...ADVANCED AIR BASE IN NORTH AFRICA--(AP)-ONCE A USED CAR SALESMAN--

PVT. MELVIN CAIN OF 117 W. FERRY ST. ST.LOUIS, WANTED TO BORROW 25 FRANCS (50 CENTS) FROM PVT. JOHN M. ROGERS, FORMER SECOND HAND CAR SALESMAN OF HOBART, OKLA.

"WHAT SECURITY HAVE YOU" DEMANDED ROGERS.

"NONE" SAID CAIN.

"HOW ABOUT THE ARAB'S KNIFE" ASKED ROGERS, WHO HAD BEEN TRYING FOR DAYS TO GET CAIN TO PART WITH THIS SOUVENIR.

"NO GO" SAID CAIN.

"WHAT ELSE YOU GOT, THEN."

"ALL I HAVE IS MY PUP TENT."

"OK, I'LL TAKE A MORTGAGE ON THAT" SAID ROGERS. HE DULY DREW UP THE MORTGAGE AND HANDED OVER 25 FRANCS TO CAIN, LEAVING HIM PROBABLY THE ONLY SOLDIER IN THE UNITED STATES ARMY FACING POSSIBLE FORECLOSURE ON HIS PUPTENT HOME.

"I'LL APPEAL IT TO THE U.S. SUPREME COURT IF HE TRIES TO GET AN EVICTION ORDER," CAIN SAID.

"BUSINESS IS BUSINESS," GRINNED ROGERS.

--DASH--

ONE ENTERPRISING SOLDIER AT AN AFRICAN AIR BASE TOOK HIS OWN HEAT RELIEF MEASURES. SWELTERING UNDER THE OLIVE DRAB HELMET, SGT. ERLAND MOLTKE DECIDED TO TAKE A TIP FROM BENJAMIN FRANKLIN HE PAINTED IT WHITE.

"IT KEEPS THE SUN AWAY AND MAKES YOU A LOT COOLER," SAID MOLTKE,

JUN 15 1943

1943

30-24-5017

A DANISH NAMESAKE BUT NO RELATIVE OF THE FAMOUS GERMAN GENERALS.

"YOU CAN PUT MY WHITE HELMET SIDE BY SIDE IN THE SUN WITH A GREEN HELMET AND FEEL THE DIFFERENCE WITH YOUR HAND. THE GREEN HELMET GETS A LOT HOTTER."

MOLTKES EXAMPLE HAS SET A NEW HAT STYLE AMONG G. I. JOES. IT ISN'T ACCORDING TO REGULATION BUT ITS COMFORTUOLE.

--DASH--

ONE TAIL GUNNER IN A B-26 MARAUDER BOMBER HAS PAINTED THIS CRYPTIC INVITATION TO ENEMY FIGHTERS ABOVE THE MUZZLE OF HIS .50 CALIBRE GUN:

"SHOOT-YOU'RE FADED".

JUN 15 1943

--DASH--

FIFTY TIMES HE HAS FLOWN HIS FLYING FORTRESS INTO COMBAT IN THE NORTH AFRICAN THEATRE AND NOW HE HAD AT HAND THE REWARD TO WHICH ALL FLYERS LOOK FOCWARD HOPEFULLY--A TRIP HOME. BUT BEFORE LEAVING HE WANT TO SHOW HIS APPRECIATION TO HIS GROUND CREW AND HIS FLIGHT CREW.

HE DROVE THE MEN INTO THE NEAREST FRENCH TOWN AND BOUGHT THEM THE BEST DINNER AT THE BEST RESTAURANT HE COULD FIND. THE WINE FLOWED FREELY AND THEY HAD A GRAND TIME RECALLING THEIR MONTHS OF ADVENTURE TOGETHER. WHEN THE LAST PLATE AND BOTTLE WERE EMPTY THE CREW WENT HOM SINGING HILARIOUSLY.

THE PILOT CAPTAIN, STANDING SUDDENLY LONESOME AT THE ENTRANCE TO HIS HOTEL, WATCHED AS THE CAR DISAPPEARED INTO THE NIGHT.

"I OUGHT TO BE GLAD AT GOING HOME." HE SAID, "I'VE WANTED THIS LEAVE AND NOW THAT I'VE GOT IT I FEEL LIKE A HEEL--LEAVING A BUNCH OF GUYS LIKE THAT BEHIND. WE'LL PROBABLY ALL NEVER BE TOGETHER AGAIN IN ONE GANG."

THEN HE BRIGHTENED UP.

"WELL, MAYBE WHEN MY LEAVE IS OVER I'LL BE ASSIGNED TO THE PACIFIC AND GET A CRACK AT THE JAPS. THAT'D BE FUN."

--DASH--

ONE OF THE MOST MODEST FLIERS IN UNIFORM IS MAJOR JOHN GILPIN BRIGHT 24, OF READING, PA. BRIGHT, WHO WAS RECENTLY PROMOTED TO BE EXECUTIVE OFFICER OF A P-38 FIGHTER GROUP, HAD 8 VICTORIES AS ONE OF THE ABLEST FLYERS IN BURMA WITH CHENNAULT'S FAMOUS AVG "FLYING TIGERS" AND HAS SHOT DOWN ONE ME-109 AND DAMAGED ANOTHER SINCE COMING TO NORTH AFRICA.

JUN 15 1943

ASKED TO APPEAR ON AN ARMY HOUR RADIO PROGRAM TO DISCUSS HIS ADVENTURES, THE SLIM YOUNG MAJOR DECLINED WITH THANKS, SAYING--

"I'M JUST ANOTHER GUY HERE. I'VE ONLY BEEN OVER A SHORT TIME. THERE ARE A LOT OF OTHER MEN IN THIS AREA WITH MORE EXPERIENCE AND A LOT MORE TO TELL THAN I HAVE. I DON'T FEEL I HAVE ANY BUSINESS TALKING WHEN OTHER FLYERS HAVE BEEN HERE LONGER AND HAVE MORE WORTH SAYING THAN I DO."

TEANECK, N.J., JUNE 14-(AP)-MRS.JOSEPH J.BOYLE GOT A MIGHTY CHEERING BIRTHDAY GIFT SATURDAY.

IT WAS A TELEGRAM FROM THE WAR DEPARTMENT INFORMING HER AND HER HUSBAND THAT THEIR HERO SON, SECOND LIEUT.JOSEPH B.BOYLE, 24, IS BEING HELD A PRISONER OF WAR BY GERMANY.

LIEUTENANT BOYLE, FORMER CO-PILOT OF THE FLYING FORTRESS 'DRY MARTINI" AND HOLDER OF THE DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS, HAD BEEN LISTED AS MISSING BY THE WAR DEPARTMENT ON MAY 25.

THE TELEGRAM, MRS.BOYLE, SAID, WAS:

"AN ANSWER TO OUR PRAYERS."

JUN 15 1943

DISPATCH FROM A U.S. BOMBER STATION IN ENGLAND MAY 24

ANNOUNCEMENT BOYLE, WHO WHEN WON HIS DFC FOR BRINGING HIM IN

THE DRY MARTINI FROM THE LILLE RAID JAN. 13 AFTER HE WAS WOUNDED AND

THE SUBSTITUTE PILOT, MAJOR TOM TAYLOR OF EUGENE, ORE., WAS KILLED

BY THE EXPLOSION OF A GERMAN 20-MILLIMETER SHELL IN THE COCKPIT

A DISPATCH FROM A U.S. BOMBER STATION IN ENGLAND MAY 24

REPORTED THAT BOYLE WAS MISSING AFTER "A RECENT RAID IN WHICH HE

JUN 15 1943

FLEW ON ANOTHER SHIP" AND SAID HIS CHANCES AT HAVING LANDED SAFELY

IN ENEMY TERRITORY WERE ESTIMATED AT FIFTY-FIFTY.

Allies Set Messina Fires; Syrian-Turkish Border Is Closed in British Move

JUN 16 1943

ALLIES TURN BOMB ATTACK UPON MESSINA

RAF Wellingtons Drop Two-Ton Missiles On Ferry Terminal

Planes From Malta And Cairo Attack Other Axis Bases

DE LUCE

[By the Associated Press]

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 15—The strategic Allied air force, the great club in the Allied armory, has again beaten heavily at Sicily, centering the fire of two-ton blockbuster bombs upon Messina, the ferry approach to southern Italy proper, Allied headquarters disclosed today.

This attack was driven in by RAF Wellington bombers over Sunday night and into yesterday morning. Messina, already one of the most bombed targets in the Mediterranean, was left alight with great fires; its railway yards and harbor area were hit repeatedly with ton upon ton of exploding steel.

No Allied Plane Lost

In these and other night operations by the Northwest Africa Air Forces no Allied plane was lost, it was announced in General Eisenhower's communique.

At the same time, official bulletins from Malta and Cairo told of new offensive sweeps from both of those Allied bases in the three-sided campaign to break down the last of the island approaches to the Italian mainland.

Malta-based fighters and intruders swept over both Sicily and southern Italy, bombing war factories and turning bomb and cannonfire upon Italian railway communication.

A single challenging German fighter plane was shot down.

Over Aegean Sea Again

From Cairo, long-range RAF fighters went out again over the Aegean Sea, setting fire to an enemy schooner.

The day brought also an announcement that further study of reconnaissance photographs had established that the Flying Fortress attack of June 5 on the Italian naval base of La Spezia had scored a direct hit on the forward deck of a 35,000-ton Italian battleship of the Littorio class. Her deck plates were buckled and it appeared that the forward gun turret had been hit.

A clean sweep of the Italian islands in the Sicilian strait was concluded, meanwhile, by British warships which brought the island of Lampione under Allied control. Lampione was not garrisoned by the Italians and probably will not be by the Allies considering its minuteness.

Blockbusters Hit Messina.

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 15 (A. P.).—The Wellington workhorses of the Royal Air Force drilled the east Sicilian shipping and ferry terminal of Messina with two-ton blockbusters and showered it with incendiaries Sunday night, Allied headquarters announced today, as preliminary attacks continued on the large islands guarding the Tyrrhenian Sea approaches to Italy.

For the second successive day, however, the northwest African air forces delayed all-out assault. The communique of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower announced that operations yesterday were confined to reconnaissance and patrolling.

Two large fires were started in the Messina railway and harbor target area by the Wellingtons which followed up a heavy Sunday daylight raid by United States Liberators, flying from the desert, on Catania and Gerbini in eastern Sicily.

Only moderate anti-aircraft opposition was met by the Wellingtons.

It was announced that a further study of photographs taken of La Spezia naval base in northwestern Italy after the Fortress attack of June 5 showed a direct hit had been scored on the forward deck of a Littorio class battleship. The deck plates of the 35,000-ton warship were buckled, the photos showed, and the forward gun turret was believed damaged.

SYRIAN TURKISH BORDER REPORTED CLOSED, SHIFT OF ALLIED ARMY HINTED

Action Might Screen Drive At Crete, Dodecanese Islands Or Greece — Italians Say Fleet Masses For Sicily Attack

JUN 16 1943

Madrid, June 15 (AP)—Dispatches from La Linea reported tonight that twenty-five merchant ships escorted by the British aircraft carrier Formidable, the battleship George V and eight destroyers entered the harbor of Gibraltar today. In the harbor, it was said, there were sixty vessels, many of them oil tankers.

HAWKINS

[By the Associated Press]

London, June 15—The spotlight of the Mediterranean war shifted dramatically today from the center to the east, where the Allies were reported semi-officially from Ankara to have closed Syria's frontier with Turkey.

London sources left the report in the air without confirmation, denial or comment, but unofficial observers said the first implication was that the British Ninth and Tenth armies and United States troops that have been training quietly and building up strength for months in Syria, Palestine, Iraq and Iran might be on the move.

Quotes German Reports

The Daily Herald quoted German reports that the Allies were massing an "invasion army" in Syria, and that all British garrisons had been reinforced.

Thus new fuel was added to the fires of Axis invasion anxiety. During the day the Italians reported an Allied fleet massing near Sicily, the Germans warned of a possible new Russian offensive, and the Germans were said to have reshuffled their top generals in commands along the edge of the "European fortress."

Closing of the Turkish-Syrian frontier, nearly 350 miles long, might be intended to cover up moves by Allied troops in the border area where conceivably they could be massing for sea thrusts toward Crete, the Dodecanese, or Greece itself.

[A British Broadcasting Corporation report heard by NBC said the frontier was closed "to check leakage of information from Syria and Palestine to Germany through Turkey."]

Reports Differ As To Time

Semi-official sources in Ankara said the frontier was closed at 6 P. M. tonight, and a German radio broadcast said the action was taken at 6 this morning.

Observers noted that Admiral Sir John Cunningham, new British commander in chief in the Levant, had held a ninety-minute conference Monday with President Ismet Inonu twenty-four hours before the frontier closure was reported. His was the latest in a series of trips into Turkey by Allied war leaders beginning with Prime Minister

JUN 16 1943

30.24—5019

Churchill's visit to Adana February 1.

Cunningham also conferred with Turkey's Premier, Foreign Minister and chief of state.

Another Berlin broadcast asserted that Britain was "trying to bring Turkey in on her side, but the Turk will not be pressed."

Fighting French headquarters here said the closure, if true, probably was for military reasons with "no diplomatic or economic significance."

Create Axis Concern

But plainly the reports created concern in Axis circles whether great military events might not be stirring in the backdoor route to Europe, and heightened invasion nervousness.

The Leningrad radio, recorded by the Ministry of Information, said "there can be no doubt that the blow against Hitlerite Germany from the west will coincide with a mighty crushing blow of the Red army from the east."

These attacks, the broadcast said, will merge "in a single mighty blow that will strike the death knell for the Fascists."

Reports Envoy Recalled

A report published in London said that the Turkish Ambassador to Vichy had been recalled. A dispatch from Bern said the reason for the move may be that Turkey intends to accord recognition to the French Committee of National Liberation at Algiers.

Axis radios told of new attacks against Allied warships, transports and landing barges reported gathering off North African ports and threatening Sicily. A Rome commentator called upon the Italian people to prepare for "the decisive phase approaching."

The Italian official journal published a new decree imposing heavy punishment on anyone failing to report a landing of enemy armed forces or enemy agents, the Rome radio, recorded by the Associated Press, said tonight.

Reminds Of Red Threat

A Berlin broadcast, recorded by Reuters, reminded the Germans of the ever-present danger in the east, reporting that the Russians were massing south of Moscow.

Uncertain where the Allied blow might fall, the Germans were reported dividing their important commands and posting their best generals at critical areas on the European coastline.

Field Marshal Erwin Rommel was reported commanding German forces in southern France, across from the Allied armies in Algeria.

French Area Divided

His command was said to cover roughly the former unoccupied zone, while Field Marshal Karl Rudolf Gerd von Rundstedt retains command of western France and the Atlantic wall.

A similar split was reported from the same quarters to have been made in Norway, with Gen. Nikolaus von Falkenhorst's territory being reduced to the area from Trondheim south, including Oslo, and Col. Gen. Edward Dietl, commander in Finland, entrusted with northern Norway. Field Marshal Siegmund Wilhelm List already was reported commanding in southeast Europe.

A Rome broadcast reported by the Daily Express said Axis planes had battled Allied convoys in the Mediterranean "in a battle which has now lasted for three days and has not lost any of its violence," and a Berlin broadcast recorded by the Associated Press told of new attacks against Allied shipping in the Sicilian strait, with a landing craft and six transports reported damaged at Pantelleria.

None Of Claims Confirmed

It told of another attack upon Bone in Algeria, while the German communique said an Allied freighter had been damaged by air attack on a convoy off Portugal. None of these claims was confirmed.

In London some military commentators suggested that there might be no immediate action in the Mediterranean because Allied plans are "far ahead of schedule."

Seeking to discount loss of Pantelleria, Lampedusa and Linosa, a Rome military commentator declared "these islands were not fortified bastions or spearheads of the main Italian defenses; they were advanced observation posts with good defense works which, however, were not supposed to hold any major enemy attack."

BRITISH BOMBERS RAID OBERHAUSEN, RUHR RAIL CENTER

18 Planes Lost in Smash at German Industry

LONDON, June 15—(AP)—Flying low along invasion paths by night and day, the R.A.F. heaped fresh destruction on the bomb-smashed Ruhr valley last night, especially the steel and communications center of Oberhausen, to keep the June air offensive tearing at Germany's war sinews.

While great bombers ground down upon steel and coal targets in Oberhausen on the Rhine-Herne canal for the fourth consecutive night raid on Germany, lighter planes ranged far over France and the low countries, attacking railway targets and barges near the Rhine, Dixmude in Belgium, and Roubaix and Abbeville in France.

Day Fighters in Action

Almost before they were back, cannon-armed day fighters of the new tactical air force went roaring out to slam scores of targets along the western rim of Hitler's defenses.

Waves of R. A. F. fighters and light bombers shuttled back and forth across the channel in the direction of Calais today, presumably aiming at enemy airfields, water and rail transportation, following up the nightime sorties of Mosquitos, Whirlwinds, Bostons, Typhoons, Beaufighters and Mustangs. They are the kind of planes that will ride ahead and over Allied troops when they strike the continent.

The Germans acknowledged "considerable destruction" in residential quarters and "losses among the civil population, especially in Oberhausen," in the night attacks, and asserted that 20 of the raiders were shot down.

JUN 16 1943

18 Planes Lost

The British reported loss of 18 planes in the night sweeps, and said the intruder patrols downed two Nazi craft.

Oberhausen is a strategic city in German communications, standing at the junction of railways to Duisburg, Dortmund, and Hamm. It lies three miles west of Essen, and has a population of 110,000.

The R.A.F. has reported raids twice before upon the city with its iron foundries, rolling mills, chemical works and railway shops, and the Germans said it had been hit for the third time on April 26, when the R.A.F. blasted at Duisburg.

Spitfires making a dawn raid over France pounded upon two flights of 15 Focke-Wulf's, downing three of them. R.A.F. Wing Commander J. E. Johnson was credited with two for a total to date of 16 enemy planes.

An Air ministry communique tonight said fighters and fighter bombers lashed out at shipping off Cherbourg peninsula and railway targets near Dieppe. Two British planes were missing.

The Germans jabbed back at London Monday night, killing seven persons and wrecking a few houses. The raiders gave the capital two alerts, but few planes pierced London's anti-craft defenses.

In recent raids the Germans have been using "rattle bombs," small bombs nine inches long that resemble a baby's rattle and splinter into 100 pieces on explosion, British sources reported.

589 Killed in May

The Ministry of Home Security reported that 584 persons were killed or missing and 733 injured severely in air raids on the United Kingdom in May, the highest number of the year.

In April the toll was 172 killed and 205 hurt, and in January, the previous high month this year, it was 328 killed and 507 injured.

The highest monthly tolls during Germany's heavy attacks on Britain September, 1940, with 6,954 killed and 10,615 hospitalized, October, 1940, with 6,334 killed and 8,695 hospitalized, and April, 1941, with 6,065 killed and 6,926 severely injured. The lowest number of casualties during 1940-41 offensive was February, 1941, when 789 were killed and 1,058 hospitalized.

BRITISH BOMBERS HEAD FOR EUROPE

German Radio Goes Off The Air Early Today—English Towns Bombed

YANKEE

[By the Associated Press]

London, Wednesday, June 16—Waves of RAF big bombers headed over England's southeast coast toward Germany early today, as the German radio went dead in the middle of a program.

Meantime, the German air force, which has been concentrating on the defensive of late, sent a few raiders over the southeast coast towns of England. The Nazi attackers caused slight damage. No casualties were reported.

In the continuous day and night attacks, the RAF Monday night piled new destruction on the heavily suffering Ruhr valley.

HAWKINS

Axis Invasion Fears Heighten

LONDON, June 15 (AP)—Axis invasion fears heightened today. The Italians reported an Allied fleet massing near Sicily; Berlin warned of a possible new Russian offensive, and other reports said the Germans had realigned their generals around the perimeter of the "European fortress."

The Leningrad radio, as recorded here by the Ministry of Information, said: "There can be no doubt that the blow against Hitlerite Germany from the West will coincide with a mighty, crushing blow at the Red Army from the East."

These attacks, the broadcast said, will merge "in a single mighty blow that will strike the death knell for the Fascists."

Axis radios told of new attacks on Allied warships, transports and landing barges which they said were gathering off North African ports, threatening Sicily. A Rome commentator called upon the Italian people to prepare for "the decisive phase approaching."

The Italian Official Journal published a new decree imposing heavy punishment on any one failing to report a landing of enemy armed forces or enemy agents, the Rome radio, as recorded by The Associated Press, said tonight.

In London, some military commentators suggested that there might be no immediate action in the Mediterranean because Allied plans are "far ahead of schedule."

A Rome broadcast reported by "The London Daily Express" said Axis planes had battled Allied convoys in the Mediterranean "in a battle which has now lasted for three days and has not lost any of its violence," and a Berlin broadcast told of new attacks against Allied shipping in the Sicilian Strait, with a landing craft and six transports reported damaged at Pantelleria. The Berlin radio told of an attack upon Bone, Algeria, while the German high command communique said an Allied freighter had been damaged by air attack on a convoy off Portugal. None of these reports was confirmed.

Submarine Success Reported

The Italian communique declared an Italian submarine, in a double attack from the surface on a strong convoy in the western Mediterranean, had scored direct hits on two steamers totaling 10,000 tons, sinking one.

The Berlin radio said a convoy of twenty-five ballast-laden ships had reached Gibraltar from the Mediterranean, shepherded by the new British battleship King George V, the aircraft carrier Formidable and small American naval units. The report said watchers at La Linea, Spain, saw the convoy drop anchors at 10 a. m. today. There was no confirmation of the report.

A Berlin broadcast, recorded by Reuters, reported that the Russians were massing south of Moscow.

The Germans were reported dividing their important commands and posting their best generals at critical areas on the European coastline.

Field Marshal Erwin Rommel was reported commanding German forces in southern France. His command was said to cover, roughly, the former unoccupied zone. Field Marshal Karl Rudolf Gerd von Rundstedt retains command of western France and the Atlantic Wall, it was said.

A similar split was reported from the same quarters to have been made in Norway, with General Nikolaus von Falkenhorst's territory being reduced to the area from Trondheim southward, including Oslo, and Colonel General Edward Dietl, commander in Finland, intrusted with northern Norway. Field Marshal Siegmund Wilhelm List already was reported commanding in southeastern Europe.

Coast observers said the daylight attackers were headed southeast.

As the big bombers rumbled toward the continent, two formations of Allied fighters already were returning from a breakfast-time sweep of the Pas de Calasis area, where they shot down three Focke-Wulf 190s out of two formations of fifteen, presumably setting out to harass the British coast.

Third Raid on Oberhausen.

It was announced officially that eighteen bombers were missing from the Ruhr forays, the fourth consecutive night assault by the R. A. F. on Germany. The night's activities included mine laying in enemy waters.

The Oberhausen raid was the third reported by the R. A. F. on that city, although the Germans claimed it had been hit a fourth time on April 26 at the same time Duisburg was heavily assaulted. The R. A. F. reported bombing it last in November, 1940.

The city stands on the Rhine-Herne canal and at the junction of railways to Duisburg, Dortmund and Hamm—making it an important communications center.

JUN 16 1943

German Steel and Coal Center Hit By R.A.F. in Mass Attack on Ruhr

Oberhausen Bears Brunt of Raid on Reich—Invasion Coast Lashed by Great Force of Strafing Planes.

London, June 15 (A. P.).—The R. A. F.'s front line heavy bombers made another mass attack on Ruhr objectives last night, concentrating particularly on the important steel and coal city of Oberhausen, three miles west of Essen, and another big formation of planes, possibly American, roared across the channel today.

Berlin confirmed in a broadcast that the Oberhausen raid had caused casualties and heavy damage.

"Allied bombs hit among residential quarters resulted in considerable destruction and caused losses among the civil population, especially in Oberhausen," said the German communique. "Twenty enemy bombers have been reported shot down so far."

The British communique said large fires were seen mounting from the Ruhr targets, but an overcast sky made it "difficult to observe results fully."

Oberhausen, a city with a population of some 110,000, is located on the Rhine thirty-five miles north of Cologne and just west of oft-bombed Essen. It has extensive iron foundries, rolling mills, railway shops, chemical works, and other plants, and in the vicinity of coal, zinc and iron mines.

Great Strafing Force Out.

Also during the night, it was announced officially, a great fleet of lighter R. A. F. planes bombed, cannonaded and machine-gunned rail and water transport and airfields just back of the coast from Holland to northern France. Two enemy aircraft were downed in the course of the night.

Nazi hit-run night raiders loosed bombs on suburban areas of London in the first of two brief post-midnight alerts, killing seven persons and trapping many others in their wrecked homes. Heavy anti-aircraft fire caused other raiders to jettison their bombs in open fields outside the city in the raids, spaced about an hour apart.

New Nazi Bomb Revealed.

Meanwhile, British sources disclosed that on recent attacks the Germans have been dropping "rattle bombs"—small nine-inch affairs, which look like a baby's rattle and splinter into a hundred small pieces on exploding.

Russians Repel 4 Nazi Attacks In Orel Region

Kill 400 Germans, Wreck Tanks; Airmen Blast at Enemy Railroad Points

LONDON, June 16 (Wednesday) (AP).—Four new German counter-attacks in the reactivated Orel region were hurled back yesterday, it was announced today by the Russians, who declared that enemy troops ceased their attempts to retake lost territory at sundown after two unsuccessful days.

One of the German thrusts, carried out under the cover of a smoke screen, penetrated to the outskirts of a populated place northwest of Misensk, which was captured recently by the Russians, before being beaten off, the Soviet midnight communique announced.

The war bulletin, recorded here by the Soviet Monitor, said the Russians killed about 400 Germans, destroyed or damaged a number of tanks and captured some material in staving off the sharp German drives.

The day's unsuccessful attempts followed similar counter-attacks by the Germans Monday night northeast of Misensk, which the Russians said were turned back with heavy losses.

Earlier the Germans reported that the principal fighting was in the Kuban area of the Caucasus. They told of new Soviet drives, which they said were unsuccessful.

Meanwhile, Soviet airmen raided German rear positions, attacking railway stations, trains and stores. The communique said huge fires broke out in the bombed areas and heavy explosions were seen.

This followed widespread aerial activity the previous day in which Russian planes knocked out seven enemy batteries, wrecked several trains and destroyed or damaged at least forty troop and supply trucks.

An attempt by a company of German troops to attack a Russian outpost south of Balaklaya cost the enemy sixty men in killed alone, the bulletin said.

Russian artillerymen, shelling German positions west of Rostov, were reported to have destroyed about two companies of enemy infantry, in addition to destroying guns, blockhouses and observation posts.

Soviet gunners in the Sevsk area destroyed a German artillery battery and routed a supply column, while in another sector they knocked out guns and blockhouses.

On the front west of Moscow, Russian units were said to have killed about 200 German officers and men and silenced half a dozen artillery and mortar batteries.

German broadcast, recorded by The Associated Press, declared that German warships bombarded Akhtyrskaya, on the Sea of Azov at dawn Monday, driving off Russian ships that attempted to interfere. At the same time, the Germans disclosed that Russian light naval craft shelled harbor installations at Nazi-held Anapa in the Black Sea.

A later German broadcast quoted "military quarters" as saying that a Russian attempt to cross the Volkhov River, below Leningrad, had been repulsed with heavy losses to the Russians.

NAZIS COUNTER ON OREL FRONT

Attempt to Retake Villages Captured by Reds.

London, June 15 (A. P.).—German infantry, supported by tanks and planes, counter-attacked several times last night in an attempt to retake four settlements northeast of Mtsensk in the important Orel sector of the Russian front, but the attacks were beaten off with heavy losses, the Soviet midday communique said today.

German scouting activity also was reported near Belgorod, which is southwest of Orel. Both the Russians and Germans have heavy troop and supply concentrations in the Orel sector, which has been mentioned frequently since May as the scene of feeler and softening-up thrusts.

The communique, which was broadcast from Moscow and recorded by the Soviet monitor here, reported artillery action on the Volkhov front southwest of Leningrad, in the Smolensk area of the western front, and west of Rostov.

In a broadcast describing the continued aerial warfare along the front, the Russians said yesterday that Soviet airmen attacked German-held Orel during daylight on June 13 and bombed troop trains.

German airmen attacked Saratov, about midway between Stalingrad and Kuibyshev, on the nights of June 12 and 13 and "haphazardly dropped bombs," causing fires and casualties in the residential district, the broadcast said.

The German communique as broadcast by Berlin said local Russian attacks were repulsed north of the Kuban River in the western Caucasus, and in the Belev sector of the Donets front. A DNB dispatch said German naval forces shelled Akhtyrskaya on the Sea of Azov again yesterday.

Another Berlin broadcast said the Red fleet's light naval forces and torpedo boats shelled German harbor installations at Anapa on the Black Sea, about twenty miles northwest of Novorossisk.

PEOPLE TOLD TO STAND BY FOR ATTACKS

JUN 16 1943

Enemy Says Force Gathers in Sicilian Straits for Big Push.

ROME ASSERTS BATTLE IS ON

Our Troops Consolidate Islands Won From Foe---Assault on Sicily Imminent.

London, June 15 (A. P.).—A Rome radio commentator, in a broadcast recorded here today, told Italians to stand by for an Allied invasion.

"Our men are ready at their guns, our planes are ready and our sailors are on the watch for the decisive phase approaching," he said. "Every Italian is ready to fight and fight until final victory is achieved."

London newspapers today quoted the Rome radio as saying that Allied warships and transports are massing in the Sicilian Strait.

Axis Reports Growing Battle.

The German news agency DNB, in a Berlin broadcast recorded by the Associated Press, said today that Axis air attacks were continuing against the Allies' potential invasion fleet in the Sicilian Strait. German bombers damaged a landing craft and six medium transports off Pantelleria and in the harbor, DNB said, and also reported that heavy bombers attacked Bone on the Algerian coast last night.

Further suggesting heavy Allied shipping movements in the general Mediterranean area, the German communique said a freighter had been damaged by German air attack off the Portuguese coast and four Allied planes shot down in combat in the same area. None of these claims was confirmed by Allied sources.

[Radio Berlin said tonight that a convoy of twenty-five ballast-laden ships had reached Gibraltar from the Mediterranean, shepherded by the new British battleship King George V, the aircraft carrier Formidable and small naval units of the United States. The report, recorded by the Associated Press, said that watchers opposite the rock at La Linea, Spain, saw the convoy drop anchors at 10 A. M. yesterday. There was no confirmation of the report.]

Bizerte Seen as Base.

Axis planes have engaged Allied convoys in "a battle which has now lasted for three days and has not lost any of its violence," the London Express quoted the Rome radio as saying. The newspaper said the battle was reported to be in progress in the triangular area between Malta, Bizerte and the Sicilian coast.

The Daily Herald quoted a German broadcast as saying that the Allies had massed at Bizerte "a large concentration of means of disembarkation" which were being hammered by German planes. At least twenty landing barges were sunk during a raid on the harbor, the broadcast reported.

Axis radio commentators continued to speculate on where the next Allied blow would fall, with the consensus favoring Sicily and Sardinia and the majority believing the attack would come this week.

Some London military commentators, however, declared that the Allied plans are "far ahead of schedule" and recalled that southern European weather provides a long campaigning season—implying there probably would be a pause in Allied activity.

Last night Malta's Mosquito bombers made wide forays over Sicily and the toe of Italy, bombing and shooting up railway stations and sidings at Licata, Termini-Imerese and Fiume Torto in Sicily, and starting a fire in a station, blowing up a power station and hitting a factory in Italy, an R. A. F. announcement said.

An authoritative naval source said British warships had visited the Italian island of Lampione, eight miles west of Lampedusa, and found it uninhabited. The island therefore has come under the control of Allied armed forces. The Allies already had made a clean sweep of Italian islands of any value in the area south of Sicily by the capture of Pantelleria, Lampedusa and Linosa. Tampione was not garrisoned by the Axis and is not expected to be garrisoned by the Allies, since it is too small.

From the eastern Mediterranean bases of the Middle East Air Command long-range fighters of the R. A. F. attacked an enemy schooner in the Aegean yesterday, scoring many hits and leaving the vessel smoking amidships, the Cairo war bulletin said today.

NAZIS DEMAND DUTCH YOUTH

Fittest Of Hollanders Ordered Sent To Germany To Labor

JUN 16 1943

[By the Associated Press]

London, June 15—A DNB dispatch broadcast by the Paris radio said today that Germany has ordered practically all of Holland's youngest and fittest men transported to Germany to help meet the Reich's acute labor shortage. The broadcast was recorded by the Associated Press.

At the same time, according to the broadcast, the Germans announced modifications in the conscription policy now in effect in Holland and Belgium, presumably in an effort to placate the mounting resistance in those two countries.

Older Classes Excused

Radio Paris quoted DNB as saying that a decree was issued in The Hague ordering on one hand that older classes of workers be left in the Netherlands, but on the other hand that younger classes—beginning with youths 19 and 20 years of age—"to the fullest extent be transferred to work in Germany."

Men of 21 and other age groups will be called up as required, the decree stated, according to DNB.

An earlier broadcast by Radio Paris, also recorded by the Associated Press, reported that 20,000 Belgian war prisoners in Germany have had their status changed from that of prisoners to workers. They presumably will be given the pay and other privileges of foreign workers, but still will not be allowed to return home.

First Effort Called Flop

The Hague decree said, DNB reported, that "a great measure of relief from work in Germany has already been granted" in Holland, where widespread strikes and disorders followed a labor registration order and a martial law declaration early in May. The Dutch Government in exile has reported that the labor registration order, which went into effect on May 8, has been a "complete flop."

Radio Orange, the Netherlands station in London, warned the people of Holland tonight that German authorities within the next few days would launch large-scale raids aimed at rounding up thousands of men who have refused to register for compulsory labor service.

"We are convinced that all good fatherlanders will help each other as much as possible," the broadcast said.

Many Killed in Raids On Britain in May

London, June 15 (A. P.).—Civilian casualties in air raids on the United Kingdom reached the highest level of the year last month, the Ministry of Home Security announced today, with 584 persons killed or missing and 733 injured severely enough to be hospitalized.

In comparison, April's casualty toll was 172 killed and 205 injured. January was the previous high month for 1943 with 328 killed and 507 injured.

LABOR AGAIN BACKS BEVERIDGE PLAN

London, June 15 (A. P.).—The

JUN 16 1943

30.24-5021

annual Labor party conference rejected by a vote of 1,715,000 to 955,000 today a resolution condemning "the timidity, delay and evasion" of the Government in handling the Beveridge plan for universal social security.

As forecast, the conference instead accepted the executive committee's position on the Beveridge plan, reaffirming support of all of its main features without condemning the Government's go-slowly policy.

The delegates voted yesterday to continue the party's collaboration with Prime Minister Churchill's wartime coalition government.

The defeated amendment to the report on the Beveridge plan would have congratulated Labor members in Parliament who expressed their profound disgust with the Government's Beveridge statement when they revolted against their own leaders and the Churchill coalition.

However, the conference elected as treasurer Arthur Greenwood, the leader of its Commons delegation who participated in the vote against the Government, instead of Herbert Morrison, who was chief Labor spokesman for the Government during the Beveridge debate.

The election left Morrison without a party post, although he is one of Labor's high-ranking Cabinet members. He formerly was on the executive committee.

Baron Burnham.

London, June 15 (A. P.).—Baron Burnham died today at his home in Kintbury, Berkshire. His son, Major-Gen. E. F. Lawson, inherited the title.

Lord Burnham was 79 years old and the grandson of the founder of the Daily Telegraph. He succeeded to the barony upon the death of his brother in 1933.

Gen. Lawson is director of public relations at the War Office and was general manager of the Telegraph before the war.

BOMBER CREWS GIVE BLOOD

London, June 15 (A. P.).—Before the crews at an R. A. F. bomber station near the east coast went on a bombing mission to the Ruhr Sunday night, they gave blood for transfusion to civilians injured in a raid on a nearby town, the Air Ministry disclosed today.

LOSS OF U-BOATS HELD NAZI WORRY

London, June 15 (A. P.).—A Daily Sketch columnist wrote today that the German armaments council was threatening to stop raw material priority to submarine yards unless the U-boat can be proved to be more effective.

The writer quoted reports from German underground sources and said:

"The German armaments council is seriously disturbed by the catastrophic U-boat losses due to new Allied weapons in recent months.

"Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz has been given a final three months to produce the results he promised and is working out new tactics. Rear Admiral Gott now is in actual command and has put two new U-boat technics—one a decoy and one an attack—into operation."

The Daily Express quoted Adolf Hitler's own newspaper, Voelkischer Beobachter, as admitting that U-boat losses had increased during the past months. The report, via Stockholm, denied that losses exceeded construction.

"Construction is so elastic that it can be quickly adapted to the enemy's new defense methods," Voelkischer Beobachter was quoted as saying.

London, June 15 (A. P.).—British official sources said nothing today on reports from Ankara that the Syrian border with Turkey would be closed tonight. A spokesman at Gen. Charles De Gaulle's Fighting French headquarters said if the report were correct, the closure probably was for military reasons with "no diplomatic or economic significance."

Reports Bulgaria Plans To RemodelGovernment

London, June 15 (AP)—The Berlin radio said tonight that Bulgaria plans to remodel her Government to "permit the people to participate in state policy."

The DNB dispatch, recorded by the Associated Press, said Premier Bogdan Philov would appoint a nine-man commission to draft a constitution along these lines. The commission in turn would appoint eleven men to represent the Balkan kingdom's eleven provinces and, with the nine commissioners, would form Bulgaria's supreme leadership under the Premier.

Bulgaria, an Axis satellite, is said to have been the scene of bloody strife recently in protest over collaboration with Germany. Numerous assassinations have been reported in recent weeks.

FRENCH OFFICIAL SLAIN BY BAND OF ARMED MEN

LONDON, June 15—(AP) A Vichy France police official was killed and two others were wounded when a band of 20 young Frenchmen attacked a police station in the department of Puy le Dome, DNB, German news agency, reported in a broadcast recorded by Associated Press today.

The dispatch said that the attack was made in an attempt to release two men who were being held for compulsory work. The raiding party accidentally killed its own leader. All the attackers who were later arrested "used arms of British origin," the broadcast said.

Roosevelt Sees Battles Forging U. S.-Red Unity

Tells Kalinin of Decisive Campaigns Yet to Come

LONDON, June 16 (Wednesday) (AP).—Forthcoming decisive battles will further strengthen American-Soviet collaboration, President Roosevelt told President Mikhail I. Kalinin in a message, made public today by Moscow, on the occasion of the first anniversary of the American-Russian mutual aid pact.

The message, broadcast by the Moscow radio and recorded by the Soviet monitor at London, was a reply to a note from Kalinin June 11 promising Russian collaboration in the peace.

"I deeply appreciate your kind message on the occasion of the anniversary of the signing of the agreement between our two countries on the principles of mutual assistance in waging war against aggression," said the text of the Roosevelt message as reported by the Soviet monitor, translated into Russian and back into English.

"This agreement has proved during the past year to be an effective measure for co-ordinating our mutual struggle against our common enemy. I am confident that the friendship and collaboration between our countries, reflected in this agreement, will be still further strengthened in forthcoming decisive battles and will receive a fuller expression in the post-war period for the cause of establishment and preservation, in accordance with all freedom-loving peoples, of a just and enduring peace."

King Visiting African Forces

LONDON, June 16 (Wednesday) (AP).—King George VI is visiting the British 1st and 8th Armies and the Royal Navy and Royal Air Force in North Africa, it was announced today.

The following announcement was issued from Buckingham Palace: "The King, who is accompanied by the Secretaries of State for War and Air, is visiting the British 1st and 8th Armies, the Royal Navy and Royal Air Force in North Africa."

Sir James Grigg is the War Secretary and Sir Archibald Sinclair is Air Secretary.

JUN 16 1943

BRITONS RECEIVE 19TH EGG OF YEAR

London, June 15 (A. P.).—Britons are receiving their nineteenth egg of the year this week under rationing regulations.

Potato-conscious Americans, however, will be interested to learn that the surplus old potato stock is being sold at about $6 a ton for feeding pigs.

Father's Day Reminder

LONDON, June 15 (AP).—A diapers-changing contest for American soldiers who are fathers has been arranged for next Sunday at a service club here. That's to remind them—it's Father's Day back home.

Evatt Reaches London.

London, June 15 (A. P.).—H. V. Evatt, Australian Attorney-General and Minister for External Affairs, arrived today by air from the United States.

Men With Cocoa-Smeared Faces Show Landing Operations In Demonstration Off English Coast

By JAMES M. LONG

[Associated Press Correspondent]

Somewhere off England's Coast, Wednesday, June 16—The first wave of an Allied invasion probably will be carried on to the European coast by men with cocoa-smeared faces who will splash in through the surf from flat-bottomed flotillas which can lay down their own smoke screens, drum out their own supporting fire and ferry men and tanks ashore through water barely inches deep.

At bases along this coast, which is still studded with the defense works of Britain's past hour of peril, this new "little navy" assault force landing team is being coached to clockwork perfection. It will be ready for the job of driving the first wedge into the Nazi fortifications of Hitler's Atlantic wall.

Technique Demonstrated

A series of combined operations and demonstrations of landing craft and their personnel—although not undertaken in sequence on a single beachhead or in a dress rehearsal for invasion—nonetheless serves to illustrate the technique of the assault which will probably touch off the land battle of Europe.

This, reconstructed as to sequence, is the scene which may be enacted soon in grim reality on a terrific scale.

The sea is a greenish gray and the tide laps in on the pebbled beach.

Off where the camouflage paint blends into the misty horizon, the big ships of the regular fleet cover the inland heights with turret guns and the sky with anti-aircraft batteries.

Typhoons For Aerial Support

Swooping down out of the overhead haze are heavily armed Typhoons of the aerial support, their wings almost awash as their guns come to bear on the beach.

In past the destroyer line, in staggered file astern, streak little landing and landing support boats, spatting the waves with their flat hulls and cascading up V's of silver spray from their blunt prows.

Some are LCS boats—landing craft support. They are little destroyers, sleek, swift, armed and armored. As they race into range their mortars bark, and thin trails of white mark the high curving arc of fire as they make smoke to screen the landing. Twin anti-aircraft machine guns in revolving turrets cover the shore.

Skirting the tiny destroyers come the first light landing units, bringing in men, tanks and Bren gun carriers.

Personnel Craft Next

In very light LCPs—personnel landing craft—veteran Royal Marines crouch out of sight. Well out from the shore they have oiled their faces and rubbed in the cocoa, which cakes reddish brown. They drape snood-like colored nets over their heads and shoulders which helps to camouflage them by changing their silhouette appearance. Their helmets are patchy with bits of colored burlap.

Five hundred yards offshore they slide into position—belly-flat with their heads down along the narrow spray-drenched decks. The Bren gunners are in ready position.

Hardly checking their speed, the boats grind in to the gravel, and in that instant the men plunge wading-deep into the surf and deploy at a dead run.

Pull Off In Reverse

The little LCPs, roaring in reverse, pull off the beach before they are driven high by the surf. They wheel and run for safety behind the mushrooming screen of smoke.

With them come the LCTs—landing craft tank boats—built to hold light tanks and Bren gun carriers, whose cleated tractor grips bring them out snorting and ready for a fight.

These are only the light craft—the first wave.

Backing them up are the bigger landing craft for troops in force and large numbers of tanks.

Job Is To Develop Beachhead

It is the job of the flat-bottomed fleet to put enough men and guns ashore to develop a beachhead where a big navy can move in and full-size troop ships be brought within ferrying distance of land.

Theirs is the first daring stroke of the "amphibious operations of peculiar complexity and hazard on a large scale" which Prime Minister Churchill has declared are approaching to blast open the first hard mile on the road to Berlin.

Girl Bombs Nazis in 125 Trips

MOSCOW, June 15 (AP).—A twenty-two-year-old girl bomber pilot, Maria Ivanova, has been made a member of the Soviet Order of th Patriotic War, first degree, after making 125 flights over the front in seventy days, it was announced today. Miss Ivanova, a volunteer, was reported gravely wounded on her last flight while bombing a German artillery dump.

Many Workers Seized In Reich, Moscow Says

Moscow, June 15 (AP)—A Tass dispatch from Zurich said tonight that tens of thousands of Germans and foreign workers in Germany had been arrested because of the growth of anti-Hitlerite sabotage.

The dispatch said among those arrested were many engineers and officers of the Reserve troops and SS detachments.

It added that in Berlin, Magdeburg and other towns the Gestapo had made special announcements of the arrests of "covert enemies of the Reich."

Higher Learning Goes on in Russia

MOSCOW—(AP) Russian education is being carried on despite the war. Two hundred thousand students have been graduated from institutions of higher learning since the start of the conflict, Speriod Kaftanov, chairman of the higher education committee declares in an article in Pravda.

In the past five years, 477,000 students have completed courses in engineering, teaching, medicine, law, politics, science and military science. Many colleges have been evacuated to safe zones far behind the front lines.

Flotilla Holds Rehearsals For First Wave Of Invasion

JUN 16 1943

JUN 16 1943

Ten Alsatians Reported Sentenced To Death

Bern, Switzerland, June 15 (AP)—The Tribune de Geneve reported today that ten Alsatians had been sentenced to death for acts against Germany.

It said a hotelkeeper and his sister-in-law in Mulhouse were convicted of aiding French prisoners to escape while eight persons were sentenced to death for sedition, espionage, propaganda against Germany and clandestine posting of caricatures of occupation authorities.

Germany Evacuates Cities Subject to Allied Air Raids

Only Necessary Workers to Remain in Area Vulnerable to Attack.

HAWKHVS

BERN, Switzerland, June 15. — (AP) All persons who are not required for the war effort are being evacuated from German cities subjected to the heavy new Allied air attacks, according to German newspapers reaching here, and, at least on the basis of Nazi-controlled press reports up to tonight, Germany is falling victim to a serious and general condition of war nerves.

The Allied air forces, which have caused 600 air alarms and carried out 180 heavy aerial attacks, have caused widespread evacuation of civilians to safe rural areas. German newspapers, by their admonitions and appeals, were in agreement on important points:

Raids Cause Heavy Damage

That Allied air attacks, especially in western and northwestern Germany have caused heavy damage both in homes and in the cities in general;

That many evacuees are leaving the cities for the country, a factor spreading discontent. And the Mulhauser Tagblatt said these evacuees insist that German anti-aircraft fire is not sufficient protection. They, said the newspaper, are the ones who doubt that the cities of western Germany can hold out against the violence of the bombardments and are really defeatists;

That farmers who were expected to open their homes to the evacuees resent upsetting family life. Many newspapers pointed out, however, that he must remember that he might be a refugee himself some day;

That city people shunted into the country miss street cars, motion pictures, bathrooms and the buzz of city life in general;

That officials plainly acknowledged the dangers to morale brought about by the necessary evacuations. Newspapers warned the people against those who spread despair.

The Nazi press also pointed out that evacuations are necessary because since 1942 almost all new construction has been halted while labor was [illegible] nto the war effort. Lack [illegible] materials further made emergency construction difficult.

The importation of foreign workers to key industrial cities further magnified the housing problem.

Das Reich said evacuees from northern Westphalia should go to Bavaria, and those from the Berlin area to Brandenburg, East Prussia and Pomerania.

In spurring the migration, the German press also sought to assuage the resentment and discontent on the part of both the evacuees and their wartime hosts. The Voelkischer Beobachter, Adolf Hitler's newspaper, asserted that "comfort must bow to the demands of necessity," and that crowding of houses was preferable to having a few persons living "in fine houses when many don't know where they can live."

Das Reich urged the new hosts to remember the suffering of the migrants, and said the visitors must "realize that even in districts outside the air danger, people live under war conditions and the demands of hotel guests cannot be made."

Duesseldorf Being Evacuated

Duesseldorf, a saturation target of the R.A.F., was reported to be one of the main cities being evacuated. Heavy losses of life and great damage to buildings were reported there in communiques.

Even families not bombed out, but whose men must stay to work in industries, should leave the cities "as a law of common sense," said Das Reich, and civilians by leaving could not only save lives but assure those left behind better protection and supplies.

Indicating the tremendous damage in Essen, the Essener National Zeitung estimated that five months work would be needed to build emergency housing there, and that 10,000 persons who must work in Essen need new homes. The only course for many others was to leave the city, it added.

The Koelnische Zeitung printed regulations under which gauleiters or local leaders were authorized to survey available living quarters, determine who should receive preference for housing, and order buildings altered to make more room.

Single persons especially must share their quarters, the regulations said, and anyone possessing two residences must register one for use by evacuees. The government can force owners to accept rental contracts and is furnishing subsidies to [illegible] living quarters in alterable [illegible].

The newspapers warned that the large-scale migration would mean discomforts and dissatisfaction for farmers and city residents alike, and warned against the danger of morale being weakened by grumblers and rumor-mongers. The latter, said the Voelkischer Beobachter, would not be given help.

Raids Force Mass Clearance Of Cities in Western Reich

JUN 16 1943

Duesseldorf Evacuation Large—Whole Ruhr Area and Berlin Are on List Published in Newspapers in Germany.

Berne, June 15 (A. P.).—German newspapers received here said that a mass evacuation of cities in western Germany was under way as the result of 180 heavy raids by Allied planes and 600 air alarms.

The Nazi press is engaged in a campaign to impel rural residents to open their homes to refugees.

"Comfort must bow to the demands of necessity," Adolf Hitler's own newspaper, Voelkischer Beobachter, said in urging every one to crowd refugees into available rooms. The newspaper said that it was better to take in the evacuees than to have "a few live in fine homes when many do not know where they can live."

Much-bombed Duesseldorf, target of a recent 2,000-ton R. A. F. raid by the Royal Air Force, is one of the chief cities being evacuated, the German papers said. Communiques from Berlin have reported very heavy losses there and considerable damage to houses and buildings.

Men Left Behind.

Not only the bombed-out families but those yet untouched by the explosives are being moved out, Das Reich said. Men are left behind to work. Das Reich said that the people should get out of the target cities "not as an obligation, but as a law of common sense."

The same publication and other newspapers disclosed that there were resentment and discontent among both the refugees and their "hosts."

The appeal in Hitler's newspaper said:

"What today is happening to our fellow citizens in western and northwestern Germany can happen to you and to me. Bombs make no distinction when they fall. Be ready and help those who have been hit and those who will be hit. Nothing is done with only sympathetic words. Only deeds will help."

The evacuation scheme as announced by Das Reich was this:

Persons in northern Westphalia (the Ruhr region) will go to Bavaria. Those from Berlin will go to Brandenburg, East Prussia and Pomerania. Those with relatives in other districts may have permission to join them.

"The more difficult the housing and supply problems become, the more necessary it is for those who can to leave the cities," Das Reich continued. "The evacuation not only saves lives but assures those who remain behind a more adequate air raid protection, better transport facilities, better food and supplies."

Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering's Essener National Zeitung said that five uninterrupted months would be required, as of May 15, to construct emergency housing in Essen, rubbled home of the great Krupp munitions works. The report added that materials, labor and Government financing would be necessary to make even the most urgent repairs.

Penalty for Rumor-Spreading.

Essener National Zeitung said that 10,000 persons were bound to Essen by work and must be given new homes, but that for many others, evacuation to the country is the only solution.

Volkischer Beobachter recognized the danger to national morale in the evacuations by warning farmer hosts that some persons always make things worse than they really are.

"They are the ones who carry rumors out into the world," the paper added. "Unfortunately their sensational reports all too often are listened to."

The newspaper asserted that when such persons were found, they would be deprived of assistance. Only those would be helped who are forced to evacuate, but who love their home town and want to stay there despite everything.

Bulgaria Takes Steps To Woo Pro-Russian Peasants To Axis

JUN 16 1943

Twenty-Man Commission Created To Counter Sabotage, Grain Hoarding And Communist Activity

[By the Associated Press]

Bern, Switzerland, June 15—Bulgaria, anxious to win to the pro-Axis side its traditionally pro-Russian peasant population, today undertook creation of a new twenty-man commission instructed to get the people behind the Axis war machine.

The Nazi political news agency interinformation, in a Sofia dispatch, said the commission will create propaganda to counteract sabotage, subversive activity, grain hoarding and Communist activity. It is presumed it also will aid in the effort to unearth the underground anti-Axis organizations preparing for a possible second front in the Balkans.

To Deal With Present Difficulties

The official version was only that the commission was being organized "to deal with difficulties of the moment and face the problems of the hour" so that the people could "take part in the evolution of Government policy."

Premier Bogdan Philov is to name the council consisting of three general secretaries, six general committeemen and eleven provincial representatives.

Rumania Seeks New Entente

Rumania meanwhile was undertaking to negotiate a new entente to serve Balkan interests both within the Axis and in the peace to come, according to Bucharest reports. It is trying to win Turkey, Slovakia, Croatia and Bulgaria to its view that the war with Russia is defensive and that post-war reconstruction requires mutual cooperation.

It is notable that Hungary is not included in the campaign since Rumania wants Hungarian Transylvania. Negotiations were begun at Bucharest some weeks ago and carried on through a series of cultural missions which usually include military and Foreign Office personages.

It appeared, too, that Rumania had shelved its grudge against Bulgaria which got Rumanian Dobruja as a result of Axis negotiations in the interests of a greate[illegible]

Hungary Resists Axis Move

Bulgaria, in addition to creating a new commission, also announced that all State employes are subject to the civil mobilization decress and are liable to assignment in war work.

In Hungary, meanwhile, Premier Nicolas Kallay fought the Nazi party of former Premier Bela Imredi in an effort to keep his Government intact with a policy of non-belligerency.

Imredi was reported carrying on a strong underground campaign to bring Hungary actively into the Axis war. However, even under Kallay's policy, Hungary still acknowledged her membership in the Axis, and an open fight against the Nazi position was considered difficult to maintain.

Serbian Insurgents Harass Bulgar Troops

At the German frontier, June 15 (AP)—Serbian insurgents are harassing Bulgarian occupation troops in the Macedonian area of former Yugoslavia, and Yugoslav partisan raids along the old Hungarian frontier have been renewed in considerable force in the last three weeks, it was reported today.

Dispatches from Sofia said the Bulgarians have claimed that a number of the Serbian insurgents were arrested in Bitollj, Yugoslavia, after they fled from Montenegro through Albania. It was said also that one hundred men were slain in a guerrilla battle east of Prilep.

A considerable force of insurgent troopers have fled into the mountains along the former Greek-Yugoslav frontier, it was reported.

Partisans Cut Railway

Advices from Zagres, Croatia, said the Yugoslav partisan raiders have caused considerable disruption of Budapest-Belgrade railway service, vital to the Nazis for carrying troops to the Balkans.

Guerrilla fighters, who had been comparatively quiet in the area for six months or so, cut the rails on two occasions and also made direct attacks on trains, causing numerous casualties, it was said.

The Nazis, intensifying efforts to build Adriatic defenses, have been reported to be evacuating residents of the Dalmatian coast to a depth of twenty miles.

Rumania Bans Sale of Shoes

BERN, Switzerland, June 15 (AP).—A Bucharest dispatch published here today said that sale of leather shoes had been banned in Rumania until Dec. 1 to insure supplies for winter.

Eisenhower Watches Training With Mines

Fifth United States Army Headquarters in North Africa, June 15 (AP)—Back from watching the Allied assault on Pantelleria, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower came here

JUN 16 1943

Ten Alsatians Reported Sentenced To Death

Bern, Switzerland, June 15 (AP)—The Tribune de Geneve reported today that ten Alsatians had been sentenced to death for acts against Germany.

It said a hotelkeeper and his sister-in-law in Mulhouse were convicted of aiding French prisoners to escape while eight persons were sentenced to death for sedition, espionage, propaganda against Germany and clandestine posting of caricatures of occupation authorities.

Germany Evacuates Cities Subject to Allied Air Raids

Only Necessary Workers to Remain in Area Vulnerable to Attack.

HAWKINS

BERN, Switzerland, June 15. — (AP) All persons who are not required for the war effort are being evacuated from German cities subjected to the heavy new Allied air attacks, according to German newspapers reaching here, and, at least on the basis of Nazi-controlled press reports up to tonight, Germany is falling victim to a serious and general condition of war nerves.

The Allied air forces, which have caused 600 air alarms and carried out 180 heavy aerial attacks, have caused widespread evacuation of civilians to safe rural areas. German newspapers, by their admonitions and appeals, were in agreement on important points:

Raids Cause Heavy Damage

That Allied air attacks, especially in western and northwestern Germany have caused heavy damage both in homes and in the cities in general;

That many evacuees are leaving the cities for the country, a factor spreading discontent. And the Mulhauser Tagblatt said these evacuees insist that German anti-aircraft fire is not sufficient protection. They, said the newspaper, are the ones who doubt that the cities of western Germany can hold out against the violence of the bombardments and are really defeatists;

That farmers who were expected to open their homes to the evacuees resent upsetting family life. Many newspapers pointed out, however, that he must remember that he might be a refugee himself some day;

That city people shunted into the country miss street cars, motion pictures, bathrooms and the buzz of city life in general;

That officials plainly acknowledged the dangers to morale brought about by the necessary evacuations. Newspapers warned the people against those who spread despair.

The Nazi press also pointed out that evacuations are necessary because since 1942 almost all new construction has been halted while labor was [illegible] nto the war effort. Lack [illegible] materials further made emergency construction difficult.

The importation of foreign workers to key industrial cities further magnified the housing problem.

Das Reich said evacuees from northern Westphalia should go to Bavaria, and those from the Berlin area to Brandenburg, East Prussia and Pomerania.

In spurring the migration, the German press also sought to assuage the resentment and discontent on the part of both the evacuees and their wartime hosts. The Voelkischer Beobachter, Adolf Hitler's newspaper, asserted that "comfort must bow to the demands of necessity," and that crowding of houses was preferable to having a few persons living "in fine houses when many don't know where they can live."

Das Reich urged the new hosts to remember the suffering of the migrants, and said the visitors must "realize that even in districts outside the air danger, people live under war conditions and the demands of hotel guests cannot be made."

Duesseldorf Being Evacuated

Duesseldorf, a saturation target of the R.A.F., was reported to be one of the main cities being evacuated. Heavy losses of life and great damage to buildings were reported there in communiques.

Even families not bombed out, but whose men must stay to work in industries, should leave the cities "as a law of common sense," said Das Reich, and civilians by leaving could not only save lives but assure those left behind better protection and supplies.

Indicating the tremendous damage in Essen, the Essener National Zeitung estimated that five months work would be needed to build emergency housing there, and that 10,000 persons who must work in Essen need new homes. The only course for many others was to leave the city, it added.

The Koelnische Zeitung printed regulations under which gauleiters or local leaders were authorized to survey available living quarters, determine who should receive preference for housing, and order buildings altered to make more room.

Single persons especially must share their quarters, the regulations said, and anyone possessing two residences must register one for use by evacuees. The government can force owners to accept rental contracts and is furnishing subsidies to i[illegible]e living quarters in alterable ro[illegible]

The newspapers warned that the large-scale migration would mean discomforts and dissatisfaction for farmers and city residents alike, and warned against the danger of morale being weakened by grumblers and rumor-mongers. The latter, said the Voelkischer Beobachter, would not be given help.

Raids Force Mass Clearance Of Cities in Western Reich

JUN 16 1943

Duesseldorf Evacuation Large—Whole Ruhr Area and Berlin Are on List Published in Newspapers in Germany.

Berne, June 15 (A. P.).—German newspapers received here said that a mass evacuation of cities in western Germany was under way as the result of 180 heavy raids by Allied planes and 600 air alarms.

The Nazi press is engaged in a campaign to impel rural residents to open their homes to refugees.

"Comfort must bow to the demands of necessity," Adolf Hitler's own newspaper, Voelkischer Beobachter, said in urging every one to crowd refugees into available rooms. The newspaper said that it was better to take in the evacuees than to have "a few live in fine homes when many do not know where they can live."

Much-bombed Duesseldorf, target of a recent 2,000-ton R. A. F. raid by the Royal Air Force, is one of the chief cities being evacuated, the German papers said. Communiques from Berlin have reported very heavy losses there and considerable damage to houses and buildings.

Men Left Behind.

Not only the bombed-out families but those yet untouched by the explosives are being moved out, Das Reich said. Men are left behind to work. Das Reich said that the people should get out of the target cities "not as an obligation, but as a law of common sense."

The same publication and other newspapers disclosed that there were resentment and discontent among both the refugees and their "hosts."

The appeal in Hitler's newspaper said:

"What today is happening to our fellow citizens in western and northwestern Germany can happen to you and to me. Bombs make no distinction when they fall. Be ready and help those who have been hit and those who will be hit. Nothing is done with only sympathetic words. Only deeds will help."

The evacuation scheme as announced by Das Reich was this:

Persons in northern Westphalia (the Ruhr region) will go to Bavaria. Those from Berlin will go to Brandenburg, East Prussia and Pomerania. Those with relatives in other districts may have permission to join them.

"The more difficult the housing and supply problems become, the more necessary it is for those who can to leave the cities," Das Reich continued. "The evacuation not only saves lives but assures those who remain behind a more adequate air raid protection, better transport facilities, better food and supplies."

Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering's Essener National Zeitung said that five uninterrupted months would be required, as of May 15, to construct emergency housing in Essen, rubbled home of the great Krupp munitions works. The report added that materials, labor and Government financing would be necessary to make even the most urgent repairs.

Penalty for Rumor-Spreading.

Essener National Zeitung said that 10,000 persons were bound to Essen by work and must be given new homes, but that for many others, evacuation to the country is the only solution.

Volkischer Beobachter recognized the danger to national morale in the evacuations by warning farmer hosts that some persons always make things worse than they really are.

"They are the ones who carry rumors out into the world," the paper added. "Unfortunately their sensational reports all too often are listened to."

The newspaper asserted that when such persons were found, they would be deprived of assistance. Only those would be helped who are forced to evacuate, but who love their home town and want to stay there despite everything.

Bulgaria Takes Steps To Woo Pro-Russian Peasants To Axis

JUN 16 1943

Twenty-Man Commission Created To Counter Sabotage, Grain Hoarding And Communist Activity

[By the Associated Press]

Bern, Switzerland, June 15—Bulgaria, anxious to win to the pro-Axis side its traditionally pro-Russian peasant population, today undertook creation of a new twenty-man commission instructed to get the people behind the Axis war machine.

The Nazi political news agency interinformation, in a Sofia dispatch, said the commission will create propaganda to counteract sabotage, subversive activity, grain hoarding and Communist activity. It is presumed it also will aid in the effort to unearth the underground anti-Axis organizations preparing for a possible second front in the Balkans.

To Deal With Present Difficulties

The official version was only that the commission was being organized "to deal with difficulties of the moment and face the problems of the hour" so that the people could "take part in the evolution of Government policy."

Premier Bogdan Philov is to name the council consisting of three general secretaries, six general committeemen and eleven provincial representatives.

Rumania Seeks New Entente

Rumania meanwhile was undertaking to negotiate a new entente to serve Balkan interests both within the Axis and in the peace to come, according to Bucharest reports. It is trying to win Turkey, Slovakia, Croatia and Bulgaria to its view that the war with Russia is defensive and that post-war reconstruction requires mutual cooperation.

It is notable that Hungary is not included in the campaign since Rumania wants Hungarian Transylvania. Negotiations were begun at Bucharest some weeks ago and carried on through a series of cultural missions which usually include military and Foreign Office personages.

It appeared, too, that Rumania had shelved its grudge against Bulgaria which got Rumanian Dobruja as a result of Axis negotiations in the interests of a greate[illegible]

Hungary Resists Axis Move

Bulgaria, in addition to creating a new commission, also announced that all State employes are subject to the civil mobilization decress and are liable to assignment in war work.

In Hungary, meanwhile, Premier Nicolas Kallay fought the Nazi party of former Premier Bela Imredi in an effort to keep his Government intact with a policy of non-belligerency.

Imredi was reported carrying on a strong underground campaign to bring Hungary actively into the Axis war. However, even under Kallay's policy, Hungary still acknowledged her membership in the Axis, and an open fight against the Nazi position was considered difficult to maintain.

Serbian Insurgents Harass Bulgar Troops

At the German frontier, June 15 (AP)—Serbian insurgents are harassing Bulgarian occupation troops in the Macedonian area of former Yugoslavia, and Yugoslav partisan raids along the old Hungarian frontier have been renewed in considerable force in the last three weeks, it was reported today.

Dispatches from Sofia said the Bulgarians have claimed that a number of the Serbian insurgents were arrested in Bitolij, Yugoslavia, after they fled from Montenegro through Albania. It was said also that one hundred men were slain in a guerrilla battle east of Prilep.

A considerable force of insurgent troopers have fled into the mountains along the former Greek-Yugoslav frontier, it was reported.

Partisans Cut Railway

Advices from Zagres, Croatia, said the Yugoslav partisan raiders have caused considerable disruption of Budapest-Belgrade railway service, vital to the Nazis for carrying troops to the Balkans.

Guerrilla fighters, who had been comparatively quiet in the area for six months or so, cut the rails on two occasions and also made direct attacks on trains, causing numerous casualties, it was said.

The Nazis, intensifying efforts to build Adriatic defenses, have been reported to be evacuating residents of the Dalmatian coast to a depth of twenty miles.

Rumania Bans Sale of Shoes

BERN, Switzerland, June 15 (AP).—A Bucharest dispatch published here today said that sale of leather shoes had been banned in Rumania until Dec. 1 to insure supplies for winter.

Eisenhower Watches Training With Mines

Fifth United States Army Headquarters in North Africa, June 15 (AP)—Back from watching the Allied assault on Pantelleria, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower came here today on an inspection tour of American troops training for future operations.

JUN 16 1943

1943

30.24-5023

Sun-tanned and looking extremely fit, the commander in chief of Allied troops in North Africa stepped from a Flying Fortress and was greeted by Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark, commander of the United States Fifth Army.

The two American officers with a small group flew to the army engineer training center where troops are being taught mine-field clearance.

From the observation tower, they watched French and American troops clearing a mine field of live mines.

General Eisenhower said all the troops who fought in Tunisia were eager to learn as much as possible about mines since they possibly were the most dreaded weapon the enemy used in retreating.

...selle Park Man Pantelleria

...antelleria, June 12 (Delayed) (A. P.).—Among the first Americans to arrive on this island yesterday after the first wave of British assault troops had discovered resistance had collapsed was First Lieut. Millard Woodruff of Roselle Park N. J.

French Called On To Observe De Gaulle Day Next Friday

African Committee Urges Nationals World Over To Mark First Revolt Against Vichy

JUN 16 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Algiers, June 15—Gen. Charles de Gaulle proposed today that an extraordinary session of the French Committee of National Liberation be held tomorrow at which the seven members of the committee and six commissioners would attempt to solve the present political crisis.

A spokesman said de Gaulle, who has been threatening to resign, was very much dissatisfied with the inability of the seven-man committee to reach an accord and that he hoped by including the six commissioners to crystalize the opinion of the French leadership in behalf of his policies.

To Mark June 18

Meanwhile, the committee called upon all Frenchmen everywhere to observe Friday, June 18, as the third anniversary of the day when, despite "disaster and treason, France in the voice of General de Gaulle decided to remain standing in the war at the side of her allies."

The formal proclamation expressed hope the event would be commemorated "in an atmosphere of union and hope." It asked "Frenchmen and Frenchwomen in France, in the empire, or abroad to meet under such conditions as are permitted by local circumstances."

In France itself, "it is the function of organizations of resistance to fix the form to be given these manifestations," it said.

Minute Of Silence

During meetings in the liberated empire, it added, "one minute of silence will be observed followed by the singing of the Marseillaise in honor of Frenchmen and Frenchwomen who have died for France since the beginning of the war."

The wording of the pronouncement was seen by political circles as strengthening de Gaulle's position in his battle against one-time pro-Vichy elements in North Africa.

De Gaulle's statement in 1940 followed a day after Marshal Petain on June 17 had petitioned the Germans for an armistice.

The committee, after it had established itself as the central authority of the French Overseas Empire, named seven outsiders to commissionerships. Of these only Henri Bonnet, holder of the portfolio of information, has not yet arrived in Algiers from the United States.

Commissioners To Meet

Those commissioners available for tomorrow's extraordinary session are:

RENE PLEVIN, colonies.

ADRIEN TIXIER, labor and social affairs.

RENE MEYER, communications and merchant marine.

MAURICE COUVE DE MURVILLE, finance.

DR. JULES ABADIE, justice, education and health.

ANDREW DIETHELM, production and commerce.

De Gaulle and Gen. Henri Giraud are at odds over a number of questions respecting the new French regime they have established, especially the reorganization of the army and the position of a number of officers and civil officials. De Gaulle is insisting that he be given the portfolio of commissioner for defense, with Giraud retaining his post as commander in chief of the French armed forces. De Gaulle is also anxious to get rid of those French army officers who were in the Petain-Vichy camp prior to the occupation of North Africa by the Allied forces.

[An independent French agency dispatch to London said de Gaulle and Girard, arriving in separate cars, visited General Georges Catroux, their liaison officer, at his home last night.]

The formal proclamation on Friday's celebrations expressed hope the event would be commemorated "in an atmosphere of union and hope." It asked "Frenchmen and French women in France, in the empire or abroad to meet under such conditions as are permitted by local circumstances."

In France itself "it is the function of organizations of resistance to fix the form to be given these manifestations," it said.

TURKEY WATCHES BALKAN PROBLEMS

Hopes to Aid Post-War Reorganization of Neighbor Nations.

F J O'BRIEN

ANKARA, Turkey, June 15 — (AP) Premier Sukru Saracoglu, in an interview tonight, left the impression that within the framework of the Allied war and peace plans Turkey is playing an important role in the development of Balkan affairs and that she hopes to contribute to the post-war reorganization in the Balkans.

The premier warmly acknowledged American interest in Turkey and indicated that the Turkish government, impressed with American conduct in the war, returns the interest wholeheartedly.

Surprised by Swiftness

Asked what were his impressions of recent events in the Mediterranean, Premier Saracoglu told the Associated Press that they left him surprised that events had moved with such swiftness.

Asked what Turkey's reaction would be if the next moves in the Mediterranean brought the war closer to Turkey, the premier declined to go beyond the assurance that Turkey would continue to maintain the strictest vigilance.

Premier Saracoglu spoke with the greatest vigor on Balkan problems. His discussion of the Balkans demonstrated that Turkey takes a keen and very special interest in the prevailing conditions of her neighbors and in their future. He cited the equitable solution of the Turko-Greek problems after the last war as a demonstration that the most heated enemies can be dissipated if both sides have the will.

Willing to Help

He expressed faith that all the outstanding problems among the Balkan nations can be written off successfully if sufficient goodwill is shown and he indicated that Turkey would willingly try to lay the groundwork for future Balkan security.

Asked if Turkey intended to try to eliminate the great power influences in the Balkans, the premier expressed belief that if the Balkan nations themselves band together solidly enough, outside influences will be unimportant.

Throughout the interview, which was granted before the premier was to address the National Assembly in a speech of international significance, Premier Saracoglu emphasized the necessity for a will to peace in achieving any peace plan and gave the impression that Turkey's greatest fears lie in the post-war survival of wartime hatreds.

TURKISH-SYRIAN BORDER TO CLOSE

Ankara, June 15 (A. P.).—Allied authorities will close the Syrian border with Turkey at 6 o'clock tonight, semi-official thorities profess not to know why sources said today. Turkish authe border is being closed or how long it will remain shut. Syria is under control of the Fighting French.

Admiral Sir John Cunningham, new British Commander in Chief in the Levant, arrived by plane from Cairo Saturday and spent an hour and a half in conference with President Ismet Inonu yesterday.

Before calling upon the President he held conferences with Premier Sukru Saracoglu, Foreign Minister Numan Menemencioglu and Chief of Staff Marshal Fevzi Cakmak. The admiral was scheduled to leave today.

Ankara, June 15 (Delayed) (A. P.).—A German-Italian drive against Greek guerrillas, which started ten days ago with tanks, airplanes and artillery in support, has failed to smoke out the Greeks from their mountain strongholds, according to Greek sources.

According to these sources, the Germans issued an ultimatum late in May directing the guerrillas to cease their activities before June 4 under the threat of powerful repressive action.

The guerrillas were said to have ignored the ultimatum and a strong force was reported sent against them. Only a few of the irregulars were captured, the Greek informants said.

GENERAL STILWELL BACK IN CHUNGKING

Head Of U. S. Forces In Orient Cites Determination To Crush Japan

JUN 16 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Chungking, June 15—Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, commander of United States forces in China, India and Burma, returned from the Washington strategy conferences today with a declaration that the United Nations are determined to crush Japan as soon as possible.

He said he felt that "we will have a hell of a hard job" in defeating the Japanese, but he told newsmen that information about the common task was being exchanged constantly between Allied leaders in China and those in the Southwest Pacific.

...we have a ...vage enemy and there's plenty o... him," Stilwell declared. "There'll be a lot of hard fighting, but we are thoroughly determined to get after him."

China Considered

He said that during the Roosevelt-Churchill conferences in Washington, which he attended along with other Allied military leaders, "China was thoroughly considered and her needs gone into at length."

When asked if more supplies were coming to the Orient, Stilwell said that the "clearing of the Mediterranean will ease up the shipping situation considerably." He added that Allied action in the Orient had been and would continue to be coordinated.

Speaking of the Chinese forces and their recent successes on the Yangtze front, Stilwell said the support they have been getting from the Fourteenth United States Air Force must have meant "a big lot" to them.

New Gains Reported

Almost as he spoke, the Chinese high command announced new gains in their widespread counter-attacks which have pushed the Japanese back along the upper Yangtze and eliminated the threat to Chungking.

A communique disclosed the capture of a town southwest of the river port of Shasi, sixty miles below the important Japanese base of Ichang, and said more than half of the enemy garrison was wiped out after being surrounded.

The Chinese, driving in from both the north and south on the enemy's central China salient, also attacked the Japanese base at Sinyang in southern Honan province, a little more than one hundred miles north of Hankow.

Counter-Attack Repelled

The communique said fighting for this point on the Peiping-Hankow railway still was raging and that the Chinese had repulsed one enemy counter-attack in spite of Japanese reinforcements.

Stilwell arrived here by plane after stopovers in London and Cairo to discuss problems affecting the China theater of operations with other American commanders. He was met at the airport by Brig Gen. Thomas Hearn; his son, Col. Joseph W. Stilwell, Jr., and other members of his staff.

Following his arrival it was disclosed that Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault, commander of the Fourteenth United States Air Force, who went to Washington with Stilwell, returned to China June 4.

Stilwell said he was impressed with the victorious North African campaign, particularly by the obvious efficiency of the Allied operations there and by the huge quantities of materiel abandoned by Axis troops.

United States troops in North Africa looked "grand" he said. "The Americans did a good job. I'd say those outfits are good for anything."

The spirit of the people in the United States also made a vivid impression on the general during his visit.

"They are accepting rationing and pitching into the war," he declared. "Everybody's playing the game. The country is united, determined and cheerful. We are going to see this thing through."

BURMA JAPS POUNDED

New Delhi, June 15 (A. P.).—American medium bombers continued to hammer at Japanese communication lines in Burma yesterday, scoring hits and near misses on the railroad bridge over the Mu River west of Legyi, a communique of the Tenth United United States Air Force announced today.

Another formation of B-25's attacked railway shops at Maymyo, destroying buildings in the target area, the bulletin said. All American planes were reported to have returned safely.

R. A. F. bombers and fighters attacked Japanese positions in Burma again yesterday, blasting the jetty and wireless station at Akyab on the west coast, a British communique said today. Bombs were seen to burst on both targets.

Fighter planes machine-gunned enemy-held positions on the Mayu Peninsula and in the Kalemyo area of western Burma, it said. One aircraft failed to return from the day's missions.

19 LIBERATORS RAID RABAUL

23 Tons Of Bombs Rain Down On Grounded Jap Airplanes

JUN 16 1943

JUN 16 1943

Enemy Hits Back With 27 Bomber Attack On Bena Bena

JUN 16 1943

BONI

[By the Associated Press]

Allied Headquarters in Australia, Wednesday, June 16 — The largest force of Liberators to be sent against the big Japanese air base of Rabaul, New Britain—nineteen four-engined raiders—blasted at grounded aircraft with twenty-three tons of bombs in a two-hour raid which began the night of June 14 and extended into yesterday.

It was the fourth assault in six days by Gen. Douglas MacArthur's air force on Rabaul.

All but one of the Liberators concentrated the weight of their fragmentation and incendiary bombs on Lakunai, where subsequent reconnaissance showed the Japanese were hard at work attempting to repair the damage.

All Allied Planes Return

Despite intense anti-aircraft fire and the efforts of seven enemy fighter planes to intercept, all the American bombers got back to base.

The Japanese broke a comparative lull in their own air effort by sending twenty-seven bombers with an escort of thirty fighters to bomb and strafe villages around Bena Bena, ninety miles northwest of Lae, New Guinea. There are known to be a number of emergency landing fields there built in pre-war days. Bena Bena is on the Purari river.

The enemy also sent nine planes in their nineteenth attack on Dobodura, New Guinea.

Attack Opened June 14

A single Liberator opened the Rabaul attack just before midnight on June 14. It was intercepted by three fighters, probably Zeros. The plane was not hit, but the crew knew they were being fired on because of tracers streaking the night sky.

Each of subsequent flights encountered thick ack-ack. One group reported a series of fires started by their bombs. The fires appeared to merge into two large fires which still were burning forty-five minutes later and could be seen sixty miles away.

Another group which dropped bombs on the dispersal areas noted a huge explosion which suddenly flares up in the heart of one of the fires set. Still another formation observed six violent explosions. The last group to hit Lakunai saw a large fire in the dump area.

254 Jap Planes Spotted

Morning reconnaissance on June 15 showed 254 Japanese aircraft still on three Rabaul airdromes but their serviceability was not reported. However, on Lakunai, all the planes were crowded in one area and workmen were busy on the runways, strong indication that there had been extensive damage.

Yesterday's bomb weight on Rabaul's airdromes increased to 135 tons the total dropped in the four raids. Forty tons were dropped in last Thursday's raid, forty-two Friday and thirty Sunday.

The Japanese raids on the Bena Bena area focused attention on a new Allied sector. Although well inland, it is above the Huon peninsula, beyond the two vital Japanese bases, Lae and Salamaua, toward which Australian and American ground forces have been infiltrating from the Papuan peninsula.

---

Allied Headquarters in Australia, June 15 (A. P.).—Probable loss of two heavy bombers in an attack on Vunakanau Airdrome at Rabaul, New Britain, Sunday was reported today.

The noon communique from Gen. MacArthur's headquarters said merely that delayed reports indicated two of our planes were missing. Earlier accounts said all planes returned from the raid, during which Liberators and Flying Fortresses dropped nearly thirty tons of bombs.

Jobs for Puerto Ricans

Army to Use Island's Needleworkers to Make 500,000 Uniforms

SAN JUAN, P. R., June 15 (UP).—Major General Henry C. Pratt, commanding general of the Antilles Department, announced today that contracts providing steady work for 700 Puerto Rican needleworkers will be awarded soon, adding $300,000 to the island's yearly income.

The announcement said that after testing the ability of the workers, the Army had decided to have 500,000 khaki herringbone uniforms manufactured here. Needlework, a few years ago the island's second largest industry—declined steadily in war time because of shipping difficulties and shortages of raw materials.

Entertainment Varies For Gobs in San Juan

SAN JUAN, P. R.—(AP) Goin' ashore, sailor?

The sailor who gets liberty in San Juan might head for the waterfront dives of San Juan's notorious "skid row" where saxophones wail, glasses clink, bosoms curve their nightly enticements.

But more often and for most of the boys, liberty means taking in a dance at the USO, a spacious structure fronting Plaza Colon boasting a high-vaulted ballroom with multi-colored chandeliers—it was formerly the Puerto Rico Casino—or he may take in one of the weekly dances at the San Juan Elk's club between the lagoon and the sea.

These dances have been going on now almost two years. For many service men they provide the only contact with civilians and something akin to "home." Wives of members provide food and drinks.

Washouts In Mexico Block Railway Lines

Mexico City, June 15 (AP)—Floods and washouts have blocked railway lines between Mexico City and Laredo, the Government Railway Administration reported today.

Food was ordered dispatched to a southbound tourist train which was unable to proceed because of damage to the tracks. Railway administration officials said repairs to the line would take at least twenty-four hours.

JUN 16 1943

Volcanic Lava Advancing On Village In Mexico

Uruapan, Mexico, June 15 (AP)—Appeals for help from officials of the village of Parangaricutiro, who are frightened by a new advance of lava from the volcano Paracutin, were received here today.

Mayor Felipe Cuara Amezcua, of Parangaricutiro, said that the lava from the new crater was advancing on the village of 3,000 inhabitants at the rate of seventy feet an hour. Trucks were dispatched to the village to aid in the evacuation of the residents.

ARGENTINA DELAYS CODE MESSAGE BAN

Buenos Aires, June 15 (A. P.).—Argentina has delayed putting its new ban on international coded radio messages into effect until noon tomorrow to allow certain governments a chance to work out "details pertaining to the situation." The Foreign Office announced last night that the postponement had been granted at the request of "certain foreign embassies and legations" who had complained the decree issued last Thursday had "detained certain dispatches considered indispensable."

The order, which left Axis embassies without obvious means of sending secret data home, since all cable facilities are controlled by United Nations companies, was generally regarded as aimed at halting the leakage of information concerning Allied shipping movements and other matters of interest to the Axis.

Last night's delay was announced shortly after the German Charge d'Affaires, Erich Meynen, conferred with Foreign Minister Segundo Storni. An informant said that Meynen's visit concerned the code decree, but Storni avoided answering a direct question whether Berlin had lodged a formal protest.

Storni announced, meanwhile, that the new government of President Pedro Ramirez was ready to conclude an agreement with the United States whereby the latter would provide oil drilling machinery to Argentina and Argentina in turn would supply petroleum to neighboring republics.

Axis Diplomats Confer In Argentine Capital

Buenos Aires, June 15 (AP)—Japanese Ambassador Baron Shu Tomi and Livio Garbaccio, Italian charge d'affaires, conferred today with Foreign Minister Segundo Storni. Informed sources said they discussed the Argentine Government's decree prohibiting code messages in radio communications.

The decree's execution was postponed until tomorrow, the Government announced yesterday, at the request of certain embassies which complained that dispatches they considered indispensable had been detained. The action followed a conference between Storni and the German charge d'affaires, Erich Meynen.

LUNCHEON FOR MME. CHIANG

OTTAWA, June 15—(AP) Mme. Chiang Kai-shek, wife of the generalissimo of China, will be entertained at luncheon tomorrow by Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands and her daughter, Princess Juliana, at the princess' home here, it was announced today.

Canadian Strikes Still Holding Up Production

Toronto, June 15 (AP)—Strikes affecting approximately 10,000 persons continued to tie up production in Canadian factories tonight as workers held out for wage adjustments, union contracts and other concessions, although one walkout and a slowdown apparently were at an end.

The first break in the widespread tie-up came at Montreal today when more than 300 striking employes of the Peck rolling mills agreed to return to work tomorrow pending an investigation of their dispute by the regional War Labor Board.

At the same time, 1,300 employes of the Prince Rupert (B. C.) drydock voted at a mass meeting to end a slowdown started yesterday in protest against food and housing conditions after union leaders promised that their grievances would be taken up with the proper authorities.

Don Martin, Official of Noorduyn Aviation Ltd.

Native of New York Pioneer in Dominion Flying

MONTREAL, June 15 (CP).—Don Martin, one of the founders of Noorduyn Aviation Limited, died here yesterday. He was fifty-two years old.

Mr. Martin was born in New York and came to Canada twenty years ago as a special representative for Thomas A. Edison. He remained in this country and later formed the Bellanca Aviation Company of Canada and also pioneered in many of the earlier flying routes in the Dominion.

He was instrumental in the organization in 1935 of Noorduyn Aviation Limited. At the time of his death he was managing director of Canadian Wright Aircraft Limited. Surviving are his wife and a son.

JUN 16 1943

AWARDED D. F. C.

Ottawa, June 15 (A. P.).—Award of the Distinguished Flying Cross for performance on "a long operational record of attacks" to Warrant Officer J. F. W. Towse, son of Mrs. G. Towse of Livingston, N. J., was announced yesterday by the Royal Canadian Air Force.

The citation said:

"Warrant Officer Towse has a long operational record of attacks against a wide variety of targets and has been conspicuous for sustained courage, determination and endurance. He has been successful in attaining the primary objective on most occasions. A very capable and reliable captain of air crew this airman has earned the confidence of his crew to whom he has been a source of inspiration."

U. S.-Canadian Union Idea Not Official, Premier Says

By the Associated Press.

TORONTO, June 15.—Premier Nixon of Ontario said yesterday that Maj. James H. Clark of Windsor, speaker of the Ontario Legislature, was expressing "his personal opinion and not that of the government," when he said at Detroit Sunday night that 40 to 45 per cent of Canada's citizens would vote for union with the United States if an election were held at this time.

Mr. Nixon declined further comment on Maj. Clark's Detroit speech.

MT. KISKA VOLCANO REPORTED ERUPTING

HEADQUARTERS, ALASKA DEFENSE COMMAND, June 14—(Delayed)—(AP) Returning bomber pilots reported today the Kiska volcano has become active, adding to troubles of Japanese occupying that Aleutian island.

Pilots who have used the volcano on the north end of Kiska as a navigation point said the crater is smoking and they saw some lava flowing down the sides of the peak.

The first report of the volcano's activity was received June 6. Since then pilots have reported it possibly may be causing actual danger to the Japanese, perhaps dropping rocks or ashes on their positions.

It is considered unlikely, however, that it will force evacuation of any portion of the island. The volcano is on the extreme north end of Kiska. Japanese concentrations are in the south position, several miles from the peak.

What's Behind The War News

By GLENN BABB

Generals Stilwell and Chennault, who lead the small American forces supporting China's valiant fight to remain an effective member of the United Nations, are back at their posts of command. They have returned to a situation far more hopeful than that of two months ago, when they flew to Washington to report on the perils and opportunities of the China theater. What they accomplished in Washington and what their men did in their absence put a new complexion on the China-Japan war.

When the two generals left China it was generally agreed that there were three fronts in the global conflict on which it was possible for the enemy to inflict a catastrophic defeat on the Allies. These were the Atlantic, Russia and China, with the menace greatest in China. A decisive Axis victory in any of the three might have altered the entire outlook for the United Nations.

It would be foolish to assume that these dangers are over. Hitler's U-boat packs may come up with new weapons or new tactics that will deny the Atlantic to the Allies as the broad highway by which the might of the United States can be brought to bear against the fortress of Europe. The possibilities of a German victory in Russia this summer or a knockout of China by Japan can not be ruled out.

But it is entirely possible that the Allies are over the hump in all three theaters. The evidence grows that we are defeating the submarine. May was the best month since the United States entered the war. Meager returns for the first half of June give rise to the hope that despite the long days of the summer solstice season, presumably the best hunting season for the U-boat packs, June may be even better than May.

As for Russia and China, the continued inactivity of the Axis armies there presents the biggest current question mark of the war. Why has not Hitler launched his "supreme gambler's throw," his third attempt to destroy the Red army? Why have not the Japanese done something effective about knocking China out of the war?

JUN 16 1943

1943

30-24-5025

Success in either of these ventures would go far toward producing that stalemate which now represents the brightest hope of the Axis powers.

The answer may come soon in a form that will mean a rude awakening from the visions of early victory now held by such a large portion of the Allied publics. The answer may be that both Germany and Japan are preparing something really big, either separately or together. If together, it might take the form of that long discussed Japanese attack on Siberia synchronized with Hitler's drive from the west. But the good June weeks are slipping by and still the Axis blows are withheld.

In Hitler's case it may be that he already feels that the western Allies' attack is too imminent to permit him to commit the greater part of his resources to the Russian offensive. As for Japan, it is possible that her forces already are stretched too thin to hold the outposts of the great empire she has overrun to permit of the concentration of the necessary striking power for an offensive in any single theater.

Between the Siberian frontier and the south China coast the Japanese army probably has 1,250,000 men. A shift of 300,000 men from Manchuria to central China or vice versa probably would provide the necessary forces for an offensive on either front. But the Tokyo command may not dare to remove from the Amur river line the elite divisions and air forces which would be needed to take Chungking; it may not dare to denude the tangled China front of the units needed as reserves for the Kwantung army which would form spearhead of a thrust into Soviet territory.

Japan also has the Burma front to hold, 5,000 miles from home, against an almost certain Allied major attack this autumn. She must feed men and planes and ships into the south Pacific front, where the campaign of attrition is bleeding her sorely. These far away theaters impose a tremendous drain on her limited shipping and other transport facilities. The combination may well have stymied her all around.

However, Allied military authorities admit they have not found a satisfactory answer to the puzzle of Japan's apparent lack of offensive intent. They feel that she still disposes of formidable striking forces that may appear suddenly where least expected. The next few weeks should solve this riddle. If the Japanese let this summer slip by without attacking it probably will be too late then for them to do serious harm either to China or Russia.

Western Atlantic Clear Of Sinkings for Week

By the Associated Press.

No Western Atlantic merchant sinkings were announced last week for the first time since the week of February 15, bearing out recent statements by United States and British officials that the Axis U-boat menace is being conquered.

So far this year announced Allied and neutral merchant losses in the Western Atlantic have averaged four a week, whereas in 1942 enemy U-boats accounted for a weekly average of 10.

Last week, however, two vessels were added to the announced toll in these waters when locations of previously reported losses were disclosed.

The additions—the Liberty ship James W. Denver and the Angelus, a British-Canadian schooner—raised to 668 the Associated Press total of announced Allied and neutral ships lost in that area since Pearl Harbor.

Rubber-Stamp Diet Enacting Tojo's Decrees

JUN 16 1943

Questions by Legislators Barred; Public Prepared for Increased Hardships

Dispatches from enemy countries are published with the warning that they frequently contain misleading statements intended for propaganda purposes.

The Japanese Diet (parliament) organized yesterday for a three-day session to rubber-stamp legislation decided upon by Premier Hideki Tojo and the Imperial Rule Assistance Association, after the people had been prepared for increased hardships by an intensive propaganda campaign, according to The Associated Press.

Tokio broadcasts, recorded by the Federal Communications Commission, said that Tojo would appear before the Diet today and that the legislators would not be permitted to ask questions.

"Measures will be approved and made into laws by the final day of the Diet session on June 18," the Tokio radio said.

Approximately 1,800,000,000 yen will be asked for the Commerce and Industry Ministry, including a 420,000,000 yen subsidy for rice growers. The government plans a 1,860,000,000 yen bond issue including 3,519,000,000 for roads and 17,163,000,000 for "special military emergency" expenditures," the Tokio radio said. The yen is not quoted on foreign exchanges but has been nominally worth about twenty-three cents.

Among the broadcasts preparing the people for future hardships was one last week by Dr. Hiroshi Shimomura, who often speaks for the Premier.

"Not only in our nation, but throughout the world, I think many are complaining now that the war is too long prolonged and our living conditions are exposed to menace, inconvenience and difficulties," he said. "Some are saying we have had enough of war and that the war should be stopped by this time . . . if we keep on with the conditions we have at present, it will be wonderful. But it is too good to be true."

The House of Peers re-elected Prince Kuniyuki Tokugawa as general chairman. Count Hitotaro Hayashi was chosen chairman of the Budget Committee. The Lower House installed Tadahiko Okado as Speaker and sent emissaries to advise Tojo that the Diet was organized. Tojo then informed the Emperor and obtained a rescript setting today as the opening day for business.

Tokio Says No Damage Was Caused by Quake

Reports Two Main Islands in Archipelago Were Shaken

Two main islands in the Japanese archipelago were shaken by an earthquake Sunday, but "no damage was reported," a Tokio broadcast of a Domei news agency dispatch said yesterday, according to The Associated Press.

The broadcast, intended for foreign consumption, said the shock was felt on Honshu, on which Tokio is situated, and on Hokkaido, to the north. The broadcast was recorded by the Office of War Information. Sunday's earthquake was recorded by seismographs as far away as the east coast of the United States.

A Rome broadcast recorded by Reuters at London reported that very violent earth tremors, believed to have originated in the Aleutian Islands, were registered by the Florence (Italy) seismograph Monday morning.

PLANE LOSSES SET AT 6-TO-1 RATIO

106 U. S. Bombers Lost, 571 Nazis Shot Down; 187 Probably Destroyed.

WASHINGTON, June 15 — (AP) American four-engined bombers over Europe have been shooting German planes out of the skies at a ratio of nearly six to one, a War department summary disclosed today.

It showed that in 18 heavy bombardment missions — all daylight, high altitude precision bombing forays — four-engined bombers made approximately 1,600 sorties against German targets and shot down 571 German planes, probably destroyed 187, and damaged 231 in aerial combat.

American losses amounted to 106 planes up to and including the attacks of the past week-end, for which only preliminary figures are available.

The summary did not break down losses on each side by types. Presumably, American losses were largely heavy bombers and the German losses were fighter planes. Nor did it take into account the possible destruction of many German planes on the ground.

Eleven of the 18 American attacks—all against targets within Germany—have been made since May 14, the survey showed.

The first seven attacks by American bombers against Germany were made in the period January 27, 1943 through April 17, 1943. United States losses for these missions totalled 40 planes, while 224 German planes were shot down, 78 probably were destroyed and 77 damaged.

In seven American attacks made between May 14 and May 21, American losses tolled 32 planes while German losses amounted to 243 shot down, 69 probably destroyed and 116 damaged.

The attacks against Wilhelmshaven and Cuxhaven on June 11, and on Bremen and Kiel on June 13, cost 34 American planes with German losses placed initially at 104 planes destroyed, 40 probably destroyed and 38 damaged.

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 15—American four-engined bombers over Europe have been shooting down German planes at the rate of almost six to one, a War Department summary disclosed today.

The summary showed that in eighteen missions—all high-altitude, precision attacks—the Americans shot down 571 Nazi planes and lost 106 of their own.

The summary did not break down losses on each side by types. Presumably, United States losses were largely heavy bombers, while the German losses were fighter planes. The "box score" follows:

JUN 16 1943

| | United States Planes Lost | German Planes Destroyed | German Planes Probably Destroyed | German Planes Damaged |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Wilhelmshaven (Jan. 27) | 3 | 22 | 14 | 13 |
| Emden (Feb. 2) | 5 | 25 | 8 | 6 |
| Wilmhelmshaven (Feb. 26) | 7 | 21 | 9 | 5 |
| Hamm (March 4) | 4 | 13 | 3 | 4 |
| Vegesack (March 18) | 2 | 52 | 20 | 23 |
| Wilhelmshaven (March 22) | 3 | 28 | 9 | 9 |
| Bremen (April 17) | 16 | 63 | 15 | 17 |
| Kiel (May 14) | 8 | 62 | 24 | 27 |
| Emden (May 15) | 1 | 14 | 3 | 1 |
| Helgoland (May 15) | 5 | 29 | 20 | 30 |
| Kiel (May 19) | 6 | 48 | 7 | 21 |
| Flensburg (May 19) | 0 | 12 | 4 | 14 |
| Wilhelmshaven (May 21) | 7 | 47 | 5 | 17 |
| Emden (May 21) | 5 | 31 | 6 | 6 |
| *Wilhelmshaven-Cuxhaven (June 11) | 8 | 54 | 25 | 18 |
| *Bremen-Kiel (June 13) | 26 | 50 | 15 | 20 |
| Totals | 106 | 571 | 187 | 231 |

*Separate attacks but individual figures not available when this analysis was made.

Argonaut Rap Destroyer In Final Fight, Navy Discloses

WASHINGTON, June 15.— (AP) The eight officers and 94 men aboard the U. S. submarine Argonaut "accepted destruction rather than surrender."

This was reported by the Navy today in a tribute to their courage and self-sacrifice as symbolic of the dangerous submarine service. The end of the Argonaut, as overdue and presumed to be lost, was announced Feb. 21.

The commanding officer and the entire ship's company have been awarded identical letters of commendation by Rear Admiral Charles A. Lockwood, commander submarine force, Pacific fleet, for a successful attack against an enemy destroyer on her last war patrol.

An Army reconnaissance plane reported the action in which the undersea craft, largest of her kind in the United States Navy, intercepted a Japanese convoy not far from Rabaul, New Britain, torpedoed an escort vessel, and was depth-charged, shelled and destroyed in a severe counter-attack.

The commanding officer of the Argonaut was Lieutenant Commander John R. Pierce, 37, whose wife, Mrs. Mary T. Pierce, lives at Brooklyn.

His citation and those to members of his crew stated:

"On a war patrol conducted by the U.S.S. Argonaut in heavily patrolled waters, that vessel is known to have closed and delivered a successful attack against an enemy destroyer. As a result of a severe counter-attack the Argonaut was forced to break surface but with no regard to personal safety and in the face of imminent death, the officers and crew accepted destruction rather than surrender. This patrol of the Argonaut is symbolic of the courageous, determined and aggressive conduct and spirit of self-sacrifice of the submarine personnel and serves as an inspiration to other submarines."

Meantime, the Navy announced that it has renamed the U.S.S. Neptune, a submarine tender, the U.S.S. Howard W. Gilmore in honor of another hero of the underseas warfare. Commander Howard W. Gilmore sacrificed his life by ordering his men to "take her down" as he lay wounded on the deck of his submarine after an encounter with a Japanese patrol boat.

Commander Gilmore was posthumously awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor for his action, which saved his ship and crew from destruction. Before his submarine dove, it rammed the enemy patrol vessel, which probably sunk later, the Navy said.

JUN 16 1943

U. S. And German Plane Losses Are Compared

Senator Walsh Attacks Bill Giving WAVES Oversea Duty

Bay State Solon, Opposing Lifting Of Barriers, Says Navy, To Him, Is Male Organization

JUN 16 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 15 — Legislation to permit WAVES to be sent overseas bumped into outspoken masculine criticism today in the Senate Naval Committee.

Chairman Walsh (D., Mass.) glanced blandly down the witness table toward Lieut. Com. Mildred H. McAfee, top-ranking member of the Women's Fleet Auxiliary, and declared:

"The navy, to my mind, is a male organization."

The commander, trig in blue uniform and shoulder-slung handbag, poised her chin on the tips of her fingers, apparently unperturbed.

Plan To Remove Barriers

Then, turning to Rear Admiral Randall Jacobs, Chief of Naval Personnel, Walsh observed that when the original WAVE bill came up last year, the navy said it wanted the women only to replace navy personnel in the continental United States.

"Now," Walsh said, "apparently we're reaching a stage where all barriers are to be removed and they can be sent anywhere."

Rank Provision Attacked

The bill, already approved by the House, would permit the assignment of future women volunteers to foreign billets, but present members of the organization, who enlisted only for service in this country, could not be sent abroad unless they signed waivers.

Some members criticized a section of the bill which would permit a woman to hold the rank of captain, instead of the present top of lieutenant commander, and give greater flexibility in the appointment of senior officers.

Walsh said he thought it should be assumed that women were as patriotic and as eager to serve their country as men, and noted that most men inducted into the navy had to work their way up from ordinary seamen, no matter how much they had earned in private life

Senator Gillette (D., Iowa) questioned whether women should be placed in a different category than men, so far as salary was concerned. He attributed to Jacobs a suggestion that "we could hardly expect the ladies to come into the service at a salary lower than they got outside."

Could Make Woman Admiral

Jacobs agreed with Walsh that the President now could appoint a woman doctor to the rank of admiral if he wished to do so.

Commander McAfee said many WAVES were eager for foreign service—"they want to be sent to places where they can share the dangers of the men."

The bill would apply to the women's auxiliaries of the Coast Guard and Marine Corps as well as the navy, and would make them eligible for all allowances or benefits granted the men. There was one exception: Husbands of the members would not be considered dependents.

'MEMPHIS BELLE' RETURNING TODAY

Famous Flying Fortress with Original Crew to Fly from Britain.

WASHINGTON, June 15 — (AP) The Flying Fortress "Memphis Belle" which the Army says has been "hit by every type of anti-aircraft missile the Nazi had to offer" comes home from the war tomorrow with her original 10-man crew intact.

The ship, first combat bomber to fly back from Europe, and its crew commanded by Pilot Captain Robert K. Morgan of Asheville, N. C., will be welcomed by ranking Army and R.A.F officers at the National airport, the War department announced today. The Belle, veteran of 25 combat missions, was retired last week in England.

During the Belle's raids, which included attacks on dock installations at Brest, the submarine base at St. Nazaire, the U-boat construction yards at Vegesack, and the naval base at Wilhelmshaven, only one member of the crew was wounded.

He was Staff Sergeant John P. Quinlan, of Yonkers, New York.

The ship knocked down eight enemy fighters, probably destroyed five others, and damaged at least 12 more.

NEW BLOWS AT JAPS NEAR, KNOX HINTS

Implies Pacific Lull Is Due To Time Required To Prepare

JUN 16 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 15 — Frank Knox, Secretary of the Navy, reported "a steady growth of our submarine operations in the Pacific" today, and by implication forecast major blows against Japan.

"I can't tell you, except that it takes an awfully long while to get ready for any kind of sizable movement," he answered a press conference question on why the current "lull" in Pacific operations had lasted so long.

The "lull" of several weeks has included the amphibious operation against Attu Island in the north, widespread aerial operations, and submarine patrols climaxed by yesterday's report of twelve Japanese ships sunk and five more damaged.

Sub Losses Replaced

Knox disclosed that American submarine losses in the war have been replaced "many times over."

Eight United States undersea craft have been reported destroyed or missing and presumed lost in he patrol operations. The Secretary was asked whether new subs had been built to take their places and he told a press conference that "we have replaced our losses many times over."

His comment was considered especially significant in view of the navy's announcement of Japanese ship losses yesterday, which raised the total of successful attacks by submarines hammering at Japan's extended supply lines to 256 ships destroyed or damaged.

Steady Growth "Reported"

Knox said that yesterday's reports, the largest in terms of successful submarine action so far in the war, evidenced "a steady growth of our submarine operations in the Pacific." A small number of new submarines go into action every month, he explained, and, moreover, the men who fight in them are learning with experience.

The Secretary gave no specific figures on submarine construction. The last figures reported by the navy were those which came out immediately before American entrance into the war. The table then showed 111 submarines built and 73 building, a total of 184. Since that time, however, submarine construction has been speeded up and Congress has appropriated many millions for additional units.

Atlantic Losses At "Low"

In discussing submarine operations by the Axis in the Atlantic, Knox said that this phase of the war was still in a "low" of activity but "how long that will last, nobody knows."

The battle to beat the U-boat menace is going along very satisfactorily at present, the Secretary added, both in the number of ships "not sunk" and in the excess of ship construction over losses.

Moreover, the number of American combat vessels going into action against German subs is steadily increasing. Knox reported that twenty new destroyer escort ships would be ready for their shakedown cruises in this month alone.

At the same time, Knox cautioned that the campaign against enemy submarines in the Atlantic "won't be won until this war is over." He expressed the opinion that submarine sinkings would continue until the very last, "but we ought to and expect to reduce them to a point where losses will be negligible."

He said the situation was much brighter at present for several reasons, including the greater availability of ships and planes, improvement in anti-submarine techniques, and the disruption of enemy U-boat operations caused by the bombing of German naval bases on the northern European coast.

JAPS DROP BOMBS ON GUADALCANAL

Washington, June 15 (A. P.).—Japanese bombers dropped a small number of bombs on Guadalcanal Sunday night, the Navy reported today, but caused no losses to material or personnel.

A communique said that Navy fighter planes damaged a Jap reconnaissance bomber during the day preceding the raid.

Guadalcanal had last been reported attacked on the night of May 23. The Navy gave no information on the location of the action in which the reconnaissance bomber was damaged.

GEN. LEE INJURED IN GLIDER CRACKUP

With the Second Army in Tennessee, June 15 (A. P.).—Major-Gen. William C. Lee, commander of an air-borne infantry division, was injured today in the crack-up of a glider in which he was landing with his troops.

The accident occurred about three and a half miles from Lafayette, Tenn., during a maneuver problem involving the landing of troops by both parachute and glider. Approximately forty gliders were used and the one in which Gen. Lee and ten other officers and enlisted men were riding failed to drop its wheels and was demolished as it struck rough ground.

An examination indicated that the General probably had fractured some ribs and was severely shaken up, but he did not appear to be critically injured. He was taken to an evacuation hospital. No one else was reported injured.

Last week Gen. Lee, leading his division in the first participation of a full air-borne division in field maneuvers, made the first parachute landing with his men. It was his first jump since he injured his back in a parachute landing more than a year ago. Today he joined in the first use of the gliders in which part of his command is transported.

BONESTEEL LEAVES ICELAND

WASHINGTON, June 15. — (AP) Maj. Gen. Charles H. Bonesteel, relinquishing command of American Army forces in Iceland, told a farewell staff conference in Reykjavik today that the island is now "a base of formidable strength."

Army Lists Soldiers Wounded in Action

JUN 16 1943

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP).—The War Department made public today the names of 630 United States soldiers wounded in action. Included were the following from New York, New Jersey and Connecticut:

NEW YORK

European Area

PROVENZALE, PETER F., second lieutenant; mother, Mrs. Concetta Provenzale, 5019 Avenue I, Brooklyn.

TUCKER, KENNETH T., staff sergeant; mother, Mrs. Betty Tucker, 145 Hudson Avenue, Albany.

North African Area

ABBOTT, ROBERT N., first lieutenant; mother, Mrs. Ethel K. Abbott, 3309 Lake Avenue, Rochester.

ADAMSKI, HENRY A., technician fourth grade; mother, Mrs. Anna A. Adamski, 1317 Halsey Street, Brooklyn.

ADESSIO, JOSEPH, private; mother, Mrs. Frances Adessio, Bay Avenue, Hicksville, L. I.

ALVAREZ, RUFINO, private; brother, Eufemio Alvarez, 26 West Ninety-eighth Street, Manhattan.

ANNES, SAMUEL, private; mother, Mrs. Minnie Annes, 1310 Morris Avenue, the Bronx.

BARKER, CALEB N., second lieutenant; mother, Mrs. Grace R. Webb, 43 Maple Avenue, New Rochelle.

BECKER, LESLIE G., corporal; father, Sidney Becker, Route 2, Schoharie.

BENJAMIN, HARRY, staff sergeant; sister, Mrs. Mildred Koch, 38 McDonnell Street, Amsterdam.

BEST, RICHARD, private first class; wife, Mrs. Lillian M. Best, 550 Seventy-second Street, Brooklyn.

BINN, EDWARD, private first class; mother, Mrs. Minnie Binn, 379 Howard Avenue, Brooklyn.

BLUM, ROBERT B., second lieutenant; father, Ferdinand H. Blum, 285 Riverside Drive, Manhattan.

CARLO, ALFRED A., private first class; mother, Mrs. Laura Carlo, 106 East Ninety-fifth Street, Brooklyn.

CHARLEY, JOHN N., private; wife, Mrs. Helen Charley, 607 East Eleventh Street, Manhattan.

COHEN, HARRY, private; father, Joe Cohen, 307 South Third Street, Brooklyn.

COLETTA, NICHOLAS J., private first class; father, John Coletta, 707½ Delaware Avenue, Elmira.

COLLINS, GEORGE, private first class; wife, Mrs. Jean Collins, 557 Decatur Street, Brooklyn.

COLLINS, JAMES V., private; father, John J. Collins, 5 High View Avenue, New Brighton, S. I.

CONNOR, BERNARD W., private; father, Edward Connor, Townlie Road, Route 2, Brighton Station, Rochester.

CROSBY, LEO F., private first class; wife, Mrs. Leo F. Crosby, 164 Swan Street, Hornell.

DAVID, HOWARD W., private first class; father, Howard W. David sr., 449 East 141st Street, Bronx.

DAVIS, JOHN J., private; father, Harry E. Davis, 554 West 148th Street, Manhattan.

DEISLER, FRANK W., private; brother, Michael Desler, Camp Road, Athol Springs.

DIETRICH, GUY L., private first class; father, Gus Dietrich, 150 Henry Street, Schenectady.

DINARDI, GEORGE G., private; mother, Mrs. Lucia Dinardi, 150-21 114th Place, Queens.

DREVES, GEORGE A. jr., private first class; wife, Mrs. Vera Dreves, 54-47 Lincoln Parkway, Little Neck, Queens.

DUNN, ROBERT F. sergeant; father, William E. Dunn, 2168 Eighty-sixth Street, Brooklyn.

ECKER, FLOYD E., private; mother, Mrs. Mary S. Ecker, 324 Turtle Street, Syracuse.

FORAKIS, GEORGE J., private; mother, Mrs. Helen Forakis, 1866 Fifty-eighth Street, Brooklyn.

FRITSCH, FRANK F., private; mother, Mrs. Zilpha Fritsch, Friendsville Stage, Binghamton.

GABRYELSKI, FRANK T., sergeant; mother, Mrs. Alice Gabryelski, 450 Whitesboro Street, Utica.

GLEASON, JOHN J., private; father, John J. Gleason, 31-80 Forty-third Street, Astoria, Queens.

GNIATKOWSKI, EDWARD, private; father, Walter Gniatkowski, 73 Driggs Avenue, Brooklyn.

GOODOFF, JULIUS, private; mother, Mrs. Leah Goodoff, 1735 Lafayette Avenue, Brooklyn.

GREEN, WORTHINGTON, private; brother, Durward B. Green, Route 2, Sharon Springs.

GREGGO, NICHOLAS, private first class; mother, Mrs. Anna Greggo, Sixteenth Street, Hicksville, L. I.

GROGEN, NICK, private; father, John Grogen, 425 East Sixty-sixth Street, Manhattan.

GUNDERSEN, GUNNAR, corporal; father, Gunnar Gundersen, 744 Fifty-fifth Street, Brooklyn.

GUNDRUM, EDWARD L., private; wife, Mrs. Esther Gundrum, Averill Park.

HALE, CLIFFORD L., private first class; father, Harry Hale, Route 19, East Bethany, Batavia.

HALL, ERWIN F., second lieutenant; mother, Mrs. Marion G. Hall, Route 3, Central Square.

INGENITO, JOHN T., private; mother, Mrs. Virginia Ingenito, 2082 Prospect Avenue, the Bronx.

JABLIN, JULIAN N., private first class; mother, Mrs. Harriet Jablin, 1592 Jesup Avenue, the Bronx.

JUNGQUIST, GEORGE E., sergeant; mother, Mrs. Fred Jungquist, 80 Sturgis Street, Jamestown.

LALLY, JAMES T., private; father, James P. Lally, 34-27 Forty-second Street, Astoria, Queens.

LEE, GEORGE, private; friend, Miss Ethlet Jobson, 239 East 122d Street, Manhattan.

LIMPERT, HENRY A., private; mother, Mrs. Barbara Limpert, 217-10 138th Avenue, Springfield Gardens, Queens.

LOMBARDO, MARIO, private first class; mother, Mrs. Grace Lombardo, 73 Efener Street, Buffalo.

LOSER, PETER J., private first class; mother, Mrs. Agnes M. Lynch, 2511 Paulding Avenue, the Bronx.

LOWE, WILBUR E., private; mother, Mrs. Ophelia Lowe, 561 Master Avenue, Buffalo.

MacDONALD, JAMES, second lieutenant; father, James D. MacDonald, 139 First Street, Albany.

McMULLEN, DANIEL J., private first class; cousin, Joseph Deady, 1201 University Avenue, the Bronx.

McNAMEE, JOSEPH E., corporal; father, Joseph McNamee, 146-32 Queens Avenue, Flushing, Queens.

McTAGUE, FRANK C. Jr., sergeant; mother, Mrs. Cathrine McTague, 214-32 Twenty-sixth Avenue, Bayside, Queens.

MARTINO, ANTONIO, private; mother, Mrs. Vinienza Martino, 244 East 117th Street, Manhattan.

MASSA, FRANK, A., private; mother, Mrs. Jean Massa, 803 Glenmore Avenue, Brooklyn.

MATERA, FRANK, private; wife, Mrs. Jeanette Matera, 2409 Eighty-third Street, Brooklyn.

MEYERS, EDWARD J., private; mother, Mrs. Kathryn Meyers, 5 Erie Street,

JUN 16 1943

30.24 -5027

Amsterdam.

MICHAELS, ROBERT, second lieutenant; mother, Mrs. Celia Michaels, 3110 Brighton Third Street, Brooklyn.

MOLASSI, ALBERT, private first class; mother, Mrs. Delphina Mulaggi, 18-20 Roosevelt Street, Manhattan.

MOLINELLI, EARL L., private; father, John Molinelli, 22 James Street, Manhattan.

MOORE, ERVIN W., private; mother, Mrs. Lellan L. Moore, Route 4, Gouverneur.

MURPHY, JOHN G., private; father, Richard Murphy, 704 East 134th Street, the Bronx.

MURPHY, KEVIN J., private first class; father, John Murphy, 786 Fairmount Street, the Bronx.

NETHAWAY, THOMAS F., private; brother, Francis O'Brien, 62 Division Street, Amsterdam.

NOWAKOWSKI, JOHN, private; mother, Mrs. S. Nowakowski, 624 Fifth Avenue, Brooklyn.

NUCCITELLI, DANTE A., private; father, Gasimiro Nuccitelli, 82 School Street, Yonkers.

OLWELL, JOHN J., private first class; mother, Mrs. Mary Olwell, 4509 Park Avenue, the Bronx.

PODELL, MORRIS, corporal; brother, Irving Podell, 969 Hoe Avenue, the Bronx.

PONTERIO, JOHN, private; mother, Mrs. Giovina Pontario, 50 Oak Street, Port Chester.

RICCIO, ALBERT J., sergeant; uncle, Patsy Coppolo, Route 4, Delanson.

RILEY, FREDERICK E., private first class; mother, Mrs. Edith M. Riley, 14 De Forest Street, Binghamton.

ROBBINS, ARTHUR F., private; mother, Mrs. Rose Robbins, 260 Jericho Turnpike, Mineola, L. I.

RODRIGUEZ, WILLIAM, private; mother, Mrs. Sophie Rodriguez, 86 East 110th Street, Manhattan.

ROGERS, JOSEPH S., technician fifth grade; wife, Mrs. Jeannette K. Rogers, 1773 Fifty-ninth Street, Brooklyn.

ROGHER, JOHN W. Jr., corporal; aunt, Mrs. Betty Westlake, 630 Evergreen Avenue, Brooklyn.

ROMANO, Michael J., first lieutenant; sister, Mrs. Anna E. Romano, 38 Park Hill Avenue, Yonkers.

ROSENBERG, JACK H., private; mother, Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, 2059 Ocean Avenue, Brooklyn.

SALVAGGIO, ROSARIO D., private; mother, Mrs. Francis Salvaggio, 97-21 Ninety-second Street, Ozone Park, Queens.

SCHERER, MILTON R., corporal; mother, Mrs. Myrtle Scherer, Cadosia.

SCHMIDT, HOWARD M., corporal; mother, Mrs. Martha Schmidt, 39-33 Twenty-seventh Street, Long Island City, Queens.

SCHOONOVER, IRVINE R., sergeant; mother, Mrs. Stella Schoonover, Academy Street, Candor.

SHAPIRO, SIDNEY, private; mother, Mrs. Rose Rosenkrantz, 2243 Cropsey Avenue, Brooklyn.

SHOEMAKER, NEIL C., technician fifth grade; mother, Mrs. Alice Shoemaker, Route 1, Oriskany Falls.

SIRACUSANO, CLEMENT J., private first class; mother, Mrs. Frances Siracusano, 3420 101st Street, Corona, Queens.

SMOLENSKI, MARIO C., private first class; brother, Theodore Smolenski, 298 Mill Street, Poughkeepsie.

STASZYN, JOHN A., private; mother, Mrs. Anna Staszyn, 342 Hendrix Street, Brooklyn.

STEGNER, GEORGE H., sergeant; mother, Mrs. Martha Smith, 3414 Atlantic Avenue, Brooklyn.

STRAUSS, ALLEN R., second lieutenant; father, Major Simon Strauss, 201 West Eighty-ninth Street, Manhatan.

STRYKER, FRANK E., staff sergeant; sister, Miss Harriet Stryker, 154 Adelphi Street, Brooklyn.

SULLIVAN, EUGENE A., second lieutenant; mother, Mrs. Mabel B. Sullivan, 2242 Clarendon Road, Brooklyn.

TASKA, ANTONIO T., private first class; mother, Mrs. Francis Taska, 1991 Washington Avenue, the Bronx.

TIERNEY, FRANCIS X., private first class; mother, Mrs. Catherine Tierney, 335 West 106th Street, Manhattan.

TODD, CARROLL L., private first class; mother, Mrs. Gladis Todd, 10 Lincoln Street, Canton.

TOUMEY, JOHN J., private; father, Hal J. Toumey, 140-25 161st Street, Jamaica, Queens.

TOW, SOO Y., private; brother, Soo C. Tow, 39 Mott Street, Manhattan.

TOWNSEND, ALBERT, sergeant; mother, Mrs. Minnie Townsend, Route 2, Norwich.

ULRICH, WILLIAM J., private; wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Ulrich, 186 Cooper Street, Brooklyn.

VAMPOTIC, RUDOLPH V., corporal; sister, Miss Hilda C. Vampotic, 61 Beatrice Street, Buffalo.

VELEZ, JOSE M., private first class; sister, Mrs. Marsot Trizarry, 15 Tompkins Avenue, Brooklyn.

WOLF, FREDERICK C., corporal; mother, Mrs. Anna Wolf, 44-44 Twenty-first Street, Long Island City, Queens.

WOLFARTH, GEORGE J., private first class; mother, Mrs. Julia Wolfarth, 1507 Fulton Street, Brooklyn.

YOUNG, DAVID J., private first class; mother, Mrs. Margaret O'Connell, 245 Ninety-sixth Street, Brooklyn.

Pacific Area

GREENE, RAYMOND H., staff sergeant; father, Clifford E. Greene, North Henry Street, Southampton.

LAMENDOLA, JOSEPH J., staff sergeant; mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Lamendola, 6 Arlington Street, Mineola.

PETICOLAS, SAM C., second lieutenant; father, Sherman Goodwin Peticolas, 502 North Tioga, Ithaca.

SESSO, MARIO F., captain; mother, Mrs. Mary Sesso, 647 East 222d Street, the Bronx.

SMITH, RAYMOND A., Jr., corporal; father, Raymond A. Smith sr., 27 Woolsey Street, Glen Cove, L. I.

WHITE, EDWARD T., technical sergeant; mother, Mrs. Bridget White, Palenville.

NEW JERSEY

European Area

KELLY, WILLIAM E., staff sergeant; mother, Mrs. Mary Ellen Kelly, 55 State Street, Camden.

North African Area

BRANN, DURWARD H., second lieutenant; father, Harry P. Brann, Akers Avenue, Montvale.

DELUCA, DAVE, private first class; sister, Miss Carmela Deluca, 169 Washington Avenue, Elizabeth.

DIPERDINANDO, ANTHONY J., private; mother, Mrs. Guylia Diferdinando, 705 Lincoln Avenue, Glen Rock.

FRANCESCHINI, DAVID A, sergeant; father, John Franceschini, 157 Franklin Street, Trenton.

GOLDING, CHARLES N., private; mother, Mrs. Mary B. Golding, 24 Pioneer Street, Newark.

GRUEN, ARTHUR P., technician fourth grade; sister, Mrs. Frank Giordano, 814 Tenth Street, Union City.

GROSS, MARTIN R., private first class; father, Frank Gross, 2226 Nottingham Way, Trenton.

HEIGHT, THOMAS R., sergeant; wife, Mrs. Nora Elizabeth Height, Prospect Avenue, Spring Lake Heights.

HOLLIGER, WILLIAM R., private first class; mother, Mrs. William C. Holliger, 507 Springfield Avenue, Merchantville.

HEATH, WALTER R., private first class; sister, Mrs. Anna Scoffe, 104 Guy Street, Dover.

LONG, ROBERT F., private; mother, Mrs. Joseph F. Long, 5 Hutchinson, Penns Grove.

MINUE, NICHOLAS, private; mother, Mrs. Mary Minue, 72 Shares Street, Carteret.

PALDINO, FREDERICK W., private first class; uncle, George Paldino, care of William Paldino, 650 Palisade Avenue, Jersey City.

PRISCOE, ANTHONY C., private; brother, Alfred Priscoe, 119 Elm Street, West Orange.

SCHAUERMAN, WILLIAM J., second lieutenant; wife, Mrs. Rose B. Schauerman, 857 Palmer Avenue, Maywood.

STORER, JOSEPH E., private; mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Storer, 1221 Locust Street, Camden.

VALENTINO, JAMES, corporal; mother, Mrs. Lucragia Valentino, 87 Jefferson Street, Hoboken.

CONNECTICUT

European Area

BARBA, ANDREW M., second lieutenant; father, Michael Barba, 12 Dudley Street, Bristol.

HAYMON, ALBERT W., technical sergeant; father, Louis Haymon, 189 Culloden Road, Stamford

North African Area

BANTLE, FRED W., private first class; mother, Mrs. Marie Bantle, 812 Beechwood Avenue, Bridgeport.

BARRY, JOHN F., private; sister, Mrs. Richard Halloran, 10 Sunset Hill Avenue, Norwalk.

GOODENOUGH, RALPH F., private first class; mother, Mrs. Virginia Goodenough, Box 63, Broad Brook.

MALVAE, JOHN W., corporal; mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Milvae, 56 Darby Street, Bloomfield.

MOJON, ROGER E., private; Mrs. Alta M. Mojon, Hartford Road, Torrington.

TREAT, RAYMOND T., private first class; mother, Mrs. Jessie Treat, 167 Saltonstall Avenue, New Haven.

Middle East Area

DOXEY, HENRY J., private first class; father, Edward Doxey, 250 Hurd Street, Fairfield.

HOURIGAN, ROBERT E., private first class; brother, John F. Hourigan, 136 Main Street, Bridgeport.

LARMAN, JULIUS E., sergeant; mother, Mrs. Bertha Larman, 139 Oakland Terrace, Hartford.

SARDO, ALBERT J., private first class; father, Frank Sardo, 18 North Spring Street, Ansonia.

SCOROPOSKI, FELIX, sergeant; wife, Mrs. Eveline Scoroposki, 3 North School Street, Manchester.

SCRANTON, WALTER A., second lieutenant; mother, Mrs. Barbara E. Scranton, 73 Spring Street, Willimantic.

WILHITE, PRENTISS R., private; wife, Mrs. Mary P. Wilhite, 77 Herbert Street, Bridgeport.

393 U. S. MEN ARE CASUALTIES

War Department Issues a List of Wounded.

JUN 16 1943

Washington, June 15.—The War Department made public today the names of 393 United States soldiers wounded in action. The announcement includes casualties in the European, Middle East, North Africa, Pacific and Southwest Pacific areas. The list is based upon prior notifications sent to the next of kin.

NEW YORK.

ADESSIO, JOSEPH, private; Mrs. Frances Adeasio, mother, Bay avenue, Hicksville, L. I.

ALVAREZ, RUFINO, private; Eufemio Alvarez, brother, 26 West 98th street, New York.

BARKER, CALEB N., second lieutenant; Mrs. Grace R. Webb, mother, 43 Maple avenue, New Rochelle.

CARLO, ALFRED A., private first class; Mrs. Laura Carlo, mother, 106 East 95th street, Brooklyn.

CHARLEY, JOHN N., private; Mrs. Helen Charley, wife, 607 East 11th street, New York.

COHEN, HARRY, private; Joe Cohen, father, 307 South Third street, Brooklyn.

COLLINS, GEORGE, private first class; Mrs. Jean Collins, wife, 557 Decatur street, Brooklyn.

COLLINS, JAMES V., private; John J. Collins, father, 5 High View avenue, New Brighton, Staten Island.

DAVID, HOWARD W., private first class; Howard W. David Sr., father, 449 East 141st street, Bronx.

DAVIS, JOHN J., private; Harry E. Davis, father, 554 West 148th street, New York.

DREVES, GEORGE A. Jr., private; Mrs. Vera Dreves, wife, 54-47 Lincoln Parkway, Little Neck, L. I.

DUNN, ROBERT F., sergeant; William E. Dunn, father, 2168 86th street, Brooklyn.

FORAKIS, GEORGE J., private; Mrs. Helen Forakis, mother, 1866 58th street, Brooklyn.

GLEASON, JOHN J., private; John J. Gleason, father, 31-80 43d street, Astoria, L. I.

INGENITO, JOHN T., private; Mrs. Virginia Ingenito, mother, 2082 Prospect avenue, Bronx.

LALLY, JAMES T., private; James P. Lally, father, 34-27 42d street, Astoria, L. I.

LEE, GEORGE, private; Miss Ethlet Jobson, friend, 239 East 122d street, New York.

LIMPERT, HENRY A., private; Mrs. Barbara Limpert, mother, 217-10 138th avenue, Springfield Gardens, L. I.

LOSEE, PETER J., private first class; Mrs. Agnes M. Lynch, mother, 2511 Paulding avenue, New York.

McMULLEN, DANIEL J., private first class; Joseph Deady, cousin, 1201 University avenue, New York.

McTAGUE, FRANK C. Jr., sergeant; Mrs. Catherine McTague, mother, 214-32 26th avenue, Bayside, L. I.

MATERA, FRANK, private; Mrs. Jeanette Matera, wife, 2409 83d street, Brooklyn.

MOLASSI, ALBERT, private first class; Mrs. Delphina Mulaggi, mother, 18-20 Roosevelt street, New York.

MOLINELLI, EARL L., private; John Molinelli, father, 22 James street, New York.

NUCITELLI, DANTE A., private; Gasimiro Nuccitelli, father, 82 School street, Yonkers.

OLWELL, JOHN J., private first class; Mrs. Mary Olwell, mother, 4509 Park avenue, New York.

PODELL, MORRIS, corporal; Irving Podell, brother, 969 Hoe avenue, Bronx.

PONTERIO, JOHN, private; Mrs. Giovina Ponterio, mother, 50 Oak street, Port Chester.

RODRIGUEZ, WILLIAM, private; Mrs. Sophie Rodriguez, mother, 86 East 110th street, New York.

ROGHER, JOHN W. Jr., corporal; Mrs. Betty Westlake, aunt, 630 Evergreen avenue, Brooklyn.

ROSENBERG, JACK H., private; Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, mother, 2059 Ocean avenue, Brooklyn.

SCHMIDT, HOWARD M., corporal; Mrs. Martha Schmidt, mother, 39-33 27th street, Long Island City, L. I.

SHAPIRO, SIDNEY, private; Mrs. Rose Rosenkrantz, mother, 2243 Cropsey avenue, Brooklyn.

SIRACUSANO, CLEMENT J., private first class; Mrs. Frances Siracusano, mother, 3420 101st street, Corona, L. I.

STASZYN, JOHN A., private; Mrs. Anna Staszyn, mother, 342 Hendrix street, Brooklyn.

STEGNER, GEORGE H., sergeant; Mrs. Martha Smith, mother, 3414 Atlantic avenue, Brooklyn.

STRYKER, FRANK E., staff sergeant; Miss Harriet Stryker, sister, 154 Adelphi street, Brooklyn.

TOUMEY, JOHN J., private; Hal J. Toumey, father, 14025 161st street, Jamaica, Queens, L. I.

TOW, SOO Y., private; Soo C. Tow, brother, 39 Mott street, New York.

VELEZ, JOSE M., private first class; Mrs. Margaret Trizarry, sister, 15 Tompkins avenue, Brooklyn.

WOLFARTH, GEORGE J., private first class; Mrs. Julia Wolfarth, mother, 1507 Fulton street, Brooklyn.

NAVY CASUALTY LIST

Washington, June 15 (A. P.).—The Navy announced today eleven casualties, including seven dead, one wounded and three missing.

This brings to 23,321 the total of Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard casualties reported to next of kin since December 7, 1941. The grand total includes 7,440 dead, 4,723 wounded and 11,158 missing.

The casualties announced today (those listed are Navy and non-commissioned personnel unless otherwise specified):

NEW YORK.

MAJCHER, MATTHEW JOSEPH, missing; father, Matthew Majcher, 61 Garden street, Yonkers.

Navy Lists Prisoners of Japan

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP).—The Navy Department announced today the names of 316 United States Navy personnel held prisoners of war by the Japanese, mostly in the Philippine Islands.

The list brought the total confirmed prisoners of war affecting personnel of the naval services, whose names have been released for publication, to 3,556, of which 1,848 are Navy men and 1,708 members of the Marine Corps.

Included are the following from New York, New Jersey and Connecticut:

NEW YORK

BANSLEY, DONALD EDMOND, pharmacist's mate, second class; mother, Mrs. Amanda Bansley, Claverack.

BOOKMAN, JOHN JACOB, lieutenant (j. g.) Medical Corps, U. S. Naval Reserve; parents, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Bookman, 983 Park Avenue, Manhattan.

DANIELS, ROBERT EMMET, seaman, first class; wife, Mrs. R. E. Daniels, 11 Montague Terrace, Brooklyn.

DE MUTH, PAUL VINCENT, pharmacist's mate, second class; mother, Mrs. Mary De Muth, 58 Wallace Street, Corning.

DICK, ROBERT JAMES, pharmacist's mate, third class; mother, Mrs. Louise A. Dick, 201 Broad Street, Tonawanda.

ERICKSON, ROGER VILHELM, machinist's mate, second class; mother, Mrs. Ann H. O'Rourke, 26 Main Street, Lake Placid.

GASPA, LEONARD JOSEPH, pharmacist's mate, second class; wife, Mrs. Leonard J. Gaspa, 210 Lansing Street, Utica.

GRIFFIN, EDWARD RAYMOND JOSEPH, lieutenant commander; wife, Mrs. Alice M. Griffin, 56 Larkin Street, Port Richmond, S. I.

HEDE, ADOLPH, lieutenant commander; wife, Mrs. Adolph W. Hede, 28 East Sixty-third Street, Manhattan.

KENTNER, ROBERT WILLIAM, pharmacist's mate, first class; father, Edward Kentner, 136 Parkridge Avenue, Buffalo.

LAMBERT, GORDON KENNETH, lieutenant, Medical Corps; wife, Mrs. Gordon K. Lambert, 646 West End Avenue, Manhattan.

MACDOUGALL, DANIEL, chief pharmacist's mate; sister, Mrs. Florence Villiers, 381 East 152d Street, the Bronx.

O'BRIEN, ROBERT LOUIS, chief gunner's mate; mother, Mrs. Isabelle O'Brien, 89-15 214th Street, Queens Village, Queens.

RICE, JACK, pharmacist's mate third class; father, Edward Rice, 32-78 Steinway Street, Astoria, Queens.

TYBUR, ALBERT JOHN, pharmacist's mate first class; mother, Mrs. Michael Tybur, Port Johnson.

New Jersey

BRONSON, CLARENCE E., machinist's mate second class; father, Clarence S. Bronson, Lakewood.

CERRUTI, JULIUS E., chief photographer's mate; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugenio Cerruti, 131 Barbour Street, Paterson.

DUHAIME, ARTHUR R., seaman first class; father, Arthur Duhaime, 415 Terrace Avenue, Hasbrouck Heights.

KELLY, CHARLES R., boatswain's mate first class; mother, Mrs. Grace Kelly Glod, 115 Westervelt Avenue, North Plainfield.

RAWLINGS, WILLIAM, boatswan; sister, Rose Gruppo, 49 North Sixth [illegible], Paterson.

[illegible]ER, ADOLPH, chief machinist's [illegible] naval reserve; sister, Mrs. Louise [illegible] 204 East Washington Street, Trenton.

WENDROFF, ROBERT, hospital apprentice second class; brother, Carl Wendroff, 84 West Twenty-fifth Street, Bayonne.

Connecticut

GORDON, HARVEY, pharmacist's mate first class; father, Edward Gordon, 20 West Washington Avenue, Stamford.

STRADLEY, BERNARD THOMAS, pharmacist's mate second class; father, Kenneth Stradley, 45 Townsend Avenue, New Haven.

FINLAND MAKES PAYMENT

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP) The government of Finland resumed payment on its war debt to the United States today, turning over to the Treasury $165,945.

CONTROL OF PRICES SOLE AIM, SAYS OPA

Agency Should Be Terminated After War, Official Asserts.

JUN 16 1943

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP) Dr. Bernard F. Haley, Office of Price Administration executive, told a House investigating committee today that "the sole purpose of OPA is price control and the sooner it can be terminated after the war the better."

His statement brought the quick reply from Rep. Halleck (R-Ind), committee member, "If OPA would stick to price control x x x I think we would get along better."

Dr. Haley under prolonged questioning of the sub-committee looking into the scope of OPA activities stated his belief the agency has pointed all its actions at price control.

He told the committee, "Conservation of materials and standardization in themselves are not OPA objectives, but I don't believe price control is possible without standardization."

Under questioning by Rep. Halleck, Dr. Haley said he felt "brand names perform an important function in our economy" and that he considered their elimination "would be a loss."

Answering the statement of Rep. Brown (R-Ohio) yesterday that Dr. Haley in his testimony before the committee had charged that certain hosiery manufacturers had sought to evade OPA price regulations by bringing out new lines of lower quality or higher price, Dr. Haley said he had not meant to give "any such impression." He gave no names of hosiery manufacturers.

Dr. Haley said OPA was either planning or considering future action on the price and quality of men's work shoes, work trousers, work gloves, pajamas, underwear and dress shirts. He said the agency was discussing with WPB "the development of a war model" in shoes.

He said women's apparel also may come in for attention, naming non-knitted underwear and fall outerwear as under consideration for a "price order."

226 MILLION VOTED FOR 3 U. S. BUREAUS

Washington, June 15 (A. P.).—The Senate passed a $226,476,358 appropriations bill for the State, Commerce and Justice departments by voice vote today after an attempt to authorize the Attorney-General to grant blanket salary increases to assistant district attorneys was abandoned.

The fight over the Department of Justice proposal came after the Senate added $33,940,358 to House allowances for the Civil Aeronautics Administration for the training of civilian pilots for the Army.

Senator McCarran (D.-Nev.), acting for the Appropriations Committee, submitted an amendment to allow increases for the assistant district attorneys, but later withdrew it when it was denounced by Senator Johnson (D.-Colo.) as "an outrage."

"If we have to hold the anti-inflation line against everybody else, we ought to hold the line against attorneys," Senator Johnson declared.

The Senate tackled the appropriations bill after handing the administration a jolt in the McKellar bill battle.

ICKES SAYS U. S. OIL FACES DEPLETION

Washington, June 15 (A. P.).—Petroleum Administrator Ickes foresaw today depletion of the nation's oil resources. He served notice that stricter rationing is possible, but asserted that the Government has "no schemes to invoke rationing to satisfy some quaint philosophy of demanding public sacrifices on the altar of war."

JUN 16 1943

Mr. Ickes frowned on non-essential use of gasoline anywhere and said that rationing would be adjusted to the needs of war. He told a joint committee of Middle West Senators and Representatives, however, that there were no present plans to apply to other sections the severe curbs applying in the Eastern shortage area.

The problem in the East, he explained, is transportation. Further rationing elsewhere would not help transportation.

Mr. Ickes, recalling that rationing in the West originally was invoked to conserve rubber, declared the system was unpopular and has been abused and evaded.

"It is my hope," he added, "that we may profit by that experience. It is extremely desirable that non-essential use of motor fuel be reduced in all parts of the country, and while I deplore the looseness of the present type of rationing to conserve rubber, I am frank to state my opinion that a sudden abolition of the present system would result in 'No gas' signs from time to time in various areas."

POST-WAR UNION URGED IN HOUSE

Resolution Proposes That U. S. Join in World Police Organization.

WASHINGTON, June 15 — (AP) The House Foreign Affairs committee recommended today that Congress go on record as favoring United States participation in an international organization strong enough to keep peace.

Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts commended the committee for its "foresighted" action in approving the resolution and said he would seek its consideration in the House early next week.

The committee's action, Rep. McCormack said, was "vastly important and historic."

After studying all pending legislation on prevention of wars, the committee chose a one-sentence resolution which its author, Rep. Fulbright (D.-Ark.), called "a positive disavowal of the isolationist policy."

It was the first such legislation to be approved by either this committee or the Senate Foreign Relations committee.

Rep. Fulbright, 38-year-old member of the committee who is serving his first term in the House, said his resolution would be "a definite declaration that this nation desires to cooperate with the other nations of the world."

The proposal follows:

"Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring), that the Congress hereby expresses itself as favoring the creation of appropriate international machinery with power adequate to establish and to maintain a just and lasting peace among the nations of the world, and as favoring participation by the United States therein."

MURRAY OPPOSES ANTI-STRIKE BILL

C.I.O. Chief Asks Roosevelt to Veto Connally-Smith Measure.

JUN 16 1943

WASHINGTON, June 15 — (AP) C.I.O. President Philip Murray, asking President Roosevelt to veto the Connally-Smith anti-strike bill, contended today it would "actually encourage stoppages and interruptions of work."

Mr. Murray's appeal was made in an open letter to the chief executive. Before it was made public, the President sidetracked a direct reply to a press conference question as whether he would sign the bill. He said he was not sure it had reached the White House but if it had it had gone to the usual departments for recommendations.

Secretary of Labor Perkins said she had received a routine request from the Bureau of the Budget for comment. She declined to say whether she had recommended vetoing the bill but remarked, "American labor made a pledge to the President and that's that. I think they will keep their word." She referred to the no-strike pledge.

Mr. Murray said the bill's prohibition on political contributions by labor unions was "very openly aimed at weakening the democratic structure of our country by preventing the participation of the common people in our political life."

The C.I.O. president said the bill would weaken, not strengthen, the War Labor board which would receive the power of subpoena. The requirement for a secret ballot of employes on questions of striking, he said, implies that strikes are permissable, and would open the way for industrial spies and provocateurs "to destroy and dismember labor unions."

ROOSEVELT BACKS SUBSIDY PROGRAM ON FOOD PRICES

Approves Payment Plan to Hold Costs to Consumer in Check.

HITS ONE-MAN CONTROL

President Has No Intention of Appointing 'Czar' with Over-All Power.

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP) President Roosevelt backed today the idea of subsidies to hold down food costs to consumers, and suggested that if congressional critics of such payments know of a better way to combat inflation they should come out with it. He told a press conference he did not know of a better way.

Mr. Roosevelt made clear, too, that he has no intention of creating a "czar" with over-all powers over food matters—a proposal taken to the White House first by a Senate group yesterday, and again today by a bi-partisan committee of House members.

Struggle Developing

On both these issues, there was accumulating evidence that a sharp struggle was developing in Congress. Some legislators already are talking of pressing legislation to establish a central food administration, and for months the members have been taking sides on the question of whether it is advisable to subsidize the cost of living.

Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown pushed the latter issue to the fore today with the declaration that it is impossible, without subsidies, to carry out congressional mandates concerning prices.

Mr. Roosevelt gave over virtually his entire press conference to a discussion of inflation and food prices which developed these major points:

Expects OPA to Continue

1. He expects the Office of Price Administration to go on as it has been. He replied with a flat no when asked if it is to be "split up."

2. Food Administrator Chester C. Davis, so far as the President knows, is perfectly satisfied with his present authority. Mr. Roosevelt said the only comment he had had lately from Mr. Davis was a request that he not be given OPA's food pricing job.

(Some congressional advocates of centralized control over all food matters have suggested that Mr. Davis be given authority to fix food prices).

3. There have been delays, Mr. Roosevelt acknowledged, in handling food and other matters as a result of divisions of authority, but he said he expected the new Office of War Mobilization to coordinate the work of all and eliminate delays.

4. While strongly supporting the idea of subsidies, Mr. Roosevelt said he thought he would not send Congress a message on the subject because the legislators already knew that was one way to buck inflation. If they had a better way, he said, they could come out with it.

In discussing subsidies, the President spoke of $1,500,000,000 to $2,000,000,000 as the possible cost, but said these were just figures he had taken from the newspapers. But assuming they were correct, he said, that would be only 1 1-2 to 2 per cent on a $100,000,000,000 cost of the war.

(Presumably he referred to annual costs as this year's war spending has been officially estimated at $106,000,000,000).

Discusses "Food Czar" Plea

When discussing the question of a food "czar," Mr. Roosevelt said one proponent of this reorganization had related the case of a farmer who was not able to get a freight car he needed for movement of produce.

The President went on to say that it seemed what was wanted was a czar who could tell Joseph B. Eastman (transportation coordinator) that food has got to move before anything else. Pretty soon, he continued, Donald Nelson (chairman of the War Production board) or the Army and Navy might have weapons to move because they were needed at the fighting fronts, but Mr. Eastman would have to tell them they couldn't be transported because all the freight cars were being used by the food czar.

It was obvious, Mr. Roosevelt concluded, how perfectly impossible this would be.

Delegation Meets Byrnes

The House delegation visiting the White House today talked with the President, James F. Byrnes, director of the Office of War Mobilization, and Fred M. Vinson, director of economic stabilization.

Chairman Fulmer (D., S. C.) of the House Agriculture committee, who headed the group, made it plain that they received no encouragement. He said he got the impression that "they want to continue with this experimenting," and added:

"If they want to continue this derned experiment then we'll just have to take some action."

However, he said he had promised Mr. Byrnes he would consult him before taking any action.

Rep. Hope (R., Kan.), ranking minority member of the Agriculture committee, said the White House callers would wait a while and see whether President Roosevelt would carry out their suggestions by executive order.

"We won't introduce the bill for a day or so," he added.

At present responsibility for food production rests with Food Administrator Davis while he and the Office of Price Administration have joint responsibility for fixing farm prices, with the economic stabilization director deciding disputes between them.

Oppose One-Man Control

Mr. Byrnes is understood to contend that pressure for higher prices can be resisted better under the present set-up than if one man had complete authority over all phases of food production and prices.

Mr. Brown's indirect reply to congressional critics of subsidies came in an address to a conference of representatives from the wholesale and retail food trade.

In the price control acts, he said, Congress laid down three principles: That prices to farmers must not be less than parity, that prices be stabilized at the Sept. 15, 1942, level, and that fair margins be provided for processors and middle men.

"With these principles," he continued, "we knew the program could not work out without the employment of government funds, and very wisely it was provided in the act that subsidides could be paid.

"Think of these restrictions again, add them up and you can't come out without subsidies."

Mr. Brown said the OPA's food price controls must work or the nation would suffer a major defeat on the home front. Expressing conviction that they could be made to work, he said OPA had vastly greater powers and greater "know-how" than it possessed a year ago, and proposed to use them.

Senate Battles on Subsidy

The subsidy battle spread to the Senate floor today with charges that the rollback in retail meat prices is "completely demoralizing the market."

Senator Wherry (R-Neb) declared producers are being forced to sell cattle at what he called "terrific losses."

Senator Reed (R-Kas) asserted that the price drop was "part of a determined program to wreck the meat producers in this country."

Senator Wherry said meat prices decreased $1 a hundred pounds yesterday, when the rollback went into effect, and continued their decline today.

"Somewhere along the line someone has failed to provide for the subsidy payment to the packer," Senator Wherry said. "He has been forced to pay lower prices for his cattle because he didn't have assurance he would get the subsidy payment."

Senator Reed (R. Kas.) asserted Senate that Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones had informed him that as chairman of the Reconstruction Finance corporation he gave "an absolute guaranty" that packers would be assured of the subsidy today or tomorrow.

Later Secretary Jones announced that regulations would be issued tomorrow for subsidy payments to slaughterers ranging from 0.95 cents to 1.3 cents per pound, live weight, amounting to about 2 cents on dressed carcasses. He said the subsidies would apply on livestock slaughtered beginning June 7, payable monthly to any packer who slaughters 4,000 pounds or more, live weight, per month.

Senator Reed contended that the producer "never will get the money" from subsidy payments.

Both Senator Reed and Senator Clark (D-Mo) said they believed the price control act gave no authority for the payment of subsidies on food products to offset cost increases.

MINERS, OPERATORS FAIL TO SIGN PACT

Pennsylvania Group Unable to Agree, Waits WLB Wage Decision.

WASHINGTON, June 15 — (AP) The Central Pennsylvania Coal Producers association and the United Mine Workers today threw out their agreement on $1.30 a day as portal-to-portal pay. A War Labor board decision, possibly tomorrow, was awaited as the next development on the issue.

Charles O'Neil, president of the producers' association, announced the collapse of efforts to reduce to writing the oral agreement on $1.30 as compensation for the miners' underground travel time. He said the union's position would mean merely the postponement of the issue for one year, whereas the operators wanted a permanent settlement now.

U. M. W. President John L. Lewis would not comment. The U. M. W. policy committee will meet tomorrow.

Mr. O'Neil's group, which withdrew from the Appalachian joint wage conference last week thus was back on the same footing as the other operators. He advised the War Labor board that the central Pennsylvania producers awaits its decision.

Mr. O'Neil told WLB Chairman William H. Davis that the producers took the position the payment of $1.30 a day for travel time should release them from all claims for such travel time prior to April 1; that is, the miners, as a union and individually, would not demand, or sue for, retroactive pay. He said the U.M.W. refused to agree.

Some War Labor board members are understood to take the view that the question whether travel time is working time under the Fair Labor Standards act is a litigatable issue which can be settled only by the courts, unless the parties agree to a full out-of-court settlement that does not violate the wage stabilization program.

HIGHER TAXES IN 1944 IS PLAN

Democratic Congressional Leaders Hold Conference With Morgenthau

Doughton Says New Rates Will Not Affect Payments This Year

JUN 16 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 15—Governmental machinery began rolling today toward greater wartime taxes, but Democratic Congressional leaders gave assurances that no additional burden would be placed this year upon income taxpayers, either individuals or corporations.

JUN 16 1943

JUN 16 1943

30.24-5029

The leaders, in a conference with Treasury Secretary Morgenthau, took a stand against retroactive taxes, and some legislators expressed doubt that Congress would be able to raise all the $16,000,000,000 additional revenues requested by President Roosevelt.

Emerging from the conference, Chairman Doughton (D., N. C.) of the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee, announced that a new tax law probably would be written this fall.

Against Retroactive Taxes

Significantly, however, he added that the major provisions of such legislation would not become effective before January 1.

"There is definite sentiment against retroactive tax laws," he said.

Under President Roosevelt's recommendation that $16,000,000,000 additional be raised in the next twelve months through new taxes and compulsory savings, Federal revenues in the fiscal year beginning July 1 would be lifted to approximately $50,000,000,000.

The conference in Morgenthau's office was attended by Doughton, Chairman George (D., Ga.) of the Senate Finance Committee, Senator Byrd (D., Va.), and ranking Democratic members of the House Ways and Means Committee, Representatives Cooper, of Tennessee, and Disney, of Oklahoma.

To Hold Hearings Later

Doughton said:

"It was agreed that every reasonable effort would be made to enact a tax bill this year, the main provisions of which would not be effective before January 1, 1944.

"Immediate discussion will take place with the Ways and Means Committee with a view to having hearings about two weeks before Congress reconvenes, if a recess is taken."

He called the committee to meet tomorrow morning.

There was no discussion during the conference of "the amount or manner" of new or additional taxes, Doughton said, but the parley caused a renewal of speculation about the possibility that Congress will consider proposals for a Federal retail sales tax.

Foe Of Sales Tax

The chairman, long-time foe of the sales tax, said he would support such legislation "only as a last resort."

one Representative attending today the idea of a Federal sales tax, and one representative attending today's conference said it was agreed that such a tax could not pass without Administration support.

Some members privately discussed the possibility of raising more revenue through higher income, excise and luxury taxes. It was expected that any increase in excise taxes might become effective immediately upon enactment this fall.

Liquor and cigarettes seemed the likeliest nominees for higher excise rates, since President Roosevelt declared last week that the British had raised the rates on those articles with little apparent effect on consumption.

Bridges Defends Press, Attacks Director of OWI

JUN 16 1943

Senator Charges Effort to Shield 'Mal-Administration' of the New Deal.

WASHINGTON, June 15. — (AP) Senator Bridges (R-NH) said today that Elmer Davis, director of the Office of War Information, is trying "to silence the nation's press to cover sins of mal-administration on the part of the New Deal in the war effort."

In a speech to the Senate, Senator Bridges replied to Mr. Davis' remarks yesterday that Washington news coverage was inadequate. Mr. Davis, addressing a convention of the American Newspaper Guild in Boston, contended that Washington newsmen were missing the biggest story of the war—America's production record—and were playing up the bickering between government agencies.

Calls Work Outstanding

"The men and women who report the activities of Congress, who write the news of our nation, of wartime Washington, of the war in general, are to be commended, not criticized, for their outstanding effort, their masterful accomplishment of a difficult task," said Senator Bridges.

"Perhaps," he added, Mr. Davis' "real objection is that they have uncovered some news about Washington which does not look too well outside of Washington.

"Nowhere can be found a more loyal group of American citizens than the men and women who today report the news of this nation for the great wire services and the many newspapers both large and small.

Attacks New Deal

"Elmer Davis as director of the Office of War Information now seeks to silence the nation's press to cover sins of mal-administration on the part of the New Deal in the war effort . . .

"By his unwarranted attack upon the press, by his attack upon these newspapermen and women, Davis has incapacitated himself to further hold the office to which he was appointed by President Roosevelt.

"Now after repeated bunglinf, after being compelled to admit certain material issued by his office has been improper politically, Mr. Davis finds recourse in seeking to smear Washington correspondents and the press in general. He seeks to make this country believe the unbiased news reports from Washington of faulty administration on the home-front, of OPA, of foodstuffs, of rationing are so much bunk.

"Well, I know it isn't bunk. So do you. We all know it is the truth. The truth reported by the talented and able men and women.

"Mr. Davis finds his own answer in the repeated juggling and shifting of bureaucrats from one alphabetical hodge-podge to another each time public opinion catches up with the failure of the previous agency.

Offers No Substitute

"What Mr. Davis would offer in the place of what he terms an 'inadequate press' he does not make clear.

"Surrender the free press as it exists in America and surrender everything our men and women are fighting for. Surrender the free press and the people become dependent upon the growing collection of misfits, political hirelings and radical journalists assembled in the OWI.

"The Washington correspondents are doing a good job. They know how to write unbiased news stories without being told what to do by some governmental agency.

"OWI, itself, has prevented industry from telling the full story of production; just as it has prevented the truth from being told in Washington when the people had the right to know the truth.

"For the good of the country I believe the OWI, its policies and its personnel should be thoroughly investigated.

"This will give Mr. Davis an opportunity to explain in detail wherein the news services are inadequate or have fallen down."

Attacks Davis

Rep. Short (R-Mo) told the House that "it has become increasingly evident" that Mr. Davis "now conceives his real title to be that of American propaganda minister."

"There is no room for such a minister in this country," said Rep. Short in a prepared speech, "and it is time for Mr. Davis to return to the left wing political activities from which President Roosevelt brought him into the government."

Rep. Short reported that Mr. Davis' office last year spent $38,000,000 and was seeking approximately $47,000,000 for the next fiscal year, in contrast to $4,500,000 spent for war information during the last year.

"Why we have to have such a vast sum to dish out propaganda is more than I can understand," he said.

House Majority Leader McCormack (D-Mass) rose to declare that propaganda had become "part of the over-all war," and essential to combat that issued by the Axis.

Rep. Short declared that "the OWI has exposed its hand in the smearing attack in Boston yesterday on the Washington correspondents corps and upon newspapers generally by Elmer Davis."

With the appropriation for OWI due to reach the House floor within a few days, Rep. Short called for a "full and complete investigation" on what OWI is doing to "intimidate" the press, radio and movies.

He said that before Congress voted funds, it should ascertain also the "extent to which Mr. Davis is attempting to control dissemination" of news.

RAILWAY SPAN BOMBED

NEW DELHI, June 15. — (AP) American medium bombers continued to hammer at Japanese communication lines in Burma yesterday, scoring hits and near misses on the railroad bridge over the Mu river west of Legyi, a communique of the 10th United States Air Force announced today.

Another formation of B-25's attacked railway shops at Maymyo, destroying buildings in the target area, the bulletin said. All American planes were reported to have returned safely.

CRITICAL FOOD SETUP FEARED

Agriculturalists, Economists Advocate Change In Nation's Diet

JUN 16 1943

[By the Associated Press]

New York, June 15—Critical food shortages, caused by a combination of war circumstances, were foreseen today by agriculturalists and economists who advocated a change in the nation's diet and an end of the Govermnent's control programs to ease the situation.

W. I. Myers, Cornell University economist, called for a reduction in meat consumption by civilians and an increase in the consumption of wheat, soybeans, corn and dried peas and beans.

Speaking at the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association food forum, Myers said that by "direct consumption"—feeding the crops to live stock—as much as eighty-four per cent. of the food energy was lost.

Would Eliminate Control

In outlining a "realistic wartime food program," Myers advised the elimination of all Government control programs and payments restricting the production of essential crops; establishment of prices for essential foods well in advance of planting and breeding season and an increase in the production of all important food crops.

Another speaker, J. A. McConnell, of the Cooperative Grange League Federation Exchange, Ithaca, N. Y., asserted that the shortage of live-stock feed had been estimated at from fifteen to twenty-five per cent. and predicted that "fairly heavy killing—particularly of heavy grain-consuming animals such as poultry and hogs—will take place."

Fred H. Sexauer, president of the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association, said, however, that "the food scarcities of today are going to be minor compared to what we shall face before the war is over" when there is a need to feed nations made hungry by the war.

Seek N. Y. Administrator

As the entire subject of food was opened up at the forum, there were reports of a meat shortage in New York city, but many butchers quickly denied them saying they had sufficient supplies to cover red ration coupons.

(Continued on Page 11, Column 2)

Spokesmen for the Food Distribution Administration and the Office of Price Administration asserted that the meat situation was not so serious as tradesmen had claimed.

Independent meat packers supplying the city announced, however, that they would ask Mayor F. H. LaGuardia to appoint a city food administrator.

Committee Appointed

Later Mayor LaGuardia announced he had appointed an advisory committee of meat-industry members, adding that he planned formation of other similar committees for other phases of the food industry.

The purpose of the meat-industry committee, he said, "is to obtain the real facts and make a real approach to the situation so that I may present, as occasion arises, definite complaints and definite recommendations to the highest officials in Washington, and if necessary to Congress itself."

"Once enforceable regulations of the OPA and the War Food Administration make it possible to get supplies at city prices," he said after the new committee's initial meeting, "we can absolutely guarantee to police the industry and drive out even a semblance of a black market."

Asked if he contemplated appointment of a city food administrator, LaGuardia replied:

"What could he do? We want food, not speeches. There are too many speeches now, and I am making too many myself."

Myers said the basic reason for the present food problem was that for more than twenty years prior to the war, Food production in the nation had not kept pace with the population.

"The present demoralized food situation with widespread shortages and black market is in part the result of overemphasis on Government price control as the principal means of controlling inflation," Myers said.

"Another factor contributing to the present food shortage is that the steps taken by the Government to increase production have merely been added to agricultural programs established during the thirties and designed to restrict production in a period of low prices and widespread unemployment.

Says OPA Has Failed

"In addition, these measures to increase production were administered by an organization whose employes were training to carry out this program of limiting production."

As Myers attacked this phase of Government administration, Paul S. Willis, president of the Associated Grocery Manufacturers of America, told the 300 delegates at the forum that the OPA's price-control plan has failed miserably."

"Only basic foods required for the maintenance of health should be controlled," Willis said. "Let's forget about ceilings on luxury items."

Gen. Royce Says Bombing Can Conquer Germany

By the Associated Press.

MITCHEL FIELD, N. Y., June 15.—Maj. Gen. Ralph Royce, commanding general of the 1st Air Force, declared yesterday [illegible] win the peace by bombi[illegible] many."

"I firmly believe," Gen. Royce said in an interview, "that the more we can destroy Germany from the air before the war ends, the better will be our chances for a lasting peace.

Gen. Royce, a veteran flyer, now charged with the direction of the aerial defense of the entire East Coast, said the German Luftwaffe, despite the punishment it has taken in Europe, could still launch raids on Eastern Seaboard cities, with some chances of success.

Premier Bans Debate To Rush War Plans Through Jap Diet

Radio Talk Reveals Some Nipponese Are Tired of Struggle

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 15.—The Japanese Diet organized for a three-day session today to rubber stamp legislation decided upon by Premier Hideki Tojo and the Imperial Rule Assistance Association, after the people had been prepared for increased hardships by an intensive propaganda campaign.

JUN 16 1943

Tokio broadcasts recorded by the Federal Communications Commission said that Tojo would appear before the Diet tomorrow and that the legislators would not be permitted to ask questions.

"Measures will be approved and made into laws by the final day of the Diet session on June 18," Radio Tokio said.

Approximately 1,800,000,000 yen will be asked for the Commerce and Industry Ministry, including a 420,000,000-yen subsidy for rice growers. The government plans a 21,860,000,000-yen bond issue including 3,519,000,000 for roads and 17,163,000,000 for "special military emergency expenditures," the Tokio radio said. The yen is not quoted on foreign exchanges but has been nominally worth about 23 cents.

Among the broadcasts preparing the people was one last week by Dr. Hiroshi Shimomura, who often speaks for the Premier.

"Not only in our nation, but throughout the world, I think many are complaining now that the war is too long prolonged and our living conditions are exposed to menace, inconvenience and difficulties," he said. "Some are saying we have had enough of war and that the war should be stopped by this time. * * * If we keep on with the conditions we have at present, it will be wonderful. But it is too good to be true."

The House of Peers re-elected Prince Kuniyuki Tokugawa as general chairman. Count Hitotaro Hayashi was chosen chairman of the Budget Committee and Baron Kozo Kawasaki was named vice chairman. The lower house installed Tadahiko Okado as speaker and sent emissaries to advise Tojo that the Diet was organized. Tojo then informed the Emperor and obtained a rescript setting tomorrow as the opening day for business.

WIFE OF MD. GOVERNOR LOSES GASOLINE RATION

BALTIMORE, June 15.—(AP) A special panel of inquiry ruled tonight that Mrs. Herbert R. O'Conor, wife of Maryland's governor, had improperly used occupational gasoline rations on a trip to South Carolina in a state-owned automobile and revoked both the C book for that vehicle and a second one obtained "through error" for her personal automobile.

The panel, headed by Judge Emory H. Niles, chairman of the Baltimore War Price and Rationing board, also suspended for a three-month period the A ration card of Mrs. O'Conor's personal automobile.

LIBERTY SHIP LAUNCHED

BALTIMORE, June 15 — (AP) The launching of the S.S. "John A. Donald" marked today the completion of the 153rd Liberty ship at Bethlehem-Fairfield shipyards.

General Lee Hurt Landing By Glider With Troops

Wheels Fail to Drop and Craft Cracks Up on Maneuvers

WITH THE 2D ARMY IN TENNESSEE, June 15 (AP).—Major General William C. Lee, commander of an air-borne infantry division, was injured this morning in the crack-up of a glider in which he was landed with his troops.

The accident occurred about three and a half miles from Lafayette, Tenn., during a maneuver problem involving landing of troops by both parachute and glider. There were approximately forty gliders used and the one in which General Lee and ten other officers and enlisted men were riding failed to drop its wheels and was demolished as it struck rough ground.

First examination indicated that the general probably had fractured some ribs and was severely shaken up, but he did not appear to be critically injured. He was taken to an evacuation hospital. No one else was reported injured.

Last week, General Lee, leading his division in the first participation of a full air-borne division in field maneuvers, made the first parachute landing with his men. It was his first jump since he injured his back in a parachute landing more than a year ago. Today he joined in the first use of the gliders in which part of his command is transported.

West Indies Workers Arrive

400 Reach Jersey Farm-Labor Shortage Area, First of 1,700

UPPER DARBY, Pa., June 15 (AP).—Four hundred West Indies laborers arrived today in Southern New Jersey labor-shortage areas, first of 1,700 due in the northeast during the next five days, the regional office of the Farm Security Administration announced today.

The F. S. A. transporting the workers and housing them in shortage areas, said New York State will receive 200 for the Hudson Valley, 250 for the northwest lakeshore area and 325 for Long Island while Portland, Conn., will get 55 and Maryland 500 for Pocomoke and Vienna. All are from Jamaica except the Maryland group, from the Bahamas.

Pro-Jap Group Fined, 2 Leaders Sentenced

East St. Louis, Ill., June 15 (AP)—Convicted of violations of the Wartime Sedition Act and the selective service law, the Pacific Movement of the Eastern World was fined and two Negro leaders sentenced to prison today in Federal District Court.

Judge Fred L. Wham, who by agreement heard the case without a jury, sentenced David D. Erwin, 42-year-old adviser of the pro-Japanese organization, to four years and General Lee Butler, 44, the movement's president, to two years on each of the two counts of sedition and conspiracy. The terms will run concurrently.

He fined the movement $1,000.

Roosevelt Boy Cleared

Shooting of Playmate by Grandson of President Found Accidental

NORRISTOWN, Pa., June 15 (AP).—William Donner Roosevelt, ten-year-old son of Colonel Elliot Roosevelt and grandson of the President, was exonerated by a Montgomery County coroner's jury today in the fatal shooting June 6 of his playmate, Lewis Hutchinson jr., eleven, of Ardmore.

Young Hutchinson was killed by a .22-caliber bullet fired from a rifled in the hands of the Roosevelt boy. Coroner Winslow J. Rushong said evidence and statements by young Roosevelt showed the shooting was purely "accidental."

12 OF BRITISH FAMILY KILLED IN WAR ACTIONS

PITTSFIELD, Mass., June 15. —(AP) British Able Seaman Thomas Hamilton, 22, has lost all 12 members of his family since he joined His Majesty's fleet a month after Hitler invaded Poland.

Visiting friends here, he explained today that a twin brother fell at Dunkirk; another brother, a flier, was killed over Berlin, and the remainder of the family — father, mother, eight brothers and sisters —were killed when German bombs struck Middleborough, near Newcastle, England.

2 BOMBERS CRASH KILLING 19 FLIERS

JUN 16 1943

One of Crewmen Parachutes to Safety, Witness to Tragedy Reports.

CARRIZOZO, N. M., June 15 — (AP) Two large Army bombers collided and crashed today in the White mountains of south central New Mexico, killing 19 airmen, Sheriff A. K. Stover reported.

One crewman parachuted safely.

The scene of the crash, about 500 yards from a road, was within seven miles of the resort town of Ruidoso in the Lincoln National forest.

Sheriff Stover, who left immediately for the scene, received the report from an eye-witness, William Ferguson, a rancher of this section, who with his wife and daughter were visiting near where the planes crashed early today. One of the planes burst into flames.

Army ground parties were on the scene but official announcement concerning the accident was withheld pending notification of next of kin of the casualties.

The sheriff reported that Ferguson talked to the survivor, but did not obtain his name.

Extended Sea Battle Balked Jap Attempt To Aid Kiska, Attu

Daylight Torpedo Thrust By 3 Destroyers Freed Navy Force From Trap

By the Associated Press.

JUN 16 1943

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15.—It was in perhaps the longest sea battle of the war and against overwhelming odds that American naval forces fought off Japanese attempts to reinforce Attu and Kiska and blasted its way out of a trap in a daring daylight torpedo attack, the 12th Naval District disclosed yesterday.

The action was reported several weeks ago off the Aleutians. Yesterday's story paid particular tribute to the lead destroyer of the three, which, with the help of an American heavy cruiser, put to flight enemy destroyers, two heavy cruisers, two light cruisers and two transports or cargo ships.

The destroyers streaked in under big Japanese guns for the torpedo kill after the American force was trapped between the Japanese and nearby islands.

Jap Cruisers Struck.

The American cruiser walloped one of the Japanese cruisers at the start of the battle. The lead destroyer, eyewitness accounts said, hit an enemy light cruiser with a salvo and put a torpedo into another heavy one under "an appalling volume of fire."

Lt. Comdr. James M. Clute of Richmond, Staten Island, N. Y., the destroyer's executive officer, said the "continuous slugging match," from 7:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m., possibly set a record in length, and that the fact "we could make all the speed we wanted to probably saved us."

He paid high tribute to the American cruiser which "fought off the two Japanese heavies" and itself was hit. He told of receiving orders to lead the bold, daylight torpedo attack after the United States force had been trapped. The destroyers waded in from 25,000 yards.

After torpedoes had been launched, the two big Japanese ships turned and ran. Five persons were killed and five wounded on teh destroyer leader, which made its base after a "pretty miserabel trip" with no lights, no heat and no fresh water.

Destroyer Recognized.

The destroyer was greeted with a mark of high esteem when it arrived. The skipper of the heavy cruiser had posted an order that "if the (destroyer) wants anything, give it to them. If you don't have it, go get it. If you can't get it, make it."

Roy Jones of Clifton Forge, Va., fire controlman, 2d class, said of the battle that the Japanese kept "coming like termites and I figure I just ain't coming back. * * * When a heavy cruiser fires a full salvo and they're coming right at you, they look pretty big."

The ship's medical officer, Lt. Richard S. Meredith of New York City, said his practice before entering the Navy was limited to obstetrics, "but I have very little use for that specialty now." Flying splinters from a whaleboat first notified him his ship was hit.

FIVE ARMY FLYERS DIE IN PLANE CRASH

Monroe, La., June 15 (A. P.).—Two officers and three aviation cadets attached to Selman Field here were killed yesterday when their navigation training plane exploded and crashed four miles north of Hammond, La. The dead were listed as:

GROSSMAN, ALVIN R., second lieutenant, the pilot; next of kin, Robert A. Grossman, brother, of Hillside, N. J.

DABROWSKI, STANLEY P., second lieutenant, navigation instructor; next of kin, Mrs. Genevieve Dabrowski, mother, of 147-18 Brinkerhoff avenue, Jamaica, N. Y.

CONWAY, FRANCIS G., aviation cadet; next of kin, Mrs. Jane Conway, mother, of 4683 Park avenue, New York city.

COOPER, RAFEL L., aviation cadet; next of kin, Mrs. E. Cooper, wife, formerly of Elmont, Ala.

COOPER, ROBERT E., aviation cadet; next of kin, Glenn E. Cooper, father, of Chillicothe, Ill.

Sarasota, Fla., June 15 (A. P.).—A New York city Army flyer was killed in a plane crash near here, the Sarasota Army Air Field public relations office announced today. He was Second Lieut. Richard Walsh Stone, 21 years old, of Clifton, Staten Island.

Lieut. Stone was attached to the Pinellas Army Air Base at St. Petersburg, and was killed when a trainer plane cracked up on Longboat Key, west of the Sarasoat field, last Friday. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Stone, live at 125 Townsend avenue, Clifton.

Fort Sill, Okla., June 15 (A. P.).—Second Lieut. Dominick J. Germano, 27 years old, of New York city, died yesterday of injuries received in a plane crash. His plane crashed on a training flight.

Lieut. Germano was a member of the pilot class of the Air Training Field Artillery School. His wife, Mrs. Rosanne B. Germano of 64 West 192d street, the Bronx, survives.

Sioux City, Iowa, June 15 (A. P.).—Army air base officials today announced the names of the eleven airmen killed on Sunday when two four-engined bombers collided near Howard, S. D. The officials said all the victims were aboard the one bomber. The list of dead included:

O'CONNELL, JAMES H., second lieutenant; 21 years old, Manhasset, N. Y., navigator.

PACKER, SIDNEY S., sergeant; 23, Brooklyn, radio operator.

Camp Campbell, Ky., June 15. —The names of six Army flyers, two from New York, who were killed when a bomber crashed near Luray, S. C., on the night of June 10, were announced here today after the next of kin had been notified. The New York men were listed as:

LEVIN, MELVIN E., First Lieut., pilot, 8784 165th street, Jamaica.

McCARTY, JAMES P., Second Lieut., co-pilot, 20 Grant ave., E. Rockaway, N. Y.

Quonset Point, R. I., June 15 (A. P.).—A British flyer was in a critical condition today after his single-seater plane had crashed at the naval air station here yesterday, detonating the bomb which it carried and setting off other explosives on the ground. Three men standing near the spot where the plane fell suffered minor injuries, among them Gunner's Mate Third Class Joseph Francis Little of 170 West 85th street.

Last Two German Fugitives Captured

Temple, Tex., June 15 (A. P.). —The last two German prisoners of war who escaped from Camp Hood, Texas, were captured last night at Cedar Park, Texas, officials at the camp announced.

The other three prisoners were captured last Wednesday, the same day they escaped.

JUN 16 1943

30.24-5031

AP SPECIAL BUDGET FOR PMS

THE WAR TODAY

(WHILE DEWITT MACKENZIE IS ON VACATION, THIS DAILY COLUMN IS BEING WRITTEN BY MAX HILL, FORMER CHIEF OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS BUREAU IN TOKYO.)

---

JUN 16 1943

BY MAX HILL

THE AXIS FINALLY IS FEELING THE FULL IMPACT OF AMERICA'S TREMENDOUS PLANE PRODUCTION, BOTH ON LAND AND AT SEA, AFTER MONTHS OF DELAYS WHICH SEEM INHERENT IN A DEMOCRACY.

AND IT MUST COME AS QUITE A SHOCK TO THE HITLER-MUSSOLINI-TOJO COMBINE THAT THE UNITED NATIONS NOW HAVE AWAKENED TO THE CREDO EXPRESSED SO APTLY BY A JAPANESE WHEN HE WAS CRITICISED FOR THE TACTICS OF THE RISING SUN ARMY IN CHINA.

THIS JAPANESE SAID TARTLY, AND WITH EVIDENT SCORN TOWARD HIS INTERROGATOR'S ATTITUDE:

"NOBODY EVER HAS DISCOVERED A POLITE WAY TO KILL A MAN."

OUR AIR POWER VIRTUALLY UNAIDED BROUGHT ABOUT THE SURRENDER OF THE THREE ITALIAN ISLANDS IN THE MEDITERRANEAN--PANTELLERIA, LAMPEDUSA AND LINOSA--BUT MOST QUALIFIED OBSERVERS ARE CONVINCED THIS WILL NOT BE THE CASE WITH GERMANY AND ITALY PROPER.

HISTORY BACKS THEM UP, AND IN SOME INSTANCES BOMBING HAS HAD AN EFFECT COMPLETELY THE REVERSE OF THE ONE DESIRED. BRITAIN'S RESISTANCE WAS STIFFENED, NOT BROKEN, BY APPROXIMATELY NINE MONTHS OF STEADY RAIDS.

ONE OF THE REASONS THE SPANISH REPUBLICANS FOUGHT SO FEROCIOUSLY AROUND BARCELONA WAS THE DEVASTATING AND CONSTANT BOMBING OF THAT C ITY.

"WE'LL SHOOT DOWN EVERY PLANE THAT COMES OVER, AND IF WE RUN OUT OF AMMUNITION WE WILL REACH OUT WITH OUR BARE HANDS AND PULL THEM DOWN," ONE INFURIATED SOLDIER EXCLAIMED TO AN AMERICAN CORRESPONDENT. NATURALLY HE EXAGGERATED, BUT IT WAS HIS SPIRIT WHICH COUNTED.

HOW ARE WE TO KNOW, THEN, TO WHAT FURY AND WHAT HATRED THE CURRENT BOMBINGS OF GERMANY MAY AROUSE THE NAZIS?

THERE IS ANOTHER PHASE WHICH ENTERS SERIOUSLY INTO THE QUESTION OF MASS BOMBING OF THE EUROPEAN CONTINENT. WE LOST 26 FORTRESSES SUNDAY, AND THE BRITISH LOST 24 BOMBERS SATURDAY. UNTIL A MORE SPECIFIC ANNOUNCEMENT OF DAMAGE DONE IS RELEASED IT CANNOT BE SAID ACCURATELY WHETHER THE RAIDS WERE WORTH THE COST OF ALMOST 500 SKILLED AND PATIENTLY TRAINED MEN AND MILLIONS OF DOLLARS WORTH OF FLYING EQUIPMENT.

JUN 16 1943

A VETERAN AIRMAN ONCE SAID TO ME: "I'M ALWAYS SKEPTICAL OF THESE RAIDS WHICH END WITH THE ANNOUNCEMENT, 'ALL OF OUR PLANES RETURNED SAFELY.' THAT MEANS ONE OF TWO THINGS. EITHER THE PLANES WERE FLYING SO HIGH ACCURATE BOMBING WAS IMPOSSIBLE OR THEY FAILED TO REACH THEIR OBJECTIVE."

NOW, THAT IS A CALLOUS ATTITUDE, BUT UNDOUBTEDLY A CORRECT ONE. THE BOMBERS SATURDAY AND SUNDAY MUST HAVE GONE IN LOW OVER THEIR TARGETS, PERHAPS AS LOW AS 2,000 OR 3,000 FEET, AND AT SUCH AN ALTITUDE THEY WERE EXTREMELY VULNERABLE TO ACK-ACK FIRE.

THIS HEAVY LOSS MIGHT INDICATE, ALSO, THAT THE GERMANS HAVE FOUND A WAY TO STRENGTHEN THEIR DEFENSES. IT IS KNOWN THEY HAVE RADAR TO GUIDE THEIR FIRE, AND SOME REPORTS HAVE IT THAT ACCURATE GUNNERY IS

JUN 16 1943

NOW POSSIBLE UP TO 30,000 FEET, SO HIGH THE PILOTS CAN'T EVEN SEE THE EARTH.

A LESS PUBLICIZED BUT JUST AS IMPORTANT PHASE IN OUR AIR POWER IS THE WORK BEING DONE BY PATROLS OVER THE ATLANTIC. THE DANGER SPOT IN THE MID ATLANTIC IS NOW FAR BETTER PATROLLED, BOTH IN THE AIR AND ON THE SEA, THAN IT WAS A FEW MONTHS AGO.

AN INDICATION OF HOW SUCCESSFUL THIS WORK REALLY IS CAME WITH AN OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT THAT NO WESTERN ATLANTIC MERCHANT SHIP SINKINGS WERE REPORTED LAST WEEK FOR THE FIRST TIME SINCE FEB. 15, 1943.

JUN 16 1943

WE STILL HAVE A LONG WAY TO GO, HOWEVER, BEFORE WE CAN EVEN SUGGEST THAT THE SUBMARINE MENACE HAS BEEN ELIMINATED, BUT COMPETENT NAVAL MEN SUCH AS ADMIRAL KING HAVE HINTED RECENTLY THAT WE HAVE SOME NEW DEVICE WHICH WILL CUT LOSSES DOWN TO AN EVEN LOWER LEVEL.

THAT IS NOT PLEASANT NEWS TO THE ALREADY BELEAGURED AXIS.

LONDON, JUNE 16 (AP) - AERIAL

RAF FIGHTERS ALSO CARRIED OUT INTRUDER PATROLS OVER THE CONTINENT, IT WAS DISCLOSED WITH THE ANNOUNCEMENT THAT AN ENEMY PLANE HAD BEEN SHOT DOWN OVER ITS BASE IN DENMARK DURING THE NIGHT.

MEANTIME XXX 2ND PGH

KK129AEW

AN AIR MINISTRY COMMUNIQUE TONIGHT SAID FIGHTERS AND FIGHTER BOMBERS LASHED OUT AT SHIPPING OFF CHERBOURG PENINSULA AND RAILWAY TARGETS NEAR DIEPPE. TWO BRITISH PLANES WERE MISSING.

CANADIANS FLYING WITH THE RAF SAID OBERHAUSEN WAS BLASTED ACCURATELY AND HEAVILY WITH BLOCK-BUSTERS AND INCENDIARIES, STARTING GREAT FIRES IN THAT FIFTH MOST IMPORTANT INDUSTRIAL RUHR CENTER.

FLYING OFFICER KEN INGRAM, A NAVIGATOR, SAID THERE WERE DOZENS OF EXPLOSIONS FROM BLOCK-BUSTERS BUT "WE KIDN'T HAVE MUCH TIME TO LOOK AROUND, AS IT WAS PLENTY HOT."

ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE WAS HEAVY AND ENEMY FIGHTERS WERE PLENTIFUL IN THE BRIGHT MOONLIGHT, THE CANADIANS SAID. SOME DESCRIBED IT AS HEAVY AS ANY THEY HAD PREVIOUSLY ENCOUNTERED IN THE RUHR, AND OTHERS AS THE HEAVIEST THEY EVER HAD SEEN.

JUN 16 1943

LONDON, WEDNESDAY JUNE 16-(AP)-THE NAZIS CONFESSED TODAY THEY HAD SUFFERED A CRUSHING DEFEAT AT THE HANDS OF THE ITALIANS--IN FOOTBALL.

A GERMAN BROADCAST, RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, REPORTED THAT THE ITALIAN ARMY ELEVEN HAD TROUNCED THE TEAM OF THE GERMAN AIR FORCE AT CREMONA.

THE FINAL SCORE WAS NOT ANNOUNCED.

LONDON, WEDNESDAY JUNE 16-(AP)-ITALIAN PRAISE WAS BESTOWED TODAY UPON THE GOATS OF LINOSA FOR WHAT A ROME BROADCASTER TERMED THEIR FIERCE RESISTANCE TO THE ALLIES CAPTURING THE LITTLE SICILIAN STRAITS ISLAND.

JUN 16 1943

SAID THE VOICE:

"THE BRITISH TRIED TO CAPTURE THE ISLAND, ON SEVERAL OCCASIONS SENDING LANDING PARTIES. THEY FAILED BECAUSE THE FIERCE ISLAND GOATS DROVE THEM OUT EVERY TIME.

"IN THE END A BRITISH MIDSHIPMAN SWAM ASHORE AND CUT THE ANIMALS' THROATS WHILE THEY WERE ASLEEP."

JUN 16 1943

30.24-5033

THE ANNOUNCER, FABIO MASSIMO, WHOSE VERSION OF THE EVENT WAS RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, SAID NOTHING OF THE CAPTURE OF PANTELLERIA, A SISTER ISLAND, WHERE MORE THAN 10,000 ITALIANS THREW IN THE SPONGE WITHOUT ARGUING WITH ALLIED LANDING FORCES.

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 16-(AP)-THE GERMAN RADIO WENT OFF THE AIR AT 1:20 A.M. BRITISH WAR TIME (7:20 P.M. E.W.T.) TUESDAY IN THE MIDDLE OF A BROADCAST. THIS IS USUALLY AN INDICATION THE RAF IS ATTACKING OBJECTIVES IN GERMANY.

JUN 16 1943

LONDON, WEDNESDAY JUNE 16-(AP)-INDICATIONS CAME FROM SEVERAL SOURCES TODAY THAT GRAND ADMIRAL KARL DOENITZ, WHOM ADOLF HITLER ELEVATED TO HEAD THE NAZI NAVY AND WHO BOASTED HE WOULD HOLD OFF THE ALLIES WITH SUBMARINE WARFARE, HAS FALLEN FROM GRACE.

A TASS DISPATCH FROM STOCKHOLM, BROADCAST BY THE MOSCOW RADIO AND RECORDED BY THE SOVIET MONITOR, SAID THAT OPPOSITION TO DOENITZ WAS GROWING AMONG GERMAN NAVAL OFFICERS. A FEW DAYS AGO REAR ADMIRAL GADOW, NAVAL COMMENTATOR, WROTE IN THE DEUTSCHE ALLGEMEINE ZEITUNG THA "ONE COULD NEVER HOPE THAT SUBMARINE WARFARE COULD SETTLE THE OUTCOME OF THE WAR," THE DISPATCH SAID.

A DAILY SKETCH COLUMNIST REPORTED FROM GERMAN UNDERGROUND SOURCES THAT THE GERMAN ARMAMENTS COUNCIL WAS THREATENING TO STOP THE RAW MATERIAL PRIORITY TO SUBMARINE YARDS UNLESS THE U-BOATS CAN BE PROVED TO BE MORE EFFECTIVE.

THE WRITER SAID DOENITZ HAS BEEN GIVEN A FINAL THREE MONTHS TO PRODUCE THE RESULTS HE PROMISED AND IS WORKING OUT NEW TACTICS.

THE DAILY EXPRESS QUOTED THE VOELKISCHER BEOBACHTER AS ADMITTING THAT U-BOAT LOSSES HAD INCREASED DURING THE PAST MONTHS.

EDITORS:

June 15 (NP)

LONDON-(INSERT SECOND NIGHT LEAD(INVASION) ~~AFTER NINTH GRAPH~~ X X X ~~AND CHIEF OF STAFF.~~

IN AN INTERVIEW WITH FRANK J.OBRIEN OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS AT ANKARA, PREMIER SUKRU SARACOGLU LEFT THE IMPRESSION THAT WITHIN THE FRAMEWORK OF THE ALLIED WAR AND PEACE PLANS, TURKEY IS PLAYING AN IMPORTANT ROLE IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF BALKAN AFFAIRS AND THAT SHE HOPES TO CONTRIBUTE TO THE POST-WAR REORGANIZATION IN THE BALKANS.

THE PREMIER INDICATED THAT THE TURKISH GOVERNMENT WAS IMPRESSED WITH AMERICAN CONDUCT IN THE WAR AND EXPRESSED SURPRISE THAT RECENT EVENTS IN THE MEDITERRANEAN HAD MOVED WITH SUCH SWIFTNESS.

TURKEY WOULD CONTINUE TO MAINTAIN THE STRICTEST VIGILANCE, SARACOGLU SAID.

JUN 16 1943

(LATER, IN A SPEECH TO THE CLOSING SESSION OF THE PEOPLE'S PARTY CONGRESS, BROADCAST BY ANKARA RADIO AND RECORDED BY THE UNITED STATES FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION, SARACOGLU REAFFIRMED THE NATION'S "FIRM POLICIES" OF NEUTRALITY. THE PERILS OF WAR ARE NOT LESSENED OR COMPLETELY PAST, HE ADDED.

(CONCERNING THE UNITED STATES HE SAID "WE FEEL SUCH AFFINITY WITH SOME OF THE DECLARATIONS MADE BY UNITED NATIONS STATESMEN THAT WE MAKE THEM OUR OWN." TURKEY WILL ASSERT ALL ITS STRENGTH TO DO AWAY WITH WAR AFTER THIS ONE IS FINISHED AND "GRANT MEN AND NATION: X X X THE RIGHTS OF EQUALITY AND FREEDOM," HE SAID.

(RUSSIA AND TURKEY "HAVE PROVED TO BE SINCERELY BOUND BY TREATIES" WHILE TREATIES WITH BRITAIN TIE TURKEY AND BRITAIN "FOR MANY YEARS AND WITH FAR-REACHING SCOPE.")

JUN 16 1943

THE GERMAN RADIO REPORTED THAT THE PREMIER SAID TURKEY'S

FRIENDSHIP PACT WITH GERMANY WAS "SHOWN BY EVENTS TO BE IN THE TRUE INTERESTS OF BOTH PARTIES."

LONDON, JUNE 15-(AP)-RAF BOMBERS TURNED THE HEAT ON GERMAN TARGETS AGAIN OVERNIGHT, ADDING DESTRUCTION TO THE DAMAGE WROUGHT BY MORE THAN 6,000 TONS OF EXPLOSIVES DUMPED ON GERMANY BY ALLIED AIRCRAFT SINCE FULL SCALE RENEWAL OF THE AIR OFFENSIVE LAST FRIDAY.

A PRELIMINARY ANNOUNCEMENT TODAY DID NOT DISCLOSE THE OBJECTIVES, THE FOURTH HIT BY THE RAF IN AS MANY NIGHTS.

NAZI HIT-RUN NIGHT RAIDERS LOOSED BOMBS ON SUBURBAN AREAS OF LONDON IN THE FIRST OF TWO BRIEF POST-MIDNIGHT ALERTS, KILLING SEVEN PERSONS AND TRAPPING MANY OTHERS IN THEIR WRECKED HOMES.

JUN 16 1943

HEAVY ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE CAUSED OTHER RAIDERS TO JETTISON THEIR BOMBS IN OPEN FIELDS OUTSIDE THE CITY IN THE RAIDS, SPACED ABOUT AN HOUR APART.

MEANWHILE BRITISH SOURCES DISCLOSED THAT ON RECENT ATTACKS THE GERMANS HAVE BEEN DROPPING "RATTLE BOMBS"--SMALL NINE-INCH AFFAIRS WHICH LOOK LIKE A BABY'S RATTLE AND SPLINTER INTO A HUNDRED SMALL PIECES ON EXPLODING.

BRITISH INTRUDER PLANES KNOCKED DOWN ONE GERMAN PLANE OVER ITS BASE IN HOLLAND, IT WAS ANNOUNCED.

THE TERRIFIC POUNDING THAT THE NAZI HOMELAND IS TAKING WAS INDICATED BY AN UNOFFICIAL ESTIMATE LAST NIGHT THAT SOME 6,000 TONS OF BOMBS OF ALL KINDS HAVE BEEN DROPPED ON VARIOUS TARGETS THERE BY BRITAIN-BASED ALLIED BOMBERS SINCE FRIDAY.

THE RAF'S GREATEST CONCENTRATION OF HEAVY BOMBERS SINCE THE WAR BEGAN ACCOUNTED FOR MORE THAN 2,000 TONS OF THAT TOTAL IN BLASTING DUESSELDORF AND MUENSTER ON FRIDAY NIGHT. THE BRITISH PILED ON AT LEAST 1,750 TONS IN THE BOCHUM RAID SATURDAY NIGHT, IT WAS ESTIMATED, AND ADDED MORE IN THE RHINELAND AREA SUNDAY NIGHT.

AMERICAN HEAVY BOMBER FLEETS BLASTED WILHELMSHAVEN AND CUXHAVEN FRIDAY AND BREMEN AND KIEL SUNDAY IN DAYLIGHT ATTACKS, CONTRIBUTING AN UNANNOUNCED WEIGHT OF EXPLOSIVES.

THE AMERICAN PRECISION BOMBING LADS SCORED AT LEAST A DOZEN HITS ON AND AROUND THE ATLAS WORKS, ONE OF THE LARGEST SHIPYARDS IN BREMEN, RECONNAISSANCE PHOTOGRAPHS DISCLOSED YESTERDAY. FIERCE FIGHTER OPPOSITION DURING THE COMPANION AMERICAN RAID ON KIEL PREVENTED EFFECTIVE USE OF THE CAMERAS.

JUN 16 1943

THE TWO ATTACKS COST THE AMERICANS 26 BOMBERS FOR THE HEAVIEST LOS YET ENCOUNTERED IN A SINGLE SALLY. A SPOKESMAN FOR THE EIGHTH U.S. AIR FORCE SAID THE ENEMY PUT INTO THE AIR ALL TYPES OF FIGHTERS.

LONDON, JUNE 15-(AP)- PILOT OFFICER R.R.TARVIN OF MICHIGAN AND HIS OBSERVER ON A RCAF BEAUFIGHTER HAVE BEEN RESCUED AFTER TWO NIGHTS AND TWO DAYS IN A DINGHY AT SEA, IT WAS ANNOUNCED TODAY.

TARVIN, REPORTED MISSING WHILE ON RECONNAISSANCE, WAS GREETED ON HIS RETURN BY AN OLD SCHOOLMATE, PILOT OFFICER JOEL BROOKS MANN, OF ROUTE 7, DOWAGIAC, MICH., WHO HAD JUST ARRIVED FOR DUTY WITH A COASTAL COMMAND SQUADRON.

A RESCUE LAUNCH PICKED UP TARVIN AND HIS COMPANION LITTLE THE WORSE FOR THE EXPERIENCE. (EDS: TARVIN'S ADDRESS UNAVAILABLE)

JUN 16 1943

JUN 16 1943

30.24-5035

BY LEWIS HAWKINS

LONDON--(CORRESPONDENCE OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)--CATCH QUESTION: WHERE DOES THE CHAPLAIN RIDE WHEN HIS UNIT IS MARCHING ACROSS COUNTRY?

JUN 16 1943

ANSWER: HE DOESN'T RIDE. HE WALKS LIKE ALL THE REST OF THE FIELD OFFICERS, RIGHT ALONG WITH THE COLUMNS.

AND THE ONE I TALKED TO IN AN INFANTRY UNIT THAT HAD JUST FINISHED A 20-MILE PULL THROUGH A STEADY RAIN SAID THAT THESE MARCHES -- WET OR DRY -- OFFER THE CHAPLAIN ONE OF HIS FINEST OPPORTUNITIES TO KNOW HIS MEN.

"IN FACT," SAID CHAPLAIN GEORGE R. METCALF, "I FIND THAT ALMOST ALL OF MY REAL WORK FOR AND WITH THE TROOPS IS DONE IN THE FIELD RATHER THAN IN CHAPELS, OR MY QUARTERS, OR EVEN IN HOSPITALS."

THEN, STANDING IN THE RAIN AS THE LAST OF HIS COLUMN MOVED INTO ITS MUDDY BIVOUACK AREA IN A SOUTHERN ENGLISH PASTURE, THE FORMER RECTOR OF FASHIONABLE ST.BARNABAS EPISCOPAL CHURCH AT IRVINGTON-ON-HUDSON, N.Y., TALKED BRIEFLY ABOUT THE "PADRE'S" JOB AS IT IS DONE IN THESE DAYS.

"WHEN YOU MARCH WITH THESE MEN AND SHARE THEIR FIELD DUTIES WITH THEM THEY COME TO REGARD YOU MUCH MORE AS ONE OF THEMSELVES THAN AS A CLERGYMAN WHO PREACHES TO THEM ON SUNDAY OR WHO VISITS THEM WHEN THEY ARE SICK.

"AND YOU GET TO KNOW BETTER WHAT THEY ARE THINKING AND WHAT THEY REALLY BELIEVE THAN YOU EVER COULD BY INTERVIEWING THEM IN YOUR OFFICIAL CAPACITY. IT'S AROUND THE CAMPFIRES AT NIGHT AFTER A MARCH THAT THEY TALK FREELY AND FRANKLY ABOUT THE GIRLS AROUND PICCADILLY AND IT'S THEN THAT THE CHAPLAIN GETS TO KNOW THEM."

"I USUALLY START WITH THE REAR PLATOON IN THE MORNING WHEN WE'RE MARCHING AND WORK FORWARD THROUGH ALL THE PLATOONS -- WHILE I'M FRESH -- THEN I DROP BACK THROUGH THE COLUMN IN THE AFTERNOON CHATTING AND KIDDING WITH THE MEN AS I GO BOTH WAYS. AND I GET CONSIDERABLE KIDDING, TOO, AS I GET TO KNOW THE SOLDIERS BETTER."

HE INTERRUPTED HIS TALKING TO GO WITH CAPTAIN LOUIS M. SILVERSTEIN A DOCTOR FROM BROOKLYN, TO SEE A PRIVATE WHO HAD LIMPED IN BEHIND HIS COLUMN WITH A BADLY CHAFED LEG.

JUN 16 1943

"NOT LONG AGO I WAS DIGGING A SLIT TRENCH AFTER A MARCH WHEN A SOLDIER I KNEW ONLY SLIGHTLY CAME OVER AND ASKED IF HE COULD HELP. OF COURSE, I SAID 'NO, THANKS' BUT WHEN HE INSISTED I REALIZED THERE WAS SOMETHING BEHIND HIS REQUEST SO I LET HIM SET TO DIGGING. THEN, AS HE SHOVELED, HE DIFFIDENTLY UNFOLDED A VERY PERSONAL PROBLEM ON WHICH HE WANTED MY ADVICE AND ONE WHICH HE PROBABLY NEVER WOULD HAVE HAD THE NERVE TO BRING TO ME IN MY QUARTERS OR IN THE CHAPEL. THAT'S THE SORT OF THING I MEAN."

THE YOUNGISH CHAPLAIN HAS THE RANK OF FIRST LIEUTENANT BUT HE MUCH PREFERS TO BE CALLED "CHAPLAIN" OR "PADRE" OR EVEN "SKY PILOT." HE'S BEEN IN THE ARMY SINCE JULY, 1942, AND IS VERY MUCH SOLD ON THE "GI JOES" WITH WHOM HE LIVES SO CLOSELY.

HE'S ANXIOUS -- LIKE ALL UNIFORMED MEN -- TO GET ON WITH THE JOB IN HAND AND HE'S CONVINCED THAT HIS OUTFIT WILL ACQUIT ITSELF AS WELL

JUN 16 1943

IN THE REAL FIGHTING AS IT HAS IN TWO HARD YEARS OF TRAINING.

"OF COURSE, I HOPE TO RETURN EVENTUALLY TO THE CIVILIAN CHURCH. I WAS HAPPY AT ST.BARNABAS -- WHERE YOUR MR. KENT COOPER (ASSOCIATED PRESS GENERAL MANAGER) WAS ONE OF MY PARISHIONERS, BY THE WAY--AND HAD ENJOYED MY WORK AS ASSOCIATE RECTOR AT THE CHURCH OF THE ADVENT IN BOSTON, BUT RIGHT NOW I THINK THIS JOB IS MORE IMPORTANT."

CHAPLAIN METCALF'S WIFE AND THREE CHILDREN ARE LIVING IN ST.PAUL, MINN., AT PRESENT.

LONDON, JUNE 15-(AP)-A GERMAN WAR REPORTER IN A BERLIN RADIO BROADCAST GAVE AN INDICATION TODAY OF THE TREMENDOUS DAMAGE WROUGHT BY ALLIED BOMBS IN THE RUHR AND RHINELAND WITH THESE WORDS:

"EVEN SOLDIERS FROM THE EASTERN FRONT PASS THESE TOWNS IN SILENCE AND BOW TO THE UNIMAGINABLE SUFFERINGS AND SACRIFICES OF THESE PEOPLE,' HE SAID.

JUN 16 1943

HIS REPORT, RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, WAS LABELLED AS COMING FROM THE WESTERN GERMAN "FRONT."

AT A U.S. BOMBER STATION IN ENGLAND, JUNE 15-(AP)-ROBERT G.HODSON OF PROVO, UTAH, CAME TO ENGLAND IN 1938 AS A MORMON MISSIONARY. HE SAID TODAY HE STILL CONSIDERS HIMSELF A MISSIONARY, BUT NOW HE IS SERVING AS PILOT OF THE FLYING FORTRESS "THE GAY CABALLERO."

FIRST LIEUT. HODSON, KNOWN AS "THE FLYING MISSIONARY," HAS SKIPPERED HIS BOMBER ON SEVERAL IMPORTANT RAIDS OVER NAZI-HELD EUROPE. HIS FIRST MISSION WAS THE TOUGHEST. HIS FORT WAS PEPPERED WITH FLAK, BUT NONE OF THE CREW WAS INJURED.

"I DON'T KNOW ANYTHING MORE IMPORTANT TO THE SURVIVAL OF RELIGION THAN THE DEFEAT OF NAZIS," SAID THE SOFT-SPOKEN, TALL AND SLENDER YOUTH, "I WANT TO HELP AND THEN WE MISSIONARIES CAN GO BACK TO OUR JOBS."

BY LEO BRANHAM

AT A UNITED STATES BOMBER STATION IN ENGLAND, JUNE 15-(AP)-AIR CREWMEN SOMETIMES DO SCREWY THINGS WHEN THEIR PRECIOUS OXYGEN SUPPLY FAILS AS THE GIANT BOMBERS ROAR THROUGH THE RARIFIED AIR AT SUB-ZERO TEMPERATURES FOUR OR FIVE MILES HIGH.

TAKE THE CASE OF SERGT. HAROLD E.JARVIS, 20, OF CHARLESTON, W.VA., WAIST GUNNER ON THE FORTRESS "EXCALIBUR," SKIPPERED BY FIRST LIEUT. CLARENCE COVERT OF AUSTIN, TEX.

JUN 16 1943

BEFORE HE REALIZED THE SITUATION, THE FOUR-MINUTE SUPPLY IN JARVIS' "WALK-AROUND" OXYGEN BOTTLE--WHICH HE HAD DONNED TO MOVE MORE FREELY ABOUT THE PLANE--HAD BECOME EXHAUSTED WHILE THE FORTRESS WAS FLYING OVER THE NORTH SEA.

WHEN HE ATTEMPTED TO PLUG BACK INTO THE REGULAR OXYGEN SYSTEM JARVIS DISCOVERED THE HOSE HAD FROZEN TO THE BOTTLE.

"IN A COUPLE OF MINUTES I BEGAN TO GO CUCKOO," JARVIS RELATED. "IT SEEMED I DIDN'T CARE WHAT HAPPENED. INSTINCTIVELY I WANTED TO GET OUT OF THE BOMBER. KORFF (SERGT. ROBERT W.KORFF, 23, OF GLENDALE, CALIF., THE FORTRESS' OTHER WAIST GUNNER) TELLS ME I PUT ON MY PARACHUTE BACKWARDS AND TRIED TO CLIMB OUT THE WAIST WINDOW. IN MY FOGGY MENTAL CONDITION I THOUGHT I COULD GET RELIEF DOWN BELOW.

"IF OL' KORFF HADN'T SOCKED ME I'D BE A DEAD DUCK RIGHT NOW."

"I JUST PULLED HIM BACK INTO THE SHIP, PUT HIM ON THE FLOOR AND SAT ON HIM," KORFF RELATED. "I FORCED A TUBE FROM ANOTHER OXYGEN BOTTLE INTO HIS MOUTH."

WHEN JARVIS WAS REVIVED HE WAS TAKEN TO THE RADIO COMPARTMENT WHERE HE HAD TO REMAIN AS HE WAS TOO WEAK TO PARTICIPATE IN THE ENSUING BATTLE WITH ENEMY FIGHTERS.

JUN 16 1943

FOCKE-WULF'S BEGAN ATTACKING "EXCALIBUR" AS THE BOMBER NEARED THE TARGET. DURING THE ONE-HOUR RUNNING BATTLE KORFF HANDLED THE GUNS IN BOTH WAIST POSITIONS.

"THOSE JERRIES KEPT ME PRETTY BUSY BUT I POURED SOME BEAUTIFUL SHOTS INTO 'EM," HE SAID. "I DON'T KNOW WHETHER I GOT ANY AS I WAS TOO BUSY TO FIND OUT."

THE ONLY ILL-EFFECTS SUFFERED BY JARVIS WAS THE LOSS OF A FEW PIECES OF SKIN WHERE THE METAL CLIP OF HIS OXYGEN TUBE FROZEN TO HIS LIPS.

30.24-5037

BY LEWIS HAWKINS

JUN 16 1943

A RANGER TRAINING BASE IN SCOTLAND--(CORRESPONDENCE OF THE SSOCIATED PRESS)--WELL TOUGHENED YOUNG AMERICANS WITH A MINIMUM OF LUSIONS AND A MAXIMUM OF GUTS ARE COMING OUT OF THE HIGHLANDS IN IZEABLE BUNCHES THESE DAYS, READY IN MIND AND MUSCLE TO BE FIRST SHORE WHEN THE WAR GOES TO HITLER'S EUROPE.

THE HANDFUL OF COMMANDO-TRAINED AMERICAN RANGERS WHO WENT TO IEPPE NOW HAS BEEN MULTIPLED MANY TIMES BY VOLUNTEER CLASSES WHO STILL RAIN BESIDE THE COMMANDOS. THEY ALL ASKED FOR THE RANGER SSIGNMENT ALTHOUGH THEY KNEW THEY WERE IN FOR TRAINING THAT MAY ELL BE THE WORLD'S HARDEST AND THEIR ONLY REWARD A CALL TO MILITARY CHORES THAT ARE AMONG WAR'S MOST DEADLY.

WATCHING THE PRESENT GROUP OF TRAINEES UNDER THE COMMAND OF CAPTAIN LLOYD MARR OF LA MESA, TEXAS, ONE IS IMPRESSED BY THEIR HIGH SPIRITS AND THEIR EAGERNESS.

THE AMERICANS' ACCEPTANCE OF THE TOUGH BRITISH SERGEANT MAJORS WHO DO MOST OF THE TRAINING IS PERHAPS BEST SHOWN BY THE WAY IN WHICH THEY ARE KIDDED BY THEIR CHARGES AND THE WAY IN WHICH THEY RETURN THIS RAILLERY.

ONE OF THE LATTER IS LIKELY TO CALL OUT LOUDLY TO A REPORTER "IF YOU GOT ANY MORE YANKS LIKE THESE, KEEP 'EM HOME. I'VE TRAINED HUNDREDS OF AMERICANS AND THESE ARE THE WORST YET" AND THEN FOLLOW UP BY A QUIET ASIDE TO THE NEWSMAN: "THESE ARE THE GRANDEST BOYS WE'VE HAD. THEY MAY NOT BE PROPER SOLDIERS BY OUR STANDARDS WHEN IT COMES TO SALUTING AND GENERAL DISCIPLINE BUT THEY REALLY HAVE GUTS AND THEY LEARN FAST."

AND AFTER COMPLAINING LOUDLY ABOUT LIMEY WAYS AND LIMEY FOOD, THE AMERICAN TRAINEE, WHEN ASKED IF HIS BRITISH INSTRUCTORS KNOW THEIR STUFF, IS ALMOST CERTAIN TO ANSWER LIKE SERGEANT CHARLES LLOYD OF LANSDALE, MD.: "DO THEY! THEY CAN DO ANYTHING THEY ASK US TO DO AND DO IT BETTER. IN FACT, THEY NEVER ORDER US TO DO ANYTHING UNTIL THEY'VE DONE IT FIRST."

WHILE THEY ARE QUICK TO ACKNOWLEDGE THAT THE OLD COMMANDO NON-COMS AND OFFICERS WHO ARE TRAINING THEM ARE ON THE BALL, THEY'VE NO INFERIORITY COMPLEX ABOUT THE BRITISH LADS WHO ARE TAKING THE SAME COURSE IN THE SAME CAMP ALTHOUGH IN SEPARATE GROUPS.

"WE CAN BEAT THEM ALREADY ON SPEED MARCHES ALTHOUGH THEY HAVE BEEN AT IT LONGER," SAID WILLIAM VANDERVEER OF NUTLEY, N.J., "WE ARE SETTING NEW MARKS FOR 'EM."

JUN 16 1943

JUN 16 1943

JUN 16 1943

AT THIS STAGE OF THE TRAINING, THE SPEED MARCHES WHILE CARRYING ABOUT 20 POUNDS--SEVEN MILES TO BE DONE IN AN HOUR, 12 MILES IN TWO HOURS AND 15 MILES IN TWO AND A HALF HOURS--ARE THE HARDEST PART OF A ROUTINE THAT INCLUDES PERSONAL COMBAT, TOSSING HEAVY LOGS AROUND AND SCALING AND DESCENDING CLIFFS 200 FEET HIGH.

AMERICAN OFFICERS AND MEN ACTUALLY SEEM TO BE DRAWN CLOSER TOGETHER BY THE TRAINING. THIS PROBABLY IS BECAUSE THEY TRAIN TOGETHER AND THUS DEVELOP MORE THAN USUAL RESPECT AND UNDERSTANDING.

THERE ARE THINGS LIKE THE CASE OF LIEUTENANT HAROLD L.BACON, A REDHAIRED MEDICAL OFFICER WHO LEFT A PRACTICE IN BRYSON CITY, N.C., TO JOIN UP, AND WHO VOLUNTEERED AS A RANGER ALTHOUGH HE IS OVER THE AVERAGE AGE.

JUN 16 1943

WHEN CAPTAIN MORRIS A.ERNST, YORK VILLAGE, ME., WAS PUT OUT OF ACTION TEMPORARILY WITH NEARLY 200 FRAGMENTS FROM A PRACTICE GRENADE DRIVEN IN HIS LEG, LIEUT.BACON TOOK OVER A SECTION OF THE COMPANY, LED IT THROUGH ITS TOUGHEST TASKS AND NOW IS AS POPULAR A LEADER AS THERE IS IN CAMP.

I TALKED WITH HIM AFTER HE HAD BROUGHT HIS SECTION TRIUMPHANTLY IN FROM ITS FIRST 15 MILE ROUTE WHICH IT HAD COVERED IN THE PRESCRIBED TWO AND A HALF HOURS. BUT HE DIDN'T WANT TO TALK ABOUT THAT AS MUCH AS ABOUT THE LOW SICKNESS RATE THE WHOLE UNIT ENJOYS AND THE FACT THAT ON THEIR MARCHES THE MEN SOMETIMES PLUNGE PERSPIRING INTO ICY MOUNTAIN STREAMS "AND WE DON'T EVEN GET CRAMPS, LET ALONE COLDS OR STIFFNESS."

SEEING LIEUT.HARVEY SWISHER OF EVANSTON, ILL., OR SECOND LIEUTENANT PETER KORDIYAK OF GRANVILLE, N.Y., IN THEIR GRAY-GREEN FATIGUE COVERALLS WORKING WITH THEIR MEN OF COMPANY C -- "THE BEST COMPANY HERE" THEY AGREE -- YOU COULDN'T TELL THEM FROM THEIR MEN, UNTIL AN ORDER IS GIVEN OR A SALUTE REQUIRED.

LIEUT.BACON AND LIEUT.OTTO GRAAS OF BALTIMORE ARE JUST AS SURE THAT COMPANY D IS THE BEST.

CASUAL SAMPLING OF THE HOME TOWNS OF ONE GROUP GETTING READY TO GO INTO THE FIELD SHOWED DON BRODERICK FROM SPRINGFIELD, MASS.; SERGEANT CHARLES F.FRENCH FROM KILLEEN, TEXAS; TOMAN HENRY FROM LEXINGTOC; VA.; ANDREW V.HUZIL FROM THE BRONX, HARMON J.HAZELWOOD FROM HATTIESBURG, MISS.: FRED W.SIMPKINS FROM PRINCESS ANNE, MD., AND MELVIN MARKER, SALEM, ORE.

JUN 16 1943

A139 BERN - June 15

ONE BERLIN DISPATCH COMPLAINED OF COUNTRY HOTELS SEEKING TO AVOID SERVING EVACUEES ON THE PRETEXT THAT THEY HAD NO BED LINEN AND INSUFFICIENT LABOR. LOCAL NAZI COMMITTEES WERE DESIGNATED TO INVESTIGATE EACH HOTEL CLAIM AND DETERMINE WHETHER THEY MUST PROVIDE FULL SERVICE OR TAKE ONLY GUESTS WHO PROVIDED THEIR OWN LINENS.

THE KELNISCHE ZEITUNG PUBLISHED THESE REGULATIONS: GAULEITERS ARE EMPOWERED TO CHECK AVAILABLE LIVING QUARTERS, ORDER BUILDING FLATS ALTERED TO ACCOMMODATE MORE PEOPLE, AND DETERMINE WHO GETS HOUSING PRIORITY. ANYONE WITH TWO HOUSES OR FLATS MUST REGISTER ONE FOR EVACUEES. SINGLE PERSONS, ESPECIALLY, MUST SHARE THEIR HOUSES AND FLATS. OWNERS CAN BE FORCED TO ACCEPT GOVERNMENT-APPROVED RENTAL CONTRACTS. GOVERNMENT SUBSIDIES ARE AVAILABLE FOR ALTERING BUILDINGS TO EASE THE HOUSING PROBLEM AND TRANSPORT EVACUEES TO LESS CROWDED AND LESS DANGEROUS DISTRICTS.

JUN 16 1943 ✓

30.24-5039

BERN, SWITZERLAND, JUNE 15-(AP)-HUNGARIAN NAZIS LED BY FORMER PREMIER BELA IMREDI ARE CARRYING ON A STRONG UNDERGROUND CAMPAIGN IN AN EFFORT TO SMASH THE GOVERNMENT'S NEW POLICY OF NON-BELLIGERENCY, BUT SO FAR WITHOUT MARKED SUCCESS, RELIABLE BUDAPEST CIRCLES REPORTED TODAY.

PREMIER NICOLAS KALLAY, WHO CLOSED PARLIAMENT RECENTLY TO PREVENT AN OPEN CLASH ON THE ISSUE OF KEEPING OUT OF FURTHER AXIS MILITARY VENTURES, HAS STUCK TO HIS POSITION AND INVOKED STRONG POLICE MEASURES TO PREVENT DEMONSTRATIONS.

JUN 16 1943

THE ARREST OF 372 PERSONS IN BUDAPEST LAST WEEK, A BAN ON INTER-CITY TELEPHONE CALLS, AN ORDER AGAINST DEMONSTRATIONS, AND INCREASED POLICE ALERTNESS HAS KEPT THE SITUATION OUTWARDLY CALM, THESE ADVICES SAID.

IMREDI'S FOLLOWERS ARE CREDITED WITH GAINING A MINOR POINT IN THE RESIGNATION OF DEFENSE MINISTER COL.GEN.WILHELM NAGY WHO WAS ALLEGED TO HAVE CONTINUED TO WORK WITH AN ADJUTANT OF JEWISH ANCESTRY.

HOWEVER, NAGY IS OLD AND HAD LEFT HIS RETIREMENT LAST SEPTEMBER TO TAKE THE JOB TEMPORARILY. WHILE THE NEW WAR MINISTER, 57-YEAR-OLD COL.GEN.LUDWIG VON CSATA, L LEADS HUNGARIAN TROOPS ON THE RUSSIAN FRONT, HUNGARIAN QUARTERS HERE BELIEVED HE HAD AGREED TO ADHERE TO KALLAY'S POLICY.

MADRID, JUNE 15-(AP)-DISPATCHES FROM LALINEA REPORTED TONIGHT THAT 25 MERCHANT SHIPS ESCORTED BY THE BRITISH AIRCRAFT CARRIER FORMIDABLE, THE BATTLESHIP GEORGE V AND EIGHT DESTROYERS ENTERED THE HARBOR OF GIBRALTAR TODAY.

LALINEA IS A SPANISH PORT ALONG SIDE GIBRALTAR.

IN THE HARBOR, IT WAS SAID, THERE WERE 60 VESSELS, MANY OF THEM OIL TANKERS. IT WAS ADDED THAT 20 PLANES SET OUT FOR NORTH AFRICA WITH GLIDERS STRUNG TO THEIR TAILS CARRYING GASOLINE.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA June 15 ~~INSERT AFTER 8TH~~ GRAF ~~FIRST LEAD MEDITERRANEAN XXX ALLIED SOURCES.)~~ (CLOSING BRACKETS.)

AN AUTHORITATIVE NAVAL SOURCE SAID BRITISH WARSHIPS HAD VISITED THE ITALIAN ISLAND OF LAMPIONE, EIGHT MILES WEST OF LAMPEDUSA, AND FOUND IT UNINHABITED. THE ISLAND THEREFORE HAS COME UNDER THE CONTROL OF ALLIED ARMED FORCES. THE ALLIES ALREADY HAD MADE A CLEAN SWEEP OF ITALIAN ISLANDS OF ANY VALUE IN THE AREA SOUTH OF SICILY BY THE CAPTURE OF PANTELLERIA, LAMPEDUSA AND LINOSA.

TWO LARGE FIRES XXX 11TH GRAF, ELIMINATING 10TH BRACKETED GRAF ATTRIBUTING LAMPIONE CAPTURE TO REUTERS.

JUN 16 1943

BY DON WHITEHEAD

FIFTH U.S. ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 15-(AP)-BACK FROM WATCHING THE ALLIED ASSAULT ON PANTELLERIA, GEN.DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER CAME HERE TODAY ON AN INSPECTION TOUR OF AMERICAN TROOPS TRAINING FOR FUTURE OPERATIONS.

SUN-TANNED AND LOOKING EXTREMELY FIT, THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF OF ALLIED TROOPS IN NORTH AFRICA STEPPED FROM A FLYING FORTRESS AND WAS GREETED BY LIEUT.-GEN. MARK W.CLARK, COMMANDER OF THE U.S. FIFTH ARMY.

AFTER INSPECTING THE GUARD OF HONOR--MILITARY POLICE IN WHITE HELMETS AND WHITE LEGGINGS--THE TWO AMERICAN OFFICERS WITH A SMALL

JUN 16 1943

GROUP FLEW TO THE ARMY ENGINEER TRAINING CENTER WHERE TROOPS ARE BEING TAUGHT MINE FIELD CLEARANCE.

NEAR THE HEADQUARTERS AIRPORT, THE PARTY LOOKED OVER THE EVACUATION HOSPITAL WHICH WAS NOT NOTIFIED IN ADVANCE OF THE GENERAL'S VISIT. LIEUT.-COL. P.K.SAUERS, FORMER SURGERY CHIEF AT THE NEW YORK MUNICIPAL HOSPITAL, CONDUCTED HIM THROUGH THE TENTS.

THE EYES OF NURSES, OFFICERS AND ENLISTED MEN POPPED OPEN AT THE SIGHT OF GEN. EISENHOWER. EVERYONE APPEARED EXCITED--EVERYONE BUT ORPHA WARNER OF WICHITA, KAN., WHO WAS IN THE SURGERY TENT. AFTER THE GENERAL PASSED HER, SHE WHISPERED TO ME: "WHAT ARE YOU IN THIS PROCESSION? REAR GUARD?"

JUN 16 1943

AT THE ENGINEERS TRAINING CENTER, GENERALS EISENHOWER AND CLARK CLIMBED INTO A GERMAN RECONNAISSANCE CAR WHICH WAS CAPTURED IN TUNISIA AND BORE A WHITE STAR ON ITS SIDE, FOR THE INSPECTION TRIP.

FROM THE OBSERVATION TOWER, THEY WATCHED FRENCH AND AMERICAN TROOPS CLEARING A MINEFIELD OF LIVE MINES.

"IF ANYONE RAN THROUGH THIS FIELD HIS WEIGHT WOULD TOUCH OFF A MINE," SAID LIEUT.-COL. AARON WATT OF OSSINING, N.Y., TRAINING DIRECTOR. "FORTUNATELY WE HAVEN'T HAD A CASUALTY YET."

GEN. EISENHOWER SAID ALL THE TROOPS WHO FOUGHT IN TUNISIA WERE EAGER TO LEARN AS MUCH AS POSSIBLE ABOUT MINES SINCE THEY POSSIBLY WERE THE MOST DREADED WEAPON THE ENEMY USED IN RETREATING.

"THE MEN WHO HAD TO DEAL WITH MINES ARE THOSE WHO WANT TRAINING MOST," HE SAID.

WALKING AROUND THE MINEFIELD, GEN. EISENHOWER WATCHED LIEUT. E.W. DOBBS OF SUMTER, S.C., DIG OUT A MINE WHILE OTHER TROOPS LAY FLAT ON THE GROUND--JUST IN CASE.

COMM. HARRY C.BUTCHER OF WASHINGTON, D.C., THE GENERAL'S AIDE, DISCLOSED THAT WHILE THE GENERAL WAS WATCHING THE SHELLING OF PANTELLERIA BY CRUISERS AND DESTROYERS THERE WAS A SUBMARINE WARNING. HIS SHIP'S GUNS OPENED FIRE AT A SUSPICIOUS LOOKING OBJECT IN THE WATER RESEMBLING A PERISCOPE.

THE OBJECT TURNED OUT TO BE A BELLY TANK DROPPED FROM ONE OF THE ALLIED PLANES BOMBING THE MEDITERRANEAN ISLAND.

THE SHIP FROM WHICH THE GENERAL OBSERVED THE FIGHTING TOOK PART IN THE SHELLING.

JUN 16 1943

GEN. EISENHOWER IS EXPECTED TO SPEND A FEW DAYS IN THE FIFTH U.S. ARMY AREA LOOKING OVER TRAINING CENTERS WHICH HAVE BEEN GOING FULL BLAST NOW FOR WEEKS, CONDITIONING THE MEN.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 15-(AP)-CONTINUING THE SOFTENING UP OF THE OUTER RING OF AXIS MEDITERRANEAN DEFENSES, ALLIED BOMBERS ATTACKED TARGETS IN SICILY ON SUNDAY NIGHT TO FOLLOW UP DAYTIME SMASHES AT OTHER OBJECTIVES ON THIS ISLAND, ALLIEDHEADQUARTERS SAID TODAY.

OPERATIONS YESTERDAY WERE CONFINED TO RECONNAISSANCE AND PATROLLING, THE BULLETIN SAID.

THE SUNDAY NIGHT ATTACKS WERE CARRIED OUT BY WELLINGTON BOMBERS OF THE STRATEGIC AIR FORCE.

ONE OF THE TARGETS HIT WAS MESSINA, ON THE EASTERN TIP, WHERE RAILWAY YARDS AND THE HARBOR AREA RECEIVED MANY HITS. SEVERAL FIRES WERE REPORTED SET.

JUN 16 1943

THE WAR BULLETIN BELATEDLY ANNOUNCED THAT ON JUNE 11, THE DAY PANTELLERIA CAPITULATED, AN ADDITIONAL FOUR ENEMY AIRCRAFT WRE DESTROYED.

JUN 16 1943

30.24-5041

THE ALLIES LOST NO PLANES SUNDAY NIGHT OR YESTERDAY, HEADQUARTERS SAID.

FROM THE EASTERN MEDITERRANEAN BASES OF THE MIDDLE EAST AIR COMMAND LONG-RANGE FIGHTERS OF THE RAF ATTACKED AN ENEMY SCHOONER IN THE AEGEAN YESTERDAY, SCORING MANY HITS AND LEAVING THE VESSEL SMOKING AMIDSHIPS, THE CAIRO WAR BULLETIN SAID TODAY.

FROM THE MIDDLE EAST BIG AMERICAN LIBERATORS ALSO SOARED OUT ON SUNDAY FOR DAYLIGHT ATTACKS ON TWO MAJOR SICILIAN AIR BASES--AT CATANIA AND GERBINI--WHILE THE DAYLIGHT BOMBERS FROM THE NORTH AFRICAN COMMAND WERE TAKING THEIR FIRST SUNDAY OFF IN WEEKS.

MEANWHILE, THE ALLIED FORCES ARE CONSOLIDATING THEIR POSITIONS ON THREE CAPTURED MEDITERRANEAN OUTPOSTS--PANTELLERIA, LAMPEDUSA, AND LINOSA.

JUN 16 1943

(LAMPIONE, THIRD ISLAND IN THE GROUP TO WHICH LAMPEDUSA AND LINOSA BELONG, WAS OCCUPIED SUNDAY WITHOUT OPPOSITION, A REUTERS DISPATCH FROM NORTH AFRICA REPORTED LAST NIGHT.)

ITALIAN COMMUNIQUE SAID TODAY THAT ALLIED PLANES ATTACKED CASTELVETRANO IN SICILY YESTERDAY AT THE COST OF SIX PLANES.

(THE COMMUNIQUE, WHICH WAS BROADCAST FROM ROME AND RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, ALSO SAID THAT AN ITALIAN SUBMARINE ATTACKED AN ALLIED CONVOY IN THE WESTERN MEDITERRANEAN YESTERDAY SINKING ONE SHIP OF ABOUT 10,000 TONS AND DAMAGING ANOTHER OF THE SAME SIZE.)

CAIRO, JUNE 14-(AP)-IN MARKED CONTRAST TO THE THICK GLOOM WHICH HUNG OVER THE MIDDLE EAST A YEAR AGO TODAY, WHEN THE BRITISH GAVE UP MERSA MATRUH AND FELL BACK TO EL ALAMEIN WAS THE JUBILANT DEMONSTRATION OF POWER AND UNITY AS THE ALLIED FORCES OBSERVED UNITED NATIONS DAY TODAY.

THE SALUTE WAS TAKEN BY GEN. SIR HENRY MAITLAND WILSON AS MASS MECHANIZED UNITS, HEADED BY U.S.-BUILT GENERAL SHERMAN TANKS, PARADED BY THE REVIEWING STAND.

THE COLORS OF NEW ZEALAND, THE UNION OF SOUTH AFRICA, GREECE, POLAND AND BRITAIN WERE BORNE BY THEIR UNITS IN A FLOWING STREAM THROUGH STREETS CROWDED WITH A MILLION SPECTATORS.

THE REPRESENTATIVES OF 34 NATIONS PARTICIPATED AS SPITFIRES FURNISHED AN AERIAL UMBRELLA FOR THE CELEBRATION.

A BRITISH SERGEANT CARRIED RUSSIA'S RED FLAG, SINCE THERE ARE NO RUSSIAN FORCES IN THIS THEATER.

ELSEWHERE IN THE MIDDLE EAST THERE WAS OBSERVANCE OF THE DAY IN IRITREA AND IN IRAQ.

JUN 16 1943

CHUNGKING, JUNE 15-(AP)-A FRESH SUCCESS IN SWEEPING BACK THE JAPANESE INVADERS FROM THEIR UPPER YANGTZE GAINS WAS REPORTED TODAY BY THE CHINESE HIGH COMMAND WHICH ANNOUNCED THE CAPTURE OF A TOWN SOUTHWEST OF THE RIVER PORT OF SHASI, 60 MILES BELOW ICHANG.

MORE THAN HALF THE ENEMY GARRISON WAS WIPED OUT AFTER BEING SURROUNDED, THE COMMUNIQUE SAID.

DRIVING IN FROM THE NORTH ON THE JAPANESE CENTRAL CHINA SALIENT, AS WELL AS FROM THE SOUTH, THE CHINESE ALSO ATTACKED THE JAPANESE BASE AT SINYANG IN SOUTHERN HONAN PROVINCE, SLIGHTLY MORE THAN 100 MILES NORTH OF HANKOW.

FIGHTING STILL IS IN PROGRESS FOR THIS TOWN ON THE PEIPING-HANKOW RAILWAY, IT WAS SAID, WITH THE CHINESE ALREADY HAVING REPULSED ONE COUNTERATTACK BY THE JAPANESE WHO HAD IMMEDIATELY REINFORCED THEIR TROOPS THERE.

JUN 16 1943

A4FX

AUSTRALIAN

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, JUNE 15-(AP)-~~PROBABLE LOSS OF~~

ANOTHER DELAYED REPORT SAID A LIBERATOR ON RECONNAISSANCE BOMBED AND MACHINE-GUNNED A 4,000-TON FREIGHTER-TRANSPORT IN HUMBOLDT BAY, DUTCH NEW GUINEA, SUNDAY. TWO DIRECT HITS WERE SCORED WITH 500-POUND BOMBS AND THE SHIP WAS SET ON FIRE.

A SMALL FORCE OF MITCHELLS SATURDAY AND SUNDAY NIGHTS DESTROYED OR DAMAGED 11 JAPANESE BARGES ALONG THE NEW GUINEA COAST.

KAIMANA, BABO, AND TUAM ISLAND WERE TARGETS FOR ALLIED BOMBERS IN LIMITED AERIAL ACTIVITY YESTERDAY.

JUN 16 1943

TWO JAPANESE PLANES RAIDED GOODENOUGH ISLAND AT NIGHT BUT CAUSED NO DAMAGE.

JUNE 15 (AP)-

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA--FOURTH ADD NIGHT LEAD AUSTRALIAN XXX ~~BOMBARDMENT~~ DOBODURA.

THE RABAUL RAID LASTED TWO HOURS AND WAS DIRECTED BOTH AT LAKUNAI AND RAPOPO AIRFIELDS.

"TWENTY-THREE TONS OF FRAGMENTATION AND INCENDIARY BOMBS WERE CONCENTRATED ON GROUNDED AIRCRAFT IN THE DISPERSAL AREAS," THE COMMUNIQUE SAID.

"MANY EXPLOSIONS AND SEVEN LARGE FIRES, WITH FLAMES VISIBLE 60 MILES, AND NUMEROUS SMALL BLAZES IN THE REVETMENT AREAS, INDICATING BURNING PLANES, WERE CAUSED.

"IN SPITE OF INTENSE ANTI-AIRCRAFT AND SEARCHLIGHT ACTIVITY AND ATTEMPTED INTERCEPTION BY NIGHT FIGHTERS, ALL OUR PLANES RETURNED."

June 16 -

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA--~~THIRD ADD NIGHT LEAD AUSTRALIAN XXX AIRDROME~~.

THE RAIDS REPRESENTED A CONTINUED STEPPING UP OF BOMBING BLOWS BY THE AIR FORCE OF LIEUT.GENERAL GEORGE C.KENNEY WHICH SINCE LAST MAY 27 ALSO HAVE DUMPED 100 TONS OF BOMBS IN THREE RAIDS ON LAE, NEW GUINEA, AND OVER 70 TONS IN FOUR RAIDS ON WEWAK.

THE JAPANESE RAIDS ON THE BENA BENA AREA FOCUSED ATTENTION ON A NEW ALLIED SECTOR. ALTHOUGH WELL INLAND IT IS ABOVE THE HUON PENINSULA, BEYOND TWO VITAL JAPANESE BASES, LAE AND SALAMAUA, TOWARD WHICH AUSTRALIAN AND AMERICAN GROUND FORCES HAVE BEEN INFILTRATING FROM THE PAPUAN PENINSULA.

THE COMMUNIQUE SAID THE JAPANESE RAIDERS INCLUDED 27 BOMBERS ESCORTED BY 30 FIGHTERS. IT MADE NO MENTION OF THE DAMAGE DONE AT BENA BENA BUT SAID SLIGHT DAMAGE WAS CAUSED BY THE NINE RAIDERS OF DOBODURA.

JUN 16 1943

MEXICO CITY, JUNE 15-(AP)-GEN.HERIBERTO JARA, MINISTER OF TH NAVY, LEFT BY PLANE TODAY FOR LOS ANGELES, CALIF., ACCOMPANIED BY HIS WIFE. A GOVERNMENT BULLETIN SAID THE TRIP WAS IN CONNECTION WITH THE ACQUISITION OF EQUIPMENT TO BE SHIPPED TO GULF OF MEXICO PORTS.

SAN JUAN, PUERTO RICO, JUNE 15-(AP)-THE BELL CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTE VIRTUALLY COMPLETED ITS INVESTIGATION OF SOCIAL, ECONOMIC AND POLITICAL CONDITIONS IN PUERTO RICO TODAY AFTER A NIGHT SESSION IN WHICH A WITNESS DECLARED A HUGE POPULATION INCREASE HAD EXHAUSTED JOB POSSIBILITIES IN AGRICULTURE.

EXPLAINING FUNCTIONS OF THE INSULAR DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION,

TEODORO MOSCOSO, GENERAL MANAGER OF THE AGENCY, DECLARED IT WAS DEVISED TO "TAKE THE RISKS" IN DEVELOPING NEW INDUSTRIES TO ABSORB SURPLUS LABOR WHEN PRIVATE CAPITAL FAILED TO TAKE THE INITIATIVE.

MOSCOSO SAID THE CORPORATION AIMED TO INVESTIGATE INDUSTRIAL POSSIBILITIES, THEN PLACE ITS FINDINGS AT THE DISPOSAL OF PRIVATE CAPITAL AND LEND HELP IF NECESSARY, BUT WOULD PROCEED ON ITS OWN IF PRIVATE CAPITAL DID NOT PROCEED.

THE CORPORATION IS ONE OF SEVERAL GOVERNMENT-SPONSORED AGENCIES THAT HAVE BEEN UNDER ATTACK.

JUN 16 1943

MOSCOSO SAID IT HAD ENGAGED THE FIRM OF INDUSTRIAL ENGINEERS, ARTHUR D. LITTLE, INC., OF CAMBRIDGE, MASS., TO SURVEY THE ISLAND'S INDUSTRY AND POTENOIALITIES AND THAT LITTLE'S REPORT NOW IS USED AS THE BASIS FOR ITS ACTIVITIES.

A GLASS FACTORY, SCHEDULED FOR COMPLETION BY DECEMBER, IS THE ONLY INDUSTRY YET STARTED BY THE CORPORATION, HE SAID, BUT OTHERS ARE PLANNED, INCLUDING THE MAKING OF BAMBOO FURNITURE AND WALLBOARD FROM CANE REFUSE.

A COMMITTEE MEMBER EXPRESSED SURPRISE THAT PRIVATE CAPITAL HAD NO ENTERED THESE PROMISING FIELDS AND MOSCOSO REPLIED:

"IT'S PUZZLING TO ME ALSO. PERHAPS IT'S BECAUSE FOR 400 YEARS THERE'S BEEN NOTHING HERE BUT SUGAR AND THEY ARE AFRAID TO VENTURE INTO ANYTHING ELSE BECAUSE OF LACK OF EXPERIENCE."

30.24-5043

BUENOS AIRES, JUNE 15-(AP)-THE NEW ARGENTINE GOVERNMENT WILL LET "THE ELOQUENCE OF ITS DEEDS" DEMONSTRATE ITS DESIRE TO PURSUE A POLICY OF "PRACTICAL PAN-AMERICANISM," A STATEMENT FROM GENERAL PEDRO RAMIREZ, PRESIDENT OF THE NEW PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT, REVEALED TONIGHT.

JUN 16 1943

THE STATEMENT, DISTRIBUTED TO MEMBERS OF THE FOREIGN PRESS IN BUENOS AIRES FOLLOWING THE FIRST PRESS CONFERENCE THAT GENERAL RAMIREZ HAS HELD SINCE HE TOOK OFFICE, WAS A REITERATION OF EARLIER EXPRESSIONS BY VICE ADMIRAL SEGUNDO STORNI, FOREIGN MINISTER.

REPLYING TO QUESTIONS REGARDING THE REGIME'S FOREIGN POLICY, RAMIREZ SAID IN HIS STATEMENT:

"AS WE HAVE ALREADY SAID IN THE MANIFESTO DISTRIBUTED DURING THE FIRST HOURS, WE SEEK GREATER RAPPROCHEMENT WITH OUR AMERICAN BROTHERS BY CONSOLIDATING THE TIES WHICH BIND OUR COMMON INTERESTS; WE WILL ACCOMPLISH PRACTICAL PAN-AMERICANISM, LETTING ELOQUENCE OF DEEDS SPEAK IN PLACE OF WORDY RHETORIC WHICH SOLDIERS NEITHER UNDERSTAND NOR PRACTICE."

JUN 16 1943

REGARDING FUTURE DEVELOPMENTS, RAMIREZ LIMITED HIMSELF, STATING: "I HAVE SAID THAT OUR PROGRAM CONSISTS OF JUSTICE AND TRUTH--HENCEFORTH THAT WILL BE DONE WHICH NEEDS TO BE DONE WITH THE SAME SPIRIT OF REALITY AND SINCERITY AS AT PRESENT."

RAMIREZ TERMED INTERNATIONAL POLICY AS THE PRIMARY PROBLEM FACING HIS ADMINISTRATION, "IN EXISTING CIRCUMSTANCES," THE STATEMENT SAID, "NO PUBLIC QUESTION HAS GREATER IMPORTANCE NOR CALLS FOR MORE URGENT SOLUTION THAN THAT OF THE INTERNATIONAL SITUATION."

THE PROVISIONAL PRESIDENT DECLARED THAT HE HAD NOT BEEN THE LEADER IN THE REVOLUTION WHICH OVERTHREW THE GOVERNMENT OF PRESIDENT RAMON S.CASTILLO.

"THE ARMY MOVED NOT IN ORDER TO MAKE A REVOLUTION," HE EXPLAINED, "BUT IN ORDER TO SOLVE ACUTE PROBLEMS FACING THE PEOPLE, ESPECIALLY THE WORKING CLASS. THE ARMY ACTED IN BEHALF OF THE CONSTITUTION, WHICH THE REGIME WILL FULLY REESTABLISH IN EVERY PARTICULAR AND WHOSE RESPECT WILL BE COMMANDED WITH A MAXIMUM OF ENERGY AND SEVERITY."

JUN 16 1943

THE MOVEMENT WHICH HE HEADED, RAMIREZ SAID, CONTEMPLATED FOUR STAGES: FIRST THE OVERTHROW OF A "FRAUDULENT AND DISORGANIZED GOVERNMENT; SECOND, RESTORE ORDERLY ADMINISTRATION; THIRD, PURIFY AND THOROUGHLY ORGANIZE THE ADMINISTRATION PURGING VENAL, INCOMPETENT AND PARASITICAL ELEMENTS; AND FOURTH RENEW NATIONAL SPIRIT AND NATIONAL CONSCIENCE WHICH HAD BEEN SUFFOCATED BY INFUSING NEW LIFE IN CONFORMITY WITH HISTORICAL TRADITION--"IN A WORD, TO GIVE ARGENTINE IDEOLOGICAL BACKBONE TO THE ENTIRE COUNTRY AND THEN DELIVER IT CLEANSED AND RENOVATED IN ALL ITS VALUES AND LIVING FORCES INTO THE LEGAL HANDS WHICH MUST GOVERN IT."

JUN 16 1943

RAMIREZ LAID STRESS IN HIS STATEMENT ON THE INTENT OF THE NEW GOVERNMENT TO RETURN THE NATION TO REPUBLICAN FORMS. REPLYING TO THE QUESTION AS TO WHEN ELECTIONS WOULD BE HELD HE SAID:

"WHEN WE ACCOMPLISH OUR PURPOSE WE WILL DELIVER THE COUNTRY INTO THE HANDS OF ITS POLITICAL LEADERS."

HE ADDED, HOWEVER, THAT THOSE LEADERS WOULD "NEVER INCLUDE THOSE WHO CORRUPTED ALL THEY TOUCHED."

"THEREFORE, YOU CAN BE SURE," HE SAID, "THAT A MOVEMENT DID NOT COME TO PERPETUATE ITSELF IN MILITARY CHARACTER BUT RATHER TO PURIFY AND RECONSTRUCT."

HE WARNED THAT BEFORE THE OBJECTIVE WAS REACHED IT WOULD PROBABLY BE NECESSARY TO INTERVENE IN ALL OF THE 14 PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENTS.

THE FIRST OF THE NEW REGIME'S FOREIGN POLICIES, THAT OF CLOSING THE ARGENTINE RADIO TO CODED MESSAGES--A MOVE WHICH IS GENERALLY BELIEVED AIMED AT THE AXIS NATIONS--WILL GO INTO EFFECT AT NOON TOMORROW FOLLOWING A DELAY GRANTED AT THE REQUEST OF "CERTAIN FOREIGN EMBASSIES AND LEGATIONS."

THE BAN WAS ANNOUNCED LAST THURSDAY AND HITS THE AXIS NATIONS WHICH HAVE BEEN REFUSED THE USE OF CABLE FACILITIES SINCE ALL ARE CONTROLLED BY UNITED NATIONS COUNTRIES.

JUN 16 1943

THE DELAY IN PUTTING THE DECREE INTO EFFECT WAS ANNOUNCED LAST NIGHT AFTER THE GERMAN CHARGE D'AFFAIRES, ERICH MEYNEN, CONFERRED WITH VICE ADMIRAL SEGUNDO STORNI, FOREIGN MINISTER. IT WAS UNDERSTOOD FROM AN INFORMED SOURCE THAT THE DECREE WAS THE SUBJECT OF MEYNEN'S VISIT BUT STORNI REFUSED TO COMMENT.

IT WAS KNOWN, HOWEVER, THAT THE FOREIGN OFFICE HAD RECEIVED PROTESTS THAT THE DECREE HAD "DETAINED CERTAIN DISPATCHES CONSIDERED INDISPENSIBLE."

ANOTHER INDICATION OF CLOSER CO-OPERATION BETWEEN ARGENTINE AND THE UNITED STATES WAS THE ANNOUNCEMENT BY STORNI THAT THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT WAS READY TO CONCLUDE AN AGREEMENT WHEREBY THE UNITED STATES WOULD PROVIDE OIL DRILLING MACHINERY IN RETURN FOR SUPPLYING ARGENTINE PETROLEUM TO NEIGHBORING REPUBLICS.

FURTHER STEPS IN REORGANIZING INTERNAL AFFAIRS WERE TAKEN TODAY WI THE GOVERNMENT APPOINTED FEDERAL COMMISSIONERS TO GOVERN THE PROVINC OF SANTIAGO DEL ESTERO, SANTA FE, AND JUJUY, BRINGING THE NUMBER OF PROVINCES NOW SUBJECT TO FEDERAL INTERVENTION TO NINE.

THE NEW COMMISSIONERS HAVE REPLACED PROVINCIAL GOVERNORS CONTROLL BY THE CONSERVATIVE PARTY.

JUN 16 1943

30.24-5045

MEXICO CITY, JUNE 15-(AP)-MEXICO INSTRUCTED ITS AMBASSADOR IN WASHINGTON TODAY TO EXPRESS TO THE AMERICAN GOVERNMENT ITS BELIEF THAT MEXICAN "ZOOT-SUITERS" INVOLVED RECENTLY IN CLASHES WITH AMERICAN SAILORS IN LOS ANGELES WOULD RECEIVE PROPER DAMAGES IN CASE THEY WERE VICTIMS OF ASSAULT.

IN ITS FIRST OFFICIAL STATEMENT REGARDING THE CLASHES, THE MEXICAN GOVERNMENT TOOK A MILDLY FIRM STAND ON RIGHTS OF ITS NATIONALS, EMPHASIZING ITS CONVICTION THAT AMERICAN JUSTICE WOULD GRANT "INNOCENT VICTIMS" THEIR PROPER RETRIBUTION.

JUN 16 1943

A FOREIGN OFFICE STATEMENT SAID:

"SINCE IT RECEIVED ITS FIRST INFORMATION REGARDING THE DAMAGE SUFFERED BY SOME OF OUR NATIONALS DUE TO THE LAMENTABLE INCIDENTS IN THE CITY OF LOS ANGELES BETWEEN 'ZOOT-SUITERS' AND GROUPS OF NORTH-AMERICAN SAILORS, THE DEPARTMENT OF FOREIGN RELATIONS--WHICH CONSTANTLY WATCHES OVER PROTECTION OF MEXICANS ABROAD--HAS BEEN IN CONTACT WITH OUR DIPLOMATIC AND CONSULAR REPRESENTATIVES IN THE UNITED STATES.

"AFTER STUDYING THE DATA BROUGHT TO ITS ATTENTION, IT HAS INSTRUCTED THE MEXICAN AMBASSADOR IN WASHINGTON TO EXPRESS TO THE AUTHORITIES OF THE STATE DEPARTMENT OUR GOVERNMENT'S FIRM CONVICTION THAT AS SOON AS OFFICIAL INVESTIGATIONS IN THE CASE ARE CONCLUDED PUNISHMENT WILL BE APPLIED TO THE RESPONSIBLE PERSONS AND THE INNOCENT VICTIMS WILL BE GRANTED ADEQUATE AND JUST DAMAGES."

THE LOS ANGELES INCIDENTS, IN WHICH MEXICAN "ZOOT-SUITERS" WERE INVOLVED AND IN WHICH AN UNSPECIFIED NUMBER OF MEXICANS WERE REPORTED TO HAVE BEEN INJURED, ATTRACTED CONSIDERABLE ATTENTION HERE BUT BROUGHT NO VIOLENT REPERCUSSIONS.

A GROUP OF SENATORS TOLD NEWSPAPER REPORTERS THAT THE MATTER DESERVED PROMPT ACTION BY THE MEXICAN GOVERNMENT IN DEFENSE OF ITS NATIONALS BUT DID NOT PERMIT PUBLICATION OF THEIR NAMES.

THERE WAS SOME COMMENT IN CONGRESSIONAL CIRCLES TO THE EFFECT THAT THE INCIDENTS INVOLVED "RACIAL DISCRIMINATION," BUT AT NO TIME WAS THERE HEATED REACTION TO THE INCIDENTS AND MEXICAN REPORTS INCLUDED STATEMENTS THAT WHILE MEXICANS WERE AMONG THE "ZOOT-SUITERS" INVOLVED THEY DID NOT COMPRISE THE MAJORITY. JUN 16 1943

ONE NEWSPAPER TODAY PRINTED PICTURES OF ZOOT-SUITED MEXICANS OF LOS ANGELES, CALLING THE ATTIRE "ECCENTRIC."

THE "ZOOT" COSTUME IS FOREIGN TO ANY KIND OF DRESS USED IN MEXICO AND IN DESCRIBING IT TO READERS NEWSPAPERS HERE HAVE HAD TO RESORT TO COMPARISONS WITH EXTREMITIES TO WHICH YOUTHS OF THE SLICKED HAIR TYPE GO IN THIS COUNTRY.

7 SUCH YOUTHS, OFTEN WEARING SUITS WITH HEAVILY PADDED SHOULDERS AND AUDY STRIPES, ARE POPULARLY KNOWN HERE AS "TARZANS," THE NAME BEING AKEN FROM MOVING PICTURE FILMS WHICH DREW LARGE AUDIENCES IN MEXICO.

MEXICO CITY, JUNE 15-(AP)-THE MEXICAN FOREIGN MINISTRY, COMMENTING FOR THE FIRST TIME ON THE ATTACKS ON ZOOT-SUITED YOUTHS IN LOS ANGELES, SAID TODAY THAT IT HAD TOLD THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT IT WAS CONVINCED THAT "AS SOON AS THE OFFICIAL INVESTIGATIONS ARE CONCLUDED THOSE RESPONSIBLE WILL BE PUNISHED AND THAT THE INNOCENT VICTIMS WILL BE GRANTED AN ADEQUATE AND JUST INDEMNITY."

JUN 16 1943

FOREIGN MINISTER EZEQUIEL PADILLA ISSUED A WRITTEN STATEMENT IN ANSWER TO A QUESTION SUBMITTED BY REPORTERS SEVERAL DAYS AGO.

THE DECLARATION DID NOT INDICATE THAT ANY DEMAND HAD BEEN MADE ON THE U.S. GOVERNMENT FOR AN INDEMNITY, BUT MERELY SAID THAT THE MEXICAN EMBASSY IN WASHINGTON HAD BEEN INSTRUCTED TO SAY THE MEXICAN GOVERNMENT "HOLDS THE FIRM CONVICTION" THAT PUNISHMENT FOR THE GUILTY AND INDEMNITY FOR THE INNOCENT WILL BE FORTHCOMING.

THE MINISTER SAID HE HAD BEEN IN CLOSE COMMUNICATION WITH MEXICAN DIPLOMATS AND CONSULS IN THE UNITED STATES SINCE THE FIRST REPORTS WERE RECEIVED OF "THE LAMENTABLE OCCURRENCES IN LOS ANGELES BETWEEN 'ZOOT-SUITS' AND GROUPS OF NORTH AMERICAN SAILORS." INSTRUCTIONS WERE SENT TO THE WASHINGTON EMBASSY, HE ADDED, AFTER A STUDY OF (THE DATA ALLEGED WITH RESPECT" TO THE CLASHES.

JUN 16 1943

THE DECLARATION WAS THE FIRST MADE BY A MEMBER OF THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH OF THE GOVERNMENT, ALTHOUGH VARIOUS SENATORS HAVE DEMANDED AN INVESTIGATION OF THE EVENTS.

PUBLISHED REPORTS HERE HAVE EMPHASIZED THE FACT THAT MEXICANS WERE AMONG THE YOUTHS ATTACKED.

HEADQUARTERS ALASKA DEFE OMMAND, JUNE 15-(AP)-LIEUT. GEN.SIMON BOLIVAR BUCKNER HAS ANNOUNCED TODAY THE PROMOTION OF EIGHT OFFICERS ON THIS NORTHERN WAR FRONT.

THEY INCLUDED:

TO COLONEL -- GILBERT E.LINKSWILER, ROUTE 4, MORGANTOWN,W.VA.; LESLIE O.PETERSON, C/O TAG (CAPS), WASHINGTON,D.C.

TO LIEUTENANT COLONEL -- CARL F.LYONS JR., 100 PLYMOUTH AVE., MAPLEWOOD,N.J.; HOWARD F.MCMANUS, 451 BAINBRIDGE ST., BROOKLYN, N.Y.; JOHN F.RAZIER, 1321 N.MERIDIAN ST., INDIANAPOLIS,IND.; NORMAN C.SPENCER JR., LOWELL ROAD, CONCORD,MASS.; GEORGE M. SIMMONS, 1215 VIAND ST.; MT.PLEASANT,W.VA.

KA

OTTAWA, JUNE 15-(AP)-SERGT.WILLIAM GOODE PICKENS, WHOSE MOTHER LIVES AT 517 PARK AVE. E., SAN ANTONIO, TEX., WAS REPORTED IN AN RCAF CASUALTY LIST TONIGHT TO BE A PRISONER OF WAR IN GERMANY. PICKENS PREVIOUSLY WAS REPORTED MISSING IN ACTION.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

JUN 16 1943

THE TOKYO RADIO, IN A BROADCAST RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, REPORTED TODAY THAT LEON G.GUINTO, MAYOR OF MANILA UNDER THE REGIME SET UP IN THE PHILIPPINES BY THE JAPANESE, HAD ARRIVED IN TOKYO AT THE HEAD OF A "FILIPINO INSPECTION PARTY."

GUINTO, A FORMER GOVERNOR OF TAYABAS PROVINCE IN LUZON AND ALSO A FORMER COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC SAFETY, WAS QUOTED AS "EXPRESSING DEEP APPRECIATION FOR JAPAN'S MAGNANIMOUS LEADERSHIP."

Y THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

RADIO BERLIN SAID LAST NIGHT (TUES) THAT A CONVOY OF 25 BALLAST-LADEN SHIPS HAD REACHED GIBRALTAR FROM THE MEDITERRANEAN, SHEPHERDED BY THE NEW BRITISH BATTLESHIP KING GEORVE V, THE AIRCRAFT CARRIER FORMIDABLE AND U.S.SMALL NAVAL UNITS.

THE REPORT, RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, SAID WATCHERS OPPOSITE THE ROCK AT LA LINEA, SPAIN SAW THE CONVOY DROP ANCHORS AT 10A.M. YESTERDAY. THERE WAS NO ALLIED CONFIRMATION OF THE REPORT.

BUFFALO, N.Y., JUNE 15-(AP)-PRESIDENT HIGINIO MORINIGO OF PARAGUAY SAID TODAY THE LONG PRODUCTION LINES OF THE NIAGARA FRONTIER'S AIRPLANE PLANTS CONVINCED HIM AN "ALLIED VICTORY IS CERTAIN."

THE SOUTH AMERICAN PRESIDENT AND A GROUP OF PARAGUAYAN DIGNITARIES VISITED PLANTS OF THE BELL AIRCRAFT CORPORATION AND THE

JUN 16 1943

AIRPLANE DIVISION OF CURTISS-WRIGHT CORPORATION.

"THE POWER EMBODIED IN THE LONG PRODUCTION LINES OF THE NIAGARA FRONTIER PLANTS AND THE MARVELOUS SPIRIT OF THE WORKERS, THE MEN AND WOMEN, LEAVE NO DOUBT ABOUT THE ULTIMATE OUTCOME OF WORLD WAR II," PRESIDENT MORINIGO ASSERTED AFTER THE TOUR.

HE WITNESSED THE ASSEMBLY OF COMMANDO (C-46) TRANSPORT PLANES AND (P-40) WARHAWKS AT CURTISS AND THE ARMY (P-39) AIRACOBRA AT BELL.

AFTER ARRIVING FROM DETROIT, THE PARAGUAYAN CHIEF EXECUTIVE WAS GUEST OF HONOR AT A BREAKFAST GIVEN BY MAYOR JOSEPH J. KELLY, WHERE HE EXPRESSED THE HOPE THE WAR WOULD END "IN COMPLETE AND QUICK VICTORY FOR THE UNITED NATIONS."

June 15 - (AP)

LONDON--THIRD ADD FIRST LEAD AERIAL X X X

JUN 16 1943

THE BERLIN RADIO, IN A BROADCAST RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, CONFIRMED THAT OBERHAUSEN HAD BEEN HIT AND SAID THAT NIGHT FIGHTERS AND ANTI-AIRCRAFT SHOT DOWN "A CONSIDERABLE NUMBER" OF ATTACKERS. BERLIN SAID BOTH EXPLOSIVES AND INCENDIARIES WERE DROPPED.

THE ATTACK BY THE RAF FRONT LINE HEAVIES WAS ONLY A PART OF A BUSY NIGHT FOR THE RAF. TREE-CLIPPING MOSQUITOS, WHIRLWINDS, BOSTONS, TYPHOONS, BEAUFIGHTERS AND MUSTANGS--OUT IN FORCE

30.24-5047

OVER THE LOW COUNTRIES AND FRANCE--ATTACKED AIR FIELDS AT ABBEVILLE AND POIX AND ONE IN HOLLANDS. AT LEAST TWO ENEMY PLANES WERE BLASTED TO BITS AT THEIR BASES.

IN A DAWN SWEEP OVER FRANCE, SPITFIRES DESTROYED THREE FOCK-WULF 109'S, KNOCKING THEM OUT OF TWO FLIGHTS OF 15 WHICH HAD JUST TAKEN OFF AS THE SPITS CAME IN SIGHT. TWO XXXXXX WERE CREDITED TO RAF WING COMMANDER J.E.JOHNSON, BRINGING HIS TOTAL OF ENEMY PLANES TO 16.

JUN 16 1943

MADRID, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 16-(AP)-- INGEBORG NIEKERKE, CHIEF OF THE WOMEN'S DIVISION OF THE NAZI PARTY IN GERMANY AND CELIA JIMENEZ, A LEADER IN THE FEMININE SECTION OF THE SPANISH FALANGE, WERE SERIOUSLY INJURED TODAY WHEN AN AUTOMOBILE IN WHICH THEY WERE RIDING STRUCK A TREE ON ZXZZRZ THE GERONA-MATARO ROAD.

TWO OTHER OCCUPANTS OF THE CAR WERE KILLED.

lisbon, june 15-(ap)-rome, with 1,500,000 inhabitants, now has the largest population in its long history, x rome radio, recorded by the associated press, said today.

JUN 16 1943

in the days of emperor augusta maximum its population was 1,400,000 and at the last censur in jan. 1, 1940 the population was 1,327,000.

apr lupis 01915 ro 450p

FOR ROME
(THE LAST OFFICIAL CENSUS/LISTED IN THE AUTHORITATIVE STATESMEN'S YEARBOOK, AS OF JAN. 1, 1940, WAS 1,327,000.)

(AP SPECIAL ADVANCE FOR AMS OF WEDNESDAY, JUNE 16)

- - -

INSIDE THE BALKANS (3)

- - -

HUNGARY TRIES TO PULL AWAY FROM GERMANY

- - -

BUT HOPES TO KEEP FRUITS OF HER
AXIS TIES (1,350)

- - -

(HUNGARY, SAYS THOMAS F.HAWKINS IN THIS THIRD OF A SERIES OF STORIES ON THE SITUATION IN THE BALKANS, IS GETTING OUT OF THE WAR AND SEEKING ALLIED SYMPATHY, BUT WANTS TO KEEP THE TERRITORY OBTAINED WITH HITLER'S AID. PREMIER KALLAY, HE SAYS, KNOWS WHICH WAY THE WIND IS BLOWING.)

- - -

BY THOMAS F.HAWKINS

(ADVANCE) BERN,-(AP)-HUNGARY HAS HARKENED TO CHANGING CONDITIONS AND IS SWERVING AWAY FROM ALL-OUT AXIS COLLABORATION TOWARD A NEW POLICY OF NON-BELLIGERENCY.

SHE STILL ACKNOWLEDGES MEMBERSHIP IN THE AXIS BUT HAS WITHDRAWN FROM THE WAR WITH RUSSIA AND IS TRYING TO BUILD NEW SYMPATHIES THAT WILL PERMIT HER TO KEEP ANNEXED TERRITORIES WHEN PEACE IS MADE.

THIS IS THE OFFICIAL POLICY OF THE GOVERNMENT LAID DOWN BY PREMIER NICHOLAS KALLAY IN A SPEECH TO THE CONSERVATIVE PARTY MAJORITY MAY 29. IT IS ALSO THE POLICY OF THE WEALTHY AND INTELLECTUAL GROUPS WHO WANT TO GET THE COUNTRY COMPLETELY OUT OF THE WAR AS QUICKLY AS POSSIBLE.

A GROUP MADE UP OF MONARCHIST, DEMOCRATIC, BOURGEOIS AND SOCIAL DEMOCRAT PARTY MEMBERS ALSO IS DRAWING TOGETHER TO CREATE A POLITICAL FACTION SYMPATHETIC TO THE WESTERN POWERS.

OPPOSITION IS FROM THE RIGHT RADICAL OR NAZIPHILE PARTIES WHICH INCLUDE THAT OF BELA IMREDI AND WHICH ARE SAID TO CONTROL ABOUT TEN PERCENT OF THE ELECTORATE. THEIR PRESSURE FOR MORE BELLIGERENT ASSISTANCE TO THE AXIS, AND THE QUESTIONS THEY WANTED TO ASK ABOUT THE WAR MINISTRY AND GENERAL STAFF ATTITUDES, CAUSED KALLAY TO CLOSE PARLIAMENT MAY 4 WITHOUT PERMITTING DISCUSSIONS.

IT REMAINS TO BE SEEN WHAT ACTION AND REACTION WILL COME FROM GERMANY. GERMAN EFFORTS SO FAR HAVE BEEN THROUGH THE GERMAN MINORITY IN HUNGARY AND THROUGH THE NAZIPHILE HUNGARIAN PARTIES AS WELL AS IN DIRECT DEALING WITH ADMIRAL NICHOLAS HORTHY THE REGENT WHO VISITED ADOLF HITLER ON APRIL 15.

JUN 16 1943
JUN 16 1943
JUN 16 1943
JUN 16 1943

30.24-5049

(SINCE THIS STORY WAS WRITTEN DISPATCHES FROM NEUTRAL TURKEY DESCRIBE THE APPOINTMENT OF COL.GEN.LUDWIN VAN CSATA AS HUNGARY'S NEW WAR MINISTER AS A GERMANY VICTORY OVER KALLAY AND OTHER OFFICIALS WHO OPPOSE ADDITIONAL AID TO THE AXIS. GERMANY WAS SAID TO BE PAYING CSATA FOR SUPPORT IN RUSSIA WITH A GUARANTEE AGAINST ANY ATTACK FROM RUMANIA AIMED AT REGAINING TRANSYLVANIA.)

THE STRENGTH OF THE GERMANS NOW IN HUNGARY IS NOT DEFINITELY KNOWN. IT WAS LARGEST IN 1941 WHEN TROOPS ROLLED IN TO PREPARE FOR THE YUGOSLAV OFFENSIVE. A PRIVATE LETTER FROM BUDAPEST THREE WEEKS AGO SAID NEW GERMAN FORCES HAD MOVED IN BUT "RUMORS THEY NUMBER 250,000 ARE UNTRUE."

JUN 16 1943

HUNGARY HAS MANAGED, IN FACT, TO RETAIN CONSIDERABLY MORE FREEDOM OF ACTION THAN OTHER DANUBIAN NATIONS. THE REASONS ARE THAT THE HUNGARIAN RAILWAY SYSTEM IS THE MOST IMPORTANT ROUTE INTO THE BALKANS AND FOR CONNECTIONS THROUGH RUMANIA TO THE RUSSIAN FRONT. GERMANY ALSO MUST HAVE HUNGARIAN WHEAT, WORK ANIMALS, MEAT AND POULTRY.

YUGOSLAVIA'S INSURGENT RESISTANCE PROVED THE FOLLY OF UPSETTING A GOOD BREADBASKET. REPORTS OF SABOTAGE AND SO-CALLED "COMMUNIST ACTIVITY" ARE RELATIVELY RARE FROM HUNGARY. THERE HAVE BEEN SOME EXECUTIONS BUT CHIEFLY IN ANNEXED TERRITORIES. PEASANTS HAVE RESISTED PASSIVELY TO A CONSIDERABLE DEGREE, HOWEVER, HIDING GRAIN OR SIMPLY REFUSING TO PRODUCE BEYOND THEIR OWN NEEDS. THIS YEAR THEY WERE GIVEN QUOTAS OF GRAIN THEY MUST TURN OVER TO THE GOVERNMENT WITHOUT REGARD FOR PREVIOUS PRODUCTION.

POLITICAL PARTIES STILL ARE PERMITTED IN HUNGARY, MAKING POSSIBLE MORE OPEN OPPOSITION THAN IN OTHER AXIS COUNTRIES. THERE IS THUS LESS NECESSITY FOR UNDERGROUND MOVEMENTS, ALTHOUGH VAGUE RUMORS OF COMMUNIST CELLS ARE SOMETIMES HEARD FROM THOSE WHO REMEMBER THE POST-WAR COMMUNIST REIGN OF BELA KUN. IT WAS A CAREFULLY VEILED INTELLECTUAL GROUP THAT FIRST WORKED FOR THE PRESENT POLICY OF STEPPING AWAY.

JUN 16 1943

SO MANY HUNGARIAN SOURCES HAVE GIVEN OUT THE STORY THAT HUNGARY CANNOT NOW EXTRICATE HERSELF FROM THE WAR, BUT MIGHT DO SO IF ITALY DROPPED OUT OR IF AN ALLIED FRONT WAS ESTABLISHED IN THE BALKANS, THAT IT CAN BE ASSUMED TO BE OFFICIALLY INSPIRED.

KALLAY ALSO LAID DOWN A MODERATED POLICY AGAINST THE JEWS. THEY WERE TO BE REMOVED FROM HUNGARIAN LIFE BUT FIRST A PLACE MUST BE FOUND FOR THEM AND THEY WERE TO BE COMPENSATED ACCORDING TO "CHRISTIAN IDEALS BY THE EXCLUSION OF RELIGIOUS AND RACIAL STRUGGLES." THE NAZI POLICY OF DEPORTATION AND CONFISCATION WAS THUS REJECTED.

HUNGARY WAS DIRECTING HER EFFORTS TOWARD NEW FRIENDS, ESPECIALLY FINLAND WITH WHOM THERE IS AN ANCIENT RACIAL TIE, TOWARD NEUTRALS AND TOWARD AN UNDERSTANDING WITH ITALY BEYOND THAT IMPLIED BY AXIS AFFILIATIONS.

JUN 16 1943

B122

PROPAGANDA WAS ALSO BEING DIRECTED TOWARD MINORITIES ABROAD. HORTHY'S SON, A FORMER MINISTER TO RIO DE JANEIRO, SPOKE BY RADIO TO HUNGARIANS IN BRAZIL RECENTLY, DECLARING THAT HUNGARY HOPED TO BUILD STRONGER TIES WITH SOUTH AMERICA AFTER THE WAR. HUNGARY'S FATE, WITH THAT OF THE SMALLER NATIONS, HE SAID, "IS NOT ENTIRELY THEIR OWN

JUN 16 1943

WILL IN A WORLD WAR."

A CHANGE OF ATTITUDE TOWARD RUSSIA, GUARDED, CAUTIOUS BUT NEVERTHELESS IMPORTANT AND POSSIBLY BORN OF DISSOLUTION OF THE COMINTERN, HAS BEEN NOTICED. KALLAY POINTEDLY REMINDED HIS FOLLOWERS THAT IT WAS NOT HIS GOVERNMENT WHICH PUT HUNGARY INTO WAR WITH RUSSIA. HE SPOKE LESS SHARPLY AGAINST THE "COMMUNIST DANGER" THAN IN PREVIOUS SPEECHES.

HUNGARIAN PEACE HOPES ARE BUILT ON KEEPING WHAT SHE HAS. THIS IS TRUE OF BOTH THE PRO-ALLIED AND AXIS CAMPS. THERE ARE SOME WHO WANT THE SMALL PORTION OF TRANSYLVANIA STILL HELD BY RUMANIA, BUT THE GENERAL TREND OF ARGUMENTS IS THAT MAINTENANCE OF THE STATUS QUO WILL PERMIT A PROSPEROUS NATION.

JUN 16 1943

ECONOMIC REASONS AS WELL AS PATRIOTISM LIE BEHIND THE HUNGARIAN CLAIMS. HUNGARY, AS PART OF THE AUSTRO-HUNGARIAN EMPIRE, HAD MORE THAN 75 PERCENT OF HER TRADE WITH THE OTHER PART OF THAT EMPIRE, WHICH WAS CLOSE TO A SELF-SUFFICIENT ECONOMIC UNIT. PEACE TREATIES, TAKING AWAY LARGE SECTIONS OF HER TERRITORY IN AN EFFORT TO ESTABLISH INDEPENDENT STATES ON THE BASIS OF RACIAL UNITS, CUT THE HOME MARKET FROM 50,000,000 TO ABOUT 8,000,000 PEOPLE. HIGH TARIFFS CONFRONTED THE EXPERTS.

A SEARCH FOR PROSPERITY SUPPLEMENTED BY THE DEVELOPMENT OF INDUSTRY TO RELIEVE OVER-CROWDED AGRICULTURE PROMPTED A REVISIONIST PROGRAM. HUNGARY GAINED TO DATE: SOPRON FROM AUSTRIA BY AN ITALIAN SPONSORED PLEBISCITE IN 1921; A SECTION OF CZECHOSLOVAK AS A RESULT OF THE MUNICH SETTLEMENT; RUTHENIA FROM CZECHOSLOVAKIA BY FORCE IN 1939; MOST OF TRANSYLVANIA FROM RUNANIA BY THE GERMAN-ITALIAN DECISION IN VIENNA IN 1940; BACKA FROM YUGOSLAVIA IN 1941.

THE OCCUPATION OF RUTHENIA GAVE HUNGARY A COMMON BORDER WITH POLAND, HER TRADITIONAL FRIEND. AN IMPORTANT SECTION OF HUNGARIAN OPINION FAVORS A RESTORED POLAND AS ONE PEACE AIM.

AGRARIAN REFORM IS AN IMPORTANT PLANK SPONSORED BY THE SOCIALIST FARMER GROUPS. SOME STEPS TO PARTITION THE BIG ESTATES OF THE ARISTOCRACY WERE TAKEN BEFORE THE WAR, BUT ABOUT 30 PERCENT OF THE LAND HOLDINGS ARE OVER 1,000 ACRES WHILE SOME 700,000 AGRICULTURAL WORKERS OWN NO LAND AT ALL.

JUN 16 1943

ECONOMISTS DECLARE THAT PARTITION WOULD LIKELY REDUCE PRODUCTION EFFICIENCY, BUT WOULD ENCOURAGE A SWING FROM WHEAT GROWING TOWARDS STOCK BREEDING, POULTRY, FRUIT AND VEGETABLES WHICH WOULD BE MORE PROFITABLE FOR THE COUNTRY AS A WHOLE.

HUNGARY'S HOPES FOR PEACE ARE URGENT BUT THE WEAKNESS OF HER POSITION IS THAT THE PEACE HOPES OF BOTH THE GOVERNMENT AND THE PEOPLE REST ON KEEPING AXIS-GAINED ADVANTAGES NOW AND TOMORROW, WHICH MAY NOT AT ALL FIT IN WITH THE GENERAL PLANS FOR WORLD RECONSTRUCTION

CAIRO, JUNE 15-(AP)-HOW AN AMERICAN B-24 LIBERATOR, TWO OF ITS FOUR ENGINES IN FLAMES, BEAT OFF A MASS ATTACK BY 15 AXIS INTERCEPTOR PLANES WHILE RETURNING FROM A BOMBING RAID OVER SICILY WAS TOLD TODAY BY ITS PILOT, 22-YEAR-OLD LIEUT. CLARENCE W.GOODEN, OF WAYCROSS, GA.

"WE HAD JUST LEFT THE TARGET--A SICILIAN AIRDROME," SAID GOODEN, "WHEN THE SKY SUDDENLY BLACKENED WITH ENEMY FIGHTERS. ONE OF THEMN CAUGHT OUR NO. 4 ENGINE, SETTING IT AFIRE. IT WAS NOT LONG BEFORE NO. 3 ENGINE BURST INTO FLAMES. BY NOW WE WERE ALL ALONE--WE DIDN'T HAVE ENOUGH POWER TO STAY WITH OUR FORMATION AND IT WENT ALONG WITHOUT US.

JUN 16 1943

"IT WAS A LONESOME FEELING WITH THOSE 15 FIGHTERS ON OUR TAIL

JUN 16 1943

3024-5051

COMING AT US FROM ALL DIRECTIONS ITH THEIR GUNS SPITTING RIGHT INTO OUR FACES.

"BUT WE WERE NOT EXACTLY IDLE. OUR GUNNERS WERE IN THE ARGUMENT, TOO. STAFF SERGEANT ROLAND S.COX, AN 18-YEAR-OLD KID FROM PLAINSVILLE, OHIO, WAS POURING LEAD FROM HIS TAIL GUN. WAIST GUNNERS TECHNICAL SERGEANT OSCAR W.HOUSER OF PHILADELPHIA AND STAFF SERGEANT ALEXANFER M.COCHRANE OF LYNN, MASS., DISHED IT OUT FROM THE WAIST WINDOWS. STAFF SERGEANT T.S.HENDRICKS, OUR AERIAL PHOTOGRAPHER AND UTILITY GUNNER, WHO HAILS FROM LITTLE ROCK, ARK., WAS ALSM HARD AT IT."

JUN 16 1943

EVERYBODY UNDER GOODEN'S COMMAND WAS ON THE OFFENSIVE AGAINST THE ATTACKING FIGHTERS. UP FRONT, LIEUT. RALPH F.PERKINS OF MARIONETTE, WIS., HANDLED ONE OF THE NOSE GUNS. LIEUT. WILLIAM H.MCNEIL, BOMBARDIER FROM PENSACOLA, FLA., WORKED ANOTHER GUN. AT THE RADIO WAS SERGT. THEODORE C.BEAUDRY OF MINOT, N.D.

GOODEN, 22, HAD THIS TO SAY:

"I MADE LIEUT. (DONALD G.) JOHNSON (OF AKRON), MY CO-PILOT, AND (STAFF SERGT. DANIEL J.) KREUTZER (OF FERBY, COLO.), ASSISTANT RADIO OPERATOR, STAY UP FRONT WHEN IT FIRST STARTED. BULLETS JUST MISSED MY HEAD TWICE, SO I FIGURED THE CO-PILOT MIGHT BE NEEDED.

"LATER, KREUTZER WENT BACK AND MANNED A GUN AND JOINED THE FIGHT. KREUTZER, COX AND HENDRICKS WERE WOUNDED DURING THE EARLY STAGES OF THE FIGHT BUT REFUSED TO LEAVE THEIR GUNS.

"KREUTZLER SHOWED THE SAME STUFF A FEW MINUTES LATER WHEN A BULLET HIT HIM IN THE LEG. IT DID SOMETHING TO THE REST OF US TO SEE THOSE MEN FIGHT XACK, WHEN IT WOULD HAVE BEEN EASY TO GIVE UP. AND THEN MADE ME PROUD I WAS ONE OF THEM.

"THEY REALLY GAVE THOSE 15 ENEMY PLANES A PASTING. COX GOT A MESSERSCHMITT-109; TED BEAUDRY GOT ANOTHER; AND COCHRANE ANOTHER. KREUTZER (CORRECT) THOUGHT HE GOT A MACCHI-202--WHICH MEANS HE PROBABLY KNOCKED IT INTO THE MIDDLE OF NEXT WEEK.

"ALTOGETHER WE FIRED NEARLY 2,000 ROUNDS AT THOSE XABIES AND ALL THE WHILE WE WERE LOSING ALTITUDE FAST. SMON WE HAD ONLY ONE GOOD ENGINE LEFT. LORD KNOWS HOW MANY HOLES WERE IN OUR SHIP. THERE WERE NO BRAKES, NO HYDRAULIC SYSTEM, NO RADIO AND ONLY ONE GOOD TIRE.

"HOW DID WE MAKE IN TO MALTA? LISTEN, BROTHER, WE JUST LEAD GOOD LIVES--THAT'S ALL."

JUN 16 1943

tangier, june 15-(ap)- gen. auguste nogues, resigned ~~fromxx~~ resident-general of french morocco, today crossed the frontier into tangier and visited gen. jenaro uriarte, delegate of the high spanish commissioner of ~~xxxx~~ morocco.

JUN 16 1943

the generals conversed amicably and later uriarte repaid the visit at the hotel where nogues is lodging.

(nogues, who was replaced by gabriel puaux, former high commissio of syria, was reported by the berlin radio sunday to have arrived in tangier and then departed by plane for lisbon. ) buenos aires, june 15-(ap)-the ~~xxx~~ argentine provisonal government today appointed federal commissioners to govern the provinces of santiago del estero, santa fe and jujuy, bringing to eight the number of provinces now subject to federal intervention. there are 14 provinces in the nation.

JUN 16 1943

JUN 16 1943

in all but two of the ~~xxxx~~ provinces in which the federal government has intervened, the new commissioners have replaced provincial governors controlled by the conservative party. in entre rios the governor was a member of the radical party while in tucuman there was a ~~xxxxxxxxx~~ commissioner installed by former president ~~xx~~ ramon s. castillo after the conservative candidate was defeated in the gubernatorial election.

JUN 16 1943

A16

HAVANA, JUNE 15-(AP)-CUBA RECOGNIZED THE RAMIREZ GOVERNMENT OF ARGENTINA TODAY.

OTTAWA, JUNE 15--(AP)--THE STORY OF A MID-OCEAN COLLISION BETWEEN TWO FREIGHTERS--ONE LADEN WITH 1,200 TONS OF HIGHLY EXPLOSIVE T.N.T. 35--AND THEIR SAFE ARRIVAL AT AN ATLANTIC PORT WAS TOLD TODAY BY NAVAL HEADQUARTERS HERE.

THE MERCHANTMAN WAS PART OF AN EAST-BOUND CONVOY AND ONE NIGHT AT MIDNIGHT HER CAPTAIN AND SECOND OFFICER SAW THE SHIP AHEAD FALL OUT OF LINE. SECONDS LATER THE SHIP ~~xxxx~~ SHOWED AN "OUT OF CONTROL" SIGNAL AND THE EXPLOSIVE LADEN SHIP WAS CAUGHT IN ~~xxx~~ CENTER OF A CONVOY OF MOVING SHIPS, ~~xxxxxxxxxx~~ FEARFUL OF TURNING OUT OF THE PATH OF THE DISABLED SHIP AHEAD.

JUN 16 1943

"WE HAD A CHOICE OF KEEPING ON OUR COURSE AND RAMMING A TANKER FULL OF HIGH OCTANE GASOLINE OR SWINGING HARD TO STARBOARD AND TAKING A CHANCE OF BEING RAMMED OURSELVES BY ONE OF THE SHIPS ASTERN OF US," THE CAPTAIN SAID.

THE CAPTAIN CHOOSE TO ALTER COURSE AND SWUNG OVER TOWA rd THE NEXT COLUMN OF SHIPS TO STARBOARD. IN THE NEXT 10 MINUTES THE SHIP ~~xxxx~~ MANOEUVERED RAPIDLY BUT COULD NOT ESCAPE. A SHIP CREPT UP FROM ASTERN AND CRASHED INTO HER, BREAKING OPEN HER SIDE AND SCATTERING CASES OF EXPLOSIVE OVER THE HOLD.

JUN 16 1943

30.24-5053

THE CAPTAIN AND CREW WAITED FOR THE XPLOSION AND WHEN IT DID NOT COME THEY SET ABOUT BRINGING THE SHIP SAFELY TO PORT WHERE THE CARGO WAS REMOVED.

OTTAWA, JUNE 15--(AP)--CANADIAN CROP CONDITIONS "GENERALLY REMAIN BACKWARD," THE DOMINION BUREAU OF STATISTICS REPORTED HERE TODAY IN THE SECOND OF A SERIES OF EIGHT TELEGRAPHIC CROP REPORTS.

JUN 16 1943

"ABSENCE OF SUNSHINE AND WARMTH," THE REPORT SAID, WAS RETARDING AGRICULTURE IN THE PRAIRIE GRAIN AREA WHILE CONDITIONS WERE SO FAR BEHIND IN SOME SECTIONS OF THE MARITIME PROVINCES THAT FARMERS WILL NOT BE ABLE TO NOT BE ABLE TO COMPLETE SPRING WORK IN TIME FOR CROPS TO RIPEN FOR HARVEST.

ALL OF CANADA HAS BEEN PLAGUED BY HEAVY RAINS AND LOW TEMPERATURES, THE REPORT STATED. PASTURES AND HAY FIELDS ARE GENERALLY MAKING GOOD GROWTH BUT IN SOME PLACES THE STANDS OF GRASS ARE THIN AND THE CLOVER HAS BEEN WINTER-KILLED.

SEEDING AND PLANTING IN THE MARITIME PROVINCES IS 50 TO 80 PER CENT COMPLETED. "HEAVY LOADS OF BLOOM ARE REPORTED IN THE ORCHARDS IN ALL THREE (MARITIME) PROVINCES," THE BUREAU SAID. "IN THE ANNAPOLIS VALLEY, APPLE SCAB IS SERIOUS IN ALL BUT THE BEST SPRAYED ORCHARDS AND INSECTS ARE GENERALLY FAIRLY ABUNDANT."

THERE HAS BEEN SOME REDUCTION IN THE TOTAL ACREAGE PLANTED TO VEGETABLES PARTLY AS A RESULT OF THE BACKWARD SPRING AND PARTLY BECAUSE OF A SHORTAGE OF LABOR. GROWTH HAS BEEN GOOD, HOWEVER, THE REPORT SHOWS.

JUN 16 1943

SEEDING OPERATIONS ARE STILL INCOMPLETE IN ONTARIO ALTHOUGH RAPID PROGRESS HAS BEEN MADE IN THE LAST TWO WEEKS. FALL WHEAT AND EARLY SOWN GRAINS ARE MAKING GOOD PROGRESS AND THE HAY AND ALFALFA CROPS ARE DOING EXCEPTIONALLY WELL.

SEEDING OF COARSE GRAINS IN THE PRAIRIE PROVINCES IS NOT YET COMPLETED BUT THE WHEAT IS MOSTLY IN AND SHOWING ABOVE GROUND. "HEIGHT OF THE GRAINS INDICATE VERY BACKWARD GROWTH AND WHEREAS EARLY WHEAT IN MANITOBA AT THIS TIME LAST YEAR WAS 15 INCHES HIGH, THE BEST CROPS THIS YEAR APPEAR TO BE ONLY ABOUT HALF THAT HEIGHT," THE REPORT SAID.

JUN 16 1943

WHILE THE COMPLAINT OF AN EXCESS OF RAINFALL WAS HEARD OVER ALMOST ALL OF THE DOMINION, THERE REMAINS ONE AREA IN SOUTHEASTERN ALBERTA WHERE CROPS ARE HANDICAPPED BECAUSE OF DROUGHT. IN MANITOBA IN THE RED RIVER VALLEY SECTION THERE HAS BEEN TOO MUCH RAIN.

JUN 16 1943

HIGHER TEMPERATURES ARE BADLY NEEDED IN BRITISH COLUMBIA TO OFFSET THE EFFECTS OF A BACKWARD SPRING. MOISTURE CONDITIONS ARE GENERALLY GOOD EXCEPT IN THE OKANAGAN VALLEY WHERE RAINFALL IS BADLY NEEDED. FIRST CUTTING OF HAY AND ALFALFA HAS STARETD BUT THE YIELDS ARE BELOW AVERAGE, THE REPORT SAID.

New York, June 15-(AP)-The Japanese diet started a three da session today to rubberstamp legislation decided upon by Premier Hidek Tojo and the Imperial Rule Assistance association after the people had prepared for increased hardships by an intensive propaganda campaign.

Broadcasts recorded by the Federal Communications Commissi said Tojo would appear before the diet tomorrow and that the legislators would not be permitted to ask questions.

JUN 16 1943

"Measures will be approved and made into laws by the final day of the diet session on June 18," Radio tokyo said. Approximately 1,800,000,000 yen will be asked for the commerce and industry ministry, including a 420,000,000 yen subsidy for rice growers. The government plar 21,860,000,000 yen bond issue including 3,519,000,000 for roads and 17,163,000,000 for "special military emergency expenditures, the tokyo radio said. The yen is not quoted on foreign exchanges but last was nominally worth about 20 cents.

JUN 16 1943

Among the broadcasts preparing the people was one last week by Dr. Hiroshi Shimomura, who often speaks for the premier.

"Not only in our nation, but throughout the world, I think many are complaining now that the war is too long prolonged and our living conditions are exposed to menace, inconvenience, and difficulties and the "Saying that we have had enough of war and that the war should be stopped b this time," Shimomura said, "If we keep on with the conditions we have at present, it will be wonderful. But it is too good to be true."

The house of peers reelected ~~Lord~~ PRINCE Kuniyuki Tokugawa as general chairman. Count Hitotaro HAYASHI was chosen chairman of the budget committee and Baron Kozo Kawasaki was named vice chairman. The lower house installed Tadahiko Okado as speaker and sent emissaries to advise Tojo that the diet was organized. Tojo then informed the emperor and secured a rescript setting tomorrow as the opening day for business.

JUN 16 1943

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

THE TOKYO RADIO DECLARED TODAY WITHOUT CONFIRMATION FROM ANY ALLIED SOURCE THAT A HOSPITAL FOR PRISONERS OF WAR AT TANBIZAYA, BURMA, WAS BOMBED ON JUNE 12, RESULTING IN THE DEATH OF 10 PRISONERS AND WOUNDING OF SEVEN OTHERS.

JUN 16 1943

THE BROADCAST, RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, ASSERTED THAT SIX PLANES DROPPED TEN BOMBS IN THE "VICINITY OF THE [redacted] HOSPITAL."

30.22-3053

NEW YORK, JUNE 15-(AP)-THE AXIS-CONTROLLED ATHENS RADIO [redacted]

IN A DOMESTIC BROADCAST RECORDED TODAY BY THE OFFICE OF WAR INFORMATION SAID THAT AXIS TROOPS AND MANY GREEK NATIONALS LOST THEIR LIVES IN A TRAIN ON THE [redacted] IN THE WRECKING OF A TRAIN ON THE ATHENS-SALONIKA LINE BY GREEK PATRIOTS.

---

LET US TRY,

LET US DO,

LET US DARE-

---

ENGINEERS' MOTTO

NEVER BRIGHTER

THAN TODAY

JUN 16 1943

JUN 16 1943

---

168TH ANNIVERSARY (900)

---

(PICTURES: 'ENGINEERS' BRIDGE BUILDING, IN CIVIL WAR AND TODAY.)

---

BY MAX HILL

(ADVANCE) NEW YORK, JUNE 15-(AP)-FLYING FLOW, A STRANGE ASSORTMENT OF PLANES ROARED OVER THE LUSH AND TANGLED NEW GUINEA JUNGLE, EACH SHIP CROWDED WITH PARACHUTED U.S. ARMY ENGINEERS.

THERE WAS A JOB TO BE DONE. LAND TROOPS COULD NOT OPERATE IN

JUN 16 1943

SUCH RUGGED TERRAIN, SO THE TASK OF PAVING THE WAY WAS TOSSED TO THE ENGINEERS.

IT WAS A STRANGE ASSORTMENT OF PLANES-DUTCH, BRITISH, AMERICAN, AND AUSTRALIAN-SOME OF THEM OBSOLETE. BUT THEY WERE THE BEST AVAILABLE.

ONE BY ONE, THE ENGINEERS ABOARD STEPPED INTO SPACE, THEIR PARACHUTES BILLOWING BOLD AND WHITE AGAINST THE JUNGLE GREEN.

THE FULL STORY OF WHAT THEY DID WHEN THEY LANDED STILL IS A MILITARY SECRET, BUT THE RECORD OF THE CAMPAIGN THAT FOLLOWED TELLS ITS OWN STORY OF THE ENGINEERS' EFFICIENCY. IT WAS THE JUNGLE LANDING STRIPS BUILT BY THE ENGINEERS THAT ENABLED GENERALS MACARTHUR AND KENNEY TO CARRY OUT THE LONGEST AND PERHAPS THE LARGEST MASS FLIGHT OF TROOPS IN HISTORY.

JUN 16 1943

ARMY ENGINEERS TAKE PARTICULAR PRIDE IN SUCH ACHIEVEMENTS THIS WEEK. FOR, IN AS MANY AS 40 NATIONS AROUND THE WORLD, ENGINEERS ARE MARKING THE 168TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE CORPS. THEIR STORY STRETCHES BACK TO 1775 AND THE NAMING OF THE FIRST CHIEF ENGINEER, COLONEL RICHARD GRIDLEY, OF MASSACHUSETTS, WHOSE APPOINTMENT WAS NOTED BY GEORGE WASHINGTON WITH A "COMPLETE LACK OF FAITH" IN HIS ABILITIES.

THE ENGINEERING CORPS TODAY HAS NO SUCH PROBLEM--THE FAITH OF HE INFANTRY AND ARTILLERY BRANCHES IN THEIR WORK IS IMPLICIT. IRST OF ALL, THEY SAVE LIVES, MOST OF THE TIME AT THE RISK OF THEIR WN.

PROBLEMS FACED IN NEW GUINEA ARE ENTIRELY DIFFERENT, OF COURSE, FROM THOSE WHICH CONFRONTED THE ENGINEERS IN NORTH AFRICA, AND THOSE WHICH MUST BE SOLVED WHEN THE INVASION OF EUROPE TAKES PLACE. (EDS: FIRST LINE READ IT XXX FLYING LOW, A STRANGE ETC.)

IT WON'T BE JUNGLE, BUT LAND THICKLY SOWN WITH DEADLY MINES THAT MUST BE COMBATED. DOWN AT FORT BELVOIR, VA., MEN ARE TRAINING TO DETECT AND THEN HANDLE THESE LAND MINES WITH ALL THE GENTLENESS YOU WOULD USE IN HOLDING A FRAGILE SOAP-BUBBLE.

THE CAMPAIGN IN TUNISIA TAUGHT THE ENGINEERS MANY VALUABLE LESSONS. IN FACT, IN NORTH AFRICA, AMERICA'S FIFTH ARMY IS GOING TO A SCHOOL NOW WHICH IS REALLY A POST-GRADUATE EXTENSION OF THE FORT BELVOIR COURSE. THIS IS TO INSURE A SUFFICIENT SUPPLY OF MEN TRAINED TO HANDLE MINES. TWO ENGINEER COMBAT BATTALIONS IN NORTH AFRICA DURING THE RECENT FIGHTING SPENT HALF OF THEIR TIME LAYING MINES AND REMOVING THOSE OF THE ENEMY.

JUN 16 1943

MAJOR GENERAL TERRY ALLEN, COMMANDING OFFICER OF THE FIRST DIVISION IN AFRICA, ALREADY HAS TOLD THE ENGINEERS HOW IMPORTANT WAS THEIR WORK. HE SAID: "IN NO OPERATION THAT I KNOW OF, WAS AN INFANTRY DIVISION SO DEPENDENT UPON ENGINEER HELP, NOR WAS SUCH ASSISTANCE EVER SO CHEERFULLY OR SO EFFICIENTLY RENDERED."

THE ENGINEERS NOT ONLY WORK, BUT THEY FIGHT. IN ONE OF THE NEW GUINEA OPERATIONS, AN ENGINEER OUTFIT WAS BUILDING A LANDING STRIP AT MILNE BAY. JAPANESE ATTACKED. THE ENGINEERS HAD A DOZEN 50-CALIBER ACK-ACK MACHINE GUNS. BEFORE THE DAY WAS OVER, THE ARMY ESTIMATES THAT 1,000 JAPANESE WERE KILLED OR WOUNDED.

ONE ENGINEER WAS KILLED--THE COOK. HE STUCK WITH HIS KITCHEN AND COULDN'T MOVE AROUND WITH THE RAPIDITY OF THE OTHERS.

AMERICAN ENGINEERING SKILL HAS PLAYED NO SMALL PART IN PUTTING THE JAPANESE AT A DISADVANTAGE IN THE ALEUTIANS. FOR ELEVEN MONTHS THE JAPANESE LANDING PARTY ON ATTU TRIED TO SCRATCH OUT A STRIP FOR BOMBERS. ON NEARBY ADAK AND AMCHITKA ISLANDS, AMERICAN ENGINEERS

JUN 16 1943

FACING SIMILAR PROBLEMS BULLDOZED OUT ONE STRIP FOR FIGHTER PLANES IN FOUR DAYS AND IN 15 DAYS HAD A LANDING FIELD SOLID ENOUGH FOR B-24'S.

ONE FIGHTER STRIP WAS CREATED IN THE BED OF A CREEK. ENGINEERS WITH BULLDOZERS THREW A DAM ACROSS THE CREEK AND DIVERTED THE FLOW OF WATER, THE SANDY BOTTOM PROVIDING A HARD, SOUND BASE.

ON ATTU ISLAND ITSELF, IN TWO WEEKS, AND WORKING MOST OF THE TIME UNDER FIRE, AMERICAN ENGINEERS BUILT MORE PIONEER ROAD THAN THE JAPANESE HAD CONSTRUCTED IN A YEAR.

JUN 16 1943

BUT PERHAPS THE BEST STORY GOES BACK TO NORTH AFRICA, TO THE PORT OF BONE AND A MUD FLAT UNDER SUCH HEAVY BOMBARDMENT THAT AT ONE TIME THE DECISION HAD BEEN MADE TO CLOSE IT UNLESS AIR PROTECTION COULD BE PROVIDED WITHIN TWO WEEKS. FOR 10 OR 15 YEARS, ATTEMPTS HAD BEEN MADE TO COMPLETE A USEABLE AIRDROME ON THE MUD. THEN AMERICAN ENGINEERS MOVED IN, CONCENTRATING ALL THE HEAVY EARTH-MOVING EQUIPMENT IN NORTH AFRICA TO BRING DUNE SAND FROM THE COAST ONTO THE MUD FLAT, TO BE FOLLOWED WITH ENGINEER-DESIGNED "FLIGHT DECKS" OF PIERCED STEEL PLANKING. TWO WEEKS LATER, A PLANE CAPTAIN ABOUT TO CRASH-LAND IN THE AREA BEHELD WHAT HE LATER SAID WAS THE LONGEST RUNWAY HE EVER HAD SEEN.

THESE STORIES OF HARDSHIP, SKILL AND BRAVERY ARE ONLY A FEW WHICH ARE HAPPENING THROUGHOUT THE WORLD AS THE ENGINEERS CELEBRATE THEIR ANNIVERSARY. WHEREAS, THE FIRST CHIEF ENGINEER, COLONEL GRIDLEY, HAD LITTLE MONEY TO WORK WITH AND ONLY A FEW PROJECTS TO SUPERVISE, THE PRESENT CHIEF, MAJOR GENERAL EUGENE REYBOLD HAS AN $11,000,000,000 WAR EMERGENCY PROGRAM TO SUPERVISE IN ADDITION TO THE TASKS ON THE WAR-FRONTS.

THIS TREMENDOUS PROGRAM USUALLY HAS A CIVILIAN ARMY OF

30.24-5057

1,000,000 MEN AND WOMEN AT WORK, IN ADDITION TO THE REGULAR ARMY PERSONNEL.

WHILE MUCH OF THE WORK BEING DONE BY THE ENGINEERS IS OF AN ENTIRELY NEW SORT, STILL THE CORPS HAS NOT FORGOTTEN HISTORY, OR ITS LESSONS. EVEN THE SCHOOL IS ON GROUND ORIGINALLY SURVEYED BY GEORGE WASHINGTON, AND MOST OF THE SUPPLIES FOR THE CORPS MOVE ON TRANSCONTINENTAL ROUTES WHICH WERE LAID OUT BY ENGINEER TROOPS IN 1853.

JUN 16 1943

THE MOTTO OF THE ENGINEER CORPS REALLY TYPIFIES THEIR WORK. IT IS A FRENCH WORD--"ESSAYONS," WHICH MEANS "LET US TRY; LET US DO; LET US DARE."

LONDON, JUNE 15-(AP)-LONDON NEWSPAPERS TODAY QUOTED THE ROME RADIO AS SAYING THAT ALLIED WARSHIPS AND TRANSPORTS ARE MASSING IN THE SICILIAN STRAIT FOLLOWING ALLIED OCCUPATION OF THE TINY ISLAND OF LAMPIONE, THE LAST OF FOUR ISLANDS IN THE CHANNEL TO BE WRESTED FROM ITALIAN CONTROL.

A REUTERS DISPATCH FROM NORTH AFRICA REPORTED THE CAPTURE OF LAMPIONE YESTERDAY, SAYING IT FELL ON SUNDAY. THE ISLANDS'S INHABITANTS --A FEW LIGHTHOUSE KEEPERS--WERE REPORTED TO HAVE FLED.

THE GERMAN NEWS AGENCY DNB, IN A BERLIN BROADCAST RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, SAID TODAY THAT AXIS AIR ATTACKS WERE CONTINUING AGAINST THE ALLIES' POTENTIAL INVASION FLEET IN THE SICILIAN STRAIT.

GERMAN BOMBERS DAMAGED A LANDING CRAFT AND SIX MEDIUM TRANSPORTS OFF PANTELLERIA AND IN THE HARBOR, DNB SAID, AND ALSO REPORTED THAT HEAVY BOMBERS ATTACKED BONE ON THE ALGERIAN COAST LAST NIGHT.

FURTHER SUGGESTING PICKING UP [illegible] SHIPPING MOVEMENTS IN THE GENERAL MEDITERRANEAN AREA, THE [illegible] UNIQUE SAID A FREIGHTER HAD BEEN DAMAGED BY GERMAN AIR AT[illegible] PORTUGUESE COAST AND FOUR

JUN 16 1943

ALLIED PLANES SHOT DOWN IN COMBAT IN THE SAME AREA.

NONE OF THESE CLAIMS WAS CONFIRMED BY ALLIED SOURCES.

AXIS PLANES HAVE ENGAGED ALLIED CONVOYS IN "A BATTLE WHICH HAS NOW LASTED FOR THREE DAYS AND HAS NOT LOST ANY OF ITS VIOLENCE," THE LONDON EXPRESS QUOTED THE ROME RADIO AS SAYING. THE NEWSPAPER SAID THE BATTLE WAS REPORTED TO BE IN PROGRESS IN THE TRIANGULAR AREA BETWEEN MALTA, BIZERTE AND THE SICILIAN COAST.

THE DAILY HERALD QUOTED A GERMAN BROADCAST AS SAYING THAT THE ALLIES HAD MASSED AT BIZERTE "A LARGE CONCENTRATION OF MEANS OF DISEMBARKATION" WHICH WERE BEING HAMMERED BY GERMAN PLANES. AT LEAST 20 LANDING BARGES WERE SUNK DURING A RAID ON THE HARBOR, THE BROADCAST REPORTED.

JUN 16 1943

AXIS RADIO COMMENTATORS CONTINUED TO SPECULATE ON WHERE THE NEXT ALLIED BLOW WOULD FALL, WITH THE CONSENSUS FAVORING SICILY AND SARDINIA AND THE MAJORITY BELIEVING THE ATTACK WOULD COME THIS WEEK.

SOME LONDON MILITARY COMMENTATORS, HOWEVER, DECLARED THAT THE ALLIED PLANS ARE "FAR AHEAD OF SCHEDULE" AND RECALLED THAT SOUTHERN EUROPEAN WEATHER PROVIDES A LONG CAMPAIGNING SEASON--IMPLYING THERE PROBABLY WOULD BE A PAUSE IN ALLIED ACTIVITY.

Six Sicilian Air Bases Devastated In Joint British-U.S. Pounding; Two Axis Peace Feelers Reported

JUN 17 1943

JUN 17 1943

6 AXIS BASES ON SICILY HIT

Allied Planes From North Africa And Malta Deliver Attacks

BOYLE

[By the Associated Press]

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 16—Allied warplanes springing from both North Africa and Malta have struck with powerful force at six centers of Axis air power on Sicily, while long-range fighters from the Middle East command again swept the Aegean against enemy shipping, official announcements disclosed today.

In attacks begun Monday night by British Wellington bombers and extended through yesterday by swarms of Flying Fortresses, Lightnings, Mitchells, Marauders, Warhawks and Beaufighters, five Sicilian airfields were pounded with fire and explosives at Sciacca, Bocca di Falco, Castelvetrano, Borizzo and Milo.

Comiso Set Aflame

A sixth Axis air base, Comiso, was set aflame by fighter-bombers driving in from Malta, while intruder planes from that same command beat at enemy communications in both Sicily and southern Italy and Allied naval planes set off an explosion in Italian coastal works at Capo Passero, also in Sicily.

For their part in this vast plan of attrition and destruction, Middle East fighter planes found and hit two enemy sailing vessels in their Aegean patrol, coming home without loss to themselves.

In all the widespread attacks carried out by the Northwest Air Force operating under this headquarters, sixteen enemy planes were shot down for certain against seven Allied losses. At least twelve more enemy planes were damaged in the air and scores were damaged aground.

Buildings Squarely Hit

The enemy's Sicilian airfields were cut and smashed with hundreds of tons of Allied bombs and fired with countless incendiaries.

At Sciacca the airport buildings, barracks and grounded planes were squarely hit. At Borizzo fires sprang up among the airport buildings punctuated by explosions in an enemy fuel or ammunition dump.

At Bocca di Falco bombs burst impartially on the dispersal areas, the runways and barracks alike, setting off many fires.

Castelvetrano shook under two great explosions while flames shot up so high as to be visible fifty miles away, and as the raiding Fortresses turned homeward their crews heard a thunderous third blast in an area where many grounded enemy planes had been seen.

40 Planes In One Target

At an advanced Allied base, Joseph Morton, Associated Press correspondent, reported that a captain returning from the Castelvetrano attack had seen about forty enemy planes aground in the single target area assigned to him.

"The bombs slithered in between them as neat as a row of pins," said the officer, Capt. William Condy. "I don't think many of those aircraft will be flying very soon."

Aside from the enemy's airfields, two Italian radio stations near Marsala in western Sicily were shot up.

[The Axis claimed successful attacks on Allied shipping and landing craft about the captured island of Pantelleria.]

Rumania Reported Asking Allies What It Can Get by Quitting War

JUN 17 1943

Another Rumor Says Germany and Russia Have Had Unsuccessful Peace Talks; Berlin Shows Worry by Calling Balkans a 'Bulwark'

By The Associated Press HAWKINS

LONDON, June 16.—Two new, roundabout Axis peace feelers were reported today, while the Allied war of nerves continued unabated, stinging Berlin into boasting of the security of its Balkan bastions on the eastern Mediterranean.

Reports from Ankara said Rumania was sounding out the Allies on what she might gain by withdrawing from war as an Axis satellite, and an apparent German "propaganda plant" in Sweden said Germany and Russia recently had discussed peace negotiations, albeit unsuccessfully.

Betraying concern over the Middle East—especially since the reported closing of the Turkish-Syrian border emphasized the possibility of double Allied assaults in the Mediterranean—Berlin asserted that the United Nations had failed to bring Turkey into the war and termed the Balkans "the bulwark of southeastern Europe" now instead of a powder keg.

The military critic of the "Berliner Boersen Zeitung," in a broadcast recorded by The Associated Press, declared the Atlantic front "may be considered impregnable" and "there remains in the enemy press one hope of possible attack—in southeastern Europe."

Says They Will Fight

This is entirely vain, he said, because "Bulgaria is prepared to defend her country to the last drop of blood" and Rumania "this time has clearly recognized her true historic mission."

This coincided with word from semi-diplomatic sources in Ankara that Rumania had approached Allied authorities through a neutral diplomat and suggested that Rumania would desert the Germans in Russia if Rumania were allowed to keep at least parts of Bessarabia and Bukovina. These areas are claimed by Russia.

This report was not confirmed by Allied sources, but it was said the proposal was receiving careful consideration in United Nations capitals.

The German-Russian peace discussion was reported by the pro-German newspaper "Allehanda" in Stockholm. It said the conference failed when the Germans demanded the Ukraine and the Russians realized the Nazis were depending upon the Ukraine for food. The Germans also were alleged to have demanded the Baltic countries and all of Poland. Competent observers said the story might be Nazi-inspired in an effort to breach the unity of the Allies.

JUN 17 1943

30.24-5059

"Allehanda" said Mrs. Alexandra Kollontay, Russian Ambassador to Sweden, might have been among the conferees, but she denied that any such discussions occurred. Mrs. Kollontay described the report as "insolent and ridiculous." The whole story is only German propaganda," she said. "It is impossible to conduct peace negotiations with Germany at the present time.'

Emphasis in Axis broadcasts on the strength of their defenses in southern Europe reflected obvious concern over that area, with the Syrian border report focusing attention on the British 9th and 10th Armies, awaiting a call to action.

Unofficial quarters in London revived speculation that these armies might join British, American and French forces in North Africa in a co-ordinated thrust against southern Europe.

But official reaction was summed up by a non-committal observer, who said, with a smile: "Isn't the war of nerves going splendidly? We are gaining on that front every day."

Meanwhile, Allied planes hammered Axis targets in the Mediterranean, and the German radio asserted that at least five transports, two landing shipsof 3,000 tons each, and 15 landing boats had been sunk by Axis airmen in waters around Pantelleria and Lampedusa up to June 15. It added that three cruisers, several destroyers, and other warcraft were damaged.

Hhe most unusual type of Allied landing craft, said the Berlin broadcast, was one of about 300 tons which carried five tanks or 600 men, and had a radius of action of 875 miles.

Nazis Stage Norway Drills

In other developments of the day on the "nerve front":

The German army was reported making extensive anti-invasion maneuvers in southern Norway;

Reports from La Linea, Spain, on which there was no official comment, said the airplane carrier Formidable, the battleship King George V, and 12 English and one Dutch destroyers were now in port at Gibraltar;

The German radio declared that the Nazis air force still held superiority on the Russian front, and said "Germany would so far as the air force and submarines are concerned, face coming events calmly, for there may be some exciting days again very soon."

American Soldiers Cheer King George in Tunisia

JUN 17 1943

Monarch Inspects Troops, Honors Gen. Eisenhower, Visits Cemetery.

MORIN

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 16 — (AP) In a sudden, spectacular flight, England's King George VI has visited the triumphant North African battleground talked with astonished, cheering British soldiers, and watched American troops preparing for the assault upon Europe.

The King, unifying symbol of the embattled British commonwealth, arrived last Saturday, but his trip, his second visit of the war to soldiers on the front, was kept secret until today.

Eisenhower Invested

In one ceremony, the monarch invested General Dwight D. Eisenhower, chief architect of the Allied victory that expelled the Axis from Tunisia, with the insignia of Knight Grand Cross of the Order of the Bath. This honor, one of the highest the King can grant, was conferred recently upon Gen. Eisenhower and Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

King George also inspected troops of the American Fifth army of Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark, in training for an invasion jump into Axis-dominated Europe.

He boarded warships, toured a number of British and American military units, talked with men in convalescent camps, and on Sunday went to a beach where 3,000 men were swimming.

The news of his arrival spread with electrifying swiftness, and from the water raced a tide of tanned, half-nude, dripping men, surrounding the King, then bursting into the British national anthem. King George walked down from a veranda among the troops, and they sang again, this time "For He's a Jolly Fellow."

(Visiting an American military cemetery at Oran, the King paid tribute to American soldiers killed in the North African campaign, said Ralph Howard, N.B.C. reporter in North Africa.)

Flew from England

King George flew from England in a service plane piloted by Capt. Edward Hedley Fielden, his personal pilot and captain of the King's flight, who has flown the King many hundreds of thousands of miles.

With him were Sir Archibald Sinclair, Secretary of State for Air, and Sir James Grigg, Secretary of State for War.

A brief communique issued said "The King is visiting his forces in North Africa. His Majesty welcomed this opportunity of seeing United States and Allied forces with whom his own forces are so closely associated, and of investing General Eisenhower with the insignia of Knight Grand Cross of the Order of the Bath."

Counselors Rule

While the King is absent, it was announced in London, five counsellors of state rule over Britain. The five are the Queen; the Duke of Gloucester, his younger brother; the Princess Royal, his sister; the Duchess of Fife, his aunt, and the Countess of Southesk, his cousin. They were appointed by King George before he left.

In his first trip to the battlefront, King George inspected the British army in France early in 1940. He crossed the channel in a destroyer.

Leaving headquarters on Monday morning, the King spent nearly a full day with an American army where he met Lieut. Gen. Clark, Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., commander of American combat forces in Tunisia, Lieut. Gen. Omar N. Bradley, commander of the United States 2nd Army corps, Maj. Gen. Geoffrey Keys, commanding an armored unit, Maj. Gen. Manton S. Eddy and Maj. Gen. Hugh Gaffey.

Soap, Elbow Grease

As he reviewed one particular group of American troops, the King remarked to Major James D. Johnston of Barium Springs, N. C., commander of the King's Guard, that the men's uniforms looked unusually clean. He asked how they were able to do it amid the dust and dirt which was inevitable in all North African camps.

Major Johnston replied promptly: "with lots of soap and plenty of elbow grease, Your Majesty."

The King asked if these units had suffered very heavy casualties in the Tunisian fight. He said he had visited a convalescent camp the previous day and seen himself what good care the wounded were getting.

The King then placed a wreath at the base of a flagstaff in the American cemetery.

It was another big day for Sgt. Frazier Woodard of Alabama, Ga., who supervised the cooks that prepared the luncheon for President Roosevelt when he was in Africa. The Army cooks won the President's praise and the King was no less outspoken in his praise.

Under Sgt. Woodard's direction, the cooks prepared a luncheon that combined some of the best features of southern cooking and British menus. The main course was roast beef that would have done credit to the best Piccadily chef. Then came creamed corn, string beans, canned fruit salad and hot biscuits that were light as cotton balls. Tea was served instead of coffee.

After luncheon American combat teams gave a demonstration of street fighting and others went through special training exercises. The men went at it so hard one of the officers was asked if they were putting extra verve into their work because of the King's presence.

AXIS TRAINS ATTACKED BY RAF TYPHOONS

Several Locomotives Are Damaged In Raid Over North France

Spitfires Battle Nazi Aircraft Over Channel. Two Shot Down

[By the Associated Press]

London, June 16—RAF Typhoons struck again today at the Axis' precious stock of locomotives, damaging several in a raid over northern France, and kept up the aerial jabs against Europe after widespread raids last night in which Berlin reported hostile planes overhead.

Spitfires fought German planes over the Channel, downing two, while four British planes were lost in the day's operations, the Air Ministry said tonight. Pilots of two British planes, however, were saved.

Tuesday night's raids were more widespread, but the RAF's big bombers were inactive.

Airfields Attacked

The Air Ministry said Mosquitoes, Mustangs, Whirlwinds, Bostons, Beaufighters and Typhoons hit airfields, rail and water transport from Denmark to Dunkerque, but officially gave no acknowledgment of the German radio report that the Nazi capital was on the list.

The half-hour alert probably resulted from armed reconnaissance flights, in which some bombs might have been dropped, British sources said.

The Germans said no bombs were dropped on Berlin. Under RAF policy, minor operations are not announced unless some planes are lost.

Heavy Raids In March

The Reich capital has not had a concentrated raid since the nights of March 27 and March 29. Mosquito planes have struck Berlin four times this month.

Last night's targets, said an official announcement, included an airdrome near Dunkerque, a tug and barges on the Bruges-Ghent canal, barges in the Lys canal and a freight train near by. One Mosquito bomber downed an enemy bomber at an airdrome near Aalborg, in Denmark.

Four RAF Spitfires which were mothering a Walrus rescue plane taxiing home to England in a rough sea destroyed two of a formation of twenty Focke-Wulf 190s in a series of fierce dogfights off Cap Gris Nez today.

Couldn't Take Off

The Walrus, escorted by the Spitfires, had landed and picked up the pilot of a Typhoon plane who was floating in a rubber dinghy after being forced to bail out. Then the pilot of the Walrus found the sea too rough to take off.

The Walrus was taxiing toward Dover with the Spitfires circling above when the Germans attacked. The Spitfires went into action and not a single Focke-Wulf got within shooting range of the rescue plane which reached port safely.

Two Spitfires were lost, but one pilot was rescued by a high-speed rescue launch.

GERMAN LOSS

BRITISH CONFIRM SYRIA BARRIER, INDICATING USE OF FORCE TRAINED THERE

JUN 17 1943

Action Comes As Two Peace Feelers From Axis Countries Are Reported — Turkish Premier Declares Unity With Allied Aims

[By the Associated Press]

Ankara, June 16—A British Embassy source officially revealed today that the entire Turko-Syrian frontier had been closed with a strong guard "protecting troop movements."

This source said that British military and diplomatic authorities have formally notified the Turkish general staff and Government of the move. The border was closed at 6 A. M. yesterday.

To Shut Off Axis Agents

It was assumed that the border was closed to prevent Axis agents from slipping across into neutral Turkey to make reports to Berlin and Rome.

The Taurus Express, bound out of Turkey into Syria, was allowed to cross the frontier later in the day yesterday.

[The plan to close the Turkish-Syrian border was first disclosed Tuesday, but the reason at first remained obscure. The sudden move to keep "troop movements" secret indicated that the Allies may be preparing to use military organizations known to have been training in the Near East for many months.]

TRIPLE BLOW BRINGS HEAVY

Counter - Attack Closes Soviet Line After Temporary Break

JUN 17 1943

Russian Airmen Pound Enemy Depots Far From Front

[By the Associated Press]

London, Thursday, June 17—Thousands of German troops attacking for the third straight day in the Orel sector have been repulsed with "serious losses," Moscow announced early today amid Axis reports that a "Russian summer offensive is imminent" in that area.

The battle around Orel apparently had spread to points on three sides of the city, 200 miles southwest of Moscow, with both sides crediting the other with offensive aims.

Russian long-range airmen also pounded German depots far behind this awakening front.

Beat Off Three Attacks

The midnight communique, recorded by the Soviet monitor, said three German battalions had been beaten off northwest of Mtsensk, forty miles northeast of Orel, in a continuing effort to dislodge the Red army from several villages captured in recent Soviet thrusts.

"Captured German soldiers say they were ordered to regain the ground at all costs," said the bulletin.

The German attacks might be aimed at disrupting Soviet offensive plans, because one commentator on the German-controlled Paris radio said large Red army forces were massing between Orel and Kursk to the south, and quoted Axis military circles as saying that "a Russian summer offensive is imminent and will start in this sector."

The Russians have said that once their troops strike, it will be in concert with an Allied drive in the west.

Bomb Rail Junctions

A special announcement disclosed that Russian airmen, on flights radiating from the Orel hub, had attacked rail junctions at Unecha, Novozybkov, Roslavl and other points Tuesday night. These targets are from 135 to 175 miles behind Orel.

"Many enemy trains were smashed and burned by the bombing," said the announcement. "All our planes returned safely."

In the fighting near Mtsensk, the Russians said the Germans suffered heavily in men and equipment. Red artillerymen were credited with destroying five tanks and four planes.

Break Forward Positions

In the Zhizdra sector, eighty-five miles northwest of Orel, the Russians said an enemy battalion on reconnaissance succeeded temporarily in breaking into forward positions before a counter-attack killed 160 Germans and restored the situation.

A Berlin broadcast recorded by the Associated Press said the Russians had attacked under an artificial fog and heavy artillery barrage south of Orel. The attack was repulsed, Berlin said.

The German air force struck back at the Russians with a stab at Saratox, on the Volga river, 430 miles east of Orel, Moscow said.

4 Nazi Bombers Downed

"Single enemy planes broke through to the town and dropped explosive and incendiary bombs," said a broadcast recorded by the Soviet monitor. Four German bombers were brought down."

Russian planes were reported officially to have sunk an enemy submarine in the Black Sea, off the stalemated Caucasian sector, and a cutter and transport in the Barents Sea.

Four hundred Germans were killed in the Smolensk front west of Moscow, the midnight communique said, and airmen in that sector shot down three German planes. Minor fighting also was reported in the Sevsk and Belgorod areas below Orel and on the Leningrad front.

R.A.F. AGAIN HITS REICH

LONDON, Thursday, June 17. — (AP) R.A.F. bombers resumed their attacks on Germany last night, the British announced today, after giving the cities of the Reich a one-night respite from attack. It was the fifth assault on Germany in six nights.

Russian Troops Raid German Tank Base On Central Front

Nazi Train Derailed By Polish Patriots; Blacklists Burned

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, June 16.—Russian planes raided a German tank concentration near Sevsk in the Orel sector of the Soviet front last night in a continuation of several days of sharp activity in that area, the Russian midday communique said today.

Direct hits were registered on Nazi tanks and four German planes were brought down in the aerial combats which followed, the Russians said. Four German planes likewise were brought down in sharp aerial action northwest of Mtsensk, also in the Orel sector, said the communique, which was broadcast from Moscow and recorded by the Soviet monitor here.

Russian scouts were active in the Sevsk area, the communique said, taking prisoners and killing several scores of Germans.

The Germans counterattacked strongly near Mtsensk yesterday, said the Russian midnight communique, but withdrew at sundown when the Russians beat off their attempts for the second day to retake four settlements now held by the Russians. The Russians said the Germans left 400 dead and a number of destroyed tanks when they withdrew.

Red Army planes also were active yesterday, bombing German supply and communication lines, the communique said.

Overnight artillery action and scouting by the Russians west of Rostov in which German fortifications were said to have been destroyed was reported in the midday bulletin.

Guerrillas routed an enemy garrison on the Kalinin front and derailed a German troop train in that area, the communique said.

It reported that Polish patriots blew up a railroad bridge and derailed a German train and "in a certain town" burned the lists of Poles scheduled for deportation to Germany and killed a number of German police.

The only reference the communique made to German ground activity was in the Lisichansk area of the Donets River front, where it said a reconnaissance attempt was beaten off and about 80 German officers and men were killed.

DENMARK BOMBED IN BIG R. A. F. SWEEP

London, June 16 (A. P.).—The British announced that Royal Air Force bombers ranged the continent from Denmark to France last night as the renewed Allied aerial offensive continued through its fifth successive night and the Germans indicated some of the raiders were near Berlin.

A broadcast by DNB, the German news agency, recorded by the Associated Press, said that the Reich capital had an alert lasting more than half an hour, but declared "there were no particular events, no damage and no casualties reported."

R. A. F. bombers ripped at enemy airfields, railway communications and water transport.

British informants said that Berlin's alert probably was the result of British reconnaissance flights in which some bombs may have been dropped.

The Berlin radio said that Allied bombers also were over north Germany last night and that "isolated bombs caused insignificant damage."

An official British announcement reported that Whirlwinds had bombed an airdrome near Dunkirk, shot up a tug and barges on the Bruges-Ghent canal, strafed barges in the Lys canal and machine-gunned a freight train in the same area.

A lone Mosquito bomber stabbed 500 miles across the North Sea to Denmark and shot down an enemy bomber as it was about to take off from an airdrome near Aalborg.

Boston bombers were reported to have attacked a factory and train at a loading platform near Nantes in northern France and Beaufighters damaged three locomotives in Brittany. A Typhoon was reported to have bombed and cannoned a torpedo boat off Ostend.

British heavy bombers, which have been out in force over Germany for the last four nights, apparently were given a rest.

Axis Nervousness Increasing Over Signs of Early Invasion

Foe Says Allies Entice Turks to Enter War—Links King's Tour With Offensive—Sicily and Crete in Peril.

JUN 17 1943

London, June 16 (A. P.).—A barrage of Axis allegations of Allied intrigues designed to bring Turkey into the war soon and of constantly growing Allied naval forces in the central Mediterranean highlighted enemy nervousness today at the possibility that King George's visit to troops in North Africa was a prelude to large-scale offensives.

Unofficial military commentators here conjectured that the Allies might attempt the simultaneous capture of Sicily from North Africa and Crete from the Middle East before invading the European mainland.

These observers, who cannot be identified, said the renewed bombing offensive against Sicily strongly pointed to that island as one of the first on the Allied invasion schedule, and that the reported sealing of the border between Turkey and Syria might be a precaution to cover the secrecy of military movements.

Axis Claims Advantage.

While both the Rome and Berlin radios continued to harp on reports of Allied preparations, both renewed assurances to Italians and Germans that Axis armed forces were ready and calmly awaiting the test. One Rome broadcast quoting Premier Mussolini's Il Popolo d'Italia, pointed out what it termed the advantages of being invaded.

"Up to now the Axis forces had to fight with their backs to the sea," it said. "Now it will be the turn of the Americans and the British to find themselves in that position."

Both Crete and Sicily would be difficult to take, commentators here emphasized, and Cairo dispatches, quoting military quarters there, said an attack on Sicily might take two or three months.

Axis broadcasters declared a great invasion fleet was massing on the western half of the Mediterranean, and from semi-official sources in Ankara came a report that the Allies had closed Syria's frontier with Turkey. Official Allied sources kept mum, giving no hint what these reports, if true, might portend.

May Mean Big Move.

Unofficial observers here suggested the Ankara announcement might indicate that the British Ninth and Tenth armies and United States troops that have been quietly building up strength in Syria, Palestine, Iraq and Iran might now be moving or planning to move suddenly. The Daily Herald quoted German reports that the Allies had built up an "invasion army" in Syria.

The Berlin radio, however, in a broadcast of Ankara dispatches asserted the Turkish-Syrian frontier was not closed and that the Istanbul-Baghdad train was running as usual.

"All that has been done is that frontier control has been made more strict" with particular attention to persons bearing Syrian or Irak visas, the radio said.

The British Broadcasting Corporation interpreted closing of the 350-mile border as a move "to check leakage of information from Syria and Palestine to Germany through Turkey."

Speculation coupled the reported border closing with the visit to Turkey this week of Admiral Sir John Cunningham, appointed British Commander in Chief in the Levant only last week. Admiral Cunningham talked with President Ismet Inonu for ninety minutes on Monday and also conferred with Premier Sukru Saracoglu and other high Turkish officials.

In an interview in Ankara last night with Frank J. O'Brien of the Associated Press, Premier Saracoglu gave no light on the Syrian border question, but discussing his own country's position in the international picture he left the impression that Turkey is playing an important role in the development of Balkan affairs.

The Premier, who said Turkey would continue the strictest vigilance toward neutrality, indicated his Government was impressed with American conduct of the war and expressed surprise that recent Mediterranean events have moved so swiftly.

A broadcast by the Leningrad radio, recorded here by the Ministry of Information, raised the possibility that Allied strategy may be to strike at Axis Europe from several directions at once.

"There can be no doubt that the blow against Hitlerite Germany from the west will coincide with a mighty crushing blow of the Red Army from the east," the Leningrad report said.

Berlin nervously reminded Germans in a broadcast reported by Reuters that the Russians were massing south of Moscow. Obviously alarmed at this and the relentless American-British-French pressure from other directions, the Nazis were reported realigning their top generals at strategic points around the rim of the continent.

voy had entered Gibraltar Harbor.

About sixty vessels, many of them tankers, were said to be there.

Army Battle School For U. S. Nurses Opened in London

Former D. C. Woman Among Those Enrolled For Training Course

By the Associated Press.

LONDON.—Uncle Sam has opened a battle school for American nurses in Britain in which the girls are learning about booby traps and poisonous gases.

Thirty chief nurses from American military hospitals were enrolled in the first class and it turned out to be such a success that another group is being brought in for training.

In addition to getting instruction

JUN 17 1943

JUN 17 1943

30.24-5061

in many of the items in a soldier's basic training, the nurses are getting practice in drilling and a refresher course in their own duties.

The classes are held at the American school center, where special units, medical and military police, for example, are given added instruction. It is located "somewhere in England."

Nurse Suggested Course.

The idea for this special course for nurses came from Capt. Esther McCafferty of Wilmington, Del., chief of the nurses' section of the chief surgeon's office.

She thought it would be a good thing if nurses and their assistants knew more about the duties of their soldier patients. She was a student in the first class.

The nurses' course is supervised by Lt. Ruth Momberger of Baltimore, assisted by five other nurses—Lts. Marjorie Bracy of Clyde, Ohio; Alice Dalton of Wittonville, Mass.; Meredith Reeves of Greencastle, Ind.; Cynthia Parker of Oklahoma City and Juanita Williams of Langley, Okla.

Most of the classes are taught by regular instructors at the school or by medical officers. For instance, Capt. John R. Snow of Lockport, N. Y., instructor in dismounted drill, puts the nurses through their paces. One of the features of the course is a colored motion picture film of the operation of North African medical units taken by Lt. Col. Rex Dively of Kansas City.

Learn Fire Fighting.

The class in fire fighting, in which the nurses are learning how to use stirrup pumps, foam extinguishers and other apparatus, is taught by Lt. Louis Roth of Baltimore, Second Lt. B. T. Cook of Pittsburg, Pa., and Private Ove Waidtlow of Oakland, Calif.

Other nurses in the first class included the following: Capts. Marjorie Peto, of West Englewood, N. J., and Bernice Sinclair, of Franklin, New Hampshire.

Lts. Beatrice Bosely, of Akron, Mich.; Rosemary Bromlage, of Philadelphia; Lillian Carter, of St. John's, Newfoundland; Mary Clark, Virginleno, Mich.; Edna M. Cree, of Colbrook, N. H.; Mildred Doane, of Dedham, Mass.; Harriet S. Gutermute, of Santa Barbara, Calif.; Anna E. Hall, of Great Barrington, Mass.; Emilie Jensen, of Washington, D. C.; Evelyn Libbie, of Boothbay Harbor, Me.; Grace Lyman, of Claremont, Calif.; Anna L. Moline, of Pierre, S. D.; Margaret D. Preitzel, of Long Island, N. Y.; Mary E. Ray, of Koltona, Kans.; Margaret Schafer, of Spring City, Pa.; Lorraine Setzler, of Sioux City, Iowa; Gladys Staub, of Scranton, Pa.; Ruth P. Taylor, of Falston, Md.; Audrey Van Zandt, of Warren, Ariz.; Ivy Wadsworth, Auburn, N. Y., and Irene Zwisler, of Holyoke, Mass.

D. C. Girl Enrolled.

Second Lts. Glenna Ashbaugh, of Grand Junction, Colo.; Juanita Bronson, of Bucyrus, Ohio; Mary Chisholm, of Ashburnham, Mass.; Nathalie Fitzherber, of Vernonston, Mass.; Nell H. Russell, of Indiana, Pa., and Martha Williams, of Nenth, Pa.

Two Sources Reveal Signs Of Unrest Within Germany

Prisoner Taken In Russia Tells Of Mass Arrests.

Broadcast Chides Belief Reich Is Losing

JUN 17 1943

By the Associated Press]

London, Thursday, June 17—Indications of unrest within Germany itself came today from two sources—Moscow and Berlin.

A Moscow broadcast recorded by the Soviet monitor quoted a German prisoner captured on the Eastern front as saying there had been mass arrests in Berlin, Essen and other cities in the past two months and that riots had broken out after the recent raid on Essen.

A military commentator on the German radio, heard by the British Ministry of Information, hinted there was uneasiness among the German people, asserting:

"It is an error to believe we are on the losing side at the present moment, as many believe who are influenced by enemy propaganda, or because they had become accustomed to the uninteruppted line of successes on our side.

"It is not necessary to go on administering blows all the time to prove one's strength. The essential thing is to possess strength and to know how to use it in time."

British Tugs Salvage Torpedoed Cargoes

By the Associated Press.

LONDON.—Thousands of tons of war cargoes which German U-boat commanders have reported as at the bottom of the sea have been rescued by the ocean-going tugs of Britain's Royal Navy.

The little ships sometimes go as far as 500 miles out to save many merchant ships which otherwise would have been unable to make port. Most recent of their exploits is the rescuing of a merchant ship, part of whose bow had been sheared off by a torpedo.

Allied Relief Parley

Dalton Says Session on Post-War Aid Is Likely in Washington

LONDON, June 16 (AP).—Hugh Dalton, president of the Board of Trade, said today that a conference of Allied powers probably will be held next month in Washington for perfecting an international organization for handling post-war relief in Europe.

Addressing a Labor party meeting, Dalton said that plans would be made for co-ordinating purchasing and use of ships "with a view to securing equitable distribution of available supplies" of food, clothing, medicine and machinery.

DOENITZ HOLD WANES

London, June 16 (A. P.).—Indications came from several informants today that Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz, whom Adolf Hitler elevated to head the Nazi Navy and who boasted he would hold off the Allies with submarine warfare, has fallen from grace.

A Tass news agency dispatch from Stockholm, broadcast by the Moscow radio and recorded by the Soviet Monitor, said that opposition to Admiral Doenitz was growing among German naval officers. A few days ago Rear Admiral Gadow, naval commentator, wrote in the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung. He was quoted as saying:

"One could never hope that submarine warfare could settle the outcome of the war."

8 U. S. AIRMEN PACKED IN DINGHY

SAVED IN ATLANTIC

British Amphibian Plane Picks Up Fliers, Taxies to Launch.

LONDON, Thursday, June 17—(AP) Eight Americans, the crew of a Flying Fortress which was shot down in the raid on the Kiel naval base in Germany on June 13, have been picked up from a dinghy in the North sea in a combined airplane-motor launch rescue and brought to England, it was announced today.

Among rescued men were Second Lieut. Edward S. Gilmore, Newton Center, Mass., navigator; and Staff Sgts. Paul Z. Powers, Taylor, Ark., gunner; and Jack C. Reynolds, Fayette, Miss., gunner.

The British Air ministry news service told today how the Americans were first sighted by an R.A.F. Stirling bomber and were then picked up and packed "like sardines" into an amphibian Walrus rescue plane and were later transferred to high speed rescue launches.

Waves Unusually High

The pilot of the Walrus said that the waves around the dinghy were "so high I doubted if I could come down." He made the landing, but with eight extra men aboard trouble started.

"Five times I tried to take off," the pilot said, "but the load was too much. I then thought I would have to put some of them back into the dinghy—which I had taken aboard the plane—and fly to the base for help. But I simply couldn't do it. The chaps seemed all in. So I taxied on with the waves lashing over the Walrus hoping to find a calmer patch of water nearer the coast."

Another Walrus rescue plane later apepared and sent for launches which took off the Fortress crew members.

The Air ministry said that the rescue was made "a few days ago."

Halifax Bomber Performance Is Improved 20%

London, June 16 (AP)—Britain's latest version of the four-engined Halifax bomber carries added fire power and has been improved about twenty per cent. in all-round performance, the Ministry of Aircraft Production disclosed today.

The plane's two-gun dorsal turret has been replaced with a four-gun powered turret and the ship now carries a total of nine .303-caliber machine guns instead of eight.

The improved flying performance of the Halifax is achieved through refinements in shape, plus the substitution of four Rolls-Royce Merlin-22 engines for the earlier Merlin-20 models.

The new Halifax, which has a maximum speed of 300 miles an hour and carried a maximum bomb load of five and one half tons, now ranks with the Lancaster as the prime night bomber of the RAF.

British Labor Spurns Merger With Reds

Action Taken by Vote Of More Than 2 to 1

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, June 16.—The Labor party, Britain's second strongest in Parliament, today rejected the Communist party's application for affiliation. The annual labor conference turned down the application, 1,951,000 to 712,000.

Each delegate balloted for the number of members he represents, after Herbert Morrison, Minister of Home Security, had asked that the affiliation issue not be mixed up with the government's relationship with the Soviet Union.

The Labor party, he declared, has consistently sought friendly relations with Russia.

Mr. Morrison, who lost his official position in the Labor party when he was defeated for treasurer yesterday, was the closing spokesman for the Executive Committee, which opposed the Communist affiliation application despite the recent dissolution of the Comintern.

Mr. Morrison predicted the Communist International would not be revived, but said the Communists still were committed to "revolution by violence" in contrast to the Labor party's "policy of government by persuasion."

He urged the Communist party to follow the Comintern's example and dissolve.

In the vote of more than 2 to 1 against affiliation, the only large bloc of votes for the Communists was the 600,000 of the Mine Workers' Federation, whose president, Will Lawther, told the conference his brother was among 500 men killed in the International Brigade organized by the Communists to fight for Republican Spain.

Have Faith in Boats.

The newly trained crews are jaunty, with faith in their little boats and the job they have to do.

The rating at the wheel of each personnel landing craft knows every sputter of his engine. In addition to knowing his craft, however, he must know many other things—such

Traditions of Nelson and Drake Inspire New 'Vest Pocket Fleet'

U. S. and British Invasion Barges Being Massed for 'Big Push' Against Hitler

JAMES M. LONG

By the Associated Press.

ON ENGLAND'S SOUTH COAST, June 16.—When the hour of invasion strikes, the high name of a navy made famous by men like Drake and Nelson will rest for one climactic moment in the hands of purposeful young Yorkshire farm lads and London truck drivers, who have been building the new naval assault tradition with Dieppe and North Africa for a starter.

These recruits—mostly men of last year's draft—have been training by the hundreds at scattered coastal bases to man the swiftly increasing fleet of shallow-draft landing craft for men and tanks which is being turned out in both Britain and the United States.

It will be the task of these men, working in crews of four, five or ten, to get the assault forces ashore and fight alongside them if necessary when the zero hour for invasion comes.

Trained for Attack Alone.

Theirs is a new service born of amphibious war needs and built up almost entirely since Dunkerque. They do not cruise, escort or blockade. It is theirs only to attack—and to that end alone are they being trained.

Fast wooden landing craft have been used successfully, but now most of the British and American output is devoted to light steel craft built to skim into shallow water where destroyers cannot go, slide their drawbridge prows onto the beach and pull off again with kedge anchors dropped on their way in through the surf.

Many craft seen here—infantry, tank and Bren gun carrier landing boats—are American made. Many more are built in Britain. Still others are assembled from hulls of British steel with engines from the United States.

They constitute a striking force typical of the co-operation of both nations in joint mass output of equipment needed to carry the war to Europe.

as how to read the semaphore signals wig-wagged from the bridge of his flotilla leader as he waltzes along in the sudsy wake of the bigger vessel.

For it is obviously impossible to assign an officer to each of the little ships that make up the invasion flotilla and the non-commissioned ratings must learn advanced seamanship and assume the responsibility of command.

The confidence in the new vest-pocket fleet extends all along the line to the docks and repair yards where the boats are kept in trim for the day when they will go into action.

It is reflected in the face and attitude of the tanned London girl, clad in the blue-denim work suit of the WRENS, who nods her head vigorously as she scrapes old paint from the hull of a landing craft support boat and says with quiet determination:

"This one will be ready."

Nazis Hint at Peace Talks.

London, June 16 (A. P.).—A Reuters dispatch from Stockholm today said the pro-German newspaper Allehanda published a special edition quoting a "reliable source" as saying that peace negotiations recently took place between Germany and Russia in Stockholm. The dispatch said the story was considered a "Nazi plant" in stockholm. Allehanda said the purported talks broke down because of Russia's territorial demands.

REDS CUT OFF NAZI POSITION NORTH OF OREL

JUN 17 1943

Chunk of Strongly Fortified German Defenses Is Severed From Rest.

RUSSIAN FLYERS BOMB TANKS

Concentration of Enemy Armor Is Heavily Blasted and Four Planes Downed in Process.

Moscow, June 16 (A. P.).—The Russian Army has cut off a chunk of the strongly fortified German defenses northwest of Mtsensk, to the north of Orel, in some of the most violent local fighting of recent weeks, front line dispatches said today.

The official communique said that the German counter-attacked strongly yesterday in an effort to retake four populated places captured by the Russians in the local offensive, but were forced to withdraw at sundown when the Russians beat off their attempts for the second day.

tion to Germany and killed a number of German police.

The only reference the communique made to German ground activity was in the Lisichansk area of the Donets River front, where it said a reconnaissance attempt was betaten off, and about eighty German officers and men were killed.

Russia Prints 30,000 Books in 2 Years of War

MOSCOW—(AP) In almost two years of war, the Soviets have published a total of 605,000,000 copies of more than 30,000 books and pamphlets. Ninety-five hundred are devoted to questions dealing with the defense of the Soviet Union.

Probably the most popular was a book on the life of the guerrilla girl Zoya Kozodemianskaya, Russian heroine. A total of 1,500,000 copies of this biography were printed.

30 Ships Leave Gibraltar

MADRID, June 16 (AP). — Dispatches from La Linea, near Gibraltar, reported that thirty merchant ships which reached Gibraltar yesterday from the Mediterranean left today for the Atlantic. There are now less than twenty ships in the normally busy port, these dispatches said.

Scores of Subs Trapped After U. S. Bomber Raids

STOCKHOLM, June 16—(AP) American bombers in their most recent raid on Bordeaux immobilized a "high percentage" of Nazi submarines preying on Allied shipping in the Atlantic, a reliable informant said here today.

The informant, who could not be additionally identified, said bombs jammed the concrete and steel locks of the submarine pens, trapping for an indefinite period many U-boats which were being readied for raids on the shipping lanes.

A "whole series" of pens was affected, the informant said, and a number of submarines were damaged or destroyed. Two hundred buildings in the Bordeaux dock area were blasted to pieces and 200 persons killed, the source said.

(Both Bordeaux and Lorient, sister U-boat bases on the French coast, were bombed by "heavy formations" of American bombers on May 17.)

Rumania Seeks Peace

Marshall Antonescu Reported 'Seeking Soft Spot to Land,' Feeling Nazis Are Too Beset to Interfere Seriously.

Rumania, bitter and disillusioned, previously has seen no end to her predicament except to march the last mile with Hitler, says Thomas F. Hawkins in this fourth of a series on conditions inside the Balkans. But now, perhaps, if reports from Ankara are correct, Rumania may feel Germany is so tied up that she can negotiate for peace in safety.

By THOMAS F. HAWKINS

BERN, Switzerland, June 16. — (AP) Rumania, which has followed the Nazi line first in a spirit of greed and then in one of desperation, may now feel that Germany is so beset herself as to make it safe for her satellites to seek a soft spot to land.

Bitter at the loss of half a million soldiers in Russia, disillusioned by Germany's failure to give back Transylvania from Hungary in payment for the sacrifice, Rumania's Marshal Ion Antonescu nevertheless has felt there was no road open except that chartered by Germany.

But today's report from Ankara that Rumania seeks to get out of the war if Bukovina and Bessarabia are returned by Russia, and if by surrendering before Hungary she may have hope of getting Transylvania, indicates, if true, that Marshal Antonescu may be looking for a soft spot on which to land. There was no indication whether the peace feelers came from him, but the statement that the Allies were giving it serious consideration could hardly apply if the move had been made by semi-official sources. Nor could it apply if Rumania was considered when the Allies announced "unconditional surrender" as their terms for the Axis.

The situation prior to today was clear.

Playing Last Card

Marshal Antonescu himself gave the half million casualty figure, including prisoners, to a correspondent of the Italian newspaper Tempo. He also gave a good picture of Rumania's sickened condition when he added his heart was filled with "endless torment," and that the country was playing her last card, for "when a nation appeals to her soldiers then she is playing her last card."

Resentment and discontent are rife among the people, predominantly poor peasants who for the most part still use wooden plows to till their 10-acre fields. Underground Communism and open, guarded political opposition are in existence.

Still there seems no way out, although Rumania is a Balkan cradle of revolution and swift, unexpected changes in government. For the moment, certainly, most political observers concede that Marshal Antonescue has firm controls over his poor, unhappy nation.

Reasons Obvious

The reasons are easy to see: Rumania entered the war against Russia more whole-heartedly than any other Axis partner of Germany, to win back Bessarabia. Rumanian troops occupy Aransnistrie, a large slice of Russian territory which is administered more or less as a colony. Rumania is now reluctant to annex it formally because of the changing tides of war. Little chance exists for a benevolent view by Russia towards the regime.

Germany has two big reasons for defending Rumania at all costs: The country borders Russia and is a potential route for the Soviet army if Nazi fighters are pushed back; Rumania is almost the last source of sizeable oil deposits (the Rumanians have increased export oil prices 50 per cent to cash in) and Rumanian wheat is vitally necessary to the Nazi war machine.

The Iron Guard is now underground, but capable of springing up anytime as a weapon the Nazis could use against Marshal Antonescu if he endeavored to alter course. Horio Sima, who led an unsuccessful revolt in January, 1941, tried to get back into the country from a haven in Germany in January. He was arrested in Italy. But he could come back with Nazi approval anytime that Marshal Antonescu fell into trouble.

Two Unfavorable Factors

Rumanians are now endeavoring unofficially to get across to the Allied nations the idea that its fight against Russia is purely defensive and therefore entitled to Allied sympathy. Allied observers, however, list two factors working against sympathy for the present regime:

Rumania parted from Britain at a critical period.

Rumania still carries on one of the strongest anti-Semitic programs in the Axis. Dr. William Filderman, who represented the Rumanian Jews at the Paris peace conference in 1919 and is a former president of Rumania's community of 720,000 Jews, has just been deported east on Marshal Antonescu's orders for writing protesting letters against the ghettos and the treatment of his people in Bessarabia. Furthermore, Rumania has not relaxed its war against Russia.

Transylvania is the key to the present Rumanian policy. Both the ruling regime and the pro-Allied, anti-Axis opposition want it back. Rumanians regard this land, most of which was awarded to Hungary by the Axis, as their ancestral home. They claim they were installed in Transylvania's mountains in the second century. Hungarians say they never saw any Rumanians there until the 13th century.

National, Patriotic Issue

The issue is national and patriotic. Rumanians are convinced they will have to fight Hungary for it and consequently look with distrust and envy at the Hungarian army returning from Russia. Rumanian military circles declare that Hungary is maintaining heavy troop formations in Transylvania; neutral reports said the Rumanians have begun to erect fortifications in their part of the area, a part, incidentally, rich in coal and minerals.

It is an issue that plays into Nazi hands. Germany can say: Continue to be good in this war and you can have all. Try to withdraw from the fight now and Hungary can take the part you now have. Observers believe, however, that Germany, with plenty of war worries already, will do everything possible to prevent a decision until the big fighting is over.

Behind the regime are opposition parties, legally banned but with leaders still free and working for an end to the war and a switch to the Allied camp.

Pro-Allied Leader

The strongest of these is Juliu Maniu's Farmer party. Maniu, who advocates Rumanian claims to all Transylvania, has openly expressed pro-Anglo Saxon feelings ever since the war began. He has written frequent letters to Marshal Antonescu condemning losses in Russia, although he is anti-Communist. He urges retention of troops at home to stand one day against Hungary. He has not been arrested, Rumanians say, because his arrest would make him a martyr and cause national dissension.

One group exists with the apparent endorsement of the regime. It is the Liberals, led by Constantin Bratiano and made up of old aristocratic and industrial leaders They are endeavoring to avoid creating difficulties for Marshal Antonescu. In the words of one neutral dispatch, "they hold themselves ready for the time when their Anglo-Saxon friendships will permit them to be useful and the authorities are not lacking in understanding that point of view. They hope, in other words, to be at the peace table.

Two other former bourgeois democrat groups have gone over almost entirely to the regime. They are led by Georges Bratiano and Jean Mihalache. Both have done service on the eastern front and neither appears inclined now to try to lead any anti-government movements. They may be heard from again, however, when peace or a break-up of the Balkans is at hand.

Church Actively Involved

The Orthodox church, one of the most influential elements in political life, is actively involved in today's picture. Its patriarchal head endorsed the war against Russia. He attacked priests charged with sympathy with the Iron Guard and those of Bessarabia with compromising with the Russians when they held the area. Differences in political opinion among the clergy, whose members have been premiers, continue to be felt.

Lastly, this time within the government, is the premier's nephew, Mihail Antonescu. Rumors within the past few months have had him resigning in protest against the war, becoming premier in an effort to start turning the government away from the Axis, going to Italy to seek a coalition under which the two nations could get out of the war. Nothing resulted, however. But it may be significant that his proposed visit to Rome has been postponed three times while the regime keeps its envoys going regularly to Germany, to whom it plays as the leading genius of the Axis.

Low Living Standard

And everywhere are people whose standard of living is held by economists actually to have been lower during the past 25 years than before World War One. These people, like most Balkan peasants, vaguely want only a better standard. Among them and especially those who live toward the Bulgarian frontier is the nucleus of what Communist groups exist. The extent of their organization is not known. it is underground, as is the Iron Guard.

Bessarabia and Bukovina, claimed by Russia.

The war-weary Rumanians were believed hopeful also of retaining Transylvania if they should capitulate before the Hungarians do so, it was said. These sources said it was believed here that the Rumanian offer is under serious consideration in London, Washington and Moscow.

TURKEY PLEDGES UNITY WITH ALLIES

Nation 'Enthusiastic Partner,' Says Premier Saracoglu; Reds Cited.

O'BRIEN

ANKARA, Turkey, June 15—(Delayed)—(AP) Premier Sukru Saracoglu indicated today that Turkey, astride the bridge between Europe and Asia and in a strategic position in the eastern Mediterranean, is an enthusiastic partisan of the United Nations in their battle for world security.

Vigorously acclaimed by the 800 members of the closing Congress of the National Peoples party, Turkey's only political party, Premier Saracoglu underscored the excellent relations between Turkey and America, Russia and Britain.

Turks said the most striking element of his speech was a forthright declaration of friendship for Soviet Russia, but he also gave the warmest reception to the American viewpoint ever heard from a Turkish leader. By contrast, his language

Allies Reported Weighing Peace Feeler by Rumania

JUN 17 1943

Neutral Diplomat in Turkey Is Said to Be the Intermediary—Land Claimed by Russia Figures in Talk.

Ankara, June 15 (Delayed) (A. P.).—Semi-diplomatic informants said here today that Rumania, an Axis satellite, had extended peace feelers to learn how her withdrawal from the war would be received by the Allies.

Allied authorities in Turkey were said to have been approached through the medium of a neutral diplomat.

The purported peace feeler was said to have been accompanied by an intimation that the Rumanians would leave the Nazis at the start of the 1943 campaign in Soviet Russia if they were permitted to retain at least parts of toward the Germans was little more than polite.

JUN 17 1943

JUN 17 1943

30.24-5063

Relations on Solid Basis

Recalling the friendship exhibited by Soviet Russia toward Turkey during the Turkish war for independence after the first World war, Premier Saracoglu declared, "They stretched their hand to us and we stretched ours to them. This, together with the progressive treaties which were signed between the two nations served steadily to establish relations on a solid basis. At this moment both parties show themselves sincerely attached to these treaties, the high justice of which they both appreciate."

Observers said the statement was all the more impressive since Russia has gone unmentioned in most recent declarations by Turkish leaders, and seemed to indicate that efforts of British and American diplomats to improve Russian-Turkish relations, which have been strained at times by problems growing out of the war, had borne some fruit.

The speech, they said, also indicated that American post-war ideas were exerting influence on Turkey's present policy and her hopes for the future.

Affinity Noted

"We find between our opinions and American views and the declarations of American statesmen such affinity that we consider them our own," Premier Saracoglu announced.

This similarity of viewpoint, he added, encouraged Turkey "to contribute and participate in all things which, in the post war period, will have the effect of outlawing war and guaranteeing a law of equality and liberty among men and nations."

With emphasis, the Premier reiterated his declaration of March 17 that Britain and Turkey are bound together by alliance during war and peace.

"The two countries are tied together not for a limited period, nor for a limited number of questions—restrained and definite — but for long years and in a vast domain," he said.

Army Preserves Peace

His references to Germany were cordial but were accompanied—perhaps by coincidence—by the remark that the Turkish army's strength was largely responsible for the maintenance of Turkey's peace.

He said "we have signed a treaty of non-aggression and friendship with Germany. Events have proved that this treaty was born of a sincere desire of both parties which exactly corresponds with their essential needs. The pact continues as such to bring its benefits to both parties."

BRITISH ADMIT CLOSING OF SYRIAN FRONTIER

ANKARA, Turkey, June 16. — (AP) A British embassy source officially revealed today that the entire Turko-Syrian frontier had been closed with a strong guard "protecting troop movements."

This source said that British military and diplomatic authorities have formally notified the Turkish general staff and government of the move. The border was closed at 6 a. m. yesterday.

It was assumed that the border was closed to prevent Axis agents from slipping across into neutral Turkey to make reports to Berlin and Rome.

FRENCH CALL FULL MEETING OF COMMITTEE

Question Of Army Reorganization Expected To Be Discussed

Parley Called Significant In Strained Political Situation

JUN 17 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Algiers, June 16—Foreshadowing a possible showdown on their political differences, Generals Charles de Gaulle and Henri Giraud tonight jointly called a full meeting of the French Committee of National Liberation for 10.30 A. M. tomorrow.

Controversial questions over reorganization of the French army appeared the uppermost problem on the agenda of a full meeting. Giraud's forces have been reluctant to call such a session.

All fourteen members of the committee are expected to attend, except Henri Bonnet, Minister of Information, who is still in the United States.

Significant Development

The meeting appeared to be the most significant development in the strained French political situation since de Gaulle arrived in Algiers two weeks ago as the first step in the program designed to unite French factions in prosecuting the war against the Axis.

The meeting will be held only a day before the third anniversary of de Gaulle's decision to keep the Fighting French in the war—a date fixed by the committee as a day for universal celebration.

De Gaulle has been reported confident that in the event of a showdown committee vote, he would be able to produce a substantial majority for his proposals to weed out all suspected Vichy elements in the French armed forces, and give himself the portfolio of national defense.

De Gaulle Support Seen

The mere fact that a full meeting of the committee has been called was viewed by proponents of de Gaulle as evidence that he has marshaled the support to carry out the proposals which have been a source of controversy ever since reconciliation efforts began to get the two French military leaders together.

They met yesterday with Gen. Georges Catroux, Governor General of Algeria.

It was reported that Giraud opposed selection of de Gaulle as War Minister, and also opposed permitting a "civilian committee" to have the final voice in choosing the Ministers of War, Air or Navy.

Hand Strengthened

The committee meeting was agreed upon after de Gaulle first had written to Giraud that the session be held at 5 P. M.

Earlier reports said it was thought de Gaulle had won some concessions and strengthened his hand as a result of the conferences with Catroux.

Convening of the full committee is in itself a major victory for de Gaulle, who for a week has been boycotting the sessions of the seven-commissioner committee—himself, Giraud, their two appointees each, and Catroux.

Followers of de Gaulle believe that the meeting on the eve of the great national fete day, at which he will be the popular hero as the symbol of French resistance against Axis demands, will pave the way for quick adoption of his plans to oust from army and French public life men he holds to be collaborationists.

De Gaulle has indicated he wants the authority of the French military commanders subordinated to the authority of the committee—a point on which he and Giraud are pictured as fundamentally opposed.

French Committee Acts Today On Reorganization of Army

ALGIERS, June 16.—(AP) Foreshadowing a possible showdown on their political differences, Generals Charles de Gaulle and Henri Giraud tonight jointly called a full meeting of the French Committee of National Liberation for 10:30 a. m. tomorrow.

Controversial questions over reorganization of the French army appeared the uppermost problem on the agenda of a full meeting. Gen. Giraud's forces have been reluctant to call such a session.

All fourteen members of the committee are expected to attend except Henri Bonnet, minister of information, who is still in the United States.

The meeting appeared to be the most significant development in the strained French political situation since Gen. de Gaulle arrived in Algiers two weeks ago as the first step in the program designed to unite French factions in prosecuting the war against the Axis.

The meeting will be held only a day before the third anniversary of Gen. de Gaulle's decision to keep the Fighting French in the war—a date fixed by the committee as a day for universal celebration.

Gen. de Gaulle has been reported confident that in the event of a showdown committee vote, he would be able to produce a substantial majority for his proposals to weed out all suspected Vichy elements in the French armed forces, and give himself the portfolio of national defense.

The mere fact that a full meeting of the committee has been called was viewed by proponents of Gen. de Gaulle as evidence that he has marshalled the support to carry out the proposals which have been a source of controversy ever since reconciliation efforts began to get the two French military leaders together.

They met yesterday with Gen. Georges Catroux, governor-general of Algeria.

It was reported that Gen. Giraud opposed selection of Gen. de Gaulle as war minister, and also opposed permitting a "civilian committee" to have the final voice in choosing the Ministers of War, Air or Navy.

The committee meeting was agreed upon after Gen. de Gaulle first had written to Giraud that the session be held at 5 p. m.

Earlier reports said it was thought that Gen. de Gaulle had won some concessions and strengthened his hand as a result of the conferences with Gen. Catroux.

Convening of the full committee is in itself a major victory for Gen. de Gaulle, who for a week has been boycotting the sessions of the seven-commissioner committee — himself, Gen. Giraud, their two appointees each, and Gen. Catroux.

Followers of Gen. de Gaulle believe that the meeting held on the eve of the great national fete day, at which he will be the popular hero as the symbol of French resistance against Axis demands, will pave the way for quick adoption of his plans to oust from Army and French public life men he holds to be collaborationists.

Gen. de Gaulle has indicated he wants the authority of the French military commanders subordinated to the authority of the committee—a point on which he and Gen. Giraud are pictured as fundamentally opposed.

FLYERS BLAST ENEMY BASES ON BIG ISLAND

Attacks Center on Western Part—16 Enemy Planes Are Destroyed.

MARSALA AMONG OBJECTIVES

Foe Reports Assaults on Ships and Landing Craft Near Pantelleria Isle.

HORTON

An Advanced Allied Base in North Africa, June 16 (A. P.).—Huge Allied air forces, taking up after a two-day rest the task of destroying enemy air power in the Mediterranean, covered five airfields and other military targets in Sicily with hundreds of tons of bombs in a round-the-clock offensive begun Monday night and continued through yesterday. The enemy lost sixteen planes in combat, compared with seven for the Allies.

A large number of the R.A.F.'s Wellingtons, which regularly pack blockbusters in their bomb bays, Flying Fortresses, Marauders and Mitchells, escorted by Warhawks and Lightnings pounded the airports of Sciacca, Bocca di Falco near Palermo, Castelvetrano, Borizzo and Milo and two radio stations near Marsala.

Munitions Dump Blown Up.

In dogfights which attended the fierce rushes of the Allied air forces, eleven planes of the enemy were shot down and at least twelve more damaged in the air, and scores were damaged on the ground. Six of those shot down were Messerschmitt 109's.

Four more enemy aircraft were shot down by Coastal Command Beaufighters in a sweep over the Mediterranean Monday night.

It also was officially reported that more than eighty enemy aircraft were found on the wrecked airfield at Pantelleria when the island was captured.

Wellingtons began the Monday night raiding with attacks on Sciacea, Milo, Bocca di Falco and Castelvetrano, dropping incendiaries as well as high explosives.

They [illegible]ntinued o[illegible] flak over every target.

Deadly Pattern Bombing.

The combined American and R. A. F. operations were described as "the best job of Allied bombing I have ever seen" by Capt. Thomas C. Griffin of Chicago, a veteran navigator who participated in the Tokio raid and many other missions in the Pacific, European and North African theaters.

The deadly pattern bombing left crater-filled runways at every point. At Sciacca on the southwestern coast, direct hits were scored among airport buildings, barracks and planes, and two big explosions were seen.

Mitchells smashed two gun emplacements at the airport between Trapani and Milo in the northwestern section, and bomb bursts were seen on hangars, administration buildings, the railroad siding and on trains. One enemy plane was shot down.

At Borizzo, eight miles from Trapani, fires were set among airport buildings and a sizable fuel unit or ammunition dump blew up.

Marauders on this mission also bombed with accuracy more than a score of enemy planes on the ground. Seven enemy planes were shot down in air fights. Two of the enemy fighters were destroyed in a spectacular battle that began off the coast and continued over the target. The defending planes attacked in pairs.

Among the gunners on Martin Marauders credited with victories in the engagement was Staff Sergt. James J. Afaro, 84 Dabemeyer street, Brooklyn, who bagged a Macchi 202

One of the radio stations strafed at Marsala in western Sicily was left in flames.

Big Blasts at Castelvetrano.

At Castelvetrano, ten miles inland from the southwestern corner of Sicily, Fortresses caused two explosions, presumably from were visible thirty to fifty miles away. As the Fortresses were winging homeward they observed a blast in the dispersal area where a large group of planes had been seen, and numerous fires starting in buildings and barracks.

[An R. A. F. communique from Malta, said fighter-bombers from that mid-Mediterranean base also attacked Sicily yesterday, causing fires at Comiso Airdrome, while night intruders bombed and strafed coastal installations at Cape Passero and road and rail communications.]

At the other end of the Mediterranean British long-range fighters continued their offensive sweeps against enemy shipping in the Ægean yesterday, two sailing vessels being damaged by

JUN 17 1943

1943

...y cannon hits, a Cairo announcement said.

Axis Reports Actions.

A DNB report from Berlin said two large landing boats were sunk in Pantelleria Harbor by German bombers and that a destroyer and several other landing craft were damaged. The DNB report added that "according to latest reports" three of seven transports reported yesterday as damaged at Pantelleria actually were sunk.

Rome declared that Axis torpedo planes attacked a convoy along the Algerian coast, sinking one steamer of 15,000 tons and damaging another of 5,000 tons.

The Italian communique spoke of German planes attacking Allied landing craft "near" Pantelleria, but did not locate the attacks in that island's harbor as Berlin did. None of these enemy claims was confirmed by the Allies.

Rome said localities near Palermo and in the provinces of Trapani and Agrigento were attacked with bombs and machine guns yesterday, causing "limited damage" and some casualties. The Italian report asserted that twenty-three planes were shot down over Sicily, many of them being "multi-engined."

Army Drops Hero Flyer, 16

JUN 17 1943

Gunner a Tunisian and Sicilian Strait Veteran Whose Pilot Hates to Lose Him.

An Advanced American Air Base in North Africa, June 16 (A. P.).—Staff Sergt. Clifford R. Wherley of Elmwood, Ill., turret gunner of a B-26 Martin Marauder with more than 100 combat hours to his credit, is retiring from the war at the ripe old age of 16—by parental request and with Government consent.

Four times decorated, he is being sent back home by the Army because he still is two years too young, according to the regulations, to be fighting in a man's war. Moreover, the Army noted that he actually "stretched" his age four years—fromm 14 to the legal 18—when he enlisted on April Fool's Day in 1942.

This was discovered recently when his parents, Mrs. and Mrs. Roy Wherley of Elmwood, wrote to the War Department that they thought their son was too young to be in combat. He had been telling them in his letters about the excitement of fighting in flak-filled skies over Tunisia, Pane.elleria, Sicily and Sardinia, they said.

The young gunner, who has been on twenty-one combat missions, got the bad news that he was through when his group adjutant called him in and read aloud a red-bordered "immediate action" report.

The report noted that the correct date of his birth was May 28, 1927, and ordered his return to the United States for discharge because he was under age.

Sergt. Wherley didn't waste any time finding excitement. Eighteen of his twenty-one combat flights were over Tunisia when German aircraft filled the sky and the anti-aircraft flak was so thick it sometimes looked like a cloud. He had one close call: A shell fragment penetrated his turret and tore a hole in the back of his back rest, just a fraction of an inch from his ear.

'I Hate to Lose Him.'

"It was a bridge job," he recalled. "We were going over it at 50' feet and we were the tail-end ship. Seven to ten ME-109s jumped us. I looked to the right and saw one of our ships go down. A little later I saw another falling. Then I saw four of our fellows sailing out in parachutes. We almost hit them with our props. We sailed over a group of trees and were gunned because we were so low. Two bullets hit our gas tanks and plower through the tail section."

Sergt. Wherley, who wears the Air Medal and three Oak Leaf Clusters for the large number of sorties to his credit, is considered a very capable gunner by his pilot, Capt. George E. Terhorst of Terre Haute, Ind.

"He reacts in a pinch as well as combat men much older," the captain reported. "I hate to lose him from my crew."

King of England Is in Africa

Inspects Invasion Forces After Air Trip From Britain—Knights Eisenhower.

By RELMAN MORIN,

JUN 17 1943

Representing the Combined United States Press.

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 16 (A. P.).—King George VI of England has been in North Africa since last Saturday, visiting the scenes of the Allies' greatest victory and talking with the soldiers and sailors who won it. The news was held an official secret until today.

His inspection tour, crowded into a few days, took the monarch into a number of different British and American military establishments, aboard warships, through convalescent camps—even to a stretch of beach where more than 3,000 troops were having a Sunday swim.

That was an unforgettable moment. The men caught sight of the King standing on the veranda of a small villa for officers, and instantly came racing down the beach from all directions, resembling nothing so much as a horde of semi-nude natives on the warpath. The word reached even those in the water. There were no stopwatches to time them, but undoubtedly every swimming record from 100 yards up to a half-mile was broken in the rush.

Hush Falls on Throng.

Quickly the veranda was a solid mass of tanned, dripping men. Suddenly the excited hum of conversation hushed. The British troops began singing "God Save the King" as though at a signal from an invisible leader. The moment the anthem ended the King turned and came down the steps onto the beach itself. That wasn't part of the schedule, and it caught his aids so by surprise that he almost got away from them.

The King walked down into the center of the crowd and stood there talking with those nearest him. Then they sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

There were many French civilians present. They cried "Vive le Roi!" Two old Frenchmen looked at each other and one said: "It's been a long time since I have said those words."

Church Services in Warehouse.

Sunday morning the King went to church services in a naval warehouse which had been converted into a chapel for naval officers and seamen. Familiar hymns were sung—"When God of Old Came Down from Heaven," and the twenty-third Psalm. During the singing the King held a leaflet on which the words were printed, but he didn't look at it. The service ended with a hymn from "Kipling's famous recessional.

On the same day the King visited a convalescent camp where American and British wounded were in the final stages of recovery from their war wounds. He appeared deeply interested and spent more time there than on any other single part of his tour. The King asked many questions about American medical methods.

Four pretty American nurses, members of a flying nurses squadron which removed thousands of American wounded from the battlefields during the Tunisian campaign, were presented to the King.

He Put Them at Ease.

"We were nervous at first, but he seemed so friendly it was easy to talk to him," they remarked later.

When the King walked down the line of soldiers, he stopped to talk with each one and ask where his wounds were received and how it happened. At first the men were standing rigidly at attention. The King noticed it at once and turned to the British chief surgeon and asked him to order the men to stand at ease.

The King on arriving in North Africa was met at the airport by Gen. Eisenhower, Air Chief Marshal Sir Arthur William Tedder and Admiral Sir Arthur Browne Cunningham. The crew of the King's plane said the trip was without incident, but admitted there was "a bit of a nervous strain" attached.

On Monday the King flew to the headquarters of LieutGen. Mark W. Clark, commander of the American Fifth Army, and witnessed a review of every form of American armed strength. He had dinner in the field with Clark and Lieut.Gen. George S. Patton Jr. and their aids, eating roast beef and sweet corn out of an American mess kit.

Flight Made in Great Secrecy.

London, June 16 (A. P.).—King George made the trip to North Africa in a service plane flown by his personal pilot, Edward Hedley Fielden, captain of the King's Flight, who has flown him many hundreds of thousands of miles, it was announced here today. The journey began in great secrecy on Saturday, when the King left Windsor Castle by car and drove to an airport.

Making his second visit to an active war theater outside the United Kingdom, the monarch was accompanied on the secrecy-shrouded trip by Sir Archibald Sinclair, Secretary of State for Air, and Sir James Grigg, Secretary of State for War.

The British Broadcasting Corporation relayed the stirring announcement to the empire in a dramatic early morning broadcast.

Five counselors of State, including the Queen, were named to reign over Britain during the King's absence. Appointed by the King before his departure, in addition to the Queen, were the Duke of Gloucester, his younger brother; the Princess Royal, his sister; the Duchess of Fife, his aunt, and the Countess of Southesk, his cousin. The Queen and her fellow counselors are the four next in succession to the throne, excluding minors. Princess Elizabeth is only 17 years old. The Duke of Gloucester relinquished his military duties last year to give more assistance to the King with State affairs.

The Queen's standard flew this morning from Buckingham, showing she was in residence alone.

During his tour the King invested Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhow- with the insignia of Knight Grand Cross of the Order of the Grand Cross of the Order of the Bath, an honor recently granted to him along with Gen. Douglas MacArthur. The honor is one of the highest in the King's powe bestow.

Honors Eisenhower.

King George inspected the British Army in France early in 1940, making the trip across the channel in a destroyer, but the present trip is his longest overseas journey since his tour of Canada and the United States before the war started.

Monarch Gets A Laugh From Mess-Kit Mixup

With the American Fifth Army, June 14 (AP) (Delayed)—King George VI enjoyed a couple of hearty laughs during the lunch hour while inspecting American troops in North Africa today.

Seated at his table in a grove of trees here Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark, commander of the United States Fifth Army; Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., commanding the American combat forces in Tunisia, and British War Secretary Sir James Grigg, who was very much impressed by the United States Army mess kit out of which all were dining, and who asked Clark if he might have one to take back to England.

Clark called over a Negro waiter, asked him to wash out a kit and bring it back to Grigg.

Filled With Food

A few minutes later the flustered, anxious soldier gingerly laid the mess kit in front of Grigg, who upon lifting the cover found it completely filled with the same food that was being served for lunch.

A delicate moment for the nervous soldier was quickly dismissed by the King who remarked to Grigg, "what are you going to do with it? Put it in your pocket?"

Staff Sergeant Frazier Woodward, of Alabama and Georgia, who is mess sergeant of Company S and who prepared lunch for President Roosevelt when he stopped in Liberia on his way home from Casablanca, took the precaution of inscribing on the back of the handwritten menu a request that all officers and guests affix their autographs. There was much joking at the King's table as to who would sign first. His Majesty finally broke the ice and signed the menu, which is now one of Woodward's most treasured possessions.

R. A. F. RAIDS BURMA

New Delhi, June 16 (A. P.).—R. A. F. Royal Air Force bombers and fighters made widespread attacks on Japanese bases and communications in Burma yesterday, rainging all the way from the Arakan front to Mandalay and inflicting extensive damage without the loss of a single plane, a British communique announced today.

In western Burma, the announcement said, bombers destroyed an important warehouse at Akyab, bombed and machine-gunned enemy transport and stores at Maugdaw and strafed huts and truck concentrations near Buthedaung. Accompanying fighters also shot up Japanese troops and quarters in the some general area.

Further north bombs were dropped on Japanese positions at Theizang and Sihuang Myauk in the Kale Valley, said the communique.

Beaufighters, sweeping deeper into Burma, attacked targets along the main north and south Mandalay railway line between Pyinmana and Kyaukse. Twenty trucks, a station, water tank and an enemy encampment were damaged in these attacks, the bulletin said.

CHINESE PRESS ON RICE BOWL

Another Yangtze River Port Is Retaken In Sustained Counter-Blow

Power Of Estimated 100,000 Enemy Troops In Area Called Broken

(By the Associated Press)

Chungking, Thursday, June 17—Chinese forces were only a few miles short of recapturing nearly all of China's Rice Bowl today after retaking another Yangtze river point midway between Yochow and Ichang in a sustained counter-offensive which has absorbed and broken the power of 100,000 Japanese troops.

An official communique said Towhuti, eighteen miles south of Shasi on the curving Yangtze, had fallen Tuesday to Generalissimo

JUN 17 1943

30.24—5065

Chiang Kai-shek's forces, who also reached the outskirts of Owchihow, eighteen miles below Towhuti, the same day. Both points are on the lower bank of the river, while Shasi is on the northern bank.

Other Chinese troops were massing to dislodge the invader from Shihshow and Hwajung, six miles east and sixteen miles southeast, respectively, from Owchihkow, whose recapture would restore all the main areas of the Rice Bowl.

U. S. Flyers Help

The Japanese for a time had threatened seriously to engulf this vital Chinese food reservoir in an attack sprung south of the Yangtze from their bases at Ichang and Yochow. American airmen and the emerging Chinese air force have aided the strong counterblows of the Chinese land armies.

A Chinese spokesman dismissed as "sheer fantasy" a Japanese declaration that 230,000 Chinese had been killed in this battle along the upper reaches of the Yangtze. He said the Japanese had employed 100,000 men in the entire operation, and that Chinese forces were "only a little greater."

The spokesman also said that there were signs the Japanese were preparing to resort to gas warfare in China, declaring that the enemy had dropped gas bombs on a village in Suiyuan province May 31 and that 120 cases of gas containers and fifty-odd tons of gas shells were unloaded at Woosung, near Shanghai, two weeks before that assault.

Assassination Rumored

On the basis of available evidence reaching Chinese headquarters this spokesman also suggested that Admiral Isoroku Yamamoto, the executor of the Japanese surprise attack on Pearl Harbor, had not been killed in action, as announced by Tokyo, but actually had been assassinated at Manila as a result of a "terrible feud between the Japanese army and navy."

Japanese Premier Hideki Tojo's recent visit to Manila was for the purpose fo settling the feud, this Chinese spokesman said.

Aside from the fighting along the Yangtze, the Chinese communique said that Chinese troops attacking in central Hupeh, to the northeast, had killed an undisclosed number of Japanese soldiers when they broke into Changkiangfow, thirty-five miles northwest of Hankow, the night of June 8.

Reported Checked

Japanese troops at Yunmeng, sixteen miles to the northeast, were said to have attacked Chinese positions two days later, but were "held at bay by the Chinese."

Farther east, in western Anhwei province, a Chinese unit captured Hyayang and Chisui on the northern bank of the Yangtze, and also attacked Wangkiang during the same period, killing a number of Japanese.

A Central News Agency dispatch said a medium-sized Japanese warship struck a floating mine near the Anhwei port of Tungliu on the Yangtze June 1, and sank with the loss of several hundred troops and a considerable quantity of military supplies.

2 NEW GAINS MADE BY CHINA'S TROOPS

Chungking, June 16 (A. P.).—The Chinese High Command announced tonight that Chinese forces had captured Towhuti, eighteen miles south of the Yangtze port of Shasi, while other forces reached Owchihkow, strategically important town about thirty-eight miles south of Shasi. Towhuti and Owchikow are both on the right bank of the Yangtze River, while Shasi is on the left bank.

These successes in the continuing counter-drive against the thwarted Japanese offensive toward Chungking were coupled with continuing attacks farther down the Yangtze in the Yochow area, some fifty-five miles southeast of Shasi.

Chinese forces, giving the Japanese little chance to reorganize from the crushing defeat dealt them in their Yangtze River drive, have disrupted the enemy's communications with his base at Yochow in attacks on the Hankow-Canton Railway, front line dispatches said today.

A Chinese Army spokesman told a press conference of indications of a new Japanese offensive in western Yunnan from Burma and of enemy preparations to resort to chemical warfare.

He asserted that a Japanese ship unloaded 120 cases of gas containers and fifty tons of gas shells at Woosung, near Shanghai, on May 14. He also asserted that Japanese planes dropped gas bombs on a village in Suiyuan province in the far northwest on May 31 and the next day Japanese artillery fired gas shells at a village in Shansi.

Reviewing the upper Yangtze battle, he estimated that the Japanese had employed 100,000 men and that Chinese forces were only a little greater.

Chinese Push on Rail Line Cuts Jap Communications

By the Associated Press.

CHUNGKING, June 16.—Chinese forces, giving the Japanese little chance to reorganize from the crushing defeat dealt them in their Yangtze River drive, have disrupted the enemy's communications with his base at Yochow in attacks on the Hankow-Canton railway, front line dispatches said today.

The Chinese also were reported massing forces for a drive to dislodge the Japanese from Hwajung and Shihshow, the only remaining strong points still in enemy hands west of Yochow and south of the Yangtze River.

Recapture of the two points would restore virtually the whole of China's rice-producing region to the Chinese, who already have recovered most of it.

Allied Bombers Fire Japanese Airdrome With 23-Ton Load

Giant Fires Visible To Raiding Airmen Sixty Miles Away

JUN 17 1943

By the Associated Press.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, June 16. — Fires which could be seen 60 miles away and a series of violent explosions were started among Japanese planes on Lakunai airdrome, Rabaul, New Britain, yesterday by 23 tons of Allied bombs.

Increasing to 135 tons the bomb weight to fall on Rabaul's airfields during four raids made within six days, 19 Liberators joined in the latest attack and all got home safely after weathering intense anti-aircraft fire and the weak opposition of seven enemy night fighters.

(Rabaul, on the extreme northern tip of New Britain, is second only to Truk as both an air and shipping base of the enemy. Recently Charles H. McMurtry, Associated Press war correspondent at Honolulu, wrote oncerning possible military strategy in the Southwest Pacific that Rabaul might well become the next Allied major objective, pointing out that its seizure would bypass Japanese holdings between it and Allied-held Guadalcanal in the Solomons).

Japs Making Repairs.

For two hours, beginning shortly before midnight June 14, the Liberators kept their bomb bays opening over Lakunai. Later, Allied fliers on reconnaissance over the field in daylight hours reported all planes crowded into one area, with workmen busy on the runways. This was taken as an indication that the latest raid dealt extensive damage. The reconnaissance flyers counted 254 Japanese aircraft on three Rabaul airdromes, but whether they were all in working order was another matter.

Two of the biggest fires set by the Liberators—the two visible for 60 miles—still were observed burning 45 minutes after they broke out. One Liberator dropped bombs on the Rapopo airdrome but the other 18 concentrated on Lakunai. The Vunakanau airdrome is another favored target of Allied raiders of Rabaul.

Nipponese Attacks.

The Japanese air force also got in some blows, 27 bombers and 30 fighters attacking an area 90 miles northwest of Lae, New Guinea, in the area of Bena Bena where a number of emergency landing fields are located.

(This was the first indication that the Allies were in that sector which is inland from the northeast New Guinea coast but also is well above the Huon Peninula with its enemy bases at Lae and Salamaua, already menaced from the south by Allied ground troops.)

Today's communique reported the raid without comment on its result. It also told of the enemy's 19th raid on Dobodura, New Guinea, saying damage was light and there were no casualties. Nine planes raided Dobodura, between Buna and Cape Ward Hunt.

JAPS MASSING PLANE FORCES

Enemy Concentrates Aircraft At Three Main Bases In South Pacific

Rabaul, Wewak And Bougainville Island Found To Be Centers Of Strength

JUN 17 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Allied Headquarters in Australia, Thursday, June 17—Even as another report was made of a heavy bomb load dropped on a Japanese air base in the southwest Pacific, it was disclosed today that the Japanese are continuing to concentrate their planes in considerable strength at three points.

Reconnaissance pictures showed the concentrations to be at Rabaul, New Britain, where 135 tons of bombs have been dropped on airdromes in four recent raids; at Wewak, New Guinea, recently blasted with seventy-six tons of bombs in three raids, and at both ends of Bougainville Island in the Solomons.

In the latter vicinity, today's communique told of a Flying Fortress being set upon by fifteen Zeros while on a photographic mission. It fought them off and got home after suffering five casualties.

16 Tons Dropped

Today's report of a heavy pounding concerned sixteen tons of bombs dropped Tuesday night among parked planes at Kendari, Dutch Celebes, setting fires which could be seen for fifty miles. The trip to Kendari represents a flight of more than 1,000 miles from Australia.

The Fortress' battle with the Zeros occurred over Buka passage in the Solomons. No mention was made of any Zeros shot down. Two weeks ago another Fortress was attacked by sixteen Zeros and downed five in a half-hour battle.

Twelve Japanese planes for the second straight day raided native villages northwest of Lae, New Guinea, where there are emergency landing fields, and three raided the area of Buna on the Papuan peninsula.

Night Raid Reported

The raid on Kendari was the first sizable one since April 24 when Allied planes destroyed five Japanese planes on the ground and shot down five others.

Today's communique also reported a night raid by medium bombers on Koepang, Dutch Timor, 500 miles northwest of Australia. Fires were started in the town.

It had this to report on the Kendari raid:

"Our heavy units bombed the airdrome after dark with sixteen tons of bombs in the dispersal areas. Numerous explosions occurred among parked aircraft. Fires were started visible for fifty miles.

"Direct hits were scored on administration installations and on an anti-aircraft battery."

Cape Gloucester Bombed

In the sector northeaest of Australia, the airdrome at Cape Gloucester on southwestern New Britain was bombed and a two-engined Allied plane attacked a power boat near Hanisch harbor on the Huon peninsula of New Guinea. In New Guinea's Markham valley below the peninsula, long-range fighters strafed Japanese-occupied areas.

Above Mubo, on the ground battlefront of New Guinea, Allied attack planes bombed and strafed.

The communique said concerning the Japanese air activity that six bombers and six fighters struck at the village of Kainantua and Aiyura northwest of Lae.

No mention was made of the results, but the communique said the Buna raiders caused neither damage nor casualties.

1,337 Japanese Planes Felled by U. S. in Year

Fighter Craft Credited With 900, Bombers With 200

ADVANCED SOUTH PACIFIC BASE, June 16 (AP).—South Pacific Force Headquarters announced officially today that 1,337 Japanese planes have been destroyed in this theater since July 31.

The headquarters announcement did not disclose American plane losses in the same period but said they were far less than the attrition toll exacted on the enemy. The 1,337 total covers only enemy aircraft definitely reported destroyed and does not include planes probably destroyed or damaged.

Fighter planes are credited with shooting down about nine hundred of the total. Heavy Army bombers—B-17's (Flying Fortresses) and B-24's (Liberators)—shot down 200. Anti-aircraft fire from shore and ship batteries accounted for 100 more and Navy bombers bagged another 100.

The balance of the enemy total was made up of enemy planes destroyed on the ground, by night fighters and by observation planes.

New Argentine Chief Begins Drastic Purge Of Provincial Regimes

Promises Constitutional Elections Will Be Held After Nation Is 'Purified'

By the Associated Press.

BUENOS AIRES, June 16.—Elected governments had been set aside today in nine of Argentina's 14 provinces in the new national administration's "purification" program, and President Pedro Ramirez forecast intervention in all 14 before the country is returned to republican forms.

In a statement issued last night to members of the foreign press, Senor Ramirez said the movement which overthrew the conserative Castillo administration early this month, although army inspired, does not aim "to perpetuate itself in a military character."

He asserted, however, elections would be held and the country delivered into "the hands of its political leaders" only after successful completion of a campaign "to purify and reconstruct" the entire government setup.

As for the provisional government's foreign policy, President Ramirez reiterated the stand previously announced by Foreign Minister Segundo Storni.

Will Let Deeds Speak.

"We seek greater rapprochment with our American brothers by consolidating ties which bind our common interests," Senor Ramirez said. "We will accomplish practical pan-Americanism, letting the eloquence of deeds speak in place of wordy rhetoric, which soldiers neither understand nor practice."

Declaring that "in the existing circumstances no public question has greater importance, nor calls for more urgent solution, than that of the international problem," the provisional President pledged his administration to "justice and truth" in carrying out both its foreign and domestic programs.

Summarizing the regime's domestic policies, the Ramirez statement said:

"Our movement had contemplated four stages:

"First, the overthrow of a fraudulent and disorganized government.

"Second, to restore orderly administration.

"Third, to purify and thoroughly organize the administration, purging venal, incompetent and parasitical elements.

Plans Legal Regime.

JUN 17 1943

"Fourth, to renew the national spirit and national conscience, which had been suffocated, by infusing new life in conformity with historical tradition—in a word to give the Argentine ideological backbone to the entire country and then deliver it cleansed and renovated in all its values and living forces into the legal hands which must govern it."

The movement now is progressing through its second and third stages.

In suspending electoral government in the provinces, the administration has purged governors controlled by the Conservative party in all but two of those in which Federal commissioners have taken over thus far. In one, a Radical (Liberal) party governor was in office. In the other, Former President Ramon S. Castillo had previously intervened after defeat of the Conservative candidate.

Referring to the one-day revolt, President Ramirez declared:

"The army moved, not in order to make a revolution, but in order to solve an acute problem facing the people, especially the working class.

"The army acted on behalf of the constitution, which the regime will fully re-establish in every particular and whose respect will be commanded with a maximum of energy and severity."

Brazilian Army Sends Out Call For Volunteers

JUN 17 1943

Rio de Janeiro, June 16 (AP)—Amid an increasing clamor that Brazil send an expeditionary force to the fighting fronts, Gen. Eurico Gaspar Dutra, Minister of War, issued a call tonight for young volunteers for the country's army.

The order followed by but two weeks a statement by President Getulio Vargas that Brazilians would fight on foreign soil "if necessary" to the victory plan of the United Nations.

Dutra's decree carried no limitation on the number of volunteers to be accepted for the army, which heretofore has drawn its complement from military classes under Brazil's system of compulsory military service.

MUNITIONS VESSEL SAFE AFTER CRASH

Ottawa, June 16 (A. P.).—The story of a mid-ocean collision between two freighters—one laden with 1,200 tons of highly explosive T. N. 35—and their safe arrival at an Atlantic port was told by naval headquarters here last night.

The merchantman was part of an eastbound convoy. One night her captain saw the ship ahead fall out of line, showing an out-of-control signal. The explosive-laden ship was caught in the center of a convoy.

The captain altered his course and swung over toward the next column of ships to starboard. The ship maneuvered rapidly but could not escape. A ship crept up from astern and crashed into her, breaking open her side and scattering cases of explosives over the hold.

The captain and crew waited for the explosion and when it did not come they set about bringing the ship safely to port.

Permanent U. S.-Mexican Health Group Is Voted

By the Associated Press.

JUAREZ, Mexico, June 16.—Establishment of a permanent border health conference was voted at the first of a series of conferences between Mexican and United States public health officials here yesterday.

Ninety-six delegates, including Dr. Hugh Cumming, director of the Pan-American Sanitary Bureau, and Brig. Gen. G. C. Dunham, director of the health and sanitation office of the co-ordinator of inter-American affairs, participated in the discussion of venereal diseases, prostitution and tuberculosis in border communities.

The delegates will meet today in El Paso, Tex.

Canada To Begin Air-Line Service Across Atlantic

Ottawa, June 16 (AP)—Munitions Minister C. D. Howe announced today in the House of Commons that a Canadian transatlantic air service would be started early next month.

It will carry air mail to the forces overseas and also official passengers.

It was understood that Lancaster bombers now being built at Malton, Ontario, would be used for the service.

Madam Chiang Calls Japan Still 'World Threat'

Tells Canadian Parliament Foe Uses Loot to Gird Self for New Aggression

By The Associated Press

OTTAWA, June 16.—Madam Chiang Kai-shek warned the Canadian Parliament today that Japan is continually consolidating her position "as a vicious world threat" and through undisputed possession of invaded territory is accumulating new resources for a continued war of aggression.

Members of the Senate and House of Commons met in a rare joint session to hear the Chinese generalissimo's wife, who told Parliament that Japan's plundering of China has reached "staggering figures." Madam Chiang said that within the last year the Japanese have obtained 100,000,000 tons of raw material for the use of her armed forces from the occupied territories. She added that the Japanese are increasing exploitation of China's resources to the detriment of the United Nations.

China has fought with small arms, flesh and blood, and the will to battle, she said, adding that until a few weeks ago the Chinese Army never had the sort of consistent air protection necessary for even small-scale offensives.

The fact that the Chinese Army, with the help of a few planes in the combined American and Chinese Air Forces, was able to rout the enemy in the last up-river Yangtse invasion proved how much can be done with comparatively little, Madam Chiang said.

Pointing out again that the danger to China and to the United Nations, however, is not past, she warned that China's will to resist, implemented only by inadequate fighting material, must not be strained beyond human endurance. If Japan should succeed in subjugating China, she said, the repercussions to the cause of the United Nations would be the greatest cataclysmic disaster civilization has yet had to face.

Turning to world prospects after the war, Madam Chiang said that merely policing the world to prevent further strife would be insufficient. She urged that the United Nations exercise foresight and understanding "so that the vanquished will be treated as neighbors and as fellow beings, while punishment should be limited only to the perpetrators of this war."

She extolled Canada's welding of two peoples into one strong and harmonious nation as an example from which the rest of the world could profit, and concluded that the touchstone of human greatness lies in co-operation and collaboration, "the antithesis of domination and exploitation of one people by another."

'Alcan Highway' Is Now 'Alaska Military Highway'

Canadians Took the Lead in Urging Change of Name

WHITEHORSE, Yukon Territory, Canada, June 16 (CP).—Brigadier General James A. O'Connor, of the United States Army's Northwest Service Command, announced today that the 1,600-mile lifeline to the north is now "The Alaska Military Highway," instead of "Alcan Highway."

"We called it Alcan to include some mention of Canada," he said. "Yet Canadians themselves took the lead in urging us to name the road the Alaska Highway."

Canadian Crops Held 'Generally Backward'

Farmers Plagued by Rain And Low Temperatures

By the Associated Press.

OTTAWA, June 16.—Canadian crop conditions "generally remain backward," the Dominion Bureau of Statistics says in the second of a series of eight telegraphic crop reports.

"Absence of sunshine and warmth," the bureau said, is retarding agriculture in the prairie grain area, while conditions are so far behind in some sections of the maritime provinces that farmers will not be able to complete spring work in time for crops to ripen for harvest.

All of Canada has been plagued by heavy rains and low temperatures, the report stated. Pastures and hay fields are generally making good growth, but in some places the stands of grass are thin and the clover has been winter-killed.

Seeding and planting in the maritime Provinces is 50 to 80 per cent completed. "Heavy loads of bloom are reported in the orchards in all three (maritime) provinces," the bureau said. "In the Annapolis Valley, apple scab is serious in all but the best sprayed orchards and insects are generally fairly abundant."

Seeding operations are still incomplete in Ontario, although rapid progress has been made in the last two weeks. Fall wheat and early sown grains are making good progress, and the hay and alfalfa crops are doing exceptionally well. Seeding of course grains in the prairie provinces is not yet completed, but the wheat is mostly in and showing above ground.

What's Behind The War News

JUN 17 1943

By GLENN BABB

Premier General Tojo, in his war review before Parliament yesterday, did his best to gloss over the unsightly patches in Japan's recent war record and current outlook. However, it is doubtful whether his speech, despite its wholesale distortion of the military situation, did much to raise the spirits of his compatriots.

He had to tell them about the appearance of a new air power in China, partly American, partly Chinese, and warn them that they must expect theis homeland to be raided. He had to admit that great Allied attacks—"counteroffensives," he called them—were in the making. That is another way of saying that Japan has been thrown on the defensive. It is interesting to speculate on how that admission will affect a people whose enthusiasm for war has been fed for years on promises of world conquest.

The premier-war minister shed almost no light on the military situation but his selection and emphasis of his subject matter gave some striking indications of the current trend of his regime's thinking and planning. The speech showed that a major part of its hopes for victory—or at least a stalemate that would permit the retention of a considerable share of the war booty——rests upon the vast undertaking which Tojo called "the reconstruction of greater East Asia."

This has two phases, the effort to convert the resources of the conquered lands to Japan's war purposes and the political campaign to win the support of the populations of those lands for Japan's new Asiatic order. Much has been said and written about the former.

Tojo said yesterday that "the vast resources of that region (greater East Asia) is rapidly being converted into our fighting power." Many Allied authorities have been preaching that one of the greatest perils facing the United Nations is the possibility that Japan, if given time enough, will so use the great wealth in rubber, tin, oil, iron and other vital materials which she won in the first six months of the Pacific war to make herself impregnable.

But perhaps that is the less dangerous half of the Japanese program. There are definite limits to Japan's capacity to achieve that program. She lacks shipping and all those materials must be carried back to her homeland industrial centers for processing. She lacks trained, intelligent technicians and skilled manpower. Although it is obvious that she is making herculean efforts to expand war production—the current Diet session is largely concerned with that problem—the chances are that the economic-industrial phase of the greater East Asia program will fall far short of its goals.

Seek Common Front

The failure of the political program can not be taken for granted. The Japanese are working mightily to line up other Asiatic races in a common front against the Occidental peoples by terror, compulsion, persuasion, bribery. Tokyo's propaganda insists that such solidarity is becoming a reality. Tojo devoted a great part of his speech to this theme.

He promised the Philippines "independence" before the end of this year. He repeated a previous pledge of freedom to Burma. He declared that the puppet states of Manchukuo and Nanking China were freely and mightily supporting Japan. Similarly he paid his respects to the people of Thailand, Indo-China, the Dutch East Indies. In all these, he insisted, Japan has been welcomed as the liberator. He promised India help in shaking off the yoke of Britain. A few hours after Tojo spoke the Tokyo radio was filling the air with alleged messages of support from Filipino, Burmese, Chinese and other leaders.

Obvious Propaganda

Now this picture is obvious and blatant propaganda. But we know too little of the real situation inside the conquered lands to assume that it is entirely untrue. There undoubtedly has been some measure of collaboration with the Japanese. There were considerable groups in each country which hated their European rulers so thoroughly that they were ready to welcome the Japanese. Also the conquerors have been able to enlist corrupt, ambitious or avaricious natives as their agents.

Any success the Japanese achieve in this program is going to make victory in the Pacific and East Asia just that much harder for the Allies. And one factor assisting the Japanese is the slowness of the United Nations in formulating and announcing their intentions respecting that part of the world.

Tojo Expects Allied Raids on Japan Mainland

Warns the Diet of Coming Offensive; Says War Has Reached Decisive Stage

Broadcast reports from enemy countries are published with the warning that they frequently contain misleading statements intended for propaganda purposes.

Boasting that Japan is daily becoming stronger, Premier General Hideki Tojo warned the Japanese Diet yesterday that "the war has reached a serious, decisive stage, with the enemy mobilizing all his resources for a counter-offensive."

Addressing an extraordinary session of the Diet, Tojo was quoted by the Tokio radio as saying

JUN 17 1943

30.24-5067

Japan's conquests had established the "necessary conditions to assure final victory," and that Japan "naturally has foreseen" new attacks by the Allies.

"Our forces," he declared in the broadcast recorded by The Associated Press, "have not only inflicted serious blows on the enemy but are also developing new methods to break him."

Tojo, who spoke as Premier and as War Minister, warned the Japanese to expect air raids on "our mainland." He was quoted as saying that the Chinese air force had begun "to recover with support by the Americans."

Expects Raids on Mainland

"The enemy is trying to raid our bases," said a Tokio version of his speech. Not only that, the enemy is also trying to raid our mainland and shut off our supply routes. Our air force has taken the initiative. However, we must expect that the enemy will raid our mainland."

Tojo reported that Japanese war production had been "notably augmented" this year, but acknowledged that the national economy must be tailored even more strictly to fit war needs, and that "special efforts would be unavoidable" in "insure the national food supply."

For the benefit of home morale, Admiral Shigetaro Shimada, Navy Minister, also appeared before the Diet, and on paper again "destroyed" Allied fleets.

To date in the war, he asserted, according to the Tokio radio, the navy has shot down or destroyed 5,214 Allied planes, sunk thirteen battleships, eleven aircraft carriers, fifty-five cruisers, fifty-six destroyers, 128 submarines and sixty-nine other warcraft "besides damaging numerous others," and also has sunk 369 merchantmen, totaling 2,250,000 tons.

These figures bore no resemblance to reports announced in Allied communiques.

"Decisive Stage Approaching"

Japanese losses were listed as 878 planes, one battleship, three aircraft carriers, three cruisers, nineteen destroyers, eleven submarines, thirteen other warcraft "and ninety-eight ships employed by the imperial navy, totaling 352,000 tons."

Shimada declared that the "decisive stage is fast approaching" in the southwest Pacific, and disclosed that the Japanese combined fleet now is commanded by Admiral Mineichi Koga.

Shimada told of Japanese air and sea victories in the Attu area, while Tojo paid tribute to the garrison annihilated by American troops on Attu, saying it had accomplished its "strategic object of checking a superior enemy force" from advancing westward in the Aleutians for a year; had frustrated Allied attacks upon Japanese shipping, and "their planes from attempting aerial attacks upon the Japanese homeland."

He promised complete "independence" for the Philippines this year, and said Japan would help India "to expel and eliminate Anglo-Saxon influences, which are the enemy of India in every true sense of the word." Occupied regions of East Asia, he said, are giving Japan "utmost co-operation."

Of his Axis partners, Tojo said that "I firmly believe in the smashing success of Germany and Italy and their allies . . . on account of their already established invulnerable position . . . Japan promises to fight hand in hand with Germany and Italy for common victory."

Decisive Stage Is Near, Tojo Warns Jap Diet

JUN 17 1943

Premier Boasts of Growing Strength, Quotes Fantastic Figures.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Boasting that Japan is daily becoming stronger, Premier General Hideki Tojo warned the Japanese Diet yesterday that "the war has reached a serious, decisive stage, with the enemy mobilizing all his resources for a counter-offensive."

Addressing an extraordinary session of the Diet, the war leader was quoted by the Tokyo radio as saying Japan's conquests had established the "necessary conditions to assure final victory," and that Japan "naturally has foreseen" new attacks by the Allies.

"Our forces," he declared in the broadcast recorded by the Associated Press, "have not only inflicted serious blows on the enemy but are also developing new methods to break him."

Tojo, who spoke to the Diet as Premier and as War minister, warned the Japanese to expect air raids on "our mainland."

Chinese Air Force Stronger

Tojo was quoted as saying that the Chinese air force had begun "to recover with support by the Americans."

"The enemy is trying to raid our bases," said a Tokyo version of his speech. "Not only that, the enemy is also trying to raid our mainland and shut off our supply routes. Our air force has taken the initiative. However, we must expect that the enemy will raid our mainland."

At the same time, Tojo reported that Japanese war production had been "notably augmented" this year, but acknowledged that the national economy must be tailored even more strictly to fit war needs, and that "special efforts would be unavoidable" to "ensure the national food supply."

Paper Sea Victory

For the benefit of home morale, Admiral Shigetaro Shimada, Navy minister, also appeared before the Diet, and on paper again "destroyed" Allied fleets.

To date in the war, he asserted, according to the Tokyo radio, the Navy has shot down or destroyed 5,214 Allied planes, sunk 13 battleships, 11 aircraft carriers, 55 cruisers, 56 destroyers, 128 submarines, and 69 other warcraft "besides damaging numerous others," and also has sunk 369 merchantmen totaling 2,250,000 tons.

These figures bore no resemblance to the facts as announced in Allied communiques.

Japanese losses were listed as 878 planes, one battleship, three aircraft carriers, three cruisers, 19 destroyers, 11 submarines, 13 other warcraft "and 98 ships employed by the Imperial Navy totaling 352,000 tons."

Decisive Stage Near

The admiral declared that the "decisive stage is fast approaching" in the southwest Pacific, and disclosed that the Japanese combined fleet now is commanded by Admiral Mineichi Koga.

He claimed Japanese air and sea victories in the Attu area, while Tojo paid tribute to the garrison wiped out on Attu, saying it had "accomplished a strategic object of checking a superior enemy force advancing westward for a period of 12 months."

The premier asserted that Nipponese air offensives had frustrated Allied attacks upon Japanese shipping, and "their planes to attempt aerial attacks upon the Japanese homeland."

Philippine Freedom Promised

He promised complete "independence" for the Philippines this year, and said Japan would help India "to expel and eliminate Anglo-Saxon influences, which are the enemy of India in every true sense of the word." Occupied regions of East Asia, he said, are giving Japan "utmost cooperatoin."

Of his Axis partners, Tojo said that "I firmly believe in the smashing success of Germany and Italy and their Allies x x x on account of their already established invulnerable position x x x Japan promises to fight hand in hand with Germany and Italy for common victory."

1337 JAP PLANES LOST IN ONE AREA

An Advanced South Pacific Base, June 16 (A. P.).—The South Pacific Force headquarters announced officially today that 1,337 Japanese planes have been destroyed in this war theater since July 31, last, which was one week before the United States Marines landed on Guadalcanal.

The announcement did not disclose the American plane losses in the same period, but said that they were far less than the enemy's total, which covers only those planes definitely reported destroyed and does not include those probably destroyed or damaged.

The Japanese plane losses passed the 1,300-mark during the first two weeks of June, when sixty-nine were brought down, it was stated.

Fighter planes are credited with shooting down about 900 of the total. Heavy Army bombers—Flying Fortresses and Liberators—shot down about 200. Anti-aircraft fire from shore and ship batteries accounted for 100 more and Navy bombers bagged still another 100, and the balance was made up of planes destroyed on the ground by night fighters and observation planes.

The largest score for a single day's action was 115 Japanese aircraft destroyed on October 26 in the battle of Santa Cruz Island. The biggest total for one month was 370 for October, when the battle for Guadalcanal was at its highest pitch.

The official monthly scores follow: August, 229; September, 119; October, 370; November, 138; December, 87; January, 111; February, 104; March, 16; April, 73; May, 21, and June (to date), 69.

More than half the Japanese planes destroyed were Zeros. A large percentage of the remainder were dive-bombers and torpedo bombers. The rest included float planes, flying boats, observation planes and reconnaissance craft.

AXIS AIR LOSSES RATED AT 6 TO 1

War Department Surveys U. S. Bombing Data.

Washington, June 16 (A. P.).—The Axis is losing six planes for every American four-engined bomber shot down over Europe, the War Department says, and this sign of intensified air combat placed new emphasis today on Prime Minister Churchill's remark that bombing Germany out of the war was well worth trying.

The stepped-up tempo of the Eighth United States Air Force, operating out of England, prompted the department yesterday to make an unusual announcement of its accomplishments in recent weeks. It was the first such cumulative statement issued by the War Department since the United States entered the global conflict.

The statement disclosed:

1. That United States Air Forces had made eighteen heavy bombardment missions against targets within Germany itself, eleven of them since last May 14.

2. United States planes based in England flew 1,600 sorties (a sortie is a flight by one plane out and back) with four-engined bombers, in daylight precision attacks on industrial centers, naval bases and war plants.

3. The American forces lost 106 planes in this all-out campaign but shot down 571 German craft, many of them no doubt fighters, probably destroyed 187 more, and damaged 231 in combat.

Memphis Belle, Noted 'Fort' And Crew Of Heroes At Capital

Bearing Axis Battle Scars Bomber Is First To Return From Combat Zone Under Own Power

JUN 17 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 16—With a new wing and a patched-up tail, a Flying Fortress glided down before a cheering crowd at National Airport today.

The Memphis Belle was back, her original crew of ten intact, after flying 20,000 miles on twenty-five bombing expeditions over Europe. She is the first combat bomber to fly home from the European theater under her own power.

The same ten American aviators who flew her to England eight months ago came back today in the battle-scarred veteran, and they had their ideas about aerial warfare over Europe.

Nazis Concentrate Defense

"The Germans put up everything they've got when we go over now," said Capt. Robert K. Morgan, pilot, of Asheville, N. C., explaining that the Nazis are concentrating their aerial defenses over Germany itself at the expense of the rest of Axis Europe.

He said that attempts to bomb Flying Fortresses from above by fighter planes had been taken up by German bombers as well, but were not generally successful.

Morgan said the Nazi defense methods against daylight Fortress raids followed a pattern whereby they tried to disable a ship with flak to force them to drop out of their formations. German fighters then went after the isolated American planes, he explained.

Praises Lightnings, Thunderbolts

He said one answer to the Nazi tactics might be more long range fighter protection, and asserted "Lightnings and Thunderbolts have been doing a fine job when they escorted us."

German pilots, he said, "come in so close we can't help shooting them down from our formations of heavily armed Fortresses."

The crew was greeted by a number of high officials, including Gen. H. H. Arnold, chief of the Army Air Forces, who praised the exploits of the Memphis Belle and declared "the grandest thing of all is that it's the same crew bringing her back today that flew her away eight months ago.

Only one man, the tail gunner, was wounded," he said.

Introduces Men

Poised and enthusiastic, Captain Morgan introduced his men, whom he described as "the best crew that ever was." They are:

Capt. James A. Verinis, New Haven, Conn., copilot; Capt. Vincent B. Evans, Henderson, Texas, bombardier; Capt. Charles B. Leighton, East Lansing, Mich., navigator; Staff Sergeant John P. Quinlan, Yonkers, N. Y., tail gunner; Staff Sergeant Clarence E. Winchell, Oak Park, Ill., waist gunner; Staff Sergeant Casimer Nastal, Detroit, waist gunner; Staff Sergeant Cecil H. Scott, Altoona, Pa., ball turret gunner; Technical Sergeant Robert J. Hanson, Garfield, Wash., radioman, and Technical Sergeant Harold F. Loch, Green Bay, Wis., top turret gunner.

Shoots Down Eight

The Belle's fuselage was scarred with marks of her encounters in the air and bore a painted list of the raids she had been on and a row of eight Swastikas denoting the German planes her guns had shot down.

The ten-man crew brought back a total of twenty-one decorations. They had a girl friend aboard—Stuka, a half-grown Scottie pup who jumped eagerly from the plane when the door was opened but who was hurriedly caught by a pursuing gunner as she ran through the crowd.

JUN 17 1943

Other Spy Executions Hinted

Censorship Office Head Tells of Work His Agency Did in Trapping Enemies.

Washington, June 16 (A. P.).—A hint that other enemy agents in addition to the six submarine-borne saboteurs put to death here last August had been executed by the Government since the outbreak of the war was given by the House Appropriations Committee today in printed hearings on a war agencies supply bill. It came during testimony of Byron Price, director of the Office of Censorship.

JUN 17 1943

Discussing the activities of his agency and the role which it has played in forestalling enemy plots, Mr. Price told the committee: "As to security, censorship has discovered and enabled other agencies of the Government to forestall enemy plots. People have been arrested and in some cases executed as a result of the evidence that we have produced."

Mr. Price did not elaborate on that statement, nor did the record show any further discussion of it, but committee members who heard the testimony said that they did not believe that the Office of Censorship had claimed any part in the apprehension of the six Nazi agents executed last year. "There undoubtedly have been other cases," one member said.

The hesitancy of the Government to disclose publicly that other enemy spies had been caught and executed, he added, "would be a natural thing, because, without the disclosure, the enemy Government involved would have no way of knowing whether its agents here still were active or were out of the picture." While there have been no announcements or any other executions except those of the submarine sextet, the Office of War Information disclosed only recently that a Nazi agent who flashed signals from the Hawaiian shores before the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor was sentenced to death almost a year ago by a military commission in Honolulu.

The sentence subsequently was commuted to fifty years' imprisonment. "If a thing like that could be bottled up and kept a secret for almost a year," the committee member commented, "it is not going too far to speculate, on the basis of Mr. Price's testimony, that there may have been some executions which the public has not yet been told about."

Crete, Rhodes May Be Next

Axis Islands in Aegean Would Serve as Bases for Air Raids on Rumanian Oil Fields, Says War Analyst.

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

WASHINGTON, June 16—(AP) Rumors of Anglo-American preparations to strike at the Axis in the eastern as well as the central Mediterranean, fed by reported British closure of the Turkish-Syrian border, not only stirred undisguised invasion jitters in Germany, but whetted expectations in the Allied world.

Behind those expectations stands the conclusion of many military strategists that it is in the eastern sector of the "soft" under side of Hitler's continental fortress, not through Italy or France, that the shortest and surest road to victory lies. Nor can it be overlooked that the Russian press found special significance in the border-closing report from Ankara. It was interpreted in Moscow as implying an impending Allied 'offensive in the eastern Mediterranean which could go farther to take the weight of Nazi pressure off Russia than could any other immediate Anglo-American move to capitalize on the successful African campaign.

Viewed With Great Concern

That objective, to take the weight of expected Nazi summer attack, still unaccountably delayed, off Russia, was publicly stated by Prime Minister Churchill, who said it ranked high in the recent Anglo-American joint staff conferences in Washington. Nor can it be doubted that any Allied threat in the eastern Mediterranean must be viewed with even greater concern in Berlin that what happens in Sardinia or Sicily, or even on the Italian mainland itself.

That arises from the fact that Hitler fought his Balkan campaign—prelude to his attack on Russia—as much to safeguard his vital war nerve, Rumanian oil, as to pave the way for his march to the east. Had Italy been able alone to crush Greece, the Nazi Balkan campaign would not have been necessary.

British air power aiding Greece was a deadly menace to the Rumanian oil fields, however. If present-day Anglo-American air power ever gains forward bases in the eastern Mediterranean theater from which it can strike at Rumanian oil there is ample ground for expecting a more concentrated bombing attack upon that vital Axis war resource than has yet been delivered against Germany or Italy, except for the blasting of Pantelleria.

Two Island Bases

There are two enemy-held islands in the eastern Mediterranean which could serve that Allied purpose — Crete and Rhodes in the Italian Dodecanese off the Turkish coast in the Aegean. Both are within big bomber range of Ploesti, the heart of Rumanian oil production. Both also are now in easy range of bombers based on the African coast or on the British island of Cyprus where the Axis has reported otherwise unconfirmed American military activities.

Crete invites Allied effort to recapture it for many reasons. While it remains in Axis hands it may hamper convoys plying the short Gibraltar-Suez route to the Indian ocean, even with the Sicilian straits narrows cleared and possible Allied invasion of Sicily impending. Crete would be of great strategic value to the Allies for an attack on the German Balkan flank via the Greek peninsula or the Aegean.

Crete Invasion Necessary

Crete, however, is many times larger than Pantelleria. It is doubtful that it could be blasted out of enemy hands by air alone. That does not necessarily apply to the small Italian island of Rhodes, across the mouth of the Aegean.

It is in range of big and medium bombers from Alexandria and Cyprus. And it is even nearer the Rumanian oil fields than Crete. It is also susceptible to the same sort of air-sea blockade that was employed against Pantelleria and probably far less well fortified or garrisoned than that Italian mid-Mediterranean "Gibraltar."

An adaptation of the Allied Pantelleria technique against Rhodes is a distinct possibility whenever the time seems opportune. As a diversion move to draw off additional Axis air power from Russia or from possible invasion targets such as Sicily or Sardinia stepped-up Allied activities in the eastern Mediterranean would seem desirable, if for no other immediate purpose.

The fact remains that so far as the Mediterranean theater as a whole is concerned, its eastern reaches rather than its central or western sectors cover the most vulnerable Nazi continental fronts, and that powerful British armies, closer to their own oil resources than anywhere else in the world, are massed east of Suez for some move and may be astir.

U. S. Is Putting Bulk of Funds Into Air Force

Nelson Reveals Switch in Emphasis as House Gets $2,921,441,504 War Bill

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP).—Congress received word today that the United States is putting the largest share of its military expenditures behind its air force, and a strong hint that military strategists have revised upward their estimates of what air power can do to beat the Axis to its knees.

These disclosures were made when the House Appropriations Committee reported a $2,921,441,504 omnibus appropriations bill to finance eighteen special war agencies in the twelve months beginning July 1, and made public testimony taken during hearings.

Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the War Production Board, guardedly told the committee that "from both the military and production point of view" he was convinced "we are in the midst of one of the greatest and most powerful developments in history—the development of an almost incredible striking power by means of aircraft."

"Tens of Billions"

He added that "from now on expenditures for our air force will exceed by far the expenditures for any other single military category, reaching before the end of 1943 an annual rate of some tens of billions of dollars."

There had been previous indications that the United Nations' leadership, in the light of the African successes, were placing still greater reliance on air power—Prime Minister Winston Churchill's statement, for instance, that it would "do no harm" to try the experiment of bombing Germany into defeat.

Mr. Nelson testified also that "we are rapidly approaching the limit in our productive capacity in this country." He said the total output in 1943 would reach approximately $180,000,000 and said about half of it would be for direct war production.

Spread over 2,100 printed pages of testimony were the explanations of top officials in charge of directing the country's economic life, from war production to consumer prices.

In general, in this first year's report on the agencies handling of their parts of the war program, the House committee gave the war agencies an accolade for their work. "Great credit is due," it reported, "for what has been accomplished. Mistakes have been made and will be made. They are to be expected. There has been lost motion. The speed of action would not have been attained without it."

O. W. I. Funds Trimmed

Although thus praising the agencies, the committee trimmed their requested appropriations from a total of $3,060,933,922 to the figure recommended to the House. The ax fell heaviest on Elmer Davis's Office of War Information, which asked $47,342,000 and was cut to $34,472,504.

The bulk of the funds recommended are for the War Shipping Administration. It asked, and the committee approved, $2,272,350,000 to continue the great shipbuilding program and operate the growing merchant fleet, this representing an increase of $1,223,000,000 over current appropriations.

Committee's Recommendations

The amounts sought by the other various agencies, followed by the amounts which the Appropriations Committee recommended, in that order, are:

Board of Economic Warfare, $36,150,000 and $36,150,000.
Office of Censorship, $29,998,400 and $27,800,000.
War Petroleum Administration, $5,473,000 and $5,473,000.
Office of Price Administration, $177,335,000 and $165,000,000.
Office of Strategic Services, $38,476,000 and $35,000,000.
Office for Emergency Management: Administrative services, $9,796,880 and $8,817,200; working capital fund, $900,000 and $750,000.
Civilian Defense Office, $5,746,522 and $4,000,000.
Co-ordinator for Inter-American Affairs, $33,860,000 and $30,685,000.
Office of Defense Transportation, $14,900,000 and $14,050,000.
Office of Economic Stabilization, $100,000 and $100,000.
Liaison Office, $62,320 (none recommended).
National War Labor Board, $14,341,300 and $13,841,300.
Office of Scientific Research, $135,982,500 and $135,982,500.
War Production Board, $89,950,000 and $88,200,000.
War Relocation Authority, $48,170,000 and $48,170,000.

An additional $18,000,000 was provided for contract authorization by the Co-ordinator for Inter-American Affairs, and the Smaller War Plants Corporation was authorized to use $12,006,000 of its original $150,000,000 capital stock fund.

JUN 17 1943

Shipping Situation

Lewis Douglas, Deputy War Shipping Administrator, told the committee in February, it was disclosed, that owing to losses to submarines and other causes there had been a net gain of only a little over 1,000,000 deadweight tons in United Nations' merchant fleets since Pearl Harbor.

However, Rear Admiral Emory S. Land, the War Shipping Administrator, testified that his agency expects to more than double in the new fiscal year the number and tonnage of the ships its operates.

He said that the fleet would need an additional 35,000 officers and 145,000 seamen in the new fiscal year and that while getting and training the men would be difficult he believed it could be done.

The budget also carried $72,000,000 for the Maritime Training Fund and $350,000 for Federal contributions to state marine schools and maintenance and repair of training vessels.

Admiral Land told the committee that as of February, 1943, 41 per cent of the nation's merchant fleet was working for the Army; 13 per cent for the Navy; 30 per cent for lend-lease; 16 per cent for the civilian economy, of which about 8 per cent was for strategic materials such as bauxite.

Mr. Douglas told the committee that although in the past about 70 per cent of the vessels comprising the present fleet came from existing tonnage and only 30 per cent from new construction, the number of remaining available ships is small and in the future new construction and more efficient use, repair and operation will be "all-important."

The W. S. A. budget estimates, Mr. Douglas told the committee, included $371,587,000 for wages, of which $201,388,000 represented "normal" wages and $170,199,000 bonus payments. Bonuses are paid, Mr. Douglas explained, when ships operate in certain areas; additional bonuses when a ship stops at certain ports, and additional bonuses when the ship is under attack.

The committee gave the Board of Economic Warfare every penny—$36,150,000—it sought, and declared that the testimony of Milo Perkins, the board's director, emphasized "the grave importance of the work that is being done by that organization on the world economic front and the crucial part it is taking in the war effort."

Mr. Perkins told the committee that "the plain fact is that Germany and Japan got a long jump on us in the world economic battle that preceded the war itself," but said that through the work of the B. E. W. operators, whom he described as "economic commandos," this nation is catching up.

"There is a long way to go," he added, "but the United Nations are definitely not losing the economic war. Our economic strength is still rising, while both Germany and Japan are beginning to show the first signs of economic strain."

Other statements:

William M. Jeffers, rubber director, reported that all the synthetic rubber plants should be in operation and producing by the end of the year, and that he was counting on an output of about 800,000 long tons of synthetic rubber next year. He declared that there would be at the end of this year about 140,000 tons of synthetic and crude rubber, and estimated that production of synthetic rubber by early autumn of 1944 would reach the point where it could supply normal demands.

Joseph B. Eastman, War Transportation Director, said that if war-time discomforts, plus a campaign to induce people to eliminate unessential travel, fail to accomplish the desired results "we may have to dig down into our basket" for some system of priorities.

JUN 17 1943

30.24-5069

Ralph K. Davies, Deputy Petroleum Administrator, asserted that the critical gasoline shortage on the Atlantic coast could have been avoided by an earlier ban on pleasure driving.

James M. Landis, Civilian Defense Director, said there is "considerable likelihood that the United States will be subjected to air raids both on the Pacific and on the northeastern coasts.

The greater part of the committee's reductions in the Budget Bureau's allocations of funds for the various war agencies came in requests for new personnel, with the denials amounting to approximately 5,400 man years.

The action came after Representatives John Taber, of New York, and J. William Ditter, of Pennsylvania, two of the ranking Republican members, assailed in particular the high percentage of former college instructors and professors as economists and consultants on such agencies as the Board of Economic Warfare and the Office of Price Administration.

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| War Shipping Administration..... | 2,372,350,000 | 2,272,350,000 |
| Grand total..... | $3,060,933,922 | $2,921,441.504 |

An additional $18,000,000 was provided for contract authorizations by the coordinator for Inter-American Affairs, and the Smaller War Plants Corporation was authorized to use $12,006,000 of its original $150,000,000 capital stock fund.

FIRING OF 300,000 FEDERAL WORKERS HELD ESSENTIAL

Byrd Economy Committee Hits 'Waste of Funds, Manpower.'

PIRATING CHARGED

Unwarranted Wage Boosts Granted in Inter-Departmental Competition.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(AP) Immediate dismissal of 300,000 government employes was demanded today by the Byrd economy committee in a report charging "waste of Federal funds and manpower."

The joint committee on reduction of non-essential Federal expenditures complained to President Roosevelt and Congress that there have been "unwarranted" wage increases which reflected a "pirating of employes" and "a disregard for basic salary classifications and dangers of inflation."

Senator Byrd (D-Va), committee chairman, cited an increase in Federal civilian personnel from 917,760 persons on Nov. 11, 1918, to 3,008,519 last April, and a payroll increase from $141.522,234 monthly in September, 1939, to $552,700,300 last month.

Disputing contentions that 60 per cent of Federal civilian employes are engaged directly in war production, the committee estimated that less than 45 per cent are "chiefly engaged in actual mechanical war production," and said these include consultants, analysts, attorneys, police guards, charwomen and others in the War and Navy departments, Maritime commission, and other services.

Drastic Reductions Asked

The committee called on the Budget bureau to make drastic reductions under authority given it by the recent War Overtime Pay act.

While it said most of the agencies it studied were "open to censure for unwarranted pay raises," the committee found the War Production board and the Board of Economic Warfare "most outstanding" in this regard.

"Wasteful and extravagant misuse of Federal funds," it asserted, have been "accelerated" by "skip-grade" promotions under the Civil Service Classification act, adding that "in one agency Federal funds were used in this manner at the rate of over $1,000,000 annually."

Joint Action Urged

It recommended that the Civil Service commission and the Budget bureau act jointly to eliminate 300,000 employes, halt "unnecessary" recruiting of new employes, especially from outside the government, and form an "effective manpower pool" for the utilization of available employes.

"Wasteful personnel malpractices" should be prevented by a complete reorganization of personnel servicing and management functions, it said.

The beneficial effects of a merit system during the past two years, it charged, "have been impaired and Federal funds have been wasted through the negligent attitude of personnel officers and operation officials."

Efficient Program Needed

"With the United States faced with an acute labor shortage of competent and qualified employes,' continued the report, "it is imperative that the government put a brake on recruiting, and adopt an efficient, well-planned, fair and equitable labor-utilization program."

It found the WPB paying 3,301 or 26 per cent of its employes more than $3,800 a year, the National Housing agency, 2,564 or 18 per cent; the co-ordinator for Inter-American affairs, 344 or 33 per cent, the BEW, 640 or 23 per cent and the Reconstruction Finance corporation 2,031 or 27 per cent.

It asserted that three BEW employes received raises of $6,000 or more between Nov. 15, 1940, and Nov. 15, 1942, while BEW, WPB and five other war agencies reported 14 pay raises of $4,000 to $5,000 during that period, and 568 raises between $1,200 and $2,000.

Despite the "vast" payroll, the committee commented at one point, some agencies said delay in submitting reports was due to "lack of sufficient personnel."

War Agencies' Figures Pruned By Committee

JUN 17 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 16—Following are the amounts the appropriations subcommittee recommended for the agencies, and the amounts the agencies had requested, in the omnibus bill submitted to Congress today:

| Agency | Sought | Recommended |
|---|---|---|
| Board of Economic Warfare..... | $36,150,000 | $36,150,000 |
| Office of Censorship..... | 29,998,400 | 27,800,000 |
| War Petroleum Administration..... | 5,473,000 | 5,473,000 |
| Office of Price Administration..... | 177,335,000 | 165,000,000 |
| Office of Strategic Services..... | 38,476,000 | 35,000,000 |
| Office for Emergency Management— | | |
| Administrative Services ..... | 9,796,880 | 8,817,200 |
| Working Capital Fund..... | 900,000 | 750,000 |
| Civilian Defense Office ..... | 5,746,522 | 4,000,000 |
| Coordinator Inter-American Affairs | 33,860,000 | 30,685,000 |
| Office of Defense Transportation.... | 14,900,000 | 14,650,000 |
| Office of Economic Stabilization.... | 100,000 | 100,000 |
| Liaison Office ..... | 62,320 | ..... |
| National War Labor Board..... | 14,341,300 | 13,841,300 |
| Office of Scientific Research..... | 135,982,500 | 135,982,500 |
| Office of War Information..... | 47,342,000 | 34,472,504 |
| War Production Board..... | 89,950,000 | 88,200,000 |
| War Relocation Authority ..... | 48,170,000 | 48,170,000 |

Treasury Averages Tax Deductions at 12 PerCent

Exemptions Listed Under Pay-Go Plan Effective July 1

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP).—The Treasury estimated today that sums withheld under the pay-as-you-go tax law beginning July 1 will not exceed 12 per cent of gross pay for the majority of wage earners. The law requires employers to withhold 20 per cent of all wages and salaries over and above exemptions, but because of these exemptions, the Treasury said, the percentage of withholdings to gross pay will vary with individual wage earners, depending on income and family status.

For a single person with no dependents the withholdings will range from 6.3 per cent of gross wages for a person earning $17.50 a week to 17.5 per cent for a person earning $95 a week. For a married person with no dependents the percentage of withholdings will range from 1.1 per cent on a salary of $17.50 a week to 14.9 per cent on a salary of $95 a week.

For a married person with one dependent the percentage for the same wage brackets will range from 1.1 per cent to 13.7 per cent and for a married person with two dependents from 1.1 per cent to 12.4 per cent.

Henry Morgenthau jr., Secretary of the Treasury, urged all wage earners to promptly fill out withholding exemption certificates as the first requirement of the new system of tax collection. Information concerning family status supplied by employees to employers on these certificates, Mr. Morgenthau said, will determine the amount of wages to be withheld.

Dealers In Food Oppose Subsidies "At Any Level"

JUN 17 1943

Washington, June 16 (AP)—Representatives of retail and wholesale food dealers from coast to coast wound up a two-day national conference today by announcing opposition to subsidies "at any level."

The objection to the Administration's plan for holding down prices by paying subsidies was voiced in an eleven-point resolution drawn up by the retailers, which was immediately concurred in by the wholesalers.

Other demands made by the retailers in their resolution included the scrapping of price control on luxury items, the halting of "advertising dollars-and-cents" prices for each class of store, the "discontinuance of public propaganda branding retailers as unpatriotic and seeking to overcharge the public," the abolition of OPA "one-man" courts, and a cutting down in the number and complexity of reports.

MEXICANS CLEARED IN ZOOT SUIT RIOTS

None Yet Found to Have Been Involved, Say U. S. Officials.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(AP) The State department announced today that investigation so far had revealed no cases where Mexican citizens were involved in recent fights in Los Angeles between service men and "zoot suit" youths, but promised speedy action on claims resulting from such cases, if there are any.

The announcement followed a visit to Secretary Hull yesterday by Mexican Ambassador Francisco Castillo Najera who expressed his government's concern over the disturbances.

The State department announcement:

"The Mexican ambassador called upon the Secretary of State on June 15 in order to express the concern of his government at the recent disturbances in Los Angeles and vicinity.

"The Secretary assured the Ambassador that the Department of State had been closely following the situation as it has developed since these disturbances first began. He assured the Ambassador that the local authorities, have been doing everything possible to ameliorate the situation. He also stated that full investigation of these incidents is being conducted by Federal and local authorities.

"If as a result of those investigations it is found that there are cases involving Mexican citizens (and none have yet been found) the resulting claims will be expeditiously handled by this government in accordance with principles of international law and the principles of justice and equity which the two governments jointly uphold."

TO TALK IN BRITAIN

Washington, June 16 (A. P.).—Typical Americans are being sent to England by the Office of War Information to satisfy British interest in the United States. This was disclosed today in testimony of Robert Sherwood, director of OWI's overseas branch, to a House Appropriations sub-committee.

He said that invitations already had been issued to: Frank J. Lausche, Mayor of Cleveland; Clarence Dykstra, president of the University of Wisconsin; Eric Johnston, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, and Joseph C. Grew, former Ambassador to Japan.

JUN 17 1943

U. S. Planes Raid Solomons.

Washington, June 16 (A. P.).—United States planes attacked Japanese positions in the central and northwestern Solomon Islands Sunday and Monday, the Navy reported today, and enemy flyers countered with an attack on Guadalcanal early Tuesday.

No estimates was given of damage inflicted by the American attacks but a communique said that no personnel or material damage had been reported here as a result of the Japanese assault.

The Navy communique said that during the evenings of June 13 and 14, Flying Fortresses and Liberators attacked Japanese installations at Kahili and on Shortland Island in the Buin area.

On the evening of June 14, Army Mitchell medium bombers escorted by Navy Corsair fighters bombed the runway and anti-aircraft positions of the airfield at Vila, Kolombangara Island.

Kahili is a Japanese air base near Buin, a port on the southeastern end of Bougainville Island. Bougainville is the northwestern island of the Solomons chain. Shortland Island lies a few miles off Buin.

Vila, on Kolombangara Island, is in the central Solomons, only about 100 miles northwest of the American air base in the Russell Islands, immediately north of Guadalcanal.

Former Hopkins Nurse Gets U. S. Health Post

Washington, June 16 (AP)—Surgeon General Thomas Parran today announced appointment of Miss Lucile Petry as director of the newly established division of nurse training in the United States Public Health Service.

Miss Petry will be the first woman to hold such an administrative position in the Public Health Service, directly responsible to the surgeon general.

She is a graduate of the Johns Hopkins School of Nursing and of Teachers College, Columbia University. For ten years she was associate professor of nursing at the University of Minnesota. For the past two years she has been with the public health service in connection with the war nurse training program.

MEAT SUBSIDY RATES FIXED

Range From 0.95 Cents To 1.3 Cents A Pound Live Weight

Defense Supplies Corporation To Finance Rollback In Retail Prices

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 16—Meat subsidy rates ranging from 0.95 cents to 1.5 cents a pound, live weight, were announced tonight by the Defense Supplies Corporation which will finance the payment to packers to reimburse them for a ten per cent. rollback in retail prices.

The rates, amounting to about 2 cents a pound on carcasses which translates into an average around 3 cents at retail, are: Cattle and calves, 1.1 cents, sheep and lambs 0.95 cents, hogs and pigs 1.3 cents.

Payments Monthly

Payment will be made monthly, applying to livestock slaughtered beginning June 7.

The subsidy, intended to be passed back to livestock producers, will be paid only to slaughterers who handle more than 4,000 pounds, live weight, monthly.

Smaller slaughterers, officials said, are presumed to sell largely at retail and get the advantage of the retailer's profit margin.

OPA Suggests Tokens To Replace Food Stamps

Washington, June 16 (AP)—A pocketful of tokens instead of a bookful of food stamps is the latest proposal brought forward by the Office of Price Administration.

To save grocers the work of handling large quantities of ration stamps, the OPA today offered a national conference of food men a plan to use coin-sized tokens instead.

Still only in the tentative stage, the plan calls for tokens in two colors and several denominations, designed to fit standard coin-counting machines so they could be easily tallied at the end of the day.

One ration stamp would be issued monthly, which would be good for a certain number of tokens. The tokens would be constantly current, thereby permitting customers to carry them over from one period to the next.

R. J. Cordiner, WPB Official, Resigns Post

Washington, June 16 (AP)—Ralph J. Cordiner resigned today as a vice-chairman of the War Production Board, reportedly to reenter private business.

Cordiner, who was president of Schick, Inc., of Stamford, Conn., when he joined WPB last November, was brought into the war agency to set up the production-scheduling program which is credited with breaking bottlenecks in the production of parts for synthetic rubber and aviation-gasoline plants, escort vessels and other vital parts of the war program.

His letter of resignation, dated May 26 and accepted "reluctantly" by Chairman Donald M. Nelson today, said that "personal matters" necessitated his departure.

WORK OF NEW DRUG HAILED

Penicillin Credited With Healing Where Sulfas Had Failed

JUN 17 1943

House Group Is Told Of Results Of Treatment Of Battle Wounds

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 16 — A newly developed substance, penicillin, was credited today with healing battle-inflicted wounds after the use of sulfanilimides and other drugs had failed to produce any improvement.

Dr. A. Newton Richards, of the Office of Scientific Research and Development, told the House Appropriations Committee what committee members termed "almost miraculous" results from the use of penicillin, derived from a mold that grows on an artificial liquid medium.

Is Sent To England, Africa

He said 20,000,000 units had been sent to England and a similar quantity to North Africa and gave this account of penicillin's use in treating Pacific-front casualties at Bushnell Veterans' Hospital, in Utah:

"They (the wounds) consisted of compound fractures, bones splintered by high-velocity bullets which had been under treatment by ordinary means for as long as fourteen months. The men were weak and delirious.

"They had been treated by the sulfanilimides and other drugs without avail. Almost from the beginning of the injection of this material, they began to improve.

Another Project Set Up

"Within a week (in a typical case) the situation became so improved that an operation could be risked, which was necessary to remove bone fragments, missile fragments, bits of uniform, or, in one case, a galosh buckle which had been driven into the wound.

"Penicillin reduced the infection in the wound so that the pocket could be cleared up and explored and drainage accomplished. The case that I have in mind was healed within twenty-seven days. That was after fourteen months of ineffectual treatment by other known means."

The army and navy were so impressed, Dr. Richards said, that a similar project is being set up in Halloran Hospital in Staten Island. Medical officers sent there for training in the administration of penicillin later will be sent to other hospitals until there are ten in which studies are being made.

Production Cost Now High

Dr. Richards told the committee penicillin had had remarkable effect in the treatment of gonorrhea, clearing up the infection in two days. He said there was a report on sixty-eight cases of gonorrhea cured "without a miss."

The cost of production for penicillin now is very high, he said, but he expressed confidence that the cost would be brought to a reasonable figure by larger production. He said the material was first discovered in 1929 in Britain.

M'Nutt's Own Order Balks His Salary Raise

WASHINGTON, June 16. — (AP) Paul V. McNutt's chances of getting a $3,000 raise collided today with the obstacle of President Roosevelt's hold-the-line order against inflation.

As War Manpower chief and Federal Security administrator, Mr. McNutt draws $12,000 and the House Appropriations committee recommended that this be boosted to $15,000 in line with salaries of the heads of other wartime agencies.

But, on the grounds that this would violate the War Labor board's wage stabilization formula and also crack the anti-inflation line, Rep. Taber (R-NY) objected. The House backed him up.

Responsible for Regulations

Rep. Fish (R-NY) remarked he had been told Mr. McNutt was largely responsible for regulations freezing the wages of millions of workers.

Rep. Celler (D-NY) commended Mr. McNutt as an able and efficient executive and said a $3,000 raise would be "mere peanuts."

Skip-Bomb Hit In Underground Hangar Scored

Washington, June 16 (AP)—An American fighter pilot "skipped" his bomb from low altitude directly into an underground hangar on Pantelleria during the bombardment of that island, the War Department said today.

A report from Maj. Gen. James H. Doolittle's strategic air force in North Africa states that Lieut. Col. Ernest C. Young, of Stillwater, Okla., performed this feat during the assault, "popping one square into an underground hangar as blithly and skillfully as a youngster skips pebbles across a pond."

Young, who is group executive officer and who pilots a Lightning fighter, used the same technique against many other key military installations on Pantelleria, the report stated.

Navy Lists 5 Missing In State and Jersey

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—The Navy announced today twelve casualties, including three dead and nine missing. This brings to 23,016 the total of Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard casualties reported to next of kin since December 7, 1941. The grand total includes 7,442 dead, 4,723 wounded and 10,851 missing.

The list announced today included:

NEW YORK

Missing

ANDRES, EDWARD FRANCIS; wife, Mrs. Anna May Andres, 1489 Broadway, Rensselaer.

ATTOLINI, WILLIAM SAMUEL; father, Dante Attolini, 418 North Tenth st., Olean.

THOMPSON, RICHARD JAMES; mother, Mrs. Mary Jane Thompson, 110 Pleasant st., Canandaigua.

WATKINS, NORBERT JOSEPH; wife, Mrs. Mildred Watkins, 17 Division st., Lancaster.

NEW JERSEY

Missing

CUNNINGHAM, JAMES JOSEPH, ensign; wife, Mrs. Dorothy S. Cunningham, 754 Line st., Camden, N. J.

JUN 17 1943

Soldiers Killed in Action Listed

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP).—The War Department announced today the names of 408 United States soldiers killed in action, most of them in the North African area.

Included are the following from New York, New Jersey and Connecticut:

NEW YORK

North African Area

ABRAMS, BERNARD A., private first class; father, Elmer W. Abrams, 372 Hewlett Parkway, Hewlett, L. I.

ACQUILIN, EDWARD V., private first class; father, Joseph H. Acquilin, 430 West 116th Street, Manhattan.

AMANZIO, ANTHONY, corporal; mother, Mrs. Anne Amanzio, 63-58 Eighty-third Place, Middle Village, Queens.

BOLANOWSKI, JOHN S., corporal; mother, Mrs. Mary Bolanowski, 906 Saratoga Street, Utica.

BRIGANTE, PASQUALE A., private; father, Cono Brigante, 1564 Pacific Street, Brooklyn.

BURGER, HERMAN, private; mother, Mrs. Katherine Burger, 67-12 Metropolitan Avenue, Middle Village, Queens.

BURNS, BASIL Jr., corporal; wife, Mrs. Louise F. Burns, 49 Hodge Avenue, Buffalo.

BUSH, WILFRED, private; wife, Mrs. Wilfred M. Bush, Box 15, Montour Falls.

CAPALACES, FRANK J., private; sister Mrs. Lucy Rogers, 32 Kenwood Avenue, Binghamton.

COLANGELO, JOHN B., private first class; father, Daniel Colangelo, 20 Eldridge Street, Port Chester.

CONKLIN, JAMES W., private; brother, William Conklin, 160 Meserole Avenue, Brooklyn.

CROSS, WILLIAM H., first lieutenant; mother, Mrs. Laura M. Cross, 1 Church Street, Bombay.

DEPIERRO, PASQUALE, sergeant; mother, Mrs. Mary Faelle, 100-17 Union Hall Street, Jamaica, Queens.

ELIASSON, CHARLES, private; mother, Mrs. Jennie F. Eliasson, 759 Monroe Street, Brooklyn.

EVERETT, WALTER D., private first class; sister, Mrs. Irene E. Wolf, 85 Grove Street, Geneva.

FOWLER, DENMAN, captain; wife, Mrs. Gene S. Fowler, 167 Glenwood Avenue, Yonkers.

HORKY, JOHN, private; wife, Mrs. Stella Horky, 34 Clinton Street, Yonkers.

JAYNES, HARRY D., sergeant; sister, Mrs. Georgeanna Duncan, Coleman Station.

KAMPFER, BEN, private first class; wife, Mrs. Claire Kampfer, Box 164, Parksville.

KRIVE, MICHAEL A., private; mother, Mrs. Anna Krive, 328 East Fifteenth Street, Manhattan.

LEWIN, RALPH, private; father, Herman M. Lewin, 1148 Longfellow Avenue, the Bronx.

MOHR, GEORGE C., private first class; mother, Mrs. Mabel Mohr, 6 Brookwood Drive, Baldwin, L. I.

NATOLI, GIOVANNI J., technician fifth grade; father, G. Giovanni Natoli, 22 Clinton Street, Norwich.

PAGE, MAURICE A., private first class; father, Leo B. Page, Main Street, Harpersville.

PETROSKY, STANLEY I., private; sister, Mrs. Helen Keesler, 1111 Dudley Avenue, Utica.

PIKE, FRANCIS H., private first class; father, Raymond H. Pike, Box 40, Vassar Road, Wappingers Falls.

POPEIL, JOSEPH, corporal; mother, Mrs. Rose Popeil, 119 East 127th Street, Manhattan.

RABINOWITZ, SIDNEY, private; father, Paul Rabinowitz, 1816 U Street, the Bronx.

RANDALL, ABRAHAM R., private; father, Hyman Randall, 1725 Sterling Place, Brooklyn.

RASCHKE, ERNEST R., private first class; mother, Mrs. Ella Raschke, 933 Grand Central Avenue, Elmira.

RAYMER, CLIFFORD B., captain; wife, Mrs. Maxine J. Raymer, Box 156, East Williamson.

RIZZO, VITO J., private; mother, Mrs. Viola Rizzo, 1132 Fortieth Street, Brooklyn.

SCHWEID, MAX I., private; wife, Mrs. Essie Schweid, 3657 Broadway, Manhattan.

SCOTT, RICHARD, staff sergeant; mother, Mrs. Alice L. Scott, 251 Sedgewick Avenue, Yonkers.

SHARKO, TONY, private; father, Walter Sharko, 305 Hopkinson Avenue, Brooklyn.

SHARPE, WILLIAM J., corporal; mother, Mrs. Rose Sharpe, 176 Troup Street, Rochester.

SHAW, MAURICE L., second lieutenant; wife, Mrs. Kathryn R. Shaw, Green Street, Rushville.

SHEA, WILLIAM J., private; mother, Mrs. Catherine Shea, 675 East 233d Street, the Bronx.

STREB, JOSEPH H., sergeant; father, Walter B. Streb, 355 Grand Avenue, Rochester.

VETTER, GEORGE H., private; mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Vetter, 3097 Thirty-second Street, Long Island City, Queens.

ZEAMES, ARTHUR W., private first class; mother, Mrs. Rebecca Zeames, 1400 Jefferson Avenue, Buffalo.

BUSZTA, JOSEPH J., private first class; sister, Mrs. Frances Van Wie, 38 Chase Street, Auburn.

COTA, LELAND F., private; wife, Mrs. Violet M. Cota, Route 1, Rensselaer Falls.

DALPONSO, CLARENCE L., private; father, Lawrence P. Dalfonso, 14 North Road, Scottsville.

FUCCI, VINCENT J., private first class; mother, Mrs. Louise D. Fucci, 1523 Rockaway Parkway, Brooklyn.

GENANT, ROBERT E., first lieutenant; father, William A. Genant, 708 Rugby Road, Syracuse.

GUMBLE, AUGUST W., sergeant; mother, Mrs. Louise Gumble, 66-25 Fresh Pond Road, Ridgewood, Queens.

HUBER, GEORGE H., private first class; father, Alois Huber, 1371 Indian Church Road, Gardenville.

McCLARY, EDWARD E., sergeant; brother, Myles J. McClary, 1340 College Avenue, Elmira.

MIKLAUNUS, CHARLES J., private; sister, Miss Alice Miklaunus, 914 Leggett Avenue, Bronx.

MITCHELL, CARL, private; father, Frank Mitchell, 517 Concord Avenue, Bronx.

MOREHOUSE, LEONARD J., private first class; father, Leonard L. Morehouse, Kirkland Avenue, Clinton.

O'CONNELL, DANIEL W., first lieutenant; father, William O'Connell, 1873 Randall Avenue, Bronx.

PHILLIPS, FRANCIS E., private first class; wife, Mrs. Julua Virginia Phillips, 500 West 176th Street, Manhattan.

PORIS, JAMES, private; father, Harry Poris, 63-25 Saunders Street, Forest Hills, Queens.

SESSA, THOMAS, private first class; sister, Mrs. Elvera Guadagno, 247 Montrose Avenue, Brooklyn.

SHOEMAKER, ELLIS T., corporal; wife, Mrs. Ellis T. Shoemaker, North Norwich.

European Area

GOERGEN, THOMAS A., technician fifth grade; father, Michael Goergen, 613 Best Street, Buffalo.

ROGERS, DERROL W., captain; brother, Howland P. Rogers, 376 Main Street, New Rochelle.

TANNENBAUM, HAROLD J., first lieutenant; wife, Mrs. Adelaide E. Tannenbaum, 34 Bennett Avenue, Binghamton.

Pacific Area

BROWN, MILTON J., technician fifth grade; mother, Mrs. Pauline Cohen, 953 East 165th Street, Bronx.

PICOZZI, ORLANDO J., corporal; mother, Mrs. Carmela Picozzi, 2318 Broadway, Schenectady.

SHINDER, ABRAHAM, private first class; mother, Mrs. Sophie Shinder, 266 East Forty-sixth Street, Brooklyn.

NEW JERSEY

North African Area

KOZAR, JOHN P., corporal; mother, Mrs. Anna Kozar, 589 Center Street, Trenton.

ROTUNDA, JOSEPH R. Jr., private; father, Joseph R. Rotunda sr., 34 Mount Prospect Avenue, Newark.

TAIBI, JOSEPH, private; mother, Mrs. Francis Taibi, 67 Frederick Street, Belleville.

ZICK, LOUIS R., private; mother, Mrs. Caroline Zick, 322 Oak Avenue, Woodbridge.

CARCILLI, JOHN B., private; mother, Mrs. Mary Carcilli, 119 Houston Avenue, Atlantic City.

DELIUS, JOHN E., private first class; mother, Mrs. May Delius, 1519 Eighty-first Street, North Bergen.

HEFFERNAN, JEREMIAH A., private; mother, Mrs. Anna Heffernan, 172 Griffith Street, Jersey City.

LANE, ROBERT C., private; father, Wilmer R. Lane, 100 East Wayne Terrace, Collingswood.

O'DONNELL, JAMES, sergeant; aunt, Mrs. Othelia O'Donnell, 106 North Avenue, Dunellen.

PENCAK, HENRY, second lieutenant; wife, Mrs. Maryln Pencak, 22 Victoria Street, Somerville.

REMLEY, RICHARD R., private first class; mother, Mrs. Grace Remley, Maple Avenue, New Market.

WARE, GEORGE G., first lieutenant; mother, Mrs. Minnie L. Ware, 8 Liberty Street, Glassboro.

Pacific Area

SWIERCZEWSKI, ANTHONY B., technician fourth grade; mother, Mrs. Marcella Swierczewski, 55 Bleeker Street, Paterson.

European Area

DALEY, JOSEPH F., private; mother, Mrs. Pearl Daley, 117 South Main Street, Pleasantville.

CONNECTICUT

North African Area

BRINDISI, MICHAEL N., private; mother, Mrs. Michaline Brindisi, 15 Beach Street, West Haven.

HOLLO, FRANK, private; wife, Mrs. Glenna F. Hollo, 478 Gregory Street, Bridgeport.

FERRIS, GEOFFREY C., second lieutenant; mother, Mrs. Cheney Ferris, 625 Whitney Avenue, New Haven.

ERFF, PHILIP F., private; father, William C. Erff, Ivy Circle, West Haven.

LA CHANCE, ADALBERT L., private; mother, Mrs. Albina La Chance, 43 Russ Street, Hartford.

SQUAGLIA, FRANCIS A., private first class; father, Salvatore Squaglia, Lee Street, New Haven.

Pacific Area

CHUDZIK, ANTHONY T., staff sergeant; mother, Mrs. Sophie Chudzik, 723 Farmington Avenue, New Britain.

JUN 17 1943

30.24-5071

ALLIES HOLD 3-TO-1 PLANE SUPERIORITY

Army Chief Of Air Staff Compares Losses In Mediterranean

937 Of Enemy's Aircraft Are Destroyed At Cost Of Only 237

JUN 17 1943

[By the Associated Press]

New York, June 16—Maj. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer, chief of the air staff, Army Air Forces, disclosed today that since April 15 Allied aircraft in North Africa and the Middle East destroyed 685 enemy aircraft in air combat and 252 others on the ground with a loss of only 237 planes.

At a press conference following his return from an inspection tour of the European and African war theaters, General Stratemeyer also said that during the same period the Allies destroyed 118 Axis ships of all kinds in the Mediterranean.

"If there is one lesson we have learned from Africa, the Mediterranean and Europe," he said, "it is that our air power must not be used piecemeal and so dissipated. In the Tunisian battle the Tactical Air Force was used as an integrated force to achieve air superiority by blasting the enemy air force out of the sky.

Not Used Piecemeal

"It was not used piecemeal, one parcel as an umbrella to protect ground troops elsewhere, dividing itself into easily opposable segments and accomplishing nothing. I was a solid force, commanded by airmen."

Stating that the Allies had achieved a 3-to-1 air ratio in the Mediterranean against a "tough, battle-wise foe," General Stratemeyer declared:

"Our airplane production today far exceeds that of the Axis. Theirs is a rapidly wasting, ours a growing air power. At the ratio of 3 to 1 under conditions which should have been favorable to them, their losses must take on, for the Axis, the aspect of calamity.

Sometimes Unopposed

"Our Army Air Forces have known a number of recent days of operations without enemy air opposition. The number of those days will increase as we get along with this war, if we keep on knocking down the enemy at the current rate. We have every confidence we will do so."

Declaring that "in the past two months we have forged the pattern of air victory in the Mediterranean," he added:

"Now we are undertaking to cut the Axis to that pattern. It is a job we face with confidence. Our confidence is based on knowledge that we have met and cleanly, decisively defeated the best the enemy can offer."

Moscow's Little People Await German Offensive Undisturbed

Red Army Appears To Be Stronger, Better Armed Than Ever Before

(Eddy Gilmore, who writes the following story on how Russia's people face the impending summer campaign, has just returned to Washington after nearly two years as an Asociated Press correspondent in Moscow.)

By EDDY GILMORE,
Associated Press Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, June 16.—With a large part of the German army camped just beyond Moscow's front yard—and ready to strike if you believe in signs—you'd think the little people of the big old city would be getting slightly excited as the tension tightens.

Well, they aren't.

The Ivan Ivanoviches and the Sonia Ivanovas of Moscow are paying about as much attention to the Wehrmacht on the central front as they would be to a well charged but well controlled samovar.

A samovar needs watching. Just keep it under watchful eye and control and nothing much is going to happen to any one or anything—except the samovar.

For weeks the citizens of Moscow and the land between Moscow and such Russian cities as Briansk, Orel, Svesk, Kursk, Smolensk and Velikie Luki have known that a lot is going on.

Reinforcements Brought Up.

They knew Hitler has turned into these sectors many trains bearing troops, tanks, guns, mortars and all the other implements of war. They are well aware that as the flooded Russian roads dried the Germans brought up—and are still bringing up—thousands of loaded trucks.

The little people—the apartment house dwellers, the keepers of little cottages, the tillers of the fields and all the others—know that such a great German concentration means a push is imminent.

The Russian newspapers have hammered this into the people for weeks now. The army paper, Red Star, has shouted it to the soldier, and the Red Fleet, publication of the navy, has had its say to the sailors.

Know Hitler Is Desperate.

The Red army—more than any other army in the world—has felt the weight of a German push. It has been told that this summer the weight may be greater than ever before, that more tanks may come, that more dive bombers may be used, and that even gas may be employed.

The little people know Hitler is desperate. Twice he has driven deeply into the lands of their ancestors when the warm weather came. And twice when the cold weather arrived the Red army has pushed him back.

This summer there is a strange deliberateness to Hitler's plans. They almost seem too apparent. He seems to be building solidly for the central or western front.

There is much speculation that he may try to break through southwest of Moscow, drive westward; then turn northward and try to get behind the capital.

Only this is known—Hitler appears to have enough material and men on this front to seek to accomplish such a feat.

Nazis Have Had Four Setbacks.

The German command has had four major objective setbacks:

1. Failure to take Moscow.
2. Failure to capture Stalingrad.
3. Failure to hold the Caucasus and her oil.
4. Failure to storm Leningrad or to starve it out.

Can Hitler fail again in Russia?

The Soviets, who are always realists, realize that Hitler can fail again and possibly again. They don't rest on the rhetoric of the presumption.

Great victories, they know, are often made of many failures.

Taganrog May Be Key Point.

The open manner in which Hitler is building up the central front worries some of the thinkers. There's a possibility of a trick. He may also be building up that strong sector of the Taganrog line.

If Hitler goes for the Caucasus again he has to have Rostov, and Taganrog isn't far away. If he wants the Donbas back, Taganrog would be a place to strike from.

The Taganrog line must be watched.

There have been some funny goings on up around the Leningrad front recently and they may or may not indicate a German push in this direction.

But—whatever the Germans do, the Germans will meet a better, stronger, more powerfully armed and commanded Red army this summer than in the past two summers.

Generals Like the Offensive.

The Red army of today is a very potent force. It is commanded by young brilliant generals—generals who like the offensive. And, of course, its guiding strategist is still Stalin, who many military men believe will go down in history as one of the world's greatest strategists.

If Hitler has been doing things all this time since the end of the winter offensive, you can be assured Tovarich Stalin—as the premier is called by everyone in the Soviet Union from school child to ancient—has been up to something, too.

I have just gotten to the United States from Moscow and because of the obvious fact of military secrecy I can only say that from what I've seen—and frankly, it hasn't been a lot—Tovarich Stalin has been up to a considerable something.

Eight Nazis Attempt To Flee Prison Ship

Servicemen and Police Foil Escape in New York

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 16.—Alert marines plunged into waters off the West Side dock area here last month to aid in capturing eight Nazi war prisoners who escaped from a prison ship by squeezing through a porthole.

The daring escape was detected early one morning when a sentry patrolling the dock section noticed a figure splashing in the water. He challenged the swimmer, but received no reply.

The sentry fired—and the whole area became alive with coast guardsmen, sailors, marines and police.

In "movie thriller" fashion, coast guard and police boats fanned out into the water. Searchlights played their beams in the direction of the swimmer and shots rang out from the prison ship moored in the Hudson River.

Several marines dived into the water and swam toward the escaping men. Some of the Germans were overtaken and after desperate battles were captured and dragged ashore.

A few of the Nazis managed to scramble up a West Side pier, others remained in the middle of the river and several struck out for the Jersey shore.

All were soon captured, however, with the exception of a submarine officer who later was found hiding beneath an Army truck.

The navy chief petty officer who discovered the break also was credited by the Navy with capturing some of the Germans after they had jumped into the river. His name was not given.

KUHN IS DEPRIVED OF U. S. CITIZENSHIP

11 Key Figures in Bund Denaturalized, Eight Held for Hearings.

NEW YORK, June 16 — (AP) Fritz Kuhn, former national German-American Bund leader, and 10 other key figures of the Bund in the New York area, have been denaturalized, E. E. Conroy, special agent in charge of the New York FBI office, announced today.

Kuhn is now serving a two and one-half to five year sentence in Dannemora prison for embezzlement of Bund funds. The FBI said he did not contest the denaturalization action.

Eight of the group were arrested by the FBI today, as a result of the denaturalization decrees, entered June 1, and are being held on Ellis island as enemy aliens for hearings, Mr. Conroy said.

Among those being held at Ellis island, Mr. Conroy said, are: Henry von Holt, 40, former Bronx Bund leader; Franz Wunschel, 38, former Bronx Bund member; Ernest Sotzek, 38, the Bronx, former Manhattan unit service leader; Konrad Koehler, 43, the Bronx, former Bund newspaper circulation manager; and William Heller, 43, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., former Poughkeepsie unit leader.

Heller, who was naturalized Nov. 9, 1929, joined the Friends of New Germany in 1934 and was active in Bund affairs until 1941, heading the Poughkeepsie Bund unit from 1936 until its dissolution five years later, Mr. Conroy said. During the first World war he served in the German naval air force and has two brothers in the German army, the FBI said.

WAR IN DECISIVE PHASE, TOJO SAYS

Premier Tells Japanese Diet Allies Are Massing All Resources

JUN 17 1943

[By the Associated Press]

New York, June 16—Declaring that Japan is daily becoming stronger, Premier General Hideki Tojo warned the Japanese Diet that the war has reached a serious, decisive stage, with the enemy mobilizing all his resources for a counter-offensive."

Addressing an extraordinary session of the Diet, the war leader was quoted by the Tokyo radio as saying Japan's conquests had established the "necessary conditions to assure final victory," and that Japan "naturally has foreseen" new attacks by the Allies.

Serious Blows Cited

"Our forces," he declared in the broadcast recorded by the Associated Press, "have not only inflicted serious blows on the enemy but are also developing new methods to break him."

Tojo, who spoke as Premier and as War Minister, warned the Japanese to expect air raids on "our mainland."

He was quoted as saying that the Chinese air force had begun "to recover with support by the Americans."

"The enemy is trying to raid our bases," said a Tokyo version of his speech. "Not only that, the enemy is also trying to raid our mainland and shut off our supply routes. Our air force has taken the initiative. We must expect, however, that the enemy will raid our mainland."

Production Increased

At the same time, Tojo reported that Japanese war production had been "notably augmented" this year, but acknowledged that the national economy must be tailored even more strictly to it war needs, and that "special efforts would be unavoidable" to "ensure the national food supply."

For the benefit of home morale, Admiral Shigetaro Shimada, Navy Minister, also reported before the Diet, and on paper again "destroyed" Allied fleets.

To date in the war, he asserted, according to the Tokyo radio, the navy has shot down or destroyed 5,214 Allied planes, sunk 13 battleships, 11 aircraft carriers, 55 cruisers, 56 destroyers, 128 submarines, and 69 other warcraft "besides damaging numerous others," and also has sunk 369 merchantmen totaling 2,250,000 tons.

Figures Don't Agree

These figures bore no resemblance to the facts as announced in Allied communiques.

Japanese losses were listed as 878 planes, 1 battleship, 3 aircraft carriers, 3 cruisers, 19 destroyers, 11 submarines, 13 other warcraft "and 98 ships employed by the Imperial Navy totaling 352,000 tons."

The admiral declared that the "decisive stage is fast approaching" in the Southwest Pacific and disclosed that the Japanese combined fleet now is commanded by Admiral Mineichi Koga.

He claimed Japanese air and sea victories in the Attu area, while Tojo paid tribute to the garrison wiped out on Attu, saying it had "accomplished a strategic object of checking a superior enemy force advancing westward for a period of twelve months."

Praises Air Action

The Premier asserted that Nipponese air offensives had frustrated Allied attacks upon Japanese shipping, and "their planes to attempt aerial attacks upon the Japanese homeland."

He promised complete "independence" for the Philippines this year and said Japan would help India "to expel and eliminate Anglo-Saxon influences, which are the enemy of India in every true sense of the word." Occupied regions of East Asia, he said, are giving Japan "utmost cooperation."

JUN 17 1943

Of his Axis partners, Tojo said that "I firmly believe in the smashing success of Germany and Italy and their allies on account of their already established invulnerable position. Japan promises to fight hand in hand with Germany and Italy for common victory."

YAMAMOTO SLAIN BY ARMY HEADS, CHINESE REPORT

JUN 17 1943

Fresh Evidence of 'Feud' Explained in Chungking Broadcast

NEW YORK, June 16 — (AP) A Chinese military spokesman said today the Chinese had "fresh evidence" indicating that the late commander-in-chief of Japan's combined fleet, Admiral Isoroku Yamamoto, "was probably the victim of a feud between the Japanese Army and Navy," the Chungking radio reported.

A Chinese broadcast recorded by the FCC recalled there were varied reports from Tokyo concerning Admiral Yamamoto's demise, first learned May 20, including suicide, during operations in the South Pacific and during an air raid.

"The spokesman said x x x," the broadcast continued, "that Yamamoto was not killed late in April but early in May, and that he could not have been killed in an air raid since there had been no Allied air attack on Manila around that time.

Prompted Tojo's Visit

"Yamamoto's death prompted Premier Hideki Tojo's hurried visit to Manila, where the Admiral's headquarters were located, on May 5. Premier Tojo's mission, the spokesman said, was principally to straighten out the tense situation resulting from the admiral's mysterious death.

"Tojo returned to Tokyo May 8 and when Yamamoto's ashes were brought back to Tokyo by plane, high Japanese officials with the exception of General Tanaka, commander-in-chief of the Japanese forces in the Philippine area, all attended a special ceremony at the airport.

"When it was pointed out that General Shizuichi Tanaka was conspicuously absent from the airport that day, the spokesman said, Japanese government authorities explained that he was unable to attend, having become suddenly indisposed. On May 29, General Tanaka was relieved of his command.

Different Courses Favored

"In the light of these circumstances, the spokesman said, Yamamoto's death should be traced to the long-standing feud between the army, which favors northward advance, and the Navy, which favors a southward push."

(On May 21, Elmer Davis, director of the Office of War Information, said on the radio that perhaps Admiral Yamamoto "was bumped off by some of the rest of the mob—as has happened to high officers in Germany and Italy. Mr. Davis said "the Japanese navy was none too brilliantly handled in the latter half of 1942, so his (the admiral's) colleagues may have decided he had outlived his usefulness and that they could cover up his murder by giving him a great publicity build-up as a hero.")

Allies Must Remain United in Peace, Bonnet Declares

Liberation Group Official Works for Closer Ties Of U. S. and France

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 16. — Henri Bonnet, minister of information in the newly-formed French Committee of National Liberation, believes that "nations united in war must remain united in peace to solve the complex problems facing a world-wide reorganization once the actual fighting is over."

Both in an interview in New York and in an article he wrote for the first issue of Mondre Libre, the Montreal-published French edition of Free World, an international magazine which has as its purpose a global unity of all races, M. Bonnet stressed the necessity of this post war co-operation.

In the article he said: "Military problems enjoy priority today, but they must not make us forget the numerous and daily complex problems the United Nations must solve in the diverse political fields nor the immense task facing a liberated Europe and Asia" which have been ruined, devastated and threatened by a savage enemy."

Prior to taking over his new duties with the French Liberation Committee, M. Bonnet was doing research work for a postwar committee in Chicago. He also was active in the France Forever Committee, which is associated with the Fighting French delegation in the United States. Before coming to the United States he was connected with the League of Nations.

In the New York interview, M. Bonnet said the important thing today was that the French were united.

"Today," he said, "the question as to whether one is a Giraudist or a De Gaullist is not important. We have been appointed as a unit for France, and we will serve as such. I believe unity has been achieved in a completely satisfactory way."

M. Bonnet, who is 55 years old and tall and tanned, now is enroute to Algiers. He has been in the United States since 1940. One of his key motives in his new job, he said, will be to do "all I can toward drawing still closer, if possible, the bonds between France and the United States."

He was rather vague in discussing possible representation in postwar planning groups of the conquered nations, and said he had not given much thought to the problem.

In the article he went into the problems which will come with peace rather fully, saying:

"Nations united in war must remain united in peace * * *. Not only will the four freedoms have to be respected above every other consideration, but our duty shall also be to adapt the great doctrines of liberty to the necessities of the industrial era and to solve social problems."

A new world-wide movement has been organized, he wrote, and it is made up of "all who now want to build modern societies in freedom and dignity.

"Members of that new movement must remain united and give to governments and regimes the strength to succeed where their predecessors failed."

After the democracies have won the war, he believes "they must be able this time to reap all the fruits of victory, and this is the main reason why everyone must be prepared for peace just as much as we had to be ready to fight.

Ever more conscious of her historical destiny, France will also know how to consolidate and maintain united the old and the new continents merged into a really free world."

Only Sister Of 5 Sullivan Heroes Joins The WAVES

New York, June 16 (AP)—Genevieve Sullivan, 26-year-old sister of the five Sullivan brothers who lost their lives in the sinking of the cruiser Juneau last November, began her boot training as a WAVE today at the United States Navy Training School at Hunter College, the Bronx.

She was welcomed by Capt. William F. Amsden, commander of the school.

The only surviving child of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sullivan, of Waterloo, Iowa, she said her family was "glad I picked the navy."

She said that when she wrote her brothers about joining the WAVES, "they said it was a good idea," adding that "after the boys went down with their ship I knew I would go ahead."

If WAVES are assigned to overseas duty, she said she "would like to be the first to go."

Gen. Sorensen Says Invasion Will Follow Strategic Bombing

JUN 17 1943

Air Chief Suggests Pattern of Attacks, Holding That Raids Can't Eliminate Necessity for Occupation.

Los Angeles, June 16 (A. P.).—Brig.-Gen. E. P. Sorensen, assistant chief of the Army Air Forces staff intelligence, outlined today a suggested sequence of air attacks prior to invasion of fortress Europe.

Addressing the annual convention of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, he said that a scientific program of strategic bombing of enemy industry should precede the invasion.

"At first we shall make shallow penetrations," he said, "striking primarily at targets which will reduce the air defense power of the enemy—hitting aircraft factories, flying fields and knocking down fighters. Little or no effect will be seen at the front lines. . . .

"The second phase starts when we have gained the edge over the enemy's production of airplanes for defense, when he is no longer able to increase his defenses and when we can stand the losses of deeper penetrations.

Knocking Out Production.

"Now we start the third phase, in which we really get down to the business of knocking out the heart of enemy production capacity. But it is still not spectacular.

"The fourth and last phase begins when we have completed the initial destruction of the selected vitals and have started the cleaning up process on items overlooked."

Gen. Sorensen had this to say of the over-all effectiveness of air power, as demonstrated by the conquests of Pantelleria and other Mediterranean isles by air strength alone:

"No matter how long this finite bombing continues, it cannot completely eliminate the necessity for occupation and final subjugation."

The German failure in the battle of Britain was the result of earlier misconceptions of the possibilities and limitations of air force, he maintained, rather than a failure of the force itself.

"Germany bombed for terror with unaimed bombs, and hoped in vain that chance would aid in hitting vital points."

Last spring and summer, he added, the R. A. F. maintained superiority over the German Air Force in Lybia and Egypt, but though this helped considerably it was not enough to prevent the German advance to the edge of Alexandria. There was something missing.

"Studying the later African campaign, we see the piece that was missing and we can identify it as strategic bombing, the air action which prevented the delivery of essentials to the African area."

Lady Beveridge Christens 202d Kaiser Liberty Ship

By the Associated Press.

PORTLAND, Oreg., June 16.—The 202d Liberty ship from Henry Kaiser's Oregon Shipbuilding Corp., launched yesterday, was christened the John B. Steffen by Lady Beveridge. Her husband, Sir William Beveridge, author of the postwar social security plan for Britain, witnessed the launching.

In an interview Sir William said his plan was ideal for Britain, but might not be adaptable here because of "the tremendous difference" between the nations.

Knox Says War Must End Aggression for All Time

Speaks at Commencement at Northwestern University

EVANSTON, Ill., June 16 (AP).—Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox declared today the war "must not be halted under any circumstance until it is completely won by the surrender unconditionally of our enemies."

"There is a prudent reason for that statement," the secretary said in a commencement address at Northwestern University, adding:

"We must this time make it so clear that no one can misunderstand that any aggressive-minded man who would seek to impose his will upon the world by force can, by referring to the record we are making in this war, determine what the end of such a course will be.

"That lesson must be driven home for all time now."

"A man would be a fool to assert that there have not been mistakes made. We have wasted time and effort in futile gestures and mistaken programs. In a democracy that is one of the things that is certain to occur and we may rely upon the right and instincts of a democratic people to criticize."

Northwestern awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws to Secretary Knox, who also presented ensigns' commissions to thirty-seven graduates of Northwestern's Naval R. O. T. C.

Charges 1,000 Japs Are Freed Each Week

Charlotte, N. C., June 16 (AP)—Robert E. Stripling, of Washington, chief investigator of the Dies committee, said here today that every week 1,000 Japanese were being released by the War Relocation Authority.

He made the statement in an interview with the Charlotte Observer. Many of these Japanese, Stripling said, are dangerous enemy aliens capable of doing tremendous damage.

He said that the War Relocation Authority was treating the Japs as a social problem rather than as enemies or potential enemies of the nation.

Volcano Adds to Woes Of Japanese on Kiska

By the Associated Press.

HEADQUARTERS, Alaska Defense Command, June 14 (Delayed). —Returning bomber pilots reported today the Kiska volcano has become active, adding to troubles of Japanese occupying that Aleutian island.

Pilots who have used the volcano on the north end of Kiska as a navigation point said the crater is smoking and they saw some lava flowing down the sides of the peak.

JUN 17 1943

THE WAR TODAY

(WHILE DEWITT MACKENZIE IS ON VACATION, THIS DAILY COLUMN IS BEING WRITTEN BY MAX HILL, FORMER CHIEF OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS BUREAU IN TOKYO.)

- - -

JUN 17 1943

BY MAX HILL

AT LEAST ONE MEMBER OF THE NEWLY FORMED FRENCH COMMITTEE OF NATIONAL LIBERATION HAS HAD THE COMMON SENSE TO STRIP THE ORGANIZATION OF ITS POLITICAL IMPLICATIONS AND GET DOWN TO WHAT HE THINKS IS THE BASIC PURPOSE--A UNITED FRANCE.

IT IS UNFORTUNATE THAT THE CHIEF PROTAGONISTS, GENERALS DE GAULLE AND GIRAUD, CANNOT BE AS OBJECTIVE AND END THEIR CAUTIOUS SPARRING FOR POSITION, SINCE SO MUCH IS AT STAKE FOR ALL OF US.

"THE QUESTION AS TO WHETHER ONE IS A GIRAUDIST OR A DE GAULLIST IS NOT IMPORTANT," HENRI BONNET, WHO IS MINISTER OF INFORMATION IN THE COMMITTEE, SAID IN A RECENT INTERVIEW. "WE HAVE BEEN APPOINTED AS A UNIT FOR FRANCE, AND WE WILL SERVE AS SUCH."

M.BONNET IS NOW ENROUTE TO ALGIERS, BUT IT REMAINS TO BE SEEN WHAT EFFECT HIS REASONABLE ATTITUDE WILL HAVE ON THE TWO MEN WHOSE COOPERATION IS SO NECESSARY FOR A SUCCESSFUL COMMITTEE.

YESTERDAY FRENCH OFFICES IN ALGIERS ANNOUNCED THAT A LUNCHEON MEETING BETWEEN DE GAULLE AND GIRAUD HAD BEEN CANCELLED, BUT TODAY IT WAS DISCLOSED THEY MET IN PRIVATE, EVIDENTLY PREFERRING TO DISCUSS THEIR DIFFERENCES OF OPINION WITHOUT TOO LARGE AN AUDIENCE.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS CORRESPONDENT IN ALGIERS SAID HE BELIEVED THE MEETING RESULTED IN ADDED STRENGTH FOR DE GAULLE, WITH SOME UNSPECIFIED CONCESSIONS ON GIRAUD'S PART.

30.24-5073

THE CURRENT IMPASSE, WHICH STEMS BACK TO THE PRE-WAR PERIOD AND RANCE'S ANTIQUATED AND COMPLEX POLITICAL STRUCTURE FOR ITS BEGINNING, S MADE MORE COMPLICATED BY THE COMPARATIVE FINANCIAL POSITIONS OF E GAULLE AND GIRAUD.

ON THE ONE HAND, DE GAULLE GETS VIRTUALLY ALL OF HIS FUNDS FROM THE BRITISH. AS AN INDICATION OF WHAT IS BEING THOUGHT OF THE EXISTING MUDDLE IN AT LEAST SOME INFLUENTIAL BRITISH QUARTERS IT IS ONLY NECESSARY TO READ A FEW NEWSPAPER EDITORIALS.

THE YORKSHIRE POST DESCRIBES DE GAULLE AS STUBBORN, WHILE THE LONDON DAILY EXPRESS HOPES THE GENERALS WILL QUIT FIGHTING AMONG THEMSELVES AND "HELP US GET ON WITH THE WINNING OF THE WAR."

THE DAILY SKETCH IS A STEP AHEAD OF THE OTHERS AND ACCUSES DE GAULLE OF BEING "OVER DICTATORIAL" AND "NON-COOPERATIVE." A TIGHTENING OF THE PURSE STRINGS BY THE BRITISH MIGHT SEND DE GAULLE SCURRYING FOR COVER AND A COMPROMISE SESSION.

JUN 17 1943

ON THE OTHER HAND, GIRAUD NOT ONLY HAS MONEY, BUT HE ALSO HAS PPLIES, SUCH AS OIL AND PEANUTS AND WINE AND PLENTY OF MUTTON, TRADE WITH THE UNITED NATIONS FOR THE NECESSARY WEAPONS OF WAR. ESIDES, HE HAS SENT A SUBSTANTIAL SUM OF MONEY IN GOLD TO THE UNITED TATES.

IT MUST BE SAID FOR DE GAULLE, WHATEVER HIS ATTITUDE IN THE PRESENT SITUATION MAY BE, THAT HE HAS WORKED AND FOUGHT HARD FOR FRANCE FROM THE DAY SHE BECAME A PUPPET OF THE NAZIS. FIRST HE ORGANIZED THE FRENCH NATIONAL COMMITTEE, THEN THE FIGHTING FRENCH, AND NOW OF COURSE HE IS A LEADER IN THE JOINT COMMITTEE. THIS MAY

JUN 17 1943

NOT JUSTIFY, HOWEVER, HIS DETERMINATION TO ELIMINATE ALL FRENCHMEN WHO EVER HAD ANY CONTACT WITH VICHY, NOR HIS EVIDENT DESIRE TO RULE IN HIS OWN WAY.

REGARDLESS OF WHAT TURN THE JOINT COMMITTEE SQUABBLE TAKES, IT WILL BE THE AMERICAN GENERAL, DWIGHT D.EISENHOWER, WHO HAS THE FINAL SAY--IF HE SO WISHES. AFRICA WILL REMAIN THE PROVINCE OF THE COMMANDING GENERAL OF THE UNITED NATIONS ARMIES FOR A LONG TIME TO COME, AND THE FRENCH CAN'T MOVE WITHOUT CONSULTING HIM FIRST.

THAT MEANS THE BRITISH ALSO HAVE THE RIGHT TO APPROVE--OR DISAPPROVE--OF ANY SUGGESTIONS MADE, SINCE IT IS A JOINT COMMAND.

HOWEVER, UNTIL NOW THE EISENHOWER POLICY, AND THERE IS NO INDICATION OF A CHANGE, HAS BEEN TO TAKE A STRICTLY HANDS OFF ATTITUDE ON ANY QUESTION INVOLVING THE FRENCH WHICH DOES NOT TOUCH ON MILITARY SECURITY. THERE ISN'T MUCH CHANCE, THEREFORE, THAT THE SITUATION WILL GET OUT OF CONTROL WITH SUCH AN ARBITRARY CHECKREIN READY AT A MOMENT'S NOTICE.

JUN 17 1943

LONDON, THURSDAY, JUNE 17-(AP)-RUSSIAN PLANES HAVE SUNK AN AXIS SUBMARINE IN THE BL CA, MOSCOW ANNOUNCED TODAY IN ITS MIDNIGHT COMMUNIQUE.

LONDON, JUNE 16-(AP)-FOUR AMERICAN SOLDIERS WHO HAVE NEVER ACTED IN FRONT OF A CAMERA BEFORE ARE BRINGING ROARS OF LAUGHTER FROM BRITISH MOVIE CROWDS IN A SHORT QUIP SCENE IN A BRITISH-PRODUCED "COLONEL BLIMP" FILM.

THE MOVIE IS "LIFE AND DEATH OF COLONEL BLIMP" AND IS THE STORY OF A POMPOUS BRIGADIER OF THE LAST WAR WHO BECAME A HOME GUARD COMMANDER IN THIS WAR. "COLONEL BLIMP" IS A CHARACTER CREATED BY CARTOONIST DAVID LOW AND USED TO TYPIFY ANY FORM OF BUREAUCRATIC MUDDLING.

THE FOUR AMERICANS WHO WERE CALLED IN TO HELP THE PRODUCERS OUT WITH AN "AMERICAN TOUCH" TO THE FILM ARE MAJOR WILLIAM H.BARRETT, 33, (708 114TH ST.,) SANTA MONICA, CALIF., SCREEN AND MAGAZINE WRITER BEFORE THE WAR; STAFF SERGEANT THOMAS R.PALMER, 30, (133 E. 40TH ST.,) NEW YORK CITY, FORMER STAGE ACTOR; STAFF SERGEANT ROTEN C.SIMMONS, 27, (600 TRAVIS ST.,) WICHITA FALLS, TEX., WHO WAS A BOOKKEEPER IN AMARILLO, TEX.; AND SERGEANT HAROLD R.BRANDT, 26, (3299 CARTER ST.,) DETROIT, MICH., FORMER BANK CLERK.

BARRETT WAS ASKED TO WRITE A SCRIPT ON THE BRIGADIER'S EXPERIENCES IN THE U.S. ARMY RAIL TRANSPORTATION OFFICE. HE WAS THEN ROPED IN TO ACT ONE PART AND TOOK THE THREE OTHER MEN ALONG FOR THE REMAINING AMERICAN ROLES.

JUN 17 1943

THEY ARE SHOWN IN THE SCENE WITH THE BRIGADIER TRYING TO CATCH A TRAIN. THE NONCHALANT AMERICANS TELL HIM THAT NOT ONLY WILL HE FAIL TO MAKE THE TRAIN BUT THAT THERE ARE NO TRAINS, NO TRACKS, AND NO SCHEDULES. THEY DISREGARD HIS RANK AND ARE UNIMPRESSED BY THE BRIGADIER'S POMPOUS ATTITUDE.

LONDON, JUNE 17-(AP)-SOVIET RUSSIA WILL DO ALL IN ITS POWER TO AID IN THE "CREATION OF A STRONG AND INDEPENDENT POLAND," MARSHAL JOSEPH STALIN TOLD THE CONFERENCE OF POLISH PATRIOTS IN THE U.S.S.R. IN A MESSAGE BROADCAST BY THE MOSCOW RADIO AND RECORDED BY THE SOVIET MONITOR LAST NIGHT.

THE MESSAGE, ADDRESSED TO "WANDA WASSILEVSKA, COLONEL BEHRLING

JUN 17 1943

AND OTHERS," PRAISED THEM FOR "UNITING YOUR FORCES AND STRENGTHENING FRIENDSHIP BETWEEN THE PEOPLES OF POLAND AND THE SOVIET UNION," AND WAS A REPLY TO AN EARLIER MESSAGE FROM THE CONFERENCE.

"YOU CAN BE SURE," THE MESSAGE SAID, "THE SOVIET UNION WILL DO ALL IN ITS POWER TO SPEED THE DEFEAT OF OUR COMMON ENEMY--HITLERITE GERMANY -- TO STRENGTHEN POLISH-SOVIET FRIENDSHIP AND BY EVERY MEANS POSSIBLE AID THE CREATION OF A STRONG AND INDEPENDENT POLAND."

STALIN PREVIOUSLY HAD PLEDGED HIMSELF TO THE RESTORATION OF AN INDEPENDENT POLAND. THE NEW YORK TIMES, IN A COPYRIGHTED STORY ON MAY 5, JUST 11 DAYS AFTER MOSCOW BROKE OFF DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS WITH THE POLISH GOVERNMENT IN EXILE, QUOTED STALIN AS "UNQUESTIONABLY" SEEING A STRONG AND INDEPENDENT POLAND AFTER THE WAR.

STALIN'S MESSAGE WAS IN REPLY TO AN EARLIER NOTE FROM THE CONFERENCE OF THE COMMITTEE THANKING HIM FOR SOVIET CO-OPERATION AND FOR HIS CONSENT TO THE CREATION OF A POLISH DIVISION TO BE NAMED FOR TADEUSZ KOSCIUSZKO, POLISH PATRIOT.

30.24 -5075

"GET HIM ON THE CREW!"

BY DIXIE TIGHE

REPRESENTING THE COMBINED UNITED STATES PRESS

DISTRIBUTED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

JUN 17 1943

AN AMERICAN FLYING FIELDS IN ENGLAND, JUNE 16--AMBASSADOR JOHN G. WINANT, THE ONE CIVILIAN IN A GROUP OF GENERALS HEADED BY LIEUT. GEN.JACOB L.DEVERS, MADE HIMSELF FELT TODAY IN MORE WAYS THAN ONE WHEN HE VISITED FIGHTER AND FLYING FORTRESS STATIONS.

THE AMERICAN ENVOY HAS A SHY MANNER AND GENTLE SPEECH BUT SUCH A VISE-LIKE HANDSHAKE THAT WHEN HE GRAPSED THE HAND OF FORTRESS TAILGUNNER STEVEN PERRI OF LONG BRANCH, N.J., THE BOY EXCLAIMED:

WINANT, WHO WAS A FIGHTER PILOT IN WORLD WAR 1, BEGAN THE DAY TOURING FIGHTER STATIONS IN THE COMPANY OF GEN.DEVERS, COMMANDER OF U.S.FORCES IN THE EUROPEAN THEATER, AND MAJ--GEN.IRA C.EAKER, COMMANDER OF THE EIGHTH ARMY AIR FORCE.

HE STOOD ON A CONTROL TOWER WATCHING FIGHTER PILOTS PUT THEIR SHIPS THROUGH FACILE MANEUVERS. SKILLFULLY, THE BOYS BROUGHT THE SHIPS IN FOR QUICK LANDINGS. THE AMBASSADOR LOOKED A LITTLE DISTURBED AS THE LANDING RUNWAYS BEGAN TO TAKE ON A RUSH-HOUR LOOK.

"NEVER MIND," EAKER TOLD WINANT, "THE ONLY PLACE A LANDING EVER SEEMS RIGHT IS WHEN YOU'RE AT THE CONTROLS."

JUN 17 1943

AT A FORTRESS STATION THE OFFICIAL PARTY ATTENDED "SAMPLE" BRIEFING IT WAS ACTUALLY A RETAKE OF THE RECENT BREMEN AND KIEL RAIDS.

PILOTS, CO-PILOTS AND NAVIGATORS WERE PRESENT AND EAKER INTRODUCED DEVERS, WHO SAID:

"WE ALL BELIEVE IN YOU AND OUR HEARTS ARE WITH YOU AND YOUR CREWS AND IN GETTING MORE EQUIPMENT FOR YOU. YOU'RE DOING A WONDERFUL AND EFFICIENT JOB."

WINANT, THE ONLY CIVILIAN IN THE ROOM JAMMED WITH YOUNGSTERS IN FLYING JACKETS, SAID:

"YOU HAVE DONE WHAT MANY PEOPLE BELIEVED WAS NOT POSSIBLE TO DO. AM ONLY ONE AMERICAN AMONG MANY AMERICANS WHO ARE VERY GRATEFUL TO OU AND VERY PROUD OF YOU."

THE MOCK BRIEFING WAS CONDUCTED BY MAJOR JOHN J.MCNABOE, FORMER [illegible] STATE SENATOR. WITH FINAL INSTRUCTIONS TO THE BOYS COMING

JUN 17 1943

EW YORK S

ROM THE COMMANDING OFFICER, COL.BASKIN R.LAWRENCE OF SENECA, S.C.

ON THE FORTRESS FIELD WERE SMALL PLANES IN WHICH THE IMPRESSIVE ELEGATION FLEW ALONGSIDE "DELTA REBEL," A FORTRESS WITH 28 MISSIONS O ITS CREDIT.

HERE, DEVERS AND THE AMBASSADOR SHOOK HANDS AND CHATTED WITH THE LYING AND GROUND CREWS. THE SHIP'S PILOT, CAPT.GEORGE BIRDSONG OF CLARKSDALE, MISS., INTRODUCED THE MEN, LEADING OFF WITH CO-PILOT LIEUT.CHARLES BENNETT OF SANTA CRUZ, CALIF., WHO ADMITTED HE FLINCHED UNDER WINANT'S HANDSHAKE. BENNETT SAID "I SLIPPED MY HAND MEEKLY INTO HIS AND--OH, BOY!"

DEVERS DISCUSSED THE WORK OF THE GROUND CREW WITH TECHNICAL SERGEANT EUGENE REMMELL OF BALTIMORE, A TOP TURRET GUNNER. HE TOLD TECHNICAL SERGEANT B.A.BYRD OF LAUREL, MISS., RADIO OPERATOR, THAT HE ONCE WAS ON A FLYING FORTRESS WHEN THE RADIO WENT OFF. JUN 17 1943

"IT WAS NOT VERY NICE," HE SAID.

AT THE SECOND FORTRESS STATION DEVERS, INSPECTING THE ARMAMENT ROOM, FOUND THE BOYS EMBARRASSED BECAUSE THEIR THREE-WEEK-OLD PUPPY MISTOOK THE BOMBS FOR TREES.

"NEVER MIND, BOYS," SAID DEVERS. "AN AMERICAN AIR STATION WITHOUT A DOG WOULDN'T BE AMERICAN."

STOCKHOLM, JUNE 16-(AP)-KING GUSTAF V ON HIS 85TH BIRTHDAY TOLD THE NATION TONIGHT THAT NEUTRAL SWEDEN WAS STILL ENDANGERED BUT "WITH THE HELP OF ALL I AM SURE WE WILL RIDE OUT THE GALE WITH HONOR."

HE SPOKE BEFORE A CROSS-SECTION OF SWEDEN GATHERED IN THE COURTYAR OF STOCKHOLM PALACE AFTER A DAY IN WHICH SWEDES IGNORED A HEAVY RAIN TO PAY HOMAGE TO THE KING WHO HAS RULED THE COUNTRY 36 YEARS.

STOCKHOLM, SWEDEN, JUNE 16-(AP)-THE PRO-NAZI SWEDISH NEWSPAPER ALLEHANDA REPORTED TODAY THAT HIGH GERMAN OFFICERS AND RUSSIAN REPRESENTATIVES, PERHAPS RANKING DIPLOMATS, HAD MET RECENTLY AT A BOARDING HOUSE "SOMEWHERE IN SWEDEN" TO DISCUSS PEACE NEGOTIATIONS BUT THE CONFERENCE FAILED.

THERE WAS NO CONFIRMATION OF THE REPORT IN ANY QUARTER, AND COMPETENT OBSERVERS EXPRESSED THE BELIEF THE STORY MIGHT BE A NAZI "PROPAGANDA PLANT" IN AN EFFORT TO BREACH UNITED NATIONS UNITY. THERE HAVE BEEN PREVIOUS GROUNDLESS REPORTS HERE OF RUSSIAN-GERMAN "PEACE TALKS."

JUN 17 1943

THE ALLEHANDA STORY SAID THE CONFERENCE FAILED WHEN THE GERMANS DEMANDED THE UKRAINE AND THE RUSSIANS REALIZED THAT THE GERMANS WERE DEPENDING UPON THE UKRAINE FOR FOOD.

BESIDES THE UKRAINE, THE ARTICLE SAID, THE GERMANS HAD DEMANDED THE BALTIC COUNTRIES AND ALL OF POLAND. THE STORY GAVE NO INDICATION OF WHETHER THE NAZIS OFFERED THE RUSSIANS ANYTHING EXCEPT TO WITHDRAW FROM WESTERN RUSSIA.

MOSCOW, JUNE 16-(AP)-THE SOVIET GOVERNMENT ANNOUNCED OFFICIALLY ODAY THAT RUSSIA AND MEXICO HAVE DECIDED TO RAISE THEIR RESPECTIVE IPLOMATIC MISSIONS TO EMBASSIES.

CONSTANTINE OUMANSKY, FORMER AMBASSADOR TO THE UNITED STATES, HAS BEEN NAMED AMBASSADOR TO MEXICO AND LOUIS QUINTANILLA AMBASSADOR TO MOSCOW, THE AGENCY TASS SAID.

OUMANSKY, NOW ON HIS WAY TO MEXICO, WAS IN WASHINGTON FROM 1936 TO 1941. QUINTANILLA HAS BEEN IN RUSSIA SINCE LAST APRIL.

JUN 17 1943

1943

30.24-5077

BY WILLIAM MCGAFFIN

MOSCOW, JUNE 1-(DELAYED)-(AP)-SIDNEY HOLLANDER OF BROOKLYN HAS BEEN RECLASSIFIED ONE-A IN THE DRAFT.

WHAT MAKES HOLLANDER'S CASE DIFFERENT FROM HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF OTHER AMERICANS WHO HAVE BEEN RECLASSIFIED BY THEIR DRAFT BOARDS IS THAT HE WAS IN THE HEART OF SIBERIA--ALMOST 6,000 AIR LINE MILES FROM HOME --WHEN HE HEARD ABOUT IT.

HOLLANDER, WHO HAS SPENT 17 MONTHS IN SIBERIA BUYING FURS, EXCHANGES WEEKLY CABLES WITH HIS WIFE, FLORENCE, WHO LIVES AT 636 EAST 95TH ST., BROOKLYN, AND THAT'S HOW HE HEARD ABOUT HIS DRAFT STATUS.

NOW THE ONLY THING THAT'S WORRYING THE 37-YEAR-OLD BROOKLYNITE IS: "HOW AM I SUPPOSED TO GET BACK TO BROOKLYN IN A HURRY IF THE DRAFT BOARD DECIDES THE ARMY NEEDS ME?"

JUN 17 1943

HOLLANDER CAME TO MOSCOW RECENTLY FROM OMSK, IN SIBERIA, WHEN THE SOVIET EXPORTING COMPANY SOYUSPUSHNINA MOVED ITS HEADQUARTERS HERE. HE BUYS THROUGH THEM FOR THE FIRM OF PAPERT-STRASBURG OF 251 30TH ST., NEW YORK CITY.

THE NEW YORKER ARRIVED AT VLADIVSTOK ON ARMISTICE DAY, 1941, AND WENT DIRECTLY TO OMSK, WHICH IS 1200 MILES FROM MOSCOW. TWO OTHER AGENTS HAD BEEN BUYING FOR AMERICAN FIRMS IN HOLLANDER'S SIBERIAN TERRITORY, BUT HE IS THE ONLY AMERICAN-BORN CITIZEN IN ALL RUSSIA ENGAGED IN THIS TYPE OF WORK.

THE WAR HAS CONSIDERABLY REDUCED THE ANNUAL FUR CATCHIN SIBERIA, THE AMERICAN SAID, BECAUSE THE MAJORITY OF HUNTERS AND TRAPPERS ARE NOW IN THE RED ARMY, AND THE VOLUME OF EXPORT HAS GONE DOWN CONSIDERABLY.

HE SAID THAT PROBABLY NO FURS WOULD BE EXPORTED THIS YEAR BECAUSE THEY ARE ALL NEEDED FOR THE RUSSIAN ARMY. THEIR VALUE, HE SAID, HAS RISEN FROM 50 TO 100 PER CENT SINCE THE OUTBREAK OF THE WAR.

HOLLANDER SPEAKS SOME RUSSIAN BUT WHEN DOING BUSINESS HE FALLS BACK ON SIMPLE TERMINOLOGY ACCOMPANIED BY APPROPRIATE GESTURES WHICH SEEMS AS WELL UNDERSTOOD IN SIBERIA AS ON SEVENTH AVENUE IN MID-TOWN NEW YORK, THE WHOLESALE FUR TRADE CAPITAL OF THE WORLD.

"THAT WAY I KNOW JUST WHAT'S GOING ON," HE SAID. "THESE GUYS KNOW WHAT'S GOING ON, TOO, AND NOBODY PULLS ANY FAST ONES."

BY RELMAN MORIN

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 16-(AP)-KING GEORGE VI, SPENDING A DAY WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY AFTER HIS SUDDEN AIR TRIP TO NORTH AFRICA, HAS VISITED AMERICAN HOSPITALS AND CAMPS, SEEN REVIEWS AND EATEN SOUTHERN COOKING BY THE ARMY CHEFS WHO PREPARED A MEAL FOR PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT ON HIS RECENT TRIP.

SINCE THE KING'S MOVEMENTS ARE A STRICT MILITARY SECRET, IT WAS ONLY TODAY THAT CORRESPONDENTS WERE ABLE TO TELL ABOUT THE MONDAY ITINERARY OF THE SOVEREIGN WHEN, ACCOMPANIED BY A GALAXY OF AMERICAN GENERALS, HE SAW AMERICAN COMBAT TEAMS GIVE A DEMONSTRATION OF STREET FIGHTING.

THE KING'S CHAUFFEUR DURING THE TOUR WAS A BRITISH ARMY SERGEANT--BUT HE IS AN AMERICAN FROM BRIDGEPORT, CONN. HE IS SGT. J.A.WELLS WHO ENLISTED IN THE BRITISH FORCES IN 1916 AND "HAS BEEN IN AND OUT OF THE BRITISH ARMY EVER SINCE." THE SERGEANT SAID HE OFTEN THOUGHT OF TRANSFERRING TO THE AMERICAN FORCES "BUT I MIGHT NOT GET QUITE SUCH A GOOD JOB SO I GUESS I'D BETTER STAY WHERE I AM."

JUN 17 1943

---

MANY FRENCH IN AFRICA SUPPORT
FASCIST IDEALS

---

ALGIERS IS POOR
PLACE TO SEEK
REAL UNITY (600)

---

JUN 17 1943

BY RELMAN MORIN

ALGIERS, JUNE 16-(AP)-THE TRAGEDY OF THE FRENCH EFFORT TO ATTAIN UNIFICATION IS THAT NORTH AFRICA IS THE PLACE WHERE THAT EFFORT IS BEING MADE.

IN THE OPINION OF A NUMBER OF OBSERVERS HERE NEITHER THE ESTRANGEMENT OF THE TWO LEADING FIGURES, GENERAL CHARLES DE GAULLE AND GENERAL HENRI GIRAUD, NOR THE DISAGREEMENTS BETWEEN THEM ON THE ECHNICAL QUESTIONS CONNECTED WITH THE MACHINERY OF GOVERNMENT ARE IMPORTANT IN THEMSELVES.

THESE DIFFERENCES ARE SYMPTOMS RATHER THAN CAUSES.

WHAT IS SERIOUS, IN THE VIEW OF A NUMBER OF PERSONS WHO CANNOT BE NAMED BUT WHO NEVERTHELESS HAVE HAD OPPORTUNITY IN RECENT MONTHS TO OBSERVE THE WORKING OF NORTH AFRICAN POLITICS, IS THE GENERAL ATMOSPHERE OF ALGIERS AND THE ATTITUDE OF A GREAT MANY OF THE PEOPLE OF NORTH AFRICA, WHO ARE NEITHER DEMOCRATIC NOR LIBERAL. THEY ARE NEITHER 1,000 PER CENT ANTI-VICHY, NOR 1,000 PER CENT PRO-ALLY AND THERE DOES NOT SEEM TO BE MUCH QUESTION BUT WHAT SOME ARE ACTIVE FASCISTS.

WHETHER THIS IS THE RESULT OF ITALIAN AND SPANISH MIXTURE IN WHAT S CALLED THE "FRENCH" POPULATION, OR WHETHER IT DERIVES FROM THE EXTREME CONSERVATISM OF A LANDOWNING, COMMERCIAL-MINDED COLONIAL CLASS, IS A MATTER OF VARIED INTERPRETATION AMONG SUCH INFORMANTS.

BUT TO THE AVERAGE AMERICAN OR BRITISH SOLDIER, WHO THOUGHT THAT EVERY FRENCH COMMUNITY IN THE WORLD WAS HEART AND SOUL IN THE STRUGGLE OR LIBERTY AND FRATERNITY, IT SEEMS STRANGE TO SEE SOME OF THE SLOGANS WHICH ARE HASTILY DAUBED ON THE WALLS OF BUILDINGS, EVEN TODAY.

"VIVE PETAIN" IS PAINTED ON A GREAT MANY WALLS, AND EVEN ON THE SEAWALL ALONG THE MAIN STREET YOU SEE A "VIVE DORIOT" (FOR JACQUES DORIOT, LEADER OF A COLLABORATIONIST, PRO-FASCIST PARTY.)

SOME OF THE SLOGANS THAT HAVE BEEN SCRATCHED OUT ARE "VIVE DE GAULLE" AND "VIVE LE CLERC", ONE OF THE FIGHTING FRENCH GENERALS.

THE OBSERVER NEWLY ARRIVED IN NORTH AFRICA DOES NOT HAVE TO LOOK LONG NOR FAR TO FIND FRENCHMEN WHO GROW HEATED ABOUT "THE INFLUENCE OF THE JEWS" IN NORTH AFRICA AND DECLARE OPENLY THAT IT WAS A GREAT MISTAKE WHEN GEN. GIRAUD ABOLISHED THE ANTI-JEWISH ORDINANCES. THEY GROW VIOLENT IN THEIR LANGUAGE OVER THE THOUGHT OF JEWISH STUDENTS BEING GIVEN FREE ACCESS TO THE SCHOOLS AND HIGHER INSTITUTIONS OF EARNING IN NORTH AFRICA.

IN THE OPINION OF SEASONED INFORMANTS WHO OUTLINED THE SITUATION, L THIS TENDS TO AFFECT DE GAULLE MORE THAN IT DOES GIRAUD.

DE GAULLE INCURRED MORE HOSTILITY FROM SUCH PEOPLE THAN DID GIRAUD. E GAULLE'S FORMER NATIONAL COMMITTEE IN LONDON HAD A FORMER COMMUNIST DEPUTY AS A MEMBER, AND DE GAULLE DEMANDED THE LIBERATION OF POLITICAL RISONERS, THE ABOLITION OF ANTI-SEMITIC LAWS AND THE DISMISSAL OF

JUN 17 1943

GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS AND MANY OFFICERS WHO HAD COLLABORATED WITH THE VICHY GOVERNMENT. IT IS EASY TO UNDERSTAND HOW DE GAULLE WOULD INCUR THE ENMITY OF THESE SAME OFFICIALS AND OFFICERS, MANY OF WHOM ARE SAI TO BE CLOSE TO GIRAUD.

A COMMUNIST PARTY MANIFESTO RECENTLY DECLARED THAT THERE ARE SCORE OF HIGHLY PLACED MEN WHO ARE "STILL BOUND TO THE SINISTER OCTOGENARIAN OF VICHY."

THE MEN IN THE ABOVE GROUPS, IT IS EXPLAINED, ARE LESS CONCERNED ABOUT GIRAUD BECAUSE THEY ARE SATISFIED HE IS PREEMINENTLY A SOLDIER WHO WANTS TO GET BACK TO SOLDIERING. HENCE, FOR THE TIME BEING AT EAST, THEY ARE VEHEMENTLY SUPPORTING GIRAUD AND VOTING THE STRAIGHT TICKET, SO TO SPEAK.

JUN 17 1943

INFORMANTS SAY THAT IN ADDITION TO THE ABOVE CLASS THERE IS A LA PORTION OF THE POPULATION WHICH MIGHT BE CALLED "MIDDLE OF THE ROAD

THIS PORTION DECLARES IT WANTS NOTHING BUT THE QUICK LIBERATIO OF FRANCE AND THE FULL DEFEAT OF GERMANY.

BUT AT THE SAME TIME, IN THE OPINION OF WELL-INFORMED SOURCES, THEY ARE WORRIED ABOUT COMMUNISM, ABOUT THE JEWS, ABOUT TOO LIBER/ INSTITUTIONS SUCH AS -- STRANGELY ENOUGH -- THE COMPLETE FREEDOM THE PRESS AND THE RIGHT OF ASSEMBLY. IN SHORT, THEY WANT TO SEE GERMANY BEATEN, BUT THEY FEEL IT WOULD NOT BE A BAD IDEA TO RETA SOME OF THE NAZI IDEAS FOR FRANCE AFTER THE WAR.

IN THE CIRCUMSTANCES, INFORMANTS SAY WITH A WRY GRIMACE, IT MI HAVE BEEN BETTER IF DE GAULLE AND GIRAUD HAD SAT DOWN IN A WATE DESERT ISLAND SOME PLACE TO TRY TO WORK OUT THE FOUNDATIONS OF F UNITY.

30.24-5079

CALCUTTA, JUNE 2-(DELAYED)-(AP)-TWO AMERICAN FLIERS, CAPTAINS JOSEPH GENOVESE, 32, OF SAN DIEGO, AND ALECK GINGISS, 28, OF CHICAG ARE UNITED STATES-BOUND AFTER COMPLETING 800 HOURS EACH OF THE WORL MOST DANGEROUS FLYING--OVER THE HUMP OF THE MIGHTY HIMALAYAS, SOME WHOSE PEAKS EXTEND TO 29,000 FEET.

DURING THE PAST YEAR THESE VETERAN PILOTS SHUTTLED THOUSANDS OF T OF VITAL WAR MATERIAL TO CHINA FROM INDIA. THEY FLEW FOR THE CHINA NATIONAL AIRWAYS CORPORATION IN FAIR WEATHER AND FOUL--MOSTLY FOUL.

THEY WERE CALLED "THE BOYS WHO FLY WHEN THE BIRDS DON'T."

GENOVESE IS THE SON OF MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM GENOVESE OF 68 ABERDEEN ST., BROOKLYN, N.Y., AND GINGISS IS THE SON OF MR. AND MRS. SAMUEL GINGISS, 2100 LINCOLN PARK WEST, CHICAGO.

THEY CAME TO INDIA LAST YEAR FROM ENGLAND WHERE THEY DELIVERED ALL TYPES OF AIRCRAFT TO THE RAF VIA THE ATLANTIC.

"WE'VE FLOWN EVERYTHING FROM PIPER CUBS TO LIBERATORS--76 DIFFEREN TYPES IN ALL," GENOVESE SAID.

HE AND GINGISS PLAN TO TAKE TEST PILOT JOB OFFERS WHEN THEY RETURN TO THE STATES.

JUN 17 1943

THEY HAVE HAD MORE HAIR RAISING EXPERIENCES THAN FICTION THRILLER HEROES.

ONCE GINGISS, A SIX FOOT, 195-POUNDER, RAN INTO BAD WEATHER AND FLEW FOR FOUR HOURS BY INSTRUMENTS WITHOUT THE AID OF EITHER RADIO OR LANDMARKS. HIS WINDSHIELD WAS COVERED WITH ICE AND WHEN GINGISS OPENED IT TO SEE WHERE HE WAS A JAGGED PEAK WAS STARING HIM IN THE FACE. HE SWUNG THE PLANE AND BARELY MISSED IT, LANDING LATER,

JUN 17 1943

TWO AND A HALF HOURS OVERDUE, WITH ONLY 20 MINUTES OF GASOLINE LEFT.

...SE, FIVE FOOT-EIGHT INCH, 153-POUNDER, HAD A NARROW SQUEEZE WHEN HIS OXYGEN RAN OUT WHILE HE WAS FLYING AT 24,000 FEET. THIRTY-TWO PASSENGERS AND ALL THE CREW MEMBERS BUT GENOVESE LOST CONSCIOUSNESS. HE ALMOST RAMMED A 17,000-FOOT PEAK BUT MANAGED SOMEHOW TO GET TO HIS DESTINATION.

JUN 17 1943

ANOTHER TIME GENOVESE'S CHINESE CO-PILOT BECAME EXCITED WHEN THE OXYGEN LINE FROZE, GRABBED THE CONTROLS AND NEARLY FLEW THE PLANE INTO A MOUNTAIN. GENOVESE SWUNG A HAY-MAKER AND KNOCKED OUT THE CO-PILOT, WHO LATER SAID HE DIDN'T REMEMBER THE INCIDENT.

GENOVESE AND GINGISS EACH HAVE MADE BETWEEN $1,500 AND $2,000 ...ONTLY FLYING THE HUMP BUT SAID: "ENOUGH IS ENOUGH."

GENOVESE, WHO HAS BEEN FLYING 12 YEARS, SAID, "TEST PILOTING ...OBABLY WILL SEEM LIKE A SNAP COMPARED WITH HUMP HOPPING."

CHUNGKING, THURSDAY, JUNE 17-(AP)-FIGHT... AGAINST ODDS OF EIGHT TO ONE, AMERICAN AIRMEN ACHIEVED A SMASHING VICTORY IN THE SKIES OVER CHANGSHU IN KIANGSI PROVINCE MONDAY, SHOOTING DOWN SI JAPANESE PLANES IN A VIOLENT AIR BATTLE AND PROBABLY DESTROYING THRE... OR FOUR MORE.

NOT A SINGLE AMERICAN PLANE WAS LOST.

THE AMERICANS ENCOUNTERED THE JAPANESE WHILE ON AN OFFENSIVE PATROL OVER KIANGSI AND DESPITE THE ENEMY'S GREAT SUPERIORITY IN NUMBERS IMMEDIATELY ENGAGED HIM.

WRECKAGE OF TWO OF THE JAPANESE AIRCRAFT REPORTED SHOT DOWN WAS FOUND IN THE IMMEDIATE VICINITY OF CHANGSHU.

CHUNGKING, JUNE 16-(AP)-CHINESE FORCES, GIVING THE JAPANESE LITTLE

AN ARMY

THE SPOKESMAN SAID EVIDENCE AVAILABLE INDICATED THAT ADMIRAL ISOROKU YAMAMOTO, PLOTTER AND EXECUTOR OF JAPAN'S ATTACK ON PEARL HARBOR, WAS NOT KILLED IN ACTION, AS ANNOUNCED BY THE TOKYO RADIO, BUT ACTUALLY WAS ASSASSINATED AT MANILA BY JAPANESE AS THE RESULT OF A "TERRIBLE FUED BETWEEN THE JAPANESE ARMY AND NAVY."

HE SAID PREMIER HIDEKI TOJO'S RECENT VISIT TO MANILA WAS FOR THE PURPOSE OF SETTLING THE FEUD.

JUN 17 ...

IN RESPONSE TO QUESTIONS HE DECLARED CHINESE SEAMEN ABOARD BRITISH SHIPS WERE NOT BEING GIVEN EQUAL TREATMENT.

"WE THINK THEY FACE THE SAME KIND OF HARDSHIP, THE SAME KIND OF PERIL AND SHOULD RECEIVE THE SAME TREATMENT AS OTHER SEAMEN," HE SAID

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, JUNE 16-(AP)-SINCE THE START OF THE WAR THE JAPANESE HAVE DONE EVERYTHING POSSIBLE TO JAM THE RADIO FREQUENCY AND PREVENT OUR FIGHTING MEN FROM LISTENING TO ALLIED NATIONS' BROADCASTS.

WHEN SOLDIERS ON BATAAN PENINSULA IN THE PHILIPPINES TRIED TO HEAR NEWS FROM HOME THE JAPANESE WOULD COME IN ON THE SAME WAVE LENGTH WITH JABBERINGS AND REPETITIOUS WIRELESS SIGNALS.

IN NEW GUINEA THEY TRY THE SAME TACTICS BUT ONE AGGRESSIVE CHAP HAS FOILED THEIR EFFORTS. HE IS LIEUT.FREDERICK NEWMEYER, JR., PITTSBURGH, PA., WHO GIVES THE BOYS IN AN ADVANCED NEW GUINEA JUNGLE BASE HIS OWN BROADCAST PROGRAMS.

JUN 17 1943

HE BROADCASTS FROM AN ARMY TENT, USING AN IMPROVISED PUBLIC ADDRESS SYSTEM. EACH EVENING'S PROGRAM GETS ON THE AIR WITH THE PLAYING OF "WASHINGTON POST MARCH" FROM A CHIPPED PHONOGRAPH RECORD.

NEWMEYER COMPOSES SCRIPT TYPICAL OF UNITED STATES NEWSCASTS

30.24-5081

BUT WITHOUT THE COMMERCIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

THE PROGRAM INCLUDES WORLD NEWS, SOUTHWEST PACIFIC NEWS, SPORTS AND OTHER ALLIED NEWS. THE DAY OF THE MONTH IS ANNOUNCED A TIME SIGNAL GIVEN ON EACH PROGRAM FOR THE SOLDIERS WRITING LETTERS OR SETTING THEIR WRIST WATCHES.

"THE ONLY WAY THE NIPS CAN JAM MY SHOW IS WITH GUNFIRE," SAID NEWMEYER.

AN ADVANCED NEW GUINEA BASE, JUNE 14-(DELAYED)-(AP)-AMERICAN FLIERS HAVE PARACHUTED OUT OF AIRPLANES OVER OR NEAR NEW GUINEA AND HAVE BEEN RESCUED FROM THE JUNGLES OFTEN ENOUGH SINCE THE WAR STARTED FOR THEIR STORIES ALMOST TO BECOME COMMONPLACE.

STAFF SGT. JAMES LOTT, FORT PIERCE, FLA., PROVIDED A FEW NEW TWISTS BY:

JUN 17 1943

BAILING OUT OF AN AIRPLANE THAT NEVER CRASHED.

BAILING OUT INTO A TROPICAL SNOWSTORM.

LOTT, 28, WAS RADIO GUNNER IN A MITCHELL B-25 MEDIUM BOMBER WHEN IT LOST ITS WAY AT NIGHT IN A SEVERE TROPICAL STORM OVER NEW GUINEA LAST APRIL 24.

"THE PILOT FIRST TOLD US WE COULD BAIL OUT IF WE WISHED," LOTT SAID. "THEN WHEN THE PLANE STARTED LOSING ALTITUDE SWIFTLY, THE PILOT THOUGHT WE MIGHT HIT A MOUNTAIN AND ORDERED US TO JUMP OUT IMMEDIATELY.

"THE UPPER TURRET GUNNER JUMPED FIRST. I WENT RIGHT AFTER BUT NEVER SAW HIS 'CHUTE. I YELLED. THERE WAS NO ANSWER.

"IT WAS SNOWING HEAVILY. I LANDED ON A MOUNTAIN SIDE AND STRUCK A LOG. AT FIRST I THOUGHT MY BACK WAS BROKEN.

"AFTER TWO DAYS I WAS FOUND BY FRIENDLY NATIVES WHO CARRIED M[illegible]E FOR SEVEN DAYS TO REACH THE SEACOAST, ONLY 70 MILES FROM BASE."

UPON ARRIVING AT BASE HOSPITAL WHERE HE WAS TREATED FOR A FRACTURED RIB, LOTT LEARNED THAT THE RAPIDLY DESCENDING PLANE HAD SHOT OUT OF THE STORM CLOUDS JUST AFTER HIS JUMP AND REACHED BASE SAFELY WITH THE REMAINING MEMBERS OF THE CREW. THE OTHER GUNNER WHO PARACHUTED [illegible]ER THE JUNGLE IS STILL MISSING.

BY VERN HAUGLAND

AN ADVANCED NEW GUINEA BASE, JUNE 14-(DELAYED)-(AP)-COUNTERING AN INCREASE IN JAPANESE MARINE TRAFFIC, AMERICAN MEDIUM BOMBERS OVER THE WEEK-END STEPPED UP THEIR NOCTURNAL ATTACKS UPON COASTWISE SHIPPING.

JUN 17 1943

JAPANESE SHIPS HAVE BEEN MORE IN EVIDENCE ALONG THE NORTH COAST OF NEW GUINEA FROM THE WEWAK AND MADANG STRONGHOLDS TO THE MUCH-BOMBED FORWARD BASES AT LAE AND SALAMAUA.

IN TWO CONSECUTIVE NIGHTS THE AMERICANS DESTROYED OR BADLY DAMAGED AT LEAST 11 ENEMY BARGES, AVERAGING 50 FEET LONG AND PRESUMABLY LADEN WITH SUPPLIES, EQUIPMENT AND POSSIBLY PERSONNEL INTENDED FOR THE SALAMAUA AREA.

AN ALLIED OBSERVER SAID THE JAPANESE ARE FINDING THEIR ROUGH, RUDELY CONSTRUCTED WEWAK ROAD INADEQUATE FOR SUPPLYING LAE. THUS THEY HAVE RECENTLY CONSIDERABLY EXPANDED THE USE OF BARGES. THE CRAFT HIDE UNDER A CAMOUFLAGE COVER BY DAY AND SNEAK ALONG THE COAST BY NIGHT.

(SALAMAUA, ON THE HUON GULF, IS LESS THAN 15 MILES ABOVE FRONT LINE POSITIONS OF ALLIED TROOPS AT MUBO. TWENTY MILES ABOVE IT IS LAE, WHOSE GARRISON RECENTLY WAS POUNDED BY 100 TONS OF BOMBS DROPPED IN THREE RAIDS. BOMBERS ALSO HAVE BEEN ACTIVE AGAINST

JUN 17 1943

ONE ROAD NORTHWESTWARD TO WEWAK, BLASTING AT BRIDGES).

CAPT.JOHN HENEBRY, 25, PLAINFIELD,ILL., FLEW HIS MITCHELL B-25 MEDIUM BOMBER UP THE NEW GUINEA COAST AND BY MOONLIGHT SPOTTED SIX BARGES NEAR FINSCHHAFEN. HE BOMBED AND STRAFED THEM AT LOW LEVEL.

SAID HENEBRY: "THE SIX BARGES WERE RIGHT TOGETHER. WE MADE ABOUT 20 PASSES OVER THEM, SO I GUESS THEY HAD A PRETTY ROUGH TIME OF IT.

JUN 17 1943

"I SAW TWO OF THEM SUNK AND ANOTHER END UP AND SINKING," HE ADDED.

HENEBRY, A NOTRE DAME GRADUATE, FLEW ONE OF THE THREE MEDIUM BOMBERS WHICH SANK ONE OF JAPAN'S LARGEST SUBMARINES AT LAE, NEW GUINEA, LAST MARCH 19. HE IS ALSO CREDITED WITH HEAVILY DAMAGING A 5,000 TON ENEMY CARGO VESSEL IN THE BATTLE OF THE BISMARCK SEA IN EARLY MARCH.

LT.JOSEPH HELBERT, PEETZ,COLO., ALSO PARTICIPATED IN THE ATURDAY RAID, WHILE ANOTHER MITCHELL, PILOTED BY LT.PHILIP AWKINS, PANHANDLE,TEX., DESTROYED FOUR BARGES IN THE FINSCMHAFEN EA. LT.JAOES W.PRYOR, DAYTON,O., SMASHED ANOTHER RGE NEAR MADANG.

OTTAWA, JUNE 16-(AP)-PLANS ARE NEARING COMPLETION FOR INAUGURATION OF A CANADIAN-OPERATED TRANS-ATLANTIC AIR SERVICE TO PROVIDE SPEEDY TRAVEL TO AND FROM BRITAIN FOR HIGH CANADIAN OFFICIALS AND IMPROVE MAIL SERVICE TO THE CANADIAN TROOPS OVERSEAS, THE CANADIAN PRESS LEARNED TODAY.

THERE HAVE BEEN HINTS IN THE PAST THAT SOME SUCH MOVE WAS IN PROSPECT. AFTER HIS RETURN FROM A TRIP TO BRITAIN POSTMASTER GENERAL MULOCK SAID SEVERAL MONTHS AGO THAT STUDY WAS BEING GIVEN TO A PLAN O THIS NATURE.

IT WAS ANNOUNCED SOME TIME AGO THAT SEVERAL TRANS-CANADA AIR LINES CREWS WERE TAKING TRANS-ATLANTIC FLIGHT TRAINING WITH THE RAF TRANSPORT COMMAND AND THAT A T.C.A. TRANSPORT PLANE WAS OPERATING EXPERIMENTALLY IN EASTERN CANADA, PREPARATORY TO MAKING TEST FLIGHTS ACROSS THE ATLANTIC.

JUN 17 1943

OFFICIALS SAID AT THAT TIME THAT ONE PROBLEM WAS THE PROVISION OF SUITABLE AIRCRAFT.

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, DOMINICAN REPUBLIC, JUNE 16-(AP)-THE GOVERNMENT OF THE DOMINICAN REPUBLIC CONFERRED TODAY THE HERALDIC ORDER OF CRISTOBAL COLON (CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS) WITH THE RANK OF COMMANDER ON WILLIAM S.PALEY, PRESIDENT OF THE COLUMBIA BROADCASTING SYSTEM, AND DR.RAUL MAESTRI ARREDONDO, ASSISTANT EDITOR OF THE DIARIO DE LA MARINA IN HAVANA, CUBA.

HONORED AT THE SAME TIME WAS EDMUND A.CHESTER, DIRECTOR OF LATIN-AMERICAN RELATIONS FOR CBS THROUGH THE CADENA DE LAS AMERICAS NETWORK. CHESTER WAS MADE AN OFFICER OF THE HERALDIC ORDER.

WINDSOR, ONT., JUNE 16-(AP)-LANCE CORP.D.A.MCGOVERN, 30, OF ALLEN-OWN, PA., WAS INJURED YESTERDAY IN A MID-AIR COLLISION OF TRAINING IRCRAFT THAT TOOK THE LIVES OF PILOT OFFICER J.H.WILLIAMS, 21, OF ELBURY, ONT., AN INSTRUCTOR, AND LANCE CORP.LLOYD JACKSON OF TRURO, S., A STUDENT , AT THE WINDSOR ELEMENTARY FLYING TRAINING SCHOOL.

A COURT OF INQUIRY IS INVESTIGATING THE CRASH, WHICH OCCURRED WHEI PLANE FLOWN BY WILLIAMS AND JACKSON COLLIDED WITH MCGOVERN'S.

JUN 17 1943

1943

OTTAWA, JUNE 16-(AP)-SGT.HOWARD EDWARD JOHNSON, OF CLAWSON, MICH., WAS LISTED BY THE CANADIAN AIR FORCE TONIGHT AS BELIEVED KILLED ON ACTIVE SERVICE AND NOW FOR OFFICIAL PURPOSES PRESUMED DEAD. JOHNSON, WHOSE FATHER, E.Z.JOHNSON, LIVES AT 28 RENSHAW AVE., CLAWSON, PREVIOUSLY HAD BEEN LISTED AS REPORTED MISSING.

JUN 17 1943

OTTAWA, JUNE 16-(CANADIAN PRESS)-THE GOVERNMENT IS IN THE RUBBER BUSINESS TO STAY--IN PEACE AS WELL AS WAR--ACCORDING TO PRESENT INTENTIONS, MUNITIONS MINISTER C.D.HOWE TOLD THE HOUSE OF COMMONS TODAY.

HE SAID THE ARTIFICIAL RUBBER PLANT BEING ERECTED AT SARNIA, ONT., IS OWNED AND WILL BE OPERATED BY THE GOVERNMENT.

"IT IS THE INTENTION OF THIS GOVERNMENT TO CONTINUE TO MAKE RUBBER FOR THE COUNTRY AT WAR AND THE COUNTRY AT PEACE," SAID HOWE.

HE WAS ANSWERING QUESTIONS FROM J.G.DIEFENBAKER (PROG. CON. LAKE CENTRE) WHO ASKED SPECIFICALLY ABOUT PLANS FOR USE OF THE PLANT AFTER THE WAR, IN VIEW OF REPORTS WHICH HE SAID WERE CURRENT TO THE EFFECT ALL SYNTHETIC RUBBER PLANTS WERE TO BE DESTROYED.

HOWE SAID THE SARNIA PLANT WAS DESIGNED TO MEET CANADA'S WAR NEEDS FOR RUBBER BUT NOT PEACE NEEDS IN ADDITION. IT WOULD SUPPLY PEACE NEEDS AFTER THE WAR, HOWEVER, AND WOULD BE CAPABLE OF EXPANSION.

IN REVIEW OF THE SYNTHETIC RUBBER PROGRAM, HOWE SAID CANADA HAD 21,000 TONS OF NATURAL RUBBER AT OR NEAR SINGAPORE WHEN IT FELL, AND THAT PRACTICALLY ALL OF IT HAD ARRIVED IN CANADA.

BY FOLLOWING THE UNITED STATES SYNTHETIC RUBBER PROGRAM CANADA HAS BEEN ABLE TO BENEFIT FROM EXPERIENCE GAINED THERE, HOWE SAID.

3024 5083

CANADA HAD SOUGHT A PLANT TO PRODUCE 34,000 LONG TONS OF RUBBER A YEAR.

TOTAL CANADIAN FACILITIES FOR PRODUCTION OF INDUSTRIAL ALCOHOL WOULD PRODUCE ONLY ONE-THIRD OF THE TOTAL NEEDED FOR THAT MUCH RUBBER, AND IT HAD BEEN FOUND THAT THE USE OF PETROLEUM RATHER THAN ALCOHOL AS A BASE WOULD BE MORE ECONOMICAL.

JUN 17 1943

"IT IS BELIEVED FROM TESTS TO DATE THAT "BUNA S" RUBBER WITH NYLON FABRIC CAN BE USED TO MAKE A TIRE THAT WILL LAST AT LEAST 95 PER CENT AS LONG AS A NATURAL RUBBER TIRE," SAID MR.HOWE, "AND THAT WITH FURTHER IMPROVEMENTS, IT WILL BE POSSIBLE TO MAKE A TIRE BETTER THAN NATURAL RUBBER TIRES TO DATE."

TO EQUALIZE COSTS BETWEEN PRODUCTION FROM ALCOHOL AND FROM PETROLEUM, THE PRICE OF GRAIN WOULD HAVE TO BE BETWEEN 25 AND 30 CENTS A BUSHEL, SAID THE MINISTER.

"I AM SURE NO MEMBER OF THIS HOUSE WOULD WANT TO ENCOURAGE A USE OF WHAT WHICH WOULD BE PREDICATED ON A PRICE AT POINT OF PRODUCTION AS LOW AS 25 TO 30 CENTS A BUSHEL," HOWE SAID.

STOCKHOLM, JUNE 16-(AP)-AMERICAN BOMBERS IN THEIR MOST RECENT RAID ON BORDEAUX IMMOBILIZED A "HIGH PERCENTAGE" OF NAZI SUBMARINES PREYING ON ALLIED SHIPPING IN THE ATLANTIC, A RELIABLE INFORMANT SAID HERE TODAY.

THE INFORMANT, WHO COULD NOT BE ADDITIONALLY IDENTIFIED, SAID BOMBS JAMMED THE CONCRETE AND STEEL LOCKS OF THE SUBMARINE PENS, TRAPPING FOR AN INDEFINITE PERIOD MANY U-BOATS WHICH WERE BEING READIED FOR RAIDS ON THE SHIPPING LANES.

A "WHOLE SERIES" OF PENS WERE AFFECTED, THE INFORMANT SAID, AND A NUMBER OF SUBMARINES WERE DAMAGED OR DESTROYED. TWO HUNDRED BI[illegible]

JUN 17 1943

JUN 17 1943

BUILDINGS IN THE BORDEAUX DOCK AREA WERE BLASTED TO PIECES AND 200 PERSONS KILLED, THE SOURCE SAID.

(BOTH BORDEAUX AND LORIENT, SISTER U-BOAT BASES ON THE FRENCH COAST, WERE BOMBED BY "HEAVY FORMATIONS" OF AMERICAN BOMBERS ON MAY 17.)

(THE FOLLOWING STORY CAME FROM STAFF SERGEANT EDWARE J.BURMAN, 1830 LAKESHORE, OAKLAND, CALIF., A MARINE CORPS COMBAT CORRESPONDENT, AND IS DISTRIBUTED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS).

(WX)-WELLINGTOON, NEW ZEALAND, JUNE 5-(DELAYED)- JUN 17 1943
FIRST LIEUT. MELVIN A.TRAYLOR, 27, FORMER ORNITHOLOGIST WITH THE FIELD MUSEUM IN CHICAGO, HAS BEEN AWARDED THE SILVER STAR MEDAL FOR HEROISM UNDER FIRE WITH THE MARINES ON GUADALCANAL.

PRESENTATION OF THE AWARD TOOK PLACE ON A PARADE GROUND NEAR HERE AND WAS MADE BY COL.T.E.BOURKE, USMC, OF PASADENA, CALIF., BEFORE THE ASSEMBLED OFFICERS AND MEN OF HIS COMMAND.

THE MEDAL WAS AWARDED WITH A CITATION WHICH COMMENDED LIEUTENANT TRAYLOR "FOR CONSPICUOUS GALLANTRY AND INTREPIDITY IN ACTION WHILE SERVING AS AN ARTILLERY FORWARD OBSERVER ATTACHED TO AN INFANTRY PATROL ON GUADALCANAL ISLAND ON DECEMBER 27, 1942.

"LIEUTENANT TRAYLOR, IN ORDER TO REACH A POSITION FROM WHICH HE COULD BETTER CONTROL ARTILLERY FIRE, ACCOMPANIED THE PATROL, AT HIS OWN REQUEST, INTO DANGEROUS TERRITORY IN FRONT OF HIS OWN LINES. THE PATROL WAS SUBJECTED TO HEAVY ENEMY FIRE WHICH RESULTED IN THE DEATH OF THE ONLY INFANTRY OFFICER PRESENT.

"LIEUTENANT TRAYLOR AT ONCE ASSUMED COMMAND AND BY HIS LEADERSHIP AND COURAGE KEPT THE PATROL INTACT AS A FIGHTING UNIT. HE LATER ASSISTED IN NEUTRALIZING THE HEAVY ENEMY RESISTANCE BY DIRECTING ARTILLERY FIRE WITH PRECISION AND ACCURACY. HIS OUTSTANDING DETERMINATION AND DEVOTION TO DUTY WERE IN KEEPING WITH THE HIGHEST TRADITIONS OF THE U.S.NAVAL SERVICE."

LIEUTENANT TRAYLOR IS THE SON OF MRS.DOROTHY G.TRAYLOR, 426 BARRY AVENUE, CHICAGO. HIS WIFE, MRS.EVELYN TRAYLOR, LIVES AT 44 INDIAN HILL ROAD IN SUBURBAN WINNETKA. JUN 17 1943

LIEUTENANT TRAYLOR ENLISTED IN THE MARINE CORPS ON SEPT. 15, 1941, AND HAD RISEN TO THE RANK OF CORPORAL WHEN HE WAS GIVEN A FIELD PROMOTION TO SECOND LIEUTENANT IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC LAST SEPT. 15. HE RECENTLY WAS PROMOTED TO FIRST LIEUTENANT.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

JAPANESE FOREIGN MINISTER MAMORU SHIGEMITSU TOLD JAPAN'S LOWER HOUSE BUDGET COMMITTEE TODAY (THURSDAY) THAT THE PEOPLES OF GREATER EAST ASIA KNOW NOW THERE WOULD HAVE BEEN NO BUILDING OF THE CO-PROSPERITY SPHERE WITHOUT THE SUCCESSES JAPAN HAS ACHIEVED BY FORCE OF ARMS.

A TOKYO RADIO BROADCAST HEARD BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS QUOTED THE FOREIGN MINISTER AS SAYING THE POLICY FOLLOWED BY GREAT BRITAIN, THE NETHERLANDS AND THE UNITED STATES WAS IN THE FAR EAST ONE OF "DIVIDE AND RULE," AND THAT THE BRITISH HAD ALWAYS CONNIVED TO DIVIDE CHINA AND JAPAN.

HE DECLARED THAT JAPAN "PROPOSED TO ERADICATE SUCH A DESTRUCTIVE POLICY IN THE CONSTRUCTION OF A GREATER EAST ASIA." HE SAID JAPAN'S FOREIGN POLICY WAS CONSTRUCTIVE AS CONTRASTED TO THE POLICY OF BRITAIN AND THE NETHERLANDS. JUN 17 1943

"I FEEL CONFIDENT," HE ASSERTED, "THAT THIS POLICY, WHICH IS BASED ON JUSTICE, SURELY WILL BE WELCOMED BY THE ENTIRE WORLD. I FEEL

JUN 17 1943

1943

30.24—5085

ONFIDENT THE ENEMY WILL YIELD IN THE END. THIS IS THE ONLY ROAD WHICH APAN AS A GREAT NATION SHOULD FOLLOW.

"I HAVE EVERY CONFIDENCE THAT THE CONSTRUCTION OF GREATER EAST SIA WILL BRING A DAWN TO THE NEW EAST ASIA WHICH WILL FORM THE ASIS OF THE FUTURE WORLD PEACE."

PREMIER GENERAL HIDEKI TOJO WARNED THE JAPANESE DIET YESTERDAY HAT "THE WAR HAS REACHED A SERIOUS, DECISIVE STAGE, WITH THE ENEMY OBILIZING ALL HIS RESOURCES FOR A COUNTER-OFFENSIVE," BUT BOASTED HAT JAPAN DAILY WAS BECOMING STRONGER.

JUN 17 1943

ADDRESSING AN EXTRAORDINARY SESSION OF THE DIET, THE WAR LEADER WAS QUOTED BY THE TOKYO RADIO AS SAYING JAPAN'S CONQUESTS HAD ESTABLISHED THE "NECESSARY CONDITIONS TO ASSURE FINAL VICTORY," AND THAT JAPAN "NATURALLY HAS FORESEEN" NEW ATTACKS BY THE ALLIES.

"OUR FORCES," HE DECLARED IN THE BROADCAST RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, "HAVE NOT ONLY INFLICTED SERIOUS BLOWS ON THE ENEMY BUT ARE ALSO DEVELOPING NEW METHODS TO BREAK HIM."

TOJO, WHO SPOKE TO THE DIET AS PREMIER AND AS WAR MINISTER, ARNED THE JAPANESE TO EXPECT AIR RAIDS ON "OUR MAINLAND."

TOJO WAS QUOTED AS SAYING THAT THE CHINESE AIR FORCE HAD BEGUN TO RECOVER WITH SUPPORT BY THE AMERICANS."

"THE ENEMY IS TRYING TO RAID OUR BASES," SAID A TOKYO VERSION OF IS SPEECH. "NOT ONLY THAT, THE ENEMY IS ALSO TRYING TO RAID OUR AINLAND AND SHUT OFF OUR SUPPLY ROUTES. OUR AIR FORCE HAS TAKEN HE INITIATIVE. HOWEVER, WE MUST EXPECT THAT THE ENEMY WILL RAID OUR AINLAND."

AT THE SAME TIME, TOJO REPORTED THAT JAPANESE WAR PRODUCTION HAD BEEN "NOTABLY AUGMENTED" THIS YEAR, BUT ACKNOWLEDGED THAT THE NATIONAL ECONOMY MUST BE TAILORED EVEN MORE STRICTLY TO FIT WAR NEEDS, AND THAT "SPECIAL EFFORTS WOULD BE UNAVOIDABLE" TO "ENSURE THE NATIONAL FOOD SUPPLY."

JUN 17 1943

FOR THE BENEFIT OF HOME MORALE, ADMIRAL SHIGETARO SHIMADA, NAVY MINISTER, ALSO APPEARED BEFORE THE DIET, AND ON PAPER AGAIN "DESTROYED" ALLIED FLEETS.

TO DATE IN THE WAR, HE ASSERTED, ACCORDING TO THE TOKYO RADIO, THE NAVY HAS SHOT DOWN OR DESTROYED 5,214 ALLIED PLANES, SUNK 13 BATTLESHIPS, 11 AIRCRAFT CARRIERS, 55 CRUISERS, 56 DESTROYERS, 128 SUBMARINES, AND 69 OTHER WARCRAFT "BESIDES DAMAGING NUMEROUS OTHERS," AND ALSO HAS SUNK 369 MERCHANTMEN TOTALLING 2,250,000 TONS.

THESE FIGURES BORE NO RESEMBLANCE TO THE FACTS AS ANNOUNCED IN ALLIED COMMUNIQUES.

JAPANESE LOSSES WERE LISTED AS 878 PLANES, ONE BATTLESHIP, THREE AIRCRAFT CARRIERS, THREE CRUISERS, 19 DESTROYERS, 11 SUBMARINES, 18 OTHER WARCRAFT "AND 98 SHIPS EMPLOYED BY THE IMPERIAL NAVY TOTALING 352,000 TONS."

THE ADMIRAL DECLARED THAT THE "DECISIVE STAGE IS FAST APPROACHING" IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, AND DISCLOSED THAT THE JAPANESE COMBINED FLEET NOW IS COMMANDED BY ADMIRAL MINEICHI KOGA.

JUN 17 1943

HE CLAIMED JAPANESE AIR AND SEA VICTORIES IN THE ATTU AREA, WHILE TOJO PAID TRIBUTE TO THE GARRISON WIPED OUT ON ATTU, SAYING IT HAD "ACCOMPLISHED A STRATEGIC OBJECT OF CHECKING A SUPERIOR ENEMY FORCE ADVANCING WESTWARD FOR A PERIOD OF 12 MONTHS."

THE PREMIER ASSERTED THAT NIPPONESE AIR OFFENSIVES HAD FRUSTRATED ALLIED ATTACKS UPON JAPANESE SHIPPING, AND "THEIR PLANES TO ATTEMPT AERIAL ATTACKS UPON THE JAPANESE HOMELAND."

HE PROMISED COMPLETE "INDEPENDENCE" FOR THE PHILIPPINES THIS YEAR, AND SAID JAPAN WOULD HELP INDIA "TO EXPEL AND ELIMINATE ANGLO-SAXON INFLUENCES, WHICH ARE THE ENEMY OF INDIA IN EVERY TRUE SENSE OF THE WORD." OCCUPIED REGIONS OF EAST ASIA, HE SAID, ARE GIVING JAPAN "UTMOST COOPERATION."

JUN 17 1943

OF HIS AXIS PARTNERS, TOJO SAID THAT "I FIRMLY BELIEVE IN THE SMASHING SUCCESS OF GERMANY AND ITALY AND THEIR ALLIES XXX ON ACCOUNT OF THEIR ALREADY ESTABLISHED INVULNERABLE POSITION XXX JAPAN PROMISES TO FIGHT HAND IN HAND WITH GERMANY AND ITALY FOR COMMON VICTORY."

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS TABULATION OF ANNOUNCED JAPANESE SHIP LOSSES TOTAL 587 SINCE PEARL HARBOR. INCLUDED IN THIS FIGURE ARE THREE BATTLESHIPS, SIX AIRCRAFT CARRIERS, 42 CRUISERS, [illegible] DESTROYERS, 33 SUBMARINES AND 47 MINOR WAR VESSELS. UNITED STATES SUBMARINES ALONE HAVE ACCOUNTED FOR 181 JAP SHIPS IN ALL CATEGORIES. ANNOUNCED UNITED STATES LOSSES TOTAL 100, INCLUDING ONE BATTLESHIP, FOUR AIRCRAFT CARRIERS, EIGHT CRUISERS, 24 DESTROYERS, SEVEN SUBMARINES, NOT INCLUDING ONE LOST IN A BLACKOUT, AND 31 MINOR WARSHIPS).

SHIMADA DECLARED, ETC., SIXTH GRAF.

EW-1243PEW

LONDON, JUNE 16-(AP)-REMOVAL OF VIRTUALLY ALL YOUNG ABLEBODIED MEN FROM HOLLAND TO WAR JOBS IN GERMANY WAS REPORTED IN PROGRESS [illegible] IN A NEW LABOR DRAFT INSTITUTED BY THE NAZIS IN AN ATTEMPT TO MEET A GROWING SHORTAGE OF MANPOWER.

JUN 17 1943

QUOTING A GERMANY NEWS AGENCY DISPATCH, THE AXIS CONTROLLED PARIS RADIO SAID IN A BROADCAST RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS THAT A DECREE HAD BEEN ISSUED IN THE HAGUE ORDERING THAT THE YOUNGER CLASSES OF MEN, BEGINNING WITH THOSE 19 AND 20, "TO THE FULLEST EXTENT BE TRANSFERRED TO WORK IN GERMANY."

AT THE SAME TIME, RADIO ORANGE, THE NETHERLANDS STATION IN LONDON, WARNED THE HOMELAND THAT NAZI AUTHORITIES IN A DAY OR SO WOULD BEGIN ROUNDING UP THOSE WHO HAVE FAILED TO REGISTER FOR COMPULSORY LABOR, A DRIVE WHICH WOULD BE QUICKLY FOLLOWED BY AN EXTENSIVE SEARCH FOR THOSE WHO HAVE GONE INTO HIDING.

"WE ARE CONVINCED THAT ALL GOOD FATHERLANDERS WILL HELP EACH OTHER AS MUCH AS [illegible] POSSIBLE," THE DUTCH BROADCAST SAID IMPLYING THIS COULD BE DONE BY HELPING HIDE THOSE [illegible] SUBJECT TO

JUN 17 1943

1943

30.24-5087

CONSCRIPTION.

WIDESPREAD STRIKES AND A MARTIAL LAW DECLARATION FOLLOWED A LABOR REGISTRATION ORDER IN THE NETHERLANDS EARLY IN MAY.

POSSIBLY SEEKING TO PLACATE RESISTANCE, THE GERMAN OCCUPATION AUTHORITIES HAVE ~~XXXXXXXX~~ NOW "GRANTED" A "GREAT MEASURE OF RELIEF FROM WORK IN GERMANY," THE PARIS BROADCAST SAID.

THES ~~XXXXXX~~ ACCOUNT ALSO SAID THAT 20,000 BELGIAN WAR PRISONERS IN GERMANY HAVE HAD THEIR STATUS CHANGED FROM THAT OF PRISON TO WORKERS IN ANOTHER MOVE TO ALLEVIATE THE ~~XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX~~ REPORTED LABOR SHORTAGE IN THE REICH.

london, june 16-(ap)-although american army officers try to discourage their men from marrying while on active duty here, british girls who have married americans have been applying for visas to enter the unites states at the rate of two or three a week.

visas are required since the girls do not become u.s. citizens by virture of the marriages.

JUN 17 1943

soldiers need their commanding officer's permission to marry under penalty of court martial.

LONDON, JUNE 16-(AP)-- "THE STARS AND STRIPES", ~~XXXXXX~~ AMERIC SERVICEMEN'S NEWSPAPER, ~~XXXXXX~~ TODAY WARNED SOLDIERS UNLUCKY ENOUGH TO BE CAPTURED ~~XXXXXXXXXX~~ BY THE AXIS NOT TO LET THEIR CAPTORS PERSUADE THEM TO SPEAK OVER THE RADIO.

JUN 17 1943

"BROADCASTING FOR THE ENEMY X X X IS JUST ANOTHER TRICK OF T NAZIS AND JAPS TO USE PRISONERS OF WAR TO HELP THEM SPREAD PROPAGANDA," AN EDITORIAL SAID.

london, june 16-(ap)--twelve slovene patriots, ~~XXXXXX~~ woman, were shot recently after their conviction by a nazi court martia the yugoslav government-in-exile announced here.

JUN 17 1943

they were accused of having worked to detach the slovene provin of carinthia from the reich and of organizing attacks on the german ar serbian guerrillas were reported to have killed 10 more axis ag

LONDON, JUNE 16-(AP)-- CENSORSHIP PERMITTED DISCLOSURE TODAY THAT GEN. SIR HAROLD L. ALEXANDER HAD VISITED ENGLAND FOR A FEW DAYS AFTER THE END OF THE TUNISIAN CAMPAIGN, IN WHICH HE WAS DEPUTY COMMANDER

JUN 17 1943

IN-CHIEF OF GROUND FORCES.

HE RETURNED TO NORTH AFRICA IN TIME TO PARTICIPATE IN TALKS BETWEEN PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL AND THE ALLIED CHIEFS OF STAFF.

THE GENERAL VISITED HIS WIFE AND FAMILY AT HOME. MEMBERS

ALB/ LAP 02151 40SPEW

OF THE HOUSEHOLD SAID AFTERWARDS THAT HE SPENT A QUIET TIME, RESTING AS MUCH AS HE COULD, AND THAT HE CYCLED AND PICKNICKED WITH HIS CHILDRE IN WINDSOR FOREST.

JUN 17 1943

LONDON, JUNE 16--(AP)--THE POLISH GOVERNMENT IN-EXILE ANNOUNCED TODAY THAT TADEUSZ ROMER, AMBASSADOR TO MOSCOW WHO LEFT AFTER THE RUPTURE IN POLISH-SOVIET RELATIONS, HAS BEEN APPOINTED POLISH GOVERNMENT DELEGATE IN THE MIDDLE EAST.

LONDON, THURSDAY, JUNE 17-(AP)- THE GERMAN AGENCY DNB BROADCAST TODAY A REPORT THAT THE ALLIES WERE USING IN THE MEDITERRANEAN LARGE INVASION BARGES CAPABLE OF CARRYING 600 MEN AND ALSO CONVERTED CARGO BOATS FOR LARGER SCALE TRANSPORT OF TROOPS AND SMALL LANDING CRAFT.

THE BROADCAST WAS HEARD HERE BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

london, thursday, june 17-(ap)-the luggage king george vl took along on his visit to north africa bore the label, "t. jerram."

t. jerram, a guardsman, was the king's valet before the war.

LONDON, THURSDAY, JUNE 17--(AP)--- RUSSIAN PLANES HAVE SUNK AN AXIS SUBMARINE IN THE BLACK SEA, MOSCOW ANNOUNCED TODAY IN ITS MIDNIGHT COMMUNIQUE.

JUN 17 1943

DUBLIN, JUNE 16-(AP)-- PRESIDENT EAMON DEVALERA DECLARED IN AN ADDRESS AT WATERFORD TODAY THAT THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE IN EIRE WAS "A BADGE OF CONQUEST" AND SAID HE HOPED TO ESTABLISH AN ORGANIZATIO TO RESTORE XNE GAELIC AS THE COUNTRY'S LANGUAGE.

MOSCOW, JUNE 16--(AP)--A TASS DISPATCH FROM GENEVA TODAY REPORTED "ON THE STRENGTH OF INFORMATION RECEIVED FROM ITALIAN MILITARY CIRCLES" THAT HEADQUARTERS OF THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF OF THE GERMAN AIR FORCE IN THE MEDITERRANEAN HAD BEEN TRANSFERRED FROM SICILY TO SOMEWHERE IN CALABRIA ON THE ITALIAN MAINLAND.

ANOTHER TASS DISPATCH FROM LAUSANNE, SWITZERLAND, SAID

JUN 17 1943

1943

30.24-5089

APR TASS FAX 139? CCC 158P

THAT "AFTER A NUMBER OF GRAVE INCIDENTS WHICH OCCURRED IN ITALIAN GARRISONS ON THE ISLANDS, THE ITALIAN COMMAND PROCEEDED TO EVACUATE THE DEMORALIZED TROOPS FROM SICILY AND SARDINIA."

TASS SAID THE EVACUATION WAS IN THE NATURE OF A "PURGE OF THE GARRISONS" FOLLOWING ~~XXXXXXX~~ WHOLESALE DESERTIONS AND THE ALARMING DISCOVERY BY ~~XXX~~ HIGH MILITARY CIRCLES THAT THE ~~XXXXXX~~ TROOPS WERE UNRELIABLE FOR DEFENSE. AN EFFORT IS BEING MADE TO REPLENISH THE GARRISONS FROM TROOPS QUARTERED IN NORTH AND CENTRAL ITALY, THE TASS DISPATCH SAID.

JUN 17 1943

MOSCOW, JUNE 16--(AP)-- A TASS DISPATCH FROM BER SAID TODAY THAT ALL PASSENGER TRAFFIC AND TRANSPORTATION OF PRIVATE FREIGHT ~~XXXXXXXXXX~~ THROUGH THE BRENNER PASS HAS BEEN SUSPENDED BY ORDER OF GERMAN AUTHORITIES.

ALL ITALIAN WORKERS RECENTLY SENT HOME FROM GERMANY TO ITALY, THE ~~XXXX~~ DISPATCH ADDED, WERE ROUTED BY WAY OF SWITZERLAND.

TRAFFIC ACROSS THE BRENNER WAS SUSPENDED, TASS SAID "ACCORDING

ACCORDING TO RUMORS PREVALENT IN BERNE, ~~XXXXX~~ BECAUSE OF PREPARATIONS BEING MADE BY GERMAN AUTHORITIES FOR THE EVENTUAL EVACUATION OF INDUSTRIAL EQUIPMENT AND OTHER GERMAN PROPERTY FROM ITALY, TASS REPORTED.

JUN 17 1943

thursday,
sevilla, spain, june 17-(ap)-forty american sailors from a torpedoed merchant ship and american aviators forced down on spanish territory, who had gathered in sevilla from points in cadiz and sevilla provinces, left today for gibraltar. from there they will go to north africa.

MADRID, JUNE 16-(AP)-- THE SPANISH PRESS QUOTED AN OFFICIAL VICHY ANNOUNCEMENT TODAY AS SAYING THAT 20 FRENCH "TERRORISTS" HAD ATTACKED A GENDARMERIE BARRACKS IN THE MUY DE DOME DEPARTMENT IN AN EFFORT TO FREE TWO OF THEIR COMRADES WHO WERE UNDER ARREST.

~~XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX~~

IN ~~XXX~~ ENSUING FIGHTING ONE OF THE ATTACKERS AND ONE POLICEMEN WERE REPORTED KILLED AND TWO OTHER OFFICERS ~~XXXX~~ SERIOUSLY WOUNDED.

JUN 17 1943

by george tucker

cairo, ~~london,~~ june 16-(ap)-fear that the easy conquest of pantelleria may lead the public to expect other easy and bloodless victories was expressed by military observe s here today who point to pantelleria as a remarkable demonstration of what concentrated bombing can do in a small area.

JUN 17 1943

they warn, however, that it is a mistake to draw the conclusion that countries or even large islands can be subjugated from the air unless the attacks are backed by the bayonets of ground troops.

their expression is taken as a warning not to count on the occupation of sicily or other islands without paying a heavy price.

as long ago as february maj. gen. r.m. scobie told correspondents that sicily could have been taken comparatively cheaply then, but added that unless it were taken within a few months the allies must be prepared to suffer real losses.

JUN 17 1943

these months have passed and the se begun.
it is stated here categorically tha strengthened considerably. the island extending from trapani on the west to s heavy batteries and which can be moved q also is well supplied with air fields, t to deal with mainland-based planes from strait.
one authority here said he thought it would take at least two and perhaps three months to occupy sicily.
"when you invad sicily you are, in effect, invading italy proper."

JUN 17 1943

30.27-5091

he said. "all the forces the axis can command will be brought to bear against thoseoperations.

"as fighters the italians had, until the later stages of the tunisian campaign, built a sorry reputation for themselves in this war, but in my opinion they will fight bitterly if attacked at home where their own people are watching them," he said.

JUN 17 1943

crete would require a diff rent type of operation altogether since there are no adequate landing points on the african side," this observer said.

"naturally the germans would do every thing possible to prevent an invasion, but it could be done beacuse our air superiority now is much greater even than the german superiority over us when we lost crete.

"but i'd like to say that in my opinion success won't come until we pay the real price," he concluded.

JUN 17 1943

algiers, june 16-(ap)--gen. georges catroux, governor general of algiers, told the algerian superior council today that "by way of algeria we will reenter france with our allies."

it was the [redacted] first meeting in three years of the council, which corresponds to a provincial senate.

"a noble destiny is reserved for your country, which stimulates your courage and efforts," said the loan, gray-haired governor general, adding that it was unfortunate that gen. charles de gaulle had been in london instead of north africa when he rallied the free french.

JUN 17 1943

Catroux denied that the algerians were to blame for not continuing the war at the side of great britain, because they were told that the battle was hopeless, but he asserted that they returned to the struggle "with faithful hearts" after the allied landing last november.

In the campaign in north africa, catroux said, the "dead of great britain, the french empire and the united states mingled their blood with ours on the field of battle for the restoration of justice and the resurrection of france."

JUN 17 1943

In submitting budgetary matters previously drawn up by the algerian financial delegations, catroux pointed out that "algeria is a part of french territory, and the principle of economic unity between her and france remains in force."

JUN 17 1943

He concluded: "by way of algeria we will reenter france with our allies and press the liberation to our furthermost frontiers."

BY DAVID BROWN

REPRESENTING THE COMBINED AMERICAN AND BRITISH PRESS

DISTRIBUTED BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

ALGIERS, JUNE 14 (DELAYED)---(AP)---THE AMERICAN XEN FIFTH ARMY PUT ON ITS PROUDEST DISPLAY TODAY FOR ITS MOST DESTINGUISHED VISITOR.

JUN 17 1943

WITH BANDS PLAYING, FLAGS FLYING AND MEN IN ARMOR

ROLLING PAST IN REVIEW OF STANDING AT RIGID ATTENTION FOR INSPECTION,

WITH GUNS FIRING IN SIMULATED ASSAULTS AND STREET FIGHTING OF THE KIND THAT TOOK MANY TUNISIAN TOWNS, THE AMERICAN DOUGHBOYS WENT THROUGH

THE WHOLE "BAG O' TRICKS" FOR KING GEORGE VI OF ENGLAND.

LIEUTENANT GENERAL MARK W. CLARK, COMMANDING GENERAL

OF THE UNITED STATES ARMY IN NORTH AFRICA, GREETED THE KING AS HE STEPPED FROM THE ROYAL TRANSPORT PLANE AT AN AIRDROME IN NORTH AFRICA,

WITH GENERAL CLARK WERE SEVEN UNITED STATES GENERALS INCLUDING

JUN 17 1943

LIEUTENANT GENERAL GEORGE S. PATTON JR., COMMANDER OF THE UNITED

AND

STATES COMBAT FORCES IN TUNISIA, LIEUTENANT GENERAL OMAR N. BRADLEY,

COMMANDER OF THE UNITED STATES ARMY SECOND CORPS.

SO PERFECTLY HAD SECURITY ARRANGEMENTS BEEN CARRIED

JUN 17 1943

JUN 17 1943

30.24-5093

OUT THAT EVEN HIGH-RANKING UNITED STATES GENERALS WERE UNWARE HE WAS COMING UNTIL HE STEPPED FROM THE PLANE. NEVERTHELESS, THE ARRANGEMENTS WERE FAULTLESS.

JUN 17 1943

THROUGH THE LONG DAY'S ACTIVITIES THE ROYAL PARTY'S MOTOR CAVALCADE MOVED LIKE CLOCKWORK, EXACTLY ON SCHEDULE. EVERY PART OF THE PROGRAM HAD BEEN REHEARSED TO PERFECTION AND THE DAY BEFORE HIS MAJESTY'S VISIT WAS DEVOTED TO A "DRY RUN" OF THE WHOLE SHOW, EVEN DOWN TO SERVING THE MIDDAY MEAL.

MAILLARD STEAD

REPRESENTING THE COMBINED UNITED STATES PRESS

JUN 17 1943

DISTRIBUTED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 16--KING GEORGE VI HAD ALREADY TRAVELLED HUNDREDS OF MILES IN NORTH AFRICA AND INSPECTED MANY THOUSANDS OF AMERICAN TROOPS BEFORE THE "SECRET" OF HIS VISIT WAS DIVULGED TO THE WORLD.

THE DAY AFTER HE COMPLETED HIS EVENTLESS FLIGHT FROM BRITAIN HE PAID AN INFORMAL VISIT TO BRITISH AND AMERICAN SOLDIERS IN A BEAUTIFUL MEDITERRANEAN SIDE SETTING NOT FAR OUTSIDE ALGIERS. BUT HIS FIRST BIG SCALE CEREMONIAL WAS TO REVIEW A GREAT CONCENTRATION OF TROOPS REPRESENTING MOST OF THE BRANCHES OF THE UNITED STATES ARMY HERE.

JUN 17 1943

FOR MILE AFTER MILE, ALONG ROADS RUNNING THROUGH LANDSCAPE LOSING ITS GREEN AS IT WAS SCORCHED BY THE SUMMER SUN BURNING IN A CLOUDLESS BLUE SKY, HIS MAJESTY DROVE BY TANKS, TANK DESTROYERS, ARTILLERY BATTERIES, RECONNAISANCE CARS, ENGINEER DETACHMENTS AND OTHER FORMATIONS THAT MAKE UP THE MODERN ARMY. THE ROUTE WAS LINED BY INFANTRY INCLUDING COLORED US TROOPS STANDING STIFFLY AT ATTENTION AS WERE THE CREWS DRAWN UP ALONGSIDE THE VEHICLES.

BEHIND THE CAR WITH THE ROYAL STANDARD FLUTTERING ABOVE THE HOOD--THE BANNER FLOWN ONLY WHERE AND WHEN THE KING HIMSELF IS PRESENT--FOLLOWED THOSE WITH STAR-ADORNED RED FLAGS OF AMERICAN GENERALS ACCOMPANYING THE KING. THEY WERE LIEUT. GEN. MARK W. CLARK,

JUN 17 1943 JUN 17 1943

C MMANDING XHEX GENERAL OF THE U.S. FIFTH ARMY, LIEUT. GEN. GEORGE S. H PATTON, JR., C MMANDER OF AMERICAN C MBAT FORCES IN TUNISIA, LIEUT. GEN. OMAR N. BRADLEY, COMMANDER OF THE UNITED STATES 2ND ARMY C RPS, MAJ. GEN. GEORFFREY KEYS, COMMANDING AN ARMOURED UNIT, MAJ. GEN. MANTON S. EDDY AND MAJ. GEN. HUGH J. GAFFEY.

AFTER THE GENERALS HAD GREETED HIM AT THE AIRPORT THE KING INSPECTED THE HONOR GUARD FURNISHED BY THE SECOND BATTALION OF THE NINTH DIVISION AND DROVE OFF TO PLACE A WREATH AT THE FOOT OF THE

JUN 17 1943

'LAGPOLE WHER THE STARS AND STRIPES FLY OVER TH GRAVES OF HUNDREDS OF AMERICANS BURIED ON THE HILLSIDE CEMETARY BESIDE A LAKE. THE RAVES, IN RED SOIL, ARE MARKED BY SIMPLE WHITE CROSSES EXCEPT THOSE URMOUNTED BY THE JEWISH EMBLEM OF THE STAR OF DAVID.

IT WAS THE BRIEFEST CEREMONY SYMBOLISING THE KING OF ENGLAND'S OMAGE AND SALUTATION TO THOSE WHO LAID DOWN THEIR LIVES IN THIS HEATER OF WAR. THE CAVALCADE THEN WOUND ON ITS WAY PAST FIELDS WHERE HE WHEAT HAS ALREADY BEEN HARVESTED AND BY SCATTERED FARMSTEADS HROUGH VILLAGES WHERE ARABS AND FRENCH TURNED OUT TO WONDER AT THE ECTACLE. THE FIRST HALT WAS IN A SHADY PINE GROVE WHERE THE ROYAL RTY LUNCHED.

AFTER LUNCH THE KING HAD A PHOTOGRAPH TAKEN GROUPED WITH ERICAN GENERALS. HE STOOD NEXT TO SIX FEET FOUR INCH TALL CLARK O HAPPEND TO BE STANDING ON A RIDGE IN THE DIRT ROADWAY.

"OH NO YOU DON'T" SAID THE KING CHUCKLING AS CLARK MOVED IDE TO GIVE HIS MAJESTY THE BENEFIT OF THE FEW INCHES HE HIMSELF CERT- NLY DIDN'T NEED.

JUN 17 1943

THE KING HAD A TIGHT SCHEDULE DRAWN UP FOR HIM. PART OF THE TIME HE WAS IN A COMMAND CAR DRIVEN BY XXXXX PVT. JOHN MAGNUS OF NEFFS, OHIO, AND PART OF THE TIME IN A SEDAN DRIVEN BY AN AMERICAN-BORN BRITISH SOLDIER FROM BRIDGEPORT, CONN., SGT. J. A. WELLS WHO IS GEN. SIR HAROLD XX ALEXANDER'S DRIVER. WELLS ENLISTED IN THE BRITISH ARMY IN 1916.

AFTER LUNCH THE KING DROVE PAST MILES OF AMERICAN TROOPS AND EQUIPMENT DRAWN UP ON THE RIGHT SIDE OF THE ROAD, HALTING TO WITNESS A SPECTACULAR DISPLAY OF STREET FIGHTING IN A DUMMY ARAB VILLAGE BUILT FOR THE PURPOSE AND TO SEE A REVIEW AND MARCH PAST

JUN 17 1943

30.24-5095

OF A COMBAT TEAM. THE PRECISELY HANDLED PROGRAM MOVED ON SPLIT SECOND TIMING FOR EXACTLY 24 MINUTES.

"THE KING'S OWN GUARDS COULDN'T DO IT ANY BETTER," SAID A BRITISH CORRESPONDENT BEHIND ME.

THE HONOR GUARD OF THE SECOND BATTALION, 47TH INFANTRY, COMMANDED BY MAJ. JAMES D. JOHNSTON OF BARIUM SPRINGS, N.C. PRESENTED ARMS IN A FAREWELL SALUTE AND THE KING TOOK HIS DEPARTURE FROM THE AIRPORT.

JUN 17 1943

THE KING LOOKED EVEN FITTER THAN USUAL AND WORE THE SERVICE UNIFORM OF A BRITISH FIELD MARSHAL AS HE DID ON HIS ARRIVAL SATURDAY.

REYKJAVIK, JUNE 16--(AP)--A FOUR-MOTORED GERMAN BOMBER DIVING OUT OF THE SUN STRAFED THE 800-TON ICELANDIC COASTAL STEAMER "SUDIN" OFF THE NORTHCOAST OF ICELAND TODAY KILLING TWO SEAMEN AND INJURING FIVE OTHERS, TWO SERIOUSLY.

JUN 17 1943

THE "SUDIN" WAS BADLY DAMAGED BY TWO BOMBS WHICH JUST MISSED THE SHIP. RESCUE SHIPS WERE TRYING TO TOW HER TO PORT BUT SHE WAS LEAKING BADLY AND LISTING HEAVILY.

buenos aires, june 16-(ap)--The provisional government's decree prohibiting the use of coded messages in international radio communications went into effect at noon today.

admiral segundo
foreign minister/storni announced that he had informed the german, italian and japanese diplomatic representatives that the argentine government was not disposed to modify its ruling "in any manner," because "it constitutes an international promise to which argentina is committed on her word of honor."

MONTEVIDEO, JUNE 16--(AP)--THE URUGUAYAN FOREIGN OFFICE TODAY ANNOUNCED THE CREATION OF A COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT WITHIN THE URUGUAY EMBASSY IN WASHINGTON "TO DEFEND OUR INTERESTS IN THE SALE OF OUR PRODUCTION AND THE PURCHASE OF OUR IMPORTS."

THE DECREE ESATBLISHING THE NEW DIVISION WAS SIGNED BY

JUN 17 1943

PRESIDENT JUAN AMEZAGA. FOREIGN MINISTER JOSE SERRATO SAID THAT THE VARIOUS OFFICIAL BANKS AND GOVERNMENT AGENCIES WILL SHARE THE EXPENSES OF THE NEW DEPARTMENT WHICH WILL REPRESENT URUGUAY IN TRADE CONFERENCES AS WELL AS ECONOMIC NEGOTIATIONS IN THE UNITED STATES. THE DEPARTMENT WILL ORGANIZE A PERMANENT SHOW OF URUGUAYAN PRODUCTS IN THE UNITED STATES AND WILL ADVISE NORTH AMERICAN EXPORTERS ON THE URUGUAYAN MARKET AND GENERALLY "TRY TO DEVELOP BETTER TRADE, INDUSTRIAL AND FINANCIAL RELATIONS BETWEEN THE TWO COUNTRIES."

JUN 17 1943

RIO DE JANEIRO, JUNE 16--(AP)--AN EDITORIAL APPEARING IN A RADICAL RIO DE JANEIRO MORNING PAPER, USUALLY FRIENDLY TO THE UNITED STATES, TODAY LASHED OUT AGAINST ANY AGREEMENT WHEREBY THE UNITED STATES WOULD SHIP OIL-DRILLING MACHINERY TO ARGENTINE IN RETURN FOR ARGENTINE SHARING THE RESULTANT OIL SUPPLY WITH NEIGHBORING COUNTRIES.

THE EDITORIAL STATED THAT BRAZIL HAD NOT RECEIVED ALL THE MACHINERY NEEDED FOR ITS WAR EFFORT AND THAT A COUNTRY IN THE WAR AGAINST THE AXIS "MERITS MORE AID THAN A COUNTRY WHICH MAKES A POINT OF MAINTAINING ITS POSITION 'EQUIDISTANT' TO THE TWO FIGHTING CAMPS."

OBSERVERS ARE INCLINED TO THE BELIEF THAT THE EDITORIAL WAS INSPIRE PRINCIPALLY BY ANTIPATHY TOWARD ARGENTINE NEUTRALITY. BRAZIL NEEDS PETROLEUM AND IT IS GENERALLY ASSUMED THAT THE AGREEMENT, IF MADE, WILL TAKE FULL COGNIZANCE OF BRAZIL'S INTERESTS.

JUN 17 1943

THE ROSSIBILITY OF THE AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND ARGENTINE WAS FIRST RVEALED MONBAY BY VICE ADMIRAL SEGUNDO STORNI, ARGENTINE FOREIGN MINISTER, WHO SAID THAT ARGENTINE WAS "READY" TO CONCLUDE THE AGREEMENT. STORNI SAID THAT HIS COUNTRY WOULD SUPPLY PETROLEUM TO NEIGHBORING REPUBLICS IN RETURN FOR THE EQUIPMENT SHIPPED FROM THE UNITED STATES.

MEXICO CITY, JUNEN16--(AP)--THE MERCHANT MARINE DEPARTMENT OF THE MEXICAN NAVY MINISTRY TODAY REPORTED THE SINKING OF THE MEXICAN COASTWISE STEAMER "ROMANCIA" ENROUTE FROM LOS ANGELES, CALIF., TO COASTA RICA OF THE PACIFIC COAST NEAR MANZANILLO WITH A PROBABLE LOSS OF 10 LIVES.

JUN 17 1943

THE SHIP IS BELIEVED TO HAVE FOUNDERED IN A STORM.

JUN 17 1943

30.24-5097

THE CAPTAIN AND THE FIRST MATE ARE T' ONLY PERSONS RESCUED. THERE WERE TEN OTHERS IN THE CREW.

CAPETOWN, JUNE 16--(AP)-- THE CREW OF AN AMERICAN FREIGHTER TORPEDOED OFF THE AFRICAN COAST HAS PRESENTED EVERY MEMBER OF THE SOUTH AFRICAN MINESWEEPER WHICH PICKED THEM UP WITH A WALLET OR A CIGARETTE CASE, IT WAS REPORTED HERE TODAY.

JUN 17 1943

THE ENTIRE CREW NUMBERING 61 WAS SAVED. IN APPRECIATION OF THE WORK OF THE RESCUERS FRANK PIWOWARFKI, INGALLE STREET, NASHUA, N.H., THE SHIP'S NATIONAL MARITIME UNION REPRESENTATIVE, TOOK UP THE COLLECTION TO BUY THE GIFTS.

victoria, june 16-(ap)-the raf reported today that flying officer g.g douglas-home, son of lord home of berwickshire, schotland, has not been heard from since he took off from near here monday on a routine flight in a in-engined raf medium bomber with three otjer fliers.

douglas-home was married six weeks ago.

JUN 17 1943

SAN JUAN, PUERTO RICO, JUNE 16--(AP)--MEMBERS OF THE PUERTO RICAN BELL CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE INVESTIGATING ~~CARIBBEAN~~ AFFAIRS STUDIED FOOD DISTRIBUTION IN THE ISLAND TODAY AND HEARD EDWARD BASH, LOCAL HEAD OF THE FOOD ~~AID~~ DISTRIBUTION ADMINISTRATION, ADMIT THAT THE AGENCY HAD MADE "MANY MISTAKES" BUT ASSERTED THAT IT HAD BEEN SUCCESSFUL ON TWO FUNDAMENTALS.

JUN 17 1943

BASH SAID THAT THESE WERE, FIRST, TO OBTAIN ADEQUATE FOOD SUPPLIES AND BUILD UP RESERVES TO AVOID ANY REPETITION OF LAST FALLS SEVERE SHORTAGES AND, SECOND, TO DISTRIBUTE AVAILABLE SUPPLIES SO THAT PERSONS THROUGHOUT THE ISLANDS MIGHT HAVE THE OPPORTUNITY TO PURCHASE ESSENTIALS.

HE ADDED THAT THE ISLAND HAS NOW BUILT UP A RESERVE TO CARRY IT FOR THREE MONTHS WITHOUT THE ARRIVAL OF A SINGLE SHIP. THERE IS ENOUGH RICE TO LAST UNTIL OCTOBER AND LARD SUFFICIENT TO FILL ALL NEEDS UP UNTIL AUGUST.

JUN 17 1943

FOOD IMPORTS FROM THE UNITED STATES ARE NOW VIRTUALLY NORMAL, BASH SAID. THERE WERE 43,451 SHORT TONS RECEIVED IN MAY, 39,793 IN APRIL, 48,700 IN MARCH, AND 25,129 IN FEBRUARY COMPARED TO THE ISLAND AVERAGE OF 30,000 TONS OF ESSENTIALS BEFORE THE EMERGENCY.

JUN 17 1943

BASH SAID THAT THE EMERGENCY LAND-SEA ROUTE WAS ALSO BEING USED TO BRING FOODSTUFFS FROM CUBA, HAITI, AND SANTO DOMINGO.

REP. KARL M. LECOMPTE (R-IOWA) AND REP. DAN R. MCGEHEE (D-MISS) ARE SCHEDULED TO LEAVE HERE TOMORROW BY LEAVING DOMENGEAUX

A N REP. FRED L. CRAWFORD (R-MICH) TO COMPLETE THE HEARINGS BEFOR LEAVING HERE FRIDAY.

(The Versatile)

HAMILTON, BERMUDA, JUNE 16-(AP)-- A U. S. ARMY JEEP RACED THE STORK MONDAY NIGHT--AND WON.

THE JEEP WAS FLAGGED DOWN BY A WORRIED FATHER WHO WAS BECOMING INCREASINGLY AWARE THAT THE HORSE AND CARRIAGE IN WHICH HE WAS TAKING HIS WIFE TO THE HOSPITAL WAS NOT GOING TO MAKE IT IN TIME.

THE JEEP REACHED THE HOSPITAL A MATTER OF SECONDS BEFORE A BABY GIRL WAS BORN.

JUN 17 1943

by the associated press

the berlin radio reported that sofia, bulgaria, experienced two air raid alarms on tuesday night, the second lasting about an hour, but that no planes were heard and no bombs dropped in the city.

the broadcast, recorded by the associated press, said fire brigade clanked through sofia's streets and its anti-aircraft defenses fired several rounds. Bulgaria is a satellite of the axis powers.

DISPATCH FROM ROME, BROADCAST BY THE BERLIN RADIO AND RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, SAID TODAY THAT CARLOS SCORZA, MEX SECRETARY OF THE FASCIST PARTY, HAS BEEN APPOINTED A MEMBER OF THE GRAND COUNCIL OF THE PARTY.

JUN 17 1943

JUN 17 1943

30.24-5099

NEW YORK, JUNE 16-(AP)-- A LONDON BROADCAST REPORTED TODAY THAT THE GESTAPO "HAS TAKEN OVER THE FUNCTIONS OF THE NORWEGIAN GENDARMERIE" [redacted] A STEP TAKEN AS "ANOTHER PROOF OF THE DISCONTENT AMONG THE GERMAN OCCUPATION TROOPS IN NORWAY." THE BROADCAST WAS RECORDED BY CBS.

by the associated press

now the men of bucharest may not:

1. appear in public without coats, hot or cold.

2. open shirts collars in public.

3. turn up shirt sleeves.

4. behave "provocatively."

these new restrictions on comfort were listed in an article in the bucharest german-language newspaper, deutsche zeitung, reported to the office of war information yesterday (wednesday).

the city's ladies did not escape. they may not (a) appear on the streets heavily rouged or (b) do their hair up "too showily."

the paper, setting forth that [redacted] offenders "do not understand the severity of the times," advised the people they would be "tried" if caught disobeying the order.

JUN 17 1943

italian leaders recently decreed that flashy clothing no longer may

by the associated press

a tokyo broadcast quoting a moscow dispatch said today (thursday) it was learned that mostake matto, japanese ambassador to the soviet union, visited the kremlin last night and conferred with foreign minister molotov. the broadcast, heard by the associated press, gave no details.

JUN 17 1943

by the associated press

virginio gayda, editor of il giornale d'italia, declared yesterday (ved) in a commentary broadcast by the rome radio that italy had "firmly decided to maintain and extend" he war contribution "until victory" and that italy "does not bend neither before threats of terrorism nor before enemy flattery or allurement."

JUN 17 1943

in the commentary, apparently designed to soothe minds troubled by italy's recent losses, gayda described the italian-german war association as a "precious alliance of economic force."

the broadcast, recorded by the associated press, quoted him as as boasting that "by keeping the war in africa and the mediterranean, italy has hindered an anglo-american attack against the european continent."

without italian intervention, he said, british and american forces in those areas "would immediately have been conveyed to strengthen the anglo-saxons' defenses in the pacific and the offense against germany."

JUN 17 1943

he said that without italy's participation in the axis cause:

the mediterranean would have remained open and britain supplies toward the indian and pacific oceans "would have been quicker, ampler, surer."

from the mediterranean the britiah would have been able "through the balkans to launch a mass offensive against germany, thereby supporting indirectly soviet russia's operations."

would

"the war consequently have been more difficult and dangerous for japan and germany."

JUN 17 1943

(ADVANCE)...WASHINGTON, JUNE 15-(AP)-CONGRESS WAS TOLD TODAY THAT THE WAR SHIPPING ADMINISTRATION (WSA), DURING THE FISCAL YEAR BEGINNING JULY 1, EXPECTS TO MORE THAN DOUBLE THE NUMBER AND TONNAGE OF SHIPS IT HAD IN OPERATION EARLY THIS YEAR.

WHILE WITHHOLDING SPECIFIC FIGURES, REAR ADMIRAL EMORY S. LAND, WAR SHIPPING ADMINISTRATOR, MADE THIS DISCLOSURE IN TESTIMONY BEFORE THE HOUSE APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE MADE PUBLIC TODAY.

HE TESTIFIED IN SUPPORT OF A BUDGET ESTIMATE OF $2,300,000,000 FOR THE USA'S REVOLVING FUND FOR THE NEW FISCAL YEAR, REPRESENTING AN INCREASE OF $1,223,989,583 OVER CURRENT APPROPRIATIONS.

THE BUDGET ALSO CARRIED $72,000,000 FOR THE MARITIME TRAINING FUND AND $350,000 FOR FEDERAL CONTRIBUTIONS TO STATE MARINE SCHOOLS AND MAINTENANCE AND REPAIR OF TRAINING VESSELS.

ADMIRAL LAND TOLD THE COMMITTEE THAT AS OF FEBRUARY, 1943, 41

JUN 17 1943

1943

30.24-5101

PER CENT OF THE NATION'S MERCHANT FLEET WAS WORKING FOR THE ARMY; 13 PER CENT FOR THE NAVY; 30 PER CENT FOR LEND-LEASE; 16 PER CENT FOR THE CIVILIAN ECONOMY, OF WHICH ABOUT EIGHT PER CENT WAS FOR STRATEGIC MATERIALS SUCH AS BAUXITE.

EXPANSION OF THE MERCHANT FLEET DURING THE FISCAL YEAR, HE SAID, WILL REQUIRE THE TRAINING AND PLACEMENT OF 35,000 OFFICERS AND 145,000 SEAMEN, MORE THAN THE PRESENT FLEET.

THE MANPOWER SITUATION IN THE MERCHANT MARINE, HE ADDED, IS "PROGRESSIVELY BECOMING MORE ACUTE," BUT SO FAR THE WSA HAD MET THE PROBLEM OF HAVING CREWS TRAINED AND READY TO PUT FIVE SHIPS A DAY INTO COMMISSION.

"IT IS GOING TO BECOME INCREASINGLY DIFFICULT. WE BELIEVE WE WILL BE ABLE TO DO IT," HE ADDED.

DEPUTY WSA ADMINISTRATOR LEWIS DOUGLAS TOLD THE COMMITTEE THAT ALTHOUGH IN THE PAST ABOUT 70 PER CENT OF THE VESSELS COMPRISING THE PRESENT FLEET CAME FROM EXISTING TONNAGE AND ONLY 30 PER CENT FROM NEW CONSTRUCTION, THE NUMBER OF REMAINING AVAILABLE SHIPS IS SMALL AND IN THE FUTURE NEW CONSTRUCTION AND MORE EFFICIENT USE, REPAIR AND OPERATION WILL BE "ALL-IMPORTANT."

JUN 17 1943

"THE SERIOUSNESS OF THE SUBMARINE WARFARE," HE SAID, "IS INDICATED BY THE FACT THAT IN SPITE OF THE TREMENDOUS SHIPBUILDING PROGRAM OF THE UNITED STATES SUPPLEMENTED BY THE CONSTRUCTION OF OTHER NATIONS, THE NET GAIN IN UNITED NATIONS' FLEETS OVER THE ENTIRE PERIOD SINCE PEARL HARBOR IS ONLY A LITTLE OVER 1,000,000 DEADWEIGHT TONS."

THE WSA BUDGET ESTIMATES, DOUGLAS TOLD THE COMMITTEE, INCLUDED $371,587,000 FOR WAGES, OF WHICH $201,388,000 REPRESENTED "NORMAL" WAGES AND $170,199,000 BONUS PAYMENTS.

BONUSES ARE PAID, DOUGLAS EXPLAINED, WHEN SHIPS OPERATE IN CERTAIN AREAS; ADDITIONAL BONUSES WHEN A SHIP STOPS AT CERTAIN PORTS, AND ADDITIONAL BONUSES WHEN THE SHIP IS UNDER ATTACK.

SOME MEMBERS QUESTIONED THE FAIRNESS OF THE BONUS SCHEDULE, BUT CHAIRMAN CANNON (D-MO) PUT AN END TO THE DISCUSSION BY COMMENTING:

"YOU MIGHT SAY THIS, WHILE THAT IS HIGH, THE FACT IS THAT IT IS FREQUENTLY PAYABLE TO THE WIDOW."

(END ADVANCE TO BE HELD FOR RELEASE, EXPECTED ABOUT NOON, EWT, TODAY, JUNE 16)

SU1034AEW

Navy Reports 45 Zeros, 32 Enemy Bombers of Air Armada Destroyed

Foe May Have Tried Recapture of Island

Two American Ships Hit by Raiders; Foe's Loss for June 146 Planes

By Leif Erickson

AN ADVANCED SOUTH PACIFIC BASE, June 17 (AP).—A force of about 120 Japanese bombers and fighter planes attempted to attack Guadalcanal Wednesday afternoon, but American fighters shot down seventy-seven of the raiders in a major air victory.

Only six American fighters were lost. The pilot of one was saved.

The damage to Guadalcanal was minor. The headquarters spokesman said he assumed that the Japanese bombing succeeded in scoring hits on only two vessels, one a Liberty-type cargo carrier and the other a smaller ship. The cargo vessel was beached for salvage, while nine men were killed on the smaller ship.

These were the only casualties caused by enemy bombs.

[This was the first report of the objective of the big enemy air formation. Dispatches from Washington said the Navy bulletin did not give the objective but that it was assumed the objective was of utmost importance, perhaps a convoy, perhaps a thrust at Guadalcanal to thwart an American drive northward.]

Enemy's Greatest Loss

The loss was the greatest inflicted on the Japanese in any single battle with enemy land-based aircraft in the Solomons group, said a spokesman at this Air Force headquarters.

The headquarters spokesman observed that the seventy-seven-plane loss was a major blow to Japanese air strength in the Solomons and the Bismarck Sea areas. Wednesday's toll brought to 146 the number of enemy aircraft shot down in this theater for the month of June.

The official headquarters total on enemy plane losses in the South Pacific area since last July 31 is now 1,414.

The original report from the Solomons air headquarters on the wholesale destruction of the Japanese raiding airfleet said approximately 120 planes came down on Guadalcanal, "with very few coming back."

Thirty-two of the enemy planes destroyed were dive-bombers, and 45 were Zero fighters.

Headquarters announced that American bombers delivered a heavy blow Wednesday against Sangigi, an enemy outpost on Choiseul Island, in the Solomons group between Bougainville and New Georgia Islands, and the objective was "flattened."

JUN 18 1943

YANKS BAG 77 JAP PLANES, LOSE SIX

U. S. Pilots Exact 13-To-1 Toll In Great Air Battle Over Guadalcanal

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 17—American airmen knocked seventy-seven Japanese planes out of the sky over Guadalcanal island in one of the greatest and possibly one of the most significant air battles of the war in the South Pacific, and only six United States aircraft are missing as a result of the engagement.

A navy bulletin today announcing this 13-to-1 ratio contained no indication as to the Japanese objective in risking so large a force of bombers and fighters in the southeastern Solomons, where they have been consistently and badly defeated in the air.

Possible Reasons For Raid

In authoritative quarters here, however, it was assumed that the objective must have been one of utmost importance to the enemy and bearing directly on future developments of the war.

One suggestion was the Japanese might have been trying to reach an American convoy in the area. Another was that they may have intended to cripple the base on Guadalcanal, in the assumption that it was destined to play an important role in the next big American thrust northward.

The engagement took place Wednesday. The enemy planes shot down consisted of thirty-two bombers and forty-five Zero fighters. The total strength of the enemy force was not reported, but was considered to be somewhat greater than the number of aircraft they lost.

Largest Since April 7

The raiding force was the largest sent by the Japanese command into the Guadalcanal area since April 7 when fifty bombers and forty-eight fighters attacked a convoy near the island. At that time thirty-nine of the Nipponese planes were shot down, while American losses consisted of seven planes, two pilots and two ships—a destroyer and a tanker. An Allied corvette also was lost.

Again June 12 the Japanese made a heavy foray into the American-held part of the Solomons chain, striking with forty to fifty fighter planes at the Russell islands which lie off the northwestern tip of Guadalcanal and accommodate an advanced American base. The objective at that time obviously was to smother the American defenses with such overwhelming strength that they would be crippled or knocked out.

The Japanese lost that trick too, because twenty-five of their planes were definitely shot down and eight were probably destroyed while United States forces lost only six planes and two pilots.

The record in those actions indicated the possibility that some

JUN 18 1943

U. S. Fliers Bag 77 Jap Planes In Great Battle at Guadalcanal; Turkey Recalls Her Vichy Envoy

JUN 18 1943

of the pilots of the half dozen American planes lost Wednesday later might turn up safe.

None of the previous actions resulted in a score as heavily in favor of our forces as the 13-to-1 record turned in the latest battle.

The navy also reported our forces had struck effectively at enemy bases in both the Solomons area and in the Aleutians sector of the North Pacific.

Munda Bases Attacked

Tuesday dive and torpedo bombers, escorted by fighter planes, assaulted Japanese positions in western New Georgia Island, the Munda air base area, and started fires and caused heavy explosions, the communique said. Next day dive bombers, with fighter escort, attacked Japanese positions on Choiseul Island, north of the Munda sector, and started fires.

Meanwhile, in the North Pacific on Tuesday afternoon, the navy's new Vega Ventura medium bombers attacked the Japanese base on Kiska Island and scored hits in the camp area, along the runway and among anti-aircraft batteries.

In the absence of further official information, it was the general expectation here that new American thrusts are in the making in the South Pacific. Secretary of the Navy Knox said only a few days ago at a press conference that it takes a long while to prepare for "any considerable movement," when he was asked why there had been no major fighting in the South Pacific for several months.

Rabaul Or Truk May Be Objective

One possible direction of such a thrust to which the enemy would of necessity give careful consideration would be northward from the Guadalcanal area. In that direction lie the bases of Rabaul, and still farther to the north, Truk, which is the enemy's main naval position in the South Pacific.

Recall Of Turkish Envoy To Vichy Is Reported At Bern

[By the Associated Press]

Bern, Switzerland, June 17—Turkey has recalled Behic Erkin, its Ambassador to France, in protest against strong German restrictions on his embassy in Vichy, a Turkish diplomatic source said today.

Erkin's recall to Ankara was not yet considered a rupture in relation. A Turkish Embassy counselor, occupied Vichy, this source said, but it could be a step in that direction. A Turkish embassy counsellor, M. Sevdat, also was told to return home.

Eve Of Anniversary

The move occurred on the eve of the anniversary of the signing of a German-Turkish friendship treaty June 18, 1941, and as German propagandists were declaring that Germany was "fully satisfied" with Turkey's political position despite "Anglo-American intimations—increasing in number of late—that Turkey already had made its choice in favor of the Allies."

The whole affair served to focus still more attention on the military and political situation in southeastern Europe and the Middle East.

Syrian Border Sealed

It came at a time when Allied leaders had sealed the Syrian-Turkish border to "protect troop movements" in Allied Syria, and when persistent reports said that Germany's Balkan satellites were seeking a means of escaping the Axis camp.

[The German Transocean Agency reported in an Ankara dispatch that Premier General Nuri Pasha Es Said of Iraq had issued an order of the day to his troops saying "the hour of decision and active service" was approaching. Iraq joined the war against the Axis last January.

[Berlin's broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press, said this alleged order, together with the closing of the Syrian-Turkish border, and the silence of radio stations at Beirut, Jaffa and Jerusalem, made it possible "that the Anglo-Saxons in the near future will launch a military action from the Levant." Berlin also found a possible explanation in "an intensified war of nerves" on the part of the Allies.]

Allied Pressure Cited

Besides registering a protest against German Gestapo surveillance of the Turkish Embassy in Vichy, another reason advanced for Erkin's recall was pressure on the part of the Allies, who hope that Vichy will retaliate by recalling Gaston Bergery, its Ankara Ambassador.

Allied quarters hold that Bergery "is too friendly with the Axis; sees too much of (German Ambassador to Turkey) von Papen," said this source, who cannot be identified by name.

Pivotal Turkey has a mutual assistance pact with Britain which never has been implemented, and recent Turkish utterances have indicated that Turkey has been impressed with the thoroughness and striking power of British and American military power in the Mediterranean theater.

En Route To Turkey

Erkin was believed to be already en route to Turkey after the Germans refused to issue him a visa which would have enabled him to return through Switzerland; instead the Germans granted him passage through Germany.

Relations between Vichy and Ankara were reported very strained, with the Turks especially angered at the Petain-Laval regime due to German interference.

The German secret police were said to have instituted a close watch recently on the Turkish Embassy at Vichy, forbidding it to use code messages. The embassy was allowed to continue the use of a diplomatic pouch, but, according to this Turkish diplomatic source, the pouch was opened at the border and examined.

Rupture Disclaimed

A Vichy agency distributed a statement tonight quoting "circles close to the Foreign Affairs Ministry" as saying that nothing was known of a rupture of relations between France and Turkey.

[The Algiers radio earlier had broadcast a report that relations were broken between the two countries. Berlin promptly countered with a broadcast denying the report. An Ankara dispatch quoted by Berlin said the Turkish Ambassador's recall "might possibly be due to the fact that the Turkish Government is at present contemplating a change of diplomatic representation at Vichy," and said the Allies were "going all out in their war of nerves."]

Consulates Moved

Turkey was not the only country whose foreign missions were encountering trouble in France. The Vichy correspondent of the Gazette de Lausanne reported that all foreign consulates in the Mediteranean coastal areas of France had been ordered to move into the interior.

The Swiss consulate at Nice, which had a staff of sixty to handle the interests of various belligerents, will be removed to Grenoble, and one at marseille is going to Montelimar next Monday.

Since the German occupation of all France, Swiss consulates at Bordeaux, Nantes, Le Havre and Lille have been forced to close.

An Algiers broadcast recorded by Reuters said Germany had asked Turkey to recall her consul in Mytilene, capital of the Greek island of that name in the Aegean Sea off the Turkish coast, 170 miles northeast of Athens. The Turkish consul at Salonika, a likely landing point in an Allied invasion, was reported already recalled.

COLOGNE HIT 116TH TIME BY RAF BOMBERS

Blow Is Aimed At Halting Any Reconstruction Of Nazi Industry

JUN 18 1943

Other Air Fleets Attack Convoy Off Coast And Rail Transport

London, Friday, June 18 (AP)—A London postoffice was hit by "oil-drum" bombs early today during a short-lived German air attack on the city's metropolitan area.

Earlier reports said some persons were injured when a building was struck. Shortly after the alert was sounded, one explosion was heard in the area. The all-clear followed shortly.

Berlin overseas radio transmission was interrupted at 1.43 A. M. today, for "technical reasons," Reuters reported. This German radio silence usually is the forerunner of Allied air raids on the Continent.

YAHNER

[By the Associated Press]

London, June 17 — Cologne—Germany's most-bombed city—was pounded for the one hundred and sixteenth time last night by many of the RAF's heaviest bombers, sent to flatten any reconstruction in the vital war industries concentrated along the banks of the Rhine.

Other air fleets attacked all three ships of a coastal convoy and rail transport on the Continent in early morning hours, and Allied planes kept sweeping over during the day.

Cologne, target of the first 1,000-bomber raid on May 30, 1942, was last struck in a heavy night assault on February 26, when 600 acres of the city were reported devastated. It was raided lightly again April 9, then given a respite until last night.

Fourteen Bombers Lost

The Air Minstry announced simply that RAF bombers "attacked objectives at Cologne and elsewhere in the Rhineland," but the attack was undoubtedly carefully aimed to demolish reconstruction in communications, ammunition plants, chemical works, power stations and other war-important operations in the industrial city.

The foray by the heavy bombers, coming after a Tuesday night break in the hammer blows on German industry, cost fourteen big planes with one fighter also lost, the Air Ministry said.

Returning pilots said that the attack on Cologne caught the city's defenses off guard and that anti-aircraft guns did not open up until after the first bombs fell.

Residential Damage

The German communique said bombs fell on residential quarters, "especially in Cologne, and caused losses among the population and damage to buildings."

Every one of the three ships in the convoy caught off the coast of Holland was damaged, one so severely in probably sank, by Typhoons and Hurribombers.

The Germans sent night fighters up in cloudy weather over the Rhineland targets, which made observation of exact results difficult, but there was no opposition to the convoy attack.

In almost hourly offensive sweeps over the Continent, RAF fighters shot down a total of nine German fighters during the day. Two of the raiders failed to return.

Front-Line Reporter

The Germans put a so-called "front-line reporter" back on the air again tonight to buck up the bomb-nervous industrial workers of the west, and DNB's military correspondent in a 1,000-word story maintained that Allied bombing wasn't doing much military damage.

The "front-line reporter" in a broadcast from "the terror-scarred western part of Germany," declared that "all people are equally affected. All have to stay put. All suffer. All have to cooperate.

"The population has to prove its courage during those anxious and long minutes when bomb explosions, the noise of guns and droning airplanes hammer at people's ears. For the defending forces of a town it is really an honorable soldiers' war.

Sees House Bombed

"More than once," said the broadcast reported by the Associated Press, a German fighter pilot "up over the Rhine river was attacking an enemy aircraft when he saw from some 3,000 feet altitude how his own house was hit."

The DNB account of bomb damage, also broadcast by Berlin, made the usual assertion that Allied bombers picked "residential and cultural monuments" as targets "almost exclusively," and that when bombs did hit industrial plants, it was impossible to obtain full effect because the German armament industry was not concentrated.

Praising the attitude of the population to bombing, DNB said "in these danger zones people do not wish to leave their homes and jobs although they have the opportunity."

Then, it added, "special preventive measures" have been taken "for the protection of the population" designed "to increase further their power of resistance physically and psychologically."

JUN 18 1943

RADIO ALSO REPORTS BIG ALLIED CONCENTRATION OF BARGES OFF AFRICA

Axis Recognizes Foe Could Land And Imperi War Plants, Paris Commentator Hints. Ankara Recalls Vichy Envoy, Bern Hears

JUN 18 1943

[By the Associated Press]

London, Friday, June 18—The Rome radio broad-

JUN 18 1943

30. 24— 5103

cast a report early today that "large British forces are concentrating along the southern frontier of Turkey," after previously telling its listeners of "many landing craft concentrating from African coasts toward Pantelleria."

The broadcast, recorded by Reuters, apparently was Italy's interpretation of the closing of the Syrian-Turkish border. There was no confirmation from Allied quarters and none, of course, was expected, even if the report were true.

Allies Could Land And Endanger War Plants, Nazis Fear

JUN 18 1943

[By the Associated Press]

London, June 17 — Admissions from inside official Germany that the Nazi leadership and military machine have made mistakes were coupled tonight with an appeal for the German public to stand fast behind the vaunted anti-invasion guard thrown up along the menaced European coast.

The Rome radio, in a broadcast recorded by the Ministry of Information, quoted an article by Paul Joseph Goebbels, Nazi Propaganda Minister, in Das Reich, saying:

"Silence above all should be observed by our noisy critics. In this world no one is infallible and this applies equally well to the Government and chiefs of staff who are just as liable to make mistakes as anyone else."

German Public "Spoiled"

He added that "the German public . . . has been spoiled by a long series of Blitzkriegs and swift, triumphant victories."

The military commentator of the German-run Paris radio suggested that the Axis recognizes the possibilty that Allied landings can gain foothold and perhaps cut deeply enough into Europe to menace war industries there.

"Both Germany and Italy have prepared detailed anti-invasion plans," said the broadcast, heard by the Associated Press. "Squadrons of planes are ready to take off and munitions plants have been transferred to safety."

One Anti-Invasion Scheme

The commentator reported that anti-invasion maneuvers are being held at key points along the whole coast, including tests of pouring out an oil film over coastal waters which could be ignited in a flaming wall as "an ingenious German method" of setting landing boats ablaze.

On the Mediterranean flank Italy was looking apprehensively at what the Rome radio described as a fleet of "many landing craft concentrating from African coasts toward Pantelleria."

"Since Pantelleria ceased resistance," said the broadcast recorded by the Associated Press, "the final struggle in the Mediterranean has been characterized by an increase of Axis air force activity against enemy shipping in the Sicilian channel.

Air Drive Continues

"The Axis aerial offensive continues unrelentingly against many landing craft concentrating from the African coasts toward Pantelleria, against the concentration of naval units in that bay and against enemy convoys sailing eastward from Gibraltar. Good results for this offensive are reported daily in Axis communiques.

"That proves that the great lines of the strategic situation in the Mediterranean are practically the same and that after taking possession of Pantelleria and Lampedusa the enemy must take notice that the difficulties of attacking the European fortress are still the same.

Landing 'No Easier"

"From the aerial point of view and the naval point of view the fifty-mile advance obtained (by the Allies) during the latest operations cannot make easier an attempt at a big-scale landing in insular and peninsular territories."

Madrid reported a powerful Allied fleet in Gibraltar harbor.

One Italian commentator said "British authorities are getting more and more nervous as the zero hour for major operations approaches," and the German radio warned invasion would mean "a blood bath without precedent."

Meanwhile, the eastern Mediterranean area apparently had produced another great worry for Hitler, with the Moscow radio reporting that the chief of the German security police, Ernest Kaltendrunner, had been rushed to Rumania to reorganize the police, and that the situation in Bucharest appeared "very tense."

Politicians Hiding

Many leading politicians were reported hiding. A Rome broadcast of a Bucharest "official communique" denied yesterday's Ankara reports that Rumania was seeking peace.

Underground movements in Rumania and Bulgaria were reported in Cairo to be becoming stronger and more outspoken.

Eight more Czechs were executed in Prague, presumably for sabotage, the Czecho-Slovak Government in exile announced.

In Stockholm, Prime Minister Per Albin Hansson said all civilian authorities had received instructions for "resistance to the last" in event of invasion of Sweden.

R.A.F. OVER GERMANY BERLIN MAY BE TARGET

LONDON, Friday, June 18—(AP)—R.A.F. bombers ranged over Europe last night for the seventh successive night and the Rome radio reported that Berlin itself—free from attack since May 21—had been one of the targets.

London, meanwhile, was the object of a brief attack during which "oil drum" bombs fell in one metropolitan area, hitting a post office and causing some casualties. A British south coast town also was reported bombed.

Observers on the British south coast said an apparently large force of R.A.F. bombers was out during the night. Earlier fast British planes had struck out for the French coast, returning a short time later.

COLOGNE BLASTED IN HEAVY R. A. F. ATTACK ON RUHR

14 Bombers Are Missing---Fighter Sweeps Wreck Nine Locomotives.

London, June 17 (A. P.).—Heavily battered Cologne and other objectives in the Rhineland were the R. A. F.'s targets last night as the current aerial offensive against Germany continued. At the same time, the Air Ministry announced, R. A. F. fighters attacked transport and other targets in Holland and Belgium.

Fourteen bombers and one fighter were declared to be missing from the night's operations.

The offensive continued today as R. A. F. fighters shuttled back and forth across the channel to attack German-occupied territory, and it was authoritatively stated that they had destroyed six enemy fighters in these operations at the cost of one R. A. F. fighter plane.

A large force of Allied planes was heard heading across the Strait of Dover this afternoon into northern France, according to reports from Folkestone. The aircraft flew at a great height, and their roar was lost as they went toward Calais.

Two R. A. F. typhoons, striking at Germany's precious stock of locomotives, damaged at least nine in the Douai and Bethune areas of northern France yesterday, beating off four Focke-Wulf 190's and flying through intensive anti-aircraft barrages to make their getaway. Ever since the offensive against Hitler's transportation has been stepped up, trains have been outfitted with stronger flak protection.

116th Raid on Cologne.

The Air Ministry also announced that R. A. F. Hurricanes and Typhoons tore into a three-ship enemy convoy early today off the Netherlands and damaged all of them, one so severely it was stated she probably sank. The planes suffered no loss and left all the ships smoking from bomb hits and bullets.

Last night's raid was the 116th on Cologne and the first heavy night attack on the city since February 26. In the February attack it was said that 600 acres of the city had been laid waste.

The R. A. F.'s attack last night undoubtedly was to nullify rebuilding efforts in rail and road communications and to smash repairs intended to put chemical works, ammunition factories, engineering and truck plants, power stations, blast furnaces and oil refineries back into commission.

[The German radio voiced its customary assertions that British bombers "attacked residential quarters in western German cities" and said that "hospitals and churches were again the favored objectives of the enemy." It did not identify the targets but said at least fourteen bombers were shot down.]

NAZIS SHORT ON SUPPLIES, LONDON SAYS

Paris Radio Asserts That Drive Is Expected On Central Front

Quarrel Between Reich High Command Officers Reported

JUN 18 1943

(By the Associated Press)

London, June 17—The Germans predicted today that the Russians would seize the initiative in a summer offensive in three weeks—an initiative the Nazis themselves were reported here as unable to take as planned on June 16 in the Orel sector because of supply shortages.

The Paris radio said Berlin expects "the offensive will start on the central front where the Soviets are massing strong forces" and are making continued local attacks in the Orel sector.

A Berlin broadcast, also recorded by the Associated Press, reported Russian troops massing around Kursk, ninety miles south of Orel, and said there might be "large-scale military developments there" soon.

Quarrel Reported

The Germans, it is reported, after a quarrel of high commanders, decided not to risk another all-out drive against the Russians this summer.

German troops already were moving into positions when the offensive was postponed, this source said the first time that German plans had been delayed because of any shortages. The informant gave this account:

Field Marshal General Fedor von Bock, Nazi commander in chief in Russia, argued down the proposal of Hitler and Lieut. Gen. Eberhard Warlimondt, his principal strategist, for an all-out offensive, even resigning in order to win his point. Warlimondt resigned when von Bock's program was accepted and the field marshal resumed command. But von Bock had to halt the June 16 plans when he found forward supply depots with insufficient food, fuel and munitions.

Gamble Too Big

Von Bock was pictured as feeling it would be madness to make a big gamble in Russia while invasion of Europe was threatened.

The heavy Allied aerial offensive against Germany, and the mighty Russian raids upon German airfields, transportation, and supply dumps were credited with contributing largely to the German shortage, and hampering the Nazis' will to carry an offensive war into Russia.

Meanwhile, the Red army was reported officially to have smashed repeated German efforts to regain lost positions north of Orel for the fourth straight day today. The enemy, however, is said to be throwing fresh troops into action on this sector, where it has been expected the Germans would launch a summer offensive.

In contrast to German high command reports of only "local activity" in Russia, the night Moscow bulletin said the Germans had suffered "heavy losses in manpower and material" northwest of Mtsensk, which is forty miles above Orel, in "unceasing attempts" to regain several villages recently overrun by the Red army.

The Germans are "bringing fresh troops into action," said the bulletin, recorded by the Soviet monitor.

Long-range Russian bombers started 100 big fires on German airdromes last night, a special Moscow announcement said. Explosions also were touched off in ammunition dumps, and hangars and parked planes were damaged in raids that cost the Russians two planes.

Railway Trains Hit

Moscow's night communique also pointed out that in one recent raid on Mogilev, German rail and river base on the upper Dnieper 250 miles northwest of Orel, the Red air forces blew up three ammunition dumps, smashed many railway trains and the bridge over the Dnieper, and killed several hundred Germans.

Quoting reports presumably received from their guerrillas and agents operating behind the German front, the communique said one large group of Germans were killed by a direct bomb hit on a Mogilev shelter.

The bulletin added that during yesterday's operations on various sectors of the long Russian front, the Red air force destroyed at least twenty German trucks carrying troops and supplies, silenced three artillery batteries, and blew up five ammunition and fuel dumps and several enemy trains.

Two Planes Downed

Russian pilots also shot down two German planes yesterday on the Smolensk front, while Soviet infantry and artillery killed several hundred Germans and destroyed a locomotive and six freight cars.

Outnumbered Russian troops defending a height in the Belgorod sector below Orel were reported to have killed 125 Germans in a successful local fight; on the Volkhov front southeast of Leningrad another 150 Germans fell to Soviet mortar and machine-gun fire, and a Finnish group was repulsed on the Karelian front above Leningrad.

RED ARMY SMASHES NAZIS' OREL BLOWS

Germans Pour In Fresh Troops as Four-Day Effort Fails to Rewin Mtsensk Zone

OFFENSIVE REPORTED OFF

Von Bock Said to Delay Drive on Finding Supplies Short—More Bases Bombed

LONDON, Friday, June 18 (AP)—

JUN 18 1943

The Red Army was reported officially early today to have smashed repeated German efforts to regain lost positions north of Orel for the fourth straight day yesterday, but the enemy is throwing fresh troops into action in this sector, where the Germans have been expected to launch a summer offensive.

In contrast with German High Command reports of only "local activity" in Russia, the midnight Soviet communiqué said the Germans had suffered "heavy losses in manpower and material" northwest of Mtsensk, which is forty miles above Orel, in "unceasing attempts" to regain several villages recently overrun by the Red Army.

The Germans are "bringing fresh troops into action," said the bulletin, recorded here by the Soviet monitor.

Offensive Reported Delayed

A foreign source in London, who has reliable contacts inside Germany, said the Germans had planned a powerful offensive in the Orel sector, to begin two days ago, but it was postponed at the last moment when Field Marshal General Fedor von Bock found the supplies at forward bases inadequate.

Berlin, on the other hand, predicted that the Russians were planning a major campaign in the same secor. German broadcasts suggested that the Red Army would strike within three weeks.

The Red air force kept up its pounding of rear-line German bases, an offensive corresponding with Allied blows struck in the west to weaken Axis war-making capacities.

Russian bombers started 100 big fires on German airdromes on Wednesday night, a special Moscow announcement said. Explosions also were touched off in ammunition dumps and hangars and parked planes were damaged in raids that cost the Russians two planes.

The effectiveness of these raids, in conjunction with the heavy British attacks on the Ruhr's munitions factories, would appear to be illustrated in the foreign source's report that Germany's summer offensive has been delayed by lack of supplies.

Moscow's midnight communiqué also pointed out that in one recent raid on Mogilev, German rail and river base on the upper Dnieper 250 miles northwest of Orel, Soviet bombers blew up three ammunition dumps, smashed many railway trains and the bridge over the Dnieper and killed several hundred Germans.

Quoting reports presumably received from the well-organized Soviet guerrillas and agents operating behind the German front, the communiqué said many Germans were killed by a direct bomb hit on a Mogilev shelter.

ROME FEARS MOVE BY BRITISH TROOPS

Armies Massing on Frontier of Turkey, Says Italian Broadcast.

JUN 18 1943

LONDON, Friday, June 18—(AP) The Rome radio broadcast a report early today that "large British forces are concentrating along the southern frontier of Turkey," after previously telling its listeners of "many landing craft concentrating from African coasts toward Pantelleria."

The broadcast, recorded by Reuters, apparently was Italy's interpretation of the closing of the Syrian-Turkish border. There was no confirmation from Allied quarters, and none of course was expected even if the report were true.

Nazi Offensive Called Off

A foreign source here already had reported that frontline supply shortages born of Allied air attrition had forced the Germans to call off a scheduled Russian offensive.

On this same cheerless day for the Axis, new difficulties were reported in Rumania, and a Turkish ambassador had been recalled to Ankara from Nazi-controlled Vichy in protest against Gestapo restrictions upon the embassy.

In anti-Axis Iraq, Premier-Gen. Nuri Pasha Es Said was reported in a Berlin broadcast to have issued an order of the day to his troops, calling attention to an approaching "hour of decision and active service." The Berlin broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press, quoted an Ankara dispatch as saying that this development made it possible that "the Anglo-Saxons in the near future will launch a military action from the levant."

Rome Uneasy

Indicative of Italian invasion nervousness, a Rome broadcast told of ar. Axis aerial attack continuing "unrelentingly against many landing craft concentrating from African coasts toward Pantelleria, against a concentration of naval units in that bay ,and against the east."

The broadcast, quoting the newspaper Il Messaggero, asserted that the "difficulties to attack the European fortress are still the same."

From Ankara came word that the Turkish-Syrian border had been closed to "protest troop movements" on the Syrian side.

This eastern Mediterranean area apparently had produced another great worry for Hitler, with the Moscow radio reporting that the chief of the German security police, Ernest Kaltendrunner, had been rushed to Rumania to reorganize the police, and that the situation in Bucharest appeared "very tense". Many leading politicians were reported hiding. A Rome broadcast of a Bucharest "official communique" denied yesterday's Ankara reports that Rumania was seeking peace.

Underground movements in Rumania and Bulgaria were reported ir. Cairo to be becoming stronger, and more outspoken.

Eight more Czechs were executed in Prague, presumably for sabotage, the Czecho-Slovak government in exile announced.

In Stockholm, Prime Minister Per Albin Hansson said all civilian authorities had received instructions for "resistance to the last" in event of invasion of Sweden.

Madrid reported a powerful Allied fleet in Gibraltar harbor.

One Italian commentator said, "British authorities are getting more and more nervous as the zero hour for major operations approaches," and the German radio warned invasion would mean "a blood bath without precedent."

had been lost in the twin attacks on the German shipyards, but an Eighth Air Force announcement today disclosed that the Kiel raiders destroyed "by official count an estimated average of four fighters for every bomber lost, while absorbing the total enemy resistance so successfully as to permit a larger attacking force to bomb its target at Bremen almost without fighter molestation."

Warm praise came from Gen. Henry H. Arnold, chief of the United States Army Air Forces, and Lieut. Gen. Jacob L. Devers, commander of the air forces in the European theater, for the force which fought off over 200 German fighters at Kiel.

Only 24 Lost

[At Washington War Secretary Stimson earlier had placed the toll of German fighters in the Bremen-Kiel raid at sixty-nine and said that it later developed that twenty-four Fortresses, not twenty-six, were lost. Two returned to their bases late, he said.]

While the United States loss was the heaviest suffered in a single day over Europe, Maj. Gen. Ira C. Eaker, commander of the Eighth Air Force, asserted: "I'm satisfied with the results of the great battle over Kiel. I have congratulated the flyers who bore the brunt of it, as have Generals Arnold and Devers in a cable from Washington.

"It was a significant victory. German fighter strength is the stoutest shield they have against our bomber offensive. Their war industry is certain to be destroyed.

Brig. Gen. Fred L. Anderson, who led the force that struck at Kiel, said that "the Germans seem to be getting desperate. They want to dissipate mass bombing by ferocity of attack, but not one of my planes has ever been turned back by enemy action."

This was the ninth mission for the Kiel raiders. Officials said "they were experienced men, but on only one of their previous raids—at Antwerp—had they ever experienced even approximately as much fighter opposition."

Forts Probably Destroyed 100 German Planes In Raid

Kiel And Bremen Attacks Called U. S. Flyers' Greatest Single Battle Of War

[By the Associated Press] JUN 18 1943

London, June 17—American Flying Fortresses destroyed probably as Many as one hundred German fighters in the assault on Bremen and Kiel June 13 in what has been officially described as the "American airmen's greatest single battle of the war," it was announced today.

After the raids it was announced that twenty-six Flying For[illegible]

No Just Dogfight

"Ours is not primarily an aerial dogfight between bombers and fighters. It's a battle between bombers intent upon destruction of German war industry and the fighters whose existence depends upon delaying that inevitable conclusion."

U. S. Troops In Africa Are Praised By Briton

London, Friday, June 18 (AP)—A British war correspondent back from North Africa reports that no country could ask for more than the United States troops gave so cheerfully on the Tunisian battlefields, where "rookies of December" became "veterans of January" by the sheer will to win.

The reporter, A. D. Divine, attached to the American troops on the Medjez-el-Bab sector, wrote in the Daily Sketch today that while the Germans held the initiative "there was in America a considerable volume of adverse comment directed both at American leadership and in certain extreme cases at American soldiers."

"Events have answered the critics on the score of generalship and leadership," he wrote.

Troops Under Stress

He said he saw American troops "under the stress of calamity" and went on:

"Within four days of firing their first shot against the enemy they had passed through every stage, from overconfidence to disaster and back again to fighting efficiency; and they did it without aid from the outside, did it with their own sweat and their own blood.

"C Company of the Seven Hundred and First Tank Destroyers lived through those days to become one of the finest fighting units in the American army."

U-BOATS LEAVE OCEAN, REPORT

Informed Briton Asserts That Nazi Subs Are Being Badly Mauled

Raiders Now Assigned To Seas With Better Air Protection, It Is Said

JUN 18 1943

[By the Associated Press]

London, June 17—An informed British observer said today that Germany's submarines were being so badly mauled in the Atlantic that they were being withdrawn to seas where they can get a measure of air protection.

There, he said, they likely will prove to be troublesome.

The observer, who would not permit the use of his name, said that great success against submarines in the past weeks indicated that the U-boats had "been measured, but not beaten."

He did not elaborate on the seas where it was expected the submarines could be operated under air-force protection, but others said the Bay of Biscay, the North Sea, possibly the Mediterranean and limited use of the English Channel seemed the likeliest to them.

Turk-Syrian Border Reopened, Nazis Claim

London, June 17 (AP)—The German radio, quoting a DNB dispatch from Ankara said tonight the frontier between Turkey and Syria had been opened again, but the report was not confirmed by any Allied or neutral source.

The German broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press, said the Taurus express was again operating in the direction of Syria, but did not make it clear whether it was inferred from that alone that the frontier was open.

Ankara dispatches already had disclosed that the Taurus express was permitted to cross the border at least once after the official closing.

GOVERNMENT RESIGNS

LONDON, June 17—(AP) Yugoslav quarters reported today that Prime Minister Slobodan Jovanovich had tendered the resignation [illegible] of his government in London to King Peter and that the King accepted it to enable the expression of Yugoslavia's present and postwar policies through a new government.

U. S. Red Cross Club Opened in London

London, June 17 (A. P.).—The largest and most elaborate American Red Cross Club for enlisted men in Britain, including a hamburger bar, has been opened in London's West End. Formerly an exclusive club, the six-story building has sleeping accommodations for 2,000 soldiers. The rate is 20 cents a night.

The club has three large lounges, several reading rooms and game rooms, a gymnasium, showers, swimming pool, two dining rooms and a sun deck. There is a ballroom for dances and a concert hall suitable for both movies and stage shows.

Admiral Glassford at Dakar

LONDON, June 17 (AP).—The Algiers radio reported today that Vice-Admiral William A. Glassford had arrived at Dakar to take up a post as President Roosevelt's personal representative in French West Africa.

Eight Czechs Reported Executed In Prague

London, June 17 (AP)—The Czecho-Slovak Government in exile announced today that eight Czechs, including one woman, had been executed in Prague on charges of "being harmful to the nation" and committing crimes during blackouts, presumably acts of sabotage. The execution of seven others on the same charges was reported on June 15.

Twenty-nine Czechs were reported executed in May, bringing the total of the first five months of the year to 312. Most of them were sentenced by a "special German court" in Prague on charges of participating in the resistance movement, sheltering "foreign parachutists," sabotage and failure to deliver cereals from the last harvest to the Nazi occupation authorities.

Open 2nd U. S. Airdrome

Flying Fortresses Take Over Field in England Costing $8,000,000

JUN 18 1943

30. 24-5105

LONDON, June 18 (AP).—The second American-built and American-manned airdrome to be completed within the last month in Great Britain was formally taken over by the 8th Air Force yesterday when a formation of Flying Fortresses landed.

The 600-acre, $8,000,000 drome was begun eleven months ago on English forest and farmland by a unit which later was sent to North Africa. It was completed by a unit of Army aviation engineers who worked day and night. The British Air Ministry supplied the material.

DRIFT INTO LOVE

London, June 17 (A. P.).—A year ago today Margaret Moore, a London girl who was returning from Shanghai, met Capt. Stewart Hutchins of 45-36 Smart street, Flushing, L. I., on the deck of a sinking ship that had been torpedoed in the North Atlantic.

They climbed into the same lifeboat and were adrift twenty-four hours before they were rescued by different boats.

They met later in London, where Capt. Hutchins is assistant quartermaster of the Eighth American Air Force Fighter Command.

They were married today.

Clive Brook's Daughter Chucks Films for A.T.S.

LONDON—(AP)—Faith Brook, daughter of film star Clive Brook, has exchanged greasepaint for a uniform.

The twenty-one-year-old movie and stage actress left Hollywood to become a private in England's A.T.S. after hearing Lord Halifax broadcast an appeal for British women to return to their own country and take up war work.

On her next leave, Faith's famous father will see her in uniform for the first time.

BRITISH LABOR'S AIMS

London, June 17 (A. P.).—The British Labor party conference, by a vote of 1,803,000 to 720,000, today adopted a resolution declaring that "no permanent peace will be possible unless Germany is completely disarmed and her aggressive nationalism entirely eradicated." It also welcomed steps for "the r-education of the German people for democracy."

The conference rejected a resolution deploring the false identification of the peoples with their vicious governments" and opposing a "treaty of revenge on the the German people." The latter had been introduced by R. R. Stokes, Laborite member of Parliament, who has protested against what he describes as the bombing of the German civilian population.

ITALIAN COUNCIL REVAMPED ANEW

JUN 18 1943

London, June 17 (A. P.).—The Rome radio, in a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press, reported today that Premier Mussolini had ousted six more Fascist national councilors in a continuing shake-up of the party leadership. There have been repeated reports in recent weeks of changes in the Fascist organization and of disciplinary measures taken against members.

Six party officials were reported expelled during the latter part of May for undisclosed reasons.

Actual Break Reported.

London, June 17 (A. P.).—The Algiers radio, in a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press, said today that Turkey has broken off diplomatic relations with the Vichy government of France, recalling her Ambassador from the Nazi-dominated French capital. There was no direct confirmation from either Ankara or Vichy, and Algiers did not go into details. In London diplomats who would normally be aware of any such break could not confirm the report. and said they were inclined to doubt it.

A subsequent broadcast from Algiers, recorded by Reuters, said that Germany had asked Turkey to recall her consul in Mytilene, the capital of the Greek island of Mytilene, in the Ægean Sea off the Turkish coast and 170 miles northeast of Athens. The Turkish consul at Salonika was reported already recalled.

This broadcast also was without confirmation from other quarters.

Bucharest Is Tense.

Meanwhile today Axis anxieties about the Balkans were emphasized by a report that Ernst Kaltenbrunner, chief of the German Security Police, had been hurriedly sent to Rumania to reorganize the police force there. At the same time, the Moscow radio reported that the atmosphere in Bucharest was very tense and that many prominent Rumanian politicians were in hiding. Both of these developments were reported by Tass, the Russian official news agency, in a dispatch from Geneva.

Tass said that various leaders of the Rumanian Security Police had been arrested, that Gen. Ullea, the Court Chamberlain, was in protective custody and that Juliu Maniu, the Peasant party leader, was under supervision of the Gestapo.

On the other hand the Rome radio declared that the Rumanian authorities denied in a communique issued today at Bucharest that Rumania was seeking a separate peace. An Ankara report yesterday had said that Rumania had in fact sent out peace feelers.

Denies Russo-German Talks.

Also today a Reuters dispatch from Stockholm quoted Mrs. Alexandra Kollontay, the Russian Minister to Sweden, as denying yesterday's story in the Swedish pro-Nazi newspaper Allehanda that German and Russian representatives had met recently in Stockholm to discuss a possible peace. "It is an insolent and ridiculous German propaganda lie," Mrs. Kollontay told the Stockholm Dagens Nyheter, Reuters reported. "Peace negotiations with Germany are unthinkable."

The Algiers radio was quoted in Stockholm dispatches to London newspapers today as having said that the expectation of a separate peace was growing among the Italian masses and that frenzied applause greeted Pope Pius XII every time he mentioned peace in his address last Sunday.

The German radio declared in a broadcast picked up by Reuters that "an invasion will prove a blood-bath without precedent" and that "two-thirds of the landing force will be wiped out even before a decisive battle is joined."

'FORT' DOWNED IN SEA BY FOE, CREW ESCAPES

Shackeroo Victim Of Suicidal Nazi Attack After Bombing Of Kiel

JUN 18 1943

Yank Flyers Take To Rubber Raft, Picked Up By British Torpedo Boat

BRANHAM

[By the Associated Press]

A United States Bomber Station in England, June 17—The Flying Fortress Shackeroo, limping homeward after weathering one of the most savage air battles of the war to bomb Kiel, June 13, was forced down in the North Sea by enemy fighters diving out of clouds in a suicidal attack upon the depleted bomber formation halfway back to the British Isles.

The entire crew, two of whom were wounded, survived.

Ten hours after the battered Shackeroo plunged into the ocean ninety miles from England, British torpedo boats plowing through the rough, high running sea sighted the drenched crew huddled together in a rubber lifeboat.

Survivors Picked Up

One boat picked up the survivors and returned immediately to England.

Explosion of 20-millimeter cannon shells in the bomber nose wounded Lieut. A. S. Dahl, Columbus, N. D., navigator, and Lieut. Dequindre McGlaun, Columbus, Ga., bombadier, but not seriously. They are Sergt. Charles F. Ferrin, Sioux Falls, S. D., waist gunner, who suffered from exposure, are expected to leave the hopsital in a few days, wing headquarters said.

The Shackeroo was in the thick of a ferocious sky battle over Germany as the Nazis, in an all-out effort to prevent the raiders from reaching the submarine base on the western Baltic, sent up every type of aircraft they could get off the ground—Focke Wulfs, Messerschmitts and Junkers night fighter-bombers.

200 Nazi Fighters There

The Fortress crew estimated the enemy fighters numbered well over 200, and said they formed in lines of two, three and four abreast and attacked the Forts in waves from the front and rear.

Although the Shackeroo was badly hit over the target area, Major Lornsby Thorup, Salt Lake City, pilot, continued on to make the bomb run with one engine on fire and the ship filled with smoke from cannon bursts in the nose and radio compartment.

One burst set fire to a parachute on which Sergt. Joseph F. Griffen, of Woburn, Mass., radio-gunner, sat, but he kept the Germans from delivering mortal blows.

Outdistanced Enemy

The Shackeroo, in a badly thinned group which had borne the brunt of the enemy attack, had outdistanced swarms of enemy fighters and was halfway home on the 1,000-mile round trip when three Messerschmitt 190s dived down out of the clouds and pounced on the formation.

"Our gunners got two of them," said Capt. Howard N. Kirk, Fresno, Cal., copilot, "but that third one was the most persistent devil I have ever seen. He didn't give a damn whether he lived or not. He'd line himself up and come at us with guns blazing. We poured lead at him by the barrel full. So did the other Fortresses.

Made 4 Suicidal Passes

"He made four suicidal passes right through our entire formation. On the second sweep he knocked out our number one engine. He saw it smoking and made a third pass pointing right at us. On his last pass he really gave it to us—but that was his last one. Sergt. Eugene H. Jones, Grand River, Iowa, one of our waist gunners who was on his first raid, shot his tail clean off and down he went."

The Shackeroo, its control cables shot into flopping shreads, operating on only two engines and with its tail section stabilizer shot out rapidly, lost speed and altitude. For ten minutes it skimmed the waves before it plowed into the ocean.

JUN 18 1943

NAZIS REPORTED DELAYING PUSH

Von Bock Said to Block Drive in Russia.

London, June 17 (A. P.).—The invasion-jittery German High Command was reported today to have delayed a summer offensive against Soviet Russia, originally set for June 16, because of front line supply shortages.

A foreign source with reliable contacts inside Germany, who cannot be more fully identified, said June 16 was chosen for a limited attack pivoting around the Oral salient 200 miles south of Moscow. Even this decision to make a limited attack came only after a controversy between Field Marshal Gen. Fedor von Bock, now commander in chief in Russia, and Lieut.-Gen. Eberhard Warlimondt, who succeeded Gen. Granz Halder as Hitler's principal strategist.

Warlimondt and Hitler wished to stake Germany's chances on another full-scale drive against the Red Army, this source said. Von Bock objected, saying that in view of the Tunisian disaster and the growing power of the Allies, it would be madness to mount an offensive that might use the last reserves and denude invasion fronts.

The informant said Von Bock resigned, but later agreed to retain command when the limited offensive plan was substituted, and that Warlimondt then resigned.

Making a quick tour of forward supply depots, Von Bock found essential supplies such as food, fuel and munitions were inadequate, it was declared and, although shock troops were already moving into position, ordered thescheme postponed.

German propaganda agencies shifted emphasis to the possibilities of a Soviet offensive. The Paris radiosaid today the Germans expected a Red Army drive would begin in a few weeks. A transocean dispatch broadcast by the Berlin radio said "The mass ing of enemy troops around Kursk (eighty miles south of Orel), which has been recently observed has given rise to a question whether the present tension on the Eastern front would soon be relieved by large scale military developments."

Clashes between scouting parties on the Smolensk front, indicating new stirrings in that long-dormant sector, furnished the principal action last night on the German-Russian battlefront, the Soviet noon communique said today.

The war bulletin, recorded by the London Soviet radio monitor, was silent on fighting above and below Orel, where sizable opposing armies were reported to be massing in activity which communiques of both sides have hinted portended a major offensive.

The German High Command, in its daily communique, spoke only of local fighting activity yesterday on the eastern front. It said German troops repulsed several Soviet thrusts on the northern Finnish front and claimed that twenty-four Soviet aircraft were shot down yesterday, two by Hungarian fighters, on the southern end of the battleline.

STALIN REPEATS POLISH ASSURANCE

Moscow, June 17 (A. P.).—Renewed pledges of Polish co-operation with Soviet Russia in the war on Germany and of restoration of a strong and independent Poland were made today in an exchange of notes between the Union of Polish Patriots in Soviet Russia and Premier Joseph Stalin.

Premier Stalin's note, an answer to the union's promise of co-operation, declared: "You may rest assured that the Soviet Union will do everything possible to expedite the routing of our common enemy, Hitlerite Germany; to strengthen Polish-Soviet friendship and to contribute by every means to the restoration of a strong and independent Poland. I wish you success in your affairs."

One of the participants of the exchange of notes was Wanda Wassilewska, president of the union, and wife of a Soviet commissar.

JUN 18 1943

She and her colleagues in the union's Congress thanked Premier Stalin for his consent to the formation of a Polish division bearing the name of Tadeusz Kosciuszko and for aid to Polish refugees.

The formation of a Polish fighting division, as indicated in the union's letter, also forecast a new turn in Soviet-Polish cooperation. One of the Russian complaints before the break in relations with the Polish Government in Exile was that several Polish units were organized and equipped on Russian soil, but declined to go to the front to fight the Germans. The men later left for Iran.

The break came soon after the Polish Government in Exile asked the International Red Cross to investigate a German propaganda charge that 10,000 Polish soldiers had been killed by the Russians, and buried in Katyn forest, near Smolensk.

U.S. Armored Scout Cars Reach Russian Front

Moscow, June 17 (AP)—American armored scout cars, tough first cousins of the jeep, have just reached the Russian front and are being used effectively against the Nazis.

In a recent action on the Middle Don the speedy little cars dashed into a unit of German infantry after it had been cut off from its protecting tanks and shot up the enemy with a heavy burst of machine-gun fire.

SWEDEN IS TOLD TO RESIST ATTACK

Stockholm, June 17 (A. P.).—Prime Minister Per Albin Hansson told Parliament today that instructions for "resistance to the last" in the event of an attack on Sweden had been sent to all Swedish civilian authorities.

He said the instructions were the same as those issued by the commander-in-chief of military forces—that "resistance should be made in all circumstances, and that every order to the effect that resistance should cease would be false."

The Premier repeatedly in recent months has warned the Swedish people that they still are in danger of being drawn into the war, and on each occasion has sworn resistance to the end against any aggressor.

Today he told Parliament that his instructions were that all civilian authorities should be inspired "with the strongest possible spirit of resistance to the very last, even in difficult situations. It should especially be impressed on the civilian population its inalienable duty to assist the military and civilian defense organizations," he said.

Stockholm, June 17 (A. P.).—The German occupation authorities have seized two prominent Norwegians as hostages in the town of Raufoss, north of Oslo, in connection with the killing of a German lieutenant, Karl Werrmann, advices from Norway said today. The hostages will be shot if Werrmann's slayer is not found by July 1, the advices said.

Posters asked the population to help find the slayer and offered a reward.

Ships Mass at Gibraltar.

Madrid, June 17 (A. P.).—A dispatch from La Linea today said seventy-five Allied ships, including a battleship, two aircraft carriers and ten destroyers, were concentrated in the harbor at Gibraltar. Eight freighters were reported to have arrived today from the United States.

Sailors Acclaim King George As He Inspects a U. S. Warship

Monarch Meets Admirals, Crew Members and Merchant Seamen at Algiers; British Radio Later Reports His Arrival at Gibraltar

JUN 18 1943

By The Associated Press

ALGIERS, June 15 (Delayed).—King George VI came aboard an American warship here today, following a quayside inspection of the personnel of British and American naval and merchant marine units in Mediterranean waters.

[The British radio, in a broadcast heard by the Columbia Broadcasting System, reported Thursday that King George had arrived at Gibraltar. It gave no further details.]

As his majesty was piped aboard, buglers sounded flourishes and drums rolled, ship's officers saluted and an honor guard of marines presented arms.

The King wore the uniform of an Admiral of the Fleet with its insignia of the crown, the royal monogram, crossed batons and laurel wreath on the epaulettes. Among the rows of ribbons on his breast was evidence of his participation in the first world war, when he served in the Royal Navy and took part in the Battle of Jutland.

The King smiled warmly as he shook hands with the captain. He inspected the honor guard and passed slowly along the ranks of the crew, drawn up on the deck in the sunshine which followed overcast skies of the morning. After about twenty minutes the inspection was concluded and the King was piped over the side.

Three Cheers Are Given

As he departed there was a call from the ship's loud speaker for three cheers. The shout of "God save the King!" which followed the cheers echoed over the harbor as he descended to the quayside to visit one of the most modern British battleships moored alongside.

Later a similar ceremonial took place there, except that at the conclusion the sailors sped the royal guest in the traditional Royal Navy way, by lining the ship rail and waving their caps above their heads as they cheered.

Aboard the British warship there was an illustration of King George's retentive mem[illegible] Although the paymaster, Commander Rutherford M. Moore, had grown a black beard since they were service associates, the King recognized him almost immediately and talked with him of times when they used to play golf together.

Before visiting the warships the King inspected hundreds of American and British naval men and merchant seamen drawn up in a big square. He was received by Admiral of the Fleet Sir Andrew Browne Cunningham, British naval commander in chief in the Mediterranean.

Admiral Cunningham presented to him two high-ranking American naval officers, Vice Admiral H. K. Hewitt and Rear Admiral J. L. Hall, and Rear Admiral Sir Clinton Danby, of the Royal Navy, and Gibson Graham, head of the British Ministry of Transport.

It was at this stage that the secret of the King's visit to Algiers vanished. On the tiered boulevards of this city, which rises from the sea like an ampitheater, crowds had assembled, drawn by the strains of the Royal Marine Band and the scene of naval activity along the docks. Spectators with binoculars could see the King clearly.

In contrast to the tropical whites of American and British naval men and officers was the nondescript attire of hundreds of American and British merchant seamen. The ing passed a longer time with these men than with any other group on parade.

The King inspected a detachment from the American Navy and representatives of several arms of the Royal Navy, men from submarines, minesweepers, tugs, destroyers, landing craft and motor torpedo boats. A place of honor in the parade was given to the Wrens, members of the Women's Royal Naval Service. The King had previously learned that some of the Wrens, while en route to North Africa for special tasks, had been on the ships which were torpedoed. To one or two he asked questions about their adventures.

ALLIED MEN O' WAR INSPECTED BY KING

George VI Visited American and British Craft Gathered in North African Port

JUN 18 1943

VIEWED SAILORS, MARINES

Hailed Correspondents Whom He Recognized and Paid Honor to Men of Merchant Fleets

By RELMAN MORIN

For the Combined United States Press.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 16 (Delayed)—Having visited the American Army in training for invasion of Europe and sampled American field rations on the first two days of his North African tour, King George VI of England got around yesterday to inspecting units of the combined British and American Fleet in the Mediterranean and meeting the war correspondents who covered the rout of the Axis in this theatre.

[King George arrived at Gibraltar yesterday afternoon, the British Broadcasting Corporation reported in a Dutch-language broadcast to Europe.

[As recorded by the Federal Communications Commission, BBC added: "He will inspect the fortifications there and be present at army and air force training exercises."]

For more than an hour the British monarch, who flew to North Africa on Saturday, walked slowly up and down a vast space covered with detachments of sailors and marines. They were drawn up in long lines that stretched all the way from the city's warehouses down to the water front.

Accompanying the King as he inspected the fighting men were two American officers, Vice Admiral H. K. Hewitt and Rear Admiral J. L. Hall.

The King then went aboard a large American warship and reviewed the personnel, after which he entered the captain's cabin with some of the ship's officers for a ten-minute breather.

From there he went to a British warship, where more than thirty American and British correspondents were drawn up to meet him.

Each correspondent introduced himself, and from time to time as the King walked down the line of newsmen his face lighted up and he exclaimed: "I know your name very well. I have read many of your dispatches."

Inspects Allied Units

By R. MAILLARD STEAD

For the Combined United States Press.

ALGIERS, June 15 (Delayed)—I was on the deck of an American flagship when King George VI came aboard today following a quayside inspection of the personnel of British and American naval and merchant marine units in Mediterranean waters.

As he was piped aboard, buglers sounded flourishes and drums beat, ship's officers saluted and an honor guard of marines presented arms.

The King wore the uniform of admiral of the fleet. Among the rows of ribbons on his breast was evidence of his personal participation in the First World War, when he served in the Royal Navy and took part in the Battle of Jutland.

The King smiled warmly as he shook hands with the captain. He inspected the honor guard and passed slowly along the ranks of the crew drawn up on the deck in sunshine which had followed overcast skies of the morning. After about twenty minutes the inspection was concluded and the King was piped over the side.

As he departed there was a call from the ship's loudspeaker for three cheers. The shout of "God Save the King" which followed the cheers echoed over the harbor as he descended to the quayside to visit one of the most modern British battleships moored alongside.

Received by Cunningham

Before visiting the warships the King inspected hundreds of American and British naval men and merchant seamen drawn up in a big square. He was received by Admiral of the Fleet Sir Andrew Browne Cunningham, British Naval Commander in Chief in the Mediterranean.

On the tiered boulevards of this city, which rises from the sea like an amphitheater, crowds had assembled, drawn by the strains of the Royal Marine Band and the scene of naval activity along the docks. The greatest traffic jam the city has ever known developed.

The King spent a longer time with American and British merchant seamen than with any other group on parade.

The King inspected a detachment from the American Navy and representatives of several arms of the Royal Navy. A place of honor in the parade was given to the Wrens, members of the Womens Royal Naval Service.

The scene of the parade was one emblematic of the Allied sea domination for the "unconditional surrender" task ahead. In the background guns on the warships were pointing up menacingly toward the sky and fire crews were standing by ready for action should the occasion arise.

JUN 18 1943

Says Nazis Hesitate.

Somewhere in North Africa, June 17 (A. P.).—Sir Archibald Sinclair, British Air Minister who accompanied King George VI to North Africa, told Allied airmen today that Germany is being forced to concentrate a great mass of fighters in Western Europe and hesitates to strike in another theater.

"We know now that it is Hitler and his generals who are scratching their heads and wondering what the British, Americans, Russians and French are going to do next," Sir Archibald declared.

He asserted that the Allied air forces were tying up twice as many Nazi fighter planes as the Germans were able to spare for the whole Russian front.

Wounded Bridgeport Chats With Eisenhower in Africa

WITH THE FIFTH U. S. ARMY IN NORTH AFRICA, June 17—(AP) General Dwight D. Eisenhower, commander-in-chief of the Allied forces in North Africa, dropped in at a station hospital on the Mediterranean coast today and his first words were:

"Where are the battle casualties?"

The general, who was on an inspection tour of a section of the coast, was led into the wards where he chatted with wounded soldiers on a Jim-to-Joe basis.

"Good luck, and I hope you're out soon," he said to each of them as he patted them on the shoulder.

Among others, he talked with Private Raymond DiMarco of Rochester, N. Y., Corp. Newton Calkins of Buffalo, N. Y., Private T. A. Hancock West of 34 Liberty street, Bridgeport, Conn., and Corp. Gunner Gundersen of Brooklyn.

At another port, he got into a "duck," an amphibious two-and-a-half ton truck, for a ride about the harbor. The duck rolled down the beach into the water, cruised about and rolled ashore two miles from where it had entered.

Gen. Eisenhower, sun-tanned and obviously in the pink of condition, watched troops being put through toughening exercises over an obstacle course of barbed wire; over a tower hung with nets; making a bayonet charge; and swinging big logs.

JUN 18 1943

30.24 - 5107

Later, Gen. Eisenhower was joined by Lieut.-Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., commander of American combat forces in Tunisia, and together they watched battle practice and reviewed the infantry and a portion of Gen. Patton's armored corps.

MOSQUITOES FROM MALTA BOMB SICILY

JUN 18 1943

Enemy Communications In Southern Italy Are Also Attacked

Allied Planes In North Africa Grounded By Bad Weather

With the Fifth United States Army in North Africa, June 17 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, commander in chief of the Allied forces in North Africa, was joined by Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., commander of American combat forces in Tunisia, and together they watched battle practice and reviewed the infantry and a portion of General Patton's armored corps.

VORGAARD

[By the Associated Press]

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 17—Mosquito bombers from the Malta force—one of the three Allied air arms which have been pounding at the Axis throughout the Mediterranean—have smashed once again at enemy communications and military centers in both Sicily and southern Italy.

This was disclosed today in a Malta communique, while headquarters here was announcing that bad weather had grounded the great northwest Africa bombardment squadrons for the first time in more than two months. From this area, only routine patrol and reconnaissance was possible yesterday.

Sidings And Docks Hit

The Mosquitoes hit the railway sidings and docks of Terminimerese, a north Sicilian port, with both bombs and cannon fire and raked a half dozen other targets, including railway bridges and stations in southern Italy.

At sea, an Axis destroyer escorting a convoy was gunned and there was a brilliant flash astern; a mine sweeper also was raked with fire.

To the sixteen Axis planes previously reported shot down in heavy Allied offensive air action over Monday night and Tuesday, a headquarters announcement today added five enemy craft for a total score of twenty-one in that period.

Algiers Parley Cuts 3 Barriers To French Unity

Full Committee Agrees on Majority Rule, Debates Reorganization of Army

DE LUCE

By The Associated Press

ALGIERS, June 17.—The French empire's infant provisional government cleared away today three major obstacles to unity and efficient war-time rule.

Meeting for the first time in plenary session, thirteen members of the French Committee of National Liberation took these steps to eliminate the quarrelsome confusion which had reigned in Algiers for a week:

Organized the committee and agreed on its procedure.

Discussed the issue dividing Generals Charles de Gaulle and Henri Honore Giraud—the reorganization of the French armed forces and their command—and arranged to make decisions on the basis of majority vote.

Sponsored a study toward the creation of a consultative assembly whereby public opinion could have more forceful expression until a legislative branch of government exists.

By these actions the committee, with Giraud presiding, remedied the political paralysis which had gripped French administration while the committee itself had been a mere paper body and the seven original members had appeared to let the six other appointees wait out in the cold.

The agreement on majority rule was not stipulated in the communique issued after the committee's eighty-minute session, but a committee spokesman told the press it was understood by all participating.

The spokesman added that the necessity for the signatures of both De Gaulle and Giraud on decisions was "purely administrative" and indicated that neither could exercise veto power by refusing to sign matters approved by a committee majority.

The communique issued by the committee said:

"The French Committee of National Liberation met for the first time in plenary session under the chairmanship of General Giraud. The members of the committee agreed on methods of work which will insure the proper working of the various departments and which will bring to a conclusion the various questions now pending and which need to be solved urgently. An exchange of views has taken place on the problems concerning the organization of the French forces.

"The Commissioner for Foreign Affairs has informed the committee of various communications which have been received from various governments concerning the recognition of French liberation.

"The committee has decided to pursue promptly the study of the creation of a consultative assembly, the organization of which has been foreseen in an exchange of letters between General de Gaulle and General Giraud, which letters are the basis of the formation of the French Committee on National Liberation.

"All members of the committee were present at the meeting except M. Henri Bonnet, whose arrival from the United States is expected."

Adherents of Giraud and De Gaulle appeared equally pleased by what had been achieved and one committeeman—who had been appointed by Giraud—asserted: "An absolutely democratic institution has now been born."

De Gaullists maintained that they could get majority support for his program of drastically purging former Vichy sympathizers from the army and navy, provided this was done without seriously interfering with the French war effort. They added their leader's position would be further strengthened when Henri Bonnet, the fourteenth member of the committee, arrives from America.

De Gaulle has been insisting also on his own appointment as Commissioner of National Defense and the subordination of Giraud as commander in chief, to the committee.

With the Allies engaged in strenuous efforts to equip the French forces for a campaign for liberation of their country, the war situation apparently made it impossible for either De Gaulle or Giraud to continue an uncompromising stand.

It was announced that the official journal of the commander in chief, in which the ordinances and decrees of Giraud's regime have been published, was now replaced by the Official Journal of the French Republic, containing in its first issue the initial ordinance by which the French Committee of National Liberation was established.

Another ordinance modified a law of 1870 so that decrees can be promulgated "in the city where the committee resides" instead of Paris.

Turks' Envoy To Russia To Get High Ankara Post

Ankara, June 17 (AP)—Turkey's Ambassador to Soviet Russia, Cevat Achikalin, is expected to return home to assume a high post in the Foreign Office, informed diplomatic quarters asserted today.

Observers said this development, following almost immediately upon Premier Sukru Saracoglu's speech emphasizing Turkey's friendship for the Allies, indicated that Turkish-Russian relations, which have been on the doubtful list for years, have reached their most amicable point since the beginning of the war.

Achikalin left the second-most-important post in the Turkish Foreign Office when he accepted the ambassadorship to Russia. It was understood that when he went to Moscow in August, 1942, he was charged with the special task of getting Turkish-Soviet relations upon a more friendly footing.

Gen. Tindall Named Attache

ANKARA, June 16 (Delayed) (AP)—Brig. Gen. Richard G. Tindall, 51, of Columbia, Mo., has been appointed American military attache in Ankara, it was announced today. He replaces Col. Cornelius Jadwin of Washington, D. C., who was assigned to other duties after three years overseas as military observer in Rome, Sofia and Ankara. The appointment places the American attache's office on an equal footing with the other major powers.

Guderian Studies U. S. Tanks

Turk Flyers Coming to U.S.

11 Officers to Take Advanced Training With Army Air Forces

ANKARA, Turkey, June 16 (Delayed) (AP).—Eleven officers of the Turkish air force will soon arrive in America to begin advanced training with the United States Air Forces, it was disclosed today.

Four of the men will take bombardment training, while five will study fighter tactics and two reconnaissance work. They will be the only Turks taking direct training with the American Air Forces. Two Turkish officers now serving in this country were trained in the United States.

YANGTZE COST JAPS 40,000

Less Than Two Thirds Of Enemy Force Escaped Chinese In Forty-Day Battle

JUN 18 1943

Virtually Entire "Rice Bowl" Area Recovered By Chiang, Chungking Reports

[By the Associated Press]

Chungking, Friday, June 18—Approximately 40,000 Japanese were killed or wounded in the forty-day battle for the upper Yangtze river, a Chinese army spokesman said today.

"Less than two thirds of the entire Japanese force thrown into the battle managed to escape from the Chinese trap," he declared.

The Japanese, striking below the Yangtze river at points between their big bases at Ichang and Yochow, for a time had seriously threatened China's vital "Rice Bowl," but the Chinese have virtually recovered the entire area in a strong counter-offensive supported by American and Chinese airmen.

Fighting Near Owchihkow

Chinese troops at present are fighting on the outskirts of Owchihkow, on the right bank of the Yangtze ninety miles southeast of Ichang, and Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's headquarters announced yesterday that United States planes caused many fires and extensive damage there Tuesday in supporting attacks.

The United States bulletin said the Americans attacked the warehouse area of the city at Lotus Pond inlet, and also announced that a greatly outnumbered force of American planes the day before had destroyed six Japanese planes and probably destroyed three others in a battle southwest of Nanchang. No American planes were lost.

Jap Force Intercepted

The Chinese high command said that Chinese units intercepted Japanese troops near the Canton-Hankow railway, east of the Owchihkow sector, and a fight presumably was still going on in that area where Chinese troops have been constantly harassing Japanese communications.

The army spokesman's declaration of 40,000 casualties had followed his recent assertion that the Japanese had employed 100,000 men in the unsuccessful offensive.

Today he said other Japanese troops west of the Salween river in Yunnan province adjoining the Burma border had begun an offensive, but declared that Chinese troops were checking their advance.

BURMA JAPS BOMBED

New Delhi, June 17 (A. P.).—A United States medium bomber destroyed six medium-sized river craft in Jap service on the Irrawaddy near Mandalay yesterday and wrecked or damaged five large boats, a Tenth United States Air Force communique said today. In other blows at the enemy's Burmese communications railway cars and trackage were reported damaged at Ikan. Direct hits were scored on warehouses and sheds in the Japanese barracks area at Thazi.

The communique reported that a B-24 Liberator bomber flew to Thanbyuzayat, south of Moulmein, and blasted a zone "where the Japanese are extending railroad construction to the east in an attempt to establish rail communications from the Gulf of Thailand."

Japanese radio installations on Diamond Island were declared damaged in another bombing foray. All the raiders returned safely.

40 JAP PLANES HIT BENA BENA

New Guinea Area Northwest Of Lae Is Raided For Third Successive Day

Four Enemy Aircraft Bomb Port Moresby—One Is Damaged By Flak

JUN 18 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Allied Headquarters in Australia, Friday, June 18—Forty Japanese planes raided the area of Bena Bena, ninety miles northwest of Lae yesterday for the third straight day the High Command announced.

Elsewhere on New Guinea, four Japanese planes raided Port Moresby and one was hit by anti-aircraft fire.

Eight Japanese barges were destroyed and twelve damaged by Allied bombers near Lae.

As on the previous two raids, the communique said little about the Bena Bena attack other than to report it. The sector, which has emergency landing fields, has not been mentioned prior to the raids.

However, a spokesman at headquarters of Gen. Douglas MacArthur said there were no casualties and the raiders' bombs burned four native huts.

JUN 18 1943

Fifty-Seven Tuesday

Tuesday fifty-seven enemy planes were sent against the area, twenty-seven of them bombers. Wednesday six bombers and six fighters formed the raiding party.

The Bena Bena area, inland from the north coast of New Guinea, is considerably above the Japanese bases of Lae and Salamaua, long threatened by infiltrating Allied troops from the south whose front line is at Mubo, twelve miles below Salamaua.

The Allied attacks near Lae were directed at the type of transportation favored recently by the enemy to bring supplies down the coast to Lae.

On New Britain Island, medium bombers and attack planes went after the airdrome and suppply dumps at Cape Gloucester after which a four-engined bomber got in some blows.

Wharf Area Raided

On Rooke Island in Vitiaz strait, attack planes and two-engined bombers raided the wharf area near Marien Harbor.

In the sector northwest of Australia, the Japanese-occupied town of Sorong on Dutch New Guinea was attacked by a big bomber. On Ceram, bombers struck at the oil field of Port Boela, starting large fires. The smoke rose 3,000 feet. On the Kai islands, fires were started on the airdrome at Langgoer which could be seen for forty miles. Anti-aircraft guns were put out of action.

Also on New Guinea above Lae, Madang's airdrome was raided by medium bombers which encountered anti-aircraft opposition but no enemy fighter planes.

Strafed By Bomber

Salamaua and the near-by village of Kela were strafed by a two-engined bomber.

The communique's report on the Bena Bena raiding was:

"Ramu River: At midday, eighteen enemy bombers escorted by twenty-two fighters, raided the native villages of Bena Bena, Asaloka and Atsura."

The plane hit by anti-aircraft fire over Port Moresby was last seen afire and losing altitude.

Puerto Rican Assails Tugwell

JUN 18 1943

Says Island Is Governor's Guinea Pig for Theories to Be Tried in U. S.

JOSEPH DYNAM

San Juan, Puerto Rico, June 17 (A. P.).—Manuel Gonzales, spokesman for the Puerto Rican Farmers' Association, declared last night that Gov. Rexford G. Tugwell is using Puerto Rico as a guinea pig for experiments in land and sugar mill regulation and minimum wage laws intended to be transplanted later to the United States mainland, especially in the South.

His assertions were part of a bitter attack on Gov. Tugwell made at a hearing before the Bell Congressional Committee investigating Puerto Rican affairs.

Mr. Gonzales asserted the Tugwell administration's land authority and other regulations threatened the position of the island's small farmers. He declared Gov. Tugwell wants to extend a 500-acre ownership limitation to individuals as well as corporations and called the Governor "more radical than all the radicals in the legislature."

McGehee Demurs.

When he expressed the belief that Gov. Tugwell planned to transplant the administration's experiments to the United States mainland, Representative Dan R. McGehee (D.-Miss.), remarked: "They may think so."

He bore down heavily on the word "think."

Mr. Gonzales said farmers were paying as much wages as possible under current conditions and insisted minimum wage regulation created a hardship for them. He said farmers were forced to purchase goods in the United States at high prices and that the prices received for agricultural products had failed to rise proportionately.

Slums resulted, Mr. Gonzales said, from the migration of coffee and tobacco plantation labor to the cities, attracted by WPA wages.

Food Imports Normal.

At an earlier hearing yesterday Edward Bash, local head of the Food Distribution Administration, said the agency had made "many mistakes," but asserted it had succeeded in obtaining adequate food supplies to forestall shortages and in distributing them throughout the island.

The island now has a built-up food reserve to carry it for three months without the arrival of a single ship, he declared, with enough rice to last until October. Food imports from the United States now are virtually normal, he added.

Representative Karl M. Lecompte (R.-Iowa) was to leave here today. Representative McGehee, Representative James Domengeauz (D.-La.) and Representative Fred L. Crawford (R.-Mich.) planned to hold final hearings and depart tomorrow.

Constantin Oumansky Arrives In Mexico City

Mexico City, June 17 (AP)—Constantin Oumansky, first Soviet diplomat in Mexico in thirteen years, arrived today with ten of the thirty-five persons who will comprise the staff of the new embassy here.

Oumansky was greeted by a crowd of some one hundred persons, including Mariano Armendariz Del Castillo, chief of protocol, on behalf of the Foreign Ministry, and three naval officers on behalf of the Defense and Navy ministries and the general staff.

MEXICO LACKS MEAT, 1,000 BUTCHERS RIOT

MEXICO CITY, June 17 — (AP) More than 1,000 butchers rioted today at the city slaughterhouse when they were told the supply of meat would satisfy only one third of their needs.

The police dispersed the mob with tear gas.

The rioters stoned the slaughter house and the market where meat is sold. They tried to smash a barricaded door, attacking twice before they were dispersed.

JUN 18 1943

VOLCANO DOOMS TOWN

Mexico City, June 17 (A. P.).—With molten lava reported advancing at the rate of seventy feet an hour from two craters of Paricutin volcano, all the inhabitants of Parangaricutiro were being removed today to the village of Caltzontzin.

The volcano has been active since last February, but several days ago a second crater opened and the lava flow apparently doomed the village in its path.

New quarters hastily were being built in Caltzonitzin to house the refugees and Government health experts, doctors and nurses were to leave today for the volcano zone to fight possible epidemics.

Lord Home's Flying Son Reported Missing

Victoria, B. C., June 17 (A. P.).—The R. A. F. reported today that Flying Officer G. G. Douglas-Home, son of Lord Home of Berwickshire, Scotland, has not been heard from since he took off from near here Monday on a routine flight in a twin-engined R. A. F. medium bomber with three other flyers. Douglas-Home was married six weeks ago.

Italian Withdrawal Reported

A Moscow radio broadcast recorded by the Columbia Broadcasting System yesterday said that several incidents among the Italian garrisons of Sicily and Sardinia had led the Italian high command to start withdrawing "its demoralized troops from the islands under the pretext that it is regrouping its forces," The Associated Press reported.

Headquarters of the commander of the German air force in the Mediterranean were declared to have been moved from Sicily to the southern Italian Province of Calabria.

The families of practically all members of the Mussolini government "are reported to have been evacuated to Hungary," where the Hungarian government has placed one of its country resorts at their disposal," the Soviet radio said.

Rome Reports Fight Raids.

The Italian communique, recorded by the Associated Press from a Rome broadcast, said German planes again raided Pantelleria yesterday.

Rome asserted two Allied planes were shot down into the sea off southwest Sicily. It reported "limited" air actions were carried out against several localities in Calabria and Sicily.

What's Behind The War News

By GLENN BABB

News from two battlezones half a world apart brings convincing testimony to the already great and rapidly growing superiority of American airmen and planes over both ends of the Axis. No other factor in this war is so sure a pledge of victory. Nothing else, unless it be the continuing Allied success in the battle against the U-boat, can do more to hasten the day of victory.

Over Guadalcanal in the south Pacific American airmen on Tuesday met a great Japanese air armada, probably the greatest single concentration of aircraft in the Pacific war, and shot down 45 Zeros and 32 bombers for a loss of six of our planes missing. The 13-to 1 toll speaks for itself. It was one of the most devastating air defeats suffered by any belligerent in this war.

Word of this battle reached Washington about the time Secretary Stimson was disclosing that American heavy bombers, in their raids of Friday and Sunday on some of Germany's greatest bases, shot down at least 150 and probably 170 German fighters. This was not done without cost, for in the Friday raids on Wilhelmshaven and Cuxhaven eight Flying Fortresses were lost while from the Sunday attacks on Kiel and Bremen 25 failed to return. This five-to-one ratio in planes means more American airmen were lost than German, for each of the big bombers carried perhaps ten men. But the bag of enemy fighters must be considered more or less a byproduct of the raids, whose main objective was destruction of vital enemy bases and facilities. Secretary Stimson said it seemed likely that even the Kiel-Bremen raid was "as a whole decidedly advantageous to us" despite the cost of 24 Fortresses.

In the south seas it was American fighters against an enemy raiding force; over Germany the American role was reversed. Success in both is proof of the versatility of the American air forces.

These happen to be American triumphs. But the superiority they illustrated is not American alone. It is shared fully by the R. A. F. And recent reports from the Russian front indicate that the Red air force has become more than a match for the once invincible Luftwaffe.

Ever since the R. A. F. at the climax of the Battle of Britain shot down 185 of Goering's planes on Sept. 15, 1940 and ended the threat of invasion there has been no question of British qualitative superiority in the air. Quantitative superiority for the Allies had to wait on the United States' entry into the war and the full mobilization of American industry. For a year now there has been no possible doubt about the outcome of the race for quantity. It was a runaway for the Allies.

But it was not a foregone conclusion that the American airman would establish so quickly and so conclusively that he was the master of both the German and the Japanese. But this has been done. And it is only beginning. The fliers notching up those big bags over Germany, the Mediterranean and the south seas are only the vanguard of scores of thousands more yet to reach the front. In neither Germany nor Japan is there anything like these tremendous reserves.

It is still too early to say there will be no great German or Japanese offensives this year. The numerous suggestions that Hitler has postponed or abandoned his summer drive against Russia may prove only camouflage. The Japanese may yet have their 1943 fling at China, or even Russia.

However, two men who should know say that the British-American air pressure on Germany has compelled Hitler to rob other fronts of air power to protect his vital war industries. Secretary Stimson says the Germans have had to switch hundreds of planes from Russia and the Mediterranean and Britain's air Secretary, Sir Archibald Sinclair, says the western Allies are tying up twice as many German fighter planes as Hitler has been able to spare for the Russian front.

This may explain why the expected German attack in Russia has been withheld. So great has been the attrition on German fighter strength, according to Allied airmen, that the Germans no longer rise to challenge Allied fighter sweeps and it is necessary to send the big American day bombers over to get the Messerschmitts and Focke-Wulfs into the air to be knocked over.

SIX U. S. AIRCRAFT LOST AS RAIDERS MEET WITH DEFEAT

32 Bombers, 45 Zero Fighters from Enemy Force Shot Down.

TWO SHIPS BOMBED

Nine Men Killed on One Vessel, Second Beached for Sabotage.

JAPS RAID NEW GUINEA

40 Planes Smash at Allied Outpost Northwest of Lae.

JUN 18 1943

WASHINGTON, June 17.—(AP) American airmen knocked 77 Japanese planes out of the sky over Guadalcanal island in one of the greatest and possibly one of the most significant air battles of the war in the south Pacific, and only six United States aircraft are missing as a result of the engagement.

A Navy bulletin today announcing this 13 to 1 ratio contained no indication as to the Japanese objective in risking so large a force of bombers and fighters in the southeastern Solomons, where they have been consistently and badly defeated in the air.

120 Enemy Planes

(From an advanced base in the South Pacific an Associated Press correspondent reported that about 120 Japanese planes were in the raiding squadrons.

(Damage to Guadalcanal was minor. A headquarters spokesman said he assumed the Japanese bombing succeeded in scoring hits on only two vessels, one a Liberty-type cargo carrier and the other a smaller ship. The cargo vessel was beached for salvage. Nine men were killed on the smaller ship. These were the only casualties caused by enemy bombers).

The engagement took place Wednesday. The enemy planes shot down consisted of 32 bombers and 45 Zero fighters. The total strength of the enemy force was not reported but was considered to be somewhat greater than the number of aircraft they lost.

The raiding force was the largest

JUN 18 1943

30.24 - 5109

sent by the Japanese command into the Guadalcanal area since April 7 when 50 bombers and 48 fighters attacked a convoy near the island. At that time 39 of the Nipponese planes were shot down, while American losses consisted of seven planes, two pilots and three ships—a destroyer, a tanker and an Allied corvette.

Last Raid June 12

Again June 12 the Japanese made a heavy foray into the American-held part of the Solomons chain, striking with 40 to 50 fighter planes at the Russell islands which lie off the northwestern tip of Guadalcanal and accommodate an advanced American base. The objective at that time obviously was to smother the American defenses with such overwhelming strength that they would be crippled or knocked out. The Japanese lost that trick too, however, because 25 of their planes were definitely shot down and eight were probably destroyed while United States forces lost only six planes and two pilots.

The record in those actions indicated the possibility that some of the pilots of the half dozen American planes lost Wednesday might later turn up safe.

None of the previous actions resulted in a score as heavily in favor of our forces as the 13 to 1 record turned in the latest battle.

Jap Bases Raided

The Navy also reported our forces had struck effectively at enemy bases in both the Solomons area and in the Aleutians sector of the north Pacific. Tuesday dive and torpedo bombers, escorted by fighter planes, assaulted Japanese positions in western New Georgia island, the Munda air base area, and started fires and caused heavy explosions, the communique said. Next day dive bombers with fighter escort attacked Japanese positions on Choiseul island, north of the Munda sector, and started fires. Meanwhile in the north Pacific on Tuesday afternoon, the Navy's new Vega Ventura medium bombers attacked the Japanese base on Kiska island and scored hits in the camp area, along the runway and among anti-aircraft batteries.

In the absence of further official information, it was the general expectation here that new American thrusts are in the making in the south Pacific. Secretary of the Navy Knox said only a few days ago at a press conference that it takes a long while to prepare for "any considerable movement," when he was asked why there had been no major fighting in the south Pacific for several months.

One possible direction of such a thrust to which the enemy would of necessity give careful consideration would be northward from the Guadalcanal area. In that direction lie the bases of Rabaul, and still further to the north, Truk, which is the enemy's main naval position in the south Pacific.

The Wednesday action greatly increased the total number of planes which the Japanese have lost in the Solomons and Allied fighting since the American invasion of those islands last August. A report from an advanced south Pacific base yesterday carried an official announcement that 1,337 had been destroyed in that war theater since last July 31.

NAZI PLANE LOSSES UNUSUALLY HEAVY, STIMSON REPORTS

JUN 18 1943

U. S. Daylight Raiders Hold Advantage Despite Destruction of 32 Bombers.

WASHINGTON, June 17 — (AP) Secretary of War Stimson today added up the balance sheet of recent American daylight air raids on Germany and found the results "decidelly advantageous to us." While we suffered the "unsually heavy" loss of 32 bombers, he said, the cost of Germany was at least 150 planes and severe damage to industrial establishments.

He referred to raids on Wilhelmshaven and Cuxhaven June 11 during which 85 — possibly 105 — German fighters were shot down, and to the attacks June 13 on German shipyards at Kiel and Bremen when 69 enemy fighters were destroyed.

Nazis Must Divert Planes

"These daylight raids," he told a press conference, "are of the greatest importance, not only because of the destruction of military and industrial installations but also because of the fact that they necessitate the diversion of hundreds of German fighter aircraft from the Russian and Mediterranean fronts.

"The losses of enemy planes in these encounters constitute a serious drain on German air power."

Secretary Stimson expressed the opinion, too, that the Allied High Command has demonstrated a better understanding than the Axis of how air power should be used, and said this augured well for the future.

This came when he commented on the capture of Pantelleria, Lampedusa and two other Italian islands with a loss of only 40 airmen and a few planes. He contrasted the attack on Pantelleria with Axis air attacks on the island of Malta both similarly situated and strongly defended.

Contrasts Pantelleria, Malta

"The principal reason why the victory was attained at Pantelleria while failure was registered at Malta," he asserted, "appears to be found in the manner in which the attacks were made. The German and Italian air assaults on Malta were sporadic, and the bombing was inaccurate. Our attacks on Pantelleria were heavy and continuous. Hits on military targets were scored with mathematical precision.

"Just as our planes and pilots had excelled those of the Axis in aerial combat, so it now appears that our tactical and strategic employment of air power is also superior to that of the Germans and Italians. This is a development which holds great promise for the future."

Secretary Stimson reported that complete information on the Kiel and Bremen raids showed loss of 24 bombers instead of the 26 originally reported. Two bombers returned late. In the Wilhelmshaven and Cuxhaven raids, he said, eight Flying Fortresses were lost.

Discussing the losses in the Kiel-Bremen raids, Secretary Stimson said, "evidently our flight was discovered off England by Axis reconnaissance planes or patrol boats and reported to German headquarters. The Germans apparently correctly deduced that we were going to attack Kiel and disposed their fighter strength accordingly."

Nazi Delay In Russia Thought Significant

Washington, June 17 (AP) — Informed American military opinion tends to view the Nazi slowness in launching a June offensive against Russia as evidence of the straits to which Hitler's war machine has been reduced by converging Anglo-American pressure.

Elmer Davis, director of the Office of War Information, recalled today that German offensives in 1941 and 1942 started respectively June 27 and June 21. Both of those offensives became winter-bogged, so it seemed obvious Hitler would try to get under way earlier this year to give him more time to campaign before winter set in.

Under the "Nazi theory of dynamics, I think there has got to be a Russian offensive this year," Davis said. "Hitler has got to do something pretty soon. If he admits he cannot attack in Russia again and confines himself to the defensive, he will have great trouble with a sag in morale at home and even in the army."

Estimate Significant

Coupled with London reports that a Hitler-scheduled offensive in Russia had been overruled by his military high command for lack of supplies and equipment, the Davis estimate is significant.

Davis noted that Hitler had once referred to a similar pause in Nazi offensive operations in Russia as "a creative pause."

"Only this time it is our side that is doing the creating," he added.

Records of the events of June, 1942, to which Davis referred, show that while the Red army attempt below Kharkov to "forestall" the Nazi attack of that year had ended, even by Moscow reports, May 30, the first hint of the German drive to the Don and Stalingrad did not come until June 22. Berlin then reported "bitter fighting" in the Kharkov area.

NAZIS SAY FRONTIER OPEN

LONDON, June 17 — (AP) The German radio, quoting a DNB dispatch from Ankara, said tonight that the frontier between Turkey and Syria had been opened again, but the report was not confirmed by any Allied or neutral source.

278 U.S. SOLDIERS ON WOUNDED LIST

New Yorkers Among North African Casualties.

Washington, June 17 (A. P.).—The War Department announced today the names of 278 United States soldiers wounded in action in North Africa, including these with next of kin in New York and New Jersey:

NEW YORK.

ABLOWITZ, BENJAMIN, private; wife, Mrs. Mae Ablowitz, 1512 Townsend avenue, New York.

ABRAMOWITZ, ITZCHUK, private first class; father, Joe Abramowitz, 850 40th street, Brooklyn.

BRENNIE, JOHN B., private; mother, Mrs. Mary Brennie, 15 Baxter street, New York.

BUB, JOHN W., private first class; father, George Bub, Box 352, Seaford.

DESMOND, WILLIAM F., technician, fifth grade; mother, Mrs. William F. Desmond, 186 Beach 129th street, Rockaway Beach, L. I.

DICHIARA, THOMAS, private; father, John D. Dichiara, 30 Belevedre street, Brooklyn.

DOMANSKI, BENNIE, corporal; sister, Miss Pola Domanski, 2198 University avenue, New York.

DONOVAN, GEORGE F., sergeant; mother, Mrs. Myrtle Donovan, 104 West 61st street, New York.

ELLIS, CHARLES A., major; wife, Mrs. Nina L. Ellis, 150 West 18th street, Brooklyn.

GNIATKOWSKI, EDWARD, private; father, Walter Gniatkowski, 73 Driggs avenue, Brooklyn.

HUREWITZ, MORTON M., first lieutenant; wife, Mrs. Helen Hurewitz, 45 Hawthorne street, Brooklyn.

INFANTE, COSTABILE, private first class; mother, Mrs. Rose Infante, 111 Mott street, New York.

KLABANOFF, LOUIS A., sergeant; sister, Mrs. Lena Brodsky, 956 Fox street, New York.

KUNZ, ALBERT J., sergeant; wife, Mrs. Kathleen Kunz, 116 Crescent street, Brooklyn.

LANKESTER, ERNEST C., private; mother, Mrs. Mary Lankester, 43 Riverdale avenue, Yonkers.

MANNING, JAMES J. JR., sergeant; mother, Mrs. Anna Manning, Nova Road, Huntington Station.

O'NEILL, PATRICK J., private; father, John O'Neill, 3453 Irwin avenue, Bronx.

ORLEMAN, CLIFFORD A., private first class; mother, Mrs. Amy S. Orleman, 168 Morrison avenue, Staten Island.

PIATT, JAMES L., corporal; wife, Mrs. Eileen B. Piatt, 2151 58th street, Brooklyn.

SENFELD, SIDNEY, captain; mother, Mrs. Molly Senfeld, 2122 Quentin Road, Brooklyn.

ZYCH, STANLEY R., private first class; mother, Mrs. Mary Zych, 62 Wright avenue, Staten Island.

CONNECTICUT.

FERRIS, GEOFFREY C., second lieutenant; mother, Mrs. Chency Ferris, 625 Whitney avenue, New Haven.

ERFF, PHILIP F., private; father, William C. Erff, Ivy Circle, West Haven.

LA CHANCE, ADALBERT L., private; mother, Mrs. Albina La Chance, 43 Russ street, Hartford.

SQUAGLIA, FRANCIS A., private first class; father, Salvatore Squaglia, Lee street, New Haven.

NEW JERSEY.

CINCOTTA, THOMAS J., private; Mrs. Grace Cincotta, mother, 433 72d street, North Bergen.

HENNESSEY, EDWARD F., private first class—Mrs. Mary J. Hennessey, mother, 285 York street, Jersey City.

KOZAR, JOHN P, corporal; Mrs. Anna Kozar, mother, 589 Center street, Trenton.

KULIGOSKI, PAUL E., private—Mrs. Florence Kuligoski, wife, 75 West Harwood Terrace, Palisades Park.

QUILTER, JOSEPH, private—Mrs. Frances Quilter, mother, 5400 Tonnele avenue, North Bergen.

ROBBOLINO, JOSEPH, private first class; Mrs. Anna Robbolino, mother, 403 39th street, Union City.

ROTUNDA, JOSEPH R., Jr., private; Joseph R. Rotunda Sr., father, 34 Mount Prospect avenue, Newark.

RUFF, MORRIS, private; Mrs. Rosie Ruff, mother, 45 Dayton street, Elizabeth.

TAGLIARINE, PAUL, private; Mrs. Carmella Tagliarine, mother, 324 Newark avenue, Jersey City.

TAIBI, JOSEPH, private; Mrs. Francis Taibi, mother, 67 Frederick street, Belleville.

ZICK, LOUIS R., private; Mrs. Caroline Zick, mother, 322 Oak avenue, Woodbridge.

Reports on Cuba in War

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP).—Spruille Braden, United States Ambassador to Cuba, saw President Roosevelt today for what he termed a "general consultation on the situation in Cuba." Braden told reporters that Cuba is cooperating well with the United States in combating the submarine menace, that the shipping situation is good and that more tonnage is being shipped out of Cuba than ever had been hoped for. Mr. Braden, who returned to the United States ten days ago, said he planned to go to New York for two weeks for his first leave since 1934.

12 YEARS BACK OF PEACE PLAN

Fulbright's "Lasting" Resolution Written By Student Of History And Traveler

Arkansas Representative's 51-Word Paper Called Historic In Capitol

JUN 18 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 17—The Fulbright "lasting peace" resolution which was given the blessing of the House Foreign Affairs Committee is just fifty-one words long, but it took a dozen years to write it.

So says its 38-year-old author, Representative James William Fulbright, from deep in the Ozark hills of northwest Arkansas.

When asked how long it took him to compose the one-sentence statement which House Democratic Leader McCormack has called "historic," Fulbright grinned and replied:

"About twelve years."

Cites Study And Travel

He continued seriously:

"I mean that you don't really get vitally interested in this subject until you've studied history. Studying history and government, traveling through Europe, all those things help you to develop an active interest. Of course the actual writing didn't take long."

Fulbright, a Democrat serving his first term, pointed out that the wording was changed slightly at the suggestion of his fellow-members of the Foreign Affairs Committee, and he emphasized the "bipartisan nature of the proposal."

Approved Unanimously

The committee gave unanimous approval to the resolution, which says:

Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring), that the Congress hereby expresses itself as favoring the creation of appropriate international machinery with power adequate to establish and to maintain a just and lasting peace among the nations of the world, and as favoring participation by the United States therein.

Chairman Bloom (D., N. Y.) said in announcing the Foreign Affairs Committee action on Tuesday that the committee had not written a report because "you could write and talk about this subject for a week but you couldn't say any more than its resolution does."

Fulbright is a Rhodes scholar, having studied political science and history at Oxford from 1925 to 1928.

He is one of three Rhodes scholars in Congress, the others being Representatives Clason (R., Mass.) and Hale (R., Maine).

He then studied law at George Washington University, became a law professor there, and was president of the University of Arkansas from 1939 to 1941. In private life, he is president of a lumber company and an investment company in Fayetteville, Ark., living on his near-by farm.

27-Billion Navy Bill Accepted by Conferees

Record Fund May Be Sent to President Today

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP).—A $27,637,000,000 naval appropriation bill, largest in history for the expanding fleet, was made ready today for final Congressional action when House and Senate conferees adjusted differences, and the House accepted the conference report.

Senator John H. Overton, Democrat, of Louisiana, said he hoped to send the measure to the President tomorrow.

The conference added $173,539,000 to the appropriation total approved by the House by accepting Senate amendments providing additional funds for pay, training and maintenance of naval personnel.

JUN 18 1943

The measure carries $9,118,000,000 for construction of surface vessels and $4,583,000,000 for 29,142 airplanes.

The final draft of the bill carried a Senate amendment authorizing construction of replacements for over-age combat vessels and warships lost in action.

The Senate had written into the bill a clause transferring $2,786,000,000 in direct appropriations into contract authorizations, but at the insistence of the House delegation that provision was removed and the straight cash appropriation left in.

Expert Doubts Bombing Could Set Off Vesuvius

Odds 3,000,000 to 1 Against Even Block-Busters

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP).—An Allied block-buster bomb conceivably could start an eruption of a volcano such as Mt. Vesuvius in Italy—but the odds are between 3,000,000 and 4,000,000 to 1 against it. This calculation was made today by Dr. Gerald F. Loughlin, chief geologist of the Geological Survey.

He described speculation about the possibility of starting up a volcano by bombs as "a good deal of loose talk."

"The earth forces involved," Dr. Loughlin said, "are so enormous as compared with any that man can bring to bear that the latter are wholly inconsequential."

Hull Cites U. S. Record

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP).—Secretary of State Cordell Hull said today that slavery of the Philippine people, rather than promised independence, was the intention of the Japanese.

He told a press conference that Premier Hideki Tojo, in promising independence in an address to the Diet yesterday, manifestly meant to raise the question of slavery for the Philippine people under future Japanese rule or complete freedom in 1946 under American collaboration and cooperation.

Asked whether membership of the Philippines among the United Nations was a symbol of good faith on the part of America for achievement of Philippine independence, Mr. Hull said that if any evidence of good faith was necessary he thought the American record of the last forty-five years was enough assurance for anybody.

TREASURY SLASHES ITS TAXATION GOAL

JUN 18 1943

Morgenthau Finds No Chance of Meeting His First Estimates.

WASHINGTON, June 17—(AP) The Treasury has abandoned hopes of getting $16,000,000,000 in additional taxes during the next fiscal year and is now aiming at a goal of $12,000,000,000.

Secretary Morgenthau acknowledged today that there is no chance of Congress enacting a tax bill that would yield the higher sum within the fiscal year limits.

No New 1943 Taxes

The secretary said he agreed with congressional sentiment that no new taxes should be levied on 1943 incomes and concurred with statements that any levies which became effective on January 1, 1944 could hardly yield $16,000,000,000 by the end of the fiscal year the following June 30.

Meanwhile, the House Ways and Means committee failed to agree on the time to begin consideration of the new tax bill, although Secretary Morgenthau told reporters his tax experts are already working with the joint congressional tax committee on recommendations for new levies.

Secretary Morgenthau told his press conference the Treasury's aim is to finance half the cost of the war out of revenues. With present war costs running about $100,000,000,000 a year and revenues estimated to bring in about $38,000,000,000, that would leave $12,000,000,000 to be raised by additional taxes, he said.

The important thing, he said, is to come as near as possible to the goal of meeting half the war costs with taxes.

Will Push Bond Sales

Secretary Morgenthau said the Treasury, in its war financing activities, would concentrate on a campaign to siphon off into war bonds 25 per cent of the people's total earnings during the last half of this year.

He explained that this does not mean that every one will be expected to put 25 per cent of his income into war bonds.

"We are going to aim to get one quarter of what the people earn in total," he said. "This means that some war workers, who may be getting $100 a week and has several members of his family working, that family can invest a quarter of their earnings as a family."

In the case of a white collar worker who hasn't enjoyed an increased wartime income, he said, "we can't expect it."

PLAN TO INCREASE FOOD PRODUCTION OFFERED BY ICKES

Five-Year Program Would Provide U. S. Contribution to World Needs.

WASHINGTON, June 17 — (AP) A five-year plan for increasing food production by an amount sufficient to feed 10,000,000 persons for one year is proposed by Secretary of the Interior Ickes.

The Senate Appropriations committee today released a letter from Secretary Ickes to Secretary of Agriculture Wickard, suggesting the progressive expansion of food production "as a maximum contribution to the world food pool, for meeting the most pressing deficiencies, to help feed civilian populations and the united nations armed forces at home and abroad in the years 1943 to 1947."

"It contemplates," he wrote, "increased production aggregating in the five years 1 1-2 billion pounds of meat, 1 3-4 billion pounds of fish, 11,000,000,000 pounds of milk, almost a billion pounds of beans, and more than 100,000,000 bushels of potatoes.

"These commodities are not offered as a balanced diet by themselves, and their translation into over-all caloric value (enough for 10,000,000 persons for a year) is indicative only of the scope of the program."

Secretary Ickes said he had asked subdivisions of his department for reports on what they could contribute to the war food program.

The Fish and Wildlife service suggested increasing the yield of commercial fisheries, development of farm fish pounds, encouragement of the raising of domestic rabbits and greater consumption of wild game meat.

The Bureau of Reclamation told of plans to provide water for millions of acres of land in western states; the Office of Indian Affairs proposed bringing idle Indian land into cultivation and increasing livestock production; the grazing service and the General Land office dwelled on better management of grazing, and the Geological Survey concerned itself with the supply of mineral fertilizers and irrigation water.

Halifax Asks Post-War Cooperation In Exports

Washington, June 17 (AP)—Lord Halifax, British Ambassador, urged today a post-war economic order free from "cut-throat competition in export markets" and based instead on a cooperative drive to expand the volume of world trade and create new opportunities for all.

Speaking at a luncheon of the Washington Junior Board of Commerce, Halifax stressed that post-war responsibility will rest particularly on Britain and the United States.

"It is an inescapable law of life," he said, "that neither to individuals nor to nations is great power given without great responsibility."

ANTI-STRIKE BILL ASSAILED

Labor Leaders Tell President It Is Vicious, Wicked And Would Kill Unions

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 17—Three of organized labor's leading spokesmen advised President Roosevelt today that the labor disputes bill now before him would hamstring the War Labor Board (WLB) and might force the AFL and the CIO to withdraw from it.

They said the bill would virtually destroy unions and minority rights, violate the guarantee of free speech and encourage strikes.

These assertions were made in an analysis of the bill signed by William Green, AFL president; Philip Murray, CIO president, and David B. Robertson, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, an independent union.

Called Wicked And Vicious

The three leaders said the measure "is a wicked, vicious bill; it is the worst anti-labor bill passed by Congress in the last hundred years. It is born of revenge and malice.

"It is the very essence of Fascism.

"It destroys the philosophy of voluntarism on which free trade unionism is founded.

"It destroys the foundation on which the principles of collective bargaining rest. Compulsion, civil damages and criminal penalties are the unholy trinity by which this act accomplishes its evil purpose."

Call It Limitation

Their memorandum cited a section of the bill which provides that no member of the WLB shall participate in any decision in which he has a direct interest "as an officer, employe or representative of either party to the dispute."

"We," said the labor leaders, "are of the opinion that under this section officers and representatives of the American Federation of Labor cannot participate in any decision involving a dispute between an AFL affiliate and an employer. Officers and representatives of the Congress of Industrial Organizations cannot sit upon and decide any dispute of a CIO affiliate. . . .

"It affords a splendid opportunity to hamstring the functioning of the board by attacking decisions in which union officials participated.

Doubt They Could Remain

"We seriously question whether AFL or CIO officials can remain on the board, since they could not participate in any case involving one of their affiliated organizations."

The memorandum said the bill "reestablishes the reprehensible doctrine of conspiracy" in its prohibition against encouraging a strike in a Government-operated plant, or providing funds to conduct such a strike or for unemployment benefits.

"The fact that two or more (workers) quit at the same time would be evidence of a conspiracy upon which a conviction could be had," it added.

"Innocent May Be Caught"

The union presidents said the bill used broad language by which many innocent persons "may be caught in the dragnet of conspiracy."

"Indeed, a discussion of grievances at a union meeting, or for that matter, a discussion of them in the public press can, under the terminology of this section, constitute crimes," they asserted.

The statement said sponsors of the bill during debate contended it would prohibit WLB from granting a maintenance of membership or closed shop to any group of workers.

"Because of the ambiguity created by the language of the section," said the memorandum, "and the statements made by the sponsors of the bill in debate, it is quite likely that reactionary judges will so hold."

Prompt Reply By AFL

The AFL promptly replied that the action "was undoubtedly taken to prevent the NLRB from deliberately throwing the Kaiser yards into a state of labor turmoil, and because members of Congress who have heard the board members have been amazed at the apparent fiendishness with which they are acting."

The NLRB has been investigating closed-shop contracts between the Kaiser yards and AFL metal trades unions. It has issued a complaint charging the contracts were made in advance the employment of any substantial number of workers and that the workers therefore were denied their statutory right of choosing their own bargaining agent. The AFL metal trades department sponsored the amendment.

NLRB Attacks Closed-Shop Legislation Okayed By House

JUN 18 1943

Proposed Protection For AFL In Kaiser Shipyards Assailed as Immunizing "Lucrative Labor Racket"

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 17—House-approved legislation which would protect the AFL's closed-shop agreements in the Kaiser shipyards was attacked by the National Labor Relations Board today as immunizing "a lucrative labor racket" and defended by the AFL as Congress' reply to the "apparent fiendishness" of the NLRB.

The legislation would prohibit the board from considering complaints against a labor agreement which had been in existence more than three months. It was adopted as an amendment to a measure appropriating funds for the NLRB.

Commenting on the House's action, the NLRB said in a statement, "it is inconceivable that a branch of Congress which has so recently passed such legislation as the Hobbs bill and Connally bill, aimed at curbing oppressive practices by union organizers at the expense of individual workers, would intentionally immunize the most lucrative labor racket which has perverted the war production program. Yet that is precisely the effect of the amendment."

approved by the House.

Terms Of Amendment

The NLRB said that under the terms of the amendment "no contract, regardless of whether made with a completely company-dominated union, or made with other unions as a result of collusion, fraud or duress — and completely, regardless of whether the contracting union has any members whatever among the employes affected—can any longer be challenged if it has been in effect three months."

It declared this would permit sweeping away of all restrictions on closed-shop contracts "by the simple device of keeping the contracts secret for the required ninety days."

"Thereafter, the most vicious and patently illegal contracts," the statement continued, "would be beyond the reach of any Federal agency, and employes would be utterly helpless, except by striking, to protect themselves from discharge or any other penalties if they refused to meet requirements of membership, initiation fees, work permits, dues or assessments.

JUN 18 1943

30.24-5111

Union Revenue Cited

"What such license would mean to professional labor organizers may be illustrated by the reported fact that in the Kaiser cases alone the annual revenue of a single AFL local union has reached some $3,000,000 a year."

Carlisle Bargeron, publicity representative of the AFL metal trades department, issued a statement saying "the board is not, as it claims, attempting to prevent any gigantic fraud or labor racketeering. The Kaiser yards have been operating for two years under contract with the AFL. The board's sole purpose is, at this late date, to throw these contracts out and give the CIO an opportunity to agitate and see if it can organize the workers.

"The over-all accomplishment of the House action is to prevent raiding by rival labor organizations in time of war, with its attendant labor strife and disruption of production."

Jeffers to Investigate New Source of Rubber

Waste By-Product of Paper Found to Produce Alcohol

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP).—The successful war-time production of alcohol for synthetic rubber and explosives from sulphite liquor, formerly a waste by-product in the manufacture of newsprint and other papers, was announced today by the Ontario Paper Company, a subsidiary of "The Chicago Tribune."

Government interest has been whetted over the broad possibilities of the new alcohol project by forecasts that other alcohol sources may decline as grain and petroleum shortages become more acute.

Three members of the Gillette rubber investigating committee—Senators Burton K. Wheeler, Democrat, of Montana; Raymond E. Willis, Republican, of Indiana, and George D. Aiken, Republican, of Vermont—planned to leave tonight and tomorrow, along with William M. Jeffers, rubber director, and several other high government officials, on an inspection trip to the new plant, located at Thorold, Ont. Canadian government officials will join the party there.

Company officials said that this freshly pioneered source of alcohol might be tapped as supplemental automobile fuel in addition to its other war-time uses.

Scientists estimate that if all the sulphite liquor now dumped in lakes and streams by woodpulp mills in the United States and Canada were utilized, the annual yield would be approximately 86,000,000 gallons of alcohol—enough for 94,600 long tons of synthetic rubber, or the equivalent of 36,766,000 bushels of corn or wheat.

CRITICISM OF OWI REFUTED AS 'BUNK' BY DIRECTOR DAVIS

JUN 18 1943

Agency's Chief Answers Charges by Senator Bridges, Rep. Short.

WASHINGTON, June 17 — (AP) Lashing back at two congressional critics, Elmer Davis said today that statements made by Senator Bridges (R-NH) about the Office of War Information were false and that criticism from Rep. Short (R-Mo) was "mostly nonsense."

"Bunk" was another comment interpolated by the OWI director as he read to a press conference from statements by Senator Bridges and Rep. Short printed in the Congressional Record.

Criticized Boston Speech

The two Congress members criticized Mr. Davis for his speech in Boston last Monday to the American Newspaper Guild in which the OWI director expressed the opinion that Washington news is "less adequately covered than any other news in the world."

Senator Bridges asserted that Mr. Davis was seeking "to silence the nation's press to cover the sins of maladministration on the part of the New Deal in the war effort," and also declared that OWI had "prevented industry from telling the full story of production."

"That is false," Mr. Davis emphatically told his press conference. "I do not know what evidence he could have twisted into that conclusion."

Rep. Short said that Mr. Davis' Boston speech made it evident that the OWI director "conceives his real title to be that of American propaganda minister." He also said Mr. Davis should "return to his office as chairman of the New York American Labor party."

Served on Committee

After terming Rep. Short's remarks "mostly nonsense," Mr. Davis said his highest office in the Labor party was membership on a county committee which had more than 2,000 members." He called Rep. Short's reference to him as a former New York chairman of the party "an example of his accuracy."

When reporters pressed him for an elaboration on his statement that news from the national capital is not adequately covered, Mr. Davis said, "that, perhaps, was a large statement," but contended that news from overseas is "better covered."

In his Boston speech, Mr. Davis complained particularly about the publicity given to disagreements among Washington bureaucrats. Today, he conceded that official bickering is legitimate news, but said over-emphasis created the impression that Washington is principally the scene of dog fights.

Asked for specific examples where the press had failed to cover adequately important war developments, Mr. Davis replied that his speech was based on "general impressions."

During the press conference newsmen asked Mr. Davis about reports of a possible personnel shakeup in the OWI high command. Told that there were reports of a conflict within OWI, which might lead to his departure, Mr. Davis said they were "news to me." A reporter then asked whether he proposed to "dispense with the services of Lowell Mellett."

"I don't know," Mr. Davis replied.

Mr. Mellett, formerly head of the Office of Government Reports which was absorbed by OWI, now heads the OWI motion picture bureau. He long has been close to President Roosevelt, and currently is listed in the congressional directory as an administrative assistant to the chief executive.

NAVY WILL CANCEL ITS ELK HILLS DEAL WITH STANDARD OIL

Company Tells Knox of Willingness to Terminate Agreement.

CONTRACT UNDER FIRE

Justice Dept. Official Declares Arrangement Violated 1938 Law.

JUN 18 1943

WASHINGTON, June 17.—(AP) Secretary Knox announced tonight that prompt steps will be taken to terminate the Navy's contract with Standard Oil Company of California for operation of the Elk Hills naval oil reserve and that "necessary adjustments" will be made.

The announcement came after the company notified Secretary Knox of its willingness to end the arrangement, called "illegal and invalid" by a Justice department official.

Exceeded Authority

The decision to cancel resulted from a legal decision of the Department of Justice that the proposed arrangement exceeded authority granted by law, the Navy said.

Secretary Knox declared his own investigation had established the fact "that no improprieties had been employed by either parties to the negotiations."

"The acting attorney general has asked me to say that the Department of Justice wishes to join in the latter statement and concurs fully and emphatically," Secretary Knox added.

A press release by the Navy called "unwarranted and false" statements that it was "not intended to make the contract public." The agreement was announced in a Navy news release last December and was discussed in trade journals, the Navy said. It added that copies were submitted to the Navy sub-committee of the House Appropriations committee last February.

Operation as a Unit

The announced agreement provided for operation of the field as a unit owned in part by the Navy and in part by the company. The proposed contract enabled the Navy to conserve the field by controlling future production by Standard, the Navy asserted, adding:

"It has been the settled policy of the government for many years to acquire control of these lands and to conserve the oil in the land."

Congress in 1938 authorized the Navy secretary to make agreements with private owners for conservation purposes or to purchase or condemn their lands, the Navy recalled, and except for one small tract Standard Oil company was the only remaining private owner in the reserve.

"Without cooperation between the parties, the operation of Standard Oil company's wells would drain oil from Navy-owned lands, impairing their value," the Navy declared.

The contract was negotiated, the Navy said, by Rear Admiral H. A. Stuart, director of naval petroleum reserves, "in good faith and mutual anxiety to resolve this problem which has been a major concern of the Navy for many years."

Land Conveyed to Navy

It provided for conveyance of the Standard land to the government, for operation of the field as a unit, for limited production for the next five years to contribute to current war needs, and for shutting in the wells thereafter if the Navy saw fit to do so.

Secretary of the Interior Ickes was requested by Secretary Knox last March to review the contract, the Navy said. As a result of Secretary Ickes' review, Secretary Knox then referred the contracts to President Roosevelt, who sent it on to the attorney general on March 26 for an investigation and report.

"It was in consequence of this action by the President that the attorney general reached the opinion above referred to," the Navy said.

"The Navy regards the protection of the future petroleum supply for the fleet as a primary responsibility. It proposes to pursue this objective until this end is assured."

House Probes Contract

The House Public Lands committee opened an investigation of the contract today. It later postponed hearings until next Tuesday, with committee members saying they wanted to give President Roosevelt time to study the Justice department's report of its investigation, and make recommendations.

In San Francisco, President H. D. Collier of the Standard Oil Co. of California issued a statement saying, "It would appear from information so far available to this company that the sole question is one of interpretation of the law under which the Navy department and this company proceeded to negotiate.

"Fundamentally the agreement was fair to both parties, accomplished the Navy department's long desired objective, and was in the public interest."

Mr. Collier pointed out that "If the Navy, in the light of the Justice department's opinion, desires to terminate the contract, this company will of course continue to own and operate its lands in the Elk Hills pending further negotiations with the Navy."

Sees Violation of Law

Norman M. Littell, assistant attorney general, told the House Public lands committee that the agreement violates a 1938 act empowering the Secretary of Navy to provide for conservation of Navy oil reserves and to allow the Navy to exchange its oil lands for lands private companies own in the same reserve. Rep. Elliott, Democrat whose California district includes the reserve, said the transaction had "something of the inkling of the Teaport Dome scandal of some years ago."

The committee, after hearing Mr. Littell, postponed hearings until Tuesday to permit President Roosevelt to study the report of Justice department investigators.

Only Private Owner

Standard Oil has been the only private owner in the Elks Hills oil field. Last December the Navy announced that Secretary Knox and the company had agreed:

1—The Navy would acquire the 8,300 acres owned by Standard Oil.

2—Standard Oil would operate the field in behalf of itself and the Navy.

3—The oil produced would go roughly one-third to Standard and two-thirds to the Navy.

Regulated Production

The contract called for payment of $1,748,408 by the Navy department. It allowed a production of 15,000 barrels of oil daily, but not more than 27,375,000 barrels over a five-year period unless specifically authorized by the Navy.

Some officials who declined use of their names expressed belief the company would have had to exhaust the shallow oil zone of the reserve in order to carry out the contract. This was contrary to the 1938 act, they said, asserting the contract would exhaust rather than conserve the naval reserve.

Naval officials, on the other hand, have declared the contract is designed to protect and conserve naval petroleum lands in the reserve.

Under the contract, which became effective Nov. 20, eight wells have already been completed and Standard has started pumping oil for the war program, government officials explained.

Davis Informs Dairymen's League Of Further Food Cut

Slash In Civilian Supplies Seen In Near Future—Association Opposes Subsidies To Farmers

[By the Associated Press]

New York, June 17—Civilians are due for an additional food cut "in the near future," Chester C. Davis, War Food Administrator, said today as he declared bluntly that the food supply would be "large enough for health and strength for all—but not for waste."

Readjustments of food allocations soon will increase supplies to lend-lease and the armed forces and cut civilian allocations, Davis told 1,100 members of the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association at its twenty-fourth annual membership meeting.

Following the food chief's address, the league adopted a resolution opposing Government grants of subsidies to farmers on the basis that such grants would not be a good substitute for "fair prices."

Burden On Taxpayers

The resolution, termed "more vigorous" than a similar one adopted at the morning session, said that subsidies would create greater confusion in price structures, would discourage farmers in the production of food, and would impose a great burden on taxpayers.

Another resolution favored the induction, followed by the immediate discharge, of farm workers of draft age into military service. The resolution stated that farm boys thus would be placed "in the same patriotic status as the boys who are wearing a uniform."

Davis told the group that the American civilian, because of increased income, was "the biggest food claimant," and that in 1942 civilians "ate more than eighty-five per cent. of all our record-breaking production. . . . But the proportion for military and lend-lease will be greater in the future."

Must Cope With Supply

Americans, he added, must now plan to cope with a supply "calculated far in advance and . . . set up to be nutritionally adequate to maintain health and production at a wartime tempo."

JUN 18 1943

Asserting that "correct use of food is the cheapest way we can hasten the end of the war," the food administrator said that the total food program called for equitable food distribution to all those whom we must supply; production of the greatest amount of food in proper nutritional balance; and full Government aid to farmers.

"We will produce and market much more meat in the coming twelve months than in the past twelve months," he said. He added, however, that "since we can't meet all . . . food claims with animal products we must increase production of bread grains and dried beans and peas, and potatoes, and the oil seeds."

OUTRIGHT GIFTS OF RELIEF GOODS URGED BY LEHMAN

JUN 18 1943

Rehabilitation Chief Favors Full Aid for Nations Needing Help.

NEW YORK, June 17.—(AP) Americans cannot live with security in a world "half rich, half pauperized", Director Herbert H. Lehman of the Office of Foreign Relief and Rehabilitation Operations said here tonight.

In an address for delivery before the Foreign Policy association, Mr. Lehman urged outright gifts of relief supplies to liberated nations whose credit for future reconstruction loans might otherwise be impaired by their inability to repay relief advances.

Recalling the system of American relief loans after the last war, he said that:

"Most of these loans were subsequently defaulted, and our government thus was no better off than if the loans had been outright gifts. On the other hand the country receiving relief suffered an impairment of its credit and was less able to borrow for sound projects of reconstruction so long as these loans still complicated its finances."

The ultimate result, he continued, was an impairment of economic recovery which helped to put those forces in motion which led to another world conflict.

"To avoid the danger of permitting relief to cause fundamental economic derangements which might generate a third World war," Mr. Lehman said, "a careful balance must be maintained between relief by outright gift and relief by sale or exchange. None of the liberated nations will be seeking the charity of this country. But in some instances it certainly will be the course of prudence and wisdom to advance the goods for relief and rehabilitation as outright gifts."

Mr. Lehman cited the North African situation as evidence that relief of civilians behind the lines is a military necessity; but, he added, it is not military necessity alone that calls for adequate relief and rehabilitation measures.

"If we have learned anything from the decades just behind us it is this: That we can not, even if we would, make ourselves secure in a world in which millions of men, women and children are dying of want or by epidemic.

"We can not live with security," he emphasized, "in a world half rich, half pauperized. International trade can not flourish or sound economic expansion take place in a world tormented by expectations of the violence that is born of suffering and misery."

Last Moral Rearmament Member To Be Drafted

New York, June 17 (AP) — Col. Arthur V. McDermott, New York city selective service director, has announced receipt of instructions from Washington to "procede with the induction" of Dr. James Albert Cooper, last of thirty-two members of the moral rearmament group who filed deferment appeals last winter.

The selective service office said Dr. Cooper, 31-year-old British subject, would be ordered to report for induction July 7.

The appeals were filed by the alien MRA members on the grounds that they aided the war effort by morale work. All cases but Dr. Cooper's had been settled previously, most of them by inductions.

Mrs. Norgaard a Lieutenant

FORT DES MOINES, Iowa, June 17 (AP).—Mildred H. Norgaard, wife of Nolan D. Norgaard, Associated Press war correspondent now in North Africa, has been commissioned a Waac third officer (second lieutenant). She joined the corps in New York on Jan. 4.

W.L. Hamilton, Coral Sea Hero, Killed in Action

Began Naval Career at 15, Led Dive-Bombing Unit With Carrier Lexington

SAN DIEGO, Calif., June 16 (AP).—Lieutenant Commander Weldon L. Hamilton, formerly of Rumford, R. I., a hero of the Battle of the Coral Sea, has been killed in action in the South Pacific, the Navy Department notified his wife, Mrs. Inez E. Hamilton, of Coronado, Calif., today. He was thirty-six years old.

His death ended a naval career that began at the age of fifteen and was climaxed with the awards of the Navy Cross and Distinguished Flying Cross for his exploits as a dive-bomber squadron commander on the carrier Lexington.

Commander Hamilton was credited with planting the first heavy bomb on the flight deck of the Japanese aircraft carrier Ryukaku in the Coral Sea battle. The carrier later was sunk by Hamilton's squadron.

Although the Lexington was lost in the battle, the commander brought every one of his squadron members to safety and had the distinction of never having lost one of his pilots in battle.

TO INSTRUCT R.A.F. CADETS

LOS ANGELES, June 17 — (AP) Actor Brian Aherne said today he was quitting film work to become a flight instructor for the Royal air force at Falcon field, Mesa, Ariz. He recently finished a refresher instructor's course and was given leave to finish his current picture.

ALASKA HIGHWAY GETS NEW NAME

Whitehorse, Y. T., June 17 (A. P.).—Brig.-Gen. James A. O'Connor of the United States Army's Northwest Service Command today settled the controversy surrounding the name of the Alaska Highway by announcing the name Alcan had been abandoned and the 1,600-mile route to the north would be known officially as the Alaska Military Highway.

THE WAR TODAY

- - -

(WHILE DEWITT MACKENZIE IS ON VACATION, THIS DAILY COLUMN IS BEING WRITTEN BY MAX HILL, FORMER CHIEF OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS BUREAU IN TOKYO).

- - -

JUN 18 1943

BY MAX HILL

TURKEY HAS PICKED HER WINNER IN THE WAR. THERE NO LONGER CAN BE ANY DOUBT THAT SHE HAS CLIMBED DOWN OFF THE DIPLOMATIC FENCE AND DECIDED THE UNITED NATIONS ARE THE BEST BET.

THIS PROBABLY DOES NOT SURPRISE EITHER THE AXIS OR THE ALLIES, BUT JUST THE SAME IT IS A BODY BLOW TO HITLER, AND IT EXPOSES ONE OF THE SOFT SPOTS IN HIS VAUNTED FORTRESS OF EUROPE TO ATTACK--THE BALKANS.

TWO YEARS AGO TURKEY WOULD NOT HAVE DARED TREAT THE AXIS WITH SUCH CHILLING SCORN AS PREMIER SUKRU SARACOGLU DID YESTERDAY. HE EXPRESSED WARM FRIENDSHIP FOR AMERICA BRITAIN AND RUSSIA, AND THEIR AIMS IN THE WAR. HIS REMARKS CONCERNING GERMANY WEERE TEPID AND RESTRAINED, TO SAY THE LEAST.

IT HAS BEEN EVIDENT FOR SOME TIME THAT WE HELD THE WHIP-HAND IN TURKEY, AND THAT FRANZ VON PAPEN HAS FAILED UTTERLY AND COMPLETELY IN ANOTHER MISSION FOR HITLER. BUT IT WAS NOT AN OPENLY ADMITTED FACT. NOW IT IS.

JUN 19 1943

30.24 — 5113

TURKEY HASN'T EVEN VOICED A TECHNICAL PROTEST OVER THE CLOSING OF THE SYRIAN BORDER, A MOVE WHICH WAS SAID BY BRITISH EMBASSY SOURCES IN ANKARA TO BE NECESSARY TO SHIELD TROOP MOVEMENTS.

IT IS KNOWN THAT BOTH BRITAIN AND AMERICA HAVE GREAT QUANTITIES OF WAR MATERIALS AND LARGE ARMIES IN INDIA. NOT TOO FAR AWAY. MIGHT THIS BE THE SOURCE OF A GOOD PART OF THE OFFENSIVE POWER THE UNITED NATIONS SEEM TO BE MASSING IN THE NEAR EAST?

THIS LATEST DEVELOPMENT IN THE GLOBAL WAR IS A DEFINITE THREAT TO HITLER'S VITAL OIL SUPPLY IN RUMANIA, MUCH MORE IMPORTANT TO HIM THAN THE SUPPORT OF ITALY, AND THE UNCERTAINTY IN BERLIN SHOULD HAVE DOUBLED WITH THE SEMI-OFFICIAL REPORTS FROM ANKARA THAT RUMANIA HAD PUT OUT PEACE FEELERS. THROUGH A NEUTRAL DIPLOMAT SHE WANTED TO KNOW WHAT THE ATTITUDE OF THE UNITED NATIONS TOWARD HER WOULD BE, SHOULD SHE WITHDRAW FROM THE WAR. HITLER CAN HOLD SUCH COUNTRIES AS RUMANIA ONLY BY FORCE AND BY WINNING, WHICH ISN'T THE CASE JUST NOW.

JUN 18 1943

THE AXIS FINALLY HAS HAD TO SWALLOW A TRIPLE DOSE OF ITS OWN MEDICINE--PROPAGANDA. BERLIN, TOKYO AND ROME HAVE NEEDLED THE WORLD WITH THREATS AND RUMORS FOR YEARS. IT WAS A MALICIOUS AND ADROIT SORT OF PSYCHOLOGICAL WARFARE.

NOW IT IS THE DICTATORS WHO ARE WEARING A SHOE THAT PINCHES IN SO MANY PLACES THEY CAN'T TELL WHERE IT HURTS THE WORST. EVEN THE USUALLY CALM AND DELIBERATE PREMIER HIDEKI TOJO OF JAPAN IS UPSET, AND NO WONDER.

HE TOLD THE JAPANESE DIET IN TOKYO THAT THE ENEMY (MEANING THE UNITED NATIONS) WAS "MOBILIZING ALL HIS RESOURCES FOR A COUNTER OFFENSIVE." OF COURSE HE MEANT AGAINST JAPAN.

THAT WAS AN ANGLE WHICH HASN'T EVEN BEEN SUGGESTED FOR THE PRESENT MOMENT BY THOSE DIRECTING THE STRATEGY OF THE UNITED NATIONS. BUT THERE AREN'T MANY OTHERS THEY HAVE NEGLECTED.

HINTS AND SECOND-HAND RUMORS OF AN INVASION OF EUROPE, OR OF A SECOND FRONT, HAVE BEEN HEADLINE NEWS FOR MANY WEEKS. THOSE WHO COULD ACTUALLY SAY WHAT WAS HAPPENING WERE SILENT AND DISCREET.

THEN THE PSYCHOLOGICAL ATTACK AGAINST THE AXIS SWUNG IN THE OTHER DIRECTION. THERE WASN'T GOING TO BE ANY INVASION IN EUROPE THIS YEAR, AFTER ALL.

THE RESULT HAS BEEN THAT THE GERMAN AND ITALIAN STRATEGISTS--IF THE SHORT WAVE BROADCASTS FROM THOSE NATIONS CONTAIN EVEN A SHATTERING OF TRUTH--HAVE BECOME SO BEWILDERED THAT THEY FINALLY HAVE HAD TO RESORT TO NOTHING MORE THAN WILD GUESSES. IT IS A REPETITION OF THE NORTH AFRICA PRE-LANDING CAMPAIGN ON A GRAND SCALE.

THE STRATEGY OF THE UNITED NATIONS MUST BE QUITE CLEAR EVEN TO THE AXIS. IT IS TO CONFUSE AND DECEIVE, AND THEN STRIKE. THAT PUTS GERMANY IN A TOUGH SPOT.

JUN 18 1943

SHE IS VIRTUALLY COMMITTED TO AN OFFENSIVE CAMPAIGN IN RUSSIA, BUT SHE DARE NOT MOVE UNTIL SHE IS SURE WHAT BRITAIN AND THE UNITED STATES ARE PLANNING.

GERMANY, RIGHT NOW, IS IN THE POSITION OF A MAN WITH MANY MINOR KNIFE WOUNDS. NO SINGLE WOUND IS IMPORTANT, BUT TAKEN TOGETHER THI ARE SAPPING THE STRENGTH AND VIRILITY OF THE NATION.

TASSAEW

JUN 18 1943

LONDON, FRIDAY, JUNE 18-(AP)-A LARGE FORCE OF RUSSIAN PLANES ATTACKING GERMAN AIRDROMES WEDNESDAY NIGHT STARTED 100 BIG FIRES AND TOUCHED OFF DAMAGING EXPLOSIONS, MOSCOW ANNOUNCED EARLY TODAY IN A BROADCAST RECORDED BY THE SOVIET MONITOR. TWO RUSSIAN PLANES WERE LOST.

LONDON, JUNE 17-(AP)-A REUTERS DISPATCH FROM STOCKHOLM TODAY QUOTED MRS. ALEXANDRA KOLLONTAY, SOVIET MINISTER TO SWEDEN, AS DENYING A STORY IN THE PRO-NAZI SWEDISH NEWSPAPER ALLEHANDA SAYING THAT GERMAN AND RUSSIAN REPRESENTATIVES HAD MET RECENTLY IN STOCKHOLM TO DISCUSS A POSSIBLE PEACE.

JUN 18 1943

"IT IS AN INSOLENT AND RIDICULOUS GERMAN PROPAGANDA LIE," MRS. KOLLONTAY TOLD THE STOCKHOLM PAPER DAGENS NYHETER, REUTERS REPORTED. "PEACE NEGOTIATIONS WITH GERMANY ARE UNTHINKABLE."

LONDON, JUNE 17-(AP)-THE YUGOSLAV GOVERNMENT-IN-EXILE REPORTED TODAY THAT PASHKO KATILERLA, ONE OF THE LEADERS OF THE CROAT PEASANT PARTY IN DALMATIA, HAD BEEN SHOT AS A HOSTAGE FOLLOWING THE ASSASSINATION OF THE ITALIAN VICE PREFECT, GIOVANNI SAVO, BY PATRIOTS LAST MARCH.

LONDON, JUNE 17-(AP)-FLYING OFFICER F.M.FISHER, OF LEWISTOWN, PA., A PILOT IN THE RAF, WAS AWARDED THE DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS TODAY FOR HIS PARO IN THE 1,000-MILE DAYLIGHT RAID ON THE ZEISS OPTICAL WORKS IN JENA, GERMANY, MAY 25.

FOUR OTHERS ALSO WERE DECORATED FOR THE OPERATION WHICH THE OFFICIAL CITATION SAID "CALLED FOR A HIGH DEGREE OF SKILL AND NECESSITATED A FLIGHT OVER STRONGLY-DEFENDED AREAS AND DIFFICULT TERRAIN."

LONDON, FRIDAY, JUNE 18-(AP)-BERLIN OVERSEAS RADIO TRANSMISSION WAS INTERRUPTED AT 1:43 A.M., B.W.T., (7:43 P.M., E.W.T. THURSDAY) FOR "TECHNICAL REASONS," REUTERS REPORTED.

THIS GERMAN RADIO SILENCE USUALLY IS THE FORERUNNER OF ALLIED AIR RAIDS ON THE CONTINENT.

LONDON, JUNE 17-(AP)-WARTIME TRANSPORT FLYING BOATS CAPABLE OF BEING CONVERTED INTO 200-PASSENGER SKYLINERS FOR POSTWAR USE WERE DISCLOSED TONIGHT TO BE UNDER CONSTRUCTION AT A BRITISH AIRCRAFT FACTORY.

FIRST WORD CONCERNING THE GIANT AIRSHIPS WAS GIVEN BY SIR ALLIOTT VERDON-ROE, BRITISH AVIATION PIONEER, WHO ANNOUNCED THEY WERE BEING MADE AT THE WORKS OF SAUNDERS-ROE,LTD., OF WHICH HE IS PRESIDENT.

HE SAID THE NEW CRAFT WOULD CARRY 23 TONS OF GASOLINE FOR A FLIGHT RANGE OF 4,000 MILES. THE NUMBER OF PASSENGERS WOULD DEPEND UPON THE DISTANCE TRAVELLED, HE SAID, ADDING THEY COULD ACCOMMODATE UP TO 200 ON A "SHORT JOURNEY -- FOR EXAMPLE FROM BRITAIN TO THE MEDITERR-ANEAN."

JUN 18 1943

FOLKESTONE, ENGLAND, JUNE 17-(AP)-A LARGE FORCE OF ALLIED PLANES WAS HEARD HEADING ACROSS THE STRAIT OF DOVER THIS AFTERNOON INTO NORTHERN FRANCE. THE AIRCRAFT FLEW AT A GREAT HEIGHT AND THEIR ROAR WAS LOST AS THEY WENT TOWARD CALAIS.

TA1021AEW

LONDON, JUNE 17-(AP)-H.V.EVATT, AUSTRALIAN MINISTER FOR EXTERNAL AFFAIRS, EXPRESSED THE BELIEF TODAY THAT JAPAN WOULD COLLAPSE QUICKLY AFTER ADOLF HITLER IS DEFEATED AND SAID "THE

JUN 18 1943

30.24-5115

CERTAINTY OF THE ENEMY'S DEFEAT APPLIES TO THE PACIFIC AS WELL AS TO EUROPE."

AT A PRESS CONFERENCE EVATT SAID HE BELIEVED THAT BY THE ECONOMICAL EMPLOYMENT OF THE INCREASING ALLIED RESOURCES THE INTERVAL BETWEEN THE DEFEAT OF HITLER AND THE DEFEAT OF JAPAN CAN BE MADE SHORT, IF INDEED THERE NEED BE ANY INTERVAL AT ALL."

"THE SUCCESS OF THE AXIS IS NO LONGER POSSIBLE," EVATT SAID. "OUR ULTIMATE TRIUMPH IS ASSURED, PROVIDED WE GUARD AGAINST ALL FORMS OF WAR WEARINESS AND NEVER FORGET HOW CLOSE WE WERE TO THE ABYSS ONLY THREE YEARS AGO."

JUN 18 1943

LONDON, JUNE 17-(AP)-CLASHES BETWEEN SCOUTING PARTIES ON THE SMOLENSK FRONT, INDICATING NEW STIRRINGS IN THAT LONG DORMANT SECTOR, FURNISHED THE PRINCIPAL ACTION LAST NIGHT ON THE GERMAN-RUSSIAN BATTLE-FRONT, THE SOVIET NOON COMMUNIQUE SAID TODAY.

THE WAR BULLETIN, RECORDED BY THE LONDON SOVIET RADIO MONITOR, WAS SILENT ON FIGHTING ABOVE AND BELOW OREL, WHERE SIZEABLE OPPOSING ARMIES WERE REPORTED TO BE MASSING IN ACTIVITY WHICH COMMUNIQUES OF BOTH SIDES HAVE HINTED PORTENDED A MAJOR OFFENSIVE.

THE PARIS RADIO, IN A BROADCAST RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, CITED A BERLIN MILITARY SPOKESMAN AS SAYING:

"THE SOVIET SUMMER OFFENSIVE WILL BEGIN IN A FEW WEEKS'

E. BERLIN QUARTERS EXPECT THE OFFENSIVE WILL START ON THE CENTRAL FRONT WHERE THE SOVIETS ARE MASSING STRONG FORCES.

"CONTINUED SOVIET LOCAL ATTACKS IN THE OREL SECTOR ALSO POINT TO THE FACT THAT THE SOVIETS ARE INTENDING TO USE THE CENTRAL FRONT AS THE STARTING POINT OF THEIR OFFENSIVE."

JUN 18 1943

THE GERMAN HIGH COMMAND, IN ITS DAILY COMMUNIQUE, SPOKE ONLY OF LOCAL FIGHTING ACTIVITY YESTERDAY ON THE EASTERN FRONT.

IT SAID GERMAN TROOPS REPULSED SEVERAL SOVIET THRUSTS ON THE NORTHERN FINNISH FRONT AND CLAIMED THAT 24 SOVIET AIRCRAFT WERE SHOT DOWN YESTERDAY, TWO BY HUNGARIAN FIGHTERS, ON THE SOUTHERN SECTOR OF THE BATTLELINE.

JUN 18 1943

THERE WAS NO MENTION OF ACTION IN THE SMOLENSK AREA ANNOUNCED IN THE RUSSIAN COMMUNIQUE.

RUSSIAN SCOUTS SMASHED THROUGH ENEMY DEFENSES BEFORE SMOLENSK, KILLED SEVERAL DOZEN GERMANS AND CAPTURED EQUIPMENT, AND SPED BACK TO THEIR OWN LINES AFTER THE SORTIES, THE COMMUNIQUE DECLARED.

IN ANOTHER SECTOR OF THE SAME FRONT, A GERMAN SCOUTING PARTY WAS MOWED DOWN BY GUN FIRE AND RETREATED, LEAVING THE BODIES OF 40 DEAD IN FRONT OF THE RUSSIAN BARBED WIRE, IT WAS SAID.

GUERRILLAS IN THE SAME REGION WERE CREDITED WITH KILLING ABOUT A COMPANY OF GERMANS IN AN ATTACK ON A RAILWAY STATION, AND WITH DESTROYING TRUCKS, RAILWAY CARS, BARRACKS AND SUPPLIES. THE RAILWAY TRACK ALSO WAS BLOWN UP, THE COMMUNIQUE SAID.

RUSSIAN GUN BATTERIES SANK FIVE BOATS FILLED WITH GERMAN SOLDIERS IN ACTION ON THE VOLKHOV FRONT SOUTHEAST OF LENINGRAD, AND SMASHED GERMAN BLOCKHOUSES AND DUGOUTS AND BLEW UP AN AMMUNITION DUMP, COMMUNIQUE ANNOUNCED.

TWO GERMAN PLANES WERE SHOT DOWN IN DUELS OVER THE LISICHANSK AREA OF THE UPPER DONETS RIVER, WHERE ARTILLERYMEN POUNDED AN ENEMY SUPPLY COLUMN AND DESTROYED MORE THAN 10 TRUCKS, THE BULLETIN DECLARED.

JR349AEW

JUN 18 1943

LONDON, JUNE 17-(AP)-A STORMY SESSION OF THE BRITISH LABOR PARTY CONFERENCE ON THE POST-WAR TREATMENT OF THE GERMAN PEOPLE TODAY WAS FOLLOWED TONIGHT BY AN "INDIGNATION MEETING" OF 100 DELEGATES.

THE MEETING FOLLOWED THE APPROVAL BY THE CONFERENCE BY A VOTE OF 1,809,000 TO 720,000 A RESOLUTION WHICH IDENTIFIED THE MASS OF THE GERMAN POPULATION WITH THE SPIRIT OF NAZI AGGRESSION.

JUN 18 1943

WITH ANEURIN BEVAN IN THE CHAIR, THE MEETING ADOPTED A RESOLUTION EXPRESSING "SURPRISE AND INDIGNATION THAT THE LABOR MOVEMENT OF THIS COUNTRY SHOULD BE MADE TO SHARE THE DETESTABLE VIEWS WHICH HAVE COME TO BE KNOWN AS 'VANSITTARTISM'."

(THIS REFERRED TO LORD ROBERT VANSITTART WHO HAS REPEATEDLY SAID THAT THE MASS OF THE GERMAN PEOPLE ARE TO BLAME FOR THE WAR JUST AS MUCH AS THE NATIONAL SOCIALIST PARTY.)

THE RESOLUTION ADOPTED BY THE CONFERENCE DECLARED THAT "NO PERMANENT PEACE WILL BE POSSIBLE UNLESS GERMANY IS COMPLETELY DISARMED AND HER AGGRESSIVE NATIONALISM ENTIRELY ERADICATED."

IT ALSO RECOMMENDED STEPS FOR THE "RE-EDUCATION OF THE GERMAN PEOPLE FOR DEMOCRACY."

A RIVAL RESOLUTION OFFERED BY R.R.STOKES, M.P., WAS REJECTED. STOKES' RESOLUTION DEPLORED "THE FALSE IDENTIFICATION OF THE PEOPLES WITH THEIR VICIOUS GOVERNMENT" AND OPPOSED THE IMPOSITION OF A "TREATY OF REVENGE ON THE GERMAN PEOPLE."

STOKES, AN OPPONENT OF WHAT HE HAS TERMED THE RAF BOMBING OF CIVILIAN POPULATIONS, REFERRED IN HIS SPEECH TO "OUR BROTHERS AND SISTERS IN GERMANY."

THE SUCCESSFUL RESOLUTION WAS INTRODUCED BY LINCOLN EVANS, IRON AND STEEL TRADES DELEGATE.

LONDON, FRIDAY, JUNE 18-(AP)-RUSSIA TODAY FORMALLY DENIED A REPORT PUBLISHED IN THE PRO-NAZI STOCKHOLM NEWSPAPER ALLEHANDA THAT GERMAN AND RUSSIAN REPRESENTATIVES HAD MET IN THE SWEDISH CAPITAL TO DISCUSS POSSIBLE PEACE.

THE REPORT EARLIER WAS REFUTED BY MRS.ALEXANDRA KOLLONTAY, SOVIET MINISTER TO SWEDEN.

THE FORMAL DENIAL, ISSUED THROUGH TASS, OFFICIAL SOVIET NEWS AGENCY, SAID IN PART:

"IT (THE REPORT) ALLEGED THAT THESE DISCUSSIONS DEALT WITH TERRITORIAL QUESTIONS AND TASS IS AUTHORIZED TO DENY THIS REPORT AS CLEARLY CLUMSY AND LAUGHABLE."

June 18

LONDON--~~SECOND ADD SECOND NIGHT LEAD~~ RUSSIAN) X X X

JUN 18 1943

HUNDRED GERMANS.

QUOTING REPORTS PRESUMABLY RECEIVED FROM THEIR WELL-ORGANIZED GUERRILLAS AND AGENTS OPERATING BEHIND THE GERMAN FRONT--A FACTOR IN ITSELF THAT HAS CAUSED THE ENEMY ACUTE SUPPLY TROUBLES--THE COMMUNIQUE SAID ONE LARGE GROUP OF GERMANS WERE KILLED BY A DIRECT BOMB HIT ON A MOGILEV SHELTER.

RUSSIAN

THE BULLETIN ADDED THAT DURINGWEDNESDAY'S OPERATIONS ON VARIOUS SECTORS OF THE LONG RUSSIAN FRONT, THE RED AIR FORCE DESTROYED AT LEAST 20 GERMAN TRUCKS CARRYING TROOPS AND SUPPLIES; SILENCED THREE ARTILLERY BATTERIES, AND BLEW UP FIVE AMMUNITION AND FUEL DUMPS AND SEVERAL ENEMY TRAINS.

RUSSIAN PILOTS ALSO SHOT DOWN TWO GERMAN PLANES YESTERDAY ON THE SMOLENSK FRONT, WHILE SOVIET INFANTRY AND ARTILLERY KILLED SEVERAL HUNDRED GERMANS AND DESTROYED A LOCOMOTIVE AND SIX FREIGHT CARS.

30.24-5117

OUTNUMBERED RUSSIAN TROOPS DEFENDING A HEIGHT IN THE BELGOROD SECTOR BELOW OREL WERE REPORTED TO HAVE KILLED 125 GERMANS IN A SUCCESSFUL LOCAL FIGHT; ON THE VOLKHOV FRONT SOUTHEAST OF LENINGRAD ANOTHER 150 GERMANS FELL TO SOVIET MORTAR AND MACHINEGUN FIRE, AND A FINNISH GROUP WAS REPULSED ON THE KARELIAN FRONT ABOVE LENINGRAD.

BUT THE MAIN SECTOR STILL WAS AROUND OREL, 200 MILES SOUTHWEST OF MOSCOW, AND GERMAN PROPAGANDISTS INSISTED THAT THE RUSSIANS WERE GETTING READY FOR AN OFFENSIVE OF THEIR OWN IN THAT AREA.

JUN 18 1943

THE RUSSIANS, MEANWHILE, WERE REPORTED HOLDING THEIR GAINS NORTHWEST OF MTSENSK IN THE OREL AREA AGAINST GERMAN COUNTER-ATTACKS. HERE THE GERMANS WERE SAID TO HAVE LAUNCHED 14 ATTACKS IN TWO DAYS, SUFFERING HEAVY LOSSES.

DISPATCHES TO RED STAR TOLD OF REPULSE OF A FINNISH ATTACK AFTER THE FINNS SET FIRE TO THE KARLEIAN FORESTS, AT THE NORTHERN END OF THE SOVIET FRONT, WITH THERMITE SHELLS.

ABOUT A BATTALION OF FINNISH TROOPS ATTACKED IN THE SMOKE AND CONFUSION, RED STAR SAID, BUT AFTER A LONG BATTLE THE RUSSIANS PUT OUT THE FIRE AND DROVE OFF THE FINNS, WHO LOST 200 DEAD AND WOUNDED.

THE SOVIET NOON COMMUNIQUE REPORTED NEW ACTIVITY ON THE SMOLENSK FRONT, WITH BRISK BATTLES BETWEEN SCOUTING GROUPS.

BY RICE YAHNER

JUN 18 1943

LONDON, FRIDAY, JUNE 18-(AP)-KEEPING UP A WEEK-LONG POUNDING WHICH CULMINATED WEDNESDAY NIGHT IN THE 116TH RAID ON THE INDUSTRIAL CITY OF COLOGNE, A LARGE FORCE OF HEAVY RAF BOMBERS WAS HEARD PASSING OVER THE COAST EARLY TODAY, APPARENTLY HEADING AGAIN FOR GERMANY.

THEY FOLLOWED A NUMBER OF FAST PLANES WHICH STRUCK OUT FOR FRANCE ABOUT MIDNIGHT, RETURNING A SHORT TIME LATER.

AN INDICATION THAT THE ALLIED PLANES WERE AGAIN HEADING TOWARD GERMANY WAS SEEN WHEN THE BERLIN RADIO INTERRUPTED ITS OVERSEAS TRANSMISSION FOR "TECHNICAL REASONS," ITS USUAL WAY OF ANNOUNCING THAT RAF PLANES WERE ATTACKING

JUN 18 1943

LAST NIGHT'S RAID ON COLOGNE WAS AGAIN AIMED AT THE HEAVY CONCENTRATION OF NAZI WAR INDUSTRY ALONG THE RHINE RIVER, ALREADY HEAVILY HAMMERED.

THE ROME RADIO, IN A BROADCAST RECORDED BY REUTERS, QUOTED OFFICIAL ADVICES FROM GERMANY AS SAYING THAT AIR RAIDERS HAD CAUSED AN ALERT IN BERLIN DURING THE NIGHT BUT THAT THERE WERE NO CASUALTIES OR DAMAGE IN THE CITY.

THE BERLIN RADIO WENT OFF THE AIR FOR A TIME, INTERRUPTING ITS OVERSEAS TRANSMISSION FOR "TECHNICAL REASONS"--THE CUSTOMARY GERMAN EXPLANATION WHEN INTERRUPTIONS ARE CAUSED BY AIR RAIDS.

THE AIR MINISTRY ALSO ANNOUNCED THAT RAF HURRICANES AND TYPHOONS SWOOPED INTO A THREE-SHIP ENEMY CONVOY EARLY TODAY OFF THE NETHERLANDS COAST AND DAMAGED ALL OF THEM, ONE SO SEVERELY IT WAS STATED SHE PROBABLY SANK. THE PLANES SUFFERED NO LOSS AND LEFT ALL THE SHIPS SMOKING FROM BOB HITS AND BULLETS.

BY LEO BRANHAM

(ADD)

A U.S. BOMBER STATION IN ENGLAND, JUNE 17-(AP)-~~THE~~ FLYING FORTRESS 'SHACKEROO,") ~~LIMPING HOMEWARD AFTER WEATHERING ONE OF THE MOST~~

JUN 18 1943

THE CREW MEMBERS: WERE

MAJOR LOUIS G.THORUP, SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, PILOT.

CAPT.HOWARD N.KIRK, FRESNO, CALIF., CO-PILOT.

FIRST LIEUT.DEQUINDRE MCGLAUN, COLUMBUS,GA., BOMBARDIER.

FIRST LIEUT.ARVID S.DAHL, COLUMBUS,N.D., NAVIGATOR.

SERGT.JOSEPH F.GRIFFEN, WOBURN, MASS., RADIO-GUNNER.

SERGT.EUGENE H.JONES, GRAND RIVER,IA., WAIST GUNNER.

SERGT.DAVID F.BROWN, DURANT,OKLA., TOP TURRET GUNNER.

SERGT.WARREN W.EVANS, FLEMINGTON,MO., BALL TURRET GUNNER.

SERGT.CHARLES C.FERRIN, SIOUX FALLS, S.D., WAIST GUNNER.

SERGT.WARREN F.HOFFMAN, MUNDELEIN,ILL., TAIL GUNNER.

CAPT.FRANKLIN COLBY OF SAN DIEGO, CALIF., PILOT OF ANOTHER
RTRESS WHICH DIVED DOWN TO OFFER COVER TO THE "SHACKEROO," SAID
ORUP'S SHIP FLEW SO LOW THAT THE PROPS WERE THROWING UP SPRAYS
WATER. IT LOOKED LIKE THE FORTRESS WAS SAILING THROUGH THE SEA ) WITH HALF ITS TAIL SHOT OFF IT REALLY WAS A HELLUVA SIGHT."

97 JUN 18 1943

A U.S. BOMBER STATION IN ENGLAND--FIRST ADD SHACKEROO
(BY BRANHAM) X X X HELLUVA SIGHT."

CREWMEN OF COLBY'S BOMBER TOSSED OUT ONE OF THEIR RUBBER RAFTS
ND RADIOED THE LOCATION OF THE WATER LANDING TO THE AIR-SEA RESCUE OMMAND.

THE "SHACKEROO", WITH ONLY ONE ENGINE FUNCTIONING AT THE END,
INALLY HIT THE WATER AND THE CREW PILED OUT. THEY TIED TWO RAFTS OGETHER AND TRIED ROWING, BUT THE WIND AND WAVES WERE SO HIGH THEY

ADE NO PROGRESS.

HEARING PLANES MANY HOURS LATER THE CREW FIRED A FLARE AND WERE EEN BY TWO BOSTONS FLYING ON A MISSION. THE PLANES CIRCLED THE RAFT, NDICATED THEY HAD RADIOED THE POSITION, AND THEN CONTINUED ON THEIR AY.

"IT WASN'T LONG AFTER THE BOSTONS LEFT," KIRK SAID, "WHEN WE SAW
FOUR TORPEDO BOATS PLOUGHING DEAD ON INTO US. THEY WEREN'T AFTER US
BUT THEY TOOK US ABOARD."

BROWN SAID THE BRITISH OFFERED TO SPLIT THEIR PARTY AND TAKE SOME OF THE AMERICANS ALONG, "BUT WE HAD OUR FILL OF SALT WATER FOR ONE DAY PLUS THE RAID, PLUS THE BATTLE, AND WE ELECTED TO BE MADE INTO ONE PARTY AND GO BACK WITH ONE OF THE BOATS."

"IT TOOK US A LONG TIME TO GET BACK TO LAND AND IT SURE LOOKED GOOD TO ME," SAID EVANS.

JUN 18 1943

DN958PEW

BY EDWARD D.BALL

A POLISH PARACHUTE BASE SOMEWHERE IN SCOTLAND, FRIDAY, JUNE 18-
(AP)-POLAND'S COMPACT BRITAIN-BASED ARMY HAS ITS OWN PARACHUTE
INVASION FORCE READY TO POUNCE UPON THE GERMANS ON "INVASION DAY."

THESE SUPERBLY TRAINED, BATTLE-HARDENED MEN, WEARING THE PEARL-GRAY BERET AND SILVER EAGLE OF THE POLISH AIRBORNE CORPS, HAVE COMPLETED THEIR TRAINING HERE ON SCOTLAND'S BROAD MOORS. THEY ARE WAITING ONLY FOR THE INVASION SIGNAL.

AT JOINT MANEUVERS JUST COMPLETED WITH BRITISH PARACHUTE TROOPERS BACK FROM NORTH AFRICA THE POLES DEMONSTRATED THEIR ABILITY AND EAGERNESS TO REPAY--WITH INTEREST--THEIR DEFEAT IN 1939.

JUN 18 1943

USING A TECHNIQUE ALL THEIR OWN, THEY PLUNGED BY THE HUNDREDS FROM THE BELLIES OF TRANSPORT PLANES SKIMMING OVER THE MOORS AT UNDER 500 FEET. IN A MATTER OF SECONDS THEY HAD HIT THE GROUND AND SURGED FORWARD THROUGH EXPLODING CHARGES UNDER BATTLE CONDITIONS.

A SORT OF AIRBONE COUNTERPART OF THE FRENCH FOREIGN LEGION, THIS OUTFIT INCLUDES MEN OF MANY NATIONALITIES, BUT WITH ONE COMMON AIM. THE POLES PREDOMINATE BUT THERE ARE ALSO FRENCHMEN AND NORWEGIANS--AND TWO AMERICANS, RICHARD KRESGE TICE, OF ALLENTOWN, PA., AND JAMES BURNHAM, OF CONNEAUT, O., BOTH 20,WITH NOT A DROP OF POLISH BLOOD IN THEIR VEINS.

JUN 18 1943

THEIR 50-YEAR-OLD MUSTACHIOED COMMANDER IS A FORMER INFANTRY OFFICER AND HERO OF THE BATTLE OF WARSAW. HE CALLS HIS PARACHUTE TROOPERS THE TOUGHEST, HITLER-HATINGEST OUTFIT ON EARTH. THE HATRED IS UNDERSTANDABLE, FOR MANY OF THEM ONLY RECENTLY ESCAPED FROM GERMAN PRISON CAMPS.

PLUCKING A CLUSTER OF HEATHER FROM THE SEAT OF HIS MARTIAN ZOOT SUIT AFTER A NEAT, ONE-POINT PRACTICE LANDING, TICE EXPLAINED HOW HE AND BURNHAM CAME TO JOIN THE POLISH ARMY.

"I ENLISTED IN THE UNITED STATES ARMY WHEN I WAS 18,/ TICE RELATED. "AFTER 13 MONTHS WITH THE 34TH INFANTRY HEADQUARTERS COMPANY AT FORT MEADE, AND TANK OUTFITS AT FORT BENNING AND FORT KNOX, THEY DISCHARGED ME BECAUSE OF A BUSTED EARDRUM. THAT WAS THREE MONTHS BEFORE PEARL HARBOR.

"FOR AWHILE I KNOCKED AROUND THE RACETRACKS AT LOUISVILLE,

JUN 18 1943

30.24 - 5119

ST.LOUIS AND CLEVELAND HANDLING HORSES. WHEN I GOT TO DETROIT I PICKED UP JIMMY BURNHAM AND WE HEADED ACROSS THE BORDER TO CANADA, BOTH DETERMINED TO GET INTO SOMEBODY'S ARMY.

"THE FIRST THING WE SAW WAS A POLISH ARMY TRUCK. WE ARE BOTH OF ANGLO-FRENCH STOCK AND WE DIDN'T SPEAK A WORD OF POLISH, BUT THE DRIVER UNDERSTOOD WHAT WE WANTED AND TOOK US TO A RECRUITING STATION. THEY SIGNED US UP AND BROUGHT US OVER HERE IN MARCH, 1942."

TICE, A STRAPPING SIX-FOOT 200-POUNDER, IS NOW TRAINING FOR AN OFFICER'S COMMISSION. HE IS THE SON OF SYLVESTER TICE, A LANDSCAPE GARDENER LIVING AT 1821 1/2 CEDAR ST., ALLENTOWN. BURNHAM (STREET ADDRESS UNAVAILABLE) WENT TO SCHOOL IN NEW KINGSVILLE, OHIO, BEFORE MOVING TO CONNEAUT.

JUN 18 1943

A 25-YEAR-OLD TROOPER NAMED JAN TOLD THROUGH AN INTERPRETER THAT HE, TOO, WAS AN AMERICAN CITIZEN, BUT THAT HIS FAMILY TOOK HIM TO POLAND WHEN HE WAS THREE YEARS OLD. HE SAID HE WAS BORN IN 1918 IN ALTOONA, PA., WHERE HIS FATHER WORKED ON A FARM.

JAN SAID HE WAS PREPARING TO GO BACK TO THE UNITED STATES WHEN THE WAR BROKE OUT. BUT HE LOST HIS CITIZENSHIP PAPERS WHILE ON THE WAY TO BRITAIN BY WAY OF RUSSIA AND THE MIDDLE EAST.

MOSCOW, JUNE 16-(AP)-THE SOVIET GOVERNMENT ANNOUNCED OFFICIALLY TODAY THAT RUSSIA AND MEXICO HAVE DECIDED TO RAISE THEIR RESPECTIVE DIPLOMATIC MISSIONS TO EMBASSIES.

CONSTANTINE OUMANSKY, FORMER AMBASSADOR TO THE UNITED STATES, HAS BEEN NAMED AMBASSADOR TO MEXICO AND LOUIS QUINTANILLA AMBASSADOR TO MOSCOW, THE AGENCY TASS SAID.

OUMANSKY, NOW ON HIS WAY TO MEXICO, WAS IN WASHINGTON FROM 1936 - 1941. QUINTANILLA HAS BEEN IN RUSSIA SINCE LAST APRIL.

June 17 (AP)

MOSCOW--INSERT AFTER FIRST GRAPH (POLISH-RUSSIAN) X X X JOSEPH STALIN.

(THE UNION OF POLISH PARTRIOTS IS AN ORGANIZATION OF POLES LIVING IN RUSSIA AND HAS NO CONNECTION WITH OR RECOGNITION FROM THE POLISH GOVERNMENT IN EXILE. AFTER THE MOSCOW GOVERNMENT BROKE OFF DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS WITH THAT GOVERNMENT LAST APRIL 26, SOVIET LEADERS BEGAN TO TREAT THE UNION OF POLISH PATRIOTS INFORMALLY AS REPRESENTATIVE OF THE POLISH PEOPLE.)

STOCKHOLM, JUNE 17-(AP)-AMERICAN GENERAL SHERMAN TANKS PROVED SO FORMIDABLE IN AFRICA THAT COL. GEN. HEINZ GUDERIAN, INSPECTOR GENERAL OF THE GERMAN TANK FORCE, IS PUTTING CAPTURED MODELS THROUGH ELABORATE TESTS IN HOPES OF DISCOVERING A WEAKNESS BEFORE THE ALLIES INVADE EUROPE, THE BERLIN CORRESPONDENT OF AFTONBLADET REPORTED TODAY.

JUN 18 1943

NAZI TANK SPECIALISTS OPENLY EXPRESS ADMIRATION FOR THE GENERAL SHERMAN, THE CORRESPONDENT SAID, AND GUDERIAN WAS STATED TO HAVE FORMED AN EXPERIMENTAL TANK REGIMENT EQUIPPED BOTH WITH CAPTURED SHERMANS AND GENERAL LEES, THE LATTER THE SHERMAN'S IMMEDIATE PREDECESSOR AMONG AMERICAN TANK MODELS.

THE CORRESPONDENT REPORTED THE SPECIAL REGIMENT WOULD BE STATIONED SOMEWHERE ON THE GERMAN NORTH COAST, WHERE IT IS BEING PUT THROUGH ITS PACES AGAINST NAZI ANTI-TANK WEAPONS.

SPEED AND MANEUVERABILITY ARE CITED AS TWO OF THE GENERAL SHERMAN'S OUTSTANDING CHARACTERISTICS NECESSITATING NEW DEFENSIVE TACTICS AGAINST IT.

...n H. COLBURN

STOCKHOLM, JUNE 17-(AP)-THE GERMANS ARE RATIONING TROLLEY AND BUS TRANSPORTATION IN MOST OF THEIR INDUSTRIAL CITIES AS A RESULT OF HEAVY DAMAGE FROM ALLIED AERIAL BOMBARDMENTS, BERLIN DISPATCHES REPORTED TODAY AS NEW RAIDS REVIVED NAZI TALK OF LARGE-SCALE RETALIATI AGAINST BRITAIN.

JUN 18 1943

THE GERMANS WERE SAID TO BE "SPREADING" AVAILABLE EQUIPMENT BY SHIFTING IT FROM ONE TOWN TO ANOTHER, RESULTING IN SUCH A SHORTAGE THAT RATIONING OF PASSENGERS IS NECESSARY, ESPECIALLY AT PEAK PERIOD

DURING THE MORNING AND EVENING ONLY SOLDIERS AND PEOPLE WITH WAR PLANT EMPLOYMENT CARDS MAY USE TROLLEYS AND BUSES, THE DISPATCHES SAID. CHILDREN MUST WALK TO AND FROM SCHOOL.

THE RUHR WAS SAID TO BE AFFECTED WORSE THAN OTHER DISTRICTS.

HEAVY RAIDS ON THIS AREA IN THE PAST 10 DAYS HAVE PROMPTED BERLIN SOURCES TO THREATEN AGAIN THAT "IT IS ONLY A QUESTION OF TIME" WHEN THE NAZI AIR FORCE WILL RETALIATE, THE BERLIN CORRESPONDENT OF THE STOCKHOLM NEWSPAPER SVENSKA DAGBLADET REPORTED.

"THEN THE GERMAN AIR FORCE WILL GO BACK TO ENGLAND STRONGER THAN BEFORE, WITH NEW TYPES OF PLANES, NEW TACTICS, NEW STRATEGY AND NEW KINDS OF BOMBS," THE WRITER QUOTED ONE SOURCE AS SAYING.

RELIABLE REPORTS FROM THE REICH SAID, HOWEVER, THAT THE GERMANS HA BEEN FORCED TO SHIFT THEIR PLANE OUTPUT FROM BOMBERS TO FIGHTERS IN IN ORDER TO COMBAT THE ALLIED OFFENSIVE.

CC

JUN 18 1943

30.24- 5121

MADRID. JUNE 17-(AP)-THE NEW 3,000-MAN "FIRST REGIMENT" WHICH THE GERMANS HAVE AUTHORIZED PIERRE LAVAL TO ORGANIZE AS THE ONLY LEGAL ARMED FORCE OF THE VICHY GOVERNMENT WILL BE UNDER PERSONAL ORDERS OF LAVAL HIMSELF, DISPATCHES TO SPAIN SAID TODAY.

ONLY THROUGH THE "SECRETARY OF STATE FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE" WILL MARSHAL PETAIN BE ABLE TO COMMAND THE FORCE AND THAT SECRETARY-SHIP IS HELD BY LAVAL IN ADDITION TO HIS POSITION AS CHIEF OF GOVERNMENT.

JUN 18 1943

INFORMED SOURCES WHO CANNOT BE IDENTIFIED BY NAME SAID THE VEST ROCKET ARMY'S REAL DUTIES WOULD BE TO FORM A SPECIAL EMERGENCY GUARD FOR LAVAL.

ALGIERS, JUNE 17-(AP)-THIRTEEN MEMBERS OF THE FRENCH NATIONAL LIBERATION COMMITTEE, WITH GEN. HENRI GIRAUD PRESIDING, REACHED AN AGREEMENT AT AN 80-MINUTE MEETING TODAY ON PROCEDURE AND COLLECTIVE RESPONSIBILITY, IT WAS ANNOUNCED.

RENE MASSIGLI, COMMISSIONER OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS, INFORMED THE FIRST PLENARY SESSION OF COMMUNICATIONS RECEIVED FROM OTHER GOVERNMENTS CONCERNING RECOGNITION OF THE COMMITTEE AS THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT OF THE FRENCH EMPIRE.

THE COMMITTEE BEGAN THE FIRST STEPS TOWARD THE CREATION OF A "CONSULTATIVE ASSEMBLY."

IT WAS ALSO ANNOUNCED THAT AN EXCHANGE OF VIEWS HAD TAKEN PLACE ON THE PROBLEMS CONCERNING THE ORGANIZATION OF FRENCH MILITARY FORCES, ONE OF THE PRINCIPAL CAUSES OF FRICTION BETWEEN GIRAUD AND GEN. CHARLES DE GAULLE.

THE COMMUNIQUE ISSUED BY THE COMMITTEE SAID:

"THE FRENCH COMMITTEE OF NATIONAL LIBERATION MET FOR THE FIRST TIME IN PLENARY SESSION UNDER THE CHAIRMANSHIP OF GEN. GIRAUD. THE MEMBERS OF THE COMMITTEE AGREED ON METHODS OF WORK WHICH WILL ENSURE THE PROPER WORKING OF THE VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS AND WHICH WILL BRING TO A CONCLUSION THE VARIOUS QUESTIONS NOW PENDING AND WHICH NEED TO BE SOLVED URGENTLY. AN EXCHANGE OF VIEWS HAS TAKEN PLACE ON THE PROBLEMS CONCERNING THE ORGANIZATION OF THE FRENCH FORCES.

"THE COMMISSIONER FOR FOREIGN AFFAIRS HAS INFORMED THE COMMITTEE OF VARIOUS COMMUNICATIONS WHICH HAVE BEEN RECEIVED FROM VARIOUS GOVERNMENTS CONCERNING THE RECOGNITION OF FRENCH COMMITTEE OF NATIONAL LIBERATION.

"THE COMMITTEE HAS DECIDED TO PURSUE PROMPTLY THE STUDY OF THE CREATION OF A CONSULTATIVE ASSEMBLY, THE ORGANIZATION OF WHICH HAS BEEN FORESEEN IN AN EXCHANGE OF LETTERS BETWEEN GEN. DE GAULLE AND GEN. GIRAUD, WHICH LETTERS ARE THE BASIS OF THE FORMATION OF THE FRENCH COMMITTEE OF NATIONAL LIBERATION.

JUN 18 1943

"ALL MEMBERS OF THE COMMITTEE WERE PRESENT AT THE MEETING EXCEPT M. HENRI BONNET, WHOSE ARRIVAL FROM THE UNITED STATES IS EXPECT."

EDITORS--COMPLETE TEXT.)

ONE COMMITTEEMAN TOLD THE PRESS "EVERYTHING WENT ADMIRABLY -- AN ABSOLUTELY DEMOCRATIC INSTITUTION HAS NOW BEEN BORN."

HE SAID THE SIX COMMISSIONERS ATTENDING THE COMMITTEE MEETING FOR THE FIRST TIME ACCEPTED, LIKE THE ORIGINAL SEVEN COMMITTEEMEN, THE PRINCIPLE OF COLLECTIVE RESPONSIBILITY AND THE PLEDGE TO RELINQUISH THE COMMITTEES' POWERS WHEN FRANCE IS FREED.

JUN 18 1943

WHILE MASSIGLI TOLD THE COMMITTEE OF THE COMMUNICATIONS RECEIVED FROM VARIOUS GOVERNMENTS ON RECOGNITION OF THE COMMITTEE, IT WAS NOT SPECIFIED WHICH GOVERNMENTS HAD ALREADY DEALT WITH HIM. BOTH GREAT BRITAIN AND THE UNITED STATES WERE REPORTED PREVIOUSLY TO HAVE AGREED TO GRANT THE COMMITTEE DE FACTO RECOGNITION IF IT SEEMED TO THEM CERTAIN THAT DE GAULLE AND GIRAUD WOULD COMPOSE THEIR DIFFERENCES.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT THAT AGREEMENT ON PROCEDURE TODAY "WILL BRING TO A CONCLUSION THE VARIOUS QUESTIONS NOW PENDING WHICH NEED TO BE SOLVED URGENTLY" WAS INTERPRETED AS THE MOST HOPEFUL INDICATION THAT THE QUARREL OVER MILITARY POWER BETWEEN DE GAULLE AND GIRAUD MIGHT SOON BE SOLVED.

JUN 18 1943

THE COMMITTEE SET NO DATE FOR ITS NEXT SESSION.

CALLED TO THE MEETING WERE NOT ONLY THE ORIGINAL SEVEN MEMBERS OF THE COMMITTEE BUT ALSO THE SIX COMMISSIONERS WHO OCCUPY THE STATUS OF MINISTERS IN THE NEW FRENCH REGIME.

SUMMONING OF THE FULL MEMBERSHIP WAS REGARDED BY OBSERVERS AS IN ITSELF SOMETHING OF A VICTORY FOR DEGAULLE, WHO HAS REFUSED TO ATTEND MEETINGS OF THE SEVEN-MAN COMMITTEE FOR THE PAST WEEK.

A SESSION OF THE ENTIRE GROUP HAD BEEN SUGGESTED BY DEGAULLE TO BREAK THE DEADLOCK OVER APPOINTMENT OF A COMMISSIONER OF NATIONAL DEFENSE, AND IT WAS ASSUMED THAT HE FELT CONFIDENT HE COULD MUSTER A MAJORITY OF THE 13 VOTES. GIRAUD HAD BEEN RELUCTANT TO CALL THE MEETING.

DEGAULLE HAS BEEN REPORTED DESIROUS OF TAKING OVER THE PORTFOLIO OF NATIONAL DEFENSE HIMSELF, BUT HE HAS BEEN OPPOSED BY GIRAUD.

THE COMMITTEE MEETING PRECEDED BY ONLY 24 HOURS THE THIRD ANNIVERSARY OF DEGAULLE'S DECISION TO KEEP THE FIGHTING FRENCH IN THE WAR--A DATE WHICH HIS FOLLOWERS WILL CELEBRATE AS A GREAT NATIONAL FETE.

- -

NSIDE THE BALKANS (5)

- -

EW GREEK ARMY

IGHTS GERMANS

- - -

JUN 18 1943

UERRILLAS NOW

RGANIZED ON

IDE BASIS (800)

- - -

(GREECE, STARVED ALMOST INTO COLLAPSE A YEAR AGO, NOW HAS A NATION-WIDE GUERRILLA ARMY FIGHTING THE AXIS AND PREPARED TO HELP HER ALLIED DELIVERERS WHEN THEY CAN COME. THIS STORY OF GREECE'S COMEBACK IS THE FIFTH IN A SERIES ON THE SITUATION INSIDE THE BALKANS.)

---

BY FRANK J.O'BRIEN

(ADVANCE) ANKARA, TURKEY-(AP)-GREECE HAS SECRETLY ORGANIZED A NATION-WIDE ARMY AND IS FIGHTING BACK AT HER CONQUERORS WITHOUT WAITING FOR ALLIED SUPPORT.

AXIS FORCES, SCATTERED BEHIND DEFENSIVE RAMPARTS FROM CRETE TO GREECE'S NORTHERN BORDERS, WATCHING CONSTANTLY FOR THE SHIPS AND PLANES OF AN ALLIED INVASION FORCE, ARE HAMPERED, HARRIED AND HAUNTED BY THE GHOST OF THE LITTLE NATION THEY THOUGHT THEY HAD KILLED IN 1941.

GREECE, WITH SLENDER BRITISH SUPPORT, HAD REPELLED ITALY'S INVADING

JUN 18 1943

30.24- 5123

FORCES WHEN GERMANY, WITH BULGAR HELP, KNIFED HER IN THE BACK. THEN SHE WAS SUBJECTED TO A PROGRAM OF DELIBERATE STARVATION FOR MORE THAN A YEAR, UNTIL SHE REACHED A STATE APPROACHING PERMANENT COLLAPSE.

BUT, DURING THE PAST YEAR, THE GHOST OF THE GREECE WHICH DEFEATED ITALY HAS ARISEN. ANDART (GUERRILLA) FORCES WERE ORGANIZED AT FIRST IN SCATTERED LOCALITIES, THEN ON A REGIONAL BASIS. THEY SPECIALIZED IN ANNIHILATING BLOWS AT MILITARY CONVOYS ON THE MOUNTAIN ROADS, IN BLASTING IMPORTANT RAILROAD AND HIGHWAY BRIDGES, AND IN ATTACKING AXIS MUNITIONS DUMPS, AIRPORTS AND ENCAMPMENTS.

JUN 18 1943

EN, ON LAST MAY 20, ANDART BECAME A NATIONAL MOVEMENT. ITS REGIONAL LEADERS MET SECRETLY AND ORGANIZED A HIGH COMMAND WHICH OPERATES THROUGH FIVE DIVISIONAL COMMANDERS IN MACEDONIA, THRACE, CENTRAL GREECE, THE PELOPONESE AND EPIRUS. CRETE'S ANDARTS OPERATE SEPARATELY UNDER GENERAL MANDAKAS.

WITH FOOD CONDITIONS IMPROVED BY MONTHLY SHIPMENTS OF 20,000 TONS OF CEREALS AND DRIED FRUITS FROM CANADA, GERRILLA WARFARE IS TODAY THE CORE OF GREEK LIFE AND IS PRODUCING SOME AMAZING RESULTS.

THE FIRST BIG SUCCESS CAME ALMOST A YEAR AGO WHEN THEY PUT THE GEORGPOTAMOS RAILROAD BRIDGE, ON GREECE'S SINGLE FULLSCALE NORTH-SOUTH LINE OUT OF ACTION FOR THREE MONTHS. DESPITE AN ITALIAN GUARD, AN ESTIMATED 350 ANDARTS WRECKED THE BIG STEEL STRUCTURE AT THE BASE OF MOUNT PARNASSUS.

LATER 300 ANDARTS ATTACKED THE KEY AXIS AIRPORT AT LARISSA AND REPORTED DESTRUCTION OF 20 GERMAN PLANES AND A GREAT QUANTITY OF EQUIPMENT AND GASOLINE.

A SMALL BAND OF ANDARTS IS REPORTED TO HAVE CLIMBED MOUNT OLYMPUS RECENTLY AND PLANTED A GREEK FLAG ON THE SUMMIT.

THESE ARE SOME OF THEIR MORE SENSATIONAL EXPLOITS, BUT THE AXIS FEELS THEM MOSTLY IN THE UNCEASING DESTRUCTION OF SMALL MOTORDRAWN CONVOYS CARRYING AMMUNITION, GASOLINE, AND FOOD ALONG THE WINDING MOUNTAIN ROADS. NO TRANSPORTS ARE SAFE ANY LONGER, AND THESE ATTACKS ARE SERIOUSLY HAMPERING AXIS PREPARATIONS FOR DEFENSE.

GERMAN THREATS EARLY IN MAY OF THE "SEVEREST REPRESSIVE MEASURES" WERE FOLLOWED BY THE BURNING OF THE VILLAGE OF DOMENICO IN THESSALY AND THE EXECUTION OF ALL MEN BETWEEN THE AGES OF 18 AND 50 IN AN ATTEMPT TO HALT THE GROWING ANDART EFFECTIVENESS.

JUN 18 1943

THE LATEST AND MOST RELIABLE ESTIMATES PLACE 20 DIVISIONS, A THIRD OF THEM GERMAN AND THE REST ITALIAN, IN THE REGION. GERMAN REINFORCEMENTS CONTINUE TO ARRIVE, THE LATEST REPORT BEING THAT THE ATHENS REGIMENT WAS BROUGHT THERE FROM SEVASTOPOL.

THE GERMAN HIGH COMMAND IN GREECE IS UNDER COLONEL GENERAL ALEXANDER LOEHR OF THE GERMAN AIR FORCE. GERMANY IS COMPLETE CONTROL OF GREECE NOW. MACEDONIA, PART OF THE PELOPONESE AND ATHENS, THE COASTS, PORTS AND AIRPORTS AND MOST OF CRETE ARE UNDER DIRECT GERMAN OCCUPATION. THE ITALIANS ARE MOSTLY IN THE INTERIOR AND HOLD NO VITAL POSITIONS.

THE DEFENSES OF CRETE ARE VERY STRONG AND THE GERMAN PLAN SEEMS TO BE TO DEFEND CRETE AT ALL COSTS, TRY TO PREVENT A LANDONG ON THE PELOPONESE WITH ITALIAN FORCES STIFFENED WITH GERMAN UNITS, AND PREPARE FOR EVENTUAL RETIREMENT TO A DEFENSE LINE ROUGHLY RUNNING WEST FROM SALONIKA AT THE TOP OF THE MAIN GREEK PENINSULA.

JUN 18 1943

THIS LINE IS STRONG AND IS BEING STRENGTHENED. ITS CENTER IS BEING HELD BY A SPECIAL MOUNTAINEER DIVISION AND BOTH WING HAVE RECENTLY BEEN REINFORCED. IT IS HERE THAT THE AXIS INTENDS TO MAKE A LAST DITCH ALL-OUT DEFENSE OF SOUTHEAST EUROPE IF NECESSARY.

SCORES OF AIRCRAFT ARE IN THE SKY OVER ATHENS DAILY AND AT NIGHT SEARCHLIGHTS WORK UNCEASINGLY. ALL ALONG THE GREEK COAST SECURITY MEASURES ARE STRENGTHENED AND ESPECIALLY IN THE PORT AREAS, WHERE BOATS ARE UNABLE TO ENTER AFTER NIGHTFALL UNDER ANY PRETEXT. LARGE NUMBERS OF SMALL BOATS PATROL THE PORTS AND COASTLINES.

THE GOVERNMENT IN ATHENS IS COMPOSED OF GREEKS OF LITTLE CONSEQUENCE. THEY ARE COMPLETELY IN THE HANDS OF THE GERMANS AND DO NOT COMMAND THE LEAST BIT OF RESPECT FROM THE PEOPLE. MEANWHILE THEY WAIT WITH HOPE AND FAITH--ALMOST TOO MUCH OF BOTH--FOR THE DAY OF DELIVERANCE WHICH THEY ARE CERTAIN IS VERY NEAR NOW.

BY R.MAILLARD STEAD

REPRESENTING THE COMBINED UNITED STATES PRESS

DISTRIBUTED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

JUN 18 1943

ADD KING GEORGE

ALGIERS, JUNE 15-(DELAYED)--I ~~WAS ON THE DECK~~ OF AN AMERICAN WAR-

LATER WE COULD SEE A SIMILAR CEREMONIAL TAKING PLACE THERE, EXCEPT THAT AT THE CONCLUSION THE SAILORS SPED THE ROYAL GUEST IN THE TRADITIONAL ROYAL NAVY WAY---BY LINING THE SHIP RAIL AND WAVING THEIR CAPS ABOVE THEIR HEADS AS THEY CHEERED.

ABOARD THE BRITISH WARSHIP THERE WAS AN ILLUSTRATION OF KING GEORGE'S RETENTIVE MEMORY. ALTHOUGH THE PAYMASTER, COMMANDER RUTHERFORD M.MOORE, HAD GROWN A BLACK BEARD SINCE THEY WERE SERVICE ASSOCIATES, THE KING RECOGNIZED HIM ALMOST INSTANTLY AND TALKED WITH HIM OF TIMES WHEN THEY USED TO PLAY GOF TOGETHER.

BEFORE VISITING THE WARSHIPS THE KING INSPECTED HUNDREDS OF AMERICAN AND BRITISH NAVAL MEN AND MERCHANT SEAMEN DRAWN U

JUN 18 1943

WITH HIM OF TIMES WHEN THEY USED TO PLAY GOLF TOGETHER.

ADMIRAL CUNNINGHAM PRESENTED TO HIM TWO HIGH-RANKING AMERICAN NAVAL OFFICERS, VICE ADMIRAL H.K.HEWITT AND REAR ADMIRAL J.L.HALL, AND REAR ADMIRAL SIR CLINTON DANBY OF THE ROYAL NAVY AND GIBSON GRAHAM, HEAD OF THE BRITISH MINISTRY OF TRANSPORT.

ALGIERS HAD THE GREATEST TRAFFIC JAM THE CITY HAS EVER KNOWN. ON ONE MAIN BOULEVARD THE TRAFFIC BLOCK WAS NEARLY A MILE LONG AT ONE TIME, AND THE WAR CORRESPONDENTS ON THEIR WAY TO BE PRESENTED TO THE KING AT THE VILLA HE WAS OCCUPYING FOUND THEMSELVES OBLIGED TO MAKE WIDE DETOURS.

THEY ARRIVED AT THE VILLA IN SMALL GROUPS, THE LATER ONES EXTREMELY PRESSED FOR TIME, AND WERE LINED UP IN SINGLE FILE WITH THE PUBLIC RELATIONS OFFICERS ON THE TERRACE TO WHERE THE KING MET THEM. HE SHOOK HANDS WITH ALL, CHATTED WITH SOME AND REMEMBERED SEVERAL FROM MEETING THEM ON PREVIOUS OCCASIONS IN THE UNITED STATES OR IN BRITAIN.

RM

EE

JUN 18 1943

30.24-5125

BY JOSEPH MORTON

AN ADVANCED BASE WITH THE NORTHWEST AFRICAN AIR FORCE, JUNE 17--(AP)--CAPTAIN OLLIE J.CORDILL, 1940 FOOTBALL STAR AT RICE INSTITUTE, IS KEEPING HIS FINGERS CROSSED. THE VETERAN PILOT OF A B-26 MARTIN MARAUDER HAS BEEN CHEATING THE AXIS AND GETTING AWAY WITH IT.

CORDILL, WHOSE HOME IS AT (920 WOODLAND AVENUE) DALLAS, TEX., IS SITTING AROUND NOW WAITING FOR HIS PLANE TO BE FIXED UP. THE END OF ITS LEFT WING IS MISSING ALONG WITH ALL THE SURFACE COVERING ON THE FUSELAGE. THERE ARE TWO CANNON HOLES THE SIZE OF A GRAPE-FRUIT IN ONE OF THE GAS TANKS, A 10-INCH HOLE IN THE WING AND INSIDE PLENTY OF BROKEN CABLES AND WIRES. ONE GENERATOR IS WRECKED AND THERE ARE HALF A DOZEN HOLES BELOW THE TURRET AND IN THE RIGHT WING A FEW OTHER THINGS HAVE TO BE FIXED UP TOO, BUT CORDILL DOESN'T CONSIDER THEM IMPORTANT.

JUN 18 1943

IN VIEW OF ALL THIS DAMAGE A TEAM OF MESSERSCHMITT 109'S THOUGHT THEY HAD CORDILL'S NUMBER OVER SICILY EARLY THIS WEEK BUT HE MANAGED TO MAKE A FORCED LANDING--ON LITTLE MORE THAN A PRAYER--MADE EMERGENCY REPAIRS AND FLEW TO HIS BASE THE SAME DAY.

THE ASSAULT BEGAN WHEN HEAVY ANTI-AIRCRAFT FLAK CAUGHT THE LEFT WING TIP AS CORDILL'S PLANE LEFT THE SICILIAN TARGET AFTER DROPPING A LOAD OF BOMBS LAST TUESDAY. BURSTS ALSO RIDDLED THE ALUMINUM HOUSING AROUND THE ENGINE NACELLES. TRUCKING IN AFTER A FORMATION OF THREE OTHER CRIPPLED MARAUDERS, HE STARTED FOR HOME SLOWLY. HIS WAS THE LAST PLANE--REAR-END CHARLIE WHO ALWAYS GETS IT IN THE NECK.

TEN TO TWELVE OF THE ME-109'S LOST NO TIME IN ATTACKING AND MADE THEIR PASSES AT THE REAR WHERE THE OTHER BOMBERS COULDN'T BRING THEIR GUNS TO BEAR. THE FIRST FIGHTER THOUGHT HE HAD AN EASY TOUCH.

STAFF SGT.WILSON J.BARONET, R.F.D. 2, CROWLEY, LA., TRIED TO OPEN FIRE WITH THE TAIL MACHINEGUNS BUT BOTH JAMMED BEFORE HE COULD GET OFF A GOOD BURST. THE TURRET GUNNER, STAFF SGT.LORAL H.HALL OF NEWKIRK, OKLA., DID WHAT HE COULD BUT THE ME-109 WOULD APPROACH SO THAT THE TAIL BLOCKED HIS SIGHTS AND THEN DIVED OFF UNDERNEATH. ALL IN ALL IT LOOKED AS IF REAR END CHARLIE WAS IN A TIGHT SPOT.

AFTER FIVE MINUTES ONE OF THE ATTACKERS MADE A FATAL MISTAKE. HE ROARED UP ABOVE THE BOMBER AND SERGEANT HALL CAUGHT HIM IN HIS SIGHTS AND BORE DOWN HARD ON THE TRIGGERS. TRACERS POURED INTO THE MESSERSCHMITT FOR NEARLY 30 SECONDS AND THE SHIP THEN EXPLODED IN MIDAIR.

JUN 18 1943

June 17-(AP)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA--ADD MEDITERRANEAN (ORIGINAL) X X X AND SICILY.)

SIX UNITED STATES AIRMEN WERE GIVEN OFFICIAL CREDIT TODAY FOR VICTO IN COMBAT WHICH HAD BEEN INCLUDED IN EARLIER TOTALS OF ENEMY AIRCRAFT DESTROYED BUT WERE NOT OTHERWISE RECORDED.

SERGT. JOE MICHAELEK OF SOUTH LYON, MICH., SERGT. LOY G.MEYER OF HUME, O., SERGT. WILLIAM M.DONALDSON OF 1562 NORTH HIGH STREET, COLUMBUS, O., AND SERGT. GEORGE F.SKYPECK OF HOLYOKE, MASS., WERE CREDI WITH SHOOTING DOWN ONE MESSERSCHMITT-109 EACH.

SERGT. RICHARD J.COTHELL OF WHITMAN, MASS., DESTROYED A FONIE BULV-190 AND LIEUT. RAY CRAWFORD OF ALHAMBRA, CALIF., BAGGED A MACCHI-202, IT WAS ANNOUNCED.

JUN 18 1943

BY RELMAN MORIN

REPRESENTING THE COMBINED UNITED STATES PRESS

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 16-(DELAYED)-(AP)-HAVING LEAVING HEADQUARTERS ON MONDAY MORNING, THE KING SPENT NEARLY A ULL DAY WITH AN AMERICAN ARMY WHERE HE MET LIEUT. GEN. MARK W.CLARK, OMMANDING GENERAL OF THE U.S. FIFTH ARMY, LIEUT. GEN. GEORGE S.PATTON, R., COMMANDER OF AMERICAN COMBAT FORCES IN TUNISIA, LIEUT. GEN.OMAR N.BRADLEY, COMMANDER OF THE UNITED STATES 2ND ARMY CORPS, MAJ. GEN. EOFFREY KEYS, COMMANDING AN ARMORED UNIT, MAJ. GEN. MANTON S.EDDY AND MAJ. GEN. HUGH GAFFEY.

JUN 18 1943

AS HE REVIEWED ONE PARTICULAR GROUP OF AMERICAN TROOPS, THE KING REMARKED TO MAJOR JAMES D.JOHNSTON OF BARIUM SPRINGS, N.C., COMMANDER OF THE KING'S GUARD, THAT THE MEN'S UNIFORMS LOOKED NUSUALLY CLEAN. HE ASKED HOW THEY WERE ABLE TO DO IT AMID THE UST AND DIRT WHICH WAS INEVITABLE IN ALL NORTH AFRICAN CAMPS.

JOHNSTON REPLIED PROMPTLY: "WITH LOTS OF SOAP AND PLENTY OF ELBOW REASE, YOUR MAJESTY."

THE KING ASKED IF THESE UNITS HAD SUFFERED VERY HEAVY CASUALTIES N THE TUNISIAN FIGHTING. HE SAID HE HAD VISITED A CONVALESCENT CAMP HE PREVIOUS DAY AND SEEN HIMSELF WHAT GOOD CARE THE WOUNDED WERE ETTING.

THE KING THEN PLACED A WREATH AT THE BASE OF A FLAGSTAFF IN THE MERICAN CEMETERY.

IT WAS ANOTHER BIG DAY FOR SGT. FRAZIER WOODARD OF ALABAMA, GA., HO SUPERVISED THE COOKS THAT PREPARED THE LUNCHEON FOR PRESIDENT OOSEVELT WHEN HE WAS IN AFRICA. THE ARMY COOKS WON THE PRESIDENT'S RAISE AND THE KING WAS NO LESS OUTSPOKEN IN HIS PRAISE.

AIDING WOODARD WERE JAMES R.KNOX OF 7310 MONTICELLO ST., ITTSBURGH, PA., W.J.CABBAGESTALK OF DALZELL, S.C., PFC JAMES NELSON FORT PIERCE, FLA., AND PVT. GILBERT LATTIMORE OF HIGH POINT, .C.

UNDER WOODARD'S DIRECTION THEY PREPARED A LUNCHEON THAT COMBINED OME OF THE BEST FEATURES OF SOUTHERN COOKING AND BRITISH MENUS. HE MAIN COURSE WAS ROAST BEEF THAT WOULD HAVE DONE CREDIT TO THE EST PICCADILY CHEF. THEN CAME CREAMED CORN, STRING BEANS, CANNED RUIT SALAD AND HOT BISCUITS THAT WERE LIGHT AS COTTON BALLS. TEA AS SERVED INSTEAD OF COFFEE.

AFTER LUNCHEON AMERICAN COMBAT TEAMS GAVE A DEMONSTRATION OF STREET IGHTING AND OTHERS WENT THROUGH SPECIAL TRAINING EXERCISES. THE EN WENT AT IT SO HARD ONE OF THE OFFICERS WAS ASKED IF THEY ERE PUTTING EXTRA VERVE INTO THEIR WORK BECAUSE OF THE KING'S PRESENCE

THE OFFICER REPLIED: "NO SIR, THAT'S THE WAY THEY ALWAYS DO T. THEY KNOW THEY'RE PRETTY HOT TEAMS AND THEY LIKE TO PROVE IT EVERY TIME THEY GET A CHANCE."

JUN 18 1943

THE KING'S CHAUFFEUR DURING THE TOUR WAS A BRITISH ARMY ERGEANT--BUT HE IS AN AMERICAN FROM BRIDGEPORT, CONN. HE IS SGT. .A.WELLS WHO ENLISTED IN THE BRITISH FORCES IN 1916 AND "HAS BEEN N AND OUT OF THE BRITISH ARMY EVER SINCE." THE SERGEANT SAID E OFTEN THOUGHT OF TRANSFERRING TO THE AMERICAN FORCES "BUT I IGHT NOT GET QUITE SUCH A GOOD JOB SO I GUESS I'D BETTER STAY HERE I AM."

AXIS SATELLITES (NEW)

BY STEPHEN BARBER

JUN 18 1943

CAIRO, JUNE 17-(AP)-INCREASING RESISTANCE BY OPPOSITION

JUN 18 1943

30. 24- 5127

GROUPS WITHIN AXIS SATELLITE COUNTRIES OF SOUTHEASTERN EUROPE, A SITUATION WHICH NAZI AUTHORITIES APPARENTLY ARE HANDLING WITH UNUSUAL LIBERALITY, WAS REPORTED TODAY IN INFORMATION REACHING CAIRO.

UNDERGROUND LEADERS IN COLLABORATIONIST RUMANIA AND BULGARIA ARE BECOMING MORE AND MORE OUTSPOKEN, IT WAS SAID, AND IN BULGARIA, WHERE MANY ELEMENTS HAVE STRONG TIES WITH THE SOVIET, THERE HAS BEEN A RESURGENCE OF THE OLD "MOTHER RUSSIA" SENTIMENT.

THE EXTENT TO WHICH DISAFFECTED GROUPS IN RUMANIA ARE PERMITTING THEMSELVES TO GIVE VOICE TO THEIR DISSATISFACTION WAS INDICATED IN A RECENT SPEECH BY BARON MANFRED VON KILLINGER, GERMAN MINISTER TO BUCHAREST.

"WE LAUGH AT ALL THESE DWARFS," HE DECLARED, "THESE ANTI-GERMANS, POLITICIANS WHO ARE NOTHING BUT TALKATIVE LOAFERS, JEWS, PRO-JEWS AND THOSE WHO ARE SERVANTS OF JEWS."

THEN HE ADDED: "ALL THESE MUST TAKE CARE X X X, OUR PATIENCE WILL END."

JUN 18 1943

SOME QUARTERS HERE EXPRESSED THE VIEW THAT THE VARIOUS UNDERGROUND MOVEMENTS MAY BE MOVING TOO FAST FOR THEIR OWN GOOD, FOR GERMAN TECHNIQUE FREQUENTLY HAS BEEN TO ALLOW THE OPPOSITION SUFFICIENT ROPE TO HANG ITSELF.

THE IDEAL MOVEMENTS FOR THE ALLIES, IT WAS POINTED OUT, ARE THOSE WHICH WOULD REACH THEIR PEAK AT THE MOMENT OF INVASION OF EUROPE.

(THESE REPORTS OF DISSATISFACTION WITHIN THE SATELLITE COUNTRIES WERE HIGHLIGHTED BY A ROUNDABOUT REPORT YESTERDAY THROUGH TURKEY THAT RUMANIA WAS SOUNDING OUT THE ALLIES ON WHAT SHE MIGHT GAIN BY WITHDRAWING FROM THE WAR.

JUN 18 1943

(SEMI-DIPLOMATIC SOURCES IN ANKARA SAID RUMANIA HAD APPROACHED ALLIED AUTHORITIES THROUGH A NEUTRAL DIPLOMAT AND SUGGESTED THAT RUMANIA WOULD DESERT THE GERMANS IN RUSSIA IF RUMANIA WERE ALLOWED TO KEEP AT LEAST PARTS OF BESSARABIA AND BUKOVINA, BOTH CLAIMED BY RUSSIA.

JUN 18 1943

(IN A BROADCAST RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, THE MILITARY CRITIC OF THE BERLINER BOERSENZEITUNG DECLARED, HOWEVER, THAT RUMANIA "THIS TIME HAS CLEARLY RECOGNIZED HER TRUE HISTORIC MISSION."

"DECLARING THE ATLANTIC FRONT "MAY BE CONSIDERED IMPREGNABLE," THIS COMMENTATOR SAID THAT "THERE REMAINS IN THE ENEMY PRESS ONE HOPE OF POSSIBLE ATTACK--IN SOUTHEASTERN EUROPE." HE ASSERTED THIS HOPE IS VAIN BECAUSE THE BALKANS HAVE BEEN MADE A BULWARK.

(THIS BROADCAST WAS ONE OF SEVERAL GERMAN STATEMENTS BETRAYING CONCERN OVER THE POSSIBILITY OF DOUBLE ALLIED ASSAULTS IN THE MEDITERRANEAN, A PLAN OF CAMPAIGN THAT WAS POINTED UP BY CONFIRMATION IN ANKARA YESTERDAY THAT THE TURKISH-SYRIAN FRONTIER HAD BEEN CLOSED "TO PROTECT TROOP MOVEMENTS" ON THE SYRIAN SIDE. THIS AREA WOULD PROVIDE A BASE FOR STRIKING INTO SOUTHEASTERN EUROPE.)

REPORTS REACHING HERE INDICATE THAT HUNGARY IS LAYING PLANS TO ABANDON HITLER'S "NEW ORDER" IF THE NECESSITY ARISES.

RECENT SUSPENSION OF THE BUDAPEST PARLIAMENT, EARLIER BELIEVED DUE TO INCREASING LEFTWING AGITATION, NOW IS THOUGHT TO HAVE BEEN ORDERED BY THE GOVERNMENT OF PREMIER NICOLAS KALLAY TO CHECK POSSIBLE QUESTIONS ON THE SUBJECT OF KALLAY'S RECENT SECRET TALKS IN ROME. THESE TALKS WERE THOUGHT TO HAVE MAPPED OUT A COMMON ITALIAN-HUNGARIAN POLICY IN THE EVENT OF AN AXIS BREAKUP.

THE ASSASSINATION IN APRIL OF COL. ATHANAS PANTEFF, FORMER BULGARIAN

POLICE DIRECTOR WHO ONCE TOOK SEVERE MEASURES AGAINST THE JEWS, AND THE SIMULATNEOUS SLAYING OF OTHER OFFICIALS WERE VIEWED AS THE IMMEDIATE RESULTS OF A NEWLY-FORMED UNDERGROUND MOVEMENT WHEREBY AGRARIANS AND DEMOCRATS FORMED A UNITED FRONT WITH THE EXTREME LEFT AGAINST THE FORCES OF KING BORIS.

JUN 18 1943

ANKARA, JUNE 16-(DELAYED)-(AP)-REFUGEES ARRIVING IN TURKEY FROM THE ITALIAN ISLAND OF CASTELLROSSO IN THE DODECANESE GROUP REPORTED TODAY THAT THE ITALIANS ARE PREPARING TO EVACUATE THE ISLAND.

ALLIED PLANES RECENTLY RECONNOITERED THE ISLAND BUT DROPPED NO BOMBS, THE REFUGEES SAID. THEY REPORTED THAT NEAR FAMINE CONDITIONS PREVAIL THROUGHOUT THE DODECANESE.

(CASTELROSSO IS ONE OF THE EASTERNMOST OF THE DODECANESE GROUP AND IS ONLY A SHORT DISTANCE OFF THE TURKISH COAST.)

NEW DELHI, INDIA, JUNE 17-(AP)-WELLINGTON BOMBERS OF THE RAF LASHED ACK LAST NIGHT WITH ANOTHER ATTACK ON BUTHEDAUNG IN WESTERN BURMA, HE BRITISH ANNOUNCED TODAY.

COUPLED WITH THAT RAID WAS THE NIGHT BOMBING OF THE RAILWAY STATION AT MYAHAUNG, SOUTH OF PROME, IN CENTRAL BURMA, A COMMUNIQUE SAID.

EARLIER IN THE DAY, MOHAWK FIGHTER-BOMBERS ATTACKED INDAINGGY IN THE MYITTHA VALLEY, AND BOMBERS AND FIGHTERS JOINED TO POUND AT ATET HANRA AND SINCH, ON THE MAYU PENINSULA, COMPLETING THEIR RAID WITH LOW-LEVEL MACHINE-GUNNING OF THE TARGET AREA.

CHUNGKING, JUNE 17-(AP)-UNITED STATES PLANES SUPPORTING CHINESE FORCES TRYING TO TAKE THE HUPEH PROVINCE TOWN OF OWCHIHKOW CAUSED MANY FIRES AND EXTENSIVE DAMAGE TUESDAY, A COMMUNIQUE FROM LIEUT. GEN. JOSEPH W.STILWELL'S HEADQUARTERS ANNOUNCED TODAY.

OWCHIHKOW IS NEAR THE YANGTZE RIVER NEARLY 40 MILES SOUTH OF SHASI. CHINESE FORCES REACHED ITS OUTSKIRTS EARLY THIS WEEK.

THE WAR BULLETIN SAID THE AMERICANS ATTACKED THE WAREHOUSE AREA OF THE CITY AT LOTUS POND INLET.

IT ALSO ANNOUNCED THAT GREATLY OUTNUMBERED AMERICAN PLANES THE DAY BEFORE DESTROYED SIX JAPANESE PLANES AND PROBABLY DESTROYED THREE OTHERS IN A BATTLE SOUTHWEST OF NANCHANG. THE AMERICANS SUFFERED NO LOSS.

JUN 18 1943

THE CHINESE HIGH COMMAND MEANWHILE SAID THAT THE CHINESE HAD INTERCEPTED JAPANESE TROOPS WHICH HAD ADVANCED EASTWARD WITH ARTILLERY FROM YANGLOWSU, ON THE CANTON-HANKOW RAILWAY.

THE JAPANESE PRESUMABLY WERE TRYING TO MOP UP CHINESE WHO HAVE BEEN HARASSING THE YOCHOW-HANKOW STRETCH OF THE RAILWAY, DOWN THE YANGTZE FROM OWCHIHKOW, WITH CONSTANT ATTACKS. PRESS DISPATCHES SAID THE HARASSING ATTACKS HAD TOTALLY DISRUPTED TRAFFIC ON THAT RAILWAY STRETCH.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, JUNE 17-(AP)-DESPITE THE ESTRUCTION CAUSED BY 209 TONS OF ALLIED BOMBS IN EIGHT RECENT AIDS, THE JAPANESE PERSISTENTLY ARE BUILDING UP THEIR AIR MIGHT T RABAUL, NEW BRITAIN, AND WEWAK, NEW GUINEA, AS WELL AS IN HE NORTHERN SOLOMONS.

THIS WAS DISCLOSED TODAY IN A STUDY OF PHOTOGRAPHS TAKEN OF THE AIRDROMES BY ALLIED RECONNAISSANCE PLANES.

RABAUL'S AIRDROMES, PARTICULARLY THE LAKUNAI FIELD, HAVE BEEN POUNDED WITH 135 TONS OF BOMBS IN FOUR RAIDS, STARTING A WEEK AGO. IN EACH CASE, THE RETURNING BOMBER CREWS REPORTED LARGE

JUN 18 1943

FIRES, SOME APPARENTLY BURNING PLANES. AFTER THE LATEST RAID TUESDAY, FLIERS ON RECONNAISSANCE CAME BACK SAYING THEY HAD NOTED REPAIR ACTIVITY AT LAKUNAI.

AT WEWAK, ON THE NORTH COAST OF NEW GUINEA 450 MILES NORTHWEST OF THE ALLIED BASE OF PORT MORESBY, 74 (CORRECT) TONS OF BOMBS HAVE BEEN DROPPED IN FOUR RECENT RAIDS, THE FIRST ON MAY 28 AND THE LAST ON JUNE 4.

THE PHOTOGRAPHS SHOWED OTHER CONCENTRATIONS OF ENEMY PLANES ON BOUGAINVILLE ISLAND IN THE NORTHERN SOLOMONS. IN THAT GENERAL AREA YESTERDAY, A FLYING FORTRESS ON A PHOTOGRAPHIC MISSION WAS ATTACKED BY 15 JAPANESE ZEROS, SUFFERED FIVE CASUALTIES AMONG ITS CREW, BUT GOT HOME SAFELY.

JUN 18 1943

TODAY'S COMMUNIQUE TOLD OF A RAID TUESDAY NIGHT ON KENDARI, DUTCH CELEBES, REPRESENTING A FLIGHT OF MORE THAN 1,000 MILES FROM AUSTRALIA, IN WHICH ALLIED PLANES DROPPED 16 TONS OF BOMBS AMONG PARKED PLANES. SOME FIRES STARTED COULD BE SEEN 50 MILES AWAY.

FOR THE SECOND STRAIGHT DAY, JAPANESE PLANES STRUCK YESTERDAY AT VILLAGES WITH EMERGENCY LANDING FIELDS 90 MILES NORTHWEST OF LAE, NEW GUINEA. SIX BOMBERS AND SIX FIGHTERS MADE THE RAID. THREE OTHER ENEMY PLANES RAIDED WEAKLY THE BUNA SECTOR ON NEW GUINEA'S PAPUAN PENINSULA.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA--~~FOURTH~~ (ADD NIGHT LEAD AUSTRALIAN ~~XXX ALTITUDE~~.

THE FORMATION OF MITCHELL BOMBERS AND BOSTON ATTACK PLANES WHICH STRUCK THE BLOWS AT THE ENEMY BARGES OFF THE HUON PENINSULA WAS

JUN 18 1943

30.24-5129

THE SAME ONE WHICH RAIDED CAPE GLOUVESTER AND ROOKE ISLAND.

AN EVEN STRONGER FORMATION OF MITCHELLS PARTICIPATED IN THE RAID ON MADANG, DARINGLY FLYING DOWN TO TREETOP HEIGHT DESPITE THE FACT IT WAS A DAYLIGHT ATTACK. IT WAS ONE PLANE OUT OF THIS FORMATION WHICH STRUCK AT SALAMAUA.

THE RAID ON LANGGOER ON THE KAI ISLANDS WAS MADE BY CATALINAS AND LASTED NEARLY FIVE HOURS.

JUN 18 1943

A SMALL FLIGHT OF LIBERATORS WERE IN THE RAIDING PARTY SENT AGAINST BOELA WHICH IS ON THE WESTERN END OF THE ISLAND OF CERAM. THE LIBERATORS REPORTED SEEING TWO MEDIUM MERCHANTMEN IN THE HARBOR AS WELL AS A NUMBER OF SMALLER VESSELS BUT MADE NO MENTION OF HITTING THE SHIPS.

RIO DE JANEIRO, JUNE 17-(AP)-THE GOVERNMENT-CONTROLLED AGENCIA NACIONAL ANNOUNCED TODAY THAT 75 PASSENGERS AND CREWMEN ABOARD THE BELEM RIVER SHIP "MOACIR" WERE REPORTED MISSING AFTER THE VESSEL SANK LAST NIGHT ENROUTE FROM BELEM TO MANAOS.

IT WAS BELIEVED THAT THE SINKING WAS CAUSED BY AN EXPLOSION OF THE OIL CARGO. THE SHIP IS ONE OF THE NEWEST ON THE BELEM-MANAOS line.

SAN JUAN, PUERTO RICO, JUNE 1 (AP)-AN RED
PERSONS WERE REPORTED TODAY TO HAVE DROWNED ALONG THE RIO LAY IN A FLOOD THAT DROVE AT LEAST 250 FAMILIES FROM THEIR HOMES.

THE AQUEDUCT SUPPLYING SAN JUAN WAS PUT TEMPORARILY OUT OF COMMISSION AND THE FLOODING OF THE TWO POWER PLANTS HAMPERED THE ELECTRICITY SUPPLY TO THE NORTHERN HALF OF THE ISLAND.

THE FLOOD WAS REPORTED WORST IN THE VICINITY OF CAGUAS AND BAYAMON. RELIEF SUPPLIES WERE SENT INTO THE AREA BY ANTONIO R. SILVA, RED CROSS DIRECTOR.

JUN 18 1943

BUENOS AIRES, JUNE 17-(AP)-SOURCES FAMILIAR WITH THE NEGOTIATIONS FOR AN OIL AGREEMENT BETWEEN ARGENTINA AND THE UNITED STATES SAID TODAY PROSPECTIVE BENEFITS FOR BOTH PARTIES WERE MATERIAL AND THAT THEY WERE VIRTUALLY BARREN OF POLITICAL IMPLICATIONS.

THE AGREEMENT, WHICH IS AWAITING CONFIRMATION IN WASHINGTON, WOULD PROVIDE DELIVERY OF 350,000 CUBIC METERS OF ARGENTINE OIL TO THE NEIGHBORING COUNTRIES OF PARAGUAY, URUGUAY AND BRAZIL IN RETURN FOR 36,000 TONS OF DRILLING MACHINERY FROM THE UNITED STATES. THE NEGOTIATIONS HAVE BEEN IN PROGRESS SINCE LAST SEPTEMBER, WITH THE PREVIOUS ADMINISTRATION.

JUN 18 1943

A DRAFT OF THE AGREEMENT HAD BEEN SUBMITTED TO WASHINGTON FOR APPROVAL BEFORE JUNE 6. NO FURTHER NEGOTIATIONS HAVE BEEN CONDUCTED WITH THE RAMIREZ GOVERNMENT AND THE ANNOUNCEMENT OF REAR ADMIRAL SEGUNDO R.STORNI, MINISTER OF FOREIGN RELATIONS, THAT HE WAS PREPARED TO CONCLUDE THE AGREEMENT MERELY RATIFIED WHAT HAD ALREADY BEEN ACCOMPLISHED.

THE AGREEMENT, IF FINALLY APPROVED BY WASHINGTON, WOULD ENABLE ARGENTINA TO MAINTAIN HER PRESENT OIL PRODUCTION AND PROBABLY INCREASE IT SLIGHTLY. OIL TECHNICIANS SAY THAT ARGENTINA'S OUTPUT IS SERIOUSLY THREATENED BECAUSE OF LACK OF EQUIPMENT. FURTHERMORE, IT WAS SAID, ONCE PRODUCTION BEGAN TO DECLINE THERE WAS DANGER THAT IT COULD NOT LATER BE RESTORED TO ITS ORIGINAL VOLUME.

FROM THE UNITED NATIONS VIEWPOINT A VITAL CONSIDERATION IS THE QUANTITY OF TANKER TONNAGE WHICH WOULD BE RELEASED BY ARGENTINA'S PROMISE TO SUPPLY THE NEIGHBORING COUNTRIES' OIL REQUIREMENTS.

FORMERLY THESE COUNTRIES WERE CARED FOR UNDER THE SOUTH AMERICAN POOL ARRANGEMENT, BY WHICH THEY ARE ASSURED SUFFICIENT TANKER TONNAGE TO COVER THE SAME PERCENTAGE OF THEIR OIL NEEDS AS IS ALLOCATED THE EASTERN SEABOARD OF THE UNITED STATES.

DELIVERIES FROM ARGENTINA WOULD MAKE AVAILABLE FOR WAR SUPPLY ROUTES A CERTAIN NUMBER OF THE TANKERS THUS EMPLOYED.

ONE OF THE STUMBLING BLOCKS OF THE LENGTHY NEGOTIATIONS WAS THE QUESTION OF WHETHER MACHINERY WOULD BE DISTRIBUTED ENTIRELY THROUGH THE ARGENTINE GOVERNMENT OIL MONOPOLY OR SHARED BETWEEN IT AND FOREIGN OIL COMPANIES ON A PREDETERMINED BASIS. IT IS ASSUMED THAT THE DRAFT CONTAINS A MUTUALLY SATISFACTORY SOLUTION OF THIS PROBLEM.

SAN JUAN, PUERTO RICO, JUNE 17-(AP)-THE POLITICAL PHILOSOPHY OF JAIME BENITEZ, CHANCELLOR OF THE UNIVERSITY OF PUERTO RICO, WAS THE SUBJECT OF A LIVELY DISCUSSION AS THE BELL CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE INVESTIGATING INSULAR AFFAIRS HELD ITS FINAL SESSION HERE TODAY.

BENITEZ TESTIFIED THAT THE PEOPLE OF PUERTO RICO DID NOT KNOW WHAT STATUS THEY WANTED FOR THE ISLAND BECAUSE THEY WERE STILL IGNORANT OF WHAT THE POSSIBILITIES FOR ITS FUTURE MIGHT BE.

REP.JAMES DOMENGAUX (D-LA) PRESSED BENITEZ FOR A REPLY TO HIS QUESTION AS TO WHETHER HE FAVORED INDEPENDENCE, BUT THE CHANCELLOR INSISTED THAT IT WAS THE DUTY OF THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT TO FIRST CLARIFY THE POSSIBILITIES.

JUN 18 1943

"INDEPENDENCE," BENITEZ SAID, "IS SOMETHING WHICH NO NATION SHOULD HAVE, BUT, FROM AN OTHER ANGLE, IT IS SOMETHING WHICH ALL NATIONS SHOULD HAVE."

DOMENGAUX QUESTIONED BENITEZ CLOSELY REGARDING THE MANIFESTO, WHICH THE CHANCELLOR HELPED TO DRAW AND SIGNED IN 1936 AND WHICH CITED THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE AS THE BASIS FOR EXPRESSING

JUN 18 1943

3024 - 5131

3024 - 5131

PUERTO RICAN GRIEVANCES.

"MANY THINGS HAVE HAPPENED SINCE THEN," BENITEZ REPLIED. HE CITED THE "CHANGE IN ATTITUDE" ON THE PART OF AMERICAN GOVERNORS FROM MAJOR GENERAL BLANTON WINSHIP TO REXFORD G.TUGWELL WHOM BENITEZ TERMED "CERTAINLY BETTER."

JUN 18 1943

REP.DAN R.MCGEHEE (D-MISS) BROUGHT UP THE PERSONAL RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN BENITEZ AND TUGWELL.

"OF COURSE YOU THINK HE'S BETTER, HE'S ELEVATED YOU TO AN $8,COO JOB," MCGEHEE POINTED OUT.

BENITEZ FLARED UP AND EXPRESSED HIS RESENTMENT AT MCGEHEE'S IMPLICATIONS WHICH HE TERMED "ENTIRELY UNJUSTIFIED."

THE COMMITTEE ALSO HEARD TESTIMONY FROM WILLIAM MEAD, FORMER LOCAL DIRECTOR OF THE OPA, WHO TESTIFIED IN A CLOSED SESSION ON PRI IN THE PUERTO RICAN BLACK MARKET. MEAD IS NOW SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO PRENTISS BROWN AND CAME TO THE ISLAND ESPECIALLY FOR THE HEARING.

MCGEHEE, DOMENGAUX AND THE OTHER REMAINING MEMBER OF THE COMMITTEE, FRED L.CRAWFORD (R-MICH), ARE SCHEDULED TO LEAVE FOR THE UNITED STATES TOMORROW.

IN THE MORNING SESSION OF THE COMMITTEE CRAWFORD AND MCGEHEE DISAGREED IN THEIR VIEW ON THE PROPRIETY OF THE FEDERAL FOOD DISTRIBUTION ADMINISTRATION'S PRACTICE OF RECEIVING STOCK FEED PACKED IN BARRELS.

CRAWFORD, WHO HAD THE ROLE OF CHIEF INTERROGATOR IN THE ABSENCE OF REP.C.JASPER BELL (D-MO.), COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN, QUIZZED EDWARD BASH, LOCAL HEAD OF THE FDA, ON THE DEAL, WHICH BASH ASSERTED SAVED SHIPPING SPACE.

CRAWFORD OBJECTED TO THE INFERENCE THAT THE GOVERNMENT WAS FORCED TO BUY FEED PACKED IN BARRELS, EXCLAIMING, "THIS IS THE FIRST TIME IN MY EXPERIENCE THAT THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT HAS HAD TO MEET THE VENDOR'S SPECIFICATIONS."

"I DIFFER WITH MY COLLEAGUE ON THIS," MCGEHEE INTERRUPTED. "IT LOOKS TO ME LIKE THE PROPOSITION HAS ITS MERITS." HE SAID HE UNDERSTOOD THE PUERTO RICAN RUM DISTILLERS NEEDED THE BARRELS IN ORDER TO CONTINUE IN BUSINESS AND FURNISH EMPLOYMENT, WHILE THE FARMERS NEEDED THE FEED FOR THEIR LIVESTOCK. MCGEHEE THEN INSTRUCTED THE COMMITTEE CLERK TO KEEP HIS REMARKS OFF THE RECORD.

MEANWHILE PUERTO RICO COMMERCIAL IMPORTERS, WHO UNDER MORE LIBERAL FDA RULES ARE NOW ALLOWED TO IMPORT 1,500 TONS MONTHLY DIRECT FROM FIRMS IN THE UNITED STATES, MET WITH THE HEAD OF THE INSULAR GENERAL SUPPLIES ADMINISTRATION, ANTONIO VICENS RIOS, WHO APPOINTED A COMMITTEE OF THREE IMPORTERS TO ALLOCATE IMPORT QUOTOS FOR EACH COMMERCIAL HOUSE.

JUN 18 1943

SARNIA, ONT., JUNE 17-(AP)-ON A TOUR OF ALL SYNTHETIC RUBBER PLANTS IN AMERICA, WILLIAM MARTIN JEFFERS, U.S. RUBBER DIRECTOR, AND A PARTY OF U.S. GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS TODAY INSPECTED THE SYNTHETIC RUBBER PLANT OF THE POLYMER CORPORATION HERE WHICH WAS BUILT WITH CANADIAN GOVERNMENT FUNDS.

JEFFERS SAID HE WAS NOT IN A POSITION AS YET TO COMMENT ON THE ADVENTURE OF THE CANADIAN GOVERNMENO INTO THE PRODUCTION OF SYNTHETIC RUBBER. THE SITUATION AS A WHOLE, THOUGH, HE SAID, WAS IMPROVING.

EARLIER TODAY JEFFERS WAS AT TOLEDO, O. HE HAS COMPLETED A TOUR OF PLANTS IN LOUISIANA, LOS ANGELES AND WEST VIRGINIA, FINDING PROGRESS

BEING MADE AT ALL OF THEM. HE SAID PRODUCTION WAS EXCEEDING SCHEDULE AT BATON ROUGE, LA.

JEFFERS SAID HE EXPECTED STOCK PILES OF NATURAL RUBBER IN THE U.S. TO BE ALMOST DEPLETED BY THE END OF THIS YEAR BUT FELT THAT BY THAT TIME PRODUCTION OF SYNTHETIC RUBBER WOULD BE SUFFICIENT FOR IMMEDIATE WAR PURPOSES. HE WAS NOT ABLE TO GIVE ANY ASSURANCE THERE WOULD BE ANY RELAXATION ON THE SUPPLY OF RUBBER FOR CIVILIAN PURPOSES.

THE QUALITY OF RUBBER FROM PETROLEUM AS COMPARED WITH THAT WITH ALCOHOL AS A BASE SEEMED TO BE ABOUT EQUAL, HE SAID, BUT ADDED THAT THE RELATIVE PRODUCTION COST HAD YET TO BE DETERMINED. JEFFERS WAS FIRM IN HIS CONVICTION THAT WHATEVER MIGHT BE THE PRODUCTION OF SYNTHETIC RUBBER DURING THE WAR PERIOD, IT WOULD NOT RELIEVE THE CIVILIAN SITUATION.

JUN 18 1943

JEFFERS TRAVELLED BY PLANE FROM WASHINGTON TO DETROIT AND CAME TO SARNIA BY AUTOMOBILE VIA PORT HURON, MICH., AND THE BLUE WATER BRIDGE OVER THE ST.CLAIR RIVEC.

J.W.GEMMELL, MANAGER OF THE LOCAL PLANT, WAS ONE OF A PARTY WHICH WENT TO DETROIT TO MEET JEFFERS AND ACCOMPANY HIM TO THE PLANT, WHERE HE WAS OFFICIALLY WELCOMED BY R.C.BERKINSHAW, PRESIDENT OF THE CORPORATION, W.R.CAMPBELL OF THE FORD MOTOR COMPANY OF CANADA AND A DIRECTOR OF THE RUBBER FIRM, AND JOHN R.NICHOLSON, MANAGING DIRECTOR OF THE CORPORATION. ALSO PRESENT HERE WAS H.J.CARMICHAEL, HEAD OF THE PRODUCTION COMMITTEE OF THE DEPARTMENT OF MUNITIONS AND SUPPLY, OTTAWA.

ACCOMPANYING JEFFERS WERE: COL.BRADLEY DEWEY, DEPUTY RUBBER DIRECTOR OF THE U.S.; MOOREHEAD PATTERSON, ASSISTANT TO JEFFERS; JOHN WILSON, ASSISTANT TO DEWEY; BRUCE BROWN OF THE OFFICE OF PRODUCTION ADMINISTRATION; HOWARD KLOSSNER, WASHINGTON, IN CHARGE OF ALL SYNTHETIC RUBBER PLANTS IN THE U.S. AND S.CROSSLAND, VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE RUBBER RESOURCES COMPANY OF WASHINGTON. HOWARD BEZENRATH OF MIDLAND, MICH., REPRESENTED THE DOW CHEMICAL COMPANY AND DR.WILLARD DOW, THE PRESIDENT.

LATER IN THE DAY JEFFERS AND HIS PARTY TRAVELLED ACROSS THE BORDER TO BE GUESTS AT A DINNER AT ST.CLAIR, MICH. THEY ARE SPENDING THE NIGHT IN PORT HURON.

JUN 18 1943

OTTAWA, JUNE 17-(AP)-PILOT OFFICER NORMAN RICHARD CHAP, WHOSE FATHER, K.F.CHAP LIVES AT 6628 ARTESIAN AVE., CHICAGO, AND WHO HAD BEEN PREVIOUSLY REPORTED MISSING AND BELIEVED KILLED ON ACTIVE SERVICE, IS NOW FOR OFFICIAL PURPOSES PRESUMED TO BE DEAD, AN RCAF CASUALTY LIS' SAID TONIGHT.

LETHBRIDGE,ALBERTA, JUNE 17-(AP)-ABOUT 5,000 PRISONERS OF WAR NOW ARE HELPING SUGAR BEET FARMERS THROUGH A CRITICAL LABOR SHORTAGE IN SOUTHERN ALBERTA AND ARE DOING A "GOOD DAY'S WORK," COL.E.S.DOUGHTY OF OTTAWA, LIAISON OFFICER FOR THE CANADIAN FEDERAL DEPARTMENT OF LABOR, SAID TODAY.

COL.DOUGHTY ADDED THAT EVERY OPPORTUNITY TO USE VOLUNTEER WORKERS FROM AMONG PRISONERS OF WAR NOW WILL BE PURSUED, BUT SUCH ACTION WOULD BE GOVERNED STRICTLY BY INTERNATIONAL AGREEMENTS.

ALL THE PRISONERS OF WAR DOING AN EIGHT-HOUR SHIFT IN THE SUGAR BEET FIELDS ARE VOLUNTEERS. THEY WERE SELECTED BY MILITARY AUTHORITIES AFTER VOLUNTEERING AND ARE TRANSPORTED BY TRUCK CONVOY TO THE FIELDS EACH MORNING AND TAKEN BACK TO THEIR MILITARY ESTABLISHMENT AT NIGHT.

JUN 18 1943

30.24 - 5133

A GUARD IS MAINTAINED AT ALL TIMES.

BEET GROWERS PAY FOR THE WORK AT STANDARD CONTRACT RATES. THE MONEY IS PLACED IN A POOL FROM WHICH THE MEN ARE PAID WAGES AND EXPENSES ARE TAKEN FOR TRANSPORTATION AND OTHER COSTS.

COL.DOUGHTY SAID PRISONERS OF WAR COULD BE EXPECTED TO WORK IN THE BEET FIELDS THROUGHOUT THE GROWING AND HARVESTING SEASONS.

(AP SPECIAL ADVANCE FOR PMS OF WEDNESDAY, JUNE 16)

---

UNITY FOR PEACE
URGED BY BONNET

---

JUN 18 1943

NEW MINISTER ON WAY TO JOIN
COMMITTEE (575)

BY MAX HILL

(ADVANCE)..NEW YORK, JUNE 16-(AP)-HENRI BONNET, MINISTER OF INFORMATION IN THE NEWLY-FORMED FRENCH COMMITTEE OF NATIONAL LIBERATION, BELIEVES THAT "NATIONS UNITED IN WAR MUST REMAIN UNITED IN PEACE TO SOLVE THE COMPLEX PROBLEMS FACING A WORLDWIDE REORGANIZATION ONCE THE ACTUAL FIGHTING IS OVER."

BOTH IN AN INTERVIEW IN NEW YORK AND IN AN ARTICLE HE WROTE FOR THE FIRST ISSUE OF "MONDRE LIBRE," THE MONTREAL-PUBLISHED FRENCH EDITION OF "FREE WORLD," AN INTERNATIONAL MAGAZINE WHICH HAS AS ITS PURPOSE A GLOBAL UNITY OF ALL RACES, M. BONNET STRESSED THE NECESSITY OF THIS POST-WAR COOPERATION.

30.24 - 5133

IN THE ARGICLE HE SAID: "MILITARY PROBLEMS ENJOY PRIOR[illegible] BUT THEY MUST NOT MAKE US FORGET THE NUMEROUS AND DAILY COMPLEX PROBLEMS THE UNITED NATIONS MUST SOLVE IN THE DIVERSE POLITICAL FIELDS AND THE IMMENSE TASK FACING A LIBERATED EUROPE AND ASIA" WHICH HAVE BEEN "RUINED, DEVASTATED AND FLATTENED BY A SAVAGE ENEMY."

PRIOR TO TAKING OVER HIS NEW DUTIES WITH THE FRENCH LIBERATION COMMITTEE, M. BONNETT WAS DOING RESEARCH WORK FOR A POST-WAR COMMITTEE IN CHICAGO. HE ALSO WAS ACTIVE IN THE FRANCE FOREVER COMMITTEE, WHICH IS ASSOCIATED WITH THE FIGHTING FRENCH DELEGATION IN THE UNITED STATES. BEFORE COMING TO THE UNITED STATES HE WAS CONNECTED WITH THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

JUN 18 1943

IN THE NEW YORK INTERVIEW, M. BONNET SAID THE IMPORTANT THING TODAY WAS THAT THE FRENCH WERE UNITED.

"TODAY," HE SAID, "THE QUESTION AS TO WHETHER ONE IS A GIRAUDIST OR A DE GAULLIST IS NOT IMPORTANT. WE HAVE BEEN APPOINTED AS A UNIT FOR FRANCE, AND WE WILL SERVE AS SUCH. I BELIEVE UNITY HAS BEEN ACHIEVED IN A COMPLETELY SATISFACTORY WAY."

M. BONNET, WHO IS 55 YEARS OLD AND TALL AND TANNED, HAS [illegible] 3,49753 59 -14834". HE HAS BEEN IN THE UNITED STATES SINCE 1940. ONE OF HIS KEY MOTIVES IN HIS NEW JOB, HE SAID, WILL BE TO DO "ALL I CAN TOWARD DRAWING STILL CLOSER, IF POSSIBLE, THE BONDS BETWEEN FRANCE AND THE UNITED STATES."

HE WAS RATHER VAGUE IN DISCUSSING POSSIBLE REPRESENTATION IN POST-WAR PLANNING GROUPS OF THE CONQUERED NATIONS, AND SAID HE HAD NOT GIVEN MUCH THOUGHT TO THE PROBLEM.

JUN 18 1943

IN THE ARTICLE HE WENT INTO THE PROBLEMS WHICH WILL COME WITH PEACE RATHER FULLY, SAYING:

"NATIONS UNITED IN WAR MUST REMAIN UNITED IN PEACE X X X. NOT ONLY WILL THE FOUR FREEDOMS HAVE TO BE RESPECTED ABOVE EVERY OTHER CONSIDERATION, BUT OUR DUTY SHALL ALSO BE TO ADAPT THE GREAT DOCTRINES OF LIBERTY TO THE NECESSITIES OF THE INDUSTRIAL ERA AND TO SOLVE SOCIAL PROBLEMS."

JUN 18 1943

A NEW WORLD-WIDE MOVEMENT HAS BEEN ORGANIZED, HE WROTE, AND IT IS MADE UP OF "ALL WHO NOW WANT TO BUILD MODERN SOCIETIES IN FREEDOM AND DIGNITY.

"MEMBERS OF THAT NEW MOVEMENT MUST REMAIN UNITED AND GIVE TO GOVERNMENTS AND REGIMES THE STRENGTH TO SUCCEED WHERE THEIR PREDECESSORS FAILED".

AFTER THE DEMOCRACIES HAVE WON THE WAR HE BELIEVES "THEY MUST BE ABLE THIS TIME TO REAP ALL THE FRUITS OF VICTORY. AND THIS IS THE MAIN REASON WHY EVERYONE MUST BE PREPARED FOR PEACE JUST AS MUCH AS WE HAD TO BE READY TO FIGHT.

"EVER MORE CONSCIOUS OF HER HISTORICAL DESTINY, FRANCE WILL ALSO KNOW HOW TO CONSOLIDATE AND MAINTAIN UNITED THE OLD AND THE NEW CONTINENTS MERGED INTO A REALLY FREE WORLD."

(END AP SPECIAL ADVANCE FOR PMS OF WEDNESDAY, JUNE 16. SENT JUNE 15)

WE33AEW

LONDON, JUNE 17-(AP)-THE YUGOSLAVN GOVERNMENT-IN-EXILE REPORTED TODAY THAT PASHKO KATILERLA, ONE OF THE LEADERS OF THE CROAT PEASANT PARTY IN DALMATIA, HAD BEEN SHOT AS A HOSTAGE FOLLOWING THE ASSASSINATION OF THE ITALIAN VICE PREFECT, GIOVANNI SAVO, BY PATRIOTS LAST MARCH. ## london, friday, june 18-(ap)-a movement is under way in political circles for another debate in parliament on the postwar currency discussions, it was reported today.

a financial news political writer said that some members of parliament were "concerned with the possibility that the treasury may be willing to make somewhat far-reaching concessions to the point of view of the united states treasury." JUN 18 1943 the fact that the washington conference had reached a formal state, they were quoted as saying, would provide the opportunity for questions to the chancellow of the exchequer. ## london, june 17-(ap)--In all probability, the only two civilians in the world who know the military plans of the allies "are president roosevelt and prime minister churchill," an informed source said today.

JUN 18 1943

3024 - 3135

the comment occurred during a discussion of the closing of the border between turkey and syria by the allies.

"german troops are doing a lot of traveling around in europe right now," the informant added, "and the allies naturally intend to fox them and fool them as much as possible." #

JUN 18 1943

LONDON, JUNE 17-(AP)- THE SWISS RADIO ANNOUNCED TODAY THAT HEINRICH REUTLINGER, SENTENCED TO DEATH ON A CHARGE OF TREASON, WAS EXECUTED TODAY. THE BROADCAST, CARRY OF FURTHER DETAILS, WAS RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. #

LONDON, JUNE 17-(AP)- FLYING OFFICER F.M.FISHER, OF LEWISTOWN, PA., A PILOT IN THE RAF, WAS AWARDED THE DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS TODAY FOR HIS PART IN THE 1,000-MILE DAYLIGHT RAID ON THE ZEISS OPTICAL WORKS IN JENA, GERMANY, MAY 25.

FOUR OTHERS ALSO WERE DECORATED FOR THE OPERATION WHICH THE OFFICIAL CITATION SAID "CALLED FOR A HIGH DEGREE OF KSILL AND NECESSITATED A FLIGHT OVER STRONGLY-DEFENDED AREAS AND DIFFICULT TERRAIN." # madrid, june 17-(ap)-a portugues naval mission headed by rear admiral alvaro maro, invited by spanish navy minister admiral salvador moreno to inspect spanish naval bases, will arrive here saturday, it was announced today.

at the same time, it was announced that lieut.-gen. luis mornas, high commissioner of spanish morocco, had left tetuan by plane for madrid. #

PALESTINE, JUNE 15--(DELAYED)--(AP)--HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF JEWS IN PALESTINE SIGNED A PETITION TODAY ADDRESSED TO THE UNITED NATIONS URGING THEM NOT TO MISS THE "LAST OPPORTUNITY" FOR THE RESCUE OF THE REMNANT OF EUROPEAN JEWRY REMAINING IN NAZI-OCCUPIED EUROPE.

JUN 18 1943

ALL JEWISH FACTORIES AND OFFICES IN THE COUNTRY--EXCEPT THOSE ENGAGED IN WAR EFFORT--RESTAURANTS AND PLACES OF ENTERTAINMENT CLOSED AT NOON AND LONG LINES OF JEWS QUEUED UP TO SIGN THE PEITION.

JUN 18 1943

SPECIAL PRAYERS WERE RECITED IN ALL THE SYNAGOGUES IN MEMORY OF THOSE KILLED IN THE OCCUPIED COUNTRIES AND AN ENDLESS STREAMER VISITED JERUSALEM'S WAILING WALL. #

by harold v. boyle

a lied headquarters in north africa, june 17-(ap)--the crew of a marauder bomber told today how they flew 60 miles on one engine, knocked down a messerschmitt 109 on the way and made a safe emergency landing at 170 miles an hour at a fighter base.

JUN 18 1943

"just after we opened our bomb bay doors on a run over pantelleria I had trouble with the right engine and it started smoking," said lieut. kenneth g. ross, pilot of 1006 n. la fontaine st., huntington, ind. "our ship fell slightly behind formation, and about then at least two messerschmitts hit us.

"I looked out of my window and saw a big bullet hole in the cowling above my left engine. Tracers were flying past the cockpit. Right then I forgot about the target and cut across our course to catch up with the formation."

But, although the german fliers shot up one engine and a wing trip, the marauder's gunners dropped one foe and escorting warhawk fighters got another.

The bombardier-navigator, staff sergt. edward l. baker of 2121 Clay st., murphysboro, ills., was the first of the crew to see the enemy fighters.

JUN 18 1943

"tracers went by my window and I looked into the sun and saw a messerschmitt up there," he said. "that must have been the one that got the engine. I saw another making a pass at the tail."

"I saw those old black crosses as plain as day," said the tailgunner, sergt. james r. villiam of 1103-A north milwaukee st., milwaukee, wis., who poured in three good bursts and said he saw tracers go into him.

"I think I hit the pilot, because he headed right down. I was too busy with another baby to keep my eyes on him all the time, but I looked at him three or four times and each time he was going straight down," william said. "but I didn't see him hit."

JUN 18 1943

30.24- 5137

30.24- 5137

"As he started he turned his belly toward me and I got a shot at it," chimed in staff sergt. john k. moberly of 118 patrick st., frederick, md., turret gunner. He thought, however, that his bullets missed. #

JUN 18 1943

THE GERMAN GUNNER PUT A COUPLE OF BULLETS JUST BENEATH WILLIAMS DURING THE BRIEF,STORMY BATTLE BUT "HE DIDN'T DO ANY SERIOUS DAMAGE TO ME OR THE PLANE,"WILLIAMS GRINNED.

PROTECTED BY OTHER MARAUDERS AND P-40S LIEUT.ROSS BEGAN HIS FIGHT TO GET BACK TO THE AFRICAN COAST ON ONE ENGINE.HE WAS LOSING ALTITUDE ALL THE WAY,BUT WAS STILL AT 2,500 FEET WHEN HE SAW THE ALLIED FIGHTER FIELD ALONG THE CAP BON COAST.HE BROUGHT THE PLANE DOWN IN WHAT CREW MEMBERS SAID WAS THE RISKIEST MANEUVER OF THE TRIP.

"I HAD TO MAKE A HOT LANDING,THE PILOT SAID."MY AIR SPEED INDICATOR,WHICH IS ESSENTIAL TO LANDING A B-25 WENT OUT WHEN THE PLANE'S WING TIP WAS SHOT UP.WHEN I TRIED TO PUT THE FLAPS DOWN I COULD GET THEM ONLY A QUARTER OF THE WAY OPEN.I FIGURED THAT MEANT THAT MY LANDING SPEED WAS ABOUT 170 MILES PER HOUR.

JUN 18 1943

"IT WAS A NICE LANDING.THERE'S NOTHING WRONG WITH THAT SHIP THAT A NEW ENGINE AND A LITTLE SHEET METAL WONT FIX UP." #

JUNE 17--

SAN JUAN, PUERTO RICO--(AP)--TODAY WAS A BIG DAY IN THE LIFE OF PETE MC KNIGHT, 26, ORIGINALLY OF SHELBY, N.C., FORMER REPORTER AND COPYREADER OF THE CHARLOTTE, N.C., NEWS.

THIS MORNING HIS WIFE, MARGOT HENDERSON MC KNIGHT OF HICKORY, N.C., GAVE BIRTH TO A 7½ LB. SON, THEIR FIRST BORN. LATER IN THE DAY ANGEL RAMOS, PUBLISHER OF THE PUERTO RICO WORLD-JOURNAL, PROMOTED MCKNIGHT TO EDITOR OF THE ISLAND'S ONLY ENGLISH DAILY. #

JUN 18 1943

JUN 18 1943

30.24- 5137

too busy with another baby to keep my eyes on him all the time, but I looked at him three or four times and each time he was going straight down," william said. "but I didn't see him hit."

"As he started he turned his belly toward me and I got a shot at it," chimed in staff sergt. john k. moberly of 118 patrick st., frederick, md., turret gunner. He thought, however, that his bullets missed. #

JUN 18 1943

THE GERMAN GUNNER PUT A COUPLE OF BULLETS JUST BENEATH WILLIAMS DURING THE BRIEF,STORMY BATTLE BUT "HE DIDN'T DO ANY SERIOUS DAMAGE TO ME OR THE PLANE,"WILLIAMS GRINNED.

PROTECTED BY OTHER MARAUDERS AND P-40S LIEUT.ROSS BEGAN HIS FIGHT TO GET BACK TO THE AFRICAN COAST ON ONE ENGINE.HE WAS LOSING ALTITUDE ALL THE WAY,BUT WAS STILL AT 2,500 FEET WHEN HE SAW THE ALLIED FIGHTER FIELD ALONG THE CAP BON COAST.HE BROUGHT THE PLANE DOWN IN WHAT CREW MEMBERS SAID WAS THE RISKIEST MANEUVER OF THE TRIP.

30.24- 5137

"I HAD TO MAKE A HOT LANDING,THE PILOT SAID."MY AIR SPEED INDICATOR,WHICH IS ESSENTIAL TO LANDING A B-25 WENT OUT WHEN THE PLANE'S WING TIP WAS SHOT UP.WHEN I TRIED TO PUT THE FLAPS DOWN I COULD GET THEM ONLY A QUARTER OF THE WAY OPEN.I FIGURED THAT MEANT THAT MY LANDING SPEED WAS ABOUT 170 MILES PER HOUR.

JUN 18 1943

"IT WAS A NICE LANDING.THERE'S NOTHING WRONG WITH THAT SHIP THAT A NEW ENGINE AND A LITTLE SHEET METAL WONT FIX UP." #

JUNE 17--

SAN JUAN, PUERTO RICO--(AP)--TODAY WAS A BIG DAY IN THE LIFE OF PETE MC KNIGHT, 26, ORIGINALLY OF SHELBY, N.C., FORMER REPORTER AND COPYREADER OF THE CHARLOTTE, N.C., NEWS.

THIS MORNING HIS WIFE, MARGOT HENDERSON MC KNIGHT OF HICKORY, N.C., GAVE BIRTH TO A 7½ LB. SON, THEIR FIRST BORN. LATER IN THE DAY ANGEL RAMOS, PUBLISHER OF THE PUERTO RICO WORLD-JOURNAL, PROMOTED MCKNIGHT TO EDITOR OF THE ISLAND'S ONLY ENGLISH DAILY. #

JUN 18 1943

JUN 18 1943

buenos aires, june 17-(ap)-german, italian and japanese diplomatic representatives have asked the foreign office here to arrange separate interviews with president ramirez, government sources said tonight, and the action promptly was linked with the government ban on the use of code messages in international radio communications.

JUN 18 1943

the ban was adopted in compliance with resolutions made at the rio de janeiro conference. #

undated

by the associated press

JUN 18 1943

the rome radio yesterday (thur) depicted italy as a nation with an unbending will to resist and a puncture-proof morale.

referring to an article in the swiss newspaper, de lausanne, about allied pleas to italians to oust their fascist leaders, an italian broadcast and join the allies, recorded by the associated press said "these offers are undoubtedly tempting but a bit of reflection will show that their realization is not simple x x."

"a very recent story," it was said, "has shown that no people that ceased to fight can be pleased of its decision. the belgian, dutch and french armies have capitulated but not one of the war sorrows have been spared to those civil populations, and probably italy would have to share the same fate."

the broadcast declared that italy showed "signs of a strengthening of morale" and that "official italy and the population seem to be firmly decided to resistance till the end in case of a direct invasion." #

(advance for use at 5 p.m. eastern war time today, thursday, june 17)

ciudad trujillo, dominican republic, june 17-(ap)--The schooner jaragua, second of six to be built under the government's program to help relieve the shipping shortage in the caribbean, was launched today. The first schooner was launched late in march.

JUN 18 1943

30.24 -5139

30.24- 5139

(end advance for use at 5 p.m. eastern war time today, thursday, june 17

meskus gt 1240p

NEW YORK, JUNE 17--(AP)---A MOSCOW RADIO BROADCAST RECORDED BY CBS SAID TODAY THAT SEVERAL INCIDENTS AMONG THE ITALIAN GARRISONS OF SICILY AND SARDINIA HAD LED BY THE ITALIAN HIGH COMMAND TO START WITHDRAWING "ITS DEMORALIZED TROOPS FROM THE ISLANDS UNDER THE PRETEXT THAT IT IS REGROUPING ITS FORCES."

HEADQUARTERS OF THE COMMANDER OF THE GERMAN AIR FORCE IN THE MEDITERRANEAN WERE DECLARED TO HAVE BEEN MOVED FROM SICILY TO THE SOUTHERN ITALIAN PROVINCE OF CALABRIA.

JUN 18 1943

THE FAMILIES OF PRACTICALLY ALL MEMBERS OF THE MUSSOLINI GOVERNMENT "ARE REPORTED TO HAVE BEEN EVACUATED TO HUNGARY, WHERE THE HUNGARIAN GOVERNMENT HAS PLACED ONE OF ITS COUNTRY RESORTS AT THEIR DISPOSAL," THE SOVIET RADIO SAID. #

(AP SPECIAL ADVANCE FOR AMS OF FRIDAY, JUNE 18)

---

RUSSIANS NOT

BEARDED, BUT

REALLY BOOTED

---

AND THEY'RE HAPPY

ABOUT BEING SO

AWFULLY SAD (500)

---

JUN 18 1943

(EDDY GILMORE, WHO GIVES THE FOLLOWING LITTLE TIPS ABOUT THE LITTLE RUSSIANS, HAS JUST RETURNED AFTER NEARLY TWO YEARS AS AN ASSOCIATED PRESS CORRESPONDENT IN MOSCOW.)

---

BY EDDY GILMORE

(ADVANCE)..NEW YORK, JUNE 17-(AP)-RUSSIA IS NOT A LAND OF BEARDS. I HAVEHORE BEARDS

JUN 18 1943

---

BY EDDY GILMORE

(ADVANCE)..NEW YORK, JUNE 17-(AP)-RUSSIA IS NOT A LAND OF BEARDS. I HAVE SEEN MORE BEARDS IN NEW YORK IN THE FEW DAYS I'VE BEEN BACK HERE THAN DURING THE 20 MONTHS I LIVED IN THE SOVIET UNION.

RUSSIA IS A LAND OF BOOTS. EVERYONE WEARS BOOTS WHO CAN FIND THEM. AND THIS IS A VERY SOUND IDEA BECAUSE RUSSIA IS VERY COLD.

"RUSSIANS" AS LIEUTENANT GENERAL MALINOVSKY, THE CAPTOR OF ROSTOV, SAID TO US IN A LITTLE COSSACK SCHOOLHOUSE ON THE BANKS OF THE DON. "ARE A LOT LIKE AMERICANS."

JUN 18 1943

RUSSIANS LIKE LIFE. AMERICANS LIKE LIFE. WHEN RUSSIANS HAVE A PARTY THEY HAVE A PARTY. THEY START THEM EARLY AND THEY CLOSE THEM LATE. IN FACT, I DON'T REMEMBER A RUSSIAN EVER SUGGESTING THAT HE WAS SLEEPY OR THAT IT WAS TIME TO GO HOME. THEY'VE GOT GREAT STAYING POWER, AS WHO DOESN'Z KNOW FROM ONE LOOK AT THE RED ARMY.

JUN 18 1943

RUSSIANS LIKE TO MAKE SPEECHES AND EXPRESS THEMSELVES JUST LIKE AMERICANS DO. THEY ARE VERY FOND OF TELLING JOKES AND SOME OF THEM ARE VERY FUNNY, AND SOME OF THEM ARE NOT -- JUST LIKE SOME OF OURS.

AS A RACE, RUSSIANS ARE VERY FAR FROM HAVING AN INFERIORITY COMPLEX. THEY THINK THEY'RE PRETTY GOOD, AND, IF YOU GO TO THE RECORD, YOU KNOW THEY ARE.

JUN 18 1943

B130

RUSSIANS ARE BEAUTIFULLY CRUEL PEOPLE. I MEAN BY THAT WHEN THEY NEED TO GET TOUGH THEY GET TOUGH, AND THEY DO IT WITH BEAUTIFUL DISDAIN. AND AGAIN I POINT TO THE RECORD -- THERE IS NO FIFTH COLUMN IN RUSSIA, AND I DON'T THINK THERE WILL BE ONE.

AS A RACE I THINK THEY ARE THE MOST HOSPITABLE PEOPLE I KNOW AND I COME FROM THE DEEP SOUTH WHERE WE DEAL IN THAT COMMODITY, ALSO.

I HAVE GONE INTO A RUSSIAN HOME AND HAVE FAIRLY BEEN PUSHED AND HELD INTO A CHAIR AT THE DINNER TABLE WHEN I KNEW THE RATIONS FOR THE EVENING WERE, TO PUT IT POLITELY, SLIM.

THE HOST HAS DUG INTO OLD BAGS AND SACKS AND TRUNKS AND DISHED OUT HIDDEN DELICACIES SIMPLY BECAUSE HE WAS ENTERTAINING AN AMERICAN. THESE HE HAS SERVED WITH HIS RATION OF THE EVENING.

THE PEOPLE OF THE SOVIET UNION ARE VERY MUSICAL. THEY -- LIKE AMERICANS -- LIKE ALL KINDS OF MUSIC. HOT, SWEET AND SYMPHONY. THEY LIKE TO DANCE.

RUSSIANS ARE VERY EMOTIONAL. THE ONE BIG DIFFERENCES BETWEEN RUSSIAN PEOPLE AND AMERICAN PEOPLE IS THE DEPTH OF RUSSIAN SADNESS.

ONE TIME ON A VOLGA STEAMBOAT I WAS LISTENING TO A FELLOW NAMED MISCHA PLAY A PIANO. HE PLAYED IT DELICATELY. HE PLAYED IT BLUNTLY. HE PLAYED IT FAST AND HE PLAYED IT SLOW. BUT IT WAS ALWAYS A SAD PIANO.

JUN 18 1943

"WHY," I ASKED A GIRL NAMED VALYA MIKHAILOVNA PESHKOVA," IS YOUR MUSIC SO SAD?"

"WORD OF GOD" SHE ANSWERED "WE HAVE ALWAYS HAD SO MUCH SADNESS. AND, JUST AS WE WERE GETTING GOING, ALONG CAME THIS TERRIBLE WAR. TO HELL WITH HITLER!"

THEN VALYA MIKHAILOVNA PESHKOVA GOT EVEN SADDER THAN MISCHA'S SAD PIANO.

"WHY ARE YOU GETTING SAD" I ASKED. "IS IT THE PIANO?"

"OH, NO," SAID VALYA MILHAILOVNA PESHKOVA, "I'M THINKING OF MOTHER RUSSIA AND I'M SAD BECAUSE THIS MAN PLAYING THE PIANO IS NOT SAD ENOUGH."

BUT THE RUSSIANS -- LIKE THE AMERICANS, DON'T GET SAD WHEN THEY TALK ABOUT HITLER.

"SVALICH!" THEY SAY, WHICH IF YOU KNOW RUSSIAN IS QUITE AN

JUN 18 1943

1943

30. 24 - 5141

30. 24 - 5141

UNSAD THING TO CALL A MAN.

(END AP SPECIAL ADVANCE FOR AMS OF FRIDAY, JUNE 18, SENT JUNE 14)

MK150AEW

Wavell Named Viceroy Of India, Yields Army Command to Auchinleck

JUN 19 1943

British Field Marshal to Replace Lord Linlithgow Who Retires in October

Seen as Paving Way For Blow at Japan

Britain Will Set Up New East Asia Command; Nationalists Are Pleased

LONDON, Saturday, June 19.—(AP) Britain appointed Field Marshal Sir Archibald P. Wavell, commander in chief in India, as Viceroy of India today, and disclosed her intention to create a separate East Asia military command to wage an offensive against Japan.

Gen. Sir Claude J. E. Auchinleck was appointed to succeed Marshal Wavell as commander in India. The separate command decision is presumably one of the major products of the Washington strategy conferences between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill.

Who would head the proposed East Asia command was not disclosed.

U. S. to Collaborate

It was presumed that the United States would collaborate fully with Britain in the East Asia command as she does with the Australians in the southwest Pacific, and the British in North Africa.

The announcement from 10 Downing street of Marshal Wavell's appointment to a five-year term succeeding Lord Linlithgow, and designation of Gen. Auchinleck to return to his former command in India concluded:

"It is proposed to relieve the commander in chief in India of responsibility for the conduct of operations against Japan and to set up a separate East Asia command for that purpose. Further announcement on this subject will be made soon."

Will Press Fight on Japan

This was taken by unofficial observers as a concrete expression of Britain's intention to prosecute the war against Japan with full vigor once Hitler is defeated.

It appeared to put into a concrete plan the assurances given by Mr. Churchill in an address to Congress that Britain had an equal interest with the United States in avenging Japanese aggression.

There was every reason to believe that this plan germinated in Washington, where Sir Archibald and the air and naval commanders of the Indian theater joined Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill in exhaustive strategy talks.

The action seemed to indicate that the Allied leaders were indeed looking beyond the end of the European war, and already laying the groundwork for an offensive to drive the Japanese back for final defeat in their home islands.

The terms of the Wavell and Auchinleck appointments suggested that new vigor would be injected immediately into the job of creating a strong forward base in the sub-continent of 400,000,000 for the reconquest of the Orient.

It appeared that Gen. Auchinleck, India commander in 1940-41, would have mainly a defensive task, while Marshal Wavell, whose position roughly would be that of a prime minister in relation to strategy, would apply his military knowledge as well as his political tact to the complex task of the offensive.

Wavell Now in Britain

Marshal Wavell is now in Britain and will return to India in the autumn to assume the post of Viceroy, which pays $75,000 a year.

Gen. Auchinleck takes command in India immediately. Little has been heard of him since he was replaced in 1942 as Middle East commander.

With growing emphasis upon the "experiment" to bomb the Axis out of the war, it was rumored that one of the R.A.F.'s aggressive air marshals might be considered to direct all Allied forces operating from India against Japan.

The terms of United States collaboration in the East Asia command are not known, but it would be a joint operation similar to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's highly successful campaign. There is no suggestion that Gen. Douglas MacArthur's command would be subordinated to the East Asia effort.

The creation of a command under an air officer would seem to imply a more direct assault on Japan, rather than a slow painful island by island advance.

The fact that Marshal Wavell will not assume his new duties until the fall, however, suggested no immediate major advance in the Far East.

Shift in Command in India Hints War Action in Burma

JUN 19 1943

Anglo-American Squeeze Play May Nip Japs in East Asia.

WASHINGTON, June 18 — (AP) Impending shifts in British commanders in India stirred conjecture tonight that an Anglo-American squeeze play against Japan is in the making.

Coming just as American air power in the south Pacific had dealt a heavy new blow to Nipponese raiders at Guadalcanal, scoring a virtual 13-to-1 victory, the forthcoming changes in the British command in India have double significance. They clearly forecast an aggressive campaign in Burma late this year, after the wet monsoon season ends in October, to match expected developments in the Pacific.

Auchinleck to Take Command

To that end Field Marshal Sir Archibald Wavell, now British commander-in-chief in India, will surrender that post to General Sir Claude Auchinleck in the fall, stepping up to viceroy of India. Even more definitely fixing the purposes behind these changes was the London disclosure that a separate East Asia military command is to be created to wage offensive war on Japan.

It follows the pattern of the North African command under General Eisenhower which is now poised for amphibious advance against Italian bastions of the Axis fortress of Europe. The make-up of the new East Asia attack army and its commander are yet to be disclosed. That the changes represent concrete results of the recent Anglo-American joint staff conferences in Washington is not open to doubt.

Prime Minister Churchill made no secret of the fact that a principal purpose of his visit was to aid in stepping up action against Japan as well as Germany and Italy. Aside from the fact that the Anglo-American war production effort is reaching the point where simultaneous major actions on fronts half the world apart can be charted, the North African victory cut thousands of sea miles off the war supply routes to India. By use of the Mediterranean to ship men, equipment and stores to the East Asia front, weeks if not months of the time necessary to prepare for a post-monsoon drive in Burma have been eliminated.

Weather Bad Until Fall

Weather conditions in Burma probably will prevent aggressive action there until late fall or early winter. However, there is no similar bar to American attacks in the Pacific, north, south or central. The massing of an estimated 120 enemy planes in the Guadalcanal raid that met stunning disaster strongly indicates that Tokyo believes a new and formidable American thrust to crack her insular defense ring is now impending.

On the basis of facts thus far disclosed, the raid attempt is explainable only as an effort to find and attack American surface convoys. Tokyo apparently believed such convoys were mustering in that sea sector for a new amphibious advance.

There has been much to suggest that Tokyo has regarded the American recapture of Attu in the Aleutian sector, far to the northeast as designed for diversion purposes primarily. The success of that move raises an ever-growing threat to Japan's northern island outposts and to Japan itself as bombers of greater range and hitting power, promised by American air chiefs, extend the radius of air action in the Pacific.

Must Shift Planes

To meet that threat, greater concentration of Japanese air strength at home and on the northern sector of her far-flung island outposts in the Pacific would seem essential. It could come only from the south Pacific zone or from China. In that light the Guadalcanal raid looks like a scouting operation in force, attempted in the hope of finding and attacking American naval and convoy shipping believed in Tokyo to be preparing for further offensive action.

Pieced together, the British preparations for an East Asia attack and Japan's obvious belief that an American sea-air attack is already brewing in the south Pacific strongly suggest that the Washington strategy deliberations produced plans for the same sort of two-front attacks on Japan that proved so conclusively effective against the Axis in Africa. Knowledge of that well may have prompted the Australian minister of external affairs, Herbert B. Evatt, to voice in London yesterday his belief that there will be no great lapse of time between the defeat of the Axis in Europe and that of Japan "if, indeed, there will be any interval at all."

Wavell In New Post, Report

New York, June 18 (AP)—The German agency Transocean broadcast today a dispatch asserting that Field Marshal Sir Archibald P. Wavell had been appointed Viceroy of India in succession to the Marquess of Linlithgow.

The broadcast, from Berlin, was recorded here by the Associated Press.

It said that General Sir Claude Auchinleck had been named Wavell's successor as commander in chief of the forces in India.

And as the Axis were kept guessing where the invasion blow might fall, one possible barometer of Italian nervousness came in a Reuters report that a rumor of Allied invasion of Sicily had surged through the town of Tolmino in northern Italy, with the garrison dashing into the streets "to welcome the end of the war."

Provinces In War Zone

Nine more Italian provinces were declared to be "operational zones" on orders of Mussolini, the Rome radio reported, as Italy prepared for invasion. The provinces affected are Foggia, Bari, Brindisi, Lecce, Taranto, Cosenza, Catanzara, Matera, and part of Reggio Calabria.

The Turkish-Syrian border was reopened at 6 a.m. Thursday after a 48-hour news blackout, but the Rome radio declared that the British still were keeping sealed a 62-mile stretch in nrothern Syrian and the Lebanon coastal area, designating it a military area closed to civilians.

Rome reported the Allied troop concentrations in Syria. In Ankara, a British source said the frontier had been closed to guard Allied troop movements from Axis agents. Officers in the border area, however said the closure might have had some conncetion with King George VI's visit to North Africa.

Reinforcements In Balkans

The Germans have sent strong reinforcements to the Balkans, said a Stockholm report to Reuters, and Rome warned the Allies that "the Bulgarian High Command began

Germans Dispatch Troops To Reinforce Balkan Area

JUN 19 1943

Axis Reports Allied Armies Massing in Syria for Invasion.

LONDON, June 18.—(AP) Reopening of the Turkish-Syrian frontier and Axis reports of large Allied troop concentrations in Syria boosted enemy worry today over the shaky "southeastern wall" in the Balkans, where the Germans were said to have sent strong reinforcements.

to examine the possibilities of an Allied landing on the Balkan coast near the end of the Tunisian campaign," and was ready for "any eventuality."

The German radio, quoting Swedish correspondents, said military experts in London believed the "probability" of an Allied offensive in the eastern Mediterranean was "ever more imminent," with all the signs "now pointing to a coming Balkan offensive to be undertaken in by attempts to conquer Crete and the Dodecanese."

The Germans clamped tight the lid on Greece. The Morocco radio, in a broadcast also recorded by the

JUN 19 1943

Associated Press, reported from Istanbul that machinegun nests had been constructed every few miles on the Athens-Salonika railway, and that armed patrols constantly guarded the line. A strict curfew wsa said to be in effect in Salonika.

Outbreak In YugoSlavia

A Budapest broadcast disclosed that for six weeks YugoSlav patriots, men and women, had besieged Gospic, railway center southeast of Fiume, and that the siege was finally broken by Italians using more than 20 planes and dropping 15 tons of bombs. The guerrillas were reported to have used three tanks in their heaviest attack, lasting 13 hours.

The Algiers radio broadcast a warning, which it said came from Allied headquarters in North Africa, to the Italian people that they should move to safer places as "Allied forces have received orders to bomb war industries and your communication lines which are working for the Axis."

The broadcast, recorded by Reuters, said the Allies "intend to destroy your factories and communication lines," but "we do not want to harm the population."

Commands Air Force

Moscow, in a Tass dispatch from Geneva, said Marshal Albert Kesselring had been made commander of all Axis air forces in the "southern defensive area," with the general staff of the Italian air force abolished because the Italian force had "displayed utter confusion and helplessness during the recent operations in the central Mediterranean and over southern Italy."

A Berlin broadcast, likewise recorded by the Associated Press, quoted the Stockholm correspondent of the Italian newspaper Il Piccolo as saying that because of popular belief in Britain that an invasion was near, the British High Command had been "placed in the position of a chess player who had to make a compulsory move." Allied invasion talk, it said, was "a propagandistic maneuver set in motion by London and Washington."

Axis nerves were jumpy in Sicily where, according to a Moscow broadcast heard by the Soviet monitor, the Italians were panic-stricken over withdrawal of military stores and food. Only enough was left for the minimum needs of the defenders, the broadcast added.

Germany's gains early in the war, said a Berlin broadcast quoting Propaganda Minister Joseph Goebbels, enable the Nazis to "look forward with imperturbability to the impending storm from the west."

Another broadcast, reporting Goebbels speech today at a mourning service for victims of the air raid on Wuppertal, asserted that "the hour will come when terror will be broken by counter-terror," and that enemy raids might "raze towns and villages, but will never break the hearts of Germans."

"The insane brains of the plutocratic world destroyers," said the Reich's propaganda expert, "invented this kind of air terror." The Fuehrer did everything possible to avoid war. . . ."

TURKISH FRONTIER TRAFFIC RESUMED

Ankara, June 17 (Delayed) (A. P.).—The long, winding frontier between Turkey and Syria was reopened at 6 A. M. today by the British, who, for forty-eight hours, had stopped all traffic except Allied diplomatic and military personnel between the Middle East and neutral Turkey.

A British informant here said that the cross-border movement had been halted to shield Allied troop movements from Axis agents, but officers in the border area thought that the order had some connection with the visit of King George VI to the African front.

[The German radio announced yesterday, without Allied confirmation, that the border, closed on Tuesday, had been reopened yesterday. But the Rome radio said that a sixty-two-mile stretch in northern Syria and the coastal area of Lebanon had been declared military areas by the British and had been closed to all traffic.]

Planes operating from Africa and the Middle East into Turkey hardly were affected by the order, since they are used mainly for transportation of diplomatic personnel and Allied officers and technicians entering Turkey to assist in Army training and development of military defenses.

The Taurus express, which was held up by the order, resumed its journey today and was expected to reach Ankara more than a day late.

There were no signs of disorder.

JUN 19 1943

Brig.-Gen. Richard G. Tindall of Missouri has been appointed military attache of the American embassy at Ankara.

AXIS INVASION WARNINGS GROW

JUN 19 1943

Radios Tell of Threat From Eastern Mediterranean.

Axis Talks Of Invasion

London, June 18 (AP)—Invasion-conscious Axis broadcasters continued today to talk at some length about great concentrations of Allied forces in the Mediterranean area and glibly bragged about their own plans to repel any landing attempts.

The Berlin radio quoted German Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels as writing in Das Reich that Germany looked forward "with imperturbability to the impending storm from the west."

Critics Urged To Hush

His editorial ordered "our noisy critics" to keep quiet and argued that Germany's early successes gave her the opportunity to expand her war potential in time.

The Berlin radio also said that Goebbels spoke today at a mourning service for victims of the raid on Wuppertal.

The radio quoted him as saying the Allied raids were crying out for retaliation and "everything possible was being done to bring about this hour soon."

Dispatches from La Linea, Spain, near Gibraltar, said that three United States destroyers joined a British fleet of two airplane carriers, two battleships and twelve destroyers already in Gibraltar's harbor.

Turkish Frontier Mentioned

The Rome radio, which previously had told listeners of "many landing craft concentrating from African coasts toward Pantelleria," declared in a post-midnight report recorded by Reuters that "large British forces are concentrating along the southern frontier of Turkey."

Allied sources, understandably silent about the next major move, gave no confirmation of this report, which presumably was Italy's interpretation of the closing of the Syrian-Turkish border.

"Hour Of Decision"

The Rome radio reported, however, that a sixty-two-mile stretch in Northern Syria, as well as the coastal area of Lebanon, had been declared military areas — by the British and had been closed to all traffic and to civilians.

Berlin, taking note of a possible Allied lunge from that quarter, reported in a broadcast heard by the Associated Press than Premier-General Nuri Pasheas Said of Iraq had informed his troops of an approaching "hour of decision and active service."

Goebbels' admonition to Nazi critics to keep their objections to themselves was relayed by the Rome radio in a broadcast recorded by the Ministry of Information. He was quoted as writing in an article in Das Reich:

"Silence above all should be observed by our noisy critics. In this world no one is infallible, and this applies equally well to the Government and chiefs of staff, who are just as liable to make mistakes as anyone else."

"Fire" Technique Revealed

In one of several Axis pep talks about the invincibility of continental defenses, a military commentator on the Paris radio told of "an ingenious German method" of setting landing boats ablaze by pouring oil over coastal waters and setting it afire.

In this broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press, the Paris commentator declared:

"Both Germany and Italy have prepared detailed anti-invasion plans. Squadrons of planes are ready to take off and munitions plants have been transferred to safety."

Italian Damage Revealed

The Rome radio gave an indication of the destruction being spread through Italian territory by steady Allied bombing. The broadcast said all except 6,000 or 7,000 persons had been evacuated from Cagliari, Sardinian capital, a city with a normal population of nearly 100,000.

"Civil service officials who remained in the town are bravely attending to their duties among the ruins," the broadcast said.

Dispatches from Ankara, meantime, said the Berlin Boersen-Zeitung had published a long article assaying Balkan defenses and declaring that "German and Italian troops already have occupied all important positions in this new theater of war and have strongly fortified them."

Concedes Invasion Possibility

Offering no definite assurance invasion can be prevented—and intimating that the Balkans furnish the most probable point of Allied attack—the article said hopefully: "In any case, it is certain everything possible has been done for defense of the European continent."

'War's End' Cheered

London, June 18 (AP)—Reuters said today a rumor of an Allied invasion of Sicily had swept the Italian town of Tolmino, in the Julian Alps near the Austrian frontier, and the garrison rushed into the streets "to welcome the end of the war."

Cyprus 'Reinforced'

London, June 18 (AP)—The Berlin radio, perhaps fishing for information, broadcast a dispatch reporting that additional British and Indian troops had been moved to Cyprus. Axis sources say that Americans are among the garrison of Cyprus, a potential base for invasion of the Balkans, Crete or the Dodecanese Islands.

RAF Raids Poix; London Hit By One Bomb

JUN 19 1943

[By the Associated Press]

London, June 18—The RAF carried its current offensive against Axis targets across the Channel last night while the German air force dropped bombs in London and on a south coast town.

Intruder planes ranging over northern France dropped their nightly packet of bombs on the airfield at Poix, near Amiens; peppered a speeding E-boat off the French coast with bombs and cannon fire and shot up railway trains and barges, the Air Ministry news service said.

One Mosquito pilot reported that he believed he had hit an ammunition train standing at a station, so he went back and fired through the trainshed, touching off more explosives.

Nazis Drop One Bomb

Nazi raiders, meanwhile, running at top speed and low over London rooftops, plopped down a single bomb in a major street, wrecking a postoffice and killing two persons. Two others were seriously injured and several were slightly hurt.

The explosion sounded before any gunfire was heard and hundreds gathered to watch rescue workers extricate men and women trapped in the postoffice shelter.

The postoffice fire, extinguished after several hours, gave London's civil-defense workers their biggest test in months. Home Guardsmen were among the injured.

Three Other Casualties

Three or more persons were killed in another raid on a south England coastal town, which Berlin said was Portsmouth.

The Berlin radio acknowledged that Allied aircraft were over "Reich territory" last night, but did not say whether its reference was to Germany or occupied soil.

An early report by Reuters from a recording of a Rome broadcast quoted the Italian radio as saying that Berlin was one of last night's targets, but later Reuters declared that the Italians evidently were referring to an alert in the German capital the night before.

Second American Airdrome

Meantime, as another forerunner of the obliteration air offensive still to be unleashed against Germany, it was disclosed today that the second American-built American-manned airdrome to be completed within the last month was formally taken over by the Eighth United States Air Force.

It is a 600-acre, $8,000,000 plant, eleven months in the making. Americans built it with materials supplied by the British Air Ministry.

Commenting on the Eighth's part in the aerial war, Maj. Gen. Ira C. Eaker, commander of the force, said he was "satisfied with the results of the great battle over Kiel. I have congratulated the flyers who bore the brunt of it, as have Generals Arnold and Devers. . . . It was a significant victory."

Had No Fighter Escort

The force, without fighter escort, bombed Kiel and Bremen in a double-barrelled attack last Sunday, during which twenty-six heavy bombers were reported lost while probably 100 German fighter planes were destroyed.

"Ours is not primarily an aerial dogfight between bombers and fighters," General Eaker said. "It's a battle between bombers intent upon destruction of German war industry and the fighters whose existence depends upon delaying that inevitable conclusion."

4,198 Planes Bagged In Britain

London, June 18 (AP)—Lord Croft, parliamentary under secretary for the War Office, reported today that 4,198 Axis planes were destroyed over Great Britain from the start of the war to June 1.

He said anti-aircraft guns had accounted for at least 732 of the number.

Lord Croft spoke at the opening of an army exhibition of anti-aircraft weapons.

Fire In Rome Reported

London, June 18 (AP)—The Vichy radio, in a broadcast recorded by the Ministry of Information, said today in a Rome dispatch that "a great fire is raging in the central market in Rome.

"The amount of damage is not yet known," it added.

The account failed to give the cause of the blaze.

Imperialism Hit By Laborites

[By the Associated Press]

London, June 18—Without dissent, the Labor party conference, representing the strongest political minority in Britain today, adopted a resolution advocating liquidation of "all forms of political and economic imperialism" in English colonial policy.

JUN 19 1943

30.24 - 5143

30.24 - 5143

The resolution also declared that the Atlantic Charter and the Four Freedoms should be incorporated in a special colonial charter. It added that colonial status should be abolished and "genuine partnerships" realized between the colonies and Britain.

"Should Be No Color Bar"

Noel Baker, a member of Parliament, giving the indorsement of the party's executive committee to the resolution, said it would establish the principle that "government of backward peoples is a trust exercised by a ruling nation for the world at large."

"The executive committee agrees with Mr. Sumner Welles that there should be no color bar," he declared.

BRITONS GET MORE BUTTER—IN 1946

London, June 18 (A. P.)—Lord Woolton, the Food Minister, asked by a housewife at an Edinburgh gathering today when the British butter ration of two ounces weekly would be increased, responded:

"You'll get more butter—probably in 1946."

JUN 19 1943

2,000 NAZIS SLAIN IN FIERCE BATTLES ALONG OREL FRONT

Numerous German Counter-attacks Hurled Back by Red Troops.

LONDON, Saturday, June 19. — (AP) Russia announced early today that Soviet forces had killed more than 2,000 German troops in hurling back numerous enemy counterattacks this week in the vital Orel sector, where the Nazis were reported using semi-trained reservists and rear-line troops.

In one area, northwest of Mtsensk, the Germans "drew forward reserves" yesterday but "showed no activity," said the Moscow midnight communique recorded here by the Soviet monitor.

2,000 Nazis Slain

"In a few days of fighting in this sector the Germans lost over 2,000 in killed alone," the bulletin said.

"Our troops burned or disabled 17 enemy tanks and destroyed 12 guns, 18 mortars including three six-barrel mortars, and over 40 machine-guns."

The communique said the Russians shot down 15 German planes during this fighting and captured prisoners and some material.

Nazi Airdrome Raided

A special Soviet announcement also said that Russian bombers raided a German airdrome near Leningrad yesterday and followed up their Thursday night attack on an airfield in the Donets basin with a daylight raid on the same field yesterday.

The communique said that Soviet air units Thursday destroyed or damaged about ten trucks carrying troops and supplies, blew up several ammunition dumps, smashed one train and partly wiped out a company of German infantry.

On the front west of Moscow, Red army troops were reported to have killed about 200 Germans yesterday in addition to destroying six machineguns, a mortar battery and an ammunition dump.

Three German planes were downed in air combats over the Belgorod area, where the communique said Soviet snipers and scouts were active. Artillery and mortar units of both sides exchanged fire west of Rostov, with the Russians dispersing about two companies of enemy infantry and destroying several German guns.

Red army troops on the Volkhov front southeast of Leningrad killed about 150 Germans and knocked out several field pieces and machineguns.

In the Minsk area, Russian guerrillas were reported to have wrecked three German troop trains, destroying 56 cars carrying troops and equipment and killing many of the enemy soldiers.

Front line dispatches reported earlier that the Nazis were using semi-trained reservists and rear-line units in their desperate thrusts to regain lost positions northwest of Mtsensk, 40 miles above Orel.

Reds Punish Nazis Near Orel

Enemy Is Said to Use Semi-trained Reservists —Air Fight Near Leningrad.

Moscow, June 18 (A. P.)—German efforts to recapture lost positions northwest of Mtsensk, above the Russian battlefront hinge at Orel, have been smashed and the Red Army has inflicted heavy losses on semi-trained Nazi reservists and rear-line troops thrown into the struggle, front line dispatches said today.

The Soviet midnight communique said that several German attacks in the area were repulsed yesterday and that enemy man power and equipment were cut.

The dispatches from the front quoted one German prisoner as admitting that his division was composed entirely of reservists because all of the highly trained regular troops had been killed.

The bulletin told of heavy punishment dealt to Mogilev, a German-held river and rail base on the Upper Dnieper, in a recent air raid.

A special Moscow broadcast declared long-range Russian bombers, continuing the offensive to smash Nazi war supplies, set a hundred big fires in raids on German airdromes Wednesday night.

Both the Germans and the Russians have said that the other side intended to begin the summer offensive in the Orel region.

The German radio said that Nazi bombers ranged eastward last night to attack Soviet concentrations at Astrakhan and to bomb armament plants on the lower Volga River. Astrakhan is on the Caspian Sea at the mouth of the Volga River, 225 miles southeast of Stalingrad. The Germans said four Soviet freighters totaling 11,000 tons were sunk, another medium-sized freighter was damaged and extensive fires were left burning in the attacks on the armament plants.

Planes Combat Near Leningrad.

London, June 18 (A. P.).—Russian Army artillery and mortar batteries smashed two companies of German infantry on the Leningrad front and seven Nazi bombers were brought down in aerial combat and by anti-aircraft fire on the city's approaches last night, the Russian noon communique announced today.

Nineteen German blockhouses and observation posts also were destroyed in the Leningrad area by Russian gunfire, the war bulletin at Moscow broadcast.

Clashes between reconnaissance parties were reported all along the line. One Red Army unit was credited with destruction of about a company of Germans in the Sevsk area, west of Kursk. It was in this region that the Berlin radio said the Russians were massing troops for another offensive, a claim not borne out by any Russian announcement.

Nazis Suffer Heavily.

Two German planes were brought down in the Sevsk sector and one Russian pilot destroyed fourteen Nazi supply trucks in the campaign to cut down the German stores on the Russian front, the noon bulletin said.

The midnight communique said that that despite fresh troops thrown into the attack, the Germans northwest of Mtsensk have been unable to regain lost positions and have suffered heavily in man power and material losses.

This action is in the area around Orel, the battlefront hinge where each side has asserted the other has offensives in the making.

Under The Nazis

JUN 19 1943

Maginot Line Going

Stockholm, June 18 (AP)—A Berlin dispatch to the Stockholm newspaper Dagens Nyheter reported today that the Germans are rapidly completing demolition of the Maginot Line in France to make more land available for cultivation. Approximately 1,000 concrete barriers are being removed daily from the broad fortified zone, the dispatch said.

Previously the Nazis were reported to have removed much of the armament from the Maginot Line, transferring it to their new fortifications of the French coast.

II

Baltic Opposition

Stockholm, June 18 (AP)—Opposition to German occupation authorities in the Baltic countries has increased to such an extent that the Nazis have been forced to restrict all travel, the Svenska Dagbladet reported today.

The paper said the Germans had established rigid guards over all Baltic frontiers, even limiting traffic between Estonia, Lithuania and Latvia in a hunt for partisans and for persons who have evaded compulsory labor service.

German authorities were reported to be halting persons on the streets to examine their passports and papers. Many workers were said to have fled to the forests, causing serious disruptions in industry.

U. S. Warships at Gibraltar

MADRID, June 18 (AP). — Dispatches from La Linea, which is near Gibraltar, said today that three American destroyers had joined a British fleet of two airplane carriers, two battleships and twelve destroyers already in Gibraltar's harbor.

King Sees Fortifications

MADRID, June 18 (AP).—Dispatches from La Linea said today King George VI had arrived at Gibraltar by plane, following his inspection of allied forces in North Africa.

The dispatches said that King George was greeted upon his arrival by Lieutenant General F. N. M. Macfarlane, military governor of Gibraltar, and that they and other military and naval officers immediately inspected fortifications and garrison quarters deep in the rock.

TWO AIRPORTS HIT IN RAIDS ON SICILY

124 Tons of Bombs Hurled at Italian Bases of Comiso, Biscari.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 18.—(AP) American Liberator bombers of the Middle East command have smashed again at Italian Sicily in the campaign to destroy the last of its air cover, dropping 125 tons of exploding steel on the airdromes of Comiso and Biscari to follow up another heavy night attack by British Wellingtons on the home Italian port of Naples.

The Liberators, estimated in Cairo dispatches at about 50, were escorted by R.A.F. Spitfires based on Malta, and all Allied planes from these and the operations against Naples returned safely.

Hangar, Workshops Destroyed

At Comiso, a hangar was destroyed and workshops, dispersal areas and the runway were covered with explosions. At Biscari, only a few miles away, many hits were scored. Several grounded enemy planes were believed destroyed at both fields. The Spitfires destroyed an Italian interceptor plane.

The Biscari-Comiso raids were thrown in yesterday; the Wellington attack on Naples was delivered the previous night.

Of this latter raid, the communique, from Allied headquarters said only that the Naples docks were attacked. Two enemy planes were destroyed last night in operations in this theater.

An Axis sailing vessel in the Aegean sea was reported damaged by R.A.F. long-range fighters in the continuing patrol of those waters.

The French High Command, in its first communique since the conquest of Tunisia, announced that a French submarine had sunk a 5,000-ton Axis cargo ship in the Mediterranean.

It also disclosed that the French had been supplied by the British with Spitfire planes. This was made known in an official report that French pilots flew 140 individual flights in both Warhawks and Spitfires to protect debarking British troops during the occupation of Pantelleria.

Allied Flyers Hit Sicilian Bases And Naples

[By the Associated Press]

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 18—United States Liberators flew from Middle East bases to bomb the Sicilian airdromes at Comiso and Biscari by daylight yesterday after a night attack by Wellingtons of the northwest African air force on the Naples docks, it was announced today.

(Nearly fifty Liberators, protected by Malta-based Spitfires during the attacks, dropped 125 tons of explosives on the two airdromes, a Cairo dispatch said. The British fighters destroyed a Macchi 202. Large columns of black smoke arose as the raiders headed home.

Runway Blasted

(Workshops, disperal areas, a hangar and the runway of the Comiso field were covered by explosive bursts, a Cairo communique said. At Biscari, which lies a few miles from Comiso near the southeastern corner of the invasion-threatened island, attacks were concentrated on the northeast and northwest corners of the airdrome.)

Cannon and machine-gun fire from RAF long-range fighters was reported to have damaged an Axis sailing vessel in the Aegean.

Naples Docks Attacked

The RAF Wellingtons dropped several two-ton blockbusters along the Naples waterfront and showered other explosives on the docks and railway yards of that Italian supply port before dawn yesterday.

Official sources gave no information on the results of the Naples raid, but said one bomber fired 200 rounds in driving off an enemy night fighter which attempted to intercept it. Heavy explosives had last been dropped on the Naples docks and industrial area by Wellington squadrons the night of June 1.

RAF Coastal Airforce Beaufighters shot down two Axis planes off the Algerian coast last night.

No Allied Craft Lost

Bad weather over the target areas halted the heavy daylight operations of Maj. Gen. James H. Doolittle's United States bombers for the second successive day and only patrolling and reconnaissance flights were reported.

Communiques said that neither the Middle East nor the Northwest African air forces lost a plane.

(The Italian high command, without reference to Naples, said

JUN 19 1943

"enemy aviation yesterday directed attacks against localities of Sicily and Calabria and against small centers in the Vesuvius area, among which was Pompei. There was limited damage."

South Of Naples

(The communique, broadcast by the Rome radio, was recorded by the Associated Press. The modern town of Pompei lies on a railway twenty-five miles south of Naples.

(German airmen were reported by the Italians to have bombed harbor installations of Djidjelli, 150 miles east of Algiers. The communique declared a Spitfire raider was shot down near Comiso, Sicily.)

U. S. AIR FORCE SMASHES HARD AT FOE IN SICILY

125 Tons of Bombs Fall on Airfields in Big Daylight Attack.

JUN 19 1943

NAPLES BATTERED BY R. A. F.

Italians Report Villages in Vesuvius Area Are Under Assault.

Cairo, June 18 (A. P.).—Nearly fifty United States Liberator bombers smashed by daylight yesterday at the airdromes of Comiso and Biscari, Sicily, dropping 125 tons of bombs, it was announced today.

A United States communique said that they scored hits on runways, hangars and dispersal areas.

All the aircraft, which flew with a protective cover of Spitfires operating from Malta, returned safely. The fighters destroyed one Macchi 202.

Several enemy planes on the ground at both airdromes were reported destroyed.

At Comiso a hangar was destroyed. Fires and large explosions resulted from the Biscari attack, with long columns of black smoke rising when the raiders headed home.

Praises Spitfire Cover.

Major Robert Hoover of Dallas, Tex., who led the formation against Comiso, paid tribute to excellent Spitfire cover which, he said, probably was responsible for the lack of enemy fighter opposition there.

"The Spitfires gave us perfect cover," he said. "I saw two Messerschmitt 109s lurking in the distance waiting to make an attack. When they saw the Spits they peeled off and went home."

These fields, two of many with which the Axis has ringed invasion-threatened Sicily, are located within a few miles of each other near the southeastern corner of the Italian island.

Direct hits were scored on the hangar at the northern end of the Comiso Field, a Middle East air communique said, and dispersals were covered by bomb bursts. Hits also were observed on workshops in the southern end and on an eastern runway.

The air-borne explosives were concentrated on the northeast and northwest corners of the Biscari Field, the bulletin said.

At the same time, Royal Air Force long-range fighters made another sally over the Ægean

R. A. F. Bombs Naples.

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 18 (A. P.).—Wellington bombers, striking from bases in Northwest Africa, hammered the Italian port of Naples Wednesday night as the Allies continued to carry the war to Germany's junior partner, an allied communique announced today

The Wellingtons, which frequently lug block busters, were reported to have blasted the Naples docks. In the most recent big-scale assault on that port Wellingtons dumped 4,000- and 2,000-pound bombs on the docks and industrial area the night of June 1.

The war bulletin said no aircraft were lost by the Royal Air Force in these operations and that two enemy planes were destroyed last night.

Vesuvius Area Mentioned.

The Italian High Command, without reference to Naples, said: "Enemy aviation yesterday directed attacks against localities of Sicily and Calabria and against small centers in the Vesuvius area, among which was Pompei. There was limited damage."

The communique, broadcast by the Rome radio, was recorded by the Associated Press. The modern town of Pompei lies on a railway, twenty-five miles south of Naples.

OWN BOMB MENACES 4

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 18 (A. P.).—Lieut.-Col. John D. Stevenson, 28 years old, and three fighter bomber pilots under his command, narrowly escaped death today when a bomb accidentally dropped from his ship as they were skimming over the Metiterranean.

They were returning from Pantelleria. Col. Stevenson, who lives in Laramie, Wyoming, had tripped his bomb release. Although he did not know it, only one of the bombs dropped. The other suddenly fell into the sea beneath his formation of four planes on their way back when they were only 150 feet above the Mediterranean.

Fighting-French Anniversary

JUN 19 1943

Algiers, June 18 (AP)—In its first war communique since the Allied conquest of Tunisia, the French high command announced today that a French submarine had sunk a 5,000-ton enemy cargo vessel in the Mediterranean.

[By the Associated Press]

Algiers, June 18—"Our country hears the cannon of her liberators approaching," Gen. Charles de Gaulle declared tonight in a speech for broadcast to the French marking the third anniversary of the birth of Fighting France.

Three years after he announced that Fighting France would surmount disaster and continue to victory, he said "our aims are the vanquishing of the enemy, liberation of territory and national rejuvenation by democracy and liberty."

He said that "events of the war have given proof day after day of English heroism, Russian valor and American power."

Earlier 30,000 cheering French crowded midtown Algiers as de Gaulle placed a wreath on the tall monument to the war dead.

COMPROMISE PLAN MAY MEND BREACH IN FRENCH SET-UP

Separate National Defense Committee to Be Named at Algiers.

ALGIERS, June 18—(AP) Signs of a compromise partitioning French military power among followers of Gen. Charles de Gaulle and Gen. Henri Giraud developed today as the Committee of National Liberation arranged to hold a second plenary session Monday.

In a speech for broadcast to France marking the third anniversary of the Fighting French, Gen. de Gaulle said tonight that "union of the French, provided it is achieved by the French themselves and in the way the French people desire it, is a reinforcement for the United Nations and a guarantee for cooperation among the Allies today and the building of peace tomorrow."

Advanced as Compromise

The newest solution to the leaders' political problems was advanced by "moderates" of the 13-man Committee of National Liberation, which now has become the supreme governing authority in the overseas empire, and was reported acceptable in most respects to the co-presidents, Gen. de Gaulle and Gen. Giraud.

As made known in political circles, the plan calls for the appointment of a separate Committee of National Defense which will include Gen. de Gaulle as defense commissioner, Gen. Giraud as commander in chief, Jean Monnet as commissioner of armament and supply, Andre Philip as commissioner of interior and resistance in France, and either Gen. Alphonse Georges or Gen. Georges Catroux.

The Committee of National Defense, under the current scheme, would have a sub-committee composed of Gen. de Gaulle and the chiefs of staff of the army, navy and air force. This group would undertake the actual work of reorganizing and remodeling French armed forces, subject to approval by the Committee of National Defense.

Juin to Get Post

Observers believed it was almost certain that the Giraud factor would be able to place Gen. Alphonse Juin, fresh from successes in Tunisia, as army chief of staff while the de Gaullists made a strong case for General Bouscat as air chief of staff. Admiral Ernest Michelier now is the highest ranking French naval officer in North Africa but it was reported that another would be named to represent the navy on the sub-committee.

Difficulties attending the establishment of the full Committee of National Liberation in power yesterday seemed almost forgotten today as both sides engaged in friendly informal discussions. Gen. de Gaulle personally participated in the third anniversary celebration of his momentous creation of Fighting France.

"Our country hears the cannon of her liberators approaching," he declared in his broadcast speech. "The events of the war have given proof day after day of English heroism, Russian valor and American power."

"Our aims," he said, "are the vanquishing of the enemy, liberation of territory and national rejuvenation by democracy and liberty.

"Victory will be in vain if all the people who wish to take part in it are not closely linked, one with another like soldiers in ranks.

Empire Liberated

"We see at this moment the empire liberated from Algiers to Tananarive, Tunis to Brazzaville, Dakar to Djibouti and Rabat to Noumea, where our soldiers, sailors and aviators are gathering their efforts for national resistance."

Earlier in the day, Gen. de Gaulle laid a wreath at the tall sculptured monument to the war dead amid the cheers of 30,000 Frenchmen who crowded midtown Algiers.

The enthusiastic cries of de Gaullists far back in the huge throng packing Memorial square near the waterfront almost drowned out the singing of the Marsaillaise which ended the ceremony. A scheduled one minute of silence was observed only by those close to the honor guard of native troops surrounding the monument. Confetti showered from buildings along the Rue Michelet as Gen. de Gaulle drove off in a limousine.

JUN 19 1943

Spellman Arrives in Uganda

NAIROBI, Kenya Colony, June 18 (AP)—Archbishop Francis J. Spellman of New York, Catholic military vicar for the United States armed forces, has reached Uganda in his tour of United States military establishments and plans to go from there to South Africa by way of Madagascar, a Reuter dispatch said today.

U. S. PLANES RAID BURMA ROAD TOWN

Bomb Japanese Barracks and Installations at Lashio, Northeast of Mandalay

RAF ALSO ON ATTACKS

Enemy Said to Have Slain 5,000 Civilians and 5,000 Wounded Chinese in Tungting Town

NEW DELHI, India, June 18 (AP)—Liberators of the Tenth United States Air Force dumped ten tons of bombs yesterday on Japanese barracks and installations at Lashio, railhead of the Burma Road 130 miles northeast of Mandalay, it was announced today. Considerable damage was reported in a communiqué.

The Lashio raid followed a fire-setting attack on railroad yards and buildings at Mandalay by heavy bombers Wednesday, American headquarters announced.

Blenheim bombers raided the Japanese Burma base at Indainggyi yesterday morning while others attacked Buthedaung, a British communiqué said today.

At the same time Mohawks bombed and machine-gunned targets in the upper Chindwin district. The announcement said that at Indainggyi all bombs were seen to fall in the target area but clouds prevented observation of results. The operations were carried out without loss.

Chungking, June 18—Chinese troops, credited with killing or wounding 40,000 Japanese in pushing the invaders back from the Hunan rice bowl, were reported today to have completed the encirclement of Owchihkow, ninety miles southeast of the Japanese base at Ichang.

Owchihkow is one of the last important Japanese-held strongholds west of Yochow and south of the Yangtze.

Yanks Bomb City

American planes, which bombed the city Tuesday in support of ground forces, further paved the way for the success of the ground action, dispatches said.

Chinese headquarters reported that a Japanese three-columned drive, started last Monday against Chinese positions near the coastal port of Swatow in Kwangtung province, had been "intercepted." An enemy column which began moving in Yunnan province on June 8 was reported to have been halted.

100,000 Men Used

A Chinese army spokesman announced that the Japanese threw an army of 100,000 into the forty-day battle of the Yangtze valley above and below Ichang and added "less than two thirds of the entire Japanese force managed to escape from the Chinese trap."

Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's headquarters announced yesterday that United States planes raided warehouses in the Japanese base at Owlchihkow Tuesday and that an outnumbered American force destroyed six Japanese planes and probably destroyed three others in a battle Monday southwest of Nanchang.

One Chinese force now is fighting on the outskirts of Owchihkow and other Chinese units have struck east of that city to hamper Japanese communications on the Canton-Hankow railway, Chinese headquarters said.

Surveyors Captured

Chinese sources reported that two Japanese marine surveyors were captured by Chinese authori-

American Bombers Hit Enemy-Held City

JUN 19 1943

30.24-5'145

30.24-5'145

ties June 10 as they sought sites on the coast of Fukien province for the construction of drydocks to repair sea-going craft.

It was presumed they were operating in disguise, spotting sites where the Japanese could land troops and occupy the country and then begin building docks.

The report testified indirectly to the activities of Allied submarines off the China coast which, according to arrivals from occupied China, are causing Japanese authorities serious concern.

10,000 Massacred

The Central News Agency, which has connections with the Chinese Government, asserted meanwhile that the Japanese massacred more than 10,000 civilians and wounded Chinese soldiers during their occupation of Nanhsien, on Tungting Lake.

It said that Chinese troops who recently recaptured the town found it in utter ruins and that the bodies of 5,000 Chinese were hanging from willow trees.

Nanhsien normally had a population of 50,000.

Chiang's Son, Captain, Baptized

CHUNGKING, China, June 18 (AP)—Captain Chiang Wei-kuo, second son of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek by his first wife, was baptized yesterday by Bishop Wy Chen, Methodist Bishop of West China and general secretary of the National Christian Council. Chiang Kai-shek became a Methodist some years ago. Captain Chiang, who is attached to the Chinese Army on the Yellow Riverfront, was one of the officers who conducted Wendell Willkie during his visit there last year.

VENGEANCE DIVEBOMBER NEW U. S. DIVEBOMBERS

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, Saturday, June 19 — (AP) Vultee Vengeance divebombers made their first reported appearance in the southwest Pacific war zone yesterday, ranging 300 miles above Australia to hit two Japanese-held villages on Selaru island in the Tanimbar group.

The Vengeances, manned by Australians, were accompanied on the raid by Beaufighters which strafed small enemy vessels off shore. Use of the land - based Vengeances hitherto had not been mentioned in the communiques from headquarters of General Douglas MacArthur.

Spitfires Down 22 Jap Planes

Melbourne, Australia, June 18 (AP)—Australian Spitfire pilots in the limited number of combats they have had with the Japanese to the north of Australia, have destroyed twenty-two enemy planes thus far.

The total includes five bombers, fifteen fighters and two reconnaissance planes.

Wing Commander Clive Caldwell tops the score with three fighter planes and a bomber, making his total bag for the war twenty-four and a half planes.

Jap Barges Raided.

Somewhere in New Guinea, June 18 (A. P.).—In one of their first night strikes in this area, Boston A20s joined Mitchell B-25s in a successful game of barge-busting along the Huon Peninsula last night.

They spotted twenty barges, destroying eight and damaging the remainder.

Downs a Zero at Cost of $3.80

AN ADVANCED ALLIED BASE IN NEW GUINEA, June 18 (AP).—Staff Sergeant Joseph Clark, a B-25 Mitchell bomber gunner, shot down a Zero May 15 and calculates it cost Uncle Sam only $3.80. Clark said he expended only thirty-eight rounds of .50-caliber ammunition, which he estimated cost $3.80. Estimated loss to the Japanese in plane and pilot: $60,000.

Flyer Bails Out Into Middle Of Dogfight

JUN 19 1943

By J. Norman Lodge

[Associated Press Correspondent]

Guadalcanal, June 14 (Delayed). A birthday present in the form of two Zeros fell to the lot of Lieut. Henry E. Matson, of Perry, N. Y., a week ago today on the eve of his twenty-third birthday. The saga of it is fantastic.

Matson, the son of a coal dealer, was leading a flight of P-40s on routine patrol over Russell Island when he was notified that numerous enemy craft were in the vicinity.

Five miles east of Buraku Island he saw fifteen Zeros. From here on, this is his narrative:

"My flight dove and passed through the flight, then returned to engage the enemy. On the third pass, I attacked a Zero which burst into flames. Soon I was attacked by another in a head-on pass. He fired at me, but my burst started him burning and pieces flew off his plane in all directions.

"A collision of our ships followed and my engine and prop chewed through him near the right wing root.

"After the crash there was a marked rise in the temperature of my cockpit. (His plane was afire.) I released my safety belt and found myself promptly thrown clear of my wrecked ship. This was at about 18,000 feet.

"The 'chute opened and I descended right down through the middle of a terriffic dog fight. Three Zeros formed a Lufberry (dog-chase-dog) around me as I floated down.

Planes Roll Away

"After waving vigorously, jutting out my teeth at times to look like Tojo, and making other gestures of friendship (!), giving them the old overhead handclasp like a fighter after telling mom he'll be right home, the Zeros rolled away and disappeared.

"On the way down I noted four Zeros crash into the sea and three going toward New Georgia, their props windmilling (just turning over without power) and their engines smoking considerably.

Arms Burned Black

"I looked at my wrist to see the time because I knew operations would give me hell unless I had an accurate check. I discovered then both my hands and arms were burned black.

"I got out a mirror to see how I looked and found both cheeks puffed up, and my mouth filled with plexiglass from a shattered windscreen. I spat out the glass, took off my helmet and found my head thoroughly burned and most of the helmet missing. I reached for my first aid kit, extracted a morphine syrette and administered myself a shot of dope before reaching the water.

"Upon landing, I inflated my boat and made myself as comfortable as I could, knowing I'd doze off from the effect of the morphine. I did doze off for a while, using the seat of my 'chute to cover my face from the sun. (Matson's face already was so badly burned that the sun couldn't have made it much worse.)

Rescued After Two Hours

"After two hours in the water a crash boat picked me up."

He was badly burned about the head, face and arms, hi sright knee was dislocated and his shinbone splintered, but today — a week later—he was hobbling about the camp fretting because the medicos refused to let him get near the planes.

75 LOST IN SINKING

Rio De Janeiro, June 18 (A. P.).—The government-controlled Agencia Nacional announced today that seventy-five passengers and crewmen aboard the Belem river ship "Moacir" were reported missing after the vessel sank last night en route from Belem to Manaos.

It was believed that the sinking was caused by an explosion of the oil cargo. The ship is one of the newest on the Belem-Manaos line.

2 U. S. Fliers Die in Ecuador

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador, June 17 (Delayed) (AP)—Two United States fliers were killed yesterday when their plane crashed after taking off from the Guayaquil airport. They were identified as Capt. Leo S. Warner, 40, of the Army, and Naval Lieut. William Webbe, 28. They had come to Guayaquill to make purchases for the Navy base at Salinas, Ecuador.

Ramirez Calls Off Argentine Elections

By The Associated Press.

BUENOS AIRES, June 18—Gen. Pedro Ramirez's government issued a decree tonight suspending Presidential elections scheduled for Sept. 5, and also banned the word "provisional" in referring to the present government.

"The establishment of the provisional government interrupted the regular terms for normal renewal of the Executive and decided that elections must be conditioned to a fulfillment of the aims that motivated the military movement," said a decree issued by the government, which overthrew that of President Ramon Castillo's "prudent neutrality" regime.

Another order said use of the word "provisional" no longer applied to General Ramirez's government, since it had been recognized by the Supreme Court and by countries maintaining diplomatic relations with Argentina.

'Waste' Alcohol Plant Opened In Canada

JUN 19 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Thorold, Ont., June 18—American and Canadian officials today inspected a new industrial alcohol plant, developed by the Ontario Paper Company, a subsidiary of the Chicago Tribune, to use waste liquor from the manufacture of sulphite pulp.

The 600,000-gallon annual output of the plant will be chiefly exported to the United States for use in that country's synthetic rubber program.

First Use In America

The new manufacturing process, although in use in Europe since 1916, never before had been used in the Americas. It involves production of alcohol from waste sulphite liquor, a by-product of the manufacture of sulphite pulp. The waste liquor from the North American sulphite industry previously has been discharged as waste.

Col. Robert R. McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune, said refinements and betterments of the European processes which have been developed at the Thorold plant, would be made available to all woodpulp manufacturers in the United States and Canada.

Other Uses Possible

Officials of the Ontario Paper Company said this new source of alcohol might be tapped as a supplemental automobile fuel in addition to its other wartime uses.

Among those participating in the inspection of the plant, the only one of its type in the Americas, were William A. Jeffers, United States rubber director; Senator Wheeler (D., Mont.), Senator Willis (R., Ind.) and E. T. Stone, Canadian chemical controller.

H. F. Roland, chief engineer, alcohol division, United States War Production Board; Senator Aiken (R., Vt.), Dr. J. Alfred Hall and A. L. Forsling, of the United States Forest Service; Ernest W. Pittman, president of the Inter-Chemical Corporation; Dr. R. P. Dinsmore, of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, and a score of other prominent Americans and Canadians.

von unit, had been allocated to unknown and undeveloped processes from petroleum. And that one alcohol unit was planned to make synthetic alcohol from petroleum.

"Investigation showed that the one well-known commercial process for making synthetic rubber was from industrial alcohol using as a base forestry waste or surplus agricultural products, whichever was the most available. Belatedly the program was changed so that about one-third of the total synthetic rubber program calls for industrial alcohol as the raw material.

"Near the end of the hearing Mr. Nelson, head of the War Production Board, testified that, had he known from the outset what he knew then he would have arranged to have 60 per cent of the rubber made from alcohol and only 40 per cent from oil."

Recalling that the dye shortage of the last war resulted in the establishment of "the world's greatest and finest chemical business," the Senator said it would be natural to suppose that when this war ends, Canadians and Americans would wish to insure this continent against another rubber shortage. Then he cautioned:

"There are those who would lay this new industry on the international table for bargaining and trading over plantation rubber."

Demands U. S. Keep Its Rubber

Senator Wheeler Voices Fear Industry May Be Traded Across Peace Table.

Thornold, Ont., June 18 (A. P.).—Senator Wheeler (D.-Mont.) told a Canadian audience today that America's new rubber industry must not be abandoned after the war or traded across the peace conference table.

In an address at the opening of the Ontario Paper Company's alcohol plant at Thornoed, Ont., he predicted that, in peacetime, the greater portion of the continent's rubber will be produced from forestry waste and surplus farm products, rather than from oil.

Explaining that he was speaking as a member of a congressional committee which has been studying the utilization of surpluses and wastes of farm and forest, the Senator said:

"When our committee started its work in March last year, the entire synthetic rubber program, with the exception of one 20,000-

U. S. CUTTER LOST WITH CREW OF 60

'Escanaba' of the Coast Blasted by Explo-

JUN 19 1943

sion on Convoy Duty.

WASHINGTON, June 18 — (AP) Loss of the Coast Guard cutter Escanaba and all but two of her crew was disclosed today by the Navy. Her normal complement is 60 officers and men.

The announcement said the 718-ton vessel was torn amidships by an explosion of undetermined origin while on convoy duty in the North Atlantic and sank so quickly distress signals could not be sent.

Officials here said the Escanaba could have been blown up by a torpedo, a mine or some internal mishap, but the two survivors, picked up the Coast Guard cutter Raritan, said they had no idea what happened. They were Melvin Baldwin, 21, boatswain's mate, second class, of East Grand Forks, Minn., and Raymond F. OMalley, Jr., 23, boatswain's mate, second class, of Chicago.

Captain Lost With Ship

Lieut. Cmdr. Carl Uno Peterson of Newtonville, Mass., captain of the Escanaba, went down with his ship.

Persons aboard the Coast Guard cutter Storis, which was near the Escanaba when she blew up, said a large cloud of smoke went up and the ship sank, leaving only small bits of wreckage.

The Escanaba distinguished itself earlier in the year by rescuing 133 men from a torpedoed ship in the north Atlantic. This was reported previously, but the Escanaba was not then identified.

The rescues were accomplished by members of the crew who went over the side in the icy waters to fasten lines around victims of the torpedoed ship and crewmen who went out in rubber suits and towed life rafts to the cutter.

The Navy said that while the Escanaba normally carried 60 men, this did not fix the actual number that might have been aboard.

99th Vessel Destroyed

Loss of the Escanaba brings to 99 the number of American war vessels reported sunk, overdue or destroyed to prevent capture in this war.

Commander Peterson entered the Coast Guard service as an ensign in May 1930 from the academy at New London, Conn. Aside from his sea going experience he had been especially interested in radio engineering and had done some special work in that field.

In March last year he took command of the Escanaba, serving first in the Great Lakes area and later moving into the Atlantic.

[illegible] class, of Chicago.

Observers aboard the Coast Guard cutter Storis, which was the vessel nearest the Escanaba when she blew up, said a large cloud of smoke went up into the air and the cutter went down leaving only small bits of wreckage afloat.

The Escanaba had distinguished itself earlier in the year by rescuing 133 men from a torpedoed ship in the North Atlantic.

Navy communique No. 417 said:

"The United States Coast Guard cutter Escanaba, assigned to convoy duty in the North Atlantic, has been reported lost.

"All hands except two enlisted men were lost with the ship. Next of kin have been notified."

The skipper of the vessel was Lieut.-Commander Carl Uno Peterson, 36, of Newtonville, Mass.

The loss of the ship raised to a total of ninety-nine the number of American war vessels so far reported sunk, overdue or destroyed to prevent capture in this war.

The manner in which the cutter was lost was not revealed by the Navy, but further details were expected later.

One of six of her class and built at the Defoe Works, Bay City, Mich., the Escanaba was completed in 1932. She displaced 718 tons and was 165 feet long. Her normal complement was sixty men, but that did not fix the number actually on board at the time she was lost.

She carried two three-inch 50 caliber guns and two six-pounders. Before entering convoy duty, the Escanaba, especially strengthened for ice breaking was used on the Great Lakes with Grand Haven, Mich., as her station.

76 U.S. CASUALTIES REPORTED IN RAID ON GUADALCANAL

JUN 19 1943

Japs Suffer Crushing Defeat with Loss of 77 Planes.

JUN 19 1943

WASHINGTON, June 18 — (AP) New reports from the south Pacific disclosed today that the Japanese suffered an aerial disaster Wednesday when they sought to raid American-held Guadalcanal island and near-by shipping with a force of about 120 planes, and succeeded in doing relatively little lamage.

Amplifying yesterday's announcement that 77 enemy planes had been shot from the skies, the Navy said the Japanese striking group was estimated at 60 bombers and 60 fighters. This armada, possibly the largest ever thrown against a single objective in a single raid by the Pacific enemy, did the following damage:

Casualties Total 76

Twenty-five Americans killed, 2a injured and 22 missing afloat and ashore — total casualties 76.

One U. S. merchant ship and one landing barge damaged.

Six U. S. planes lost. However, the pilot of one of the planes was saved and experience in the Solomons area indicated some of the others might later turn up.

The raid, on the basis of the estimated Japanese strength, was the greatest ever attempted by the enemy in the fighting around Guadalcanal, which began last Aug. 7 with the American invasion. The nearest previous approach to it in size of enemy power was on April 5 when the enemy employed 98 aircraft.

U. S. Force Large

While no figures were given on the size of the American fighter force which intercepted the Japanese foray it seemed certain this also was relatively large.

The purpose which prompted the Japs to employ many planes in a single action still was not disclosed. Speculation here continued to revolve around the belief that they were anticipating new blows against their bases in the northwestern Solomons and were seeking to impede or disrupt the organization of forces to be employed in the next American move.

The communique also announced that Wednesday night, after the enemy had been driven off from Guadalcanal, Army Liberator heavy bombers attacked Japanese positions on Ballali island in the Chortland island area of the northwestern Solomons. Results were not observed. One bomber was reported missing.

In the north Pacific Wednesday three additional Japanese soldiers were captured in the Cape Khlebnidof area at the northeastern tip of Attu. This brought to 24 the total of enemy troops taken prisoner on Attu.

GLORIOUS VICTORY IN SOLOMON FIGHT IS HAILED BY KNOX

Jap Raiders Sought to Blunt Growing American Power, Navy Chief Believes.

WASHINGTON, June 18—(AP) The unprecedented Japanese aerial thrust at Guadalcanal island Wednesday—in which they suffered a 77 to 6 disaster—probably was designed to blunt the edge of growing American offensive power in that area of the south Pacific, Secretary of the Navy Knox said today.

The great air battle was a "godawful pasting for them" and a "glorious victory for us," Secretary Knox declared at his press conference.

Knox Elated By Victory

The secretary was obviously in a jubilant mood at the news which had come in on the battle. Earlier in the day the Navy had issued a communique supplementing yesterday's brief report. It showed that while the Japanese suffered destruction of 77 planes—32 bombers and 45 Zero fighters—American losses had been only six planes and from those one pilot was rescued. Total American casualties afloat and ashore were 76 men, consisting of 25 killed, 29 injured and 22 missing. Two surface craft were damaged. One was a merchant vessel and the other a landing barge.

The communique said the Japanese force was estimated at 60 bombers and 60 fighters.

Planes, Fliers Superior

Secretary Knox attributed the small cost of the success for American airmen to the superiority of our air personnel and planes and he said that "we have a lot of new planes down there—the very best type."

Immediately aft[illegible]ess conference the Navy [illegible]l that a 10-day meeting of [illegible]p-ranking air training directors had been held here this week for the purpose of further increasing the effectiveness of Navy airmen and their tactical organization.

An official statement reported that two generations of experienced airmen were guiding the training of the young fliers in a program now designed to produce 30,000 pilots a year.

The older generation consists of the "flying admirals" who have been identified with naval aviation for many years. The younger generation consists of fliers brought back from the war zones to impart the knowledge they gained in practical experience to the men who will fight tomorrow's battles.

One of those mentioned in the latter connection was Lt. Commander John S. Thach, a hero of the Coral sea and Midway battles of last summer who is now gunnery officer at the air operational training command at Jacksonville, Fla., where advanced fighter instruction is given. Another is Lt. (j.g.) Donald Francis Mason, who reported a successful attack on a submarine last year with the famous message "Sighted sub, sank same." He is now teaching anti-submarine warfare at Quonset Point, R. I.

WLB Says Legal Contest Could Determine Right to Travel Wage.

CONCESSIONS OFFERED

Previous Decision on Vacations, Equipment Proposed as Contract Basis.

WASHINGTON, June 18—(AP) Work stoppages began developing at the government-operated soft coal mines tonight almost immediately after the War Labor Board refused to order payments to the miners for underground travel, saying any legal claims for such pay are a matter for a law suit or an out-of-court settlement with the mine owners.

Three mines in Alabama, normally employing 2,200, had to close when evening shifts failed to report for work. Some 200 men on the night shift of a Johnstown, Pa., mine milled about for an hour, discussing the WLB decision, then decided not to go to work.

New Contract Ordered

In refusing to order payments for underground travel, the WLB directed that the United Mine Workers sign a new contract embracing the old terms, concessions amounting to about 20 cents a day previously approved by the board—and a pledge of no strike for the duration.

John L. Lewis, the leader of the United Mine Workers, sent word to reporters that he would have no comment until after a meeting tomorrow of the union's policy committee. The 500,000 miners are working now under a "truce" which expires at midnight Sunday.

Labor Members Dissent

In its order, approved by an 8 to 4 vote with the labor members dissenting, the WLB said the question of whether the miners have a legal claim, as Mr. Lewis contends, for pay for underground travel is beyond its jurisdiction. It pointed out, too, that its refusal to order such payments did not bar the miners from resort to legal processes. It said:

"The mine workers remain free to press their demand before the administrator of the Fair Labor Standards act and in the Federal court; and the operators also retain their rights to seek pertinent administrative and court rulings.

"The parties also remain free to agree to a settlement of their prospective lawsuit. If they should agree to a settlement, the board, as the agency of government charged with administration of the wage stabilization program, will rule whether the agreement is a genuine settlement of the lawsuit compatible with the stabilization program."

If the U.M.W. decided on litigation, the action probably would take the form of civil suits brought in Federal court by [illegible] unions under the Fair Labo[illegible] Standards act. That was the procedure taken by the C.I.O. Mine, Mill and Smelter workers in the iron ore mill portal-to-portal case against the Tennessee Coal, Iron, and Railroad company and two other steel companies in the South. The Wage and Hour division of the Department of Labor assisted the unions.

The Federal district court and the Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans upheld the contention that all time spent underground was working time. The companies had not included the travel time in computing the miners' work week. When the court ordered this time included, the work week exceeded the statutory 40 hours and time and a half was required for the excess. The court ruled that back pay was due the miners on that basis.

Different Circumstances

The soft coal case presents a

WLB Rejects Lewis' Portal Pay Demands

JUN 19 1943

NIGHT SHIFT FAILS TO MINE COAL IN SEVERAL DISTRICTS

Strike Begins in Alabama, Pennsylvania Following Board's Ruling.

COURT ACTION SEEN

JUN 19 1943

30-24-5147

30.24-5147

modified set of circumstances in that the miners' basic work week is 35 hours." Their contract provides for time and a half after 35 hours. The mine owners contend, too, that wage rates have taken into consideration the travel time.

In their dissenting opinion, the labor members disagreed with the majority ruling that the matter of portal-to-portal pay was outside the board's jurisdiction. They noted that the majority said the board would consider any out-of-court settlement and commented, "If it can approve the settlement without conflict with the Wage-Hour act, it certainly has the power to determine in the first instance whether increases are due."

On their part, the labor members declared:

Sure of Jurisdiction

"We believe that the issue of compensation for travel time, or portal-to-portal pay, is a labor dispute over which this board has jurisdiction, and we believe that an order allowing compensation to the miners for such travel time is not violative of the orders, rules and formulas governing this board now in force and effect. An order should be made allowing reasonable compensation for travel time."

The entire board held a press conference to announce the decision. At that time, Van Bittner, C. I. O. member, said that while the labor members disagreed with the ruling it was now a "government decision" which all should support.

He went on to say that the labor members, "representing the overwhelming majority of organized labor, are just as firmly convinced that the no strike pledge we made to the American people, through the President of the United States, must be carried out today as it was the day we made it."

John Brophy, also a C. I. O. member, expressed the opinion that the "failure of the United Mine Workers leaders to appear before the labor board was a disservice to the rank and file of the miners."

Mr. Lewis, who contends the board is without jurisdiction over the dispute, neither appeared at nor sent representatives to its hearings.

Both Mr. Brophy and Mr. Bittner are former officials of the U. M. W. but broke with Mr. Lewis when the U. M. W. president withdrew from the C. I. O. which he had been instrumental in founding.

In announcing the ruling, the board made public its directive order, a majority opinion written by Chairman William H. Davis, the dissenting opinion by the labor members, and a special concurring opinion by Wayne L. Morse, public member. In addition, Mr. Davis gave out a lengthy written statement discussing the case. Later it was announced that Dr. Frank Graham and Dr. George W. Taylor, public members, were subscribing to Mr. Davis' statement and that it would go into the WLB record as a special concurring opinion in which they joined.

Discusses Wage Demands

Mr. Davis discussed in the majority opinion not only the portal-to-portal issue but also the U.M.W.'s demand for a general wage increase of $2 a day which the board denied on May 25.

In that earlier decision the board approved the concessions which it directed today be included in the new contract. Among them were elimination of charges for tools, certain safety equipment, and blacksmithing. It also directed an increase from $20 to $50 in payments made to the miners in lieu of vacations.

On the matter of portal-to-portal pay, Mr. Davis found fault in the majority opinion both with the amount asked by Mr. Lewis and the union leader's proposal that it take the form of a flat payment to each miner irrespective of the individual's actual amount of travel time.

Inequality Remains

"The inequality in the present 'face to face' (of coal seam) system of payments," Mr. Davis said, is measured by the actual time spent by the individual mine workers traveling to and from his working place in the mine. It cannot be removed by a general increase to all mine workers. After such an increase the inequality would remain just what it was before. Sam Smith who works seven hours at his working place in the mine and has to spend two hours a day getting in and out would still get the same wage as John Jones who works seven hours at his working place in the mine and has to spend only 20 minutes getting in and out."

As for the payments asked by Mr. Lewis, Davis said he understood the first demand was for $2 a day, that this was later reduced to $1.50 and that a tentative agreement, which later fell through, finally was reached with the central Pennsylvania coal producers on $1.-30. Mr. Davis commented:

"It is obvious that these figures are out of all proportion to any amount that could possibly be due to the mine workers under the Fair Labor Standards act, even if the courts should decide all questions in controversy in favor of the mine workers. The demand is plainly and unmistakably a demand for an "indirect wage increase in violation of the wage stabilization policies," contrary to the board's directive order of May 25, 1943."

71 Billion More Asked For Army

JUN 19 1943

Washington, June 18 (AP)—The largest naval appropriation in history, a $27,637,000,000 measure carrying $9,118,000,000 for new warships and auxiliary craft as well as funds for other naval operations, went to the White House today for expected quick approval.

The Senate completed legislative action on the measure by a voice vote.

A $4,583,000,000 item in the huge bill will provide funds for building 29,142 more fighting and training airplanes.

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 18—The House Appropriations Committee fired a financial broadside at the Axis today, sending to the floor a $71,510,438,873 War Department supply bill to equip and maintain an army of 7,500,000 enlisted men and blacken enemy skies with warplanes by the end of the year.

Largest appropriation bill in history, it boosted to almost $200,000,000,000 the War Department's funds since July 1, 1940, and to an estimated $400,000,000,000 the outlay for defense and war purposes since that date. And all the money carried in the bill, army officials said, will be spent or obligated during the twelve months beginning July 1.

"Decisive Budget"

"The decisive budget" was the label given the measure by Lieut. Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, deputy chief of staff, during hearings on the bill. "These decisive dollars will be translated into decisive strategic and tactical plans."

Commenting that the bill carried more than three times the total outlay of the War Department during the entire World War, the committee said it was "determined that the armed forces shall have every dollar essential for the early attainment of an unconditional surrender by all of the Axis powers."

23 Billion For Air Forces

It shaved only $387,986,827 from budget estimates and left untouched the $23,655,481,000 estimate for the air forces.

"The cost is frightful," the committee observed. "Global warfare and modern implementation is the answer. . . . Guns, tanks, airplanes, ammunition, chemicals and war munitions of every kind and description are provided for in accordance with the department's recommendations."

With the bill, the committee made public a letter from Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff, asserting that funds provided were "necessary in order to carry on aggresive warfare around the globe" and to "hasten the destruction of the enemy."

None Guess At End Of War

None of the high army officials who testified during the committee's hearings hazarded a guess as to how long it would take to deliver the knockout blow to the Axis, but all were agreed that no stone would be left unturned to expedite the day of reckoning.

"We are planning now without any definite termination date in mind," said Lieut. Gen. Brehon B. Somerville, commanding general of the Army Service Forces, "and we are planning on putting the maximum we can into the work, within the limits of your appropriation. In other words, we are planning to go all out, which is the best we could do if you want to be ready for three years or four years more."

Evidence Stricken Out

Throughout the 589-page record of the hearings there were notations of confidential testimony stricken out.

The committee wrote in a clause to prohibit use of any of the funds for payment of agriculture subsidies.

This restriction has been inserted into a number of appropriation bills since sharp differences of opinion arose in Congress over the Administration's food subsidy program.

12 Billion Carry-Over

The funds — $59,037,599,673 in new appropriations and $12,472,839,200 of previous funds continued available—will, General McNarney told the committee, do this:

Provide a fighting air force of 273 groups and 3,000,000 ground troops, 36,000 bombers, 38,000 fighters, 12,000 transport planes and 9,000 training planes, with spare engines and parts to keep them in action.

Furnish combat divisions with enough ammunition, tanks, small arms, cannon, combat vehicles and other equipment "to enable us to come to grips with and destroy the enemy."

Permit the maintenance of more than 900 airfields, 4,500 army posts, and 700,000 hospital beds, and provide for internment camps for 325,000 war prisoners.

Now On The Offensive

"We have passed from defensive to offensive action," McNarney said after recalling that when last year's supply bill was passed the army had less than 2,500,000 men only partly trained and equipped and "we were in a precarious position, confronted with two aggressive, well-equipped and well-trained enemies on two fronts."

"Having driven the Axis from Africa, we intend to deliver the knockout blow on the enemy's home grounds," he continued. "We have stemmed the forward movement of the Japs and are now in the process of evicting them from their conquests. Aerial warfare is being intensified. . . . This will be followed at the propitious time by an all-out blow by both land and air. We will bring the war home to Japan, Germany and Italy."

Does Not Include Officers

The 7,533,000 enlisted strength of the army is the goal set for the end of this calendar year and includes an estimated 140,000 WAACs. It does not include 603,000 army and 10,000 WAAC officers.

The army's enlisted strength by the end of this month, General Somervell declared, will be 6,500,000 men, or almost twice its size at the end of the World War.

For the WAACs, both General McNarney and the committee voiced words of praise.

WAAC Is Commended

The committee wrote into its formal report "unqualified indorsement" of the women's organization and condemned "in no uncertain terms those who indulge in maligning this splendid group of patriotic women, who are doing all they can to aid in the war effort."

Expressing a "hope that none of the Axis powers will resort to chemical warfare," the committee approved for the Chemical Warfare Service a budget estimate of $1,154,734,000, including an $812,474,000 carryover from this year. The committee said it was "determined that our own and Allied forces shall be at all times and in all theaters completely ready, defensively and offensively, should our enemies elect to engage in this diabolical form of attack," and added that it had "every assurance that our forces are ready for any eventuality."

Short Hits Davis For Attack On Press

JUN 19 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 18—Representative Short (R., Mo.) said in a statement today that Elmer Davis, chief of the Office of War Information, "is not the man to coordinate the press and radio of the United States if he has come to the conclusion that they are incompetent."

"He has commandeered all four of the national networks once each week," the Missourian charged, "so that he can personally overcome the 'inadequacy' of the radio newscasters. And following the same pattern, he presumably would now like to do the same thing with the press."

Bayonets Kept Press Away

Short's statement added:

"Mr. Davis' attack on the press, coming as an aftermath of the Hot Springs food conference, where soldiers with bayonets were ordered out by the President to keep the press at a distance, places upon this Congress an obligation to be vigilant and militant in guarding the free press and free radio of America.

"Regarding Mr. Davis' left-wing affiliations, which he now attempts to becloud with the careful use of words to conceal rather than inform, I repeat that he has been an active leftist politician in New York.

"Supported Norman Thomas"

"In 1932 he publicly supported the candidacy of Norman Thomas, the Socialist candidate for President.

"Later, according to Stanley High, former high-placed New Dealer, Davis worked with Adolf A. Berle, New Deal political organizer and now Assistant Secretary of State, and David K. Niles, currently the White House director of the fourth-term campaign, in the creation of the American Labor party.

Resigned From ALP Office

"According to the press of June 20, 1942, he was a member of the New York county committee of the American Labor party, and resigned, in his own words only because it was necessary as a Federal employe. There is nothing on the record to show that he renounced his beliefs which led him to support Thomas or to participate in this left-wing organization's councils, and on the contrary he did so only because the law required it.

"The number of employes of OWI who have worked and written for radical magazines and newspapers in the past, such as the Daily Worker, the New Masses and PM would indicate that Mr. Davis has changed his status, but not necessarily his views."

HOUSE VOTES BAN ON FOOD SUBSIDY, KILLS PART OF OWI

Price Rollback Supported by Roosevelt Meets Setback, 160 to 106.

BUDGET SLASHED

20 Per Cent Cut Ordered in Price Control Agency's Funds.

WASHINGTON, June 18. — (AP) In a surge of bitterness against OPA and OWI policies, the House voted tonight—

To ban continuance of OPA subsidy program beyond July 1.

JUN 19 1943

1943

To slash 20 per cent from the price agency's 1943-44 budget.

To abolish domestic operations of the Office of War Information.

Rollback Vote Is 160 to 106

The vote against continuance of the food rollback, which has the support of President Roosevelt and James F. Byrnes, was 160 to 106. It came on an amendment by Rep. Dirksen (R-Ill) to bar the payment of salary or expenses for any government worker involved in a subsidy program.

The Senate has still to act on the subsidy ban, but 14 Republican senators on that side of the Capitol only today demanded that the Senate leadership provide an opportunity immediately for an expression of sentiment on the OPA plan, designed to roll back the cost of living to last September's basis. It is already in effect on meat and butter.

The cut in OPA's appropriation was voted 185 to 147. The Budget bureau asked $177,000,000 for OPA in the next fiscal year; the House Appropriations committee cut this to $165,000,000; the House slashed the total to $130,000,000.

Vote Curbs On OPA

Then, giving voice to accumulated opposition to OPA policies, the House decided:

1. To forbid use of any of the funds for rollbacks on foods which have not reached parity prices, or on non-necessity commodities. Offered by Rep. Sauthoff (Prog-Wis), this amendment was adopted 229 to 105.

2. To require all OPA price policy officials, except Administrator Prentis M. Brown, to have at least five years of actual business experience. This amendment by Rep. Dirksen was adopted 188-144.

3. To forbid use of any of the funds for programs involving grade abeling or standardization of foods, clothing or other civilian commodities. This amendment by Rep. Andresen (R-Minn) was approved 140-85.

Fears Black Market

In moving the 20 per cent slash in OPA's budget Rep. Dirksen said the agency ignored the wishes of Congress. "Black markets will spread throughout the country," he argued, unless Congress curtails OPA's activities.

Opponents pleaded that too deep a cut would make difficult or impossible the administration of price control laws.

There was no roll call vote on the subsidy ban. On the amendment to cut OPA's funds the lineup was:

For the amendment—26 Democrats, 156 Republicans, 3 minor party members.

Against it—135 Democrats, 11 Republicans, 1 minor party member.

The vote to abolish OWI's domestic branch (leaving foreign propaganda endeavors intact) was 218 to 114. This cut $5,500,000 off OWI's appropriation, already sliced $12,869,496 by the House Appropriations committee. The Budget bureau had recommended $47,342,000 for Elmer Davis' agency; with the House cuts this is reduced to $28,972,504.

The party lineup on abolition of OWI's domestic operations was:

To abolish—Democrats 55, Republicans 160, minor parties 3.

Against—Democrats 108, Republicans 5, minor parties 1.

Senate Yet To Act

The Senate has yet to act on the OWI appropriation and the other parts of the bill; it may either restore the domestic branch's money or make further cuts in the appropriation.

Leading the attack on OWI, Rep. Starnes (D-Ala.) declared that America needs no Goebbels or Virginio Gayda in Washington.

"The type and character of the domestic propaganda foisted upon the American people, through publications printed and distributed at government expense by the OWI, is a stench to the nostrils of a democratic people," he said. "The character and context of the propaganda foisted upon our people by the media of the radio and screen insult the intelligence of an average six-year-old.

"It is an insult to the American people to say they do not know what we are fighting for until they are told what and why by the OWI under the direction of Mr. Elmer Davis of the American Labor party.

Sees Waste of Funds

"It is more than a waste of public funds to permit the Office of War Information to spend $5,500,000 to inform the American people why we are at war and how to win it, when we have the only free and untrammeled press in the world to give us the facts without distortion.

"We should thank God in our daily prayers for America's free press. It is the strongest guardian of our liberty. When it is controlled by the government our democracy will perish.

"I affirm my faith in the accuracy, character and truth of the information furnished concerning the conduct of the war and our domestic policies by The New York Times, The Baltimore Sun and newspapers of their kind.

"I submit the OWI with its distinct socialistic tinge has no business telling me or any other American citizen x x x why we are at war or how we should look upon domestic programs."

OWI's domestic branch employs about 1,500 persons, and disseminates government agencies' news in the United States. Palmer Hoyt, Portland (Ore.) newspaperman, is scheduled to take over its direction next week, succeeding Gardner Cowles, Jr., of the Des Moines publishing family.

The branch includes a news bureau which coordinates the government war information program except for communiques of the Army and Navy; a radio bureau, which seeks to carry the government's story to those who prepare radio programs; a bureau of graphics which handles posters and pamphlets; and a motion picture bureau which works with producers.

The domestic branch field service has 42 offices throughout the nation, each a little OWI in itself, working on a regional basis.

All the House action on OPA and OWI came as the chamber completed action of the war agencies appropriation bill and sent it to the Senate.

Other Budgets Not Disturbed

Sections of the bill carrying funds for the following agencies were left intact:

Board of Economic Warfare, $36,150,000; Office of Censorship, $27,800,000; Petroleum Administration for War, $5,473,000; Office of Strategic Services, $85,000,000; Division of Central Administrative Services, $9,567,200; Office of Civilian Defense, $4,000,000; Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs, $30,685,000, plus contract authority for $18,000,000; Office of Defense Transportation, $14,650,000; Office of Economic Stabilization, $100,000; National War Labor board, $13,841,300; Office of Scientific Research and Development, $135,982,500; War Prod. board, $88,200,000; Smaller War Plants corporation, $12,006,000 (from corporation's capital stock) War Relocation authority, $48,170,000; War Shipping administration, $2,272,350,000.

The total in the bill, allowing for the deductions in OPA and OWI funds, was $2,880,941,504, in addition to $18,000,000 in contract authorization.

Father-Drafting Again May Be Postponed

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 18—Don't be surprised if the delay in drafting fathers, now presumably put off until October, is extended again, and—without official announcement—perhaps indefinitely.

For that, according to a well-informed capital news source, is the present prospect for the nation's dads—barring unforeseen and adverse changes in the current war picture.

"There are three reasons behind that prediction," said this source, "and the first one may hurt the dads' feelings. They aren't wanted—if their sons and younger brothers can fight instead.

"Planned Quotas Nearly Full"

"Second reason, of course," it was said, "is that the planned quotas now are nearly full, and the new crops of 18-year-olds are expected to supply most replacements, aided by the single and childless married men who have occupational or minor physical deferments.

"But the third reason is a combination of increased emphasis on aerial warfare and a turning-point trend toward sharpening the present striking force rather than continuing to expand it.

"In both cases, the result should be about the same: Lessened military demand for men, and one that will affect even older men who are not fathers."

Hinges On Casualties

This source said the whole question hinged on casualties and the replacement problem, that it concerned the available forces of all United Nations. A major setback on any front would change the picture, it was said, but that otherwise much drafting may ease off after the first of the year.

"Even the replacement problem up to now has been less troublesome than anticipated," this source said, adding that North African casualties were considerably less than had been expected.

Army Sums Up Axis Handling Of Prisoners

JUN 19 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 18—The Axis powers generally are respecting provisions of the Geneva convention governing the treatment of prisoners of war and recognition of hospital ships, War Department officials say, it was disclosed in printed hearings of the army supply bill sent to the House today.

Witnesses told the appropriations committee they had no reports of shackling of American prisoners by the Germans, but on the contrary had heard that prisoner treatment was "very good." However, they added, the execution of American aviators who bombed Tokyo definitely was a violation of the convention agreement.

Hospital Ships Respected

Testimony that the Germans and Japanese have respected hospital ships transporting wounded soldiers home from the far-flung war fronts was given by the army surgeon general's office.

Maj. Gen. James C. Magee, until recently the surgeon general, declared that the recent sinking of an Australian hospital ship was "a departure from Japanese practice."

Earlier, in response to a question, Maj. Gen. Larry B. McAfee, the new surgeon general, said flatly that the Germans have respected the hospital ships.

U. S. Keeps Agreement

The United States, said Under Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson, has abided by the agreement and "we intend to adhere" to it, including provisions for the payment of nominal sums to war prisoners and for furnishing adequate food rations.

Other high lights in the 590 pages of testimony included:

During the first year of the war the Transportation Corps shipped overseas six times the volume of supplies and two and one half times as many men as were transported in the first year of World War I.

Full Equipment

All United States troops overseas have full equipment, and in many cases have had full equipment supplied twice.

Lieut. Gen. Brehon B. Somervell, chief of services, believes the United States tank M-4 "is the best tank on the battlefield today," superior to the big German M-6.

Army expenditures will reach a peak of $6,000,000,000 monthly along about the end of this year.

The Quartermaster Corps buys 50,000,000 pounds of food every day; the Ordnance Department has produced enough ammunition to supply 2,000 .30-caliber and .50-caliber bullets to every soldier in the army.

80,000 Pilots

During the coming fiscal year, the Air Corps progam calls for an output of 80,000 pilots, 12,000 bombardiers and 18,000 navigators.

(The cost of outfitting a ground force infantry soldier, complete with rifle and medical equipment, is $299,47, the rifle accounting for $70.

The Ordnance Department has developed a new explosive described only as being "much more powerful than anything we have had in the past" and "quite high" in cost.

The cost of the daily ration furnished each soldier has increased from 66 cents last June to 72 cents today.

CUBA TO EXPORT ALCOHOL TO U. S.

JUN 19 1943

Use of Neutral Spirits in Whisky, Gin Will Boost Prices, Says OPA.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(AP) Diminishing stocks of whisky and gin may be stretched a little farther by imports of Cuban neutral spirits, although this will boost prices as much as 30 cents a quart.

This news came out today amid an Office of Price Administration investigation into liquor prices and reported violations of price ceilings.

The OPA said Cuba has a surplus of neutral spirits and ruled that manufacturers and distributors may pass onto consumers the cost of importing it. This cost, including taxes, war risk insurance and freight, will be a minimum of $2.50 per proof gallon.

Neutral spirits, a fancy name for alcohol, is the main ingredient in gin and is used extensively in blended whisky, some of the brands running as high as 72 per cent neutral spirits. It is also used in cordials.

The increase in price will be restricted to blenders using imported spirits, and then only in proportion to the amounts used. OPA emphasized. It estimated that retail prices may be boosted 30 cents a quart, or 26 cents a fifth.

Blending makes straight stocks of whisky go up to four times as far as they would if sold as straight whisky.

Distilleries, now in war production of alcohol exclusively, have not made neutral spirits for some time, and the shortage has resulted in heavy sales of unblended whisky stocks.

SENATORS READY FOR WAR ZONE TRIP

Chandler, Lodge Wait for Final Approval by Majority Leader Barkley.

WASHINGTON, June 18 — (AP) Senators Chandler (D-Ky) and Lodge (R-Mass) practically had their bags packed today for an around-the-world inspection trip of American armed forces at the far-flung battle fronts.

Chairman Reynolds (D-NC) of the Senate Military Affairs committee appointed them as a special committee after receipt of a letter from Gen. George C. Marshall, Army chief of staff, offering to provide aerial transportation for two inquiring senators on a trip that first would take them to the southwest Pacific and later to North Africa and England.

Thus Senator Chandler and Senator Lodge appeared to have the inside track in a long time dispute with members of the Truman war investigating committee as to which group should make the contemplated inspection trip.

Senator Chandler and Senator Lodge face one more hurdle, however. Gen. Marshall specified that Majority Leader Barkley (Ky) and Minority Leader McNary (Ore) should pick the travelers. Senator McNary approved the choice of Senator Lodge, but Barkley has delayed a decision until he returns from a rest at Hot Springs, Ark.

"And that may be two weeks," Senator Chandler commented.

SAY FOE RESPECTS HOSPITAL SHIPS

Washington, June 18 (A. P.).—Testimony that the Germans and Japanese have respected hospital

JUN 19 1943

30-24-5149

30-24-5149

ships transporting wounded soldiers home from the far-flung war fronts was laid before Congress today by the Army Surgeon-General's office.

In a statement made public by the House Appropriations Committee, Major-Gen. James C. Magee, until recently the surgeon-general, declared that the recent sinking of an Australian hospital ship was "a departure from Japanese practice."

Earlier, in response to a question, Major-Gen. Larry B. McAfee, the new surgeon-general, said flatly that the Germans have respected the hospital ships.

U. S. RUSHED SHELLS TO HALT ROMMEL

Washington, June 18 (A. P.).—How the United States Army Air Transport Command saved the day for the British when Marshal Rommel was pushing them back toward Cairo was disclosed today in published hearings of the War Department's record appropriation bill.

Gen. H. L. George, head of the command, told the story to the House Appropriations Committee:

The British were just about out of anti-tank ammunition and the nearest supply was five or six weeks away by water. They appealed to the War Department here and Gen. George received an order to move as much ammunition as possible.

"Within twenty-four hours from the time we received that order," he said, "we had airplanes loaded down to capacity with anti-tank ammunition. The crews flew through some of the worst weather ever flown through, and within seventy-two hours they arrived in Cairo."

Battle-Painter Curb Urged

JUN 19 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 18—A $120,000 army project to provide historical paintings of American troops in action provoked criticism today in the House Appropriations Committee.

Congress got word from Maj. Gen. Eugene Reybold, chief of engineers, that the artist's easel and paint brush had taken a place in the nation's war kit.

42 Engaged In Work

Testifying before the committee, Reybold disclosed that the project was set up on a "directive" from the army service forces, that there were twenty-three in the armed services and nineteen civilians engaged in the work, and that between $20,000 and $30,000 had been spent thus far.

American artists are sent to the battlefronts to record in oil scenes of American fighting men in action. Among those now engaged in the work is George Biddle, a brother of the Attorney General, he said.

Civilian Painters Banned

The committee wrote into the bill a ban against use of any of the funds for payment of military or civilian personnel employed outside the United States to paint war scenes or engaged in this country in decorative art projects to the exclusion of regular military duties.

While "not opposed to art," the committee explained, it "questions the propriety of diverting funds for the prosecution of the war to such uses or of enlisting or commissioning persons in the army for such class of employment."

detection of ships, planes or other objects. It played a stellar part in the battle of Britain by detecting the approach of German planes.

It was by radar, Olmstead said, that the Japanese planes approaching Pearl Harbor December 7, 1941 were detected while 132 miles off shore. (However, the detection was not officially reported at the time, and the Pearl Harbor debacle followed.)

The officer predicted that "when the war is over radar is going to save many lives," adding: "a great and new field is opening up, and I do not think that even the scientis tsrealize where it will lead."

140 U. S. SOLDIERS LISTED AS MISSING

Washington, June 18 (A. P.).—The War Department announced today the names of 140 United States soldiers missing in action, including these with next of kin in New York:

NEW YORK.
(European Area.)

HARRISON, CHARLES B., second lieutenant; mother, Mrs. Clara B. Harrison, 190 Washington avenue, Pleasantville.
MACINSKY, MICHAEL, staff sergeant; mother, Mrs. Helen Macinsky, 309 First avenue, New York.
ROSE, RUSSELL B., second lieutenant; father, Arthur R. Rose, Baycrest avenue, Westhampton, L. I.
TASHJIAN, JOSEPH G., sergeant; father, George Tashjian, 669 Prospect avenue, the Bronx.

(Southwest Pacific.)

BANDARIK, WALTER, sergeant; mother, Mrs. Ahaphia Bandarik, 1970-72 Washington avenue, New York.

Troops Landed On Attu By Use Of Radar

JUN 19 1943

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 18—Radar—the most publicized secret weapon of the war—enabled America's successful landing on Attu in the Aleutians, Congress learned today.

Maj. Gen. Dawson Olmstead of the Signal Corps told the House Appropriations Committee:

A Radio Device

"In the battle of Attu, in Alaska, when our forces arrived and wanted to get men ashore in small boats, the weather made visibility so bad that the water could not be seen from the deck of a ship. The ships were berthed and the men landed by the use of radar."

Radar is a radio device used for

NAVY GIVES OUT LIST OF 31 MISSING MEN

Lieut. Commdr. J. A. Bole Jr. of New London Is Included

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—The Navy announced today thirty-one casualties, all reported as missing, and changed the status of two other men from missing to dead.

This brings to 23,060 the total of Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard casualties reported to next of kin since Dec. 7, 1941. The grand total includes 7,446 dead, 4,725 wounded and 10,889 missing.

Included in the casualties announced today, all missing, are:

New York

BARTOLI, RENATO; father, Hugo Bartoli, Tukahoe.
ULLSTROM, JOHN H.; mother, Mrs. Elsie M. Ullstrom, 49 Lincoln St., Port Richmond, S. I.

New Jersey

BATHGATE, WALTER K. W.; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Bathgate, 5 Glen Road, Rutherford.

Connecticut

ALLMON, MERVIN W.; wife, Mrs. Elaine Allmon, New London.
BOLE, JOHN A., Jr., lieutenant commander; wife, Mrs. Constance Bole, New London.
HILL, WILLIAM M. O.; mother, Mrs. Helen Hill, Niantic.
ST. JOHN, FRANCIS T.; wife, Mrs. Dorothy May St. John, New Britain.

Richelieu Captain Is Replaced

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—Capt. P. J. Deramond has been replaced as commander of the French battleship Richlieu in New York, it was learned today from the French Military Mission here. Capt. Roger Lambert is the new commander.

May Tour South America

JUN 19 1943

Mrs. Roosevelt Said to Be Planning Trip This Summer—Is Studying Spanish.

Washington, June 18 (A. P.).—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt is reported planning to tour South America this summer.

Although there has been no official announcement of the proposed trip sources which cannot be identified said today that details are taking shape. The Office of the Co-ordinator of Inter-American Affairs is known to be working on plans for Mrs. Roosevelt's appearances in Latin America.

The trip—unless canceled—will be her second abroad since she became mistress of the White House ten years ago.

More than six months ago the newspaper La Razon of La Paz, capital of Bolivia, reported that its Government had extended an invitation to Mrs. Roosevelt to visit Bolivia.

The First Lady told her press conference the following day that she had not then received such an invitation. She said she would like to visit Bolivia but would want also to visit more than one Latin American country.

Early in March Mrs. Roosevelt signed up for 200 hours of Spanish lessons at a Washington school and within the last month she has said that she still was studying Spanish in her spare time.

Japs Define Zoot Suiters

New York, June 18 (AP) — Japanese propagandists have their own explanation for recent American "zoot suit" incidents.

In a Tokyo broadcast reported today to the Office of War Information, A Japanese commentator declared:

"The American zoot-suiters are isolationists and anti-war fighters. They are strong, courageous young men who have banded together into a nation-wide army to express by physical force their disapproval of the war."

Tokyo Revives Invasion Idea

New York, June 18—The late Fleet Admiral Isoroku Yamamoto's idea of invading the United States and dictating peace terms at the White House was emphasized again today as a Japnese war aim in a Tokyo broadcast covering proceedings of the Imperial Diet.

Dr. Ryutaro Nagai, director of the Imperial Rule Assistance Association, was quoted as telling the Diet: "The departed soul of the late fleet admiral will not rest until we have carried the war over his body to American shores and we have won our terms of peace in the very chambers of the White House."

The broadcast was recorded here by the Associated Press.

Bulletin

Kuhn Paroled, Interned

New York, June 18 (AP)—Fritz Kuhn, former national leader of the German-American Bund, was paroled from Clinton Prison, Dannemora, N. Y., today by the State Parole Board for internment by the Federal Government for the duration.

Kuhn, 47, was convicted in 1939 of grand larceny of Bund funds and forgery and sentenced to two and one-half to five years in prison. He had appeared before the parole board twice previously and both times he was denied his freedom.

JOB AWAITS AIR HERO, 16

Martin Has Place for Wherley, Discharged by Army for Youth

BALTIMORE, June 18 (AP)—Glenn L. Martin cabled a job offer today to Staff Sgt. Clifford R. Wherley of Elmwood, Ill., 16-year-old hero of twenty-one combat missions in North Africa. Mr. Martin said he made the offer after he learned the much-decorated turret gunner had been discharged from the Army because he is under 17.

Sergeant Wherley had declared he wanted to work "in a factory building Martin Marauders." To that Glenn Martin replied: "There is a place here in the Martin factory for Sergeant Wherley whenever he chooses to take it."

The youth wears the Air Meda with three oak leaf clusters.

GEN. WAINWRIGHT WELL FED, HE SAYS

Skaneateles, N. Y., June 18 (A. P.).—Lieut.-Gen. Jonathan Wainwright, hero of Corregidor, is getting "enough to eat" as a Japanese prisoner, but has lost thirty-three pounds since the start of the war.

Mrs. Wainwright said today that this information was contained in a letter from her husband received yesterday, dated October 13, 1942, the first direct word she has had from him since a letter last June.

Mrs. Wainwright said the general, believed to be interned on the island of Formosa, stated, "I have enough to eat," but mentioned that he weighed "about what I did in 1911." He weighed 127 pounds then, she said, and 160 pounds at the start of the war.

"I could tell from the letter that he has no idea in what admiration and respect he is held by the American people. But, of course, he wouldn't," she stated, adding that she was constantly reminded of the fact by thousands of letters from all over the nation.

Peace Principles Of Popes Cited In New Book

[By the Associated Press]

Chicago, June 18 — Publication of "Principles for Peace," a 900-page compilation of pronouncements by the recent Popes on peace, war and human rights, was announced today by the Most Rev. Samuel A. Stritch, Archbishop of Chicago and chairman of the bishops' committee on the Pope's peace points.

The Vatican documents, in chronological order from 1878 to the present, cover the encyclicals, letters, allocutions and radio broadcasts of Pope Leo XIII, Pius X, Benedict XV, Pius XI and Pius XII.

Only Broad Principles

In the preface Archbishop Stritch said the work presented only the broad principles of peace, not detailed political applications to specific problems.

"Some may be disappointed," he wrote, "in finding that these statements are not detailed specific applications of principles to particular political problems of our times. They forget that the church recognizes and defends the independence and sovereignty of the state in its own sphere and that the Popes do not enter the domain of statesmen.

JUN 19 1943

"They are the witnesses of religious and moral truth. Peace involves this truth and the Popes have spoken within their own sphere, leaving to statesmen to add what is purely social, purely political."

His Own Part

Speaking as an American religious leader, Archbishop Stritch wrote:

"Our country has proclaimed its war objectives—the defense of the four freedoms and the making of them the basis for neighborly international collaboration. This is the language of honest peacemakers. We recognize the rights of other nations, large and small, strong and weak. We have no ambition to dominate the world. Every nation has its own individuality, its own cultural inheritance. We shall not attempt to impose our political institutions on other nations.

"We do believe, however, that there is a necessary common denomination in all national institutions and that is the recognition of basic native human rights under moral law, and we intend to use our full international influence to securing men everywhere in their native rights. History has bestowed on us a great grave world responsibility."

Pope's Plan Recommended

Turning to comment on the United Nations' post-war program and the Papal peace plan, he said:

"When the Pope's peace plan is read and studied in the light of these statements, it is clear that it offers to statesmen a safe guide in formulating the peace in justice and charity which we are demanding as the fruits of our victory. Our own peace aims, which are enunciated only in large outline, are complemented and supplemented by the Papal plan. Not only is there no contradiction between our aims and the Papal plan, but that plan comprehends our aims and gives them the weight of sound philosophy and moral right."

Archbishop Stritch, and the most Rev. James Ryan, Bishop of Omaha, and the Most Rev. Aloysius Muench, bishop of Fargo, N. D., constituted the committee which, three years ago, assumed the task of collecting, translating and editing the material for "Principles for Peace." A score of scholars and linguists assisted them.

Arabs Fancy Yank Long Underwear

Oklahoma City, Okla., June 18 (AP)—A soldier in North Africa can lose all but his underwear in a friendly game—and still have legal tender for a good meal.

Natives are crazy about underwear, says Staff Sergeant Woodrow Armstrong, "particularly the long-handled variety.

"Any Arab will trade you a nice sheep or goat, some eggs and a chicken for it—and think he's getting the best of the deal."

Dakota Crash Kills 6.

Rapid City, S. D., June 18 (A. P.).—The names of six dead and four injured in a four-engined bomber crash just off the Rapid City Army air base Thursday were announced today by the commanding officer, Major Ellis E. Eno.

Five men were killed instantly in the blazing wreckage and one died later in the base hospital. They were:

BILLMEN, RICHARD R., second lieutenant, El Paso, Tex.
COMPTON, SAMUEL, staff sergeant, Nashville, Tenn. Sergt. Compton died in the hospital.
PICCOLO, WILLIAM L., staff sergeant, Buffalo, N. Y.
WILLIAMS, CHARLES, staff sergeant, Youngstown, Ohio.
PLAYFORD, WILLIAM E., staff sergeant, Syracuse, N. Y.
ESTEP, HOWARD, corporal, Corbin, Ky.

The injured:

CLARK, LLOYD T., lieutenant, Lakewood, Colo.
MITTUCH, EMERY M., lieutenant, Newark, N. J.
PANNELL, JOHN S., lieutenant, Boston, Tex.
ANTOLOCK, DANIEL, staff sergeant, Hazeltine, Pa.

8 Killed in Texas.

Laredo, Tex., June 18 (A. P.).—Two officers and six enlisted men were killed in the crash of a medium bomber two miles north of the Laredo Army air field late yesterday, the Public Relations Office announced today. The accident occurred during a routine flight.

The dead were listed as including Pfc. Julius Forman, 19 years old, of 394 Rockaway Parkway, Queens, New York city.

Food Storing By Japs Denied

[By the Associated Press]

Hart Mountain Relocation Center, Cody Wyo., June 18—Guy Robertson, director of the Heart Mountain Relocation Center, said today that no food had been secreted by Japanese in attics of camp building, contrary to testimony given a Dies sub-committee in Los Angeles.

Clarifying a statement made yesterday, Robertson said there had been food in attics, but that it was in storage and not in hiding.

He also said there was no evidence that Japanese at the camp had traded stored food for whisky and chickens, as Earl A. Best, former camp employe, had told the sub-committee.

Best Asked To Resign

Robertson asserted in a statement that Best had been found negligent in the matter of investigating reports of stored foods, and had been asked to resign.

Robertson said in his statement: "When the administration learned of food stored in the attics, Best, assistant project steward, was asked to inventory the food and have it removed to proper storage.

Food Stored In Mess Hall

"The food was not secreted in the attic but was stored in a mess hall feeding 300 to 500 people, and was for use in this mess hall.

"Best neglected to have the food removed and for their many other evidences of inefficiency he was asked to resign. The present assistant project steward is keeping all attics cleared of food stuffs."

"The War Relocation Authority has made a complete investigation of Best's charges and has found no evidence to support such accusations," he said.

Six Japs In Prison

At Florence, Ariz., Warden A. G. Walker said today that six Japanese from relocation centers in Arizona have been sentenced to the State prison since February 1 for crimes against their fellow evacuees.

Five were arrested, according to prison records, for assaulting another Japanese at the Poston camp. Although eight were apprehended for the crime, records at the Florence prison do not show what happened to the other three.

Wade Head, Poston camp director, said Sunday that two of them were in Federal custody and the eighth was released for lack of evidence.

The incident was brought to the attention of the Dies Committee hearing in Los Angeles last week when a witness testified that the group had gone unpunished for attacking Sabruo Kido, Japanese attorney.

U. S. Japs Not Wanted In Arizona

Los Angeles, June 18 (AP)—Gov. Sidney P. Osborn of Arizona, where 40,000 Japanese are now quartered in relocation centers, says residents of his State believe American-born Nipponese should be sent back, after the war, to the States whence they came.

"We don't want them turned loose on us, and we don't know if our peace officers could handle the situation of they were turned loose," he said in an interview yesterday.

What's Behind The War News

JUN 19 1943

By GLENN BABB

The sweeping changes in the setup of British rule in India have tremendous importance for the whole war effort of the United Nations. It means that the Herculean task of Japan's defeat is to be approached with a new directness and energy. Its immediate significance is that it is designed to free Allied striking power in the Asiatic-Pacific theater from the deadening, shackling effect of India's ceaseless poltical turmoil.

Field Marshal Sir Archibald P. Wavell is named viceroy, succeeding the Marquess of Linlithgow. General Sir Claude Auchinleck succeeds Marshal Wavell as commander in chief in India. Marshal Wavell's military career, one of checkered lights and shadows, with more of failure perhaps than success, is ended by his elevation.

But the most important appointment of all is still to be disclosed.

"It is proposed," said the official announcement, "to relieve the commander-in-chief in India of responsibility for the conduct of operations against Japan and to set up a separate East Asia command for that purpose. Further announcement on this subject will be made soon."

The selection of a man for this command and the definition of his mission may well prove one of the most important decisions of the war. It will involve the strategy and means by which the Allies, chiefly the United States and Britain, hope to encompass the destruction of Japan and will go far toward determining how long the job will take.

It seems logical to assume that the decision is one in which the United States will share or already has shared. It is even possible that the man chosen will be an American. Equally strange things have happened in this war. There is little doubt that this new military arrangement was agreed upon at last month's Washington war council, to which Prime Minister Churchill brought Marshal Wavell and other British commanders in the India theater. Probably the whole shift, including Marshal Wavell's removal from the military scene, was decided there. The new East Asia commander may have been chosen there too.

What is the East Asia command to be? Will it be limited to those British and Indian forces assigned to the promised campaign to recover Burma?

Possibly it will not be so restricted, or, if it is, that it will be part of a much larger American-British-Chinese-Dutch alignment working in coordination at the job of knocking the Japanese out of southeastern Asia and the island empire that fringes it. This will be a task of hemispheric proportions, one to which far the greater part of the military power of the United States may be committed before it is done.

The attack from India and the Bay of Bengal probably will be only the western arm of a vast pincers designed to slash across Japan's new empire at the waist. The advance across Burma will be more than a drive to reopen the Burma road for aid to China. It should establish the avenue by which great Allied armies can reach the eastern shores of Asia for the final assault on Japan herself.

The eastern attack obviously would be delivered from the American area of operations in the Pacific. It might strike from any or all of the centers of power already established, General MacArthur's southwest Pacific command, Admiral Halsey's in the south Pacific or Admiral Nimitz' Pacific command. It might advance by reduction of such Japanese bases as Rabaul and Truk or it might leave these to be neutralized by holding forces and reach directly for the Philippines, Formosa or the south China coast.

Such an operation would require overwhelming naval and air power. But it will not be long before the United States will have such power in the Pacific, and the opening of the Mediterranean, of which the destruction of the Italian navy may be a corollary, may permit Britain to send comparable fleets through the Indian ocean.

The coordination of these mighty blows logically calls for a unified command. Certainly both Washington and London have given careful thought to this matter. The ranking Britons in India, Marshal Wavell and Gen. Auchinleck, already associated with Allied misfortune, have been removed from consideration. General Sir Harold Alexander, of the brilliantly successful team of Alexander and Montgomery which took over after Marshall Wavell and Gen. Auchinleck had failed in Africa, also is associated with the bitter 1942 defeat in Burma and moreover his talents seem marked for another theater. The United States has a greater interest in the success of this operation than any of the Allies. Why then is it unreasonable to suggest that it will be directed by an American? Allied successes in the southwest and south Pacific already have nominated candidates, MacArthur, Nimitz, Halsey.

JUN 19 1943

JUN 19 1943

ADD London - Wavell

LONDON OBSERVERS HOPED THAT, WHILE WAVELL WAS CHOSEN PRIMARILY FOR HIS MILITARY ABILITY, THE NEW VICEROY MIGHT BE ABLE TO ESTABLISH BETTER RELATIONS WITH MOHANDAS K. GANDHI.

(ADVANCE) LONDON, SATURDAY, JUNE 19—(AP)—FOUR HUNDRED THOUSAND RAILWAY EMPLOYES IN BRITAIN WERE GIVEN AN INCREASE OF FOUR SHILLINGS SIXPENCE A WEEK (NINETY CENTS) IN AN AGREEMENT ANNOUNCED TODAY.

1943

30.24- 5151

3024-5151

I. [illegible], RETROACTIVE TO APRIL 26, CAME AFTER A FIVE-HOUR MEETING O[illegible] RAILWAY EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE AND THE EXECUTIVE OF THREE RAILWAY TRADE UNIONS.

THE UNIONS HAD ASKED AN INCREASE OF 10 SHILLINGS ($2) A WEEK.

(END ADVANCE FOR USE AT 1 A.M. EASTERN WAR TIME SATURDAY, JUNE 19.)

JR1210AEW

ADD London — Russian

THIS, SAID SOVIET MILITARY EXPERTS, WAS THE FIRST INDICATION THAT HITLER HAD BEEN COMPELLED TO DEPEND UPON RESERVISTS FOR ATTACK IN A VITAL SECTOR, ALTHOUGH THEY SAID THE GERMANS FOR A LONG TIME HAD HAD TO USE LESS WELL TRAINED TROOPS AT POINTS ON THE EASTERN BATTLEFRONT TO REPLACE CRACK TROOPS WIPED OUT.

JUN 19 1943

THE MTSENSK SECTOR IS IMPORTANT, THE RUSSIANS SAID, BECAUSE IT IS HERE THAT THEY FORESEE A POSSIBLE OFFENSIVE BY THE GERMANS. THE SOVIETS SAID THE NAZIS' ATTACK PLANS MIGHT HAVE BEEN UPSET BY RUSSIAN CAPTURE OF A STRONGPOINT WHICH THE GERMANS COULD HAVE USED AS A JUMPING-OFF POINT. THIS LOCALITY WAS NOT FURTHER IDENTIFIED, BUT WAS SAID TO HAVE BEEN IN GERMAN HANDS FOR A YEAR.

HEAVY LOSSES WERE SAID TO HAVE BEEN INFLICTED UPON THE GERMAN TROOPS ATTACKING NEAR MTSENSK.

THE NOON COMMUNIQUE REPORTED THAT RUSSIAN ARTILLERY HAD BROKEN UP TWO COMPANIES OF GERMAN INFANTRY ON THE LENINGRAD FRONT, AND DESTROYED 19 ENEMY BLOCKHOUSES AND OBSERVATION POSTS. SEVEN GERMAN BOMBERS ALSO WERE REPORTED SHOT DOWN IN AIR BATTLES AND BY GUNFIRE LAST NIGHT ON APPROACHES TO LENINGRAD.

PATROL ACTION OCCURRED AT VARIOUS POINTS ALONG THE FRONT, SAID THE WAR BULLETIN RECORDED BY THE SOVIET MONITOR, AND ABOUT A COMPANY OF GERMAN TROOPS WERE DESTROY[illegible]D IN THE SEVSK AREA, NORTHWEST OF KURSK.

KK415PEW

A MOSCOW BROADCAST SAID RUSSIAN AIRMEN SHOT DOWN 24 GERMAN PLANES WHICH ATTEMPTED TWICE TO ATTACK VOLKHOV, BELOW LENINGRAD, YESTERDAY. THE RUSSIANS WERE SAID TO HAVE LOST FOUR PLANES.

LONDON, JUNE 18-(AP)-THE BERLIN RADIO ASSERTED TONIGHT THAT RUSSIAN CASUALTIES IN TWO YEARS OF WAR WITH GERMANY TOTAL "MORE THAN 20 MILLION" MEN IN DEAD, WOUNDED AND CAPTURED.

A DNB BROADCAST RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS SAID THAT RUSSIAN PRISONERS ALONE TOTALLED 5,500,000.

THE PROPAGANDA BROADCAST ALSO DECLARED THAT THE RED ARMY HAS LOST 36,000 TANKS, 50,000 GUNS AND MORE THAN 40,000 PLANES.

JUN 19 1943

A111CO

$6,000 TANKS, 50,000 GUNS AND MORE THAN 40,000 PLANES.

JR1112PEW

LONDON, SATURDAY, JUNE 19-(AP)-THE RUSSIANS ANNOUNCED EARLY TODAY THAT RED ARMY UNITS IN ONE AREA OF THE VITAL OREL SECTOR HAD KILLED MORE THAN 2,000 GERMAN TROOPS IN THE LAST FEW DAYS.

IN THIS AREA, NORTHWEST OF MTSENSK, THE GERMANS BROUGHT UP

JUN 19 1943

RESERVES YESTERDAY BUT MADE NO NEW MOVES, MOSCOW DECLARED IN THE REGULAR MIDNIGHT COMMUNIQUE, RECORDED HERE BY THE SOVIET MONITOR.

IN ADDITION TO WIPING OUT MORE THAN 2,000 TROOPS IN RECENT DAYS, THE RUSSIANS SHOT DOWN 15 GERMAN PLANES, AND KNOCKED OUT 17 TANKS, 30 BIG GUNS AND MORE THAN 40 MACHINEGUNS, THE BULLETIN SAID.

KA703PEW
WX BA

LONDON, JUNE 18-(AP)-BRIG.GEN.FRED L.ANDERSON JR., OF WASHINGTON HAS BEEN AWARDED THE SILVER STAR, THIRD HIGHEST AWARD FOR VALOR IN THE AMERICAN AIR FORCE. THE CITATION MADE FOR "GA

JUN 19 1943

THE AMERICAN AIR FORCE. THE CITATION READ FOR "G/ LAN- -RY IN AC-TION WHILE LEADING HIS BOMBARDMENT WING ON FOUR S. - -MTE MISSIONS OVE ENEMY-OCCUPIED CONTINENTAL EUROPE.

ANDERSON PERSONALLY LED HIS WING OF HEAVY BOMBERS ON EACH MISSION, THE ANNOUNCEMENT SAID, AND WAS "EXPOSED TO HEAVY ENEMY FIGHTER ATTACKS."

HE IS A NATIVE OF KINGSTON, N.Y.

PRIOR TO JOINING THE EIGHTH AIR FORCE IN ENGLAND, GENERAL ANDERSON WAS DIRECTOR OF BOMBARDMENT OF ARMY AIR FORCES AT WASHINGTON, D.C.

THE CITATION SAID HE PLANNED AND LED "ONE OF THE MOST SUCCESSFUL PRECISION BOMBING RAIDS EVER MADE IN THIS THEATER OF OPERATIONS" ON MAY 14, WHEN AMERICAN PLANES RAIDED KIEL, COURTRAI, VELZEN AND ATWERP ON THE SAME DAY.

ANDERSON WAS DECORATED BY BRIG.GEN.NEWTON LONGFELLOW, HEAD OF THE BOMBER COMMAND OF THE EIGHTH AIR FORCE.

FH1046AEW

LONDON, JUNE 18-(AP)-JAPANESE IMPERIAL HEADQUARTERS REPORTED TODAY IN A TOKYO BROADCAST THAT "A LARGE FORMATION" OF JAPANESE NAVAL FIGHTERS AND BOMBERS SANK EIGHT VESSELS, INCLUDING A DESTROYER, OUT OF AN ALLIED CONVOY OFF GUADALCANAL ON WEDNESDAY.

THE BROADCAST, RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, ADMITTED LOSS OF 29 PLANES AND DECLARED AT LEAST 32 ALLIED AIRCRAFT WERE SHOT DOWN.

(THE OFFICIAL U.S.NAVY DEPARTMENT SAID YESTERDAY THAT 77 JAPANESE PLANES WERE SHOT DOWN OVER GUADALCANAL WEDNESDAY FOR AN AMERICAN LOSS OF SIX. ADVICES FROM THE ISLAND SAID TWO ALLIED VESSELS WERE DAMAGED, ONE BEING BEACHED AND THE OTHER SET AFIRE.)

TOKYO ASSERTED THAT FOUR LARGE-SIZED TRANSPORTS, TWO MEDIUM TRANSPORTS, ONE SMALL TRANSPORT AND A DESTROYER WERE SUNK WHILE A LARGE TRANSPORT WAS HEAVILY DAMAGED.

JUN 19 1943

THE BROADCAST SAID THE ACTION TOOK PLACE OFF "LUNGE" AND HAS BEEN DESIGNATED "THE AIRBATTLE OFF LUNGE."

(IT WAS BELIEVED THE REFERENCE MAY HAVE BEEN TO LUNGA POINT ON THE NORTHERN COAST OF GUADALCANAL.

PS558AEW

LONDON, JUNE 18-(AP)-- A VATICAN RADIO BROADCAST SAID TODAY THE CARDINALS OF FRANCE HAD ISSUED A JOINT STATEMENT OPPOSING LABOR CONSCRIPTION OF FRENCHMEN FOR GERMANY.

"FROM THE ETHICAL POINT OF VIEW WE CANNOT LOOK ON WITH INDIF-

JUN 19 1943

RESERVES YESTERDAY BUT MADE NO NEW MOVES, MOSCOW DECLARED IN THE REGULAR MIDNIGHT COMMUNIQUE, RECORDED HERE BY THE SOVIET MONITOR.

IN ADDITION TO WIPING OUT MORE THAN 2,000 TROOPS IN RECENT DAYS, THE RUSSIANS SHOT DOWN 15 GERMAN PLANES, AND KNOCKED OUT 17 TANKS, 30 BIG GUNS AND MORE THAN 40 MACHINEGUNS, THE BULLETIN SAID.

KA703PEW
WX BA

LONDON, JUNE 18-(AP)-BRIG.GEN.FRED L.ANDERSON JR., OF WASHINGTON HAS BEEN AWARDED THE SILVER STAR, THIRD HIGHEST AWARD FOR VALOR IN THE AMERICAN AIR FORCE. THE CITATION MADE FOR "GA

JUN 19 1943

THE AMERICAN AIR FORCE. THE CITATION READ FOR "G/ LAN - RY IN ACTION WHILE LEADING HIS BOMBARDMENT WING ON FOUR S. ATE MISSIONS OVER ENEMY-OCCUPIED CONTINENTAL EUROPE.

ANDERSON PERSONALLY LED HIS WING OF HEAVY BOMBERS ON EACH MISSION, THE ANNOUNCEMENT SAID, AND WAS "EXPOSED TO HEAVY ENEMY FIGHTER ATTACKS."

HE IS A NATIVE OF KINGSTON, N.Y.

PRIOR TO JOINING THE EIGHTH AIR FORCE IN ENGLAND, GENERAL ANDERSON WAS DIRECTOR OF BOMBARDMENT OF ARMY AIR FORCES AT WASHINGTON, D.C.

THE CITATION SAID HE PLANNED AND LED "ONE OF THE MOST SUCCESSFUL PRECISION BOMBING RAIDS EVER MADE IN THIS THEATER OF OPERATIONS" ON MAY 14, WHEN AMERICAN PLANES RAIDED KIEL, COURTRAI, VELZEN AND ATWERP ON THE SAME DAY.

ANDERSON WAS DECORATED BY BRIG.GEN.NEWTON LONGFELLOW, HEAD OF THE BOMBER COMMAND OF THE EIGHTH AIR FORCE.

FH1046AEW

LONDON, JUNE 18-(AP)-JAPANESE IMPERIAL HEADQUARTERS REPORTED TODAY IN A TOKYO BROADCAST THAT "A LARGE FORMATION" OF JAPANESE NAVAL FIGHTERS AND BOMBERS SANK EIGHT VESSELS, INCLUDING A DESTROYER, OUT OF AN ALLIED CONVOY OFF GUADALCANAL ON WEDNESDAY.

THE BROADCAST, RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, ADMITTED LOSS OF 29 PLANES AND DECLARED AT LEAST 32 ALLIED AIRCRAFT WERE SHOT DOWN.

(THE OFFICIAL U.S.NAVY DEPARTMENT SAID YESTERDAY THAT 77 JAPANESE PLANES WERE SHOT DOWN OVER GUADALCANAL WEDNESDAY FOR AN AMERICAN LOSS OF SIX. ADVICES FROM THE ISLAND SAID TWO ALLIED VESSELS WERE DAMAGED, ONE BEING BEACHED AND THE OTHER SET AFIRE.)

TOKYO ASSERTED THAT FOUR LARGE-SIZED TRANSPORTS, TWO MEDIUM TRANSPORTS, ONE SMALL TRANSPORT AND A DESTROYER WERE SUNK WHILE A LARGE TRANSPORT WAS HEAVILY DAMAGED.

JUN 19 1943

THE BROADCAST SAID THE ACTION TOOK PLACE OFF "LUNGA" AND HAS BEEN DESIGNATED "THE AIRBATTLE OFF LUNGA."

(IT WAS BELIEVED THE REFERENCE MAY HAVE BEEN TO LUNGA POINT ON THE NORTHERN COAST OF GUADALCANAL.

PS558AEW

LONDON, JUNE 18-(AP)-- A VATICAN RADIO BROADCAST SAID TODAY THE CARDINALS OF FRANCE HAD ISSUED A JOINT STATEMENT OPPOSING LABOR CONSCRIPTION OF FRENCHMEN FOR GERMANY.

"FROM THE ETHICAL POINT OF VIEW WE CANNOT LOOK ON WITH INDIF-FERENCE IF YOUNG MEN ARE BEING SEPARATED FROM THEM THEIR FAMILIES" SAID THE BROADCAST RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. "WE CANNOT AGREE TO THESE X MEN BEING SUBJECTED TO CONDITIONS WHICH DO NOT CORRESPONDE WITH THE NORMAL CONDUCT OF LIFE."

JUN 19 1943

30.24-5153

LONDON, JUNE 18-(AP)-- A CAMPAIGN TO CHECK LOOSE TALK BY AMERICAN FORCES IN BRITAIN WAS XX LAUNCHED TODAY BY THE X ARMY, WHICH SAID THAT TROOPS WHO HAD BEEN OVERSEAS MORE THAN THREE MONTHS WERE THE WORST OFFENDERS.

JUN 19 1943

LIEUT. COL. MARVIN CHARLTON OF DEL RIO, TEX., PROVOST MARSHAL IN LONDON, THE MOST POPULAR LEAVE CENTER, ORDERED THE DRIVE AS A RESULT OF REPORTS KNOW OF TROOP MOVEMENTS, AND TYPES OF TRAINING EQUIPMENT LEAKING OUT THROUGH CARELESSNESS.

HE WARNED THAT JUST BECAUSE A MAN IS WEARING THE U. S. ARMY UNIFORM IS NOT POSITIVE PROOF THAT HE IS A SOLDIER.

"SOLDIERS LEAVE THEMSELVES WIDE OPEN AFTER THEY HAVE A FEW DRINKS," SAID CHARLTON. "ORDINARILY THEY MIGHT HESITATE TO TALK OF ANYTHING CONCERNING MILITARY INFORMATION, BUT BOOZE IS A GREAT LOOSENER OF TONGUES."

30.24-5153

LONDON, JUNE 18-(AP)-KING PETER OF XX YUGOSLAVIA CONSULTED WITH HIS ADVISERS TODAY ON THE FORMATION OF A NEW GOVERNMENT-IN-EXILE AFTER ACCEPTING THE RESIGNATION OF PRIME MINISTER SLOBODAN JOVANOVICH AND HIS ENTIRE CABINET YESTERDAY.

THE RESIGNATION CLIMAXED A SERIES OF CRISES IN THE GOVERNMENT, WHICH SOME YUGOSLAV LIBERALS HAD LABELED AUTHORITARIAN, AND A CABINET VOTE OF NO CONFICENDE IN JOVANOVICH. SOME CRITICS SAID THE GOVERNMENT WAS NOT REPRESENTATIVE OF THE YUGOSLAV PEOPLE.

JUN 19 1943

IT WAS EXPECTED SOME OF THE RESIGNED MINISTERS WOULD BE RETAINED IN THE NEW GOVERNMENT.

JOVANOVICH CONTINUED TO SERVE PENDING SELECTION OF HIS SUCCESSOR.

INFORMED QUARTERS SAID THE CRISIS WAS ALMOST WHOLLY CONCERNED WITH DOMESTIC RELATIONS AMONG THE SERBS, CROATS AND SLOVENES FORMING THE YUGOSLAV NATION.

JUN 19 1943

LONDON, JUNE 18-(AP)--FIVE ARMED AXIS TRAWLERS WERE SHOT UP AND DAMAGED EARLY TODAY BY RAF MUSTANG FIGHTERS DURING SWEEPS OFF THE COAST OF HOLLAND, THE AIR MINISTRY NEWS SERVICE REPORTED.

LAP 01922 GT 137P

LONDON, JUNE 18-(AP)R-THE ITALIANS USED MORE THAN 200 PLANES AND DROPPED 15 TONS OF BOMBS TO BREAK UP A SIX-WEEK SIEGE BY XEW X YUGOSLAV PATRIOTS AT GOSPIC, XXXXXXXX RAILWAY CENTER SOUTHEAST XXXX X OF FIUME, THE BUDAPEST RADIO REPORTED TODAY.

THE BROADCAST, QUOTING THE CONTROLLED CROAT PRESS AND RECORDED BY THE MINISTRY OF INFORMATION, SAID THE SIEGE STARTED EASTER SATURDAY AND CONTINUED UNTIL MAY 30 WITH BOTH MEN AND WOMEN ENGAGING IN THE FIGHTING.

JUN 19 1943

THE REPORT SAID THE PARTISANS WERE CONSTANTLY SUPPLIED WITH FOOD AND EQUIPMENT BY AIR. THREE TANKS AND AUTOMATIC WEAPON WERE SAID TO HAVE BEEN USED IN THE GUERRILLAS' BITTEREST ATTACK, WHICH LASTED 13 HOURS AND WAS SPREAD OVER A THREE-MILE FRONT.

THE ANNOUNCER ADDED THAT "AXIS FORCES ARE FIGHTING IN ALMOST IMPENETRABLE COUNTRY AND IT WILL BE SOME TIME BEFORE THE PARTISANS CAN BE FINALLY ANNIHILATED."

-APL-JAMESONS 01310-RPS-725A

BY JOHN COLBURN

JUN 19 1943

STOCKHOLM, JUNE 18-(AP)-- A NEW XXXXXXXINTERNAL CRISIS IS DEVELOPING IN FINLAND, THE HELSINKI CORRESPONDENT OF THE SWEDISH NEWSPAPER DAGENS NYHETER REPORTED TODAY, WITH THE AGRARIAN PARTY THREATENING TO WITHDRAW ITS REPRESENTATIVES FROM THE GOVERNMENT IN A CONTROVERSY OVER GREATER INCOME FOR FARMERS.

THE CLASH BETWEEN THE AGRARIAN AND SOCIAL DEMOCRATIC PARTIES IN PARLIAMENT, WHICH RECONVENED XXXXXX TWO DAYS AGO, XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX NOW THREATENS TO RESULT IN A TEST OF CONFIDENCE IN THE GOVERNMENT, THE CORRESPONDENT SAID.

BEHIND THE SCENES OF THIS PURELY DOMESTIC ISSUE THERE IS SPECULATION THAT SHOULD AN OUBRIGHT SPLIT OCCUR THE OPPOSITION MIGHT SEIZE THE

JUN 19 1943

30.24-5155

OPPORTUNITY TO TRY FORCE A CHANGE IN FINNISH FOREIGN POLICY--WHICH APPARENTLY IS COMMITTED TO CONTINUING THE WAR AGAINST RUSSIA AS GERMANY A PARTNER OF GERMANY.

ACCORDING TO HELSINKI DISPATCHES, THE FARM LEADERS HAVE THREATENED TO WITHDRAW THEIR SUPPORT FROM THE GOVERNMENT IF THEY FAIL TO WIN A GREATER INCOME FOR THE FARMERS WITHOUT THE NEW PROPERTY TAX BACKED BY THE SOCIAL DEMOCRATS .

THE PROPOSED TAX, AMOUNTING TO ONE PER CENT ON PROPERTY VALUED AT MORE THAN 100,000 THOUSAND MARKS , WAS SUGGESTED TO HELP OFFSET THE COAST OF SUBSIDIES WHICH THE GOVERNMENT PLANNED TO PAY FARMERS TO GIVE THEM GREATER INCOME WITHOUT INCREASING DIRECT COSTS TO CONSUMERS.

JUN 19 1943

(THE FINNISH MARK HAS A NOMINAL VALUE OF ABOUT FOUR CENTS, THOUGH IT IS NO LONGER QUOTED ON THE FOREIGN EXCHANGE AND ACCURATE CONVERSION INTO AMERICAN CURRENCY IS IMPOSSIBLE.)

30.24-5155

THE FARMERS HAVE CONTENDED THAT THE TAX WOULD AFFECT THEM MORE THAN OTHER GROUPS AND WOULD VOID ANY ADDITIONAL INCOME BENEFITS FROM THE PROPOSED SUBSIDY.

THE SOCIAL DEMOCRATS CONTROL 90 OF THE 200 SEATS IN PARLIAMENT, WHILE THE AGRARIANS HOLD 56. THE SOCIAL DEMOCRATS PREVIOUSLY HAD THREATENED TO WITHDRAW FROM THE GOVERNMENT IF THE FARMERS CONTINUED TO PRESS THEIR DEMANDS.

JUN 19 1943

THE SOCIAL DEMOCRAT MEMBERS HAVE BEEN S ACTIVE IN ADVOCATING A MORE FRIENDLY POLICY TOWARD THE UNITED STATES.

STOCKHOLM, JUNE 18-(AP)-NEUTRAL TRAVELERS FROM ROME ASSERTED TODAY THAT ANTAGONISH BETWEEN ITALIAN AND GERMAN SOLDIERS IN ITALY HAS GROWN TO SUCH AN EXTENT THAT CLASHES BETWEEN THEM ARE FREQUENT.

ONE SWEDE SAID IT WAS DANGEROUS FOR HIM TO SPEAK HIS OWN LANGUAGE ON ROME STREET CARS BECAUSE IT SOUNDED LIKE GERMAN TO THE ITALIANS.

HE RELATED AN INCIDENT WHICH OCCURRED WHEN TWO GERMAN OFFICERS ENTERED A BUS THROUGH THE EXIT DOOR INSTEAD OF THE REGULAR ENTRANCE. HE SAID AN ITALIAN OFFICER RUSHED UP TO THEM SHOUTING EXCITEDLY: "GET OUT OF THIS BUS--GET OUT OF ITALY." HE SAID THE GERMANS LEFT THE BUS.

JUN 19 1943

TRAVELERS SAID THE POPULATION OF ROME HAD DOUBLED BECAUSE OF THE BELIEF IT WAS IMMUNE FROM AERIAL BOMBARDMENT, AND THAT THIS HAD CREATED MANIFOLD FOOD SUPPLY AND TRANSPORTATION PROBLEMS.

FRUIT IS EXTREMELY SCARCE IN ROME, THE RETURNING TRAVELERS SAY, AND IT IS NECESSARY FOR HOUSEWIVES TO STAND IN LINE FOUR OR FIVE HOURS TO GET WHAT FEW VEGETABLES ARE FOR SALE. BREAD IS RARE IN THE ITALIAN CAPITAL, THEY SAY, AND WHAT LITTLE THERE IS DOES NOT TASTE SO GOOD.

JUN 19 1943

THE INFORMANTS AGREED THAT ITALY IS HEAVILY GARRISONED WITH GERMAN TROOPS, MANY OF WHOM APPARENTLY REACHED THE COUNTRY SINCE ALLIED INVASION BECAME IMMINENT. ONE SAID THAT JUST BEFORE THE COLLAPSE OF PANTELLERIA GERMAN TROOP TRAINS WERE PASSING THROUGH ROME AT THE RATE OF ONE EVERY 15 MINUTES.

AN UNCENSORED LETTER FROM A SWEDE IN ROME TO THE NEWSPAPER AFTON TIDNINGEN DECLARES THAT BECAUSE OF THE ANTAGONISM SHOWN BY THE ITALIAN POPULATION MANY GERMAN OFFICERS ARE WEARING CIVILIAN CLOTHES IN PUBLIC TO AVOID ATTENTION.

JR1217AEW

MOSCOW, JUNE 18-(AP)-A NEW MAGAZINE, "WAR AND THE WORKERS' CLASS," PUBLISHED BY LABOR UNIONS OF RUSSIA, DECLARED IN AN ARTICLE TODAY THAT "IT IS CLEAR THAT THE BALTIC COUNTRIES ARE LINKED WITH OUR COUNTRY AND THAT THEY WERE ONLY SEPARATED FROM US DURING THE TEMPORARY WEAKENING OF RUSSIA AT THE TIME OF THE CIVIL WARS."

(ESTONIA, LATVIA, AND LITHUANIA WERE ESTABLISHED AS INDEPENDENT COUNTRIES AFTER THE FIRST WORLD WAR, AND WERE TAKEN OVER BY RUSSIA BEFORE GERMANY ATTACKED RUSSIA. THE GERMANS NOW HOLD THEM."

THE MAGAZINE'S VIEW WAS EXPRESSED IN CONNECTION WITH WHAT WERE CALLED THE EFFORTS OF "PEACEMAKERS" TO DISRUPT THE ANGLO-AMERICAN-SOVIET COALITION BY RAISING POST-WAR QUESTIONS.

"WHAT WOULD AMERICA THINK," THE ARTICLE ASKED, "IF FLORIDA, FOR INSTANCE, WERE SEPARATED FROM THE REST OF THE UNITED STATES AFTER THE CIVIL WAR, AND THEN POLITICIANS OF OTHER COUNTRIES WOULD DISCUSS WHETHER FLORIDA CAN JOIN THE UNITED STATES?"

"THE PEACEMAKERS ARE INTERESTED IN THE QUESTION OF WHAT THE U.S.S.R. IS GOING TO DO AFTER THE DEFEAT OF HITLER. THE MOST BREATHTAKING GUESSES ARE BEING MADE.

JUN 19 1943

"BUT IT SHOULD BE CLEAR THAT THE PEOPLE OF THE U.S.S.R. ARE INTERESTED ABOVE ALL IN PEACEFUL AND FRIENDLY RELATIONS WITH OTHER PEOPLES. BESIDES, THE U.S.S.R. WILL BE BUSY IMPROVING, AND LIQUIDATING THE TREMENDOUS LOSS INFLICTED BY THE OCCUPANTS."

JR1204AEW

BY WILLIAM McGAFFIN

MOSCOW, JUNE 18-(AP)-CITING THE UNITED STATES COAL STRIKE, THE SOVIET LABOR MAGAZINE "WAR AND THE WORKERS' CLASS" EXPRESSED ALARM TODAY AT WHAT IT SAID WAS "A LACK OF UNITY IN AMERICAN WORKERS' MOVEMENTS."

"ISN'T IT CLEAR THAT HE WHO CALLS AMERICAN WORKERS TO STRIKE AT THE PRESENT TIME X X X HELPS THE ENEMIES OF AMERICA?" THE MAGAZINE ASKED. "X X X IT IS INTERESTING TO NOTE THAT NEWS OF THE COAL INDUSTRY STRIKE IN AMERICA WAS ANNOUNCED WITH GREAT DELIGHT BY THE BERLIN RADIO."

JUN 19 1943

30-24-5157

30-24-5157

THE PUBLICATION NAMED NAMES.

"THE STRUGGLE FOR UNITY IS ENCOUNTERING THE OPPOSITION OF A GROUP OF REACTIONARY LEADERS OF SOME LABOR UNIONS SUCH AS LEWIS, WOLL AND HUTCHINSON," IT SAID.

(JOHN L. LEWIS HEADS THE UNITED MINE WORKERS OF AMERICA. MATTHEW WOLL IS VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR. THE DISPATCH DID NOT IDENTIFY "HUTCHINSON.")

THE MAGAZINE DECLARED THESE LABOR LEADERS "OBVIOUSLY ARE USING THEIR OWN PERSONAL IDEAS AS A MEANS OF KEEPING JOBS AND ARE PUTTING PERSONAL INTERESTS ABOVE THE INTERESTS OF THE AMERICAN LABOR UNION MOVEMENT."

JUN 19 1943

SOVIET MINERS AND THE ENTIRE WORKING CLASS OF THE U.S.S.R. WERE DECLARED TO HAVE RECEIVED REPORTS OF THE COAL STRIKE SITUATION IN THE UNITED STATES "WITH GREAT AMAZEMENT AND A FEELING OF ALARM."

"EACH TON OF COAL LOST BECAUSE OF THE STRIKE MEANS AN UNPRODUCED TANK OR PLANE AND THE INTERRUPTION OF THE SHIPMENT OF WAR MATERIALS TO THE FRONT," THE MAGAZINE CONTINUED.

IT CRITICIZED THE SPLIT OF THE LABOR MOVEMENT INTO TWO UNIONS--THE AFL AND CIO. IT SAID PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT WAS ENDEAVORING TO ATTAIN UNITY AND APPLAUDED HIS EFFORTS. IT DENOUNCED WHAT IT SAID WERE THE EFFORTS OF LABOR LEADERS TO "AVAIL THEMSELVES OF SOME BACKWARD GROUPS OF WORKERS TO TRY TO STIMULATE STRIKES WHICH DISORGANIZE THE WAR EFFORTS OF AMERICAN PEOPLE FRIENDLY TO THE U.S.S.R."

"IT IS BEING SAID THAT THIS DOUBTFUL POSITION OF SOME AMERICAN LABOR UNIONS IS A BELATED EXPRESSION OF AMERICAN ISOLATIONISM WHICH STILL SURVIVES IN SOME CIRCLES," THE MAGAZINE SAID.

"BUT THE ISOLATIONISM OF REACTIONARY AMERICANS IS NOTHING BUT A LIFESAVER TOSSED TO HITLER BY PEOPLE WHO PRETEND TO BE GOOD AMERICAN PATRIOTS. THIS ISOLATIONIST THEORY SHOULD BE ESPECIALLY INTOLERABLE TO THE RANKS OF THE WORKERS' CLASS.

"REACTIONARY AMERICAN LABOR UNIONS CRITICIZE SOVIET LABOR UNIONS BECAUSE OF THEIR DIFFERENT POINT OF VIEW ON DEMOCRACY, COMPARED, FOR INSTANCE, WITH WOLL'S VIEWS. THIS CRITICISM SEEMS STRANGE IN THE MOUTHS OF PEOPLE CALLING THEMSELVES DEMOCRATS."

JUN 19 1943

THE MAGAZINE SAID THAT IF AMERICAN LABOR UNIONS REJOICED IN THE FIRMNESS OF THE RED ARMY "THEY OUGHT TO REALIZE THIS QUALITY DID NOT DESCEND ON US FROM THE SKY, BUT RATHER THAT WE HAVE BEEN TRAINED AND PREPARED BY A GOVERNMENT WHICH IS FRIENDLY TO THE UNITED STATES."

GERMAN AGENTS WERE DECLARED BY THE PUBLICATION TO BE CONCEALING THEIR ACTIVITIES IN THE UNITED STATES "UNDER THE DISGUISE OF 'MODERATE DEMOCRATS,' DISCREDITING THE U.S.S.R. AND SPREADING FEAR EVERYWHERE WITH THE PHANTOM OF COMMUNISM."

"NOT ONLY WOLL AND HUTCHINSON WERE CAUGHT BY THE BAIT, BUT HERE IS ALSO WILLIAM GREEN, WHO SEEMED TO IGNORE ENTIRELY THE SOVIET CONSTITUTION," THE PUBLICATION SAID. "A FAVORITE ARGUMENT OF SOME REACTIONARY ELEMENTS IN THE AFL IS THAT THE SOVIET LABOR UNION MOVEMENT IS NOT FREE, BUT RATHER IS A GOVERNMENT ORGAN. GREEN AND WOLL PROVED A COMPLETE LACK OF KNOWLEDGE, BECAUSE RUSSIAN LABOR UNIONS WERE FOUNDED LONG BEFORE THE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE SOVIET GOVERNMENT."

JUN 19 1943

(THE AFL CONVENTION IN TORONTO LAST OCTOBER MADE CLEAR THAT IT FAVORED ALL AID TO RUSSIA SHORT OF DIRECT ASSOCIATION WITH THE SOVIET TRADE UNIONS; GREEN SAID THE ORGANIZATION'S POLICY WAS TO GIVE THE U.S.S.R. A "FULL AND COMPLETE MEASURE OF SUPPORT.")

"WHEN DR.GOEBBELS CRITICIZES THE SOVIET LABOR UNIONS NO ONE IS SURPRISED, BUT WHEN THIS IS DONE BY SOME AMERICAN LABOR UNION LEADERS SOVIET WORKERS ASK 'AGAINST WHOM ARE THESE LEADERS FIGHTING--HITLER OR THE SOVIET UNION?'" THE MAGAZINE COMMENTED.

DA-KA913PEW

JUN 19 1943

SEVILLE, SATURDAY, JUNE 19-(AP)-A GROUP OF 20 AMERICANS, SAILORS FROM A TORPEDOED MERCHANT SHIP, AND AIRMEN FORCED DOWN IN SPANISH TERRITORY, PASSED THROUGH SEVILLE YESTERDAY ENROUTE TO GIBRALTAR. FROM THERE THEY WILL GO TO NORTH AFRICA.

JR1223AEW

LISBON, JUNE 18-(AP)-ROME RESIDENTS HAVE BEEN BARRED FROM STAYING IN THAT CITY'S HOTELS BECAUSE SO MANY WERE FLOCKING THERE TO GET EXTRA FOOD, MADRID DISPATCHES FROM THE ITALIAN CAPITAL REPORTED TODAY.

IN THE OUTLYING CITIES, HOTEL RESIDENCE HAS BEEN LIMITED TO 15 DAYS FOR THE SAME REASON, THE DISPATCHES SAID.

-APR23-LUPIS 01936-RPS-350A

OAS IIV

ADD Madrid — King

THEY ADDED THAT THE KING'S PLANE WAS MINUTELY INSPECTED AND HEAVILY GUARDED AS IT SAT ON THE GIBRALTAR FIELD AND THAT THE KING WAS EXPECTED TO PROCEED TO ENGLAND FROM GIBRALTAR.

GH1251PEW

Insert Ankara — — — — military defenses

I LEFT CAIRO ON ONE OF THESE TRANSPORT PLANES SHORTLY AFTER DAWN JUNE 15. THERE WAS A SINGLE HALT BETWEEN EGYPT AND TURKEY, AT THE AIRPORT NEAR TEL AVIV, PALESTINE, WHERE A BRITISH RAF OFFICER INFORMED ME I WOULD NOT BE ALLOWED TO CONTINUE.

HE DECLINED ANY EXPLANATION, EXCEPT TO SAY THAT NO CIVILIAN WAS ALLOWED TO TRAVEL.

JUN 19 1943

I CONVINCED HIM I DID NOT COME UNDER THE BAN AND CONTINUED THE JOURNEY. IT WAS NOT UNTIL THE PLANE REACHED TURKISH SOIL THAT THE PASSENGERS LEARNED THE FRONTIER WAS CLOSED.

ALGIERS, JUNE 18-(AP)-ON THE THIRD ANNIVERSARY OF THE BIRTH OF FIGHTING FRANCE, GEN. CHARLES DE GAULLE CONFERRED TODAY WITH A NUMBER OF FELLOW MEMBERS OF THE FRENCH COMMITTEE OF NATIONAL LIBERATION.

IT WAS REPORTED HE WOULD PARTICIPATE IN A WORLDWIDE FRENCH CELEBRATION OF THE 1940 ANNOUNCEMENT IN FRANCE'S DARK HOUR THAT "FRENCH RESISTANCE MUST NOT DIE."

GH1229PEW

Insert Allied ADS No. AFRICA — — — before dawn in Italy

(THE CONTINUED AERIAL PRESSURE UPON ITALY AND HER GUARDIAN ISLANDS WAS ACCOMPANIED BY AN ANNOUNCEMENT FROM ANKARA THAT THE TURKISH-SYRIAN FRONTIER HAD BEEN REOPENED YESTERDAY AFTER 48 HOURS IN WHICH ONLY ALLIED DIPLOMATIC AND MILITARY PERSONNEL WERE PERMITTED TO CROSS. A BRITISH SOURCE IN ANKARA SAID THE CLOSING

JUN 19 1943

30-24-5159

30-24-5159

HAD BEEN INTENDED TO SCREEN TROOP MOVEMENTS IN SYRIA FROM AXIS AGENTS.

(THE BERLIN RADIO, PERHAPS FISHING AGAIN FOR INFORMATION, BROADCAST A DISPATCH REPORTING THAT ADDITIONAL BRITISH AND INDIAN TROOPS HAD BEEN MOVED TO CYPRUS. AXIS SOURCES SAY THAT AMERICANS ARE AMONG THE GARRISON OF CYPRUS, A POTENTIAL BASE FOR INVASION OF THE BALKANS, CRETE OR THE DODECANESE ISLANDS.)

JUN 19 1943

ADD Algiers — de Gaulle

DE GAULLE, ACCOMPANIED BY CATROUX, ACKNOWLEDGED THE PLAUDITS OF THE CROWD BY LIFTING HIS ARMS IN HIS OWN VERSION OF THE V-FOR-VICTORY SIGN.

GIRAUD DID NOT ATTEND, BUT HIS CHIEF OF SECURITY, VICE ADMIRAL EMILE MUSELIER, WAS IN CHARGE OF POLICE ARRANGEMENTS.

SOME EXCITABLE DE GAULLISTS SHOUTED "CLEAN UP," AND "DISMISS GIRAUD," BUT THE ONLY ARRESTS BY POLICE FOR DISORDERLY CONDUCT WERE TWO MEN WHO YELLED, "DOWN WITH DE GAULLE--THE GERMANS WILL WIN."

THE ALGIERS PRESS HAILED THE FIRST MEETING OF THE FULL COMMITTEE OF NATIONAL LIBERATION, WHICH WAS HELD YESTERDAY ON DE GAULLE'S INSISTENCE, AS "ESTABLISHING THE SOLID FOUNDATIONS OF GOVERNMENT STRUCTURE WHICH NOW SUPPORT THE DESTINIES OF THE EMPIRE AND FRANCE."

AN EDITORIAL IN LA DEPECHE ALGERIENNE ASSERTED THAT SOLIDARITY HAD BEEN FORGED "IN THE PRESENCE OF EVENTS WHICH EFFACED ALL PERSONAL CONCEPTIONS IN THE UNANIMOUS DESIRE FOR UNION OF COUNTRY."

FAVORABLE ALLIED COMMENT WAS HEARD ON THE FULL COMMITTEE'S ASSUMPTION OF COLLECTIVE RESPONSIBILITY, THE AGREEMENT TO RESOLVE DISPUTED QUESTIONED BY A MAJORITY VOTE AND THE PROMISE TO ESTABLISH A "CONSULTATIVE ASSEMBLY."

KK433PEW

JUN 19 1943

Add Allied HQ RAF RCAF — Stevenson-bomb

"I HAD NO IDEA THE BOMB WAS STILL THERE OR I WOULDN'T HAVE BEEN THAT LOW," SAID STEVENSON. "MY WING MAN HAD SEEN IT AND HE TRIED TO WARN ME SO THAT I COULD FOLLOW THE REGULAR PROCEDURE IN MAKING THE BOMB HARMLESS AND THEN DROP IT BUT MY RADIO WASN'T WORKING WELL. WHEN THE THING WENT OFF BELOW US I THOUGHT I HAD BEEN HIT BY A CANNON. IT TORE ONE HOLE IN MY PLANE AND TWO IN THAT OF MY WING MAN'S. WE WERE LUCKY THAT WE WERE OVER THE WATER. IF WE HAD BEEN OVER LAND I FEEL SURE THAT ALL FOUR PLANES IN THE FORMATION WOULD HAVE BEEN BLOWN SKY HIGH."

JUN 19 1943

GW1222PEW

ADD Allied HQ RAFRCA —

THE ITALIAN COMMUNIQUE REPORTED ALLIED AIR ATTACKS AT SEVERAL POINTS IN SICILY AND ON CALABRIA IN SOUTHERN ITALY PROPER.

(SOME INDICATION OF THE DAMAGE SPREADING IN ITALY WAS GIVEN IN A ROME BROADCAST WHICH ANNOUNCED THAT ALL SAVE 6,000 TO 7,000 OF THE 100,000 RESIDENTS OF CAGLIARI IN SARDINIA HAD BEEN EVACUATED BECAUSE OF ALLIED BOMBING.

("CIVIL SERVICE OFFICIALS WHO REMAINED IN THE TOWN ARE BRAVELY ATTENDING TO THEIR DUTIES AMONG THE RUINS," THE BROADCAST ADDED.)

GW311PEW

(AP SPECIAL FOR PMS)

BY NOLAND NORGAARD

JUN 19 1943

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, JUNE 18-(AP)-THE WORK HORSES OF THE UNITED STATES FIGHTER COMMAND IN NORTH AFRICA--THE FIRST AMERICAN OUTFIT TO ENGAGE THE GERMAN AIR FORCE IN COMBAT--GOT AN OFFICIAL NOD OF APPROVAL TODAY. SUPPORTING THE BIG BRITISH-CANADIAN RAID ON

JUN 19 1943

DIEPPE, THEY WERE THE FIRST AMERICANS TO ENGAGE THE GERMANS IN EUROPE.

AN ARMY AIR FORCE STATEMENT CREDITED THE SPITFIRE GROUP COMMANDED BY LIEUT.COL.FRED M.DEAN OF ST.PETERSBURG, FLA., WITH "ONE OF THE BEST RECORDS OF ANY UNIT IN THE UNITED STATES ARMY AIR FORCES."

THAT WAS A MILD STATEMENT OF THE CASE AND SO WERE THE BARE STATISTICS OF THEIR ACHIEVEMENTS--84 ENEMY PLANES DESTROYED IN COMBAT, 4,688 MISSIONS FLOWN AND 11,664 COMBAT HOURS IN THE AIR.

DEAN AND HIS VETERANS, WERE AMONG THE FIRST TO LAND IN NORTH AFRICA AND THEY NEVER HAD A CHANCE TO FATTEN THEIR SCORE BY WHAT FLIERS CALL "SITTING DUCKS"--STUKAS AND OTHER GERMAN AND ITALIAN BOMBERS, AS WELL AS THE LUMBERING AXIS TRANSPORTS WHICH ARE EASY TARGETS. EIGHTY OF THEIR 84 VICTIMS WERE ENEMY FIGHTERS, MOSTLY GERMANY'S BEST MESSERSCHMITT-109'S AND FOCKE-WULF-190S.

THE GROUP HAD ONLY ONE RICH OPPORTUNITY FOR REAL SALUGHTER AND THEY MADE THE MOST OF IT, SHOOTING DOWN 28 GERMAN AND ITALIAN FIGHTERS OVER PANTELLERIA IN TWO AND ONE-HALF DAYS IN EARLY JUNE. JUN 19 1943

LIKE THEMGROUP, THE INDIVIDUAL PILOTS ALSO HAD SCANT CHANCE OF BECOMING LEADING ACES. THE TOP SCORER FOR THE OUTFIT IS 24-YEAR-OLD MAJOR FRANK A.HILL, FORMER PLUMBER AND GLIDER ENTHUSIAST FROM HILLSDALE, N.J., WHO HAS DESTROYED SIX ENEMY PLANES.

THE GROUP'S FOUR OTHER ACES, EACH OF WHOM IS CREDITED WITH FIVE VICTORIES, ARE LIEUT.COL.HARRISON R.THYNG, OF FITTSFIELD, N.H., WHO RECENTLY RETURNED TO THE UNITED STATES; FIRST LIEUT.J.D.COLLINSWORTH, OF BORGER, TEX.; SECOND LIEUT.CHARLES R.FISCHETTE (OF 90 CAYUGA ST.) CLYDE, N.Y. AND FIRST LIEUT. JOHN H.WHITE, OF HARDY, ARK.

DEAN'S GROUP SHOT DOWN A FOCKE-WULF-190 OVER DIEPPE. SINCE THEN, HOWEVER, ITS VICTIMS HAVE COME SLOWLY, BUT FOR A GOOD REASON. FOR MONTHS DURING THE TUNISIAN CAMPAIGN, THEIR JOB WAS TO ESCORT BOMBERS. IN DEAN'S OWN WORDS TO HIS MEN, "OUR DUTY IS TO GET THE BOMBERS TO THE TARGET AND BACK AGAIN." JUN 19 1943

I WAS AT THE GROUP'S TUNISIAN AIRBASE ONE DAY WHEN A PILOT DID FORGET. HE LEFT HIS FORMATION TO CHASE AND SHOOT DOWN A STUKA DIVE BOMBER, BUT IN SO DOING HE LEFT THE WINGMAN IN HIS FLIGHT WIDE OPEN TO POSSIBLE ATTACK FROM ENEMY FIGHTERS. DEAN GROUNDED HIM AND LATER ARRANGED HIS TRANSFER TO ANOTHER GROUP AND TOLD THE OTHERS:

"IF ANY OF YOU JUST WANT TO BE HEROES BY KNOCKING OFF THE EASY ONES AND EXPOSING YOUR OWN MEN I CAN ARRANGE MORE TRANSFERS."

AT THE SAME BASE A FEW DAYS LATER, DEAN, WHO INSISTED ON PARTICIPATING PERSONALLY IN EVERY MAJOR MISSION, RETURNED FROM A JOB IN LOW SPIRITS. ONE OF THE BOMBERS HIS SPITFIRES WERE ESCORTING HAD DROPPED OUT OF FORMATION AND WAS SHOT DOWN BY LURKING MESSERSCHMITTS. HIS SPITFIRES HAD BAGGED FOUR NAZIS, BUT EVEN THAT FAILED TO CONSOLE HIM.

"THAT'S THE FIRST BOMBER WE'VE LOST IN DOZENS OF ESCORT JOBS," HE SAID. "I WOULDN'T HAVE TRADED IT FOR 20 JERRIES."

FH1125AEW

JUN 19 1943

30-24-5161 30-24 — 5161

ADD Chungking — Chiang's son

THE CEREMONY, A PRIVATE ONE, TOOK PLACE IN THE GENERALISSIMO'S HOME. THE GENERALISSIMO BECAME A METHODIST SOME YEARS AGO, AND TODAY HE AND HIS SON WERE ALONE IN PRAYER AND MEDITATION.

AS A CAPTAIN IN THE CHINESE ARMY HE GETS THE AMERICAN EQUIVALENT OF $4 A MONTH.

JUN 19 1943

CH1202PEW

ADD ALLIED HQ Australia — MacArthur OVR

A SINGLE JAPANESE PLANE DROPPED BOMBS AT HORN ISLAND, CAPE YORK, AUSTRALIA, BUT THE COMMUNIQUE SAID THEY CAUSED NO DAMAGE.

IN THE RAID ON SELARU, WHICH IS 300 MILES NORTH OF DARWIN, THE PLANES STRUCK AT THE VILLAGES OF LINGAT AND WERAIN. OFF THE SHORE, THREE LUGGERS AND TWO POWER BARGES WERE STRAFED. ONE OF THE BARGES WAS FORCED AGROUND.

ALSO IN THE SECTOR NORTHWEST OF AUSTRALIA, A TWO-ENGINED ALLIED BOMBER ON RECONNAISSANCE INTERCEPTED AND SHOT DOWN A JAPANESE FLOAT PLANE OVER THE ARAFURA SEA.

AT LAHA, ON AMBOINA, MEDIUM BOMBERS ATTACKED THE AIRDROME DISPERSAL AND BUILDING AREAS. RESULTANT FIRES COULD BE SEEN FOR 40 MILES.

TWELVE MILES BELOW SALAMAUA, NEW GUINEA, ON THE GROUND FIGHTING FRONT AT MUBO, ALLIED ATTACK PLANES POURED FIRE INTO JAPANESE POSITIONS NEAR GREENS HILL, A FREQUENT TARGET.

ANOTHER OFTEN-BOMBED TARGET, CAPE GLOUCESTER, NEW BRITAIN, WAS VISITED AT NIGHT BY MEDIUM BOMBERS WHICH STRAFED THREE JAPANESE POWER BARGES, SINKING ONE AND BADLY DAMAGING THE OTHERS.

(ALLIED PLANES HAVE THEIR GREATEST SUCCESS AT NIGHT AGAINST THESE BARGES BECAUSE THE JAPANESE SEEK TO USE THEM UNDER THE PROTECTION OF DARKNESS FOR THE MOVEMENT OF SUPPLIES)

ON UNEA ISLAND, OFF NEW BRITAIN, A FOUR-ENGINED BOMBER ON RECONNAISSANCE DESTROYED THE JETTY AT THE WATERFRONT WITH A DIRECT HIT.

JUN 19 1943

IN THE MUBO SECTOR, THE STRAFING BOSTONS MADE 37 PASSES AT THE ENEMY POSITIONS.

CATALINAS DROPPED THE BOMBS ON LAHA; A BEAUFORT BOMBER SHOT DOWN THE FLOAT PLANE, A MITCHELL HIT THE BARGES OFF CAPE GLOUVESTER; AND A FLYING FORTRESS DESTROYED THE JETTY ON UNEA.

FR1003PCW NM

CANBERRA, AUSTRALIA, JUNE 18-(AP)-PRIME MINISTER JOHN CURTIN REITERATED TODAY HE WAS CONVINCED THE JAPANESE WERE NOW UNABLE TO INVADE AUSTRALIA.

REPLYING TO CRITICISM OF HIS RECENT STATEMENT TO THIS EFFECT, CURTIN DECLARED:

"I REPEAT MY STATEMENT THAT THE ENEMY CANNOT INVADE AUSTRALIA. THAT IS NOT BASED ON ANY MILITARY VIEW OF MY OWN BUT UPON KNOWLEDGE OF THE RESOURCES AVAILABLE AND UPON COMPETENTLY-MADE MILITARY ASSESSMENTS.

"THERE HAVE BEEN VAST CHANGES IN THE SOUTH AND SOUTHWEST PACIFIC SINCE I MADE PREVIOUS STATEMENTS THREE MONTHS AGO OF JAPANESE CONCENTRATIONS OF 200,000 MEN IN THE PERIMETER NORTH OF AUSTRALIA.

WW212APW

JUN 19 1943

MELBOURNE, AUSTRALIA, JUNE 18-(AP)-FRANCIS M.FORDE, DEPUTY PRIME MINISTER, TOLD THE AUSTRALIAN TRADES UNION CONFERENCE TODAY THAT THE ELIMINATION OF STRIKES AND INDUSTRIAL STOPPAGES IS IMPERATIVE IF AUSTRALIA IS TO ACHIEVE 100 PER CENT EFFECTIVENESS IN HER WAR EFFORT.

NEVERTHELESS, FORDE PAID TRIBUTE TO "THE MAGNIFICENT WORK DONE BY THE OVERWHELMING MAJORITY OF WORKERS" IN ESSENTIAL INDUSTRIES.

IMPORTANT POINTS LIKELY TO BE RAISED AT THE CONFERENCE INCLUDE THE CONTINUED OPERATION OF THE GOVERNMENT'S WAGE PEGGING REGULATIONS WITHOUT A LIMIT ON PROFITS, AND THE RECENT INTRODUCTION OF ANTI-STRIKE REGULATIONS WITHOUT CONSULTATION WITH THE AUSTRALIAN COUNCIL OF TRADE UNIONS.

JUN 19 1943

FR455ACW

ADD Somewhere in New Guinea ... the rest

A VETERAN A-20 PILOT, D.P.HALL, OF KINGSVILLE, TEX., WHOSE WIFE LIVES AT CORPUS CHRISTI, DESTROYED AT LEAST SIX BARGES IN THE FINSCHHAFEN AREA. CAPT. DONALD GOOD, (9! EUGENE, ORE., ALSO PARTICIPATED IN THE NOCTURNAL STRAFING SWEEP.

"I SIGHTED SEVEN BARGES IN A LINE IN THE MOONLIGHT," HALL SAID, "DROPPED A BOMB BETWEEN TWO AND GOT THEM BOTH. I STRAFED AND BOMBED THE OTHER BARGES TOO, GOT THEM ALL EXCEPT MAYBE ONE THAT WENT UNDER AN OVERHANGING BANK."

SEVEN OTHER BARGES WHICH HALL SIGHTED WERE BEACHED, APPARENTLY WRECKED.

THE JAPANESE HAVE BEEN DEPENDING HEAVILY UPON BARGES TO SUPPLY THEIR GROUND-MENACED NEW GUINEA BASES AT LAE AND SALAMAUA UNDER COVER OF DARKNESS AND THE MITCHELLS HAVE BEEN ATTACKING THEM REGULARLY

JUN 19 1943

THE BOSTONS RARELY HAVE PARTICIPATED IN NIGHT ATTACKS BUT DID HIT LAE ONCE IN DARKNESS.

(THE BARGE ATTACKS WERE FIRST REPORTED IN TODAY'S COMMUNIQUE FROM ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA. THE COMMUNIQUE ALSO TOLD OF THE THIRD STRAIGHT DAY OF RAIDING YESTERDAY BY JAPANESE PLANES ON AN AREA OF VILLAGES 90 MILES NORTHWEST OF LAE WHICH IS KNOWN TO HAVE SEVERAL EMERGENCY LANDING FIELDS. THE COMMUNIQUE SAID 40 JAPANESE PLANES TOOK PART, WHICH MAKES A TOTAL OF 109 PLANES SENT BY THE ENEMY AGAINST THAT PREVIOUSLY UNMENTIONED SECTOR IN THE THREE RAIDS)

WW110APW

JUN 19 1943

BY DEAN SCHEDLER

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, JUNE 15-(DELAYED)-(AP)-SGT. JOSEPH BAIRD KNOWS HOW IT FEELS TO RIDE IN THE TAIL GUNNER'S POSITION ON A BURNING B-17 BOEING FLYING FORTRESS WITH THE PAIN OF SHRAPNEL WOUNDS MAKING DIFFICULT THE TASK OF FIRE-FIGHTING.

HE KNOWS, AND CAN GIVE AN UNUSUALLY GRAPHIC DESCRIPTION OF THE ORDEAL, BECAUSE HE REMAINED CONSCIOUS UNTIL HE SUCCEEDED IN BEATING OUT THE FLAMES.

THE SERGEANT, OF LOS ANGELES, RECALLED THE INCIDENT IN AN INTERVIEW TODAY IN A BASE HOSPITAL.

HE CRAWLED FORWARD INTO THE MAIN COMPARTMENT OF THE PLANE AFTER OVERCOMING THE FLAMES. THERE FELLOW CREW MEMBERS ADMINISTERED A SEDATIVE. FROM THEN ON BAIRD REMEMBERED NOTHING.

FIRST LIEUT.JOSEPH NIECE OF BEACH, N.D., THE PILOT, BROUGHT THE PLANE, VETERAN OF MANY MISSIONS, SAFELY BACK TO ITS BASE.

JUN 19 1943

30-24-5163

AS SERGEANT BAIRD TOLD IT:

"A BRILLIANT YELLOW BURST FROM AN ACK-ACK SHELL MOMENTARM

30-24-5163

AS SERGEANT BAIRD TOLD IT:

"A BRILLIANT YELLOW BURST FROM AN ACK-ACK SHELL MOMENTARILY BLINDED ME AND I SENSED A RIPPING SOUND OF SHRAPNEL ALL ABOUT ME. BUT, A FUNNY THING, I DIDN'T PASS OUT -- JUST A SUDDEN PAUSE LIKE WHEN A FAST TRAIN ROARS PAST AND LEAVES YOU STANDING ALONGSIDE THE PLATFORM.

JUN 19 1943

"I WENT BACK TO FIRING AWAY AT THOSE SEARCH LIGHTS WHEN THE STRONG ODOR OF BURNING RUBBER FILLED MY COMPARTMENT. LOOKING DOWN, I NOTICED ALL THE RUBBER FLOORING WAS AFIRE -- AND, WITH THE WIND RUSHING THROUGH BROKEN GLASS, I KNEW I HAD TO GET IT OUT OR THE REST OF THE PLANE WOULD BE GONE IN A MATTER OF MINUTES."

FJ231ACW NM

(BY STAFF SERGEANT HARRY S.BOLSER, U.S. MARINE CORPS, 312 MACON AVENUE, LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY, DISTRIBUTED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)

(WX)-SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC, JUNE 1-(DELAYED)-MANY MARINE CORPS FIGHTER PILOTS WHO SURVIVED THE AIR MELEE ABOVE GUADALCANAL LAST NOVEMBER AND DECEMBER WHEN THE JAPS SENT DOWN MANY HEAVILY SUPPORTED TROOP AND SUPPLY SHIPS SAY IT WAS LUCK THAT SAVED THEM. BUT FIRST LIEUTENANT ROY A.THORSON, U.S.M.C., 1201 SAINT OLAF AVENUE, NORTH-FIELD, MINNESOTA, THINKS DIFFERENTLY.

"IT WAS MY FIGHTER THAT BROUGHT ME OUT OF THAT BATTLE," RECOUNTED LIEUTENANT THORSON, AT HIS BASE.

"OUR FIGHTER PLANES ARE THE BEST IN THE WORLD. DON'T LET ANYONE TELL YOU DIFFERENTLY."

LIEUTENANT THORSON, MEMBER OF A MARINE FIGHTER UNIT, BROUGHT HIS PLANE THROUGH THE BATTLE UNTOUCHED. HE HAS 150 COMBAT HOURS IN THE AIR.

JUN 19 1943

IN MID-DECEMBER LIEUTENANT THORSON WAS IN A FIGHTER FORMATION ESCORTING BOMBERS WHEN THEY JUMPED A 12-SHIP JAP TASK FORCE AT DUSK, 190 MILES NORTH OF GUADALCANAL. THE 26-YEAR-OLD OFFICER STRAFED SEVERAL JAP CRUISERS AND ESCAPED BEING HIT BY ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE.

LIEUTENANT THORSON ENLISTED IN THE NAVY SHOROLY AFTER HE WAS GRADUATED FROM SAINT OLAF COLLEGE, NORTHFIELD, MINNESOTA, IN 1938. HE WON HIS WINGS APRIL 29, 1942, AND TRANSFERRED TO THE MARINE CORPS.

MD517AEW

(THE FOLLOWING STORY WAS WRITTEN BY TECHNICAL SERGEANT JIM LUCAS, U.S. MARINE CORPS OF 25131 EAST 14TH PLACE, TULSA,OKLAHOMA, AND DISTRIBUTED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)

JUN 19 1943

(WX)-SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC, JUNE 1-(DELAYED)-FOR REPEATEDLY RISKING HIS LIFE TO HELP MAINTAIN AN AERIAL "BURMA ROAD" OF SUPPLIES TO HENDERSON FIELD DURING THE SOLOMON ISLANDS CAMPAIGN, FIRST LIEUTENANT EDWARD R.THOMAS, U.S.M.C., 309 ROSEMARY AVENUE, SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS, HAS BEEN COMPLIMENTED BY HIS COMMANDING OFFICER.

JUN 19 1943

BETWEEN SEPTEMBER 7 AND DECEMBER 1, 1942, LIEUTENANT THOMAS PILOTED HIS NAVY CARGO TRANSPORT PLANE, LOADED WITH BOMBS, HIGH EXPLOSIVES AND GASOLINE, INTO GUADALCANAL, HELPED TO UNLOAD IT ON HENDERSON FIELD'S RUNWAYS UNDER FIRE, AND TOOK OFF WITH A LOAD OF WOUNDED MARINES.

THE SAGA WRITTEN BY HIS SQUADRON HAS BEEN OFFICIALLY DESCRIBED BY ADMIRAL WILLIAM F.HALSEY, COMMANDER SOUTH PACIFIC AREA AND SOUTH PACIFIC FORCE, AS AN "EXAMPLE OF COURAGE AND SKILL."

COLONEL P.K.SMITH, COMMANDER OF A MARINE AIRCRAFT GROUP IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC, RECENTLYPLIMENTED LIEUTENAN

JUN 19 1943

COLONEL P.K.SMITH, COMMANDER OF A MARINE AIRCRAFT GROUP IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC, RECENTLY COMPLIMENTED LIEUTENANT THOMAS "FOR OUTSTANDIN HEROISM IN THE LINE OF HIS PROFESSION WHILE OPERATING NAVAL TRANSPORT AIRCRAFT IN THE SOLOMON ISLANDS AREA" AND SET OUT:

"DURING THE PERIOD OF SEPTEMBER 7 TO NOVEMBER 1, 1942, LIEUTENANT THOMAS WAS CO-PILOT ON NAVY CARGO TRANSPORTS OPERATING IN THE SOLOMON ISLANDS AREA WITH EMERGENCY SUPPLIES AND EQUIPMENT FOR TROOPS AND EVACUATED WOUNDED FROM THAT AREA.

"LIEUTENANT THOMAS DISPLAYED EXCEPTIONAL SKILL, COURAGE AND DEVOTION TO DUTY IN SUCCESSFULLY OPERATING IN AN AREA KNOWN TO HAVE COMBATANO AIRCRAFT AND CONTINUAL GROUND FIRE FROM ENEMY TROOPS.

"DESPITE THESE CONDITIONS, LIEUTENANT THOMAS SUCCESSFULLY ACCOMPLISHED EACH MISSION."

MD512AEW

DC Kx (THE FOLLOWING STORY WAS WRITTEN BY TECHNICAL SERGEANT JIM LUCAS, U.S. MARINE CORPS, OF 25131 EAST 14TH PLACE, TULSA, OKLAHOMA, AND DISTRIBUTED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)

(WX)-SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC, JUNE 1-(DELAYED)-TECHNICAL SERGEANT WILLIAM T.MESKELL, U.S.M.C., 21, OF 17 1/2 WEST CHARLES STREET, OELWEIN, IOWA, HAS BEEN COMPLIMENTED BY HIS COMMANDING OFFICER FOR HIS PART IN KEEPING OPEN AN AERIAL SUPPLY ROUTE TO HENDERSON FIELD DURING THE SOLOMON ISLANDS CAMPAIGN.

TECHNICAL SERGEANO MESKELL, THEN A STAFF SERGEANT, REPEATEDLY RODE INTO GUADALCANAL AS MECHANIC ON A NAVY CARGO TRANSPORT PLANE LOADED WITH BOMBS, HIGH EXPLOSIVES AND GASOLINE. HE HELPED TO UNLOAD UNDER FIRE ON HENDERSON'S SHATTERED TUNWAYS, THEN TOOK OFF WITH WOUNDED MARINES.

JUN 19 1943

ON ONE OCCASION, MARINES WERE CRITICALLY SHORT OF SUPPLIES WHEN HELP ARRIVED FROM THE SKIES. THE FEAT OF TECHNICAL SERGEANT MESKELL'S SQUADRON HAS BEEN OFFICIALLY DESCRIBED BY ADMIRAL WILLIAM F.HALSEY, U.S.N., AS "AN EXAMPLE OF COURAGE AND SKILL."

TECHNICAL SERGEANT MESKELL'S MOTHER, MRS.MARY ELLEN MESKELL, RESIDES AT 920 LINDEN AVENUE, LONG BEACH, CALIFORNIA. HE ENLISTED ON JANUARY 4, 1940, AT DES MOINES.

COLONEL P.K.SMITH, IN COMPLIMENTING TECHNICAL SERGEANT MESKELL "FOR OUTSTANDING HEROISM," SAID:

"DURING THE PERIOD OF SEPTEMBER 7 TO NOVEMBER 1, 1942, STAFF SERGEANT MESKELL MADE SIX TRIPS AS FLIGHT MECHANIC OF NAVY CARGO TRANSPORT-AIRCRAFT IN THE SOLOMON ISLANDS AREA.

JUN 19 1943

30-24-5765

30-24-5765

"HIS ZEAL, EXCEPTIONAL COURAGE AND DEVOTION TO DUTY DURING THESE FLIGHTS, UNDER EXOREMELY HAZARDOUS CONDITIONS, ENABLED THIS GROUP TO SUPPLY COMBATANT FORCES AND EVACUATE WOUNDED FROM THE COMBAT AREA."

MD522AEW

BY LEIF ERICKSON

AN ADVANCED SOUTH PACIFIC BASE.--(AP)-IN FOUR MONTHS OF ACTION IN THE SOLOMONS, CAPT.THOMAS G.LANPHIER JR., 27, HAS WON RECOGNITION AS THE "HOTTEST" PILOT IN ONE OF THE SOUTH PACIFIC'S "HOTTEST" ARMY FIGHTER SQUADRONS.

LANPHIER, WHO CALLS DETROIT HIS HOME TOWN, IS A MEMBER OF THE 13TH U.S.ARMY AIR FORCE FIGHTER SQUADRON. HERE IS HIS PERSONAL RECORD FROM JANUARY THROUGH APRIL:

JUN 19 1943

SIX ZEROS DOWNED IN COMBAT; ONE ENEMY BOMBER SHOT DOWN; SIX ZEROS DESTROYED ON GROUND; ONE 3,000-TON CARGO SHIP SUNK BY DIVE BOMBING; ONE ENEMY TANK DESTROYED BY DIVE BOMBING; ONE RADIO STATION AND TRUCKED WRECKED BY DIVE BOMBING.

LANPHIER IS A SON OF COL.THOMAS G.LANPHIER, NOW EXECUTIVE HEAD OF ARMY AIR FORCE INTELLIGENCE IN WASHINGTON, D.C., AFTER GRADUATION FROM STANFORD UNIVERSITY IN CALIFORNIA HE WORKED AS A REPORTER IN SAN FRANCISCO AND THEN STARTED FLYING AND ENLISTED IN THE AIR FORCE.

IN 29 OF THE TOUGHEST DAYS OF THE GUADALCANAL CAMPAIGN, LANPHIER AND 11 SQUADRON MATES, INCLUDING THE SQUADRON COMMANDER, LT.COL. HENRY VICCELLIO OF CHATHAM, VA., FLEW AN AVERAGE OF 65 COMBAT HOURS EACH.

OFFICIAL RECORDS COMPILED BY LT.GEN.MILLARD F.HARMON'S HEADQUARTERS DISCLOSED THAT THE 12 PILOTS IN THE 29 DAYS FROM DEC.23 THROUGH JAN.20, DESTROYED EIGHT ENEMY PLANES IN THE AIR, 15 ON THE GROUND, AND SANK TWO CARGO SHIPS AT WICKHAM ANVHORAGE OFF NEW GEORGIA ISLAND. IN THAT TIME NONE OF THE MEN WAS INJURED AND NO PLANE WAS DAMAGED IN ACTION. ONE PLANE WAS LOST BECAUSE OF ENGINE FAILURE. ONE OF THE PILOTS, 1ST.LT.GEORGE G.TOPOLL OF KALAMAZOO, MICH., SUBSEQUENTLY DIED IN A PLANE ACCIDENT ON HENDERSON FIELD.

FOR THEIR EXPLOITS IN THE FOUR WEEKS OF INTENSIVE ACTION SQUADRON PILOTS RECEIVED THESE AWARDS FROM GENERAL HARMON:

LANPHIER, DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS AND SILVER STAR; 2D.LT.HARVEY L.DUNBAR OF EASTON, PA., AND 2D.LT. WILLIAM E.DAGGIT OF BLOOMINGTON, ILL., AIR MEDALS.

JUN 19 1943

DURING THEIR BUSY FOUR WEEKS THE SQUADRON FLIERS ESCORTED 22 BOMBING MISSIONS TO LAMBETI, JAPANESE FIELD IN THE NEW GEORGIA GROUP, AND THREE MISSIONS AGAINST REKATA BAY, ON SANTA ISABEL ISLAND.

ON THESE 25 MISSIONS NO JAPANESE FIGHTER GOT A SINGLE SHOT AT AMERICAN BOMBERS. ON ONE BOMBER ESCORT MISSION 12 JAPANESE FLOAT PLANES TRIED TO ATTACK, AND ALL 23 WERE SHOT DOWN, HALF OF THEM BY FOUR OF THE 12 SQUADRON PILOTS.

USING THEIR FIGHTERS AS PINCH DIVE BOMBERS, THE SQUADRON SANK TWO CARGO SHIPS AND EXECUTED SUCCESSFUL MISSIONS AGAIHBEEN CULTIVATED, WH

USING THEIR FIGHTERS AS PINCH DIVE BOMBERS, THE SQUADRON SANK TWO

JUN 19 1943

CARGO SHIPS AND EXECUTED SUCCESSFUL MISSIONS AGAINST JAPANESE TROOPS ON GUADALCANAL.

MAJOR GENERAL JOSEPH L.COLLINS, COMMANDING A DIVISION OF GUADALCANAL GROUND FORCES, GAVE CREDIT TO THE SQUADRON FOR:

WIPING OUT FOUR ENEMY STRONGHOLDS, DESTROYING 17 MACHINE GUN NESTS, AND KILLING OVER 200 ENEMY SOLDIERS.

THE HARMON HEADQUARTERS POINTED OUT THAT THESE DIVE-BOMBING ATTACKS WERE CARRIED OUT UNDER EXACTING CONDITIONS BECAUSE THE JAPANESE AT THAT TIME WERE NO MORE THAN 30 TO 40 YARDS FROM AMERICAN LINES. NONE OF OUR TROOPS WAS TOUCHED.

JUN 19 1943

IN ADDITION TO THEIR OFFICIAL RECORD FOR DEC.23-JAN.20, LANPHIER AND THREE MATES WERE CREDITED WITH BRINGING DOWN SEVEN JAPANESE PLANES IN THE 100-PLANE RAID BY THE ENEMY ON GUADALCANAL AND TULAGI LAST APRIL 7. LANPHIER AND THE OTHER THREE DIDN'T GET A BULLET HOLE IN THEIR PLANES. IN A STILL LATER SORTIE, FIVE OF THE LIGHTNING PILOTS STRAFED A JAPANESE DESTROYER AND LEFT IT BURNING, WITH ITS BRIDGE RIDDLED AND SMASHED.

HG320PCW

SAN CRISTOBAL, DOMINICAN REPUBLIC, JUNE 18-(AP)-THE TOWN OF YAGUATE WAS RENAMED "VILLA LIDICE" TODAY IN HONOR OF THE [illegible] THE VILLAGE IN CZECHO-SLOVAKIA [illegible] RAZED BY THE GERMANS A YEAR AGO IN REPRISAL FOR THE MURDER OF REINHARD HEYDRICH.

JB 10 0L 306P

BUENOS AIRES, JUNE 17-(AP)-SOURCES FAMILIAR WITH THE NEGOTIATIONS FOR AN OIL AGREEMENT BETWEEN ARGENTINA AND THE UNITED STATES SAID TODAY PROSPECTIVE BENEFITS FOR BOTH PARTIES WERE MATERIAL AND THAT THEY WERE VIRTUALLY BARREN OF POLITICAL IMPLICATIONS.

THE AGREEMENT, WHICH IS AWAITING CONFIRMATION IN WASHINGTON, WOULD PROVIDE DELIVERY OF 350,000 CUBIC METERS OF ARGENTINE OIL TO THE NEIGHBORING COUNTRIES OF PARAGUAY, URUGUAY AND BRAZIL IN RETURN FOR 36,000 TONS OF DRILLING MACHINERY FROM THE UNITED STATES. THE NEGOTIATIONS HAVE BEEN IN PROGRESS SINCE LAST SEPTEMBER, WITH THE PREVIOUS ADMINISTRATION.

JUN 19 1943

A DRAFT OF THE AGREEMENT HAD BEEN SUBMITTED TO WASHINGTON FOR APPROVAL BEFORE JUNE 6. NO FURTHER NEGOTIATIONS HAVE BEEN CONDUCTED WITH THE RAMIREZ GOVERNMENT AND THE ANNOUNCEMENT OF REAR ADMIRAL SEGUNDO R.STORNI, MINISTER OF FOREIGN RELATIONS, THAT HE WAS PREPARED TO CONCLUDE THE AGREEMENT MERELY RATIFIED WHAT HAD ALREADY BEEN ACCOMPLISHED.

THE AGREEMENT, IF FINALLY APPROVED BY WASHINGTON, WOULD ENABLE ARGENTINA TO MAINTAIN HER PRESENT OIL PRODUCTION AND PROBABLY INCREASE IT SLIGHTLY. OIL TECHNICIANS SAY THAT ARGENTINA'S OUTPUT IS SERIOUSLY THREATENED BECAUSE OF LACK OF EQUIPMENT. FURTHERMORE, IT WAS SAID, ONCE PRODUCTION BEGAN TO DECLINE THERE WAS DANGER THAT IT COULD NOT LATER BE RESTORED TO ITS ORIGINAL VOLUME.

FROM THE UNITED NATIONS VIEWPOINT A VITAL CONSIDERATION IS THE QUANTITY OF TANKER TONNAGE WHICH WOULD BE RELEASED BY ARGENTINA'S PROMISE TO SUPPLY THE NEIGHBORING COUNTRIES' OIL REQUIREMENTS.

JUN 19 1943

30.24-5167

FORMERLY THESE COUNTRIES WERE CARED FOR UNDER THE SOUTH AMERICAN POOL ARRANGEMENT, BY WHICH THEY ARE ASSURED SUFFICIENT TANKER TONNAGE TO COVER THE SAME PERCENTAGE OF THEIR OIL NEEDS AS IS ALLOCATED THE EASTERN SEABOARD OF THE UNITED STATES.

DELIVERIES FROM ARGENTINA WOULD MAKE AVAILABLE FOR WAR SUPPLY ROUTES A CERTAIN NUMBER OF THE TANKERS THUS EMPLOYED.

ONE OF THE STUMBLING BLOCKS OF THE LENGTHY NEGOTIATIONS WAS THE QUESTION OF WHETHER MACHINERY WOULD BE DISTRIBUTED ENTIRELY THROUGH THE ARGENTINE GOVERNMENT OIL MONOPOLY OR SHARED BETWEEN IT AND FOREIGN OIL COMPANIES ON A PREDETERMINED BASIS. IT IS ASSUMED THAT THE DRAFT CONTAINS A MUTUALLY SATISFACTORY SOLUTION OF THIS PROBLEM.

XM112AEW

JUN 19 1943

SAN JUAN, PUERTO RICO, JUNE 18-(AP)-LUIS MUNOZ MARIN, MEMBE OF THE COMMITTEE STUDYING PROPOSED CHANGES IN THE ORGANIC LAW O PUERTO RICO, AND DR. RAFAEL ARRILLAGA TORRENS, SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, IN A JOINT STATEMENT TODAY ASSAILED THE BELL COMMITTEE'S "MORAL AUTHORITY" TO CONDUCT AN "INQUISITION" ON PUERTO RICAN AFFAIRS.

"WE OBVIOUSLY ARE NOT QUESTIONING YOUR LEGAL AUTHORITY," THE STATEMENT SAID, "BUT WE ARE INTERESTED IN KNOWING WHY AND BY WHAT MORAL AUTHORITY YOU CAN ATTEMPT TO CONTROL WHAT THE PEOPLE OF PUERTO RICO MAY DECIDE TO DO WITH THE LIMITED DEMOCRACY WHICH HAS BEEN GRANTED TO THEM."

JUN 19 1943

THE STATEMENT ASSERTED THAT THE CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE DID NOT HAVE THE "MORAL RIGHT TO MAKE ANY INVESTIGATION IN PUERTO RICO EXCEPT

30.24-5167

OSE RELATED TO THE PROPER EXPENDITURE OF FEDERAL FUNDS, INTERSTICES AND THE PROPER FUNCTIONING OF FEDERAL ACTIVITIES HERE."

THE STATEMENT ALSO ASSAILED THE "EXPLOITATION" OF THE PAST 45 YEARS, AND THEN ASSERTED THAT THE UNITED STATES WAS OBLIGATED TO SET THE ISLAND ON ITS OWN FEET BY;

1. REHABILITATING THE HEALTH OF THE PEOPLE AND INCREASING THEIR VOCATIONAL PREPARATION,

2. PROVIDING THE EQUIPMENT AND TECHNICAL KNOWLEDGE NEEDED FOR ACHIEVING THE LAND'S MAXIMUM PRODUCTIVITY.

3. ENCOURAGING THE INDUSTRIALIZATION OF THE ISLAND.

JR1128PEW

JUN 19 1943

SAN JUAN, PUERTO RICO, JUNE 18-(AP)- JAIME BENITEZ, CHANCELLOR OF THE UNIVERSITY OF PUERTO RICO, TOLD THE CLOSING SESSION OF A CONGRESSIONAL INQUIRY COMMITTEE THAT PUERTO RICANS WERE UNDECIDED ABOUT INDEPENDENCE BECAUSE THEY DID NOT KNOW WHAT ITS POSSIBILITIES WERE.

HE DECLINED TO SAY WHETHER HE FAVORED INDEPENDENCE, ASSERTING THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT FIRST SHOULD CLARIFY ITS POSSIBILITIES.

REP. JAMES DOMENGEAUX (D-LA), ONE OF THE MEMBERS OF THE BELL COMMITTEE INVESTIGATING CONDITIONS IN THE

JUN 19 1943

ISLAND, QUESTIONED BENITEZ ON THE MANIFESTO WHICH THE CHANCELLOR HELPED FRAME IN 1936, CITING THE U.S.DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE AS A BASIS OF EXPRESSING PUERTO RICAN GRIEVANCES.

BENITEZ ANSWERED THAT CONDITIONS HAD CHANGED, DECLARING THAT THE PRESENT AMERICAN GOVERNOR REXFORD G. TUGWELL WAS "CERTAINLY BETTER" THAN HIS PREDECESSOR MAJ. GEN. BLANTON WINSHIP.

JUN 19 1943

THE CHANCELLOR FLARED UP AND CALLED THE STATEMENT UNJUSTIFIED WHEN REP. DAN R. MC GEHEE (D-MISS) REMARKED "OF COURSE YOU THINK HE 'S BETTER, HE'S ELEVATED YOU TO AN $8,000 JOB."

EDWARD BASH, HEAD OF THE FEDERAL FOOD DISTRIBUTION ADMINISTRATION, REITERATED AT THE HEARING THAT THE SHIPMENT OF STOCK FEED TO PUERTO RICO IN BARRELS SAVED SHIPPING SPACE, AND HIS STATEMENT DREW CRITICISM FROM REP. FRED L. CRAWFORD (R-MICH).

MC GEHEE INTERJECTED THAT HE SAW MERIT IN THE DEVICE,DECLARING THAT RUM DISTILLERS NEEDED THE BARRELS IN ORDER TO CONTINUE IN BUSINESS AND FURNISH EMPLOYMENT WHILE THE FARMERS NEEDED FEED FOR THEIR LIVESTOCK. HE INSTRUCTED THE CLERK,HOWEVER, TO OMIT HIS REMARKS FROM THE RECORD.

WILLIAM MEAD, SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO PRENTISS BROWN AND FORMER LOCAL HEAD OF THE OPA,TESTIFIED IN A CLOSED SESSION ON BLACK MARKET PRICES IN THE ISLAND.

HEADQUARTERS, ALASKA DEFENSE COMMAND, JUNE 18-(AP)-LIEUT. GEN. SIMON B.BUCKNER, JR., COMMANDING OFFICER OF THE ALASKAN DEFENSE COMMAND, TODAY ANNOUNCED THE AWARD OF THE PURPLE HEART TO 19 MEN WOUNDED IN ACTION ON ATTU ISLAND. THEY INCLUDED:

FIRST LT.HOWARD L.TIRGRATH, LYNDHURST, N.J.; CORP.LEE M.RIGSBEY, HARTFORD, ILL.; PFC.C.A.HAACK, JR., GAYLORD, MINN.; PFC. MARVIN V.BELL, CANTON, GA.; PFC. JOHN VIRGILLIO, BROOKLYN, N.Y.; PFC.VERNON H.LUTJENS, EL PASO, ILL.; PFC.EMERIC J.MAYER, ELGIN, ILL.

PFC CHARLES C.WASLUSKY, HART, MICH.; PVT.JOHN J. COLDERS, BRONX, N.Y.; PVT.EASTMAN SKENANDORE, ONEIDA, WIS.

JUN 19 1943

PVT.HOWARD R.MATHEWS, BAY CITY, MICH., AND PVT. JOHN S. KITCHENS, RICHTON, MISS.

COL.EARL H.DEFORD, A COMMAND PILOT, OF (833 GRAND AVE.) DES MOINES, IA., WAS AWARDED AN AIR MEDAL FOR HIS LEADERSHIP OF BOMBARDMENT MISSIONS IN SUPPORT OF GROUND TROOPS ON ATTU.

STAFF SGT.HENRY HUGHES, TOMS RIVER, N.J., AN AIR FORCE GUNNER, RECEIVED AN OAK LEAF CLUSTER FOR HIS NUMEROUS AND DARING ATTACKS ON ENEMY SHIPPING AND INSTALLATIONS. HE ALREADY HAS THE AIR MEDAL.

NN-RA1239ACW

JUN 19 1943

30.24-5169

30.24-5169

OTTAWA JUNE 18-(AP)-GUNNER KITCHENER CASSIUS MADDEN OF LONG BEACH, CALIF., IS REPORTED IN A CANADIAN ARMY CASUALTY LIST TONIGHT AS HAVING DIED OVERSEAS. HIS NEXT-OF-KIN IS HIS FATHER, CASSIUS MONROE MADDEN, OF (1823 61ST ST., E.) LONG BEACH.

KK136AEW

NIGHT LEAD ALCOHOL PLANT

BY GARETH MUCHMORE

(BC) THOROLD, ONT., JUNE 18-(AP)-HIGH CANADIAN AND U.S. OFFICIALS JOINED TODAY IN HAILING AS AN ANSWER TO THREATENING SCARCITIES OF FOOD GRAINS AND PETROLEUM A NEW PLANT WHICH PRODUCES ALCOHOL FROM WASTE SULPHITE LIQUOR, A FORMERLY-DISCARDED PRODUCT OF WOOD PULP MANUFACTURING IN THE PAPER INDUSTRY.

THE PLANT, ONE OF THE NEWEST OF CANADA'S WAR INDUSTRIES, IS OPERATED BY THE ALCOHOL DIVISION OF THE ONTARIO PAPER CO., A SUBSIDIARY OF THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

JUN 19 1943

SUCCESSFUL COMPLETION OF THE PROJECT, IN ITSELF CAPABLE OF TURNING OUT 700,000 GALLONS OF ETHYL ALCOHOL A YEAR, WAS VIEWED BY OFFICIALS WHO INSPECTED IT AS A POSSIBLE SOLUTION TO WAR-SWELLED NEEDS FOR ALCOHOL, A RAW MATERIAL IN THE MANUFACTURE OF SMOKELESS POWDER, OF THE BUTADIENE FOR SYNTHETIC RUBBER AND OF MILITARY CHEMICALS.

COL. R. R. MCCORMICK, EDITOR AND PUBLISHER OF THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, INSPECTING THE PLANT TODAY, DECLARED:

"SHORTAGES OF FOODSTUFFS AND OF PETROLEUM NECESSITATE AN ALTERNATE SOURCE FOR ALCOHOL FOR SYNTHETIC RUBBER, EXPLOSIVES AND POISON GAS.

"WASTE SULPHITE LIQUOR IS AN ALTERNATE SOURCE, TAPPING NEITHER THE OIL RESERVES NOR THE GRAIN RESERVES.

"IT IS A BOUNTIFUL SOURCE THAT MUST BE USED TO SAVE GRAINS FOR FOODS AND PETROLEUM FOR FUEL AND LUBRICANTS."

WILLIAM JEFFERS, U.S. RUBBER DIRECTOR, WHO SPENT YESTERDAY VISITING CANADA'S NEW SYNTHETIC RUBBER PLANT AT SARNIA, ONTARIO, SAID THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S PROJECT REPRESENTED "AN OPPORTUNITY TO PUT TO SUBSTANTIAL USE THE LARGE QUANTITY OF BY-PRODUCTS THAT FLOW FROM THE WOOD PULP MILLS AND LUMBERING OPERATIONS OF OUR TWO COUNTRIES."

EXPERTS PRESENT ESTIMATED THAT IF THE PROCESS PIONEERED BY THE THOROLD PLANT SHOULD BE FOLLOWED BY U.S. AND CANADIAN MILLS, ANNUAL PRODUCTION OF 86,000,000 GALLONS OF ALCOHOL WOULD BE POSSIBLE. THAT WOULD BE ENOUGH TO MAKE THE BUTADIENE FOR ABOUT 94,600 LONG TONS OF SYNTHETIC RUBBER.

JUN 19 1943

U.S. SENATOR RAYMOND E. WILLIS (R-IND), A MEMBER OF THE GILLETTE RUBBER INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE WHO VIEWED THE PLANT, SAID IT WAS "AN ACCOMPLISHMENT OF PRIVATE INDUSTRY, AND PRIVATE INITIATIVE, AND PRIVATE CAPITAL X X X WITHOUT FANFARE AND FOR THE COMMON GOOD."

THE THOROLD PLANT UTILIZES THE WOOD SUGARS THAT ARE FORMED IN THE SULPHITE LIQUOR DURING THE CHEMICAL PROCESS OF MAKING PULP. THE LIQUID, CONTAINING ABOUT 1.5 PER CENT OF THESE SUGARS, IS FERMENTED WITH YEAST, THEN DISTILLED.

W659PEW

JUN 19 1943

THE PLANT, USING THE REFINEMENT AND BETTERMENT OF A PROCESS WORKED OUT IN EUROPE, WAS CONCEIVED AND BUILT ENTIRELY BY THE TRIBUNE, WITHOUT SUBSIDIES OR PRIORITIES.

COL. MCCORMICK, IN DISCUSSING THE POSSIBILITIES OF APPLYING THE METHOD ELSEWHERE IN THE NORTH AMERICAN PULP AND PAPER INDUSTRY, EMPHASIZED THAT THE PROCESS WOULD BE MADE AVAILABLE TO ALL WOOD PULP MANUFACTURERS AS A WAR CONTRIBUTION OF THE TRIBUNE.

JEFFERS, IN A RAIO BROADCAST FROM THE PLANT, SAID SYNTHETIC RUBBER IS "HERE TO STAY" AND ADDED THAT AMERICAN INDUSTRY BEFORE THE WAR IS OVER "WILL BE PRODUCING SYNTHETIC RUBBER AS CHEAPLY AND AS GOOD AS ANY NATURAL RUBBER."

JUN 19 1943

HE EXPLAINED THAT SYNTHETICS "WILL SURVIVE BECAUSE THEY ARE THE ANSWER TO ALL OF OUR PURPOSES," INCLUDING PRICE AS WELL AS QUALITY.

COL. BRADLEY DEWEY, DEPUTY U.S.RUBBER ADMINISTRATOR, SAID THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA "ARE COMING OUT OF THE WAR INTO A NEW ERA OF PROCESS INDUSTRIES" AND THAT THE THOROLD PLANT WAS GIVING CANADA A NEW RAW MATERIAL.

H.J.CARMICHAEL, CHAIRMAN OF THE CANADIAN BOARD OF PRODUCTION, ASSERTED THAT COL.MCCORMICK HAD PIONEERED "WHAT WE SINCERELY BELIEVE TO BE A NEW ERA NOT ONLY OF WAR PRODUCTS BUT OF POST-WAR DEVELOPMENT."

U.S. SEN.BURTON K.WHEELER (D-MONT), A MEMBER OF THE GILLETTE COMMITTEE, SAID THE ALCOHOL PLANT TYPIFIED WAYS IN WHICH RAW MATERIALS FOR SYNTHETIC RUBBER COULD BE MADE FROM A VARIETY OF VEGETABLE PRODUCTS, SUCH AS FORESTRY WASTE, WHEAT, CORN RYE, AND SWEET POTATOES.

"ITS INFORMAL OPENING MARKS A GREAT STEP FORWARD IN THE DIRECTION OF THE ULTIMATE FREEDOM OF THIS CONTINENT FROM DEPENDENCE UPON FOREIGN SOURCES OF SUPPLY FOR THIS MATERIAL ---- SO VITAL TO OUR ECONOMIC EXISTENCE," WHEELER DECLARED.

ARTHUR SCHMON, PRESIDENT OF THE ONTARIO PAPER COMPANY, SAID THE PLANT REPRESENTED "A BIG STEP FORWARD" TOWARD REALIZATION OF THE UNITED NATIONS' RUBBER PROGRAM.

"IT IS THE FORERUNNER OF MANY PLANTS OF ITS KIND ON BOTH SIDES OF THE BORDER," SCHMON ADDED. "IF THE TWO NATIONS USE ALL THEIR WASTE SULPHITE LIQUOR THE RESULTANT ALCOHOL WILL BE THE EQUIVALENT OF 37,000,000 BUSHELS OF GRAIN."

JUN 19 1943

W757PEW

ADD UNDATED--FIRST ADD JAPANESE X X X ASSOCIATED PRESS.

A TOKYO DISPATCH BROADCAST BY THE BERLIN RADIO SAID THE 82ND EXTRAORDINARY SESSION OF THE DIET CLOSED WITH ADOPTION OF A MOTION "DEMANDING THAT ALL ENERGIES OF THE WAR MACHINERY MUST BE CONCENTRATED ON WINNING THE VICTORY AND, AT THE SAME TIME, DEVOTED TO THE CLOSEST COOPERATION WITH GERMANY, ITALY AND OTHER EUROPEAN POWERS FOR ATTAINMENT OF THE COMMON AIM."

CONCERNING THE SAME RESOLUTION, A BROADCAST BY THE TOKYO RADIO TO JAPANESE AREAS WHICH WAS RECORDED BY THE U.S.FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION SAID THE WAR IN THE PACIFIC WAS "SHOWING GRAVENESS, WITH ONE DECISIVE BATTLE FOLLOWING ANOTHER."

"THE ENEMY, BRITAIN AND AMERICA, HAS FINALLY ADJUSTED HIS DISASTROUSLY DEFEATED STRUCTURE AND IS PLANNING TO CARRY OUT FIERCE COUNTERATTACKS

JUN 19 1943

BY MOBILIZING HIS PRODUCTIVE POWER," IT WAS SAID.

JJ1110AEW

UNDATED BOSE

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

THE TOKYO RADIO SAID TODAY (SAT) THAT SUBHAS CHANDRA BOSE, AXIS-SPONSORED INDIAN NATIONALIST LEADER, HAD ARRIVED RECENTLY IN JAPAN FROM HIS EXILE IN GERMANY.

THE BROADCAST WAS RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

JR1218AEW

UNDATED HORTHY

JUN 19 1943

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A TELEGRAM OF CONGRATULATIONS FROM ADOLF HITLER WENT TODAY TO ADMIRAL NICHOLAS HORTHY, HUNGARY'S REGENT, CONGRATULATING HIM ON HIS 75TH BIRTHDAY, AND THE GERMAN PRESS WAS FILLED WITH ARTICLES EXTOLLING THE LEADER OF THE GERMAN SATELLITE NATION, THE BERLIN RADIO SAID IN A BROADCAST RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

HORTHY'S ATTITUDE TOWARD JEWS AND SOVIET RUSSIA, IN LINE WITH NAZI GERMANY'S PHILOSOPHY, WAS SINGLED OUT IN THE ARTICLES.

HORTHY WAS AMONG THE SATELLITE LEADERS WHO PARADED TO HITLER'S HEADQUARTERS IN APRIL TO DISCUSS THE PROBABILITY OF ALLIED INVASION.

PS551AEW

(AP SPECIAL FOR AMS)

(ADVANCE FOR USE AT 6:30 P.M. EASTERN WAR TIME TONIGHT, FRIDAY, JUNE 18. THIS DISPATCH MUST NOT BE TRANSMITTED OUTSIDE THE CONTINENTAL UNITED STATES NOR BROADCAST BEFORE THAT TIME.)

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

30-24-5171

30-24-5171

(ADVANCE)..ALWAYS AN IMPROVISER AND AN INNOVATOR, INDIA'S NEW VICEROY, FIELD MARSHAL SIR ARCHIBALD P.WAVELL, HAS BUCKED THE STRONG TRADITIONALIST ELEMENT IN THE BRITISH ARMY EVER SINCE 1901 WHEN HE WAS A JUNIOR OFFICER IN THE FAMOUS BLACK WATCH REGIMENT IN THE BOER WAR.

"EVERY SUCCESSFUL MILITARY COMMANDER," HE SAID A FEW YEARS AGO, "MUST HAVE A TOUCH OF THE GAMBLER."

HE GAVE EVIDENCE OF HIS BROAD-MINDEDNESS IN MILITARY AFFAIRS WHEN HE SOUNDLY BERATED THE DIE-HARDS WHO WERE INCLINED TO "HIGH-HAT" OTHER BRANCHES OF THE SERVICE, ESPECIALLY THE AIR ARM.

HE SAID "NO ONE SHOULD HOLD HIGH RANK IN THE ARMY WITHOUT HAVING AT LEAST SIX MONTHS ASSOCIATION WITH THE ROYAL AIR FORCE WITHIN A FEW YEARS OF HIS APPOINTMENT. IT IS A COMBINATION BETWEEN AIR AND LAND FORCES WHICH WILL BRING SUCCESS IN FUTURE WARS."

RECENT EVENTS HAVE DEMONSTRATED HOW SOUND AND PROPHETIC HIS UTTERANCES HAVE PROVEN.

JUN 19 1943

WHEN KING GEORGE VI MADE HIM A FIELD MARSHAL IN THE NEW YEAR'S HONOR LIST LAST JANUARY, ONE OF HIS FIRST ACTS WAS TO SEND HIS FELICITATIONS TO GEN. DOUGLAS MAC ARTHUR IN AUSTRALIA FOR THE LATTER'S SUCCESSES IN THE PACIFIC WAR THEATER. HE HAS OFTEN EXPRESSED HIS DEEP ADMIRATION FOR MAC ARTHUR'S SOLDIERLY QUALITIES AND THE TWO COMMANDERS SEE EYE TO EYE ON MOST MILITARY MATTERS.

WAVELL'S 60 YEARS--HE WAS BORN IN MAY, 1883--REST LIGHTLY UPON HIS SHOULDERS. GOLF IS ONE OF HIS FAVORITE GAMES BUT HIS FAVORITE SPORT IS ONE WHICH HE SELDOM DOES--SKIING. HE IS A GOOD MAN WITH A GUN AND HAS ALWAYS SAID THAT HIS IDEAL INFANTRYMAN SHOULD BE "A MIXTURE OF POACHER, CAT BURGLAR AND GUNMAN."

JUN 19 1943

PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL DESCRIBED SIR ARCHIBALD IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS A FEW YEARS BACK AS A "MASTER OF WAR."

THE NEW VICEROY IS ALSO KNOWN AS A BRILLIANT TALKER AND MILITARY WRITER OF RARE DISTINCTION. HIS HISTORY OF THE PALESTINE CAMPAIGN IN THE LAST WAR, WHERE HE SERVED AFTER LOSING AN EYE IN FRANCE, HAS LONG BEEN THE BRITISH STAFF COLLEGE HAND-BOOK ON DESERT FIGHTING. HE ALSO WROTE A LIFE OF GEN. ALLENBY, UNDER WHOM HE SERVED AT THAT TIME.

CLEAN CUT AND DECISIVE, IN BEARING HE HAS THE KEEN EYE OF A MAN WHO GETS ACTION. HE IS NEVER AFRAID OF BEING UNOGTH

(MORE)

JUN 19 1943

WX

MJ624PEW

(AP SPECIAL FOR AMS)

(ADVANCE FOR USE AT 6:30 P.M. EASTERN WAR TIME TONIGHT, FRIDAY, JUNE 18. THIS DISPATCH MUST NOT BE TRANSMITTED OUTSIDE THE CONTINENTAL UNITED STATES NOR BROADCAST BEFORE THAT TIME.)

(ADVANCE)..UNDATED--FIRST ADD WAVELL CAREER XXX OF A MAN WHO GETS ACTION. HE IS NEVER AFRAID OF BEING UNORTHODOX IN HIS MANNER OR METHODS. VISITORS AT HIS HEADQUARTERS USUALLY FIND HIM IN HIS SHIRT-SLEEVES. HE IS ESSENTIALLY YOUNG IN SPIRIT AND A GREAT BELIEVER IN YOUTH AND NEW IDEAS.

A MODERNIST IN WARFARE, HE IS SOLD WHOLE-HEARTEDLY ON MECHANIZATION AND USED IT TO TELLING ADVANTAGE IN HIS MIDDLE EAST AND LIBYAN CAMPAIGNS.

WAVELL SPENT MORE THAN 20 YEARS IN DESERT WARFARE. MOST OF THE TIME BETWEEN WORLD WAR I AND WORLD WAR II WERE SPENT IN THE NEA EAST IN SYRIA, TRANS-JORDANIA AND EGYPT. THE TURKS CALLED HIM "TH BLOODHOUND," THE ARABS KNEW HIM AS "WAVELL THE WIZARD" WHILE IN EGYPT HE WAS REFERRED TO AS "THE MEDITERRANEAN MAGICIAN."

GERMAN FIELD MARSHAL WILHELM KEITEL ONCE DECLARED THAT WAVELL WAS THE ONLY GOOD BRITISH GENERAL AND EMPHASIZED, "HE IS VERY, VERY GOOD."

WAVELL WAS IN COMMAND IN INDIA WHEN THE ALLIES WERE THROWN OUT OF BURMA, AN ACTION WHERE AMERICAN LIEUT. GEN. JOSEPH W.STILLWELL SAID "WE TOOK A HELL OF A BEATING."

SINCE THEN THERE HAS BEEN NO PROGRESS, ON THE SURFACE, IN DRIVING THE JAPANESE OUT OF THE AREAS THEY HAVE OVER-RUN NEAR INDIA, AND THE SINGLE PENETRATION INTO BURMA BY THE BRITISH WAS DRIVEN BACK AND OUT BY THE JAPANESE LAST MONTH. THIS EXPEDITION BEGAN LAST DECEMBER, ADVANCING UPON AKYAB, BUT RETREATED OUT OF BURMA BEFORE THE MONSOON BEGAN. GUERRILLA RAIDERS, HOWEVER PREYED EXTENSIVELY ON JAPANESE COMMUNICATIONS IN CENTRAL BURMA.

JUN 19 1943

TO WAVELL'S SOLDIERS, HE IS KNOWN AS ARCHIE.

HE HAD THE REPUTATION FOR ADDRESSING HIS SOLDIERS IN THE SORT OF LANGUAGE THEY UNDERSTAND. HIS OFT-EXPRESSED OPINION THAT "CHARACTER IS MORE IMPORTANT THAN BRAINS" IS A BY-WORD WITH THE MEN IN THE RANKS. THEY INSTINCTIVELY TRUST HIM AND THEY HAVE ALWAYS FELT THAT HE WOULD NEVER BECOME RECKLESS JUST TO PLEASE POLITICIANS AT HOME.

AND AFTER THE WAR? HIS NEW YEARS' MESSAGE TO HIS TROOPS IN 1941 WAS THIS:

"HAVE YOU THOUGHT WHAT A WORLD WE COULD MAKE IF WE PUT INTO ENDEAVORS THE SAME ENERGY, THE SAME SELF-SACRIFICE AND COOPERAT

JUN 19 1943

AS WE USE IN THE WASTEFULNESS OF WAR?"

(END ADVANCE FOR USE AT 6:30 P.M. EASTERN WAR TIME TONIGHT, FRIDAY, JUNE 18. THIS DISPATCH MUST NOT BE TRANSMITTED OUTSIDE THE CONTINENTAL UNITED STATES NOR BROADCAST BEFORE THAT TIME.)

KA638PEW

30.24-5173

(AP SPECIAL FOR AMS)

UNDATED FASCISTS

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

JUN 19 1943

EUROPEAN ADVICES REACHING THE ASSOCIATED PRESS YESTERDAY (FRI) SAID THAT PREMIER MUSSOLINI--AGAINST WHOM THE TIDE OF ITALIAN BITTERNESS IS SAID TO BE RISING--WAS TRYING TO SHIFT PART OF THE BLAME FOR HIS ERRORS UPON THE FASCIST PARTY'S NATIONAL DIRECTORATE.

ALL MEMBERS OF THIS BODY ARE APPOINTED BY MUSSOLINI, WHOSE TITLE, IL DUCE, MEANS LEADER OF THE PARTY.

COMPETENT FOREIGN OBSERVERS SAID THAT THE NINE-POINT REPORT PRESENTED EARLY THIS WEEK TO IL DUCE BY CARLO SCORZA, PARTY SECRETARY, MUST BE READ AS PART OF THIS EFFORT TO SPREAD RESPONSIBILITY FOR ITALY'S PLIGHT AND NOT AS AN INDICATION OF ASSUMPTION OF DICTATORIAL POWERS BY SCORZA.

THE REPORT LISTED PAST SHORTCOMINGS OF THE FASCIST REGIME AND CALLED FOR MORE RIGID MOBILIZATION OF THE NATION TO FACE THE CRISIS OF INVASION. IT WAS SUGGESTED THAT BY THIS MEANS MUSSOLINI ALSO WAS TRYING TO DODGE SOME OF THE RESPONSIBILITY FOR NEW MEASURES TO HOLD THE ITALIAN PEOPLE IN THE WAR, FROM WHICH, ACCORDING TO SOME INDICATIONS, MANY OF THEM WOULD LIKE TO WITHDRAW.

30.24-5173

THE REPORT, DESCRIBED BY THE NEWSPAPER REGIME FASCISTA AS AN "ACCOUNTING FOR PAST ERRORS," WAS SAID TO BE NOT SO MUCH A REQUEST FOR NEW POWERS BY THE PARTY DIRECTORATE AS IT WAS A ROLL CALL OF FASCIST FAILURES AND INABILITIES THUS FAR TO ENFORCE THE EXISTING MEASURES TO MEET THE PROBLEMS INHERENT IN THE ITALIAN WAR EFFORT.

THE REPORT OF THE DIRECTORATE--WHICH CONSISTS OF 14 MEMBERS PLUS MUSSOLINI AND SCORZA AT THE TOP--WAS FOLLOWED BY AN ORDER MAKING EFFECTIVE THE DECREE OF LAST APRIL WHICH PROVIDES SEVERE PENALTIES FOR ANY ITALIAN FAILING TO REPORT THE PRESENCE OF AN ENEMY OR PLANS FOR SABOTAGE.

SCORZA HIMSELF AS WELL AS TULLIO CIANETTI, MINISTER OF CORPORATIONS WHOSE RECENT APPOINTMENT TO THAT POST WAS HAILED BY THE FASCIST PRESS AS "THE RISE OF THE SON OF A PEASANT," HAVE BEEN NAMED TO THE FASCIST GRAND COUNCIL, FROM WHICH BODY THEY MAY BETTER ACTIVATE THE DIRECTORATE'S REQUESTS FOR STIFFENED MEASURES. JUN 19 1943

SECONDLY AND PERHAPS MORE IMPORTANT THAN ITS REQUESTS FOR ENFORCEMENT, THE REPORT WAS ACCLAIMED BY THE FASCIST PRESS AS THE NATION'S REPLY TO ALLIED EFFORTS TO MAKE A DISTINCTION BETWEEN THE ITALIAN REGIME AND THE ITALIAN PEOPLE.

MUSSOLINI'S IL POPOLO D'ITALIA DECLARED THAT THE FASCIST DIRECTORATE REPORT "RESTORED THE ORIGINAL SIGNIFICANCE" TO THE BATTLE CRY "A NOI" --- "TO US"--- (THE FASCIST SALUTE TO THE DUCE) WHICH IT SAID HAD BECOME "A MERE RHETORICAL EXPRESSION."

"IN THE HOUR OF DANGER IT WILL AGAIN BE THE BATTLE CRY OF A UNITED ITALIAN PEOPLE WHO HAVE ONE SOLE, INDOMITABLE WILL," THE

JUN 19 1943 JUN 19 1943

NEWSPAPER DECLARED.

NEVERTHELESS, PRESS REPORTS FROM ITALY CONTINUED TO TELL OF DETERIORATING MORALE, MOUNTING HATRED OF MUSSOLINI'S FASCISTS, AND INCREASED DESPAIR AND HOPELESSNESS.

THE FASCIST DIRECTORATE REPORT ASKED FOR SUPPRESSION OF ATTEMPTS TO UNDERMINE ITALIAN MORALE---REPORTED TO HAVE FALLEN TO SUCH DEPTHS AS TO BE MATCHED ONLY BY ITALY'S INCREASING HATRED OF ITS GERMAN ALLY.

JUN 19 1943

IT ALSO ASKED FOR SEVERE DISCIPLINE OF INDUSTRY AND AGRICULTURE, REDUCTION OF THE FLOURISHING, PROSPEROUS BLACK MARKET, CLOSING OF LUXURY HOTELS AND RESTAURANTS AND REPATRIATION OF FOREIGNERS STILL IN ITALY, AND "FULL APPLICATION OF COMPULSORY WORK LAWS."

FASCIST FAILURE TO ENFORCE THE LATTER LAW ALSO ANGERED THE NAZIS, NOW REPORTED TO BE SENDING HOME ITALIAN WORKERS FROM GERMANY, THEREBY AGGRAVATING THE ITALIAN UNEMPLOYMENT PROBLEM. IT IS NO SECRET THAT ITALY HAS MILLIONS OF YOUNG MEN SHE IS APPARENTLY UNABLE TO ARM, AND THOUSANDS OF WORKMEN SHE IS UNABLE TO EMPLOY. THESE RETURNED WORKMEN GET ONLY A SMALL STATE STIPEND, WHEREAS THEY WERE WELL PAID IN GERMANY, AND SENT MONEY HOME.

THE CONVICTION THAT THE ALLIES WILL WIN THE WAR NOW IS DOMINANT IN ITALY, SAID A RECENT TRAVELER, WHO ADDED THAT MOST ITALIANS HOPE THE RESULT WILL BE A COMMERCIAL HIERARCHY CONTROLLED BY THE UNITED STATES, IN WHICH THE ITALIAN NATION CAN FIND A PLACE.

JUN 19 1943

THE MISERY OF THE ITALIANS IS ACCOMPANIED BY THREAT OF PESTILENCE, A DROPPING BIRTHRATE AND A SHARP RISE IN INFANT MORTALITY. IN BOMB-BLASTED GENOA WHERE NARROW STREETS ARE PILED WITH DEBRIS, IT IS REPORTED THAT MANY DEAD STILL LIE AT THE BOTTOM OF THE HEAPS OF WRECKAGE THAT APPARENTLY WILL NOT BE CLEARED AWAY UNTIL THE WAR'S END.

JUN 19 1943

WM-KA937PEW

U. S. AIR ATTACKS BATTER TARGETS ON SARDINIA, SICILY; 39 AXIS PLANES SHOT DOWN

JUN 20 1943

GREAT AIR FLEET STRIKES AT SICILY

Allied Planes Also Hammer Shipping Airfields on Sardinia

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 19—(AP) American warplanes, lashing out with their heaviest blows since Pantelleria collapsed June 11, blasted Axis shipping, troops and air fields in Sicily and Sardinia yesterday, Allied headquarters announced today.

Maj. Gen. James H. Doolittle's strategic air force—one of the two sections of the northwest African air command—racked up its greatest single-day victory, downing 39 enemy craft.

Eight Planes Lost

Eight American planes were lost as the mighty air arm punched at Mussolini's island fortresses, spreading destruction in Messina and Milo airfield in Sicily, and ripping at shipping, airfields and communications in Sardinia.

The 39 enemy planes downed in air battles was the largest toll in any day by the strategic air force—the aerial division assigned to strike at enemy bases, communications and supply lines. Larger numbers of Axis planes have been destroyed however, in one day in combined operations of the strategic and tactical air forces and Middle East fliers.

Twenty-three of the 39 were smashed down in a great dogfight over Golfo Aranci in northern Sardinia, where B-25 Mitchell bombers laid hits among docks and railway yards.

Large Force in Action

The communique did not disclose the number of participating American aircraft, but the force was described as the largest winging out in pre-invasion aerial assault since Pantelleria capitulated to air power.

Messina was struck in daylight by Flying Fortresses and hits were made on the ferry terminal leading to the Italian mainland, on railway yards and upon the power station, headquarters reported.

P-38 Lightnings carrying bombs pounded the airfield at Milo, in western Sicily near Trapani, and shot up Axis troops there, and also strafed airplanes on the Villacidro airfield.

Marauder bombers set three [illegible] on fire at Olbia in northern Sardinia, one of them exploding, fighter-bombers shot up [illegible] stations in southern Sardinia.

The heavy assaults Friday followed a Thursday night raid by big R.A.F. bombers of the Middle East air command upon Comiso, Sicily. The night raid came after a daylight pounding of the same target by American Liberators, and set fire to hangars and workshops, a Middle East communique reported.

JUN 20 1943

JUN 20 1943

30-24-5175

30.24-5175

Messina Bombed; 39 Planes Bagged

[By the Associated Press]

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 19—The greatest attacking force of American planes to go into action since the surrender of Pantelleria raided Sicilian and Sardinian targets yesterday and shot down thirty-nine enemy planes in combat.

Maj. Gen. James H. Doolittle's Strategic Air Force lost eight planes in resuming the offensive. The total of thirty-nine enemy planes shot down was the greatest number of fighters destroyed in the air by Doolittle's men in a single day, although there have been bigger combined bags by the Strategic and Tactical Air Forces and Middle East airmen.

Large formations of Flying Fortresses attacked the eastern Sicilian city of Messina, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's communique announced. Three ships were hit and set on fire, one exploding, at Olbia in northern Sardinia.

Radio Stations Strafed

Free lancing fighter-bombers shot up three radio stations in southern Sardinia, strafed aircraft on Villacidro airfield and attacked Axis troops on Milo airfield in Sicily.

Other targets were Golfo Aranci in Sardinia and communications in southern Sardinia, while heavy bombers of the RAF roared out of Middle East command bases to smash at Comiso in the southeastern corner of Sicily Thursday night. Malta's intruders again strafed and bombed railway installations in southern Italy last night.

Raid Broken

American fighters of the Tactical Air Force, patrolling over Pantelleria to break up Axis raids, prevented a formation of German Junkers 88s from bombing the island.

The Strategic Air Force raiders fought their way through heavy opposition both on the ground and in the air to carry out their mission, particularly at Golfo Aranci in northern Sardinia, where twenty-three of the enemy planes were batted down in a sustained dogfight.

The war bulletin said flyers with the heavy force of Flying Fortresses on the Messina raid observed many hits on the ferry terminal leading to the Italian mainland only a few miles away, on the power station and one the railway yards.

Airdrome Pounded

A force of P-38 bomb-carrying Lightnings hit the airfield at Milo, on the western tip of Sicily near Trapani.

In a Thursday night raid on the Comiso airfield, the British heavyweights set a hangar on the southern edge of the field afire, an observer saw flames starting in other hangars, workshops, and in dispersal areas. A strong force of American Liberators made heavy attacks on Comiso airfield during the day Thursday.

Aegean Ships Hit

Long range bombers from the Middle East swept over the Aegean in another of their uninterrupted series of daily attacks, hitting a large schooner and four sailing vessels off the west coast of Greece and blasting a railway engine on the mainland, the Cairo announcement said.

(The Italian communique recorded by the Associated Press from a Rome broadcast, also indicated a heavy Allied attack on Syracuse, Scilian coastal city near the southeastern corner of the island and site of an Axis airfield. Rome said eleven were killed and twenty injured there. Allied sources made no mention of such an attack.

Rome Reports Attack

(Other casualties, the broadcast said, included ten killed and fifty-four injured at Messina and ten injured at Olbia.

(Broadcasts from both Rome and Berlin reported that Axis aircraf had attacked shipping at Pantelleria and along the Algerian coast.

(The Rome communique said torpedo planes sank a 6,000-ton ship off Algeria and seriously damaged another.

(Berlin broadcasts reported attacks by German bombers on ships at anchor in Pantelleria roadstead yesterday, with direct hits being scored on a 5,000-ton merchantman.

(Rome told of Allied raids on inhabited centers in Sardinia, Sicily, Calabria and Campani. Allied announcements made no immediate reference to any raids in the province of Calabria, on the mainland.

(The Italian communique added that some of the crews of twenty seven planes reported shot down had been taken prisoner.

JUN 21 1943

MUSSOLINI CALLS WAR CONFERENCE, PEACE PLEA HINTED

Prince Umberto, Marshal Badoglio Reported in Algiers.

AXIS DENIES RUMOR

Allies Drop Leaflets Inviting Italians to Collaborate.

LONDON, June 19 — (AP) Dramatic rumors—denied by the Axis—said that high Italian peace envoys were in Algiers today as Premier Mussolini called his cabinet into another war conference.

Even as Mussolini's subordinates approved new decrees, the mightiest Allied air blows since those cascaded on Pantelleria were drumming out a potential path of invasion in Sicily and Sardinia, outpost islands guarding the menaced mainland. Nine provinces comprising the toe and heel of the Italian boot were freshly placed under martial law—"made zones of operations" as Rome radio put it.

No Official Information

Official London and Algiers sources declared they had no information on the Reuters report from the French African capital that Crown Prince Umberto, an army group commander, and the deposed Marshal Pietro Badoglio had come to the Allied camp bearing the olive branch.

A German broadcast quoted a Rome dispatch as saying the report about Umberto and Marshal Badoglio on a peace mission was "so absurd and senseless that it denies itself."

A little earlier, the same radio had said Umberto "has been visiting for several days Calabria localities hit by air raids." Calabria is the toe of the Italian boot, the nearest part of the mainland to Algiers. Both broadcasts of DNB dispatches were recorded by the Associated Press.

Allies Drop Leaflets

The Rome radio, in a broadcast recorded here by Reuters, said the Allies were dropping leaflets inviting the Italian population to collaborate with them.

The Morocco radio said that the Fascist party directorate had asked Mussolini to hand over the entire conduct of the war to the party. The Morocco radio has been a source of frequent misinformation. This report suggested that a party revolt might be brewing which would put Il Duce on the skids in a move preliminary to eventual bargaining with the Allies.

The Italians know, however, that "unconditional surrender" is the only Allied term because it was thus pronounced in January at the Casablanca conference of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill. The rumor of an Italian peace bid was the latest of series of three. Reports of similar feelers from Rumania and Hungary were denied violently by Axis spokesmen.

The Rome radio, as heard by the Associated Press, said Mussolini's meeting with the cabinet dealt with domestic affairs.

Labor Conscripted

A Berlin broadcast said all Italian men from 18 to 36 and women from 18 to 24 not otherwise engaged in war work had been ordered placed under labor conscription effective July 1. The Ankara radio quoted a Zurich dispatch saying the main cities of Sicily and Naples would be evacuated of nearly all civilians by July 10.

The jittery state of Italian officialdom, as well as of the Fascist public, was reflected in two swiftly succeeding orders. The first fixed hard penalties for Italians failing to report landings of Allied parachutists or other agents; the second offered cash rewards to soldiers discovering parachutists or Allied secret works in Italian cities.

The Ministry of Information recorded a broadcast which said the menace of landings of single Allied 'chutists had become "acute of late." This was followed by another Rome broadcast boasting that "so far, not a single Allied soldier has set foot on European soil."

Radio Algiers reported that "tension between German and Italian troops occupying Greece is rising steadily."

A Tass report from Istanbul said that Italian authorities at the Adriatic port of Pola had arrested several German spies after the Nazis disregarded an Italian warning to stop espionage in Italian military bases.

CROWN PRINCE IS SAID TO BE SEEKING TERMS

JUN 20 1943

He Is Reported to Be in Algiers With Badoglio —Axis Denies It.

ATTACK RENEWED ON ISLANDS

Greatest Air Assault Since Fall of Pantelleria Rocks Sicily and Sardinia.

London, June 19 (A. P.). — Reuters reported from Algiers today that rumors were current that Italian peace envoys, possibly including Crown Prince Humbert and Marshal Pietro Badoglio, former Italian Chief of Staff, were in the French African capital as Premier Mussolini presided over a cabinet meeting in Rome which the Italian radio said approved new decrees.

The German radio denied the rumors. Berlin quoted a Rome dispatch saying that the peace mission story was "so absurd and senseless that it denies itself." Without mentioning the Algiers rumors, the German radio quoted a Rome dispatch as saying Crown Prince Humbert "has been visiting for several days Reggio Calabria localities hit by air raids."

[The Italian news agency also denied the rumors, the London radio reported late today.]

Official London quarters said they had no confirmation of the rumors of 'peace envoys in Algiers, and efforts to verify the rumors were unavailing.

The report recalled the statement of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill, made in January at Casablanca, that only unconditional surrender would be accepted from any weakening Axis nation.

Mussolini stepped back into the limelight last night after a week of strange silence, declaring nine threatened southern Italian provinces operation zones. This meant martial law was extended to most of the Italian boot south of Naples.

The Morocco radio asserted that the Fascist party directorate had asked Mussolini to relinquish the entire conduct of the war to the party. This unconfirmed report, recorded by the Associated Press, suggested that strife within the party was rampant and that efforts might be under way to oust Mussolini in a move preliminary to eventual bargaining with the Allies.

During most of the week reports emanating from Italy have pictured Carlo Scorza, secretary of the Fascist party, as the dominant figure in the Government.

Trustworthy reports from inside Europe said a tide of Italian bitterness has been rising against Mussolini, whose adventure into war already has cost Italy all her African empire and the Mediterranean islands of Pantelleria, Lampedusa, Lampione and Linosa. Italy too has been brought under aerial bombardment. Moreover, Mussolini's deals with the Germans have brought an increasing dominance from the senior Axis power.

These reports said Mussolini was attempting to shift the blame for his errors upon the Fascist Party National Directorate, and that this was the reason for the eminence of the directorate in Italian affairs earlier this week. However, all members of the directorate were appointed by Mussolini.

[CBS reported from Zurich, Switzerland, that the Italian Government had ordered the evacuation of all non-essential personnel from Naples and the larger towns of Sicily by July 10. The same source said the evacuation of Sardinia would be completed by the end of June, and the Vichy radio said Pierre Laval, French chief of government, had been conferring in Paris with the prefect of Corsica. That French island, north of Sardinia, is occupied by Italy.]

Provinces Listed

The Rome radio, in a report recorded by the Associated Press, said the affected provinces were Foggia, Bari, Brindisi, Lecce, Taranto, Cosenza, Catanzaro, Matera and part of Reggio Calabria. Sardinia and Sicily, besieged Italian Mediterranean outpost islands, long have been under martial law and "zones of operation."

Mussolini Holds Cabinet Meeting

London, June 19 (A. P.).—The Italian Cabinet met today with Premier Mussolini presiding, and approved several decrees, the Rome radio said in a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press.

JUN 20 1943

KNOCKOUT ATTACK AGAINST JAPS SEEN IN ALLIED MOVES

Britain Cheered by Appointments of Wavell, Gen. Auchinleck.

LONDON, June 19—(AP) Unofficial observers suggested today the possibility that an American general was being considered along with several British officers for commander in chief of the new separate East Asia military command which may take over direction of a knockout blow against Japan.

The formation of the new command was promised in a London announcement of the appointments of Field Marshal Sir Archibald P. Wavell as viceroy of India and Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck as military commander in chief in India to succeed Marshal Wavell.

Appointments Please Britain

Britons cheered the appointments, which were interpreted as fitting into the Allied grand strategy of a multi-front war.

No disclosure of the names under consideration for assignment as East Asia commander came from any authoritative source, but a decision was expected within a few days.

(Of American generals now in the Orient, Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell is the senior. He is commander of U. S. troops in China, Burma and India.)

It seemed probable that no matter who gets the appointment, some reshuffling will result in the present British general staff, where changes might be necessitated by withdrawals to fill posts in the new command.

An announcement from No. 10 Downing street said that, as the first step in the plan to create an East Asia command, "It is proposed to relieve the commander in chief in India of responsibility for the conduct of operations against Japan.

A note of surprise appeared to dominate world press comments on the Wavell and Auchinleck appointments.

See No Change in Policy

While some Indian papers deplored the appointments as meaning no change in the present British policy in India, others stressed Marshall Wavell's knowledge of the country and the need for set the Japanese menace before else.

The British press was virtually solid in its praise and was quick to tell readers that the appointments were received warmly by Americans. Several papers carried editorial comment of leading United States papers.

Axis comment generally featured the military character of the appointments and immediately started the propaganda machine rolling on the theme of "dark days ahead for India."

The Berlin radio, in a broadcast recorded here by Reuters, said "careful observers must come to the conclusion that Britain is making a final resort to the military whip—considering the situation so serious that only the most brutal and stern measures can do."

Marshal Wavell himself, cheered by the way Londoners received the news of his promotion, is spending the week-end quietly at a country house in the Midlands.

To Extend Home Rule

Some London papers predicted that he would take the earliest opportunity to emphasize that Britain intends to give India self-rule as soon as possible after the war.

The proposal of a new military command was in line with Britain's promise to fight alongside the United States after victory in Europe until Japan is dealt a final death blow.

Marshal Wavell, who succeeds the Marquess of Linlithgow, will become Lord Wavell and will take up his new duties in India when Lord Linlithgow's term expires in October. The appointment is for five years.

New Delhi dispatches said little excitement was caused in the Indian capital by Marshal Wavell's appointment, suggesting that the average Indian felt that no matter who the viceroy might be he must follow London's policy.

The Times of India said the "association of General Auchinleck with Marshal Wavell is an augury of the important tasks which await India in the near future."

The Bombay Chronicle said the appointment was in accord with Prime Minister Churchill's recent declaration that he did not intend to "preside over the liquidation of the British Empire."

The Hindustani Times, edited by Devadas Gandhi, son of the jailed Congress Party leader, commented that the "selection of Wavell evidently is an admission that none of the front ranking men of England is prepared to come to India to clear up the Linlithgow mess."

"Is it fair to Wavell that he, a soldier, should be expected to deal with the legal confusion caused by a reckless series of ordinances, or is it Britain's settled policy to pay no heed to the lessons of damaging judicial pronouncements, of which an end is not yet in sight?" the paper asked.

SHIFT IN INDIA SEEN SPEEDING DRIVE ON JAPS

JUN 20 1943

Wavell Is Named Viceroy, Auchinleck Succeeding as Military Chief.

FRUIT OF U. S. CONFERENCE

Change in Asiatic Line-up Held Part of General Strategy Decided in Washington.

London, June 19 (A. P.).—Great Britain today appointed Field Marshal Sir Archibald Wavell as Viceroy of India and announced the forthcoming formation of a new East Asia command to direct the death blow against Japan.

The London press promptly hailed the Wavell appointment and predicted he would take the earliest opportunity to emphasize that the British Government intends to give India self-rule as soon after the war as possible.

The proposal to set up the new military command implied Britain's promise to add her full might to that of the United States in the war against Japan when the European fight has come to a successful conclusion, a promise first voiced by Prime Minister Churchill.

"Further announcement on this subject will be made soon," said a statement from No. 10 Downing street.

Takes Post in October.

As Viceroy and Governor-General of India, Sir Archibald, who now becomes Lord Wavell, succeeds the Marquess of Linlithgow. The appointment is for five years.

To take Field Marshal Wavell's place as commander in chief in India the British Government appointed Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck, who was relieved as British commander in the Middle East in 1942.

Marshal Wavell, now in Britain, will return to India to begin his duties when Lord Linlithgow's term expires in October. Gen. Auchinleck takes over at once as Indian military commander, a position he held in 1940-41 before being shifted to the Middle East.

As the first step in the plan to create the new East Asia command, the announcement said, "It is proposed to relieve the commander in chief in India of responsibility for the conduct of operations against Japan."

This intention was viewed as one of the first tangible steps in development of the global strategy evolved in the recent Washing conferences between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill in which Marshal Wavell and the air and naval commanders in India took part.

Firm Policy Expected.

London observers hoped that Marshal Wavell, regarded as a capable civil administrator in dealing with complex political problems, might be able to establish better relations with Mohandas, K. Gandhi, now in custody, along with many other native Indian leaders.

"There will be those, no doubt, in India itself and particularly in the United States," declared the London News Chronicle, "who will read into the appointment the Government's determination to pursue a policy of stern and unyielding discipline in Indian affairs.

"But it would be quite unfair to Sir Archibald to interpret it in that way. His appointment as Viceroy must be judged on his merits as a man."

LADY WAVELL AVOIDS PUBLICITY

London, June 19 (A. P.).—Lady Wavell, who as the Vicereine of India virtually will be queen to 400,000,000 people, is one of the least publicized wives of Britain's leaders.

During peace time or war she can be found at the right hand of the Field Marshal. When he was in Africa she was in Cairo directing welfare organizations. She now is in India.

She likes people, is a keen rider and a fine musician. They have been married twenty-seven years and have three daugh-

Duesseldorf Reported in Ruins

London Air Ministry Says More Than 1000 Acres Are Totally Devastated.

London, June 19 (A. P.).—The Air Ministry said today that Duesseldorf is in ruins, with more than 1,000 acres devastated after the great attack by the Royal Air Force on June 11.

JUN 20 1943

"When a complete count of all the damage has been made, it is thought that the figures will be more like 1,500 acres—considerably over two square miles," the Ministry said after an examination of aerial photographs. "This is the most shattering blow to the German war potential which so far has been struck in the battle of the Ruhr."

Duesseldorf is the administrative capital of the whole Ruhr district and the leading commercial city of western Germany. It was attacked by an all-time record force of heavy bombers, out of which the R. A. F. lost forty-three planes.

This one night's bombing obliterated all the work of reconstruction carried on through last autumn and winter, after 380 acres had been flattened last summer, the Ministry said, adding that three times as much repair work again is to be done now, probably an impossible task at this stage of the war. "The factories which were completely reconstructed now have been as completely wrecked," the statement said.

The report also noted that fire that evidently swept unchecked over whole districts, smoldered for seven days, and that "there is hardly one building on the whole Oststrasse, nearly a mile long, which has not been gutted."

Among the war plants hit were the Rheinmetall Borsig, makers of gun shells and other armaments; the Mannesmannrohren Werke, manufacturers of iron and steel tubes and submarine mine cases, and the J. G. Schwietzke plant, makers of torpedoes and tubes. The transportation facilities of the great inland port also were damaged heavily, and the head offices and administrative departments of many Rhine and Ruhr heavy industries were blasted.

The attack was the fifty-third upon Duesseldorf. The R. A. F. has been over the Rhine and Ruhr areas four times since that raid, and so far this month has lost ninety-nine heavy bombers.

the blasted area.

Bombers Give Nazis Rest

Meanwhile Hitler's Europe had a quiet night last night—the first after a week-long pounding of his vital war centers by RAF and American heavies.

There was no official explanation of the gradually lessening blows which ended after Thursday night's light forays by Intruders and Mosquitoes.

Hitler's last respite from the pre-invasion pounding lasted almost two weeks and ended suddenly on June 11, when more than 200 four-engined American bombers loosed tons of explosives in a daylight raid on Wilhelmshaven and Cuxhaven. The RAF followed up that night in the hour-long assault on Duesseldorf and Muenster.

Britain also was raid-free last night.

(The German radio in a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press reported yesterday's only aerial activity. It said Spitfires and Beaufighters were repelled off the Dutch coast, with the destruction of two Spitfires and damage to several Beaufighters.)

R.A.F. OVER GERMANY

LONDON, Sunday, June 20—(AP) R.A.F. bombers were over German-occupied territory last night again after a one-night lull, it was stated authoritatively today.

Two enemy planes were destroyed over northern France by the R. A. F. during the night, the British said.

England went raid free for nearly 48 hours but the Germans made a weak attempt to raid London early today.

Lloyd George Sees Japan, Reich Hit at Same Time

Says Washington Conference Changed Casablanca Decision

LONDON, June 19 (AP).—David Lloyd George, British Prime Minister in World War I., declared today that the Washington strategy conference had decided that "the war against Japan should be carried on simultaneously with that against Germany," changing the Casablanca decision to concentrate upon Germany first.

The Washington decision "means more shipping," he said. "The demands upon our shipping will be—I will not say doubled—but increased."

Speaking to several hundred fellow members of the National Farmers' Union, visiting his farm at Churt, Lloyd George said: "The Americans, who are building far more than we are, will need their ships for the Pacific. We will need ours for Burma.

"Farmers and workers throughout the land . . . will have to redouble their energies."

NEW ICELAND COMMANDER

LONDON, June 19 — (AP) U. S. headquarters of the European theater of operations announced today that Maj. Gen. William S. Key had taken over the Iceland command formally Thursday on the departure of Maj. Gen. Charles H. Bonesteel who received the Distinguished Service Medal for "exceptional and meritorious service." The destination of Gen. Bonesteel, who had commanded American forces in Iceland since Sept. 16, 1941, was not disclosed.

Grigg Cheers U.S. Wounded

British War Secretary Visits Them In African Hospital

LONDON, June 19 (AP).—Sir James Grigg, Secretary of State for War, made a point of seeking out Americans while visiting wounded soldiers in a North African hospital this week, the War Office said today.

Sir James spoke to Sergeant Ernest Burton, of Angola, Ind.; Lieutenant George McLaren, of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Morris Ribyat, Utica, N. Y., at a hospital in Algiers area.

JUN 20 1943

30-24-5177

30-24-5177

Good News for Men on K. P.

LONDON, June 19 (AP).—Happy days for the "kitchen police." The Quartermaster Division recommended today that potatoes be served in their jackets at United States Army messes in Britain hereafter, to save an estimated 16 per cent waste in peeling them.

LAGUARDIA HEARD BY LONDON THRONG

London, June 19 (A. P.).—The voice of Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia of New York rang through Trafalgar Square today, saying "We have the nasty Nazi and the filthy Fascist and the slimy Jap well on the run now."

His message, recorded for broadcast, was presented on a "save salvage and save ships" program. The familiar high-pitched voice was heard by a Saturday afternoon throng which included many American soldiers on leave.

BRITAIN REPLACES WARSHIP LOSSES

900 Fighting Craft Built Since War Started, Says Labor Peer.

HAYES, England, June 19.—(AP) Lord Winster said in a speech today that British shipyards had built 900 warships since the war began and had replaced by last September all naval losses suffered by the Royal navy.

The Labor peer, frequently critical of the Admiralty, said this was evidence that Britannia still rules the waves.

He said that 3,000,000 soldiers had been delivered overseas with the loss of only 1,348 men since the fall of France. He declared that 5,000,000 tons of Axis shipping had been sunk and 3,000,000 tons damaged to March, 1943.

Two enemy battleships, 14 cruisers, 87 destroyers and many other lesser vessels have been sunk, he said, adding that the Italians had been unable to sink a single British warship so far.

Lord Winster said that in two out of three great convoys sent to North Africa, not a ship or a life was lost. Losses in convoy protection have been kept down to one half of one per cent and the merchant navy has delivered 40,000,000 tons of imports annually, he said.

Lord Winster declared that at any given mome[illegible] merchantmen and 600 wa[illegible] were at sea. Merchant naval [illegible]alties in the first three years of war were placed at 16,000.

SPAIN IS BUILDING ON RUINS OF STRIFE

Reconstruction Battle Dooms Unsanitary, Dirty Homes.

JUN 20 1943

BY CHARLES FOLTZ

MADRID, June 19.—(AP) When the war that swept the world began in 1939 Spain was beginning the reconstruction following the war that swept Spain for the three preceding years.

Now new villages have risen near the remains of the old and Spain is well along in the post-war reconstruction which sooner or later the whole warring world must face.

Nor is Spain's reconstruction battle designed only to replace homes destroyed by war. Thousands of homes are going up to replace dirty, overcrowded, unsanitary hovels used for centuries due to poverty, absentee landlords and indifferent governments.

Two organizations were created by the Franco government to tackle these problems—the National Housing Institute and the General Directorate of Devastated Regions.

Theirs is the job of reconstructing a nation swept by modern war and suffering from centuries of negligence. They began their work and carry it on at a time when world war has limited the necessary raw materials.

Spain's railroad rolling stock was heavily damaged by war; highways were full of war-torn holes, and road transport suffered from gasoline and oil restrictions.

Despite this, a total of 97,000 houses have been built, are under construction or have been approved for construction at a cost of about $210,000,000.

And that, say officials of the two organizations, is only the beginning. They say 10 per cent of Spain's 4,390,440 apartment houses and homes are not fit for human habitation. Their goal is 500,000 new homes.

U-boat Force Biggest in May

But Sir Harold Balfour Says Britain's Losses Were Lowest in Year and a Half.

Margate, England, June 19 (A. P.).—Germany threw her greatest submarine force in history into an all-out sea offensive against Allied shipping in May, Sir Harold Balfour, Under-Secretary of State for Air, told an audience today at a "Wings for Victory" bond-selling campaign. He repeated Prime Minister Churchill's assertion that Britain's May losses, nevertheless, were lower than in any other month since the United States entered the war.

The German offensive against ships laden with food, munitions and men was the biggest effort to date and was fought out over 10,000,000 square miles of sea, he said.

"Into it they put more submarines than ever had been used before," Sir Harold declared. "They attacked our convoys with the greatest determination. It was a major offensive mounted on a grand scale with great forces."

R. A. F. Had Busy Month.

More U-boats were attacked by the R. A. F.'s coastal command than ever before in one month and U-boat sightings reached the unprecedented peak, he said, remarking that "next in importance to securing a kill on a U-boat is to make it submerge and stay submerged."

He cautioned that the current lull may be only teemporary.

"The enemy is regrouping his shattered forces and filling up casualty gaps in his submarine ranks. When and where he will launch an all-out offensive rests with the future. The Battle of the Atlantic cannot end until the war has been won," he said.

Nogues Reaches Lisbon And Seeks Long Rest

Lisbon, June 19 (A. P.).—Gen. Auguste Nogues, former resident general of French Morocco, arrived at Lisbon by airplane today and said that he intended to take a long rest. One of the French North African officials to whom Gen. Charles de Gaulle objected for alleged pro-Vichy connections, he was succeeded in Morocco by Gabriel Puaux.

See Finish This Year

EDMONTON, Alta., June 19 (CP).—A great war-time oil development project in the north known officially as "Canol," involving the drilling of scores of wells, the laying of more than 1,000 miles of pipe line and other work, probably will be completed in 1943, it was announced today by Captain Freeman C. Bishop, public relations officer for the Northwest Service Command of the United States Army.

The project is said to rival the Alaska military highway in scope and the rapidity with which the entire area has been expanded to meet the increasing needs of war.

Brigadier General James A. O'Connor, commanding general in charge of the Alaska Highway, said the unflagging determination of the troops and civilians employed on the oil project had made possible the success of the operation. The oil project, like the highway, is under O'Connor's command.

Bishop said an example of the difficulties encountered in developing the oil wells and the laying of pipe lines was the finding of a route from Whitehorse, Y. T., to Norman Wells, in the Northwest Territory. Seven expeditions were sent on the 400-mile trek through a wilderness to Norman until finally one got through with a dog sled and an Indian guide to blaze a trail for a road now being completed. Alongside this road a pipe line twists and turns towards the northwest and Japan.

Huge amounts of equipment and airplane loads of workmen have been flown into the many oil-bearing sections of the north country, including the Athabaska oil tar sands, a great mass of oil-bearing earth which is processed under hydraulic pressure to produce oil.

Nazis Build Hidden Defenses

JUN 20 1943

Camouflaged Town in Jutland Is Big Enough to Hold 10,000 Soldiers.

Stockholm, June 19 (A. P.).—The Germans have built well-camouflaged military towns in Jutland as anti-invasion nerve centers from which highly mobile units can be rushed to any danger point in Denmark, reliable information reaching here disclosed today.

The towns—one of them is big enough to house 10,000 soldiers—are understood to be typical of the Nazi scheme for defending the Lowlands, France and the Balkans by economically concentrating reserves instead of stretching them thin along the entire coastline.

One large town has been built north of the rail junction at Brande, where once there was only farm land.

Along with the reports of defense measures taken by the invasion-nervous Germans came stories which indicated that military sabotage by the Danes continued on a large scale—some major destruction at least once every twenty-four hours, with the Danish police giving the saboteurs passive assistance, it was said.

Towns Evacuated.

Sources here estimated the Germans now have about 200,000 troops in Denmark compared with 60,000 two months ago. They are concentrated mostly in Jutland, which is a forbidden military zone.

Sections of the west coast, where towns were evacuated to permit the construction of fortifications, are being covered by shifting dunes. To build defenses in the sand the Germans removed natural growths which had held the dunes in check and the wind has whipped the sand over the area, converting it into a wasteland.

Some of the Danes' sabotage on German installations and factories was amateurish, having only a nuisance value, but the informants said it served, as a diversion from major acts carried out by professionals, many of them Danes who parachuted back to their native country for their task.

The Germans have posted heavier guards on the railways, which have proved especially vulnerable.

More Lenient to Danes.

Despite Danish resistance, it was said, the Nazis still are not using strong-arm methods typical in the other occupied countries. The sources estimated that 3,000 Danes at present are in jail or concentration camps, mainly for underground activity against the Nazis.

On the streets the Danes, faring better than people in other occupied lands, still look past the Germans as though they do not exist, the sources said.

The Danish Nazi party, having failed to make any progress, has been shorn of its financial support from Berlin and forced to discontinue publishing its two weekly newspapers and change its daily to a weekly, the sources reported. They said the party was expected to fold up in a couple of months.

The informants said that meanwhile the Danish illegal press was flourishing. They said miniature London "Times" weekly supplements, dropped by the Royal Air Force, were read avidly and passed from person to person.

Though Germany constantly is draining Denmark of its ham, bacon, eggs and butter, the sources said, the food situation generally is good.

JUN 20 1943

NORWAY AWAITS REVOLT SIGNAL; WILL BE READY

Norwegian Underground Continues to Function Despite Gestapo.

BY JOHN F. COLBURN

STOCKHOLM, (AP) Loyal Norwegians await only a signal from the Royal Government in London to break into open rebellion.

That outbreak, linked with invasion of the continent or Norway, is expected to see organized moves to cripple German air and U-boat bases which could be used to attack Allied troop convoys, and to blast railway lines and bridges to hinder the movements of the 200,000 German troops in Norway.

Competent Norwegian sources see little possibility of a large-scale invasion of Norway this summer due to the extremely short periods of darkness, but Stockholm observers expect extensive commando raids, on the scale of Dieppe, timed with a European ground offensive.

Resumption of even limited military activity on Norwegian soil previous fighting ceased in June, 1940, two months after the German invasion—would have a two-fold purpose; first, to launch an active revolt not only of the underground movement but of the 30,000 conscripted foreign workers in Norway; and second, to force Sweden to discontinue permission for Germans to use Swedish railways to transport Nazi troops and supplies, which Sweden promises whenever the military quiet is broken in Norway.

Underground Active

The Norwegian underground continues to operate despite Nazi efforts to crush it through executions, labor mobilization and rigid travel restrictions. The execution of 13 persons in the Trondheim area in May brought the total to 168 since April, 1940, most of whom were connected with the underground movement which is composed of men and women from all ranks and professions.

JUN 20 1943

The composition and operation of the underground is a closely guarded secret but members said it was so constituted that there were always people available to step into gaps caused by arrests and flights of persons from the police, whom they admit have made "considerable progress" in detecting some of the best men in the movement.

Some former soldiers belong to the underground, but thousands of others escaped and are now with Norwegian forces in Great Britain. Most Norwegian officers refused to give a pledge not to fight against Germany again and 500 were taken to Germany concentration camps last year. Norway's commander-in-chief, Otto Ruge, is reportedly held in Orianienburg, Germany.

Arms, ammunition and explosives which the Norwegians hid from the Germans in 1940 are carefully cached for use by the underground, and there have been reliable reports that it also has arms purchased from Nazi soldiers who looted German depots.

Norwegians have purposely been limiting acts of sabotage to minor but systematic efforts which are hard to detect. Early experience showed that the ranks could not stand reprisals inflicted for major sabotage activities.

Sand in the bearings of machinery and around the axle bearings of railway cars is typical.

Some concrete fortifications look strong but will crumble like sand under a hard blow as the result of the mixture evolved by forced laborers.

Loyal church and school authorities continue their oral sabotage of Quisling policies. They have been the leaders against the use of Norwegian labor on military projects, contending that it violates the Hague conventions of 1907.

OUSTER OF VON PAPEN IS REPORTED IN SWEDEN

STOCKHOLM, June 19—(AP) The newspaper Svenska Dagbladet quoted the Bern radio today as saying that Franz von Papen, German ambassador to Turkey, had been dismissed by Minister of Foreign Affairs Joachim von Ribbentrop.

(The dispatch gave no reason for the dismissal, and there was no confirmation of the report from other sources).

MANNERHEIM ESCAPES RED ARTILLERY BARRAGE

STOCKHOLM, June 19—(AP) Field Marshal Baron Carl Gustaf Mannerheim barely escaped death when he was caught in a sudden Russian artillery barrage during an inspection at the front two weeks ago, Stockholm sources said today.

Marshal Mannerheim, who recently suffered a serious illness, had to throw himself into a ditch, said these sources, who cannot be identified by name.

RUSSIAN BOMBERS RAID NAZI AIRPORTS BEHIND OREL FRONT

Bryansk Pounded by Long-Range Planes Without Loss.

LONDON, Sunday, June 20—(AP) The Russians announced early today that their long-range bombers attacked German airdromes Friday night, concentrating particularly on the enemy airbase northwest of Bryansk, behind the Orel front where both sides have massed large quantities of reserves and supplies.

The Red airmen started swiftly-spreading fires among ammunition and fuel dumps and plane repair buildings, Moscow reported in a broadcast recorded here by the Soviet monitor. The announcement said all of the attacking planes returned safely.

The Soviet midnight communique disclosed that French fighter pilots now are in action with the Red airforce. They form a group known as the "Normandy squadron" operating in one sector of the Russian front.

"During the past few days six pilots of this squadron in air combat brought down three German Focke-Wolf-190 planes," said the midnight bulletin, recorded by the Soviet monitor.

The bulletin mentioned no activity yesterday on the Orel sector, but the noon communique said the Russians had made a thrust northwest of Mtsensk, about 40 miles above Orel, last night, and had advanced and occupied "a more advantageous position" after killing about 100 Germans.

Big Offensive at Orel Expected

Both Russian and Nazis Reported to Have Concentrated Large Reserves in Area.

JUN 20 1943

Moscow, June 19 (A. P.).—Continued Nazi counter-attacks aimed at recapturing strong points northwest of Mtsensk in the Orel sector of the Russian front were viewed by military observers today as increasingly significant.

The Germans have made repeated attacks during the past week, throwing fresh reserves and heavier equipment into the attempt to take positions recently lost to Red Army troops.

These observers point out that the fighting, although local, has been stronger than any other reported along the front in days, and do not believe the Germans would be making the special effort to retake the lost ground unless it holds unusual value for them.

Both sides were reported to have concentrated large reserves and supplies in the Orel area, which is the hinge of the central and southern fronts, and which is considered a possible point for a strong offensive for either.

The Russian midnight communique declared meanwhile that more than 2,000 German troops had been killed in the Orel area during the last week. Indicating that the added heavier equipment being employed there, the Russians said they had knocked out seventeen tanks, twelve guns and eighteen mortars.

JUN 20 1943

MOSCOW MAGAZINE CRITICIZES ALLIES

Moscow, June 18 (Delayed) (A. P.).—The new magazine War and Workers Class, published by the labor unions of Russia, said today that "unhealthy tendencies of complacency" had been noted in the American and British press a month after the Tunisian victory.

"Isolationists are actively trying to prevent Allied armies from invading Europe," it added.

In the most outspoken article on Japan to appear in the Russian press since Pearl Harbor, the magazine said: "As soon as the Japanese meet the serious resistance of Allied forces they are unable to retain the strategical initiative."

FRENCH DISPUTE MAY BE SETTLED AT PARLEY MONDAY

Both Factions Appear Satisfied with Compromise on Army Control.

ALGIERS, June 19—(AP) Belief that the long-standing dispute between French factions may be ended officially Monday grew today after both Generals Charles de Gaulle and Henri Giraud and their followers indicated increasing satisfaction over a proposed compromise plan for control over the French military forces.

The compromise, which would install Gen. de Gaulle as defense commissioner and retain Gen. Giraud as commander-in-chief, will be considered Monday by the Committee for National Liberation.

Approval Seen

Both camps officially remained silent on the proposal, but in each there was ample evidence that the broad outline of the suggested agreement was likely to win approval.

The plan provides that the defense commissioner and commander-in-chief would be members of a separate Committee of National Defense along with three others—Jean Monnet as commissioner of armament and supply, Andrew Philip as commissioner of the interior and resistance in France, and either Gen. Georges Catroux, commissioner of Moslem affairs, or Gen. Alphonse Georges, commissioner without portfolio.

To Recognize Forces

Greatest interest was shown, however, in an additional plan for a sub-committee composed of Gen. de Gaulle and the chiefs of staff of army, navy, and air to carry out actual reorganization of French armed forces.

Gen. de Gaulle's followers said they believed this would give their chief full opportunity to embark upon his long cherished plan for eliminating from responsible positions all men suspected of the slightest pre-November collaboration with Vichy.

The Giraud forces are supporting Gen. Alphonse Juin for army chief of staff, and the de Gaullist proposed General Bouscat for air chief of staff.

The prospects of early settlement of the controversy between Gen. Giraud and Gen. de Gaulle appeared to have been improved by observance yesterday of the third anniversary of Gen. de Gaulle's announcement that the French would continue to fight despite the fall of France.

FRENCH ARMY PLAN REPORTED

Giraud and De Gaulle Said to Have Compromised.

Algiers, June 19 (A. P.).—A compromise settlement of one of the major differences between Gens. Charles de Gaulle and Henri Giraud—that of Army organization—was reported today to be acceptable in most respects to the two French leaders.

The proposal was advanced yesterday, on the third anniversary of Gen. de Gaulle's organization of the Fighting French, by the moderates of the thirteen-man Committee of National Liberation, which has become the provisional government of the overseas empire.

It provides for the appointment of a Committee of National Defense, including Gen. de Gaulle as Defense Commissioner, Gen. Giraud as commander in chief, Jean Mommet as Commissioner of Armament and Supply. Andre Philip as Commissioner of the Interior and Resistance in France, and either Gen. Alphonse Georges or Gen. Georges Catroux.

At present Gen. Catroux is Commissioner for Moslem Affairs, while Gen. Georges is a Commissioner without portfolio.

The actual work of reorganization would be in the hands of a sub-committee composed of Gen. de Gaulle and the chiefs of staff of the army, navy and air force, whose acts would be subject to approval by the Committee of National Defense.

Observers believed that Gen. Giraud's backers would be able to place Gen. Alphonse Juin as Army Chief of Staff. The de Gaullists were backing Gen. Bouscat as Air Chief of Staff, but neither group has made public its candidate to represent the navy.

The second plenary session of the Committee of National Liberation has been slated for Monday.

An indication that Allied representatives believe committee harmony is near was seen in reports that the Provisional Government expects envoys from many of the United Nations, including Soviet Russia, to take up residence in Algiers shortly.

Robert Murphy, United States Minister, and Harold MacMillan, British Minister, have been here for months although the two governments have thus far withheld formal recognition of the committee.

JUN 20 1943

BURMA RAILROAD YARD SHATTERED

New Delhi, India, June 19 (A. P.).—Great damage was done by the bomb loads of American Liberators in the railroad yards at Yamethin, thirty-five miles southwest of Meiktila in Burma yesterday, and big fires were started by formations of Mitchells attacking an oil tank farm at Yenangyaung, a United States communique said today.

"A large round building or tank exploded with a blinding flash" at Yamethin, the communique said, when six tons of bombs were dumped on rolling stock, tracks and other facilities.

Other medium bombers scored hits in storage buildings in an attack on railroad facilities at Myingan.

JUN 20 1943

CHINESE CLINCH GAIN

Chungking, June 19 (A. P.).—Chinese forces continued their mopping-up operations between Tungting Lake and the Yangtze River yesterday, killing 200 more Japanese, the High Command reported today.

Fighting was reported still in progress in the vicinity of the once-thriving coastal port of Swatow in Kwantung province, where the Japanese launched a three-columned drive on Monday.

The communique said that Chinese forces raided a small town near Canton and killed or captured most of the Japanese garrison.

Widespread sabotage has caused a total disruption of traffic on a long section of the Japanese-held Peiping-Hankow railway north of Hankow, dispatches reported. Besides wrecking rails, Chinese guerrillas were reported to have blown up a railway bridge spanning the Hwai River.

Chungking, June 19 (A. P.).—A Chinese report said today that Chinese patriots attempted to assassinate Wang Ching-wei, head of the Japanese puppet Nanking Government, last month by concealing a time bomb under the platform from which he was to address cadets at the Nanking military academy.

The plot was discovered, the bomb was found and rendered harmless and two of the group subsequently were executed, it was reported.

30-24-5179

30-24-5179

Colonel Learns His Lady Knows Jargon, Too

JUN 20 1943

By Harold V. Boyle
[Associated Press Correspondent]

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 18 (Delayed)—The colonel who tried to use some official army jargon on the colonel's lady got back more than he gave.

He is a fighter pilot with a knack for knocking down German and Italian planes.

He Gets The Bill

When they shipped him off to the British Isles last year he forgot to settle a $1.70 debt he owed the post exchange at March Field, Cal.

The bill followed him from England to Africa and attached to it was a request that the commanding officer take necessary action. It just happened that in this case he himself was the C. O.

He Passes It On

Feeling a bit gay, he mailed the bill back to his wife for her to pay, adding this army jargon in postscript:

"For necessary action and report to the undersigned of action taken to prevent recurrence of such embarrassing situations of this nature."

His wife's reply, printed in today's issue of Stars and Stripes, the service paper, also was in the official form used in official correspondence. It follows:

"1. Headquarters: Regret the embarrassment caused the commanding officer of the X fighter group by the apparent laxness in paying of bills of this nature. However, it is desired to point out that the undersigned has been extremely ocupied in trying to run a household, cope with untrained servants, understand the point food rationing system, operate Ford car of rather ancient vintage on 1½ gallons of gas a week, care for the two children of the commanding officer of the X fighter group, trying to discourage one of them from his aquatic endeavors and dispel from his immature mind the idea that he is almost old enough to be a bomber pilot, and at the same time attempt to teach the girl child the English language, eliminating her efforts to express herself in jumbomubo baby idiom.

Yes, She Paid It

"In view of all this it is believed that the signer of the above only being engaged in his favorite pastime of chasing Hun and Wop planes around the sky and occasionally doing a bit of strafing and light bombing will understand my efforts to keep the home fires burning pending such time as he can return to the United States and again take up the matter of paying his own damn bills.

"2. The bill has been paid."

JUN 20 1943

STRALIANS HIT JAPANESE BASES

Allied Headquarters in Australia, June 19 (A. P.).—Vultee vengeance dive bombers have struck their first blows in the battle zone of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

With Australians at the controls, a group of them flew 300 miles north of Australia yesterday and roared down on two Japanese-occupied villages on the Island of Selaru in the Tanimbar group. Escorting Beaufighters poured cannon fire into small boats offshore, forcing a barge to be beached. The Japanese anti-aircraft batteries opened up but none of their planes was sighted.

RABAUL AIRDROME BLASTED BY ALLIES

Fires Are Started Among Grounded Jap Planes, Fuel Dumps Destroyed.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, Sunday, June 20 — (AP) Allied Flying Fortresses and Liberators dropped 33 tons of bombs on Rabaul, New Britain, yesterday, the High Command announced in the noon communique.

Attacking Vunakanau airdrome just before dawn, the raiders struck at grounded aircraft, setting them afire and started a fuel dump blaze which could be seen for 100 miles.

Fifth Heavy Raid

This brought to 145 tons the weight of bombs to fall on Rabaul airdromes in five raids, starting June 10.

Rabaul, second only to Truk as a mighty enemy air and shipping base in the southwest Pacific, is on the extreme northern tip of New Britain, 500 miles northeast of the Allied New Guinea base of Port Moresby.

The Japanese, meanwhile, struck for the fourth time in five days at the Bena Bena area of New Guinea, 90 miles northwest of Lae. They sent over only eight planes, however, in contrast with 57 employed in the first raid.

These enemy raids have brought into prominence a battle sector which hitherto has not figured in the communiques. It is known only that before the war there were emergency landing fields in the area. The Bena Bena sector is more than 100 miles northwest of the only ground front in New Guinea mentioned in communiques, that at Mubo, 12 miles below Salamaua.

The Japanese also sent six raiders against three points in the area of Buna on the Papuan peninsula of New Guinea.

In that sector, the communiqué reported that the Japanese raiders, under cover of darkness, bombed Oro Bay and Soputa and strafed the harbor of Morobe "with negligible results."

In the attack on Rabaul, the big bombers struck both at the airport and the town with high explosives, incendiary and fragmentation bombs. Vunakanau airdrome had drawn only meager attention in recent raids on Rabaul, with the major attention directed at the Lakunai airdrome. Fliers on reconnaissance have reported the enemy persisting in concentrating planes in considerable strength at Rabaul despite the bombings.

The communiqué said the latest bomb weight fell on the runways and dispersal areas at Vunakanau, adding it was believed that damage of grounded aircraft was "heavy."

In addition to the biggest fire, another was set in the dispersal area which could be seen for 40 miles.

"Searchlight activity and sharp anti-aircraft fire were encountered," the communiqué said.

"Enemy night fighters attempting interception easily easily were evaded. All our planes returned."

SEPARATE SOVIET PEACE DECLARED IMPROBABLE

MELBOURNE, June 19—(AP) There is no question of Russia seeking a separate peace, declared Australian Minister to Russia William Slater today following his return from the Soviet Union.

The Russian people's morale is the highest in the world, he said.

The Australian diplomat thought an estimate of 4,000,000 Russian troops killed or wounded in the two year war with Germany probably was correct.

Arnold, MacArthur Hail Victory

AN ADVANCED SOUTH PACIFIC BASE, June 19 (AP).—Admiral William F. Halsey jr., south Pacific commander, and Lieutenant General Millard F. Harmon, commanding Army ground forces in the area, today were congratulated upon a "splendid victory" in a message from General Henry H. Arnold, United States Army air forces commander. He said the American performance was "evidence of outstanding efficiency by your units and personnel."

U. S. Flyers Rip Nauru Base

An Advanced South Pacific Base, June 19 (AP)—American Liberator bombers and Catalina flying boats made "a very successful harrassing raid" last night on Nauru, Japanese island base 650 miles northeast of Quadalcanal, South Pacific Force Headquarters announced today.

A headquarters spokesman said large fires were started in bivouac, oil dump and revetment areas on the island target. Returning pilots said the fires were visible forty miles away.

Attack In Two Waves

The spokesman said preliminary reports indicated that all United States planes, which struck Nauru in two waves, returned safely. Light anti-aircraft fire was encountered over the objective. Two of the raider planes were struck and one pilot suffered superficial injuries.

The raid was the third in recent weeks on Nauru, the former British-owned island noted for its phosphate deposits. Japanese occupation forces set up an extensive airfield installation there after its conquest. Although phosphate mining installations were wrecked by the British, it is believed that the Nipponese have attempted to restore production of the important war mineral.

JAP PLANE TOLL IS BOOSTED TO 94

Navy Reveals Details of Enemy Attack on Guadalcanal Convoy.

WASHINGTON, June 19—(AP) The Navy added 17 planes today to the total of enemy aircraft destroyed in Wednesday's great battle over Guadalcanal island, making the ratio of enemy losses to American losses almost 16 to 1.

A communique gave new details of the action. The toll of 94 Jap planes left only 26 aircraft out of 120 in the striking force escaping the American guns. Of six U. S. planes shot down two pilots were rescued (previously the rescue of only one had been reported).

Night Raid Reported

The communique further disclosed that Thursday night an "unknown number" of enemy planes attempted to raid the Guadalcanal area but caused no damage or casualties.

Earlier Thursday a force of Dauntless dive bombers and Wildcat fighters had raided Jap positions at Rekata bay, a seaplane base on Santa Isabel island north of Guadalcanal and scored hits on enemy anti-aircraft.

The war bulletin threw fresh light on the Japanese objective in sending 60 bombers and 60 fighters into the south Pacific area where the enemy has taken a beating in the air for many months. A supply convoy was in the vicinity of Guadalcanal at the time and approximately 30 of the Japanese dive bombers maneuvered to attack it. They succeeded in damaging a cargo vessel and a landing craft, as previously reported, and also in inflicting minor damage on a second cargo vessel.

Approach In Two Groups

The Japanese raid occurred early in the afternoon. The enemy planes approached Guadalcanal in two groups. One roared in from the west over Beaufort bay and the other came in somewhat to the north of that.

Our fighters met both groups with devastating success. The American planes in the air were the Navy's Corsairs and Wildcats and the Army's Lightnings, Airacobras and Warhawks. The Navy craft were flown by Navy and Marine corps pilots and the Army craft by Army men except for eight planes piloted by New Zealanders.

In a box score of the action, the communique said that 30 Navy and Marine corps planes shot down 16 Zero fighters and 17 bombers. Thirty-six Army planes destroyed 29 Zeros and 10 bombers, and the eight planes flown by New Zealand pilots destroyed five bombers.

That made a total of 77 Jap planes destroyed by American and Allied fighters. Of the addition 17, newly reported today, 16 were destroyed by anti-aircraft fire from ships in the harbor, one by shore-based anti-aircraft.

The Navy declared that "this air victory was a striking example of coordinated battle action by the various units concerned."

In addition to the 17 planes added to Japan's Wednesday losses a twin-engine enemy reconnaissance bomber also was destroyed that day. It was shot down southeast of San Cristobal island.

HOPE IS REVIVED IN FRENCH GUIANA

Vultures Stalk Streets, Populace Hungry and Discouraged.

BY JOSEPH E. DYNAN

CAYENNE, French Guiana — (AP) This capital of France's largest colony in the western hemisphere, and one of her most neglected, is still a dead city, but has hopes of resurrection under the change in administration which placed Guiana under general Giraud and brought an American mission.

Streets are dirty, unpaved, deserted. Houses are dirty, unpainted. Food, which almost vanished during the Vichy era, is still scarce, and the people seem slovenly, hungry and diseased. Aside from the trinkets made by prisoners of Liberes of the rapidly dwindling prison colony, industry does not exist.

Vultures perch on the houses and stalk the streets. The cemetery just outside is much more crowded than the town itself.

Senegalese in faded uniforms parade wearily in the humid air.

The municipal electric plant still creaks along on the three engines brought over from the Paris Exposition of 1902 and the city water must be boiled before drinking.

But sufficient food has been brought in to give rationing tickets some reality, and cans of American foodstuffs are seen on some shelves. For months before the March 17 change in regime, the city market was always empty.

Farmers always sold their produce at high prices to their friends before reaching the market. Fishermen sold their catches before they landed, and it was estimated in early March that the colony could subsist for just 15 days more.

Now American flour and canned goods are being brought in, and some butter comes in cans from Brazil and Argentina.

Employment is picking up rapidly and storekeepers in town are preparing for sales to soldiers.

JUN 20 1943

Weather Tricks Japs

J. Norman Lodge gives a first-hand account of the great Japanese air defeat over Guadalcanal last Wednesday, a defeat which Allied military strategists have termed a major setback to enemy air power in the Pacific theater. Lodge had a ringside seat during the entire attack.

JUN 20 1943

By J. Norman Lodge

[Associated Press Correspondent]

Guadalcanal, June 16 (Delayed). The Japanese tried one of the most crushing blows of the Pacific war today as 120 enemy planes of all types came over Skylark harbor.

After the smoke had cleared away it was found the Japanese had lost at least forty-five Zeros and thirty-two dive bombers for six of our planes.

(A later navy communique said the enemy had lost ninety-four planes in the raid, seventeen having been destroyed by anti-aircraft fire in addition to the seventy-seven downed by American flyers.)

I watched the entire attack.

Weather Tricks Japs

Unfortunately for the Japanese, the attack took place in midafternoon, under a full sun and no clouds. The enemy had left bases supposedly at Kihili and Ballale Island under a screen of clouds they believed to extend as far southeast as Guadalcanal.

However, when they arrived over Skylark channel between Tulagi and Guadalcanal, clear skies greeted the Japs and ack-ack from ships and shore batteries blasted the first wave of attackers into the ocean. The second wave, comprising dive bombers and torpedo planes, came in barely fifteen feet above the water. Twenty-six of these were knocked into the sea.

Make A Figure Eight

Skipping over objectives, the Japanese made a figure-eight turn and came back to attack. Our ack-ack was ready and trained for the same height and distance and before the Japs had a chance to press home their attack our artillery, land-based and on seacraft, bagged sixteen more torpedo planes.

Zero fighters formed a protective screen for their comrades and, without a thought to safety, came hurtling down.

That was just what our boys wanted. Without a moment's delay our fighters roared down from 20,0000 feet, mixed with the enemy and sent thirty-two Zeros into a fiery dash to the sea.

Foe Beats Hasty Retreat

The rest of the attack formation beat a hasty retreat toward home. Our boys didn't even bother to molest them.

The attack, if it came from Ballale, represented the total strength shown there in the past few days; if it were split between that island and the base of Kahili on Bougainville Island, it was more than seventy-five per cent. of the strength our reconnaissance planes had reported based on those two airports.

This was one of the worst beatings given the Japs since the marines landed in the Solomons August 7.

There was great hilarity around the Solomons air command tonight. In fact, all hands believe they can attend a movie without interruption.

Surely, the Japanese can't take a loss of seventy-seven planes with inscrutable face, and despite the fact that no enemy planes land on the same field from which they take off—an old Luftwaffe trick—it must be a considerable loss of face in Tokyo, for every Japanese must know the tide has turned against Japan.

Casualties Mostly Minor

Our losses from the few bombs that fell were only a tank lighter and one auxiliary aircraft. We'll swap that any time for seventy-seven aircraft.

Our casualties were mostly minor. As for the Japanese, many of their pilots were burned to a crisp before they hit the water, and others were drowned, because the high command still refuses to supply their fanatic flyers with parachutes.

JUN 20 1943

Indian Leader In Japan, Word

New York, June 19—After announcing yesterday that Subhas Chandra Bose, Indian Nationalist, had arrived in Japan from Berlin, Axis broadcasts today gave great prominence to the event and the United States Office of War Information said the announcement evidently was intended to offset the appointment of Field Marshal Sir Archibald P. Wavell as viceroy of India.

Bose, a former president of the Congress party, who was arrested in 1940 under wartime regulations and then escaped to Berlin, was quoted at length by the Tokyo radio in a broadcast recorded here by the Associated Press.

Given Mystery Angle

Bose was said to have declared that "civil disobedience must develop into armed struggle. Only when the Indian people receive a baptism of fire on a large scale will they qualify for their freedom."

The German radio attempted to make a big mystery story out of Bose's arrival in the Far East.

"Did the Indian Nationalist leader use a plane or submarine?" one broadcast asked.

His Task Cited

Deutsche Diplomatisch Politische Korrespondenz, of the German Foreign Office, was quoted as declaring "Bose returned to East Asia to tackle various most important tasks" in connection with Indian freedom.

What's Behind The War News

By GLENN BABB

The summer of 1943, sure to be one of the most fateful periods of history, opens this week. The final days of spring found the Allies poised in almost every theater for offensive operations likely to produce the war's greatest battles. It saw the power of Allied arms rising steadily and swiftly toward that peak of destructiveness toward which the years of planning and building have been pointed.

The next thirteen weeks should produce events which will disclose how the war will be won and ap- proximately when. They may see the end of the war for at least one of the Axis powers, Italy, and perhaps others.

The spring, although it has produced brilliant and heartening successes for the United Nations, has been just a prelude to the great show about to open. Even the clearing of the Axis from Africa, with the magnificent climax of the Tunisian campaign, the recovery of Attu from the Japanese, and the terrible punishment of Germany from the air, the increasing proof that the war against the submarine is being won all serve only to usher in still more momentous events.

The curtain may rise any dawn now on the main show. There is surprise that it has not begun already in the greatest land battlefield of the war, Russia. Tuesday is both the first day of summer and the second anniversary of Hitler's disastrous error, the attack on the Soviet Union. The general expectation has been that the German army, with the greater part of its power still massed in Russia, would attack before that date. But last week failed to provide any answer to the question of when and where the blow would fall.

The delay caused speculation on the possibility that Hitler has had to abandon or drastically curtail his plans for a third attempt to destroy the Red army. There have been suggestions that the western Allies' air offensive against German industry has produced fatal shortages of supplies for the Russian front or that the heavy attrition suffered by the German air force over western Europe and the Mediterranean has made it impossible to mass the necessary air support in the east. However, the best opinion still is that Hitler must attack and that the degree of Russia's success in containing the blow and countering it will do much to determine how long Germany will continue to fight.

This summer's other major theater of operations against Hitler obviously must be the Mediterranean. With the minor stepping stone islands, such as Pantelleria, in Allied hands, the process of softening up the major Italian islands, Sicily and Sardinia, was carried forward implacably and with punishing effect last week. From three directions—northwest Africa, Malta and the Middle East command's bases—Allied planes of all types tore huge gaps in the enemy air cover of the two big islands, the necessary preliminary to invasion.

A new high pitch was reached F[illegible]ith a series of slashing at[illegible] Sicilian and Sardinian air[illegible]ports in the course of which 39 enemy planes were shot down. A large proportion of those were Italian Macchis, indicating that Hitler's air forces may be withdrawing to other regions.

Italy Fears Invasion

Italy gave evidence of growing fears as the shadow of invasion loomed closer. The Rome radio showed that she was watching with dread the massing of Allied forces, with fleets of invasion barges, along the African coast and in the captured islands. Nine provinces of the toe and heel of the Italian boot were added to the zone of operations—under army rule—which already include Sicily and Sardinia. There were reports that Mussolini had ordered the civilian evacuation of all the main Sicilian cities and Naples by July 10. His Fascist party directorate called for a sterner mobilization of the nation. There were even rumors—entirely unconfirmed and denied by the Axis—that Italian envoys had arrived in Algiers to ask the Allies' peace terms.

A somewhat similar situation prevailed in the eastern Mediterranean, where there are other Axis-held islands to be taken before the great highway to the east really is cleared. There, however, the Allies have not yet opened the aerial preliminaries. But the Axis was worried just the same. The British contributed to this anxiety by closing the Syrian border with Turkey for 48 hours and letting it be said that this was to screen Allied troop movements from Axis agents in neutral Turkey. The Axis evinced great interest in the disposition of Allied forces around the Mediterranean's eastern rim and took measures to strengthen the defenses of Crete, Italy's Dodecanese islands and the Aegean islands which lie in the path of any Allied thrust into the Balkans from the southeast. Another cause for Axis worry was the indications that Turkey's neutrality was becoming increasingly benevolent toward the Allies.

There was a slight letup in the British-American aerial offensive against Hitler's war industries, although some heavy blows were struck. The R.A.F. carried out punishing night raids on Oberhausen, Bochum and Bremen. The Kiel attack last Sunday, was the most costly of the war for the Americans, for 24 of the big planes failed to return, but they knocked down approximately 100 of Goering's fighters, a big contribution to the wearing down of the Luftwaffe's fighter strength, which apparently now is unequal to all the demands made upon it. The Allied air offensive from Britain is compelling the German command to keep in western Europe the planes ne[illegible]

58,000 ON STRIKE, NEW CRISIS LOOMS IN SOFT COAL PITS

Miners Anticipate Passing of Deadline Without Action on Contract.

LEWIS MEETS LEADERS

Parley Today Will Decide Whether U.M.W. Will Defy Board.

WALKOUTS SPREAD

Work Stoppage Begins in Alabama, Sweeps to Other States.

JUN 20 1943

WASHINGTON, June 19 — (AP) With another coal strike already spreading, John L. Lewis and the operators recessed their joint bargaining conferences tonight until Sunday at 11 a. m.

There was no indication from either side of the wage controversy of any results from today's conferences, called to consider the War Labor board's decision against ordering portal-to-portal pay in the soft coal industry.

58,000 Miners Out

Some 58,000 miners, about a tenth of the total, already had quit their jobs in anticipation of the end tomorrow midnight of a truce declared by Mr. Lewis' United Mine Workers after the last work halt.

Mr. Lewis met with his district presidents this morning, and arranged for a joint conference with the operators at 2:30 p. m. After this conference convened, the operators held a private caucus while the union's policy committee met at 4 p. m. and recessed indefinitely.

Then the joint conference reconvened, to discuss the WLB order that they sign a contract including a pledge of no-strike for the dura- tion. This session recessed shortly after 6 p. m. until tomorrow.

Policy Group to Meet

U. M. W. officials said the union's policy committee will meet again tomorrow afternoon.

Up for decision were these fateful questions:

Whether the U. M. W. would defy the War Labor board and refuse to sign a new contract providing only about 20 cents a day more for the mines than they received under the old one.

Whether the nation is to undergo a general tie-up of coal mining, also in defiance of the government agency, of potential serious injury to the war effort.

The miners went back to work after their strike the first week in June under instructions from the U. M. W. policy group that they were to work only until midnight Sunday unless they received further instructions.

Decision on Bill Awaited

Possibly hinging also on the decisions was the question of whether President Roosevelt would sign into law the labor disputes bill passed by Congress and providing fines and imprisonment for persons promoting or aiding a strike in a government-operated war facility.

Whether the meeting with the mine owners might bring any action to ease the decision for the U. M. W. group was a matter of speculation.

While declining to order payments to the miners for time spent in underground travel, the WLB did not bar the miners from obtaining them by other means.

The board said that whether the miners were legally due such payments under the Fair Labor Standards act was a matter of law and hence beyond its jurisdiction. The miners could sue for the payments, it said, or perhaps arrange with the owners an out-of-court settlement of their potential lawsuit.

The board warned that it would review any out-of-court settlement to determine whether it was actually that and not a disguised general wage increase. The miners, it asserted, are not entitled to a general wage increase under the government's wage stabilization policies. Specifically, it denied Mr. Lewis' demand for a general increase of $2 a day.

The importance of uninterrupted coal production to the war effort was emphasized during the day by an announcement that the War Production board plans a concentrated campaign to increase steel output. Steel making is so closely tied up with coal that any shortage of the fuel is immediately reflected.

30.24- 5181

30.24- 5181

In another announcement, Robert Patterson, undersecretary of war, said industry failed by 5 1-2 per cent to meet production needs of the Army ground forces in May.

If this situation continues, he said, "our overseas troops will suffer from shortages of critical equipment." He deplored, too, strikes in industry and what he said had been some diversion of management talent to "civilian non-essentials."

Alabama Mines Close

The mine walkouts began first in Alabama almost immediately after word of the WLB decision was received yesterday, and quickly spread to some Pennsylvania mines.

By noon today, all the larger soft coal producing states were affected to some extent.

Luther Harr, U. S. bituminous coal consumers' counsel, (a Federal office) appealed to the miners to continue working. In an open letter, he told them:

"As coal consumers' counsel, representing the millions of bituminous coal consumers in this country, I urge you to continue producing the coal so necessary for the successful prosecution of the war on the fighting and home fronts.

"I ask this further contribution on your part because you are the men who kept the people of this nation warm last winter, enabled railroads to do their big job, and provided the coal by which war plants turned out needed planes, tanks, guns and ammunition.

"I refuse to believe you want women and children to suffer from cold next winter. This job of keeping homes, schools and hospitals warm is not an easy one. There's no glamor to your work. Neither are there awards—or many pats on the back. However, the job starts with you. Solid coal at the face is of no use to a man's home 100 miles away. You must drill it and shoot it, load it and bring it out to the tipple.

"It's your duty to stay on the job in this emergency. The people are depending on you. I know you will not let them down."

To Resume Conference.

Washington, June 19 (A. P.).—The United Mine Workers and the soft coal operators returned to the conference table today to seek a basis for averting another tie-up of the nation's mines with the expiration of the working truce tomorrow midnight.

An informed source said the miners and the operators have not necessarily agreed to resume collective bargaining on the merits of the demands of the miners, but would "see what can be done about the War Labor Board order."

John L. Lewis, president, and the U. M. W. policy committee faced another crucial decision as the deadline of their no-strike truce neared.

Their travel pay demands rejected by the War Labor Board, the truce runs out tomorrow midnight.

The policy committee meeting, originally scheduled for 11 A. M. was postponed to 4 P. M. by Mr. Lewis, presumably to give him more time to consult with lieutenants on the implications of the WLB order referring the miners portal-to-portal pay claim to the Wage and Hour Administrator, the Federal Courts, or collective bargaining as the U. M. W. leadership chooses.

Mr. Lewis went into session in the forenoon with his district presidents, but a spokesman said a statement of any kind is unlikely in advance of the full policy meeting.

A delegation of six miners from Logan county, West Virginia, came to Washington with a request for admission to the White House to present their case. U. M. W. headquarters telephoned Marvin McIntyre, presidential secretary, who agreed to see the group.

---

WASHINGTON, June 19. — (AP) Undersecretary of War Patterson and War Production board officials agreed today that the United States needs accelerated war production, but differed on the meaning of recent output figures.

Mr. Patterson, criticizing both labor and management for "overconfidence and complacency," declared that production of supplies for the Army ground forces fell 5 1-2 per cent below actual needs in May, or 3 1-2 per cent under April's output.

A WPB spokesman replied that overall arms production went up an estimated 2 per cent last month, and ground forces production is only about a sixth of the total. Concurring with Mr. Patterson's assertion that a great acceleration must be achieved if the nation is to exploit its military victories, he observed that it is erroneous to suppose the entire war production effort has suffered a relapse.

WPB Chairman Donald M. Nelson declined comment on Mr. Patterson's press conference statement, but a WPB official talked to reporters. He said the Army ground forces program—which includes tanks, artillery, small arms and ammunition, signal equipment and other items—is only about one-sixth of the total war program, and happens to be the area in which there were [illegible]

"cut backs" in production were ordered.

As a whole, production for May, on the basis of tentative figures, appears to be up about two per cent over the previous month, he asserted. This includes not only weapons and supplies for the ground forces, but also the Navy, the Air forces, Maritime commission, and Lend-Lease. The spokesman noted that in some cases production had been cut back so that May production schedules were deliberately held beneath the actual output in April.

Recent WPB production reports have emphasized that the program is reaching the point where successive increases are harder and harder to achieve. Manufacture of artillery, WPB said, hit a greater volume in April than is scheduled for any month this year or next.

Mr. Patterson declared:

"Management and labor must deliver the supplies on schedule and as planned, or the opportunity to exploit military successes will be lost."

He asserted that production of all materials, except aircraft and radio equipment for ground forces, declined 3 1-2 per cent in May. Schedules called for an increase of two per cent in dollar volume to a total of $1,582,000,000 for the ground forces as compared with April production, he said.

Mr. Patterson remarked, however, that aircraft manufacture increased 40 per cent in May compared with January, to a total of 7,000 Army and Navy planes.

He said production lapses mean that men in training camps will be denied needed equipment so that shipments may be maintained to men overseas or about to move to fighting fronts.

"If the situation continues," he added, "even our overseas troops will suffer from shortages of critical equipment x x x The Army will not even have its basic equipment by the end of the year if this condition continues."

To permit a shortage to develop even temporarily into a "too little and too late" situation, Mr. Patterson declared, "will cost thousands of lives tomorrow.

"The Army supply schedule, to which all our military plans for defeating the Axis are geared, calls for a continued increase throughout all of 1943. This rate must be maintained if we are to reach our goal."

Mr. Patterson blamed over confidence inspired by the Tunisian victory and successful bombing raids over Europe, and said:

"The Tunisian victory means a speed up in our already crowded timetable of military operations. The steadily increasing rate of production called for by the 1943 Army production schedule must be maintained if that time-table is to be met.

"Failure to appreciate the gravity of our situation and the need for continued increased efforts to meet our continually increasing needs is evident by the coal strike, the Akron strikes and other stoppages in war and related industries, and by the tendency of certain manufacturers to divert too much time, thought and energy to the design and development of competitive civilian non-essentials."

Questioned about the effect of decreased production of war supplies upon inductions, he said the Army's size might vary over a year, but that was not tied to the supply program. He said that equipment demands cover troops of other nations as well as the United States.

Mr. Patterson also announced cancellation of 206 leases for hotels used by the Army air forces to house soldiers in technical training courses. He said the hotels originally saved at least five months in putting the training program into operation, but that the movement of men to overseas bases, vacating Army facilities here, has reached the point where the air forces technical training command can be relocated at Army posts. The Army is planning to sell Chicago's Mammoth Stevens hotel.

JUN 20 1943

ARMY TO END LEASES OF 206 HOTELS IN JULY

Lessening of Needs Leads to Vacating of Civilian Properties.

OVERSEAS MOVEMENT CAUSE

Conventional Barracks Will Soon Be Sufficient for Air Forces—Hospitals to Be Kept.

Washingon, June 19 (A. P.).—The War Department announced today that leases on 206 hotels now used by the Technical Training Command of the Army Air Forces will be canceled, effective in the middle of July.

It was explained that the tapering off of the program for temporary use of hotels and other civilian property was made possible by the movement of many air units overseas, which vacated quarters in which technical training units now can be housed.

"In the course of the next few months it will be possible, without the construction of any new facilities for the purpose, to house large numbers of air forces personnel in conventional barracks," the department said. It added that the surrender of 206 of the 434 hotels now used by the air forces will decrease the Army's annual rental bill by $4,600,000.

The general program of cancellation of leases, the department said, will not affect hotels which have been converted to military hospitals.

Miami Beach Favored Spot.

It was added that for the present "it is planned to continue occupancy of the greater part of the leased hotels at Miami Beach, Fla., which has been found to be the best adapted for air forces purposes of the hotel centers that were occupied." At Miami Beach 109 of 325 leases are being canceled now, the department said. At Atlantic City another major center of hotel occupancy by the Army, thirty-five of forty-seven leases now effective are being canceled. Leased properties in Chicago, Grand Rapids, Mich., St. Petersburg, Fla., and surrounding area, and Boca Raton, Fla., with the exception of hospitals will be returned to their owners, the department said.

The Stevens Hotel in Chicago, the only one purchased outright by the War Department will be vacated on August 15. The department said that several inquiries had been received from prospective purchasers of the hotel and it was expected that the property would be sold soon.

The schedule of withdrawal of personnel of the hotels, the department said, "will be governed by military necessity. In order to reduce as far as possible disruption of training schedules the movement of administrative and instruction staffs will be carried out by groups as each class completes its work at a particular station."

The department also announced that "at an early date" headquarters of the Technical Training Command, now located at Southern Pines, N. C., will be moved to one of the regular air forces stations.

Notices of termination of leases of the 206 hotels which are to be given up at this time have been mailed to the hotel owners, the department said.

Dates for Vacating.

Under-Secretary of War Patterson, discussing the concellation of leases at a press conference, said the hotels to be returned to private use in Miami Beach would be vacated at dates ranging from July 5 through August, those at St. Petersburg, Fla., July and early August, and Boca Raton, Fla., in September.

Asked if the cancellations indidated that some other hotel leases may be dropped, he said that it was impossible to determine that at present except that leases on buildings used for hospitals would be continued.

Mr. Patterson explained that if a slack should develop in Army housing, making Army facilities available, that space probably would be filled up with men now quartered in hotels.

Stevens Hotel's Problem.

Although it was reported here that Mrs. Maria L. Kramer, operator of the Maria Kramer hotel chain, had offered the Government $7,500,000 for the Stevens Hotel in Chicago, hotel men both here and in the Mid-West metropolis expressed grave doubt that the world's largest hostelry could be made ready for civilian use before the war is over.

This is due to the fact that the Army, when it took over the hotel, sold practically all the furnishings at auction to widely scattered buyers. Because of wartime restrictions it is virtually impossible for any civilian organization to purchase hotel equipment or furnishings today. So it would appear that any buyer would have an empty building on his hands.

The Kramer hotel chain operates the Lincoln and Edison hotels in New York city. Mrs. Kramer's bid is $1,500,000 more than the Army paid for the 3,000-room Stevens. John L. Horgan, general manager of the Kramer chain, said that the offer of $7,500,000 was for a completely equipped hotel, and explained that if the deal goes through, the Army will have to obtain the necessary priorities on furniture, &c. It was estimated that it would cost $3,500,000 to $4,500,000 to furnish the Stevens.

JUN 20 1943

It was said that the difficulties of refurnishing the hotel caused the Statler Hotel chain to turn down an offer to buy it, although Chicago at the present time is experiencing an acute shortage of hotel accommodations. It was understood that the Army not only disposed of the bulk of the room furnishings of the Stevens but also of much of the kitchen equipment and silverware. The Stevens and the nearby 1,000-room Congress Hotel were converted by the Army into training schools for radio technicians.

The largest hotel in the world, the Stevens was built at a cost of $28,000,000. During the depression years many of its floors were closed for lack of business.

---

Hotel Men Pessimistic.

Atlantic City, June 19 (A. P.).—The job of converting hotels back to resort business—after a year's occupancy by Army Air Forces trainees—was viewed with pessimism today by city officials, hotelmen and business people.

The War Department's cancellation of leases for thirty-seven hotels here brought only one hopeful statement, that from Paul Arnswalde, owner of the Shelburne, one of the city's oldest and most modern hostelries.

"People are anxious to visit here if they can get proper accommodations," Mr. Arnswalde said, in announcing that his hotel would resume business August 1. "I don't know what the rest of the hotelmen are going to do, but my place will open in first-class condition."

Other hotelmen pointed to rehabilitation projects now necessary, priority restrictions and unavailable personnel. They said they couldn't see how they could ready their places in time for this summer's tourist trade.

City Commissioners William F. Casey, Joseph Altman and William F. Cuthbert agreed the conversion would prove an insurmountable task this season.

Mr. Casey said since the hotels were turned over at the height of last season to the Army and are now turned back at the height of this season "we lose two whole seasons of business in one year."

Mr. Altman said the Army's evacuation would prove a "bad blow to small business of the city, while Mr. Cuthbert declared: "We had hoped the Army would remain until the close of the summer. But this is war and we'll just have to make the best of it and go out and fight for [illegible]

Davis Threatens to Quit OWI Job After House Kills Home Front Fund

JUN 20 1943

Director Says If Senate Approves Deletion Navy Has Next Call on His Services— Sees Whole Office Endangered.

Washington, June 19 (A. P.).—Elmer Davis said today that he will quit his job as director of the Office of War Information if its domestic branch is abolished. The House voted yesterday to abolish the branch.

"If the Senate concurs with the opinion of the House there will be no OWI, and that is that," the director told an informal press conference. He added that it would "also be the end of me as director." He continued:

"This was a combination overseas and domestic job that I was called down to do. If the Senate concurs in the House view that job is ended. It will be the job of somebody else to take care of whatever they choose to do in foreign information."

Mr. Davis replied also to accusations made by Representative Starnes (D.-Ala) who told the House yesterday that this country needed no Paul Joseph Goebbels or Virginio Gayda.

Describes Differences.

"There is quite a difference between me and Goebbels, as Mr. Starnes would discover if he read the order by which President Roosevelt created OWI, or followed our activities," Mr. Davis remarked. "For one thing, Dr. Goebbels doesn't have to go to the Reichstag for his appropriation."

The House vote was 218 to 114 to erase from the war agencies appropriation bill the $5,500,000 item for the OWI's home front operations.

He (Davis) said that Senator McKellar (D.-Tenn.) had agreed to let the OWI be heard by the Senate Appropriations Committee in defense of the domestic appropriation before it acts on the OWI consultation.

He said that Senator McKellar (D.-Tenn.) had agreed to let the OWI be heard by the Senate Appropriations Committee in defense of the domestic appropriation before it acts on the OWI budget.

Navy Has Next Call.

Mr. Davis told questioners that it would cost a great deal more if every Government agency maintained a full information division, particularly in the field, whereas the OWI's field service handles the information job for all Government offices in each city. Some arrangement also would have to be made, he said, to furnish the overseas branch, or its successor, with domestic news, a job now handled largely by the domestic branch.

Director Davis is a reserve officer in the Navy, and it was indicated he would offer himself to the Navy if the OWI folds up.

"The Navy has next call on me," he said.

The director said he wouldn't attempt to estimate how much politics was contained in the House action and would not attempt to analyze the motives behind the House vote.

"Our $8,800,000 budget was what we thought we would need for next year," he said, "we did not pad that budget."

The request was reduced to $5,500,000 and then eliminated by the House.

The action does not impair the OWI's foreign propaganda program, for which the House approved $28,972,504.

Republicans voted almost solidly for Mr. Starnes's motion to scuttle the domestic bureau. The lineup was 160 Republicans, fifty-five Democrats and three minor party members for the motion, and 108 Democrats, five Republicans and one minor party member against it.

Sees Socialistic Tinge.

Mr. Starnes referred to Mr. Davis as an American Labor party member and said the OWI had a distinct socialistic tinge.

Republicans have charged on the House floor, during the past four months, that the OWI issued fourth term propaganda, which was promptly denied.

Representative Murphy (D.-Pa.) told the House before it voted last night that "the real purpose here is to snipe at the Commander in Chief." Republicans shouted "No!" tand they laughed when he suggested it would do Congressmen an awful lot of good to read some of OWI's pamphlets.

Representative Cannon (D.-Mo.), chairman of the Appropriations Committee, said that the action would wipe out all wartime co-ordination of news releases for the radio and the press and eliminate the motion picture program.

The OWI employs approximately 1,500 persons in its domestic bureau and around 3,000 in the overseas branch.

The current appropriation expires June 30.

Better Strategy In Asia Seen

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 19—Strengthening of the war strategy in Asia was expected today to follow the appointment of Britain's new two-man team in India, Field Marshal Sir Archibald Wavell as viceroy and Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck as commander in chief.

Wavell's appointment and his replacement by Auchinleck as commander of the forces in India was interpreted as a step in a more active war plan worked out by Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt in Washington last month.

Wavell At Parley

Marshal Wavell was present at the Washington conferences. He, therefore, assumes his new post with a full knowledge of what the United Nations intend to do in Asia. It is assumed here that Churchill informed the President of the impending change at that time.

But it was also assumed here that the British would count more on General Auchinleck for the military leadership in the Indian area, coordinating the staff and field work with the strategy making, which has been said to be Wavell's forte.

Aid To Burma Drive Seen

With Lieut. Gen. Joseph C. Stilwell, commander of United States forces in the Asiatic Theater, cooperating, it appeared that India might become an outstanding base for air attacks on Japanese-occupied territory and an eventual offensive to regain Burma.

The monsoon rains, which last until October, preclude the invasion of Burma, however, until next fall.

Expulsion of the Japanese from Burma also would relieve India of some of her food problem. Burma formerly sent about 9,000,000,000 pounds of rice a year to India, supplying more than eight per cent. of that subcontinent's food supply. The loss of that source of rice has been felt severely among the Indians.

JAPAN SAID TO SEIZE SHIPS

Moscow Reported Incensed by Loss of U. S. Supplies

WASHINGTON, June 19 (AP)—Constantine Brown, writing in The Washington Evening Star, said today the Japanese Navy's North Pacific patrol had captured a number of merchant ships flying the Soviet flag on the route between the United States and Siberian ports.

As a result, he wrote, relations between Tokyo and Moscow have become more strained.

There was no comment on the report in government quarters. Some observers said, however, that the seizure of the ships was possible, since they understood the German Government had been pressing Japan to halt the flow of lend-lease supplies to Russia over the North Pacific lanes.

JUN 20 1943

Powerful Amphibious Force Organized by Army, Navy

American Unit Formed t Spearhead Invasion of Enemy Lands.

WASHINGTON, June 19—(AP) Organization of a powerful Army-Navy amphibious force which probably would spearhead American troops in any major invasion of Hitler's Europe was announced today by the Navy department.

A statement which described the formation and training of the outfit that now numbers untold thousands of soldiers and bluejackets declared it was "ready to carry out with speed, precision and perfect co-ordination the most difficult of military assignments—a landing on a fortified hostile shore."

Some Units in Action

Some units of the force already have been in service in the Pacific. The operation against Attu island was initiated by those units under the direct, personal supervision of Rear Admiral Francis W. Rockwell, commander amphibious force, Pacific fleet. Admiral Rockwell's counterpart in the Atlantic is Rear Admiral Alan G. Kirk.

The Navy said that one of the objectives of the training programs directed by Admiral Kirk and Admiral Rockwell was to eliminate differences in Army and Navy practices and terminology so completely "that there will be no misunderstanding in an actual operation."

There was no mention in the official statement of the part which the Marines will play in amphibious operations in connection with the special Army-Navy force. Amphibian operations are the essence of Marine training. Absence of the leathernecks from the special corps gave rise to speculation that the new force probably was designed for operations in which the Army would be heavily engaged after the landings were made.

The Army, therefore, would be able to carry through from start to finish. The bluejacket part of the amphibious force probably would be primarily concerned with handling boats and setting up beach defenses and facilities.

Thousands Trained

"Under the training courses of the amphibious forces," the Navy said, "thousands of naval officers and men have learned to take the newly-designed landing boats, ships and amphibious craft through heavy surf safely to selected beaches; and thousands of toughened Army troops have learned to swarm ashore from the landing craft and race for the beach to establish the spearhead of an Allied invasion.

"On the Atlantic coast, for instance, working together in the closest co-operation, especially-selected Army and Navy units are going through an arduous training program, acquiring the high skill needed for joint land, sea and air operations, studying the lessons of the British Commando raids and of our own landings in the Solomons, North Africa and the Aleutians."

Four-Part Program

Training for amphibious warfare falls into four parts: The indoctrination of commanding officers in the strategy, tactics and techniques of joint operations; training of the many specialists needed to carry out a landing operation; basic training in the use of the highly-specialized amphibious equipment; and advanced training—joint exercises of all the units in the force in landing operations under simulated battle conditions.

Naval officers who are assigned to the "amphibs" are selected from the fleet and from the midshipmen's school on the basis of outstanding records in service or in the classroom, and for excellent physical conditions. Enlisted men are picked from "boot camps" and specialists' schools by the same method.

The Army selects units already trained in the infantry or the armored forces, and assigns them to the amphibious force. The enlisted men are given a tough conditioning course and then receive basic amphibious training.

Army officers go to another base, where, with Navy officers, they learn amphibious operations, study strategy and tactics, and the methods of liaison between the many organizations involved.

In another school, the Army transport quartermasters study loading of the cargo vessels and transports.

With basic training completed, the force goes into advanced training as a unit. A convoy sails for a practice landing beach where landings are made under simulated battle conditions.

JUN 20 1943

JUN 20 1943

Far North Oil Field Will Supply Alaska

WASHINGTON, June 19—(AP) An oil field less than 100 miles below the Arctic circle in northwest territory will help supply gasoline and fuel oil needs of the Army and Navy in Alaska and Canada.

The War department disclosed this today, breaking a silence which has surrounded work on the field since its inception a year ago.

A single well had been pumping oil at Norman Wells more than 20 years before development of the field as a military project was started by U. S. engineers under an agreement with the Canadian government, which retains ownership of the "Canol project."

The department said a pipeline will move the oil from the Norman Wells field near Fort Norman some 600 miles westward to a refinery at Whitehorse on the Alaska highway. There it will be converted into gasoline of high octane content for airplanes operating out of Alaskan bases and into fuel oil for naval craft in the Alaskan area.

Forecasts New Drive.

Washington, June 19 (A. P.).—Secretary of the Navy Knox went out of his way to dispel today any ideas the public may have that the U-boat is licked simply because Atlantic sinkings have fallen off sharply. In fact, he virtually forecast a new Axis submarine offensive in the Atlantic.

Progress in the Allied anti-submarine campaign at present is "very satisfactory," he told a press conference yesterday, but he hastened to add that "realistically we know they are going to do something."

"I would say," he declared, "that the lull in fighting out there now must indicate some change in the plans of the Germans."

30-24-5183

30-24-5183

NAVY ANNOUNCES FIFTY CASUALTIES

Washington, June 19 (A. P.).—The Navy announced today fifty casualties, including two dead and forty-eight missing.

This brings to 22,110 the total of Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard casualties reported to next of kin since December 7, 1941. The grand total includes 7,448, 4,725 wounded and 10,937 missing.

The casualties announced today (those listed are Navy and non-commissioned personnel unless otherwise specified):

NEW YORK.

CACCIATO, DIEGO JR., missing; father, Diego Cacciato Sr., 65 East Fourth street.

EASTMAN, ALTON GEORGE HARLEN, missing; mother, Mrs. Laura Corrie Eastman, Cuba.

LUCAS, JOSEPH BENJAMIN JR., missing; father, Joseph B. Lucas Sr., 213 Maiden Lane, Port Jefferson.

PALCICH, STANLEY HENRY, ensign, missing; wife, Mrs. Bonnie Mae Fletcher Palcich, 38 West 71st street.

RANGER, JAMES ALBERT, missing; father, Albert Charles Ranger, 202 West Margulies street, Syracuse.

SMOROL, PAUL PETER, missing; mother, Mrs. Barbara Smorol, 119 Nelson street, Syracuse.

SAYS FIRST LADY WONT MAKE TOUR

Hyde Park, June 19 (A. P.).—Miss Malvina Thompson, secretary to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, denied today reports that the President's wife is planning to tour South America this summer.

At the Roosevelt estate, where she said the First Lady is making a "periodic visit" of a few days, Miss Thompson asserted, in answer to a query, that Mrs. Roosevelt is not going to South America. Mrs. Roosevelt could not be reached personally for comment.

The tour was reported from Washington yesterday, with the Office of the Co-ordinator of Inter-American Affairs said to be working on plans for Mrs. Roosevelt's appearance in Latin America.

2 SURVIVORS TELL OF CUTTER'S LOSS

Skipper with Them Disappears Before Rescuers Arrive.

JUN 20 1943

